An Open Letter To The People Of Hicksville

"Once upon a time, there was a man named John. John's story is a sad one. He came home one day to learn that his house had been sold. It was a lovely house; a landmark of sorts, but now it was going to be torn down and replaced by a warehouse.

Saddest of all was that John and his family were going to have to be separated. You see, although a new house was being built for John and his family, it would not be ready for a long time. There just wasn't a place big enough for all of John's family to stay in the meantime, so...one member would be placed in one town, others, miles away. Obviously, no one lived happily ever after."

John's story is a sad one. Saddest, perhaps, because it is true and taking place in our own town.

John is a resident of the Jones Institute in Hicksville, which was recently sold by trustees to King Kullen, Inc. John's family, to which the story refers, are the other residents of the Institute. Most of the residents have been living there over ten years, and have become like family to one another.

We, the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Queen of Angels, No. 869, consider the residents of Jones Institute our friends. We visit them monthly conducting Bingo games and celebrating their birthdays. They have so little, the smallest kindness is appreciated. Now that Jones Institute has been sold, these people who have so little, will have even less.

As members of a charitable organization and residents of Hicksville, we find it amazing that a group of men who are considered to be caretakers of the indigent show such a lack of compassion as demonstrated by the trustees of the Jones Institute. Their actions in this matter are in total disregard of public opinion, and will prove beneficial only to the trustees themselves. Their haste in attempting to carry out these measures before an opposing view can be presented only proves their intentions to be less than noble.

We want to alert concerned citizens that this matter is still very much open, and that the voice of the people can help to give John's story, and that of many other residents, a happy ending.

Sincerely,

The Catholic Daughters of America

Levittown Pky. To Be Closed For Fire Tourney

Levittown Parkway, between Beech Lane and Acre Lane, will be closed from 8AM Saturday, August 30, through midnight Monday, September 1, it was announced this week by Oyster Bay Town

Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

"The closing of the parkway was granted by the Town Board for use by the Hicksville Fire Department for its annual Labor Day Parade and Tournament," Clark explained. "The two days before the actual tournament are needed to construct a special tower used for the event."

Clark noted that the parade will commence at 9 AM on Monday with tournament activities to start at the completion of the parade.

Antique Phone Display

This display will remain in the showcase through the month of September. We are sure that this is an exhibit of interest to all, whether we are only users of the phone or history buffs.

The library is open every weekday until 9:00 p.m. Beginning in September the library will be open from 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. every Saturday.

Greek American Night

Census Takers Needed

Full time temporary jobs as census takers for the areas of North Hempstead and town of Oyster Bay are still available. Mrs. Nina Taft, U.S. Bureau of the Census, District Office Manager at One Old Country Road, Carle Place, New York, said today.

"We're counting on you if you can work a 40 hour week for several weeks visiting households and interviewing the residents, Mrs. Taft said, adding, that a car is necessary in some cases, but mileage is paid.

Census takers will work as part of the 1980 Census of Population and Housing. They will attend a training session for which they will be paid. Most census takers will be paid $4 an hour for the number of household interviews completed.

Census takers must be able to follow printed instructions and do simple arithmetic for which they will be tested before hiring.

Those interested in learning more about the census procedures, in helping their own community and in making additional money, should call (516) 248-9759 at once. This central number could be reached from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"Real Property Taxpayers Ignored," Sanford

William K. Sanford, executive secretary of the Association of Towns termed the performance of the 1980 State Legislature a "disaster" for the real property taxpayers in every local government of New York State.

"In all the years I have been working toward the improvement of local government and the advancement of the cause of the citizen taxpayers who support it, I have never seen a Legislature produce such a sorry record," Sanford said.

"The recently concluded 1980 Legislature did nothing whatsoever to ease the concerns of the local real property taxpayer," Sanford said. "I see no solution except for citizen taxpayers to get angry and to get involved. The representatives of local governments - counties, cities, towns and villages - have done their utmost to convey the message to the Governor and legislative leaders here in Albany."

"Apparently this message fell on deaf ears," he added.

Sanford charged that leadership in the State Capitol seemed more concerned "in bolstering and financing a massive state bureaucracy than in supporting and assisting the local units to provide the basic life support services needed and relied upon and largely paid for, by the local real property taxpayer."

"The 1980 Legislative Session, he said, "will not be remembered as one of great accomplishments. Indeed, at least as far as local governments are concerned, it will be remembered rather for what it did not do, namely:

"1. It did not enact the necessary legislation to sustain the state-local fiscal partnership. It effectively destroyed State Shared Revenue. Local governments will get what the Legislature hands out - NOT what they are entitled to under the State Finance Law.

"2. It did not take any action to update and improve the State Civil Service System.

"3. It foiled around with different bills to provide a sound Fiscal Impact requirement on legislation affecting local government, ending up doing nothing.

"4. It did nothing to lessen mandates on local government or even to review mandates as promised by everyone in state government from the Governor on down.

"5. Conversely, it passed what may develop into one of the most costly of mandates on local governments - statewide Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

"6. Perhaps the most shocking failure of the 1980 Legislature was its neglect to face up to a solution of the Hellerstein full value assessment problem.

"7. Failed to enact insurance pooling legislation long felt essential to control the ever escalating cost of municipal liability insurance coverage.

"8. The Assembly failed to override the Governor's veto of the extension of the Town Highway Improvement Program for an additional 10-year period.

"The failure of the state to face up to these hard issues left those administering our local governments in the dark. Local governments are unable to find any direction or methods to finance local service functions. The real property taxpayer must shoulder an every greater and growing tax levy to support local service functions, Sanford said.

"I warn that the present climate of indifference to the government closest to the people exhibited by our leaders in state government cannot be allowed to continue. It is now up to the citizens of the state to demand something better. He must demand a greater sensitivity by legislators to the importance of continued provisions to enable local government of function at a reduced and predictable cost. The tax burden must be more equitably borne," Sanford said.

"Each of the members of the State Legislature, both Assemblymen and Senators, will be running for election on November 4th. This fall would appear to be an ideal time for the taxpayer to alert these legislators of citizen concerns for local government and its financing through the real property tax," Sanford concluded.

Private Sector Jobs In NY State Decline

On Aug. 18, Assembly Republican Leader James Emery released a study of the New York State economy during the seventies that showed New York was the ONLY state in the nation to see a decline in private sector jobs.

The study, prepared by the Republican staff of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee under the direction of Assemblyman Willis H. Stephens of Brewster, shows that many of the problems of New York State have accelerated in the last five years.

"The statistics bear grim news about our record over the last 10 years," Emery said in a statement accompanying the report. "I would hesitate to disclose this study if the situation were hopeless and irreversible. In my judgment, it is not."

In summary, the six-month Ways and Means analysis found:

• In 1979, New York had 146,600 fewer private sector jobs than in 1969, a loss of 2.4 percent over the decade compared to a gain of 26.9 percent or 15,681,000 nationwide.

• The Northeast, excluding New York, realized a 13.1 percent increase in private sector jobs during the decade. If New York had grown at the same rate as the rest of the Northeast, there would have been 931,000 more private sector jobs in New York in 1979.

• New York lost 371,900 manufacturing jobs during the seventies so that by 1979, one out of every five manufacturing jobs in existence in 1969 had disappeared.

• In 1979, there were 158,300 more state and local government jobs in New York State than in 1969, 56,200 in state government and 102,100 in local government. This means that for every 10 state workers in 1969, there were 13 by 1979.

• New York's population declined by 593,000. There were only two other states in the United States which lost population during the decade; Rhode Island lost 20,000 and Pennsylvania 70,000.

• In the last six years, total state taxes increased by $4.8 billion or by 55.3 percent while local taxes have increased by $5.9 billion or 47.4 percent.

• Inflation has been the single most important factor in increasing taxes. A family of four earning $10,000 in 1975 would have paid $205 in personal income taxes. If this family increased its earnings at the rate of inflation through 1981, they will earn $16,926 and pay $562 in state income taxes. That means their earnings will increase by 69.3 percent but taxes will increase by 174.2 percent.

"Few in government have been honest either with themselves or with the people," Emery said.

"In the past five years, New Yorkers have been told that state government has cut taxes yet, in reality they have had unparalleled tax increases. They have been told that state spending has been controlled, yet state spending has increased by more than $5 billion.

"Instead of sound economic planning, the people of New York are offered record high spending one year and then the threat of $1 billion deficits the next.

"Time has nearly run out. New Yorkers must show a survival instinct, not a death wish. We must set aside less important issues, partisan wrangling and the special interests of our various constituencies and focus all our attention and energy on saving our economy."

"We must immediately override Governor Carey's veto of legislation designed to bring good accounting practices to state government," Emery said.

"Then we must first lessen and then erase our competitive tax disadvantage with our competitor states."

To accomplish this, Emery proposed:

• A series of tax incentives to stimulate savings, investment, and job creation.

• Indexing the state personal income tax.

• Creation of a significant real property tax circuit breaker program.

"All of these factors are considered by new businesses when they decide whether or not to locate in the State and by New York State businesses when they decide whether or not to stay in the State. We must act to change their decisions in our favor."

Emery noted that legislation had been introduced to accomplish each element of the plan.

Auto Emission Testing

If your car belches great clouds of black smoke on acceleration and brings tears to the eyes of passersby from excessive fumes, that vehicle is probably polluting the atmosphere.

Car owners can have their vehicle emissions tested free at Oyster Bay Town Hall on August 25 through 29, it was announced by Town Supervisor Joseph Colby.

The testing will be conducted by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation in the parking area between the East and West Town Hall buildings in Oyster Bay hamlet.

Cars will be checked with scientific emission testing devices beginning at 9 AM each day that week. The procedure only takes about five minutes and there is no fee.

"Inefficient engines only pollute the air and greatly reduce mileage," Colby commented. "I would urge everyone to take advantage of this service."

Dear Friends....

WHOEVER SAID that small-town life is uneventful certainly never lived in the suburbs of Nassau County! So many important matters come up...not only at Town Board meetings and meetings of local organizations and community councils, but problems emerge, from time to time in various communities, which, hopefully, with the help of residents who are sufficiently concerned, will not repeat themselves. The word is, "eternal vigilance"... or so we have found in the past 28 years of publishing community newspapers in this area.

FOR EXAMPLE....

The problem which presently besets the residents of the Jones Institute in Hicksville has been well outlined in this newspaper and in the daily press. See the "Letter To The Editor" on page one of this week's Hicksville Edition as to some community reaction. Now it is our turn... yours and mine... that is, if we care. We do not object to this sale, IF it is consummated AFTER the new building for these people is completed. However whatever your beliefs in this matter we believe that at this time, your letters to the Trustees of the Jones Institute, West John St., Hicksville, NY 11801... also to the Chairman of the Board and the President of King Kullers Food Chain are in order. This will be a good beginning.

By the way, we have been told that the Town Board of the Town of Oyster Bay has absolutely no authority over these trustees. They simply appoint them whenever their terms come to an end. This being the case, we hope that they will be moved by compassion, to write letters along with the rest of us. Letters are much stronger than petitions, though they take just a little more effort on our part. Will you help?

ABSENTEE BALLOTS

COUNTY VOTERS who will be outside the County or unable to vote at the polling place due to illness are urged to take advantage of the absentee ballot process.

Any eligible voter who will be outside the County on election day because of duties, business, occupation or vacation, may apply for an absentee ballot as may his spouse, parent or child of voting age, who accompanies the voter.

Absentee ballots are also available for any voter who is unable to appear at the polling place on Nov. 4 due to illness or physical disability.

Applications for absentee ballots are available at the offices of the Nassau County Board of Elections and may be obtained by phoning 535-2411. Completed applications must be returned to the Board by Oct 28th in order to receive a ballot.

County Election Commissioners Isable R. Dodd and Stanley Harwood explained that a person who becomes ill or physically disabled after Oct 26 may apply in person up to Nov 3... the day before the general election.

If you have any further questions concerning absentee voting, call the Board of Elections at 535-2411.

DON'T CONTRIBUTE....

RESPONDING TO numerous complaints, Nassau County Police First Deputy Commissioner Charles Spahr writes to say that the Dept. is absolutely opposed to fund raising by so-called police affiliated groups in the County.

"Nassau Police Officers are strictly forbidden from any form of solicitation, and we, the police, will act positively and immediately against anyone misrepresenting themselves as being affiliated with this dept.," Mr. Spahr told us.

He concluded by urging residents of our County NOT to contribute to any questionable group or groups who say that they are soliciting on behalf of the Nassau County Police Dept.

Be Sure Your Children Have Immunization Certification," Colby

Every child entering school or returning to school in September must have certification that he or she is fully up to date on immunizations.

According to the New York State Department of Health, that means every child. Your youngster, whether entering kindergarten or going into the senior year of high school, had better bring medical proof that all shots have been taken care of...or your youngster will be sitting home with you.

My own children are beyond high school, so the announcement about free clinics offered by the Nassau County Department of Health came as a surprise. A call to health officials in Mineola assured me of the facts.

"Absolutely. Every child going to school has to have full immunization and the certification must either be brought to school on the first day by the youngster or be filed with the school nurse," the spokesman said. "If immunization hasn't been accomplished within 10 days of the start of school, the child may not continue classes."

The health department spokesman said the reasoning was basic: prevent disease and epidemic. Last year was an outbreak of measles right here in our own neighborhood. In places across the country, cases of polio were reported.

State health's answer is to make certain every child has the needed shots or the needed boosters. They are speaking of immunization against measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, polio and tetanus.

Free clinics are being conducted by the Nassau health people in several places around the county. For people in Oyster Bay Town, a clinic is being run at the Plainview Health Center at 1535 Old Country Road. A parent can take a youngster or youngsters there between 9 and 11:30 AM or 6 and 8 PM on August 21 and 28 or September 4 and 11. An evening - only session will be offered on September 18.

The parent should bring all available immunization records along to perhaps save the child some of the shots. Immunization can also be accomplished through the family physician.

The official at the health department said "Preventive medicine is hard to sell."

Please don't be hard to sell. There are millions of people across the nation who still suffer the tragic effects of childhood diseases. They are the people for whom immunization and serums came too late.

It may be an inconvenience to get your child or brood to a clinic or a doctor for shots...and the kids may not like it...but it beats their being ill and it beats their falling victim to an epidemic and its after effects.

"Stop Loopholes In Federal Benefits Programs," Lent

Two months ago, I expressed my outrage at discovering that the convicted "Son of Sam" murderer, David Berkowitz, was being paid Social Security disability benefits amounting to some $300 per month. Berkowitz also has applied for benefits as a disabled veteran. Bad as it was, the Berkowitz case turned out to be just the tip of the iceberg. This tip-off of Social Security and veterans benefits programs by convicts is a common practice.

As many as 30,000 convicted law-breakers are drawing disability or other benefits from Social Security, or veterans disability benefits while serving prison sentences for crimes committed against the society they continue to bilk.

At that time, I pledged my full efforts in the Congress to put a stop to this outrageous misuse of federal assistance programs. Now, I am happy to be able to report progress in the Congress toward this goal.

For the first time, a House Ways and Means subcommittee has begun work on HR 5610, a bill

I have cosponsored with 140 other Representatives. The bill is designed to close loopholes in Social Security laws which allow convicted felons to draw disability benefits. It appears likely that the subcommittee may complete work on some legislation to curb this practice in the near future.

In regard to veterans disability benefits, there has been faster action. On July 21st, the House of Representatives approved HR 7511, a bill I cosponsored providing a badly needed 13 percent cost-of-living increase in disability compensation to disabled veterans and their survivors. HR 7511 also provides that, starting 61 days after conviction, disability payments to veterans serving a prison term will be limited to no more than $60 per month. This is a step in the right direction, although I would have preferred a more stringent restriction on benefits. I hope the Senate will add stricter controls when it takes up the veterans benefits bill. I do not see any reason to allow a convicted murderer such as David Berkowitz to draw any federal benefits, and I hope the Veterans Administration denies his application for benefits. To pay the "Son of Sam" killer $1,000 per month veterans benefits on top of the $300 per month Berkowitz is now alleged to be getting in Social Security payments is a travesty of our benefits program too painful to contemplate!

Taxpayers already are contributing to the costs of supporting Berkowitz in prison, as they pay to support all convicted felons. It is estimated that the nation spends some $4.8 billion per year to maintain prisoners for the some 300,000 inmates. We should not be compelled to pay additional millions per year to convicted felons because of loopholes in federal benefits programs.

It is encouraging to see movement in the Congress to correct these gross abuses, and I can assure you that I will continue to press for final action on these corrective measures.

Workers Complete Community Projects

The Hicksville community and school district are again participating in the nation's largest single employment and training program for young people. The Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) is currently providing jobs and career training for 90 young people from the Hicksville community.

Since its inception 15 years ago, the SYEP has served an estimated 9.9 million youth across the country with a total federal outlay from the U.S. Department of Labor of $5.4 billion dollars. This year's grant to the Nassau County Office of Employment and Training for young people residing in the Town of North Hempstead, the Town of Oyster Bay, and the City of Glen Cove is $976,744. The funds go principally for the wages of participants, with limited expenditures for administrative costs.

The SYEP program is administered by the Neighborhood Youth Corps, a department of the Nassau County Youth Board.

In Hicksville the young people work 30 hours a week for eight weeks, receiving $3.10 an hour, the federal minimum wage.

Young people from Hicksville are working in a variety of job settings. These include: Nassau County Medical Center, Department of Rehabilitation, Credit Department, Medical Records, Clinics, Department of Education, Department of House Keeping, Mid-Nassau Guidance Center, HAD (Help-Aid-Direction), East Plains Mental Center, Leukemia Foundation, East Plains Mental Health Clinic, Hicksville Youth Council, Hicksville School District, Hicksville High School Curriculum Materials Center, Hicksville High School Guidance Department, Accounts Payable Department, Purchasing Department, Receptionist, Transportation Department, Accounting Department, Mail Room, Buildings and Grounds-Maintenance, Old Country Road Elementary School, Administration Building, Burns Avenue Elementary School, and Hicksville Junior High School Main Office.

Job Openings

The Syosset Senior Day Care Center announces that it is accepting applications for the 24-hour a week position of Community Service Aide as part of a pilot Outreach Project to meet home care needs of older people. Professional supervision and training are included.

In addition, Emergency Home

All interested parties send letter or resume to Dorothy Weiss, Director, Syosset Senior Day Care Center, 36 Church Street, Syosset 11791.

"As my two year term as Publicity Director comes to a close, I would personally like to thank all those Directors and Managers that forwarded information so that I might give recognition to all those young people who play such exceptional baseball. Before I go further, I would like to mention how gratifying this job has been as it has enabled me to get to know so many of our ball players on a personal level. There is always notice given the troubled young people in our society - but let me say that most definitely this must be the minority in our community, as I have only met some quality young persons in our League!

My job and others will be up for nomination at our September meeting. If you are interested in being a part of H.B.A. behind the scene and yet an important part, contact our League President, Mr. Nealon, or be at our September meeting the third Thursday at Levittown Hall at 8:30 p.m. Remember, I am no professional writer either just someone's mother who knows how important it is to be involved. Our children need us and I personally have really enjoyed them tremendously.

Now a last note of thanks to all our sponsors who have helped us meet our bills and make it all happen. We thank you and appreciate you very much. Please remember to patronize our sponsors for they really care.

Hicksville Republican Club News

By Harriet Maher

nation ... vote Republican.

In February 1980, the N.Y.S. Republican State Senate Majority approved a tax cut plan, but it was NOT PASSED by the DEMOCRATIC ASSEMBLY. This tax-cut plan would:

- Eliminate state taxes on the first $1,500 of personal income.
- Exclude from State taxes first $400 of interest earnings on savings accounts. ($800 on joint accounts.)
- Reduce maximum personal income tax rates.
- Exclude pension income from State taxes.
- Lower tax rates on proceeds from sale of a private home.
- Expand "Circuit Breaker" property tax provisions to aid seniors.
- Expand energy conservation tax credits.
- Establish graduated corporate tax rather than current flat tax rate. (This would help small businesses and would help create jobs and stimulate the State's economy.)

The Senate Majority tax-cut plan will help our state residents fight inflation. It is time the Democratic-controlled N.Y.S. Assembly gave serious consideration to these tax cuts. And it is time we had a Republican-controlled New York State Legislature. When you exercise your right to vote in the elections, bear in mind that we are 6th in the amount of individual state taxes collected out of all the 50 states of our great

There is an active and viable group of our youth who are members of the Young Republicans. This organization helps out the Republican Party in various ways such as distributing literature for political candidates, working in the election campaigns; and, most importantly, they serve as a conduit of information to young people to make them aware of their political scene.

In Hicksville, the Young Republicans meet the third Tuesday of every month at 8 p.m. in the Knight Club, South Broadway, Hicksville. They are looking for members and would warmly welcome an inquiry about their Club or your attendance at one of their meetings. For further information, contact their president, Nick Caruso, 681-1342, in the evenings or weekends.

In addition to the local group of Young Republicans, there is another group comprised of members of various local groups and other individuals called the Nassau County Young Republicans. As an example of their involvement in current events and their cognizance of local, national, and world-wide affairs, five Nassau County Young Republicans traveled to Lincolnville, Maine to meet and speak with Richard Queen, the young American recently released from captivity in Iran.

Those who made the trip were County Council Past President Mike Thomas, current officers Tom Simmons (1st V.P.), Kevin Braunlich (Asst. Treasurer), Ray Martinez (Corresponding Secretary), and former Historian Jim Drohan. The YRs had been vacationing in the nearby Hamlet of Searsmont, and on July 30 they met Queen.

The Young Republican, a newsletter published by the Nassau County YR Club, states that "First Vice President Tom Simmons described Mr. Queen as being 'just a regular guy who had the misfortune of getting caught in the wrong situation.' All five YRs agreed that Queen was at ease and easy to speak with, although a little overwhelmed with the attention being given to him."

The newsletter went on: "Mr. Queen, 28, was released after 250 days as a hostage of the Iranian militants in what was described as a 'humanitarian' gesture by the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. Before the takeover of the American embassy in Tehran on November 4, 1979, Mr. Queen was a consular officer with the responsibility of processing student visas... Iran was his first foreign service assignment."

Anyone interested in further information about the Nassau County Young Republicans should call Republican Headquarters in Hempstead.

Tiger Tale

When it first flew on July 30, 1954, the Grumman Tiger amazed everyone. "It looks like a beautiful mystery plane," Bliss Thorne, aviation editor, wrote in the New York Times after watching that first flight.

The F-11F Tiger started out as a refinement of the F-9F Cougar series, also developed by Grumman. But, as the design progressed in 1953, a different plane evolved.

Both had swept wings, but the Tiger's were extremely thin. The engineers under Project Engineer Joe Gavin, now President of Grumman Corporation, stored fuel in many places on the plane. It was in the fuselage, in the box beams of the wings, even in the dorsal fin.

"There is a small group of people who have fond memories of the Super Tiger. If we had built the Super Tiger first, it might have beaten out the F8U," Joe Gavin recalls. Gavin feels the plane anticipated the lightweight fighters of the '70s at a time when the Navy was moving towards more complicated systems like the F-4 Phantom.

Something new for Grumman was the location of the engine's air inlets. Like other Grumman jets, the Cougar had them in the wings; the Tiger's were on the fuselage.

Grumman engineers also used a design technique that was new to the entire industry, called "area rule." The National Advisory committee on Aeronautics had developed it in 1952. Grumman was the first, however, to design and fly a plane using the principle.

Simply, area rule was the pinching in of the fuselage at the wing roots. If you looked at the plane from the top or the bottom,

TIGER TEAM. Today, one of the 199 Tigers which were produced between 1954 and 1959 is being restored in the colors of the Navy flight team, the Blue Angels. Under the direction of former Grummanite Ari Romeo (R), a group of retirees is restoring number 149 for the Nassau County Cradle of Aviation Museum in Mitchell Field. Going over plans with him here are Bill it looked like a Coca-Cola bottle. The technique helped cut down drag. "They were always looking for more speed," recalls Bill Adams, a Grumman retiree who was a Navy inspector during production of the Tigers.

Unfortunately, as fast as the Tigers were, they were soon outdistanced in the speed race.

Production Tigers had a maximum speed of 850 miles an hour. Two production planes were modified with new wings and more powerful engines. Called Super Tigers, they set a world altitude record of 76,828 feet and

Adams (L) and George Petrolak. "This is the fourth restoration project for the Retiree Club," says Ari. "We got this plane from Patuxent River Naval Air Test Center, and it should take us about a year to complete."

The Blue Angels thrilled audiences with acrobatic feats they performed in their F-11 Tigers for over ten years.

speed records of 1,386 miles per hour.

But the Navy did not have the funds to develop the Super Tigers and the Vought F8U Crusader supplanted the Tiger as the Navy's front line fighter. The Crusaders were the first Navy shipboard fighters capable of clearing the 1,000 mile per hour mark.

The last of the Tigers was produced in 1959. They were phased out of front line service in 1969, and Grumman didn't build another fighter until the F-14 Tomcat.

As the Fall and Winter seasons approach, the Galileo Lodge, always in a state of readiness, always alert to changing times, and always on top of the scene, presents its new social and recreational programs for this time of the year. Just attune yourself with these 'soon-to-appear' activities:

On September 20, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge will present a Testimonial Dinner and Dance in honor of ex-President Rose Riccardi. Price of admission will be $12.50 per person, and to be featured will be a chicken dinner, beer, soda, set-ups, coffee and cake and live music from the Tiny Caruso combo, not to mention unlimited liquor. Mary Monteforte (938-6454, 938-3158) will handle all ticket sales and seating arrangements and she will ably be assisted by her co-Chairlady, Dolores Ragone. Mary can also be contacted at the Lodge (931-9351) during the Wednesday night bingo sessions.

Then on November 15th, the Galileo Lodge will hold another Testimonial Dinner and Dance in honor of ex-Venerable Tom Pasquarella. Admission fee will be $35 per couple, and to be presented here will be a cocktail hour and dinner, beer, soda, set-ups, coffee and cake and some exciting dance music from the Triangle Times, a very popular dance combo here on Long Island. Hours are from 8 to 1:00

P.M. Contact Chairman Teddy Marotti (681-5190) and co-Chairman Joe Pino (822-8060) for more details. Please note that a healthy attendance by the membership is requested as well as needed to insure the success of these two affairs which honor two very hard-working members of our Lodge.

And, without further adieu, I introduce you to the big revue known as the 'Foolies Follies', to be presented by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge on October 17th. Note that this revue, which will consist of comedy bits and musical varieties, will utilize the 'showbiz' talents of the male and female members of the Lodge, and perhaps even the utilization of the talents friends and patrons. The price of admission will be $8 per person, which entitles you to food, beer, soda, coffee and cake and music. The bar will also be open for your convenience. Jeff Wallick (681-8428) and Rose Riccardi (681-0960) will direct this production, and they also announce that audition nights will fall on Tuesday for the next two weeks. If comedy is your 'bag', then get with this side-splitting revue!!

Good news for our members. On October 23, a social meeting night, the Galileo Lodge will hold its Member Appreciation Night, at which time all members of the Galileo Lodge are cordially invited to attend. Food, beer, soda, coffee and cake will be served, and the best part is that the Lodge will 'pick up the tab'. Wives and sweethearts are cordially invited, of course. But please remember, you have to be a member in good standing to attend.

LODGE TIDBITS: Mr. and Mrs. James Posillico will celebrate 25 years of wedded bliss in September, and they will really celebrate ... as they plan a welcomed trip to Hawaii. Congratulations and best wishes for a pleasant trip from the Galileo Lodge ... Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anselmo are headed for Florida for a family reunion as they will be celebrating 35 years of marriage. Congratulations and best wishes once again from the Galileo Lodge ... New members sworn in at last meeting were Anthony and John Romano, who by the way, own and operate the Lemon Tree and Bicycle shop in Bethpage. The other member was Anthony Di Silvestri. Welcome aboard! ... On August 28th, a social meeting night, Joe Scignamo of the Bklyn Vigilanti Lodge will present a talk on Money Management and Investments. The general public is invited. It should be very interesting ... Bowling meeting night will be held on August 25th, at 9:00 P.M., at the Syosset Lanes. The League Bowling will start on September 8th, at 9:00 P.M. ... A trifle early perhaps, but the Galileo Lodge will hold its two Christmas parties, one for the retarded children and the other one for the children of the membership, on December 21st. The Christmas Dance will be held on December 20th, and the New Years Dance on December 31st.

Studies Gifted Children

Adele Niceforo, second grade teacher at Old Country road school in Hicksville, recently returned from a two-week intensive graduate course at the University of Connecticut at Storrs. (July 27-August 8). Mrs. Niceforo participated in "Confratute '80" because of her special interest in the unique needs of gifted and talented children.

It was led by Dr. Joseph S. Renzulli, a well-known scholar in the design of differentiated curriculum for the gifted and author of "The Enrichment Triad Model" and "The Renzulli-Hartman Scale for Creativity". Mrs. Niceforo was able to study with other top researchers in the field, in addition, who lectured on such topics as teaching/learning styles, creative problem solving, acceleration, creative dramatics, left/right brain hemispheres, curriculum development and self-directed learning, while majoring in "The Primary Age Child".

Part of the requirements for the major strand was a research project carried out by Mrs. Niceforo, titled "Parent Awareness and the Unidentified Gifted Primary Child". It deals with the drastic decline in creativity from five to nine years old and what parents can do to prevent it in their gifted children. It includes a bibliography of resources especially for parents, with publications to which to subscribe and organizations to join.

Previous to attending "Confratute '80", Mrs. Niceforo studied gifted education through B.O.C.E.S. workshops and graduate courses from the College of New Rochelle.

DEVOTIONS

Trinity Lutheran Church

By The Rev. John H. Krahn

We thank God for gifted musicians like Johann Sebastian Bach. Bach was born in 1685 in Thuringia, a state in central Germany that only 200 years earlier had given the world Martin Luther. Bach was among the reformers it was Luther who had the warmest place in his heart for music. We might have lost Bach's musical genius had he been born elsewhere. Sebastian Bach was first and foremost a church musician. Most of the work he produced was designed to enhance the worship of Almighty God. He lived but to worship God and to write music. At the age of twenty-three he could state his life purpose, producing church music in honor of God. Worship for Bach was a collective response made by the people of God to his redeeming action in Jesus Christ. Music was not an end in itself but existed to assist men in making their response to God. Bach was something of an exegete and theologian in his own right. He had to be, for in order to write cantatas that were based on Scripture he had to sense what those Scriptures meant.

Perhaps the greatest impression we have of Sebastian Bach was his profound personal faith in God. As a Lutheran he did not sentimentalize God. He was convinced of God's love not because of what he felt in his heart, but because of what God had done in Jesus Christ. He would have subscribed heartily to Luther's answer to the question, "How do you know you are a Christian?" When Luther replied, "Because I've been Baptized." If one of the Pietists of his day would have asked Bach when and where he had been saved, he would have answered, "At Golgotha on Good Friday, between twelve and three in the afternoon." Yet Bach's faith was deeply personal too. It is well known that at the beginning of his scores he wrote the letters "J.J."—Jesu Juva, Jesus help. His music is so great that we are sure Jesus answered his prayer personally. And at the end of every one of his pieces he wrote, "Soli Deo Gloria," To God Alone Be All Glory! A statement that showed his humility.

Our worship as well as our personal lives need well express Jesu Juva and Soli Deo Gloria. As Christians we have a great heritage of which Bach is only one important part. Although Bach was born two centuries after Luther, like Luther his music did not shy away from using every musical form available to bring glory to the Almighty. For to be Christian is to be contemporary—as contemporary as the psalmist who saw every inch of creation praising the Lord.

Today and every day we join with the sound of the wind, the cry of a baby, a Bach cantata, an organ fugue, the smell of sizzling bacon, Luther's majestic Reformation hymn, a beautiful sunset, and we lift up our voices and our very lives in praise of the Almighty.

Right to Life News

By Doug Harknett

The Long Island Gate suffered another setback last week when the governing board of the Nassau Suffolk Health System Agency refused to rescind its adverse vote taken previously on July 10th. The Gate, a West Hempstead adolescent service center, had sought $352,160 in federal funds to finance family planning activities. It already has funding from various sources for its other activities which include legal and vocational counseling, education, recreation and arts and crafts. About 500 members of the public attended, but only one hour was allowed for public comment on the narrow issue of the appropriateness of the motion to rescind without reference to the merits of the basic issue. Nevertheless, 44 people spoke, the overwhelming majority against rescission; and there were still about 200 more waiting to speak. Those against the Gate included representatives of Congressmen Jerome Ambro, John Wydler, and Hempstead Presiding Supervisor AID'Amato who is running for the U.S. Senate. The only candidate for public office speaking in favor of the Gate was Karen Burnstein who is seeking the 5th congressional seat.

After an interim vote to extend the time for public discussion was voted down, the Board voted on rescission. Because of confusion, three separate counts were necessary, the final one coming down 9 in favor and 8 against. At that point Chairman Hugh Mahoney announced that the chair would vote against, thereby creating a tie, and because a majority was needed, the motion lost. At that, pandemonium broke out. In classic cliff hanger style, the outcome wasn't clear until the last second.

The arguments on the merits had taken place over a period of several months. Among organizations favoring the project were Planned Parenthood of both Nassau and Suffolk counties, and the Nassau District PTA, representing all PTA units in Nassau County. The Executive Director of the Gate is Elin Massey, former head of the Nassau County Coalition for Family Planning. Of interest to Hicksville, Ms. Massey had appeared in the Fall of 1978 at Dutch Lane School at the invitation of the PTA to promote sex education.

At the previous July 10th meeting about 200 people had attended. Fifty-four people had spoken, in a ratio of 3 to 1 against funding, and the Board had voted 7 to 6 against. Opponents cited the fact that Gate personnel would be counselling youths on sexual matters and supplying contraceptives and abortifacients behind their parents' backs, thereby usurping family rights to establish and foster moral values. The Gate would also be referring youths with medical problems such as VD and pregnancy to other agencies for action, including abortions, once again without parental notification or consent. It was brought out that 5 of the existing 25 family planning agencies in the county were located in Hempstead, near the Gate, and it appeared that there would be a duplication of Joanne Poggioli, daughter of Albert Poggioli and the late Pat Poggioli has become engaged to Neil Braunsdorf of Oyster Bay. The engagement was announced by her father.

Miss Poggioli, a 1979 graduate of St. Dominic's High School, studied one year at SUNY at Stony Brook and will be a sophomore at the University of Michigan this fall.

Mr. Braunsdorf, a 1975 graduate of Oyster Bay High School, received his Bachelor of Science degree from SUNY at Stony Brook this past May. He will continue graduate studies in Geology at the University of Michigan in September, where he will also be a teachers assistant.

Proponents alleged a growing rate of teenage pregnancy, but this was directly contradicted by one speaker.

In a final attempt to obtain funding, the promoters of the Gate have started an appeal directly to the U.S. Health and Human Services Department.

The local right to life unit is Families for Life. Its next meeting is on Wednesday, August 27th at 8 PM at Levittown Hall. The speaker will be Ellen McCormack, who will discuss her plans regarding the 1980 presidential election. For further information call 935-0272 or write to Box 574, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

Around Our Towns

Anne Jackson of HICKSVILLE has finished college and will start graduate school in Boston University this fall. She is working for her masters in social services. Good luck, Anne, in your scholastic endeavors.

Kathleen and Joseph Haeselin of HICKSVILLE become the proud parents of their first child, Matthew John, born on July 20. Matthew John, weighing 7 lbs. 4 oz. and measuring 20 inches long, is the grandson of long time

HICKSVILLE residents, Theresa and Arthur Salatto and Gertrude and John Haeselin.

Welcome to Matthew John, 3rd generation HICKSVILLIAN and congratulations to the happy family.

He's arrived. Yes, on June 22, Robert Scott O'Neil was born to Carol and Bob O'Neil, Plant City, FL. Carol (nee Jablonsky) grew up in Hicksville and attended our local schools. Her parents, Ann and Joe Jablonsky, Sr., are thrilled with their new grandson, just as Joe, Jr., delighted at being an uncle. The O'Neils will be coming up to Hicksville after Labor Day. While here, Carol and Bob will attend Carol's brother, Joe, Jr.'s wedding that will be held in Pennsylvania.

Joe, Jr. and Mary Jo Mulloy will be married in September, and Carol and Bob will return home to FL. after the wedding. Congratulations, folks.

And on the other side of HICKSVILLE we learned that Ed and Jeanne Boyens are the proud grandparents of Amanda Meddaugh who was born June 26 to their daughter, Ann Marie and her husband, Glenn Meddaugh. Amanda is the fourth great grandchild of Mrs. Elsie Boyens, a former Hicksvillite. The new baby was christened August 17 in St. Patrick's R.C. Church in Bay Shore where the Meddaughs reside. Amanda joins her sister Kelly (2 1/2 yrs.) to make this happy family. Ann Marie's brother, Christopher Boyens was Amanda's godfather, and Lynn Boyens (wife of Ann Marie's brother, Edward) was the godmother. A party with family and friends was held at the Meddaugh's residence to honor this special occasion. Good luck.

Last week we told you that HICKSVILLITE Anne Jackson would start graduate school in Boston University this fall. However, we just learned that she will be attending Boston College, which is taught by the Jesuit Order. Anne will be leaving for College at the end of August. She has her apartment ready. She will be sharing the apartment with three other girls. It is a two-family house with plenty of room to accommodate the four girls. We wish you much success, Anne.

Recently back home from a three-week trip to California, is Evelyn Fico of Mayfair Lane, HICKSVILLE, and her children: John, Kim, Laurie and Tommy, Jr. Unfortunately, Tom, Sr. couldn't get time off from work to accompany his family to California. The family, nonetheless, had the opportunity to visit Knotts Berry Farm, Disneyland, and many other tourist sites. They saw many aunts, uncles, cousins and their grandparents while they were there.

Also visiting from San Diego, CA, is Carol Ann Buchanan. Carol Ann resides in California, but flew back East for a visit with her parents, Bill and Margaret Buchman of HICKSVILLE. They were thrilled to have their daughter back home with them for a vacation.

Also, celebrating her birthday in Aug. is Shirley Frey of HICKSVILLE. Happy Birthday, Shirley.
