Over 60 organizations participated.

Nassau Chapter Vietnam Veterans Open Human Resources Center

On Saturday, April 7 an Open House and program to celebrate the opening of the Nassau County Chapter Vietnam Vets of American Human Resources Center at 23A Jerusalem Avenue in Hicksville. This new Center is a joint effort of the VVA Nassau Chapter and HAD, Help Aid Direction, and its inception was made possible by a grant from Billy Joel's Foundation "Charity Begins At Home". Its purpose is to give Vietnam Veterans a place in Nassau County to meet, receive counseling and become educated to the issues that affect them. This is the first such Center for Vietnam Veterans in Nassau County.

The gala opening was well attended by elected officials, other Veterans groups officials, a large group of VFW William Grouse Chapter members and local friends and neighbors some of whom represented local organizations.

HAD Executive Director Alfred Peck McD. the program. Rabbi Mord Pomerantz, VVA Chaplin pronounced the invocation, HAD vice-president Morris Oppman extended the Welcome.

Next, Conrad Steers, President of the VVA addressed those present. He thanked all those whose tireless dedication had made this Center a reality, including Al Peck, Joe Curatolo and HAD's board of directors. He spoke of the aims of the Center...to establish a fully-staffed, fully funded Center for Vietnam Veterans in Nassau County. He pledged all the efforts of the Nassau County Chapter of the VVA towards these goals.

Next, Gaspar Falzone, Director of the Vet Center in Babylon gave a sincere and emotional speech as he explained to those present just what life in Vietnam was like to those who were sent to serve our Country in this war, as they were flown from one part of an unknown country to another equally unknown part, rarely knowing where they actually were, except when they made it back to their base camp, whose location was also known to the enemy! He spoke of the fact that our men had difficulty even identifying the enemy, as they seldom used uniforms and in appearance looked very similar to those who were on our side. Then, he spoke of what HOME meant to those of our men who survived...he said that in their minds the word home meant the world. So, it was and, in some cases, still is, a great shock to our veterans of this unpopular war, to receive no recognition or welcome home, from all those whom they were serving. He concluded with a suggestion to all, that enough staff be given to our Vietnam Vets Centers to handle the amount of work and counseling that is necessary to achieve their purposes.

Presiding Supervisor of the Town of Hempstead Thomas Gulotta spoke and pledged all the help he could give to achieve the necessary aims as did Town of Oyster Bay Councilman Douglas Hynes and Kenneth Diamond, NY State Assemblyman Fred Parola and NY State Assemblywoman Carol Berman also addressed the group and pledged their help.

Also present were Dr. Nicholas F. Salles, Director of the State of New York Division of Veterans' Affairs, Mr. James Hebron, Executive Director of the NY Vietnam Veterans Memorial Commission which is being built in Albany, Mr. Edward Murphy of the NY State Division of Veterans Affairs, and Sheila Noth, president of the Hicksville Community Council.

Mr. Joseph Curatolo, VVA Public Affairs Chairman, closed this inspiring program with an outline of its past, present and future plans.

PRESIDENT PETE MASSIELLO'S MESSAGE: The art of living lies less in eliminating our troubles than in growing with them. Bernard M. Baruch

Chronologically, of course, we surmised that spring was around the corner, but the weather itself left us with some doubt. But not anymore. So wearing our springlike mood like a crown, I like to report once again that on Saturday, the 28th of April, the Galileo Lodge presents its 12th ANNUAL LOUISE E.

MASSIELLO SCHOLARSHIP DINNER AND DANCE. And on this momentous and inspiring occasion, the Galileo Lodge will honor CARMINE (SKIP) MONTEFORTE, President from March 1982 to March 1984. Tickets are now available for a donation of $25 a person, and the ceremony will include a cocktail hour, a hot dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, unlimited liquor and dance music by the San Dee orchestra. Payment for tickets must be made on or before April 18th. Additional tickets may be purchased from members of the Committee, namely, Chairman Joe Giordano (333-4555), Co-Chairman Pete Massiello (938-4335), Joe Morace (938-5059), Rocco Lombardo (796-7284), Pete Sarandrea (796-5693), Frank Matassa (924-2843), Frank Governale (931-5234), Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052) and Robert Grimer (795-2232). As is the custom, the Galileo Lodge will present our Honoree with a Souvenir Journal.

Note: Newly-elected President Pete Massiello, in order to accord our past President Skip Monteforte the honors and homage he deserves, graciously asks the Galileo Lodge membership to attend this affair in full force so that we can deeply acknowledge the work and efforts of our past President.

A truism is that April weather brings on May flowers, and it is also true that on Saturday, the 26th of May, the Galileo Lodge will be dressed in a flowery motif of May, because that is the night when the Ladies Auxiliary present their May Dance. Tickets will sell at $12.50 per person, and in the offering will be a hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music from a leading Long Island disc jockey. Terry Gatto (433-6708) will chair this activity, ably assisted by Dolores Look (822-5520), Mary Barella (931-3960) and Rose Ricciardi (681-0966), and they are also responsible for ticket sales. Times is 8:30 to 1:30 A.M. Please note that this activity features a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy, and if you're looking for a dance with a warm-weather mood, this is it.

Proudly I report that on the 2nd of April, Robin Massiello, daughter-in-law of our newly-elected Presi-

ARMED ROBBERY

The 2nd Squad is investigating a Robbery that occurred at Plainview Florist and Gifts, 1038 Old Country Road, Plainview, at 5:10 P.M. April 5.

Two male whites entered the business and announced a robbery to the cashier. One of the subjects was armed with a large knife. They were given $350, and fled the store, leaving the cashier unharmed.

The subjects are described as two male whites, both 28-30 yrs., 5'7" one armed with a knife.

Between March 31 and April 2, General Utilities, Washington Pkwy., Hicksville, was burglarized. Entry was gained by prying open a rear window. $200 cash was reported stolen.

On April 4, a residence on Redwood Dr., Plainview, was burglarized. Entry was gained by breaking in the rear door. The loss was undetermined at the time of the report.

A residence on MacArthur Ave., Plainview was burglarized on April 4. Entry was gained by breaking in the rear door. A mink coat, a mink jacket, gold watch and two gold necklaces were reported stolen.

Carney's Auto Service, Newbridge Rd., Hicksville, was burglarized on April 6. Entry was gained by breaking a side window. Snap-On Tools were reported stolen.

with money or checks.

Perhaps partially due to the fact that some months have five weeks in them, some new members have a rather difficult time in determining the dates of the business and social meeting of the Galileo Lodge. All you have to know is that the second Thursday of the month is for business meeting and every fourth Thursday is for social meetings. Look at your calendar and check the dates of the second and fourth Thursday of that particular month, regardless of the presence of the 5th week, if any occurs.

International Games For The Disabled June 16-30

By Sup. Joseph Colby

From June 16 - 30, Nassau County will host the International Games for the Disabled. Fifteen-hundred disabled athletes from 45 countries around the world will be competing in more than twenty events that will take place at the Mitchell Park Athletic Complex in Uniondale, and at Nassau Community College, Hofstra University and the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

It is quite an honor for Nassau County to have been chosen as the site for these olympic-style competitions, which in previous years have been held in Canada and in Holland.

Along with the honor of hosting these games however, comes the responsibility of providing food and housing for the athletes, and also all of the additional services which are needed in support of this major athletic competition.

National Volunteer Week is April 22 to 28 this year, and since our communities have always been noted for their spirit of volunteerism, now is the time for volunteers to come forward and offer their assistance to the International Games for the Disabled. Hundreds of volunteers are needed to assist in every aspect of the scheduled events and in fact, volunteers will be crucial to the success of the games.

Volunteers who have ability to speak different foreign languages will be needed to act as interpreters; volunteers with medical backgrounds, from doctors and nurses to EMTs and athletic trainers are also being sought to help. Also needed are people to help with clerical and record keeping tasks, and to serve as officials at the many competitive events. Hostesses, chauffeurs and escorts are also being called for, to aid athletes and guests and visitors. There will be a need for people to volunteer for day trips, for social and recreation events and to man the telephones, and for many other jobs, too numerous to list here.

If you would be interested in volunteering your time, please contact Rhoda White, Director of Volunteers for the International Games at Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, N.Y. 11554, or call 542-4498 for further information.

Local firms will be among those exhibiting at the nearly 300-booth Third Annual New York Computer Show and Software Exposition set for April 26-29, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., at the Nassau Coliseum. The Show, open to the public at an admission cost of $7 for adults, $4 for children, and $15 for a four-day ticket for the full show, features personal, home and business computers, video games and nearly 5,000 different types of computer-related products. There will be hardware and software, including peripherals, accessories and supplies, applicable for business, industrial, professional, governmental, educational, personal and home use, on display as well. Exhibitors from the local area include the following companies:

From Jericho, C&P International, 375 North Broadway; PES, 3 Steuben Drive;

From Hicksville: Aresco, 341 W. John Street; Radio Relay Corporation, 64 Bethpage Road; and World Computer, 247 Old Country Road.

The New Computer Show and Software Exposition is aimed at both the computer owner and the potential computer user in that it provides an opportunity for comparison of the various makes of computers, computer accessories and software programs in a nonintimidating, no-obligation atmosphere.

For those who already own a computer, the Show will include thousands of different kinds of accessories, such as printers, hard disks, modems, memory cards, video displays and plug-in boards, plus publications and support services. The latest in software packages, many of which were introduced recently at the Sofcon exhibition in New Orleans, will be on display, as well as the newest in computers, Apple's Macintosh and IBM's PC Jr. and portable computers among them. These, as well as almost everything on display will be offered for sale, generally at special show prices, so that purchasers at the Show will save hundreds, even thousands, of dollars.

For further information about the New York Computer Show and Software Exposition, call or write the Show's producers, Northeast Exhibitions, 822 Boylston Street, Chestnut Hill MA 02167 - (617) 739-2000

Calling All Collectors

One in every five of us is a collector, according to market research studies, and while some collect for fun, others collect for historical—and financial—interest. "Once you start, you can't stop," says Dorothy Poble, who, with her husband John, runs the Unique Collectibles booth at the Nassau Farmers Market in Bethpage.

The thrill of collecting, says Dorothy, is "finding the missing pieces, one at a time. Then, of course, you need a house-stretcher to fit everything you find."

Several booths at the Nassau Farmers Market, in fact, offer surprises and investment opportunities for collectors.

Pat and Bob Hoehn's Plates Unlimited booth displays a wide array of limited-edition porcelain plates. These plates depict the works of artists such as Norman Rockwell, Maude Humphrey (Humphrey Bogart's mother), and Gregory Perillo, known for his portraits of American Indians.

At Gil Celli's stamp and coin booth you might pick up a rare 1795 penny—or a few things you wouldn't expect: a 6-foot mechanical shooting cowboy, Mickey Mantle lamps, antique pocket watches, New York World's Fair sterling silver, and a World War II battleship machine gun.

Several booths from Celli's

Richie Schwachrich, the "king of cards" at the Nassau Farmers Market. Schwachrich fills his booth with baseball cards and cards from other sports, and many non-sports cards, dealing basically with TV and movie themes, such as Magnum P.I. and Law & Order. Schwachrich publishes the nationally known "Current Card Prices," a monthly listing of the going rates of thousands of baseball cards from 1948 to the present.

At the Advent Leather booth, Pam Wilson offers collectors unusual boxes in belt buckles. She displays dozens of types: some handmade with brass, metal wood, or carved and painted leather; others, mass produced for limited editions in brass and occasional enamel.

Wilson observes that almost everything imaginable has been made into buckles—even computer terminals. Back at Dorothy Poble's booth, collectors can find cone-top beer cans, wooden postcards, exquisite metal purses from the 1930s, and some of today's "big items"—roll dolls, Hummel, carnival glass, and old teddy bears.

The true collector doesn't hoard his or her collection in a closet or vault, according to Dorothy. "You have to dust it and clean it," she says. "You swear like mad when you're doing it, but you wouldn't have it any other way."

"Great Sounds of Jazz"

The Hal McKusick Quartet will be the final offering in the "Great Sounds of Jazz" concert series being sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Community Services, Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division, according to Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond.

The program will be held on Sunday, April 29, at 3:00 P.M. at New York Institute of Technology's Salten Hall, Route 25-A, Westbury. For information contact CAPA at 795-4707.

McKusick is one of the most versatile musicians on the jazz circuit, playing saxophones, clarinets and flutes. "Diamond stated, "He travelled extensively with the big bands of Herman, Rich and Basie, among others, and has a long list of recordings to his credit. In addition, he has composed the scores for several motion picture short subjects and documentaries, including an award-winning film based on the life of sculptor Alexander Calder."

The other members of McKusick's Quartet include pianist West Belcamp, bassist David Jackson and drummer Ron Turso.

Aid For Viet Vets

State Senator Michael J. Tully, Jr. Chairman of the Senate Standing Committee on Veterans' Affairs, has announced that legislative leaders in Albany have agreed on adoption of legislation that would establish a three million dollar tuition aid program as part of next year's budget to assist Vietnam veterans in gaining a college education.

three years."

The second budget item requested by Senator Marino is a $25,000 appropriation to assist the Nassau County Services to Rape Victims Task Force to provide a comprehensive program of advocacy, counseling and support services to victims of sexual assault from the hospital emergency room through any subsequent court proceedings.

"The Task Force, formed in 1982, is composed of members of the Nassau County Police Sex Crimes Squad, the District Attorney's Office Sex Crimes Unit and other health and human services agencies in Nassau County," Marino said. "The Task Force also works closely with student volunteers in Adelphi University's training course for rape counselors and in its social work, psychology and nursing programs, with law students from Hofstra University and with criminal justice students from both schools."

"The goals of the new crime victim's counseling program at Adelphi and of the Rape Victims Task Force are obviously closely related. The $50,000 appropriated to help these two programs will make it possible to upgrade and expand both efforts to meet the needs of victims of serious crime in Nassau County, and I was delighted that the Legislature agreed with me on the need to provide these funds."

Marino Obtains Nassau County Crime Victim Funds

Senator Ralph J. Marino (R, Oyster Bay), chairman of the Senate Committee on Crime and Correction, said today that the 1984-85 state budget includes two $25,000 appropriations he requested to expand services to crime victims in Nassau County.

"The first budget request I made was for $25,000 needed to assist the Adelphi University School of Social Work in setting up a new program for the training of crime victim counselors," Marino continued. "In addition to training individuals, the program would also develop training materials and assist other agencies in setting up similar programs. The university eventually hopes its program will provide a forum for agencies, health care professionals and other service providers for the exchange of information and resources in their mutual effort to assist crime victims."

"This new program complements and expands the work Adelphi University is already performing successfully in its operation of a separate Rape Counselor Training Institute and is designed to become self-supporting over the next

Dear Friends....

As we look back on them, the years spent with loving family, friends and neighbors are good ones, even though of course, they have their "ups and downs". Sharing with others our joys and our sorrows, and working together so that good can be accomplished is an inspiring part of our lives.

This past week, with the changes which will be evident in our community with the passing of both Mr. Brengel, Sr. and Christine Cahalan, with the establishment of a new, Center of Human Resources for Vietnam Veterans here in Hicksville, with the closing of such a landmark as Holden's, with the Library vote, plus the usual number of meetings which some attend and some do not, is an outstanding example of our lives together. And it illustrates how very much each day means.

Those who have left us, leave us with fine memories of caring, helpful people...and those who stay make us glad that this is their decision...for whether it is a business, or a house, or a country...or even the whole world...it is meaningful without people. And it is nice to know that there are so many caring ones around here.

God bless you all.

SHEILA NOETH

At East Street School, Miss Saxon's second grade class held a Science Fair. The children applied facts they learned about electricity and magnetism to individual projects that they made. The Fair gave the children a chance to use their imaginations and at the same time, see a completed product of that imagination. They shared each other's ideas when they had an opportunity to see all the other projects made by their classmates. The young scientists demonstrated battery operated lights, games, telegraphs, traffic signals and more. They not only shared their projects with their classmates but with other classes at the school.

The children had a great time showing their projects and will remember the principles governing electricity because of this "hands on" experience.

Dear Sheila:

My letter concerns the exhibit at Hicksville public Library memorializing the engineering skills of those who built that great monstrosity, the L.I.R.R. embankment. This was considered an improvement for the future of Hicksville! The truth of the matter in question is that Hicksville residents including the late Fred Noeth, Editor of the Mid Island Herald, bitterly opposed cutting our village in half. However, our appeals were ignored. The construction went ahead as planned! Hundreds of commuters arrived after the big eyesore was in place, inundating our parking lots and spilling over into side streets in front of residences. More parking lots were constructed - and more - and more! Parking lots are still being constructed to this day and as I see by the papers, a new one is being considered, for the benefit mostly of out of town residents, by our Townfathers. For the Hicksville resident who would like to shop in his hometown there are no spaces available except on crowded Broadway where the heaviest traffic in Hicksville whizzes by. But this was only the beginning! To add insult to injury, some lame-brain in an office far away from Hicksville conceived the idea that Broadway should become the main artery between north and south. I wonder if in days to come, our Library is going to memorialize this event? Hicksville business, our friends and neighbors, were brutally disposed of on the west side of Broadway, even the Long Island National Bank had to be torn down.

Our favorite shop-owners disappeared. On the east side of Broadway a few hardy souls are still hanging on by the skin of their teeth. The westside looks like ancient Troy after the Greeks demolished it. Friends from out of town call our westside of Broadway the only town on Long Island that looks like an atom bomb had hit it.

After a short interval the exodus started from the big Metropolis west of us. The population figures in Hicksville sky-rocketed. We were told by our officials: "This will bring taxes down." Instead we had to pay more. New school buildings shot up like mushrooms all around us. Taxes went up! Whatever happened to prayers in schools? And now to add insult to injury the Moment of Silence has been wiped out. In these times of drug abuse by children, it is a travesty that the Moment of Silence has been denied to those who wish to pray. I urge every Hicksville parent to vote for the Moment of Silence when the referendum comes up in June. The next time around they'll ask us to close our churches and synagogues.

WHEN ARMY NURSES MOVE THEY TAKE THEIR SENIORITY WITH THEM.

Army nurses are officers. They never lose status by moving, as so often happens in civilian hospitals.

In fact, the Army encourages mobility and growth. You're encouraged to continue your education in clinical specialties such as Intensive Care, OR, Pediatrics, OB or Anesthesia and to attend conferences both inside and outside the Army.

If you have a BSN and are registered to practice in the US or Puerto Rico, or you're still a student, talk to an Army Nurse Recruiter. It could be a very happy move.

Federal EPA Responds To Fire Dept. Inquiry

U. S. Environmental Protection Agency Emergency Response Chief Fred N. Rubel has responded to questions raised by the Hicksville Fire Department regarding the M.E.K. chemical spill on West John St.

Mr. Rubel, in a letter to Hicksville Chief of Department Owen Magee, stated that the E.P.A. and a chemist inspected the site along with the clean-up project manager and they determined that the rusting 55 gal. drums are filled with sand and are of no danger to people or the environment.

They also noted, Chief Magee reported, that originally there were 59 drums at the site and that now there are 61. It is not known where the two extra drums came from. Rubel stated in his letter that over $100,000 has already been spent on the project and that work at the site will begin in June of this year.

To remove the M.E.K. (methyl ethyl ketone) chemical solvent from the ground. He also stated M.E.K. is not routinely removed effectively from the ground water, and a new technique had to be developed and tested to meet state Health Dept. guidelines. When the equipment is installed at the site, it will be the first of its kind.

Removal of the drums will be one of the first actions on the scene when work starts, but at this time, they do not represent an unusual hazard.

Mr. Rubel's letter was in answer to the Fire Department's Hazardous Materials Team request to check the site, and numerous other requests from elected officials and private citizens.

Steve Weinstock, Student Government Vice President, said that over 70 students have volunteered to help construct a JFK float and serve as parade marshals. "POB High also has a crew working," Weinstock noted. "Along with our marching groups, we have 150 kids in this parade." Weinstock went on to say, "If the rest of the town gets as enthusiastic, this could be the biggest event in the history of Plainview-Old Bethpage."

Both Discovery and Celebration Days are funded by a grant the students obtained from the New York State Office of Crime Prevention for POB Project Outreach. The Project has also included three anti-crime programs: neighborhood Watch, Children's Fingerprinting Project and a Senior Citizen Safety Seminar. Their central goal, Jon Neveit said, is crime prevention through community awareness. "If the parade helps people feel part of the community," he concluded, "maybe they will be more willing to help one another resist crime."

Senator Moynihan facetiously concluded his Discover Day address by reminding the audience, "Please, don't let it rain on your parade." But, on a more serious note, the Senator also congratulated the students and residents of Plainview-Old Bethpage for "choosing to be a community." The Celebration Day Parade, on April 29th, is yet another example of how they are choosing to strengthen community bonds.

The great exhibition of old-time photographs of Hicksville street scenes and the railroad elevation construction of twenty years ago now at the Hicksville Public Library is already capturing the attention of the community.

Sponsored by the Hicksville Gregory Museum Committee, and on view during the month of April, the photo show consists of 108 splendid pictures either taken, or copied by Edward Bady, the Museum's most talented photographer.

Viewers find the Library exhibition most interesting, for several reasons. Older residents are enjoying an opportunity to see over thirty large pictures of the Hicksville street and railroad crossing views of the years 1942-1954 and the same scenes in 1984. For railroad enthusiasts and students of photographic technique, Ed Bady's 58 large pictures of the Long Island Railroad elevation construction of 1962-64 are reason enough to visit the exhibition.

The exhibition has as its title "Hicksville Railroad Crossing Vistas 1942-1984" and was prepared by Gregory Museum Historian Richard Evers.

The Hicksville Library Community Room is open Monday to Friday 10-9, Saturday 10-5 and Sunday 7-5.

National Library Week Celebration

In celebration of National Library Week, April 8th thru April 14th, the Children's Room of the Hicksville Public Library will present a very special puppet show.

The "Elfin Puppet Parade" will perform a musical comedy show in the auditorium of the Library on Saturday, April 14th at 2 p.m.

The program is free and all are invited to this performance which promises to be very entertaining. At the conclusion of the show the winners of our annual jelly bean bowl contest will be announced.

At The Hicksville Library

The Hicksville Public Library will feature two displays in their cases during the month of April.

The Lobby Case will contain Miniatures created by Pat Stein. Mrs. Stein has had exhibits at the Hicksville Library before and they are always a delight for any age.

The Fiction Room Case will feature Easter Crafts by Kay Sarli. Miss Sarli has worked for the library for many years doing much of the Art work for them throughout her career.

Also for the month of April, in the Community Room of the library, on loan from the Hicksville Gregory Museum, there will be an exhibit of photographs by Edward Bady. The pictures depict Hicksville Railroad Crossing Vistas from 1934 to the present.

The exhibits in the two cases can be seen during regular library hours. The Community Room, where the photographs will be hung, is open from 10:00 am - 5:00 pm daily and Saturday and 1:00 pm - 5:00 pm Sunday.

Pat Stein, expert on collecting and making Miniatures, will speak about Miniatures and demonstrate how to make a miniature cradle. Materials will be provided. This program will be presented on Friday, April 13th, at 8:00 pm in the Community Room of the library.

Sunday, April 15th at 2:00 pm, the Hicksville Public Library will show a film entitled, "Judaism, The Chosen People," in the Community Room of the library.

This film is from the "Long Search" series by BBC-TV. Host, Ronald Eyre examines what it is that makes a Jew a Jew. Others offer definitions. In Jerusalem, the question is discussed at Religious Schools, Synagogues, the Walling Wall, the Museum at Vad Vashem and during a Sabbath evening meal.

This film is in color and lasts one hour. Everyone is invited.

The Hicksville Public Library will present another legal lecture on Thursday, April 19th at 8:00 pm in the Community Room of the library. John Marks, Esq. will speak about BUYING AND SELLING A HOUSE. Mr. Marks is able to present his informative and interesting lecture through the courtesy of the Nassau County Bar Association. There will be time for questions and answers. Everyone is invited.

Something To Think About

BILL WAGNER — DIRECTOR

BREAKING NEWS TO A CHILD

It is important that a youngster be informed IMMEDIATELY of the death of a loved one. If possible, he should be told by a parent or someone close to him, in a familiar setting such as the home. A delay in informing the child only increases the likelihood that he will learn of the death under less than ideal circumstances.

The need to break the sad news expeditiously does not mean that it should be done with any less gentleness or sensitivity. One experienced professional suggests that the adult begin with a discussion of nature, of the flowering and fruiting of plants, of their fading away in the fall and winter. Emphasis should be on the beauty of life rather than on the morbidity of death.

Even honest explanations should be free of terrible and terrying details. A child can identify too closely with a story of accident or illness and may begin to fear for his own life.

Concern on how to answer or what to say to a child can be eased with a booklet we have available to anyone who desires: it called "Answering a Child's Questions About Death."

The Changing Face Of Hicksville An "Institution" Closes

By Sheila Noeth

This is the story of the Holdens and their Stationery Store, which Harold (Hap) and Pat Holden have operated since 1947.

To begin at the beginning both Pat and Hap Holden were born in Hicksville. The Holden family moved to McKinley Ave. (where Reinhardt Park was formerly located), in Hicksville in 1922. Pat's father, Charles Stolz was a builder in this area. Her mother was a member of the Darling family of Northport. The Braun family are also relatives. Cousins Ed, John and Win Braun had a butcher shop as did Tom Braun. Pat's grandfather, Henry E. Stolz, was one of the founders of the Bank of Hicksville.

Reminiscing about growing up in Hicksville, both the Holdens remember the happy school days when, in the winter, the young people went ice skating on a pond in the Burrell Estate, now known as the Meadowbrook Country Club. The young people who skated there years ago called the place Leaches after the Burrell's caretaker, who was kind enough to allow the skaters this winter privilege.

In 1941 and 1944, the Holdens completed high school. After Hap came back from serving our country in WW II, he decided many important matters.

1.) to become engaged to Pat.
2.) to buy a business of his own (he was determined not to work for anyone after taking orders in the Army for several years)

So, in 1947, he bought the original Holden's Stationery, which was located at 115 Broadway and boasted a soda fountain as well as school supplies, tobacco products and other needs of the residents and farmers who came in from the outlying areas.

Then, in 1948, they were married and Pat and Hap started on their long career. Eventually, Hap was considered as the unofficial "mayor" of Hicksville. Everyone met at Holden's, be they residents, farmers, business people, or local politicians. They all made Holden's one of their special stops not only to purchase supplies but to chat with other friends and neighbors, and especially with Hap and Pat, whose knowledge of and opinions about local matters, was respected by all. Through the years, the place became an "institution" to many and an important part of the hamlet of Hicksville.

In 1952, they moved the store across the street to 100 Broadway, which was known as the Huettner building. Then, in 1962, prior to the tragic widening of Broadway by New York State, they moved to their present location at 79 Broadway, where they conducted their business until March 23, 1984, exactly 37 years and 2 days from their opening day on March 25, 1947!

During those years the Holdens raised their two daughters. First, Patricia, who is now Mrs. Robert Giannelli, the Giannelli's reside with their four children in Huntington.

Their second daughter, Virginia, is presently practicing law in Chicago, after having graduated from Sweet Briar College and DePaul Law School.

Hap has always been active in Kiwanis, in the VFW William Gouse Post, in BPOE 1931 and in the Hicksville High School Alumni Association. These are interests which, of course, he intends to continue.

Looking Back

We asked the Holdens about some of the memories of Hicksville through the years. Several thoughts stand out in their minds:

- When downtown Hicksville really was a "downtown" with many fine stores on both sides of the unwidened Broadway.
- When Friday night was a family shopping night and a powerful Men in the history of The American Legion ... And notable was the fact that Maury Stember acknowledged this fact to me maybe some 45 years later, and he never failed to ask for Henry whenever he came to Charles Wagner Post... Henry was indeed our "elder statesman" and his opinions were always sought on a variety of Post and Legion matters, and in this area, he will be sorely missed. ... His almost continuous presence on LEGION HALL, INC. was a very steady influence in its role as overseer of Post property and his chairmanship of the Post LIFE COMMITTEE was another plus in a long list of pluses... Henry served Charles Wagner Post on two occasions as our Post Commander but few realize that Henry also was a past

Third Division Commander (which is a Nassau County American Legion Vice Commander)... Henry and his beloved Anna were almost sure to be on hand for any Post affair or obligation and our main meeting hall was dedicated to them some years ago, and rightfully so... I know I have lost a Comrade Legionnaire, and a friend who cannot be readily replaced, if ever... Farewell, Henry, the Post will sorely miss you.

And if you don't want to miss the bus for ATLANTIC CITY on May 20th you had better pick up your phone and call LOU CESTA at SU 5-6583 and make your reservations as 2/3 of the seats on the 2 buses are spoken for... "get a haircut" time, when the farmers, and later on, the early Levittown residents, came in and shopped from store to store in downtown Hicksville. If they ran out of money before their purchases were complete, no credit cards were needed. The merchants knew all their customers, and would say, "bring it in next week." They always did. In those days, the stores kept open until 10 or even 11 p.m. if necessary. Now, before 7 p.m., downtown Hicksville is deserted.

They remember when Levittown was first built, around 1948. In those days, before the Levittown business area was developed, the Holdens sold 2,500 papers on a Sunday! Gradually, when Levittown Village Green shops were built, and Levittown's own business area on Hempstead Tpke. came into existence, this changed.

Then, the next major disasterous change came about in the 60's when the Railroad tracks were elevated and subsequently Broadway was widened by New York State. The stores on the west side of Broadway, had to be taken down - leaving the present gigantic mud puddles on small individually owned pieces of property, so difficult to develop, plus the G-1 Zone which was imposed by the Town of Oyster Bay to prevent small buildings in this downtown "triangle." This has proven unsuccessful for over 13 years for various reasons. Along with other community leaders, Hap Holden was an active member of a committee formed by the Town of Oyster Bay to study the possible development of downtown Hicksville. They came up with a plan which is still on file at the Hicksville Library. It includes many excellent suggestions. However, through the years, this plan remained only a plan due to rising interest rates, and an inflated economy, making it next to impossible for developers to proceed, especially under the restrictions of the G-1 Zone which, although it seemed agreeable in the late 60's did not prove possible to implement through the years.

Looking Ahead

Hap maintains an interest in what to do about this continuing problem, as he is interested in all matters that affect Hicksville. For the Holdens, although they have closed their store, are not moving from Hicksville... that's the good news.

We asked them what they plan to do, and they said, "all we know for sure at the moment is that we are going to enjoy doing nothing this summer and that we are going to continue to live in Hicksville."

The Holdens concluded by saying how much they have

ASSEMBLY LINE

Around the country—in fact, all over the world—we're hearing more about factory-built houses. This method offers certain economies over on-site construction. Of course, there is an element of custom design and individuality in factory-built homes, especially in the upper reaches of the price range, but many people are taken aback at the concept of hundreds of identical "prefabs" rolling off the assembly line.

We believe that every home is unique. Even if your house has the same floor plan as your neighbor's, you've made it different. Perhaps you've added a room or refinished the kitchen. Or you've maintained it differently. At any rate, by the time you're ready to sell, your home is uniquely yours. It will appeal to a buyer who takes in the whole "package"—the basic house, your maintenance, and your improvements—and determines that the property is right for his or her needs. The marketing plan for your home must be unique, too. It should take into account the property's special features and strengths, and should be targeted to the most likely prospects.

No assembly line for us. You'll get custom treatment when you list at

Legionnaires' Log

By Artie Rutz
CHARLES WAGNER POST #2421
HICKSVILLE N.Y.

Last week I featured the good news that Henry Brengel was home recuperating from surgery and this was predicated on my conversation with Henry on Tuesday morning via the telephone from bedside....Henry was in good spirits and informed me that he was looking forward to going home on Thursday and I accordingly wrote my 'good news' on the strength of this conversation with Henry....You could have howled me over with a marble when I received the news of Henry's demise on Thursday evening... Services were conducted for Henry on last Sunday evening with 29 Legionnaires and 12 Auxiliary members being present at Wagner's

Funeral Home....Americanism Officer RICHARD EVERS delivered an excellent eulogy citing Henry's longtime service to the American Legion and his very many community commitments and services....I, for one, and there are lots of others, will miss Henry for one reason or another....But, for me, he was the last link of the glory days and times of the original, spontaneous, inventive and creative AMERICAN LEGION of the 'doughboy fame'....It was HIS Legion that set the tone for the greatest strides ever made in the area of veterans' benefits....It was HIS American Legion that became one of the most respected names on the American scene....It was HIS American Legion that hosted those wonderfully wild and joyous annual conventions by the national organization that youngsters like me watched in awe at their parades and antics.... It was Henry's Post that during the early years of the depression, and a very lean treasury, that a charge of 5¢ was made to members for bottles of soda that was donated to the Post....It was Henry's Post that had almost no basement until dug out by Henry's men rather than being sent home with only a half day's pay.... Henry was a fount of local information but I always enjoyed his tales regarding the growth and strength of The American Legion in Nassau County....He always pointed out, with pride, that it was Hicksville's votes that sent Mr. American Legion, Maurice Stember, on his way to being one of the most Holy Trinity Episcopal Church prays the blessing of God upon the members of Hicksville and neighboring communities as the Passover is celebrated and the Christian Holy Week and Easter is commemorated. The ability to live meaningfully in the present finds its energy not only in commemorating the rich events of the past, but also focusing on those hopes promised through worship. Members of the community are invited to join in the worship services at Holy Trinity Church from Palm Sunday through Holy Week and Easter Day. The Church is open daily for prayer and meditation for all persons. On Palm Sunday there will be the distribution of Palms. During Holy Week special ceremonies on Wednesday evening, Maundy Thursday and Good Friday are especially moving and meaningful. The early morning service on Easter Day is an exciting adventure in worship recalling the great movement of the Israelites from Egypt to the land of promise, culminating in the great Alleluia Eucharist.

The Sunday of the Passion - Palm Sunday, April 15, 1984. Join the multitudes as they sing Hosanna to the Lord Jesus as He enters Jerusalem. Watch as the events of the Great and Holy Week are unfolded before you.

This Sunday, Palm Sunday at the 9:45 and 11:15 AM services of Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 W. Nicholas Street, Hicksville, the Ministry of Music will incorporate the music of David H. Williams together with drama by the Reverend Ronald W. Wickey, featuring soloist Thomas Stallone as Jesus in On The Passion Of Christ, a choral cantata resplendent of the last three events in Jesus' earthly life:

the Last Supper; Betrayal; and Crucifixion. Michael Busch will portray Judas, with other soloists to include

Trinity Lutheran Holy Week Services

Virginia Porter and John Hoefling.

The congregation will gather in Trinity's gymnasium and reenact the great processional into the city of Jerusalem. Once in church the events of this Passion Sunday will unfold before the participants in this most moving service of worship.

Maundy Thursday - April 19, 7:45 PM. Join us by participating in a meal of love, first instituted by Christ on the Thursday before his betrayal and crucifixion. Experience what the disciples received in the upper room, "A Wholesome Taste of Love."

Good Friday - April 20, 7:00 PM. The last seven words which Jesus spoke from the cross have meaning for us in our daily lives. Come during this meditative service and receive nourishment from Christ's Words. The service is held from noon-3 PM. You may enter and leave quietly throughout the service.

Memorial Service, 7:45 PM. On Calvary God's ultimate love for us was displayed through his son. This service reflects our sorrow over the events Christ suffered for us and fills us with the joyful gift of his self-sacrificing love.

Holy Saturday - Easter Vigil, April 21, 7:30 PM. Begun hundreds of years ago in the early church, our Easter Vigil begins in Trinity's gymnasium with a procession leading outside to a bonfire at the entrance of the church. This "lighting of the fire" symbolizes the Holy Spirit's work in our lives.

The service proceeds into the church for a Baptismal Rededication and culminates with a Communion Service.

Easter Sunday - April 20, 6:30, 8:15, 9:45, 11:15 AM. Christ Lives! He won the gift of eternal life for us! Celebrate his victory! Chorus, handbells, and a brass quartet will enhance our praise during these festival services on Easter Sunday.

Come and shout Hosanna! Come and hear and see the events of this Great and Holy Week! Trinity is located between Broadway and Jerusalem Avenue, at 40 W. Nicholas Street in Hicksville.
