"Request" School Budget Reflects 8% Increase

Linda Strongin

The 1980-81 preliminary "request" budget reflects an 8% increase over this year's budget for a total of $31,362,748. Superintendent Dr. Wilber Hawkins defined the "request" budget as one containing all items requested and/or recommended from the various supervisory and administrative supervisory and administrative not be recommended. I have not had the time to go over each item in detail with the person requesting that item" he stated. Substantial increases are estimated for Other Community Services (91%); District Transportation (22%) and General Support (10%). The main ex-penditure for Other Community Services comes under Census. Director of Pupil Personnel Services Dr. David Weeks is requesting that the census be put on data processing at an estimated cost of $12,000. Under this year's budget, contractual expenses are $3,000, Dr. Hawkins defended this expenditure stating "it would be beneficial to the district to put the census on data processing. We currently have a horse and buggy operation."

District transportation is estimated to increase $227,819.
Included in this figure is $20,000 allocated for all student field allocated for all student field trips. Dr. Hawkins explained: "Currently a teacher collects proney from each student for a scheduled field trip. This is taxing a citizen twice. Also, the teacher has to write out her own check for the total collected in criter to ray the driver. By inorder to pay the driver. The General Support increase of 10% ($382,797) covers Board of Education; District Clerk; Superintendent's Office; Rusiness Administration. Business Administration; Legal Personnel and l'ublic Information Services among others. The most substantial increase under this code is shown under Operation and Maintenance. Budget meetings are scheduled for March 5, and 19 as well as after regular board meetings on March 12, and 26th. At that time, Dr. Hawkins plans to go into detail with back-up materials. The public is urged to attend.

Much time was devoted to discussing various proposed board policies. The policy governing Board-Staff Communication is new to the district; munication is new to the district, according to Secretary Bill Bennett. It concerns "officials visits" by Board members to the schools. The wording of this policy was questioned by various Board members as well as the rights of a Board member; and distinguishing between being a Board member and a citizen not functioning as a Board member. The policy is being revised for more discussion before being

The discussion on the proposed olicy covering the Selection of extbooks, Books, Periodicals, etc., brought out the fact that approving textbooks etc. has been an approved practice since 1966 but the policy has not always been followed.

Dr. Hawkins contended that it was "difficult to pass a policy that cannot be administered" According to the wording the Board would have to look at all textbooks, pamphlets, a-v materials and periodicals before approving their use.

Mr. Ayres also received an answer to his inquiry of the last Board meeting regarding fuel oil expenses fore the year. Dr. Hawkins stated that, "going on the assumption that the average fuel oil prices will not exceed fuel oil prices will not exceed $1.00 per gallon and on the assumption that the degree days will not exceed 5116, we will be short $43,000." A Tax On Social Security Benefits?

By Cong. Norman Lent

I am receiving an increasing amount of mail from concerned Senior Citizens in my Fourth Congressional District protesting a most ill-advised proposal to begin taxing Social Security benefits.

Deneits.

This idea strikes me as the most unfair tax proposal yet advanced in this country and I can assure you that I will OP-POSE THIS DISTURBING RECOMMENDATION as

RECOMMENDATION as strongly as possible.

The idea of taxing Social Security benefit payments has come out of nowhere. The proposal has been given, a great deal of attention by the news media because it was advanced by a "blue-ribbon" panel, the Social Security Advisory Council, which meets every four years to suggest improvements to the suggest improvements to the Last month, in addressing the financial problems the system has encountered recently, the Advisory Council offered the reassuring conclusion that fears that Social Security benefits will be the system of the syst not be paid are unfounded. However, the Council submitted to the Congress a number of recommendations to strengthen the program. Most of these proposals have been advanced by other sources in one form or another in the past. But the Council's recommendations also included the radically new - and most disturbing - idea for a federal income tax on half the Social Security benefits a person

This idea is both useless and unfair. As proposed by the Advisory Council, the tax would Advisory Council, the tax would accomplish little - if anything - in relieving the financial strain on the Social Security system, which currently pays out more than $147 billion every year in benefits. And that total grows each year as inflation forces cost-of-living increases in the benefits. of-living increases in the benefits of-living increases in the text on Yet, the proponents of the tax on benefits admit it would bring in the proponents of no more than $2 revenues of no more than $2 billion annually, a tiny, tiny fraction of the yearly outlay for the benefits.

Furthermore, the proposed tax would scrap a basic principle of the Social Security system for this infinitesimal gain. When Congress inaugurated the Social Security program nearly half a century ago, it set down the principle that the benefits in the program would be free of federal taxes. That was because the benefits are based on con-tributions from income that has already been taxed. Therefore, it should not be taxed again. That principle has been an invioble part of the Social Security system. Now, the Advisory Council proposes to institute a system of double taxation totally contrary to the original intent of the program. As far as I am concerned, the federal income tax code is already replete with unfair taxing devices. To saddle uniar taxing designers. To saddle Social Security recipients with this new burden is not only unfair, but would certainly lead to widespread distrust, dissatisfaction and profess against the entire Social Security system.

I want to see Social Security regain its original form as an insurance system that every wage earner can depend on to help his retirement years. There is no doubt the program needs strengthening. Some of its collateral benefits, such as Medicare and disability, may have to be partially financed out of general revenues rather than through the payroll tax. But Social Security recipients should Social Security recipients should not be burdened with a system of double taxation which would work only to destroy — not build public trust

I hope the Congress will reject this ill-conceived plan. You have my pledge that I will devote my fullest efforts to see that it is rejected.

County Warns Albany On Property Tax Shift

The legislature has breathing room in developing a response to the Hellerstein court decision, but is rapidly running off of time on the 860 Executive Towers de-cision, Deputy Nassau County Executive Henry W. Dwyer said

Dwyer, speaking for County Executive Francis T. Purcell, testified today before the Assembly Task Force on Real Property Tax Relief and Reform
at a hearing in Mineola.

"We cannot paint the picture bleakly enough," Dwyer told the legislators. "We cannot stress iegislators. "We cannot stress strongly enough that the homeowners' protection must come from the legislature — and that there is not a moment to lose."

The Hellerstein decision, affirmed by the Court of Appeals in June of 1975, ordered property in the Town of Islip to be assessed at its full market value. A subsequent court decision based on quent court decision based on Hellerstein ordered Nassau County to revalue on the same basis. The 860 Executive Towers basis. The 860 Executive Towers decision, handed down in May of 1975, ordered reductions in commercial property assessments.

The revaluation order has received greater attention in the media and caused greater alarm among homeowners, Dwyer said, but the 860 decision poses a more severe and immediate threat.

"This decision amounts to de facto revaluation before even one single piece of property has been inspected, and has set into motion a massive shift in the property tax burden from commercial property owners to home-owners," Dwyer said. "Some homeowners may be forced out of their homes unless the legislature takes prompt, vigorous and decisive action to protect them." As a result of court-ordered commercial assessment reductions. Dwyer noted, the county paid out more than $15 million in tax refunds in 1978, and more than $20 million in 1979. Last month, the Nassau Board of Supervisors approved a set-tlement under which the county will pay $11.4 million in refunds to will pay $11.4 million in refunds to Grumman Corp. and two West-bury department stores. Dwyer said that there are now more than $3,000 writs of certio-rari pending against the county, with requested commercial assessment reductions totaling more than $300 million.

"If the county loses all these cases, and if nothing is done in the interim by the legislature, we will have lost literally one third of will have lost literally one third of the county's commercial assessment roll," Dwyer said. "Homeowners will be forced to pick up the difference, and the impact will be devastating." Dwyer urged the legislators to give careful consideration to the program developed by Abs Seldin, chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors.

SOMEONE HELP. I feel that do, should not have to exe what I and the majority ents in attend of residents in attendance felt upon leaving our Board of Education meeting.

I returned home feeling defeated, helpless, and totally disgusted with the whole system and the five members of the school Board who again did exactly as they wished. I had to explain to my family who were waiting to hear, that Democracy does not work.

waiting to near, that Democracy does not work. On January 24, 1980 at the Board of Education Special meeting on Strand III the Board meeting on Strand III the Board again repeated what was a disgrace to the Hicksville Community. As they did on June 27, 1979 they voted with disregard to the overwhelming opposition to Strand III being implemented into any Hicksville program.

I went to this meeting with a very good and strong feeling our very good and strong feeling our Board would most certainly do the right thing (vote with the majority). They just had to, after all they had taken the time to ask for a Fact Finding Analysis. This was to assist the Board in its im-plementation of Strad III. Mental Health Curriculum. Why did the Board waste our time and money? This survey

Why did the Board waste our time and money? This survey showed them that out of the 600 parents voting only 180 wanted any type of Strand III program. The other 400 parents were totally against all three Strands, Family Life, Sex Education and Personality Development.

So what, said the Board. We will give if to them anyway Give will give it to them anyway. Give it another name, toss it around a little, re-evaluate our existing Health program and squeeze in the Strand III. They are quick to say that it is mandated, they have no other choice. This is a lie, Mr. Bennett read the law and it does not state that these Strands are mandated. There are other school districts that voted Strand III down and we want to be one of Something is wrong when after the time and effort spent by so many people, not ONE out of the five Board members felt they should listen to the majority and vote with and for them. So again I vote with and for them. So again I say HELP-God please help us.

Letters both in Newsday and the Herald make reference to the rude behavior of the majority at the Board meetings. They FAIL to explain, however, that we tried to be very patient. Speakers on our behalf did present well prepared arguments. We did at both meetings give the opposition and Board members a chance to speak their views. It is, however. speak their views. It is, however very human to become angry and frustrated when you realize that you are part of a majority that no one is listening to Mrs. Mary Scafura

As a twenty yer old male, the idea of the draft being reinstated instills an uneasiness within myself, and I'm sure, within many. It would be a shame if three years of college, marriage plans, and career ambitions were baid to rest

When President Carter delivered his State of the Union message, I, like others noticed his decidedly different attitude. My question is, "Where was this attitude in October, when the Russians had shops in Cuba?" President

With this being an election year, Carler is trying to unite the country. His first year in office, he granted unconditional am nesty to draft evaders in an attempt to bring our nation to gether and to ease the pain of Vietnam. It didn't do either. Carter should have tried Carter should have tried uniting the country by fighting inflation and settling other domestic squabbles, rather than unite us in fear. His harsh words in reference to the Russians are a tactic designed to take our minds off our troubles at home. How can lose the upcoming election? In the rose that be profitting electron:

In the tunwise to change horses in mid-stream? I think the public, especially we of draft age, are victims of a political ploy. Oh sure, there definitely is a crisis in the Persian Gulf area, but it was totally avoidable.

I can't help but feel like a pawn in the hands of these political pen pushers who have lost contact with real people and carry on as if they are the most important humans alive. Our men in Washington should wake up to the fact that people are more vital than statistics and budgets. They are no more important than you or I, and remember, without us, they are nothing

D-4804 1T2/14 MID Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

Once again I bring glad tidings from the environs of the Galileo Lodge, which is that Off-Broadway comes to Long Island. On March 14th the Galileo Lodge will offer Israel Horovitz' one act play for the delight of its memplay for the delight of its mem-bers and patrons. It is an award-winning play which features five central characters, and it is an in-depth study of human nature and its complexities. This play, in-cidentally, features the talents of Anthony Sarrero, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sarrero of the Galileo Lodge. Price of admission is $5.00 per person. As I have already mentioned in previous columns, the drama critic of the New York Times, Clive Barnes, gave it an excellent review. The site of the presen-tation will be the Galileo Lodge quarters, 200 Levittown Park quarters, 200 Levittown Park-way, Hicksville, If you are in-terested in Off-Broadway productions, why not contact Skip Monteforte (938-6445), Joe Lappano (935-6985) and Armand Del Cioppo (938-6922) for ad-ditional information concerning tights. ticket sales and seating arrangements.

Although February usually leaves its path of desolation and discomfort, relaxation and entertainment. I am referring, of course, to the two affairs that it will hold in February, anally, the Ladies Auxiliary Card Party and the Valentine's Day Dance. The Card Party will be held on the 22nd of February, at the Lodge quarters, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. It will feature beer, sods, cake and coffee and an open bar where you coffee and an open bar where you can purchase drinks at very reasonable prices, and please don't forget the fine hospitality offered by the Ladies Auxiliary. Price of admission will be $3.00 per person, and you can contact Carmen Russo (931-1059), the chairlady, and Ann Lappano (935-6065), the co-chairlady, for additional information concerning this card party. Carmen Russo can also be reached at the Galileo Lodge Bingo sessions held every Wednesday night.

Valentine's Day will soon be upon us, the origin of which is upon us, the origin of which is quite vagine. It is often said that the Valentine feast was celebrated on February 14th, instituted probably by a priest' who ministered to Christian martyrs during the days of the Roman Empire. But the history Roman Empire. But the history of this day is really of an in-consequential nature as the Gailleo Lodge announces that on February 16th it will hold its Valentine's Day Dance. For the nominal fee of $8.50 you will be offered a tasty dinner with all the trimmings, beer, coffee and cake, soda, set-ups, live music and the 'hearts and lovers' decor of the Lodge itself. A 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect, although, liquor may be purchased at the bar. Joe Giordano will coordinate all the activities for this affair and he will be assisted by a committee. will be assisted by a committee.

Joe Giordano can be reached by dialing 931-9351, at which time you will receive additional information concerning this affair. formation concerning this attair. So, for a beautiful expression of love, or for a lovers reunion, why not attend this dance. You can't beat the price and you couldn't possibly beat the night of February 18th at the Galileo

The Gailleo Lodge is in dire need of help from its members, especially for its bingo and Los Vegas activities. These are vital activities to the Gailleo, financially, social and otherwise; so all members are asked to donate some of their time and efforts in some of their time and efforts in order that these two important activities can be run in a successful manner. Remember, it is your Lodge and you are a vital part of it, in fact, you are the Galileo Lodge.

With spring approaching please check this column for some new and entertaining ideas for this new time of the year when everything will soon start to come alive again. If winter has placed you in a dormant state, look for the Gallleo Lodge to help en you to Spring enjoyment and pleasure.

Census Takers Jobs Available

Census takers are needed in this area, according to Nina Taft Regional Census Manager. The Census Bureau welcomes applications from persons who will be able to work 40 hours a week, including many evenings and Saturdays, calling upon householders who have not returned their census forms. The work will begin soon. Before being hired, applicants will be tested for their ability to un-derstand printed instructions and do simple arithmetic.

manager says takers must be physically fit to be on their feet for long periods and to climb stairs; must have good eyesight for reading small print and good hearing for normal conversation. Most should have a home telephone and many will need a car for their work, but mileage will be paid.

Census takers will receive a fee for their training and will be paid a piece rate for the number of household listings completed. Earnings can average $4 an hour nore. Most jobs will last three to five weeks.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer.

"We're counting on you," the manager said, "to apply for work as a census taker."

Applicants should come to the following place ready to take the written test: Bureau of The Census District

THE DISCIPLINE

OF SUFFERING
Any father worthy of the name will show his love for his children by disciplining them. An intelligent father recognizes that he gets his kids in a rough, unfinished state that takes years to these and colict. shape and polish. In my par-ticular home such loving care is provided through a firm voice, a and polish. In my parprovided through a firm voice, a spanking, or an occasional midday trip to a bedroom. Although my children can't understand it right now, this polishing, this care, is not an inherent mean streak that periodically surfaces in their father, but rather a demon-strative statement of my love for them.

In our quest of freedom and spontaneity many of us have grown up in a generation that has underrated the place of discipline. Much of the educational system has defied desire, abhorred inhibitions and stated that impulses must have free rein. It forgol some very elemental facts of life. Let me mention just a few. No simple mention just a few. No simple deed is performed such as preparing a meal, reading a book, or going to church without the discipline of ignoring thousand allurements. Attention shuts out literally hundreds of distracting sights and sounds, forbids hundreds of inward promptings that would divert us from the task at hand. No significant act is done without discipline. Sporadic church at-tendance shows lack of discipline in many cases. To see the totally uninhibited life, where people obey their impulses without hindrance, look at the patients in an institution for the feebleminded. This is the uninhibited life, par excellence. This trend in excellence. This trend in educational philosophy simply forgot that we are by nature sinful and need discipline to develop to our full potential.

God, who is even smarter than John Dewey, the father of progressive education, has progressive education, has always known we needed discipline. Because of this, He uses suffering to a good purpose in our lives. St. Paul quotes from Proverbs in our text, and says, "The Lord disciplines him whom he loves," St. Paul knew personally what this meant. In Paul's second letter to the Paul's second letter to the Corinthians he spoke of a par-ticularly troubling malady that he asked God on several occasions to remove from him. Each time God answered that he could use Paul better with his weakness than with it removed. Finally, Paul accepted his malady, seeing that he drew him closer to the Lord. Sometimes when we are carrying a particularly heavy burden, the Scripture, "The Lord disciplines him whom He loves," is most difficult to accept. We are is most difficult to accept. We are tempted to cry out, "Lord, please stop loving me so much." I'm sure my kids often feel that way in the middle of a spanking...Dad, don't love me so much. When we feel the burden getting too heavy, the Bible suggests that we look to Jesus, to His cross, and consider His suffering. Then look beyond the bloodstained wood to the tomb filled with emptiness, and tomb, filled with emptiness, and even beyond to the resulting joy of a mission accomplished as He now sits in the Father's house.

now sits in the Father's house.
Finally, God's Word for us today says, "So take a new grip with your tired hands, stand firm on your shaky legs." "Stand tall," we are encouraged, "walk with the Lord, trusting Him with our lives, believing we are in good hands, and that the Heavenly Father is using everything, even suffering, for our good."

Holy Trinity Prepares For Lent

In keeping with the Christian Church's ancient preparation for the Easter Baptisms, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Hicksville, is preparing to keep the season of Lent, Members of the community are invited to join in its Bible Studies and Prayer Groups as well as the other Lenten devotional services

It has been customary to begin Lent with a sign of Christian surrender since Lent focuses on the death and resurrection of Christ. The imposition of ashes on Ash Wednesday is a sign of that surrender to a death unto sin leading toward that birth sness and the celebration
