Hicksville "Baseball Town, U.S.A."

By Thomas E. Nealon

The last week in July and the first week in August are traditionally the most exciting days for amateur baseball, for these are the days when the hometown all-stars play neighboring teams for local recognition. This year the Hicksville Baseball Association's teams have done us PROUD. Chartered into four amateur baseball leagues, our boys won three major titles. Our Hicksville National Little League All-Stars are District 33 Champions; our Pony All-Stars are Long Island Champions; and our Connie Mack team won their Divisional title.

Winning seven games in a row, our Little Leaguers became H.B.A.'s first and Hicksville's second team ever to cup the District 33 flag. After taking the Suffolk County champions, they became the first team from the District to be represented in the Long Island Little League finale. The boys got there through consistent team effort, fine sportsmanship and excellent training.

Pitchers Anthony Cordero (4-0) and Daniel Rehman (3-0) were superb, averaging 11 strikeouts a game and each allowed only 2 earned runs. Power hitting was supplied by Cordero (2 Home Runs and 2 triples) and Brian Turincasi (2 Home Runs). Timely game winning hits were contributed by Jim Patwell, Christopher Nealon, Turincasi and Cordero. Four players hit over 350: Vito Cassese, Michael Mallen, Nealon and Turincasi. Excellent fielding was provided by Cassese in right, Kevin O'Lenahan at short, Scott Papacuri at second, Daniel Rehman at first and Vincent Pellizzi behind the plate. Other players contributing to the solidarity of this team were Steven Calapai, Anthony Luparello, Ralph SanAntonio and Joseph Sulo.

This was an exciting team. With two outs in the last inning and down two runs to a fine Hicksville American team, Vinny Pellizzi, Mike Mullen and Scott Papacuri all got on base and then Chris Nealon doubled them home to win a district game. But even that was topped when, again in the last of the sixth with two outs and down two runs, Vito Cassese got his third hit of the day and Anthony Cordero hit one out of the park to send the Long Island Championship game into extra innings. It took a fine Seaford team ten innings to win the title and even the ending was dramatic as Cordero's last shut was caught at the fence with Cassese rounding third.

Manager Anthony Cordero Sr.,

Couch Tom Hartman, Director Bill Herman and Fred Papacuri spent many hours with these boys molding them into a winning team.

The H.B.A. fourteen year-old all-stars are the Long Island Pony Baseball Champions. They won this title on the weekend of July 26 when they had to come from behind to win a best of three series with the Levittown All-Stars. In the opener Joe Migliano lost a pitchers' duel to Levittown's ace, 3-1. In the second, John Autolino was coasting along on a three hit shut out when in the seventh he lost his control and Levittown moved ahead 4-3. Mark Nealon opened the bottom of the inning with a single up the middle. David Mercado, pinch-running, moved to second on Bobby Russo's sacrifice and scored on Joe Valentino's hit to left. Joe Migliano hit a home run to ice the victory.

Mr. Budnick is shown pinning his "K" pin on Mr. Keenan, while Mr. Widder is congratulating Mr. Budnick for bringing Mr. Keenan into Kiwanis.

School Board Sets Tax Rate

By Linda Strongin

The Hicksville Board of Education adopted a resolution at its meeting Wednesday evening, setting the tax rate at $18.793 per $100 of assessed valuation. The figure represents an increase of $8.87 over last year's tax rate and includes the library tax rate of $6.69, an increase of $3.67.

The figure was arrived at after over 90 minutes of discussion among Board members, Superintendent Dr. Wilber Hawkins, and District Business Manager Richard Weigang. Mr. Weigang announced that the assessed valuation of the Hicksville school district had dropped $808,566, causing an additional increase of $1.14. However, the Board found areas in the budget to make up for the lost revenues ($183,849) from this decrease.

These areas included $80,000 from capital improvements, budgeted for gas conversion which has been abandoned. Later is no longer furnishing authorization to convert to gas. Also $20,000 is being taken from fuel oil expenditures with fuel oil rebudgeted at $1.10 per gallon, a decrease of $1.00 per gallon. $37,000 will come from unexpected surplus and the remaining $11,849 will come from tax anticipation notes borrowing costs. The rate of 8 percent for borrowing, a total of $640,000, was budgeted but Mr. Weigang stated the rate is less.

Originally, a recommendation had been made by the administration to take the funds from other areas. However, Trustees Virginia Germer and Charlene Anci felt the amount could be found in "areas not affecting the education and safety of the children."

Trustees John Ayres and Dan Arena questioned the "shell game" that was being played; and the interpretation of what the voter actually votes on (expended budget, not the amount of tax increase).

Resident Iris Wolfson addressed the Board on the matter, itemizing and asking questions concerning surpluses in various areas, including among others, tax anticipation rate borrowing expenditure; transportation; gas conversion; life insurance premium increase; and fuel oil expenditure.

Voting no to the motion setting the tax rate and the amount of revenues to be raised was Trustee Dan Arena.

Before the meeting began, the first press conference under the new ruling by Board President Tom Nagle was held. Confusion reigned among those in attendance concerning the necessity of the press conference, but especially on the points of speaking during the public session at Board meetings, and whether or not a response would be given at that time to questions asked later during the meeting. Mr. Nagle stated that "if a question is asked during the press conference, and you do not feel you got the right answer, you can ask it again during the meeting." Mr. Ayres stated at the press conference that the "concept had never been adopted by the Board" and that was his objection. He also questioned if Vice President Bill Bennett, who conducted the press conference in Mr. Nagle's absence (he was at a grievance meeting with members of the Hicksville Congress of Teachers), was acting on behalf of the entire Board.

The press conference concept was short lived when during the meeting Mr. Ayres moved that the President be given the authority to hold press conferences before board meetings; that the meetings be taped; and that responses to answers would be read under correspondence at the following Board meeting to allow the public to be informed. Mr. Ayres' motion lost 1 to 6. Mr. Nagle felt the motion too restrictive and Mr. Arena and Secretary Neil McCormack felt the matter should be tabled until after a few press conferences would be held.

This action meant the Board did not give the President authorization to hold a press conference.

The Board appointed Mr. Gerald Klein as principal of the Hicksville Junior High School effective August 18, 1980, at a salary of $41,822. Mr. Klein is currently principal of IS 218 in Brooklyn. He has had experience as an elementary and junior high

On Sunday, with booming bats and behind Harvey Chin's five hits, the team took their title in a 7-4 contest. On the very next day the Long Island Champs had to go to Kearney, N.J. to play the host team in the Metropolitan Tournament. Making five miscues one does not expect to win. But to Joe Valentino who struck out 13 batters, walked only 2 and gave up just four hits the 5-3 loss was a heartbreaker, especially when a Migliano home run and a Harvey Chin triple could produce only two runs.

On Wednesday, July 30, playing their fifth "do or die" game in five days, our Ponies were defeated by the New York City champions, 4-2. Again, with a few breaks the score could have been different. A ball four turned in a called "Strike three", cost a run and killed a rally. Joe Migliano's hit off the fence was short by two feet from tying the score in the sixth. This team was truly made up of all-stars. There are four legitimate all-star pitchers: John Autolino, Harvey Chin, Joe Migliano and Joe Valentino. In future years you'll read much about them. The team had five hitters batting over .333 in all-star competition: Harvey Chin, Ron Colletuori, John McAtee, Joe Migliano and Mark Nealon. Defensive plaudits go to Ron Colletuori, Joe Migliano, Mark Nealon and Bobby Russo. Dave Mercado supplied speed and "heads-up" base running in clutches. Rounding out the best of high quality players are: catcher Joe O'Connell, relief pitcher Bill Wannan, utility in-fielder Roger Fremgen and out-fielders Mike Magee, Charlie Elder and John Pawlowski.

To the boys and to Director Don Garrett, Manager Al Green, Coach Ralph Russo and Player-Representative Sal Autolino we thank you for a job well done. We look forward to our 1981 Culf All-Star team.

The H.B.A. Connie Mack team under the direction of Manager Jim Healy and Coaches Tom Hartman and Tony Cordero have completed their first year in this highly regarded level of play with a record of 20-4. They are scheduled for tournament play this week.

As you can see this has been an exceptional year for the Hicksville Baseball Association, our town and especially our players. We owe many thanks to our volunteers who have given so much of themselves for all of our children, be they all-stars or novices. Because of their love for children and the game, our national sport, baseball, is alive and doing well in our town. It has been a pleasure to represent this Association as president.

Yankees Prove A Point

The under 15 Hicksville Yankees roared through the Smithtown Tournament last weekend and made believers of several hundred spectators at the championship game against a team from England. The Hicksville boys really came to play and put on a dazzling demonstration of passing, teamwork and superb defense to defeat the English 2-0. The Yankees took charge immediately and forced the English out of their game and into a 'long ball' offense. This was done by the total control of the mid-field with short, accurate passes and persistent, aggressive tackling. England hoped that the long ball would pass Hicksville's mid-field and penetrate the defense but Hicksville's fullback line more than met the test and repelled every attack.

Basically, Hicksville defeated the English team with a superior display of skill, determination and endurance as; in the semi-final the Yankees had to play an extremely strong opponent while England had a relatively easy match. In the semis, the boys had to meet an all-star team from St. Anthony's (Smithtown) and defeated them in a very close 1-0 game on a header by Jimmy Demarco off a Paul McGeough corner.

Coaches Bill Cresham and Pat McHugh were extremely pleased with the boys performance and rewarded them with three weeks off before they jump right back in

The 15 boys that make up the Hicksville Yankees are: Bobby Andrus, Vinny Christiano, Billy Cresham, Jimmy Demarco, Steve Dolan, Cliff Feldman, John Fitzgerald, George Marco, Jimmy and Paul McGeough, John Mitchell, Robby Pearse, Adrian Pepi, Dave Smyth, Steve Thompson and Gene Tyranski. Congratulations to the boys and their coaches for bringing all those trophies home to Hicksville.

THE HICKSVILLE YANKEES: boys born in 1965 or later brought 7 championships home to Hicksville this year starting with the Hicksville Indoor Tournament, the Holy Trinity Indoor, the Long Island League, The L.I. Cup and the Massapequa, Cow Harbor and Smithtown Tournaments. Standing: Vinny Christiano, Steve Thompson, Steve Dolan, Gene Tyranski, Jimmy Demarco, Adrian Pepi, Dave Smyth and John Mitchell. Kneeling: Bobby Cullen, George Marco, Billy Cresham, Paul McGeough, Bobby Andrus, Robby Pearse, Jim McGeough and Cliff Feldman. Missing: Coaches Bill Cresham and Pat McHugh and fullback John Fitzgerald.

Dear Friends....

GUESS WHAT? I received a very pleasant telephone call last week from Louis Wollenhaupt, a former, longtime Hicksvillian and Post office official, who presently lives in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Louis and his b.w. Arline visited Hicksville recently. They spent time with Mrs. Wollenhaupt's sister, Florence Metz of Duffy Avenue, and they also visited other members of her family, including Bill and Edna Olsen, Harold and Helen Kasten of Hicksville, also Edward and Helen Kasten of East Northport, plus many friends and acquaintances.

"The many social events were superb," the Wollenhauts said. "And we think that the Hicksville Memorial Fountain is beautiful." While here they visited the Hicksville Gregory Museum and expressed the hope that the people of our town will decide to keep this fine museum right here in Hicksville.

Both the Wollenhauts were born in Hicksville. During this recent visit, Mrs. Wollenhaupt met Dr. Leon Galway in Holdens Stationery Store and was so pleased that Dr. G. remembered her as one of his former students. Arline's maiden name is Kasten.

Their son, Gary, who graduated from Lutheran High School in Brookville, sends best regard to all his Hicksville friends.

In conclusion, Mr. Wollenhaupt told me that he had talked with Senator Barry Goldwater not too long ago, who remembered Len Hall and said that he remembered Oyster Bay as one beautiful place!

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and remember the old saying, "We can all beat inflation if we just use our dollars and sense."

Merk - Kamermayer

Carolyn Merk, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Merk of Hicksville, became the bride of Thomas Kamermayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kamermayer, former residents of Hicksville, at a 3 p.m. Nuptial Mass at St. Ignace R.C. Church, Hicksville, on Saturday, Aug. 9.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Karen Heron, and her flower girl was Linda Heron who is only 19 months old. The best man was the groom's brother, Kenneth Kamermayer. The three bridesmaids were friends of the bride. The ushers were brothers of the bride and groom, Al and Ray Merk and Jim Kamermayer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the New Hyde Park Inn on Jericho Tpke., New Hyde Park.

The newlyweds left for Florida where they will reside after their honeymoon trip.

TOB Hires Private Law Firm To Protect One-Family Zoning

The Oyster Bay Town Board today voted to hire special counsel to defend an action brought by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) involving the Town's so-called anti-grouper zoning law.

Councilman Joseph Saladino said the hiring of special counsel was made necessary by the recent death of Senior Deputy Town Attorney David Weinblatt, who had been involved in the litigation for several years.

Town Attorney John F. Bogut recommended the law firm of Farrell, Fritz, Caemmerer and Cleary of Williston Park be retained to handle the trial at a fee not to exceed $5,000.

The trial had been slated to begin on June 16 in Nassau Supreme Court, Mineola. An adjournment until August 20 was granted. The Town until the trial attorneys could be retained and their case prepared.

Under attack is an Oyster Bay Town zoning ordinance barring unrelated persons from living together in one-family houses. In early 1977, the Town brought an action to stop four unrelated young men from occupying a private house at 42 Frankel Road, Massapequa. The ACLU join the case on the side of the tenants and the home owners, Robert and Joan McMinn, and seeks to challenge the constitutionality of the law.

Hicksville Fire Report

were treated and released from the hospitals later that day.

Black Cloud

Attacks Hicksville

On Saturday, Aug. 2, a sudden local thunder storm lashed Hicksville with wind, rain, and scores of spectacular lightning bolts. Soon after, Hicksville Fire Dispatcher, John Luft, started getting one alarm after another. Most of the calls were downed or burning power lines, but lightning caused $6,000.00 damage to a house at 42 Georgia St., Hicksville. Thirty-five Hicksville Vamps and four units under Asst. Chief Owen Magee fought the house fire, while other vamps, assisted by Vamps from Westbury and Plainview, responded to the other calls.

On one call, on Dartmouth Dr., one person was burned after attempting to start a stalled car, by pouring a small can of gasoline into the carburetor. The gasoline flared up causing second degree burns to the hands and arm of the driver.

Labor Day-1980

52nd Parade And Drill
Once again, the Hicksville Fire

Dept. will host the Annual Labor Day Firefighters Parade and Drill. The Parade will start as usual - 9 a.m. sharp, Monday Sept. 1. The parade will proceed west on Old Country Rd. from Jerusalem Ave. to Levittown Parkway. The 52nd Annual event is being engineered by Capt. Mike Krummacker and his committee.

Back in the '50's, Levittown Parkway was the site of several Labor Day Drills. Hicksville Vamps reluctantly return to Levittown Parkway due to the fact there is no place left in Hicksville to handle the drill. Local Vamps hope to keep the inconveniences to home owners in the area to a minimum and will see to it that the park grounds and surrounding neighborhoods are cleaned as necessary, after the crowd leaves. Local Vamps will work two weeks at the Levittown Parkway site setting up for one of New York State's largest Fire Tournaments.

More information will follow in later editions.

The Way It Was

During the Forties, the Grumman War Production Corps did more than supply the boys overseas with the best fighters in the skies. Their spare time was filled with volunteer work... from blood drives to bond sign-ups to cigarette and care package shipments to entertaining the wounded in local hospitals. These unselfish acts touched thousands of GIs, but on one occasion in 1945, their actions paid back handsomely for a little boy named Jimmy who's dad was the head timekeeper in Plant 1. Here's how PLANE NEWS, the company newspaper, reported the event on March 8, 1945:

Little Jimmy Brady is back in school today, a healthy, happy youngster without a care in the world. Gone completely is every trace of lobar pneumonia which a few short weeks ago had him confined to a hospital feverish and gasping for the very breath of life. Jimmy, a normal 6 1/2 year-old that he is, has probably forgotten all about that bitter experience, but his dad, Frank X. Brady, and his mother, will never forget. And they'll never cease to appreciate that Grumman's "pull" with servicemen's hospitals saved their son's life.

When their son came down with pneumonia, Frank and his family doctor phoned every civilian hospital in the Long Island area in a vain effort to locate a supply of the only drug that could save him. The search went on for hours, with Jimmy sinking rapidly. They learned that the nearest source was Chicago, and that it would take 35 hours to get it to Jimmy. That would be too late.

Finally, in desperation, the distraught father took his problem to "Jake" Swirbul, one of the company's original founders. Jake listened only long enough to get the facts and then dispatched a half a dozen persons to get nearby servicemen's hospitals on the phone.

Employee Lee Sherbourne was the first to make contact. After a few seconds, he signalled the others to hang up. The search was over.

"As soon as I identified myself as representing Grumman," Sherbourne later explained, "the captain on the other end of the wire said, 'Sure we'll be glad to help you out. We'll send two containers over right away.' The name 'Grumman' seemed to be magic."

It was revealed later that the Grumman Fullies, (scores of Grumman volunteers who sang, danced and played music), had put on a bang-up show at this very hospital a few nights earlier and this same captain had been present in the audience. He needed no introduction to Grumman.

Next, Ed Mulcahey of the auto emergency service was notified and a Grumman car was sent on its way to the hospital. Two hours later, Jimmy had had his first shot of the drug and was already showing signs of improvement.

Twelve years later the same Jimmy Brady graduated from Hicksville High School and became a riveter in Plant 2. After an assortment of production jobs at Grumman, Jim moved into planning and scheduling. When the company announced plans to move the OV-1 Mohawk program to Stuart, Florida, one of his old bosses asked him to go. So, in 1969, Jim and his family moved south. Today, he is head of the Engineering Drawing and Supply Department, handling all the drawings for Stuart's versatile programs from the Mohawk to the new Boeing 767 job.

Though he doesn't recall those three months in the hospital back in 1945, Jim does remember people coming into his room to take his picture and present him with a Grumman Wildcat model and poster. "As a parent, I can understand how happy and grateful my parents were to Grumman," says Jim. "It's hard to imagine that 35 years ago, average citizens couldn't get their hands on that drug."

What was that magical cure? Penicillin.

Editor's Note: Ed Mulcahey Sr., retired from Grumman 18 years ago. He's now 84 years old and living in St. James, Long Island. Jim Brady's father passed away six years ago at the age of 72; his mother, 78, is living with Jim's family in Florida. As with many people who came to work at Grumman during the war years, Lee Sherbourne left after the war; his whereabouts are unknown. Jake Swirbul was the company president from 1946 until his death in 1960.

Happy anniversary to a lovely couple - Maria and Bob Hoe of Mayfair Lane, HICKSVILLE. The Hoes were married sixteen years on August 9. They celebrated with their children, Christopher and Stephanie, by dining out at a local restaurant. Congratulations and best wishes to you both.

Mrs. Anne Bardenhagen, who celebrated her birthday on July 26, was the recipient of two birthday parties, we were told. Last week we reported on the party her Hicksville daughter, Anne Renner, had given her mother. This week we'll tell you about the party she was given by Nancy Blymer. Mrs. Bardenhagen is a resident of the Central Island Nursing Home in Plainview, and Nancy is one of the volunteers there. Nancy has "adopted" Mrs. "B" as her grandmother and arranged a birthday party in her honor. Over 40 guests attended the festivities which was held in Central Island's dining room. Nancy decorated the room, made souvenir bookmarks for the occasion, and arranged for a beautiful cake from the Millbridge Inn. Last year Nancy held a similar party for "Grandma" Bardenhagen. What a kind and thoughtful person you are, Nancy. And what a worthwhile "Grandma" you have.

And we slipped up on some information we were told back in June. Vincent and Mary Calvanese celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on June 17, 1980. Their children, Jerry, Peter, Vincent and Maria, held a surprise party for their parents to commemorate the occasion. Thirty guests attended this happy and festive event.

We were delighted to see Ida Mae Herfurth up and around at a recent meeting we attended. She's feeling fine after her recent illness. She was driven to the meeting by her friend, Jean Crawford. Accompanying them were neighbors, Frank and Louise Montfort. They truly enjoyed the special dinner meeting that was held by the E.F. Republican Club of Hicksville.

July is especially happy and busy month for Dot and Tom Gallahue of Underhill Boulevard, HICKSVILLE. They were married 38 years on July 4; their daughter, Dot's birthday was July 7; their grandson, Tommy's birthday was July 25; and their grandson, John's, birthday was July 9. The entire family made merry all month long.

HICKSVILLEite Mildred Berner's son, Thomas Patrick received his doctorate from Northwestern University July 24, 1980. His wife, Debbie, is so proud of her husband - but no more so than his mother, Mildred. Thomas and Debbie have a 10-month daughter, Jessica. He's employed by DeKalb City

Hicksville Republican Club News

By Harriet Maher

The Club's special dinner meeting last Friday evening was a smash success. There was plenty of good food and friendly people. For those of you who were unable to attend, we do hope you will be able to join us at some of our future functions. And now here's a message from Tom Gallahue, our EXECUTIVE LEADER, HICKSVILLE-WEST:

"Without overly belaboring the issue, I cannot impress upon you enough that we must, elect Ronald Reagan as President of the United States. As I write this, Senator Kennedy withdrew from the presidential race, and the delegates at the Democratic National Convention have passed a platform that is guaranteed to wreck the economy of this country by placing the costs for millions of additional jobs directly on the shoulders of the working people! Now that President Carter's is renominated our goal is clear...the nation cannot stand another four years of double digit inflation waste, ineptitude and degradation in the eyes of the world.

"Along with the above, I urge all registered Republicans to vote in the U.S. Senatorial Primary on September 9, 1980. Cast your vote for Al D'Amato. He is not beholden to any liberal factions. Since 1956, Senator Jake Javits has voted with all of the liberal bills coming to the Senate floor for final approval-including the Panama Canal giveaway. It's time we retired Senator Javits and put Al D'Amato in the running for the U.S. Senate. He is not afraid to attempt to restore this nation to its former greatness.

Believe it or not, over 100 Congressmen sent a letter to Iran pleading for an early hostage solution. Guess who most of them are? Iran, in the meantime, is adamant, and new ransom demands they are making are: 1) Lifting the freeze on Iranian assets in the U.S., 2) Stopping the embargo against Iran; 3) Immediate halt of adverse publicity; 4) Stopping the alleged harassment of Iranian students in the U.S. I had to mention the above ransom demands of for no other reason than to show the type of policy we have in the present weak-kneed administration.

"So to recap: in the primary, vote for Al D'Amato; and in November, the Reagan Team."

We would like to introduce you the two Committeemen who represent you in the 12th Assembly District and the 10th Election District: Frank Gioia and George Capone. Their area starts at Fordham Avenue and Holy Family Church and runs through to Winter Lane.

Frank has been a committeeman for 7 years in Hicksville; and prior to that, he was a committeeman in Massapequa for 11 years. Actually, Frank since he was 7 years old, used to accompany his father, Anthony, who was active in his Republican Club, and help his Dad put up political posters and give out campaign material. Frank's children are now helping him the way he used to help his father.

As a committeeman in Hicksville, Frank has assisted in increasing the number of registered Republications in his district by approximately 30 percent. He has also been instrumental in aiding his constituents with various community problems such as repairing street lights, improving sanitation pick ups, placement of stop signs, etc. Frank's motto is "If you help the people, the voters will help you." Frank is married to Janet and they have three children: Anthony (8 yrs.), Christopher (6 yrs.), and Dana Marie (1 yr.)

George Capone has been a committeeman with Frank for over a year. They make an excellent team and work together in being of service to their constituents. The residents on Cherry Lane were complaining about unsightly weeds and grasses in their area. George found out who was responsible for proper lawn maintenance of this area, and saw to it that the situation was corrected. George says he's helping the people to the best of his ability and in any way he can. He's eager to become more involved in community affairs. George is married to his wife, Pat, for 14 years. They have five children: Patti Anne (13 yrs.), Joyce (10 yrs.), Cara (8 yrs.), Susan (7 yrs.), and George, Jr. (3 yrs.). The four oldest children attend Holy Family R.C. School, and Pat is president of the Mother's Club at Holy Family School.

You can see from the preceding that Frank Gioia and George Capone are active, interested and concerned committeemen who want to help you. If you need their assistance, and you are in their district, call them at 822-9565 or 822-6080, their respective telephone numbers.

CP Council Elects New Leaders

Three chief officers and other board members were recently elected to the Council of Cerebral Palsy Auxiliaries which oversees the activities of 35 auxiliaries with 7,000 members working on behalf of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Nassau County.

Named to the top posts were Midge Lavery of Wantagh as president, Ginny Lutz of Oceanside as executive vice president and Natalie Alloy of Old Bethpage as administrative vice president.

The council has won national recognition for its leadership and other training programs. Auxiliary members gain valuable experience in fundraising and community education, in addition to enjoying various social functions.

Mrs. Lavery joined the Wantagh auxiliary in 1958 and has remained active in CP ever since. Moving steadily upward, she was elected president of the auxiliary for three years beginning in 1966 and simultaneously held several chairmanships on the council board assuming increasingly greater responsibilities.

Also involved with other community organizations, she served on the Mid Island Council of the Girl Scouts as a trainer of leaders, as a member of the Forest City Community Association of Wantagh which named her "Woman of the Year" in 1969, and is a past president of the Flight Engineers Wives of American Airlines where her husband Bill has been employed for 38 years.

In 1956, she received the Scout's Award from the Nassau County Southeast District of the Boy Scouts of America and the CP Council President's Award in 1976.

The new executive vice president, Ginny Lutz has devoted 22 years to cerebral palsy beginning with membership in the Oceanside auxiliary.

In 1966 she was named a district vice president on council and served in that post for 10 years. Her accomplishments were recognized by the council in 1974 when she received the President's Award.

She has served as chairperson of various council events through the years, and is especially proud to have been co-chairperson of the 1979 Today's Woman Luncheon.

Administrative vice president Natalie Alloy has been affiliated with cerebral palsy for 18 years. In 1972, she was elected president of the Plainview auxiliary. Following her two year term in office, Mrs. Alloy became active on council, first as publicity chairperson and subsequently as membership chairperson and district vice president.

Her husband Herb is a vice president on the association's board of directors and chairperson of the UCP NASSAU telephone business and industry committee.

Their daughter Cathy is a client in the adult services program at the center.

Also elected to the council board were: BELLMORE: Luz Rich, district vice president; HEMPSTEAD: Lillian Antonucci, membership vice president; EAST MEADOW: Phyllis Monchik, Treasurer; Natalie Summers, district vice president and Harriet Troy, recording secretary; EAST ROCKAWAY: Geri Zeff, district vice president; FARMINGDALE: Rosemarie Karahalis, district vice president.

ON LONG ISLAND, THERE ARE MORE CHEMICAL BANKS THAN THERE ARE McDONALD'S.

No matter where on the Island you happen to be, whether it's Northport or Southampton, East Meadow or West Hempstead, there's a Chemical Bank a few minutes away.

And at each of those branches you'll find the same friendly service. The kind of personal attention that's turned many part-time customers into regulars.

At each Chemical location, you'll also notice that every line is an express line. So whether you're ordering checks or checking your balance, you're in and out in no time.

That's the case at our auto teller windows, too. At all 106 of them, people place their orders and get served immediately. With a smile that's become one of Chemical's famous daily specials.

Flexible hours is another one of our specialties. Which is why at some branches you can cash a check as early as 8 in the morning. Or make a deposit as late as 8 in the evening.

From our fast and friendly service, to our convenient hours, to our branches that cover the length of the Island itself, we have the ingredients that make the chemistry on Long Island just right.

school principal; has authorized and received numerous grants for special projects; and has experience in innovative school programs. He received his BA degree from the University of Louisville and his Master's from Hofstra University. He is currently pursuing his PhD at Fordham University. Mr. Klein resides in Rockville Centre.

Voting no on the appointment was Mr. Ayres, who questioned the process of the hiring, stating that not enough time and "materials and information on other candidates" was provided to the Board. Mrs. Anci felt not enough time was made available for review and abstained. Mrs. Germer also abstained.

The Board also discussed the administrative conference to be held at the end of the month. Dr. Hawkins announced that the Harrison Conference Center in Glen Cove was available. The cost is $2,600 plus the consultant's fee, totaling $3,200. Also, if the Sterling Forest Conference Center is unable to book the rooms originally reserved for the conference, the Hicksville school district would be penalized at a maximum of approximately $1,200.

Mrs. Anci moved that if this were the case, the conference be reconstructed and held in-district with provisions made for catering food.

Voting no to the motion were Messrs. Nagle, (Bennet and McCormack, Mr. Arena abstained. The motion lost. This action allows Dr. Hawkins to proceed with planning the conference and spending the necessary funds which are allocated for this purpose in the budget.

The Board also awarded bids for transportation to Harran Transportation for in-district ($614,232); We Transport for BOCES ($113,825); and Harran Transportation for miscellaneous including field trips ($41,000 approx). Also $5,687.34 was awarded to various bidders for health supplies and $6,262.25 was awarded the Haleigh Athletic Equipment Corp. for reconditioning athletic equipment.

The Board also acted on personnel matters, including the appointment of physicians for summer sports, physicals and school aides, media aides and teacher aides for the coming school year.

The next meeting is scheduled for August 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the Board room.

Right to Life News

By Doug Harknett

As a vice presidential candidate, George Bush is a problem for right to life voters because his position on abortion is perceived as contradictory as well as no longer timely in the face of events that have moved light years away from the original 1973 abortion decision. Also, questions arise about the credibility of Ronald Reagan because of his selection of Bush as his running mate.

In his campaign literature, Bush said, "I am personally opposed to abortion...I am also opposed to a constitutional amendment which would override the Supreme Court decisions by totally prohibiting abortion. However, I could support a constitutional amendment to give the states authority to regulate abortion within these boundaries".

This position would essentially turn the clock back to the situation before Roe v. Wade. This might have been acceptable for a short time in 1973 because, if enacted into law immediately, it would have prevented the national extension of the fruits of the first abortion decision. However, since then, other opinions flowing from Roe have entrenched the supposed right to abortion into the fabric of the law, so that now a husband has no legal right to prevent the killing of his own child, and parents have no legal right to prevent their minor daughters from destroying their unborn offspring. And only by the narrowest of margins (5 to 4) did the Court decide that neither the federal nor state governments are required to pay for most Medicaid abortions. Consequently, at this point, there would be little for state courts to decide.

The contradiction seen in Bush's statements is that he is personally opposed to abortion, and yet would permit it under varying standards in different states. Critics point out that if he opposes it and yet permits it, the question of the degree of his commitment arises, and even whether he has a commitment at all.

The story is told of an occurrence in February 1980 down in Florida at a private party for Bush, when he was asked by a medical doctor how he would protect the rights of unborn children if he were President. According to the doctor, instead of answering the question, Bush reacted excitedly by carrying on about the evils of 'one issuism', and finally in a white heat of anger, left the area.

Reagan's credibility is also questioned because of the failure of his actions to match his words. The Wall Street Journal had asked him, "Is the issue of abortion important enough to be a major consideration (in the selection of a V.P.)?" He replied, "It would be hard for me to accept (a V.P. with differing views on abortion) because I do feel that we are talking about human life", nevertheless, he

Wedding bells rang out for Carol Fechter and Bob Schmeekel on July 26. They spent a honeymoon week at the Southampton Princess Hotel in Bermuda. They had a marvelous trip - saw all the local tourist sites, attended Frankie Avalon's show, took a 5-1/2-hour day cruise, bought fabulous gifts in chase Bush.

If the Reagan-Bush team wins the November election, Bush is the man who would take over as President if Reagan were to die in office; and is the man who would be the leading candidate for the next presidency. For all right-to-lifers are less than enthusiastic about the ticket.

At the Republican convention right-to-life delegates had to sublimate their own considerable frustrations to prevent an open, damaging party split. Certain other nationally prominent right-to-lifers have also had to swallow their rhetoric. In retrospect, these unwelcome results seem to have arisen because of a premature, uncritical, and undemanding commitment to the Reagan candidacy. In the future they will have to learn how to play hard ball, just as Jimmy Carter had to.

The local right-to-life organization is Families for Life, which meets next on Wednesday night, August 27th at Levittown Hall at 8 PM. The guest speaker will be Ellen McCormack who will discuss her plans for the 1980 presidential race. For further information call 935-0272 or write to P.O. Box 574, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

VENERABLE TONY PREVITE'S MESSAGE:

"Finish each day and be done with it. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can". - Ralph Waldo Emerson.

To forward any information concerning the good and welfare of the Galileo Lodge, please contact Venerable Tony Previte at 731-0466.

The houselights dim. The footlights brighten, piercing the dark stage. Music blares forth, and then suddenly, right on cue, the performers appear, giving life to the stage. Am I talking about a Broadway production? No, of course not! I am talking about the 'Foolies Follies', to be presented by the Galileo Lodge's Ladies Auxiliary on October 17th. Admission fee will be $8.00 per person, which will entitle you to some excellently prepared food, beer, soda, coffee and cake, not to mention some nice music. Show time is 8:30 P.M. and food will be served at 7:30 P.M. The 'Foolies Follies' is a non-professional revue featuring the talents of the male and female members of the Galileo Lodge, and, as I understand it, also the talents of our friends and patrons. It is a review consisting of a series of side-splitting comedy routines and bits of musical varieties. Jeff Wallick (681-8428) and Rose Riccardi (681-0960) will direct this rib-ticking production and they will offer additional details if contacted. We all need laughter in our lives, so why not attend this laughter-filled venture into the mad world of comedy and give yourself a big lift at the same time.

Other stellar attractions scheduled on the Galileo Lodge's social and recreational programs are, first, the Night At The Races, scheduled for the 18th of August. Price of admission is $15 per person and it entitles you to a fine dinner at the Cloud Casino of Roosevelt Raceway and Clubhouse admittance. Contact Tony Balestrino (785-1462) for additional details. So, it's business racing thrills you (and eating), why not get with this night out under the stars. Then on September 20th, the Galileo Lodge, under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary, will hold a Testimonial Dinner and Dance honoring ex-President Rose Riccardi. Price of admission for this affair will be $12.50 per person, and to be featured will be a delicious chicken dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, unlimited liquor and live dance music, possibly from the Tiny Caruso combo. Mary Monteforte (938-6454, 938-3158) will handle all ticket sales and seating arrangements and her co-Chairlady will be Dolores Ragone. Please remember, and I am addressing all members of the Galileo Lodge and Rose's friends as well, that a good showing is really mandatory for this night. Especially in view of Rose Riccardi's unflinching and undaunted devotion to the Galileo Lodge and the Auxiliary.

And there's more for our edification and delight. On November 15th the Galileo Lodge will present another Testimonial Dinner and Dance, this time honoring ex-Venerable Tom Pasquarella, who has also shown his loyalty, dedication and consideration in the advancement of the Galileo Lodge. As of this moment, unfortunately, I am lacking further details concerning this affair. But I can mention that all inquiries concerning this special affair should be directed to Chairman Teddy Marotti (681-5190) and his able co-Chairman Joe Pino (822-7060). A perfect attendance is also mandatory for this affair, and there will be more information presented in later columns.

Please don't forget our next golf outing to be held on August 17th. Green fees will be $8 per person and it will start at 8:00 A.M. promptly. Contact Jeff Wallick and Jim Pino for more details about this outing. And don't forget the talk to be given by Joe Sicita (of Vigilanti Lodge, Bklyn, N.Y.), which will touch upon Money Management and Investments in This Inflationary Period.
