Bill Would Increase Safety On School Buses

Senator Norman J. Levy (R.C-Merrick), Chairman of the New York State of the New York State Senate Standing Committee Transportation, announced today that he is, introducing legislation to protect the health and safety of school children by prohi-biting school buses from operating on public roads if any passenger is standing.

Over the years, the State Legislature has passed a number of school bus improvement measures, but. Levy explained, these 35 safety measures are for naught, if the children are standing.

"The transportation of a large number of children re-quires the highest level of standards to ensure safety that these children are not victims of accidents involving their school buses." said Levy. adding, "this bill is yet an-other important step towards protecting these school children." The proposed measure would prohibit any school bus from operating unless all passengers are seated and would require that school districts reschedule any bus routes where there are more children than there are seats.

As Levy pointed out, standing passengers are more vulnerable to injury, than those seated, since they can be easily thrown off balance if the bus stops suddenly.

The bill also allows the Commissioner of Educa-tion, upon good cause, to waive the no standing re-quirement, if requested to do so by a school board, but Levy noted, a public hearing must be held before the waiver can be approved and all such waivers must be reported annually to the Legislature.

"A safe school bus program is a great responsibility and New York State must take every precaution to guard the safety and well being of our communities' school children." Levy concluded.

Motorists in Nassau County, which has more motor vehicles than 13 states, will pay an extra $35 to $55 million a year under the new federal five-cent a the new teorral tive-cent a gallon gasoline tax, possibly more than any other county in the U.S., Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell stated.

Over the next four years, Nassau motorists would pay an extra $140 to $220 million a year through the tax. Purcell said. So on Dec. 15. asked Long Island con-gressmen to guarantee that nost of the money collected from Nassau motorists will be used here and not given away to other areas in the nation.

Purcell said that Nassau County has 890,412 regis-tered cars. taxis, buses, trucks and motor cycles -- 11 per cent of all the vehicles registered in the state. although the county only seven per cent of the state's population. Nassau has more vehicles than each of New York City's bur-roughs. Nassau and Suffolk counties combined have 1,731.072 motor vehicles. Purcell said, 21 per cent of all the vehicles in the state. and 146,532 more than New York City, Together, Nas-sau and Suffolk motorists will pay an extra $69 to $103 will pay an extra solve 5105 million a year under the new gas tax. Under an amend-ment prepared by Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, revenues from one cent of the fivecent increase would be used to subsidize mass transit capital and operating costs. In letters today to Long Island's congressmen, Purcell said that he wants revenues from the gas tax

"All you have to do is drive across the Queens border and fall into a and border and fail into a pothole to see the difference between maintaining the infrastructure and not main-taining it," Purcell con-tinued, "We have made a commitment to maintain infrastructure. We our should be rewarded for our efforts - not penalized by having our money sent to areas which have not made the same effort and investment." Purcell said that his

This week we wanted to share Christmas with you ... we weren't sure exactly how to do this. The solution to this problem came in today's mail. I received a Christmas greeting card and a letter from a friend of mine, a widow, who has lived for many years in Seattle in the State of Washington in our beautiful Northwest. She resides in a fine retirement apartment hotel ... her family lives nearby and her friends, are always in touch, either by visiting, or by phone or letter. Anyway, here is her letter:

CHRISTMAS 1982

Dear Friend:

God has brought me through another year and it is a joy to send you my love and a wish for a Blessed Christmas. I have had no trips this year but I am living in memories of past travels, especially at this time of year the shepherds' ticlds near Bethlehem. God has been so good to me. Although I have a broken leg which will not heal, they say ... I go almost anywhere in a car or with my walker. I can still teach Bible, take organ lessons, play at Vespers and other places. My children and grandchildren are good to me and I have a great host of friends, many who pray daily. What more could I ask or want at 89?

- I hope the year has brought joy to you. I like this quotation (I don't know the author): Christmas and Heaven both live in the heart.
- May the light of the Bethlehem star Shine down clear and bright Through the darkness of the night

And bless you wherever you are.

Affectionately. Ruth

It is a joy to know this beautiful lady and to be among her Iriends, and it is a joy to share her letter with you. We hope that your Christmas is a blessed one and that 1983 provides you with many fine opportunities and challenges...which, with God's help, you will meet head-on, and so grow in His Grace.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Klein:

It has ben brought to the PTSA that the grades of the students at the Junior High have improved substantially during the past two years. Although we are aware many factors enter into the education of children, we also realize one of the main ingredients is the atmosthere in which they learn. You have brought a disci-pline to our school that has allowed the children to not only learn but to also enjoy their school. We are now seeing a resurgence of school spirit which is also a very encouraging sign. Above all, the stable atmosphere within the school has allowed the staff to get on

Imagine with me for a moment what it was like that first Christmas Eve. the night Jesus left heaven to go down to earth. Like any boy leaving home, Jesus left heaven, Perhaps the Father said something like this to him, "Now, Son, I've got to him. Now, Son, I've got to send you down to earth because my people have really messed things up. They are unhappy. Many are lonely and down on themselves. I want you to go down to give them new hope and to provide a way for their sins to be forgiven so that we can all get back together again." So Jesus walked to the door of heaven, but before descending he turned and asked "Father, what will I tell them?" And the good tell them?" And the good Heavenly Father put his arms around his Son and said, "When you get down there, all you need to do is to tell them and I love them. That is all. Just tell them and I love them."

At Christmas all of us gladly hear these words of love: "For unto you," the angel said, "is born ... a Savior." He is ours, cach one of us individually. In Christ the Father says, "I love you, Bill. I love you Barbara, I love you Jim, Bob, Peggy, Marge, I sent my Son unto you Ralph, Betty, Fred." The baby Jesus is the Father's message of love for each of us individually.

Listen carefully for the Good News god has for each one of you personally. Three simple, powerful, wonderful words. "I love you." Every-one presently having a hard time - remember that you are not alone: God loves you. Everyone feeling honely or grieving should know that you are not alone, for God ves you.

Everyone afraid of tomorrow and what the future might bring, you are not alone, God loves you. "For unto you is born a Savior." "Unto you," the angel said. Oh, let the mean-ing of a personal Savior, Jesus, the Babe of Bethlehem, crash in upon your heart and your entire being. There is Good News for you, the Lord of the entire universe loves you personally. For Emmanuel, God with us, is truly with us. Rejoice and give thanks over God's gift of love to you. Receive Him and the peace of God the angels sang about that first Christmas will keep your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus until life everlasting.

Woodland Ave. PTA News

By Vinnie Fleming

In keeping with the spirit of the holiday season, Woodland Ave. School PTA held its third annual "Snack With Santa"

Ave. School P TA heat its time a much based on bec. 20th. This year not only were the children treated to Santa, juice, cookies, ice cream and presents, but also to the enter-tainment of "Dee Dee the Clown". The gleam of excitement in the childrens eyes made all the hard work more than worthwhile.

There was fear and apprehension when some of the younger children were told they could visit with Santa, but he soon eased their fears.

he soon eased their tears. Dee Dee the Clown performed magic, sang, made special balloons, and totally, absolutely, thrilled the children! It was quite a sight to see all those happy excited faces! Many thanks to all the volunteers, and to our super PTA Pres. Pat Rooney for all ber time, patients, and most of all, her love of children and Woodland Ave. School. HAPPY AND HEALTHY HOLIDAYS TO ALL

American Legion Auxiliary News

The American Legion Auxiliary of the Charles Wagner Post Unit #421, Hicksville, will hold their next meeting on Friday, Jan. 7 at 8:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, 24 E. Nicholai St. Newly elected President, Ruth Leger, will preside.

During the month of December, Child Welfare Chairman Mae Sheppard and Veteran Affairs and Rehabilitation Chairman Lillian Molinari and their committees have extended fines and restitution to vic-tims as part of the sentenc-ing procedure.

I feel most strongly that all of the Commission's recommendations should be carefully considered by the State Legislature and posi-tive action to toughen sentencing procedures be taken as quickly as possible.

I urge every resident in the Town of Oyster Bay to write to their State Senator and Assemblyman, asking what consideration of tougher sentencing laws be given priority consideration when the State Legislature recon-venes in January.
