Board Vacancy Filled

Hicksville Board of Education president John P. Ayres announced the appointment of Honey G. Singer to fill the vacancy on the Board created by the resignation of Frank Grimmer. Mrs. Singer was officially sworn in at the end of a spe-..... cial budget meeting on Wednesday evening, March 17, and will serve until June, when the Trustee seat will be up for election.

"We were pleased to be able to fill the vacancy quickly and with such a 'quality candidate as Mrs. Singer," said Mr. Ayres at the conclusion of the meet-

Mrs. Singer is currently the president of the Hicks-ville Council of PTAs and has served the school community for seventeen years in various capacities. She was president of the Lee Avenue School PTA for two years, served as editor for the Lee Avenue and Senior High School PTA newsletter and as publicity chairperson for PTA Council before becoming Council vice president.

In addition to her PTA activities, Mrs. Singer has contributed her time to many community volunteer efforts, teaching church school for many years, editing newsletters for the church and a cooperative nursery school, serving as Cub Scout den mother, and singing in the Hicksville Community Chorus. Her three older children have graduated from the Hicksville schools, and her young-est child is in the sixth grade at Lee Avenue School.

"I take pride in our school district," said Mrs. Singer after her appointment was announced. "We have our problems, of course, but our overall record through the years has been excellent. I firmly believe that a strong, unified effort on the part of the Board of Education, par-ents, teaching staff, and administration could solve many of our problems and enable us to accomplish our educational goals. I am grateful for the opportunity to be of help in this effort." Mrs. Singer and her hus-band Gerhard have been longtime residents of Hicksville, and both have been active in school community

Carman To Moynihan: "No Toxic Waste Dumping In L.I. Sound!"

On March 12 Long Island Congressman Greg Carman sharply criticized New York Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan for Moynihan's support of the Army Corps of Engineer's plan to dump potentially hazardous toxic waste into Long Island Sound Carman has been outspoken in his opposition to the plan to dump dredged material from Connecticut and New York off the North Shore of Long Island.

"I regret deeply that you have chosen to take this stand on such an important and far reaching decision, stated Carman in his letter to the senior senator from New York. "Your support for a toxic waste dump off the North Shore of Long Island has shown an insensitivity to the needs and opinions of the millions of people who live on Long Island, I hope that you will reconsider your position on this matter and oppose this dumping proposal."

Carman has opposed the Long Island Sound site be-cause previous dumpings have contained heavy metal pollution, petrochemical wastes, arsenic, and mer-cury. The Long Island law-maker has favored the use of deep water, open sea sites rather than risk pollution of the recreational and shellfishing waters off the Long Island shore.

"The only reason that has been given for dumping this filth into the Sound has been one of economics," con-tinued Carman. "It's cheaper to dump in the Sound than to haul the waste out to sea. But it's ludicrous and shortsighted to try to save a few dollars at the expense of polluting our off-shore waters and destroying the commercial shellfishing industry Carman added to Moyni-"You have said that han, you, 'Represent the interests of the North Shore of Long Island.' If this were true, you would oppose any dumping of potentially hazardous, toxic waste in Long Island waters."

Carman has been a longtime opponent of the Long Island Sound dumping site , and in October he led the other five members of the Long Island Congression I delegation in protesting the Engineer's current porposa. Carman and his fellow Chigressmen filed protests with President Reagan, Interior Secretary Watt, and the Commanding General of Ar-my Engineers. The Engineers are expected to make their decision on the Long Island Sound site sometime later this month.

 Over 100 of your friends and neighbors enjoyed a delightful and interesting program of slides and reminiscences of old time main streets of Long Island. We are sorry you missed this "look back" into our past. Perhaps you will join us at our April meeting when we take a look at the present and future of our Hicksville water supply given by Lou Dettloff, superintendent of water district. More about this in a later column.

The following information been provided by Tom Callahue, commissioner of the Town of Oyster Bay Parks and Recreation.

"Just what is comprised of the Town of Oyster Bay Parks Department? I am sure many residents of the Town have used one of our facilities, but are not aware of all the facilities available to them which come under the Parks Department's jurisdiction.

There are 8 beach locations, 4 community park pools, 3 outdoor ice rinks, 2 town marinas, 1 boat basin, 3 boat launching ramps, 3 town park complexes, 11 meeting rooms, 2 show-mobiles, 10 picnic areas available for reservations, 50 ballfields, 21 athletic fields, 30 tennis courts, 2 parcour trails, 2 paddle courts, numerous handball and baskethall courts, 168 neighborhood parklets, all of which are for

'Sit back for a moment and think of the enormous amount of maintenance needed to keep these facilities open to you. It is no easy task: however, through a 12month plan, and I stress 12 months, we are able to undertake and complete the task at hand. There is not a day that goes by when pool or rink machinery, field maintenance or beach and marina maintenance is not being done by members of this Department. The only reason I make mention of this is to let you be aware of a great number of people that are behind the one or two employees you may have dealings with.

"For those who wish to enter a recreational pro-gram, there are a wide variety of programs available to you. Our most recent additions to this De-partment's program schedule deals with physical fitness. During the year you can rediscover the joys of walking in a walkin pro-gram, or let us help you quit smoking by attending a smokers' withdrawal work-older can learn self-defense through the art of Jiu-Jitsu. Finally, both men and women can get in shape in one of our exercise classes. There are 3 Town sponsored leagues, men and women's softball leagues, volleyball leagues, and a recreational ice hockey league. For those who like the heat of competition, there are a number of tournaments in ping pong, paddle ball and platform tennis given each year. If you wish to learn how to play tennis or racquetball, lessons are available. We can teach you or your chil-dren to swin at our pools and heaches.

"During each summer, an intense recreational program is available for children at 6 locations throughout the Town. This program runs for 6 weeks involves everything arts and crafts to from special trips. There are a number of new programs which are being developed which are being developed now for leisure enjoyment. "Ice rinks, ballfields, athletic fields, picnic areas and organizational meeting rooms may be reserved by Town residents for their use. One of our beaches or com-munity parks is a fine place to hold a family picnic, so if you are planning a family get together, you may find us very useful. On the South Shore next to Tobay Beach is the F. Kennedy Memorial Wildlife Sanctuary. This is per-haps one of the finest bird watching spots on Long Island

Former Cop Tells Parents How To Spot Drugs, How To Fight Back

The nation's schools have become "drug supermar-kets." says David Toma, the former undercover detective whose crime-fighting exoits served as the basis for the award-winning television eries "Baretta". The former Newark, N.J.

cop, who today travels all across the country telling kids about the dangers of drug use, particularly mari-juana, warns parents in the April Families magazine that if they have children in school, there's a good chance they're "experimenting with drugs or soon will be." Says Toma: "The numbers are astronomical: 85 percent of all kids over 10 years old try drugs - pri-marily marijuana. By the time a kid is in the seventh grade the odds are 50-50 he's beyond experimentation.

"Most kids spend a good part of their day in the capital of drug society. The school. Any school. When you send your child off in the morning, you'd better know you're sending him off to a drug supermarket," he adds.

"The indications of marijuana aren't as obvious as drinker's 'whiskey breath,' or the heroin shooter's nee-dle tracks," says Toma. "What you must look for are changes in your child's be-havior." That change usual-ly takes the form of children ly takes the form of children avoiding conversations, spending a lot of time in their rooms or visiting friends. Parents who mistakenly view this as part of the "growing" process and leave their children alone only encourage the problem, he

Some parents don't shrug this off. "They enjoy their kids and want to spend time with them," says Toma.
"They insist that the child participate in family activities. It's much tougher for a child in this kind of household to do drugs.

Parents who discover their children are into drugs
"Must do everything to straighten them out," he adds, "Confront your kids as soon as possible. If necessary, keep him out of school and take time off from work yourself ...

"The message that you must drive home is clear and simple ... and it's this: 'We will do everything in our power to stop you from using drugs, no matter how painful it is for you or for us. You must stop."

Toma says his four basic rules for helping someone on drugs are these:

"One: you've got to be straight yourself - you can't be playing the game that you're telling other people to quit.

""Iwo: you've got to know what you are talking about. They'll never respect you if you talk about drugs without

"Three: you have to care and show them that you love them and are genuinely con-cerned for their welfare. "Four: you must have the patience of a saint."

Most important: "Never, never give up."

Plainview Resident To Perform In Virginia Tour

Maria A. Lauto of Pal Way, Plainview will appear with the College Choir and Fidelitones of the State Unirigentones of the State University Agricultural and Technical College at Delhi for a performance tour of Virginia March 18-21.

The Choir and Fidelitones will begin their concert tour with a performance at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va., to be followed by a number of stops at high schools, nursing homes and reitrement communities in the Richmond area.

For nearly 61 years, Delhi College students have been presenting musical performances, starting with the Glee Club formed in 1921. Over the years, the name of the singing group has changed to Men's and Women's Chorus, then to Mixed Chorus, and in 1960 to the Concert Choir formed under the direction of Mr. Donald

Since 1965, the Choir and Fidelitones have performed in Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, Virginia and Massachusetts as part of their annual tours.

Ms. Lauto is a freshman at Delhi College, majoring in Business Administration/Marketing.

Kim Falkowski: POBRRC "Runner Of the Year"

The first annual Plain-view-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club "Runner of the Award for 1981 has been awarded to Plainview Old Bethpage High School's sophomore superstar Kim

Kim capped off a very successful running year in 1981 by being selected for the Newsday "All Nassau" Cross Country All Star Team, after having finished in 3rd place in the October 31 Nassau County High School Cross Country Championships. She has proved h to be a champion at all dis-tances - having captured first place in the women's 14 and under age group in last year's prestigious Long Beach City Manager's Trophy Run (10 miles) and Patchogue Natural Light Half Marathon (13.1 miles), as well as second place in her age group in the 1981 News-day Long Island Marathon and the Thanksgiving Day 5 Mile Championship in Port Washington. She also won the trophy for her age group in the 1981 Plainview PBC 10,000 Meter Run, and was the first Plainview-Old Bethpage women (and second woman overall) to cross the finish line in that race.

1982 has started off being even better than 1981 for Kim, who took 2nd place with a fine 11 minute 12 second time in the 2 mile run in the Nassau County Girls High School indoor championship Meet on February 19, and followed up with a 5th place medal in the Eastern Regional Championship Meet on March 6. VENERABLE TONY PREVITE'S MESSAGE: 'No member of a crew is praised for the rugged individuality of his rowing.' Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Eagerly awaited and highy anticipated is the Galileo Lodge's St. Joseph's Dance, to be presented this coming Saturday, the 20th of March. If we can use the past as reliable indicator, we can figure this dance to provide you with as many pleasurable and exciting moments as were offered you in former activities held by the Galileo Lodge in days gone by.

To offer you the most for the least amount of money into only a Galileo Lodge policy but it is also a state of mind as well. And this attitude prevails to no lesser degree as the Galileo Lodge announces that its next enjoyable and memorable activity will be its 10th Anniversary and Scholarship Dance, to be presented on Saturday, the 24th of april. Tickets will set $20 per person, a very reasonable sum which entitles you to a sumptous cocktail hour, a home-styled dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake; set-ups, unlimited liquor and lively dance music from the Tony Farlano combo. Joe Giordano will be the Grand Chairman for this affair, ably assisted by Co-Chairmen Tony Copolla and Pete Masiello. Needless to mention that proceeds from this dance will go into the coffers of the Galileo Lodge's Scholarship Fund, so the money you spend for your tickets has a two-fold purpose - it will assure you of a good time and it will also provide the funds to help needy high school students wood education.

As a supplement to the above paragraph, permit me to dispense with a few interesting words about our Scholarship Program. It was heavily demanded by the membership to make it a reality as opposed to a theory or figment of the imagination. This Scholarship Program is a gift to needy high school students who are in dire need of financial assistance. It's authors Joe Glordano, Pete Masiello and Joe Catalano - deserve the many thanks from our membership that are forthcoming to them. This Scholarship Program will be called the vouise Masiello Memorial Scholarship Fund," in honor of Pete Masiello's deceased wife. A great tribute to a very fine woman.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Galieo Lodge are in the process of figalizing their latest Flea Market activity, scheduled for sometime in late March or early April. I do not have too much information on this activity other than to state that the conditions will probably be the same as the last two Flea Market activities they held. Look to this column for more information on this activity by the Ladies Auxiliary.

LODGE TIDBITS: Jo-Ann Wallick, President of the Ladies Auxiliary, has recently and personally, donated $200 to the Cooley's Anemia Foundation. A beautiful gesture, we might add. In keeping with President Reagan's call for voluntarism, the Nassau Center for the Developmentally Disabled and Nathan's Famous restaurants have entered into a joint pilot project to raise funds for the center's efforts to help developmentally disabled and autistic children.

efforts to help developmentally disabled and autistic children. "Coney Island Night," as the benefit fundraiser will be called, will be held at Nathan's Pamous in the Mid-Island Plaza, Hicksville, from 5 p.m. to midnight, on Tuesday, March 30th. Based or an eight acre site in Woodbury, the Nassau Center for the Developmentally Disabled, which was founded in 1958, serves nearly 200 children and adults with developmental disabilities, helping them live more usefull lives.

The Coney Island Night festivities will feature continuous entertainment, ethnic dancers, musical groups, clowns and mime acts. Nathan's will donate a percentage of the sales from the evening to the center which will also benefit from revenues raised through raffie contests, Raffie prizes will be donated by Nathan's Famous and participating Hicksville merchants.

The Coney Island Night project is also being supported by the President's Task Force on Private Sector Initiatives by Nathans and by Hicksville community churches, civic organizations, the Hicksville Youth Council, Chamber of Commerce and many public officials.

Families for Life is the local pro-life group. It meets on the fourth Wednesday of every month at Levittown Hall, Hicksville, at 8 P.M.

Last week, in an historic first, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted the Hatch Amendment to the Constitution out of committee and made it eligible for debate on the floor of the senate. The Amendment would take the abortion issue away from the Supreme Court and give power to the states and to the Congress to restrict it. Essentially it is a judicial restraint measure and the vote was only a very small step forward for the pro-life movement. However, it was a major defeat for the pro-abortion side judging from the shrieks of protest from Planned Parenthood in its $25,000 Sunday Times advertisement. As usual, it begge the question by charging, "it will rob you of your Constitutional right to choose an abortion". Obviously they would rather have the killing of unborn children decided upon by eight old men and a woman, than by the people and their elected representatives. More to the point, the Amendment might even rob PP of its federal and state tax funded subsidies. Earlier in the month Sen.

and now has ready to go another version of the Human Life Bill. The new proposal contains the basic points of the original HLB but adds specific provisions to permanently take the government out of the abor-tion business and calls attention to international legal precedents that urge protection of the unborn

The Brand New IRA.

A Millionaire's Retirement Plan for the Wage Earner.

New IRA rules broaden eligibility requirements

If you work for a living-for yourself or someone else-you qualify for the new tax-sheltered IRA. Moreover, if you're part of a company-sponsored pension plan, or have a self-employed Keogh Plan, you can still qualify for an Individual Retirement Account.

By far, this is the most beneficial, most liberalized and most discussed retirement plan ever offered to the American worker.

For the first time ever, it is actually possible for any working individual to build a retirement fund that could exceed two million dollars; possibly more. And it's all done with tax deductible dollars in special IRA investment accounts

The yields are high and all deposits (plus earned interest) are insured by the FDIC for up to $100,000 in each IRA account.

If you and your spouse work, you can shelter up to $4,000 a year-every year. If you're an individual with a non-working spouse, you can shelter up to $2,250 a year. For someone filing an individual return, the new higher deposit limit is $2,000 a year. Remember, every dollar you deposit is tax-free until you start withdrawing your funds between the ages of 591/2 and 701/2 when you will conceivably be in a much lower tax bracket.

Early withdrawal of funds will incur a 10% tax penalty by the IRS in addition to other penalties imposed by Rest easy. Let our pension experts tailor an affordable retirement program fit for a millionaire. Details on all IRA investment accounts and current rates available at all branch offices. Visit one today!

School Districts File Brief

In October 1982, the Appellate Division upheld the State Supreme Court's decision in the Levittown case concerning school finance. The court found that the state's reliance upon the property tax to finance public education "constitutionally defective" and failed to provide children with their guaranteed right to an education.

The Syosset Central School District and 84 other districts have joined in filing a brief with the Court of Appeals of challenging the action of the Appellate Division. The districts are arguing that the implementation of the decision will be detrimental to the high level of education which has been provided to the students in the 85 school districts. The amicus curiae action was coordinated by the Association of Flat Grant School Districts of New York State.

The major points in the · Public education is the top priority for New York State. To improve education in New York, to help the neediest districts, and to neediest districts, and to move toward equalization, we must "level up," that is, we must allow the continued development of the best pro-grams and services despite high local effort. While this is also a goal of the Appellate decision, it must be accepted decision, it must be accepted as a long range goal. To insist on full equalization of expenditures per pupil would mean mediocrity the highest standard available in public education. There is not enough money to level up to equality now and we must not level down.

. The State constitution requires that the State provide for the education of all the young. The State also mandates the basic program of education for every child. Therefore, the State has an obligation to provide a min-imum support for that basic education for every youngster. Such minimum aid is also needed for practical reasons - it will retain the leadership and support of local residents and legis-lators from a great many school districts in the battle to improve public education.

 Although the large cities, among other gov-vernmental units, do have municipal overburden, the money in the education budget distributed as state aid should be given only in terms of providing for education. It is diddicult enough to raise money that will be provided and spent for education. A further problem is that the cities problem is that the cities receiving extra aid now do not increase their expenditures for education by that extra amount. Instead, they reduce their own expenditures for education to free money for other purposes and the disparities in educational spending never decrease.

SERIAL NUMBERS ARE IMPORTANT

Spring is just around the corner. With the onset of the warm weather, many of us will be removing our bicycles from storage. Don't have the season ruined for you!

Every year, the Nassau County Police Department recovers thousands of lost or stolen bieveles Within the recovers thousands of lost of stolen bicycles. Within the Eighth Precinct 684 bicycles were reported stolen in 1981. Most cannot be traced to the rightful owner because the serial number was never recorded when the bike was purchased.

Nearly every manufactured stamps a serial number into the frame at one the illustration
