Councilman Clark said the Town Board approved a contract totaling $302,509 with J.M.S. Enterprises of Stony Brook, the lowest of 13 bidders. He estimated that construction in the vicinity of Sterling and Frevert Places, and First and Second streets would begin within four weeks and be completed by the end of October.

Clark noted that in addition to the installation of storm drains, all necessary curb and road work will be done as part of the project.

Coalition Against Strand III Addresses School Board

To the Hicksville Board of Education:

Consequent to your approval of the Sex Education/Sensitivity Training Curriculum by your Board members, P. Fujimoto, J. Ayres, D. Arena, and I. Wolfson, we proclaim the following Manifesto:

By your individual and collective action, you consciously and totally disregarded the public will of the Hicksville Community. Ninety-five percent of those present at the Board Meeting stood vehemently against the aforesaid Curriculum and your personal decision on that day, June 27, 1979.

You deliberately made a mockery of representative government and of our civil rights under the Constitution of the United States of America.

Herewith, we, the Citizens of Hicksville, the State of New York, declare that:

Whereas, we, concerned parents, wish to fulfill our obligations to our children before God by instructing them in human sexuality, personality development, and family life education according to the teachings of our religious beliefs, and

Whereas, we believe that sex education, personality development, and family life education imparted in the classrooms of the tax-supported public schools fails, by design, to impart Judeo-Christian morality and operates without parental consent, and

Whereas, the morally "neutral" stand taken in these sex education sensitivity training courses encourages the formation of Humanistic man-centered values, situation-ethics, the rejection of God's eternal truths, and the denigration of the Ten Commandments, and

Whereas, the deification of Atheistic Humanism threatens the bodies and souls of our children by trapping them in a way of life which negates God's plan for man here on earth as well as in the next life, and

Whereas, the State Education Department and the Health Systems Agencies, in conjunction with Planned Parenthood, the Federal Government Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, including the local Hicksville P.T.A. units and their Executive Council, are attempting to usurp our parental rights and trammel upon our deeply-held religious convictions by using our tax money to promulgate amoral and immoral sex education sensitivity training to our children without true and real parental consent, and

Whereas, these courses, even on an optional basis, which may prove to be merely a legal fiction, have proven to produce a negative influence upon the behavior and attitudes of our children resulting in an epidemic increase in venereal disease, earlier teenage pregnancies (under age 14), and tragic teenage abortions with a concomitant decrease in academic capability and achievement, thus transforming our local Hicksville schools into institutions of "social change" and "behavior modification" rather than of academic learning, and

Whereas, the people pushing sex education and sensitivity training behavior modification courses, lift no finger to stem the rising tide of pornography, child prostitution, and salacious reading material aimed at the young, all the while protesting that they want to help our children "cope" with the sex-saturated environment, which they have helped to perpetuate in the first place, outside the school, THEREFORE,

BE IT KNOWN THAT...
We, PARENTS, TAXPAYERS, AND CITIZENS OF THE HICKSVILLE COMMUNITY STATE OF NEW YORK, strenuously object to implementing sex education and sensitivity training/behavior modification courses in any of our public schools, even under the transparent pretense of their being optional, for they may soon become mandatory on an official basis, or unofficially, through peer, teacher, and administrative pressure.

We stand upon our First Amendment right to be free from the imposition of the State Religion of Atheistic Humanism upon us and our children.

We demand that our elected representatives on the Hicksville Board of Education, in Legislatures, and in the Congress uphold their oath of office to defend the Constitution of the United States of America, and our civil right to practice our religious faith and to pass it on intact to our progeny.

We condemn any and all attempts to perpetuate "genocide" upon our Judeo-Christian morals, ethics, standards, and beliefs, as well as all who are accomplices in these attempts.

WE, the PEOPLE OF HICKSVILLE, legally and patriotically adhering to government of the people, by the people, and for the people, are firmly resolved to challenge transgressors of our rights in any public or private forum and to bring legal action against violators of our rights and those of our children.

Sincerely,
Joseph S. Weiler

Two Hicksville Homes Hit By Fire

Two recent house fires in Hicksville caused considerable damage. On July 12th, fire caused an estimated $25,000 damage to a Levitt style home at 24 Wishing Lane. The alarm came in at 1:25 p.m. on a very hot and humid July day. Upon arrival, Vamps, fearing the fast moving fire might take its toll on personnel due to the weather, requested Jericho Vamps to respond to any additional alarms that might occur, thus enabling local Vamps extra manpower to douse the blaze. The suspected cause of the fire was an air conditioner. The owner said he turned the appliance on and left the room; when he returned, the room was ablaze. No injuries were reported, but the family's pet dog died in the fire.

On Friday, the 13th of July, a smoky blaze in the basement of a home at 214 N. Park Ave. sustained $20,000 damage. The alarm came in at 7:05 p.m. First arriving Vamps found flames shooting out the windows. The cause of this fire was children playing with matches. Vamps, unable to get at the seat of the blaze due to heat and heavy smoke, brought it under control using a lawn sprinkler type device, called a Bresnan Distributor. It was lowered through a hole in the floor and the fire was cooled enough to allow Vamps to enter the basement. No injuries were reported.

Fire Report
During the period July 11 through July 22, Hicksville Vamps responded to 49 alarms. Fire calls-28; rescue calls-16; malicious false alarms-5.

New Aerial Tower Delivered

Hicksville Fire Department's newest addition arrived in town recently. A new 100 foot aerial tower assigned to Protection H & L Co. No. 1 will be put in service as soon as drivers are trained in its operation. The truck replaces an 85 foot aerial tower. More on this in a later issue.

To Participate In Open World Championships

The St. Ignatius Girls Cadets (defending champions) of Hicksville, will be among some of the finest U.S. and Canadian drum and bugle corps that will be showing the product of countless dollars, hours, buckets of "blood, sweat and tears," as they square off against each other in competition for championship titles, trophies, flags and over $20,000.00 in prize money in three classes of competition.

The competition is to be held on Friday, Aug. 3 and Saturday, Aug. 4 in Boston.

Class B and All-Girl corps will start at 7:30 a.m. on Friday, with their respective title bouts starting at 7:30 p.m.

Class A corps will battle for finalist positions on Saturday, starting at 8 a.m. and the championships battles starting at 6:45 on Saturday night.

Happy Anniversary

Barbecue Safety

Cooking outdoors on barbecue grills can be fun, but also dangerous. No grill is foolproof. They should all be handled with care.

LIQUEFIED PETROLEUM GAS

Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) when used to fire a home barbecue, is contained under pressure in a steel cylinder. The contents of an LPG cylinder, vaporized and in a confined area, has the explosive force of several sticks of dynamite. Therefore, the wise user of LPG will be aware of the dangers involved and the precautions that must be taken to avoid accidents.

No LPG burner should ever be ignited until the following steps are taken:

Read the Manufacturer's Instructions and be sure you thoroughly understand them.

Use the proper size wrench when making connections and be sure they are tight. Remember that fittings on LPG cylinders have left-hand threads, requiring effort in a counterclockwise direction to tighten. To be sure that connections are tight, apply a soapy solution to all fittings to detect leaks. If any bubbles appear, the connections must be tightened further.

Make sure that grease is not

Supervisor Joseph Colby of the Town of Oyster Bay presents Suanne Dunn of Hicksville, with the Citation which announces her as 4-H'er of the month.

allowed to drip on the hose or cylinder.

NEVER allow children to use a gas-fired barbecue.

NEVER use a gas-fired barbecue inside any structure, nor on porches and balconies. Use only outdoors at a safe distance from any structure.

NEVER store any LP Gas cylinder, attached to a barbecue or spare, inside any part of a structure, including porches and balconies.

Store cylinders, including those attached to barbecues, outdoors in a shaded, cool area out of direct sunlight.

LP Gas cylinders must never be transported in the trunk of a passenger vehicle. When transporting a cylinder, whether full or empty, it should be placed on the floor of the vehicle always in an upright position and with all windows open. The cylinder must be removed from the vehicle as quickly as possible and never left in a parked vehicle. Explosions

Action Council Programs

Note: unless otherwise mentioned, all these activities take place at The Action Council of Central Nassau Center, located in the Stephen Karopczyc Building on Farmedge Rd., in Island Trees, Levittown. Their telephone number is 579-4433.

CENTRAL NASSAU SENIOR CENTER - Program Director - Ariene Summers A Nutrition Program which provides daily social, cultural and recreational activities in addition to a hot meal. The Center attempts to reach out to seniors who live alone and/or have no cooking facilities. Open to any Nassau County resident 60 years or older. Limited transportation is available. Project Revitalize Energy conservation, weatherization and community beautification are the revitalization services offered to the Central Nassau Community. A work crew of men and women insulate, paint, and repair homes. The Project is specifically designed to help the elderly and those on a fixed income save on fuel costs and repair bills.

Project CASSS - (Community Assistance for Senior Safety and Security)

A pilot project dealing with the increasing concerns of elderly homeowners with health related disabilities and the inability to summon rapid assistance. CASSS installs and maintains alarm systems, grab rails, safety mats and smoke detectors as well as making minor home safety or security repairs.

DISPLACED HOMEMAKERS MULTISERVICE CENTER - Program Director - Phyllis Berger

A displaced homemaker is a woman who has been out of the labor force for a substantial number of years (having been primarily a full-time homemaker). She has been dependent on another's source of income, has been or may currently be receiving public assistance and is possibly now without financial security. Due to separation, divorce or death or disability of a spouse, she is "displaced". Our goal is to help these women make the transition from the homemaker role to that of the working woman. The Center provides free services to eligible Displaced Homemakers to help women become "job ready" in a supportive environment.

HICKSVILLE YOUTH COUNCIL - Program Director - Barbara Nelson 181 West Old Country Rd., Hicksville, NY 11801 (516) 822-7594

The goal of the Youth Council is to help youth adjust to personal, family and school related problems. The Council provides a wide range of services and activities that stress self-understanding, vocational awareness and recreational alternatives. The Council acts as advocates for youth providing information and referral services in areas such as legal aid, health, family, education and personal concerns. The Council sponsors workshops in leathercrafts, photography and other arts and craft.

CENTRAL NASSAU PARENTS CENTER - Program Coordinator - Anna Gravelli

The Parents Center is a place for a parent to come with his or her children and feel welcome and comfortable. It is designed for the parent who is experiencing difficulty and frustration and feels that she or he may take it out on the children. The Parents Center has four major components: Crisis intervention with a part-time crisis nursery and emergency babysitters; supportive services with parent aides, a Parents Anonymous chapter and counselor/advocates; parents education with many different kinds of workshops and seminars; and family recreation. The Center encourages the participation of all family members because when stress exists in a home all members of the family are affected.

The Parents Center is not a funded program. It is a program which utilizes existing resources and community volunteers. It is committed to the self-help concept and believes that parents themselves can provide useful services to each other and to the Center.

OPERATION OUTREACH Program Director - Pat Nadeau

A neighborhood service center that provides information, referral and advocate activities for the residents of the Central Nassau area. Outreach activities are on-going dealing with problems of health, housing, social services and education. B.

FAMLI Outdoor Sculptures

The inaugural exhibition of the new Fine Arts Museum of LI (FAMLI) will also be the premier show by Construct, a newly formed Chicago-based consortium of seven nationally noted sculptors of large scale art for public spaces.

The outdoor sculpture show is from August 8 to September 30 on Denton Green in Hempstead, the New England style village square near the bus and railroad terminals and next to the former Grant's store which FAMLI will renovate into one of the largest museums in the metropolitan region.

Construct sculptors are Mark di Suvero, Charles Ginnever, John Henry, Linda Howard, Lyman Kipp, Frank McGuire, and Jerry Peart. Their monumental pieces, designed for public places outdoors, weigh up to 3 tons, are as much as 16 feet high and 34 feet long, and will be trucked from as far away as Texas and California.

Hempstead Village is helping produce the show by providing the site and installation. Mayor Dalton Miller hails the exhibition as "bringing the nation's outstanding outdoor sculptors to the Island's historic commercial, population, and transportation hub."

FAMLI received its charter last July from the state's Board of Regents and is in the process of establishing a major regional full-service museum in the 80,000-square-foot former Grant's store purchased three months ago through challenge gifts from businessmen Bruce Wood hall and Alan Fortunoff.

The arts are taking the lead in a $2 million revitalization plan being developed for Hempstead by Raymond, Parish, Pine, and Weiner under a committee headed by Hofstra University President James Stuart, Nassau County Executive Francis Purcell, Hempstead Town Supervisor Al D'Amato, and Mayor Miller.

Adelphi University President Timothy Costello is taking the lead in recycling two Hempstead movie palaces into performing arts centers which, with the expanding Black History Museum, will make Hempstead the cultural center of Long Island.

"Now, with more population than the City of Los Angeles, Nassau and Suffolk Counties can move forward into full maturity as a comprehensive region filling the only remaining major gap in LI's cultural and educational facilities by establishing this full-service museum of which the Construct outdoor sculpture show is our first presentation," comment Robert Scheuing, Chairman of Hempstead Bank, and Robert Tammero, President of Abraham & Straus. They are Co-Chairmen of FAMLI's Board of Governors.

Among other activities underway by FAMLI are a nationwide search for a museum director, presentations by architects for renovation of the FAMLI building, development of educational programs with local schools and a lecture series for the fall, and plans for the first exhibition inside the new museum in winter, report FAMLI Chairman Jerome Zimmerman, Associate Professor of Art at C.W. Post Center, and FAMLI President Ercole Rosa, Education Consultant at IBM.

Crime On Long Island

Denis Dillon, District Attorney of Nassau County, recently released his 1978 annual report. It is his fourth yearly report as district attorney, and it describes the maturing of many of the programs he has instituted since taking office.

The results of the reforms are remarkable. The felony conviction rate for 1974 was 74%. By the end of 1978 it was 92%. The number of felony defendants sentenced to jail or prison has doubled and the median time for prosecuting a felony case was cut by 70%.

In his letter to the County Executive, Dillon noted that recent studies indicate that programs designed to rehabilitate prisoners have been on the whole a disappointing failure, but that the probability of conviction and prison does deter some potential criminals. Since there has been a reportable drop in the felony crime rate in Nassau, some credit is due to the men and women in the Nassau Criminal justice system who have worked so hard to bring about swifter and more certain punishment of criminals.

Investigation reports
The reports from the District

Attorney's investigative bureaus indicate that they are committing their resources to long term investigations.

One of the more intensive and successful long term operations was into loansharking. Twenty-seven defendants have been charged with usury to date. The average loan was $10,000. Interest rates ranged from 156% to 260%, annually. The largest number of loans were made to businessmen for business debts. Threats had been made in 12 cases, violence in four. About half of the defendants were found to be organized crime connected.

A focus on shoplifting led to the arrest and successful prosecution of members of the "Brotherhood", a South American shoplifting ring. (There were also 1428 misdemeanor shoplifting prosecutions during 1978).

The Official Corruption Bureau undertook a six month investigation which resulted in the indictment and conviction of the Hempstead Police Commissioner, and began grand jury investigations into garbage carting; an investigation to determine what if any relationship exists between the banking industry and public sector regarding non-interest bearing bank accounts, and an investigation of prison work release in Nassau County.

Crime Victim Assistance
1978 was also a year during which District Attorney Dillon tried to focus the personnel and facilities of his office on easing the burden of the crime victim.

He set up a Crime Victims Compensation Bureau within his office. This is a state agency, and prior to moving into the Nassau D.A.'s office, victims had to travel to Manhattan for interviews.

Special training classes were held to increase the awareness of assistant district attorneys to the problems of rape victims, and to help them solve the special problems of prosecuting rape cases. Off-corridor waiting rooms were set aside for victims. A 24-hour-a-day hotline was set up with police to take calls for assistance. Informational pamphlets have been printed; free transportation arranged for court appearances and a referral system coordinated with other services available to crime victims.

Dear Friends:

AT THE TOWN BOARD MEETING, held this Tuesday, the petition of Jimlyn Realty Corp., and J.T. Motors, Ltd. for a special use permit to maintain and operate a used-car lot at their location on the northeast corner of First Street (Louis Street) and Broadway, in Hicksville, was heard.

Although no Hicksville residents appeared to oppose this application, the Nassau County Planning Commission recommended disapproval because this Commission felt it would be "an overuse" of this sized property.

When the applicant was so informed, they requested additional time on their application, to make necessary changes to conform to this requirement.

Supervisor Joseph Colby stated that a sufficient amount of time would be allowed before the Town Board made its decision on this matter.

New at the Stack O'Barley on South Broadway in Hicksville, for your entertainment pleasure, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, will be Dave at the organ, singing your favorites.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS. Mr. Walter Stackler of the Stackler family who own the Mid Island Plaza, is presently completing the building of the Stratus Office Building, in Roslyn, which converts a purchase of his (through foreclosure), from its originally intended purpose, a luxury hotel, to a luxury office building, sounds great. Greg Carman, Town of Oyster Bay Councilman is attending the second in a series of meetings of the National Congressional Council in Washington, D.C. This Council is a panel of community leaders from across the country who meet regularly in Washington to exchange ideas and opinions with Republican members of Congress on current issues of public policy. Mike Polansky of Plainview, Dem. Town Board candidate urges the Town of Oyster Bay Board to ban the display and sale of drug use paraphernalia with the Town with an "anti-head shop" law such as passed last month in the Village of Massapequa Park. Adele Chodoff who was manager of the Austin Travel Hicksville Vacation Dept. has been appointed to the newly-created post of Director of Executive Accounts for this firm. Jerry Gilbert, Chemical Bank's Long Island regional economist tells us that "the aircraft industry will continue as a source of strength for the L.I. economy. Although this industry has gone through hard times, it now is performing solidly and its future is bright." George D. Matson has been elected executive vice-president and a director of the National Bank of North America. Cecelia Ober of Hicksville was presented with a copy of "Nassau Suburbia, U.S.A." by our Town Supervisor Joe Colby, in recognition of her slide-and-sound who on the history of the Town of Oyster Bay. Present for this presentation were Miss Dorothy H. McGee, Chairman of the Town's Bicentennial History Commission and Mr. Richard Evers, Chairman of the Commission's Education Committee. Joan Boyd of Terrell Ave. in Hicksville received a Certificate of Recognition by the Home Economics Division of the County Cooperative Extension, for her work as a volunteer. Joan is the president-elect of the Nassau County Homemakers Council. Recent graduates of the 17-week intensive Secretarial Refresher Course sponsored by the Nassau County Office of Women's Services were Mildred Solow and Ethel Remuzzi, both of PLAINVIEW.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay cool.

Postal Service Offers Tips For Mailing Film

A little extra care when mailing film for processing could mean the difference in preserving the memories of your summer vacation. Sectional Center Manager Postmaster Anthony M. Murello advised today.

"Thousands of film packages end up in dead letter offices throughout the country each year," Postmaster Murello said, "just because the film package was wrapped and addressed carelessly."

He offered the following tips for mailing film:

o Put the film in a sturdy envelope, and when possible use envelopes supplied by a film processing company.

o Write the film processor's mailing address, return address and ZIP Code legibly on the outside of the envelope.

o Tape your name and address to the film roll or cartridge before putting it in the envelope, and put your name and address on the back of any photographs being sent for copying, re-touching or other purposes.

Home Improvement Grants For Seniors And Disabled Homeowners

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby praised Town planning personnel for finding a way to put federal funds to a responsible use as he announced the hiring of consulting firms to administer a grant program for senior citizens and the physically disabled.

"The program that is now underway will provide outright grants of up to $3,500 to qualified homeowners who are 62 years or older, or homeowners whose household includes someone who is permanently disabled," Colby explained. "This money can go to pay for almost any necessary home repair including such items as additional insulation, new storm doors, plumbing replacements, ramps into the home, and many other items."

Colby said that this portion of the Town's community development program has been funded through a federal grant totalling

$100,000. "This is money that is given for approved repairs or improvements," Colby explained. "and there is no need to repay it. There are certain income ceilings but they are not as stringent as past programs. For example, a senior living alone can be earning up to $11,499 a year and still qualify for some grant money."

This home improvement program for the seniors and handicapped will be administered through the consulting firm of Pan Tech Management Corporation of Babylon. The Town Board also approved this firm's handling of two other home improvement programs that are being established with federal funds, totalling $200,000, to provide some grant funds and low-cost loans for home improvements for all homeowners in the Hicksville and Oyster Bay hamlet areas. "These to communities qualified under federal guidelines for home improvement programs that will provide outright grants of up to $3,500 under the same income limits as set for the senior and handicapped homeowner," Colby noted, "but this program also offers loans of up to $10,000 for home improvements at an interest rate of only 3 per cent." These loans are available to all homeowners in Hicksville and the hamlet of Oyster Bay regardless of family income.

"Homeowners interested in these grants or loans should contact the Town Office of Community Development to begin the application process Colby advised.

The Town Board also approved the hiring of the consulting firm of Baldwin and Cornelius Company of Freeport to establish and carry out a third Town community development program utilizing federal funds for public works improvements.

Purcell Demands Gas Allocation Investigation

Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell recently demanded an investigation of gas allocations and pricing at gas stations situated on Long Island parkways.

In a telegram to State Energy Chief James Larocca, Purcell pointed out that parkway gas stations continue to pump gas 24-hours a day, at exorbitant rates, while nearby local stations are unable to obtain even the new quotas set for them by the State Energy Office.

"These stations are charging up to $1.20 per gallon and the gas seems to be coming from a bottomless well," said Purcell. "I think the time has come to find out why stations located on State highways appear to be receiving special treatment."

Purcell also urged Larocca to give serious consideration to eliminating the odd-even system of purchasing as on weekends. His recommendation was prompted by the results of a July 13th survey conducted by the Nassau County Office of Consumer Affairs which showed that

79 out of 100 people, interviewed as they waited on long gas lines, said they would like the odd-even ban lifted. "Consumers and dealers alike feel that this would help to alleviate panic buying," said Purcell, "and I think this system deserves a chance."

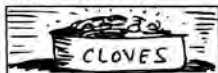

Purcell pointed out that the County is complying, within budgetary restraints, with the Governor's emergency order to enforce weekend openings of designated gas stations.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Weiss of Hicksville celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Wednesday, the fourth of July, when they renewed their marriage vows at a most impressive ceremony and reception held at the Fontainebleau in Jericho.

Approximately 125 guests, including the Weiss' son, daughter, and six grandchildren, joined this popular Hicksville couple, at the festivities, which included a cocktail hour, then the ceremony, which was a repetition of the wedding ceremony of fifty years ago, and finally a dinner-dance reception.

Sam, as Mr. Weiss is known to his many friends and neighbors, was born in Hicksville. Sam is the fourth member of the Weiss family, (8 children) to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. He is a retired electrical contractor. He is Chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners of the Hicksville Water District and is a member of the Town of Oyster Bay Electrical Board, is also active in the Hicksville Fire Department, the Hicksville Fire Dept Exempt Association, the Ernest E. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville and the F. & A.M.

Kitty Weiss, who retired from her work for the Town of Oyster Bay in 1967, is still active in the Ladies Auxiliary of the Nassau County Firemen's Association and in the Ladies Auxiliary of the Hicksville Fire Dept, as well as the Ernest E. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville and the O.E.S.

Among the guests was Mrs. Weiss' Aunt "Ray", who recently celebrated her 90th birthday. This lady enjoyed, not only the ceremony and the dinner, but also was seen several times, on the dance floor enjoying the music of Bob Logan's Orchestra.

As happy "goodbyes" were said, coupled with best wishes to this couple who have spent their lives in such exemplary manner and have given and are still giving so much of themselves to their community, an exceptional evening was brought to its inevitable conclusion.

May you have many more "Happy Anniversaries", Sam and Kitty.

California. Their daughter, Evette, graduated from Hicksville H.S. this June and will attend Brown University in the fall.

Also, Mark Ludman was recently married to Wendy Lynne Pink of Nova Scotia. Congratulations and best wishes to all.

Lina A. Stuart of HICKSVILLE, has been named an account executive in the Woodbury office of Bache Halsey Stuart Shields Inc. She began working at Bache as a secretary in 1972 and more recently, she was an administrative assistant in the firm's Woodbury branch which is located at 7600 Jericho Tpke.

Dr. Phillip Rubinstein, of 2nd St., HICKSVILLE, a member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, recently attended the 64th annual Kiwanis International convention held in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Rosemarie Smith, Lorraine's cousin was Godmother; and Stephen Fahy, Michael's brother, was Godfather. Present for this momentous occasion and at the festivities that followed were: Lorraine's Mom and Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rerisi and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Fahy, Michael's parents. Also on hand were many great aunts and great uncles, Jennifer's cousin, Elizabeth Erin, many other cousins and friends.

Great Performers' Hall Of Fame Planned For Long Island

A consortium of Long Island business leaders and The Rehabilitation Institute, a non-profit agency serving the handicapped in Nassau County, today unveiled plans to establish a Great Performers' Hall of Fame and Museum at a permanent site on Long Island by 1981.

According to the planners, The Hall of Fame and Museum, which will recognize the Nation's great performers, past and present, would have a substantial impact on creating a National identity for Long Island—similar to what the Baseball Hall of Fame has done for Cooperstown, N.Y. and would significantly improve Long Island's overall tourist draw.

According to studies by Long Island tourism groups, an estimated 70 million tourists visit Long Island annually, spending approximately $320 million. It is estimated that through the multiplier effect, this adds roughly $800 million to the area's economy.

It is envisioned that the Great Performers' Hall of Fame and Museum, together with Long Island's existing cultural, entertainment and beach attractions, would give Long Island a viable tourism package.

Organizationally, the Hall of Fame and Museum will be a subsidiary of The Rehabilitation Institute, the organization which originated the idea and has spearheaded the drive to obtain island support for the project. The Institute will establish a Board of Trustees, composed of Long Island business executives who will have the responsibility for fiscal management. A Governing Board, tailored along the lines of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, will be established to determine the entertainment areas to be represented in the Hall of Fame and to formalize voting procedures for induction of Members.

The Museum is to have a more commercial flavor, featuring rare and unique items of movie and performer memorabilia which will be of viewing interest to the general public. The Museum will also offer a large selection of celebrity souvenir items for sale. Revenue from both projects, which will be housed in one building, will be used by The Rehabilitation Institute to sustain its services free of charge to the handicapped.

A building fund campaign will be kicked off Saturday night, October 6 when Chemical Bank and Bloomingdale's of Garden City co-host a "Great Performers' Hall of Fame Ball" at Bloomingdale's at $100 per person. The evening will include the unveiling of a portion of the initial collection of items to be displayed in the Museum and the formal opening of Bloomingdale's model rooms.

Elizabeth and Billy Joel, two of Long Island's own who have maintained their home and involvement on the island, will be the guests of honor that evening. The two recently organized the Billy Joel "Charity Begins At Home" concert at the Nassau Coliseum which raised over $300,000 for local charities.

Norman Goldberg, General Manager of Bloomingdale's, Garden City, and Bob Willumstad, Vice President and head of Chemical Bank's Long Island Division, who are co-chairing the October 6 event, jointly expressed the view that this is a project which will give Long Island the ability to aggressively compete in the tourist marketplace and move out of the shadow of the "Big Apple."

Also involved in planning for the October 6 event are Times Square Stores, Avis, Garden City Chamber of Commerce and Hempstead Chamber of Commerce.

Funds from the kickoff event will be used to encourage matching grants from corporations and private foundations and to conduct a professional marketing study into site locations which offer maximum accessibility and attractiveness to tourists.

THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF MAN'S LANDING ON THE MOON was commemorated at the Cradle of Aviation Museum in Mitchel Field, a soon-to-be-opened facility operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks. At the ceremony, the new facility was presented with a plaque by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics. The plaque reads "In commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the lunar mission of the NASA Apollo XI astronauts Edwin Aldrin, Neil Armstrong and Michael Collins leading to the moon landing at the Sea of Tranquility on July 20, 1969 using a lunar excursion module designed and built by the Grumman Aerospace Corporation, Bethpage, N.Y. Registration Deadline Extended Registration for the 2nd Annual Tobay Games has been extended to Thursday, August 9, it was announced this week by Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

Sponsored by the Bicentennial Historical Commission and the Town's Department of Parks, the games will be held at John J. Burns Town Park, Merrick Road, Massapequa, and Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Park, Oyster Bay hamlet, from 10 AM to 5 PM on Saturday, August 11. Applications may be obtained at all Town park facilities and must be returned no later than Thursday, August 9, to either the Parks Department, 800 South Oyster Bay Road, Hicksville 11801, or the Bicentennial Historical Commission, Town Hall East, Oyster Bay 11771. There is no admission fee.

"The games are open to Town youngsters between the ages of 6 and 15," Clark explained. "This year's events include soccer goal shooting, 50 and 100 yard dash, baseball throwing, the long jump and Frisbee throwing. Participants will be grouped according to age with 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes being given to winner of each event. All entrants will receive a certificate of participation."

For further information, call 922-5800 ext 253 or 433-8020.

Pension Benefits

Children of deceased veterans may be eligible for pension benefits even though their mothers are not, according to Thomas J. Hale, State Veteran Counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

Such a situation may occur under two circumstances: one, the un-remarried widow may be ineligible if her income exceeds limits set by law, and two, when a widow receiving a pension for herself and her children remarries, she loses her personal eligibility for pension payments based on her veteran husband's death. Minor children, however, may continue to receive pension benefits in either case even though they live with their mother. Their eligibility is limited only by their income and age.

Counselor Hale stressed that a widow's personal ineligibility should not prevent her from applying for her children.

For complete information concerning pensions, Counselor Hale urged widows of veterans to visit the local counseling center of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs.

"Around Long Island" Regatta

A record-number 166 sailboats have entered the third annual Around Long Island Regatta which begins at 5 PM, Friday, July 27, off Steeplechase Pier, Brooklyn. Wesley L. Bailey, executive secretary of the ALIR, announced today. The boats entered in the major long-distance sailing race, sponsored by Newsday range in length from a 20-footer to a pair of 58-foot sloops.

The race will be run in eight divisions, both monohull and multihull, rated under the International Offshore Rule (IOR), the Performance Handicap Racing Fleet (PHRF), and the International Offshore Multihull Rule (IOMR).

Newsday will provide trophies in each of the qualifying divisions. Top prize, the Newsday Cup, will be awarded to the boat having the best performance, that is, finishing with the best percentage ahead of the boats in her division on corrected time, which take allowances for the handicaps.

About 900 sailors will compete in the race, which heads east along Long Island's south shore to Montauk Point, goes around Montauk and Orient Points and through Plum Gut to Long Island Sound, and then proceeds west on the Sound to the finish line off Glen Cove breakwater in Hempstead Harbor. The race is 190 nautical miles long.

Long Island radio station WGSM, 740 on the AM dial, will provide live coverage of the regatta throughout the weekend from the vantage point of a helicopter above the starting line, from the deck of the IOR tender, Mandrake, and from an extensive relay system organized to include the U.S. Coast Guard station at Montauk Point.

The 192-foot Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company blimp, the America, will hover over the start of the race to add to the color and excitement of the festivities.

The Around Long Island Regatta was begun in 1977 to encourage boating and sailing in Long Island waters. Participating in the organization and management of the race are the Sea Cliff Yacht Club and the Sheepshead Bay Yacht Club of Brooklyn, New York.

If the wind is good throughout the duration of the race, the first boats should appear at the finish line in Hempstead Harbor between 4 PM and 7 PM Saturday. The bulk of the racers, however, will finish throughout Sunday, and the Newsday Cup winner will be determined on Sunday.

The $25 entry fee for each boat goes to the U.S. International Sailing Association to support U.S. yachting teams in such events as the recent Pan American Games - in which Americans did so well-and the 1980 Olympics.

Congratulations to Fran and Graham McNamee. The McNamees celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary on July 25. They also are the owners and operators of McNamee Printing Co., Inc. located at 30 Engineers Drive, HICKSVILLE. Best wishes, folks.

Olga and John Glinka's son, Ron, and his wife, Andrea, spent ten days up here in HICKSVILLE with the Glinkas. Ron was on leave from the Air Force in Shreveport, LA. He is a graduate of St. Ignatius R.C. School, Bishop Molloy H.S. and St. Louis University. Although his parents were delighted to see Ron and Andrea, they were thrilled to be able to enjoy their grandchildren's company. Mitchell is four years old and Amanda is two years old. They are adorable, precocious children and Olga and John said their visit with them was over much too quickly.

On July 13, 1979, Mr. and Mrs. James Esposito celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Their children held a party for them at the Manor East in Massapequa. The Espositos were so pleased with the celebration and festivities. They had a grand time at their party and so did all the guests. Congratulations to you both on this momentous occasion.

On Loretta Lane, HICKSVILLE, there was a birth.

A Message From Sup. Colby

When it comes to gaining our confidence, President Carter is going to have to learn that his actions are more important than his speeches.

A week - Sunday, President Carter delivered a message to the people of our country, which, if nothing else, muffled even his strongest critics.

In a two-party system constant criticism of the ins by the outs is expected but there is nothing wrong with criticism being withheld when it appears an individual has recognized the seriousness of the problems and needs some support from all sides to overcome an issue that is hurting us all.

Unfortunately, statesman-like speeches that are not followed by statesman-like actions tend to anger allies almost as much as it does those who had been persuaded into refraining from criticizing the President. People who placed the blame at his doorstep may have felt some cautious hope after hearing him address the nation.

I, for one, was hoping that my instincts were wrong and that President Carter was really going to bring some relief to the fuel anxieties of this area. I felt that maybe predictions of possible cold homes this winter were going to be overcome and the northeast was going to be treated fairly. That's what I wanted to hear for months now and that seemed to be in the President's speech somewhere.

Unfortunately, it wasn't in his actions.

The hope, that was built up on that Sunday, was destroyed by Carter's Energy Department on Monday. The day after the President's speech in which he sought to gain the confidence of the people, his Energy Department announced changes in gasoline allocation rules which result in the further short-changing of New York and the entire northeast. While the President's words were calling for fairness, his department's refusal to change unfair regulations must be considered more significant.

The allocation rules ignore our real energy needs while favoring Sun Belt states. The rules not only provide less gasoline than we need, but are expected to force us to pay more for less.

These are facts based on actions rather than hopes based on speeches. And, before it's suggested that this is an interpretation of a Republican against a Democrat President, be assured that this view of the new allocation rules enjoys bipartisan condemnation in this area. Governor Carey is reported to be considering court action to overturn the actions of Carter's Energy Department and make them conform to Carter's speech calling for fairness.

Displaced Homemakers Open House, Aug. 3

The Displaced Homemakers Multiservice Center is celebrating its Grand Opening in conjunction with the 10th anniversary of the Action Council of Central Nassau, Inc. to be held at the Karopczyc Building, Farmmedge Road in Levittown on August 3rd from 2 to 5 P.M.

Displaced Homemakers are mostly mature women whose careers have been caring for their families, but now, due to death or disability of spouse, or divorce, they are faced with the need to earn money and create new lives for themselves. They seldom receive medical, retirement, or unemployment benefits because they have not been paid for their services. They often are subjected to job discrimination due to their age, sex and lack of recent paid experience. They are lost between the cracks of social service programs. They are "displaced".

The goal of the Center is to help displaced homemakers make the transition from the homemaker role to that of the working woman by providing free services in job readiness counseling, training and education, referrals and job placement, in addition to guidance in health, legal and financial matters; all in a supportive group setting.

The Displaced Homemakers Multiservice Center, funded as a demonstration program by the New York State Dept. of Labor, is sponsored by the Action Council of Central Nassau, a local community action program. The Action Council, celebrating its 10th birthday, operates many other services including a Head Start Child Development program, a Senior Citizens Multiservice Center, two Youth Programs, a Parent's Center and a Neighborhood Service Center with information, referral and advocacy activities.

Assistant Industrial Commissioner, Louise Finney, of the New York State Dept. of Labor, as well as other prominent governmental, business and community leaders will attend the open house.

Duke Ellington Orchestra

On Wednesday evening, August 8th (no rain date) Old Westbury Gardens looks forward to the first appearance at the Gardens of the DUKE ELLINGTON ORCHESTRA under the leadership of the late Duke's son, Mercer.

After the death of his father, Mercer Ellington committed himself to maintaining the traditions established by Duke Ellington during his five decades as a bandleader. Mercer is a composer, arranger and trumpet player, and established the record company which bears his name—Mercer Records.

Gates open at 6 p.m. to enable visitors to stroll through the lovely gardens, blooming with hollyhocks, salvia, aster helenium and many other annuals and perennials in variety.

The music is on from 7 to 9 p.m. Bring your picnic supper and a blanket.

Admission, adults $2.50; Children 6-12, 50c. Members, $1.00.

Old Westbury Gardens, Long Island's flowering showcase, is located on Old Westbury Road, between Jericho Turnpike and the Long Island Expressway, and can be reached by way of all leading parkways.

Children of Trinity Lutheran Church's Vacation Bible School are pictured along Broadway in Hicksville just before they launch helium-filled balloons. Over three-hundred children, teachers, and parents participated on Thursday, July 19.

Sending the balloons aloft was an act of worship and a demonstration that the church reaches out into the community. Each ball on had a personal message of God's love attached to it which had been written by the children. Over 250 balloons filled the sky.

Another two-week session of Vacation Bible School will begin on Monday, July 30, at 9 a.m. Children 4-14 are invited to attend. Sessions are Monday-Friday from 9 a.m. until noon. Trinity is located at 40 West Nicholas Street in Hicksville.

Meals On Wheels

The Visiting Nurse Association is sponsoring the expansion of the Meals on Wheels program to the Hicksville-Plainview-Bethpage-Farmingdale-Plainedge-North Massapequa area. This service is designed to meet the need for nutritionally adequate meals for those who are unable to either prepare their own meals or to obtain help to do so. The program provides two meals a day (one hot, one cold), five days a week, delivered by volunteers.

The Meals on Wheels program is currently operating on the North Shore. To expand the program, the Visiting Nurse Association needs the following assistance:

1. Volunteers - Drivers are needed to pick up meals from conveniently located local hospitals for delivery to homebound Meals on Wheels recipients.

2. Names of persons who can benefit from the service (an assessment will be made by VNA nurses).

3. Donations - These help to offset the costs for those who cannot afford to pay. (Those who are financially able are asked to pay for the modest cost of the service.)

Those who wish to assist the Visiting Nurse Association, or recommend potential recipients, or have questions, should contact Mrs. Dorothy Criscione, Nursing Supervisor, at 420-5242 any weekday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:15 p.m.

College-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships are generally worth between $1,000 and $6,000 over the four years of college undergraduate study. The amount of the winner's scholarship stipend is not revealed as it is related to confidential family financial information.

The Merit Scholars were selected from among 14,000 finalists in this city's Merit Scholarship competition. The more than 4,200 awards being offered in 1979 have a total value of over $13 million and are supported by some 600 organizations and institutions.
