50th Annual Labor Day Tournament

This year the Hicksville Fire Department will host its Fiftieth Annual Labor Day Parade and Drill. To earmark a half century of tournaments the festivities will begin on Sunday September 3rd, 1978, with an Old Fashion Tournament which will include our neighbors from the 9th Battalion. The Old Fashion Tournament will begin at Noon.

Following the Old Fashion Events, the Annual Labor Day Parade will step-off at 5:00 p.m. and will include members from many of the Departments throughout Nassau and Suffolk Counties. In addition to the many local departments there will be a few out-of-towners and a few familiar favorites on hand.

The Labor Day Chairman Pat Scanlon, and his assistant, Richie Russell, will be pleased to honor Henry Sehnef who served as a chief from 1919 thru 1921. Also, the Labor Day Committee will be honoring ex-chief Jack Leckie and the former flower of the dispatchers, Elsie Callahan.

The main event will begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. Monday, September 4th, and will continue through it's completion of the events of the day. Hicksville RR Escalator Should Be MTA Responsibility

With a vote of approval from the Oyster Bay Town Board, Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca is demanding that the State Assembly act on a bill that would allow the Metropolitan Transportation Authority to take over the escalator at the Hicksville Railroad Station.

"The State Senate has recognized that this responsibility rightfully belongs to the MTA since the escalator serves commuters and therefore should not be a burden solely on residents of the area," Mosca pointed out.

"The MTA has also agreed that this station serves residents from beyond its immediate borders and has acknowledged that the escalator to the platform should be an MTA responsibility.

"Yet the bill just sits in the Assembly, which may end its session any day and walk away leaving the residents of the Hicksville Escalator District to continue picking up the bill that everyone agrees should be handled by the MTA which is responsible for serving the commuter," Mosca said.

At Mosca's urging the Town Board passed a "Home Rule" message urging adoption of the legislation. The Town has been pressing for the takeover of the escalators since Town Supervisor Joseph Colby, more than a year ago, pointed out the inequity of forcing the Town to operate railroad station escalators.

"Since this was suggested, there has been no indication of opposition," Mosca said. "Originally this bill not only had bi-partisan sponsorship but bi-partisan support. I only hope it is not being caught up in some political game where the Democrats in the Assembly are refusing to pass a bill because it was approved by Republicans in the Senate. If that is the case, and it is the only reason I can imagine for the delay, then it's time to tell the Assembly leadership that political games must end where being fair to the people begins."

Speed Limit Reduced, Signs Added On Old Country Road

The Oyster Bay Town Board this week adopted a resolution introduced by Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark reducing the speed limit on Old Country Road in the vicinity of Lee Place, the scene of a tragic accident this past May that resulted in the death of one Hicksville boy and injury to five others. All were students at the nearby Old Country Road Elementary School.

The resolution reduced the speed limit from 40 to 30 miles per hour along the stretch of Old Country Road between Clarissa Drive and Chance Street and ordered the posting of new speed limit and school zone signs there. A traffic light and crossing guard were functioning at the scene and time of the accident.

"It is hoped that these additional measures, which were recommended by the Accident Prevention Bureau of the Nassau County Police Department, will prevent any future tragedies occurring in this area," Clark said.

"FIDDLER": Rehearsals are now under way for the St. Ignatius Youth Community's production of "Fiddler On The Roof". The show goes on August 18, 19, 20, 25, 26, 27, 1978, and also a benefit show on September 1, 1978. All shows begin at 8:00 P.M. in the Old School Auditorium.

Seen in the picture are Golde (Jo Marie Rubino) and Yente (Mary Elizabeth Carton) in just one of the many great scenes from the show. This promises to be a tremendous hit with people of all ages, so don't miss all the fun. For more information call 935-6873.

County Field Office On Charlotte Ave.

Public Works Commissioner Michael R. Pender announced that a County field office has been set up on Charlotte Avenue between the Railroad and Duffy Avenue, in Davis's construction yard, to receive complaints and resolve problems concerning sewer construction under contract 1002-3-INT-12-2. Augustus Voelpel, resident engineer, will be in charge of the office. The telephone number is 433-3112.

The contract runs from Newbridge Road and Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, northerly along Brittle Lane, Grape Lane, Levittown Parkway, Arcadia Lane, Charlotte Avenue, Kuhl Avenue, Gardiner Avenue, Rockland Drive, Fulton Place, Richmond Avenue, Essex Place, Key Place, Schoharie Drive, and Glen Cove Road to Old Jericho Turnpike.

"Every effort will be made to keep inconvenience to a minimum", Pender said. "But if anyone encounters a problem, Mr.

Voelpel will do his best to resolve it in every way consistent with reasonableness and job progress."

Pender assured residents that all pavements would be restored with surfaces of comparable quality to those presently existing following an interim period of temporary pavements. The temporary pavements are necessary to allow compaction and stabilization of back-filling material.

Cub Scout Pack 293

Pack 293 is looking for new boys and their parents to share in the fun and leadership of the Cub Scouts. The Troop is made up of boys between the ages of 8 and 11 who meet one afternoon a week at the United Methodist Church on Old Country Road.

Meetings start in September.

"Watch for more information and dates. We hope to see you in the fall," said a spokesman for this active troop.

School Board Meeting

The Board of Education of the Hicksville School District will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, August 9, at 8:15 p.m., in the Board Room of the Administration Building, Division Avenue, Hicksville.

The public is invited to attend.

New Store Opens

The Brooks Fashion Stores, Inc. has announced the opening of a Brooks store in the Mid-Island Fashion Plaza. The junior women's specialty store will carry the company's up-to-date lines of sportswear, dresses, coats, and accessories.

The Mid Island Fashion Plaza in Hicksville is the first enclosed regional shopping center in the U.S. to be given a theme treatment. Since January, 1977, $8 million has been spent on renovation and rebuilding.

new fashion store additions, new "island" boutiques, couturier boutiques, and art galleries. Thirty-five new or renovated stores and restaurants were opened in 1977 and 40 more are expected to be added this year. A major department store is scheduled to open in 1979 and by 1980, some 200 retail units are expected.

Other additions being planned include a three-level fashion island, a new second level mall, a quality hotel, and a European-style entertainment complex. When completed, the entire project will cover nearly 2 million square feet and be one of Long Island's major tourist attractions.

The operators of the mall say that current annual sales volume has reached approximately $100 million. During 1978, store openings are expected to produce an additional $20 million in sales. The mall was built in 1956 on 70 acres at the base of one of Long Island's wealthiest areas.

When Sylvia and Sam Zinn of PLAINVIEW visited their daughter, Barbara, who is a professor at Colgate University, in Hamilton, NY, they had their agenda all planned. Since Barbara's home is right on the water, they anticipated boating, surfing and fishing during their visit. All went well until the fishing part—they could neither find nor buy worms—a most important element to the fish. Nevertheless, the Zinns truly enjoyed the time they spent together.

A handsome, young HICKSVILLE, Michael Murphy, just celebrated his birthday on July 25. Happ birthday, Mike, from your family and friends.

Fred Parola, Esquire, has a hobby that keeps him on the run—marathon running. Fred's run in a number of races, some of which have been as long as 26 miles. We understand Fred will be in another kind of a race this fall—the one for the State Assembly seat in the 12th District. Good luck in all your races, Fred.

One of the "Blackwater Boys," Jack Driscoll, and his lovely wife, Liz, were in HICKSVILLE visiting their friend, Mike Maher, this past week. The "Blackwater Boys" are an Irish folk music group who have performed both in the U.S. and in Ireland. Jack writes, sings and plays the guitar and harmonica for the group. Jack and Mike met when they both attended Dowling College and performed in the college theatre group together. Whenever he's playing in the metropolitan area, Jack, makes it a point to visit his long-time friend.

Don't know how he finds the time, but busy Dr. Irwin Gross, who practices dentistry on Broadway, has been traveling and touring around the country. Since the beginning of the year he has been to Las Vegas, Canada and Mexico (where he visited the archaeological sites). He even found time for a week at Amagansett although Doc said he could have picked a better time since it rained each day.

Not to be outdone by his traveling dad (Dr. Irwin Gross), Jeffrey Gross and his friend, Bruce Levine, have just returned from an eight-week backpacking trip throughout Europe. They had a marvelous time and this experience helped broaden their knowledge. But Jeff will continue to add to this knowledge when he enters the NYU College of Medicine this fall.

Frank DiRusso, who retired from employment at the County Court two years ago, is practicing the old adage: "a stitch in time saves nine." Frank took a course at Stitch & Sew and now makes clothes for his entire family. He has made suits, blouses, jackets, dresses, etc. To date, Frank has completed approximately 250-275 articles of clothing for his wife, daughters, in-laws and himself. Move over, Oleg Cassini, here comes the competition.

The Kremers of HICKSVILLE were on the move again. This time they vacationed at Sleepy Hollow in the Catskills for a week of fishing, waterskiing and other entertainment. It was a first for Frank, Anne, Michael and Annette when they rented a trailer for their stay in the mountains. The one who enjoyed the experience most was Anne's mother, Mrs. Frances Martin, who is 80 years young Mrs.

Martin is ready, willing and able to join the Kremers anytime they rent another trailer for vacationing.

Congratulations to Frank J. Kremler, a sales representative of Prudential Insurance Co.'s Hicksville district, who sold more than $2 million of insurance during 1977.

He joined Prudential in 1965 and has earned numerous company-wide President's Citations for sales excellence.

Have you seen that gorgeous, carmine-colored, 1978 Monte Carlo cruising around HICKSVILLE? Well, it's the latest addition to the Franzese household. Anita says it's the only way to go shopping—in style. Tony says: "watch that car in the parking lots."

German Night, fifth in the free International Night Series celebrating the diverse cultural heritage of Nassau citizens, will take place at the Lakeside Theatre in Eisenhower Park on Monday, August 7 at 8:30 p.m. Rain date is the following evening.

Sponsored by European American Bank and arranged by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks in cooperation with the Nassau County Steuben Parade Committee, the show headlines Max Helmut Wessels in the dual role of MC and vocalist. As the German language radio personality sings well-known German tunes, he will be accompanied on piano by Professor Charles Arthur.

The Nagold Black Forest Band, on a two-week tour of the United States, will come from the Hunter Mountain German Festival to perform at the Lakeside Theatre. The musicians, about 20 strong, bring today's hit songs direct from Germany.

Also on the program are the Plattdeutsche Tanzgruppe of Brooklyn. Sixteen children and adults will folk dance in colorful North German costume. The culture of Bavaria will be represented by the original Enzian Schuhplattler. Both children and adult groups will entertain.

Bremervoerder Damen und Maennerchor, 50 talented chorallers, will be singing familiar German songs going back to the thirties. Part of their repertoire is the popular "All Aboard," a collection of sailor's songs.

Vice President William Keeler of the European American Bank will welcome the audience. All Islanders with or without a German in their family tree are invited to sample music and dance from Rhine Country.

Seating at the Lakeside Theatre, located near Parking Field No. 6, is provided by the audience. Folding chairs and blankets are suggested for comfort. Further information may be obtained by calling 292-4121 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. In the event of unstable weather, call 292-4175 after 6 p.m. for verification of performance.

The newly-elected State President is Mrs. Peter Moskwa from Suffolk County.

County Chairman Marianne Orlando accepted awards and trophies merited by Nassau County Auxiliary members for their work in Children and Youth, Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation, etc. The coveted Alice Kiernan Trophy in recognition of outstanding service to the veteran was presented to the Cathedral Post American Legion Auxiliary... Vera Morris, Chairman.

Johnson Exhibit

A change in scheduling at the Black History Museum in Hempstead has made possible extended showing of the James Weldon Johnson Exhibit on loan from the Smithsonian Institution. The previously announced exhibit, "Portraits of the People," will not be displayed until some time in the future and the Johnson Exhibit will continue at least through August 31.

Panels depicting the life of the eminent Black leader who was the first of his race to practice law in the State of Florida and, at the same time, was able to write lyrics for songs, many of which became classics. Johnson is credited with 200 titles including "Lift Ev'ry Voice and Sing."

Born in 1871, he was a key figure in the creation of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Twelve panels present in photograph and text the life of a dynamic personality who was Executive Secretary of the NAACP from 1920 to 1930, when he left to become Professor of Creative Literature at Fisk University. His poem "The Creation" is often quoted.

The Johnson Exhibit can be viewed daily except Sunday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Black History Museum. Located at 106A Main Street, the Museum is operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks.

"Too Many State and Federal Tax Mandates," Purcell

Nassau County Executive Francis Purcell recently urged a special state commission looking into the local property tax burden to take a long, hard look at the FEDERAL and STATE mandated programs that have been piled year after year on the property tax.

"There is nothing intrinsically wrong with the system of raising revenue through a tax on real property," Purcell said in a statement to the temporary State Commission on the Real Property Tax at a hearing held in Hauppauge. "It only becomes wrong - and unfair - when revenue demands placed on it far exceed acceptability. That is where we are at in New York State."

Purcell pointed out that New York State leads the nation in the number of STATE MANDATES imposed on local governments and that California, the birthplace of Proposition 13, is the second highest.

"The fiscal impact of state mandates is abundantly clear in areas such as social services, labor arbitration and transportation subsidies," he said.

"Citing the welfare system as a 'classic example,' Purcell told the commission that Nassau County's share of the FEDERAL and STATE MANDATED welfare program represents 32 per cent of all the revenue the county raises through its general fund property tax levy.

"We need your help to convince the President and the Congress that welfare is a national problem that must be financed by the federal treasury; not revenue raised through the property tax on a person's home," he stated.

Purcell also urged that the commission develop an alternate means of financing public education, noting that more than half the local property tax bill paid by homeowners in Nassau County goes to finance public education.

"The financing of public education should be a state responsibility," he said.

Pledging that he will do all within his power as the chief elected official of Nassau County to help ease the property tax burden, Purcell said, nevertheless, that he is perplexed by the fact that many people are pointing the finger at county government as the culprit who caused property taxes to rise so steeply in recent years.

"The record shows that the Nassau County property tax rate used to finance all county government operations aside from police and the community college is lower today than it was in 1971," he explained.

"Don't encourage Woodrow, or he'll explain about energy efficiency ratios."

Woodrow may be your typical earbender, but the subject he's onto is no joking matter. Knowing about energy efficiency ratios—or EER's—can help you make the wisest buying decision when it comes to purchasing one of your biggest and most important electric appliances, your air conditioner.

An air conditioner's EER tells you how efficiently it uses electricity. The higher the EER, the more economical it is to run. If you sign up for LILCO's Consumer Education Program, you can learn all about EER's and other fascinating subjects—from electrical safety to home insulation. You can come to one class, or all of them. They're all free.

For more information about LILCO's Consumer Education Program, and how you may join, write to LILCO, 309 Newbridge Road, Levittown, N.Y. 11756.

One of our Consumer Education graduates just wrote us this letter. "We found the courses extremely interesting and informative, and cannot praise your Helen May enough for the way she conducts and organizes the programs. Many of the things we learned are being put to good use and actually make a dollars-and-cents difference."

This is the kind of difference we strive to make. We're glad when we do.

Long Island people serving the people of Long Island.

Dear Friends

AS WE GO TO PRESS comes the tragic news of the death of six City firemen in Wednesday's Waldbaum's fire in Brooklyn. Among the dead are Harold Hastings, 39, of Petal Lane, Hicksville. Mr. Hastings, who had served in the NY City Fire Dept for the past 16 years, was an Aide to a Fire Chief and was on the roof which collapsed, on supervisory duty. He is survived by his wife, Donna and three children, Brian, Christine and Dawn. In the opinion of his co-workers, friends and neighbors, he was dedicated to his profession as well as being a good neighbor and family man. "We shall all miss him," said one of his neighbors. The Hastings were preparing to vacation in Florida starting this Sunday. Condolences to his grief-stricken family.

Had a friendly letter from Clarice (Mrs. Herbert) Johnsen of Dunedin, Florida. The Johnsens, who are well known to all as Hicksville community leaders, are just as busy in their so-called "retirement". In May they flew out to Phoenix to attend two more grandchildren's graduations, one from high school and one from the 8th grade... then to Minot, North Dakota for 10 days for another visit. Later in June they flew to Newark and spent three weeks with three daughter, Carol, followed by 3 days in Connecticut and 3 days in Hicksville, which was all too short to see their many friends. Further news for those who know this fine family... their daughter, Nancy has flown from Spain to Dublin where she attended a Charismatic Conference. Nancy reports that he met some people there from St. Ignatius. Then she flew back to Newark and the entire family was joined to celebrate the Johnsen's 45th wedding anniversary and Clarice's birthday. A "happy" and wishes for many more, friends.

Clarice, who writes an interesting and informative letter, goes on to tell us of how many local people they keep meeting both in their travels and in the area of their home in Dunedin. To prove her point, Clarice tells us that Herb was walking in one of the Malls in Clearwater and who come up and shakes his hand but Tom Connelly, a former Rep. committeeman. On the same day Herb was showing their slides of Norway and a man in the audience came up and said that he used to know a fellow, Herb Johnsen from Hicksville. Herb said, "Shake hands with Herb Johnsen from Hicksville." It was Mr. Kearns who was in charge of School Building and Grounds when Herb was first on the school board in 1957. And so on, and so on.

Clarice, we know we are the world's worst letter writer, but keep them coming to us for not only do we enjoy your letters, but we know that by sharing them with your other friends, our readers, we are pleasing a lot of local people. We all send our best to you with dire threats if you don't call us on your next visit. We'd love to see you both. If possible let us know in advance. OK?

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and watch this column for some important local news that will be breaking in the next week or two.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

In his verbal attack on Mr. Willard, Mr. Katz used in the Herald edition of July 27, the following phrase: "Since you and I both agree that the School Board must decide itself to the 'benefit of the children' and not to 'any specific group' etc."

I want to make two exceptions to that phrase.

First of all, this figure of speech "to the benefit of the children" whenever focusing the taxpayer, is so overused, that it should be scrapped by School Board members. Further Mr. Katz, your opinion is a misconception. The taxpayer is the purveyor of the cake and not an interest group. Interest groups are the ones haggling who gets the biggest slice. You could not call the taxpayers interest groups-the expression "victims" would be more adequate.

Further I want to answer two letters of students.

They once said "say it with flowers", now Hicksville teachers created a new saying, "say it through children."

The coaching of professionals was clearly recognizable especially the last one was pure teacher rhetoric.

Erich Laumann

To the Editor:

This is the last time I will answer the letter of a non-taxpaying Hicksville teenager. I do so now only because the rantings and ravings contained in Mr. James M. Black's letter, which you published in your 27 July 1978 issue, reflects the contempt he has for his brain and because he spoke with a forked-tongue: I have never claimed, either in writing or in speaking, to be a "knight in shining armor, out to slay everyone's enemy - the teacher-dominated school board". It is also obvious that he has read my letters as carelessly as he has written his. He should have seen my concern for students ranks equally with my concern for taxpayers - both groups being ripped off by the teacher's union and by the school administration with the approval and sanction of the school board. I will now briefly answer his addle-headed statements and foolish questions in the order he presented them in his letter:

1. Teaching foreign languages in the elementary grades is an exercise in futility for most children between the ages of 6 and 12. Mr. Black calls it the most successful program in Hicksville but does not give his measurement standard for success. I disagree with his assessment. The program should never have been started. Children at that age are just beginning to and should concentrate on learning to read, write, and speak proper English, our national language. The program should now be discontinued. It is too costly for the meager results obtained. In any case, his invitation for me to test students is an empty gesture - he had no authority to issue the invitation.

2. I most certainly have observed the results of mediocre teaching - and from a better observation point than sitting in a Hicksville school classroom. I listened to class recitations and read the writings of students from most Nassau school districts, including Hicksville, while attending college the past four years. The results of my observations makes a mockery of the educator's "hype phrase" - quality education. Mediocrity is rampant - it is a disease, bred in a large part by an antiquated tenure system which assures a teacher a lifetime job whether or not he teaches in a poor or mediocre manner. Teacher unionism is preventing change to a "renewable" tenure system. Without such a change, it will remain virtually impossible to release the mediocre teacher.

3. I disagree wholeheartedly with Mr. Black's contention that students are "crucified" when the budget is defeated. That is simply scare talk generated by years of teacher brainwashing. Students may be inconvenienced - but walking to school within the state-mandated walking distance, not engaging in interscholastic sports, and not having an adult education program does not equate with "crucifixion of students". However, a budget could be presented to voters with all student goodies in that would be approved if the school board eliminated just 45 more teacher spaces and reduced the budget and resultant tax rate.

4. I know of no inaccurate, insulting, or cruel remarks contained in my previous letters. Furthermore, my metaphors fit the circumstances.

5. The cost of our overpaid, underworked, and overprivileged teachers has contributed to excessive costs per pupil in the Hicksville school system. These costs are over 15 percent above the state average and about 25 percent above the great majority of upstate schools. Supervisor Al D'Amato of Hempstead Town in speaking at a taxpayer's meeting alleged that it costs $380 per year more to educate a child in Nassau County than it does in Suffolk and "THEY (in Nassau) ARE NOT GETTING THE BEST EDUCATION".

6. More money, greater benefits, and make-work programs for teachers are primary goals of teacher unions. When seeking those goals, the education of children becomes hostage. Mr. Black must have laughed his head off watching teachers on strike walk the picket line. However, I fail to see how striking teachers walking a picket line equates maintaining "dedicated professionalism" any more than higher teacher salaries combined with more benefits and less work equates to "improved education".

The balance of Mr. Black's letter is simply the prattlings of a schoolboy - not worthy of a reply.

Finally, Mr. Stephen R. Katz, whose letter was also published in the 27 July issue, is awaiting my plan for reduction of 45 teachers. However, the school board and school administration can make the plan without my help. If either agency wants my help, all they need do is ask and furnish the information needed and they will get a plan. I hope Mr. Katz was not trying to tell me it couldn't be done. By the way - is he a teacher?

Sincerely yours,
Frank H. Willard

Re: Family Camping in Syosset
Dear Mrs. Noeth:

It was with dismay that I read of the protests being made by some Syosset residents concerning the proposed use of a tract of land in their area for family camping. It is natural to want to protect your home. It is natural to be wary of anything new and untried. It is the habit of Civic Associations to oppose anything new in their area. I completely understand the reactions and apprehensions of residents, but I feel that the reactions were caused by ignorance, completely unsupported by facts.

The news article mentioned that residents presented their objections, but failed to enumerate just what these objections were, except to state that it was felt that the land should be used for some activity that could be enjoyed by all and (2) that the area should be maintained in its present rustic condition.

In answer, I should like to point out that (1) there is NO recreational activity that EVERYONE enjoys, and that camping is the fastest growing recreational activity in this country today, with literally millions camping yearly, and (2) campers are among our foremost naturalists. Areas not preserved in their natural state do not make good camping areas. No matter what recreational use you have for this land, access roads and public restrooms would have to be built. If it is used for camping, little else would have to be done. Nature walks, etc. could still be open to the public.

By some people unfamiliar with campers and camping, campers are thought to be economically deprived nomads who come in willy nilly and ruin an area. Actually, while I have never camped with a Rockefeller or a DuPont, most campers that I have met in my ten years of camping are in the middle or upper middle income strata. Camping equipment is expensive; really poor people cannot afford it. Campers, as a group, are neat and very concerned with the ecology. For quite a few years now, there has been one camping weekend a year held at Eisenhower park. This year, there were over two hundred families camped in the park in May. The administrator of the park remarked that campers always leave the park in better condition than they found it.

Campers are also an economic boon to the neighborhood. They patronize stores, restaurants, theatres, etc. They pay their own way. Each year, thousands of acres of land and many more thousands of dollars are spent on golf and tennis courts. These are popular sports, but hardly activities that everyone engages in. They are expensive to maintain, and really cater to individuals and groups, rather than to families. At a time in history when family values are being tried to the utmost, it does seem to me that anything that promotes strong family ties should be encouraged by all, not discouraged by anyone.

My telling the readers of this paper that camping would be good for Syosset will certainly not change anyone's mind. I would like to urge people unfamiliar with camping to visit some of the excellent camping areas in Suffolk county, such as Wildwood State Park in Wading River, Cedar Grove Campground in East Hampton, Hither Hills State Park in Montauk, or, to see a small campground that is run by a town, visit McCann's Park in Greenport. You will see that most of your fears are unfounded. Campers make good neighbors, if you just give us a chance.

Sincerely yours,
a Hicksville Resident

Dear Sir:

If California voters are indeed oppressed by excessive state local taxes, New Yorkers should not be voting on a proposition 13, but rather should be marching in armed formations on the state capitol and local city halls.

According to United States Census Bureau data, per capita state local taxes in New York in 1975-76 were $1,140, eighteen per cent higher than the $964 levied in California.

Californians surely have a right to complain when in a decade (1965-66 to 1975-76) their per capita state local tax bite soared $569 (144.1%) compared to a United States average increase of $441 (152.1%). In New York State, however, the increase was $730 (178.0%).

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

On Sunday, August 6th, the Galileo Lodge will hold its annual Picnic and Bocce Tournament on its home grounds, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. Such items as beer, soda, hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream and watermelon will be served, and the bocce tournament is the kind of entertainment capable of adding many fun-filled and pleasurable moments to any outside activity. Members and their guests are invited. This picnic will start at 12 Noon, and in the event of rain, activities will be held indoors. If you are interested, please call Sam Cristiano, the Chairman, at 931-9351. So, if you are desirous of enjoying a pleasant summer Sunday in the open, where you can make new friends, see new faces, and partake of the fun-soaked moments that are available, please call Sam at the above number and treat yourself to a good time.

Also mentioned in recent columns is our Blood Bank, which will be held by the Galileo Lodge on September 21st at 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. All donors will be fed tea, coffee, wine, etc., by the Ladies Auxiliary, who perform admirably when any type of situation arises. An added note here, and a very important one, is that this blood drive is open to the general public, which means, of course, that all blood donors from the public sector automatically become members of the bank and are also entitled to all established provisions. This holds true even when emergencies arise. We cannot say enough about this program and there are few adjectives strong enough to stress this program and its life-giving properties. Ask yourself (or yourselves) how important can this blood project be to you - and if you get the obvious answer, please come and sign up at the date specified above. The starting and ending time of this blood drive will be published next week. Please contact Ted Marotti at (681-5190) for further details.

The Beauty Queen Dance is another festivity of considerable interest to the Galileo Lodge. This affair will be held on the 26th of August, at the Lodge quarters. All entries must be submitted by Friday, the 4th of August, but the committee will stretch this date if you are interested in sending an entry. Screening of each applicant will take place on Friday, August 11, at 8:00 P.M. on the Lodge premises. Rules for applying are: 1) Applicant must be a single female between the ages of 16 to 21. 2) Applicant must be related to a member of the Galileo Lodge, and the relationship could be daughter, sister, cousin, niece or granddaughter. We are inclined to think that an event of this nature would provide many palpitating moments for the young women who are chosen as the winner and runner-up, and then too we must not forget the ecstatic moments that are present when all contestants in final competition at a dance to be held at Colonie Hill in September. So please hurry, all you members of the Galileo Lodge, and get those entries signed up. And please remember the old adage: nothing ventured is nothing gained. Please contact Skip Monfiorite, the chairman of this pageant at 931-9351.

On Saturday, the 30th of September, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge will hold its Third Annual Woman of the Year Dance at the Lodge quarters. Honorable Judge Marie Santagata of Nassau County will be honored. Price of admission is $12.50 per person, with a sumptuous meal and unlimited liquor to be served. Music will be provided by the Royal Guards, a music combo that features dance music for all age groups. For ticket information, please call 938-7081, 935-6065 and 938-5052 at your earliest convenience. For an exciting nite of fun and enjoyment, and for a very nice way to start off the Fall entertainment season, why not attend and treat yourself to a good time. All members are urged to attend - and don't forget to invite a friend or friends.

Receives Contract

A Hicksville company has been awarded a $666,990 contract with the U.S. Air Force through the assistance of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), it was announced today by Andrew P. Lynch, Acting SBA New York District Director.

The contract was awarded to the Demac Corporation which will build a set of decoy devices to be used by the Air Force's B52 bombers in eluding enemy radar.

The award was made under a SBA program which sets aside a portion of government spending for small businesses.

"This type of award program makes certain the Federal government does not overlook this area's small business community when distributing contracts," said Lynch. "It is an assurance of fair competition and an economic stimulus for the entire economy."

In recent years, small businesses have received about one-third of the total government procurement.

Unfilled Positions

More than 900 solicited jobs and another 1100 mailed directly to Long Island Professionals Career Counseling since January have gone virtually unfilled by the organization. These figures were reported today by Art Weltman, Director of Long Island's oldest, non-profit, self-help employment organization.

Although membership for the first half of the year increased more than 375 percent, the number of members assisted back to work has risen only 33 percent.

Commenting on the situation, Weltman said, "the greatest problems lie with our lack of members to fill the jobs and the stringent requisites set by employers causing direct placement to be difficult. However, we are still able to assist members in helping themselves with career development workshops, counseling and job leads." LIP has assisted hundreds of professionals since its inception.

Weltman also said the organization would continue to develop professional positions but a higher membership was necessary to fill the numerous listings which will be developed in the future. Almost all the jobs listed at LIP are professional requiring a minimum of a two year college degree or the equivalent experience.

Long Island Professionals is located in the offices of the State Department of Labor at 50 Clinton Street in Hempstead.

CADETS WORLD CHAMPS: It was during the final minutes of competition that the St. Ignatius All Girl Cadet Corps edged out a Canadian Corps to become World Champions for the sixth (6th) consecutive year we learned from Miss Deirdre Larkin, of Hicksville, who was with the Corps for the event held last weekend at Manning Bowl, in Lynn, Massachusetts ... With great community pride we herald their success, which is a milestone in the history of drum corps - as their sixth consecutive win has never been duplicated to date ... Following two additional showcase appearances, first in Canada and then the U.S. Open at Marion, Ohio, the girls will perform at Packer Stadium, in Greenbay, Wisconsin - our thanks to Miss Larkin (a former member of the St. Ignatius Cadet Corps) for her first-hand information to this reporter ... at presstime, we heard that the girls will be returning to Hicksville on Sunday afternoon, August 13th (5-7 PM) we hope you will join in a rousing cheer for this "first" again for Hicksville Community

PROUD MOMENTS: Speaking of the blessings that God gives one, Dolores and I are grateful for the talents of our sons Jimmy, Michael, Patrick and Kevin, who by checking with the Corps local contacts and turn-out to greet them.

T'WAS A FINE DAY: Last Saturday afternoon as members of the Commodore John Barry, Ancient Order of Hibernians gathered for their annual field day and picnic-President John Campbell and Past President Patrick Cowan were on hand to welcome all. Chairman John Mc Mullen and his committee (which consisted at one time or another of so many dedicated Brother) deserved a "vote of thanks" - for one of the most relaxing and enjoyable events hosted by the Hicksville AOH - our hats (green berets) are off to all. Winners of AOH field event ribbons were: Casey Reilly, Thomas Crowley, Michael Sweeney and Richard Rourke ... Trophies were won by: Eileen Mc Grane, Liza Ferrara, Cathleen Crowley, Julie Murphy, P.J. 100 Alarms For Vamps

During the period July 10 through July 29, Hicksville volunteers responded to 100 alarms. There were 13 false alarms, 45 fire calls, and 42 rescue calls.

65 Fall To Heat In Band Event

On July 22, at the annual St. Ignatius Pageantry in Brass, held at Hicksville High School off Newbridge Rd., approximately 65 youths passed out due to high temperatures. Some of the youths went into convulsions and suffered symptoms of food poisoning. Members of the Hicksville Fire Dept. Rescue Squad were standing by, but had to alert other Department members when things began to get out of hand. Mutual aid assistance was requested from the East Meadow and Jericho Departments for ambulances. Nassau County Police assisted with 2 ambulances. The Plainview Fire Dept. stood by at Fire Headquarters while Hicksville Vamps were tied up. The alarm was sounded shortly after 9 p.m. and all units were secured at 12:30 a.m. The local Auxiliary Police Unit was also assisted in crowd control. Hicksville Chiefs commended all Units for a job well done.

Department Drill

If you saw black smoke early Sunday morning, July 23 and heard the fire alarms, it wasn't the real thing. It was an unannounced Department drill run by the Department's training committee. This drill, held on Charlotte Ave., courtesy of the Davis Construction Co. owners, was a simulated building fire. Vamps responded to what looked like a "worker." Upon arrival they were informed it was a drill and went through their normal fire ground operations, under the watchful eyes of the training committee. While fighting this "blaze" another alarm came in. Upon arrival Vamps found a car ablaze. This too was staged, to test the ability of vamps to deploy men and equipment to multiple alarms throughout Hickville in an orderly fashion.

Department to Lose Its Training Site

In a few short months, the Hicksville Fire Dept. will lose its primary training site at the Water Dist. property off Bethpage Rd. It was an ideal location, isolated from residential areas. The site was also used each year for the annual Labor Day Parade and Drill. This year is the 50th annual anniversary of the popular event, and may be the last if Vamps can't come up with another suitable location by next year. Town officials have offered their help on this problem. Vamps train at various industrial properties throughout Hicksville, but laddering buildings, excessive use of water is prohibited. Several years back, a leaking water main on the Sears property on North Broadway, allowed water somehow to get into the underground gas tanks. The Fire Dept. took the blame because they used that particular hydrant. As a result, Vamps don't train at Sears, at least with water, as they used to. There is the Fire Service Academy at Old Bethpage, but all 71 County Fire Dept. must share its use and it's crowded. The need for a local training site is evident. Where, is another question. If you have any ideas, let us know. The reason the present site is being closed is the Water District must sink some new wells and the state wants no activities of any kind at that location.

Interviewed

HICKSVILLE Michael W. Maher was on radio station WTUE, Mineola, the other day. Mike was interviewed on "The Irish Folk Music Hour"; regarding his knowledge of Irish art throughout history. Mike has a degree in visual arts; He is a painter himself and has sold a number of his paintings. He elaborated on the relationship of ancient Irish folk art to contemporary artists of modern times. A very interesting discussion.

DEVOTIONS

By The Rev. John H. Krahn

down to marriage or remarriage. They live with the supreme hope that the right mate will come along and bring total and final happiness into their lives. They assume that all of their unhappiness will vanish when that right combination of a Sir Galahad, Raquel Welsh, Superman, or Wonderwoman invades their lives. Yet on the first count, such a person doesn't exist and on the second, marriage like most of life does not come with a guarantee.

Marriage is not something to do for the sake of marriage but is something to be entered into when the right person comes along at the right time under the right circumstances. Singleness is not a disease that is cured by marriage. It's okay to be single. Being single does not prohibit a person from achieving a successful and a fulfilling life.

The most influential and dynamic man who ever lived was single. He experienced all the things that single adults experience today. His name was Jesus. Among Jesus' closest personal friends were dynamic and beautiful singles like Mary and Martha and Lazarus.

Let me say it again - single is not a dead end street. It's okay to be single as you live your life to the glory of God.

FOR SINGLE PEOPLE

Everyone is single sometime. Half of us who are presently married will live part of our future life as a single adult. This will come quite naturally through the death of either the husband or the wife. So there is a good chance that most of us will live a good many years as a single adult.

Unfortunately many single adults are living in a holding pattern, a waiting room, a court

Rug Hooking Workshop

Mrs. Violet Rapoport of 45 Fox-hunt Crescent, Oyster Bay Cove, will be among more than one hundred rug hooking teachers and teachers-in-training from over twenty states and Canada, attending the 28th annual McGown Teachers' Workshop to be held July 31st to August 11th at Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass.

During the weekend of August 5th and 6th the teachers will be exhibiting their work and that of their pupils at the National Guild Hooked Rug Exhibit to be held in the Museum Educational Building at Old Sturbridge Village, Sturbridge, Mass. The public is cordially invited, admission free, from 10am to 6 pm.

The Workshop was established by Pearl K. McGown, nationally known designer and color specialist for rugs hooked in the "traditional" style. It is a non-profit cooperative organization. The lecturers are volunteers among the participants who share ideas, techniques, methods of dying, color plans, and other subjects related to their art.

Through the years this workshop has been instrumental in developing the craft of rug hooking so that it has now become recognized as an art. Paintings in wool as well as exquisitely hooked oriental rugs will be among the pieces shown at the two day exhibit at Old Sturbridge Village.

Mrs. Rapoport will be teaching at Syosset Woodbury Park this Fall and will be starting her private classes Oct. 3, 1978. For further information please call 922-1555.

officers of private corporations.

The composition of the Investment Board and its method of selection should assure independent decisions made in accordance with established fiduciary principles. My hope is that the Governor and the Legislature will reject any requests to alter these proposed arrangements in any way which would impair such fiduciary independence.

I respectfully request that you give this bill careful consideration. I suggest that it merits your support.

In fiscal 1965-66 state local taxes appropriated 12.5 per cent of the personal income total in California compared to a national average of 10.7 per cent and 12.6 per cent in New York. Ten years later (1975-76) the national average was 12.5% compared to 14.9 per cent in California and 17.3 per cent in New York.

One can easily understand the fury of California voters when in the one year between 1974-76 their per capita state local tax bite skyrocketed by $95 compared to a national average of $67. What then should be the reaction of New Yorkers whose per capita state local tax assessment increased in that one year by $115?

It was not always thus. New York was not always the leader in the state local tax parade. As late as fiscal 1964-65 the state local tax levy in California was $379 compared to $372 in New York and a national average of $266.

In truth, New York taxpayers appear to have more patience and tolerance of their profligate lawmakers than do Californians. But for how much longer, oh, Lord?

Very truly yours,
Joseph Trerotola,
President
Teamsters Joint Council 16.

Dear Ms. Noeth:

As you know, the Comptroller is now the sole trustee of the $10 billion Common Retirement Fund, which holds the reserves of the State Employees' Retirement System and the State Policemen's and Firemen's Retirement System. Thus he has the sole responsibility for investing the Fund so as to maintain its integrity and to earn the highest income consistent with safety.

I am writing to acquaint you with a bill that has been introduced in the State Legislature at my request. You have probably read about it. It would shift the responsibility for investments to a 5-member Investment Board.

In my opinion, the Fund is now so large that it would be wise to subject investment decisions to the collective judgment of a Board. In that connection, I note that the Funds has grown from less than $1 billion when I first became Comptroller to its present $10 billion and will continue to grow. Nowhere else is the responsibility for investing such an enormous amount of money imposed on and entrusted to a single person.

In addition, an Investment Board structured as contemplated in the bill should have the independence necessary to resist recurrent pressures to make investments which are not in the interest of the Fund beneficiaries -- the employees of the State and most of our local governments (outside New York City) -- whose pensions are payable from the Fund.

My proposal calls for four members of the new Investment Board to be acknowledged experts in the field of investments. The fifth member would be an employee union member of one of the retirement systems. This member's function would be to remind the Board, on a continuing basis, that the primary consideration behind its decisions must be oriented to benefit the system membership.

One member of the Investment Board would be named by the Governor, one by the Comptroller, and three by the broad-based 15-member Advisory Council to the Retirement Systems. That Council consists of four members chosen by unions representing State and local employee members of the Systems, four representing associations of local governments, two representing State

Property Tax Commission Relief Must Be More Than Tokenism

In a statement delivered on Thursday, July 25, 1978 at hearings of the Temporary State Commission on Real Property Taxes, Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby urged that the State assume the full costs of education rather than seeking ways of providing tax relief that could amount to little more than tokenism.

Pointing out that the average property owner in Oyster Bay pays 57 per cent of his property taxes to school districts, Colby argued that this represents the only real solution to the homeowner's problems and it is the one area where the courts have already indicated that the State must make a change from its present funding system.

"A relatively minor reduction of $50 or even $100 is a token and is not acceptable," Colby told the Commission, adding: "You'll probably recall that President Carter's proposed $50 federal tax refund was widely met with bemusement and a shrug of the shoulders last year."

Then referring to California's approval of Proposition 13 where the amendment provided for property tax cuts amounting to almost 60 per cent, Colby said that "to correct the counterproductive effect of the regressive property tax, New York must provide at least similar reform."

According to Colby, the homeowner in Oyster Bay Town who is paying $3,000 a year in property taxes would realize a reduction of $1,710 if the State adopted a "more equitable system whereby educational financing is fully assumed by State government, where it rightfully belongs."

He pointed out to the commission that in this earlier request to members of the State Legislature to act to remove the costs of education from real property tax, he had simply explained that this "single action could provide more relief for the taxpayer than all levels of local government could, even is local governments took the most drastic of all actions by shutting down completely - laying off all employees, closing all facilities and eliminating all of the services they provide including police and fire protection, the delivery of water and the collection of refuse."

Referring to a bill that would have transferred the educational costs to the State but was never allowed to reach debate on the floor of the Assembly, Colby said that, while it was heading in the right direction, it too, could have been improved to address itself to all financing options open to the State. He noted that one of its weaknesses might have been its complete reliance on the income tax. While conceding that income tax may have to play some role in a new support system, Colby believes that any other tax is better than the dependence on the property tax.

Calling the property tax "the most regressive of all taxes," Colby pointed out what an especially unfair burden it was on those homeowners who are senior citizens and others, who must survive on limited and fixed incomes. He said that the State had taxing powers that were far broader than those of local school districts and certainly were not limited to the income tax alone. Colby suggested that, with effort, sources of revenue for education could be discovered to put support for education on a more equitable basis. He then suggested other sources that could provide new money in the future as well as the possible reallocation of funds being provided to the State through existing sources.

Colby also recommended that with such a change in financing, the system can be designed to allow for continued local control and the provision of optional educational services provided at the expense of residents of the district. However, he cautioned that any system to allow local option-at-local cost should be tied to a voting system within the district that assures it is being done with great consent. "In previously making this recommendation, I proposed that optional services be authorized by a majority of at least 35 percent of eligible district voters or, alternatively, by at least two-thirds of all those who vote in an optional services referendum," he said.

In concluding his remarks, Colby further urged that the Commission look at other governmental levels which must rely on the property tax for its major source of revenue and to provide some form of forcing higher levels of government to recognize the effects of mandated programs. While realizing that many special districts are also faced with mandated expenditures, Colby spoke only of those forced on local general municipal governments.
