During the month of November, Hicksville Vamps responded to 127 alarms. There were 63 fire calls; 19 malicious alarms and 45 rescue calls.

Early A.M. House Fire

Hicksville Vamps responded to a reported couch fire at 20 Radnor Ct. on Nov. 28. The alarm was reported by the owner at 2:48 a.m. First arriving units a few minutes later, found flames coming out the front window.

Vamps hampered by a blocked fire hydrant, extreme heat and heavy smoke, fought the fire for 20 minutes before bringing it under control. The smoldering couch had evidently burst into flame and the fire, fed by wood paneled walls, quickly gutted the den. The remainder of the dwelling sustained smoke and heat damage. Damage to the split-level home was estimated at $10,000.00. Fire officials said the occupants were lucky to escape. One room in the basement had only one way out and a smoke detector failed to operate. Vamps tested the battery and found it to be dead.

Diploma Requirements Meeting

Hicksville Fire Report

Fire officials have warned repeatedly that smoke detectors are a must, but they must be cleaned, tested regularly and batteries replaced once a year. Heavy duty batteries are to be used for longer life. Two ways out of every room should be available. Using rooms with one way out as sleeping quarters is risky. Home escape plans are a must also.

All this and other valuable information can be obtained by a visit to the annual Hicksville Fire Dept. Open House on Sun., Dec. 6 at Fire Headquarters, 20 Gebhardt Plaza from 2 to 5 p.m. (see ad in this issue).

4-H Girls Head Into Outer Space

By Betsie Edelstein, age 11

On Friday, November 20, the "Super Six" 4-H girls group went on a field trip to the Hicksville Public Library. The group is doing a project on Astronomy.

The leader of the group, Edna Edelstein, made arrangements ahead of time and the group was shown a film called "The Universe". After seeing this interesting film, the librarians had set up a display of some books on the subject and the group used them for their project.

As a lucky bonus, there was a library contest going on to guess how many mini-books were in the big jar that was in the children's room.

Over 100 children guessed, including all the members of the "Super Six". 4-H members Betsy Edelstein and Jackie Singer were among the four winners of the contest. They won some interesting books.

4-H is a wonderful experience for kids. It is a special opportunity for them to learn many new skills and have a great time with all their new 4-H friends. 4-H even has a terrific sleep away camp right here on Long Island. If you really would like to see your child have a great childhood, then you should think 4-H. If you would like information about starting a 4-H group, call 454-0900.

"Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline Should Not Be Held Up," Sen D'Amato

With the United States reporting approximately 7.3 million barrels of oil each day, and most of that oil coming from OPEC member nations, there is a need to develop our alternative energy sources so that we will never again be held hostage by the OPEC cartel.

Natural gas is a good alternative energy source, especially since the discovery of 26 trillion cubic feet of natural gas at the Prudhoe Bay Field on the north slope of Alaska. That is roughly equivalent to about 4.5 billion barrels of oil.

Today, natural gas accounts for over one quarter of our nation's total energy consumption. While the uncertain situation in the Middle East can cause adverse fluctuations in the price of oil, Alaskan natural gas prices should remain fairly steady for the long run.

It is in the best interest of our nation that the Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline be completed as expeditiously as possible. The pipeline is scheduled for completion in 1986. Once it's finished, it will carry several billion cubic feet of natural gas each day for use in 48 states.

As usual, when government has become too big, a project of this magnitude becomes ensnared in a maze of "red tape", rules, and regulations. Private development on the multi-billion dollar pipeline has been slowed due to costly delays required by a handful of federal departments and agencies with jurisdiction over the use of the federal lands involved in the undertaking.

The completion of this pipeline at the earliest possible moment is in the best interests of all involved. A greater reliance on America's natural gas resources will enable this nation to advance toward our goal of energy independence. A timely completion of the pipeline will help keep the cost of the pipeline within limits and prevent unnecessary costs from being gassed along to the consumer.

The Senate, by a vote of 75-19, passed a measure which cuts the "red tape" that has bogged the project down. If the House of Representatives passes the measure and it is signed by President Reagan, the builders of the pipeline will be able to forge ahead with this worthwhile, privately funded, project.

American Legion Combats Arthritis

The 58 posts of The Nassau County American Legion has launched a campaign to raise $15,000.00 for the benefit of the Long Island Arthritis Foundation.

Nassau County American Legion Commander Edgar D. Smith of Massapequa Park said directives have gone out to all Post Commanders and Post Arthritis Chairmen throughout the County recommending methods of soliciting public support. Included among the many special events to be hosted for the Arthritis Foundation will be pasta festivals, bingo, Las Vegas nights, dinner-dances, "50-50" raffles, and more.

"We look forward to the full support of each of our 58 American Legion Posts," said Past County Commander and Arthritis Chairman Joseph J. Devine. "We're also calling upon all residents of the County of Nassau to give full support to their local American Legion Post, and their programs in this fight against our nation's No. 1 cripple - ARTHRITIS."

According to Devine, the drive will end in March 1982 with the 8th Annual Stop Arthritis Telethon.

The Outdated Law That's Costing Taxpayers Billions

By Irwin Ross

Initially, the contractor had figured the cost of a residential high-rise in Gaithersburg, Md., to be $4,694,452. But then the developer asked the Department of Housing and Urban Development to subsidize the project. Result: an extraordinary escalation of labor costs.

With federal money involved, the contractor was required, under provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act—a law passed in 1931—to pay his work force the prevailing wages in the community, as determined by the Department of Labor.

Common laborers at Gaithersburg now had to be paid $10.95 an hour, rather than the $4.50 to $6 at which they could have been hired. Excavation-equipment operators were entitled to $14.40 an hour rather than $9, carpenters to $13.61 rather than $8.60. Overall, the project's cost jumped to $5,142,260—an increase of nearly ten percent.

Most people have never heard of the Davis-Bacon Act, but it is a major cause of our skyrocketing construction costs. In 1979 the General Accounting Office surveyed 30 federal construction projects. In 12 instances, they found that rates established by the Department of Labor were unrealistically high—raising wage costs 36.8 percent higher than they should have been. The GAO also concluded that Davis-Bacon had saddled the government with excess costs of perhaps $700 million a year.

Two years ago, an inter-agency task force of the Carter Administration came to similar conclusions. It calculated that if the inflated wage rates of Davis-Bacon were eliminated, federal construction-payroll costs would be reduced by ten percent—a saving of a billion dollars a year on a federal construction budget of $40 billion.

The Davis-Bacon Act served a purpose during the Depression. It protected local workers from contractors who might bid low on a government project and then import itinerant workers who found substandard wages preferable to starvation. Initially, the act applied only to construction projects directly undertaken by the federal government, but gradually it was extended to include just about every construction program with a federal subsidy or loan guarantee.

The basic problem with the act involves the bewildering rules the Department of Labor uses in determining what wage "prevails." Under department regulations, the prevailing rate is the one received by a majority of workers in a specific craft. The majority rule seems fair enough, and in highly unionized areas there is generally no argument about the prevailing wage.

The rub comes, however, when 50 percent or more of the workers do not receive the same wage—a characteristic of open-shop, or lightly unionized areas. Then the Department of Labor invokes the "30-percent rule." If 30 percent of the workers in a classification receive the same wages and fringe benefits—to the penny—then that rate becomes the prevailing one. The likeliest circumstance in which that can occur is when 30 percent of the workers in a particular craft are unionized. Thus, the minority-union rate becomes the prevailing rate, even though 70 percent of the craftsmen are paid less. Only when the 30-percent rule cannot be applied does Labor average all the local wages.

In its 1979 study, the GAO chronicled a typically absurd example of the 30-percent rule that turned up in Carson City, Nev. To determine the prevailing wage for painters, the Department of Labor surveyed 11 projects, finding eight painters at work. Two were paid $6.25 an hour, two were paid $8.74 and one $9. But three painters were getting $12.40 an hour. Three out of eight comes to 37.5 percent—so $12.40 became the prevailing wage.

Sometimes Labor does not even bother to take a wage survey. When the GAO was conducting its study, it asked the department for the basis for the $30 area-wage determinations that were in effect in October 1976. But no surveys had been conducted for 57 percent of them. The Labor Department simply adopted the union rates of each locality.

The "importing" of union rates from big cities into smaller communities also prompts a persistent criticism of Davis-Bacon. Michael Callas, a general contractor in Hagerstown, Md., told a Senate committee that he had been interested in bidding on a government project in Adams County, Pa. He was already working on a similar project four miles away, at Fort Ritchie, Md. Callas was amazed to learn that Labor Department wage rates were more than double the Davis-Bacon rates he was paying at Fort Ritchie. The reason: the department had gone to Harrisburg, Pa.—75 miles away—to find the prevailing wage rates.

Callas refused to bid on the project because of the inevitable friction that would have resulted within his work force over widely varying rates for identical work. For the same reason, many non-union contractors refuse to bid on federal construction. Where this occurs, there is less competition for government work—a phenomenon that hardly keeps prices down.

Davis-Bacon inflates costs in another way as well. Non-union contractors often employ "helpers" and "learners" at considerably lower rates to assist qualified craftsmen. But the Labor Department generally requires all workers on a federally subsidized construction project to be paid journeymen's wages.

The absurdities of Davis-Bacon have led to widespread demands for its demise. The GAO argues that besides being inflationary, "other wage legislation and changes in economic conditions make the law obsolete. GAO believes it should be repealed." Support for repeal also comes from newspapers with such diverse editorial views as the

Candlelight Evening

Flickering shadows cast by candlelight will provide visitors with a glimpse of the past when homes at Old Bethpage Village Restoration feature Candlelight Evenings to welcome holiday wayfarers on the week between Christmas and New Years, December 26, 27, 28 and 29. The Restoration will be closed Mondays as well as Christmas Day, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day.

Nassau County Recreation and Parks Commissioner Abram C. Williams said that for these four days, the village will be open from 2 to 9 P.M. so visitors may join in re-creating the happy social gatherings which characterized the holiday season on Long Island in the first half of the 19th Century. Throughout the daylight hours, it will be business as usual in the Village. As dusk descends about 5 P.M., the shoemaker will lay aside his last and the blacksmith will put out the fire in his forge as they hurry to join other village folk in an evening of music and merriment.

Sleigh or carriage bells will jingle and lanterns will light the way to the 1857 Manetto Hill Church where the Old Bethpage Singers will perform by candlelight. The first concert begins at 7 P.M.

Jeff and Jeff will perform traditional music in the Noon Inn ballroom, where everyone is invited to join them in song throughout the evening.

The 1865 Layton House will be a scene of Victorian festivity. A small decorated tree (floor to ceiling trees come into fashion somewhat later) will adorn the parlour table and music, from the time when family sing-alongs were much in vogue, will be played on the organ. At the village crossroads, a hog-guessing such as took place in Rockaway and Freeport at Christmas 1833, will be re-enacted with a prize to the person who comes closest to guessing the correct weight of the porker. Hot chocolate and cider will be dispensed from kettles hanging over an open fire and should help the participants' sociability, if not their accuracy.

These annual happy evenings are especially popular with visitors who wish to witness both the workaday and leisure world of the Nineteenth Century Long Islander during the same trip to the restoration.

Old Bethpage Village Restoration, operated by Nassau County Museum, Department of Recreation and Parks, is located on Round Swamp Road, Old Bethpage, south of the Long Island Expressway, exit 48. Admission is $2.75 for adults, $1.50 for children. Leisure pass holders pay $2.25 and $1.25, respectively. A cafeteria and gift shop are located on the premises. For further information, call 420-5280.

Jolly old "St. Nick" will take to the air Saturday, Dec. 19 laden with Christmas candy for his annual Santa by Helicopter visits to seven Nassau County parks.

His "chopper," provided through the courtesy of the Nassau County Police Department, will alight at local facilities operated by the Department of Recreation and Parks as follows:

Cantiague Park, W. John St., Hicksville, at 1:30 p.m.
Wantagh Park, Merrick

Rd. and Wantagh Parkway, at 2:30 p.m.

Recreation and Parks Commissioner Abram C. Williams said there will be enough candy for all and invites parents to bring their youngsters to one of the parks at the appointed time to watch Santa swoop from the sky in modern-day fashion. Rain date is the following day at the same time.

For further information on the popular event, call 542-4422.

Dear Friends...

Well, the Christmas season is now truly upon us... with its happy, exciting bustle of gift planning and buying and card writing (sometimes plus messages to relatives and friends)... and all of us hoping that we can make time stretch just a little bit and make room for all the happy activities always connected with this season. Over all, of course, is the knowledge that it is the celebration of the birthday of the Lord Jesus Christ which will be celebrated by all Christians throughout the world, while those of the Jewish Faith celebrate with gift giving and their Hanukkah services earlier in December. How wise to put the spiritual values first, then we can enjoy all the happy activities of the season in the right perspective.

Don't forget that your local merchant participates in your local activities in the community throughout the year. This is the time that you can get real values and save gas and shoe leather and feelings of exhaustion by SHOPPING LOCALLY. We hope that you do.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Check our Calendar of Events for the many local activities available to you during the coming week. Best wishes,

We will always remember when you first came to us Pastor Stammel.

To Trinity: the church of more than a hundred years. Mud pouts were biting, tree buds thickening and our hearts arose in pure joy at your coming to us.

I will always remember your words of wisdom, as days bringing pleasure and pain come and go.

With happy hearts and minds and with beaming faces, you helped us cast a glance from within upon the sunny skies of each tomorrow, lessons well taught by you to boundless persons as they travel heavenward on the road of life.

God's blessing on you both. Trinity and you, now safe in the arms of Jesus.

To The Editor:
I have announced my candidacy for Hicksville Fire Dept. Commissioner.

As a dedicated community servant since December 1962, and an active member of Chemical Company Three who has served as a Company Officer for over 7 years and as a past President and Vice President of the Hicksville Volunteer and Exempt Benevolent Association, I believe my background to be most vital to the tradition of the Hicksville Fire Department and District.

As a Business Agent of Local 1381 International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers who has also served as a Board Member and its Recording Secretary, I believe that experience in good business management and contract administration are essential elements that are necessary to deal in the everyday business environment of the Fire District.

As a home owner and taxpayer, I am concerned for the safety and well being of the firefighter and the perils which are faced the instant the alarm is initiated. I am confident that the experience I can bring to the Board of Fire Commissioners will be valuable and worthy of your consideration.

As a candidate for the 5 year term, I ask that you support and take part in the election process.

Thank you, Frank T. Lombardi

"FOR AND ABOUT SENIORS"

Several groups of modern-day pilgrims made sure that the spirit of Thanksgiving flourished for senior citizens in their communities. In the Roosevelt/Freeport area, volunteers from the Bethel A.M.E. Church, Freeport, joined with the Salvation Army on Thanksgiving Day to prepare a traditional holiday dinner for about 60 elderly from the community. The Salvation Army is the sponsoring agency of the Senior Community Service Center (SCSC) located at the church, which is part of a county-wide network of 20 SCSCs funded by the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs. These Centers regularly provide daily, hot nutritious lunches plus a full range of social and recreation programs for County residents age 60 and over.

Members of the Westbury Kiwanis and their families spent part of their holiday providing a festive noontime meal for approximately 70 elderly persons at the Department of Senior Citizens Affairs New Cassel/ Westbury Senior

Community Service Center located in the Grand Street School, New Cassel. Much of the food was provided by local donors which was prepared by volunteers who then provided transportation for the seniors to the Center and delivered turkey dinners to homebound elderly.

Arrangements on Thanksgiving Day included small group dinners at home for Center participants. Holiday dinners were also provided for recipients of the Visiting Home Health Services of Nassau home-delivered meal service-another program of the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs (DSCA).

The Joint Districts of Hicksville and Levittown Senior Citizens held their annual dinner on Wednesday, November 11, at the New Hyde Park Inn, New Hyde Park. It was a delightful affair attended by 99 members who enjoyed a

Families For Life Club News

By Doug Harknett

The November election results on Long Island were encouraging for the Right to Life Party (RTLTP). In Suffolk County 36 candidates with RTLTP backing won, and in at least six races the RTLTP vote was responsible for victory.

In Nassau, the party demonstrated that it could field a highly qualified slate despite the ban on cross endorsements, and that it was able to retain its vote. Winners carrying the RTLTP line included Supreme Court Judge Robert Doyle, District Court Judge Donald Clavin, and District Attorney Denis Dillon. In the Nassau County portion of the Supreme Court races, each RTLTP candidate polled approximately 16,000 votes or about 5% of the total. This amounts to about 9-1/2 times party registration. This compares with about 23,000 votes on the Conservative line (about twice their enrollment), and about 6,000 Liberal Party votes (about 1-1/2 times their registration). The Republicans pulled about 165,000 votes out of a registration of 308,000, and the Democrats about 110,000 votes out of 211,000. Most RTLTP candidates did no campaigning.

On the other hand, the Republican juggernaut was awesome, and demonstrated that it is the only major party in Nassau County at the present time, all other parties, including the Democratic Party being in a minority position. In virtually every race Republican candidates polled over 50% of the vote on the Republican line alone, with the other four parties scrambling for the rest. A case in point was Oyster Bay where Purcell, on the Republican line alone ran better than 2 to 1 over his Democratic opponent Matthews. The best RTLTP vote getter in that area was Peggy McGeary, last year's Families for Life president, who polled 53% of the vote.

In statements to the press Martin Mellman, new

Nassau County chairman of the Democratic Party acknowledged that something must be done immediately to rejuvenate his party. In recent years the party has been dominated by radical-liberal types who have turned off more conservative members who typically moved from the city as Democrats, but who have increasingly voted on non-Democratic lines. Even a smiling and personable John Matthews was unable to galvanize the electorate, perhaps because he so publicly embraced the pro-abortion cause. According to many observers, the Democratic Party has to change its image, and one way to do that would be to permit its candidates in selected races to seek and accept, if qualified, the RTLTP line. Even that strategy would take time.

Winning is better than losing, and 50% of something is better than 100% of nothing, even if some local committee men would have to sublimate their ideologies.

Families for Life is the local pro-life group. Tomorrow, Saturday, it is sponsoring a Boutique for Birthright at Levittown Hall, Hicksville, from 10 AM to 4 PM. Beautiful gift items and refreshments will be on sale and the public is invited to attend.

A Man Of Great Talent

Anthony Mammon is 31 years old and he is a man of great talent and skill. He travels to five states doing craft shows in malls, showing and displaying his work to people where ever he goes.

Anthony does his work in an opposite way you and I would, he makes his jewelry and battery operated clocks with his feet, a rare gift indeed, because he has cerebral palsy.

He recently married a year ago to Georgia Watson and now they both continue to show off and sell the jewelry and clocks. They are now at the Mid Island Plaza Mall for the months of November and December for the Christmas season. They will be in the walk-way in front of Combined Camera and Small Wonder Stores.

Anthony is not handicapped mentally, but only disabled in his hands. His wife says, "Tony works hard in what he does, he takes a great deal of time getting the clocks precisely how he wants them to be. Just because he sits in a chair, don't underestimate the man who brings all his creative workmanship to all the people where ever he goes."

As Tony would say, "I don't want people to pity me while I sit behind my work, but what I want is for them to admire and purchase my work if they choose, to also take into consideration, I am a man out in the world trying to make a decent living just like everybody else. I have a saying which I would like for the people I see in those Mall shows is to "Look at who I am!"

Georgia has as much a strong belief in her husband's goal in life as he has. She says "Tony never lets his mind rest, he is thinking what soon will be added to our growing business. He gets deeply aggravated when people look at him in a constant stare, like he is a helpless invalid, so I do my part by talking about what he does to relieve that curiosity they have while they look at him. Once I explain he made the displayed articles with his feet, their curiosity then turns to

Tony adds, "All I ask is for you to relate to me as the normal human being I am proud to be. If I kept feeling pity for myself as I grew up, I could never have come this far, and I have my beautiful

"It's like all retail business — without patrons, the business cannot survive. When you come see us and photos on my display, keep in mind what it says, which is true... 'I can't be a success without you.'"

Representatives of the Hicksville Fire Department Rescue Squad spoke to the Hicksville Kiwanis Club on November 25. The speakers were Captain Gene Pietzak, Capt. of Rescue, and Fireman E.M.T. Ray Seeley, Company 3.

Captain Pietzak and Fireman Seeley described the extent of the special training they received for rescue activity, reported that our Hicksville Fire Dept. has the best equipment on Long Island, and demonstrated the small, medium, and large Burn Packs used by the department for treating anything from a small burn to a complete body wrap prior to transporting to a Burn Center.

They also explained that the H.F.D. is in the process of conducting a survey to determine the location of hazardous materials stored or used in buildings throughout Hicksville.

To better protect our firemen, another study is underway to determine the need for providing special protective clothing to be worn by our volunteer firemen while fighting certain types of fires.

There are presents galore for all to enjoy (dolls that is). Be sure to come to see this window and please bring the children. The exhibit will remain until January 4, 1982.

Hicksville Comets
Coaches Barbara McCann
Anthony Luongo
By Pat Reilly

On a very cold Sat. the Hicksville Comets played the Rockville Center Condors. The Condors had defeated the Comets in an earlier league game, but the Comets had courage and confidence and defeated the Condors 5-2.

The main responsibility and primary function of the forward line is to obtain goals even though they should be able to switch to a defensive game when the other team gets the ball. The forward line of the Comets, Anthony Conte, Jamie Curley, John Guittari, Tommy Pedicini, Tim Doyle and Frank Humphreys cleverly demonstrated this ability.

In the midfield position the players must play both defense and offense. They must have goal scoring ability and be able to set up plays. The Comets midfield line who constantly show this ability are Michael Segal as center, Tommy Bell, Ryan McCann and Thomas Reilly and Steven Postullo.

Even with a strong unpredictable wind the Comets forwards scored. The first goal was made by John Guittari with an assist from Tommy Pedicini and Tim Doyle. The second goal was made by Michael Segal unassisted.

The fullback line primarily are interested in preventing goals but must be able to launch a counterattack once they get possession of the ball. The fullback line of the Comets who show these excellent qualities all season are Bobby Himmel, Scott Germer as center, and Brian Sacks.

The stoppers chief function is to mark, or guard very tightly the opposing central forward player. This player must have a great deal of skills. Scott Van Steen plays this position exceptionally well.

The goal keepers first priority is to make saves, but he also must be able to start an attack by putting the ball back in play. The Comets goalie Chris Margaritis is excellent, he has 4 shutouts and has only allowed 9 goals against him.

In the second half the third goal was scored by Tim Doyle with an assist from John Guittari and Tommy Pedicini. The fourth goal was scored by Tim Doyle unassisted. The fifth goal was scored by Anthony Conte unassisted.

The Comets came in 2nd place in their division.

Many thanks to Barbara McCann and Anthony Luongo for all their time and effort they have given to the team and for such a wonderful season winning 7, tying 2 and losing 1.

1978 U-11 (Boys)

By John Flanagan, Coach

The Hicksville Shamrocks concluded their 1981 outdoor schedule with a 1-0 win over Lindenhurst on Saturday at HICKSVILLE AMERICAN SOCCER CLUB (1978 BOYS) HICKSVILLE CANNONBALLS' SEASON RECORD - 7 Wins, 3 Ties, 1 Loss.

Front row: Brian Grumman Field. This was the conclusion of what turned out to be two seasons in one.

After an opening day tie with Island Trees there were four consecutive losses. The boys never gave up and displayed courage and skill in finishing their season with 2 wins, 5 losses, and 3 ties.

In ten games there were only 11 goals scored against us and co-captain Jeff Dohman our goalie was a big reason this total was so low. Fullbacks Brian Harkins, Jason Teitelbaum and Chris Doyle consistently showed great ability at denying the opposing forwards opportunities to score. In addition to showing skill at moving the ball up to our midfielders it was particularly gratifying to see so few technical breakdowns by the fullbacks in the last half of the season.

Splitting time between the fullbacks and the halfbacks was Andy McCarthy who played wherever and whenever he was needed most. Moving from the left to the right the halfbacks were Gregg Furst, co-captain Phil Fierro our mainstay at center half and Jordan Stadler. Despite the fact that the ball was constantly blown out of touch in our final game these boys weren't called for any foul throw-ins. In addition, the games only goal was scored from a throw-in.

The forwards worked hard and as the season wore on were finally rewarded for that work. Wingers Mike Murray, co-captain Joe Flanagan and Brian Pine managed to display their I.V.I moves and ability to cross the ball and create scoring opportunities. Inside forwards Mike Speranza, Steve Florio and high scorer Ronny Ladimir showed bustle and determination in mounting attack after attack on the opposition. Congratulations to you all on a good outdoor season. Have a happy holiday.

The Hicksville American Soccer Club concluded another successful intramural season. Thanks go to all Commissioners, Coaches and parents who made it possible with hard work.

These are the final standings:

Girls Middlets: 1. Florida, Coach Lou Kilmatis; 2. Pennsylvania, Coach Pat Rooney, Jan Conroy, Comm.

Boys Pee Wees: 1. Kicks, Coach Mark Rudis; 2. Sharks, Coach Charles Santarelli; 3. Hornets, Coach Bob Goldsmith; Phil Alagna, Comm.

Boys Bantams: 1. Cambridge, Coach Gary Love; 2. Leeds, Coach Bill Able and Jeff Goldberg; 3. Oxford, Coach Jerry McNamee; Harvey Nelson, Comm.

Boys Middlets: 1. Rowdies, Coach Phil Diamond; 2. Roughnecks, Coach Carmine Fischetti; 3. Kicks, Coach Herb Stein; Rich Staller, Comm.

The award ceremony was held on Dec. 2 at the Hicksville Jr. H.S. Councilmen Ken Diamond and Tom Clark attended.

Hicksville Soccer Team Wins Championship

The 1981 Hicksville Soccer Team had a very successful season this year winning the league championship. They finished up league play with a 11-1-2 record. The only loss was to Oceanside 1 to 0 and Oceanside won the championship in their league.

Highlights of the season was a 2-2 tie against then contending Massapequa and a playoff Nassau County Championship Game at Hofstra Stadium at Seasons end. In the Massapequa game, Hicksville was behind during most of the game and needed a win of a tie to possibly win the league championship. With 4 minutes and 45 seconds left in the game, Robert Zaretsky headed in the goal which tied the game, from a perfect pass by Rafael Villalta. This goal later led to the league championship when Hicksville beat a tough Berner team 1-0.

In the Nassau County Championship game at Hofstra Stadium, the "Comets" didn't seem to hold true. Again they were playing the tough Massapequa team they played earlier in the season. Although the comets dominated play in the first half they managed only one goal. It wasn't enough, because Massapequa, with 5 minutes 45 seconds to go, came back and tied the game 1-1. Hicksville took 25 shots on

"How Does One Approach Bethlehem?"
 "For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government will be upon his shoulder, and his name will be called 'Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.'"
 "How does one approach Bethlehem?" Most people approach it from the north as Mary and Joseph did the first Christmas, for Bethlehem is about six miles south of Jerusalem. I guess one could also approach it from the south or from the west or perhaps from the east - as the Magi did.

 "How does one approach Bethlehem?" Mary and Joseph approached it slowly for Mary was very pregnant. Pilgrims throughout the ages have approached it cautiously, for local inhabitants have always seen in pilgrims the opportunity to make a fast buck.

Once again, we ask, "How does one approach Bethlehem?" Each of us needs to answer this question. What approach will you use to observe Christmas this year?

Perhaps some of us will emphasize the family approach. Christmas for us is a celebration of family. It feels good to be all together, and for some coming to church at Christmas maintains an important family tradition.

There may be other approaches to the celebrating of Christmas, but there is really only one correct approach to the celebration of the Lord's birth. This approach was demonstrated poignantly to me by an Arab nun. Last year, I was privileged to stand in the cave in Bethlehem where our Lord was born. As several of us softly sang Silent Night, this nun walked to the silver star which marks the spot of Jesus' birth, dropped to her knees, and kissed the Lord's place of birth as an act of adoration and worship.

Yes, to properly approach Bethlehem and Christmas, we must be willing to humble ourselves at the manger, to forget our pride, and to let the love of God reach down from heaven and touch us.

Scripture tells us so beautifully, "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given." In Jesus, God is saying to each of us, "I love you, I forgive you your sins." Because of the cradle, the cross, and the empty tomb, all believers can join a pilgrimage that will end at the heavenly Jerusalem. For unto us is given salvation freely, fully completely.

"So how do you plan to approach Bethlehem this year? How do you plan to celebrate Christmas?" I'd like to suggest that each of us spend a few minutes on our

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

VENERABLE TONY PREVITE'S MESSAGE:

It is by presence of mind in untried situations that the native metal of man is tested. Old Saying Amid the cries of 'let's do it again,' 'bring it back' (by popular request), it might seem somewhat unbelievable that these are the feelings that everyone expressed at the conclusion of the last Flea Market activity held by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge, under the supervision of hard-working Mary Monteforte. Carmen Russo (931-1054) will also assist. And now, as a result of that successful operation, it is announced that the ladies Auxiliary will present another Flea Market activity in the same interesting and enjoyable manner, and again under the direction of Mary Monteforte. This Flea Market will be held on Thursday, the 17 of December. Admission is free, refreshments will be served and non-members will pay $10 a table and members will pay $8. Vendors are welcome, of course. The hours are from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M. and the site is the Galileo Lodge, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. Again, for something different in diversion, why not head for the Galileo Lodge on the date mentioned and browse and shop to your heart's content. Call Mary at 931-9351 and 938-9536 for more details.

The sounds of a joyous Noel will soon reverberate thru the cold winter air, and the bells of Santa's reindeer will also be heard in the distance, bringing anticipatory but beautiful smiles to the glowing faces of all children of the world. Gray monotones of the cold season coupled with its bone-chilling crispness will add an engaging reality to a period that expresses the joys and glad tidings of the human spirit. Now I don't have to emphasize that these moods and emotions of the Yuletide season will certainly prevail at the Galileo Lodge on Saturday, the 3th of December, at which time it presents its Christmas Dance. Price of admission is knees this Christmas. To humble ourselves before the Lord as shepherds once did. I'm sure the Magi, even though they were kings, found their knees when they came to Jesus. All of the saints found God more approachable from their knees. An Arab nun, unconcerned about the stares of others, only recognized one thing...that she stood at the place where the Son of God once laid, and, therefore, positioned herself appropriately for worship.

Spend a portion of this Christmas on your knees, and thank God for His gracious gift. From your knees confess your sins. From your knees invite the powerful presence of the Holy Spirit to deepen your faith. From your knees approach Bethlehem. From your knees celebrate Christmas.

$9.50 per person, featuring a delicious ham dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and lively music from a leading music combo. A $2 grab bag will enhance the proceedings, so if you bring a gift you will get one in return. Please note that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night. Jeff Wallick (681-8428) will 'chair' this activity, ably assisted by Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052). So why not start the Xmas season in a warm and enjoyable manner by attending this dance.

The thrills and excitement do not end with the conclusion of the Christmas Dance, rather, they become intensified and they hit their peak on Sunday, the 20th of December and that is the time when the Galileo Lodge presents its two Christmas parties, one for the retarded children of Queens and Long Island and the other one for the children of the membership. A delicious meal will be in the offering, with ice cream, candy, cake, milk and many other 'goodies'. Many of the various business establishments in the Hicksville area will undoubtedly contribute their products for the edification and enjoyment of these children. Many of the members of the Galileo Lodge and Ladies Auxiliary will lend their time and efforts to successfully bring about these activities, and Jim Rerisi, a perennial stalwart of the Christmas parties, will once again assist in his inimitable style. I have personally attended many of these Christmas affairs for these children and I find it difficult to verbally describe the beauty of human kindness that the eyes see and the heart feels. The sight of those little ecstatic faces enhanced with warm and happy smiles reflect the loveliness of a people who see so much virtue in giving rather than receiving. More on these parties in later columns.

The year 1981 will soon sink into oblivion, and if you are searching for a really pleasant way to usher in the New Year, seek no more, because the Galileo Lodge will present a New Years Party and Dance on Thursday, the 31st of December. Tickets will sell at $30 per person, and to be featured will be a cocktail

The first graders in Saint Ignatius Loyola School participated in the annual All Saints Day Parade. Each child learned about the saint he represented and dressed in a fashion typical of that saint. On parade they visited classrooms throughout the school and culminated their activity with a special luncheon attended by their families. Pictured here are the little "saints" with Rev. Alfred Rogers and their teacher, Mrs. Anne Schuessler.

Outdated Law Costing Billions

New York Times and The Wall Street Journal. The liberal organization, Common Cause as well as many building-contractor groups point to flaws in Davis-Bacon.

Several bills are currently being considered in Congress to rescind the act completely. A piecemeal approach is also being tried—tacking on a Davis-Bacon exemption to expenditure bills as they come up. Such an exemption was part of the military-construction bill that recently emerged from Senate committee.

The staunch defenders of Davis-Bacon are the construction unions of the AFL-CIO. They maintain that if the act were discarded, workers would be subject to the potential abuses that were feared in 1931. Union spokesmen also minimize any deficiencies in the Labor Department's application of the law. But organized labor has a clear economic stake, for whenever it maintains high union rates, unionized contractors can compete effectively and thus obtain more jobs for union members.

The Department of Labor and the Reagan Administration favor reform rather than repeal of the Davis-Bacon Act. Proposed reforms, announced in August, would substitute a 50-percent rule for the present 30-percent one.

prohibit the importing of urban rates into rural areas, and allow one helper for every five journeymen.

But the case for repeal is more compelling. A 50-percent rule would still be inequitable, if, for example, other wage rates in an area were lower; the Labor Department would be establishing a minimum-wage rate rather than a true prevailing one. Besides such details, the problem with changing the regulations is that the reforms of one Administration can be undone by the next. Moreover, whatever the changes, the Davis-Bacon Act by its very nature imposes an impossible burden on bureaucrats by obliging them, if need be, to issue wage determinations for more than 3100 counties and at least 19 states.

As Sen. Donald Nickles (R., Okla.), author of one of the repeal bills, says, "I find it ludicrous that the Department of Labor—in Washington, D.C.—is in the business of setting local wage rates for projects all across the United States."

Indeed, the country is too large and diverse, local economic conditions are too varied, for centralized bureaucratic wage determination. Beyond that, the Davis-Bacon Act is expensive, inequitable and unnecessary. We would be well off without it.

WESTBURY, N.Y., Nov. 24—Providence Capitol Realty Group, Inc., a subsidiary of Gulf & Western Industries, Inc., today announced plans for a major expansion of its shopping center on Old Country Road here, adjacent to Roosevelt Raceway.

The center, currently occupied by the Fortunoff and Ohrbach's stores, will be expanded through the addition of a multi-level enclosed mall. The mall will join the existing stores and another planned major department store. Several stores are being considered for the third anchor, Providence said.

The mall will contain 125 stores on the first two levels and a variety of restaurants, food shops and entertainment services located around a public seating area on the third level. Total retail space in the center will be 878,000 square feet, almost half of which already exists in the two operating department stores.

"This development is designed to upgrade an already strong retail facility into a contemporary regional shopping center," said

Norman P. Zucker, president of Providence. "The mall will feature indoor gardens, attractive opens spaces, and a food court, containing a variety of eating places, that will be unique on Long Island."

Construction is expected to begin early next year, with the opening of the expanded center scheduled for August, 1983.

Providence said plans also call for significant improvements in road access to the center as well as expansion of the site and an increase in the number of parking spaces. To the east of the center, Ellison Avenue will be opened to public traffic to connect with Meadowbrook Parkway. To the south, a road will be built to connect Ellison Avenue and Zeckendorf Boulevard, providing an alternate to Old Country Road.

Parking will be expanded by more than 250 percent—from 2000 spaces currently, to spaces for 5300 cars, including a 1300-space parking deck that will offer direct, protected access to the center.

In addition to the substantial

LEGIONNAIRE'S LOG

By Artie Rutz

CHARLES WAGNER POST # 421
HICKSVILLE, N.Y.

"One Of The Grass Roots Of The American Legion"

This is the last time that registration of children for the Christmas Party will be mentioned as the closing date of Dec. 5th is upon us. So, if you have not yet registered your children and, or your grandchildren, you must call PALMER WALSH not later than December 5th. His phone number is 931-3299. This registration is only for the 8 year olds and under so SANTA CLAUS will have a gift available. All children over 8 years of age are invited to attend and enjoy the movies, the refreshments and rides on the famous 40/8 Nassau Voiture 803 Locomotive. The date of the CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS PARTY is Sunday, December 20, at 2 P.M. The PAST COMMANDERS CLUB will hold their last meeting before the Xmas Party, tonight, December 4th, at 8:30 P.M. so all you Past Commanders please be on hand with the returns of the drawing books for the Xmas Party. The Post's new numbers game has started operation as of December 1st and if you haven't got your favorite number please see or call JACK REICHLEN. Maybe you will get lucky. Our annual NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY will take place as usual on December 31st and the man in charge is AL CINOTTI and his phone # is 796-6268. We have the most reasonable price in town. Just $45 per couple. And we are offering a grand evening of dance music by Ben Serzo; a wonderful eye and taste appealing Smorgasbord, plus free beer and each table gets a choice of 2 bottles. A word to our membership who intend to make this affair. It would be wise to make your reservations NOW as we are offering this NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY to the general public and our membership, on a first come, first serve basis and we do have limited seating. Again, AL CINOTTI is the man to call (796-6268) or see him on Friday night or the next meeting. Which is Monday, December 7th. A final request to all unpaid members: Please send your 1981 Dues to RAY GAMBLE now, as of December 15th all per capita taxes reaching the County Membership Officer will be refused if the increase is not included. Do yourself and the Post a favor, pay now while we still have a few days to pay County at the old rate. At our next business meeting we will vote to amend the section of the Post By Laws which deals with Dues (Article IV, Section 1) so the raise in per capita tax problem can be reasonably resolved. The date for this voting is December 21st. Over the last several years The American Legion has become increasingly concerned with issues associated with legal as well as illegal immigration. At a time in which the nation is constrained by both diminishing resources and a declining economy, the numbers of immigrants, legal and illegal, entering this country has seemed unlimited. Moreover, in the last several years the number of refugees having entered the country has been staggering. While the precise figures on the number of illegals currently in this country is unknown, it is now clear that their presence is creating a situation in which American workers are being supplanted on a large scale. Against this background the Select Commission on Immigration & Refugee Policy established by Congress years ago made its final recommendations last March. Among the recommendations, it was suggested that the illegals currently in the country should be legalized. The position of The American Legion on this matter was stated "it is our opinion that amnesty or legalization is undesirable and we strongly oppose the idea as unworkable, impractical and unjustifiable for a variety of reasons."
