Vamps Battle House Fire

Hicksville firefighters battled a house fire on Sat., May 31, at 153 W. Marie St., Hicksville.

Four members were slightly injured. All were treated at the scene and returned to duty.

The firefighters were forced to work around a fallen power line in the street. Ex-Capt. Henry Hawkins of Hose Co. # 4, experienced in the electrical field, removed the power line from the street and 1 hour later, LILCO responded and disconnected the wire. The fire caused an estimated $38,000.00 damage.

The fire started while the occupants were away and gained considerable headway before neighbors noticed it. The first floor sustained heavy damage.

The remainder of the structure and contents suffered moderate damage. The Jericho Fire Dept. assisted at the scene with a rescue truck. Quick action by Vamps kept the fire contained to the one home. The cause of the blaze is under investigation by the County Fire Marshal. Time of the alarm was 11:19 a.m.

Earlier on May 31, a fully involved car fire in a driveway between two homes was brought under control before it spread to the dwellings. The alarm came in at 6:57 a.m. at 78 Notre Dame Ave.

Hicksville Vamps provided an engine and an ambulance to assist Bethpage Vamps at a building fire on May 25. Firemen from six departments responded to the afternoon alarm off Broadway in Bethpage.

Hicksville Fire Report

During the period May 10 through May 31, Hicksville Vamps responded to 84 alarms. There were 36 fires, 42 rescue calls, and six malicious false alarms. Several suspects were apprehended regarding the false alarms.

The Hicksville Fire Dept. has received a new 1980 Chief's Station Wagon, and is awaiting delivery of a new 1500 G.P.M. Pumper to be assigned Engine Co. 7.

Willet Ave. Students Visit Firemen's Training Center

As a culmination of both the Hicksville Fire Department's extensive fire safety program, and Willet Avenue's newly developed Career Awareness series, fifth and sixth grade students recently examined the Firemen's Training Center in Bethpage. In addition to their teachers Mrs. Sones, Mr. Monfredo, and Mr. Leuci the students were accompanied by program coordinators Barry Boris and Rosemary Barrow, and Assistant Superintendent Catherine Fenton.

It was an exciting morning. Just as students boarded buses for the trip, the Hicksville Fire Department truck, which had planned to escort them, received a call and had to respond to a fire. It later joined the group at the Training Center.

Students were met by Chief Ed Di Monda who conducted a tour of the facility. They saw specially constructed buildings simulating homes, stores and other potential fire sites, including a six story edifice used to train the men in firefighting and rescue techniques in tall buildings. There were also trucks, buses, and automobiles available for practice in combatting fires of different types. Real fires and intense smoke situations are created and then controlled as part of the training program.

The most stimulating part came after the regular tour, when a roaring blaze was started in one of the buildings, and the group was able to see firemen in action. From the Hicksville Department Bob Williams, Nick Di Palo, Pete Purrell, and Joe DiFranzo were on hand to supplement the instructional program and assist in answering questions.

Teacher Recognition Day

Former students and friends of Sr. Janet Magee, Sr. Catherine Healy, and Mr. Messina will have the opportunity to say "goodbye" to them on Wed., June 11.

This is their last year at St. Ignatius.

Teacher Recognition Night will be held at 8 p.m. in the new school cafeteria. A program is scheduled to thank all the faculty for their service to the school and extend best wishes to those who are leaving.

Car Wash

The Hicksville Youth Council is having a car wash on June 14, at the VFW Hall, 320 South Broadway, between the hours of 10 AM and 5 PM.

All moneys raised at this car wash will be put toward programming.

HHS Senior Ball

Members of the senior class of Hicksville High School will elect a Queen of the Ball at its annual prom to be held at the Colonie Hill in Hauppauge on June 6.

The identity of the Queen will remain unknown until the vote is held at the prom.

The ball will be held in the Colonie Hill's Empire Rooms I & II. It will start at 8 pm and last till 1 am.

Some 600 members of the senior class are expected to attend.

At a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Hicksville, held at Milleridge Inn, Al Peck spoke to the members. Al is the Executive Director of H.A.D. [Help, Aid & Direction]. In the picture he is on the left. He is receiving a Certificate of Appreciation from Alfred B. Hsley Jr., Vice President of Kiwanis, for his very informative talk on the work and the progress of H.A.D. [Top photo]

On May 28th the Kiwanis Club was addressed by Douglass Roesch, a Director of The Leukemia Society of America Inc. He gave a very interesting talk about the work of the Society. Museum Report

By Dick Evers

Editor's Note: The writer will be commenting regularly on efforts to keep the Hicksville Gregory Museum at the Heitz Place Courthouse.

It is now six weeks since the Hicksville Gregory Museum Trustees presented a 4100 signature petition to the Town Board of Oyster Bay, urging them to take over and administer the museum lest it be forced to close for financial insufficiencies, and its splendid nature exhibits lost to Long Island.

Two courses of town operation of the museum were strongly suggested: that the museum be operated with Hicksville tax-money as part of the Hicksville Park District or that some sort of Town-wide financial support and management be provided through an appropriate town agency.

To date, Town Supervisor Colby's office has communicated twice with the Museum leaders. On April 25th, an aide advised the Museum President that "the Town has no funds available at this time for this worthy project." On May 19th, the Town Commissioner of Intergovernmental Affairs, Patricia McGuire, informed the Museum that at Mr. Colby's request, her staff was investigating the possibility of obtaining some Federal funds for the support of the museum, on a matching basis.

The Museum Trustees are certainly appreciative of the Town's efforts to qualify the museum for Federal funds - however conditional and somewhat intangible they may be. Commissioner McGuire is a lady of no minor talents at tapping Federal funds for Town use.

Nevertheless, one cannot help wonder why the Town Fathers are reluctant to reply directly to the proposal of 4100 Hicksville petitioners who expressed a willingness to operate the Gregory Museum in Hicksville with an annual Park District tax levy. It is as if the idea of really activating the Hicksville Park District is a bugaboo for our own town leaders. One cannot understand the Town Board's reluctance to discuss the proposal to place the Museum and its headquarters, the Heitz Place Courthouse-Jail, a national historic landmark in the Hicksville Park District.

What is needed now, as the Museum prepares to close its doors to the public, on June 30, are clearcut answers to questions the Museum leadership and its 4100 Hicksville supporters need answering.

1) Does the Town have the authority to operate the museum and the Heitz Place Courthouse as a part of the Hicksville Park District with an initial tax levy upon the Hicksville community of about $3.00 per residence, without conducting a strict referendum?

2) If the Town has the authority to operate the museum in the aforementioned manner, will the Town undertake to do so in this next annual Town Budget? If not, why not?

3) If a public referendum is required for Park District operation of the Museum, will the Town undertake to arrange such a polling of the Hicksville voters? It is our understanding that the Museum and its supporters are ready to try raise the cost of such a referendum, if the Town cannot absorb the cost.

Answers to these questions, soon, will enable the Museum leaders to undertake or forego other possible solutions in their quest of keeping the Hicksville Gregory Museum, the Long Island Earth Science Center, in the community of its origin. Time is of the essence.

Elementary school members of the Ben Franklin Stamp Club, sponsored by the U.S. Postal Service, were at the Hicksville Gregory Museum for an Awards Ceremony recently.

Honorable Mention Certificates for runners-up in the Postal Services National Letter Writing Week Contest were given to (left to right) Mathew Shaefer of the East St. School, Hicksville; Bobbie Cappiello of Pasadena School, Plainview; and Michael Bahrenburg of Dutch Lane School, Hicksville. Amy Cargino of Trinity Lutheran School was not present.

Thomas Gaynor (back, left) Stamp Club Representative of the Hicksville Post Office, and Richard Evers Museum Director, handled the presentation arrangements.

Fall Sports Physicals

Fall sports physicals for students in the Hicksville Public Schools are currently being conducted after school at both the Junior and Senior High Schools. All students who will participate in interscholastic sports this autumn will be examined.

Students who will enter seventh grade and/or will return from non-public secondary schools will be given their physicals next week, after school at the Junior High School. These students should see their school nurse for pre-physical examinations.

Any questions concerning the interscholastic sports physicals should be addressed to Mr. Richard Hogan, at 733-2033.

Physicals for students in non-public schools will be conducted this summer.

Hicksville Republican Club News

By Harriet A. Maher

Hi Neighbors. We're back with more news and messages from the members of the Ernest F. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville, Inc. We'll lead off with a message from our Executive Leader, Hicksville West, Tom Gallahue.

Tom says: "Let us have an overwhelming Republican vote this November. Return Congressman Norman Lent; Assemblyman Joseph Reilly, 14th A.D.; Fred Parola, 12th A.D.; and elect newly designated candidates to the N.Y.S. Assembly, Adrienne Flipse, 15th A.D.; and Doug Hynes, 10th A.D.; and, of course, we must reelect N.Y.S. Senator Ralph J. Marino.

"It is incumbent upon us to remove the Liberal Democrats from government office before they completely drag our country down with their indecisive policies--right from the top government post on down. I was shocked to read that U.S. Senator Javits stated that he favored a 50 cents a gallon increase on gasoline to conserve energy. In November, let's NOT forget that our present administration in Washington sponsored or permitted the following: 1. A proposal to tax the Social Security benefits--a most cruel proposal; 2. the fact that the Soviet Brigade is still in Cuba; 3. the ominous Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. We told them to 'get out'; they moved in more tanks and troops; we figuratively 'just wrung our hands'; 4. the overt Marxist infiltration into almost every Central American country and into the Caribbean; 5. and that lack of understanding of human nature by this Administration has reduced this once great nation to a second place power--and with a concomitant of the Carter Administration's weak or non-existent response to challenges. It's time for a change...vote Republican.

D'AMATO CANDIDATE FOR UNITED STATES SENATE: Speaking to an overflowing crowd at the Ernest F. Francke Republican Club of Hicksville, Inc., is Alphonse D'Amato, the presiding supervisor of the Town of Hempstead. D'Amato stressed the need for good government to pull the country out of its economic slump and to provide strong, positive foreign policies.

It's small wonder that Tom is an Executive Leader. He is dynamic, forthright and cognizant of the political scene.

Hal Mayer, third vice president of our Club asked us to "thank all the people who supported successful cocktail party and dance by their attendance, the purchase of prizes and by taking ads in our journal." Hal is particularly grateful to the following people who worked so hard as members of the dance committee: Gene Blennau, Nick Caruso, Dolores Cianciaruso, Helen Henderson, Frank Klarmann, Bill Maher, Martha Masseria, Lillian Miller, Gus Russo, Dave Sinyth, Sis Wesnofske and Val Zito.

Club Chatter

At our May Club meeting, Betty Jopp was surrogate Roving Reporter for us and gleaned quite a bit of social news from our members. Marie Siemers just returned from a fantastic vacation in Florida. She was there six weeks and visited her grandson and great grandson. Learned that Kathy and Ron DeMatteis celebrated their third wedding with a weekend at the Concord... The Moyers, Maryann and Bill, were married seven years on May 14. And then Maryann had her birthday on May 26 and Bill, not to be outdone, celebrated his birthday on May 28... Ann Jablonsky's cousin, Henrietta Konapacki, has been visiting Ann and her husband, Joe. Henrietta is from Whittier, California and is enjoying her stay with the Jablonskys immensely... Janet and Frank Gioia's son, Anthony, made his Holy Communion on Saturday, May 17, at Holy Family Church. The Gioias held a special party for Anthony in honor of the occasion... Karen Donovan attended a dinner for foreign students on May 7 in the Port Washington School District. Karen ran the "music program" where fifty students sang for their parents. Over 700 people were in attendance. Karen teaches in this District... George L. Tappan, a long time member of the Club, celebrated his birthday on May 24. George and his wife, Mary, attended the wedding of Mary's nephew held in St. Petersburg, FL... A recent visitor to Frank and Betty Jopp's home was Betty's nephew, Colin Kelly from Brooklyn... Colin is no stranger to Hicksville as he has spent many happy times here. Frank & Betty took Colin to Sagamore Hill, the summer home of our late President Theodore Roosevelt. Although Colin and the Jopps have been to this historic site many times, they are still intrigued and thrilled by the memories it holds.

Hope to meet and greet all of you at our Club meeting next week. Don't forget--June 13, 8:30 p.m. at the VFW Hall, 320 South Broadway, Hicksville. You will have a chance to hear and meet Senator Ralph J. Marino and Councilman Joe Saladino who will be our guest speakers. Come listen and exchange ideas and comments with your fellow Hicksvillites. Till then, bear in mind what Alfred, Lord Tennyson wrote: "Come my friends, 'Tis not too late to seek a never world."

Dear Friends...

In its continuing effort in helping to develop downtown Hicksville in the best interests of all, the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce is still studying both proposals for this devastated area... the one presented by the Town of Oyster Bay, and the one the Chamber itself suggested to this Board. Obviously there is no one solution which is perfect. Therefore it is hoped that further study and answers to more questions will help solve these problems.

We know that the Town officials are equally anxious to proceed with whatever solution is best at this time.

Let us hope that, with so many working together, the plans and proposals will soon become a reality. We realize this won't be overnight, but plans have to start, be adopted and develop in certain directions, in order to become a reality.

We are encouraged that this will happen soon.

Condolences to Hicksville's own, Frank Chlumsky, upon the passing of his beloved wife, Caroline. Words are inadequate.

TB Screening Results Released

By Linda Strongin

Results of a second stage screening for possible tuberculosis infection revealed that of nine staff members receiving Mantoux tests, several showed "doubtful positive." The school district, according to Dr. David Weeks, Director, Pupil Personnel Services, "will follow-up these cases with chest x-rays." Results of the chest x-rays were to be available sometime on Wednesday (June 4).

It was stressed by Dr. William Schwartz, a school district physician, that although the Mantoux tests revealed doubtful positives "there is no justification for restricting the acts of the individuals or excluding them from the classroom."

Mass screening of students in the Junior high and Dutch Lane schools, where there may have been contact with a teacher who contracted the infection, was discussed at length during last Wednesday's meeting of the Hicksville Board of Education. Residents Irig, Wolfson and Arlene Rudin expressed concern over reports contained in Newsday and the weekly papers about the reported tuberculosis case. They asked what was being done and what could parents do to help alleviate the situation.

Superintendent Dr. Wilbur Hawkins informed the public that staff members and students who had constant contact with the teacher were identified. The first stage of screening, the Tyne Test, was administered to approximately 115 students and staff. Letters were sent to parents notifying them of the problem and requesting signed permission to administer the Tyne Test to their child. Some parents and staff, however, consulted their own physicians for advice and various testing procedures.

Mrs. Wolfson suggested the Board "give serious thought to mass screening with the Mantoux test" on the advice of the Health Department. She also stated that "Tyne is available at no charge from the Health Department."

Dr. Hawkins assured everyone that the district was cooperating with the Health Department and following their advice and direction in this situation.

A plus-minus reaction showed on one student and eight staff members from the approximately 115 tested with the Tyne test. This is one of three categories that can be obtained with the Tyne test. The others are positive and negative. This group received Mantoux tests which were administered to other staff members who requested them.

Dr. Weeks stated at the board meeting the district was working with the County Health Department, who were identifying the social contacts the teacher may have had while the school district was identifying "those who had face-to-face contact" with the teacher at conferences and at lunch periods.

During the discussion, Dr. Schwartz stated that "on dealing with TB, it is not like an abscess or a boil. It's a different organism which attacks the body differently."

He stated that in order for a person to contract the disease, "it depends on the degree of contact, general health and the amount of TB in the (environment) area." He stressed several times that to obtain an active case a person must have "constant intimate contact." He added that it was a complex problem but that the disease itself was not complex.

"Even if there are positive (active) cases in the community, if treated with medication, after four days, the disease is not transmitted. It's non-communicable unless you live in close proximity with a person having the infection, are generally run down and in poor health yourself."

In answering Mrs. Rudin's question on what parents could do Dr. Schwartz bluntly stated, "keep your kids fed, and if a positive test should result, follow it up."

Mrs. Rudin suggested a public forum be held to stop the "spreading of rumors and calm down the parents." Questions could be asked on the issue and information received.

Dr. Weeks stated the Board of Health would meet with small groups but was not equipped to handle large groups. He added that the American Lung Association could provide a forum-type program for educational purposes and agreed to give Mrs. Rudin the information.

Dr. Hawkins stated, however, that "it is not our (the district's) intent to set-up any meetings" with the County Health authorities to speak to parents.

School Board President Dan Arens stated building use would be available if a forum were to be set-up. He concluded "the district is moving in a direction to solve the problem."

In other action, the Board rescinded previous action in which an award was approved for in-district transportation on April 16. Due to legal and cost factors the district will again advertise to bid. School Board attorney Joseph Campanella stated that a complaint had been received by another bidder. He also warned that there was a "danger of bids coming in higher than the first time. The re-bidding is not done solely to attain a lower bid." Trustee Pete Fujimoto was a way from the table during the roll-call vote. Vice President John Ayres was absent from the meeting.

The Board adopted the Santa Clara Inventory of Developmental Tasks for use with entering kindergarten students in the district pre-kindergarten testing program. According to Assistant Superintendent Dr. Catherine Fenton, the testing will provide information on motor and perceptual development.

"We anticipate a wide range from pre-k to seven years. We need to know if our existing kindergarten programs are meeting all the needs of all of the children. In the last four to five years, the student entering kindergarten is much different. The test will provide information on where the emphasis should be given."

Dr. Hawkins also added that the testing will help to identify gifted students and students with special talents and skills.

Trustee Virginia Germer questioned if the pre-k testing was being given to students entering parochial schools. Dr. Hawkins stated that "we provide parochial schools with services not testing." Mr. Campanella was asked his legal opinion and stated he "will look into it."

The Board also acted on the following:

- authorized the Board President to sign a contract for the negotiation services of Mr. Campanella;

- approved a change in the COH (Committee on the Haa change in the COH (Committee on the Handicapped) membership, removing Lois Goldstein and replacing her with a resource room teacher on a rotating basis; action was needed due to difficulties in obtaining a substitute for Mrs. Goldstein's class when the COH met.

- adopted a policy on student discipline and participation in extra-curricular and/or co-curricular activities for grades 10-12; policy deletes references to corporal punishment from the code which, according to Secretary Bill Bennett, "will be considered in a new policy to be added."

- awarded bids totaling $41,776.74 for various supplies;

- approved the retirements of Ruth Lambert, social studies teacher at the junior high school, after 42 years of service in the district; and Fannie Robert, attendance teacher, after 21 1/2 years of service to the district.

The next scheduled meeting of the Board is June 11 at Woodland Avenue School at 8:15 p.m.

"We Have Lost Our Shepherd"

By Bill Bennett

We have lost our Shepherd, and like helpless sheep we feel lost! - but when the initial shock of our loss is over, we begin to collect our thoughts and remember the richness of faith and holiness Monsignor, Martin J. O'Dea has given us over the past thirty years here in HICKSVILLE - born in Tullabrack, County Clare, Ireland at the start of this century, ordained to the priesthood in Dublin in 1926, and directed some 24 years later to form a new parish in the potatoe fields of a place called Hicksville, by the then Archbishop of Brooklyn, Thomas E. Molloy. Monsignor O'Dea has been with our beloved community of Hicksville ever since. His warmth, Irish wit and humor and especially his holiness have inspired thousands of our parishioners who have grown to love him dearly, for he was a man of great depth, of keen intellect, a superb story teller, a master of the Gaelic and Latin languages, a confessor, a counselor. By Monsignor O'Dea's example one could not but go away with the feeling that truly he was blessed by Almighty God to communicate to just in the right way to give one the feeling of self contentment - that our troubles on earth are only temporary and that our reward is in Heaven if we become like Christ.

In the early 1950's he established a rectory at 2 Crocus Lane, Levittown, heard confessions at Levittown Hall, and said Mass at the Meadowbrook Theatre in East Meadow. His parish was primarily composed of young veterans returning from the fronts of World War II - that is why he named his parish "HOLY FAMILY" for it was a young parish of people on fire with faith and devotion to the office that Monsignor O'Dea represented. The Church, Monsignor exemplified the meaning and the structure of our Holy Church, for he embodied the holiness and discipline that is needed to become devoted to our faith. Monsignor practiced his faith, that was clearly reflected in his holiness and the way he affected those who grew to know him.

A close friend of Monsignor in Ireland once wrote us, when Monsignor O'Dea was celebrating his fifty years as a priest in June 1976, "A prayerful priest with an untiring tolerance for human weakness, a priesthood crowned with obedience, a serene happiness that has helped so many to love God and His Mother, a charisma for cheering the sad, hospitality with warmth and simplicity, an unselfish man - when God measures a man 'tis said He puts a tape round the heart, not the head."

Our prayers, thoughts, and love go out to our Pastor Emeritus, Martin J. O'Dea, for we will strive by the acts and deeds that he taught us to be with our Shepherd again in paradise.

Form Jewish Community Council

A new instrument for Jewish solidarity will come into being on June 17 when the Jewish Community Council of North Nassau holds its first formal meeting of representatives from over 20 Jewish organizations originating from ten different areas.

This new council will be open to Jewish congregations and service groups from Plainview, Oyster Bay, Syosset, Woodbury, Bethpage, Westbury, Old Bethpage, Hicksville, Levittown and Jericho.

A steering Committee consisting of Martin Leitner (Bethpage Jewish Community Center), Morton Ozur (Jewish War Veterans), Joy Offsey (Temple Beth Elohim), Alex Sussman, George Btssler, Rabbi Eli Libenson (Manetto Hill Jewish Center), Alfred Murchenberg, Rabbi Philip Bentley (Temple Or-Elohim), Sandy Steinlauf (Jericho Handasah) and Harold Gittler (Mid-Island YM & YWHA) has been working for four months to develop a framework for such an organization. Several open meetings have been held with representatives from Women's American ORT, Hadassah, National Council of Jewish Women, American Jewish Congress, Pioneer Women, Red Mogen David and congregations in the area.

As outlined by the Steering Committee, the Council will give leadership to defining service needs, to planning community-wide events and celebrations, to clear dates and promote activities, to exchange program ideas, to deal with issues of common concern, to serve as a forum for Jewish ideas and to generally strengthen the sense of Jewish Community between organizations.

Although consultation to-date has been through the staff of the Mid-Island Y, an Executive Committee will be formed and the Council will function under a set by-laws to be developed after the June 17 meeting.

Organizations interested in learning more about this Council are invited to contact Harold Gittler, Executive Director of the Mid-Island Y, 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview or call him at 822-3535.

Receives M. D. Degree

Donald Jue of HICKSVILLE will receive an M.D. degree from Albion Medical College.

He will also receive a B.S. from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He will intern at the University of Connecticut Hospital in Farmington, Conn. in Internal Medicine. He is a 1974 graduate of Hicksville H.S.

Syosset Area Now Has No Hospital!

Although hospitals in the general area, particularly Central General, are doing their best to cope with the problems of treating emergency patients during the existing crisis brought about by the problems besetting Syosset Hospital, it became apparent, as we go to press, that Syosset-Woodbury no longer has a hospital.

The last patient was removed from the Syosset Hospital on Tuesday. At that point the Nassau County Dept. of Health, who have been monitoring the situation, found it necessary to inform Syosset Hospital officials as to the procedures for relinquishing their license as the New York State code states that "a hospital does not have a license if it does not have any patients."

Central General Hospital in Plainview, which is the closest geographically to the Jericho, Syosset, Woodbury area, is making every effort to take care of the additional work presently being done by their entire staff. Mr. Robert J. Bornstein, Administrator of Central General said, "we have added one more doctor and three more nurses to our Emergency Staff. No one is being turned away from our Emergency Dept. They are all treated, stabilized and, if we have room at the time, and it is necessary, they are admitted. Occasionally, if we do not have space, emergency patients are treated, stabilized and referred to whatever neighboring facilities have available beds."

Because of its geographical proximity, Central General Hospital is the logical one to which this area should look for emergency care - the kind of care where minutes count as to when treatment should begin.

Members of both the NY State Nurses Association and the union representing licensed practical nurses are still on strike at the apparently closed Syosset Hospital, at press time, with little signs of agreement coming out of last Monday's meeting. Another meeting was set for Thursday. However, at this point, technically, at least, this hospital no longer has a license. More than 200 clerical and custodial workers were unable to strike because by so-doing they would sacrifice their unemployment benefits. The New York State Dept. of Labor has ruled that this unfortunate group are not eligible even for unemployment benefits for seven weeks. Possibly the fact that the Syosset Hospital's license is technically revoked, may clarify the position of these workers who have been "fired".

Mr. Bornstein of Central General in nearby Plainview was confident that this hospital could handle the additional load as it presently exists. "We turn no one away from our Emergency Dept.," he stated, "Everything is being done to give all our communities fine hospital care."

Hicksville American Soccer Club

The under 15 boys started a new streak going with 7 consecutive wins at the Massapequa Tournament last week-end. They boys played almost flawless soccer in defeating their first 5 opponents by the same 2-0 score. On Saturday evening, the Yankees again put in two but Northport scored the only goal that Hicksville allowed during the entire tournament. Falling to the Yankees were West End (N.J.), Hamilton (N.J.), Massapequa Bugs, Massapequa Braves, McLean (Va.) and Northport. The boys had already secured the championship before their final game against the team they were billeting - New Rochelle. The New Rochelle team played hard but the Yanks were too strong for them and won the game 1-0. Coaches Bill Cresham and Pat McHugh were pleased with their performance but were saddened with the loss of Bobby Andrus due to an accident at home. The boys dedicated their championship to their teammate and wish him a speedy recovery.

Two weeks ago, Gilson Knitwear lost two games, one to Malvese 10-4 and one to Goldman Bros. edging them out 3-2. In the game with Malvese, Gilson's S. Eifert hit a blistering triple to score 3 runs in the 4th inning. Two new bright spots in the Gilsons defense was the move of J.

Feebles and M. Kent, from the outfield to catcher and second base, both had fine performances in fielding. In the game between Goldman Bros. Scott Eifert pitched 3 scoreless innings striking out 7 batters at the plate. E. Weiss and R. Schralli who each walked in the first inning were driven in by S. Eifert accounting for Gilson's 2 runs in the losing cause. The fielding highlight of the game and the best play so far this season was of a driving catch of a foul ball by 3rd baseman Robert Schralli.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

VENERABLE TONY PREVITE'S MESSAGE:
 "Doubts are more cruel than the worst of truths", so said Moliere, the great French dramatist. Doubts linger, and whether for a short or long period of time, doubts also bring on indecision, lethargy and complacency - all conditions impeditative to the pursuit of progress. Progress is obviously the key to the Galileo Lodge's future, and progress can only come with dedication, loyalty, brotherhood and fraternal unity."

Newly-elected Venerable Tony Previte of the Galileo Lodge taken during the swearing-in ceremony a short time ago. (Photo by Jeff De Luca).

LODGE TIDBITS: Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bove as they are celebrating 37 years of wedded bliss. Both are members of the Galileo Lodge and a nicer couple would be hard to find. Anyone desirous of sending congratulatory messages to Frank and Nancy can do so my mailing their messages to 48 Spindle Road, Hicksville. Jeff Wallick states that the next golf outing will take place on June 29th, at the Heatherwood Country Club. Admission price (or green fees) is $8.00 per person. Departure time will be 7:30 A.M. from the Galileo Lodge, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, N.Y. Dial Jeff at 681-8428 for additional information about this outing. Don't forget the Italian Feast to be held by the Galileo Lodge from the 2nd of July to the 6th. Rides, amusements, bright lights, Las Vegas tents and live music will greet you, and not to mention the savory aromas of delicious Italian delicacies attacking your taste buds. Members of the Galileo Lodge who are interested in working at this feast can contact Skip Monteforte (931-9351) for more information. Nice to report that the basket of cheer raffled off last Saturday at the May Time Dance was donated by Venerable Tony Previte. A real, beautiful gesture, we feel.

responsibilities. Jean and Joe also received certificates of merit from the Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary in a display of appreciation and thanks for their loyal service. We will surely miss both of them, and the Galileo Lodge extends its best wishes to this very nice couple.

On Monday, August 18th, the Galileo Lodge will hold its NIGHT AT THE RACES. Admission price is $15 per person, with a dinner at the Cloud Casino and Clubhouse admittance. Tony Balestrino is the chairman and further information will be at your disposal if you dial Tony at 785-1462. So, if spending a relaxing summer night at Roosevelt Raceway is one of your sought-after diversions, why not attend this gathering with members and friends. The price is right and the people are right.

A few weeks ago, Venerable Tony Previte delivered a short talk to the membership concerning the Galileo Lodge's social meetings. So far, he stated, these social 'get-togethers' left much to be desired because they appeared to be uninformative, lackluster, uninteresting and of little value. But now, through Venerable Tony Previte's efforts, a new format has been added - a format that will provide for the appearances of highly-qualified and well-informed speakers who will touch upon many areas of community life as well as the many topical subjects that are part of our everyday living; and this condition was well in evidence during our last social meeting when three knowledgeable speakers analyzed and discussed property taxes, added parking facilities and the life of the Gregory Museum. These problems are of deep concern to the Hicksville residents. A well-informed member of the Galileo Lodge also becomes a well-informed member of the community.

LILCO News

Starting this week, an orange and white van will be rolling along the highways and back roads of Long Island, with what looks like a television camera peering out of the roof. The van contains special "Thermovision" equipment that will be used by LILCO during the next 15 weeks to find potential trouble spots on the utility's power lines.

The Thermovision van features an infra-red scanning device that is used to detect "hot spots" - evidence of overheating - on electrical equipment. Overheating of clamps, switches and other overhead lines equipment is an early sign of trouble. The Thermovision method detects these potential faults long before there is any visual evidence.

The infra-red scanner protrudes through a hatch in the van's roof and surveys the overhead lines as the truck rolls from pole to pole. Any overheating shows up as a bright spot on the unit's monitor, a cathode ray tube that looks like an ordinary television screen. Photos of the potential trouble spots are taken and sent to LILCO repair crews, who then move in to fix the potential fault before it can cause outages.

When Thermovision was used last year, about 300 "hot spots" were located. LILCO estimates that fixing these potential problem spots prevented about 100,000 customer outages. First used in the mid 1960's, LILCO now uses the device annually to survey electric lines. The utility uses Thermovision during the summer season when electrical facilities are running at, or near, capacity. At these times, higher amounts of heat are generated, and deficiencies are more noticeable to the scanning device.

Thermovision is one of several preventive maintenance methods used by LILCO to cut down on service interruptions. Others include tree-trimming and the installation of special, plastic coated "tree wire" in various heavily treed areas to protect against outages from falling trees and limbs.

 the offense. Paul Niccolls came through with the only hit in the losing cause. In the Gilson, PBC game, the good eyes of Robert Schrali, B. McNamee, M. Kent, T. Raer and the swinging of S. Eifer helped to produce Gilson's 4 runs.

The Hicksville Elks won its 2 games, one with Gilson Knitwear, 11-4, and Malvese, 7-3. In the game between the Elks and Gilson Knitwear, a fine pitching performance was turned in by A. D'Andrea, K. Doonan, F. Pertusiello and M. Walton, all pitched well, holding Gilson Knitwear to only 4 runs. The heavy bats for the Elks were M. Walton, Paraskevas, Vangas, Doonan, Hogan, Pertusiello, Sullivan, D'Andrea and a home run by K. Kenny. Paraskevas heads up fielding accounting for a couple of outs, while the outfielders picked up a few fly balls.

In the game with Malvese, the Elks beat Malvese 7 to 3 Kevin Kenny and Albert D'Andrea provided the strong pitching to keep the slugging Malvese Team down. Timely hits by A. D'Andrea kept the Elks team out in front throughout the game.

Speaking, Visual Courses Needed Say Input Callers

Most callers to Input believe that schools should stress visual, speaking etc. with nearly as much emphasis as writing in answer to last week's question. Here are some of the answers:

MORE SPEAKING

I assume the question means should there be as much emphasis on speaking as on writing in the schools. Actually there should not be as much emphasis on speaking but there should be a great deal more than there has been in the past. The reason is simple TV in all of its forms will mean that the student of today will be doing far more speaking than past generations. Schools should have closed circuit ways of teaching these skills. A.B.

STRESS SPEAKING

Even though speaking and TV will be big in the future schools must continue to stress writing skills because most things that are said on TV are formulated through writing first and then translated into spoken messages. If people do not carefully monitor what they are saying and think things through as is necessary in writing and in learning good language skills we will have some poorly thought out decisions in the future. M.S.

TOO FEW COURSES

There have been too few courses in schools devoted to speaking compared with the endless English courses that are required in most schools. It will be necessary in the future to combine both of these forms of expression so that the student can cope with the changing world. A.B.

PARENTS RESPONSIBILITY

Rather than place the decline in literacy completely on the local schools, parents should become aware of their responsibilities. It is the Parent's responsibility to decide how much TV a child watches. Too many parents are reluctant to say "No" and then love to place the blame on others for their child's inability to read and write. It is a sad commentary on our society that parents are asking the government to control their children's TV programs rather than do it themselves. W.G.

FAST ISSUES

OIL LINK

The serious problems of the U.S. today and in the past can be linked indirectly as well as directly to oil. Conservation of gasoline will only prolong the treacherous control of the U.S. and the world by OPEC. The answer to this problem is to develop new forms of energy with governmental control so that development will be in the best interest of the people and not in the interest of profit maximization.

ADD TO BURDEN

The 10 cent a gallon gas tax would add to our current inflation, add to the overburdened working middle class and further reduce their standard of living. They have already reduced gasoline consumption 5% during 1978-79. The consumption for 1980 is now running 8% below this rate of 1979. Instead of reducing taxes to balance his budget, Jimmy Carter is attempting to extract 11 billion dollars in additional taxes and is doing nothing to find alternate sources of energy. He seems to be the puppet of the oil companies and not the leader of the people. We must resist this and all other attempts to tax us into extinction. T.S.

OTHERS PAY FULL RATE

With regard to the imposition of gasoline taxes as a method of conserving fuel, I suggest that President Carter and all of our legislators start paying the going rate for gasoline at the White House gas pumps. I don't see how increasing taxes are going to make us use less gas. I would suggest that the government leave the free enterprise system alone by taking all controls off gas and oil. I would suggest that our government direct its revenge on the oil producing countries by cutting off the food we are sending them and all of the other supplies that we keep sending to them at the American taxpayer's expense. Adding 10 cents or 50 cents a gallon is not going to make my family use less gas.

MANAGED ECONOMY

Until we get the idea that a managed economy is a way to manage us into bankruptcy, no amount of taxes on gas or anything else will help. The oil industry has to be put back into a free competitive market. It's the only way we're going to find new oil, refine new oil and get OPEC off our backs because then we will be independent of them.

Points On Pets

By H. P. JANS, D.V.M.

Q. Please help! I have a 6-month-old German shepherd who loves to dig. He can get through ground where I can't even dig with a shovel. I have tried spanking, shaming, Cayenne pepper and even wood ashes in the holes with nails and such. He pulls up roses and I took one and whipped him with it, to no avail.

What can I do? I have talked to many people and everyone says he'll grow out of it. We originally named him Pardner but have changed his name to Digger. — E.B.

A. As more examples of active deterrents, you might try electrified fencing or tethering him up to an area where digging would not cause as much damage.

As passive alternatives you might try to give him more attention, take him to work if possible, get another pet he could play with, buy him chew toys, etc.

You might also consider taking him to an obedience class.

Q. We have a Siamese cat which we keep in the house most of the time. After our 9-year-old grandson visits us for the day, his eyes become red and swollen. Within a few hours after he leaves, his eyes get back to normal.

Is there any powder or shampoo we could use on our cat that would help this situation? — N.L.N.

A. It sounds as if your grandson is allergic to your cat, either the hair or the dandruff. It is possible that there may be something else in the house which the child is allergic to.

There are some oil-like sprays that you might spray on the cat or apply like a rinse that might help — Burns Co.'s Vitex and HyLyt efa by Derm. for Vet Med. These products might help to keep the dandruff down so that the child would not get too much.

Q. Can you offer any information on how to keep a dog from shedding or perhaps lessen the collection of hair? We have a house dog with lots of hair and it is all over everything. Does daily brushing help? Hairspray? Thank you. — R.B.,

A. First, I would recommend a physical examination by your veterinarian (blood test, urinalysis, stool exam) to eliminate physical problems and parasitism. Bathing products used and bath frequencies should be checked by the doctor.

The correct dietary supplements do help, as do fresh air and sunshine, when we consider dry skin. Brushing would definitely help.

I do not think hair spray would be beneficial, but recommend the use of hair conditioners and/or bath oils, after the pet's medicated shampoo. The latter would be used ONCE every seven to 14 days.

Q. I have a 6-month-old "mutt" cat. I would like to get him neutered as soon as it is possible. At what age should a male cat be neutered?

A. Most animal surgeons recommend that the male be castrated at puberty. This usually occurs from 9 to 12 months of age.

Dr. Wallace: I read a letter in your column about a boy who wanted to be a state police officer but was afraid that his juvenile record might stand in his way.

Tell this guy that when he turns 18, he can have his juvenile record sealed by the court. I should know, I had mine sealed. All I did was to see my probation officer, fill out some forms, go before a judge, and promise not to go wrong again. There is no hassle or cost. — David

David: Yes, juvenile records can be sealed when the person reaches age 18. For those who do not or have never had a probation officer, contact the juvenile court in your county court building for further information.

Dr. Wallace: I am about 20 pounds overweight and have heard that jogging is an excellent way to lose weight. How far should I run each day? I'm 16 years old. — Timmy Timmy: Jogging is not meant to lose weight. Jogging one mile will burn up 100 calories.

Remember, one piece of chocolate cake contains about 500 calories. Don't use jogging as an excuse for overeating — it just doesn't work that way.

If you are trying to lose weight, combine jogging with a sensible diet. What jogging does is firm up muscles and slim your waistline.

If you are going to jog, start out slowly.

Doctor's Forum

Q. What makes our eyes blink?

A. The eyelids are closed by the action of a circular, sphincterlike muscle which is divided into two parts — one which surrounds the bone of the orbit (orbital) and the other which lies over the lids (palpebral). It is the palpebral which is used in the act of blinking. However, the orbital part of the muscle is brought into play when the eyelids are forced shut.

There are two types of blinking: one having a reflex origin and the other spontaneously occurring. In addition, three different subtypes of reflex blinking occur — tactile, optical and auditory. An example of tactile reflex blinking is when the conjunctiva, cornea or lashes are touched. An example of optic stimuli is strong lights and auditory stimuli blinking is caused by loud noise. Spontaneous blinking is the most common form of blinking in a normal human. It occurs at frequent intervals during the waking hours, without any obvious stimulus.

The rate of blinking may increase with excitement but is infrequent during the first few months of life. In the animal kingdom, it is noted that the lion blinks at a rate of less than one blink per minute, whereas some species of monkeys have a rate of 45 blinks per minute.

Spontaneous blinking is not dependent on vision, since blinking also occurs in the blind. It's been noted that the lower eyelid remains almost stationary during the act of blinking and it is only the upper lid which closes.

The blink occurs in a zipperlike action from the outer side of the eye toward the nose side of the eye. This aids the movements of the tear film toward the nose.

Most persons blink about 15 times per minute, and the duration of a full blink is approximately 0.3 to 0.4 seconds. The average period between blinks is about 2.8 seconds in men and just under four seconds in women. Blinking does not produce discontinuity of visual sensation in spite of the fact that vision is obviously interrupted during the blink.

— Dr. David Sevel, professor of surgery in residence, Division of Ophthalmology at the University of California, San Diego School of Medicine.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By ROBERT WALLACE, F.D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm left-handed in a right-handed world. My baby brother is 2 and it appears that he is going to be left-handed also. I'm teaching him to be right-handed so that he won't have to go through all the misery that I went through. Even as I write this letter at school, I'm having trouble because the desk I'm using was made for right-handers.

My mother thinks that I should not tamper with my brother's development but I feel I should work with him to make sure that he is right-handed. What is your opinion? My mother asked me to write to you. — Doris,

Doris: I wouldn't advise changing your brother to a right-hander. Let nature take its course. Did you ever stop to think that in some cases it is a definite advantage to be a "southpaw"? Did you ever hear of Babe Ruth or Sandy Koufax?

Dr. Wallace: I am a high school dropout and have a full-time job washing dishes at a swanky restaurant. I have a good brain and my parents are putting pressure on me to return to school to get my diploma.

I told them that it didn't take a diploma to be successful and that in five years I would own this restaurant. I know there are many who made it without a diploma, but if you could give me the names of a few I'd really appreciate it. It might get my parents off my back. — Rick,

Rick: Mark Twain, Thomas Edison, John Philip Sousa and Andrew Carnegie are a few high school dropouts who "made it" big, but the list of those who "made it" and had a diploma is overwhelmingly greater.

I'd advise you to get that diploma. Check with your high school counselor. It may be possible to continue working part-time and finish your high school work at the same time.

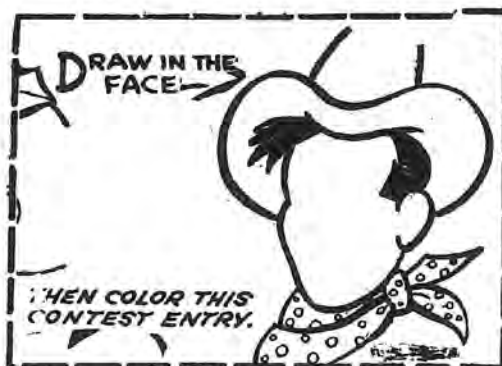

Dr. Wallace: I feel sorry for handicapped people and I would like to do something for them. Whenever I see someone who is handicapped, I just want to rush up to them and offer to help, but I feel I will embarrass them.

It just tears me up when I see a handicapped person struggling, and no one offers a helping hand. What can I do to help? — Beth Beth: You can help and your help is wanted and needed. Contact community hospitals and offer your services. Many teens are needed to assist in the children's and geriatric wards.

The handicapped do not need sympathy or someone to feel sorry for them. What they need at times is just a little boost.

JUNIOR EDITION

Last weekend as I was coming out of church with my family I happened to notice a boy of about ten with his arm in a sling. The clergyman also noticed the boy and said: "What happened, Jimmy? Did you have a fall?" "Oh, no, said the boy, I got into a fight."

Of course everyone laughed at the boy's response: He didn't try to pretend the broken arm was due to an accident. It didn't occur to him to say anything but the exact truth. Children's truthfulness, I have always thought, is one reason we enjoy them so much.

Love to all of you,
Uncle Nugent

Restaurant Guide

Here is a new feature for readers of this newspaper. You can be a dining out critic simply by dialing WE1-0027 and giving your impressions of any of the restaurants listed in this rating guide. How often have you read the rave notices of critics and after going to a restaurant wondered how the so called expert ever came to a particular rating. Or you may have been surprised that an exceptionally good restaurant is missed. Reader ratings is our way to let you be the critic. Just phone our 24 hour number on any of the restaurants listed below and we will print your ideas (with or without your name).

"Genial Host"
I want to call about one restaurant that is a good one but is not on your page. The restaurant has some of the best food of its kind but the owner is always grouchy and cannot wait to close up if you are there after nine o'clock. We have nicknamed him "Your genial host" because he never smiles and seems to want the customers to leave. Too bad because his food is exceptional. C.M.

A Good Restaurant
Last Friday my friend and I ate at the Maine Maid in Jericho. I ordered scallops; she had a cold fish salad plate.

We liked the restaurant very much. The decor was charming and the service pleasant and efficient.

A nice touch was the individual loaf of bread served on a cutting board. It was so good I took the leftover part home with me.

Our cocktails were good and of a generous size. I skipped dessert, but my friend ordered the raspberry sherbet and said it was excellent. T.F.

Your Handwriting Tells

By DOROTHY ST. JOHN JACKSON
Certified Master Graphoanalyst

Dear Dorothy: I am not a happy person, and I have hunted everywhere for it. Are there clues in my writing that tell you why? — F.F.

Dear F.F.: Hunt it, chase it, search it. You'll never find it.

Happiness lies in your attitude. It's the sunshine of your soul, which effortlessly seeps through to the outside.

Fear, however, has made dismal your light. It has darkened your hopes and confused your vision.

Your ego has been so hurt that through the years, seen in the large t loop, you feel crushed and crunched. Your emotional equilibrium has been upset, seen in your variable slant, and others have a hard time understanding your wavering moods.

You are basically an intelligent person, seen in the wedge-shaped n's, but fear is easing out its effectiveness.

Because you have been hurt before, you expect to be hurt now. So, you are cushioning yourself by putting away your memories, seen in the tiny loop on y. Subconsciously, though, they live on to nag you, taunt you and torture you.

Clouds in your life cannot be cleared as long as you avoid the facts and evade the issues, seen in the distorted o's and a's. You have to come face to face with yourself.

Tackle your fears with your intelligence. Examine them, as to their source. Then ask yourself if it isn't foolish to interpret even a chance remark as an intended slight, and let it ravage your self-image?

Life in itself is the raw material of existence.

It's up to you to process it and shape it the way you want it to be.

Not a happy person
