School Board To Hold Public Budget Study Sessions

By Rosemary Grant

It was announced at the regular meeting of the Board of Education on March 10 that the annual budget planning process has begun and public study sessions will be held on March 15, 17 and 24 in the Conference Room of the Administration Building at 8:15 p.m. to develop the 1982-83 school budget. These sessions are part of the planning process for the educational and financial programs for the district and will help the Board of Education reach a decision on the proposed budget.

The Board has received applications to fill the position vacated by Mr. Frank Grimmer. March 12 is the deadline for submitting an application for the appointment which will be effective until the annual meeting of the district on May 26. Mr. Grimmer was at the meeting as a member of the audience and asked questions regarding BOCES grade reporting procedures, responsibility of who is in charge of the high school building when it is open in the evening and expressed disapproval that there was an open bar at a dinner given for the Middle States Evaluation Committee.

President John Ayres reported that Daniel Arena expressed thanks for all the prayers and good wishes he has received while recuperating from heart surgery. He hopes to be back within a month or six weeks in some capacity as board member.

A discussion was held regarding senior citizen attendance at school productions. Residents over 60 years of age have the right to attend designated performance of student plays and shows at no charge, but it does not cover outside productions appearing at the high school. In reviewing the policy Jay Schwartz said "It would be my recommendation that outside performances be reduced to 50%. If the board is in agreement, I will do it." The policy will be considered by the Board at a future meeting.

Superintendent Wilber D. Hawkins reported that 27 people comprise the Middle States Evaluation Committee. "We had a very good beginning in our meeting with them and I am sure we will have a favorable report," he said.

Introduction to Computers, a course required for graduation at South Side High School in Rockville Center, was investigated by Dr. Hawkins. He was very impressed and felt it may be something that Hicksville could include in required courses for high school students.

He also reported on the successful youth activity program being held in the high school gyms on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 8:30 - 9:45 p.m. Two hundred boys and girls in grades 7 through 12 registered for this recreational program, which includes floor hockey and aerobic dancing.

Superintendent Hawkins also submitted a change in the proposed school calendar for 1982-83. He wants to change the closing in November from the 2nd to the 16th and to begin the December break on the 23rd.

The Board passed a resolution to take action on Board policies, recommendations of the Committee on the Handicapped and approved textbooks. The Board also approved transportation contract extensions with the contracts as submitted not to exceed an increase of 8% above current contract costs. The Board awarded bids and approved warrants. It also approved recommended action regarding personnel.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Board will be Wednesday, March 31 at 8:15 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Administration Building.

Financial Guidance Being Offered

John Hannigan of Hicksville is now offering financial guidance to Hicksville residents. A graduate of Hicksville High School, John joined the U.S.M.C., served in Vietnam and then graduated from Nassau Community College—New York University and finally earned an advanced degree from Long Island University. Presently, John is employed with a major New York bank as a business and credit analyst. His experience ranges from banking to insurance and to commodity options. For several years, John has been studying, independently many areas of financial and investment topics and opportunities. He has also continued his advancement in economic understanding, government fiscal policies, federal reserve monetary policies and how it all relates to inflation and taxes.

Inflation and taxes are key elements to address when one considers investments.

Investments are many and range from equity investments (common stock, mutual funds), financial investments (common stock, mutual funds), financial investments (ACD's, Treasury Bills, All Savers, Money Market Funds) commodity investments (futures, options), hard money investments (precious metals, gold, silver, stamps, antiques) to leveraged investments (real estate).

An individual who is in a position to invest must first look at their financial position and use that as a guide in determining the proper mix of investments to pursue. The individuals financial position and plan should be arranged to help give them the opportunity to be in a position to invest.

Financial guidance will offer an independent appraisal of the mix of investment that an individual could consider viable given the circumstances. Also offered is to review investments offered to individuals by sales type specialists, for an indepen-

15,000 People May Lose Epilepsy Center Services

The Epilepsy Foundation of Nassau County, a voluntary agency, located at 149 North Franklin Street in Hempstead, was founded in 1963 to foster the well being of persons with epilepsy. Nassau County has 15,000 people with epilepsy. About 75% of these people are on a medically controlled program and need little or no help from the Foundation's Day Center or Clinic. The balance of about 3700 can benefit from the Center's services.

Fred Abrams, former Foundation president and current New York State Epilepsy Association president, stated that "Epilepsy is different from other disabilities in that it is hidden. Epilepsy is hidden because it occurs sporadically, so that if an individual has epilepsy but is not seen experiencing it, he or she is not visibly disabled. Epilepsy is hidden because of the stigma attached to it. Many persons fear revealing the fact that they have epilepsy because of the response that they anticipate resulting in isolation from people.

Current Foundation president Jack Daniels added,

"Epilepsy is the outward sign of a temporary malfunction in the electrical system of the brain. Epileptic seizures generally occur sporadically. They are caused by the sudden alterations in a person's functioning. The nature of a seizure depends upon the extent and location of the electrical malfunctions in the brain. There is a very wide range of disability, from persons with seizures fully controlled by medication who can lead normal lives, to persons severely limited in many functional areas because of their seizures."

Dr. Harmon Putter, the Foundation's long time Executive Director, said that the Center for the past 17 years has opened more than 1700 cases. At any one time, it is actively caring for 100 to 200 persons by providing comprehensive services such as neurological consultation, psychiatric diagnosis and treatment, psychological evaluation, individual and family counseling and therapy, day treatment (since 1977), and residential care (since 1980).

Dr. Putter further stated that, "During the 17 years of service to a disabled clientele, the Center has a 'track record' of rehabilitating and restoring people to higher levels of functioning and greater independence, such as improving seizure control, improving mental and emotional conditions, preventing institutionalization, reducing frequency of hospitalization, increasing ability to function in competitive employment, to function more independently in the community, and increasing ability to develop skills of daily living such as independent travel, managing money, cooking, shopping, and coping with family, friends and relatives."

The Epilepsy Foundation and Center has been continuously certified, licensed and funded by the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene and Nassau County. Continued certification will enable the Center's anticipated move to 550 Stewart Avenue in Garden City where enlarged quarters will enable additional enrollment of persons waiting to be admitted.

Heating Fuel Costs Compared

By Gerald Dennehy
Energy Education Exponents, Inc.

How much energy does your dollar purchase using different fuels? Unit pricing, now commonly found in food markets, is not available when shopping for fuel or electricity with which to heat a home. It would be helpful to have some such guide.

The energy content of fuels is usually expressed in "British thermal units" (Btu). A Btu is the amount of energy needed to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit. It takes about 75 Btu to heat a cup of water to boiling from room temperature.

The accompanying chart gives the customary unit of sale, the energy content of one unit, the current Long Island market price per unit and the resulting cost of a million Btu for several sources of heating energy.

Fuel	Unit	Btu in a unit	Price per unit	Cost per million Btu
Electricity	kilowatt-hour	3,412	$0.086	$24.91
Kerosene	gallon	135,000	1.50	11.11
Oil	gallon	139,000	1.30	9.35
Wood	cord (4'x4'x8')	23 million	150.00	6.62
Coal	ton (200 lbs.)	24 million	135.00	5.63
Gas	therm (100 cu.ft.)	100,000	0.55	5.50

From this analysis, it is evident that the purchase price per million Btu ranges from $24.91 for electricity (at the reduced rate that applies to an all-electric home) to $5.50 for natural gas.

Costs Taking into Account Heating Efficiency

However, we are not interested in the energy content of the fuel so much as we are interested in the heat it delivers to the home. This depends on the efficiency of conversion to useful heat in the furnace, boiler, stove or heating device. The typical conversion efficiency for each fuel when used in the kinds of heating systems most often found on Long Island is shown in the second table, along with the cost per million Btu of heat actually delivered to the space being warmed.

Fuel	Efficiency	Cost per million BTU delivered
Electricity	100%	$24.91
Oil	66	14.17
Wood	50	13.04
Coal	50	11.26
Kerosene	100	11.11
Gas	60	9.17

Electricity, which is a very expensive source of heat in this area when used in resistance heaters (heat pumps are somewhat better), does benefit from having its energy converted to heat with no losses. In the above analysis kerosene is also credited with 100% conversion efficiency, but only because its hot combustion gases are released directly into a room, rather than having some heat lost up a chimney. While this practise may be acceptable for a room heater, it would not be safe for an entire house.

A typical 1,500 square foot Long Island house with average insulation needs about 80 million Btu to maintain its living space at 68° F throughout a heating season. Using the numbers in the second table, oil heat would cost about $1,130 ($14.17 times 80), gas heat about $730, and electric heat about $1,990.

Cost can be reduced 5 to 10 percent by using an automatic setback thermostat. Further savings, especially for oil heat systems, of as much as 25 percent can be realized by upgrading the system or installing a new high efficiency boiler or furnace as a replacement for the typical low-efficiency system assumed in the calculations above.

Zone Heating

Kerosene, wood and coal are not bargain fuels when analyzed on the basis of cost per unit delivered to a space. Users of these fuels in stoves tend to heat only part of their homes, often letting unused rooms get quite cold. This strategy saves fuel costs, especially in houses with individual room controls such as baseboard heat.

In houses with central oil, gas, or electric systems, a minimum temperature (usually 55° F) must be maintained through a thermostat in order to avoid cold weather damage caused by frozen water pipes and other harmful conditions.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Ms. Noeth:

This is simply to "Thank You" for your recent story on our Children's Hospital rising on the grounds of L.I.J. We feel it is most important for Long Islanders to know that by the end of 1983 the community will have a top-flight children's hospital of its own comparable to any in the land.

From many years of experience, we know the weekly newspapers have a unique role as they inform local people about programs, events and issues that effect them. No other form of communication is that directly attuned to the community's best interests.

So we salute you and thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Friends ...

Best wishes to Mr. John Haughey, Sr., former proprietor of Haughey's Tavern, a landmark for 50 years on the corner of Cherry St and Broadway, who has recently been admitted to the Massapequa Nursing Facility. His many old friends will be glad to know that he recently attained the venerable age of 95. Congratulations, Mr. H.

Mr. Haughey's daughter, Mary was an assistant editor of the Mid Island Herald when it was founded in 1948 by Fred Noeth. Mr. Haughey's oldest son, John, was killed at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

Hicksville, especially downtown, is a community thirsting to be renewed, the process of which is long overdue for many varied reasons. However, the refurbishing of stores on Nicholas Street along with the sprucing up of the Old Opera House enhances this area ... also, the Good Times Deli on Woodbury and Park has remodeled and is a decided improvement. Good.

We hear that the Hicksville High School Senior Class members will forsake their annual trip to Washington, DC for a trip to Disneyworld in Florida ... we also hear that this year Hicksville Seniors will graduate at ceremonies at Post College, abandoning our 4,000 seat stadium? Why?

MARK YOUR CALENDAR... on Friday, March 26 the Nassau County Federation of Republican Women will honor their past presidents at a Testimonial Cocktail Buffet at the Swan Club in Glenwood Landing from 6:30 to 9:30 pm. Tickets, are $15 per person. Mrs. Anne Palladino is present president of this active organization.

Congratulations to Eugene Reilly, a 7th grader in St. Ignatius School who recently won first place in the annual Catholic Heritage Essay Contest sponsored by the Nassau-Suffolk Chapter of the Catholic League for Religious and Civil Rights.

Congratulations, also to Dutch Lane School 6th-grader Tracy Putman who is this year's first place winner in the annual VFW's "Voice of Democracy" essay contest sponsored by the William M. Gouse, Jr. Post No. 3211 of Hicksville. Tracy also placed second on the county level with her essay "Building America Together."

TROOP 172 of St. Ignatius recently celebrated Scout Sunday and held a Court of Honor which started by their attending Mass at St. Ignatius Church and was followed by a Court of Honor at the Plainview Holiday Inn. Special guests of this Troop included, Mr. Robert Merserau, Scout District Executive and his wife, Mr. Harry Charles, District Commissioner of the Sasquatch District and his wife, Mr. John Crawford, former Scoutmaster of Troop 378 and presently a member of the District Training Committee and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, members of the Youth of St. Ignatius Church, as well as mothers, fathers and family members of the Scouts of Troop 172. Best wishes to all.

Colby Demands State Action On Hooker Chemical Dumping

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby is demanding that the State Department of Environmental Conservation demonstrate its sincerity to force legal and financial involvement of the Hooker Chemical Corp. in the environmental protection program currently being undertaken by the Town at the landfill in Old Bethpage.

In a letter to State DEC Commissioner Robert Flacke, Colby indicated that Town residents and officials are questioning whether the State offices of the DEC are pursuing this matter with the same vigor as was witnessed when the local Regional offices of the DEC were attempting to affix legal and financial responsibility to Hooker for reportedly dumping chemicals at the Old Bethpage landfill in violation of State law.

Noting that residents repeatedly ask Town officials about action being taken against Hooker, Colby wrote to Flacke that: "Our response that we have confidence in the actions being taken by the State Department of Environmental Conservation, is beginning to be perceived as somewhat less than meaningful in view of the fact that we are approaching the third anniversary of the revelations of the dumping by the Hooker Chemical Corporation."

Colby pointed out that while the matter was being handled by the Region 1 (Long Island) office of State DEC "the people of this Town had reason to believe that the State DEC was indeed pursuing the possibility of forcing the Hooker Chemical Corporation to be held financially liable for the costs of testing and any remedial action necessary to protect the groundwater of Long Island."

Colby reminded Flacke that it was the Regional offices that leveled charges of more than 400 violations of State law against Hooker. "It appeared these matters would soon be pursued to a logical conclusion pinpointing Hooker's legal and financial responsibilities," Colby wrote.

He noted that following the issuing of these charges by the Regional offices the jurisdiction on this matter was transferred to central DEC offices in Albany. "State DEC action against Hooker appeared to diminish ... our residents and The Town have had little cause to have confidence that the Hooker Chemical Corporation will be forced to participate in the expenses currently being incurred by the Town taxpayers to protect our groundwater ... the perceived lack of action has begun to be interpreted by local residents as a reluctance by the State to aggressively pursue Hooker's violations," Colby wrote.

While accepting that the lack of information on State action may not necessarily indicate a lack of real action, Colby noted that, when the fact that it has been almost three years since Rep. Norman Lent made known the information about Hooker dumping practices is coupled with there being no evidence of State action that would force Hooker to share in the financial responsibilities, this "presents reasonable grounds for reasonable people to doubt the State DEC's willingness to take strong action against Hooker."

Colby added that "some Town officials are beginning to believe the fears of our residents are accurate, and that, ultimately, the taxpayers will be paying the full cost of protection programs."

"Lack of definitive action or progress by the DEC," Colby concluded in his letter to Flacke, "and the apparent disassociation of the Attorney General's Office on this matter leads the Town to request that it be informed as to what, if any, courses of action are being taken to force Hooker to pay for the ongoing efforts to protect our environment."

Colby's letter asked Flacke: "Where does your Department stand with the 400+ violations that the Region leveled against Hooker? What evidence can we give to our residents that will weaken their belief that the State DEC is going to let the charges against Hooker be swept under the rug and the taxpayers be left with the clean-up costs?"

Colby urged that the State respond to his questions, "with sufficient facts to allay the concerns of our residents, and to convince them of the sincerity of the State's claim to be working to achieve the financial involvement of Hooker in programs protecting Long Island's groundwater supply."

There is more to Long Island than its beaches! You'll learn more about our Island at our Club meeting on March 12, 8:30 p.m., at the VFW Hall located at 320 South Broadway, Hicksville.

Once again another informative and entertaining program will be presented at our meeting. "Main Streets of Early Long Island" is the title of a slide film and discussion program given by Joan Chambers. It covers the period from 1880 to 1940. Joan is part of a unique husband and wife team. She and her husband, Ray, are historians, writers, photographers and lecturers. They are directors of the Camberwell Collection of Library Slide Talks.

The Camberwell Collections are recognized as the largest private collection of American historical media in the world. The Chambers' devout and burning interest in Long Island history enabled them to develop a series of slide film talks, permanently recording our Long Island heritage as never before.

The program is sponsored by the New York Telephone Company. Mark your calendar so you won't miss a fascinating program, the company of your friends and neighbors, and a briefing on current political and community issues of importance to our community.

Most of us are still putting off preparing our income tax returns. For those of us who have procrastinated tackling this anathema, perhaps the following tax tips will prove helpful to you.

MARRIAGE PENALTY: This year married taxpayers, both of whom are employed, will receive a five percent deduction up to a maximum of $1,500. In 1983 and thereafter, the deduction will rise to ten percent and a maximum of $3,000.

CAPITAL GAINS TAX: Last year the maximum tax rate on the sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than one year was 28 percent. As of June 9, 1981, that maximum rate dropped to 20 percent.

SALE OF RESIDENCE: In the past, to avoid paying taxes on the sale of your residence, you had to purchase a new residence within 18 months. That time period has been extended to 24 months.

CHILD AND DEPENDENT CARE CREDIT: Under a new law a tax credit for up to 30 percent of expenditures for the care of a child or other dependent is available for taxpayers who earn $10,000 or less. The credit is reduced one percent for each $2,000 of additional income over $10,000. Please note: "Child or dependent care expenditures" refers to costs incurred in providing care for a child or other dependent in order that you may go to work. The costs of a day care center is an example.

STATE TAXES: As of last year, estates were exempt from taxation up to a value of $175,000. In 1982, the tax free threshold will jump to $225,000 and that figure will increase in increments until it hits $600,000 in 1987.

TAX FREE SAVINGS CERTIFICATES: Since October 1, 1981, individuals have been able to purchase "all-savers" certificates which provide tax free interest income. A maximum of $1,000 in interest income ($2,000 for a couple filing jointly) can be excluded from your taxable income. These certificates are sold in denominations as little as $500.

Now, armed with this information, you should feel confident to surge ahead and get started on this year's income tax report. Good luck!

Fred went off to World War I and Nina waited for his return and also for her 20th birthday and they were married on Jan. 7, 1922. They raised two daughters, Grace and Irene (Bastiano) who both attended Nicholas St. School and Hicksville High School. Irene was married on Fred and Nina's 25th wedding anniversary, so she celebrated her 35th on the day of their 60th. Pictured above are Fred and Nina and daughters, Grace and Irene.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

VENERABLE TON PREVITE'S MESSAGE: "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers." Alfred Lord Tennyson

An old axiom of considerable worth is that procrastination is the thief of time, so if you are entertaining lively thoughts of attending the Galileo Lodge's St. Joseph Dance, scheduled for Saturday, the 20th of March, you'd better hurry and contact Chairman Joe Giordano (333-4555) for tickets, which, incidentally, sell at $10 per person and which are becoming quite scarce. I might add, for this modest fee you will be offered a delicious hot meal, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-up and live music from a leading musical combo. Not to mention, of course, the congeniality generated by the Galileo Lodge itself. I couldn't possibly think of a better way in which to usher in 1982's recreational spring season, and when you are mindful of the pleasure and enjoyment so deeply entrenched in all of the Galileo Lodge's activities, you ask yourself how can it be surpassed by any other organization that caters to the public. Please note that 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night.

With the advent of spring they had to drive back to Hicksville on Sunday but when duty calls ... I missed HENRY BRENGEL and ANNA also and I learned that Anna's sister had passed away; the second such unfortunate occurrence in 5 weeks ... Our condolences to ANNA and HENRY ... I also heard that PAST COMMANDER ED HOOKINSON is progressing very nicely along the rehabilitation road which is long, and sometimes hard ... Keep at it, ED-DIE.

Our next business meeting is Monday night, March 15th and some interesting subjects should reach the floor so come on down and let's see you.

Amblyopia Screening

An Amblyopia Screening for Lee Ave. Pre-Schoolers will be held on Friday, March 19, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Hicksville Public Library. This screening is free for all pre-schoolers who will enter Lee Ave. in September.

just around the corner, a condition that certainly makes our spirits soar and our mood mellowly, we more or less begin to develop or rekindle the interests that were 'shelved' for the winter months. And I am sure that some of these interests concern themselves with Fashions, Styles, Designs and Apparel of a distinctive flair. And this leads me to the Ladies Auxiliary and their announcement that they will present their own glittering and eye-appealing Fashion Show on Thursday, the 18th of March, under the supervision of Mary Monteforte (938-9536) and ably assisted by Rose Meszoros (931-9351). Tickets sell at $9 per person, and in the offering will be delicious Italian dinner, coffee and cake, beer, soda and an open bar from which you can purchase drinks at reasonable prices. You can also contact Mary and Rose by dialing 931-9351, the Lodge number, preferably on Wednesday nights from 6:30 P.M. on. Imagine a delightful Fashion Show plus all the 'extras' I have just mentioned here, and all for the very reasonable sum mentioned above. Raffles and prizes will also embellish the proceedings, so if you are either fashion-conscious or pleasure-oriented, this is the night for you to step into the other world of 'haute couture'.

LODGE TIDBITS

Happy to report that Joe Esposito, one of our Lodge's most faithful members, will celebrate his birthday on the 19th of March. A real Happy Birthday wish from all us here at the Lodge. The newly-elected slate of officers of the Galileo Lodge for 1982 will begin their tenure of office this month.

LEGIONNAIRE'S LOG By Arlie Rutz

CHARLES WAGNER POST # 421
HICKSVILLE, N.Y.

"One Of The Grass Roots Of The American Legion"

Our Auxiliary Unit concluded its latest "300" Club with a cocktail bash and the drawing for the final and top prizes last Saturday evening in our spacious BRENGEL HALL. The soft glow of our colored lights, intermixed with the sentimental music of GEORGE and the aroma of freshly made tid bits all added to the scene as "300" Club members awaited the big moment. From my vantage point at RAY GAMBLE'S table which was peopled by his nephews, DENNIS, WILLIAM and BOB (and his lovely wife) plus RAY, JR and BETTY and JOE MUTI ... MARIE GAMBLE was too busy to sit down (as usual) ... I was able to observe my fellow Legionnaires in action throughout the evening, such as acting as bartenders were FRANK MOLINARI, JOE ROHAN,

SR. AND FRANK WALSH ... I chatted briefly with TOM NIKITAS AND FRED BLACKLEY ... Enjoyed some pepperoni slices proffered by JACK and GERTRUDE REICHLEN ... Noted at nearby tables were FRANK CASTELLANO, BOB WATTERSON and ED EMMEL ... At our bar I had further conversations regarding our great AMERICAN LEGION with CARMINE RINALDI and a past commander of both our Post and the Archie McCord Bethpage Post, ED LEGER ... And at another table were CLEM and MADELINE SWALLOW and HORACE LINDO ... Much in evidence were STEVE WLADYKA, and that walking advertisement for the AMERICAN LEGION, BOB BOERCKEL, and JOHN RIZOS ... I know many more Post members belong to the "300" Club than were present but then everybody cannot make everything every time EXCEPT Post Commanders like our own LOU BRAUN who was also there hoping for the 'big' one ... And seated at another table quietly surveying the goings on were MAE & JOHN SHEPPARD ... Then there was WES TIETJEN with whom I chatted for a short while and that was the extent of recognizable members of our Post ... And of course, there's always the selling of tickets for a drawing on something or another, but I chuckled at the terminology expressed in presenting the cost of tickets to the assemblage ... Very, very clever and to whoever thought of the approach - my compliments ... then came the big moment, the time for the final drawing was at hand, and then came the announcement. "You won't believe this, but, our President, ETHYL HABENICHT won the 'big' one ... Second prize went to PETER REILLY, SR., and 3rd prize was garnered by JOE ROHAN, JR ... And so another AUXILIARY project has come to a successful conclusion thanks to our ambitious women ... Shortly, their next '300' Club will be put into action and for $20 you can get in on the action which comprises of 3 weekly prizes each week for a certain period of time and concludes with the free cocktail hour and dance on the final night ... If you are interested, and you should be, talk to any of our Auxiliary gals and they would be glad to see you put in contact with the committee in charge of the '300' Club. Thought I would see DICK and CYNTHIA HOCHBRUECKNER at this affair but they were up in Syracuse attending to an oratorical contest as you know Dick is the Department Chairman ... And what a miserable day

Troy Levy Averaging almost 17 points a game, Troy lead this year's Junior High 9th grade Basketball team to an impressive basketball record of 11 wins and 3 losses.

He also was top rebounder with 118 in 14 games.

Marked for future Hicksville stardom were fellow team mates Kenny Higgins, Rob Newlands, Bobby Russo, Chip Skupinsky, Frank Christiano, and Eugene Tournour.

Directed by Coach Ed Moeller, the school has now won 25 and lost 3 in two seasons.

Dave Skarka

Used sparingly but in crucial moments, Dave, a sophomore, helped Coach Buddy Bryans court team to its unexpected 1982 successful court season.

The official Comet stats credit him with 23 or 24 foul line conversion.

He joined Kevin Bungert and Charlie Chatterton and Steve Mancini in astounding foul line performances. The last quarter assaults were near the 90% mark.

Over all, Bungert had 52 of 86, Mancini, 53 of 78 and Chatterton 33 of 46.

Student Director Mrs. Nancy DeSarbo is very proud of the Hicksville 1981-82 cheerleaders.

Strong leadership roles were played by Varsity Captains Andrea Allen and Maggie Fabrizio and J.V. Captains Andrea Jannette and Angela Baggett.

The MID ISLAND HERALD saluted all the cheerleaders in a front page article in January.

William "Birdie" Bardiuk who was a stellar pitcher for Botto Bros, in the heyday of fast pitch softball will be inducted into the ASA Hall of Fame April 2 at Westbury's Wheatly Hills Tavern.

He joins an extraordinary list of Hicksville players who have already been inducted.

First was the great Grumman pitcher Ray Stephson. From Community teams honors were won by Joe Switila and Teddy Swedella, Brian Masterson and the sponsorship team of Iro and Bob Botto.

Hicksville now has more Hall of Famers than any town in America.

Birdie's well-deserved recognition was spearheaded by the most respected softball figure in the country - Doc Linehan of Levittown County Sports.

The Sports Dept. of the HERALD was gratified to submit a letter of endorsement concerning Birdie's exploits in support of the nomination, as requested by "Doc."

Dr. Michael Massiello Hicksville's all-American High School End in 1966 is interning at Nassau County Medical Center.

He was the game doctor for the Comets final football game against Berner last year.

Dr Michael completed his medical studies in Florida after graduating from West Point.

Peter Jannette and Peter Coelins

The two Hicksville members of the professional New York Arrows soccer team are experiencing a rough go.

Jannette, a High School all-American in 1981, suffered a knee injury in a brief appearance at the Nassau Coliseum. He underwent an operation last week and will be sidelined for eight weeks.

Coelins came out of the Hicksville soccer league and gained major college attention. He has a couple of shots and figures in the Arrows future.

Charles Arnone

Former Hicksville lacrosse star who went on to two all-American seasons in college coached the Hicksville High Girls J.V. basketball team this year.

Standing at nine wins and seven losses, the team was lead offensively by Sally O'Neal, Barbara Ann Moore and Alicia Blacato.

The strong aspects of the 1981-1982 squad was its outstanding defense. This defense was responsible for upset wins over first place Farmingdale and second place Berner. This defense was sparked by the outstanding play of Mary Ann Greene, Kelly Lee, Sally O'Neal, Barbara Ann Moore and Sue Campbell. This season effort was also helped by Liane Mahoney, Debbie Lietgeh, Grace Sone, Vicki Hennessey and Lisa Melton.

The Winter Youth Program is under way at Hicksville High School and, judging from the enrollment after the first three seasons, the program should be a huge success. Over 380 girls and boys from Grades 7 through 12 have signed up, with the average attendance being 250 students each night.

Eighth Precinct Report

Hicksville High School senior Matthew R. Kamala, recipient of a 1982 Dakin Memorial Award for "meritorious achievement in the study of chemistry," was honored along with other outstanding high school chemistry students at a dinner at Adelphi University this week. The annual award dinner, established by an endowment from the Dakin family, features a lecture by a Nobel Prize winner. This year's lecturer was Dr. G. Edelman, who received the 1972 Nobel Prize in Medicine. Matthew, son of Walter and Natalie Kamala of Hicksville, was nominated for the Dakin Award by the Hicksville High School science faculty and will attend the dinner and presentation with Dr. Martin Cohen. He plans to study Marine Affairs with a pre-law option at the University of Miami in the fall to prepare for a career combining marine science and law. Matthew is currently a student in Dr. Cohen's oceanography class and he praised the high school's science department faculty and curriculum. "It is an exceptional program," he noted. Matthew is pictured above with science department chairman Ignatius Guccione.

Police Officers Donald Goller and Andrew Fal, while on patrol in Plainview on March 1 observed a suspicious vehicle parked on Haypath Road. The officers, while checking out the auto, observed a paper bag on the rear seat. The bag was open and they were able to see that it contained assorted jewelry, a screw driver and a pair of gloves. At that time,

Wayne F. Hogan of 12 Hope Court, Plainview, age 34 years, was dropped off at the auto by friends. He stated that the vehicle had broken down and that he had gone for help. When questioned about the contents of the bag, Hogan stated that it was given to him by his girlfriend. Further investigation revealed the jewelry to be the proceeds of previously reported burglaries. Hogan was arrested and charged with Burglary of two Plainview residences, 15 Dorothea Street and 174 Gerhard Road. This arrest closed out cases on at least 50 Plainview and Old Bethpage burglaries.

Broadway, Hicksville, was burglarized between March 2 and 3, 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. Entry was gained through a roof vent and $200 was taken. Classic East Auto, 611 Old Country Rd., Plainview, was broken into between March 2 and 3. Nothing was taken.

auspicious occasion. Also, there will be two sittings for the special corned beef and cabbage dinners. One from 5:30 to 8:30 pm at $3.95 and the second from 9 pm on at $10.95.

As we go to press: Plainview-Old Bethpage Teachers Union Paul Reubin was sentenced to ten days in jail by State Supreme Court Justice Theodore Velsor on Wed., March 9, "for his role in the 'off-again, on again' strike of this school district's teachers and clerical workers, last Fall.

Judge Velsor also fined this Union $50,000 for all striking period before Nov. 2, 1981, and $5,000 a day for each striking period after this date, which will make a total fine of approximately $120,000. (more on this next week).

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and remember, recent snow flurries notwithstanding, Spring is really just around the corner here on beautiful Long Island.

IRA. The retirement plan that pays off right away.

With a new Individual Retirement Account at Eastern Savings, you'll enjoy a great tax shelter now while looking forward to a comfortable retirement. And you're eligible even if you have a pension plan at work.

You'll get two big tax breaks. First, every dollar you contribute up to the new higher maximum is fully deductible—every year from now on. Individuals can now contribute up to $2,000, or 100% of your annual earned income (whichever is less). Married couples with one spouse working can contribute up to $2,250. If both of you work, the limit is $4,000. To show you just what it can mean in dollars and cents, a working couple in the 40% tax bracket can actually save $1,600 in taxes every year!

The second tax break: The interest you accumulate is tax deferred until you retire (when you're likely to be in a lower tax bracket).

You'll retire with a fortune. At Eastern Savings, we've come up with four types of IRA plans that really add up for you. Choose between 2 Fixed Rate Accounts, a Variable Rate Account or an Accumulation Account that can be opened with as little as $75. We'll even arrange to rollover your existing IRA into a 6-month money market CD, provided the total amount is $10,000 or more. The chart will show you just how rich you can be. It's really amazing. And your investment is FDIC insured up to $100,000.

Our IRAs are just one more reason it's smart to be an Easterner. Open one soon, and you'll also get 100 free personalized checks. Stop by the Eastern Savings Bank in your neighborhood and let's chat about how an IRA figures into your plans for a richer life...today and tomorrow. Do it now.

Age Now	Single Person at 65	Working Couple at 65	Based on a working couple's $4,000 (or single person's $2,000) annual deposit made on the first of each year at an annual interest rate of 12% compounded daily.
25	$2,248,703	$4,497,406	Rates subject to change over life of plan. Actual rates may vary.
30	1,216,042	2,432,084	Premature withdrawal of the IRA may subject you to substantial tax and interest penalties.
35	653,950	1,307,900
40	347,996	695,992
45	181,463	362,926
50	90,815	181,630
55	41,475	82,950
60	14,618	29,236

A big tax break now.

A small fortune later.
