What Happened at the School Board Meeting

The Hicksville Board of Education held an unusually brief meeting on Wednesday evening taking action on a number of items. The textbooks Changing Views and Meeting Challenges were approved for use in grades 7 and 8 at the Junior High, based on the recommendations of JHS principal Gerald Klein, Language Arts chair Susan Woll, teachers Gwendolyn Schaff, Patricia Wagner, and Charles Davidson and district Director of Instruction Gerard Dempsey. The Board also approved the use of the services of Wright Risk Management, Inc. as Administrative Claims Service Agents, to represent the district in worker compensation cases during the 1984-85 school year. The Board also authorized the extension of the food services contract with Educational Food Management Services, Inc.

The program at Dutch Lane, and Rita Faulkner was appointed account clerk in the Business Office, Douglas Clamp, Richard Herb, Elwood Adkins, and Stanley Heistolski were appointed Head Custodians replacing transferred and retired personnel.

The next item on the action section of the agenda was the approval of the recommendations of the Committee on the Handicapped generated at the meetings of May 23, May 30, and June 6.

During the Superintendent's Report, Dr. Fenton noted that district staff members were involved in an in-service course in writing skills learning new methods to be implemented during the coming year. The goal of the training program is to instill and maintain an enthusiasm for writing from the earliest grades throughout a student's school years. Curriculum writing is also in progress in 12 subject areas. A three-day workshop for administrators will be scheduled for the end of August to address issues for the coming year. A particular subject of discussion will be projections and plans for the educational program in Hicksville during the next five years in terms of facilities use and program structure.

Two policies were presented to the Board for information. One deals with the establishment of petty cash funds and mechanisms for monitoring those funds. The second policy was the proposed revision of INDA, replacing the moment of silent meditation in the opening exercises at the beginning of the school day. These policies will be reintroduced for hearing at a later meeting. Policies regarding gifts to the schools and the community use of school facilities were presented for hearing. These policies will be presented for adoption at the next meeting.

The next regular meeting of the Board is scheduled for July 18 at 8:15pm in the Conference Room of the Administration Building. The reorganization meeting of the Board was held on Tuesday, July 3.

Miss Wessell Entertains Guests From Holland

Four Fulbright scholars from Holland visited Hicksville on June 28 to do some sightseeing on Long Island as guests of Runhild Wessell, organizer and president of the Greater New York Chapter of the Fulbright Alumni Association and retired Hicksville High School teacher. The visitors had a tour first of the Work Release Facility in East Meadow, where Miss Wessell has been a volunteer tutor for the past nine years, then a guided tour of the Cradle of Aviation Museum in Garden City, followed by lunch at her home and a visit to the Theodore Roosevelt House in Oyster Bay. Assisting with the activities were two American Fulbrighters, Dr. Thomas Gardner of Baruch College in Manhattan and Robert Baker, a retired German teacher from Levittown, and also a retired Hicksville Social Studies teacher, Robert Sklarz. All took part in animated discussions of American life and history.

A total of 39 scholars from Western Europe and Turkey are spending a few days in New York City before flying out to the University of Minnesota on July 4 for a summer seminar in American Studies. A reception was held at Pace University in Manhattan on July 2 for the entire group.

hosted by the New York Fulbrighters and a program specialist from the United States Information Agency.

The problem of issues facing secondary schools today was addressed by two speakers: Dr. Bruce Vogeli, Professor of Mathematics and Science at Teachers College, Columbia, and Sylvia Ballatt, Executive Director of the Division of High Schools, New York Board of Education. A lively question and discussion period followed. During refreshments New York Chapter Fulbrighters mingled with the guests in a social hour. The affair began at 4:30 p.m. and lasted until 8:00. Guests and hosts were reluctant to leave as a profitable and enjoyable exchange of ideas occurred.

Mr. Harry Peltz from the law firm of McKee, Dorris and Peltz was installed as President of the Hicksville Rotary Club for the Rotary International year of 1984-1985 in ceremonies held at the Linden Tree restaurant last Thursday. Named as Vice President was Mr. Bernard R. Schiel of the Upjohn Company. Additional officers selected was Chiropractor Peter Rocco as Secretary and CPA Leo Sugarman as Treasurer. The new club Board of Directors will be Milton Weinberg, Harry Smith, Edward Terriaca, Russell Marciano and Joseph DePaola.

The performance will be conducted by Laszlo Halasz and will be fully staged, in costume with scenery and orchestra comprised of members of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

Patricia Craig, a native of Long Island and graduate of Ithaca College, will appear as Cio-Cio-San. The role of Pinkerton will be sung by Enrico Di Giuseppe, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera since 1970 and of the New York City Opera since 1965. James Dietsch will perform as Sharpless, Carol Weiss as Suzuki and Anthony Stivanello will be the stage director.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

PRESIDENT PETE MASSIELLO'S MESSAGE: 'Very busy people always find time for everything; people with immense leisure find time for nothing.' Old Saying

THE SOUNDS OF SUMMER! Oh, yes, we hear them all around us — the jingle of the ice cream truck, the youthful laughter emanating from parks and amusement areas, the cadenced-rhythms of marching bands at concerts, the 'a-splishing' and 'a-splashing' at pools and beaches, the rollicking music of the carousels, and, of course, we might even add the sounds that are part and parcel of the Galileo Lodge's activities. The 'oohs and aahs' on the golf course and those associated with the ones that got away on the fishing trips, the delightful vocal pleasantries of those attending our picnic and the hearty 'guffaws' that reverberate during the presentation of the Italian Football Wedding Dance.

Now as for our Italian Football Wedding Dance, which will be held on Saturday, August 25th and under the 'chairmanship' of Armand Del Cioppo and ably assisted by co-Chairman Joe Giordano, Frank Matassa and Joe Morace, we might add here that as part of the proceedings, a simulated version of the old-fashioned Italian weddings will take place, and which is not only nostalgic but quite humorous as well. Tickets sell at $12.50 per person and in the offering will be an Italian dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and some pleasant dance music for your listening and dancing pleasure. So for a bit of the past intertwined with the present, why not put this activity on your 'must attend list'.

Getting back to sounds, like the sounds of music, sounds of laughter and the sounds of applause — well, add these together and you come up with the basic structure of the 1984 'Foolies Follies', to be held under the supervision of Sue Laurenti (931-0036) and ably assisted by Claire Fuoco (334-5329), at the Galileo Lodge on Friday, the 9th of November. Because of the time and preparations that the 'Foolies Follies' needs, rehearsals will take place every Tuesday night, from 8 to 10 P.M., but exclude Tuesday June 10th and then include every Tuesday night up to actual presentation time, or unless notified of a change here. The 'Foolies Follies', as probably most enthusiasts know by now, utilizes the talents of the male and female members of the Galileo Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary, and whether those talents are professional or otherwise, is irrelevant.

Although I have nothing definite here, there are plans being readied for a Cruise to Nowhere by the Galileo Lodge. Of course a venture such as this depends on the receptiveness and enthusiasm of those who are really interested, and it could never get off the ground unless some reaction is shown. From the smattering of information I have, it is a one-night affair, with food, music, good fun and pleasant times — and naturally it has all the characteristics of a regular cruise, only this one is shorter. That it is delightful, pleasurable, entertaining needs no verification here. Hopefully, in my next column I will have more information and details as to price, accommodations, food and the general program involved, and it will come from Jim Posillico, who might supervise this activity if it materializes. Your interest will make it possible and if this is your kind of activity, why not call Jim at 931-9351.

LODGE TIDBITS: Nice to report that Armand Del Cioppo, who does such a

Let State D.E.C. Decide Environmental Issues On Town's Resource Recovery Plant

In a recent article by Assemblyman Lewis Yevoli appearing in the Pennysaver, an accusation was made that the June edition of the Town of Oyster Bay News provided false and misleading information to Town residents. Mr. Yevoli then offered a series of items that he labeled as "facts" concerning his opposition to the implementation of a waste-to-energy resource recovery system.

Certainly the Town of Oyster Bay can respond to each of Mr. Yevoli's "facts." But, obviously, media exchanges are not the way to bring about a true and impartial examination of the pros and cons of the Town proposal to close its Old Bethpage landfill by implementing a waste-to-energy resource recovery system at the site of the Town's current incinerator buildings at Old Bethpage.

Under State Law, such an examination is required to be conducted by the State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC). The Town supports this procedure which was established by the State Legislature. All pertinent, factual information SHOULD be publicly presented and thoroughly examined by the environmental and engineering experts at the State DEC.

Far from considering this a partisan political issue, the Town believes that an environmentally sound and economically feasible manner for the disposal of solid waste, is a serious and immediate concern not only to Town residents, but to all of Long Island's residents and the Island's individual municipalities.

The legislation that was blocked in committee due to Mr. Yevoli's action does not approve the resource recovery plant nor the proposed site of the plant in Old Bethpage. It merely grants authority needed to finance the plant with funds obtained solely from the private corporation's equity, disposal fees that will be charged at the plant and revenue from the sale of electricity that the plant will produce.

Under State law the examination of all aspects of the proposed project and the environmental appropriateness of the proposed location is a matter that must be decided only by the State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) after a fair, public hearing of all the facts. By seeking to block the financing authority Mr. Yevoli is attempting to block the possible use of the Old Bethpage site without benefit of the hearings and State Department of Environmental Conservation determination on the environmental soundness of the proposal and its site.

The Town newsletter indicated that, due to the Assemblyman's actions, a Town request to temporarily extend use of its landfill, until the Resource Recovery plant is on line, may be in jeopardy and therefore, the Town may be forced to ship our residents' refuse off Long Island at a cost equal to double the amount of revenue raised by the General Town Tax.

In Mr. Yevoli's article he claims that the fate of the Town request for the landfill extension has "absolutely nothing to do with the Town's Waste-to-Energy Plant."

The irony of his argument is that he also is one of the co-sponsors of the State law banning landfills in the deep recharge area after 1990.

A reading of the law clearly indicates that the fate of the Town's request for a temporary extension of its landfill is directly related to the planned resource recovery facility, which Mr. Yevoli is attempting to block.

Under this law the following rule applies to extending a landfill that is in the deep flow recharge area (quoting directly from the law):

"...the Commissioner (of the Department of Environmental Conservation) after conducting a public hearing, may approve a limited expansion of any existing landfill in a deep flow recharge area for the sole purpose of providing solid waste disposal capacity prior to the implementation of a resource recovery system. The Commissioner shall not approve any such expansion unless he finds that the owner of such a landfill is a municipality that is implementing a resource recovery system which is acceptable to the Commissioner and which will be operational no later than seven years after the effective date of this section..."

By blocking the technical finance-related legislation, Mr. Yevoli is well aware that he is blocking the current plans of the Town to implement resource recovery. Yet, Mr. Yevoli states that the Town plans requesting a temporary extension "have absolutely nothing to do with the Town's Waste-to-Energy plant."

From the reading of the law it would appear that it was not the Town newsletter that provided information to Town residents that was "false and misleading."

Unless the Town can demonstrate to the State that it can implement a resource recovery system despite Mr. Yevoli's blocking the finance legislation, it would appear that the State landfill ban does not permit the State to even consider the Town request for a temporary extension of its landfill. Without the temporary extension, the Town will be out of landfill space by the end of this year and possibly earlier. That could mean that the Town would be forced to ship our residents' refuse off Long Island—as the Town of Hempstead is doing—at a tremendous cost to our residents, or developing a different method to finance the system, which would require tax dollars to pay for the entire cost. This second option has always existed, but the Town considers it much less preferable than the current proposal which provides for the private corporation to invest its money ($30 million) and build, own and operate the plant, thereby making the private contractor responsible for problems. Mr. Yevoli's blocking the legislation which would permit the plant to be financed in this manner, may force the Town to consider building, owning and operating the plant itself, a much more costly concept to finance and one which would make the plant a general obligation of the Town and its taxpayers.

In the remainder of the article by Mr. Yevoli, he attempts to raise questions about the soundness of the Town's proposed resource recovery plant and the site location. The Town believes these questions are appropriate in the forum that State law requires—public hearings before the State Department of Environmental Conservation.

Apparently in an effort to show that his opposition is based on something other than the fact that the proposed site for the plant is near his home, Mr. Yevoli brings up disposal problems that occurred more than a decade ago, including the alleged illegal dumping of "contaminated" waste that records indicate took place while Mr. Yevoli was a member of the Oyster Bay Town Board and an Executive Assistant to the late Town Supervisor Michael N. Petito.

In referring to such dumpings, Mr. Yevoli writes that "the Town has permitted countless industries to dispose of contaminated waste" at Old Bethpage. Despite the fact that Mr. Yevoli was serving as an Assistant to Supervisor Petito and sat on the Town Board during the time of this alleged illegal dumping, and in fairness to them and all others who were on the Town Board at that time, it is doubtful that he or any other Town officials would have been aware of the alleged dumping much less actually permitted it.

However, if Mr. Yevoli's arguments against the plant are based on evidence that there is something wrong with the project or the site, then let his evidence be presented at a full and fair hearing on the proposal as required by law, rather than publishing opposing viewpoints in a Pennysaver. The State legislature passed a law requiring that a thorough examination of all the facts presented by all sides be undertaken by the State Department of Environmental Conservation at a public hearing.

The Town is willing to let the State Department of Environmental Conservation make the final determination on all of the aspects of the Town's proposal, as it has the right and obligation to do under the State law. If Mr. Yevoli has factual information that would support his opposition to the Town's proposal, he, as a State Legislator, should also be willing to follow the lawful procedure that was adopted by the State Legislature by permitting a thorough examination of all the facts at a public hearing.

Summer Programs For Tobay Residents To Begin July 9

The Dom Musicaro Orchestra, the Massapequa Philharmonic Orchestra and The Kingsmen will highlight the first week of summer programs in the parks for Oyster Bay Town residents, according to Town Supervisor Joseph Colby.

The Dom Musicaro Orchestra will kick off the summer of musical happenings under the stars on Monday, July 9, at Ellsworth Allen Town Park, Heisser Lane, Farmingdale, with a program of hits from the past and present. The program, which will begin at 8:15 P.M., will be held at Howitt Junior High School, Van Cott Avenue, in the event of rain.

"The Dom Musicaro Orchestra comprises sixteen musicians, some of whom played with the big bands of Tex Beneke, Louis Prima, Sonny Durham and Sammy Kaye," Colby stated. "With music spanning the years from 1926 to the present, the group is a popular attraction at New York City hotels and local resorts."

Highlights for this performance will include

"There Will Never Be Another You," "Who's Sorry Now," "Yellow Days," "Mack the Knife" and "Don't Get Around Much Anymore."

On Tuesday, July 10, John J. Burns Park, Merrick Road, Massapequa, will take on the air of Broadway as the Massapequa Philharmonic Orchestra presents a program entitled "Broadway Highlights" beginning at 8:15 P.M. Colby noted that in the event of rain, the program will be held in the Massapequa High School, Merrick Road.

"Composed of professional and amateur musicians, the Massapequa Philharmonic performed its premier concert in November, 1983, receiving acclaim from audience and critics alike for an all Beethoven program," Colby said. "With Bartolomeo Ferrara as musical director and conductor, the group plans to present three to four concerts each season featuring outstanding young artists as guest soloists."

For this performance, selections will include "Deep in My Heart" from The Student Prince and medleys from My Fair Lady, The Sound of Music and Rogers and Hammerstein.

Rounding out the week will be a concert by the Kingsmen on Friday, July 13, at Tappen Beach in Glenwood Landing. The performance, which is scheduled for 8:15 P.M., will be held in the Glenwood Landing School, Cody Avenue, in the event of rain.

"The music of The Kingsmen harks back to the big band sound of the 30s and 40s," Colby stated. "For this program, the group has put together a collection of perennial favorites including 'Dancing Queen to Check,' 'Marie,' 'You've Got Me Crying Again,' 'Got a Date with an Angel' and 'Muskrat Ramble.'"

The summer programs in the parks are being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services. Colby noted that these three programs are receiving support from the New York State Council on the Arts.

Frankie Lane At Eisenhower Park

That "Moonlight Gambler" and "Mule Train" man, Frankie Lane, holder of gold records, will make a special appearance at Eisenhower Park's Lakeside Theatre Friday, July 20, at 8 p.m.

The show is presented by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks and sponsored by radio station WHLI.

Commissioner Abram C. Williams noted that Frankie Lane is a distinctive song stylist who has been popular for three decades. William added that Mr. Lane is still a tremendous drawing power in constant demand for top nightclub dates and his appearance will be a truly special night.

Frankie Lane's 20 gold records include "Mule Train," "Moonlight Gambler," "Jezebel," "That's My Desire," "I Believe," and "Jealousy." He is also readily identified with these songs from westerns such as "High Noon," "Gunfight at the OK Corral," and the theme from the popular old T.V. show "Rawhide." These songs made him a natural selection to sing the theme from Mel Brooks' raucous western spoof "Blazing Saddles." The show will also feature the Joe Sugar Band and the Vic D'Amore Dance Troupe.

The Master of Ceremonies for the evening will be the popular Dean Anthony, WHLI's premiere DJ.

Commissioner Williams

advised theatregoers to bring chairs or blankets since there are no formal seating arrangements at Lakeside, which is located adjacent to parking field #6. If weather is doubtful, call 542-4585 for verification of performance.

German-American Night

German-American Night, a joyous evening of music, song and dance, will fill the grassy hollow with delighted listeners at Eisenhower Park's Harry Chapin Lakeside Theatre, Monday, July 9 beginning at 8 p.m. The rain date is July 10 for the free program.

The entertainment is presented by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks through a grant from European American Bank and with the cooperation of the Nassau County Steuben Parade Committee.

Nassau Recreation and Park Commissioner Abram C. Williams said that among the featured performers would be the Foehner and Amrumer Dance Group, a Bavarian style, native costumed, all-women aggregation; the wonderfully talented and merry Pilsner Brass Band; the United Singers of Suffolk County; the Original Enzian Dance Group doing the crown-pleasing "Schuhplattler" knee-slapping dances and the Blue Junga Singers, specializing in sea shanties and accompanied by Phil and Karman Dehner.

Also performing will be the Brooklyn Schuetzen Corps Color Guard in the opening flag parade. Master of Ceremonies for the evening will be Casper Scheiper. An added attraction will be the crowning of the Cornflower Queen who will reign at the annual Steuben Day parade in Manhattan.

Since there are no formal seating arrangements at Lakeside, theatregoers are advised to bring chairs or blankets. The closest parking fields are 6 and 6A. In case of inclement weather, call 542-4585 for verification of performance.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Congratulations to Christopher Kershow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kershow of Hicksville who recently received his Eagle Scout Award, plus a special Town of Oyster Bay citation in recognition of this achievement...best wishes for continued success to Charles S. Schnepfer of Lindenhurst who has been appointed to General Manager of the Nassau Farmers Market, one of the country's oldest and largest indoor farmers markets, built in 1954 by Jerry Spiegel and owned and operated by Spiegel Associates of Hicksville. Mr. Schnepfer said that one of his priorities at the Market is to coordinate its renovation and upgrading. This is now taking place and scheduled to be completed by this fall.

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and remember the saying, "If you are not part of the solution then you are part of the problem...so, don't throw litter around your own, or any other community."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sheila:
A sincere and heartfelt THANK YOU to all my friends and readers of THE HERALD for the many cards and phone calls wishing me a speedy recovery after my recent stay in the hospital.

Your concern and support were the best medicine I could get.

Iris Widder

Dear Editor:
What's Happened to Cantiague Park?

In many years as a Hicksville resident, I have often enjoyed the excellent facilities at the Nassau County Cantiague Park on West John Street. Until recently, a person could go over to Cantiague on a summer evening, without fear, to enjoy the golf range, or a ball game, or the kids who practice their music on the mall.

Recently, however, conditions at Cantiague Park have degenerated seriously. The parking lot near the golf range is filled every evening with seedy-looking teenagers who seem hell-bent on disrupting the former orderliness of our public park. Screeching the tires of their loud vehicles, and blasting their radios, they assemble to drink their beer (a blatant violation of county rules) and engage in behavior which would be censored out of an "R" rated movie. The filthy language they scream at everyone would embarrass a sailor and I have actually seen at least one instance of the harassment - no, terrorizing of a woman who was chaperoning the bugle corps kids after their rehearsal. On top of all this, these creeps also discharge firecrackers and pyrotechnic fireworks right over the heads of the tax-paying, law-abiding residents who have come to relax a bit at "their" local park. Unlicensed pyrotechnics are against the law in New York (and most other states).

Can't anything be done? Must we relinquish the last vestiges of decent living to these mindless, directionless, destructive morons? I only hope that our Nassau Police and Parks Security Departments will act before the decent people give up and abandon Cantiague Park exclusively to the thugs who abuse it.

New Image Performs At International Games

Having already been chosen to highlight the massive tickertape parade for the American hostages returning from Iran in 1981, and the official lighting of the flame for the XXIII Olympiad torch relay across the U.S. to Los Angeles, The New Image Drum & Bugle Corps of Hicksville also opened the ceremonies at the third edition of the International Games for the Disabled at Mitchel Field, Long Island, on June 17. The Games, which take place the same year and in the same country as the able-bodied Olympics, are to provide an arena for blind, amputee, cerebral palsy and les autres athletes from around the world to compete for honors in track and field, swimming, weightlifting, table tennis, archery, wrestling, gymnastics, and several other categories. The opening ceremonies on June 17 hosted 1,800 athletes from 48 countries, and were officiated by President Ronald Reagan, New York Governor Mario Cuomo, Senator Alphonse D'Amato, Nassau County Executive Francis Purcell, and Actress Cathy Lee Crosby.

Working closely with representatives from the Nassau County Parks Department for Special Events and the White House Advance Site Team, New Image Director Don Grazioplene finalized the arrangements for the corps participation, which were understandably still being modified and fine-tuned as late as the day of the event. "It was a monstrous task for the organizers of the games to put this thing together, especially when it became evident that the President would indeed attend" said Grazioplene. "We had to remain flexible the whole time. Things changed by the hour as we got close to show time, but the Secret Service and the White House Staff had to impose their special considerations, and we all tried to make everyone's job as easy as possible".

New Image took the field at approximately 2:25 pm. As Drum Majors Diane Guadagno, and Justine Wieman called the corps to readiness, the last of the more than 14,000 spectators were still filing into the stands at the newly completed stadium, which is flanked by the Veterans Memorial Coliseum, between Hofstra University and Nassau Community College. The corps performance included the theme from "The Omen ... The Final Conflict", a trilogy of selections from "The Empire Strikes Back", a jazzy rendition of "Blues For Blue" and a rousing, patriotic flag presentation to the chilling strains of "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Overall, the Opening Ceremonies went extremely well, and the New Image performance was well received by the crowd. The arrival of the President also made it a memorable occasion for all.

Judges have made selections for the 1984 VFW Albinus A. Hanlon Scholarship Award. Seen above are the winners William Barone and Patricia Anne Chepak with the judges, Sig Widder, Carole Wolf and Ruth Aaron. Presentation was made at the June meeting of the Wm. M. Grouse, Jr. Post 3211. Bill Bennett was chairman of the Scholarship Committee.

Let's Hear It For The Boys!

On Sunday, June 24, the Hicksville Cosmos, a sixth division traveling team, went on to win the Chase Soccer Cup by a score of 3-1. It was a major upset of the tournament. The team was predicted to be knocked out of the tournament in the third round when they played a fourth division team. However, the Cosmos beat them 4-2, and advanced another round!

They played all fourth divisions teams up to the final game.

Then came the test to see what kind of a team the Cosmos were. Going into the final game with a regular season record of 9 wins and 1 loss, it would be a challenge. The team they were playing was the Baldwin Marauders, a fourth division team with a record of 8 wins and 2 losses. Both teams had come up in first place in each of their own divisions, and this would be a close game. Baldwin was predicted to demolish the Cosmos. However, everybody had faith in the Cosmos. All kinds of people came to the game to cheer them on. Friends, Family, Teachers from school, and even Lou the barber from Blackbeards!

The game stayed at 0-0 till the end of the first half when Jon Lesser came through with a blistering shot to put the Cosmos ahead 1-0. At the start of the second half Baldwin came on strong. They wanted to tie it up! However, the Cosmos Goalie, Brad Amster, came through with amazing saves left and right!!! Then Ian Landsman had a quick break down the center and scored, putting the Cosmos ahead 2-0.

Down by two goals, Baldwin did not give up. They came back with a quick goal, and a chance for them to tie it up. They had a penalty shot. (Which 9 out of every 10 is a goal.) It looked like Baldwin would tie it up, but goalie Brad Amster came through again with a super save. The fans were on their feet. Time was running out, and anything could happen. Then Mark Rosenthal scored and that was the clincher. The Hicksville Cosmos had won the Chase Cup by a score of 3-1!!!!!!

Hicksville American Soccer Club

Hicksville Devils Boys Under 8

Coached by Domenic Costanzo

This past weekend June 23rd and 24th, the Hicksville Devils travelled to New Jersey to participate in a tournament hosted by the Neptune Soccer Club.

The weather was perfect and so were the Devils in their first game against the team from Neptune. Aggressive play and excellent passing resulted in a 6 to 0 win on goals by Jordan Taub 2, David Ackerman, Michael Cohen, Joseph Ferraro and Howard Katz. Saturdays, second game against Farmingdale New Jersey proved to be a tougher one. The score at half time was 0 to 0 but then the midfield line of Michael Adelstein, Michael Kelly, John Costanzo and Christopher Matz took over. Making crisp passes to the forwards and outbusting the opponent to the ball resulted in a 3 to 0 win for the Devils. Sunday's opponent was the soccer team from Jackson, New Jersey. With both teams qualifying for the playoffs already, each coach switched his players around to different positions and the game resulted in a 1 to 1 tie with Bradley Mandel scoring the Hicksville goal.

Sunday afternoons final game opponent for the Championship was again the very tough team from Jackson. The first half started with tough and physical play by Jackson which resulted in a goal for them. Minutes before the half ended a goal by David Ackerman assist by Benjamin Fish notted the score at 1 to 1.

DEVOTIONS

By The Rev. Dr. John H. Krahn

LOVING UNCONDITIONALLY

Unlike Gibrán's, The Prophet, and other lyrical works dealing with love, the Lord does not speak with his head in the clouds but rather with his feet firmly planted on an earth filled with conflict and hatred. In the holiness code of Leviticus, God says that those who consider themselves among his children are not to take revenge on one another and are not to bear any grudges. I am sure that some of us have felt vengeful in the last week. Perhaps we have even sought to hurt or discredit someone who first hurt us. The feeling of wanting to even the score is what God is speaking against. Perhaps some of us are bearing a grudge as a result of some offense we suffered at the hands of someone else. Grudges are the result of an unforgiving spirit. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus speaks against the emotion of hate. Rather than hurting back those who hurt us, Jesus tells us to pray for them.

Right about now we may be thinking, "But this is not the natural order of things." Correct! It is not normal to love an enemy. It is unnatural not to hit back. Grudges are natural reactions to offenses. Does God expect us to be abnormal or unnatural? He sure does. For you see, Jesus makes it clear that the ways of God are not the ways of the world...they haven't been since the fall of Adam and won't be again until He returns. God calls upon us to be different, and as we invite Jesus' powerful presence into our daily relationships, we can be different.

We believe and celebrate that Jesus was different. He was a sinless man among sinful men. While men hold on so tightly to life, he was willing to give his up. The customary behavior of crucified men was not to pray for the forgiveness of those who subjected them to crucifixion. Coming back to life again after being in the tomb for three days was definitely not the natural order of things. An infinite God becoming a finite man, this is perhaps the most unusual, if not unnatural, happening of all.

The Bible tells us that we are to love unconditionally—as we have been loved unconditionally by Jesus Christ. To love because we have first been loved. To forgive, having been forgiven ourselves. Most of our lives we have been taught to love conditionally. We have often had to earn or deserve love before we could have it. Conditions have been placed on giving and receiving love. Biblical love is simply accepting another person completely and unconditionally, as God accepted us.

Recently, when one of our Sunday School envelopes that was put in the collection was opened, there was no money in it. Nevertheless, the child who placed it in the collection plate made perhaps the most God-pleasing offering of anyone present that day. In the envelope was a small slip of paper. On it two crosses were drawn, the symbol of God's unconditional love. These words were also written on the paper, "Please forgive me, I have nothing to give but love." To have Christian love, unconditional love, is not to have nothing but to have everything. If it is almost the most important thing we can give to someone else.

Ordained A Catholic Priest

The Most Rev. John R. McGann, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Rockville Centre, ordained the Rev. Mr. Brian J. McNamara at Catholic priest on Friday, June 29 at St. Ignatius Loyola Church, Hicksville.

Ecumenical Consultation Center Conducts New Program

The Ecumenical Consultation Center, 30 Grand Avenue, Hicksville, a non-profit counseling center established eleven years ago by the churches of Hicksville, Plainview and Bethpage, recently conducted a new program for some of the professional leaders of the community.

This program, a workshop for the clergy on the topic of Adolescent Suicide, was motivated by the staff's concern with the growing problem of adolescent depression and suicide. Depression is manifested overtly in feelings and communications reflecting hopelessness and despondency, tension, apathy, social withdrawal and talk of suicide, but also more subtly often underlies poor school performance, self destructive and negative behavior, abuse of alcohol and drugs, or accident proneness. Recognizing that clergy are often the first professionals that a family may contact when they are worried about a family member, the Ecumenical Consultation Center staff felt that a conference in which clergy could be offered an opportunity to gain new insight into a complex problem, as well as a chance to voice their questions and concerns, would be most timely and welcome.

The workshop, co-sponsored by the Nassau-Suffolk District, Metropolitan New York Synod, Lutheran Church in America, had as its keynote speaker, Dr. Herbert J. Levowitz. Dr. Levowitz, formerly the director of the adolescent day hospital at Long Island Jewish Hospital, is now a Clinical Assistant Professor of Child Psychiatry at SUNY, Stony Brook, Supervisor of Fellows in Child Psychiatry at Long Island Jewish Hospital, and serves as Psychiatric Consultant to Community House in Glen Cove, an adolescent day treatment program for substance abusers.

At the symposium held at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church on June 8, Dr. Levowitz presented an overview of the developmental tasks of adolescence, the etiology of depressive symptomatology, indicators of suicidal danger that clergy should be alert to, as well as more helpful modes of intervention that could be utilized as clergy minister to the families worried about a depressed teenager. Dr. Levowitz also presented some reflections on the problem of depression as it emanated from a changing social milieu in which a capitalistic work ethic had as its goal the accumulation of capital and material rewards, often with little sense of social responsibility; the influence of a technological society which implicitly states that the cost effective way of doing things is the best; as well as a society in which family structure has become fragile or broken down, causing individuals to feel alone and isolated. After the presentation, clergy were invited to share their questions and concerns together and a fellowship luncheon followed.

The Ecumenical Consultation Center staff, under the leadership of Rev. Dr. Theodore S. Grant, plan other programs for the professional and lay people of the community on topics of current concern in the fall. As a non-profit social service agency, the ECC offers moderate cost counseling to individuals, couples and families of all age groups, provided by only licensed or certified professionals. There is no waiting list. In the past, the ECC has had educational effectiveness training, for caregivers of aging relatives and for parents of leukemia victims. Staff members have worked with church confirmation groups and conducted programs for schools on topics of interest. Anyone desiring service or consultation is advised to call the Ecumenical Consultation Center at 935-4437.

Something To Think About

BILL WAGNER DIRECTOR

WHAT IS INTESTACY?

Intestacy is the result of failing to leave a VALID will. This failure may deprive your family of many benefits which would have been otherwise possible. For instance, the estate will not be distributed according to your wishes, but under the state laws of intestacy. Likewise, instead of the estate being handled by an executor of your choice, it will be done by an administrator appointed by the court.

How can you avoid intestacy? You not only have to leave a will, but it must be valid enough to meet the test of court approval. For example, a will that was perfectly sound when it was drawn may, at any time, become invalid in part or in whole - as the result of changes in law or family relations. Intestacy may also result from the accidental disappearance of a will. However, the most common cause of intestacy, apart from outright failure to make any will at all, is the "home-made" will drawn without the advice of an attorney. So careful planning is as always very important.

CLIPS & COMMENTS

By Rog Allen

Some 335 additional luxury apartments will be available for rental between now and Fall 1985, according to realty developer Harry Johansen, speaking recently to the Downtown L.I. Forum. The two Hempstead apartment buildings at 590 and 600 Fulton Ave., built nearly 20 years ago as luxury units, went through a cycle of welfare housing and two years of use by local college students. They will now be completely renovated and restored to their original condition to rent at competitive rates with 1- and 2-year leases. His firm expects to do a similar transformation later to a nearby 350-unit building, and he told the breakfast group that they are close to closing with a major office tenant that would enable them to break ground for the first of their proposed multi-building complex designed to turn Franklin Street into a Rockefeller Center type development.

Bruce Wood Hall, chairman of the former Hempstead Bank, and Hempstead-bred attorney Jon Santemma, former president of the Nassau County Bar Association, are now involved in governing the communities where they now live. They were both reelected village trustees recently without opposition. Hall in Mutton-ton and Santemma in Laurel Hollow.

On The Campus

William E. Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jones, Sr. of Madison St., WESTBURY, has been elected treasurer of the Skidmore College Government Association (CGA).

James M. Powderly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Powderly Sr. of Potter Ave., MERRICK, has received a B.S. degree in business administration from Bucknell University.

We understand that former Hempstead Village Trustee and Village Clerk-Treasurer Andy Pitre, who has been living on the North Fork for several years, is considering a move to the Sun Belt in search of drier air.

Richard A. Drachtman, M.D., son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Drachtman of Berry Ct., WEST HEMPSTEAD, has received a Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School. He will begin residency this summer in Pediatrics at North Shore University Hospital, Manhasset.

Carolyn Rusielewicz of Benefit St., NORTH MERRICK, has received a B.S. in speech pathology and audiology from SUNY Geneseo.

Recent media accounts of proposals to build public rest rooms in NYC's small parks reminded us of a similar proposal for Hempstead's Denton Green made by then Trustee Tom MacLaughlin back in the late '30s. Even then, it was turned down because of high maintenance costs and fear of attracting undesirables.

Bernadette Monroe, daughter of Doris Monroe, Pennsylvania Ave., HEMPSTEAD, and Queenester Pettaway, daughter of Genora Pettaway, Evans Ave., HEMPSTEAD, have received degrees from Alfred University.

Jill Guido of WEST HEMPSTEAD, has been named to the Dean's List at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.

Volunteers Staff "Unique Boutique"

"We marvel at their energy and resourcefulness," says Social Services Commissioner Joseph A. D'Elia in recognition of the volunteer activities of Social Services Volunteers. Specifically, Commissioner D'Elia stressed the remarkable activities of the "Unique Boutique", a special project operated by the Volunteers to raise funds to help public assistance families with special needs.

A Hicksville resident, who has been a Social Services Volunteer for more than nine years, has played a significant role in the success of the project. Muriel Farley contributed more than 300 hours of service last year.

Volunteers raised more than $4,000 in 1983 through monthly sales of gift items. They pool their varied talents and enterprise and serve as buying agents, donation solicitors, display artists, accountants, and advertising experts to the Boutique.

The first Tuesday of every month -- Boutique Day in the Social Services Administration building -- is a busy time.

The volunteers gather the merchandise they have purchased, solicited, or created, and spend several hours pricing the items and setting up display on tables at the entrance to the public cafeteria which is located in the basement of the Social Services Administration Building in Mineola.

After a day of selling, they take inventory and pack everything away into a cabinet and closet until the next month. In between sales days, they meet to evaluate their sales, to seek new sources of merchandise and to play their advertising campaigns.

During 1983, the Volunteers were able to help 25 families with needs for cribs, beds, carriages and other furniture and some transportation needs. Some money from the fund was set aside to provide nearly 100 families with extra food for holiday dinners. The volunteers spent $1,700 for food certificates and over $1,000 for furniture and other special needs.

"The Unique Boutique" was praised by Commissioner D'Elia as breaking new ground for a volunteer organization associated with a public social services Department. "It has filled a real need," he said, "enabling staff to provide more effective help to families experiencing difficult times."

SALES SMILES. Nassau County Social Services Commissioner Joseph A. D'Elia, right, admires Boutique items offered by Muriel Farley of Hicksville, a volunteer who assists in the operation of the Unique Boutique, a special project which raises money for special needs of families known to the Social Services Department.

Honored By Lu Hi

James Dhyne, Assistant Principal and Junior High School Guidance Counselor at Long Island Lutheran Junior/Senior High School, Brookville, was honored by the Lutheran High School Association of Nassau and Suffolk Counties at graduation ceremonies on June 23rd, when the Association's Executive Director, Richard L. Rath, presented him with the Randy Abbe medal and accompanying cash gift.

This award is presented annually to four people who have quietly and consistently gone about their work, exemplifying Christ's love and care for others as their response to God's love for them. It memorializes the life of Randy Abbe, a young man who was preparing for the Lutheran ministry when he was stricken with cancer and died at age 24. His example of Christian love and courage prompted the anonymous donor to honor others who demonstrate similar principles in their daily lives.

along with daughter Nicole in Hicksville, where they attend Trinity Lutheran Church.

Other recipients of the award were The Rev. Victor Rapp, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in New Hyde Park; Barbara Zoller, veteran classroom teacher at Grace Lutheran School in Malverne; and Marie (Mrs. Henry) Steier, junior and senior high school teacher at Suffolk Lutheran School, St. James.

penny directing the defense with outstanding plays from Stephen Butkow and Jeffrey Quiroz and a super performance in goal by Howard Katz stopped numerous Jackson goal scoring opportunities. With only minutes remaining in the game before it goes into overtime, David Ackerman stormed through the Jackson team and scored the goal which gave the Devils first place.

Congratulations to Dominic Costanzo and the entire team for a super effort in representing the Hicksville American Soccer Club.
