North Broadway Hicksville.

Hicksville fire fighters responded to the 11:51 AM alarm under Chief of Department Owen Magee.

Upon arrival the chief was informed by workers that informed by workers that the chemical - sodium hydroxide - reacted with other substances in a trash dumpster in the truck tun-nel under the mall. The workers applied water, thinking it was fire. A larger reaction resulted in a huge cloud of toxic vapors.

Realizing that soon the toxic vapors would rise into the mall Chief Magee requested county police officers to evacuate the mall. To slow down the rate of entry of the vapors into the mall all rubbish chutes and stairways leading to the tun-nel were covered and sealed as best as possible with salas best as possible with sal-vage covers. Two Hicksville ladder companies assisted by ladder companies from Jericho and Bethpage car-ried out the order which allowed police to evacuate the shoppers safely. The Plainview F.D. stood by for Hicksville during the inci-dent. The Syosset F.D. provided a unit to recharge air cylinders and the East Meadow F.D. sent a Haz Mat

Haz Mat team members removed the drum from the dumpster and packed it in a recovery drum. The burning material in the dumpster was covered with Speedi-Dry and then sand provided Dry and then sand provided by the Town of Oyster Bay was put on top. The Nassau County Fire Marshalls Office, County Health Dept, N.Y.S. Dept. of Environ-mental Conservation also on the scene made provi-sions to have the chemical transported to a waste dis-posal site. All areas affected were cleaned up. The mall was re-opened at 3:14 PM Hicksville Chief Magee commended the Police Department for the swift orderly evacuation of the mall, a most difficult job, Councilman Tom Clark assisted at the scene with Town Services Chief Magfown Services. Chief Mag-gee also commended all line fighters on the scene. The entire operation lasted little over 3 hours. Switt action by Fire and Police personnel prevented many injuries. In all 5 people were injuried all minor.

Appeal #84519 was the erection of an office building on the west side of Broadway; a one story building with underground parking.

All speakers addressing this issue were in favor and all tetters received were also in letters received were also in favor. One resident stated "We are very pleased. Hopefully this will be the rebirth of downtown Hicksville."

Appeal #84520 was to permit reduction of offstreet parking spaces on the premises of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthordox Church at 20 Field Ave., Hicksville. The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church had over 80 persons in attendance at this meeting. They were brought to the meeting by hired, school buses.

During a brief presentation by the attorney for the Church, the reason for the request for the reduction in parking was given. The Church would like to erect a Community Center and Community Center and School with a width of 143', depth of 108' and height of 32', with a basement. An architect's drawing of the plans were presented.

Several points were made by those for the plans and those against. The Church has a membership of 520 families from many different communities. Some of the communities the Church serves are: Bayville, Syosset, Huntington, Wantagh, Lynbrook, Hicksville.

Dear Friends...

He Does His Homework
In what has been described as a banner year for Nassau County Republicans, one dramatic result was the 80 percent vote amassed by Assembly Fred Parola (R_CC Wantagh) in his reelection bid to the New York State Assembly. Parola set a county record in a contested election with this percentage he received with Republican and Conservative

Parola also received the highest percentage of the vote in any race throughout the state. (excluding New York City) Exit polling indicated that the legislator received not only the overwhelming majority of the vote from the parties who nominated him, but also carried a majority of both Democratic and Independent registered voters.

Parola stated that he believed the victory reflected a recognition on the part of his constituency for the emphasis he places on the interests of his area and it's people above.

Letters To The Editor Dear Sheila Noeth:

We are looking for people are concerned today's youth, and believe that our children are our greatest natural resource. e are concerned with lack of respect, discipline, the use of drugs and alcohol. We are concerned with negative media coverage of today's

We are the parents of eight children, five of whom are in a local drum corps.
Right here in Nassau County there is a fine youth County there is a line youth organization. They are the World Famous Drum Corps, "The New Image", formally known as the St. Ignatius Girls of Hicksville. They have a dedicated director, Don Graziose, a magnificent drill instructor, Carman Cluna, who has spent 25 years of his life devoted to serve 3,000-4,000 youths. He has taught positive re-enforcement, self-worth, a sense of value to enrich these children's lives, This Drum Corps has won both National and International titles. They were selected of all other drum corps to Welcome the Hostages from Iran; they were selected to play in N.Y.C. Lighting of the Torch for the 1984 Olympics. They were at Mitchel Field and performed when President Reagan arrived at the 1984 Special Olympics. They have played for the N.Y. Islanders and even played at Disney World. Last year the drum corps underwent a monumental change, an enormous undertaking. They went from an all girl drum corps to a co-ed drum corps. Our World Famous Drum Corp is financially exhausted. We fear this wonderful 25 year old youth activity will no longer be here to serve our youth. NEW IMAGE is a proud youth group, too proud to ask for help. Instead of letting them die proud, we would like them to live on knowing anyone who has heard their music, or watched them drill and perform in all their glory; that they have touched our hearts, inspired our community and made us proud of Hicksville and our community.

We believe that your paper, because of your slogan will help us as parents save this worthwhile youth group.

FOR THE GOOD THAT NEEDS ASSISTANCE FOR THE BAD THAT NEEDS RESISTANCE OR THE FUTURE IN THE DISTANCE

AND THE GOOD THAT WE CAN DO If you accept this for publication in your paper, you will have made a Very Happy New Year and a dream come true to 80 deserving youth.

Sincerely, Andy and Ginny Koehler

If you would like to contribute or help sponsor the New Image in any way, ease write to: NEW IMAGE

I'm very puzzled as to why there is a light at the new King Kullen Shopping Center, when it does nothing to help the cars get in there. Going, there is no arrow, so therefore the light is of no use at all.

Another one is coming out of Nevada St. and turning left. It is an easy way to get killed; again, with no arrow and many accidents. WHY???

A Long Time Hicksville Resident

To the Community:
As you know, the Board of Education and the teachers' union have been involved in contract negotiations for many months. In September, the state appointed a mediator/fact-finder to help us reach an agreement. After conduct-ing a formal hearing during which both sides presented arguments and written beliefs, the fact-finder issued a report containing his recommendations for the settlement of all outstanding issues.

These recommendations. while not binding upon the district or the union, represent the state fact-finder's conclusions as to the com-promises both parties should make in order to arrive at a fair settlement. On November 28, 1984, the Board of Education voted unanimously to accept the fact-finder's recommendations on all issues.

Unfortunately, we are still without a contract. This is so because the union has rejected the fact-finder's salary recommendations for the school year 1985-86 (a package totaling 8.1%), and continues to insist on a salary package of 9.2% for

The Board of Education sincerely hopes that the teachers' union will decide to join us in accepting the fact-finder's recommendation in order that we might have a contract before the onset of the holidays.

The fact-finder's report is a public document on file in the Administration Building. Any resident wishing to review it may call the Super-intendent's Office at 933-6600 to make arrangements.

Sincerely, William P. Bennett. President Arlene J. Rudin, Vice-President Jay M. Schwartz, Secretary Thomas F. Nagle Lawrence I. Wolfson Lawrence A. Moor Daniel C. MacBride

Blood Banks Experience Critical Holiday Shortage

by TOB Supervisor Joseph Colby

This is the time of the year when we can count on seeing lots of Christmas trees, Chanukah menorahs and gaily decorated stores with an occasional Santa out in front to say hello and Sea-son's Greetings.

This is also the time of year when we are greeted by organizations seeking donations. It is a likely time to solicit our contributions because we are all more generous because of the infusion of holiday spirit.

I have said before that we cannot give to all who ask because our pocketbooks will not permit it. However, there is one way to give that nothing from our budget and certainly does much for our spirit— donating a pint of blood, With the contribution of a pint of blood we are donat-ing a gift that truly reflects the spirit of sharing with those in need.

Every year the various blood banks experience a critical shortage of blood during holiday periods. I recall discussing this prob-lem with you during the summer months when residents were vacationing and caught up in summer activi-ties. Well, it happens during the holiday season too! Long Island hospitals require more than 500 pints' of blood daily to meet the needs of patients with diagnosed diseases that routinely require transfusions, in addition to the needs of surgical and accident patients. Because blood can only be stored for a few weeks, a fresh supply is constantly needed.

The procedure itself is a simple one. After careful screening and recording of medical history, the actual taking of one pint of blood is done in about 30 minutes. Your body can replace the fluid lost within 24 hours and the red blood cells in about eigh, weeks.

I take great pride in the fact that Town employees gave generously during our summer blood drive and have an opportunity to volunteer again. The Town sponsored blood drive takes place on Tuesday, December 4, and Wednesday, December

Be generous this holiday season. Make an appoint-ment to donate a pint of blood by calling the Long Island Blood Service at (516) 752-3347. They can arrange an appointment for you and can answer any questions you might have.

The southwest corner of the Dutch Lane property was one of several sites under consideration for placement of a fire department substation. The initial request for information on the availability of the land for purchase was brought before the District Facilities Committee, chaired by Mr. Daniel C. MacBride, for study.

Numerous area residents brought their concerns to the Board at last week's meeting, and Mr. Bennett informed them that the district had no plans to sell the land and that any such sale would be subject to appro-val by community residents through a referendum.

In a letter addressed to the Board, Commissioner William Donlon expressed thanks to the Board for their cooperation and cited sensitivity to the feelings of the public as the reason for withdrawing his request.

Kevin Jung Honored

Hicksville native Kevin Jung, a 5'9" 150-pound freshman midfielder on Carnegie-Mellon Universi-ty's Athletic Conference (PAC) by league coaches.

Jung played outstanding for CMU this past season as Tartans tied with Bethany College and John Carroll University for the PAC Championship with a 4-1 conference record. CMU, under Head Coach Nick Gaudioso, enjoyed its best season ever as the Tar-tans finished the 1984 cam-paign with an overall 11-2-1

The Division "A" league was the toughest league in Nassau County this year. It has been realigned to include only those teams include only those teams that consistently made the Conference "A" playoffs over the past few years. The Hicksville team was an unknown quantity in this division since it had lost seven of its starting players from last years team. Mr. Moeller worked these boys into a contending team that into a contending team that not only won the Division "A" title, but had an undefeated record in league play of 12-0-2. Over their 20 game schedule the boys scored 60 goals and allowed only 15 goals by their oppo-nents. To compile this outstanding record credit is due our goalkeepers Jeff Knuth and Glenn Kingsly, ful-lbacks Robert Newlands, Ken Kugler, John Frattini, Frankie Christiano, Andy Horne and John Rogers. The midfielders included Rich Humann, Keith McCann, David Weinberg, lan Zaretsky. Fred Fryeisen and Joe Doherty who along, with out forwards Lloyd Sneddon, Larry Ziembicki, Tony McGeough, Cliff Heller, Peter Christiano and Alex Brill amassed a total of sixty goals. A special thanks to our manager Gerald Murphy and our ball boy Jimmy Moeller. There were many highlights during the season but I will only mention a few: Peter Christiano scoring the tieing goal with less than I minute to play in the Division Championship game which we went on to win in overtime. David Weinberg scoring the only goal in a shoot-out against Massapequa in the Nassau County semi finals to win that game and the teams last hurrah when Fred Fryeisen, on a pass from Larry Ziembicki scored what was to be our final goal of the season, as Oceanside went on to win in overtime giving Hicksville (Continued on Page 9)

Holy Family Fifth Grade Coasts Past St. James

Holy Family's fifth grade CYO basketball team opened its season in impressive fashion last Sunday by easily defeating St. James. 30-17, in Hicksville.

Coach Jim Bradley's Eagles came out firing and raced to a 14-0 first period lead. Ted Knoop led the way with seven points, while Wayne Rothchild and Mike Murray added four and three points each.

Knoop, who also did a good job rebounding, finished with 14 points to lead all scorers. Rothchild and Murray chipped in with seven points each, and Jason Kingsley added two.

Other members of this country members of this year's Eagle team are Phil Catera. Kevin Helbling. Brian Redmond, Donald Rapuzzi, Brian Maguire, Greg Schantzler, Ken Davis, and Tim Glover.

Holy Family travels to East Meadow this Sunday to play St. Raphael at 3 p.m.

Hicksville School News

Members of the Hicks-ville High School Drama Club will present their pro-duction of "Wait Until Dark" tonight December 7, and tomorrow evening, December 8. The curtain will rise at 8:00 pm in the auditorium of the Senior High School on Division Avenue. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $4.00 per person.

Stars were on the rise at Fork Lane recently as the school held its first talent show. More than 50 children participated in piano solos, drum and accordion solos, dance solos, song and dance ducts, break dancing, a drunk driving skit, "Cab-bage Patch" and "Cats" numbers. Each child was awarded a ribbon com-memorating the event. Thanks go to Fork Lane PTA and Lisa Amoscato, Vice-President/director/choreographer, for their hard work. Thanks also go to Mrs. Amoscato's dedicated group of volunteers.

The date for the Hicks-ville High School National Honor Society Induction, noted on the calendar as December 13th, has been postponed. This annual event, which honors students selected for membership based on their achievements in the areas of scholarship, honor, cour-age, and service to their community, will be held in the spring on a date to be announced later.

It is the feeling of those interested in providing this aid that while all of us have human concern for the hungry throughout the world, much of that overall problem is dealt with at arm's length, while, in the meantime, there are hungry people at our own doorstep who can be helped on a oneto-one basis.

"Tis the Season to be Jolly" and that's what the officers of the Club have in mind for all of its members who attend the Holiday Party on Dec. 14 at 8:30 PM at the V.F.W. Hall in Hicksville. The fun will start when the first member shows up and will last until everyone to see whose been good or bad and he will give everyone one more chance on Friday night to inform him of what little goodies we would like from him.

Since Santa and his helpers will be in town for this occasion, there will be a grab bag for all members and will last until everyone leaves.

Santa has informed us that he's still checking his list valued at $2.00 - $3.00

Also, as the evening gets going and our stomachs start growling, there will be refreshments to nosh on.

For those members who feet are not tired from walking around all the shopping malls, there will be music to do a little dancing. Not too much, there's still plenty of more shopping days left, so save your energy.

As always, we will have the pleasure to share our joyous night with out favor-ite elected officials and to wish them a personal season greetings.

To those who attend:

Don't forget, Friday, Dec. 14 at 8:30 pm, join your fel-low club members in a night of fun at the Annual Hicksville Republican's Club Hol-iday Party. If you can't attend the officers and club members wish a happy sea-son greeting to all and a happy and healthy New Year to the whole community.

Santa Claus is Coming

News From Woodland

Holiday time is a special time of the year, and some very special things have been going on to celebrate at Woodland Ave. School.

On November 14, the Woodland Ave. PTA treated the entire school to entertainment by a magician and a full turkey dinner to celebrate Thanksgiving. The entire school staff and stu-dents sat down together for this special occasion.

A special occasion.

A special thank you to Nancy Hoosack who coordinated this day and to all who helped make this such a memorable occasion.

The fun didn't stop here. Woodland Ave. started their December Holiday celebration on December I, with their annual Holiday Carnival. Children enjoyed games, food, cotton candy, while parents started their holiday shopping at our crafts tables and too chances on a lovely assortment of raffle prizes. This day was also enjoyed by Dr. Fenton, her daughter, Mr. Jay Schwartz and his family, and Ms. Arlene Rudin from the Utientile Schall Poerd the Hicksville School Board

Still to come are Woodlands Lunch Hour Boutique for our children to do their Holiday Shopping and "Snack with Santa."

Seat Belt Awareness Program

Nassau County Police Commissioner Samuel J. Rozzi announced on Nov. 29 that the Nassau County Police will embark on Dec. 1, on a scat belt public awareness campaign, in line with the New York State Seat Belt Law which is to take effect January 1, 1985.

Rozzi said, "Although the new law makes it mandatory for motorists and passengers to use seat belts in certain circumstances, we would like to gain voluntary com pliance through public awareness." He added, "the statistical significance of reduced injuries through use of seat belts or harness equipment is indisputable. Seat belts save lives and prevent injury."

Commissioner Rozzi said that Nassau County Police Officers will begin the program by distributing the pamphlet, "SAFETY"... THERE'S A CATCH TO IT", which highlights some very improtant aspects very improtant aspects regarding seat belt use. He also said that patrol officers will be handing out the bro-chure during the course of their daily contacts with the public. Information on amphlets will be available at all eight precincts, includ-ing Police Headquarters in Mineola upon request.

Commissioner Rozzi ated, "We are firmly committed to this program which is geared to education before enforcement."

Bide - A - Wee Pet sary care. Bide - A - Wee Pet Adoption Homes urge everyone to consider the pros and cons of animal gift- giv-nig very carefully before they buy or adopt a pet for relatives or friends.

Anyone thinking of giving a pet for Christmas should lirst make sure that the animal will be wanted by the recipient and be well taken care of for its entire lifetime. which require a great deal of time and care, and not everyone is willing to accept such a responsibility.

Parents giving a pet to their children shouldn't doit on Christmas Day, Some children can get carried away by the presence of toys and packages and treat an animal much like a toy. A

It is estimated that more nan a million puppies and a miltent, especially for the first few weeks it's with a new owner. Animals being introduced into a new home require a certain amount of attention and work . Christmas Eve and Day are too hectic for a good adjustment. Bide - A - Wee suggests wrapping a pet accessory such as a leash, dish or pet toy and leaving that under the tree, then bringing the animal home when the excitement has died down and the owner has time to devote to helping the new pet adjust to its surroundings.

If you're not 100% sure a pet will be an appropriate gift, Bide - A - Wee strongly recommends getting a stuffed toy version instead. Bide - A - Wee is a non-profit animal welfare organization whose primary function is to find new homes for dogs, cats, puppies and kit-tens who can no longer be kept by their owners. Bide

Stars On The Rise - Fork Lane School's First Talent Show

To the strains of the "Olympic Theme Song", approximately 50 Fork Lane children marched into the auditorium to partici-pate in the school's first tal-ent show. A standing-room only crowd saw an amazing array of our talented boys and girls performing a var-iety of spellbinding acts. Among the featured spots were three piano solos, drum and accordion solos, ballet and jazz solos, three duets including a captivating mother/daughter routine, two gymnastic performan-ces, two break dancing groups, a skit on teenage drunk driving, a "Cabbage Patch" song and the piece de resistence, a number from the Broadway play "Cats" entitled "A Jellicle Song for a Jellicle Cat".

The "Jellicle Ball" featured a jazz solo by Lisa Amoscato, director/choreographer and coordinator of the entire event. This, as well as the above-mentioned well as the above-mentioned performances, were truly spectacular and profes-sional. As the program neared its conclusion, the children once more filed toward the stage, accompan-ied by an "Olympic Fanfare". Each youngster was then called to a platform where they were presented with a ribbon showing they participated in the festivities.

Among the featured per-formers: Jayme Amoscato, Kristi Amoscato, Katie Andreski, Eric Blicker, Robin Blicker, Kerry and Kristen Burns, Heather Carpenter, Amy Chang, Chris and Joe Crose, Kim Chris and Joe Crose, Kim and Kristen Dalby, Jaime and Michelle Dougherty, Lauren Fécke, Brian and Kirsten Gallahue, Vickie Gunnigle, Dana Hoenig, Tim Hogan, Tracy Koetter, Kacey and Kathy Knauer, Dale Lindsley, Tennille Lip-

National Award Winner

The National Secondary Education Council announced that Dawn Wehrberger has been named an Academic

All-American.
The NSEC has established the Academic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the Academic disciplines. The Academic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average.

Only Scholars selected by a secondary school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the NSEC. These awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Dawn Wehrberger who attends Holy Trinity H.S., was nominated for this National Award by Ms. A. Liberatos, Spanish teacher.

She will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

published nationally.

"Recognizing and sup-porting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Cer-tainly, winners of the Aca-demic All-American Awards should be congratu-lated, and appreciate for lated and appreciated for their dedication to excel-lence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the National Secondary Educa-tion Council.

The Council selects Academic All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of teachers, coaches, counse-lors, and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recog-nized by the NSEC for other
