More Cons Than Pros At 5 - Acre Zone Hearing

After a lengthy hearing on April 24, the Town Board reserved decision on its own motion for a change of zone from A & B-A Residence Districts to AA Residence Districts for approximately 398 acres bounded on the south by Jericho Tpke., on the east by Cedar Swamp Road (Route

Jericho 1 pke., on the east by Cedar Swamp Road(Route 107) and on the north and west by the State University of New York, Old Westbury Campus in Jericho. Although the report from the State Legislative Commis-sion on Water Resource Needs on Long Island, recom-mended this five-acre zone, no one from this Commission was present at the hearing, although they had been invited to represent at the hearing. participate.

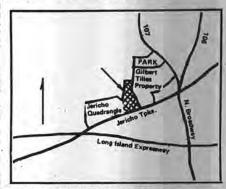

participate. Don Larkin, regional supervisor for regulatory affairs for the State of New York Dept of Environmental Conservation (DEC) spoke in favor of this five-acte zoning plan. Charles Merdler, representing the Tilles Organization opposed this plan. Tilles owns about 80 acres of this property. Russell Slayback, representing a hydro-geological firm, a consultant retained by the Tilles Organization, presented scientific information that pointed to the fact that the fiveacre zone would not be the answer to protecting the ground water. He said basically, sewers and good drainage would keep the groundwater free of contaminents. He cited a report that the main contaminators of wells are industrial developments and one-family residences, not cluster zoning or apartments. This was based on the fact that both industrial plants and one-family homes produce more individual

Merdler said we should be concerned about the ground-water, but that the five-acre zone is not the answer. He advised the Town Board to keep the industrial and commer-cial users to a minimum, to clean up contamination at its is that ways to ston future pollution.

source and in that way to stop future pollution. Letters From Civics Letters from the West Birchwood Civic Association, the Birchwood Civic Association and the Oakwood/Princeton Park Civic Association, were received. All opposed the fiveacre zone and recommended residential development.

Further Testimony Mr. Slayback also presented a report by August Guererra, a chemist, who made the point that there is no significant change in the impact on the ground water supply between Property zoned for five acres or for one acre. Mr. Merdler said that the State Legislative Commission on Water Resource Needs on Long Island, who did the report recommending the proposed five-acre zone, "did not sufficiently substantiate their findings." He concluded that the five-acre zone, if imposed would be illegal because it would be "exclusionary." He said it was also singling out the Tilles property to solve the water needs of the Town. He pointed out that the Town had already granted Foxwood Associates the right to build cluster hous-ing over the aquifer and he felt that the cown two linter-pret this action as a "singling out" of Tilles. Gorge Farrel, attorney for the Meadowbrook Hunt Club opposed the five-acre zoning. He felt that the Town had given too much credence to the Commission's report Supervisor Joseph Colby agreed with him on this, inasmuch as the Commission had not even sent a representative to the

Dear Friends.....

For the first time in many, many years a Career Explora-tion Day will take place on Wednesday, May 2, between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. at Hicksville High School.

Many representatives of industry, the arts and professions will be on hand to meet with students, answer questions and explore their individual career plans.

Community members who wish to participate may do so by contacting Mrs. Selma Notov at the High School, 733-2166.

All best wishes for a successful Parade and ceremonies to the Plainview-Old Bethpage organizations and residents who are planning a big "Community Awareness Parade" this Sunday, April 29th, starting at 1 o'clock. Details in the this Sunday. April 29th, starting at 1 o ciock. Details in the news story on page one. Even if you don't live in Plainview, if you enjoy a parade, you will want to join the spectators of this one... For the word is out that many bands, floats and marchers are scheduled to participate. So, come on down!

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well, and remember the old saying: "Never bay never". SHEILA NOETH

R ating America's busiest railroad took time out from its hectic took time out from its nectic morning routine, Tuesday, April 24, to celebrate its 150th Birthday in proper style. Capturing a little of the hoopla and pageantry that marked the joining of the Transcontinential line at the Transcontinental lines at Promontory Point, Utah. in 1869, the Long Island Rail-road cleared the tracks for a special train from Flatbush loaded with celebrants bound for the Garden City Hotel and a Sesquicentennial Banquet.

nial Banquet. The Railroad did not have dignitaries "driving a golden spike". nor was there a bar car to match the Union Pacific's free flowing cham-pagne on that other cross-tie blast, when the U.S. was spanned with steel rails, but there was fun enough to mark the 150th anniversary there was fun enough to mark the 150th anniversary of the chartering of the Long Island Railroad.

Those lucky folks with invitations gathered at the Flatbush, Brooklyn Termi-nal for a train decorated and manned for the occasion by a costumed engineer and gents in Jacksonian garb reminiscent of such early Long Island promotors as Valentine Hicks and John Lawrence. A proper session of news and television photographers and reporters put the day's top celebrities, Railroad President Robin Wilson, State Commis-sioner of Transportation James L. LaRocca and Robert R. Kiley, Chairman of the Metropolitan Trans-portation Authority and the costumed gentlemen under the camera lights. The 11:05 sounded its horn right on time and departed so punctually that State Senator Carol Ber-man, arriving a half minute late, ended up waving good-bye to the sleek caboose.

With tracks cleared to Jamaica, the Sesquicenten-Jamaica, the Sesquicenten-nial Train and its railroad leaders, politicians, news-men, railroad enthusiasts such as Ron Ziel and histo-rian Vincent F. Seyfried, business leaders, top educa-tors and local historians made one of the all-time fast rung. The shades of the first runs. The shades of the first Long Island tiny locomo-tives, the Ariel and Ploughboy must have sat on spur tracks in envy as Engineer Daniel S. Boyle let his train horn sound a salute to the most heavily traveled rail-road in the world.

Jamaica put more cele-brants aboard and it was off to Garden City. At A.T. Stewart's lovely "cathedral town" there was a fitting welcome to the train and its welcofne to the train and its passengers who were slated for a banquet in the Garden City Hotel. The Old Beth-page Brass Band was there with its 19th century march steps and the Garden City High School Chorale Group rendered the old favorite. "I've Been Workin' On the Railroad". Ray Heatherton was the Official Greeter and Master of Ceremony for the Garden City welcome and Garden City welcome and Hotel banquet. There were local ladies in 19th century dress and even a fine looking costumed Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln from the Garden City Historical Association. Proudly standing at attention, ready to lead a procession over to the handsome new Garden City Hotel were the men of a Marine Corps Color Party, Marine Corps Color Party, Notable among the greeting party was Episcopal Bishop Jonathan Sherman whose invocation during the com-ing banquet eloquently recalled Long Island's debt recalled Long Island's debt to all who envisioned, built, operated, maintained what is a most significant railroad of splendid historic service.

of splendid historic service. Music was a fine part of the Sequicentennial Ban-quet. Clem DeRosa's Orchestra were there as well as the Old Bethpage Brass Band, the young ladies of the Choral Group. An amus-ing, tuneful musical celebra-tion of 150 years of Ameri-can railroading, highlighting the outstanding achieve-ments of the Long Island Railroad's growth was created for the occasion by musicologist Winston Clark and sung by the quintet of Theatic Three in Port Jefferson. Jefferson Robin H.H. Wilson, the current railroad President spoke briefly, pledging con-tinued efforts toward progress and closely aptly with Robert Frost's words "for 1 have promises to keep and miles to go before I sleep." Fittingly, Historian Emeritus Vincent F. Seyfried of the Long Island Railroad elosed the cordial, memorable day with a brief summar-ization of things the public too often does not know about the railroad whose steel rails stretch to the sun-rise. "The Long Island Railroad was the first line to introduce 'piggy-back' car-rying of farm produce wag-ons in the 19th century; the first railroad to electrify its lines, in 1905; the first to employ all-steel cars, in 1905; the first railroad to carry one hundred million passengers, in 1925, and the first, or a most early user of Diesel fuel in its locomotives.

Think About BILL WAGNER DIRECTOR-SPEAKING OF DEATH TO A CHILD Many people make up fictions to explain the death of a lowed one to a child. These commonly refer to a journey, c long sleep, a sickness and has-pitalization. The hope is that the child will be spared suffering, that gradually his memory of the person will fade and the youngster will come to accept the absence as the norm. diate, and this does much to damage trust between child and parent. Child and parent. H's better to speak of death directly. The child may understand this bet-ter than one imagines. Yet even if his understanding is incomplete, it is better than the full understand-ing of a fairy tale.

Hicksville's Lacrosse date with Oceanside, this Saturday at noon, will be televised live over Long Island Sports Chan-nel. The game will be played on the Uniondale field. The Orange opened the season with nine straight victories but buckled under to Freeport 7-5.

A mid-week assignment at Farmingdale was scheduled to eccede the Oceanside game. Plainview District authorities have made an evaluation of the re-alignment of Nassau Football in an unequal power point seeding system and has withdrawn.

The courageous decision protects Plainview players from unequal competition with overall degrading point values. The team will play independent football seeking oppo-nents in Westchester according to Athletic Director Louis Flego. The move was made to protect players against being overmatched. Plainview with 1293 enrollment was carded to play against Oceanside 1701 students, Baldwin 1771 and Hicksville 1536.

Hicksville 1536. School Superintendents and Principals have remained mute while abdicated responsibilities for safe and fair com-petition to the Executive Director of Section VIII and the ruling clique of powerful football coaches. Many fans are astonished by a rating system that can keep an undefeated team out of the playoffs because the point values, in the lower seeds are degradingly low.

Top seeds get 9.8 wins for victories over each other while a schedule calling for play-against 10, 11, 12, 13 or 14 seed teams will be worth only 4, to 2 points. The question is raised on just how a coach can face his players in opening practice when he has stood still for their being rated inferior? Point raines is now spreading to Neseru Scholaria Point ratings is now spreading to Nassau Scholastic Rasketball.

Conferences based on three year won and lost records has been proposed.

This one presents even great danger for students and players calling for long cross country trips on winter nights. The bracket in which Hicksville falls is: AMERICAN LEAGUE Conference 1 (To be subdivided)

In Memoriam By Richard Evers

In the passing of Henry Brengel, Sr. and Christine Cahalen, these last two weeks, Hicksville has lost two community leaders whose service to the education and development of our children has had good and long lasting effects. Christine will be remembered fondly for the effer-vescence of her manner, her dauntless character and tireless energy. She exempified the PTA volunteer, with years of service to children and teachers, following through the organizational as her children proceeded through our schools.

I knew her, first, from my years of teaching at the Junior High. Later, it was a stimulating experience to work with her in the four years of Hicksville's out-standing and ongoing Bicentennial commemorations. Experienced in organizational work, devoted to our children and community, Christine brought vigor and constructive ideas to our planning, with a constant merry ebullience.

Aside from her many contributions to Hicksville PTA units and its Council, Christine gave years of her free time to the Hicksville Community Council and to that significant sports achieve-ments of Hicksville, the fostering of our young peoples' strong participation in soccer playing. Her devo-tion to the ongoing success of the Hicksville American Soccer Club was marvelous to see. All who knew Christine, closely or, as with this writer, through mutual community service, knew, or sensed her indefatigable, dauntless nature. God rest and keep her cheery, honest spirit.

Mr. Brengel's chief legacy to Hicksville was the four or five elementary and the two secondary schools the School Board under his Presidency built, renovated and enlarged or planned, in an amazing educational tour force, to meet the emergency of the population influx of the early Fifties. Employing the demographic projections of the Columbia University authority Dr. Felix McCormick and associates, Henry Brengel and his school board wisely located the new schools and led this conservative construction of the schools. Hicksville is among those few rapidly expanded post-war com-munities which have retained its school system intact, thanks to the sage choice of school sites, thirty years ago. But Mr. Brengel's interest in the village's children was not limited to the notable achievements in the Fifties He was a School Board member for 23 years (1932-1955). As a two-time Commander of the American Legion's Charles Wagner Post, he gave continued support to his post's Child Welfare and Youth Pro-grams for the last 25 years, supporting the Legion's School Awards, Boys State participation, Oratorical Competitions and Citizenship Awards for new Eagle Scouts. Henry enjoyed the commemorative anniver-sary programs at our schools these last years. He particularly savored last year's visit to Woodland Avenue School where he fielded the questions fourth grade children asked him about Old-time Hicksville, "when you were a boy."

LODGE TIDBITS: The Galileo Lodge has gra-ciously contributed once again to the March of Dimes program and to the St. Ignatius Ad Journal, which is in keeping with its policy of good will to all in the comgood will to all in the com-munity... On May 20th, the Galileo will present its first fishing trip out of Captree basin, and all members desirous of attending can con-tact Jim Posillico and John Keiper at 931-9351. The fee Keiper at 931-9351. The fee is $20 per person... Very sorry to report that John Keiper's wife was recently hospitalized and we sin-cerely wish her a speedy rec-overy... The Galileo Lodge will be the scene of a dart tournament in June and our ex-President Skip Monte-forte is responsible for this activity being a part of the Galileo Lodge's recreational scene... We also wish Joe lanotti a speedy recovery from his recent illness... Members who are interested in our next Goll outing should check the Galileo Lodge's bulletin board for more information about this activity or call Bert Moli-nelli, the Chairman, at 931-9351... Joe Crivella was recently appointed Chair-man of our March of Dimes program ... All members interested in the coming Tel-ethon should contact either Mary or Skip Monteforte for more details, and this activity occurs in June..., Very happy to report that Pat Gatto is at home recovering nicely after a recent hospital stay... Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lo Presti will soon be leaving for Europe, enjoying another vacation stay as they happily tour some more of the European countries... Very happy to report that our ex-President Skip Montelorte is running for a posi-tion on the Grand Lodge level, which I believe, is connected with Grand Arbitra-tion... Many who visit the Galileo Lodge are in awe as they view the wonderful renovation work associated with our basement recrea-tional area, and the members of the Galileo Lodge who worked so cease lessly and untiringly should be dearly commended. A lirst rate job, as the 'oh's and indicate... And the Ahs' recent contribution from the Ladies Auxiliary to the Galileo Lodge was quite a stag-gering sum, which is testim-ony to the diligence, loyalty and cooperation of these hard-working ladies, whose tasks are also tremendous.

Augie Barone pre-sented a check to the Long Island National Cemetery Memorial Organization to modify and -relocate the Carillon. 'Representative' of the Long: Nat. Cemetery were there to accept the check for $1,125.00. Our Comdr. Dept. of N.Y. Ralph Demarco Nassau Caponer perpresentative of the Town of Oyster Bay. Our Dept. Cmdr. Ralph Demarco said a few words about veterans benefit. He about veterans benefit. He would like to see at least one bill pass before his year is up, possibly more nursing homes for the aged Veterans from WWII. He also mentioned that political leaders in Albany do not recite the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. They claim it takes too long! Does the public know that all the Veterans Groups and Fraternal Organiza-tions in the Hicksville Area put out the Flag on B'way on all the traditional holidays? Our Monument chairman Edward Kleniewski reported to the membership about our monument at the Hicksville Jr. High School on Jer-usalem Ave. and Fourth St. There is too much vandal-ism. They write on the monument, leave soda cans and beer bottles around the area. We as Veterans Group are very concerned about the War Monument. We would like to see all the bushes and shrubbery cut down and grass growing and light to shine on the monument. Speedy recovery to the Comrades and Sisters and their families who have been hospitalized or ill during the month. P.P.C. Joe Nor-mandy is home recovering. Congratulations to P.P.C. Carmine Somma and his wife Rose on their 28th Wedding Anniversary, also P.P.C. Connie Steers and his wife Cherieon their 13th Wedding Anniversary and Gail & Cliff on their 9th Wedding Anniversary Wedding Anniversary.
