School Administrators Have A Contract

By Rosemary Grant

The Hicksville Council of Administrators have a contract. The agreement ratified by the Board of Education at a Special meeting on November 30, ended negotiations which began in 1981 and culminated on Thanksgiving Day. William Granville, President of the Council signed the contract and thanked Board President Charlene Anci and Trustee Jay Schwartz for their informal talks that "helped set our wheels in motion." He thanked Trustee Thomas Nagle for his formal negotiations, which lasted from 3:30 p.m. last Wednesday until 6 a.m. Thanksgiving Day. Granville also thanked Assistant Ron Friedman for getting the actual document prepared so quickly.

Charlene Anci praised the "integrity of both sides". She said "It was a long hard negotiations for both sides, but we all feel that we have reached an agreement that is not just equitable but very fair and it was reached through the true give and take of negotiations." The 4-year contract which was ratified on Tuesday afternoon by the Council of Administrators includes a 7% payroll increase for the first two years, distribution of which has been mutually agreed upon. It eliminates the salary schedule. The 10½ month work year and the health plan remains the same and a Board demand regarding workmans compensation was agreed to.

Trustee William Bennett asked for time to read the contract because it was not received prior to the meeting and Trustee John Ayres posed several questions. Referring to performance standards and the Superintendent's assessment, he remarked "Regarding the recitation of deficiencies, there is a lot of judgement that may be used by the Superintendent." Granville agreed.

The Board unanimously approved the negotiated agreement, ending the lengthy contract dispute.

Town Wins Court Decision:

Illegal Hicksville Cement Hopper Must Close

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby announced that the Town has won a decision in Nassau County Supreme Court which permanently shuts down the cement hopper which had been illegally erected at 21 Railroad Avenue in Hicksville and also requires that the structure be removed from the property.

Illegal Hicksville Cement Hopper Must Close

Velsor's decision which says in part that "...the erection and operation of the hopper facility is a blatant violation of the Town's zoning ordinances, and its continued operation must cease. It is further evident that the structure must be removed from the subject property as its erection and maintenance on the premises are inconsistent with the Town's zoning and clearly detrimental to the surrounding properties."

Colby said that "the builder, Vincent Agostino, had illegally erected and began operating the cement hopper in the fall of 1981, after having applied for building permits in 1980 which were rejected because a cement plant is not a permitted use in the area which is zoned 'G-1'."

Clark added that Agostino had counterclaimed that the Town's 'G-1' zoning as applied to his property was unconstitutional, but that the Court had upheld the Town's zoning and had granted a permanent injunction against the operation of the hopper and in addition required the removal of the facility within 30 days after service of the judgment.

Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark added that "the Town had obtained two temporary stays against the operation of the hopper, but the court had ruled that the operation could continue until the matter came to trial in August of this year."

Clark applauded Justice

Fire Dept. Open House

The annual Holiday Open House at the Hicksville Fire Dept. Headquarters on Gebhardt Plaza (E. Marie St.) will take place on Sunday, Dec. 5th, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Bring the family and see fire apparatus on display, rescue squad demonstrations, and fire prevention displays. Santa will be on hand to greet the kiddies.

Fire apparatus toured most neighborhoods Sunday, Nov. 28th, handing out candy and calling attention to the Open House. Due to the recent scare with food and candy being tampered with, the popcorn balls, which were loosely wrapped were omitted this year, and lollipops, in a sealed wrapper with the Open House date and time, were substituted.

A problem developed in that the Fire Dept. ran out of the 10,000 lollipops before all areas were covered. The Fire Dept. wishes to apologize for the many disappointed children that waited to no avail for the trucks. Bring them along Sunday, Santa will be waiting for them.

What you learn from the visit could save the life of you and your loved ones.

The carnival will be great fun for all. If you haven't started your holiday shopping, it might be a great place to start. A PTA spokesperson suggested.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

VENERABLE SKIP MONTEFORTE'S MESSAGE: 'In giving advice, seek to help, not to please.' Solon

Christmas is a special time of the year. It is a time for the uplifting of our hearts and minds, a time for good will and glad tidings. It is a time to do something good and help someone, and it is a time for peace and tranquility of our souls.

And the Galileo Lodge is not oblivious of what Christmas means and what it brings to so many people. So with all these beautiful thoughts in mind, why don't I mention that the Galileo Lodge presents its Christmas Dance this Saturday, the 4th of December. Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052) will 'chair' this activity, ably assisted by Frank Matassa (931-2843) who is presently selling tickets which sell at $10 per person. Please note that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night. Start off the Christmas season in true fashion at the Galileo Lodge.

The Christmas Dance is only the beginning of the Christmas spirit at Galileo. That spirit really reaches its peak on Sunday, the 19th of December, because that is the time when the Galileo Lodge presents its two Christmas parties, one for the handicapped children of Queens and Long Island and the other one for the children, and as I have mentioned previously, the feelings and emotions these parties exude have to be seen with one's own eyes!

The parties this year, more than verified by the reports given me, have to be the best ever. Adding to the joy of Christmas will be the Peggy O'Connor Dance Ensemble, who will perform in their own inimitable and scintillating fashion for these children. And the musical-extravaganza excesses of the renowned dance group from Lil's Dance of Hicksville, and the addition of the high-performing Boy Scout Troop 64 of Hicksville, who will present their delightful version of an Indian War Dance in full costume, under the supervision of Tom Palmese, a nephew of Ed Palmese of our Lodge. And then add the very moving and highly effective organ music of Richard Lagnese, whose performances in music really animate the faces and hearts of these beautiful children.

The Chairman for these Christmas Parties is Jim Reisi, assisted by Jim Posillico and Frank Matassa.

On December 31st, the Galileo Lodge also presents its New Years Party and Dance. This dance will be catered and the price of tickets will be around $25. With delicious food, live dance music and various noisemakers in the offering, this activity sounds like the nicest way to usher in the New Year. More details on this activity in future columns.

All Welcome

Dear Friends....

Each week there is much local information which affects our communities, in THE HERALD. Though we'd like to mention them again in this column, sometimes we just don't have the additional space to do this. For example, the settling of the illegal asphalt plant court case by our Town fathers is certainly good news...see this story on page one of our HICKSVILLE EDITION...actually, we feel that every story and column is filled with important local news...we wish that there was always room for all that we receive from you and about our communities...but, space permitting, we use just as much as possible, as you all know.

One more thing...our circulation department's Club Plan is a way of either raising funds for your local organization, or of saving your member's half our subscription price AND IT HAS NOTHING WHATSOEVER TO DO WITH YOUR ORGANIZATION'S REGULAR LOCAL NEWS, which we always welcome. But most of you know this. If you are interested in further information on this Club Plan, call us a WE 1-1400 and we'll be glad to give you further details.

Gold Beating In Old Hicksville

The "Goldbeating in Old Hicksville" exhibit which opened at the Gregory Museum on November 25 to a large attendance has been attracting many visitors. The exhibit's appeal is due to several factors: it recreates a colorful, near-extinct trade which once employed many Hicksville people; it focuses on places and family names well known to older residents, and it is a comprehensive museum presentation.

This exhibit treats more than the gold beating industry in Hicksville. It is a fine introduction to mankind's long artistic and commercial employment of this precious metal. Various displays explain the chemical composition of gold and its enduring qualities and illustrate industrial and dental uses; recall the magnificent gold leaf work of the Egyptians and ancients; reveal the evolving tools and processes of Medieval and Renaissance craftsmen which directly influenced the gold beating practices of the last century.

Two cases of line-drawings and photographs demonstrate the goldbeating craft as practiced on Long Island between 1850 and 1950. An actual granite block on which gold was beaten in the big Hicksville Weickman Shop is in position. At the show's gala opening on Nov. 23rd, one-time goldbeater, John Bilek stood at the block, one of his 18 pound hammers in hand, and explained to a crowded audience just how he produced gold leaf. Other demonstrations are being planned.

For those less concerned with process and more eager for beauty and end products, the exhibit does not disappoint. Three clever displays exhibit the artistic uses of gold leaf: its adornment of glassware - Venetian and domestic - its tracery and design on fine leather, the richness of its stripping on fire-trucks, and its connotation of class and stature in the gold leaf signs of yesterday.

This exhibit will be on display everyday but Mondays until next spring at the Hicksville Gregory Museum. Daily hours for visitors are 9:30-4:30 and on Saturday and Sundays, 1-5. Admission is free to Hicksville residents and general admission is $1.25 for adults and 75c for school children. Senior Citizens are free.

"La Tuna"

The Spanish Honor Society of Hicksville High School, "Agustina de Aragon" Chapter, will present "La Tuna", on Thursday, Dec. 9 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the High School.

Each member of the group has his own gift picked from the Spanish Honor Society. During the performance the group goes out into the audience and they pick their own "chosen one" to stay with them for the remainder of the performance.

Tickets, which are $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children, will be sold at the door.

Old Bethpage Library.

Hicksville Girl Scouts Complete "Gift Of Water" Project

The United Nations had declared 1980 as the Water Decade, giving top priority to the goal of bringing clean water and safe sanitation to the people of the world by 1990.

With this in mind, the Girl Scouts of the United States decided to combine two of our Country's most precious resources — our Girl Scouts and our water.

In Nassau Council, girls became involved with a water project, starting in January, 1982 and ending October, 1982. They found out about Long Island water sources, they practiced saving water and they participated in a clean water service project.

At the Nassau Council meeting on November 16, an honor roll scroll was presented to Doris Rehm, 3rd Vice President and International Commissioner, Girl Scouts of the United States. She, in turn will bring this scroll to The Girl Scouts National President, Jane C. Freeman.

The following girls have finished the Gift of Water Project and have the honor of having their names placed on that scroll:

CHARLES WAGNER POST # 421
HICKSVILLE, N.Y.

Don't forget to get to the Post tonight (Friday, Dec. 3rd) as all members have a standing open invitation from the Auxiliary to join with them (after their meeting) in their annual Christmas doings ... Then again, Friday nights are our social nights at the Post normally so come on down and join us one way or the other ... It's always nice when there's a goodly number of members in the house and, after all, this is YOUR Post home so why not use it more often? Attention, attention you many 'old timers' who are holding up the completion of our annual membership drive with your failure to pay your 1982-83 when requested ... Ironic that our newer members have responded to the membership officer's call for dues payment but the same call has been ignored by too many of our long time members who should be putting their efforts behind the membership drive ... How about it comrades, wipe away the tears in the eyes of our membership officer by sending him your check now and see him smile ... Who's the membership officer? Why, Frank Molinari is ... Now that everyone's smiling how about spending a little of your time attending our next meeting which will be a business session on Monday night, December 6th ... Santa Claus will be on hand for the annual Children's Christmas Party on December 19th at our Post headquarters ... Again the Past Commander's Club will stage this party on behalf of the Post ... There is a slight change in format from those of previous years and the changes are as follows: There no longer will be an age limit for the children, and all gifts must be purchased, wrapped and tagged by the parent or grandparent for presentation by Santa Claus ... Gifts must be valued no more than $5 ... ALL names of children are still to be listed with P.C. Palmer Walsh as in previous years ... Please call him as soon as possible at 931-3299 as it is essential for us to have this information so we can properly supply the correct amount of soda, hot dogs, cookies and candies for our small guests on this auspicious occasion ... There also will be a bit of liquid refreshments for the parents and this is also a change from other years ... There will be movies in our lower hall and rides on the famous 40 & 8. Nassau Voiture 803 Locomotive attended by a bevy of clowns ... The Christmas Party starts at 2 P.M. and runs to 5 P.M. so be on time but above all, get those names into Palmer Walsh ... And to top off the day, there will be no raffle of any kind on this great afternoon ... However, we are asking a donation from those members who no longer have use for a large number of Christmas lights so please give them to the Post for decorating the hall for this and future Christmas parties ... Please bring them to the Post, tagged with your name so we know who donated what and can give proper credit, any meeting or social night or call me at 935-1860 ... Indoor or outdoor lights make no difference.

CHRISTMAS/CHANUKAH PARTY!
DATE: DECEMBER 10, 1982

TIME: 8:30 p.m.
WHERE: VFW Hall, 320 South Broadway, Hicksville, N.Y.

Here's the information about a gala evening of fun. Now it's up to you to mark your calendar and make sure you're present. Santa Claus will be distributing gifts to those attendees who bring a $2 grab bag gift for someone else. There will be food, music, singing and dancing. We hope you'll be on hand to join in the festivities.

Now that the flurry of election campaigning is over, the dust has settled, and the voters have once again spoken through the voting booths, the business of government will continue uninterrupted.

However, the Democratic leadership of the House of Representatives has imposed a dangerous delay on Social Security problems. According to Congressman Norman F. Lent, our Republican representative for the Fourth District, the Democratic leadership of the House ruled out any action this year on meeting the financial crisis facing the Social Security system. This, even though the Congress will reconvene in the so-called "lame-duck" session, where it could at least begin consideration of the various proposals to strengthen Social Security's financial structure.

Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (D-ILL.), Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which originates Social Security legislation, flatly rejects any committee work on Social Security legislation, flatly rejects any committee work on Social Security during the lame-duck session.

Rostenkowski said that his committee will not begin hearings on proposed revisions of the system until next February! In the meantime, he urges members of the House to "keep your powder dry" until his committee can "analyze and bring into perspective" the various options for restoring financial stability to the Social Security Trust Fund. He claims that his committee can hold hearings, digest and analyze the results, and prepare legislation for House consideration by March 31. The most complicated and controversial issue that the Congress has faced in years, can be handled easily in a few weeks according to Rostenkowski. Congressman Lent believes the Congress needs more time to discuss this vital issue.

The self-imposed delay is most unfortunate. The Blue Ribbon Commission makes its recommendations to the Congress next month. We should begin consideration of those recommendations immediately. The Congress needs to examine thoroughly the effects of proposed changes in Social Security. Legislation enacted in haste is all too often bad legislation. The Social Security system is too fundamental to our Nation to be subjected to just a superficial examination and what amounts to a "railroading" legislative procedure. It is vital that Congressional consideration of the Commission proposals be as thorough as possible. To delay any consideration until next February is dangerous!

Village Mayors Hold Legislative Breakfast Rozzi Issues Drunk Driving Warning

The Nassau County Village Officials Association's executive committee called the county's state senators and assemblymen, along with the county executive and town supervisors, to a breakfast meeting Dec. 1. They explained the legislative priorities of village government. The breakfast was held at the Island Inn, Westbury.

"We hope we impressed our higher elected officials with the particular needs of the 436,000 residents who reside in the 64 villages in Nassau County," stated Deputy Mayor Eleanor Simpson of Old Westbury, president of the association. "Village government is at the bottom end of the chain of government and, all too often, our needs are forgotten, ignored or passed over when important legislation is considered."

Among those needs, she said, is a change in the state revenue sharing formula to provide villages with a greater share of state revenues. The revenue sharing formula has been frozen at its present level since 1979, despite the tremendous growth in state revenue collections since that time.

Also on the village mayors' agenda are:

- Legislation to require that all bills be accompanied by fiscal notes so the fiscal impact on lower levels of government can be evaluated.
- Elimination of mandated services unless the money to pay for such services is provided.
- Continuation of Tier Three employees who contribute into the State Pension System.
- Greater input for village governments into the enforcement of state liquor laws and into the licensing process.
- Legislation to help village governments reduce the high cost of municipal insurance.
- An increase in the state reimbursement to villages for maintaining village courts. The present reimbursement rate was set in 1923.

Mrs. Simpson said the legislative package was formulated with the emphasis on providing relief to hard-pressed village property taxpayers who have to bear the burden of paying for programs dictated by higher levels of government.

Golf Courses Still Open

Weather permitting, all golf courses operated by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks will remain open through Sunday, Dec. 19. Following that date, the courses will close with the exception of the Blue and White Courses at Eisenhower Park.

Nassau Recreation and Parks Commissioner Abram C. Williams said temporary greens will be used on the Blue and White Courses but that special Winter fees will be in effect.

"Don't let the holiday party be a prelude to tragedy," is the message being sent by Nassau County Police Commissioner, Samuel J. Rozzi, to over 5,000 corporations and agencies in the county as part of the Department's anti-drunk driving program. Letters and posters are being distributed to employers, asking them to monitor or curb alcoholic consumption at the traditional holiday parties sponsored by businesses for their employees.

"We are not naive and do not believe that our message will stop people from drinking," stated Rozzi. "Our hope is that they will curb their drinking, or if they drink, they will not drive."

In cooperation with the Nassau County Department of Commerce and Industry, the Department is distributing 5,000 letters and posters which deliver a simple, but direct message. The letter states in part:

"During the holiday season there are many opportunities for families, friends and fellow workers to get together in the holiday spirit. Please don't make those meetings a prelude to tragedy. If there is a company party and your employees must drink, recommend that they drink in moderation. Try to establish car pools with non-drinkers doing the driving. Be a good employer and a good friend, don't let anyone drive himself home while under the influence of alcohol. Above all, try to have your employees use good judgement. Remember alcohol and gasoline don't mix."

The poster depicts a car smashed beyond recognition and the message, "They Won't Be Home For the Holidays!... Don't Drink And Drive."

"Coupled with this education effort, the Department's drunk driving arrests are up 33% over last year," stated Rozzi. "Also new laws have made the penalties for drunk drivers much more severe. Perhaps this year we will make some real progress in dealing with the problem. We are hopeful."

Adult residents pay just $3.50 weekends and holidays and $2.50 weekdays. Non-residents pay $7 and $5, respectively. Resident Senior Citizens pay $1.25 weekdays only.

All courses will be closed on Christmas Day and New Year's Day.

Normal operation of courses, 18-hole and 9-hole alike, will resume Monday, March 14, 1983. In addition to the three 18-hole courses at Eisenhower, the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks also maintains nine-hole courses at Bay Park, East Rockaway; Cantiague Park, Hicksville; Morley Park, Roslyn-North Hills and North Woodmere Park.

Let It Shine, All The Time, Let It Shine

Following our Church Fair last year I became the recipient of a large bag of Bazooka bubble gum. Apparently, many mothers prevailed against wishes of their progeny and not too much Bazooka was purchased. Now, very often as kids walk past my office, they wander in and talk with me or I call them in for a little chat. Not wanting to waste all that Bazooka bubble gum, and not being responsible for their dental bills, I have been known to ask a child or two, "Would you like a piece of gum?" Faces light up as mouths open, "um hum." After a child has become a first-time recipient of a piece of beautiful Bazooka, I noticed that our paths begin to cross more frequently. When a lighted-up face walks into my office, I know there is a mouth nearby that craves some of that sweet, pink, chewable pleasure.

The prophet Isaiah was not talking about Bazooka bubble gum in the sixtieth chapter, first verse of his book, although he was enough of a character to enjoy a piece. But he did summon his audience to be joyful. Beaming faces were in order for their exile was behind them, and now they had heard the announcement of their salvation. Joyfully accepted the message of salvation was Isaiah's encouragement. "Arise," he says, mourners, cease to be weary. He calls to mind David's psalm, "The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?"

Next, he encourages his listeners to "shine." Zion is called upon to reflect the light that has been shed upon her. Even more she is encouraged to become that light to other people. For the "glory of the Lord has risen upon you," Isaiah exults. God's glory is like the dawning splendor of an Oriental morning. Zion is flooded with the radiance of the rising sun. The Lord's Epiphany brings with it His glory, the concentrated form of His divine presence; that glory that Moses beheld upon the holy mountain. We read in Exodus, "Now the appearance of the glory of the Lord was like a devouring fire on the top of the mountain in the sight of the people of Israel." After Moses came down from the mountain, having spoken with God, we read that "the skin of his face shone." He was visibly different having beheld the glory of the Lord.

Isaiah calls us to a similar condition. It is interesting to note the universal quality of this verse in Isaiah. It is not addressed to any particular historical occasion. It therefore, has a timeless nature and message. We who are followers of Christ and live anno dominum have beheld Jesus, the light of the world, in whom God has worked out his plan of salvation. Isaiah's imperative is spoken to us this morning: "Arise and shine for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you."

Now few, if any, of us would come to church with a dirty face. Yet, too often, some of us wear a long, joyless face to church. In the tradition of Isaiah, I say to you, "Clean up your face, let it shine and reflect the presence of Christ." Our faith needs to be apparent. People visiting in our community should be able to experience the presentness of God in our midst, His glory. Our hands reach out to greet those we know as well as of the Lord has risen upon you. Individually, and even more important, corporately as the people of God, we are called yet again to be God's light to the world.

"Won't you come out to support this endeavor?" a spokesperson for this fine organization urged.

Several years ago, Pat Boone's daughter, Debbie, had a smash hit record called "You Light Up My Life." Those who have a close relationship with the Lord can relate to the title of her song. Isaiah recognized God's beautiful presence in the lives of His people and commands us to arise and shine, for all to see, or as it's put in the chorus of the children's Gospel song, "Let it shine. All the time, Let it shine."

Is your house more valuable than your spouse?

Which is more valuable? Your spouse, of course. Yet, which is insured for replacement value? With today's two-income families, it makes sense to protect the financial human life values—the earning abilities—of both wage earners with insurance from Aid Association for Lutherans

Phyllis Weiss of OLD BETHPAGE, has recently been installed as Treasurer of the Conference of Jewish Organizations of Nassau County.

It was the 35th wedding anniversary of Dot and John McMahon, Hicksvil-lites, on November 22. October and November were big months for celebrations for other members of their family also. Their grandson, Jamie McLaughlin, was 7 years old on October 30; Jamie's dad, Jim McLaughlin, celebrated his birthday on November 2; and Jamie's mom, Loretta, celebrated her birthday on November 21.

Dot and John's son and daughter-in-law, John and Patrice McMahon, celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary on October 14, and Patrice celebrated her birthday on October 19.

Happy birthday to Terri Cucci whose "special day" was October 23. Best wishes, Terri, from your family and friends.

Moving right along in the birthday department, Mary and Austin Owens, Hicksvillites, helped their granddaughter, Theresa Maureen Owens, celebrate her fifth birthday on November 5. Theresa Maureen lives with her parents, David and Peggy, and brother, Patrick, in Ridge.

The Hands, Martha and Ray, recently enjoyed their 34th wedding anniversary. Congratulations and best wishes to you both.

And congratulations to Betty and Ed Wayte of Hicksville who recently celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary. Ed retired from the Long Island Lighting Company last year after a long career with that firm. Love from your family and friends. Betty and Ed.

Another Hicksvillite celebrating her birthday was Cherie Steers. Cherie's birthday was November 22. Her husband, Connie, who is an active member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Hicksville, made this a truly special day for his wife.

Celebrations galore in the Murphy Clan. Linda Murphy's birthday was November 26; Bill Murphy, Sr., celebrated his birthday November 27; his daughter, Pat Sheil's, birthday was November 28; and, of course, the family celebrated Thanksgiving Day during all these festivities.

Not to be left out of all the fun, Carolyn Kremler just completed her first year. Her parents, Kevin and Cele, her sister, Elizabeth, and her brother, Kevin, were all on hand to shower love and gifts on baby Carolyn. Her grandparents, Anne and Frank Kremler, joined in the festivities for their adorable grandchild. Both Kremler families live on Princess Street, Hicksville.

Congratulations to Adell and Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Colby who celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary on November 23.
