At The School Board Meeting

By Meryl Greenblatt

After the Board meeting Wednesday night, much applause was heard in the Hicksville High School Cafeteria as the results of the School Board and Budget elections were announced to approximately 200 people. By a substantial majority, the budget for the 1981-82 school year was passed. At the same time, the seats of William P. Bennett and Cornelius J. McCormack were won by Frank Grimmer and Jay Schwartz, respectively. John P. Ayres, running unopposed, retained his seat.

The budget figure of $32,384,160 represents an approximate tax increase of $36 per $100 of assessed valuation for a total of $18,984. The Board will officially set the tax rate in August.

At the regular school board meeting, extension of the School Lunch Service Contract with Interstate United for the 1981-82 school year received much attention. Resident Donna Rehman, Chairman of the PTSA Health and Safety Committee and of the Youth Advisory Committee, questioned the lack of bids from other food services, asking, "Why were no other bids sought when the committee said that there would be?" The last bid was taken in 1976 when four offers were presented, and since that time, the contract has been renegotiated with Interstate United each year. Dissatisfaction was expressed with the portion size of a a-la-carte items, more so than with the quality or price of the food.

Interstate has been cooperative with our complaints in the past, but we would be interested in reviewing other companies' proposals in case a better offer comes along," Mrs. Rehman stated.

According to figures by Business Manager Richard Weigang, Hicksville has one of the best lunch programs, reporting profits over the past two years. Nevertheless, the item was removed from the agenda until further information is gathered, including bids from other food services.

Special education was also discussed at great length. Trustee Charlene Anci questioned the announcement of an entire package regarding regulations being developed involving class size restrictions and placement of students with regard to their actions in class as opposed to the psychiatric label applied to them.

"Why have the parents, psychologists, and teachers been notified of this plan when in fact we have not yet voted on it?" Mrs. Anci questioned.

According to Dr. Weeks, Director of Pupil Personnel Services, no such announcement has yet been made and, "At this time it is only a recommendation by me to adopt such a package." Anci's main concern was the possible increase in class size, but Dr. Weeks stated that class size would be limited, not raised, by the regulations. It is still up to the Board to decide the matter.

Trustee John Ayres brought to the attention of the Board a memo passed out to students in the High

Galileo Lodge News

VENERABLE TONY PREVITE'S MESSAGE: "It doesn't take great men to do things, but it is doing things that makes men great." — Italian Proverb.

As I stated in my last installment, Blood Bank Day is almost upon us, with the date set at Thursday, the 18th of June. The place will be the Galileo Lodge, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville, and the overseer of this activity will be Venerable Tony Previte. Please come and make this Blood Bank Day a sweeping success. The Galileo Lodge has pledged 50 pints of blood, which means that the community is invited as well as other members of the many Lodges associated with the Sons of Italy in America. Please remember also that if you are a donor you are automatically a member of this humane project. Accredited medical technicians will be there to serve you, and your blood will be pre-tested, so if you are not accepted as a donor, the fact that you wanted to donate blood counts as a donation. Life is a gamble, and illnesses strike quickly and emergencies arise suddenly, so what can be more important than blood and its life-giving properties.

Can you hear the sounds as the Marshal calls the races to start? If you do, the sounds are not too far away.

and you might like to know that the Galileo Lodge's presentation of Night at the Races is scheduled for Monday, the 20th of July. For the modest sum of $17 per person, you will be entitled to a tasty dinner at the Cloud Casino of Roosevelt Raceway and admission to the Clubhouse. Tony Balestrino (785-1462) of the Galileo Lodge is handling ticket sales and seating arrangements. For a pleasant and enjoyable summer night of racing and pleasant dining, why not partake of this activity.

and beliefs and attitudes are your own possessions, and they are inalienable. The Galileo Lodge doesn't dote on sameness, it espouses the causes of oneness, and there is a whole world of difference here.

Remember, the Galileo Lodge wants and needs you because it is desirous in obtaining individuals with a certain ethnic background to help it in its desire to perpetuate and preserve the dignity and integrity of the Italian way of life, or the Italian experience, if you will. The Galileo Lodge wants you to become a part of it as it seeks its common goals and ambitions. The Galileo Lodge wants you to nurture and sustain it as it seeks to grow and prosper. The Galileo Lodge is, after all, only human, which also means that it maintains its humanitarian views at all times. That, to my way of thinking, is not a strangulation of any kind, ethnic or otherwise.

LODGE TIDBITS

The Galileo Lodge's summer recreational program is now in full swing, so keep abreast of its activities which will include picnics, outings, fishing trips, golfing tournaments, bowling sessions, dances and some parties offered to the membership. Keep abreast of news concerning the Americana Day Dance scheduled for mid-July and the August Dance which will stress the highlights of the old-fashioned Italian weddings. Carl Melluso of the Galileo Lodge will 'chair' this activity.

Community Council's Awards Dinner

By Carol Wolf

Over 150 people from all walks of life came together to share a meal as the Hicksville Community Council closed its 1980-1981 season with its 10th Annual June buffet.

Representatives from the Hicksville School Board, Hicksville School District, HAD, Seaman & Eisemann, Our Lady of Mercy, the Gregory Museum, National Bank of North America, Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Beacon Savings Bank, Hicksville America Soccer Club, Hicksville Baseball Association, 4-H, Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, PTA, Galileo Galilei Lodge and so many other groups were present to close the season.

Judge Warren Doolittle was there to install John Budnick as President, Cathy Steckler as first Vice-President, Al Peck as second Vice-President, Councilman Tom Clark as third Vice-President, Christine Cahalan as Recording Secretary, Bernice Neufeld as Corresponding Secretary and Clara Bennett as Treasurer.

The Community Awards were given to two groups who have spread their love of community to others by the use of music. One group has traveled halfway across the country to take the World's Open and to bring their love of community and their pride in their music to the United States and Canada. The other award was given to a group of adults who performs several shows a year and then voluntarily take their songs to Senior Citizen homes around Long Island. They burst into song every December for the Council's holiday party and give of themselves often to their community. Tom O'Connor, the Director of the Holy Family Players was thrilled to receive the Community Award in behalf of the players. And best wishes went to his wife, Peggie, who is at home with a broken leg.

The Council's year has ended and now it is time to look ahead, according to President John Budnick. Since reapportionment is scheduled for next year, Budnick feels that the community should look into the possibility of urging the legislature to make our town one district instead of four.

Another year has come to a close and it was time to say goodbye. After a summer of sun, the members of the community will be looking forward to the first Thursday in October where they can all join together, "For a Better Hicksville."

New Girl Scout County Board of Directors

By Iris Dorfman

A new Board of Directors for the Nassau Council of Girl Scouts, Inc. was elected and installed at the Council's 16th Annual Meeting on May 19, 1981 at the Nassau Academy of Medicine in Garden City. Those elected were: Marianne Templeton (President), Barbara White (Executive Vice President), Natalie Goldberg (Secretary), Mildred Gittleson (Treasurer) and three Vice Presidents, Edna Adler, Sandy Cutrone and Sheila Bohan. Also elected were new members-at-large to the Board, a Nominating Committee and Delegates and Alternate Delegates to the National Convention.

The Meeting's opening ceremony and invocation was conducted by Cadette Troop 1485 of Uniondale and the closing ceremony by Cadette Troop 1679 of Hempstead. Guests who addressed the delegates were an adult Scout and a Girl Scout from Transimania. Tenure pins for those completing terms of service from 15 to 30 years and Thanks Badges for outstanding service were awarded. Representatives from 37 Girl Scout Community Associations (including Rosemary Batley and Iris Dorfman of the West Hempstead/Franklin Square Association) attended the meeting. Assisting with the registration of the delegates was the East Meadow Association and with the refreshments, the Island Trees Levittown Assoc.

BROWNIE LAYS WREATH

Deborah Low, a Brownie and member of Troop 1045 was chosen to join the group of representatives of various youth groups and lay a wreath at the memorial monument at Echo Park Pool, West Hempstead on Monday, May 25, 1981. Miss Low then joined her troop and Brownie Troop 1751 in the Memorial Day Parade. Troop 1045 has marched in every Memorial Day Parade for the past five years with its Leader, Iris Dorfman. Troop 1751 also marched in the Franklin Square Memorial Parade with its Leaders, Diana Doherty and Pat Dato.

Nassau AHRC Plans Expansion

The Cissy Birnbaum-Five Towns Auxiliary of the Nassau Association For The Help Of Retarded Children is helping to make possible the construction scheduled to begin this year of a new facility on AHRC's Brookville campus to be named the Cissy Birnbaum-Five Towns Auxiliary Center.

The center has been designated to recognize the auxiliary's contribution of a half million dollars beyond its annual contribution to AHRC's operating budget. The new building, comprising about fifty thousand square feet, will enable AHRC to expand its day treatment program to two hundred fifty. Cost for the project is currently estimated at $2,500,000 with

New York State contributing $833,000 of that amount and the balance of $1,667,000 provided by AHRC.

The Nassau Association For The Help Of Retarded Children is now in its thirty-second year and provides daily programs to twelve hundred mentally retarded children and adults. Present facilities include an education and training center at Brookville, vocational centers in Plainview and Freeport, community residences scattered in Nassau County and a residential summer camp at Hunter, New York. The organization also provides a summer day camp program on its Brookville campus as well as year-round recreation and leisure-time activities.

Fresh Air Fund Seeks Hosts

Dorothy Law Nolte has written, "Children Learn What They Live... if a child lives with acceptance and friendship, he learns to find love in the world." The Fresh Air Fund believes this, too. Through its Friendly Town Program, each summer more than 11,500 disadvantaged New York City children are provided with vacations with volunteer host families in twelve eastern states.

The local Friendly Town Committee is now seeking families who would like to welcome city children, ages 5-12, into their homes for two weeks of summer fun. The Fresh Air Fund pays for the children's transportation, medical expenses, and insurance costs. No elaborate plans are necessary, and hosts are asked to simply share their usual summer-time activities.

For further information about the Friendly Town Program, please call 741-2570. Help make a city child's dream come true.

Police Bike Auction Set

The Nassau County Police Department will conduct its annual bicycle auction on June 13.

The auction will take place in the Exhibition Hall of the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum. Bicycles will be on display beginning at 9:00 a.m. and bidding will commence at 10:00 a.m. Terms are strictly cash and parking and admission are free.

Purcell Calls For "Leanest Possible" Budget

County department and agency heads got their 1982 budget preparation guides recently accompanied by a warning from County Executive Francis T. Purcell that every penny they ask for will be challenged so that he can come up with "the leanest possible budget at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers."

Purcell's warning was contained in a memo forwarding the county's new budget preparation system package to department heads. Purcell noted that adoption this year of the new

Nassau Unified Management Information System (NUMIS) made it necessary to change the budget preparation system to conform its data base to NUMIS.

"During the past three years, our administration has guided Nassau County firmly on the road to fiscal stability," Purcell told the commissioners. "With your help, we have reduced the general fund property tax rate three years in a row; cut the general sales tax by one cent—and by two cents more on home heating fuels, earned record investment income; cut the county payroll; slowed the growth in county spending despite the ravages of inflation; and still managed to end 1980 with a surplus of nearly $13 million."

"None of these things happened spontaneously," Purcell continued. "They were the result of tight, prudent fiscal management, both within the departments and in overall budget administration. I want to continue the same tight, prudent fiscal management as we begin preparing the 1982 budget."

The budget guide contains instructions and forms to be used by department heads in presenting their 1982 revenue estimates and expenditure requests to the county executive. The most notable difference between the old and the new budget preparation systems is that the new one identifies control and responsibility centers, a format that will yield, for the first time, a programmatic budget instead of the line-item budgets the county has published in the past. A control center is the administrative unit within a department to which money is appropriated by the board of supervisors to fund an array of services. In the larger departments, it generally coincides with a division administered by a deputy commissioner. A responsibility center is the specific unit where money is spent to furnish a specific service.

Departments must return their budget requests by early August. Purcell will then hold public hearings on the budget requests in late August or early September. Under the county charter, the county executive must send his recommended budget to the board of supervisors no later than the second Monday in November (this year, Nov. 9). The board must then hold a public hearing and adopt a budget no later than the third Monday in December (this year, Dec. 21).

Village Mayors Blast State Road Maintenance

The Nassau County Village Officials Association has accused the State Department of Transportation of neglecting its legal obligation to maintain state roads in the county.

Mayor Carl Del Vecchio of Williston Park, president of the 64-member village association, said the regional DOT director admitted the point in a recent letter to the Village of New Hyde Park. In the letter, Austin Emery stated that sweeping operations on state roads are determined by the volume of work required for the two sweepers available. Catch basin cleaning, Emery added, "is done on an emergency basis only... due to the fact that there are over 20,000 basins and only one 15 year old basin cleaner available."

Mayor Del Vecchio labeled the statement "an admission of gross neglect on the part of the state in providing taxpayers in the county with the services for which they pay and to which they are entitled."

The mayor added that proper maintenance of state roads in the incorporated villages has long been a problem.

"The Nassau VOA believes that if the villages can properly maintain their local roads given their limited financial resources, the state should secure the necessary equipment to do its job," Del Vecchio stated.

"One can only question where our state taxes are going," he added, noting that in recent years the state also has reduced its aid to local village governments.

"Village officials in Nassau want the state to meet its obligation to maintain state roads," Del Vecchio said. "We pay for the service and have every right to demand it."

and protect the passengers. Today Siwa's group has grown to 800 wearing uniforms with present recruits bringing the total to about 1000. If those in other states are counted, it would come to about 1400. The Angels have been asked to start groups in other cities. They have chapters in New York City, Upstate New York, Connecticut, parts of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Florida, and they have helped other groups to get started in Los Angeles and Atlanta. There is one group in Long Island at Roosevelt Field, Central Park and Times Square are always covered, as well as some special places, as requested.

The group is funded by savings from Siwa's former job as a Manager for MacDonalds and by contributions from many sources. To be an Angel one must be at least 16 years of age (Male or female). There have been false rumors that some are younger. Most of them are between 17 and 19 but they go as high as 36 years of age. A recruit is not accepted even if he is old enough, if he looks too young and if he does not pass screening for response, fear, appearance, and attitude. They have two or three training patrols out of fifty or sixty patrols. Recruits are trained until the Patrol Leader feels they are ready to go out. They are tested in fake situations and staged incidents with undercover troublemakers. Some of the most "macho" looking recruits fail, because they fold in fear and lack response. Sometimes they have to use "excessive force" which involves use of the basic self-defense techniques. They take their training from the military. Any Guardian Angels, who may themselves be suspected of or be observed to be troublemakers, are permanently "thrown out" of the Angels.

Patrolling goes on seven days a week. Each Angel works twice a week for four hours at a time. Many have regular jobs, many are students, and many are giving full-time to the Angels, while they are looking for jobs or waiting for other school plans to go through. John is "between jobs" and gives full time helping in administration, interviewing, and screening recruits. He lives in New York City and would like to work in a field involving singing and "rap," but may find a job as a security guard out of necessity. While the Angels have ranks, John in the Army. John describes himself as "just a plain ole guy."

The Angels usually go in groups of from 8 or more. If there are ten cars on a train, they would have one man to a car and the Patrol Leader would move back and forth checking. They use signals, such as waving their berets or blowing special whistles to bring other Angels to the scene of an incident. Those who may consider jumping an Angel for fun soon change their minds when they realize that they would have to contend with the whole patrol. There have been impostors who have stolen the Angels uniforms. No one has been seriously injured, according to John.

The Auxiliary Police are usually sent two or three at a time to the most crime ridden areas of the city, and according to John, get "taken" because there are too few police there.

One student questioned the behavior of an Angel who is off-duty and has no beret at the time he witnesses a crime in progress. He does what he can, but only as a regular citizen and cannot identify himself as being a Guardian Angel, because he has no proof. It is a sad fact that people have been bothered and robbed "just for the fun of it."

If anyone wants to join the Guardian Angels, he should contact them by calling 212-733-3106, and he will be invited to the Bronx headquarters for interview.

Dear Friends...

THE JONES INSTITUTE SUIT has been rejected by the dismissal of a court petition to block this proposed sale, by Justice V. Ballella. He did, however, give the Institute's trustees four months to come up with an alternative plan and, then, if this is not possible, the matter would have to go to the New York State attorney general for a solution.

Charles Robert, attorney for the former Jones residents stated that his clients would appeal inasmuch as the entire matter in this action pertained to where these people should be placed.

Angelo Scarinzi, a county attorney said that since there was no longer a Jones Institute the county did not have to find another site. He stated that the County is not involved, in his opinion!

The Jones Institute, which under Samuel Jones will should be operated for the indigent poor, and whose money paid for the property now being sold to King Kullen, seems to be ill-fated at the moment. This brings up two questions... "Does a person's will mean anything or can it be so easily set aside?" And, "Just exactly where will the millions of dollars involved in the possible sale of this property go, if it is legal to abrogate a person's will?" This paper would like to know.

The Hicksville School budget has passed and the team of Ayres, Grimmer and Schwartz has won seats on the Board of Education. In the Bennett-Grimmer race the victory was a very narrow one. We believe that both Mr. Bennett and Mr. McCormack have served our entire community well through the years. Now, it is up to the winners to do the same. We wish them well. And we hope that all of you who are interested in both the education of our young people and the future of our community, continue to maintain their interest in the actions of the school board. It has always been important, and will continue to be so. This paper will, as in the past, continue to cover each meeting. And, of course, you always have the "Letter To The Editor", in which to express your opinions on educational and other local community matters. We hope that you do this, and that you maintain your interest in these matters which affect our community in so many ways.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting

The next luncheon meeting of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce will be Tuesday, June 16 at the Milleridge Inn, Jericho in the Quaker Room at 12:30 p.m.

The cost of the luncheon will be $6.75 per person and includes a choice of London

Broil, Capon, or Filet of Sole.

On the agenda will be financial reports, committee reports, and new member applications.

Mr. Jerry Leahy will speak about membership development.

The Singing Boys Of L.I. At Holy Trinity

Through the courtesy of Mr. Gerald Barker, Director of the Singing Boys of Long Island, arrangements have been made for Mozart's beautiful Coronation Mass to accompany the 10 A.M. Eucharist at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Hicksville, this Sunday, June 14.

Over 40 voices with soloists and Mr. Herbert Bradenstin as organist will present a rare religious treat for all who come.

The community is invited to attend this service and remain for refreshments following.

The expertise of Mr. Barker and the fine singing of the talented young men of the Singing Boys of Long Island have earned an excellent reputation both here and abroad. This musical offering will be a celebration of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church's Parish Name Day.

The Church is located on the corner of Old Country Road and Jerusalem Avenue.

Dear Mr. Montana:

Thank you very much for your letter, dated June 2, 1981, concerning the proposed extension of Duffy Avenue.

Please be advised that Supervisor Colby and County Executive Purcell have agreed that upon completion of the preliminary engineering studies, a detailed proposal will be made available to the public. Steps have been taken to insure adequate public notice of this proposal and every effort will be made to secure interested public comment.

If after this review of the County's preliminary engineering work, the local citizenry find such plans unacceptable, then a different solution would have to be sought.

Dr. Hawkins replied that the matter would be looked into.

Hon. Thomas L. Clark,

Dear Editor:

I would like to congratulate Charles Montana regarding his excellent letter to Supervisor Colby, asking him to make known, now, the position of the Town of Oyster Bay, concerning the Duffy Ave. - Broadway extension. A number of us who live on Plainview Road are wondering how long it will be before we will have to leave our cherished hometown to find new homes elsewhere, if Duffy Avenue is extended. As Mr. Montana noted, the industrial plants on Duffy Avenue already have easy access to Old Country Road and to the Parkway, and do not need the extension.

I would like to thank Mr. Widder of the Chamber of Commerce for answering my letter of protest with a personal phone call. This proves that the Chamber has an interest in the views of the residents of Hicksville.

Possibly, if more residents would make their feelings known to the Town of Oyster Bay, Supervisor Colby would realize that the majority of the people of Hicksville do not want any extension, and act accordingly. We have no one to blame but ourselves, if we do not inform our leaders as to our desires for our community.

I also wish to say that I regret that the person who protested in poetic form against the ripping up of Hicksville's residential streets to convert them to highways preferred to remain anonymous. The writer not only possesses an excellent lyrical quality in verse, but also captures the emotions of all of us long-time residents who view with sadness some of the changes that have resulted in a loss of the beauty that was once a part of Hicksville's charm.

Sincerely,

much debate, concerning a proposed policy regarding entry into the occupational education program. Assistant Supt. of Secondary Schools Daniel Salmon sought to amend an "arbitrary clause" limiting changes in the program to within 25 days after the beginning of the school year to a limit imposed only after the student's needs had been considered. Vice-president Bennett replied that a cut-off date was needed. When asked, "Why," Mr. Bennett explained that programs have to be set up, and that not all students are actually qualified for some programs, and skills and aptitudes must be taken into consideration. Much discussion pro and con followed with the result that this policy which will be up for a vote after June 27, along with a transportation policy, will be looked into.

Other areas discussed pertained to the scheduling of classes during Regents week, the retirement of two teachers and leave of absence of a third, civil servant personnel appointments and resignations, and appointments of the IV-B summer program. Award of bids were granted for computers, learning materials, general office supplies, and summer transportation for the physically handicapped. Tax anticipation notes were also awarded.

The next scheduled meeting is June 24 starting at 8:15 pm in the Administration Building.

Families Needed

Prospective foster parents, of necessity, must be persons who are able to relate easily to teenagers, understand them, and accept them. Additionally, they must be able to provide full-time supervision, structure, and discipline. During the school year, youngsters are enrolled in the foster parents' local school.

It is to the advantage of the community to help these youngsters, but you may ask - does it help the child? One young man described his experience:

"When I come ... I was scared a little and when days passed I got used to the house. I learned that I can trust people and my advice for kids who come here is learn that when you get angry, talk to somebody. You will learn to trust people, too."

If you are interested in this program, one which will challenge you to give more hope for kids in trouble, please call Berkshire at 334-3900. Tell us that you are interested in shore term foster care.

Foster parents work closely with Berkshire's professional staff to help each youngster. Training, support, and supervision are part of Berkshire's commitment to foster parents. Foster parents receive a generous reimbursement for the care of these youngsters.

Jerry and Edie Nolan of East John St., HICKSVILLE, are the proud parents of a baby boy, born June 5 at Central General Hospital. His name is Kevin Michael, and he weighed in at 8 lbs. 5 oz. He has a brother George, who will be celebrating his 7th birthday on June 14.

His maternal grandparents, Charles and Irene Hearon are visiting from Holiday, Fla. The other proud grandparents are John and Gertrude Nolan, of Hicksville.

We're a little late, but the wish is just as sincere that Hicksvilles, Frank and Barbara DeStefano, have many, many more wonderful years of married life to share with each other. The DeStefanos were married ten years on May 29. Helping them celebrate this special occasion were their two children, Frank, Jr. and Renee.

The Cafeteria group from St. Ignatius Loyola School spent a scintillating evening in the "Big Apple" recently. Two busloads of women travelled to New York City and saw the show, "Barnum." They thoroughly enjoyed the show and got a big "bang" from the experience -- especially when one of the tires on the bus blew out.

Best wishes to our own Carole Wolf who, upon her graduation from Hofstra, begins a full time position in internal accounting at the National Bank of North America in New York City, this Monday.

We let the month of May go by without telling you about the 32nd wedding anniversary of Anne and Bob Rennett -- our close friends and neighbors. Anne and Bob celebrated on May 7, with their children Terri and Jim and Jim's wife, Maureen. The Rennetts bought their home in Hicksville 31 years ago and have been active in community and civic affairs all that time. Congratulations and best wishes to two great people.

And also in May, Jerry and Janet Doniger of PLAINVIEW, celebrated their wedding anniversary. The Donigers were married 25 years on May 20. We wish you both another 25+ years together.

In the merry, merry month of May (a few years ago), Anita Franzese was born on May 30. Helping Anita enjoy her birthday was her husband, Tony, and their two daughters, Lisa and Marie. Congratulations to you, Anita.

Happy birthday to Laurie Pico who was ten years old on May 13. Her parents, Evelyn and Tom sister, Kim and brothers, John and Tommy, joined in a family party for Laurie. The Pico clan are HICKSVILLITES and all the children attend or did attend our local school.

The very best wishes are sent to Harold and Rose Manaskie (former Hicksvillians) of Holiday, Florida, who will be celebrating their 51st wedding anniversary on June 14th! She must have been a child bride, Harold. Hope that you both have a happy celebration and that you come on up and visit all your friends and neighbors here in Hicksville often.

Former HICKSVILLE resident Herbert and Clarice Johnson, who are now residents of Florida, spent some time recently in Phoenix, Arizona where they attended their grandson's college graduation and also the graduation of a granddaughter from high school. This particular granddaughter, won a National Merit Scholarship. Nice to hear from you folks.

Anne Landress was presented with a surprise birthday party on Sat., May 30. More than 50 of the immediate family attended. Sons Harvey and family and Mark came in from Florida and Houston. Relatives came from many parts of the U.S. too. It was a great evening and everyone had a good time. The party was by Joan (Censky) and Charles Robert.

Eric was particularly honored by being the student selected from the graduating class to present honorary awards to retiring and special professors. He is the son of Mrs. Christine Cahalan of Gardner Ave., HICKSVILLE.

LILCO Population Survey

The latest Long Island Lighting Company Population Survey shows that about 41 percent of the communities in Nassau and Suffolk Counties added population, four percent of the communities showed no population change, and the balance registered decreases in the nine-month period after the latest U.S. Census count was taken.

These figures are included in LILCO's 27th annual Population Survey, released today. The Survey, which estimates the Nassau-Suffolk population at 2,603,226, details changes in Long Island's population during the nine-month period between the April, 1980 Census and January 1, 1981.

The LILCO estimate shows that the combined Nassau-Suffolk population declined very slightly, by 0.1 percent, since the Census count. The total population decreased by 2,587 persons. Suffolk county gained 3,310 persons, or .26 percent, over the nine-month period to reach a new total of 1,287,541. However, Nassau County's population decreased to an estimated 1,315,685, a loss of 5,897 persons, or .45 percent.

Among Long Island towns, the Town of Brookhaven showed the largest population gain. Brookhaven, Suffolk County's most populous town, picked up an additional 2,831 persons for a total population of 367,846. Other Long Island towns that showed population increases were Islip, which added 1,063 persons for an increase of .36 percent, Huntington, which picked up 595 persons for a growth of .30 percent; Riverhead, which grew by 141 persons, or .70 percent; Southold, which increased by 81 persons, or .42 percent; East Hampton, which added 43 persons for an increase of .31 percent; and Shelter Island, which grew by 8 persons for an increase of .39 percent.

The Town of Hempstead, in Nassau County, continues to be the bi-county area's most populous town. However, it registered a decrease of 3,982 persons for a count of 768,608. The Towns of North Hempstead and Oyster Bay showed decreases of 842 and 1,073 persons respectively.

According to the 1980 Census, the population of the Nassau-Suffolk region grew by 1.9 percent, or 49,945, for a total of 2,605,813 people between 1970 and 1980. LILCO estimated a total of 2,782,114 people for the region, as of January 1, 1980. The 6.8 percent higher LILCO estimate was based on a household size of 3.4 persons. However, the Census figures show a drop in household size from 3.6 to 3.2 during the 10 year period.

The 1981 Population Survey indicates that LILCO's entire service territory, which includes 96,134 persons who live on the Rockaway Peninsula of Queens County - is greater than each of 21 states and the District of Columbia or one percent of the total U.S. population, and comprises more than 15 percent of New York State's population.

Families For Life Club News

By Doug Harknett

More than 100 concerned residents assembled in the Memorial Fountain park last Saturday to protest the presence of the abortion clinic in downtown Hicksville. Among those addressing the rally were Fr. Thomas McCormick of Holy Family Church, Councilman Tom Clark, and Bishop Alfred Weyhreter of the Church of the Latter Day Saints of Plainview. Kevin Clancy, one of the organizers, quoted extensively from a New York State Department of Health pamphlet that had been issued before the 1973 Roe Vs Wade decision in which it was clearly stated that a new human being is created at fertilization. He also urged all those at the rally to petition Albany to pass a law delegating to lower levels of government the power to regulate abortion clinics. In addition, he called attention to the fact that the clinic had started to file fetal death certificates at Town Hall, and wondered aloud why that would be necessary if something were not alive to be killed.

Jean Ryan, past president of Families for Life explained the function of Birthright, which has seven offices on Long Island and a 24 hour telephone service for counseling and assistance of pregnant girls and women; and noted ironically the number of ads in the personal columns of News-

The 63rd annual convention of The American Legion of Nassau County was a step upward from the previous year's affair at Island Trees. But almost a shadow of what Nassau County Legion conventions were, could be and should be. The parade on Friday night took only 35 minutes to pass the reviewing stand denoting the fact that too many Legion posts did not bother to appear for the parade. Let's hope that did not bother to appear for the parade. Let's hope that next year's convention scheduled for East Rockaway will see a great upturn in the participation by Nassau's Legion posts. Our candidate for BOYS' STATE this year is a student at Holy Trinity High School. VAUGHN BURKE will represent our Post at the Morrisville, N.Y. conclave and I believe June 21st is the departure date. To attend Boys' State is quite a singular experience in any young man's life and the experiences are always worth telling and repeating, and listening to. Welcome aboard new member ARLINE S. HOWARD. There was a noteworthy event after the parade last Friday and before the various competitions got underway at Seaforth. This was the exhibition staged by the St. Ignatius Girls Cadets and their drum

HICKSVILLE, N.Y.

"One Of The Grass Roots Of The American Legion"

on JULY 4th????? I am flying mine....How about you?....Next Monday, June 15, is our business meeting for the month of June and the first full meeting for our new Commander Lou Braun and his Staff to handle....Come on down and give the boys a 'proper breakin' in' so to speak....This is the beginning of a new year and now is the time to present your ideas for the good of the Legion....And if you have had a change of address since last year, now is the time to make sure that the Post has your correct address so that this newspaper and other possible Legion mailings do not go astray....And if you haven't any ideas to present, and you are still at the same old address....Come down anyway and at least say 'hello'.

day everyday looking for children to adopt.

Interspersed throughout the program were a number of songs led by Dot Blair, another past president of Families for Life, and one of the organizers of the rally. They included two new right to life songs composed by local residents.

Kay Malone, also a past president of Families for Life spoke about the picketing of the clinic that has become a regular Saturday morning exercise, and urged all who could to participate.

Bishop Weyhreter praised the assembly for meeting to tell the government how they feel. He explained that according to Mormon doctrine, all involved in an abortion were guilty, not only the woman and doctor, but all those who recommend it or help in any way. He also criticized sex education for teaching youngsters all about the marriage act and keeping them agitated about sex. In a final exhortation he challenged the audience to teach their children chastity and self control.

Councilman Tom Clark related how the Town Attorney had ruled that abortion was a state matter, not a local one, and reiterated that the Governor and legislature should be asked to delegate control of abortion clinics to local authority. He indicated that he supports the right to life.

and urged continued involvement in politics from the lowest to the highest offices. In particular, he pointed to the recent election in the 13th A.D. as an example where the Right to Life vote provided the margin of victory for Guy Mazza. He noted that if the 10,000 signatures on the abortion clinic petition can be translated into votes, it would have a very significant impact on the political scene.

The closing prayer was offered by Bishop Weyhreter. Afterward Many remained to parade around the park and receive the well wishes of passersby.
