School Tax Rate Set

by Linda Strongin

A total tax rate of $17.023 per $100 of assessed valuation was officially adopted by the Hicksville Board of Education at its meeting last week. The figure includes $16,433 for school tax and $590 for library tax.

The action was taken after the school budget re-vote passed 3,414 to 2,641. The library budget of $690,459.98 was previously passed by the voters in April.

After the vote was officially accepted by the Board, President Tom Nagle thanked the students for distributing the flyer among residents. During the public speaking session, resident Larry Wolfson also thanked the students who "went to the community and asked for a full educational program." He gave special thanks to Carrie Clark, a senior at the high school, who personally chaired and organized the distribution effort.

District Clerk Marie Egan thanked the voting personnel for their "hard work." The number of personnel, machines and voting hours had been out to offset the extra cost for machine rental.

President Tom Nagle reminded the public that transportation would not begin until October 1 to allow for inspections, scheduling and bus driver certification. He also announced that the school calendar would be printed. According to an administration spokesman the calendar "is not at the printer and we hope to mail it to residents sometime after October 1."

The business meeting was delayed twenty-five minutes because the possibility existed of voting machines in some election districts passing the 995 total which is the most votes the machines could tally. Plans were made by the Board and District Clerk in the event that it would occur.

While waiting for the polls to close, the Board held a brief business meeting. It approved a remedial reading project for public and non-public schools. The $83,406 total cost is completely funded by the State Education Department under

E.S.E.A. Title I. The schools involved in this project are Old Country, Burns and the Senior High School; also Holy Family, Trinity Lutheran, Our Lady of Mercy and St. Ignatius.

The Board also approved a computer program for business careers at the senior high school. The cost is $30,589 and is totally funded by the State Education Department under the Vocational Education Act. The figure includes salary and fringe benefits for one teacher ($9,459) and equipment costs ($21,130).

The Board discussed at length the reassignments in elementary physical education. Due to a vacancy in the junior high school, an elementary physical education instructor was moved from the elementary schools, decreasing that total to 11. Trustee John Ayres questioned if the district was "in compliance with state law in all schools." State law mandates 120 minutes of physical education instruction per week for each student.

Assistant Superintendent Dr. Manus Clancy stated it was "impossible to schedule 120 minutes at this time." He added that a plan would have to be worked out with the possibility of classroom teachers supplementing.

Mr. Ayres stated that the classroom teachers would then "be taking time away from regular classroom studies" not the teachers' prep time.

Trustee Iris Wolfson asked if activities after lunch could count toward the mandate; but Dr. Clancy stated that these are not allowable. She again asked administration if there were "any districts in Nassau that give 120 minutes."

Mr. Ayres stated that the rationale of "no one else is doing it" was hard to except.

Mr. Nagle stated that "the same amount of physical education was being given as last year and we did not give 120 minutes" (to all elementary school students.)

Mr. Wolfson added that this was another example of "an additional mandate from the State. The legislature is not getting the whole educational picture, including the financial burdens on a school district."

Mrs. Diane D'Avino, Director of Health and Physical Education, gave a breakdown to the Board of school and number of minutes taught to each grade, including special education classes.

Dr. Wilber Hawkins, attending his first board meeting as our superintendent, stated that "if the Board mandates 120 minutes, it is up to the administration to devise a plan to comply."

Mr. Ayres asked Mrs. D'Avino is twelve elementary physical education teachers would then enable the district to comply with the State mandate. According to Mrs. D'Avino, however, "we would just begin to comply."

Voting no to accept the reassignment in elementary physical education was Mr. Ayres.

The Board awarded bids for audio-visual equipment for a total of $15,000.10 with $12,518.58 coming from federal funds and a $2,481.52 grant received from Cablevision.

During the public speaking session, Mrs. Alicem Clark questioned if schools would "go uncovered" if the school nurse was absent. Mr. Nagle replied that on an absence from one to three days, no substitute would be hired. However, he stated that "administration has two ways to alleviate the problem. It can have an elementary school share a nurse or it can move one of the nurses from a secondary school."

The Board began a discussion on policy concerning Board organization but after a recommendation from Vice President Dan Areen that it "be done on our own time," the Board members agreed to have Secretary Bill Bennett, who has undertaken the job of revising and updating the policy book, meet with Supt. Hawkins, iron out any problems, and then present it for Board adoption.

The next meeting of the Board of Education will be held on September 27, 8:15 p.m. in the conference room of the administration building.

KEMP MEETS MARGIOTTA: Two former football players, Congressman Jack Kemp, quarterback of the Buffalo Bills, left, and Joseph M. Margiotta, Nassau GOP Chairman and lineman for Hofstra University, greeted each other recently at a meeting in Hempstead. Kemp was in Nassau County to announce his support of Perry B. Duryea for governor. Kemp is the sponsor of the Kemp-Roth Bill in Congress which will cut personal income taxes by 33 percent over the next three years.

'Mandates' Cause High County Taxes

Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell said it is not surprising that a Washington-based study group would list Long Island as having the highest property taxes in the nation. "What is missing, however, is the big asterisk next to the Nassau and Suffolk figures to point out that New York MANDATES that its property taxpayers foot the bill for many more programs," Purcell said.

He pointed out that the homeowner in Houston, Texas, which the Tax Foundation Inc. study ranks 19th in terms of the per capita property tax, does not pay one penny in property taxes to support welfare programs in Texas.

"The federal government helps hold down his property tax bill by paying 73 per cent of Texas' welfare costs and the State of Texas pays the other 27 per cent with its income tax revenues," Purcell explained. "In New York, however, Uncle Sam only picks up 50 per cent of the welfare bill and the state 25 per cent, leaving a quarter of the total cost for homeowners to pay through their property tax."

"In Nassau County, which has the largest county population in the state, the welfare cost is $45 million a year to our homeowners, something the homeowners in Houston never see included in their property tax bill," he added.

Purcell noted that the same is true for homeowners in other areas listed in the tax foundation study. Property taxes do not fund welfare programs in Boston, Mass. (4th in rank) Detroit, Mich. (9th in rank and Portland-Oregon-Washington (14th in rank). In San Francisco-Oakland, Calif., (2nd in rank) the homeowner pays 12 per cent of welfare costs and in Chicago, Ill., (16th in rank) the local welfare share is only 1 per cent.

Purcell added that education in many states is not funded with property tax revenues to the extent it is in New York. "Approximately 60 per cent of all property taxes paid by Nassau homeowners goes to support education," he pointed out.

"Federal studies have shown that New York State leads the nation in mandating programs on its local governments," Purcell stated. "We have no alternative but to pay for these mandated programs such as welfare, education, transportation subsidies and health services with revenues from our property tax."

"That is why it is not surprising when a group such as the Tax Foundation comes along and reports property taxes in Nassau and Suffolk are the highest," he said.

Purcell said he hopes the Tax Foundation study will give impetus to a restructuring of New York's tax system to bring it more in line with the other states "which do not place unreasonable demands upon their property taxpayers."

The Sinking Of The Nuclear Carrier

By Congressman Norman Lent

One of President Carter's most unfortunate decisions since taking office was his so-called "tough stance" with Congress in vetoing the $36.9 billion Department of Defense authorization bill because it included $2 billion in funds for a nuclear aircraft carrier. The gravity of the President's error has been detailed by the Democratic Chairmen of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees, Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) and Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.).

These Democrats agree that the President's veto message was replete with factual and policy errors. Even the ultra-liberal

"New Republic" magazine criticized the veto and said ... "Carter's decision could prove to be the most serious of his many mistakes in the area of foreign defense policy." Unfortunately, on September 7, the Democrat-controlled House voted 191-206 to sustain the veto although its members had previously cast a lopsided 264-139 vote in favor of a nuclear powered carrier over a conventional carrier.

In an effort to clear up the murky veto message, Secretary of Defense Harold Brown wrote to Congress making it clear that a new carrier must be built this year or next.

Given the decision for another big carrier, the weight of informed opinion is that it should be nuclear. And for many reasons. There is, to begin with, no persuasive evidence that an oil-burning carrier would be cheaper-or, in any event, so much cheaper as to outweigh the arguments for building nuclear.

The usual figures put the cost of a conventional carrier at about $1.5 billion, and of a nuclear carrier at just over $2 billion. But the price tag of the nuclear ship includes a nuclear fuel source which will power the ship for 13 years. Furthermore, there is no existing prototype for the conventional carrier and, with its laying-down delayed for another inflation-wracked year or two at least, the cost of research and design could bring its price tag within the range of a nuclear carrier. The latter, on the other hand, could be copied to the last elevator cable from existing NIMITZ-class carriers.

But even if a significant saving could be assumed, the inferiority of the conventional carrier's fighting capacity would make the saving dubious. A nuclear carrier would carry 50 percent more aircraft, almost three times the amount of aviation fuel, twice the aircraft munitions and double the accessories (catapults, elevators, etc.) of the conventional carrier. It would also cruise faster and wear far stouter armor.

Then, there are the vital issues of range and vulnerability. Why build a conventional carrier that would run for four or five days on someone else's oil when you could build a nuclear carrier that would run for 13 years without refueling? A good question. Nuclear propulsion, as John Lehman observes in Aircraft Carriers: The Real Choices, "is especially important when operating, for example, in the Indian Ocean, 5,000 miles from base, where the interdiction of tanker support could leave a conventional carrier stranded, having run out of fuel 3,000 miles from home."

Every study of the nuclear-vs-conventional carrier question has accordingly come down decisively for a nuclear carrier.

In achieving his public relations success in having Congress sustain his veto, President Carter may have won the battle, while losing the war. Not only has the Congress been given a greater incentive to second-guess the Pentagon during next year's budget debate, but there can be little doubt that Carter's handling of defense will emerge as a critical issue of the 1980 elections.

CB Safety Tips

- If you're planning on setting up a base station in your home, it's best to get a professional to do the job. But, if you plan to do it yourself, we have a few basic safety rules on antenna installation that we think you should follow: 1. Measure the total height of antenna, supporting mast, and structure. Double it. That's how far your antenna should be installed from overhead power lines. 2. Wear insulated gloves and rubber-soled shoes or boots when installing a base station antenna to reduce the danger of electric shock. And never work on a windy day. 3. Don't assume that an overhead cable is merely a telephone line. Whatever it is, don't go near it, even if it seems to be insulated. 4. Assemble the antenna at the installation site. That way you won't have to haul it past potential hazards. 5. If your antenna should topple onto a power line, don't touch it. Call LILCO right away.

CB safety is important to everyone. After all, we wouldn't want your first call to be a 10-38 (ambulance needed here).

Long Island people serving the people of Long Island.

Dear Friends:

GOOD NEWS...on Wed., Sept. 20th the Plainview-Old Bethpage School District Budget was passed. In a record turnout, the vote was 3,782 to 3,009. This will set the tax rate of this district at $20.71 for each $100 of assessed valuation, up .99c from last year's tax rate. The budget approved yesterday was in the amount of $27,500,000.

Although at press time it had not yet been received by the Town of Oyster Bay in writing, it is understood that the application of Clip Clog Stables, Inc. for a special use permit to operate an indoor racquetball club on property adjoining a Town parking field between Table and Barter Lanes in Hicksville had been withdrawn. It would have come up for a day and evening hearing on Tuesday, Sept. 26. It will undoubtedly come up for the petition withdrawal at the Town Board meeting during the day, but this newspaper would suggest that anyone planning to appear at this hearing telephone the Town of Oyster Bay for a final verification as to whether or not this application has been withdrawn.

We have a tragic conclusion to the fate of the neglected dogs at the Grandeur Kennels on West John St. in Hicksville. Over the past weekend it was discovered that someone had come onto the premises and brutally killed all the dogs.

The will of Mrs. Sonny Shea who owned these Kennels, was to have been probated this Tuesday, Sept. 19th. There are many violations on the property and it is to be hoped that they will not be shunted aside but will be taken care of promptly now that the will is probated. We cannot tell you how the news of the cruel treatment of these dogs has affected not only the writer, but all to whom she has spoken on this subject. These dogs should have been taken care of not just by having someone feed them once a day, but under the laws of the area, we understand that someone should have been on the premises not only during the day but also at night. This was not the case and those facts were known not only by the police, but by many agencies including the Humane Society, for several months. This is a disgrace and we believe that the conditions in all the kennels in our town and county should be regularly checked and inspected. More on this later.

As you will note in the "Letters To The Editor" column this week, the Hicksville Council of PTAs, is urging the Board of Education to begin negotiating with all their employees. We agree. And we also agree that at this point in time, the Hicksville needs an attorney who is able to adequately serve all their needs, not one who is busy with affairs of other school districts. To serve several school districts there must be adequate staff on a legal firm. Perhaps that could be corrected. At any rate, this is nothing personal... the district must get on with its duties whatever they may be, especially one that as directly affects the welfare of the children.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and don't forget that on Thursday, Oct. 5th, at 8:30 pm in the Hicksville Library on Jerusalem Avenue, the Hicksville Community Council will address itself specifically to "the views of the residents and taxpayers of Hicksville as to the development of its downtown area." This is an important meeting for all of us. Unless we work together on planning this, our downtown area, we will end up with what planners and architects suggests, or, be left with the mud puddles which are so noticeable at present. Another important point - there are no taxes assessed on mud puddles. So, come on down on Oct. 5th and let's get the ball rolling.

County Field Office Set Up

Public Works Commissioner Michael R. Pender today announced that a County field office has been set up at Lee between Rave Street and Old Farm Road to receive complaints and resolve problems concerning sewer construction under Contract 1002-3-L-5. Peter Muttee, resident engineer, will be in charge of the office. The telephone number is 433-0172.

The contract is bounded on the north by Old Country Road, on the west by Jerusalem Avenue, on the east by South Oyster Bay Road and the Long Island Railroad and on the south by Harrison Avenue, Bloomingdale Road and Tiptop Lane.

"Every effort will be made to keep inconvenience to a 'minimum'", Pender said. "But if anyone encounters a problem, Mr. Muttee will do his best to resolve it in every way consistent with reasonableness and job progress."

Letters To The Editor

To the Hicksville School Board and all district bargaining units:

Hicksville Council of PTAs is concerned about the condition which exists in Hicksville with regard to the district's bargaining groups. At the present time, none of our employee groups - teachers, administrators, clerks or custodians - have current contracts. We are aware that various efforts have been made during the summer to schedule negotiating sessions. But none of these attempts has been successful.

We realize this situation is counter-productive to employee morale and therefore adversely affects education. Since our primary concern is for the children in our schools, we feel compelled to do whatever is in our power to amend this situation.

We are further concerned with impending job actions in our own and surrounding school districts. Since the attorney for the Hicksville School Board has similar responsibilities in at least one of these districts, we question his priorities. We would hope that money expended in the past and anticipated expenditures would guarantee the availability of our attorney when Hicksville's own crises are eminent.

We urge the school board to initiate immediate action to enter into meaningful negotiations with the district's employee groups and we explore all concerned to make every possible effort to alleviate the situation which now exists.

We know you share our concerns for the education of Hicksville's youth and we trust you will give this matter the highest priority in their interest and that of the district. Please let us know the steps you plan to take and their anticipated outcome.

Sincerely,
Hicksville Council of PTAs

Dear Mrs. Noeth,

Our recent book sale was a tremendous success and our Friend's treasury enriched by $718.48. I wanted to extend a sincere thank you to all who donated books - including our Library's discards - and who performed the arduous task of setting up over 3,000 books and manned the tables during the sale. The Friends are small group - less than 20 and we always appreciate any help we receive. The Friends love books and are devoted to the Hicksville Library and all that it represents in our community. We meet every other month at the Library and want to extend an invitation to interested persons to join us. Contact the Library for more information.

Several lovely events are being planned by our group this year including joining with the Independent Art Society's 3rd Annual Art Exhibition on Sunday, Nov. 5. We are donating to a "special award" and serving refreshments. Then, on Monday evening, Nov. 20, we are sponsoring the appearance of Dr. Jeffrey Nevid, author and professor at Hofstra University, discussing his book B.T. Behavior Therapy for Weight Control. On Sunday, Dec. 17 we will as usual serve "tea" for the Hicksville High School Madrigal Singers - a lovely annual Christmas present to our community. Then on Feb. 3, 1979 we will sponsor our first youth art show in cooperation with the Independent Society. Details of this will be announced later. Please join us at these events and check with the Library for all their many exciting events.

The Friends also voted to donate to the Memorial Fountain being planned for downtown Hicksville by the Hicksville Kiwanis Foundation. We hope other groups in Hicksville will

A Message From Colby

The Carter administration has backed off, just a bit, from its announced plan to abolish the Nassau-Suffolk SMSA (Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area) designation and that of eleven other areas across the country. The U.S. Commerce Department has stated that its proposed guidelines to merge these areas with their adjoining cities will be reconsidered in light of a nationwide protest emanating from potentially affected suburban communities.

The battle to retain Nassau-Suffolk's SMSA designation is hardly won by this announcement, and the pressure to retain this important status must be kept up. As of this writing, County Executive Francis T. Purcell and Congressman Norman F. Lent were preparing to do just that. They were scheduled to meet this past Monday with Joseph Duncan, (the Commerce Department official who proposed the SMSA status elimination) in an effort to convince him that the federal government should rethink its plans and permit our region to retain its statistical identity.

While, at first blush, SMSA seems rather esoteric, it has a significant, very down to earth meaning for Nassau and Suffolk Counties. In providing our region with a nationally recognized economic and statistical identity, it offers a vast array of population, employment, income, housing and cost of living facts that distinguish Nassau-Suffolk as a major national business center. It is most important that local business, economic, governmental and other leaders possess the continued availability of the SMSA status if Long Island's economy is to be retained and improved. The designation helps us "show off" our positive features and it permits an aggressive stance in local efforts to vie on a national scale as a desirable marketplace.

The message Purcell and Lent were to deliver in Washington is that our efforts to ensure the area's economic and social well-being would be dealt a serious blow if the SMSA status is arbitrarily taken away. Also, that the Commerce Department's proposal to eliminate the Nassau-Suffolk SMSA would fly in the face of the federal government's previous decision to grant this status.

The Nassau-Suffolk designation was made after years of effort by local people and as a result of a reasoned appeal for SMSA status that could not logically be denied. It must not be taken from us now.

Just learned that Jimmy and Connie Esposito celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary on June 28. Couldn't miss this opportunity to congratulate them, even though it's belated. The Espositos reside in the HICKSVILLE Senior Citizen Housing. Connie is vice president of the Senior Citizens Club that is located at this development.

Bumped into Sam Weiss, HICKSVILLE Water Commissioner, who is recently back from vacation, and he is delighted to have been re-elected Water Commissioner. Sam said he wants to thank all his friends who supported him in this election.

Belated congratulations to HICKSVILLITE Ann Gros who celebrated her birthday on July 9. We hope you enjoyed this birthday and will continue to enjoy many, many more.

Talked with Joe and Karen Donovan last week. Find it hard to believe they've been married 7 years, they look so young—or is it because my perspective has changed. At any rate, Joe, who has passed the Bar Exams in both N.Y.S. and Florida, is doing well in his law practice in both states. Is this what's known as the "long arm of the law," Joe? And Karen is doing well as a very capable and competent teacher in the Port Washington Public Schools.

Tom and Marie Bergin just returned to HICKSVILLE from a trip to Rhode Island. The Bergins drove their son, Clint, up to Johnson Walls College where he will study hotel management. That's an interesting career selection. Clint. Wish you much success.

HICKSVILLITES Lucille and Bill Blanc announced the engagement of their son, Bill, Jr., to Cynthia Good of Miami, FL. Bill is attending Florida International University in Miami. No wedding date has been set as yet. Two of Bill's brothers, Andrew and Richard, visited Bill this summer in FL and met Cynthia and her family for the first time. The Goods welcomed the Blanc boys and showered them with "southern hospitality." Bill and Cynthia became engaged on Bill's birthday, July 20. Best wishes to you both.

Apologies, congratulations and felicitations we owe to Wilma and Bill Willis of HICKSVILLE. We apologize for the incorrect spelling of your name in our past column; we congratulate Wilma for her birthday that she celebrated on September 16; and we wish felicitations to the Willis' for their 30th wedding anniversary on September 11. We found out their children Bill, Jr., and Celeste McKinstry, and their respective spouses held a surprise party for their folks at the K. of C. Hall on September 10. Sevenly people attended this gala affair, and enjoyed excellent libations, food and music.

And happy anniversary to Hilda and Bill Murphy of HICKSVILLE who also celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary, but on September 5. In honor of the occasion, the Murphys had dinner at Josuha's Tree with their children; then they all returned to daughter, Pat's home in Hicksville, for a family party. Bill gave Hilda the appropriate gift for their 30th wedding anniversary—a diamond ring. He also brought her a matching wedding band. Love and happiness to you folks from your family and friends.

Lucy and Tom Farley of HICKSVILLE just returned from a visit with the Mayor of Wildwood, NJ, Anthony Catanoso. Tony has been Mayor for the past 20 years, and is also a member of the 101st Military Battalion from WWII. Tom Farley is the chairman of the Annual Reunion that the 101st holds; and he and Lucy went to NJ so Tom and Tony could make preliminary arrangements to hold the next reunion in Wildwood, NJ. Not only did they accomplish their mission, but enjoyed a tour of local sites of interest as well. Any member of the 101st who wishes additional information on the upcoming reunion can call Tom at WE 8-1286.

Southold this summer. Raymond, who is now back at Hillsdale College, Michigan, had a fast food concession in Southold where he had a land-slide business. These funds he earned will help pay toward his expenses at college. Raymond's an enterprising young man.

A summer vacation in the Poconos was enjoyed by Dot and Tom Gallahue of HICKSVILLE. They fished, golfed, swam, went boating and enjoyed themselves thoroughly. While on vacation, Dot and Tom attended her high school class reunion in Forty Fort, PA. There were 72 graduates in the original graduating class and 46 of them, attended the reunion. When we queried Dot on the origins of the name of the town, she explained that the town was originally settled in the 1700's by forty people who built a fort—logical answer, yes?

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

On Thursday, the 14th of September, Miss Barbara Bright of the Inter-county Blood Bank of Rockville Center, gave a comprehensive report touching upon the medical criteria involved in the donating of blood. Her informative talk engulfed such areas as the signing up and feeding of blood donors, and the method by which blood is extracted from the human body. She allayed all fears associated with the giving of blood by stating that this process is relatively simple and that medical assistance is always available if it is needed, and it hardly is. She also gave a detailed account of the composition of blood and how its various components perform certain functions in the curing of certain diseases. The blood bank of the Galileo Lodge will take place this Thursday, the 21st of September, from the hours of 4:00 to 9:00 P.M., at the Lodge quarters, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. Food and beverages will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary and please remember one important note here: if you cannot give blood, bring somebody who can. We all realize the importance of being able to receive blood when emergencies arise. Blood is life itself.

The Columbus Day Parade will be held on October 8, with the starting point being Half Hollow Road in Deer Park. The parade will follow a certain course, from the starting point to Deer Park Avenue and then into Phelps Lane. Members of the Galileo Lodge who wish to march will meet at this Lodge and then leave about 1:00 P.M. The host Lodge will be the Constantino Brumidi Lodge of Deer Park. Our Lodge will feed all marchers before or after the parade. Skip Monteforte and Tony Previte are the directors for the Galileo Lodge and they can be contacted by calling 931-9351. The parade will start at 2:00 P.M. The meeting place for the Galileo Lodge marchers will be near Park or Central Avenues in Deer Park. Make this parade a spectacular event, so come on out and be a part of Italian history.

On November 11, at the Galileo Lodge quarters, the Man of the Year Dance will be held, at which time Ex-Venerable Tony Monteforte will be honored. The price of admission will be $15 per person and it is safe to assume that this affair will be replete with good food, good music and good times. Put this dance on your calendar of events for the month of November. A Journal will also be a part of this activity, so anyone desirous of placing an ad in this journal can contact Joe Iannotti, Skip Monteforte, Tony Previte and Ralph Vestuti by calling 931-9351.

The Galileo Lodge wishes to announce that on October 14, at our quarters, the first Las Vegas Night will be held. Price of admission will be $2.00 per person and food will also be served. The legal aspects of this kind of activity have been ironed out, and Grand Venerable Joe Giordano, who will act as legal adviser for the Lodge, states that all is in readiness for the start of Vegas nights. Various forms of gambling, all meeting the lawful requirements, will be featured. Call the above number for additional information. Another item of interest is that on October 13, the Galileo Lodge will start its first phase of the membership drive. A big social night is planned and needless to mention that food and wine will be served, so why not keep this date in mind and perhaps see for yourself what the Galileo Lodge has to really offer. It can mean different things to different people. Call 931-9351 for more information on this activity.

LODGE NEWS AND HAPPENINGS

Ex-Venerable Tony Monteforte is now home and recovering from his recent heart attack. Hurry up and get well, Tony, because your presence at the Man of the Year Dance is exactly what this dance is all about....New chairmen of the Bingo operations of the Galileo Lodge are Jules Meszaros and John Keiper. Congratulations and do keep up the good work....On October 28, the Galileo Lodge will hold its annual Halloween Dance. Skip Monteforte is the chairman and he states this affair might present something different in the form of entertainment. More information on this affair will be forthcoming. Don't forget the Woman of the Year Dance which will be held on September 30th at the Lodge quarters....Bingo sessions are still going strong at the Lodge, and they are held every Wednesday starting at 6:00 P.M.

Hicksville American Soccer Club News

OPENING DAY

'65 Boys - The Hicksville Rovers began their fall season last week/end and brought home a victory to the club and to their new sponsor - The Plainview Burger King located on Old Country Road & So. Oyster Bay Rd. Their first opponent was the Cow Harbor Pirates and the boys remembered very well that Cow Harbor tied them in the Spring and beat them in a July Tournament in Wheaton, Maryland. Even with this strong incentive, the boys started off very flat and allowed Cow Harbor to take a 2-1 lead into halftime. Coaches Pat McHugh and John Mitchell did some strong talking and the Rovers must have listened for they took complete command of the game in the second half. They were down their opponent, found openings and scored three times for a final 4-2 victory. Gene Tyranski and Vinny Christiano filled in at goal for Robby Pearce who was ill and the front line was handled by Glen Zakian, John McCann and John Fitzgerald. The halfbacks were: Jimmy Demarco, Bobby Andrus, Adrian Peppi and Robby Cullen while the defense was made up of Steve Dolan, George Marco and Cliff Feldman. John Mitchell sat out the game with an injured foot but vowed to be back next week for a home game against Lindenhurst.

'65 Girls - The Hicksville Majors, coached by Kathy McCausland, notched their first victory of the season by defeating Garden City 2-1. The girls played good ball and almost had a shut-out but let up at the very end of the game. This team is made up of the following young ladies from Hicksville: Maureen Collins, Rita Cerasi, Kathleen Conway, Laura Fennell, Denise Harkins, Lisa Geveda, Patrice Kenny, Debbie Luongo, Sue Mitchell, Erin O'Leary, Tanya Pfeffer, Laura Talenti, Annette Schroeder and Diana Taylor.

Hicksville Blue Lightning - Boys U-12

In the season opener against Levittown, the Blue Lightnings found a tough opponent, but demonstrated good team work and great determination as they won 1-0.

The goal was scored by midfielder Keith Campo, when he intercepted a Levittown pass, broke through their defense and drilled a 10 yard shot past the Levittown goalie.

Tremendous pressure was put on Levittown by the front line, consisting of Richard Kaplewicz, Tom Sumner, Bobby Cunningham, John Moehringer, Nicholas LaVacca and Terence Reed. Strong support was given by the midfield led by Bobby Kissell, Ian Zaretsky, Richard Diffey, Joseph Baggett and Keith Campo. Whenever Levittown did manage to break through, they were turned back solidly by fullbacks Scott Fraser, Mark Habersaal, Frank Kolovich, Mario Cabrera and Sam Masiello in goal.

It was a close game, and well played by both teams.

The opening game whistle for the Hicksville Pee Wee "Cardinals," sponsored by Barsentone, found this young group of 1971 boys ready and wanting to play soccer.

This newly formed team, led by the coaching of Joe Perry, succeeded in capturing their first victory of the fall season with a score of 1-0.

The first half of the game remained scoreless with many excellent saves by goalie Brian Hoesten. Thirteen minutes into the second half, left wing Scott Duca successfully scored the only goal for the day with assists from Eric Bentley and Brian Fennell. Willie Sneddon, Ryan McCann and Bobby Himmel were outstanding in their defensive play.

The excellent supportive play and effort of Michael Segal and Sal Perry helped produce this success, as did the teamwork passing and aggressiveness of frontlinemen John Fabrizio and Eric Rabasco.

After the game, a victory celebration was held and enjoyed by all.

The Hicksville "Big Red" team, sponsored by Jos. Barry Council, Knights of Columbus, beat a tough Huntington opponent in the opening game of the 1978 fall season by a score of 4-0.

The goals were scored by Rich "Duke" Youngs (2), Mickey Boccafolo and Scott Hertz. All players did a very good job, with the defense led by goalie Gary Tyranski, aided by Luis "Super" Mejia, Keith McCann and Rich Humann.

The game was controlled by the passing of Hicksville players, especially Phil "Hustler" Ziembicki, Chris Bentley, Joey Tyranski, Doug Donsky, Dave Weinberg and Pete Christiano.

The entire team worked well and enjoyed the victory of the opening game.

A NEWLY ORGANIZED TEAM IN THE "UNDER 8" DIVISION

For the first time, there is a traveling soccer team for boys 7 years old and under.

Coached by Tony Camara and Barry Adelstein, the team is comprised of the following players: Defense: Drew Donohue, Robbie Franklin, Keith Nordio, Troy Pieper, Stephen Pine, Robert Schiralli, Brian Spinner, and Chris Zino. Offense: Matthew Adelstein, Tommy Bell, Chris Flanagan, Kevin Gonzales, Kenny Klein and Kevin Morrisroe.

Many of the boys on the "Hicksville Hearts", have been playing in this league for only a few months. This is a definite handicap since most of the teams in this division consist of 7 and 8 year olds who have been playing for a few years. The boys expect the competition to be tough, but their spirits and hopes are very high. This season should prove to be a tremendous learning experience for them.

The season runs until December 3, with a total of 10 Sunday games, half of which are played at the home field located by Grumman on South Oyster Bay Road, Hicksville.

SEASON STARTS

Last weekend the Hicksville Red Express sponsored by Eastern Exterminators met Rockville Center at Grumman. The Rockville Center team had only lost 1 game in 5 years in the German American League. Hicksville's under 12 year olds showed some fine offensive passing. Larry Ziembicki dribbles the ball down the right side and scored on a high shot which went over the goalies head. A short time later Larry again dribbles down and passed the ball to the center where Matty Bell was there to score the 2nd goal. In the second half Rockville Center made many good tries but the defense was able to keep the scoring down to only 1 goal. Robert Newlands displayed good defensive hustle thwarting many Rockville Center attempts. Michael Masters scored the final goal for Hicksville making the score 3-1.

The under 8 year olds Hicksville team coached by Richard Hanna and Al Boccafolo met Northport on Sunday. Jason Miller scored the first goal after good passing by David Haut and Gregg Greenberg. Howard Shragin scored the second goal with a solid shot. In the second half there was an indirect kick awarded to Hicksville and with everyone trying to score, David Haut finally put the ball in goal. Michael Grossman and Tommy Boccafolo played superb defense. Gregg Greenberg scored the final 2 goals, one on a header and the next on a deflection from a Northport player. Hicksville won by the score of 5-0.

The 1969 team coached by John Harris opened their fall season with a 4-0 win against a vastly improved Cow Harbor team. Hicksville opened the scoring at 2 minutes and .14 seconds of the first half when Chris Beach put a head ball past the Cow Harbor goalkeeper. The Rangers kept the pressure on for the entire first half. The halfback line of Berto Cerasi, Peter Thompson and David Insana controlled midfield, not letting the ball near the goal. A good defense and a few spectacular saves by the Cow Harbor goalkeeper kept the score 1-0 at half time.

The second half started with Cow Harbor determined to tie the score. They kept the ball in Hicksville's half for the first 10 minutes. Only Hicksville's strong midfield and exceptional play by fullbacks Vincent Antaki, Craig Freyisen, and goalkeeper Sean Smith kept the Cow Harbor team (Continued on Page 13)

Free Information Aids Consumers

Information, prepared and compiled by experts on virtually every subject, is coming to the aid of consumers everywhere. The material is often "free" and can usually be obtained by simply sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope along with the request. Here is a list of some of the material and where to write:

"A Parent's Guide To Baby-Sitting" offers parents several tips to consider about child safety when choosing a baby sitter... "A Child's World of Hazards" describes child's play environment and how parents can protect and teach children to play safely. Free copies of either or both of these guides are available by sending a self-addressed, business-size envelope to: National Safety Council, Public Relations Dept., 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60611.

"Are You Seeing Straight About Optometric Fees?" provides factual information about professional optometric fees. Contains 20 questions most often asked about the cost of optometric care. For a free copy, send self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope to: Communications Division, American Optometric Association, 243 N. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63141.

Five informative booklets answer often-asked questions about many types of insurance. Topics covered include: how to read an insurance policy, under what circumstances a policy can be cancelled or not renewed, and why all drivers are not charged the same premium based on driving record alone. (One booklet even covers business insurance.)

For a free copy of one or all of the booklets - (1) "We're Glad You Asked", (2) "Guide, A Common Sense Introduction To Insurance", (3) "How To Buy Home Insurance", (4) "How To Buy Car Insurance", (5) "Businessowners Guide To Insurance", write: C & PA Dept., Kemper Insurance, Long Grove, IL 60049. (Specify material requested.)

"The Age-Old Question: How Can I Have More Money in the Future Than I Have Today?" - With the ever-rising cost of living, people are looking for better ways to make their money work harder. Booklet describes how mutual funds pool the money of many other people and put it in a wider range of investments than they could afford by themselves. Write: Investment Company Institute, 1775 K Street N.W., Dept. M, Washington, D.C. 20006.

"How To Become A Wise Dental Consumer" answers such questions as how to choose a dentist, how to reduce your dental bills, where to take dental complaints, and how to purchase dental health aids. CONSERVATIVE OUTLOOK

Bakke Decision . . . Still Unclear

By Congressman Philip M. Crane, Chairman American Conservative Union
The U.S. Supreme Court recently rendered its long-awaited decision on Bakke v. The Regents of the University of California. This decision is being thoroughly studied by scholars, politicians, and the average U.S. citizen as to the real meaning of the decision for future "affirmative action" programs.

The facts of the case were quite clear. Allan Bakke, a white male, had applied for admission to the medical school at the University of California at Davis. The school had in operation an "affirmative action" program which set aside 16 places in each beginning class of 100 medical students for blacks, Chicanos, or Asian Americans. Although his test scores were high, this quota kept Bakke out of medical school while minorities with lower test scores were admitted as part of the quota.

The overall thrust of the Supreme Court decision was positive: A five to four majority ruled that Bakke had been improperly denied admission because of his race and that it was illegal discrimination for the school to set aside a quota of 16 out of 100 places for students who were black, Chicano, or Asian American. The Supreme Court majority firmly rejected the idea that a firm quota based on race would be permitted.

The court left a large gray area. It ruled that the medical school (and probably any professional school) is not prohibited by law from using race as one of the criteria in making a decision on what applicants to accept for admission to school. Yet, the question which remains is how far and how much significance can a school or group give to making race a factor in affirmative action programs.

President Carter commented that the Bakke decision left "adequate option" for affirmative action programs in universities and in other levels of American society. The magazine NATIONAL REVIEW (July 21, 1978) highlighted the confusion left in this area of law when it commented: "All we now know for sure is: it's illegal to discriminate against Allan Bakke."

Philip M. Crane

Although the vast majority of Americans would support judging people on the basis of merit rather than race, some serious concerns have been raised over proposed affirmative action programs. In order to eliminate past discrimination against racial minorities, is it fair or just to discriminate against members of the majority? Should white American males be denied positions for which they are qualified in order to provide a "special benefit" for minorities less qualified? We have the new problem of trying to eliminate discrimination by discriminating - the problem of "reverse discrimination." Many Americans feel

"quotas" and "reverse discrimination" are unfair and unjust and not a proper way to accomplish non-discrimination and equality in our society.

This problem of unequal treatment of members of a minority and members of a majority was highlighted in a quote by Associate Justice Lewis F. Powell, Jr. in the Bakke case: "The guarantee of equal protection cannot mean one thing when applied to one individual and something else when applied to a person of another color. If both are not accorded the same protection, then it is not equal." Essentially, our U.S. Constitution and our civil rights laws should be "color blind" seeking equal treatment of all and protecting everyone from discrimination.

Artificial "quotas" do not really help minorities since they substitute "race" for merit and can hurt the minorities who have gained benefits by merit. The public at large will eventually consider that minorities have gained professional positions by special privileges and not merit and will look down upon their accomplishments. Our Constitution should provide equality of opportunity for all and no member of our society should be penalized for any past action of discrimination, real or imagined. Racial quotas have no place in a society of free men and women.

Unfortunately, the Bakke decision did not give us any concrete answers or establish any clear lines for a precedent. It has even left the status of our civil rights statutes unclear and vague. A sure prediction is that the "affirmative action" issue will be before the Supreme Court again and we should hope then for a more clear-cut decision.

Which Dog For You?

Irish Setter

Among the hundreds of fine dog breeds throughout the world, many bearing strong tribal resemblances, a few seem to stand alone - unique in looks and personality. The Irish Setter is one of these. You'd recognize this superb animal with its elegant lines, aristocratic air and glorious mahogany coat, anywhere.

In the past the Irish Setter pointed game birds for a living. Today it is primarily a bench show and companion dog. And what a companion! One of the most commonly cited faults of the breed as a field trial dog was its lack of independence from its handler. No single characteristic could more accurately describe this dog as a pet. Irish Setters are constantly, actively, passionately devoted to their families. They hate to be left alone, and want to be in on everything.

This makes them quite a responsibility. Spirited, high-strung and sometimes temperamental, they need to receive as much devotion as they lavish on you. Rough treatment or neglect can break the Irishman's heart. This breed calls for early training. Irish Setters often have a strong stubborn streak which has to be dealt with when they're puppies, or they'll be hard to handle as adults. They need to be absolutely sure of both your love and your authority. Firm, but gentle, correction is the rule.

Given understanding owners, willing to devote lots of time and attention to their pets, Irish Setters are wonderful companions both as hunting dogs and family pets. They are fun-loving, intensely affectionate and loyal dogs that are usually blessed with a long and healthy life. They are big enough (25-27 inches high and weighing 60-70 pounds) and certainly protective enough to make fine watchdogs, though they are not aggressive.

With their tremendous energy Irish Setters should live in the country with lots of room to run. These days, of course, many of them live in cities. The well-behaved and happy ones are those whose owners take time to exercise them hard. One way or another the Irish Setter has to work off those high spirits.

INSIDE TV

TV HOTLINE -- Priscilla Presley says she's had enough of those published stories detailing her marriage to and divorce from the late Elvis Presley. So "to set the record straight," she's signed with Henry Jaffee Enterprises of Los Angeles to do an hour TV special on her six years with the rock star. Priscilla snapped: "I want the truth told about Elvis. There are stories being written about him which simply are not true." ...

Penny Marshall is asking for big bucks from network brass. "Last year I didn't ask for anything, when everyone else was demanding more," Penny said. Meanwhile, Penny's hubby, Rob Reiner, says he'll be back for a few guest shots on "All In The Family."

TV TICKER -- "Family's" star Kristy McNichol and older brother Jimmy have cut a duo singing album, but have no plans for a show a la "Donny and Marie." Says Kristy: "Ugh! I never want to be like them. They're much too cutesie." ... Suzanne Somers, the star of ABC's "Three's Company," plays the lead in NBC's special, Zuma Beach - The Most Beautiful Girl In The World. "What could be better than working on a beach movie in the summer time?" asks Somers. Annette Funicello is just going to have to share the blanket ...

Strange bedfellows: Kate Jackson's new press agent, the temperamental Dick Grant, also handles "Charlie's Angels" co-star, Cheryl Ladd. And the two ladies are anything but buddies.

ON THE STARS -- McLean Stevenson, who used to be in "M*A*S*H," is to star in a Norman Lear series next fall called "Just The Beginning." In it he will play a Porsche-driving Catholic priest who enjoys the good life. Stevenson has some background for the role, but then again ... "I started out in Catholicism as a kid," he explained, "and then I went to Presbyterianism and Baptism. From there I drifted to a sort of Unitarian philosophy which ends up praying 'to whom it may concern'."

Dear Editor,

I want to take this opportunity to thank the thousands of Republicans who turned out to vote for me on Primary Day - especially those who went to the polls during the hours of severe rain.

My campaign will continue to stress that position. As the days go by, the issues involved in the Durveya vs. Carey race are certain to be reflected in the contest for State Assembly and I look forward to a stimulating effort against my Democrat opponent and a spirited debate of the issues.

To all who voted for me and worked towards my election, I extend my deepest gratitude. I will do my best to justify your confidence in me.

Named Outstanding Young Woman

Stephanie Joyce Kahn, President of the Stephanie Joyce Kahn Foundation, Inc., has been selected by the Board of Advisors for Outstanding Young Women of America as an OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMAN FOR 1978 in recognition of outstanding ability, accomplishments, and service to the community. In receiving this honor, she joins a special group of young women who, like herself, have demonstrated those abilities and characteristics that make them outstanding. Each year leaders from civic, religious, academic, and professional organizations name young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who they feel merit recognition. Congressman JOHN W. WYDLER's nomination of Stephanie Kahn applauds her tremendous efforts to establish SJK Mobile Audio Library Cars as a standard part of hospital patient care throughout the nation.

The Board of Advisors is now in the process of selecting the Outstanding Young Woman for each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia. From these state finalists the Ten (10) Outstanding Young Women of America will then be chosen. Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, Chairman of the Board of Advisors wrote to inform Miss Kahn of her candidacy: "...You have already achieved so much in a comparatively short span of your lifetime I know that you are a credit to your family, community, and our country. My hope is that this recognition will in part express the appreciation of everyone who has benefited from your efforts..."

American women are becoming increasingly aware of the limitless horizons which lie before them. The purpose of the Outstanding Young Woman of America Awards Program is to encourage young women to pursue roles of cultural, civic, and professional achievement and to assume leadership in local, state, and national levels. This program not only honors the women nominated whose time, talents, and dedication have enriched the quality of American life, but also encourages other young women to similar levels of attainment.

Lee Ave. Open House

The Lee Ave. School faculty and PTA will welcome parents to visit with them at 8 PM on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27 (for grades K-1-2-3) and Wednesday evening, October 18 (for grades 4-5-6).

The meeting is a definite "MUST" for all parents of Lee Ave. children as it will be their first contact with their child's teacher and as introduction to the year's work. The meeting will also afford parents an early opportunity to become acquainted with Lee's active PTA unit. The evening will begin with the first PTA general meeting for the year and will include presentation of the proposed PTA budget for 1978-79. Membership tables will be set up so that parents can take an early interest in PTA activities. It will also be an excellent opportunity for parents who wish to take a more active role in PTA, to enlist their services to do committee work or be a room representative for their child's class.
