"1980 Legislative Session Disappointing," Parola

The 1980 legislative session recently recessed was disappointing according to Assemblyman Frederick E. Parola who favors and worked for the enactment of meaningful tax relief and an end to spiraling government spending and growth.

Assemblyman Parola said: "The budget finally adopted with my vote in opposition will cost $15.2 billion, representing an increase of more than $1.2 billion from the previous year and $5 billion higher than during 1975, Governor Carey's first year in office."

"In addition, reduction amendments that I sponsored were voted down. These would have reduced personal income taxes, excluded all pension income from taxes to help retirees stay in New York and increase to $800 the savings interest earned by couples."

Another amendment would have removed the effect of inflation on future individual state personal income taxes through a concept called "indexing." This, too, failed along party lines. If it could have brought annual adjustments to state tax rate tables and prevented higher taxes when salary increases for individuals are merely able to keep up with the cost of living.

"The suburbs were shortchanged at every stage in the package of bills which finally received legislative approval. State aid to education included the second largest money increase to schools but failed to benefit suburban school districts, such as those in the 12th Assembly District which received an average increase of 2.6 percent."

"As distressing was Governor Carey's veto of revenue sharing aid to local governments which will force our town and county to reduce services or hike taxes. The legislative attempt, which I supported to override the Governor's veto to ensure the continuation of these essential services, failed and that will mean less aid to our community colleges, health and related services. This occurs while the state MANDATES these programs on localities."

In addition, myself and other legislators could not prevent extension of the commuter tax. "Additional reform proposals in my program to reorient the state's priorities and which were defeated this session of the Legislature were the following:

—Increased tax credits for the installation of alternate energy sources;

—Energy tax credits to give taxpayers relief from the high cost of residential heating;

—Expanded "circuit breaker" tax relief and "homestead" exemptions to cut real property taxes by reflecting one's ability to pay and to protect the homeowner against full value reassessment;

—Elimination of mandated programs on localities by the state without provision of money to support programs;

—Limitation of sales taxes; —Enactment of initiative and referendum to open up governmental decision-making to the people;

—"Zero-based" budgeting to require all government agencies to justify their existence every year;

—Mandatory bottle deposits to help preserve natural resources and encourage cleaner environments; and —Ceiling on state sales taxes on gasoline."

"The items in this legislative package will continue to receive my close attention and I will continue to push for their passage."

Western Electric Does Business In Hicksville

Western Electric, the Bell System's manufacturing and supply arm, purchased some $387,000 in products and services from businesses in Hicksville last year.

Western Electric spent more than $39 million with some 600 Long Island suppliers, purchases representing about eight percent of the total $487.7 million spent by the firm statewide in 1979.

About one third of the company's nationwide outlay for supplies — $1.4 billion — went to small business concerns in the country.

As part of the Bell System, Western Electric works closely with New York Telephone to meet the communications needs of more than 6 million customers in the Empire State.

Western Electric, a wholly owned subsidiary of American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T), manufactures and purchases telecommunications products and supplies for the Bell System.

Employees Cited

For Hicks-Westbury Inc. employees, serving their neighbors in matters 'above and beyond the call of duty', is a matter of company policy. Recently, this was demonstrated when for the second consecutive year, an employee from the Westbury based oil company was cited by Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell and the Nassau County Police Department for commendable community service.

According to Hicks-Westbury General Manager George Urquhart, "All HW employees are always on the look out for their fellow Long Islanders. A day doesn't go by when one of our people radios in to tell us of a broken traffic light, an auto accident or a similar situation where help or action is needed."

Last year, HW employee Paul Schroth of Carle Place, busy at the company's loading rack, which is located across from the Westbury railroad station, spotted a boy ramsacking cars parked in the station lot. His quick reporting resulted in the boy's apprehension. The boy was also being sought on burglary charges.

More recently, company employee Josephine Callus, who resides in Westbury, received a citation for her speedy dialing of the Police Emergency number 911, which brought medical aid to a person injured in an auto accident she had witnessed and reported instantly.

Richard T. Rocchio, Executive Vice President of the Oil Heat Institute of Long Island, of which the Hicks-Westbury company is a member, applauded Josephine and Paul's actions, noting that, "Radio dispatching is not unique to the Hicks-Westbury company. Many of our Long Island oil heat dealers use radio dispatch trucks and display the Civilian Radio Truck Patrol shield. And, while the Hicks-Westbury firm has been singled out, neighborly spirit and community service is the rule, and not the exception throughout Long Island's oil heat industry."

BIDE-A-WEE SUMMER PET CARE TIPS

In 60 seconds this car will become a 110° Deathtrap.
(And you'll be back in just 5 minutes. Right?)

A pet left in a car in summer is in danger of dying from heat stroke. This is because the sun's rays enter the car and heat the interior. The temperature inside the car can rise to 110° or higher in just 5 minutes. This is a dangerous situation for your pet. If you leave your pet in a car, you are putting its life in danger. Please do not leave your pet in a car during the summer months. If you must leave your pet in a car, make sure the car is well ventilated and the temperature is cool. Please do not leave your pet in a car during the summer months.

Love. It's something every pet owner knows.

Bide-A-Wee Home Association is offering an informative poster, free of charge, to everyone who wants to know the do's and don'ts of summer pet care and how to avoid the dangers that face every pet during the warmer months.

The poster, which was designed and produced by the advertising agency of Martin, Sturtevant, Silverman & Marshall, is ideal for display in a store window, club house or any organizational meeting place.

Copies can be obtained free by stopping in at any of the three Bide-A-Wee shelters. The nearest Bide-A-Wee is located at 3300 Beltagh Avenue in Wantagh. The poster can also be obtained through the mail by calling 212-532-5328.

Bide-A-Wee is offering this poster as a public service because they believe that your pet deserves a safe and fun-filled summer as much as you do.

Carter Budget Deficits Will Bring Us More Inflation

By Cong. Norman Lent

Recently the Carter Administration confessed the extent of the fiscal woes its policies have brought to our Nation, in issuing a "revised" economic forecast for this year and 1981.

It is the third major economic projection made this year by the so-called economic "experts" in the Carter Administration. The best that I can say for the latest one is that it is likely to be somewhat more accurate than the earlier projections.

But the latest Carter prediction contains the grimmest sort of news for all of us. The Carter people foresee a deficit of $60 billion in the current fiscal year ending September 30. That's the second highest deficit in our peacetime history! It's 50 percent higher than the January estimate!

What's more, they predict a huge deficit of nearly $30 billion in 1981! That is double the deficit they predicted last January.

At that time, I warned that the Carter budget estimates were not realistic. I pointed out some Carter miscalculations - apparent even then. I said a more realistic projection "indicates a federal spending deficit (for 1981) at least twice the size predicted by the President," and warned that deficits of such size meant "a continuation of the disastrously uncontrolled inflation for our country."

For the past six months, the rate of inflation has remained just under 20 percent - a disastrously high level. And, if these huge federal spending deficits are allowed to continue, we can expect double digit inflation to continue to eat up the family budget. For every billion dollars in deficits forces the federal government to float into the economy another billion dollars of paper. This does more to generate upward pressure on prices; wages and taxes than any other single factor.

Even more discouraging in the new Carter Administration economic forecast is the President's negative stand against any relief now from the constantly increasing federal tax burden, which is a further drain on the family budget.

For several years I have been urging the only realistic solution to these terrible problems: END FEDERAL DEFICITS WITH A BALANCED BUDGET AND REDUCE FEDERAL TAXES!

Two months ago, Republicans in the House of Representatives offered a sensible combination of these two ideas in proposing a Final Budget Resolution for Fiscal Year 1981. Known as the Latta Amendment, the package sharply limited federal spending to provide a balanced budget - thus curbing inflation, and also provided a $32 billion reduction in federal taxes to ease the federal tax burden, stimulate savings and capital investment and create more jobs.

This sensible budget program won some Democratic support, but - after heavy pressure from the Democratic leadership - was defeated 175 to 242. Instead, the Democrats adopted their own budget resolution calling for a $64 billion increase in federal spending and $90 billion in additional federal taxes!

Perhaps the new Carter economic forecast of disastrously high deficits will have enough shock effect to swing more Democrat support to the cause of balanced budgets and reduced federal taxes. Whether or not that happens, I can assure you that I will continue to work for this responsible program for curbing inflation, easing the federal tax burden and providing more jobs and economic opportunity!

Lacrosse All-Stars

The Hempstead Town Department of Parks and Recreation has announced that the fourth annual All-Star Lacrosse Game between the Town of Hempstead Summer Lacrosse League All-Stars and the Luch Raven Summer Lacrosse All-Stars of Maryland will be played at Maryvale School in Towson, Maryland on Saturday, August 9th.

Hempstead Town's team is comprised of players chosen from the Town's Summer Lacrosse League for High School aged boys. Next year's game will be played at a Town of Hempstead field.

1980-81 School Assessment Roll Released

The total assessed valuation on property in Nassau County's 62 school districts increased 0.253 percent for the 1980-81 school year, the second smallest increase in history, according to data released today by Abe Seldin, Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, whose agency prepares the assessment rolls for the districts.

Seldin said that the 1980-81 total assessed valuation of $3,611,031,689 represents a gain of $9,127,557 - or 0.253 percent - over last year. He noted that the increase last year (from 1978-79 to 1979-80) was 0.696 percent, or nearly 2.8 times greater.

The value of new construction rose $29.386 million this year, almost the same as last year's figures of $30.453 million.

The county granted 279 new temporary exemptions during the year, thereby attracting $9.1 million in new commercial and industrial construction, up from $6 million last year.

Franchise assessments rose 5.5 percent, from $134,528,415 to $141,874,043 an increase of $7,345,628, Seldin reported.

Franchise assessments, established by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment in Albany, are levied on property owned by utilities and on public utilities' equipment, such as poles, and wires, which cross public property or use public roads or rights-of-way, Seldin explained.

Seldin said the county narrowly avoided its first assessment decrease and blamed the low rate of growth on court decisions which have prompted a large and ever-increasing number of successful challenges to commercial assessment, known as writs of certiorari.

"Despite a healthy gain in new construction and a substantial rise in the franchise assessment," Seldin said, "The school tax roll remained nearly static because of these certiorari cases."

Total assessed valuations for school districts within the Towns of North Hempstead and Oyster Bay rose 0.735 and 0.414 per cent, respectively. Valuations for districts in the Town of Hempstead went down 0.025 percent. Last year, they rose 0.274 percent. It was the second time in three years that total assessed valuation dropped in Hempstead. Forty-four of the 62 districts in the county recorded increases in total assessed valuation this year, compared with 51 last year, while 18 showed a decline, compared with 11 last year.

Eleven of the 18 districts showing losses this year are in the Town of Hempstead; one entirely in the Town of North Hempstead; five entirely in the Town of Oyster Bay; and one, Glenwood Landing, straddles the North Hempstead - Oyster Bay town line.

Among the districts which declined in valuations this year are Bethpage school district - down 6.77 percent; Hempstead - down 4.09 percent; Great Neck - down 1.67 percent; and Plainedge - down 1.38 percent.

Among the districts with the largest increases are Herricks - up 3.87 percent; Syosset - up 2.99 percent; Manhasset - up 2.95 percent; Port Washington - up 2.58 percent; Jericho - up 2.05 percent; and Roslyn - up 1.95 percent.

Dear Friends...

WE DIFFER with the opinions of the Nassau Legislative Committee of the Long Island Liquid Waste Association (see story on page 5), when they plan to exert pressure on County, State and Town governments in order to reopen the Syosset Scavenger Waste Facility.

Conditions regarding the purity of our Long Island water supply have changed in the last few years. Although our water supply may still be pure, and it is certainly subject to much testing, we do NOT believe that it will remain so if we allow this type of dumping to resume.

We believe that it is up to our County, State and Town governments to investigate and to provide new, SAFE ways to dispose of dangerous waste...in fact this applies to the disposal of ALL types of waste today. We live in a chemical era...we can not go back to old and presently inadequate methods of waste disposal, without jeopardizing our water supply.

AT THIS POINT the demolition of the dilapidated buildings at 459 Newbridge Road has been taken care of, we are glad to report. We have carried many stories and pictures covering this community problem, in the past months. We salute the West Green Civic Association, those who helped them file suit, and many local residents of this area for their persistence in bringing this matter to the attention of our Town authorities. We are pleased, too, that this problem is now solved in accordance with all the laws which cover matters of this nature. It is not always possible to take necessary legal steps as quickly as we would wish. But continued attention to any community problem by all concerned will usually result in the problem's solution.

CONGRATULATIONS to our own St. Ignatius Drum and Bugle Corp. Once again they have won the World Open in Massachusetts and several competitions in Canada. As they entered Hicksville on Tuesday evening they were met by many fans and escorted by the Hicksville Fire Department. We are very proud of you, girls.

THIS WEEK we welcome the local Families For Life Organization into our group of organizations who avail themselves of our Club Subscription Plan. They meet on the fourth Wednesday of every month, starting at 8 pm in the Levittown Hall.

By the way, if you belong to a local group who meets regularly in our circulation area, why not look into our Club Subscription Plan? Phone us at WE 1-1400 for details.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay cool, if possible!!

Right To Life News

that an embryo or even a zygote is a separate being with its own unique chromosomal structure, and its own sex, both derived from human parents. Even Planned Parenthood in a 1963 pamphlet said, "An abortion requires an operation. It kills the life of a baby after it has begun."

One would think that Dr. Stepoe of England had proved that beyond a shadow of a doubt when he conceived Louise Brown in a petri dish with a sperm from her father and an ovum from her mother. From the moment of conception she was wholly human; and if that single original cell had not been alive, it would never have multiplied and taken nourishment and grown and matured into the toddler that Louise is today.

The Supreme Court has so far refused to recognize the biological facts, and increasingly is painting itself into a corner where its ultimate recourse is not logic, but merely repetition.

Blood Donors Needed

Summer fuel shortages are a nightmare but gasoline isn't all we have to worry about. When there is not enough gasoline in your car you leave it in the garage, but what happens if there is not enough blood in Long Island hospitals for patients.

Warm weather has a bad effect on blood donors, they stop donating. However, hospital patients need blood 365 days of the year regardless of the weather.

Long Island Blood Services' donor room, 155 Duryea Road in Melville, is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

L.I. Liquid Waste Assoc. Asks For Re-Opening of Syosset Treatment Plant

At a recent meeting of the Nassau Legislative Committee of the Long Island Liquid Waste Association Chairman Gordon Boslet, announced that the Committee is actively seeking a joint meeting with Nassau County, State and Town Governments in order to hasten the re-opening of the Syosset Scavenger Waste Facility.

The problem that besets the Liquid Waste Industry in Nassau County is: The "one" County owned Sewerage Treatment Plant in operation at this time is "Bay Park" in East Rockaway. Therefore, the Nassau County Eastern Sector Liquid Waste Haulers must spend a minimum of three hours of their "productive time" in travel and waiting at "Bay Park" to unload a truck.

Many of these Liquid Waste Haulers are "one" truck operators and are virtually put out of business in order to use the "Bay Park" Facility. Thus, with no other Facility available to them, the County has created a market for "Illegal Dumping" said Long Island Liquid Waste Association Chairman Gordon Boslet. Continuing, Mr. Boslet made the point that the Long Island Liquid Waste Industry is not an ordinary Industry. They are primarily an Emergency Industry. Their Liquid Waste Haulers are called upon by not only the residential Community, but by the commercial as well. There consumers are most always in a desperate state when they call. Then there are the Governments of the State, County and Towns who call upon the Liquid Waste Industry to assist them in helping to control the pollution of the ground water supply. Since it is an "EMERGENCY BUSINESS" they must have dumping facilities at ALL times.

The position of the Long Island Liquid Waste Association, Inc. is to work together with County, State and Town Governments to help solve the immediate problem, which, in their opinion, is the re-opening of the Syosset Scavenger Waste Facility located in the Town of Oyster Bay.

You may call the Association's Executive Director, Lee Daniels, 293-4325 on this matter.

Chamber of Commerce Endorses Greg Carman

Greg Carman, Republican Conservative Candidate for the Third Congressional District, received a strong endorsement from the Northern Region of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

In a letter addressing its members, Regional Manager Mr. P.T. Cantrell said, "We urge you, as a business leader and a member of the U.S. Chamber, to get involved in supporting Greg Carman."

Cantrell believes that Carman's views on cutting down federal spending, curbing government growth, and controlling runaway inflation are consistent with the general conservative mood in our country today.

"The Chamber is a strong and influential force in our community and I really appreciate their support and backing in any way possible," says Carman.

Included in Cantrell's letter were a number of suggestions to the members of the Chamber of Commerce offering ways, other than money, to fuel the drive of a successful campaign.

Most of these suggestions proposed how corporations can legally endorse candidates, finance get-out-the-vote programs, invite a candidate to address its management employees, and establish telephone banks to help turn out the vote or direct contributions for the candidate. "These activities, at corporate expense, are in addition to what you and your colleagues can do personally as volunteers," mentioned Cantrell.

Cantrell concluded that, "Business can make a difference-but only if businessmen and women take an aggressive political stance and Greg Carman is a business oriented candidate who CAN win."

Greg Carman is a lifetime resident of the Third Congressional District.

Several years ago while conducting a Senior Youth Retreat, I led the group in an activity called a "Trust Walk." Participants paired up and each took a turn leading the other blindfolded throughout the retreat facility. I also had a partner and took my turn. For approximately twenty minutes I was led by the hand around tables and chairs, up and down steps, throughout the building. Something remarkable happened to me when I trusted my life, so to speak, into the hands of my young partner. In those short twenty minutes I developed a beautiful feeling towards that person, a closeness, a need for him. Even when the blindfold came off I felt that I wanted to get better acquainted with my partner. I continued to feel the need for my partner and the feeling of trust that developed between us.

Throughout the Book of Psalms God encourages us to take a trust walk with Him. Jesus is saying to all of us trust in Me, I love you so much. I want to help you. Wherever you are hurting, let me bring healing. Some of you are not sure and continue to believe that you must handle your own problems! In some cases you may have some success, but there is a better way. Doing it your way is not the better way. And don't be afraid of leaning. Lean on Me, Jesus says, with your cares. There is no concern too insignificant for My attention. And when you pray remember that My Father is there listening. Pray boldly, yes, asking the Father to meet your needs. But also pray trusting that His wisdom surpasses yours. He's not going to lead you into any walls or crashing down any steps.

When Sir Walter Raleigh, the famed explorer, was on the scaffold awaiting imminent death, he is said to have had a short talk with the axeman. The executioner told his prisoner that the block would be more comfortable if he turned his head the other way. "My friend," said Sir Walter Raleigh, "it matters little how the head lies so long as the heart is right." To accept the Lord Jesus as our personal Savior and to trust in Him puts the heart right once and for all, for time and eternity. Problems, even imminent death, are handled more gracefully when we walk through life trusting in the Lord.

If you are not currently on the trust walk with the Lord, let me suggest that you begin one right now. Your partner is ready and waiting—His hand is reaching out for yours. There's but one simple thing to do. Take it.

LILCO Releases Shoreham Economic Study Results

Long Island Lighting Company has revealed the results of its latest studies of the economics associated with its Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant.

Completing the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant on its current schedule will be far cheaper for Long Islanders than delaying the project a few years, cancelling it altogether, or building an alternative coal plant in its place.

This is the conclusion of three separate studies submitted recently at Public Service Commission hearings on the utility's application for a 17.9 percent electric rate increase.

The utility's current schedule calls for the Shoreham plant, now about 80 percent complete, to begin operating in early 1983. The plant will save about 8 million barrels of OPEC oil annually for LILCO, which is now virtually 100 percent dependent on foreign oil for electric generation.

The first study analyzed the economic effects of delaying the project for one or two years, as opposed to bringing the plant on line on its current schedule. The analysis showed that "there is a clear incentive to install Shoreham in 1983." Postponing the plant's operation for only one year would add between $200 million and $300 million to its total price tag. In addition, Long Islanders would have to pay about $300 million more each year for the additional oil that would have to be burned if Shoreham were not on line to displace that oil.

The second report compared the economics of completing Shoreham on its present schedule versus cancelling it and converting it to coal or building a new coal plant. This study concluded that even under many different scenarios it will be far more beneficial to continue the project than to cancel it. If the $2.2 billion project were cancelled, customers would pay at least $9.5 billion, and up to $29.2 billion, more in rates for continued reliance on foreign oil and for alternate generation.

According to the second study, "higher economic burdens would be put on our customers... if Shoreham were to be stopped at the present time. This is the result of the fact that the revenues required from our customers to cancel or to amortize the monies already spent on Shoreham are greater than those required to continue with its construction." The utility has already spent about $1.3 billion on the nearly completed plant.

Finally, the last report found that even if Shoreham were delayed, it would still be cheaper to finish the plant than to convert it to coal or replace it with a new coal plant. The study pointed out that in order for Shoreham to burn coal, very few of the most costly plant components already in place could be used. "Conversion" would mean completely rebuilding the existing facility. Such a conversion could cost LILCO's customers $19 billion more than the Shoreham nuclear plant, over the life of the facility. If a new coal plant were built from scratch, Long Islanders could pay an additional $20 billion over the life of the plant. Moreover, a coal plant at Shoreham could not be in service until 1989—much later than Shoreham's capacity is needed to displace OPEC oil and meet electric demand.

Country's Nursery Saves Us Money

At a time when concrete and steel are taking over the landscape, it is comforting to know that places still exist where the trees are green and the plants are plentiful.

Nassau County's Department of Recreation and Parks currently consists of nearly 6,000 acres of greenery, including fifteen active parks, thirty passive parks, seven golf courses, as well as several preserves and nature walk areas.

By responding to the continued need for plant material in the parks, the county's Horticulture Unit has started a nursery to raise plants which, according to Horticulture Specialist Kevin Ocker of Lattinatown, are not otherwise available due to budget reduction or unavailability in trade.

"Over the past several years, with the impact of inflation and rising prices, budgets have been held to a minimum," said Ocker. "One of the areas where parks' grounds have been hurt is that of buying and replanting shrubs and trees."

Ocker explained that the parks began a program to replace plant material in 1960. "It eventually faded out however," he added. Just five years ago the department's Horticulture Unit decided to launch a similar program.

"We were up to date on all of the techniques involved and felt that we had the expertise to expand on the past plant replacement program, so we decided to start it up again," said Ocker. A graduate of Cornell's School of Agriculture, Ocker came to work with Nassau County just six years ago.

"Cuttings are taken at various times of the year, and treated with root-promoting chemicals as needed," said Ocker, as he described the technical steps involved in the propagating process.

"Those (cuttings) taken during the summer are placed in a lath house in flats of sand and kept moist," he continued. "Usually they are rooted in four to six weeks."

Evergreen cuttings undergo a different process. Taken in the winter, they are brought into a greenhouse where appropriate wounds and chemicals are applied and placed in flats of sand which are stored on heating mats in vapor chambers made of plastic. According to Ocker, the plants generally start to root in six to eight weeks and, depending on variety, are ready for transplant in the parks in one to three years.

Seeds are also collected during the fall months and placed in moist sand in a refrigerator to stratify over the winter, said Ocker. The seeds are then sown into flats of mix and when germinated are transferred to containers. "We have come a long way with propagation by seed," commented Ocker. He estimated that 85-90,000 plants are grown annually in the horticulture facilities at Eisenhower Park.

Trees are placed out in the field and grown for approximately four years. When ready, the trees are then placed on golf course roughs or where needed in the parks. "We are thus assured of fresh plant material," said Ocker.

Since its inception, the nursery has continued to expand until, at the current time, it comprises one and one half acres consisting of four plastic container greenhouses, a growing field area and field stock. One of Ocker's goals is to have plant material available as needed, year round. According to Ocker, the greenhouse area is projected for 10,000 plants. An additional 2,000 trees are grown in the field.

Presently, the Recreation and Parks Department is concentrating on beach and dune preservation through the use of shrubs and grasses, said Ocker.

He noted that a plant distribution schedule is set up in the parks. "Once planted, responsibility for the shrubs and trees is left up to the particular park's maintenance crew."

The county's tree and shrub production has also helped the budget. According to Ocker, for approximately $1,000 per year, $30,000 worth of plant material are produced.

Ocker looks forward to a time when all parks will be planted for low maintenance with trees and shrubs which will be horticulturally pleasing. He concluded, "After all, isn't that part of the recreation scene—providing an area which gives the feeling of rest and serenity, through use of aesthetically pleasing plant material?"

Agricultural Competition At L.I. Fair

Fifteen dollars for twenty Long Island potatoes? $75 for a basket of fall vegetables?...$5 for three eggplants? No, it's not the latest grocery prices. That $15 will be awarded to the best collection of Long Island potatoes entered in the annual agricultural competition at the Long Island fair to be held October 10 through 13 at the Old Bethpage Village Restoration. The fair is still a few months away, but the premium book describing the hundreds of categories of exhibits is now available.

Exhibits will be accepted in a number of categories including hobbies, culinary arts, flower arrangements, fruits, vegetables, horticulture, poultry, needlework and more. Among the hobbies covered are leatherwork, model building and insect and mineral collections. In the needlework section, prospective exhibitors can enter quilts, handbags, afghans (both hand and machine made) and numerous other needlework products. For the farmers among us, the livestock section includes dairy and beef cattle, oxen, steers and sheep.

There are hundreds of separate categories, all with cash prizes ranging from $5 to $100. The competition is open to all and there are no entry fees. Besides potential prizes, all exhibitors receive two free passes to the fair and the thrill of seeing their own exhibits on display before the 25,000 visitors attracted to the fair each year.

The premium books listing all of the categories and complete rules and regulations can be obtained simply by calling 516-364-1050 or by writing to: The Long Island Fair, 1084 Muttontown Road, Syosset, New York 11791.

U.S. Designates L.I. As Economic Development District

After more than a year of prodding the U.S. Commerce Department, Congressman Jerome A. Ambro (3rd-N.Y.) has announced that Nassau and Suffolk Counties had been designated a U.S. Economic Development District (EDD), a move that will mean millions in additional federal assistance and economic aid programs for the two suburban counties.

Under terms of the arrangement, first tentatively agreed upon more than a year ago by Ambro and the Commerce Department, but subject to round after round of review and approval within the department, the island will become the first exclusively suburban district in the nation.

Ambro, a third term congressman, is the senior New York Member of the House Public Works and Transportation Committee which provides congressional approval and funding for the aid programs that become available to a region with EDD designation. By virtue of that all-important committee assignment, Ambro was the moving force behind obtaining EDD status for Long Island.

Designation has been sought by the entire Long Island business community and officials at all levels of government in the two counties.

In order to qualify for designation, a District must have at least one county tabbed as a redevelopment area and at least one growth center. In the case of Long Island, both counties are redevelopment areas and two growth centers have been cited.

A "Growth Center" is a community which can create job and income opportunities for residents of economically lagging areas, in other words, an area that is hospitable for the location of commercial and industrial enterprises which will boost the economic growth potential of the entire island. The two "growth centers" that have been designated are:

1. The urban corridor including and surrounding Mitchell Field: this includes the Towns and Villages of Carle Place, Franklin Square, Garden City, East Garden City, Garden City Park, Garden City South, parts of the Towns of Hempstead, North Hempstead, West Hempstead, Mineola, Uniondale, and other unincorporated areas of Nassau County in the vicinity.

2. Route 110 Corridor: this includes North and West Amityville, part of the Town of Babylon, Farmingdale, East and South Farmingdale, part of the Town of Huntington, Huntington Village, Huntington Station, South and West Huntington, Melville, West Melville, North Lindenhurst, Old Bethpage, part of the Town of Oyster Bay, Plainview, Woodbury and unincorporated areas of Nassau and Suffolk in the vicinity of Route 110.

Designation as an Economic Development District will make Long Island, its Towns and Villages and business and commercial enterprises eligible for millions of dollars in grants, loans, loan guarantees and technical assistance for public works, business development, economic adjustment assistance, planning, research, private sector activities and program evaluation. For example, in 1979, the Economic Development Administration parceled out more than $1 billion for economic development projects.

The first Long Island project that will receive funding under the program will be the massive redevelopment scheme for the old Zahn's Airport site in Suffolk for which $2 million in federal financing will lead to the development of a 150-acre complex housing 15-20 firms expected to permanently employ 2000 people.

Groundbreaking for the project occurred at the site on Aug. 7 and Congressman Ambro was scheduled to deliver the keynote address.

Long Island... The Cradle Of Aviation

Long Island's important role in aviation history is celebrated in a new film previewed at the Cradle of Aviation Museum at Mitchell Field. The 22-minute color film, was produced by Long Island Lighting Company and donated to the Friends of the Nassau County Museum, the public support group for all Nassau's museums.

The movie, "Long Island, The Cradle of Aviation," traces this area's contribution to the history of flying and to current space technology. The film is highlighted by rare old film footage of early takeoffs and landings on Long Island. Charles Lindbergh's historic flight from Roosevelt Field in 1927 is chronicled, as is an earlier, unsuccessful attempt by French war ace Rene Fonck to fly the same New York to Paris route. The film also shows the first automatic pilot flight, by Long Island aviation genius Lawrence Sperry, who developed the Sperry gyroscope for automatic flight.

In addition, the film covers the infant days of Long Island's giant aviation and aerospace industries, from the production of fighter planes used in World War II, through advances in commercial aircraft, to the design and execution of the lunar module used in man's first landing on the moon.

Norman R. Tengstrom, President of the Friends of the Nassau County Museum, said the film will be used to introduce viewers to the new Cradle of Aviation Museum and "to install in Long Islanders a sense of regional pride in the fabulous contributions the area has made to civilian and military aviation."

Mr. Tengstrom said that the name of the Museum's support group is being changed to Friends of Long Island Heritage to reflect the contributions that all of the island has made to the historical heritage of the region.

The Cradle of Aviation Museum is currently housed in two hangars and a former firehouse at Mitchell Field. Future plans call for the Museum to expand to include a space theatre with a multi-media dome display, a research library and a crafts center where model building and other skills will be taught. Now open to group tours by appointment only, the Museum will be open full time to the general public beginning in late 1981 or early 1982.

The Museum currently displays a collection of restored early aircraft as well as actual lunar landing and exploration equipment. Many of the early aircraft were painstakingly restored to original mint condition by members of the Long Island Early Fliers Club and other volunteers. Among the aircraft on display, and featured in the film, are the first plane ever owned by Charles Lindbergh and a full scale replica of an early Wright Brothers flying machine. The film also describes the thousands of aviation artifacts at the museum, including photographs, kites, models, blueprints and other memorabilia.

Copies of "Long Island, The Cradle of Aviation" are available as follows: Junior and senior high school groups should contact the film libraries of their local BOCES. All other groups can contact the Community Relations Department at LILCO, 250 Old Country Road, Mineola, New York 11501. Copies of the film are also available at the Cradle of Aviation Museum.

All of Hicksville has reason to be proud - just learned that the St. Ignatius Cadet Corps won the World Open Contest which was held in Lynn, Mass. on August 1. This is the seventh time the all-girl Cadet Corps won this title in the past eight years. They are a magnificent group. If you haven't seen them perform as yet, try to do so - you'll thoroughly enjoy yourself. Following the championship contest, the Corps travelled to Canada to compete in other contests. We're confident they'll be winners there, also.

A surprise bridal shower was held for Maureen Burch by her bridal party. The shower was held in her sister, Christine's home in South Farmingdale. Over thirty guests attended and enjoyed the festivities. Maureen received lovely gifts and was pleased and happy that so many of her friends and relatives were able to share in this event held in her honor. Maureen will be married on September 27 in St. Ignatius Loyola R.C. Church in Hicksville. Much happiness to you, Maureen.

Mary Knight, HICKSVILLE, is really "down to earth." Mary is back from a two-week visit with her brother, Tom, and his family. This was Mary's first trip by air plane, and she enjoyed the flights. While visiting Tom (he's stationed at Clovis Air Force Base in New Mexico), they took side trips to El Paso, TX and Mexico. Mary said she did all her Christmas shopping while visiting various sites of interest. They also had the opportunity to view a movie in the making when they were in Texas. Mary and the others met a number of movie stars and were quite impressed with their friendliness. All in all, Mary had a wonderful trip, and she said "It was over too soon."

Joseph Cipriani, husband of the former Patricia Fischer of 336 West Nicholas Street, is home for the summer from the University of Bologna, Italy, School of Medicine. Joe will be entering a Clinical Externship in Radiology at Nassau Hospital in Mineola until the fall when he returns to Italy. Patricia grew up in Hicksville and attended our local schools. Her parents, Helen and Fred, are long-time residents of Hicksville.

We wish a very special happy birthday to Mrs. Anne Bardenhagen who celebrated her birthday on July 26. Her daughter, Anne Rennert, held a family party for her mother. In addition to Anne's husband, Bob, their daughter, Terri, and son, Jim, Jim's wife Maureen, and her parents, Anne and John Armond, attended the affair. And, of course, Mrs. Bardenhagen's son, John, was there with his wife, Marge, and their children, John, Jr. and Tommy. A delicious dinner, replete with birthday cake and gifts, enjoyed by all. Best wishes for many more happy birthdays, Mrs. Bardenhagen.

Tom Kluck of Suggs Lane, HICKSVILLE, is now stationed in Portsmouth Naval Base, N.H. Tom is a member of the crew of the submarine U.S.S. Bancroft. He's delighted to be able to come home on the weekends that he's not on duty. Even more pleased are his parents, Jo and Bob Kluck, and his two brothers, Bob, Jr. and Steve. Good luck to you, Tom.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

VENERABLE TONY PREVITE'S MESSAGE

"Practice yourself to little things and things proceed to greater." - Epictetus
To forward any information concerning the good and welfare of the Galileo Lodge, please contact Venerable Tony Previte at 731-0466.

The Hawaiian Dance held by the Galileo Lodge was a success. Close to 300 people enjoyed a splendid Hawaiian-styled dinner consisting of many different Hawaiian dishes, beer, soda, set-ups, coffee and cake and some very pleasant dance music from the Tiny Caruso combo. The atmosphere was congenial and the people friendly and spontaneous, and a great deal of credit should be directed to Skip Monteforte, the Chairman, and his aides, Jeff Wallick and Pete Massiello, who once again have shown that it takes time and effort to make an affair successful. In view of these performances by these very talented and capable members, the Galileo Lodge, in acknowledgement, extends its warmest thanks and appreciation for such marvelous dedication to our organization. Some interesting sidelights to this dance were the Galileo Lodge's 'Honey Trio', Hawaiian dancing girls in disguise and they were (with their costumes off) Jeff Wallick, Bert Molinari and Jack Riccardi. Sr. Another pleasant note was my introduction to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Giasi, friends of Rose and Jack Riccardi (another gracious couple), who met at a senior citizens function and were married after a four-month courtship. More beautiful was the news that Angelina Giasi was a widow for 39 years and Tony was a widower for eight years. A more thrilling story we couldn't find. Congratulations from all of us at the Lodge.

Can it be that the Galileo Lodge is becoming a mecca for aspiring 'showbiz' talent or is it becoming an oasis in the middle of the Long Island desert from which to draw up talent, and all this in relation to the presentation of the 1980 'Foolies Follies' by the Ladies Auxiliary on October 3rd. On that night, as the side-splitting laughter and hearty gaffaw reverberate throughout the cavern of the Galileo Lodge, it will be Fun House. The price of admission will be $8.00 a person, featuring food, beer, soda, coffee and cake. An open bar will be at your convenience, and this revue will start around 8:30 and food to be served at 7:30. Jeff Wallick and Rose Riccardi will direct this revue. Monday nights will be meeting nights to review the talent available, which will come from the male and female members of the organization and perhaps the abilities of our friends and patrons will be put to good use also. Contact Jeff at 681-8428 and Rose at 681-0960 for more details.

Don't forget the Galileo Lodge's Night At The Races, to be held on August 18th. Price of admission will be $15 per person and this entitles you to a dinner at the Cloud Casino of Roosevelt Raceway and Club house admittance. Contact Tony Balestrino (785-1462) for more Raceway details. Operation VFW

By Lou Palladino

Last meeting was one of the shortest meeting that ever went in the books. Except when a special occasion was going on and the books would get opened and closed quickly. More than likely we will pay for it at a later date. The reason for such a short meeting was that all committee chairmen are starting a new year and there is very little to report at the beginning of a new year. We made a big joke of it but we don't want too many of these meetings. No discussions, no debates takes the fun out of a good meeting. A healthy Post must have debates and discussions. This is what makes a Post strong. The novelty of a short meeting did make it humorous. Remarks were past, and all had a good laugh about the situation.

When all was said and done, we did make time to accept new members into the fold. Two were transfers from another Post. They are Al Huttick, a young tiger, and Ben Shepps and old war horse. The new members were Woody Beardsale a young tiger and Morris Hirsch and old war horse. Comrades we are happy to have you among us as part of a fine group. Now it's up to you to enjoy our Post and try to help the less fortunate. This is your Post to do, as you wish. It is our hope that each time a new member enters into our Ralls he will be active and help us better things and try to make things easier for everybody to help.

With all the heat we have been having this summer, we came up with a date for our Charter Night Dinner Dance which will be Feb. 21st 1981. It's a little early for any other information but you will hear more as time progresses.

Duncan McLean made his report on the Met game, thirty children were taken. Aside from the Mets getting clobbered everybody had a good time.

A Past Commanders Roast is set for Sept. 6th and the recipient for this year's Roast is Mike Znack, even though it hasn't been announced on the floor.

We would like to take this time to mourn a Comrade who through the years worked hard for our Post, Lou Klein. He was a good man, a good worker for our Post, and his family. Anything that was asked of Lou he never refused. Most of you who knew Lou knew what a tireless worker he was for our cause. You might say he passed away almost a month ago, why talk about it now? We of our Post should try to always remember people like Lou, because we wouldn't be where we are without them. Again our sincere condolences to his family.

Another hard worker in our Post had a heart attack. Frank Lotti is the fella. We have to sacrifice Frank for his own good. He is coming along very well, but will have to take it easy. Take it light good Buddy, we still need you and want you around. Another good comrade, Angelo Patrino, had a by-pass operation. Both of them should be home by the time this goes to print, but a card is always nice to get. Stay well both of you.

The winner of the 50-50 raffle this time was... you wouldn't believe it... that's right... none other than yours truly! I was all set to have an investigation until this happened!!

The next meeting will be Aug. 11th. Come on over!

LEGAL NOTICE

At a Special Term Part II of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, held in and for the County of Nassau, at the Court house at 100 Supreme Court Drive, Mineola, New York on the 11th day of July, 1980.

PRESENT:

HON. MARIO PITTONI
Justice

In the Matter of the Application of

JUDY SHICKLER

Petitioner for the Dissolution of MARION AND JUDY'S NIMBLE NEEDLE, INC., a New York Corporation

11514/80

On reading and filing the annexed petition of JUDY SHICKLER, duly verified the 9th day of July, 1980 and the exhibits attached thereto, from which it appears that MARION AND JUDY'S NIMBLE NEEDLE, INC. (hereinafter referred to as the Corporation) is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the Business Corporation Law of the State of New York; that the Petitioner is the equitable owner of one-half of the outstanding shares of the Corporation and is one of its two directors; that the directors of the Corporation are so divided that the votes required for action by the Board of Directors cannot be obtained; that there is internal dissension in that the directors are so deadlocked that dissolution of the Corporation would be beneficial to the stockholders; that the parties are unable to agree on the terms of a voluntary dissolution of the corporation; that such dissolution would not cause any injury to the public; that the petitioner presently is unable to ascertain whether the Corporation is solvent, and that it is necessary to appoint a Receiver to preserve, marshal and distribute the assets of the Corporation pending its dissolution; it is

On motion of SIMON, WASSERMAN and WEINBERG, attorneys for the petitioner,

ORDERED that MARION AND JUDY'S NIMBLE NEEDLE INC., MARION SLOANE, the State Tax Commission and all persons interested in MARION AND JUDY'S NIMBLE NEEDLE INC. show cause at a Special Term, Part I of this Court to be held at the Courthouse on Supreme Court Drive, Mineola, Nassau County, New York, on the 18 day of August 1980 at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, why an Order should not be made and entered herein appointing a Receiver for the purpose of marshalling the assets of the Corporation, satisfying the existing obligations of the Corporation, satisfying the existing obligations of the Corporation and thereafter dissolving the Corporation pursuant to the provisions of Article II of the Business Corporation Law; and it is further

ORDERED, that a copy of this Order be published in the Plainview Herald once a week in each of the three weeks immediately preceeding the return date of this Order to Show Cause, and it is further

ORDERED, that copies of this Order, and the annexed petition be served upon the State Tax Commission, MARION AND JUDY'S NIMBLE NEEDLE INC. and MARION SLOANE, as provided in Section 1106(c) of the Business Corporation Law; and it is further ORDERED, that the publication and service of this Order, as provided herein, shall be effected by the Petitioner.

Long Island Blood Services' labs separate 85 per cent of the blood into five life saving components that can help a different hospital patient.

Red cells are used in surgery and acute cases of anemia; white cells strengthen the disease resistance of patients suffering from long seizures of illness; plasma restores life sustaining fluids to shock and burn victims; platelets prevent cancer patients receiving chemotherapy from hemorrhaging; and cryoprecipitate, the clotting factor in blood, allows hemophiliacs to lead normal lives.

A community's most precious natural resource is blood. Without your donations all the technology in the world can't help hospital patients. There is no substitute for blood.

If you are 17 and over, in good health, and weigh over 110 pounds you can donate.

To make an appointment to donate or to find out your nearest donor location call Long Island Blood Services at 752-7326.

Without your donation this summer, hundreds of your neighbors in area hospitals will have a slim chance of seeing next summer.
