Anniversary At Gregory Museum

Hicksville's National Historic Place, the Heitz Place Courthouse and Jail, will be an exciting, colorful place this Saturday and Sunday, April 21st and 22nd. The Gregory Museums many friends, volunteer workers and the general public will be band to celebrate the Fifteenth Anniversary of the Museum which occupied the one-time courthouse and village hall.

The public is being invited to visit the museum free of charge, this weekend, to see new exhibits and to tour the landmark building, once the center of village official life. New exhibits in the museum Earth Science area will reflect the current national interest in the art and architectural forms and materials of antiquity. On display will be a Pompeian setting revealing the type of minerals from which the Romans extracted the colors for the wall paintings which abound in the ruins of Pompeii. Prepared by museum volunteer artist Val Conover, the display will give insight into natural materials with which the ancient craftsmen made enduring works.

Janet Kempki, the Museum Curator, will lecture on volcanic eruptions, Sunday, as part of her fine working model of a volcano similar to Versuvius, whose eruption in A.D. 79 buried the prosperous city of Pompeii under thirty feet of lava and ash in the first year of the reign of Emperor Titus. On exhibit, also, will be an example of the ancient Greek pottery-making technique, a pot crafted in the Greek fashion by Victor DeSanti, an Adelphi University art student.

Of special interest in the Gregory Museum's upstairs lecture hall be some projects prepared by students taking part in a School Earth Science Project Contest sponsored by the museum to mark its Fifteenth Anniversary.

The anniversary program is the latest in a long series of programs which enriched Hicksville's community life since the museum was established by Gardiner and Anne Gregory in their home. In addition to its well-deserved status as a center of Earth Science interest, research and education nationally known and recognized - the Museum's founders and its Boards of Trustees have been known for their civic pride and sustained efforts to create attachment to the local community and to Long Island.

Starting with its leadership in the preservation and renovation by volunteer labor and public donations of the vacant and rapidly deteriorating Heitz Place Courthouse, in the early 1970's, the Gregory Museum assumed leadership in arrangements for many community historic and patriotic observances. Flag Day special programs and a major leadership role in the community's memorable three-day 325th Anniversary of Hicksville's "Robert Williams Indian Land Purchase," in 1973, are among the Museum's contributions.

Always a major part of the Town of Oyster Bay American Revolution Bicentennial Commission's programs, the Gregory Museum hosted the unique Long Island Bicentennial Celebration of the Battles of Lexington and Concord in April, 1975 with a parade, a ceremony at the old Courthouse and day-long demonstrations of black-powder musketry and drill by uniformed Civil War buffs.

In the nation's Bicentennial observances of 1976, the Museum hosted the Hicksville Bicentennial Ball at the St. Ignatius Loyola Parish Hall, took a notable part in the great Hicksville Bicentennial Parade and in the Flag Day Ceremony which followed at the Mid-Island Plaza. The Museums staff were among the principal participants in the planning and operation of the Bicentennial Old Time Fair held at the Hicksville High School grounds, Master of Ceremonies for the Day being Museum Historical Chairman Richard Evers, who succeeded in arranging a spectacular parachute descent onto the playing field by members of the Long Island Sky Divers Club, to end the great commemoration.

So much of Hicksville's civic life has been enlivened, enriched by Gregory Museum personnel and supporters. Preserving with museum funds the physical appearance and structure of the Heitz Place Courthouse, its home under an enlightened lease arrangement by the Town Board of Oyster Bay, the Museum Trustees have sought to create for Hicksville and for Long Island an appreciation of man's natural environment as well as an awareness of his roots in local community history and in current activities.

Open House hours for the Fifteenth Anniversary Celebration at the Gregory Museum this weekend will be 12 Noon to 5 P.M. Admission Free.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

As is its custom, the Galileo Lodge has scheduled many fine, enjoyable activities for the months ahead. Because its members are modern and innovative, these events, as you will see, are all in line with what is new and entertaining plus retaining some of the traditional.

On May 19th, the Galileo Lodge will hold a dance called "A Night of Nostalgia" based on the social scene of the 1950's. Price of admission will be $8.50 per person, featuring platters of delicious cold cuts, various salads, coffee and cake, beverages such as beer and soda, and set-ups. There will be door prizes and a special prize will be awarded to best-dressed person of the 1950 era. One innovative aspect of this dance is that the music will be provided by a disc jockey who will play continuous taped dance music mainly of that period. Joe Piccolino will direct the activities for this dance and he will be ably assisted by Jimmy Peno and Pat Gatto, the two co-chairmen. Please dial 931-9351 for additional information. The affair will start at 9:30 and end at 1:30 A.M.

And speaking about dances, Saturday, the 21st of April, the Galileo Lodge will hold its 7th Anniversary Dance. The dance commemorates the years that the Lodge has been in existence. The general public is also invited to attend. Price of admission is $15.00 per person, featuring a sumptuous program consisting of a cocktail hour and dinner and all the extras that usually embellish a meal. Jim Marchese will supply the music for dancing and I am sure that hearts and feet will be in tune with his musical selections. Please call Pete Masiello and Joe LoCasto at (938-4335) and (433-3921) respectively this is another affair that one should not miss.

Again, as we have mentioned in last week's column, probably one of the most important activities that the Galileo Lodge runs is the Blood Bank. This activity will be held on May 17th, from the hours of 4 to 10 P.M. The Lodge pledges over 50 pints of blood, and needless to mention knowledgeable personnel will supervise the activities and hot meals and beverages will be served. An important bit of information here is that you can have your blood tested before you give, and that even if you can't give, the Galileo Lodge still gets credit. To illustrate the importance of this program, let it be known that Domenic Valente, a member of the Galileo Lodge, was recently given 10 pints of blood because of his rather serious condition. The blood bank here was a godsend. Director Anthony Previte announces that letters will be sent to various surrounding lodges associated with the Sons of Italy in America asking them to help us in our quest for additional donors. All, of course, will reap the benefits of this vital activity. Additional letters were sent out to various Italian clubs in Hicksville in an effort to get the youth involved. The humane aspects and importance of this blood bank is so obvious that all the superb adjectives couldn't do it justice. This blood bank, incidentally, is open to the general public if they wish to lend their services.

LODGE NEWS

The dates for the Italian feast have been set. This activity will take place on May 30th and end on June 3rd, to be located in the area known as Parking Lot No. 1, right off Broadway in Hicksville. This feast will feature all aspects of the Italian scene. A picnic is being planned by the Lodge, but the area, time and food arrangements are still being discussed. There will more on this activity in later columns.

Coming up also are the Hawaiian dance, the Casamento motorcade to Washington, more Golf sessions and the completion of the Bicentennial Monument, a project that the Galileo Lodge is anxious to bring to a close. Softball games and bowling matches will soon become part of the Lodge recreational activities. Scholarship arrangements are also in the works, and the names of the students who will become recipients of these awards will be announced later in this column.

The Lodge still needs help at the Las Vegas nites and bingo sessions. Bingo, in particular, is in dire need of manpower. So members, please remember, that Bingo is a very important financial operation to the Lodge. It pays bills and it helps to meet the Lodge's civic and community charitable enterprises. On Friday, May 11th, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge will sponsor a corn beef and cabbage dinner at its quarters, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. Price of admission for adults is $3.50 and $1.75 for children. Hours are from 6 to 9 P.M. Coffee and cake will also be served. Jo Ann Wallick is Chairwoman and Mary Monteforte is Co-Chairwoman dial 843-8681 and 938-7881 respectively.

Children's Carousel

Friends of the Arts Children's Carousel committee is pleased to present a special performance by the Eglevsky Ballet Company for children 5 through 12 on Saturday, April 28 at 2:00 PM at Locust Valley High School.

The program will feature a short demonstration with audience participation, two selected dances from the company's repertoire - one traditional and one contemporary - and the full length ballet of "Peter and the Wolf". The program will be an hour long, and tickets $2.50 each may be obtained by calling 922-5963 or 676-2820.

This marks the final presentation of the Children's Carousel children's theater series for the 1978-79 season, but exciting plans are being made for the 1979-80 season. If you would like to be placed on our mailing list, please call one of the above numbers.

Opposes Casino Gambling In Manhattan

State Senate Democratic Leader Manfred Ohrenstein recently came out against casino gambling in Manhattan.

Testifying before the New York State Casino Gambling Study Panel the West Side Democrat said "it would be totally inappropriate to have casino gambling in Manhattan - those who are proposing it do not fully understand the financial structure of the borough."

Senator Ohrenstein, whose senatorial district encompasses most of Manhattan's West Side, said he favored casino gambling for depressed resort areas, such as the Catskills, Rockaways-Long Beach and the upstate Niagara area, to "revitalize their economy."

"One of the main reasons for proposing casino gambling," the Democratic Leader said, "is so that we can become competitive with neighboring states and rebuild our depressed resort areas. Proposing it for Manhattan would defeat this purpose. There is no way other parts of the state could compete with Manhattan."

The Senator added that we must also look at this in a disciplined political light... "and the political reality is that if a proposition to include casino gambling in Manhattan were put before the Legislature it would fail," he pointed out.

Senator Ohrenstein said Manhattan is the financial capital of the world. It is the center for world banking, the communications industry, the theater, and the arts. "Casino gambling would denigrate the image of Manhattan. It would change our international stature and compromise our integrity. It would make Manhattan a honky tonk town," he added.

Ohrenstein also told the panel that the casino's should be privately operated with strong governmental regulations. "They should not be viewed," he said, "as a major source of revenue. We are not going to cure our fiscal problems at the craps table," he added.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

The President has again made a feeble speech about the ENERGY problem probably trying to rouse the populace to save fuel and incidentally keep down inflation which is really part of the energy problem. If he had put a little more energy into the delivery of that speech it might have been more convincing. But the people are not convinced - about the energy problem or about his leadership.

One of the reasons the OPEC nations are constantly raising the price of their chief exportable commodity is that they receive U.S. dollars in return, and the U.S. dollars are worth less each year.

The economic reason for the diminishing value of our currency is almost too simple to enunciate. We simply buy more goods from other countries than we sell them. Even when we "SELL" goods to other countries we frequently "give them" at low prices or no price at all.

This has been going on since World War I ended. We have had a Santa Claus relation with other countries and they always reasoned that the U.S. could be counted on to give them whatever they wanted. When you owe a bill you HATE your creditor. And we have been a creditor nation, hated by our debtors.

Guided by ill-advised information that the internal U.S. debt was nothing to worry about because "We owe it to ourselves" a generation has been brought up in this country believing that Santa Claus really does live in Washington because he can print money without anything to sustain it's value.

With all that background why should we settle down now? Bite the bullet? Get back to work? Unions, government and large corporations have conspired to establish an economy based on getting as much as possible for doing as little as we could get away with. And now we suddenly hear our elected leaders tell us that somehow we are in trouble. Suddenly the President thinks we are going down the drain. If we do not do something drastic about it - AND SOON - we are. Now we know that during the past three years the OPEC countries not only have us over a barrel. They are buying us lock, stock and barrel. And with our own money.

There are lots of things the people can do to save energy. But many are not doing them because they do NOT believe there is an energy crisis. Why save gasoline when we can buy all we need? Why go 55 miles an hour to save gasoline and lives when everyone on the road is racing past us at 60-70 miles an hour? Why worry about gasoline when we have all that Alaskan crude - or do we? Rumors are pretty strong that it is going to Japan. If so, Mr. President, do we get the going world price? They say the Alaskan oil is piling up in California seaports. Why didn't we do something about that ahead of time? It took several years to build the Alaska pipeline. Why did we wait to get ready to handle the oil? Where was governmental leadership? I believe that we have an INEPT President. He and his advisers simply are incapable of the leadership we have a right to expect from them. Jimmy's chief claim to fame is the preliminary signing of an Israeli-Egyptian peace agreement. Hard to do? Not when we agreed to pay 5 billions or 10 billions or more. So now - we will have two more nations hating us.

Meanwhile we have done very little to husband our energy resources or capitalize on the use of existing energy assets. Why have we not started to use our vast coal reserves? Do the oil people own coal mines and keep it off the market? Mr. President, you talk about our unused technology. Until the people believe in their leadership we are going to continue to drift - waste - and go fishing. Must we wait for 1987?

Dear Editor:

Many politician wonder why most citizen don't vote. Many people question why America's culture and a sense of obligation have gone down. The answers to these questions are simple.

The prevailing social and cultural problems we are facing now is a product of our former leadership. If these problems are to be solved, we must look to new leadership. The students of America offer this new leadership.

Foreign Trade Keeps Many Employed

By Cong. Norman F. Lent

You are going to be hearing a good deal out of Washington, and out of the Congress in coming weeks about the Multilateral Trade Negotiation (MTN) agreement recently worked out in Geneva, Switzerland.

Before you turn away, saying, "Ho-hum, so what else is new?" consider this: MTN deals with lowering of trade barriers to improve foreign trade. And foreign trade helps keep thousands of Long Islanders on company payrolls. Our area's high-technology industries are selling their products all over the world. Anything that can be done to increase that overseas business benefits the Long Island economy, thus directly or indirectly helping you. It also helps our country. We need more foreign trade to cut into that horrendous $15-billion-a-year trade deficit which has sapped the strength of the U.S. dollar and helped push inflation rates higher.

So, does the MTN agreement help to boost our exports? Well, a little, according to those officials close to the situation. Our chief negotiator at Geneva, Special Trade Representative Robert Strauss, says the final agreement "is worth a B-plus" for American interests. In other words, it probably is no big gain on the side of increasing U.S. sales overseas, but, according to the Carter Administration, it is better for us than the present arrangement.

However, to my way of thinking, the Carter Administration must do more than ask American businessmen to accept tougher competition from lowering our trade barriers, in the hope of small gains in their foreign sales. The U.S. government must work as a partner with Americans trading overseas, rather than an adversary.

Have you heard of Japan, Inc.? That's a partnership the Japanese government forms with Japanese businessmen to co-operate in selling Japanese goods in foreign markets. Every other developed nation has much the same arrangement, except the United States. Our government, and our government alone, promulgates and enforces regulations which actually harass American business abroad. Whether it's anti-trust, anti-corrupt practices, anti-technology export, anti-tax concessions, anti-long-term credit or whatever, our government tells American businessmen in countless ways it really doesn't want them engaging in foreign trade.

If these counter-productive policies continue, after MTN again lowers U.S. barriers to trade with the world, we'll simply worsen our balance of trade, cause further strain on the U.S. dollar overseas, further stimulate inflation and dry up jobs and income for Long Islanders.

This is an excellent time for President Carter to adopt a comprehensive, long-term policy to encourage rather than discourage American exports.

It will be of great assistance to Long Island.

American-Italians Media Image

The Image of American Italians in the Media will be the subject of guest speaker the Rev. Andrew Brizzolara, C.A., at the luncheon of the Long Island Regional Chapter of the American Italian Historical Association on Saturday, May 5, at 12:30 PM at The Wheatley Hills Tavern in Westbury, Long Island.

A welcome address will be given by Dr. Salvatore J.

LaGumina, president of the chapter. In addition to the Rev. Brizzolara, who is editor of MIGRATION TODAY, Center for Migration Studies, Mr. Giorgio Perns, executive director of Ethnic Press News Service will also speak. Panel discussants will include Dr. Frank J. Cavaoli and Professor Joseph DeFalco both of the State University of New York at Farmingdale. Mr. Joseph M.

DiLeo is conference coordinator and moderator.

All are welcome. The cost of the luncheon is $6.95 per person, but attendance at the conference only is $1.00. The Wheatley Hills Tavern is located at 170 Post Avenue in Westbury. Reservation requests may be telephoned to Mr. DiLeo during evening hours at 621-1374. A deadline date of April 28th is suggested.

Dear Friends ...

PLAIN TALK ABOUT NEW YORK STATE'S ECONOMIC OUT-LOOK. is the subject of a public hearing set for Thursday, April 26 from 10 am to 3 pm in the Board of Supervisors' Meeting Room, 5th floor of the County Exec Bldg, 1 West St., in Mineola. The Joint Senate-Assembly Committee on Commerce, Industry and Economic Development wants to hear what you have to say about doing business in NY State. They want to know what you like about this State as a place to do business and what you don't like. They want to know what you think state government can and should do to make business boom in New York. They are interested in all points of view and will especially welcome members of business, labor and government.

If you wish to make a statement at this hearing contact Jordan Levy (518-455-2831) as soon as possible. In order to accommodate as many witnesses as possible they request each person to limit oral presentations to no more than 10 minutes. Since the length of testimony and the following discussion period varies greatly they cannot set up precise appointments for each witness. They would appreciate 20 copies of prepared statements delivered to the registration desk at the time of the hearing. There are no limitations on the length of written testimony.

Here's an opportunity for local business, large or small.

WE FEEL that nothing should take precedence over continual negotiations at this point in time between the school board and the teacher in Hicksville. There is a May 11th strike deadline staring them in the face.

We realize that a school board trustee does not get any payment for this important community service, but when the education of our children is concerned (and no matter on whose side "right and wrong" is ...) negotiations should continue without any delay, in our opinion.

Is there a stalemate? If so, we have not heard what it is. Ladies and gentlemen ... please resume your efforts to solve these problems, without delay.

Iris Wolfson has been elected to a five-year term on the Nassau Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES), Nassau County's largest public educational agency. She defeated John G. Dinkelmeier of Levittown by a vote of 55 to 18. Congratulations.

A Message From Sup. Colby

In the past several weeks, Town residents may have noticed some changes in the times of garbage collection with some pickups being made later in the day than usual. This was most likely a result of changes being tried out by our sanitation crews as part of a pilot or test project to cut the costs of providing this service.

This pilot project is an outgrowth of a previously instituted analysis of sanitation collection that is primarily examining cost benefits of municipal versus private sanitation. The independent engineering firm hired by the Town will also analyze the viability of various modifications to the procedures presently followed by Town crews based on the experience of private carriers.

The first phase of the study, which was recently completed by the engineering firm indicates that the Town could save between 10 and 30 percent of its garbage-collection costs by switching to private sanitation services.

Working with the Town employees' union, a number of operational changes of present system are being tried out to determine if similar savings can be made. On certain routes, the trucks are going out with a two-man crew instead of the usual three men. This is being tried for one week on routes of various lengths, varied number of homes serviced, and different distances from the disposal site.

A test was also conducted trying only one man on a truck, but this did not seem to be feasible because of the extensive curbside parking prevalent on most Town roads.

Another alternative being tested retains the three-man crews but reduces the number of trucks servicing a particular area. In effect, six trucks cover an area previously served by eight trucks.

The second phase of the engineering firm's study will also include a comparative analysis of municipal versus private collection. The consultants will set up a number of subdivisions of the Town's collection districts for the comparative studies. They will also prepare the plans and specifications for proposals from private contractors to service two of these subdivisions. These will be the basis for comparison with municipal services in the balance of the Town districts.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Noeth,
I am appalled and saddened by the vindictive tone of Erich Laumann's letter in the April 11 issue of the Herald. As a retired teacher of 42 years' experience, 37 of which were in Hicksville from 1936-1973, I never met a parent who considered teachers irresponsible. I talked to many about their children but always in an atmosphere of mutual respect, even tho perhaps the cooperation I had hoped for was sometimes not forthcoming.

What is the proof of the charges that Mr. Laumann makes? He offers none.

His letter tells us more about him than about teachers.

Many factors influence a child's attitude and behavior, among them his parents'. Recriminations, however, lead nowhere, and if Mr. Laumann really wishes to change the schools, he would do better to work with the teachers than hurl accusations against them.

Sincerely,
Runhild E. Wessell

Dear Mrs. Noeth:

I would like to thank all of the Friends of the Library for their efforts during our recent budget campaign. All of your ideas, distributing fliers, telephone calls, encouraging library borrowers to vote and using the loud speaker equipment were significant contributions to our success. In 1978 we received 227 yes votes - in 1979 303 affirmative votes, a gain of nearly 40 percent. We must, however, continue our efforts to bring out the many dormant "plus" votes in Hicksville. Thank you again.

See you in August.

Sincerely,
Kenneth S. Barnes
Library Director

A Message From Rep. Lent

Newly released figures from the U.S. Treasury point up the value of general revenue sharing to the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

Nassau County, its three towns and the villages of the Fourth Congressional District have received almost $56 million from the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act—better known as revenue sharing—since it took effect in July, 1972, money which might otherwise have been raised through local property and sales taxes.

Because revenue sharing does assist in holding down local taxes and because it does aid in dealing with local problems, it is vital that this assistance continue. The present revenue sharing program will end September 30, 1980, unless renewed. In order to allow local governments to make long-range plans, it's important to pass another extension of revenue sharing well before the current law expires. I am cosponsoring a bill to extend the federal revenue sharing program for four years beyond its current expiration date.

Unfortunately, there seems to be some opposition building among the liberal Democrats in Congress to extension of this crucial program. Democrats in the House are talking about opposing it and the Carter Administration has not yet declared its support for an extension. This reluctance may make it difficult to get passage of the legislation this year. However, to assure the full effectiveness of this program, action should be completed on the extension by the end of this year.

Revenue sharing is one of the most effective and efficient programs the federal government operates. It requires no huge federal bureaucracy and 99.9% of the money goes directly to state and local governments with only 0.1% going to administer the program which has an annual budget of $6.8 billion.

U.S. Treasury figures on local revenue sharing show that, from the time revenue sharing began until December 31, 1978, Nassau County and its Fourth Congressional District municipalities received the following amounts in general revenue sharing: Nassau County, $35,199,034; Town of Hempstead, $13,040,456; Town of North Hempstead, $613,411; Town of Oyster Bay, $2,942,675; Brookville, $113,234; East Rockaway, $419,963; Freeport, $2,742,530; Island Park, $314,202; Muttontown, $74,737; Old Brookville, $74,652; Old Westbury, $97,322; and Westbury, $227,204.

Postal Service to Implement Size Standards for Mail

Size standards for envelopes, cards and other pieces of mail will become effective July 15, the Postal Service announced today, following a Salt Lake City, Utah meeting of its board of governors.

The Postal Service's governors also adopted a recommended 7-cent surcharge for oversized and odd shaped pieces of mail. The new size standards were recommended by the Postal Rate Commission in April, 1976 and adopted shortly after that by the Postal Service's governors. It was stipulated that they would not become effective until after the spring of 1978, giving customers at least two years to prepare for the change and exhaust their supplies of non-conforming envelopes and cards.

The governors directed that both the surcharge and new minimum size standards become effective on the same date.

This means that after

July 15, pieces will be non-mailable if they are less than 3½ inches high, 5 inches long, or seven thousandths (.007) of an inch thick. Subject to the 7-cent surcharge will be first-class mail weighing one ounce or less and single piece third-class mail of two ounces or less that exceed any of these dimensions: 6¼ inches high; 11½ inches long, or ¼ inch thick.

Also subject to the surcharge are odd-shaped pieces within the weight units noted above. The acceptable size ratio for such pieces is: the length must be between 1.3 times and 2.5 times the height.

There are two basic reasons for the new standards. The surcharge on oversized and odd-shaped pieces will reflect the extra costs of handling them. Because of their dimensions, they usually cannot be put through letter sorting machines. The upcoming prohibition on smaller mailing pieces and flimsy cards is based on the fact that they can become trapped in other mail, tear and jam mail processing machinery. And, as a result, other mail can be damaged.

There are some exceptions to the minimum-size prohibition. If a piece is more than one-fourth of an inch thick it does not have to measure at least 3½ inches high or 5 inches long. Thicker pieces, such as film mailers, can be mechanically culled from the "river" of letter mail moving through a post office's facing and cancelling equipment. Also exempted — from all but the minimum thickness standard — are keys, identification cards and tags. Film cartridge envelopes, if lightweight, will be subject to the surcharge.

State Budget Not Perfect But On Target

Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoli, (D-Old Bethpage) cited the adoption of the $12.7 billion 1979-80 State Budget as being "A tight fiscal document which represents a modest increase over last year's budget that is significantly below the national inflation rate. While I did not endorse every aspect of the budget, overall it does reflect a positive effort to continue to curb state spending."

Assemblyman Yevoli who broke with the Governor and Legislative leaders on the issue of state aid to education said, "The amount of school aid we receive from Albany has a direct impact on our local property tax rate. Any loss in aid almost necessarily translates into a higher school tax bill for homeowners. The Governor's plan to slash $15 million in operating aid from 38 of the 56 school districts in Nassau County was a half-baked solution to a critical problem. Fortunately, we reinstated the loss in aid in the adopted budget and almost all of the school districts throughout the state will receive increased aid as a result. But the real solution of how to equitably finance our public school system remains unresolved. The entire formula must be completely revised yet the Governor and leaders of both parties in the State Legislature continue to offer sporadic short term answers to a steadily worsening situation."

"The increased state aid, Assemblyman Yevoli continued, "is allocated to local governments in the hope that they will use the money to ease the oppressive property tax burden placed upon Nassau's residents. Two major objectives were accomplished; local assistance was expanded and state services were maintained."

The following list shows the actual dollar increases appropriated in the 1979-80 State Budget throughout Nassau County:

- * Aid to Education + $5.4 million
 - * Court Administration + $3.1 million
 - * Revenue Sharing (County, Town, Villages) + $2.1 million
 - * Pure Waters (Oper & Maint.) + $1.1 million
 - * State University (Farmingdale & Old Westbury) + $1.1 million
 - * Nassau Community College + $5 million
 - * Correctional Services + $3 million
 - Total County Wide Aid Increases $13.6 million
- The five school districts represented by Assemblyman Yevoli, Hicksville, Plainville, Syosset, Farmingdale, Bethpage will receive a total of almost $34 million in state aid, which is $170,000 more than last year. The Assemblyman said, "The budget raises funding to the Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) by $15.4 million bringing the total to $253 million statewide. In addition there are 930,000 students in the State University System and $1.6 billion is earmarked for higher education. The budget also addresses the needs of the aged and the infirmed through allocations for the property tax circuit breaker and health care services. Wage earners can take comfort in the fact that for the fifth consecutive year there has been no increase in the personal income tax and deductions continue to be expanded to lessen the tax bite."

Assemblyman Yevoli concluded, "Considering the runaway inflationary rate and its effect on the cost of everything, the budget may not be perfect but it does show concerted effort to curtail expenditures."

GENERAL

With very few games played last week due to the Easter week-end as well as the rain, the statisticians had a chance to catch up on all those games played in the first four weeks of the season. The 26 traveling teams in the Long Island League have played 123 games already and have managed to maintain a 60 percent winning percentage. Their record now stands at 74 wins, 32 losses and 17 ties. This has to be considered an excellent performance so far and if they can do as well for the rest of the season, this spring will be a highly successful season. Nine of the 26 teams remain undefeated which is also quite an accomplishment. Starting with the little guys, John Fabrizio and his 7 year old Cardinals (sponsored by Barsentone Productions) boast a record of four straight wins with 11 goals scored and none against. The Hicksville Rangers (boys under 10), have 4 wins and a tie in five games also have 11 goals for and none against. The Rangers are coached by John Harris and sponsored by the Hicksville Motor Lodge. One definite sign of a good, strong team is it's goals against average and these two teams have not yet allowed a single goal - nice going, boys.

The 10 year old

Hicksville Big Red (coached by Jack McCann and Vinny Christiano and sponsored by the K of C Joseph Barry Council) have also won four straight and are preparing this week for their trip to Hamilton, New Jersey for an outdoor tournament next week-end. Joe Neto continues his winning ways this season with four straight wins. Joe's 10 year old Thunderbirds, sponsored by Long Island Boating Publications, have scored 14 goals and given up only two. The Hicksville Eagles (girls under 16), coached by Sam Masiello have also scored 14 goals and given up only one while posting a record of 4 consecutive wins.

Moving up to the older guys, Steve Gourlay and his under 14 Settlers have 3 wins and a tie and Pete Baena (under 17 boys) have five straight wins. The under 19 Hicksville Minutemen, coached by Peter Collins and Billy Cresham and sponsored by Bethpage Transmissions, are also undefeated in League and Cup play winning 5 and tying 1. Angelo Lozito and his under 19 Hicksville Senators have 3 wins and a tie in League play and have also won their first two Cup games. Congratulations to all these boys and girls and their coaches.

Save Gas With Tune-Up

This year's spring tune-up is more than just a seasonal chore, according to the Automobile Club of New York.

A tune-up at your local service station can bring significant reductions in fuel consumption. A faulty carburetor or choke adjustment, for example, reduces mileage by allowing as much as one gallon of gas out of every tankful to pass into the air, unburned.

To rejuvenate your car and cut down on fuel consumption, the local AAA-affiliate advises motorists to make sure the mechanic remembers to:

- Drain and flush the radiator. If your car is equipped with year-round anti-freeze-and air conditioned cars should be-it may need rust inhibitor and water-pumped lubricant if the anti-freeze is not replaced.
- Drain engine oil, replace filter. Refill with manufacturer's recommended weight oil.
- Tune engine-which should include checking ignition system, proper engine timing, voltage regulator output, spark plugs, carburetor and fuel pump.
- Inspect exhaust system for leaks. Check crankcase ventilator and exhaust control systems for proper operation.

- Check cell condition and fluid level of battery. Clean off any corrosion that might have formed on terminal connections. Make sure there are no loose connections.
- Replace air filter. Clean breather pipes.
- Check front wheels-after switching-for proper alignment and balance.
- Check shock absorbers; replace if needed.
- Check aiming of headlights; see that tail, brake and direction indicator lights are in working order.
- Inspect windshield wiper blades; replace if necessary.
- Adjust brakes; check drums and lining for excessive wear. See that fluid is at proper level.

In getting the car ready for spring, don't forget to remove the snow tires. If your car has studded snow tires, they must be removed by May 1st under New York State law to avoid a summons... and should be already off if you're driving in New Jersey or Connecticut, where the deadline is April 1st.

AMAZING GRACE

God's grace is amazing in the lives of all His people. For even the most righteous man falls painfully short of the perfection that God requires of those who will be with Him in heaven. The Bible says that at the end of time only those without any sin, none at all, will be able to stand in God's presence. This causes us problems, big problems, for none of us quivres.

If I were to ask you whether you were sure of your salvation, I wonder if everyone of you could honestly say, "Pastor Krahn, if I die tonight, I feel certain that I would be with God in heaven." Anyone who loves the Lord and cannot state that conviction does not understand how amazing God's grace really is.

The reason that many of us cannot, is because we are so aware of our faults and find it difficult to believe that we must somehow do better before we can come to God and receive complete forgiveness. We think that we must change, keep the Ten Commandments, not get angry so easily, and a hundred other things.

Those of us who feel that way are heading down a dead-end street—we'll never make it to heaven under our own recognition. Instead we must recognize that we need help and lots of it. We need to tap into God's unconditional love. A love that irrationally hangs in with us even when we spurn it again and again. A love that accepts us in spite of our faults. One that flowed from the lips of a crucified rabbi when He said, "Father

God's grace is tough love—no slushy sentimentality, love that flows out of the cross where all demands of justice were met. God's grace through Jesus Christ provides us a place to stand where we do not need to try to do what we can't do anyway, that is, make things right by our own efforts.

God's good news for us today is that we are accepted. We have been accepted by that which is greater than us. We did nothing to earn that acceptance—nor can we do anything to merit it.

We must simply accept the fact that we are accepted. And when we do, we can then experience God's amazing grace. Grace is God's gift of acceptance that becomes ours by faith.

I can't believe for you, you must do it for yourself. God's grace can only become amazing for you when you accept the fact that you are accepted.

Elimination of Auto Rating Classification The Next Hidden Subsidy

EDITOR'S NOTE: We bring you this thought-provoking article in its entirety for obvious reasons. We suggest that you let your insurance broker know how you feel on this subject.

American policyholders keep complaining that back-breaking auto insurance costs. But many of them do not seem to realize that an endless chain of piggy backers - from subsidized pools and elsewhere - keep leaping on top of the load they already carry. It's high time to rouse the sagging army of insured with the news that they have long been victimized by hidden subsidies and that the end is nowhere in sight.

At the December annual meeting of National Association of Insurance Commissioners, that group's executive committee passed a resolution containing the provision:

"... NAIC should consider no later than June, 1979, adoption of a stance opposing use of sex and marital status (as auto rating classification factors) unless the industry can convince it that the standards have statistical validity."

Just why NAIC must be "convinced" is something of a mystery. Overwhelming evidence of the validity of the sex and marital status standards is available to anyone - much less the regulatory experts. That assertion can be proved indisputably by looking at the record.

First we must consider "age" as a rating element because the sex and marital qualifications are applied mainly to those under 25. Here's what we find, thanks largely to a recent study by National Association of Independent Insurers:

The under-25 drivers as a group (male and female) incur more than twice the number of losses than those over that age. The losses should be and are fairly reflected in the premium charges for the two groups.

Now, eliminate age from the picture. Immediately, the 83 percent majority of drivers over 25 would be soaked 18 percent more to enable the under-25's to enjoy happy motoring with a 42 percent rate reduction. That would be a rather generous reward for causing over two times the losses.

Proceeding to sex and marital status considerations, we should note that these two factors really ameliorate the rating situation of those under 25 by adding further refinement of driving experience to the basic age standard.

Thus we find that young males are involved in 41 percent more losses than young females - and young males 84 percent more than their married counterparts.

Removing sex as a measurement would give young women drivers the dubious privilege of paying 29 percent higher charges so that under-25 males might revel in a reduction of 8 percent. This is a form of equal rights that does not appear to be the type of treatment advocated by many women today.

And if marriage were removed from rating procedures, young wedded males would ante up 68 percent more in premiums while their single friends raked in a 9 percent benefit in terms of lower rates.

Instead of demanding that the industry justify the use of sex and marital standing in auto rating, the NAIC might consider justifying its disregard of evidence entered on the record by experience on the road.

Only sex and marital questions are involved in the NAIC's June deadline. But other tested auto rating practices are also in jeopardy. For example, critics of current classification would cancel "territories" as elements in rating.

Flying in the face of common sense and dismissing solid proof that congested areas breed losses, social champions would "equitably adjust" auto premiums for urban convenience at suburban expense. In recent testimony before a legislative committee, Allstate Insurance Company projected the dramatic consequences in New York State of eliminating rating territories:

The results range from a reduction of 43 percent for an adult driver (pleasure uses) in Brooklyn to an increase of 92 percent for the same type of driver in the upstate counties of Chenango, Courtland, Schuyler, Tioga and Tompkins, plus parts of Chemung, Madison and Oneida. In terms of dollars, the increase for adult drivers in the upstate counties would be $201 while the Brooklyn driver would pocket a $321 reduction.

All this munificent switching would come to pass by the waving of regulatory wands. The extra premiums would be loaded on the backs of the majority through concealed subsidies disguised as social justice.

Many buy this concept as long as it remains a theory. But they tend to demur when they learn what they must pay to put into practice. Thus, a State Farm study showed that a large majority of policyholders and non-insured balked at supporting a system that meant higher rates for them to subsidize young, unmarried males when the sex and marital status factors were removed.

Questions have also been raised about the possible impact on other lines - life and health, for example - if sex is eliminated as a qualifying element in rating. Obviously, such action could have unending ramifications.

But the overriding question is: When will the erosion of rating standards and the unceasing substitution of hidden subsidies come to a halt? The answer is all too plain: Not until the policyholders who are paying the freight rise in protest. That's exactly what they will do once they are fully acquainted with the massive shell game being played at their expense.

The Insurance Federation of New York therefore urges an immediate and incessant campaign by the industry to bring the facts about subsidies to the majority of policyholders. Alerted and informed, they will be able to apply irresistible pressure on their legislators and regulators to preserve equity for all in insurance pricing.

Handicapped Students In Arts Festival

Hundreds of handicapped students from Nassau County will gather at Hofstra University in Hempstead on Friday, May 4, 1979, for the annual Very Special

Arts Festival in the Nassau region. Festival coordinators Marion Berliner and Jane Toumanoff stated that students will participate in shows, workshops, and demonstrations during the morning and early afternoon. All areas of the arts, including music, dance, drama, and crafts, will be represented.

The Nassau Very Special Arts Festival gives handicapped students the opportunity to demonstrate their skills in the arts. The festival is a non-competitive educational experience where, for example, handicapped students can learn to read and count through music or increase physical awareness through dance. Many handicapped students discover the arts for the first time at a Very Special Arts Festival. The festival expands opportunities in all the arts to all disabled students. It encourages leaders to involve handicapped children and youth in a variety of creative arts experiences.

The Very Special Arts Festival is one of fourteen regional festivals presented this spring throughout the state. An Allstate Festival will be held at Madison Square Garden in New York City this May. Selected students from the region will participate in the Madison Square Garden festival.

The New York State Very Special Arts Festival program has been designated a National Model by the National Committee on Arts for the Handicapped. Mrs. Jean Kennedy Smith, sister of the late President, serves as National Chairperson for the Very Special Arts Festivals. Mrs. Smith is also co-chairperson, with Dr. Vivienne Anderson, of the New York State Committee on Arts for the Handicapped.

The New York State Very Special Arts Festival program, in its fourth successful year, is instrumental in developing and implementing festivals, workshops, and inservice teacher training programs to demonstrate the impact of the arts on improved communication skills and self-reliance in handicapped students.

The 1979 Very Special Arts Festival program is sponsored by the New York State Education Department.

American-Irish Dedicate National Memorial

"Peace With Justice In A United Ireland" was the theme as more than 500 persons of Irish birth and descent assembled at the permanent site of the monument located at Court House Drive Mineola facing the south side of the New Supreme Court - "this grove is located in the shadows of the courts of Justice, is a living symbol of our determination to end bigotry and discrimination in Northern Ireland and to support efforts to achieve peace with justice in an United Ireland" is inscribed in the Connemara marble oval-shaped monument... Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell and District Attorney Denis Dillon, both of Irish ancestry, were co-chairmen of the dedication ceremonies...

This historical event, held in Nassau County, was attended by an overwhelming representation of the American Irish organizations in the metropolitan area... Dedication opened with a reception march by the Emerald Society Pipe Band, Nassau County Police Department and the singing of the The Soldiers' Song and the Star spangled Banner by Noel Kingston... The Honorable Denis Dillon, was the master of ceremonies and introduced all the numerous guests - The Honorable Francis T. Purcell, Nassau County Executive spoke about this tremendous outpouring of Americans and credited the committee of sponsoring organizations for achieving this "first for Nassau County"... Speakers included the Reverend John Malone of St. Brigid's Church, Westbury, representing Bishop John Mc Gann, Rockville Centre Diocese; the Right Reverend Robert C. Witcher, Episcopal Bishop of Long Island and Assemblyman Sean Walsh, main speaker of the afternoon.

On Easter Monday, Padriaga Pearse led a band of Volunteers that responded to his call and marched out of Liberty Hall, in Dublin, to occupy prominent buildings including the famed Dublin General Post Office - they held this PO against staggering odds of the British Army and Pearse, Connolly and the numbers of this valiant Citizens Army surrendered on the Saturday after Easter - the British executed 16 leaders of the rebellion and a great wave of revulsion swept through Ireland and then there was strong American criticism of the reprisals. Sinn Fein, the party of the rebels, which had been in the minority, quickly gained the allegiance of the majority...

This historical declaration of independence was adopted by the leadership of the Sinn Fein, at The Dail in January, 1919: The Irish people is by right a free people. And whereas English rule in this country is and always has been based upon force and fraud and maintained by military occupation against the declared will of the people; and whereas the Irish republic was proclaimed in Dublin, on Easter Monday, 1916, by the Irish Republican Army, acting on behalf of the Irish people; and whereas the Irish electorate has, in the General Election of December, 1918 declared by an overwhelming majority its firm allegiance to the Irish Republic -

Panama hats were first made in Ecuador. Panama, however, was the chief center of distribution.

"Now therefore, we ratify the establishment of the Irish Republic and pledge ourselves and our people to make this declaration effective by every means at our command..." - so be it; As history was made in 1916 - William Egan of New Hyde Park was present at the dedication and was veteran of the uprising, a spry 80 years old as he told the media his vivid memory of that day.

We thank the cooperation of the media, especially: Brad O'Hearn and Pat Prasley of Newsday; Jeff Weinstock and John Miller for their excellent coverage over Channel 21 on that 4/16 evenings news program (7:30 P.M. - nightly-please watch); Mary Gay Taylor CBS Radio, Miss D'Auria, WGSM, WGBB, Cablevision of LONG ISLAND and staff; WHLI - Jerry Carr Jim O'Connor of the Irish Advocate, John Thornton of the Irish Echo, the terrific accounts carried by this publication and all weeklies across the island - our sincere thanks; this special first hand report for our HERALD readers - more on the Hicksville AOH first place win in New York, March 17, next week, along with many other items - enjoy your health!

Hearing May 8 On Hazardous Material Storage

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca has announced that the Town Board will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, May 8, to consider the adoption of an ordinance regulating the manufacture, storage, handling and use of hazardous substances and materials.

"The proposed regulations follow the nationally recognized safety standards of the American Insurance Association and are intended to safeguard life and property from the hazards of explosion and fire that may arise in the handling or storage of such materials," Mosca said.

The proposed ordinance grew out of the tragic death of two Bethpage volunteer firemen killed in 1978 battling a fire involving swimming pool chemicals. "The advice and recommendations of fire fighters and other experts from throughout the county were solicited and incorporated in the development of this proposal," Mosca said.

The regulations will apply to corrosive liquids, flammable solids, highly toxic materials, oxidizing materials, poisonous gases, potentially explosive chemicals, radioactive materials, and other substances considered hazardous, all of which are defined in the ordinance.

The new law will become effective 90 days after its adoption by the Town Board. Enforcement will be carried out by the Building Division of the Town's Department of Planning and Development. Violations would be punishable by a fine not exceeding $250 or 15 days imprisonment or both.

Periodic review of the ordinance will be made by a Fire Advisory Board, which will recommend any changes or revisions it feels are necessary and notify all fire districts of the provisions of the regulations.

LIGHTING THE WAY: Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby (right), Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker, and John J. Russell, Vice President of Consumer Relations for LILCO, take a look at one of the new lighting fixtures the Town will be installing as part of its program to modernize street lighting in the Town. The modernization follows the Town's purchase of its street lighting system from LILCO in a move to cut costs. Under the terms of the agreement, the Town now owns outright the 18,622 fixtures along its more than 700 miles of Town roads and in its parks, municipal parking fields and other public areas, as well as approximately 75 miles of wire and cable that supply energy to the light fixtures.
