Vamps Busy In Storm

...ing the past two weeks
Hicksville fire fighters were quite busy responding to 94 alarms. There were 3 false alarms, 34 fire calls, all of a minor nature, and 57 rescue calls.

208 Assisted
Hicksville's Fire Headquarters on Gebhardt Plaza became a "home away from home" during the heavy snowfall for some 208 stranded motorists and commuters, along with 60 fire fighters. The stranded were picked up by fire units who patrolled the Hicksville area. The Vamps again went on stand-by duty at the district's three stations, early on Monday and remained on duty till Thursday.

Ex-Chief Medard Offenloch served as "cruise director" and helped settle down the temporary visitors who were fed the same menu as the fire fighters. A truck was sent to Mineola in the howling storm to pick up blankets at Red Cross Headquarters. The food was prepared by Hicksville Fire Dept.'s gourmet chef Lt. Mike Krummenacker of Co. No. 1. Vamps praised his meals. However, one temporary resident complained we had no toast to go with his eggs.

Rescue runs took up most of the Vamps' time during the storm. Impassable roads forced Vamps to rig up sleds and stretchers on skis to carry patients out to waiting rescue units.

The Hicksville Fire Dept. would like to thank all the plow operators, private, town and county, who came to our assistance when needed.

On one rescue call on Appollo Lane, a private plow cleared several streets out so Vamps could aid a victim—only to have the victim turn on the Vamps. What was that old saying?—"Don't bite the hand that bangles you."

Fire stations in Jericho, Plainview, Bethpage, Syosset, all had temporary visitors. The Chief of the Holbrook Fire Dept. was stranded at Hicksville Station 1 and he made available his Chief's car to Vamps for mercy runs for food and medicine.

covered a fire in her home and woke up her sleeping family, who escaped unharmed. The question in point—why didn't they have a smoke detector? It would have detected the fire when it was small. Damage would have been less. Contact with the owner revealed that price was not a factor, but they had certain doubts the detectors could do the job. Now they know how valuable they are. These folks were very lucky to escape—many others aren't.

If you have any doubts or questions on smoke detectors, send a request to Asst. Chief Owen Magee, c/o Hicksville Fire Dept., 20 Gebhardt Plaza, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

Vamps Ask Help—Clear Hydrants
All area residents have been requested to please clear the snow from hydrants by their homes. Firefighters have cleared most of the hydrants on all the main roads. The Fire Dept. is, and being a volunteer unit, not responsible for clearing hydrants. Your cooperation with this problem would be greatly appreciated by your local fire department.

Important Notice To Hicksville Fire District Residents

Effective Jan. 29, 1978, the Hicksville Fire Dept. ambulance will respond or transport to the following local hospitals only:

1. Nassau County Medical Center, East Meadow
2. Mid Island Hospital, Bethpage
3. Central General Hospital, Plainview
4. Syosset General Hospital, Syosset

A U. S. Veteran will be taken to any Nassau, Suffolk V. A. Hospital and to any V. A. Hospital in the 5 Boroughs of New York City.

This change in operations has come about due to the increasing number of rescue ambulance calls being received by Hicksville Fire Dispatchers. The advent of special heart monitoring devices makes it important to keep the ambulance and rescue truck in service in town-as much as possible. The County Police has operated with this stipulation for many years. Years ago there were not so many private ambulance companies, now they are plentiful and in many cases are paid for by the patients group insurance. Another problem is manpower—employers are reluctant to let volunteers go from work because the average rescue call is 1 hour and 1/2. The Fire Department also requests that the ambulance be requested for "stretcher cases, only." Cases like broken arms, wrists, fingers, minor cuts, etc., can be taken by private car.

The so-called "taxi-service" has had to be discontinued so that life and death calls can be handled as fast as possible. The Fire Dept. regrets any problems this new ruling may have on our residents, but life threatening cases must have priority. It is hoped this change will be of benefit to all.

Gregory Museum Celebration

Hicksville's National Historic Place, the Old Heitz Lauder Court-house, rang with laughter and comradeship this past Saturday evening. A special luncheon of volunteers and trustees of the Gregory Museum celebrated the earth science museum's Fifth Anniversary of location in the courthouse.

Museum President Richard Evers chaired the evening's festivities which had the dual purpose of honoring the museum's retiring founders, Anne and Gardiner Gregory, and the countless Hicksville volunteer workers and patrons who cooperated to transform the vandalized, closed courthouse into an educational center serving many Long Island school districts.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory were honored during the evening by Councilman Thomas Clark with a proclamation by Supervisor Joseph Colby declaring "February 11, Anne and Gardiner Gregory Day in the Town of Oyster Bay." The Gregorlys received, in addition, a large, handsome engraved plaque from the Museum Board of Trustees and volunteers praising "their inspired creation of the Long Island Earth Science Center and their many years of devotion to its leadership, support and improvement."

Two recently retired museum trustees, Nancy Palahnuk and Mary Jo MacDonald, were honored for seven years of outstanding service to the museum in the capacities of public relations chairman and recording secretary. The two ladies will continue their association with the museum by serving on the Board of Advisors. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Warner were honored with an engraved plaque and the museum's special thanks for continuous support of the museum. Certificates of Appreciation were presented to two organizations assisting the museum notably this past year.

Ten Best Bets On Florida's East Coast

By Graphic Features Syndicate)

The consensus of opinions of member publications of Graphic Features Syndicate is that the following are the "10 Best Bets" for this winter's visitors to the East Coast of Florida who want to plan their sojourn by defining priorities.

1. WALT DISNEY WORLD: Still the best No. 1 Bet in Graphic Feature Syndicate's annual survey. The kids pose for photos with Mickey Mouse, Mary Poppins, et al, in the Magic Kingdom, and the grownups find themselves caught up in the adventure, fantasy and imagination of a magic world where sights, sounds, movies, and music complete with an enchanting castle and a gold-tinted sunset over a blue-green lagoon suspend them into a future devoid of everyday pressures and woes.

2. AUTO-TRAIN: which brings the Florida visitor near Orlando, a veritable stone's throw away from Disney World, is still the best way to travel to Florida if you are among those who welcome an opportunity to escape from 900 miles of driving.

3. SEAWORLD: Six minutes away from Walt Disney World, is 125 acres of dolphins, deers, sea life from all oceans of the world, exotic botanical gardens and a brand new show starring "Shamu" a three-ton killer whale.

4. FLAGLER MUSEUM: In Palm Beach, on the way south from Orlando is a bit of Americana's turn-of-the-century era of opulent mansion-living complete with marble halls, furniture, porcelain paintings, and costumes that mark the heyday of Florida's polo-set.

5. CYPRESS GARDENS has the world-renowned water ski show; gardens of the world (rare tropical plants and blossoms); towering cypress trees; and boat tours on the windy waterways makes this one of Florida's 10 top attractions. (Pets are housed in an air-conditioned facility while owners traverse the gardens.)

presents the most impressive series of personal appearances by stars of the entertainment world ever gathered together for a single season. Impressario Ben Segal has on his agenda: Frank Sinatra, Bobby Vinton; Joan Rivers; Helen Reddy; Sammy Davis Jr; Engelbert, Tom Jones; Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme and others of equal repute. And the Theater's "West End Restaurant" managed by Daryl Happ, the widely-known gourmet wizard, combines the excellence of the best steak, sea food, and foreign and traditional restaurants. One of their specialties is Turtle Steak. Elaborate surroundings. Moderate prices.

7. POMPANO RACE TRACK: ("The Winter Capital of Harness Racing") is the most modern track of its kind in the country. It now features Juag de la Cierwa's computerized tote system through which bettors can get a single print-out ticket for all the varied bets placed at a single window. For day-time race enthusiasts the Hialeah's thorough-breeds and the facility's bird sanctuary is still the best of the "sport of kings" anywhere.

8. JACKIE GLEASON INNER-VARY CLASSIC (Feb. 20-26) for the benefit of numerous charities, is the stellar sporting extravaganza of the Florida season and nationwide interest. A total of 144 super stars of the golf world including Jack Nicklaus (defending champion) will compete for a total of $250,000 in prizes at the Inverary Country club. Season and daily admission and gallery seats are available to the public.

9. KEY WEST CONCH TRAIN travels 14 miles of old and new Key West, brining the visitor face to face with history from the time of the Conquistadors and pirates in the southernmost city of the U.S.A. You see the home of John James Audobon who produced his famous bird paintings; Ernest Hemingway's retreat home; Harry Truman's "Little White House"; and the most spectacular sunset seen anywhere in the world.

10. SHOPPING: From France

its perfume From India its ivory From Ireland its linen From Florida however, vacationers are now buying art imported from all over the world. Vying with Paris as the art-trading center of the world, South Florida galleries offer everything from Letrac posters to Chagall originals at prices far below those asked in large cities of the rest of the nation. Broward Art & Framing Corp. in Fort Lauderdale, is perhaps the largest and best-priced gallery and picture framing operation in Florida for investors and decorators. At Broward Art And Framing, you pick from thousands of pictures and mouldings and your choice is custom-framed while you wait, so that you can take it with you or ship it home.

Washington's Birthday

Hark back, Americans, to a Washington's Birthday Celebration, vintage 1840, to be authentically re-created at the Old Bethpage village restoration on Sunday, February 19 at 2 p.m.

Become involved in a "You Were There" experience as visitors join costumed villagers in commemorating the birth date of the revered leader of the revolution who was a folk-hero of mid-19th century Long Island and the nation.

Though Washington was not a teetotaler, the Washingtonian Temperance society claimed him as their model. Temperance believers were an important segment of Old Bethpage society and celebrated the occasion of Washington's birthday with a parade and sobriety hymns.

At 2 p.m. the tattoo, sounded on a rope-strung snare drum, will summon everyone in the village to join the militia men and local temperance society crusaders in a march to Manetto Hill Church for prayers, orations and songs. The patriotic program includes a recitation of Washington's Farewell Address and an exhortation to sobriety.

At 3 o'clock, the celebrants will walk down the road to the Noon Inn for some birthday cake and even a bit of spirits to test the resolve of those who signed the

Operation Igloo

Hundreds of Senior Scouts, Explorers and Scouters are now preparing for the annual Washington's Birthday weekend, Operation Igloo, which will be held in Nassau County Council's 4400 acre Onteora Scout Reservation, near Livingston Manor, New York.

Operation Igloo is a challenging opportunity for Senior Scouts and Explorers to put into practice, outdoor skills, which once learned are enjoyed and are the reason for widespread enthusiasm for this outstanding event each year.

Each Troop supplies all of its own equipment; food, and transportation. All participants temperance pledge. Toasts to the man who refused to be king once again will hearten Noon Inn patrons.

Before the celebration begins, the hospitality of village homes will be extended by costumed interpreters greeting guests. As February is "Lighting Month" at Old Bethpage, the elegant 1760 Schenck house is illuminated by lamplight derived from fuel made by villagers from grease and the core of rushes. The simpler Conklin house features a whale oil lamp. Though the lamp is authentic, cod-fish rather than whale oil is used in the interests of conversation. Tallow and bayberry candles as well as a beautifully crafted device for dipping wicks graces the Powell farmhouse.

Old Bethpage village restoration is a museum facility of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, located on Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage south of exit 48 on the Long Island Expressway. Admission is $2.25 for adults and $1.50 for children age 5 through 17. Nassau County leisure pass holders pay $1.75 and $1.25. There is a cafeteria and gift shop for the convenience of visitors and parking is free. During February, the restoration is open daily except Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

sleep in tents, no buildings or lean-tos will be used for sleeping, although emergency facilities are available.

Winter camping in the snow is a challenging program; testing every participant's ability to live comfortably under severe conditions. It is fun and enjoyable if you have the "know-how" and equipment.

Winter sports, such as sledging, tobogganing, skating and skiing, all will be tried by the scouts, explorers and leaders.

Participants will each be awarded the coveted Operation Igloo patch, which this year features a Walrus, who is certainly at home around Igloos.

Boating Courses - Start March 1

Two boating courses will be given by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary starting on Wednesday evening, March 1, 8 PM at the Glen Cove High School. A 12-session basic safe-boating course is being offered to adults and a 4-session course will be given for youngsters between the ages of 10 and 15.

The adult course will cover use of the mariner's compass, rules of the road, course plotting, basic seamanship and safe boating practices. The youngsters' course will prepare students for the issuance of a New York State Boating-Safety Certificate which enables them to legally operate a motorboat on the State's waterways. Both courses are free and will be conducted by instructors of Flotilla 12-3 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Further information may be obtained by calling Public Education Officer Arthur Leuck at OR 1-8287.

Adventures In History

A stimulating school recess family activity will be available to a limited number of visitors to the Old Bethpage village restoration from Tuesday through Friday, February 21 - 24. Children over age 8 and their parents will actually try their hand at some of the skills essential for survival in mid-19th century Long Island.

Registration for "Adventures in Historic Long Island Life" will begin at 10 a.m. daily, Tuesday through Friday, and continue until 25 persons are enrolled in each of the three two-hour programs - Food, Clothing, Shelter - to get under way at 1:30 p.m.

Children who took a school trip to the restoration can now return with their parents and have a go at an 1850 activity. The "Shelter" group will drop in on the village blacksmith and perhaps clang iron to anvil. Before the crew visits a building being restored, the carpenter will demonstrate his skills at the wood shop.

"Food" team action centers on the Powell farm. As they tour the barn and farmhouse, crop production, animal care and food processing are discussed and demonstrated. A trip to the tailor and shoemaker will help the "Clothing" group put a tag on the good old days when a quilt warmed every bed and the washboard, as well as the ironing board, was pressed into service every week.

After experiencing "Historic Long Island Life," comparison between modern times and existence in the 1850s are inevitable. Some will long for the past when craftsmanship and sharing made for close community and family life while others opt for the present because of luxuries never dreamed of a hundred years ago such as air travel and chain saws.

Participating families are welcome to view the 20-minute background film shown at the Reception Center and take the self-guided tour of the village. The admission fee of $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for children to age 17 includes the special school recess program. Non-residents of Nassau County pay $2.25 and $1.50. Parking is free.

During winter, the Old Bethpage village restoration, a museum facility of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is a museum gift shop and a cafeteria at the Reception Center.

The restoration is located on Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage, south of exit 48 on the Long Island Expressway. For further information, call 420-5280.

Dear Friends:

EVEN AS WE TYPE THIS ... it is snowing again. What a winter this has turned out to be. We certainly say, "Amen" to the remarks of our Supervisor in his praise of all who have worked so hard, and are continuing to do so, during these continuing winter emergencies. Also, we owe the highway departments an apology ... for in last week's "Dear Friends" we praised volunteers and paid workers alike and certainly did not intentionally omit these workers who are struggling against great odds this winter, to do their job ... they deserve - praise along with our dedicated mailmen and all the others who are helping us to survive this winter.

Furthermore, I know we all tend to over-react when lack of knowledge and patience comes to an end. We did it ourselves just yesterday, when we saw a large payload doing a most complete job of clearing the large empty lot owned by the Town of Oyster Bay located at the intersection of South Oyster Bay, Old Country and Plainview Roads, just across from our office ... we did a quick burn, wondering why a snow-loaded large open area should be cleared on the inside when local streets were still difficult to drive in. We phoned the TOB because the person answering the phone at Highways just didn't know and told us that "everyone is at a meeting." Then Frank DeStefano, who does such a great job of straightening matters out whenever possible, listened to my question which was, of course, "WHY?" ... he didn't know but with in ten minutes, Mr. John Dowling got back to me to explain that this 5-acre lot was going to be used to place the snow from the Hicksville parking areas on, and the payload was making the area ready for this operation. I tell you this because I know that upon giving the matter further thought all of us will not rail against those who are trying their best to clear up heavy heavy snows, even if their efforts are not adequate, or, even if we do not understand them. When spring finally arrives, AND IT WILL, I still say that committees appointed by our elected officials should analyze all complaints, and make constructive suggestions as to how they may be overcome and what is necessary for us to do or buy, and also, for us to KNOW IN ADVANCE, to solve like problems which undoubtedly will occur in the future. Residents, taxpayers, and elected officials alike should be willing to work together toward this goal. And, when they have arrived at solutions, The Herald will be more than happy to bring them to you.

WE ARE PLEASED to hear that bipartisan bills were recently introduced into the senate and assembly in Albany that would provide funding for the proposed MTA takeover of the Hicksville RR escalators. This would then eliminate the special tax district established for this purpose in the early '60s. Our Town officials have been at loggerheads with representatives of the MTA on terms for this to be accomplished for some time now. Let us hope that these bills will be passed soon so that this matter can be resolved.

In years past unions have served the working classes and served them well. They were needed. Many honest unions still do. However, this is not now true of ALL unions, as we well know. It was interesting to read in the "US News and World Report" that an overwhelming majority of the American public is opposed to any action by the Federal government which would make it easier for unions to organize, in this publication's recent poll. When asked if the Federal government "should make it easier for unions to organize workers," ... 59 percent of the nation's household heads said, "no." Only 24 percent said "yes," and another 17 percent had no opinion. This poll's results have special significance coming at a time when the so-called labor law "reform" bill (S. 1883 / S. 2467) is awaiting Senate consideration. Spokesmen for organizing non-union workers across the country. Opponents say passage of S. 1883 would result in hundreds of thousands of additional workers being forced to join or support unwanted unions. The National Right To Work Committee opposes this legislation stating its slogan, "American must have the right but not be compelled to join labor unions." This is certainly worth giving thought to. If you feel strongly on the subject why not drop a note to your congressman?

HERE AND THERE: part two of Carole Wolf's two-part series on the last Hicksville Community Council's February meeting will have to be brought to you next week as Carole, who walks a lot in this weather rather than use her car, was injured by a privately-owned plow on Old Country Road near Division Avenue. She is at home, after brief hospitalization, awaiting the results of xrays to her back injury. Get well soon, Carole ... an exhibit of the photography of the Rev. John H. Krahn of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Hicksville is presently on display in the fiction room show case of the

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Clark:
Why is our Glenbrook development continually made to endure hardships for lack of services that appears to be available to all streets adjoining our particular development?

For 10 days our garbage has been out. Yesterday garbage trucks were in the area. They picked up to the east, west, south north of our development. Not one street in our development was cleared.

Now, through neglect and oversight - we have additional snow and problems of unpicked garbage and streets that were never plowed properly in the first place. Needless, to say the sanitation department was called to no avail. They seemed to be able to have time to pick up every other community but ours.

We do pay substantial taxes in our area. Constantly, we are on the phone with complaints that are unheeded. Certainly, our streets have never been plowed as other communities are. Why, must we be spending time on the phone and why are we being denied the same services that our surrounding and adjoining streets and neighbors are receiving?

This has certainly been an arduous winter to say the least - but our Glenbrook development has been made to endure a bit much compared to some others. Why?

Very truly yours,
Miriam Zanerle

Dear Editor:
This past snowstorm on Feb. 6th broke many records - BUT the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, and the N.Y. State Highway Dept. broke all records for poor service in my opinion.

On Monday morning, Feb. 6th, when the snow was just beginning to fall, the T. O. B. Sanitation Dept. Administration Dept. should have sent the men out to pick up refuse - instead of holding off waiting for a 20 hour storm period to take effect.

The T. O. B. I know cannot keep up with a storm like this, but the County and State Highway Depts. really flopped when Broadway and Newbridge Roads were made impassable.

The scene at Broadway and East John St. (the corner) must be a contest between who will clean it out. The same thing always happens at Newbridge Rd. and Duffy Ave.

The irony of it all, there was a station wagon stalled in the middle of Newbridge Rd. and Duffy Ave. for 28 hours and no one bothered to move it.

Little towns like Yorkville, Gloversville, Oneonta, N. Y., who had 40 to 50 inches of snow were plowed out.

Disgracefully yours,
Rudy Bouse, Hicksville

Administration Building
Division Avenue
Hicksville, N. Y. 11801
Dear Dr. Hill:

We, the undersigned, would like to bring it to your attention, that we are upset with the way the school closings are being handled. It is very disconcerting to parents and children alike, to be left in the dark, as to whether or not school will remain open or closed during inclement weather. We would like to know why it takes so long for the Hicksville School Board to announce a school closing, when neighboring districts have announced their schools closing hours before the Hicksville taxpayers are notified.

Furthermore, our concern for the children's safety on Monday, February 6, was tested to the utmost when Hicksville Public Schools opened for a matter of two hours or so, and young children were dismissed from school at the height of the blizzard, and only a few parents notified to this effect. The school board should have more concern for the children's safety, than whether or not they receive State Aid on snow days.

We would appreciate your comments on this matter.
Very truly yours,

A Message From County Executive Francis Purcell

Last week, as Nassau County was being buried under the worst snowstorm in its history, Gov. Carey offered to send us 20 snowblowers from Buffalo and Watertown. That made good headlines for the governor, and some county residents, believing help was on the way, may have breathed easier, but there were two catches to his offer. The first was that the snowblowers would have to clear the New York State Thruway on their way down and, when they got here, they would be too big to do any good on our local streets where we most needed the help. The second was that, by the time the governor made his offer, the county had already cleared the 550 miles of major roads for which it is responsible, and had even begun plowing some of the roads for which the state is responsible. Two days after the storm, the only major thoroughfares in the county that were still unplowed and impassable were those under state jurisdiction. Among them were the Long Island and Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressways, Northern State Parkway, Routes 106 and 197, Sunrise Highway and Hempstead Turnpike.

Trouble with state roads during major snowstorms is nothing new. The county and the towns and local municipalities have their trucks and crews out on the roads even before the snow stops falling. The men do heroic work to make local streets passable. But motorists who venture out of their own neighborhoods often find themselves sliding and slithering on state roads that have hardly been touched. The solution is not more belated offers from the governor to send us state plows from 500 miles away. The solution is to assign this equipment permanently to locations on Long Island so that it can start rolling at the same time we do.

Cleaning up after nature's latest assault was costly. The county alone deployed some 326 men in 163 vehicles. The men worked around the clock to clear a way through an average 25 inches of snow, much of it wind-whipped into 15-foot drifts. They poured 1,500 tons of salt and 4,500 tons of sand. The towns, villages and cities - faced with an even more difficult job - mobilized their crews and equipment as well. People who complained that their streets were not being cleared fast enough should understand the monumental job faced by the local crews who had to cope with narrow, twisting roads and cul-de-sacs, many of them clogged with cars buried in the drifts.

Nobody likes the inconvenience of being snowbound. But the men who manned the plows worked tirelessly to dig us out and get things back to normal. They deserve our thanks.

Seniors, Make Sure You Know Your Tax Breaks

Even in our youth-oriented society, there are still a few provisions in our laws which recognize the special problems faced by Senior Citizens. The Internal Revenue Law provides special income tax breaks for those over 65. If you are over age 65, you should not let these special tax provisions slip away.

For instance, once you become 65, you can receive more income before you are required to file a tax return. If you are a single person, you need not file unless your gross income (excluding Social Security) is over $3,700. If you are married, no tax return need be filed unless your gross income is $5,450 (if only one spouse is 65 or over) or $6,200 if both spouses are 65 or over.

Also, if you are 65 or over, you are entitled to an extra $750 personal exemption, in addition to the regular personal exemption of $750. If both you and your spouse are 65, both are entitled to the extra exemption.

There is also an extra exemption for blindness. Anyone who meets the legal definition can claim an additional $750 exemption on top of the regular exemption and the Senior Citizens exemption.

For Seniors who sold their homes during 1977, there is a once-in-a-lifetime tax break which can save thousands of dollars. If you are 65 or older when you sell your house (provided you have lived there for 5 of the last 8 years and you have not previously claimed this exemption), you can exclude from taxes all the profit, provided the sale price minus certain allowed deductions, was $35 thousand or less. If you sold your home for more than $35 thousand, part of your gain may be excluded from income.

One recent change to benefit those over 65 (and some younger taxpayers too) is the "Credit for

A Message From Supervisor Colby

As New York City Mayor Koch commented after the last month's ice storm, "What comes next, locusts?" Last week's has been termed the worst storm in 30 years, in fact, the third worst in more than a century. It is awesome to realize that nature can virtually immobilize major cities — and even an entire state — within a 48-hour span.

Prior to this storm, several procedures developed during the administrative review of snow control operations in the previous storm were implemented. Based on early forecasts of an intense storm, the Department of Public Works leased as many heavy-duty payloaders as were available — about the only type of equipment that could function effectively against the predicted four-to-six foot drifts.

By improving direct communications with the Nassau County Police Department, we were able to take advantage of their expertise in handling the emergencies which some of our residents experienced during the storm and post-storm periods. This in itself greatly improved our ability to meet real emergencies while eliminating unnecessary disruptions of operations that were previously caused by calls for emergency help when no real emergency existed.

I was never more impressed by the dedication and devotion of our volunteer firemen to their fellow man than during this period.

Time and time again, during the height of the raging blizzard, they responded to emergencies and calls for assistance. They not only rescued literally hundreds of snow-bound motorists, many of them miles from their homes, but also housed them and fed them until they could once more be on their way.

I am also deeply grateful to the hundreds of Town residents for their patience and understanding of the situation when they telephoned Town Hall or the Highway Division offices. Your cooperation and stamina during this long siege were of considerable benefit in our getting the more than 725 miles of Town roads opened within 48 hours of the end of the blizzard.

Computer Matches Will Reduce Welfare Abuse

The first computer match of New York's welfare rolls with Social Security Administration (SSA) earnings information will save $9.8 million annually in New York State by eliminating or reducing welfare payments to recipients who fail to report earned income which would affect their public assistance benefits.

Barbara Blum, acting commissioner of the state department of Social Services, said that based on the findings received last month from the computer project, an estimated 7,000 cases of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) assistance have income which could affect grant size or eligibility for assistance.

Commissioner Blum praised the computer match concept as "an administrative tool which could greatly enhance our ability to control public assistance expenditures." She urged legislative approval of a proposal by Governor Carey to establish a state-wide system of wage reporting and similar computer checks.

The match of New York data with SSA information was the first such project ever and was the result of more than three years' negotiations. Commissioner Blum said. A computer tape containing the Social Security numbers of most AFDC recipients in the state was matched with SSA earnings data from the first data and employer name for each Social Security number on the AFDC rolls which also had earned income on record in Washington.

Commissioner Blum said that from a close review of sample cases, 7,000 cases were projected to have income affecting eligibility or grants. Local social services departments will be sent the data in order to follow up with appropriate action for individual cases.

Commissioner Blum said the findings of the project verify the department's estimates of the AFDC cases with unreported income, as found in semi-annual eligibility audits. However, the computer match provided the names behind the estimates, she said.

In announcing the findings, Commissioner Blum stressed that there is no prohibition against earning income while receiving public assistance, as long as income is reported and does not exceed welfare eligibility levels.

While praising the project, she said it could not be continued usefully because the SSA is changing to a system of annual wage data collection. Such data would be too dated for meaningful comparison with public assistance rolls.

The proposed wage reporting system would receive quarterly earnings data for matching with social services data. It would also match earnings with data on recipients of unemployment benefits, home relief, and Medicaid, and would be used in locating and arranging child support payments from deserting parents. Such information was not accessible in the pilot match with SSA data.

However, Commissioner Blum said, "Like the pilot project, the proposed system would be operated with strict privacy safeguards. It would match only the Social Security numbers on county files, and those of unemployment insurance beneficiaries with earnings files. There would be no other probing into the financial affairs of other New Yorkers. Access to the earnings information could occur only to corroborate the reported income of recipients and to obtain child support." Earnings data would not be available to anyone outside the state system, including local welfare officials, unless a check indicated the recipient identified by Social Security number had earnings reported. Only then would information be shared with local social services officials.

The Suburbs Could Serve As A Guinea Pig

Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell is willing to be a guinea pig — for a federally-funded experiment in free public transportation.

Nothing a proposal by U.S. Transportation Secretary Brock Adams to conduct an experiment in some city to determine whether free public transportation would reduce car use and fuel consumption, Purcell said that the experiment would make more sense in a suburban community where people depend on cars for commuting, shopping, going to school and most other activities.

"City residents already rely heavily on public transportation so that the availability of free public transit would not significantly curtail automobile use and fuel consumption," Purcell said in a letter to Adams. "I would like to urge that you consider conducting this experiment in a mature suburban area, like Nassau County, where it would have its maximum impact."

Where New York State Stands

"New York State ranks second to last among the fifty States in the amount of personal income left after the payment of state and local taxes," reports the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey (CPES), the statewide taxpayer research organization.

"Taxpayers of this State had 83.8 percent of their incomes remaining after state and local taxes," said CPES.

The citizen watchdog group noted that "neighboring Vermont and Massachusetts ranked next to New York - 48th and 47th, respectively. Vermonters had 86.29 percent of their incomes remaining after state and local taxes. In Massachusetts the figure was 86.30."

CPES further noted that "neighboring states, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, ranked considerably higher than New York—meaning that the residents of those States had more of their incomes remaining after State and local taxes than did the citizens of New York."

	Percent of Income Remaining	Rank
Connecticut	89.43	19
Pennsylvania	89.38	20
New Jersey	89.26	24
NEW YORK	83.76	49

CPES further reported that New York ranked second among the fifty states in terms of state and local tax collections per $1,000 personal income.

"State and local tax collections per $1,000 personal income amounted to $173.29 in New York during 1976," the group said.

Hicksville American Soccer Club

BOYS UNDER 14

In between snow storms, the Hicksville Americans Soccer Club managed to complete its fifth of eleven indoor tournaments this winter. This one was for boys under 14 (1964 division) who took to the gym floor at the Hicksville High School. Eighteen teams from all over Long Island and one each from Connecticut (Westport) and New Jersey (Hazlet) came on Saturday to play 50 soccer games to decide which 10 teams would qualify for the quarter-finals on Sunday. The teams that survived (in order) were:

AMERICAN CONFERENCE

1. North Babylon
2. Blue White Ridgewood
3. Massapequa
4. West Islip
5. Hicksville

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

1. Oceanside
2. O. L. of Blessed Sacramt.
3. Garden City
4. Rockville Centre
5. Hazlet, New Jersey

Hicksville's second entry narrowly missed making it back on Sunday but played some very good soccer against very tough competition. This team was coached by Tony Coiro and the guys who performed so well for Tony were: Patrick Bedell, Ed Dedicke, James Harkins, Juan Mejia, Dave Missimo, Danny Richards, Robby Zaretsky and Bobby Stenborg in goal.

On Sunday, each team played four additional games (20 games total) to decide the four semi-finalists. One team that did not make it to the semis but did an outstanding job was Hazlet, N.J. These boys had never played indoor before and despite the threat of a major storm, came all the way to Hicksville to meet some new friends and play some very fine soccer. The team was superbly coached by Mr. Jurgen Westphal. Watch out for Hazlet next year.

The four semi-finalists were: North Babylon in first place with a total record of 8 wins and 1 tie; in second was Massapequa who was 7 wins and 2 ties; Blue White Ridgewood was third and Hicksville 4th. Hicksville coach Ken Groves did some very effective planning & talking to his boys as, in the first semi-final, they came out and played unbelievably strong soccer to upset previously undefeated North Babylon by a very convincing 3-0 score. In the second semi, Blue White Ridgewood edged Massapequa 2-1. This game was full of thrills and excitement. In the Championship game, Blue White soundly defeated Hicksville 4-0. The boys tried hard, but just didn't have enough left to overcome a second very strong opponent. They came a long way however, and we're all extremely proud of their second place finish. Coach and Club Vice President Ken Groves was all smiles as he presented the trophies to Mike Andrus, Don Barcavage, Tony Coiro, Tom Fletcher, Mike Jung, Stephen Stafford, Jeff Tomlinson and goalkeeper Ed Thompson.

The four special awards went to: North Babylon's Ron Fedorowicz for Most Valuable Player, Tom Uschok of Massapequa for Best Goalkeeper, Best Defender was Tommy Fletcher of Hicksville and the most important award - SPORTSMANSHIP was presented to Mike Windishmann of Blue White Ridgewood. Hazlet coach Jurgen Westphal thanked Hicksville for the invitation and presented the club with a plaque in appreciation.

In five tournaments this year, the club has a fantastic record of four championships and one second place. The next tournaments will be on Feb. 18 and Feb. 19. The under 16 and under 19 girls will play at the Hicksville High and the under 14 girls at Jericho in a one-day tournament on Sunday, Feb. 19.

But our Post is dedicated in getting every M.I.A. back home where he belongs and to get an Accounting of all K.I.A.s, so they can be brought home. We of our Post have made a vow we won't rest until each and every one of our boys have been accounted for.

Another thing that we are fighting for is Calverton for our National Cemetery. Many of you may think this is such a silly thing to think about. Things that are unforeseen, happen, and Pinelawn is just about filled. We all took this for granted, this is very important, especially when a crisis does arise. This is another project we are dedicated to. We must think of our young, old and unfortunate Vets. So, when you question what can the Post do for me. We can only do

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and remember the good advice given by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Sr. in his sermon at a Memorial Service for his son which was televised on Sun., Feb. 12th... "Don't keep on worrying about what someone else has. USE what you have. And use it for good. And use it in the spirit of love." We'll say, "Amen" to that.

Purcell pointed out that Nassau County is the most populous suburban county in the United States and that it is adjacent to New York City. He said that the county is served by a bus system and the Long Island Railroad. He said that "it would be possible in Nassau County to measure very accurately the success of the program in changing commuting and other transportation patterns."

Purcell offered to meet with Adams to discuss the proposal further and to present data which convince him that the experiment would be a success if conducted in Nassau County.

Share A Part Of Your Life

Just about every Saturday, almost 200 Nassau residents voluntarily give up a good part of their free time to help a youngster grow to be a better person. Although many have family obligations of their own, they take the time to be a Big Brother or Big Sister to a fatherless youngster.

They may take in a ball game, go fishing, or build a model airplane together. Perhaps they'll share a hamburger or an ice cream soda - and just talk for a while. The important point is that one to one - they are making an important difference in the life of a boy who needs adult male companionship. A large number of women are also involved with single-parent girls and boys.

Right here in Nassau County there are thousands of fatherless children - kids in need of friendship, affection and guidance. They don't need money. They need someone to help them grow - a friend to help them over the rough spots - someone whose influence and friendship can be the difference between growing up hostile, and growing up happy. Big Brothers Sisters often makes that difference.

Big Brothers Sisters of Nassau County, the local arm of a nationwide organization, is operated by volunteers, and assisted by a small professional staff. Their primary job is to attract the 40 male volunteers a month that are needed to keep pace with requests for Big Brothers. Many boys have to wait for months before they can be matched up with a Big Brother. Big Sisters are more readily available; in fact some women are working with younger boys, with good results. (Because of this availability, little girls who apply to the program can be quickly matched.)

To qualify as a volunteer, the adult must agree to a searching interview and a background check - so that he or she can be cleared to visit a child. This helps to assure that he is matched with a youngster with whom he is compatible. Big Brothers Sisters follows up each referral, to see that the match is working out.

In fact, the adult volunteers meet among themselves in small groups, to swap experiences, and to seek ways to improve their relationships with their young charges. Being a friend to a youngster is a serious responsibility.

This heart-warming program goes on week after week, the year round. The more people hear about it, the more demand there is for Big Brothers in particular. (Today there are 80 youngsters waiting for a Big Brother.) At present, it is not unusual for a youngster to wait up to a year for a Big Brother.

There are great demands made upon the volunteer, although they follow no hard and fast routine. Be a friend to a youngster, on a regular basis that's what is required. Warmth, understanding - and being just plain interested in

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

On Saturday, the 11th of February, the Galileo Lodge held its annual Valentine's Day Dance. Two hundred and sixty people attended this affair. If there was a better way for 260 people to rid themselves of the woes and misfortunes caused by the recent inclement weather, this dance had to be it.

At 2:00 A.M. the affair came to a close, but many of the people who attended remained for a considerable period after that. And no small wonder it was. Add a chicken dinner, salads, coffee, cookies, beer and other beverages; and then add Johnny G and his musical group, and you'll have a really great evening.

The affair was run by Chairman Al Frigente and Co-Chairman Armand Del Cioppo, and they, with the help of their committee did a great job under difficulties because of delayed food deliveries due to weather conditions, but they rose above these problems. Also, Mrs. Del Cioppo and Jim Angino who were responsible for the Valentine's Day decor, certainly added immeasurably to the atmosphere.

This dance was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Massiello, one of the organization's favorite couples, who were deeply moved by this event.

Lodge Venerable Tony Monteforte, who is always desirous of maintaining his policy of acknowledging fine efforts on the part of Lodge members, takes this opportunity to extend his thanks to all the members who 'pitched in' to guarantee the success of this function.

Our Lady Of Mercy School News

The results of the S.A.T. tests administered to our children this year were sent home a couple of weeks ago. That evening, a special parents meeting was held and Sister Jeanine explained the marking system and significance to us. Our children rated very favorably.

The Cultural Arts program scheduled for January 12 had to be postponed to the 24th because of the weather. On the 24th an entertaining and informative program about the telephone was presented. This is certainly a painless way to learn.

The week of January 29 to February 4 was Catholic School week. We, at Our Lady of Mercy, observed the occasion by having open school week at that time and a special Liturgy on Wednesday, February 1. Reverend James Boesel, pastor, celebrated a special Mass of Thanksgiving for the faculty, students, and parents of OLM School. In his homily, Father Boesel spoke of the importance of good example, early home influences, and the need for home and school to work together in the education of the child, especially in the moral and spiritual development of the child.

The teachers pledged their continued efforts to work for the education of the children in their care, and the parents then made a similar vow to work with the school in educating and directing our children.

After the Mass, a social hour followed in the school gym. All kinds of projects were displayed. Each class was represented, and we were able to view the fruits of the combined labors of children, teachers, and parents. We were also able to chat informally with members of the faculty.

Last week marked the twenty fifth anniversary of Sister Kathleen Hennessey's entrance into the religious life. Sister Kathleen is Principal of Our Lady of Mercy School. A special cake commemorating the occasion was presented to her. It was quickly cut up and shared by all her well-wishers.

Mrs. Kathleen Pawlowski (Left), President of the Our Lady of Mercy School Aid Society, presents Sister Kathleen Hennessey, Principal of OLM School, with a gift from all the children of the school on the occasion of Sister's Silver jubilee.

Mr. Otto Schmidtmann (not pictured) also made presentations on behalf of the Holy-Name Society and the OLM School Board.

WHY SUFFERING?

How many times haven't we been perplexed by the question, "Why suffering?" Why do we get hit by things that hurt so, not only with broken bodies or cancer's cannibalism but in the hurt of helplessness, of broken dreams, wasted hopes, and shattered, smashed potential. Why?

One of the biggest problems with suffering is our own self-righteousness. To ask, "Why me?" sees no purpose in suffering and states that we are so good that we do not deserve to suffer. "Why me?" Better to ask, "Why not me?" The mystery of life is not that God allows us to suffer but that He does not allow us to suffer more. I am not saying that those of you who have had a really tragic experience in life have received such grief as a result of a particular sin or sins. There is much of suffering that will always remain a mystery.

Suffering comes from evil men and the direct forces of Satan. God is never the source of evil. Yet God can even harness suffering and use it for our good. How often when things are going too good don't we forget about God. Suffering puts us in touch with our limitations and reminds us of our need for the Father's help. It also reminds us that the life we currently live is far from complete, and we long for better days ahead in heaven.

Although all suffer, Christians never need to suffer alone. God deals with our suffering in Christ. Jesus was not the Superstar that the contemporary rock opera portrays. He was not the popular "guru" of Jerusalem. He was rather a man of sorrows, acquainted with grief. His pain was real pain. The Good News of God was not announced from a donkey's back on a palm-strewn Jerusalem road, but on a desolate hill, the place of the skull, between two thieves. Jesus fully identifies and empathizes with us having assumed our nature, confronted our temptations, experienced our hurts, and bore our sins.

When we are crushed by life, He, and perhaps He alone, can say, "I understand." And then He says, "Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." This is His message to those of us who are still hurting from a past tragedy. This is His message to those of us suffering from a current disappointment. This is His message to all of us awaiting a future without guarantees.

A new way to bring people together: the Bahá'í Faith

The purpose of religion is to create unity

Many Americans are beginning to realize that unity among the peoples of the world has become a necessity.

And religion should be a cause of unity.

Unity of the human family has always been the highest goal of religion. All the Prophets and Messengers of God have taught mankind to love one another.

The purpose of the Bahá'í Faith is to create unity among the races and nations of the world.

"Religion," the Bahá'í Writings say, "should unite all hearts and cause all wars and disputes to vanish from the face of the earth, give birth to spirituality, and bring life and light to each heart."

Bahá'í is in more than 300 countries and territories of the world are working systematically to bring people of every nation, race and culture into one unified family. They are building communities that are enriched by cultural and racial differences and that draw strength from diversity.

Special Recreation Activities

For the first time, the leisure options offered Nassau's handicapped adults by the Department of Recreation and Parks will include horseback riding. The department has arranged with the non-profit foundation, New Riders of the Viking Horses, Inc. to give horseback riding lessons for the handicapped each Saturday beginning March 25 at 10 a.m. and continuing through May 27.

Registration with the Department's Special Recreation for the Handicapped Unit is a must as only six disabled adults (age 18 and over) will be admitted to the program. There is no fee, but a valid Leisure Pass and medical release form is required.

Riding therapy, as practiced at the Laemmlin Stables in Glen Cove, was conceived in Switzerland by Dr. Jurg Baumann recommended the Icelandic horse for handicapped equestrians. The small steed is blessed with placid temperament and a smooth walking gait, the toll, peculiar to the breed. Fortunately for disabled Long Islanders, the Laemmlin Stables have imported 30 of these hardy, docile horses.

Individualized plans for the riding program will be formulated by a physical therapist on the staff the New Riders. The suggested regimens may include anything from the simple walking pace to mastery of all five gaits. Every participant will en-

TOB Construction Figures

The accumulative value of construction permits let by Oyster Bay Town's Building Division in 1977 reached nearly $54 million, according to Town Councilman Gregory W. Carman, who also announced the January 1978 building permits reached a total value of $1.1 million.

The statistics tabulated from the 1977 report indicated that a total of 1664 permits for one-family houses, commercial and industrial construction, alterations and additions and other purposes, were issued during the course of that year for a total value of $53,927,416.

Among the year-end totals were 158 one-family dwelling permits worth $9,571,722; 651 permits for alterations and additions worth $4,327,718; 133 commercial permits issued at a value of $15,533,819 and 48 industrial permits valued at $6,084,841. A value in excess of $14 million was attributable to the permits let for the construction of condominium and garden apartment buildings.

Councilman Carman, Chairman of the Town Board's Standing Committee on Commerce and Industry, noted that the permits issued during January, 1978 reached a value of $1,168,745, which is in line with the construction figures of past Januarys. "The Town's 1977 building figures reflect an increase in excess of $22 million over our 1976 end of the year tabulations, and $33 million over those of 1975," Carman continued. "It is our hope that this upward trend is an indication of a recovering economy in Oyster Bay which will continue through 1978."

Type-A-Thon, March 4

Now is the time for all good people to come to the aid of the Heart Fund by participating in a Type-A-Thon to be held Saturday, March 4 from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Sponsored by 40 Senior High students in the Future Business Leaders of America, this event is part of the organization's efforts to raise monies for the Heart Fund. Jericho High School was the first Long Island school to sponsor a community-wide Type-A-Thon to raise proceeds for charitable organizations.

Francine Tatz, Chariman of the Type-A-Thon and Co-Advisor to the Future Business Leaders of America, states: "Our business education students will be asking friends, neighbors and businesses to serve as sponsors and to pledge a contribution for each page typed. In the past, several students have typed over 50 pages and have raised as much as $100 per typing project."

Jericho students interested in "hitting the keyboards" in Jericho's Future Business Leaders of America's Type-A-Thon should contact Mrs. Tatz, who will provide the pledge sheets. Residents who wish to have typing done on March 4, including personal correspondence, may reach Mrs. Tatz at 681-6620.
