The Band Is Back!

The band is back! The Marching Comets Football Band of Hicksville High School is back after a brief but noticeable absence. The recently re-organized band made its initial appearance at last Saturday's home football game and although weather conditions prevented a marching performance, it delighted the sparse crowd with lively music played from a dry location.

The 1980 Marching Comets, which had their first practice on Tuesday, October 7, will debut this Saturday and will be joined by the Coquettes, Hicksville High School's kickline. The band will be led on to the field by Drum Major Nancy McIntyre. David Straub is the student director and he will conduct pep music in the stands. The Coquettes will be led by Captain Barbara Conboy.

The new Football Band Director is J. David Abt, assisted by Thomas Buttice.

Both are on the Senior High School music faculty and both are "coming out of retirement." New drum rank instructors are Tim Bresko and Drew Thou. Denise Kogel is the director of the Coquettes.

The band is back ... and it would like to see a big crowd at Hicksville High School Homecoming, 1980. That's Saturday, Oct. 18, starting at 1 p.m., at Hicksville H.S.

The October 8 meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club was the first meeting of the new administration for the club's new Vice President and Program Chairman Charles Montana, Jr. to present the program.

V.P. Charlie introduced Mr. Al Prato, a visiting Kiwanian from Massapequa, who is a member of Nassau County Executive Francis Purcell's Anti-Vandalism Task Force, as well as Chairman of the Massapequa Kiwanis Club's Subcommittee on Community Education & Action.

Mr. Prato spoke about the problems of vandalism in our communities, and of some of the activities of the task force. For instance, they are trying to strengthen the Family Court, and are petitioning the Legislature to put teeth into the existing laws pertaining to vandals. One possible deterrent to vandalism would be to have the vandals work off the damage they caused.

A sad bit of information Mr. Prato left with his audience was the fact that vandalism damage in the Hicksville Schools amounted to more than $200,000 last year.

Postal Inspectors Step-Up Efforts Against Work-At-Home Swindles

Consumer complaints about work-at-home promotions that take money from those who can least afford it have prompted the Postal Service to assign 18 postal inspectors to spend all their time investigating that type of fraud, according to Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster Anthony M. Murello.

The postmaster made the announcement in connection with Consumer Protection Week, October 6-11.

Although reluctant to label all work-at-home promotions fraudulent, Postmaster Murello said the Postal Inspection Service has yet to find an envelope stuffing offer that is legitimate.

"Postal inspectors haven't been able to identify a single operation that produces anywhere near the kind of income claimed in most advertising," Postmaster Murello said. "My advice is to avoid them all."

The goal of the nationwide assignment of postal inspectors concentrating all their efforts on work-at-home investigations is to shut down all operations that are fraudulent or misleading.

"It's an ambitious goal," Postmaster Murello said, "but postal inspectors are a tenacious group." Since last October their efforts have resulted in stopping more than 500 questionable work-at-home promotions resulting in savings of thousands of dollars to the public, he added.

In addition to stepping up their investigative efforts, a pamphlet outlining the pitfalls of work-at-home promotions has been prepared by the Inspection Service. Available in post offices, the pamphlet contains a detachable card providing inspectors information about questionable promotions.

Postmaster Murello explained that the postage-free card is the best way for anyone who believes he has become a victim, or anyone who has any knowledge of a questionable promotion, to share that information with postal inspectors.

"If you think you might be a victim, or simply see an ad for a work-at-home scheme in a publication," Postmaster Murello said, "let us know so we can achieve our goal of eliminating these kinds of rip-offs."

The most common work-at-home promotion seeks people to stuff envelopes even though envelope stuffing today is a highly-mechanized operation. Literally thousands fall victim each year, the postmaster said, despite the fact that many people realize no company could afford to pay people to perform such a chore by hand.

"Unfortunately, it is the elderly or low income people who lose money to these con men," Postmaster Murello said, "and that makes this kind of scheme particularly disgusting."

The postmaster suggested the next time readers see an ad for a work-at-home scheme, they clip it out and send it to him so postal inspectors can be among the first to examine it.

It Happened At The Plainview Library!

FAMILY CENTER
Bumbles The Clown, I. Erstling - Plainview Resident, entertained pre-schoolers and parents at storytime. Play group workshops well attended and many groups formed. The library is now booking class visits for February.

COURSES
Eight courses for the Fall season started and will run through December. Three are sponsored by Hofstra, one by Stony Brook Graduate School, one by CAPA and three by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library.

MANUFACTURER'S COUPON EXCHANGE
Approximately 10-15 people are exchanging coupons daily, however, they seem to be putting in more than they are taking out.

REFERENCE DEPARTMENT
A patron whistled a melody by Mozart and wanted to find the record. The reference librarians were able to quickly identify "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" for a very pleased patron.

A mother came in seeking help. She had a broken wire resting precariously on a branch in her yard. Called police they said call LILCO, but LILCO won't come for a week, I don't know what to do. We called the Town of Oyster Bay's Highway Division who advised us "tell LILCO it's sparking that will get them there in a hurry". The patron called back later to thank us and said the "sparking wire" brought LILCO right away.

At East St.

East Street Elementary School in Hicksville, on Tues. Oct. 7th, had the pleasure of presenting to their children "Bill Robinson's Animals of Africa". The children were mystified by a beautiful Tawny Eagle, an enchanting Wild African Owl, along with its amazing abilities; a Nile Monitor Lizard; an African frog and an un-caged African Lion Cub. Such a tremendous amount of learning has never been made more exciting.

Car Wash

An Alternate Program

An Alternative Program has been initiated at the Hicksville Senior High School for the new school year. The program will provide educational opportunities for students who are not taking advantage of, or are alienated from the regular school program.

Students with attendance problems will have the opportunity to receive instruction in skills development and/or remediation and career guidance.

PROGRAM:

Each student will be programmed for semester courses in English, Social Studies, Math, and Science

(if necessary). Mainstreaming will also be provided in Music, Art, Physical Education, Industrial Arts, General Work Study, etc. These students will not attend BOCES.

Approximately thirty-five sophomores and thirty-five juniors will be recommended for the program with class size of sixteen to eighteen students. Their program will be scheduled primarily in the morning allowing for mainstreaming in the afternoon.

Student progress will be evaluated weekly and at the end of each marking period by the study team. At the end of each semester the study team will determine student continuance or a return to the regular program.

Student referrals into the alternative program will involve a comprehensive analysis by the study team and student support personnel. Grades will be based on a pass-fail system including a quality point designation.

The Alternative Program must see itself as transitional, not as an end in itself, but as flexible, and changeable. A program that will facilitate the transition of students to prepare them for their future. The Alternative Program is a part of the total educational program, including programs for the gifted, for the slow learner, for the college bound, and for the career orientated as well.

The ultimate goal of the Alternative Program is not to control the student more effectively, but to enable them to exercise responsibility, and to recognize their basic human right to transform their lives.

Dear Friends ...

The Hicksville Public Library trip to the Whitney Museum to view the Hopper exhibit for Wednesday, October 29 still has a few openings. The cost of the trip and Museum admission (including a guided tour) is $8.50.

The bus will leave at 9:00 am from the front of Frank's Alibi and will return at approximately 4:00 pm.

If you wish to go call Mrs. Neufeld at We 1-1417 and your name will be added to the list. Hurry though, there are only a few seats available.

OUR TOWN, as usual, is beset with varied problems, due to varied reasons, some of which are change and eventually may be solved so that the community is better than before. One is never quite sure. However, there are always more than one way of solving problems and in reporting this we do attempt to stick to all the facts that are available, thus allowing you to make up your own minds as to how you feel on any given subject. More than this is, in our opinion, sheer arrogance.

However, as in the past, we invite your opinions (with additional facts and their sources, if you have them) for our "LETTERS TO THE EDITOR" section. Please remember, we will always withhold your name if you request it, but we do not consider unsigned "Letters" for publication.

MEANWHILE, back at the Town Board, our hard working elected officials are valiantly trying to hold the line on the Town budget. However, please read Supervisor Colby's story on Page 4 on the problems in this area. To sum up "Should the Congress, when it returns to Washington on Nov. 12, fail to act on revenue sharing, the Town must raise its hold-the-line General Town Tax by 26½ cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation! This is the time to write your Congressman on this matter, we believe.

IN THIS COLUMN, we have decided to have PROGRESS REPORTS on subjects of continuing community interest at least once a month. We will contact officials covering a given area where a problem of local community interest exists, and bring you details on what progress is presently being made on its solution. For example, downtown Hicksville and its development, the Jones Institute and its rebuilding program, the completion of sewer connections in our areas; and any of the development of land originally purchased for parks and any other local problem existing and being corrected in any HERALD area. Let us hear from you if you know of problems you would like included in our MONTHLY PROGRESS REPORT, which will begin in the next week or two.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and enjoy the autumn weather here on beautiful Long Island.

Letter To The Editor

The Plainview Herald
Re: Your Oct. 3 edition
Gentlemen,

I was very disturbed by your giving publicity to Baruch Goldstein of Jews For Jesus.

There have been many attempts throughout history to destroy the Jewish People.

His "Jewish style drama" and "Jewish Gospel songs" do not disguise the fact that in my opinion this is another attack on Judaism. His use of Jewish symbols is merely camouflage for the attack.

I am a member of a Conservative Jewish Center in Plainview, and receive great spiritual satisfaction from the practice of traditional Judaism. Mr. Goldstein, having converted to Christianity, is no longer Jewish.

Post Office Introduces Consumes Services Card

The Postal Service is coming out with a new way for its customers to register complaints, compliments or suggestions, according to Hicksville Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster Anthony M. Murello.

Starting this month, the post office will introduce its new Consumer Service Card. The cards will be available in all post office lobbies and from city and rural letter carriers. Customers also have the option to call the post office by telephone or send a note to the Postmaster through the mail. A postal employee will then complete a Consumer Service Card for the caller or writer. Postmaster Murello explained.

The card asks whether the inquiry, suggestion or complaint involved a letter, package, publication, advertisement or Mailgram. Customers are also asked to specify whether the inquiry involved a delay, damage, misdelivery, service hours or postal personnel.

"It's a handy way for customers to tell us what's on their minds concerning the Postal Service," said Postmaster Murello. "It also gives customers a chance to let us know when a window clerk or letter carrier is rendering particularly good service," he said.

One copy of the card is retained by the customer. The remaining copies are used by the local post office and the Postal Service Consumer Advocate in Washington, D.C. The local office uses one copy of the card as a record of action taken to help the customer, and sends the other copies to Washington for computer analysis.

The Postal Service first issued its Consumer Service Card in 1975 as a means for pinpointing local service problems and determining ways to improve service. Since then, data supplied by the cards has been used by Postal Service management in Washington, D.C. to assess problem areas and national trends and to help in improving national postal policy.

Total Town Tax Depends On Revenue Sharing

By TOB Sup. Joseph Colby

Budget preparation is not a one-day job, nor a one-person job, whether the budget is for a municipality as large as Oyster Bay Town or simply for the household.

Knowing the complexities of preparing and living within a budget, when I took office as Town Supervisor I initiated a daily, line-by-line budget review process. This was done to ease the yearly budget-making system and to keep tight rein on day-to-day spending.

If you think of what budget making is all about, you can best perceive the great effort involved. To over-simplify, picture yourself in a similar situation at home. Draw all members of the family together, as all Town department heads are gathered. The time is August and you must draw up a plan for covering services and expenses for the following year.

You must know how much gasoline you will need for the family car or cars and its cost for that entire 12-month period. You must anticipate what each breakfast, lunch, dinner and between-meal snack will cost. How many pairs of sneakers will the young folks require? What about new clothing? Fuel for home heating? The cost and extent of household repairs and what those repairs might be? Figure in advance what each utility bill will be. Estimate charges for dry cleaning, laundry, replacement of liners and the like.

Now, gather the cost estimates, figure in some equipment replacement (refrigerator, stove, couch in the den), and add it up. Your budget makers may now estimate all possible income to the household. If it comes out even, you are most fortunate.

In Town government, the amount of anticipated revenue must equal the planned spending for services to the people. The revenue, in large part, is raised through taxation on real property. That is the major source of income, although for many years federal and state aid have provided added sources.

For the year of 1981, Town financial experts and myself put together a budget based on our daily monitoring of the current year's spending, plus expected revenues. We were able to hold the line on the General Town Tax at the 1980 level, and hold down increases in the Part Town and Highway Tax rates.

I feel we were able to formulate a good, down-to-the bone budget, in spite of the fact that some half million dollars in annually delivered State Aid to municipalities was withheld by action of the Carey administration.

With the Town budget prepared for hearings on October 21, we were informed that the Congress recessed without passing a bill extending Federal Revenue Sharing, a prime source of income for the Town. Some $2.5 million in such revenue remains in jeopardy for us.

Should the Congress, when it returns to Washington on November 12, fail to act on revenue sharing, the Town must raise its hold-the-line General Town Tax by 26½ cents per hundred dollars of assessed valuation.

I urge every taxpayer to contact their representative in Congress, insist that revenue sharing be restored, in total, by Congress before November 20, the last possible day available to approve and establish a tax rate for Oyster Bay Town.

Officials Press For Federal Revenue Sharing

The Nassau County Village Officials Association has notified area congressmen that the renewal of federal general revenue sharing is "absolutely essential to the fiscal stability of the 64 village governments in Nassau."

Sheldon Shane, mayor of Hewlett Neck and president of the association, called revenue sharing "the single most important federal-local government program of the past decade. Failure to reenact the program for another three years would create a fiscal disaster and add to the disproportionate tax burden the federal government imposes on northeastern states."

Shane said the 64 villages depend on revenue sharing for $1.5 million annually.

"We urge your support for the legislation to renew the program and your commitment to fight any attempt to reduce the funding levels to local governments," Shane told the Nassau congressional delegation. He noted that opposition has surfaced in the Senate, where the Appropriations Committee reported a bill which excludes the local share of revenue sharing for 1981.

"The village officials believe this program was rightfully conceived as a simple vehicle for the federal government to return some federal tax revenues back to the local taxpayers," Shane said. "It is not a handout, but an absolutely essential component of village budgets. Without the funds, most village governments would be hard-pressed to continue providing basic services at present levels.

Shane added that the loss of revenue sharing money would force drastic service cutbacks and increases in local property tax rates "neither of which are attractive alternatives to local governments or their taxpayers."

"Repeal Full-Value Assessment Law," Flipse

Republican Assembly Candidate Adrienne Flipse has called for the "immediate" repeal of Section 306 of the State's Real Property Tax Law "to prevent the implementation of full value assessment. So long as Section 306 of the Real Property Tax Law remains on the books, the full force and impact of 100% assessment will be upon us," asserted Miss Flipse.

Miss Flipse made her comments on full value assessment in a white paper she recently released on the subject. In the white paper she discussed the merits of repealing Section 306 and the pitfalls of imposing a new "classified" system of assessment as called for in the so-called Fink bill.

"The Fink bill attempts to accomplish several things — I repeat, NOT beneficial to the homeowner," declared Miss Flipse.

According to Miss Flipse, the threat of full value, or 100% assessment would be eliminated by repealing Section 306 of the State's RPTL, because it was that section of law upon which the Court of Appeals issued its full value decision in 1975. The Court stated that the current system of assessment, known as fractional assessment, was illegal, not unconstitutional as some have implied, because of the full value law, Section 306.

"The Fink bill," explains Miss Flipse, "would simply implement a form of full value assessment which would not be beneficial to the homeowners."

Miss Flipse explained that the Fink bill would:

create a classification system for property assessment that would subject the State Legislature to inexorable pressure from special interest groups to create new and/or additional classes or categories. The most powerful groups would be able to lobby for changes.

The homeowner, as a result, could find their tax position changed without participation or knowledge. As an example, Miss Flipse noted that in 1913 the State of Minnesota started a system of classified assessment with four categories. Today, they presently have 20 main assessment categories and 20 subgroups.

There are many properties in the State which have multiple uses such as "mom and pop" stores. Requiring local assessors to make determinations on the Fink bill could cost from $2 to $6 billion.

"Despite its shortcomings," states Miss Flipse, "most people are comfortable with the current system. It is familiar to them, therefore, they understand it. If there is a problem they know they can appeal it at the local level. Acceptance by the public is not a point to be overlooked by the Legislature, especially the Assembly," concludes Miss Flipse.

LEGIONNAIRE'S LOG

By Artie Rutz

CHARLES WAGNER POST # 421
HICKSVILLE, N.Y.

"One Of the Grass Roots Of The American Legion"

This Sunday morning, October 19th, is the date of our 1st Annual PANCAKE BREAKFAST so come down and bring the whole family for a 'breakfast out'.

Pancakes, Juice & Coffee will be served at $1.50 per person. Time is 8:00 A.M. to 12:30 P.M. The kitchen crew will be headed by Commander Lou Cesta who did a bit of cooking in service. Maybe you can get Lou to relate the tale of the 'Gold batter' he made one day while in service. Past Commander Dick Hochbrueckner is the chairman of this operation.

The Post received a nice letter from our 1978 Scholarship recipient, Rosemarie Hiltmeyer, who has now graduated. Cum Laude, from the Fashion Institute of Technology and has been accepted to do graduate work for her Bachelor's Degree in Fashion Design. After that she expects to be employed in the garment industry as a designer of women's apparel. Nice going, Rosemarie, go to it and good luck for the future.

P.C. Frank Molinari has been elected the new Sgt. of the Color Guard and one of his first official acts was to request new white shirts for the Guard at the last meeting. Prompt approval from the floor was forthcoming. Approval also was given for the Color Guard to again serve as the official Color Guard for the Nassau County American Legion for this new Legion year. The Color Guard was given the honor to lead the Oyster Bay Bicentennial Parade on October 5th. Incidentally, Frank informed the Post that the Color Guard has received 5 awards since June. Great work, fellows, keep it up! Congratulations to our Adjutant, Louis Braun, who was 1 of 68 to pass the National Academy of Code Administration's first Certified Professional Code Administrator (CPCA) designation which was held on a nationwide basis for 111 candidates at 23 testing centers.

The Post had a visitor who dropped in after attending the National Convention in Boston. As a youngster he played in the Post Band back in 1937 (Henry Brengel beat a mean bass drum in the same band). Fortunately, Henry was there when he arrived and a bit of old times was talked about and to introduce him to some of the Legionnaires working that night (it was our first legal Las Vegas night). His name was Henry 'Bert' Ofenloch, Commander, Department of Nevada, American Legion and he resides in North Las Vegas.

October 19th is also the date of the annual Legislative Breakfast held by the Nassau County Legion and of course we are having our very own PANCAKE BREAKFAST at the Post that morning but we will be represented there. Finally, a trickle of names are forthcoming for the CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS PARTY to be held December 14th but many more are needed as soon as possible if the committee is to furnish the proper gift for each child. So, please, if you intend to bring your children or grand children to this party, call Past Commander Jim Walsh WE 1-3299 or Past Commander Ray Gamble WE 8-2163 and make known the names, sex and ages of the children.

Please keep in mind that the Membership Officer needs your Dues as soon as possible so he can concentrate on signing up new members. Come to October 20th meeting or mail it now! Either way you will lighten the load on Membership Officer Ray Gamble's time.

Nothing new from the committee that was working on revision of the Post By-Laws for more than a year now but tomorrow is another day.

K-6 Health Curriculum Meeting

Dr. Roy Ilowit, health curriculum consultant for the Hicksville Public Schools, will present to all interested parents and community members the beginning of the district's revised health curriculum for grades K-6 on Monday, Oct. 27, at 8:15 P.M. The meeting will be held in the auditorium at Fork Lane School.

Dr. Catherine Fenton, Assistant Superintendent for Elementary Education said, "The word 'beginning' is stressed because the curriculum will be a skeletal outline of suggested health topics to be taught in grades

K-6. The topics will be culled from the Seattle-Berkeley curriculum on substance abuse, Hicksville's own curriculum written in the early 1970's New York State curriculum guides and other sources.

"The October 27 meeting will be the first of many to be held this year," Dr. Fenton continued. "The purpose of this meeting and each future meeting will be to keep parents and interested community members informed of our step-by-step progress in revising and reviewing Hicksville's health curriculum."

Armed Forces

Navy Fireman Giovanni Mercader, son of Rene and Cecilia Mercader of Gioiula, HICKSVILLE, has completed the Basic Elec-trician's Mate Course. A 1979 graduate of Hicksville High School, he joined the Navy in February 1980.

Hicksville Republican Club News

By Harriet Maher

This week we are pleased to have as our guest columnist, Alphonse D'Amato who is our Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate in the upcoming elections.

Statement by Al D'Amato

"New Yorkers, like all Americans, are concerned about our nation's apparent - and growing - weakness and irresolution in world affairs. President Carter's erratic shifts and vacillation in foreign policy have cost us the respect of friend and foe alike. But Senator Javits and Representative Holtzman, my two opponents, must share a large part of the blame because both have consistently voted against defense spending. Indeed, Ms. Holtzman, during her eight years in Congress, has actually voted against every basic defense department appropriations bill that has come before her. That is not cutting our fat, as she claims. That is cutting into muscle and bone, voting against the very existence of an Army, Navy and Air Force. I think that is irresponsible.

"I believe that a strong defense for the nation is one of the three fundamental rights of the forgotten middle class. We want a strong America, an America that can defend its vital interests in the world, an America that is respected.

"We also have a right to a strong economy and to be free from crime.

"New Yorkers are paying a heavy price for the inflation that is ravaging the nation. Both of my opponents helped fuel that inflation by voting for massive social programs and huge federal deficits.

"Crime is rampant in our cities and is seeping into the suburbs. A recent study showed that crime and the fear of crime are paralyzing our society, changing urban and suburban living patterns, and forcing all of us to live with the fear of violence hanging over our heads. I believe New York State needs a senator who understands the threat of crime and what it is doing to our society, and who will do something about it."

We need Al D'Amato to represent not only New York State, but our own Long Island region. He can do that for us if we pull together and elect him Senator. Long Island could use more defense contracts for her many plants and companies which, in turn, could create more employment for our extremely competent and talented labor market. More contracts, more jobs, more money available in the region to purchase more goods and services from our local businesses. Don't forget, vote Row B on Election Day and elect the Republican ticket.

And now we turn our attention to a member of our community who has served his friends, neighbors and Nassau County for many years with unswerving dedication of duty: Francis "Andy" Anderson.

"Andy's" career as a public servant started in 1931 in the Nassau County Clerk's Office, its abilities and expertise was recognized and he advanced progressively in his employment in 1959 "Andy" was elected Nassau County Clerk. He served in this capacity until 1964. From 1965 to 1971, He was a Vice President of the Franklin National Bank. During the period 1971 through 1976, "Andy" served as a consultant to Franklin National Bank and the European American Bank. During 1976, he decided it was time to retire. However, his "retirement" has not lessened his civic and community involvement. He has or is presently an officer or member of the following organizations: United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Nassau Cty., Inc.; NYS Assn. of County Clerks; Hicksville Kiwanis Club; Hicksville Chamber of Commerce; Boy Scouts of America; St. Ignatius Holy Name Society; St. Ignatius R.C. Church; Ancient Order of Hibernians; Hicksville Republican Cmte. Council; past Republican Leader of Hicksville.

He is the recipient of many awards: Outstanding and distinguished service to the People of the County of Nassau; NYS Assn. of County Clerks; Distinguished Service Corps; United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Nassau Co., Inc.; Plainville Kiwanis Club; Hicksville Kiwanis Club; Hicksville Lions Club; Plainville Chamber of Commerce are some of the organizations that have recognized his efforts on their behalf.

"Andy" has been married to his lovely wife, Lillian, for 44 years. They have three children: John, a Commander in the U.S. Navy; Bill, a history professor at Suffolk Community College; and Joyce, a home economics teacher at Commack Junior H.S.

He and Lillian have been residents of Hicksville for 41 years. His contributions to his community has been uninterrupted during this time. Therefore, why don't you plan on joining the Hicksville Republican Committee Men and Women who will honor Francis Anderson at the Fall Dance and Cocktail Party to be held at Antun's Old Country Manor, Hicksville, Friday night, 9 p.m. - 1 a.m., October 24, 1980. The tickets are $18.50 each. You can purchase tickets from your Committee representative of your area. If you need further information about this event, call me at 433-5994.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

October is fleeting. November is bearing down on us and December is ready to make its debut, waiting in the wings of time. Beginning with the October activities, why don't I mention that the 'Foolies' 'Follies', a presentation by the Lady Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge, will be held this Friday, the 17th, at our quarters, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. Please contact Chairlady Rose Riccardi (931-9351, 681-0966) for tickets and seating arrangements. This is your last chance for a night of merriment and mirth.

Another activity to take notice of is the Member Appreciation Night, which will be held on our next social meeting, the 23rd of October. As the name implies, on this night the Galileo Lodge offers its members in good standing free food, drinks, coffee and cake, entertainment, etc., and needless to mention that on this occasion the Lodge also picks up the 'tab'. So why not head for the Galileo Lodge on this date and partake of the generous and gratuitous mood of our organization. Wives and sweethearts are cordially invited, of course.

Heading into November, we see the Galileo Lodge offering a Testimonial Dinner and Dance in honor of ex-Venerable Tom Paquarella. Tickets for this activity will be $35 per couple and for this modest fee you will be offered a cocktail hour, dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, unlimited liquor and dance music from the Triangle Times. Teddy Marotti (681-5190) will chair this activity and he will be ably assisted by Jim Pino (822-7060). Both can be contacted for tickets and seating arrangements. As is obvious to all the members of our Lodge, a good attendance is desired, especially when we consider Tom Paquarella's faithfulness and devotion to our cause. We cannot and must not forget the sacrifices of others made in our behalf.

LODGE TIDBITS: Brother Frank Miccio has overcome his recent illness and can now be seen attending Lodge activities. Welcome back, Frank... We extend our sympathies to Member John Guiliano on the passing of his mother-in-law... On November 23rd, the Lodge will be offered to the Lions organization for a breakfast for handicapped children... Member Andy Guiliano has been on an extended trip to Italy (Sept. 6 to Oct. 6) to offer his help and devotion to his ailing mother. A beautiful gesture, undoubtedly... Brother Tom Paquarella has the distinction of being bowler of the month... A hearty thanks to Brother Jim Rerisi for donating half dozen golf balls to a recent golf tournament. A nice gesture... Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ingino will soon be grandparents for the seventh time. Congratulations!... Mrs. Nancy Bove of the Ladies Auxiliary will be leaving for a tour thru Europe, visiting six countries. We all wish Nancy an enlightening and pleasant trip overseas... We all express our deepest sympathy to Anthony Monteforte, an ex-Venerable for the Galileo Lodge, on the passing away of his beloved wife. We are truly sorry... A fishing trip is being planned by the Lodge on Oct. 26th. Expedition will start from Bay Shore and fee will be around $10 per person, depending also on number of people who attend. Families and friends are invited. More on this activity in later columns, but I would like to mention that Brothers John Keiper, Jules Mazaros and Jeff Wallick are involved here... Mrs. Carmen Russo has returned from an exciting and beautiful trip to Spain.

Now for a slight review of the Christmas season. Two Christmas parties, one for the handicapped children and the other one for the children of the membership on December 21st. A Christmas dance to be held on the 20th of December, and a New Years Party on the 31st.

St. Ignatius Homecoming

St. Ignatius Parish will conclude its Homecoming this coming week.

This Homecoming is a program of evangelization, a reaching out to the unchurched of the community. Recent polls have revealed that the majority of people who have no religious affiliation, when questioned, said that they would return to a church if someone asked them to do so. Homecoming does just that. It is a gentle invitation to come to God in a warm, unthreatening atmosphere.

It is also an opportunity for more regular churchgoers to renew and revitalize their relationship with God and each other.

Scheduled are: Sunday, Oct. 19, from 10:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Catholic Fair an exposition of Parish organizations, their work and goals; and conducted tours through the church, convent and school.

Also on Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m., a night of prayer, sharing and song by the Youth and Young Adults of the community. "Being home."

On Mon., Oct. 20, at 8 p.m. Jerry and Mary Mandry, "Your Place in The Church Today."

On Tues., Wed., Thurs., Oct. 21, 22, 23, 9:30 a.m., Rev. J. Moyna, Three Day Experience of Prayer.

On Tues., Oct. 21, at 8 p.m., the Rev. Robert Thelen, "New Morality Taught For Today."

Wed., Oct. 22 at 8 p.m., Sister Patricia Wilson, "Sharing In The Family Meal."

All sessions, except the prayer services, will be held in the new school cafeteria. The morning prayer experience will take place in the church after the nine o'clock Mass, and the Sunday night prayer, sharing and song will be in the auditorium of the old school.

Everyone is welcome to attend any or all of these events.

For further information, contact Cathy Garry at 733-1390.

Kiwanis News

Happy occasions at Hicksville Kiwanis Club were evident on two separate meetings recently.

Reaching the plateau of Legion of Honor status in Kiwanis is accomplished by relatively few members. Hicksville Kiwanis Club recognized two more members with this distinguished honor.

On September 24, past president Richard Warburton was honored with the presentation of his certificate and pin, in recognition of 25 years of service to Kiwanis. This honor was further amplified by the fact that the presentation was made by Hicksville's inimitable past Lieutenant Governor, "Uncle" Frank Chlumsky, who recalled Dick's early days in Kiwanis as he presented the award.

On October 1, Mr. Gottlieb Arthofer had the honor of receiving his Legion of Honor certificate and pin for 35 years of service in Kiwanis from the Long Island North Division's Lt. Gov. Ken Little. This was Lt. Gov. Ken's first such presentation, as he officially began his term of office as Lt. Governor the same day.

A Middle East Mosaic

To promote better understanding and brotherhood the Methodist Church of Hicksville is presenting two evenings dedicated to learning about the people and culture of the Mid-East.

This Sunday evenings' program begins with a supper of Muslim food. Then they will embark upon a dramatized evening to discover more about our Muslim neighbors; the custom, the faith and religious duties of Islam, the lifestyles and most importantly how the Muslim feels and thinks.

The following Sunday evening they will continue with the emphasis on the Jewish population of the Mid-East. The custom of offering bread to the stranger, and sharing salt as a blessed gift will be explained. Through dramatization and participation they will become aware of the important segments of the daily life of the Mid-East Jew learning the symbolism, customs, music and rituals.

Cub Scout Pack 293 News

By Charles P. Stein

Pack 293 welcomed three new cubs during the month of September they are Brian Spinner, Andrew DeBernardo, and Andrew McCraw all of Hicksville. Each of these boys received his free french fry coupon, compliments of the Burger King Corp. which is sponsoring the Boy Scout recruitment drive this year. The Pack is still looking for new boys between the ages of 8 and 11, or 7 year olds who have completed the second grade. Any boy interested in becoming a Cub Scout, or any parent interested in becoming a Cub Scout Leader contact either Cubmaster Frank Maier (681-6217) or Chairman Charles Stein (822-2630).

The weekend of September 25 and 27 saw 14 boys and fathers of Pack 293 travel to the West Point Military Academy. There we camped for the two days as guests of the Department of the Army, and Boy Scout Troop 293 which sponsored the trip. Everyone enjoyed the sights of West Point which included a cadets parade and a visit to the West Point museum. We also enjoyed three gourmet meals prepared by Ken Hammond, Tom Serrell and Frank DeBernardo with the assistance of a few other fathers. The weather was ideal for camping out, with sunny days and a clear crisp night. Saturday night was spent around a camp fire roasting marshmallows, telling stories, playing games, and singing songs. All in all, it was an enjoyable and interesting trip.

On Thursday night October 2nd the Pack held it's first Pack Night of the season at the United Methodist Church, Old Country Road, Hicksville. Cubmaster Frank Maier and the Den Leaders Paul and Carol Marks really out did themselves. There was a poster judging, with all those present voting for the best poster. First place in this poster contest, the theme of which was "Get Out and Vote," went to Jason Hinckley, second place Michael Maier, and third place was a tie between Michael Hoops and Thomas Utting. There were also games and songs, accompanied by Jane Hinckley strumming on her guitar. Marty Smith and Pete Martelli conducted an inspection of the Cubs which resulted in David Marks being selected as Cub Scout of the Month for October. After the meeting, cake, cookies, coffee, and juice provided and served by Dottie Stein, Pat Smith and Carol Marks, made a big hit.

This month Pack 293 will attend a musical entitled "Yankee Doodle Dandy" at the Westbury Music Fair. This outing is planned for the latter part of October so there is still time for any new boys and parents to join Cub Scouting and accompany us to the event."

Sports Fans Should Beware of Mail Fraud

With the World Series baseball near and the professional football season just under way, Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster Anthony M. Murello today issued a warning about mail-order promotions for major sporting events.

"Anyone responding to a promotion for a ticket, package or travel accommodations," Postmaster Murello said, "should make sure the promoter has an agent in the Hicksville area." Otherwise, Postmaster Murello added, "those responding may find their hardearned dollars going to fly-by-night operators who will take the money and run."

Postmaster Murello issued the warning as a result of two swindles uncovered by postal inspectors earlier this year.

In January, the Mid-State Travel Club of Williamsport, Pennsylvania, placed advertisements in the Wall Street Journal and newspapers in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Baltimore, offering a Super Bowl vacation package that included air fare, hotel accommodations and tickets for $279, it required those responding to mail a $50 deposit to a post office box in Williamsport.

This summer Bruce A. Ronning of Williamsport was sentenced to a seven-year prison term for mail fraud. An investigation by the Postal Inspection Service revealed he had no intention of providing anything he offered in his so-called Super Bowl vacation package.

Ronald A. Ritacca of Tucson, Arizona was given a five-year sentence this year

JFK High School News

By Tracey Sennett

Kennedy student, John Doe, was ruefully awakened. He had felt comfortable in his High School rut. The thought of change made him uncomfortable. Nevertheless, change was inevitable.

This metamorphosis occurred when John was handed a blank transcript. "This must be filled out and handed back to me. It is for your COLLEGE'S benefit," declared John's guidance counselor.

College! The word hit him like a ton of bricks. Suddenly the responsibility of being a senior was thrust upon him.

John sat down ready to fill in the blanks. However, he could not seem to make his pen write. "Was it writer's block?" No it was not. John simply had nothing to write. It was his goal to fill in those spaces. It was time to get involved.

John was forced to sacrifice his life of watching (Soap Operas) for a more active life of doing.

"What kind of club is right for me?"

Suddenly out of the corner of his eye, John caught a glimpse of a poster. In bright letters read the word Metmunk. John read on.

"On November 15 & 16, Metmunk (a simulated U.N. organization) will be holding its 14th annual delegation, it will include students from the Eastern Seaboard. From Massachusetts to Virginia. Meetings will take place at J.F.K. High School. Actual U.N. representatives from Kenya, East Germany and Israel are expected to attend."

"You too can get involved, by donating your homes. Housing is required from November 14th to 16th."

John happily volunteered his parent's home. One empty space was now filled. But John was not yet satisfied.

While sitting in biology class, John started to daydream. He was awakened by a sudden shrill from the loudspeaker. "Testing one, two, three," cried the school president.

"The student gov't will be given $2000 every 3 months."

Course In Decision-Making

Long Islanders for Thresholds Inc., a non-profit, volunteer decision-making counseling organization, announces that its next decision-making skills course will be offered on Tuesday evenings, November 4 to December 17, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. It will be given at the Hicksville Senior High School on Division Avenue in Room 202. The fee for the course will be $30.00, covering the cost of training and student materials.

For further information write to Clifford Schein, director of LIFT, at the address below.

L.I.F.T. Inc.
P.O. Box 156
East Meadow, N.Y. 11554

However, the money will only be given on the condition that no vandalism exists during that three month period. Therefore, we are putting into effect an anti-vandalism program. You too can get involved. If interested, please see me sometime today."

John happily volunteered himself to be head of the committee. And another space was now filled. But still John was not satisfied.

John was becoming obsessed with ambition. He had to fill each nook and crannie of that transcript. John joined the Golden Eagle and Fountain Head newspapers, the foreign language club, and the editing staff for the year book.

The transcript was completed and handed into the guidance office. But John was more unhappy than ever. It was his senior year and he did not want to work. John resolved that he was quitting it all when, "John," whispered a gentle voice. "Do you want to go to the Sadie Hawkins dance November 8th?"

John had reached a turning point in his life. He had decided that getting involved wasn't so bad after all.

Thus Friday you will catch John and other seniors showing off their school spirit. They will roam the halls wearing odd clothing to commemorate Senior Clash Day.

Story's moral: Kennedy students can not resist getting involved!

SINCE DAD DIED MOM HASN'T BEEN HERSELF

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO GET OVER THE DEATH OF A LOVED ONE?

Questions like this are hard to answer because everyone reacts to the loss of a loved one a little differently. In general we can expect the first year after a death to be most trying. After all, we face each anniversary, birthday and holiday for the first time without our loved family member or friend. These events will be a reminder of our loss and may leave us feeling down or blue. The second year without the deceased may be a bit easier but we can't ever expect to completely forget the love we had. Usually, as the bereaved person gets farther away from the death, and as they learn to do more things on their own and with others, they will begin to feel better.

ENDURING LOVE

Saint Paul hits hard at four dynamic qualities of "Christian love. He says, "Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things." Let's briefly consider the first three of these aspects of Christian love before looking deeper at the fourth.

A mature Christian love bears the burdens of others and those of the world. It is compassionate love sensitive to the ills of others. It first recognizes where there is hurt and then is compelled into offering assistance.

A mature Christian love believes all things. The loving spirit of the Christian is always prone to believe the best about the other person. It puts the highest construction upon their motives, even when the evidence might be to the contrary. To paraphrase this part of our text we would say, "Love is 'trustful'." It is a love that is eager to believe the best in another person's actions. And as it believes the better possibilities in a person, it challenges the person and inspires the person to live up to the high ideals and expectations we have of them.

The person with a mature Christian love also hopes all things. It doesn't lose hope in another person. Think how Jesus saw possibilities in the fishermen of Galilee, in Mary Magdalene, and in Paul himself even when he was the chief persecutor of the Christian Church. You see, the prodigal son is still a son; the erring daughter is still a daughter. We keep our hearts open to them until they "come to themselves" and so find the way back to complete restoration in the family circle.

We have now come to the last portion of verse seven, and God says to us through Saint Paul, "Love endures all things." Bearing is hard, hoping takes effort, believing isn't always easy, but there is no question about an enduring love ... it is really tough. Enduring love is like an army that is threatened with overwhelming defeat by superior numbers of the enemy, yet it steadfastly refuses to give ground. Enduring love is like seasoned timber which stands every test. For love to last it must be willing to suffer misfortune without yielding. It is a love that hangs in there with people even when they don't deserve it.

One of the problems with love today is that it has lost the quality of foreverness. If people are going to continue with each other in a relationship of love, at some point in that life-long relationship suffering and enduring is called forth. We must not be so quick to separate ourselves from each other - to walk out on relationships when things get hard. Too often today, the action of divorce is taken too quickly, like popping two aspirin into our mouths at the first sign of a headache. I'm not just referring to the divorce of a husband and a wife - although this has reached epidemic proportions. People divorce themselves from the Church when they become upset over some slight they may have received.

In our homes, wives are called upon to love their husbands with an enduring love as they hear their husband tell the same stories for the umpteenth time. Husbands need an enduring love as their wives find fault with what husbands see as rather minor flaws in their own character. Kids simply need to work at enduring each other better. In our relationships with each other, we need to constantly strive for better endurance records.

The greatest love endurance record of all time is held by Jesus Christ. His is the standard to which we strive to measure up. As we are called upon to endure in a relationship with another person and feel like throwing in the towel, we need to ask if Jesus would have given up. Now there were times when even Jesus was unsuccessful and forced to give up ... but not often. We might consider using the cross as a measure of our endurance, remembering that Jesus spoke of also having to bear crosses in life. Nobody says that enduring love is popular or easy, but it is called for in the Christian life.

God helps us acquire enduring love as we permit him to get our centers straight. Many people do not have the proper center in their lives. Some husbands try to put their wives in the center, or wives try to put their husbands there, or parents will try to center their lives around their children. Other people center their lives on material things, getting more seems to be central in living. The Christian's life can be likened to our Solar System. It must revolve around the central sun, which holds everything together and provides a life-giving power to make it function. Try to replace the sun and everything falls apart. In a similar way, we need to daily put the Son of God in the center of our lives and receive from Him his life-giving power. We need to trust him as Savior of our hearts, Savior of our homes, of our relationships, our Church - to make him the center of everything. For the love of Jesus at the center of our lives empowers us to love each other with a love that bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things ... a love that is long-suffering, and eager to believe the best.

after he was found guilty of mail fraud in a scheme involving the Winter Olympics. Inspectors found Ritacca was taking money for rental of non-existent property in Lake Placid, NY, site of the Winter Olympics. Ritacca advertised in Pittsburgh, Buffalo, New York and Michigan and Ohio newspapers that he had "newly completed apartments" for rent for $400 a week.

Postmaster Murello said the Postal Inspection Service investigation disclosed that Ritacca claimed he had apartments for rent at 408 Allen Street, Lake Placid, "when in fact there was no such address, or such property in Lake Placid."

Because of quick action by postal inspectors and Postal Service lawyers in getting the cases before a judge, mail containing responses to the promotions was returned to senders and there was no public loss.

Return From 4-H Forum

Mrs. Anne Andrews and Mrs. Clara Bennett of Hicksville, returned home this week from Washington, D.C. where they were one of some 40 volunteer 4-H leaders from 18 states attending a forum on working with disabled youth. The five days at the National 4-H Center were designed to help make community based youth programs more accessible and better adapted to the needs of youth with disabilities.

The forum provided leaders with information on public policy, developed skills in planning, carrying out and evaluating programs involving youth with disabilities and helped increase their sense of satisfaction and competency in working with all youth.

Featured speakers, workshops and field trips combined to give leaders an opportunity to learn new skills and exchange ideas. Tuesday's sessions were devoted to "Mainstreaming Disabled Youth" and featured field trips to the Maryland School for the Deaf and the Rock Creek School for the Deaf.

Participants spent Wednesday on Capitol Hill where they visited with their Congressman, attended a session of the Senate Committee on the Handicapped and discussed issues with officials of the Department of Health and Human Services.

Workshops on Thursday provided opportunity for leaders to discuss "Independent Living" on such topics as home management, earning a living, food and nutrition and horticulture.

The major objective of the forum was to prepare leaders to share skills with others on their return.

The forum was conducted by National 4-H Council in behalf of the 4-H program of the Cooperative Extension Service. Financial support for travel scholarships and resources was provided by the Dr. Scholl Foundation and the Mattel Foundation.

You can learn more about 4-H from your county extension agent, at 1425 Old Country Road, Plainview, New York 11803, telephone 454-0900.

Old McDonald Had A Farm

On Friday, Oct. 9, Woodland Avenue's first and second grade classes of Ms. Kabakoff, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Calio went on a trip to the Long Island Game Farm in Manorville.

The children fed the ducks and played in the hay at Old McDonald's Farm. They petted the deer in Bambiland and fed bottles to the baby goats in the nursery. There was also a well trained sea lion show that everyone enjoyed.

The orange and gold colors of the turning leaves made a picturesque setting and the weather could not have been more pleasant.

It was a beautiful day.
