Another Victory For Hicksville Yankees!

The question being asked in soccer circles from Virginia to Maine this week is "Who are these guys and where does it end?" The two word answer could be heard last Sunday night as our under 17 boys returned from Rochester - "Yankees, Omaha".

What all this means is that the Hicksville Yankees, sponsored by the Joseph Barry Council - Knights of Columbus, tucked away yet another victory in an unbelievable journey toward the Region 1 championship. These under 17 boys playing in an under 19 Division have now defeated six consecutive opponents who are two years their senior and have qualified as one of the top eight teams in Region 1. Three more victories and they will travel to Omaha, Nebraska to compete against the other 3 Regional champions for the National Title.

On Saturday, they made the 8-hour bus trip up to Rochester to prepare to take on the Greece, N.Y. Scorpions, who knocked out our own Hicksville Colonials last year. Arriving in Rochester at 5 p.m., the Yankees ate, held a team meeting and held a light practice and relaxed for the rest of the evening. Coaches Pat McHugh and Bill Cresham spent several additional hours on a game plan and contingency plans in case of injury, etc.

Sunday morning was the big match against last year's Regional Finalist. This was once more the boys biggest game ever; last week it was Sporting Club GJOA: this week the Greece Scorpions. Besides the competition, this was the Yankees first appearance in an actual soccer stadium with a beautiful field, locker rooms and hundred spectators. The match started and in the third minute, Jimmy McGeough took the ball deep into the right corner and sent a beautiful cross in front of the net about eight yards out. Adrian Pepi came flying in high off the ground and headed it by the keeper. This really brought the team 'up', eliminated any butterflies and got them playing to the top of their potential. The roar of approval from the 20 Hicksville parents who made the trip would be heard echoing throughout the stadium. Five minutes later, the Scorpions tied the score and we thought the Yankees were in trouble. They once again rose to the occasion however, and with 11 minutes left till half-time scored again. Adrian Pepi brought the ball down the left side and lobbed one high into the box. Jimmy Demarco headed the ball over to Jeff Kitt who brought it down, turned and fired. The Yankees led 2-1 at the half, played a great defensive 2nd half and eliminated the Northwest New York Champion Greece Scorpions from further competition - avenging last year's defeat.

The next opponent for the Yankees will be the Rhode Island State Champ in the Quarter Finals being held in Princeton University on Memorial Day week-end. Good Luck, Yankees - you've already made believers out of all of us.

LEGIONNAIRE'S LOG By Artie Rutz

CHARLES WAGNER POST # 421
HICKSVILLE, N.Y.

"One Of The Grass Roots Of The American Legion"

We are rapidly coming to the climax of our Legion year with the county convention just weeks away....Starts June 2 at East Rockaway Post with a nite of committee meetings and this is followed on Thursday nite (June 3) by the first business session for all delegates....On Friday evening, June 4th, the annual convention parade kicks off at 7:30 P.M. and this is always a nite of renewing old friendships and general socializing among our Legion brethren....Our Auxiliary was scheduled for its monthly meeting on this Friday nite but PRESIDENT ELLEN TIETJEN has rescheduled the meeting for THURSDAY evening, June 3rd, so the Auxiliary members could attend the parade activities at East Rockaway....So, Auxiliary Members, take note.

There is a lot of sickness attaching itself to our membership as witnessed by this week's report of hospitalizations (either in or out) of TONY CORRERI (pinched nerve), ED HODKINSON (gall bladder), ROCCO PUCCI and ED QUINN, whose ailments are unknown....Then we have the case of DICK HOCHBRUECKNER, whose mighty golf swing tore the tendons in his left arm away from the bone....Get well, fellows....I wish to bring to everyone's attention that if anyone is sick, the Post will not know about it unless someone calls the Post with the information....By calling the Post, the information will be given to the Commander for his action....Needless to say, for funerals, the same procedure should be followed.

Tomorrow nite, SATURDAY, May 22, is our next LAS VEGAS NITE and of course we want all our COMMITTEE VOLUNTEERS to be on hand to service our gambling clientele....If you have friends who like "the action" let them know about our games of if you want some "action" yourself, our games are a challenge in this direction....No admission charge at any time....Gam-

To Participate In College Reporting Service

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation has chosen 13 Hicksville students to participate in a special college reporting service offered to those earning high scores on the 1981 qualifying examination which leads to the awarding of 1983 National Merit Scholarships. The top 50,000 students selected from more than one million taking the exam will have the opportunity to be identified to two colleges or universities of their choice so that college administrators will be aware of academically able students applying to their institutions for admission and scholarship assistance.

The Corporation has been identifying and honoring gifted students for 27 years and nearly $22 million is awarded through the scholarship program each year. However, since only 5000 awards are granted among the entire candidate pool, the college reporting service provides the individual institutions with information about students who should be considered for scholarship recognition although they might not become Merit Scholarship finalists.

Hicksville students selected for the program are Michael P. Ashton, Stephanie A. Berger, Christopher J. Dircks, Ruth M. Eberle, Lawrence Edelstein, William M. Heberer, Veronica E. Henrich, Christopher J. Jones, Lisa M. Paturzo, Debra L. Rubin, Bernadette M. Shaulys, Melissa Van Houten, and Cheryl N. Weiss.

Mike Caruso Race Car Program Fine Success At Gregory Museum

By Dick Evers

For four hours last Saturday, Heitz Place, Hicksville resembled Indianapolis speedway during the pre-race "500 mile race" heats and trials. 14 midget and sprint race cars lined the old Courthouse curb as if ready to roar off down-track. Owners, mechanics, drivers and race car fans stood admiring the brightly painted, lettered one-time speedsters while youngsters had their pictures taken sitting behind steering wheels.

The rendezvous of antique race cars and their ancient automobiles from the Long Island Old Car Club was in honor of the late Mike Caruso whose cars and drivers set still-unbroken records for wins and championships.

An estimated 500 people were at the historic Heitz Place Courthouse for a dedication program opening a summer-long exhibition of "Mike Caruso and the World of Race Cars - 1927-1967" at the Hicksville Gregory Museum. In Indianapolis it was the tragic first day of qualification heats for the "500" on Memorial Day, but in Hicksville the sun shown brightly on a festive reunion of midget and sprint car race enthusiasts of the sport which once thrilled Americans. They came together to enjoy a fast-paced, out-of-doors program of tribute to Mike Caruso, to see the prime-conditioned surviving midgets and sprint cars, and to tour a fine exhibition of Caruso and race car memorabilia in the Gregory Museum's historical area.

At 1 p.m. sharp, as if he was an official race starter, Museum Board of Trustees President Dr. Richard Smith stepped to the microphone to welcome the happy assembly sitting or standing on the Museum front lawn. John Ayres, Program Co-chairman followed, acting as Master of Ceremonies. The "posting of the colors" was carried out by the smart color-guard of the Charles Wagner Post 42, American Legion and was followed by the playing of the National Anthem. The Caruso family - Mrs. Rose Caruso, daughters Fran, Flo and Rose and their husbands, sons Mike and "Biff" - who were seated with the honored guests on the Museum porch - were delighted especially by the presence of two long-time priest friends. Father Leo Goggin, Pastor of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church in Dix Hills was scheduled to render the Invocation Prayer and was joined on the altar by Father Lawrence Boland, Director of the Propagation of the Faith for the Diocese of Rockville Centre, who had married all of Mike Caruso's daughters when he and Reverend Goggin were long-time curates at Hicksville's St. Ignatius Church.

Among other honored guests and speakers were Dorothy H. McGee, chairperson Oyster Bay Bicentennial Historical Comm.; Norma Braun, representing Congressman Norman Lent, who read an excerpt of a tribute entered by Lent in the Congressional Record, honoring Mike Caruso's contributions to the sport of race car competition; "Pappy" Roscoe Hough, President of the Eastern Old Timers Auto Racing Club and the Club's Executive Director, ex-race car driver Johnny Rogers, both of whom reminisced briefly about their friendship with Caruso. Principle speaker was one of Mike's great drivers of the Thirties, Henry Banks, a vice president with the U.S. Auto Club in Indianapolis and a national driving champion in 1950. Banks, who has not missed the opening of the Indianapolis "500" qualification heats in many years, flew in expressly to talk about his great years with Mike Caruso. Modest, genial and humorous, the gallant old-time race driver did not disappoint the audience.

Following Banks' fond recollection of Mike, another driver and well-known and daring one-time race track flagman, Myke Collins of the Old Timers Club was introduced by Master of Ceremonies Ayres as "one of the few surviving flagmen who signaled on-rushing cars and drivers" from "inside the track!"

The interesting ceremony closed with a "moment of silent memory and tribute to racing cars' heroic dead" followed by one-time driver, Andy Furti, singing the song which traditionally opens the Indianapolis 500 mile race, "Back Home in Indiana." Richard Evers, the Hicksville Gregory Museum Director, and Program Co-chairman then invited the audience to view the Caruso Race Car Exhibition which will be at the Museum until Labor Day.

But, Hicksville's Mike Caruso Day was more than fond tributes and an unusual program and setting, with the great mechanic-innovator's famous race car, the "Black Deuce," parked in glory on the Heitz Place Courthouse driveway, courtesy of current owners, Mr. and Mrs. Malcomb Barlow of Connecticut. There was a fine exhibition recalling midget car racing, conceived by Museum Historian Evers and painstakingly assembled by him and Mike Caruso, Jr...There was Mike, Jr.'s bright three-quarter modern day midget car, its sparkling blue and yellow paint bearing the race registry number 23, oddly the digits of Mike Sr.'s two record-breaking cars in 1946 and 1947... There were four venerable autos driven over to join in the fun by past presidents of the Long Island Old Car Club: a Model S Ford by owner Martin Haughey; a 1910 Hubmobile by owner Joe Wulfskin; a Vintage Bentley, courtesy of Austin Clark and Harold Kraft in his Star Depot Hack, circa 1922-23. The old cars were an appropriate part of the occasion, in as much as Mike Caruso used parts from classic cars gathered in his incredible junk yard and auto wrecking business to supercharge and power his midget and sprint car innovations.

Proudly standing with the Black Deuce championship midget race car of the late great owner-mechanic Mike Caruso at a tribute in his honor at the Hicksville Gregory Museum are his

A reception for the Caruso family, guests and friends closed the late afternoon at the Elks Club. Here, refreshments lovingly baked by the Caruso ladies and served with grace and affability by volunteers from the Gregory Museum, kept everyone in a fine mood and ready for a slide picture show by the museum's historian. Enjoying the race car photographs were men whose youthful deeds as wheelmen were mirrored on the screen: Henry Banks, Len Duncan, Johnny Mann, Johnny Kay, Johnny Rogers and Andy Furti; the big flagman-driver of yesterday, Myke Collins and one-armed veteran driver Ed Marino; Russ Klar who drove for Mike Caruso in the last years of competition and many other drivers.

Parking and traffic control were managed admirably by the Hicksville Auxiliary Police under the direction of Capt. Tom Schneider. With the cooperation of the Nassau County 2nd Police Precinct Town Highway Commissioner Robert Androzzi.

Thanks are due also to three youths from the High School audio visual squad who handled the loud speaker system so well, Bob Andretta, William Richer and Joe Pannerella.

Dear Friends . . .

When residents in a community differ, and one has to make decisions before casting a vote, it is sometimes easy... sometimes difficult. The coming vote for members of the Hicksville Board of Education is one of the difficult times, at least for us.

In the first place, we believe that everyone running is well qualified to serve on this Board, even though they differ on what should be done and how it should be done.

We think it is generally known that personally we are "pro-education", which is true and always will be. We can't think of a more important role than that of a dedicated teacher. We feel that our standards for educating our children should remain as high as is possible at all times. They are truly the citizens of tomorrow. What else are we all working for anyway?

But this doesn't mean that we agree with everything that every board member does...with everything that every teacher does...in fact, with everything that every parent and resident does, either. But decisions have to be made before one can cast a vote.

We do not believe that Board decisions should be made in committee...only with the knowledge of the entire board. But we are not in disagreement with the present proposed budget, which came about partially as a result of previous surpluses.

We have always found both Mr. Nagle and, when he served, Mr. Bennett, to be honorable, dedicated community leaders. Of course, we do not agree with everything that they have recommended in the past, or that they do now. But, we believe that a Board should be representative of all groups in the community those of fixed incomes, too. We feel that this would be accomplished by their election...and we also feel that Mrs. Honey Singer, who is running unopposed, will serve well and her past record speaks for itself. This is how we are going to vote.

However, as we have said before, this is not an easy choice to make as we realize that many groups feel strongly that if they are not represented in a majority on the Board they will lose ground. On this we have to disagree...we believe all groups should have Board representation.

If you disagree, let us disagree amicably and continue our mutual interest in quality education...just don't forget to vote on Wed., May 26.

THAT'S ALL for this week, except to remind those of you who submit copy on a regular basis, that we can get your community news in about 70 to 80 percent of the time... which is really a goodly amount of the time. However, due to the times when other community events come to the fore, such as school votes and elections, for example, there are some weeks we do not have room for all the fine news you submit. But keep it coming, and we will do our best at all times. You are all doing a really great job.

Neighbors And Developer Of Proposed Shopping Center Make Presentations

By Sheila Noeth

In a lively meeting on Tuesday, May 18, both the residents on neighboring streets, headed by Mrs. Grace Cusumano of Fourth Street, and Delco Development Corp. of Jericho, headed by Mr. Udell testified at the public hearing on Delco's petition for a change of zone from Ind. H. District to Business G. District for a 9.7 acre plot (excluding McMichael's Fish Restaurant and Botto Hardware Store), which would extend, in an L-shape, from South Broadway around to Old Country Road, near the Railroad tracks and the old McKeon Lumber building, when completed, so that a large shopping center might be built which would eventually consist of a well-known super market, plus 15 small stores, several larger ones, some of which would operate from existing buildings, and some office space.

Many aspects of what this type of addition to the Hicksville community would bring about were discussed. The neighbors were concerned about the traffic flow, especially as it might affect Fourth Street which is on the other side of South Broadway, opposite one of the proposed entrance-exits areas of the Delco Plaza Shopping Center. Mrs. Cusumano presented petitions opposing this rezoning signed by approximately 250 residents of the area.

Others who opposed this proposed shopping center were representatives of St. Stephens Church and neighbors who live on Roosevelt Ave.

The developer, with the aid of attorney, architect and traffic planner made an extensive presentation, although several aspects of this plan are not as yet complete, and several matters such as leases, are still unsettled.

First they identified themselves as shopping center developers with 100 centers in 13 states, and 35 years of experience to their credit.

Their architect has suggested three basic heights for all buildings in this area...25', 20' and 16', along with a color coordinate-treatment of the entire area.

In answer to some of the objections, the developers stated that they would work with the neighbors on Roosevelt Avenue, and would erect a fence and provide a landscaped buffer area for their privacy. Mrs. Sonia Dargers of Roosevelt Avenue who had opposed the project to some extent said that "we have no privacy now, so this type of buffered area would actually be an improvement, and better than looking at old cars."

The developer had actually presented a slightly different site plan than the one which appeared on page one of the MID ISLAND HERALD last week. They explained that they had attended a meeting of the Hicksville Community Council in May and made slight changes due to the

Hicksville Plans Summer School

The Hicksville Board of Education voted at the May 12 meeting to implement a reduced-offering summer session for Hicksville students which would include math, social studies, and physical education classes for graduating seniors requiring the courses for graduation as well as English for tenth through twelfth grade students. An allocation of $40,000 was approved to fund the summer school program.

In a separate action, the appropriation for utilities for the Curriculum Materials Center, which was destroyed by fire and is not expected to be replaced, was reduced in the amount of $202. These two alterations resulted in a change in the final total of the proposed budget for the 1982-83 school year from $34,719,498 to $34,750,296.

This represents an increase of $30,798 from the original proposal and will require a tax levy of $18.89 per $100 assessed valuation, or a 6 cent decrease from the current rate of $18.95.

Board of Education president John P. Ayres requested that Hicksville residents receiving their copies of the district budget brochure listing the original figures to take note of the changes. "The Hicksville community will be getting even more for their tax dollars with the reinstatement of summer sessions, and the tax rate will still be reduced from the current level," he stressed. "We hope to see all our Hicksville neighbors come out and vote at their polling locations and support this budget on May 26."

Hicksville Community Council May Meeting

By Chris Cahalan

The May meeting of the Council was another excellent example of our informative and interesting meetings concerning subjects of prime importance to the residents of Hicksville. We heard the Fire Department, Fire District, School Budget, Youth Council, Crime Watch, Zoning Change proposal at Old Country Road and Broadway, report on cement hopper located on Railroad Ave. Petitions are being circulated to remove this illegal operation which at present is still operating even though the case is pending in court.

The opening speaker was Barbara Nelson, Director of the Youth Council, with an up-date of their anti-vandalism campaign. The concept of decorating rather than destroying is taking hold rapidly. One example of this is the side wall of the Calda Pizza Parlor near the High School. This was always defaced until Barbara had the idea to have the youth clean the wall and paint a mural. That was months ago and to this date, it is intact. Another example of the positive is the continuous work our Youth Council members, in conjunction with other organizations, plant and maintain the flower garden on Broadway. This beautification project was originally started by Dr. Walter Dumar.

The Youth Council at present is working with the Chamber of Commerce, Hicksville Community Council, local organizations and the Crime Resistance Unit of the 2nd & 8th Precincts to start a Neighborhood Watch Program in Hicksville. They need your opinions and questions to make it effective. Talk to your neighbors, get their feelings and communicate with the task force.

There will be a special meeting on this subject hosted by the Anti Vandalism Task Force on Wednesday, June 2nd at the Hicksville Public Library - 8 P.M. Be sure to attend with your input and help make Hicksville a safer community. Your participation and involvement is vital.

Our school budget was explained in detail by Dr. Catherine Fenton, Assistant Superintendent of the Hicksville School District. Mr. Richard Weigang, Business Manager, Lawrence Wolfson and Pamela Kemmlein of the Citizens Advisory Budget Committee. This dedicated Committee worked very diligently over the past year and has succeeded in getting a 9c tax decrease without cutting education. The Budget vote will be held on Wednesday, May 26. There will also be voting for 3 Board of Education seats.

To be continued next week

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE RESIDENTS OF HICKSVILLE FROM JOHN P. AYRES, PRESIDENT, BOARD OF EDUCATION

I have been silent long enough regarding the deceit, wild accusations, and poisonous egotism that have become the campaign rhetoric of William Bennett in this year's School Board election. I must now speak out with the truth.

Bennett

Rhetoric #1: "The present Board of Education has no taxpayer representation."

All School Board members like you, pay their fair share as homeowners and taxpayers in the community.

The real issue here is Mr. Bennett's determination to violate a citizen's constitutional right to hold public office based on his/her profession.

He also seeks to vilify and make ineligible those whose spouses work in education. What group is next? Policemen, Sanitation workers, Postal workers or YOU?

Rhetoric #2: "PTA membership - No taxpayer representation."

Since when does membership in the Hicksville Units of the PTA mean that these men and women who own homes in Hicksville and have children in the Hicksville schools, stop being taxpayers?

Some of our finest Board Trustees have been former PTA members and officers. Here again, you can see how he seeks to disenfranchise another part of the community. With Mr. Bennett disqualifying different parts of the community from Board membership as he does, pretty soon it will only be Bill Bennett running and Bill Bennett voting.

Rhetoric #3: "Candidate Michael Meyer was hand picked by me to oppose him."

The truth be known, Michael Meyer publicly declared for the seat held by incumbent Germer on April 2, 1982, and officially filed on April 21st for the seat. Mr. Bennett did not declare until April 23rd - a full three weeks later - and it wasn't until April 26th that he filed for the Germer seat with the District Clerk.

Thus, as you can obviously see from the facts, Mike Meyer had thrown his hat into the ring well before Mr. Bennett chose to do so. In fact, it was Mr. Bennett who chose to run against Mr. Meyer. Now he cries "foul" and tries to distort the truth.

Rhetoric #4: "The Board leadership gave the Teachers a million-dollar raise without formal negotiations."

The Board, under my leadership, signed two contracts with the teachers this year. Nothing was given away by the Board. Our fine teaching staff earn their pay every day in service to the community.

Mr. Bennett, however, continues to treat the world's noblest profession as if it were the world's oldest profession, in all he says and does. Enough is enough!

Mr. Bennett's philosophy has always been one of conflict, confrontation, and combativeness. His philosophy has helped to bring this district to the brink of ruinous strike two times in the past years. I believe this community will reject this philosophy on May 26th, and replace combativeness with collaboration and cooperation between the Board and all employee groups.

Rhetoric #5: "There was a $3.9 million budget surplus last year . . . Why?"

This must be a sick joke Mr. Bennett is playing on the community. The budget surpluses he speaks about were generated last year when he was Vice-President of the Board.

Mr. Bennett worked on this budget, voted to adopt it, and last June urged you to support that budget. As a Board officer and majority member, how can he now question the same surplus he knew existed?

It was, in fact, under my leadership that the excessive encumbrances were identified and returned to the taxpayers this year in the form of a tax decrease.

Instead of criticizing the surpluses, he should be telling you their benefits. They helped keep your tax rate down and avoided the whipsaw effects of a Levittown $6.00 tax increase.

IF YOU ARE AS CONCERNED AS I AM ABOUT MR. BENNETT'S RHETORIC, DECEIT, AND ACCUSATIONS, I AM SURE YOU WILL JOIN WITH ME IN SUPPORTING MIKE MEYER, HONEY SINGER, AND BERNARD GOLDMAN FOR ELECTION TO THE SCHOOL BOARD ON MAY 26th. THEY WILL NOT COMPROMISE HICKSVILLE'S QUALITY EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS, ITS SERVICES TO THE CHILDREN, SENIOR CITIZENS, PAROCHIAL STUDENTS AND THE TAXPAYERS. THEY WILL WORK ALONG WITH THE BOARD MAJORITY TO MAKE THE HICKSVILLE EDUCATIONAL COMMUNITY A STRONG, VITAL, GROWING FORCE THAT WE CAN ALL BE PROUD OF.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR TIME AND YOUR SUPPORT

JOHN P. AYRES, President
Board of Education, Hicksville

F.D. Hazardous Material Response Team Busy

The Hicksville Fire Department's newly formed Hazardous Material Response Team has reported several incidents so far this year. The team, led by Capt. James McLaughlin Co. 5, and ex-Capt. Gene Pietzak was formed late in 1981 to help Vamps cope with the numerous hazards that face them on a daily basis.

The Haz Mat Team was put to the test on Feb. 17, 1982, when a chemical tanker overturned on West John St. Almost 12 hours were spent on the scene. Critical information was fed to the Chief's Command Post and it enabled Vamps to secure the scene preventing a very serious fire.

On April 15th, a fire in a chemical room in "Amperex" on Duffy Ave. once again proved to be a challenge to the Department. Research previously obtained by the Haz Mat Team enabled that fire to be quickly extinguished without incident. The fire involved Zirconiumhydride. During the operation, fumes from a cyanide solution were detected. Working with plant personnel, that problem was resolved. Hicksville Chiefs cited the fact that prior inspection by the Team leaders forewarned the Department on what they might encounter in a fire.

On April 18th, Vamps were back again at Amperex, this time a power failure to come complex machines called cracking units caused an anhydrous ammonia leak. Using hose lines, Vamps dispersed the fumes, but not before the Haz Mat Team checked all the variables of the situation. The Fire Dept. learned many more important things about the Amperex Plant operations.

On April 19th, a working fire in a factory in Westbury involving chemicals had Vamps from many local departments working together. Hicksville's Haz Mat Team was called to the scene to help Vamps identify the materials they were dealing with. Several propane tanks had ruptured, more were in 35-50 gal drums of ethylalcohol were stored in and around the property, some of which had blown apart and spread fire to near-by properties.

Westbury fire officials were advised of the situation and the proper actions were taken to safeguard Vamps. Otherteam members were helping out with their reference material—those who were reporting in sick so that proper medical treatment could be provided them.

As the warm weather approaches, Vamps warn—unless people know and/or learn and understand more about propane, chlorine, flammable liquids such as bar-b-que lighter fluids etc., serious injuries and fires are going to occur. Vamps caution ANYONE—don't transport propane in a closed vehicle and when transporting, be sure it is not leaking. Don't store propane in the house—better yet—don't use it at all—it is too dangerous.

Once more, on April 26th the Haz Mat Team and Department members encountered yet another dangerous situation. A private vehicle was moving through Hicksville, carrying two refilled 20 pound propane tanks, when the valve of one tank was struck by the guard of the other. Two adults and one infant were in the car. The area around the car was engulfed in propane fumes. A passing 2nd Pct. Police Officer closed off the area. The occupants escaped unharmed—in itself a miracle. Vamps estimated two things—1—the propane/air mixture was not right for an explosion and 2—it was just not their time to go.

Vamps Re-State Ambulance Rules

job or home, the time the units were out of town—all had a bearing on the decision to limit the hospitals. The days of the ambulance service are gone. The Fire and Police Depts have more than enough emergency calls to cope with.

Many callers have, regrettably, been upset with us and thought we failed them. But, in fact it was done to be sure that in a true emergency we would be available—not in Mineola, Rockville Center, etc.

Also laws are now on the books that we handle EMERGENCY ONLY calls and not routine transportation. The private ambulance services complained the Fire Dept. was affecting their business.

The basics as we have stated are the 3 closest hospitals. You must be an emergency stretcher case, trauma, etc. Sprained ankles, fingers are not emergencies. As anyone knows the Fire and Police Depts. handle almost anything. But emergencies are our first consideration, and please—no cat in tree rescues—if injured in the course of the operation our insurance will not cover it. It is not an emergency nor is it a drill.

If there are folks who are mad at us—please don't be—the rules were made for the best interests of us all.

A Message From The Board Of Education

Even a brief examination of comparative school tax rates in Nassau County shows that Hicksville residents are getting a lot more for their school tax dollars and they are getting more for considerably FEWER tax dollars than their Nassau neighbors.

As the time to vote on proposed budgets throughout the region approaches, taxpayers are taking a hard look at their schools - their programs, their plans, and, most important, the budgets proposed to support these plans. A table comparing tax rates from 45 districts appearing recently in Newsday shows tax rates ranging from approximately $8 to $42 per $100 assessed valuation. Hicksville, with a proposed rate of $18.86, is comfortably below the median. Only one other district (Valley Stream 24) shows a decrease and another (Roosevelt) shows no increase over last year's rate. Hicksville's decrease of 9 cents from the 1981-82 rate means that residents are getting a real bargain, a fact which becomes more significant when the district's educational program is considered.

Despite stringent fiscal restraints affecting school districts on a nationwide basis, the Hicksville Public School district has continued to update and review curriculum, instructional materials, and facilities. Programs for Gifted and Talented students have been instituted and will extend to all grade levels in the coming school year. Special education, vocational education, and programs for handicapped students are a major concern, and programs to fill these needs without having to pay outside institutions for these services are being expanded. Access to computer education on all grade levels is provided so that Hicksville students will be adequately prepared to compete in a technically advanced future in higher education and the job market. Secondary course offerings have been enriched and a greater number and variety of electives are available. Incentives to strive for excellence and innovation is offered to teachers through Project Unlock funding, which supports the use of new or unusual instructional materials for special projects. The Hicksville community is particularly proud of the special programs offered in the elementary schools. Guidance services, foreign language, reading, and helping math are among the offerings rarely found on the elementary level to this degree.

While all these programs combine to create an educational experience for Hicksville students of the high quality expected and demanding by the community, an important factor is this. These programs are being carried out AT NO ADDITIONAL EXPENSE TO THE TAXPAYERS OF HICKSVILLE. Community residents continue to benefit from the quality of education provided and from the low tax rate, which will decrease by 9 cents in the 1982-83 school year.

The Board of Education has supported and encouraged all those involved in the budget process to examine carefully all programs and expenditures so that the budget presented to the people of Hicksville would be reasonable, sound, and fair to the taxpayers and to the children served by the district's schools. "We're proud of our schools and we're proud of the budget we presented," says Board president John P. Ayres. "We ask all our Hicksville neighbors to join us and support the budget on May 26."

Catching Up With PTA Council

You all know by now that the Founder's Day Dinner was a huge and happy success, that Lorraine Losche was our District Honored Guest and that in attendance were Lorraine's entire family, Dr. and Mrs. Hawkins, Dr. and Mrs. Hill, Sheila Noeth, Unit Honored Guests from each of our local PTAs, parents and teachers. A wonderfully warm and witty emcee, Norma Dagna, made the program move smoothly and it was a delight to see such good fellowship. The surprise presentation was the annual Council Honorary Life Membership award which went to Fran Lolicone. A terrific choice!

Of course since that wonderful night when Lorraine Losche reminded us all that PTA really means people taking action, we have been taking action. Our Council President Honey Singer applied for and was accepted to fill the vacant seat of Mr. Frank Grimer on the Board of Education. Mrs. Singer sees the job as an extension, or as another phase of her early work with PTA, working toward a better education for our children. Her resignation as Council President was tendered at our most recent meeting. Vice President Carol Marks will serve as President for the remainder of this school term.

In other action, PTA Council took time at its meeting to write to the President of the United States, Senators, Congressmen and Representatives regarding our stand in opposition to the proposed Tuition Tax Credit.

Norma Goerke, chairman of the Nominating Committee, reported the proposed slate of Officers to Council for the upcoming year: President - Carol Marks; Vice President - Nancy Staron; Recording Secretary - Arlene Rudin; Corresponding Secretary - Eileen Mills; and Treasurer - Gerald Klein.

Council voted to hold a Candidates Forum on Thursday May 20th at the Senior High School. Watch for more publicity on this important and upcoming event.

Hicksville American Soccer Club

1974 US

Boys coaches:
John Flanagan &
Wayne Dohman

On April 17 at Brentwood the Shamrocks ran into a very prepared and aggressive opponent and lost 1-0. After having the ball in Brentwood's end for most of the first half Hicksville fell prey to one quick breakaway goal and were down 1-0 at halftime. With the wind in their favor Brentwood could do no wrong and finished with a 4-0 victory.

The following week at Grumman field the Shamrocks played a better game but lost to undefeated East Islip 2-0. The East Islip Team is one composed of good shooters and strong kickers. It was two high shots that found their way over goalie Jeff Dohman and under the crossbar.

At South Huntington on May 1st the story was different with Hicksville's forwards now consisting of former center fullback Chris Doyle, Ronny Ladimir & left fullback Todd Meringoff. Midfielders Gregg Furst, Joe Flanagan, & Andy McCarthy played well in keeping the ball in South Huntington's end. Fullbacks Jason Teitelbaum, Scott Goldsmith, Brian Harkins & Brian Pine played well in regaining the ball from the opposition. Although there were many opportunities to score the Shamrocks won 1-0.

Last Saturday at Grumman field the Shamrocks played with only 10 against a Lindenhurst team that was fresh off a victory over Brentwood. With Mike Murray, Ronny Ladimir & Chris Doyle at forward the Shamrocks had Lindenhurst constantly under attack. In the midfield the tough play of Gregg Furst, Joe Flanagan & Brian Harkins kept Hicksville in control. Fullbacks Brian Pine, Scott Goldsmith & Jason Teitelbaum played well.

However, it was a breakaway goal shot to the far right post that enabled Lindenhurst to gain a tie 1-1.

On Tuesday May 11th the Shamrocks traveled to Island Trees to play the team that was tied for first with East Islip. The scoring was initiated by Island Trees and the Shamrocks found themselves down 1-0 early on. They came back in the first half with great wing play by Todd Meringoff & Chris Doyle. Two crosses by Meringoff resulted in goals by Doyle to make the score 2-1 at halftime. In the second half the boys kept to the attack with Ronny Ladimir scoring goal # 3. At this point the boys seemed to tire.

Goalie Jeff Dohman was faced with a constant barrage of shots and made many fine saves. However, with most of the second half to play the Shamrocks found themselves tied 3-3. This time it was Hicksville that rebounded from adversity. Fullbacks Scott Goldsmith, Brian Pine, Jason Teitelbaum & Gregg Furst began once again to connect their passes with the midfield. Halfbacks Andy McCarthy, Joe Flanagan & Mike Murray seemed to get their second wind & play more aggressively when they had to. In the first half goals resulted from nicely played balls in the mid field by both Mike Murray & Andy McCarthy. It was to be a well placed long throw-in by Joe Flanagan that resulted in Chris Doyle scoring goal # 4 only 35 seconds from the end of the game.

Every week seems to show improvement and the boys are awaiting replay matches with HBC, Island Trees & Valley Stream. In addition the quarter final round of the L.I. Cup is to be played between June 4 and June 9th with an opponent yet to be named. Best wishes to a "Get-Well-Soon" to Brian McDermott who has been sick.

DEVOTIONS

By The Rev. Dr. John H. Krahn

Trinity Lutheran Church

FREE TO BE A BLESSING
What do you desire in life? There are many possible answers from which to choose. Some of you might want more than anything difficult. You prefer to stay where you are rather than to expend energy attempting to arrive at anything different. The Bible is full of people who might have led significant lives but never wanted to put their energies in motion as much as they wanted to stand still and take things easy. Their lives of failure did not result in aiming at anything bad; rather, they did not aim strongly enough at anything. Many of us join them by desiring to sit quietly in the grass rather than to rise, pull a bowstring taut and speed an arrow to its mark. Others of us are really encaptured by the things that we have and our unrealistic need to try to obtain more. Christ has set us free from eternal death, and we have been yoked to eternal life through his efforts. We have received the greatest blessing of all - the gift of eternal life. Through the power of Christ within us, we are now free to dump from our lives any hatred or bitterness; we can be forgiving, worry-free, and joyful in all things. We discover that even more than this, we are free to be a blessing.

In Genesis 12 we find God blessing Abraham greatly. God's blessings were not for Abraham's exclusive use - God blessed Abraham so that others could be blessed through him. We are encouraged to turn all good things received from God's hand into blessings for others.

Let's get one thing clear - blessedness is not a matter of having a lot of things. First, it is the recognition of a divine relationship. Abraham's inner strength and happiness never came from worldly things; they came from "the Lord and recognition that God had everything in his control. Blessedness is having a sense of sufficiency whatever life may bring. The path of life will never be completely smooth, there will always be problems and potholes. The Bible makes it clear that the blessed do not manage to get rid of all dangers, risks, and burdens, but rather they realize that in God they have great and gallant strength to bear them.

To be blessed is to have the power from God to be able to keep on keeping on. We must also readily acknowledge that we have been blessed. To acknowledge our blessings is to acknowledge our faith and trust in the Lord. Only when we acknowledge that the Lord is the source of all good in our lives, that everything we have is a gift from God, only then will we readily allow the Lord to use our lives and our possessions for a blessing for others. And only then will we taste the joy that comes from being involved with the Lord in a life that is free of self-centeredness and free of greed. Only those of us who know that in Him we have everything, can then be his instruments of peace and healing and joy and blessing. Our generosity springs from the recognition of His generosity.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who gave up a promising career as a gifted musician and theologian to become a medical missionary in Africa, once said, "One thing I know, the only people really happy are those who have sought and found how to serve." Another person remarked correctly that "Happiness is a by-product of doing something for someone else."

Beethoven, the great composer, made a pilgrimage to a cathedral in which was said to be the greatest organ in the world. Weary, begrimed with the dust of the journey, he went in a side door of the cathedral and was met by an old monk in a red robe who inquired his business. "I understand you have the most wonderful organ in the world. I have come many miles to see it." The monk reluctantly led him through the corridors to where he could get a view of the great organ. He stood at the console looking hungrily at the keys. "Oh, sir, if I may be permitted to play it?"

"Not so, my friend. Only the master plays the great organ." "If I might but touch the keys?" The monk looked up and down to be sure he wasn't seen and that no one was there. Beethoven, with his great genius, swept the keyboard and the music rolled through the corridors and reverberated through the arches of the cathedral. When he stopped the monk stood transfixed. "Who are you?" "I am Beethoven." The monk uncovered his head and crossed himself. "To think I almost missed letting the master use my humble instrument."

The Master is with you know. He is near enough to touch. In his touch there is freedom, power, joy, and blessing. Do not go through life and miss the joy of letting the Master use you the humble instrument of your life. For in Christ we are free; we are blessed; we are free and blessed to be a blessing.

WITH TOM MASTERS

Emergency At Sea

One of the first rules of good seamanship states that at least one passenger on every boat must be capable of handling that boat in an emergency.

It's the skipper's responsibility to inquire about the boating capabilities of his guests and, if necessary, he must instruct one in the basics in case something happens to him.

This lesson was emphasized recently in a boating incident near Catalina Island in California.

This case involves pretty Kim Shockley of El Segundo, California, and her friend, Steve Hudson, 36, a stand-in actor for the TV series, "Dallas."

The couple was returning to Los Angeles in Hudson's 25-foot sailboat. The day before they had motored across a flat ocean using a six-horsepower Evinrude outboard. Returning, they encountered six to eight foot swells. Hudson noticed that the sailboat's mounting bracket that held the motor to the boat was loose. He leaned out over the transom, attempting to remedy the problem. Suddenly, a big wave swept him into the water.

Miss Shockley immediately tossed him a life jacket before he disappeared from view. Alone in the boat, she managed to lower the sails. Then she attempted to start the outboard, something she had never done before.

"It took me about ten minutes of experimenting to get the gas hooked up, the prop in gear, the choke in the right place, and the accelerator turned," she wrote in a letter to Charles Strang, president of Outboard Marine Corporation, which manufactures the Evinrude outboard.

"I finally got the right combination, pulled the cord, and she was going. I couldn't believe I was alone in that boat and had actually got the motor going."

Success was short-lived, however. The wave pounding worked loose the mount and both it and the outboard went to the bottom.

Miss Shockley spotted a private boat and shot off a flare. The Harbor Patrol was called in and Shockley had them start a search for Hudson.

Meanwhile, Hudson had swum and drifted more than 10 miles from the spot where he was thrown overboard. He was outside of the 40-square-mile search area circled by helicopters and rescue boats.

He was finally picked up by the last vessel to be sailing in the area. "I wouldn't have made it if I had not been so fit from regular sea swimming," said Hudson. "I knew one of the toughest battles was going to be not to panic."

One of the most valuable lessons, through, was related by Shockley.

"Something of value was learned from this experience," she said. "It is to teach women, children, and guests how to start, adjust and steer the motor."

Well said.

It's a typical Monday morning, the alarm rings. You get up after a good night's sleep and proceed to dress for work. After a light breakfast, you go out to the garage, secure your briefcase or purse to the rack on your bicycle and pedal off. On the way to work you join hundreds of other commuters on a network of bikeways and bike routes to take you to any part of the city you wish to go. The year is 1984. Few people drive to work anymore. Not because of high gas prices or auto costs. It's simply more enjoyable to breathe in the clean fresh air, ride with neighborhood friends and really feel good about yourself because you're on your 8th month of bike commuting and your health is better than it's ever been.

Seven miles later you arrive at work. Bike lockers are provided by the employers, who in fact encourage their employees to ride to work. Selfish reasons: you can get more work out of a healthy work force. Bike theft is almost nonexistent. On this particular morning you worked up a little sweat, so you head for the shower facility where your personal locker houses a complete wardrobe of work clothes. After a hot shower, you're ready to take on the day!

At the end of the day you change into your cycling clothes ready to ride home. Instead of riding the usual 7 mile morning route, you double the distance by taking the long way, encompassing a few challenging hills. You arrive home 52 minutes later. Total miles for the day... 21.

How has this person's life changed by commuting to work? The financial advantage is certainly a help. The gasoline savings is about $1.50 per day or $30.00 per month. The wear and tear on the car is less, plus the auto insurance premiums are reduced. The most significant savings is in personal health, obtainable only through a little sweat, not money. Did you know that a regular cycling program, such as commuting as little as 4 miles each way can increase your lung ca-

Gift-Giving Ideas

THE GOLD BUG

Want to give a gift of money for an important occasion? What more attractive way than to give a gold piece, a true keepsake.

Since ownership of gold became legal in the U.S. in 1975, estimates are that eight million people have invested in the yellow metal. More than half of it has been purchased in the form of gold coins!

Gold coins are unforgettable gifts. Mexican coins also make fine jewelry.

Some gold coins are legal tender as well as an investment. Suitable to anyone's budget are the gold bullion coins of Mexico, because they come in nine different sizes. They are also considered by collectors as the world's handsomest.

At your local coin dealer, a two-peso size is around $25. A quarter-ounce Mexican gold coin is about $100.

As the heart muscle improves in this way, the rate at which it will need to pump in order to perform a particular task will decrease. When blood is circulating freely, the entire system seems to function better. Another benefit is burning up all those desserts you couldn't resist. Ralph S. Paffenburger, M.D. of Stanford School of Medicine states that if people can burn up 2000 calories per week (about 2 to 3 hours of cycling) they can reduce their chance of heart attack by 64%. Just think, you can have all this without having to join a club, recruit a partner, reserve a court, or assemble a team. Improving and maintaining your most cherished investment becomes part of a day's work.

What about injuries? Does cycling cause stiff joints, aches and pains through the years? On the contrary. Bicycling is very gentle on the human anatomy provided the bike is properly adjusted and fitted to the rider.

It doesn't involve any jarring of joints or internal organs. If it did, I sure couldn't cycle for 20 hours per day from L.A. to N.Y. in 12 days. Many doctors prescribe cycling as a rehabilitative measure after surgery. It's not uncommon to see people in their 60's and 70's free-wheeling down the road outriding their grandchildren.

MANAGING YOUR MONEY

KEY FACTORS IN INVESTMENT DECISIONS

By Marion H. Deckard

President

Wespac Investors Trust

Financial decisions are less complex when they are approached systematically.

The first step should be to outline financial requirements. Next, these requirements should be placed in an order of priority. Finally, the investor should begin his search for investments that provide the factors that are most important to him.

Most investments are particularly strong in one area, less so in others. For that reason, many people prefer to spread their investment dollars through a balanced portfolio. In this way, they arrive at a total solution that combines the advantages of a variety of investment vehicles.

The five main factors most financial planners recommend be considered are:

- Capital conservation: What is the likelihood that your investment will diminish in value over the life of the investment? Will it withstand the effects of inflation? Are there other elements that might erode it?
- Income: How does the income potential of investment A compare with investment B in the same category?

With that of other forms of investment?

- Tangibility: Is your preference to invest in hard assets, such as collectibles, precious metals and gems, property? If so, you're probably security conscious and reluctant to invest in anything you can't see. Be aware of the tradeoffs, such as:

- Liquidity: How readily can the asset be converted to cash if you need it or in case you wish to take advantage of an unforeseen investment opportunity?
- Appreciation: What is the potential for your investment to increase in value during the period of time for which you commit the use of your money?

Virtually any investment can be evaluated by using this method, be it a money market fund, hard assets, mutual funds, stocks and bonds, real estate or real estate investment trust (REIT) shares, such as those of Wespac Investors Trust.

Real Estate Investment Trusts were authorized and defined by an Act of Congress to enable groups of investors, large and small, to pool their purchasing power in a Trust and, through it, to make major real estate investments. Through leverage, the use of borrowed money, relatively small amounts of capital can be made to effect very large purchases.

Most of our investors have found that their REIT shares have provided them with a balance of advantages that rivals those found in a carefully structured investment portfolio. Their original investments have not only maintained their value, but the property represented by their shares has continued to increase in value year after year. Some of these properties have been held by the Trust since 1974. Investors who need their cash can have it almost instantly, since Wespac maintains a fund to repurchase shares upon request. Real estate is, of course, among the most tangible of assets. And productive as well!

Wespac shareholders have received monthly cash distributions from operation of the properties, without fail, since the inception of the Trust.

Always consider REIT shares as a productive, conservative part of your investment plan.

But never make any investment without first getting all the information you can about it and reviewing its potential against your specific needs. Contact your securities broker/dealer for information on REIT shares.

The first known use of the expression "A-1" was said to be by Lloyd's of London, the British insurance organization. Lloyd's graded ships according to the risk of insuring them and those rated "A-1" were thought least likely to sink.

English Pub Cooking With Step-By-Step Techniques

Meat mixture is spooned into center of pastry and edges of pastry are brushed with egg before sealing.

Seal the edges of the pastries with a fork. They are now ready to be baked to golden-brown.

Serve Dickens Pasties pub style with a tankard of ale and a boat of judiciously seasoned gravy on the side.

Venture into any pub in England at lunchtime and chances are you'll be served "pasties" with your tankard of ale. Pasties are traditional English-style "sandwiches" usually filled with cooked beef, pork, fish or lamb. Here, Franco-American Beef Gravy, in the pasties and the flavorful sauce, adds a full, rich taste and gives body.

The parsimonious English are champs at using leftovers to best advantage. Dickens Pasties are proof positive that a pittance of beef with additional ingredients can be stretched to serve six.

DICKENS PASTIES
1 1/4 cups finely chopped cooked beef
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Franco-American Beef Gravy
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 package (10 ounces) pie crust mix
1 egg, well beaten
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1/4 cup chopped parsley
STEP 1. Mix thoroughly beef, 1/4 cup gravy, onion, Worcestershire and horseradish.
STEP 2. Prepare pie crust as directed on package. Roll out pastry; cut into twelve 5-inch rounds.

STEP 3. Spoon about 1/4 cup meat mixture in center of each of 6 rounds. Brush edges with egg; top with remaining pastry. Seal edges with fork. Slit tops; brush with remaining egg.

STEP 4. Place on baking sheet; bake at 400°F. for 10 minutes or until brown.

STEP 5. Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine remaining gravy, pimiento and parsley. Heat, stir occasionally. Serve with pasties. Makes 6 servings.

Ten inches of snow fell in parts of New England on June 6, 1816, beginning "the year in which there was no summer."

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

There are few opportunities in every day life to truly express one's opinions - there are even fewer opportunities to be in a position to significantly affect change. This time of year offers us that golden opportunity by allowing us to cast our ballot for the candidates of our choice.

Mrs. Honey Singer is a vital, involved person whose straight-forward demeanor has brought her to the forefront of the educational arena. Her involvements have been longstanding evidence of her commitment to education and to children. These are the very qualities that enable the Board of Education to unanimously appoint her to the vacated seat of Frank Grimmer. Her perspective is one of an intelligent, dedicated parent and taxpayer, and she will make a formidable board member. Mr. Michael F. Meyer offers us the benefit of his experience as a seasoned board veteran. He has had to face making crucial decisions and has been able to rise above political pressures (which is a necessary component if one is to survive on the school board.) Mr. Meyer believes that a sound budget, fair salaries, and maintenance of excellence in programs should meld rather than clash. I believe his expertise will be a welcome asset to our Board.

I wholeheartedly ask you to support the candidates who will represent everyone in the community. PLEASE

SAY YES TO THE BUDGET - YES TO SINGER (3-A) - YES TO MEYER. (1-A)
Charlene Anci

To The Editor:

As the elections grow near, in our hearts we can not vote for Mr. Myer. So we are going to have a write in ballot.

We urge the residents of this community who are aware of Mrs. Germer's voting record, and educational philosophy dealing with our children to support our endeavor by casting a write-in vote for Virginia Germer, Wednesday, May 26.

(signed) Eight
Hicksville Residents

To The Editor:

So many people have asked why I have chose not to seek re-election. I felt it was necessary to write this letter.

As a Board Member there are certain rights and responsibilities which go with the office. Every member is required to vote on each board motion. You have three choices...yes, no and abstain. "I abstain" should only be used if one can not vote for a particular reason. In my case I have had to use the abstention vote, because information has been withheld from me by the majority of the board. One can only make an intelligent decision if he or she has the knowledge and back up material to do so.

Several board members have chosen to run this district by themselves. As long as Mr. Ayres and Mrs. Anci know they have two additional votes why bother to inform the rest of the board?

Briefly let me elaborate, I had no knowledge of the negotiation that started in October. That resulted in a contract being signed several weeks ago. Nor was I notified till after Mr. Ayres and Mrs. Anci signed the contract.

I had no prior knowledge of appointments being made. And no knowledge of the board taking legal action against a resident of this community.

I was elected 3 years ago from a field of four. I believe

I have represented this community fairly. I have co-chaired the goal and objective committee. I have chaired the drug and alcohol abuse committee and public relation committee.

The reason why I have chosen not to run is not my lack of interest nor my lack of belief in Hicksville...it is a belief that as long as our school board is not functioning as a corporate body with all persons equal and having equal knowledge, I can not represent this community fairly as I promised 3 years ago.

In closing I would like to thank everyone for their support, letters and phone calls. It is very heart warming to know how many people believe in me and what I stand for.

Thank You
Virginia Germer,
Vice President
Board of Education

To the Editor:

This letter of commendation may appear to be unusual due to the type of business involved, but nevertheless necessary.

Being a member of the Hicksville community for a number of years I've never had the occasion to avail myself or family of funeral services.

My husband passed away two weeks ago. I called Vernon Wagner's Funeral Home to make the necessary arrangements. Mr. Vernon Wagner himself, Mr. Edward A. Castha and the entire staff displayed such warmth, concern and compassion to all my family members and especially myself. There was not a detail overlooked to help smooth a trying and rough period in my life. There aren't enough adjectives in the dictionary to describe their services!

Surely Vernon Wagner's Funeral Home is an outstanding service to our community and for this I am taking this opportunity to say "thank you" to Mr. Wagner, Mr. Castka and the entire staff.

Sincerely,
Mrs. R. Cullen

Anti-Crime Committee To Meet May 29

Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C, Wantagh) today encouraged his constituents to attend a special meeting of his Advisory Committee on Crime to be held at 11 a.m., Saturday, May 29th in his district office located at 3700 Hempstead Tpke. in Levittown.

The establishment of a "Neighborhood Watch" program will be the topic of discussion.

"Neighborhood Watch," explained Parola, "is a program of people and police working in concert to fight crime and improve protection and safety. By working together neighbors learn how to guard each other's homes and reduce the risk of crime.

"At the May 29th meeting," Parola continued, "we will discuss how to initiate such a program and how the advisory committee can better serve the community's needs."

"I strongly urge 12th Assembly District residents to get involved and make a special effort to attend. We need their opinions and cooperation."

"For further information please contact my district office at 781-3484," the assemblyman concluded.

George and Mary Tappan, former residents of Hicksville, are now residing in Massapequa. Although they enjoy their new home, they still like Hicksville. They come to our community frequently to visit with their longtime friends.

Beverly and Jerry Weber are pleased and proud of their daughter, Ellen. She graduated from Slippery Rock State College, PA, on May 15. She received a B.S. degree majoring in recreation. Ellen plans to find employment locally in her field, and work towards her Masters degree at night school. Good luck to you, Ellen.

Another birthday celebrant, Danny Paulauskas, was 12 years old on May 7. He not only had a family party, but his friends helped him enjoy his special day by dining with Danny at the Ground Round and then joining him at bowling.

On May 16, Danny's mother, Pat, and his sister, Kathleen, were co-celebrants at a surprise party held in the Hicksville-Elk's Lodge. The occasions were a birthday for mom, Pat, and a First Holy Communion for Kathleen. Pat arranged for the surprise

HHS Students Meet Islanders Commentator

On Tuesday, May 11th students from Mrs. Soroka's Resource Room went to the Nassau Coliseum to interview Stan Fischler, Sportschannel Commentator for the New York Islanders.

Mr. Fischler commented on the poor refereeing during the first Vancouver - Islander Stanley Cup game. When student Joan Walsh asked why so few penalties are called in the third period, he stated that this was wrong, because the same rules should apply in the third period as in the first.

Stan Fischler has written many sports' books that are popular with students. Lucette Cavalliere asked him why he wrote a book about Denis Potvin rather than any other Islander. Stan told the group that Denis was a "personable and likeable guy and a delight to work with for a book." Perhaps he will write about other Islanders in the future.

Stan Fischler may be seen in between periods on Sportschannel for all Islander home games, interviewing players and personalities of the game. He also conducts Hockey Hotline - a question and answer program featuring phone calls from interested spectators following the game.

The interview was videotaped by students Rich Schnalzer and Mike McKibbin. Asking questions were Marc Brittan, Kevin Haller, Rich Marra, Lucette Cavalliere, Joan Walsh, and the photographer was Bill Smith.

A diversified assortment of ice skating competition, of interest to skaters and spectators, will be staged at the Cantiague Park Ice Rink during May, according to Nassau County Recreation and Parks Commissioner Abram C. Williams. Admission to each event is free.

A dazzling variety of dance events will be performed at the 16th Annual Ice Dance Competition of the Cantiague Figure Skating Club on Sunday, May 16, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The competition will follow rules sanctioned by the United States Figures Skating Association and feature amateur skaters only.

Skaters four and over, will oppose each other on the amateur level when the Nassau County Recreational Skating Competition is held on Saturday, May 22, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

This event will give skaters who do not belong to the United States Figure Skating Association the chance to compete with each other under contest conditions.

Participants can register up until May 21.

A talented array of the finest figure skaters in the United States will display their precision when they participate in the Cantiague Springtime Ice Revue to be held on Saturday, May 29, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Most of these skaters, who range in age from 13 to 17, participated in the United States National Figure Skating Competition held last March.

Registration is not required.

The Cantiague Park Ice Rink is located on West John St. in Hicksville. For further information about any of these programs, call 935-3500.

Paddleball Tourney

Demonstrations of power and precision are expected when two free paddleball tournaments get under way at parks operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, according to Commissioner Abram C. Williams.

Men 18 and over can showcase their skill in a Men's Doubles Paddleball Tournament scheduled for Cantiague Park in Hicksville on Saturday, June 5 (r/d 6/12), starting at 9 A.M.

A leisure pass is required to enter this single elimination tournament which will follow American Paddleball Association rules.

Males up to 17 will go head to head during a Boy's Singles Paddleball Tournament slated for Cedar Creek Park in Seaford on Saturday, June 12 (r/d 6/19), beginning at 10 A.M.

The best two out of three sets and a score of eleven points will be needed to win.

Registration will begin for the Men's Doubles and Boy's Singles Paddleball Tournaments on May 21 and 28, respectively.

For further information, call Cantiague Park at 935-3500 and Cedar Creek Park at 781-6337.

Not only does Nassau County have its own "Dynasty," the Islanders, to be proud of; but the County can claim as its resident the New York State Senior Citizen of the year for 1962.

Eighty-five year old John Patterson of Roosevelt had been named Nassau County Senior Citizen of the Year for 1962. This award made him eligible for the coveted New York State Senior Citizen of the Year title which he won handily.

Mr. Patterson has been a leader in community affairs and senior citizen activities for more than ten years. He attended Georgia State College and became the president of the College Club of New York. He has served as the Exalted Ruler of the Order of the Elks of the World. As Director of Education for Brooklyn and Long Island and as New York State President of that organization, he assisted in providing college scholarships for high school oratorical contest winners.

As a Path Trainee from South Nassau Communities Hospital and the State University of Stony Brook's School of Medicine, Mr. Patterson earned a certificate in a pilot program designed to train 200 seniors as health screeners. He has also served as the president of the Susie Bronson Senior Center for six years, was responsible for its incorporation, and now holds the title of President Emeritus. His deep commitment to advocate for the elderly is evident in the positions he has held: Vice-president and Chairperson of Region II for N.Y. State-Wide Senior Action Council; Chairperson of the Nutrition Council Project of Nassau County; and a participant in the Senior Citizen Intern Program for the Fifth Congressional District in Washington, D.C. sponsored by Congressman John W. Wyder. He has been appointed to serve on the Advisory Council to the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs by County Executive Francis T. Purcell. In May, 1961, Governor Carey appointed Mr. Patterson to a committee to develop New York State's Aging Policy for the Governor's Conference on Aging.

Mr. Patterson was chosen by a panel of judges representing Nassau County Town and County offices of Aging and members of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs advisory committees. Resumes were submitted by senior citizen groups and community organizations and a detailed point system was used to reach the final decision.

Announcing the judge's decision, Commissioner Adelaide Altard commented: "Mr. Patterson truly exemplifies the senior citizen of the present decade. Because of his quiet strength and his dedication in advocating on behalf of his peers, we feel privileged to have him join us in our efforts to improve the quality of life for the older residents of Nassau County."
