Results of Student Drug Survey Released

By Linda Strongin

A student survey of drug, alcohol/tobacco use indicates that 55% of the Hicksville senior high students surveyed use marijuana daily, regularly or occasionally. On the junior high level, 44% indicated the use of marijuana.

The survey was conducted in the ninth and eleventh grade health classes with a total of 905 responses. These represented 34.5% of total junior high enrollment (1774); and 13.7% of total senior high enrollment (2175). The students surveyed represented approximately 23% of all students in 7-12 grades.

The survey was prepared by Diana D'Avino, District Director of Health and Physical Education, under the direction of Dr. Daniel Salmon, Assistant Superintendent of Secondary Schools. It was released and discussed at a meeting last week of the Substance Abuse Committee.

Dr. Salmon indicated that the survey was a "representative cross section." He added that it was not meant to be a "comprehensive" survey.

Mrs. D'Avino stated that "statistically, Hicksville is the same as other communities."

In 1974, the Brookline study revealed that 50% of senior high students and 37% of junior high students used/had used marijuana.

Help-Aid-Direction, a Hicksville counseling service, conducted a survey in early 1979. It revealed that 60 to 65% of students surveyed used marijuana. Executive Director Al Peck, also a member of the Committee, stated that H.A.D.'s survey was "consistent with others, including one done by the New York State Division of Substance Abuse Services."

Dr. Salmon admitted that "occasionally" was difficult to define. Did it mean sip, once a week, or once a month?

The survey also revealed that 60-70% of the students indicated an occasional use of alcohol, 75% (460) from the junior high and 92% (275) from the senior high use alcohol daily, regularly or occasionally. There is a 16% increase in usage from junior to senior high with beer the most popular beverage. With marijuana, there is an 11% increase in usage.

Tobacco, tranquilizer, and amphetamine usage was also covered in the survey.

Superintendent Dr. Wilber Hawkins stated that the "results indicated we do have a problem in Hicksville. This is true in most communities today. We are not putting our heads in the sand. We want to work on correcting the problem. We will proceed to study the data and evolve a program with the help of the Committee on Substance Abuse." The Committee members include administrative staff, teachers, students, outside agencies, and parent representatives.

The Educational Goals and Objectives Sub-Committee on Drug and Alcohol Abuse, and misuse under the chairmanship of school board trustee Virginia Germer, will gather input from interested community members and share the information with the Substance Abuse Committee. The next meeting is scheduled for January 28, 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at the Senior High School.

Members of the Substance Abuse Committee questioned the validity of the survey. Dr. Salmon again emphasized that it "was not intended to analyze in detail, substance abuse in Hicksville. The purpose was to give us an indicator of where we are. It is a tool to measure Hicksville with other districts."

In speaking to students about the survey, several stated they felt that most of the students would answer the questions honestly. As one student stated, "As long as you don't have to sign your name, you'll probably tell the truth."

The cost of the printed survey was estimated at fifteen cents per copy. Fifty copies were printed.

HHS Alumni News

Hicksville Chamber of Commerce

The G-1 Zone Is Everybody's Business

Now that the calendar is showing us another new year, let us once again take up the subject of the controversial G-1 Zoning in the so-called Hicksville Triangle. It may serve a good purpose to re-think some of the points that we have made with regard to G-1 in past articles.

1. In G-1, a buildable plot is considered to be nothing less than 20,000 Sq. Ft. (Approx. 1/2 Acre). Anything smaller is virtually useless.

2. In G-1, only office buildings can be erected as a matter of right... no houses, no stores, no multiple housing... only office buildings.

3. In G-1, assuming you have a buildable plot, if you plan to erect an office building, 80% of the parking for that building has to be underground.

4. In G-1, if you own an existing house, you cannot, as a matter of right, alter that house, remodel, add bathrooms, etc.

5. In G-1, if you own an existing house and it is burned down, it cannot be rebuilt.

6. In G-1, if you own a building on a plot less than 20,000 Sq. Ft., and it is destroyed by fire, it cannot be rebuilt.

These are only a few of the many restrictions which are attributable to G-1, and which have caused the desecration of the area.

Although many residents of Hicksville might take the attitude that because they do not own property in the G-1 zone, they should not be concerned with renewal and rejuvenation of that area, nothing could be further from the truth. Anything that keeps an area from thriving causes a drain on that community's tax structure. G-1 is costing EVERYBODY money. Think about that in today's economy.

Dear Friends....

THIS WEEK there is good news and bad news, as you will note as you read THE HERALD. Under the good news we list the delightful fact that former Supt of Schools Dr. Hill is to be honored at the PTA Founders Day Dinner on Feb. 14th. More good news is the fact that the Hicksville Board of Education along with concerned parents, is FACING UP to the fact that drug and alcohol abuse is to be found in our schools...bad news is the high percentages of the recent surveys. However, we are sure, with the committees and other groups formed for the purpose of help in these areas, these percentages will be reduced and the young people involved will be helped to overcome what has become such a constant danger to their very existence.

In PLAINVIEW, the Board of Education provides good news when they address, so sensibly, the problem of their declining student enrollment, on a long-term (not piece-meal) basis. No one could have foreseen any declining enrollment, twenty-years or so ago, but the causes of this nation-wide decline continue to exist. Facing up to them has to be good news.

Finally, it is good news to read that the controversial Strand 111, has been rescinded. (story on page 5). We are sure that future study will come up with a more acceptable curriculum in this area. We feel, also, that even though disagreements are often a part of growth in any area, much is to be learned by constant community participation. This can only be done if citizens are concerned enough to participate, not only in isolated incidents, but continually and in all areas. Strong communities make a strong nation. It will be more good news, if you all stay "concerned".

Raising a child (or children) alone can be a lonely and difficult task, fraught with its own unique set of problems. To help the single parent cope with the situation, the Town of Oyster Bay Drug and Alcohol Control Agency (DACA) is forming a Single Parent in Project in the Jericho-Hicksville area.

The group is open to all single parents. Plans call for moderated open discussions and educational seminars in such areas as budgeting, legal matters, home maintenance, public assistance and other topics of relevance to the single parent.

Interested persons should contact DACA at 922-1010 for further information.

Assemblyman Lewis Yevoli of Old Bethpage tells us that the State Dept. of Transportation will provide reconditioning of some three miles of Bethpage State Parkway from Southern State Parkway north to the traffic circle in Bethpage State Park. He said that pavements will be resurfaced with asphalt and be widened up to four feet at interchanges. In addition, new safety guide railings and traffic signs will be installed.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and stay "concerned".

CPES Supports Senate's Plan To Cut Taxes

The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc. (CPES) said it supports the plan of State Senate Republicans to reduce state taxes by $474 million in tax relief in fiscal 1980-81, and $1.2 billion when in full effect in five years.

"While we have not had time to analyze all aspects of the plan in detail—we certainly support its total concept."

"We are delighted to see that the Legislature is responding to our call to help people being pushed into higher tax brackets by inflation. While CPES supports legislation to index the personal income tax to offset inflation-induced tax increases, we welcome the Senate plan to exclude the first $1,500 in income from taxation," said the statewide taxpayer research organization.

"We are also glad to see that the legislative package includes a provision to exclude pension income of elderly retirees from taxation," said CPES. (Note: Pension income of retired New York state and local government employees is constitutionally prohibited from being subject to the state income tax.)

CPES again reiterated its support of an accrual accounting system for the State of New York.

"It is high time that the endless debate over the size of the state's surplus be ended by a better accounting system," said CPES.

Christmas Gift Shop at Northport VA Hospital

The Gift Shop is held every year on the first Friday in December in a designated area at the hospital where the hospitalized veterans, those that are able to come down, select 2 or 3 gifts for their loved ones. These gifts are purchased by the Gift Shop Chairman and the Veteran Affairs & Rehabilitation Chairman of Nassau & Suffolk Counties.

The money for these gifts are donated by all the Auxiliary Units of Nassau & Suffolk Counties and the women are proud to be able to do so. The women volunteer their time and efforts from 8:00 A.M. until the close of the Gift Shop which usually is about 3:00 P.M. Those Veterans that are bedridden are not neglected. Carts laden with gifts are brought up to the Wards by our gracious volunteers and the men select gifts for their loved ones too.

This past December, 961 gifts were wrapped in Christmas paper and then brown wrapped for mailing. All this at no cost to our Veterans. Some of the Legionnaires also assisted the Auxiliary members by picking up the packages at the tables and gave them to the Post Office area where a Postal Machine, (that was loaned from the Pitney Bowes Co. and a United Postal worker from the Northport Post Office stamps the packages and at the close of the Gift Shop, brings them to the Post Office for mailing. This year we had the able assistance of a Legionnaire who served coffee to the Volunteers during the day.

To Honor Kranepool Of Jericho

Ed Kranepool, who lacks only two years of being one of the 20-year-men in major league baseball history, will be honored on Saturday (Jan. 26) on the stage of Island Trees High School, Levittown, for his long and meritorious service to one team. The occasion is the 20th annual Levittown-Island Trees Youth Council Sports Night.

Youth council officials and officers of the Williamsburgh Savings Bank have worked overtime to make the event, first held in Levittown in 1961, another memorable night for youngsters in the area. Nearly all of the free tickets have been distributed and it's expected that 1,000 will be on hand to match last year's audience when Yankee pitcher ace Ron Guidry was honored. Eddie Yost of Tampa Bay, Harold Baines of the Boston Red Sox, and Tom Donohue of Westbury, backup catcher for the California Angels, will be on stage with Kranepool to answer questions mailed in by young athletes in the area. Those who have mailed in cards will be eligible for nearly 50 prizes.

The program opens at 7 o'clock with the showing of the 1978 World Series highlights to be followed by the 1979 All-Star game. The program will run until 9 o'clock.

Kranepool, now a Jericho resident, holds five Mets records and they figure to last at least another 10 years. He has the most hits, home runs, extra base hits, most runs and has played the most games since joining the Mets as a teenager back in 1962.

Kranepool and Yost have much in common. They were teammates on the Mets a number of years. And while Donohue is a rookie, he is well acquainted with another ex-Met, Nolan Ryan, with whom he played last year. Ryan this year will be throwing his fast ball for the Houston Astros.

"Same Time-Next Year"

performed at 7 p.m., with dinner beginning at 5 p.m.

In addition to the two Saturday shows, performances of "Same Time, Next Year" are given on Sundays, and Wednesday through Friday. Dinner is served at 6 p.m., with an 8:30 p.m. curtain. The Wednesday matinee has luncheon at noon and a 2 p.m. curtain.

The Grumman Aerospace Corp. Is 50!

BETHPAGE, N.Y., JANUARY 1980-In retrospect, historians agree that 1930 was a bad year for the birth of a company. During October and November of '29, the stock market crash wiped out the dreams and schemes of the venturesome investing public. But as the Great Depression loomed on the horizon, a group of young men opened a new aircraft company on January 3, 1930, in a small rented garage in Baldwin, New York.

Most of these youthful entrepreneurs had been working at the Loening Aeronautical Engineering Company in New York City. But when the company was bought out by Keystone Aircraft, it was announced that there would be a move to Bristol, Connecticut. Loening's three top men—Roy Grumman, Jake Swirbul, and Bill Schwendler—opted not to go, and set up their own little company. They proved to be a terrific trio.

Roy Grumman, hired by Loening as a test pilot and plant manager in 1920, had an incisive mind, a gifted grasp of conceptual aeronautical engineering, an enormous sense of economy and a driving resolution to get things done.

In 1924 Loening had hired Schwendler and Swirbul. Schwendler was a quiet man whose search for solutions was based purely on technical considerations.

Completing the trio was a production management genius named Swirbul. By 1929, Jake knew the world of the shop—its crafts and its craftsmen. He identified with people. Jake found solutions on a personal level.

Loening thought a lot of his three top people, so much that he decided to invest in their new enterprise. His brother Albert, treasurer of Loening, also chipped in.

The new company was unofficially in motion. Grumman began to enlist other Loening associates. Ed Poor, the bookkeeper and assistant treasurer, was an ideal candidate. He shared Grumman's and Schwendler's cautious approach to business opportunities. Their motto: Let's do one thing at a time and do it well and let's keep everything under control.

About this time, a newcomer joined the company's ranks. A boyhood friend of Poors, Clint Towl, quit his job on Wall Street about the time of the Crash. He was looking around for another line of work when Poor asked him if he'd like to invest in a new company. Towl said he'd put in some money if there was a job that came with it.

"I went over and met Roy Grumman at the Loening plant and told him I was interested and he said they couldn't pay me very much, and I told him that wasn't important at the moment," said Clint. "So it was arranged that I'd have a small part of the new company...and just as important that I'd have a job, whatever it turned out to be."

On December 5, 1929, the six initial investors in the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Company signed an agreement. Grumman, Swirbul, Poor, Towl, and the two Loening brothers invested just over $80,000 in the venture.

Today we know they made a good investment, but they were taking a super gamble in 1930. While other enterprises were having their financial foundations turn into sand, a small band of men with dreams of building flying machines reported to work in a rundown, rented garage in Baldwin. They had little machinery, no customers, and no contracts.

"We were all young," said Bill Schwendler, who died in 1978, "and you know, you don't think about things as seriously as you do when you get older. We knew that we could get jobs, but we didn't want anything to do with Bristol."

The tens of thousands of men and women who have worked at Grumman are thankful they didn't.

To Auction Off Surplus Properties

Twenty-six parcels of surplus and tax lien properties, having a minimum value of more than $1 million, will be auctioned by Nassau County at a public sale on Feb. 6 at 10 a.m. in the Police Auditorium, Franklin Avenue and Fifteenth Street, Garden City.

Included in the sale are two improved properties in Hempstead and West Hempstead that were taken by the county treasurer because the owners defaulted in the payment of taxes. The West Hempstead property, a custom built six-room house with three bedrooms plus finished basement and two-car built-in garage, will have a minimum opening bid of $35,705.82. Bidding will open at $183,713 for the improved irregular plot on North Franklin Street in Hempstead which houses a two-story, building containing four stores and 24 office suites.

Other properties on the auction block include two parcels of the old Vanderbilt Motor Parkway in Levittown containing about six acres of land at a minimum price of $104,500; a 1.5-acre parcel in East Meadow for $113,000; a 2-acre parcel in Wantagh at $110,500, and the old Milburn Pumping Station on Sunrise Highway in Freeport with 4 1/2 acres of land for $528,000.

In addition, there will be 12 parcels of odd-shaped lots such as a small strip of land in Glen Head, about 8 feet wide by 90 feet long, for $95, and various irregular-sized properties in Hempstead, Valley Stream, Malverne, Inwood, Plainview and Bellmore with minimum prices varying from a low of $75 to a high of $1,750.

County Executive Francis T. Purcell has received approval from the State Legislature to allow time payment sales over a three year period to make purchases more attractive to buyers and investors in these difficult economic times.

"By selling such property, the county will not only derive revenue from the proceeds of the sale, but the property will be put back on the tax rolls," Purcell said.

A payment in lieu of tax will be added so that the county will begin to derive tax revenue from the properties shortly after the sale instead of waiting for next year's tax roll. The deed will be delivered only after the final installment is made. All bidders will be requested to pay 20 percent of the successful bid price at the time of the sale; on all cash sales, the balance will be due in 60 days at which time the deed will be delivered.

The General Services Department's Bureau of Real Estate and Insurance will conduct the sale. It has notified all interested parties, particularly the adjacent property owners, to attend the sale and take part in the bidding.

Auction catalogs describing the properties are available and may be picked up at the Bureau of Real Estate in the Old Courthouse, Franklin Avenue and Old Country Road, Mineola.

File Charges Against Home Imp. Firms

On Jan. 17 Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon announced the filing of charges against nine home improvement firms doing business in Nassau County without a permit. If convicted, each firm could be fined $500.00 if it is their first offense, and $500.00 and/or 60 days in jail for the second offense.

Dillon, said, "The violations were filed after the Nassau County Consumer Affairs Office received complaints about these companies. A check of their records showed that the nine firms in question were not licensed by the County, as required by a local law adopted by the Board of Supervisors in October of 1970."

The nine firms are the Alana Consturction Company of 493 Chestnut Street in Cedarhurst; Geno Contracting Corporation of Grant Avenue in Albertson; Alladin Maintenance Corporation of 24 Manhasset Avenue in Port Washington; Tennis Roofing of 26 Holly Avenue in Hempstead; Frank DiPasquale of 20 Lark Court in Old Bethpage; Fasco Construction of 57 Salem Avenue in West Babylon; Alvin Scarlett of 133-42 132nd Street in Jamaica; Abell Contractors of 79A Glen Cove Avenue in Greenvale; and Ferrara Contractors operating from 20 Jerusalem Avenue in Hicksville.

In a complaint, a resident of Glen Head says he contracted with Abell Contractors to fill in one gunite swimming pool. The total cost was $1,800.00, of which an $800.00 deposit was paid on February 3, 1979. The homeowner says work was started in March, but the only work done was the breaking of the coping surrounding the pool. The homeowner states, "Since the job was left incomplete I was forced to contract with another company to do the work at an extra cost of $3,500.00."

In one instance, a Rockville Centre homeowner says he contracted with Frank DiPasquale to renovate a bathroom for $4,000.00 A $700.00 deposit was given to the business on December 17, 1978, and to date the homeowner says no work has been done.

Finally, a Cedarhurst resident says he contracted with the Alana Consturction Company to install a fireplace. The total cost was $1,450.00 and a $500.00 deposit was paid on December 14, 1978. Work was to begin in January of 1979 and to date, no work has been commenced.

Dillon said his office would continue its crackdown on home improvement firms which failed to obtain permits before doing business in Nassau County. The District Attorney said his office has filed charges against 23 home improvement firms in the last three months.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

Two hearts beating as one. I am told, is the ultimate reaction. So why not come down to the Galileo Lodge on February 14th, the night that it will present its Valentine's Day dance. For the price of $8.50 you will be treated to a fine dinner and all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, etc. Not leaving out, of course, some fine dance music from a leading musical combo and the genuine hospitality of which the Galileo Lodge is so famous for. The inner decor of the Galileo Lodge, I am also told, will match all the sentiments and lovely feelings that St. Valentine's Day has to offer. Joe Giordano will 'chair' this activity and he will be ably assisted by a committee who will undoubtedly perform in their usual excellent manner. So why not come to the Galileo Lodge on that night and experience in person with your wife or sweetheart this wonderful feeling of two hearts beating as one. Dial 931-9351 and Joe Giordano will offer you more information concerning this dance.

Winter, as I have often said, brings on the 'blues' and 'blahs'. But at the Galileo Lodge you will find a different atmosphere and environment, and here's why: On Thursday, the 21st of February, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge will present its Card Party. Price of admission will be $3.00 per person, and to be featured on the bill of fare will be beer, soda, coffee and cake, and an open bar to choose your favorite drink at modest prices. Carmen Russo (931-1059) is the chairlady and Ann Lappano (935-6065) is the co-chairlady. Carmen Russo can also be reached at the Galileo Lodge's bingo sessions every Wednesday night, at 800 Levittown Parkway, Levittown, its home base.

And then how could we forget to mention the Galileo Lodge's March 14th presentation of the Off-Broadway play called 'LINE' Clive Barnes gave it an excellent review and its longevity on the Off-Broadway scene is common knowledge. This play stems from the pen of Israel Horowitz, an award-winning playwright. Briefly, the play concerns itself with five diverse characters who find themselves waiting on line for no apparent reason. It might actually be called a play that deals with human nature and its many complexities. This play, incidentally, also stars Anthony Sarrero, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sarrero of the Galileo Lodge. And like his parents, the Galileo Lodge is very proud of this achievement, and I am also told that Anthony Sarrero has quite a future in the theatre. Contact Skip Monteforte (938-6454), Joe Lappano (935-6065) and Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052) for seating arrangements and ticket sales.

As well as its own programs, the Galileo Lodge is an integral part of the Sons of Italy in America, and also participates in many community events and programs -- all this with vigor and enthusiasm. Both verbally and in warm correspondence, the Lodge receives praise for its many activities... and it is always good to know that one's efforts are appreciated.

What is the point of all this, you might ask? Well, for one thing the Galileo Lodge will start its 1980 membership drive, and who wouldn't want to join an organization that gives of itself freely and kindly, that cares and that displays tender and honest efforts are appreciated.

Hicksville School Board Rescinds Strand III Action

By Linda Strongin

The Hicksville Board of Education rescinded the action it took on June 27, 1979, in which they adopted a Strand III curriculum guide. Also, it directed that a "revision of the total K-12 health curriculum be a priority to be completed in the 1980-81 school year. In addition to the usual topics incorporated in the health instruction, it would include the Commissioner's Regulations on health and any concepts contained in Strand III considered acceptable and suitable to the students of Hicksville."

Not voting on either the amendment or the amended motion was Secretary Bill Bennett who continually asked to add an amendment to the amendment. President Dan Arena denied the request, stating he had "called the question." He also referred to Robert's Rules of Order.

The amendment, quoted in the first paragraph, was made by Trustee Pete Fujimoto and seconded by John Ayres. Voting no were Trustees Neil McCormack and Tom Nagle. The original motion to rescind was made by Mr. Bennett and seconded by Mr. McCormack. The amended motion vote was 6-0, with Mr. Bennett not voting.

Confusion reigned during the almost 5-hour long meeting Wednesday evening as to what was mandated and what wasn't; the difference between the Commissioner's Regulations and State Education Department Recommendations; and the definition of topics, subjects and concepts and who mandates which. Confusion regarding parliamentary procedure as described above was also part of the evening.

The standing-room only crowd of over 200 voiced its objections repeatedly to mention of Strand III. Many residents spoke to various issues and concerns regarding its possible implementation.

Before members of the audience spoke, Superintendent Dr. Wilber Hawkins attempted to explain what was meant by the Commissioner's Regulations.

"The Commissioner of Education has the most to say. He issues regulations in the form of mandates and the Board has to carry them out." The State Education Department, on the other hand, "has no clout with a local school board. It takes the regulations and develops curriculum. School boards have the option to accept or reject the curriculum suggested."

Dr. Hawkins referred to a fact-finding and analysis report on Strand III, containing the results of the parents, teachers, administration and support staff questionnaire. The survey was administered at the various school meetings conducted by Asst. Supt. Dr. Catherine Fenton and Director of Health and Physical Education Diana DiAvino.

These presentations were questioned by Mr. Bennett, who thought the parent meetings were to address specifically the health curriculum passed on June 27. However, the presentations gave information on the New York State curriculum. It is parallel in some areas but did not relate to the curriculum passed. Also, why present a K-12 curriculum?

Dr. Fenton explained that a broad view was taken since some parents expressed a need for sex education "in other grade levels. We wanted to get as much information as possible."

The survey revealed that 66 percent (392) of the totaled surveyed (594) did not want a human sexuality curriculum. 61.3 percent said no to personality development and 61.4 said no to family life being taught in the school.

Dr. Hawkins estimated, when questioned by resident Karen Garbus, that those completing the questionnaire represented approximately 8-10 percent of the elementary parent population. His estimate was questioned by Mr. Bennett and resident Arlene Rudin. Mrs. Rudin took exception to the format of the various school presentations. "As a parent, I was not given a chance to ask questions of those reading prepared statements."

In speaking against the amendment, Mr. Bennett stated repeatedly that "Strand III is not mandated. It is only a guide for school districts who want to follow it." He felt that the amendment expanded Strand III from K-3 to K-12. "The area has far reaching circumstances."

Dr. Hawkins recommended the original motion passed on June 27 be rescinded by the Board. He stated "There is sufficient concern by parents over adopting this curriculum." He also recommended participation on a grass-roots school grade level by parents in revising the total K-12 health curriculum.

Resident Phyllis Hundertmark stated there was "no support for a K-3 curriculum." She quoted back-up material to the survey and felt it was a "subtle way to sneak Strand III into other strands."

Sam Arce, senior high school student and editor of the Comet, referred to an editorial he wrote on sex education. He explained a survey taken on knowledge of sex education by his peers which was part of a sociology project. During his statement, a loud discussion between him and audience members transpired.

He tried to explain that "a lot of my peers are afraid to talk to parents about sex." He added that teaching sex education should not take the place of morals. He also questioned why the students weren't given a chance to participate in a survey, dealing with sex education.

Also speaking was senior high teacher Larry LaMarca. He stated that "the proponents' argument that we need a Strand III-type program in order to teach students to be sexually responsible is a euphemism that really means we should teach kids how to have sex without getting pregnant. It implies legitimacy to premarital sex."

Resident Mary Sullivan asked that the Board "leave out human sexuality, family life and personality development from the health curriculum."

After the final vote was taken on the amended motion, the residents who had remained vehemently echoed their disappointment of the Board's action.

The next Board meeting is Jan. 30 at Lee Avenue School.

At Lee Avenue

Through the efforts of Mrs. Grotto, PTA Ecology Chairlady, Lee Ave. students are enjoying one of the Gregory Museum's many offerings and services for the enrichment of our students.

Hicksville Rowdies - North Shore Tournament
Coaches Jim Reardon and Russ Tropea were very proud of their travelling team at the recent North Shore Indoor Tournament. The boys finished the preliminary rounds with a 3-1-1 record bringing them into the finals. The team lost a squeaker in the semi-finals in double overtime.

The scoring by forwards Willie Sneedan (4), Tony Conigliaro (1), and the hot foot of Dan Middleman (5), gave the team the impetus it needed to break the opponents' defense. Setting the play at forward were Jim Reardon and Greg Tropea whose tenacity kept the pressure on. On defense, Todd Roth and Steve Olive did their share by aggravating the opponent's offense. Fullback Greg Skupinsky, when not defending, found time to score 2 goals. In goal, the very quick Sean Smith seemed to be everywhere. A fine showing.

A special note for a speedy recovery to Kevin Hamil, who fractured his ankle in a recent practice.

Hicksville Senators (U-19)
An injury plagued team returned to the quarter finals at Farmingdale University. It was unfortunate that the first game was against Hicksville Colonials, the U.S. Vice Champs. The team displayed good skills, especially Scott Cahalan, and Don Cusack. However, the game was lost.

Next the Senators beat Huntington BC by a score of 1-0 on a magnificent shot by Joe Jorge. Again the team performed well with Marty Mize in goal.

Game number 3 saw the boys play Bayside; by now the injuries had taken their toll. In a hard fought game they had to bow to Bayside. It was refreshing to see the players shake hands at the end of the games.

ATTENTION, men age 18 thru 30. We must get our Senior team ready. Anybody interested in playing call Gerry Stueveling - 433-5723 for details.

"YOUNG AMERICANS"
The under 14 girls (born in 1966 or later) had their chance to play indoor soccer at S.U.N.Y. at Farmingdale last week-end and made excellent use of the opportunity. Having to meet at 7:30 a.m., coach Bernie Sierra gave firm instructions at Friday night's practice that lights out was 10 p.m. so the girls only saw the first half of 'American Music Awards'.

After registration at 8:00 a.m. and a few stretching exercises, the girls took the floor to play the Levittown Olympians. The Hicksville Young Americans completely dominated the match but couldn't find the net themselves until goalkeeper Dominique Missimo made one of many great saves on the day, rolled a pass out to Tanya Pfeiffer who drew two opponents to her and chipped the ball to Erin O'Leary. Erin fired it home for the games only tally and a 1-0 win for Hicksville. The second match was vs. the Brentwood Stingers who had dealt Hicksville a 3-0 loss last November in the final stages of the Fall Season. The girls battled Brentwood to a scoreless tie at the half and the same strong, defensive play continued into the second half. Late in the game, Suzanne Sierra sent a long pass up to left wing Sue Mitchell. The pass was just out of reach but, as two Brentwood defenders converged on the ball, Mitchell darted between them and shot the ball between a surprised Brentwood goalkeepers hands. Hicksville again 1-0 so a game star to Sue Mitchell, Suzanne Sierra & keeper Dominique Missimo for her 2nd shutout. The girls munched out before the third game and didn't play well, losing to Massapequa 2-0 but, after a team meeting and some strong instructions from coach Sierra, the girls came out for their fourth and final game roaring. In the huddle before the game, mascot Brian was hurled in the air (and caught) to the chant 'Let's go Hicksville'. The Young Americans played superb soccer and were so fired up, you just knew what the outcome would be. The defense was solid and resourceful - Debbie Kenefik, Theresa Caputo and Kelly O'Leary shut down every attack by the opponent and neatly placed the ball up to the forwards. Hicksville scored three unanswered goals; the first by Christine Sierra who took a neat cross ten feet out, brought the ball to her feet, feinted right and when the goalie lunged, pushed the ball in. The second was a classic right - left - right combination from one end of the field to the other. Fullback Theresa Caputo stopped an attack on the right side and sent a pass up to the left side taken by Chris Sierra who pushed it forward and back to the right side to an open Erin O'Leary who headed it home. The third goal was just as pretty; again Miss Caputo sent it up, this time all the way to the left side of the net. "Sluggo Mitchell" took the pass & fired it in the corner to where Chris Sierra tapped it home.

There were 24 teams of girls from all over Long Island participating in the under 14 age group and the Young Americans placed second in their division.

Dr. Frederick Hill To Be Honored At PTA Founders Day Dinner

Dr. Frederick W. Hill, former Superintendent of Hicksville Public Schools, has been chosen by PTA Council as the District Honored Guest for the 27th annual Founders Day Dinner to be held on February 14th.

Dr. Hill has had a distinguished career in school administration spanning five decades of service, but his accomplishments and interests are so extensive that he may truly be called "A Man For All Seasons". It is difficult to convey on paper his enthusiasm for life, for people and for his work, which has not diminished with the years.

Brooklyn born, he somehow began his teaching career in a small Kansas dustbowl school. "I was a young engineer during the depression without a job, so I thought I better study 'human engineering' and become a teacher. They sent me out to Kansas." He went on to become the youngest Superintendent of Schools in the state at age twenty four. While there he also met and married "my Kansas sweetheart".

Dr. Hill later served as the first full time professionally trained school business administrator in Pennsylvania, settling a pattern of service which came to be emulated in many districts in the state. He moved on to be Deputy Superintendent and Business Administrator in both Yonkers and Minneapolis and later headed up the school business and administrative services for the nation's largest school district, New York City.

Space does not permit listing all of Dr. Hill's accomplishments in the field of education; but he is Past International President of the Association of School Business Officials of the United States and Canada, he has written many professional articles and was consultant for the design of demonstration Secondary Schools in Israel. He is a regular columnist and contributing editor for American School and University magazine. He came to Hicksville Public School District as Assistant Superintendent for Administration in 1969. In 1975 he was appointed Superintendent of the Hicksville Schools.

As his career in education moved ahead, Dr. Hill remained a dedicated family man and worker in the Methodist Church and in the PTA. The Hills have five children of their own and over the years adopted five more from other countries. "We always enjoyed camping. We took our trailer to all the states including Hawaii and Alaska." They were both actively involved in PTA. He is an Honorary National Life Member of PTA and also holds Life Memberships in the Pennsylvania and Minnesota branches. He was an active board member in Minnesota and was PTA Vice-President in Minneapolis and Yonkers. The late Mrs. Hill founded the Kings Park, Long Island Chapter of PTA. For many years she was an active board member while raising her large family.

"Parents have a more important role in support of education now than they have ever had before", says Dr. Hill, and he plans to build his Founders Day address around that statement. At a time when negative thoughts abound in the field of education, it is heartening to hear the positives stressed. Fred Hill is indeed a man who personifies positive action and we look forward to adding this honor to the many he has earned along life's way.

For those interested in attending the dinner, it will be held on Thursday evening, February 14th at the Holiday Manor on Hicksville Road in Bethpage. Hors d'oeuvres will be served at 7 and dinner is at 8. Tickets are $11.00 per person, and may be purchased through the PTA unit at each school.

More about the holidays. Dot and Tom Gallahue spent an old fashioned Christmas with their family. They gathered around the fireplace, with glowing embers:

So, if you are of Italian extraction or married to an Italian, if you are loyal to the United States and what it stands for, you stand a good chance of becoming a member of the Galileo Lodge. Yes, the Galileo Lodge is ethnic in composition but it knows and recognizes no boundaries when it comes to lending a hand to those who are in dire need of it. Any person interested in the subject matter of the said hearing will be given an opportunity to be heard with reference thereto at the time and place above designated. TOWN BOARD OF TOWN OF OYSTER BAY. JOSEPH COLBY, Supervisor. ANN R. OCKER, Town Clerk. Dated: January 15, 1980 Oyster Bay, New York.

enjoyed a musical sing-a-long and concert with their children and grandchildren; exchanged many lovely presents, and devoured a delicious dinner. All of this occurred at Dottie (nee Gallahue) and Frank Donovan's home in Hicksville. Also present were Dennis and Carol Gallahue, son and daughter-in-law of Dot and Tom. Can't forget to mention the five grandchildren: Tommy, Michael, John, Brian, and Kiri. All our Hicksvillites.

A "Deep South" Christmas was enjoyed by Nellie and Harold McClure, HICKSVILLE residents. They visited their grandson in Delaware, their daughter and her family in Fairfax, VA, and friends in Falls Church, VA. They returned home 12/27 and to a Christmas party; on 12/28 they visited another son in Woodside; and on 12/29 they attended a wedding of friends. They rested up on 12/30 so they could enjoy their New Years Eve party on 12/31. What stamina.

Congratulations to the Owen family. Mary and Austin Owen, Duffy Avenue, HICKSVILLE, are beaming with pride and happiness on the birth of their second grandchild, Patrick Robert, who was born on December 10. Patrick joins his sister, Theresa (2 yrs.) and his parents, David and Peggy Owens. David and Peggy attended our local schools. Peggy is a former teacher and David is a guidance counselor in BOCES. They reside in Ridge, Suffolk County now.

The Hicksville Court Queen of Angels, C.D.A. are involved in another worthwhile project of interest to our community. They are sponsoring an art, poetry, poster and essay contest for the children and adults in our area. They have distributed information and applications to the schools in the area. If anyone is interested in participating in this contest, or in membership in this organization, call Margo Lipiec at 931-6613 after 6 p.m.

Oops, we did it again. We told you about Patty (nee Novellano) and Tom Longo's family and said Tricia Ann was 2 years old on January 3. Seems that Tricia Ann is still 1 1/2 years old - her big sister, Dawn Marie, was the birthday recipient on January 3 when she celebrated her third birthday. Well, we did get the correct information on the birth of their baby brother, Thomas Andrew Longo, who was born on December 27. In any event, we wish this lovely family much happiness.

And did you here that Pat and Andy Novellano's daughter, Kelli-Anne was two years old on January 15? And her brother, Andrew James, Jr., was four years old on January 5. The Novellano's used to live in Hicksville and now reside in Bethpage. However, their grandmother, Mary Novellano, is a long-time Hicksvillite.

Did you hear about the big bash held at Tom (TOB Councilman) and Corrine Clark's during the holidays. The Clark's had a family get together for brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews. There were over 40 people present; and Tom played Santa Claus for them all. Can you imagine poor Santa's back carrying a pack full of goodies for over 40 people?

One of our local HICKSVILLE, LITES, Bill Moyer, is proud as a peacock. He bowled 283 at a recent Newsday bowling team outing. Bill said he usually can't get past 150.

Once again Mark Silverberg and Anita Fava celebrated their joint birthdays on January 19th. They are both eleven years old, and have been celebrating together every year since they met in Kindergarten at Old Country Road School.

"Much Left To Be Done To Reform Welfare", Cong. Lent

Recent passage of the Welfare Reform Act, H.R. 4904, was the first meaningful House action on welfare reform in eight years. The new bill does tighten the administration of relief programs and incorporate increased incentives to work. It also contains provisions to help reduce New York's tremendous welfare burden and to discourage welfare recipients from moving from low-benefit states into those where benefits are higher. This may help reduce pressure on Long Island property taxes. Welfare costs now eat up about $20 million of Nassau County's property tax revenues.

However, I was disappointed that a more sweeping welfare reform program was narrowly defeated and that the House leadership, by tightly controlling the amendments which could be offered on the floor, kept the welfare reform package from being more inclusive and more significant than it is.

During floor debate on the bill, I supported an attempt to send it back to the Ways and Means Committee to incorporate a permanent cap on federal welfare costs and to allow the states to impose work requirements on those who can work as a condition for receiving public assistance. Obviously, welfare assistance should be provided for those truly in need and — for whatever reason — unable to support themselves. Unfortunately, the present system has encouraged many who are able to work to opt for life on the public dole instead. It has, in fact, created families in which several generations have been content to do nothing, but collect welfare.

That's why I worked for passage of an alternate proposal which would have set up demonstration programs of block grants to the states to develop innovative programs to help children and families with children to achieve welfare independence.

Many House members, Democrats as well as Republicans, agreed with me that this approach to welfare reform is most responsible; the proposal lost by only five votes, despite the two-thirds Democratic majority in the House. Having lost by the slimmest of margins, I felt that H.R. 4904 was the best we could do in the House at the present time and voted for it.

But the battle for more inclusive welfare reform is not over. The ideas of more stringent work requirements and block grants to the states have a powerful ally in the Senate in Finance Committee Chairman Russell Long. Hopefully, the Senate will make the much needed improvements which failed to gain full support in the House and that responsible welfare reform program will ultimately be approved by the Congress. If not, we will renew the fight in the next Congress.
