Have You Seen This Vehicle?

The Nassau County Police Department Homicide Squad, is attempting to locate the operator of a 1977 or 1979 Ford Thunderbird, possible color black. The vehicle has right front damage involving front grille and right front signal lens.

The vehicle was involved in a fatality on November 12, 1981 at 6:45 P.M., in which it struck a pedestrian, Peter Botto, 61 years of age, in front of 68 Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville, as he attempted to cross Jerusalem Avenue, from the west side to the east side. The vehicle then left the scene, traveling south bound on Jerusalem Avenue.

If you have any information, please contact the Nassau County Police Homicide Squad at 535-5120. All calls will be kept confidential.

At the November 24 meeting of the Hicksville Board of Education a resolution was passed in opposition to granting tuition tax credit. It was carried 6-1, with Mr. Thomas Nagle voting against it. A copy of the resolution was passed in opposition to granting tuition tax credit. A copy of the resolution was sent to legislators at the state and federal level.

Prior to the vote, Mrs. Iris Wolfson, 1st Vice President of the Nassau Suffolk School Board Association showed a film in opposition to the tuition tax credit which she said would benefit 1% of the population of the United States. Superintendent Wilber Hawkins spoke in favor of the resolution, noting a tax credit would increasingly split the public and private schools along socio-economic lines.

William Bennett, former Board member, urged the board to put the issue aside until there are more tangibles and indicated many people in the Hicksville School District send their children to private schools. President John Ayres said "We feel it is central to the best interest of public education. We believe opposing tax credits is in the best interest of the school system."

A letter of apology from Carrie Clark, dated November 5th was read by President Ayres. The School Board filed a legal complaint against the 1979 High School graduate, accusing her of trespassing and of illegally encouraging students at the school to stay home as a protest during labor negotiations last month. Charges were dropped as the District Attorney was satisfied with

New HAD Group Programs

HAD (Help-Aid-Direction) wants you to know that you are not alone. They offer individual, marital, group and family counseling, aimed at helping you live a better life.

Their new 8-10 week Group Program will deal with groups focusing on:

Widowhood-The Trauma of Loss-The shock is over, the grief is present. Suddenly you are alone, frightened, unable to cope. Join with others that share your feelings. The group will focus on beginning to live again, steps to take supports you need. Remove the feeling of isolation by joining others in your situation.

Women in Transition-My Empty Nest-The kids are grown...married...your husband's at work-you are alone. You feel different. You begin to wonder "what will fill my next 30-40 years." Suddenly, you feel old...the kids act as if they are your parents. You feel out of control. "My Empty Nest" will look at these issues and more, aimed at helping you regain control of your own life.

Adolescents in the Single Parent Family-"Life With One Parent" (ages 14-18)-Living with one parent could mean greater responsibility financially and at home.

They will look at problems of "being in the middle", responsibility for younger brothers or sister, as well as the difficulty of being in this family situation.

Raising our Teenagers-"Parenting Effectively"-This group will look at the problems of parenting. Techniques parents can use to hear what their kids are saying. They will look at ways of meeting kids needs without putting your own needs aside.

Babysitting-"A Training Group"-A therapist certified in Red Cross baby-sitting techniques will conduct a group to train teens in babysitting skills. A Red Cross certificate will be awarded upon successful completion.

This is just a sample of what HAD is offering to help you cope in a world that's tough. You can call HAD at 935-6858. Fees are on a sliding scale based on your ability to pay.

HAD is open on Monday, 12 noon to 10 p.m.; Tues., 12 noon to 10 p.m.; Wed., 12 noon to 10 p.m.; Thurs., 12 noon to 10 p.m. and Fri., 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

HAD and the Friends of HAD are non-profit community organizations.

public at 8 P.M. and there is no admittance charge. All members of the committee are expected a bit earlier than that, naturally. Our next meeting is December 7th which is PEARL HARBOR DAY and I hope recalls to everyone's memory of this shocking day in our nation's history. I hope everyone had a great THANKSGIVING DAY but we must now look forward to our CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS PARTY which will take place on SUNDAY AFTERNOON December

20, at 2 P.M. And what is a Christmas Party without Santa Claus? And Santa Claus always comes bearing gifts. Right? Well Santa needs the names of all children, and grandchildren of our membership who will be present that Sunday afternoon so he can have a gift on hand. Santa will give gifts to all children of 8 years of age and younger but YOU MUST REGISTER the names, ages and sex with Past Commander PALMER WALSH at 931-3299. DO NOT give the names to anyone else as they will not be accepted. So please make that phone call as the closing date is DECEMBER 5th. We will have refreshments, movies and locomotive rides around town by the famous 40/8 Nassau Vulture locomotive, for the kids of all ages. We will have our annual NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY on December 31 with AL CINOTTI in charge. You can (and its advisable) make reservations starting now by calling Al at 796-6288. Featured this year is the music of Ben Serzo for your dancing pleasure and a Smorgasbord with free beer and the choice of two bottles for each table. Donations are $45 per couple and the general public is invited to come and enjoy the famous Legion Hospitality. John Cicilese, who is now in New Mexico, has been replaced as Sergeant At Arms by the appointment of BOB BOERCKLE. December 5th is the date for the youngsters Christmas Party at Suffolk State Development Center and P.C. Frank Molinari is in charge. Let me remind all members that we will have a go at voting on Article IV, Section 1, of our By Laws on December 21st which is our next business meeting. This voting will resolve the 'raise in Dues' question, so please be on hand to cast your ballot. The actual wording of this Article, both present and proposed, was put forth in this column last week. Once again, to our members who have not yet paid their Dues. Please pay up now and avoid a hassle as the per capita tax has been raised and must be paid by the Post on all payments of per capita taxes reaching the county on or after December 15. We simply are not going to lay out additional monies because a member chooses not to meet his obligation on time. Send YOUR check now. And please let me tell all you members who have a paid up Dues card in your possession and you have just received another notice to pay your Dues. Disregard this notice as it comes from national headquarters and not from our Post membership officer. I told you several times before that it takes a long time to change a computer run at national headquarters so please bear with us as you have the card and you surely wouldn't have it if you weren't paid up. We are always looking for new blood to beef up our membership and theoretically strengthen our programs and Post. If you know of any eligible veteran in Hicksville who you would like to see as a member of this Post, please ask him or her to join up with us at the next meeting which is December 7th.

IT'S A SPECIAL THANK YOU as Tricia Kantowitz carves the Thanksgiving Turkey for the young women who live in one of the Nassau Association For The Help Of Retarded Children's community residences.

Tricia, a houseparent along with her husband helps the residents, who attend the AHRC vocational program or work in the sheltered workshops during the day, with their living activities.

Just a few years ago the future for many of those in the AHRC program was bleak with little alternative except institutionalization.

It's thanks, too, from the taxpayer since the community program costs far less than institutional placement.

Altogether, AHRC has ten community residences and eleven supportive living apartments scattered throughout Nassau County with more in the planning stage.

Auction To Aid Melville Youth Home

An auction to benefit the Melville House For Troubled Youths will be conducted by the Long Island Direct Marketing Association (LIDMA) on the evening of December 16 at Salisbury Inn in Eisenhower Park, Westbury.

The auction will be part of LIDMA's annual Christmas party, which in the past has always been used to raise funds or collect toys for Long Island charities. LIDMA president, Bernard Lande, stated that each year a different Long Island charity will be selected as the beneficiary of the association's Christmas fund raising efforts.

The Melville House For Troubled Youths relies heavily on local business and community support in its efforts to provide shelter for boys, mostly from middle-class families, who find themselves homeless or in need of assistance through no fault of their own.

Contributions for the auction, which are tax deductible, are being solicited by LIDMA from Long Island business groups and individuals. Those who wish to make contributions of merchandise or services are being asked to contact Asher Below at 516-825-0013.

For information on attending the Christmas party and auction call Kathy Greiger at 516-944-9081. The party will include an open bar, dinner, music and dancing.

Consumers Warned On Trade School Fraud

Attorney General Robert Abrams warns consumers who are contemplating taking courses in private trade or business schools to be particularly wary of those schools which say you are guaranteed to get a job or make other overblown promises.

Consumers who feel they have been misled when enrolling in a program in a business or trade school or those facing any other consumer-oriented problems should be aware of Attorney General Abrams' Consumer Outreach Program which meets on the second Thursday of each month at the Hempstead Urban League at 15 North Franklin Street from 6-8 P.M. The next scheduled visit will be on November 12, 1981. A representative from the Attorney General's Office will be present to discuss and offer advice on any type of consumer complaints.

In a recent action taken by the Attorney General's office, 18 private trade and business schools have agreed to furnish all prospective students with a catalogue or bulletin containing the required job placement data - specifically the percentage of graduates who find employment directly related to their training. The schools must also disclose information relating to the dropout rate.

Mr. Abrams stated: "The myriad of private trade and business schools in New York State can provide a service to individuals seeking to improve their job skills. However, the past record is also replete with examples of highly unethical behavior, including false promises to students that they will be guaranteed jobs upon completion of the program."

"Clearly, prospective students are entitled to have truthful information in order to make a realistic decision about whether additional training will help them get a better job."

The Outreach Program is conducted as a monthly service of the Attorney General's Office of New York State. Consumers wishing further information should call or write:

Representatives from the oldest Federal Law Enforcement Agency in the country, the U.S. Postal Inspectors, came to the Hicksville Kiwanis Club meeting on November 18, with a program about the problems of Mail Theft, and Precautions on Check Cashing.

In addition to the U.S. Postal Inspectors, Mr. James Birch, a former Philadelphia policeman, and Ms. Patricia Dillard, a former Atlanta policewoman, the club members also had the pleasure of hearing from Mr. Timothy Ring, the Chief Security Officer of National Bank of North America.

The subject matter covered some of the problems caused by thieves stealing mail from collection boxes to obtain checks mailed to pay bills. The stolen mail provides them with signatures to forge, as well as bank names and account numbers, along with credit card numbers to misuse. This naturally led to the discussion on precautions to take in cashing checks.

"For the good that needs assistance

For the future in the distance

To the Editor:

I regret this is being brought up way after the fact, but I find it difficult to be silent any longer. The following is a copy of a statement I made at Tuesday night's School Board meeting:

As many of you know, a majority of the Board of Education filed a complaint against me in October, regarding actions I took to try to bring about a settlement of the teacher's contract. The complaint stated that I was responsible for flyers distributed in the high school, urging students to boycott classes. Despite the fact that their accusation was valid, I'm sure it was just one of their political moves to make me as "uncomfortable" as possible. It's rather ironic that when I did the same thing three years ago, no one notified me

Letter To The Editor of the illegality of this action, nor was any complaint filed. Three years later it's illegal. Three of the present Board members were on the Board three years ago. Did they suddenly realize that it was illegal or might it have something to do with my running for the School Board? And why, if this complaint was filed with true concern for the students, was it leaked to the press?

As far as the complaint is concerned, the District Attorney was satisfied with a letter of apology, which I signed without the least bit of hesitation because I am sorry what I did was illegal. I realize ignorance of the law doesn't excuse me and everyone can be assured that it was unintentional and will never occur again.

Actually, I question the validity of the complaint and maybe Mr. Campanella can clear this up for me. In The Law of Public Education, under school board procedures it states, "...it is consistently held that no legal authority exists in the board in the absence of any members of the group unless all have had reasonable notice and opportunity to be present." Is it stated somewhere else that there are exceptions to that and if so, where is it written down? If what I stated holds true, why weren't all members notified? Why the sneaking around?

I don't know if the complaint was merely an attempt to silence me and to discourage me from making public certain issues the Board would prefer to keep hidden. I recall in 1979 when Mr. Nagle covered Mr. McCormick's microphone with his hand so Mr. McCormick couldn't speak. I see it now when certain Board members don't get their mail, aren't notified of meetings, are told they can't speak, and now the action against me. When are you, the people this community voted to represent us, going to start working on the things that are most important to this district, like children and education?

As I stated before, I do apologize for my infraction of the law and if this is the way the majority of the Board will continue to attack its "problems", I also apologize...

for being a concerned resident for believing in a quality education for sitting on various ad hoc committees for the past six years.

And to the Hicksville residents, I apologize for backing some of the people that sit before you

Sincerely yours,
s/Carrie L. Clark

Town Sets Hearing On Dangerous Animals Ordinance

The selling or keeping of certain snakes, crocodiles, vultures, tigers, gorillas and other similar animals in the Town of Oyster Bay may soon be prohibited under an ordinance the Town Board will consider at a public hearing on December 15.

Entitled the Dangerous Animals Ordinance, the regulation will seek to prohibit the keeping or selling of various types of animals considered dangerous when kept in suburban communities. The ordinance permits exceptions that would allow such animals to be kept at specified locations for regulated research, education, treatment, and other particular purposes.

The hearing on the ordinance is scheduled for 10 AM in the Hearing Room of Town Hall East, Oyster Bay.

Shop Early-Mail Early Season Opens

This year, the Postal Service is joining forces with the business community of Hicksville in urging customers to shop early and mail early for Christmas.

Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster Anthony M. Murello has officially declared the start of the Christmas shopping season by asking shoppers to assist with the Christmas mailing crunch by shopping early and mailing early. Cards and parcels will reach their destinations in plenty of time for the holidays, if customers will start early, make certain that mail is addressed correctly and that packages are wrapped properly. Postmaster Murello says.

"Normally, we handle about 4 million pieces of mail a day - including cards, letters and packages, but during the holiday season, volume goes up to about 6 1/2 million pieces," the Postmaster says.

The key to successful holiday mailing is to mail early and correctly. Postmaster Murello says that includes planning now for gifts that must travel long distances by Christmas.

"Many overseas mailing dates - including those for the armed forces stationed overseas - occur during this month. Mailing can get specific information on the international dates by calling us here at 433-7300," Postmaster Murello said.

"Customers should also take care to write legible ZIP Code addresses for both the intended recipient and the sender. Since mail sorting depends on the ZIP Code as well as the name of the particular city and state, the use of the correct ZIP Code will aid in processing the mail."

"Last year, our customers helped us tremendously. They mailed early in the season and early in the day. We hope they will choose to cooperate with us again this year, so we both will have an enjoyable holiday mailing season."

Troop 382

Boy Scout Troop 382 recently held an open house at Lee Avenue School, Hicksville. The open house was held to acquaint boys with scouting and the members of the troop gave demonstrations of first aid techniques, knot tying and typical campfire skills. Everyone then joined in singing "Good Ole Mountain Dew", a favorite campfire song.

As part of the program the troop also held a Court of Honor to publicly recognize awards and ranks earned by the boys. Thirty one merit badges and twenty eight skill awards were acknowledged. Two boys advanced to Second Class and two to First Class and as part of the ceremony they presented to their mothers pins symbolic of their new ranks.

The program was prepared and presented in large part by the boys. One of the aims of Scouting is to prepare boys for adulthood. Learning to prepare and participate in programs like the open house will help them as adults to overcome shyness and reluctance when they will be required to participate in public and business forums.

Troop 382 holds its regular meetings on Thursday nights at 7:30 in the all-purpose room at Lee Avenue.

3rd in the county.

The team then moved into the playoffs. Their first game, on Oct. 30, was against Wantagh. The girls defeated Wantagh decisively by a score of 7-1. They then moved into the quarterfinals against Baldwin. Once again the girls showed their dominance with a 7-0 victory.

On November 7th the team met 2nd ranked Berner in the semi-finals. The season ended with a disappointing 3-0 loss.

Overall the team had a fine season with a record of 13-4-2.

Leading the team was an awesome offense made up of Denise Harkins, Gina Ciraco, Sharon Humphreys, Debbie Luongo, Mary Cardella, and Maureen Roach. They had a total of 98 goals, in 18 games. Denise Harkins, a junior playing her first year of high school ball scored 53 goals and was chosen for the All-County team. Maureen Roach, a senior was chosen for the All-County team for the 3rd year in a row. Maureen will also represent Hicksville in the All-Senior game. Debbie Luongo and Sharon Humphreys were chosen as All-Conference players.

The offense was backed by a solid defense which let up only 22 goals all season. The defense consisted of Barbara Skupeen, Theresa Caputo, Lisa Burke, Connie Anglin, Joanne Mullings, Liz Flahaven, and Cara Greenberg. Goalie Roseann Shubert continued her outstanding playing by making 182 saves.

Much of the credit for such a successful season must go to three year coach Vincent LoBianco. In only his third season as coach, Mr. LoBianco has compiled a record of 38-10-3. He has also led two of the three teams he coached to the play-offs. His play-off record is 3-2.

Rotarians To Send Study Team To India

District 725 Rotarians have selected five non-Rotarians from Kings, Queens and Nassau Counties to spend six weeks during January and February, 1982 in India on a group study exchange program. It is an educational activity in which two Rotary Districts in different parts of the world agree to exchange teams of business and professional men. Those selected are sponsored by local Rotary Clubs. The Floral Park Rotary Club will sponsor Peter M. Kearney and Rev. Arthur R. Peabody. Francis S. Merne and David McGregor Rea II are sponsored by the Flushing Club. John Ben Pessala, The Baldwin Rotary Club. Oyster Bay's Gordon E. Jones, past president, is Rotarian leader. Alternate leader is Armando D. Cortes of the Floral Park Club.

The group will visit Rotary Clubs in Delhi, Kalmunda, Calcutta, Cuttack, Patna and Bombay, all in District 326. They will stay at the homes of Rotarians. Group study exchange is an educational activity of Rotary Foundation as it offers a unique person-to-person opportunity for the promotion of better understanding and friendly relations among the peoples of the world. Traveling with a sense of mission derived from their desire to learn and to promote understanding, these young men will bring knowledge of their own country to the thousands they meet while abroad.

Past District Governor Harry E. Pinkerton directs the group exchange program for District 725 during the term of District Governor Anthony J. Zino.

Hicksville Cannonballs (1973)

By Pete Fujimoto

The setting of the Cannonballs' last game of the fall season was bleak. It was cold and overcast, with winds gusting up to 30 miles per hour. The Hicksville team won the coin toss and selected to have the wind at their backs.

The offense, made up of Les Spence, Larry Bag, Tommy Baron, John Diamond, Gino Ianucci, Danny McGoe, Brian McNamee and Alex Shevchenko kept the pressure up, taking many shots on the Brentwood goal, but none going in for the score.

Key defensive plays by Brian Sierra, Jason Pinsky, Michael Donovan, David Knuth and goalie Dan Fujimoto were responsible for a scoreless game going into half time.

This game was the big one. If the Cannonballs win, they would tie Brentwood in points for first place in their age division. But, alas, first place was to evade the Hicksville team for another year. Mother Nature, with her wind, teamed up with Brentwood's effort to give them the win and first place.

Last year, the Cannonballs came in third this year second, and next year it will be first.

PAVE May Curb Vandalism

Project PAVE (Police Anti-Vandalism Education), a new program designed to curb the incidents of vandals in Nassau County, will begin its first two-hour session for youthful vandals and their parents this evening according to Police Commissioner Samuel J. Rozzi.

"The PAVE program is a sincere effort by many segments of the community to identify and then help youthful vandals," state Rozzi. "Our goal is quite simplistic... to reduce the wanton destruction of public and private property by troubled youngsters."

The PAVE concept, developed by the Nassau County Task Force on Vandalism headed by District Court Judge Robert Roberto, is one of many programs adopted by the Police Department to combat the problem. The project requires young people who have been identified as vandals to attend, along with their parents, a two-hour counseling session at Police Headquarters in Mineola. The youths are referred by the Family Court, District Court, probation authorities and the police department's Juvenile Aid Bureau. The session is conducted by the Police Department's Crime Resistance Unit, along with peer counselors trained by the department from the Howett Junior High School in Farmingdale.

The curriculum was drawn up by the department's Police Academy and focuses on the causes of vandalism and the direction that must be taken to deal with the problem. The police department's experience, indicates that the majority of vandalism has three basic causes: 1) a means to gain attention or recognition from authority figures, either in the home or at school, 2) play vandals growing out of perceived boredom, or the result of a dare or peer pressure, 3) a malicious act of vengeance or punishment against an individual or a group, or even an institution.

"The program focuses on behavior modification," stated Rozzi. It attempts to have the youngster deal with his aggression in a more positive manner without lashing out at the world."

After receiving a lecture on the laws covering vandalism and viewing a film and slides on the impact of vandalism on a community, the session will split. The parents will remain with a police officer and the young people will move to another room with a peer counselor for a discussion period. Both groups will be provided with access to referral agencies that offer a broad range of family services. The problem of vandalism usually is a sign of another deeper problem, which the parent and the youngster frequently need help in resolving.

ORGANIC STORY-TELLER AT DUTCH LANE: The pupils at Dutch Lane Elementary School were delighted to observe and participate in story-telling and mime demonstration on November 18th, as an organic storyteller, Gail Herman, told stories that changed and grew organically with each new audience.

She used chant, mime, movement and song to entice audience members to use their minds' eye to help shape each folktale with actions, images and fantasies so that they truly became tales of the folk.

This program was sponsored by the Dutch Lane PTA.

Holocaust Author Speaks

Many members of the audience at the Mid-Island YM-YWHA cried along with Gizele Hersch last week as she spoke of the horror she faced while interred by the Nazis in Auschwitz.

At one point in her talk, Hersch had to stop and wipe the tears that streamed down her face when she recalled being separated from her family as the Nazis loaded the Jews onto cattle cars bound for Auschwitz.

"I pleaded, 'Please let me go in, my mother is in there,'" Hersch said. "But the Nazi soldier shoved me to the ground. Finally, another soldier, one who was more humane, ordered the doors opened and I entered the hell and smell of the car."

Hersch held the 75 persons in the audience spellbound as she related her personal story of the Holocaust, which she recounts in her book, Gizele, Save the Children. And afterwards, during a 45-minute question and answer period, she discussed the necessity of speaking about the Holocaust today and the lessons learned from that experience.

The lecture was sponsored by Children of Holocaust Survivors, a group formed at aboard the amphibious command ship USS Blue Ridge, operating from Yokosuka, Japan.

A 1980 graduate of Hicksville High School, Losito joined the Navy in December 1980.
