Levy Proposal Would Aid Taxpayers Constructing "In-Law" Apartments

Senator Norman J. Levy announced that during the upcoming Legislative Session he will press for the enactment of a measure, which will aid those homeowners wishing to have their parents and/or grandparents live with them, by offering tax incentives for the cost of renovating their homes to include an "in-law" apartment.

Levy explained that the proposal allows opting municipalities to provide assessment exemptions for part of the capital construction costs incurred as the result of providing living quarters for parents or grandparents, 62 years of age or older.

"Homeowners could receive this exemption each year in which the senior relative(s) reside within their home," said Levy, adding, "This proposal would allow all homeowners constructing such senior citizen "in-law" apartments, regardless of their income level, to be eligible for the assessment exemption."

The Southshore legislator indicated that many times a taxpayer will fix up part of their homes to provide living quarters for their elderly parents or grandparents. "By giving an assessment exemption for the cost of such construction, we are promoting this activity and fostering the three generation extended family," Levy stressed.

"Older citizens can and should become meaningful and involved members of their families, not only to aid their own psychological and physical well being, but to allow the younger generations to learn from their wealth of experience, knowledge and talent," Levy concluded.

Superbowl Sunday at Charles Wagner Post

This year's Superbowl Sunday at the Charles Wagner Post of the American Legion, Hicksville, promises to be every bit as thrilling and good-spirited as the veteran post's last two yearly football championships via large-screen television.

Once again, the general public is invited to see the gridiron championship at the Legion Hall, East Nicholas Street on Sunday, January 20. Admission is $10 per ticket, and this year half of the net profits are being donated by the American Legion Superbowl Committee to the Committee for the Return of the Missing In Action (M.I.A.) veterans of the Vietnam War.

Admission includes abundant frankfurters and sauerkraut, free beer and soda, potato chips and your choice of seats overlooking the gridiron and the clash of this year's pro-football finalists.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The American Legion Clubhouse doors will open at 3:30 p.m.

At The Gregory Museum

January will be an exciting time for young and older folk at the Hicksville Gregory Museum. Vistas of Paumanok, an exhibition of the Long Island paintings and drawings of Hicksville artist and long-time resident, Olga Hoebel, will open on January 15th. On display will be over thirty art works mirroring Long Island scenes, faces and natural settings of forty years ago, the creations of a gifted professional artist.

For youngsters, the Gregory Museum's Saturday "fun and learning" workshops resume with two consecutive weekend craft sessions open to 8 to 12 year olds, involving "Making Your Own Working Volcanoes."

On Saturday, January 19, from 2 - 4 p.m., Museum Curator Tom Daunt will kick off the program with a new slide picture presentation on volcanoes. He will follow his talk with instructions and a demonstration of the crafting of "active volcanoes."

The volcano eruptions at the Gregory Museum will continue on Saturday, January 26 as youngsters will be able to finish making their volcanoes and see them in action.

Registration is necessary for the two Saturday workshops. There is a $5. fee for materials, and registrations may be made in person at the Museum, on Heitz Place, or by telephoning 822-7505.

Fork Lane Host For Math Olympiads

A square had an area of 144 square inches. If the square is partitioned into six congruent rectangles, how many inches are there in the perimeter of one of the six rectangles?

This is just an example of the brain teasers asked at a recent Math Olympiad Fork

Lane School hosted. In Hicksville, eight elementary schools participate and each month rotate buildings as host to the "teams". There are 15 students per school that travel from building to building. Selection of the members at Fork Lane, for instance, are made by the total number of correct responses from the previous meet.

All Enrichment students from Grades 4, 5 and 6 are members of the Math Olympiad team. Additionally, the questions are opened up to the other students in the school. At the discretion of each individual teacher, the questions are administered to those students not part of the "traveling teams". At the close of the day, those answer sheets are collected and scored and the following morning the questions and answers are reversed.

For those 120 students who attend the meet, answer sheets are given out. Questions are given out and read aloud as well, with the time limit adhered to. Answer sheets are collected and solutions explained to the students. And, refreshments are served to all before the entire event takes place! Thanks to John Marinino, Fork Lane's Math Resource Teacher, for being the ever-gracious host.

Now, if you're still pondering the square with 144 inches problem, how about this: if digits A, B and C are added, the sum is the two-digit AB (A+B+C=AB). What is the value of C?

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

PRESIDENT PETE MASSIELLO'S MESSAGE: "We should neither complain of the past, nor should we fear the future."

The New Year's Party and Dance held by the Galileo Lodge last Monday, 31st of December, was a festive occasion, a gala affair where spontaneous laughter, excitement, frivolity and jolly good fun prevailed. Close to 300 people attended — members, friends and patrons — enjoying a delicious wine and cheese hour, an appetizing cocktail hour, a mouth-watering prime rib dinner, unlimited liquor, tingling dance music, continental breakfast and the congenial atmosphere of the Galileo Lodge itself.

The New Year was definitely ushered in grand and old traditional style and this was well in evidence as the Galileo Lodge was literally transformed into a mecca of lively and noisy good cheer and hearty revelry. And at 12:00 P.M., when the New Year made its auspicious debut, the intermingling of sounds of racy noisemakers with those of high-spirited voices just about shook the walls of the Galileo Lodge!

In acknowledgement of the excellent work done by Joe Giordano, the Chairman, and his committee, which consisted of Joe Morace, Skip Monteforte, Armando Del Cioppo and Rocco Lombardo, whose extraordinary efforts made this event a huge social success. President Pete Massiello extends to all of these hard-working members his sincerest thanks.

As I have recently stated, we all make resolutions for the new year. Obviously many of them are abandoned for reasons of impracticality. But there is one practical resolution that you can make and that is to join the Galileo Lodge, especially if you are looking for an ethnic organization that is tailored to suit your needs, ethnic-wise or otherwise. Such a union, we feel, might be advantageous and beneficial to your wellbeing also.

Let us examine one area where this idea makes some sense or takes on some credence. Say, around Christmas time, when the Galileo Lodge offers its Christmas parties for the handicapped children and young adults, and, of course for the children and grandchildren of our membership. At these parties, of course, even parents and guardians are invited to partake of the food, refreshments and other 'goodies' that the Galileo Lodge gratuitously offers as Christmas joy and pleasure.

If you become a member of the Galileo Lodge, you could insure the successful presentations of these parties, where there is such an abundance of Yuletide joy and good cheer, and where there is such, a brilliant display of love and affection for children. Yes, you could insure the happiness that is perennially offered to these less fortunate human beings. Yes, if you become a member of the Galileo Lodge, your efforts, time and devotion will definitely help bring about a kind of beauty that is indescribable. This is something to think about. Something to ponder on. The Galileo Lodge wants you, it needs you.

So why not become a member of a team that works together and plays together? The rewards will be your own, in terms of self-satisfaction and selflessness. Ask yourself, is there anything more noble and rewarding than the knowledge and the feeling that you have given a little of yourself so that others can see the beauty of the human heart.

Call 931-9351 and ask to speak to an officer or a member. Find out for yourself as to what the Galileo Lodge stands for, what are its ambitions, goals and aspirations. You, might be surprised.

LODGE TIDBITS: The Nominating Committee of the Galileo Lodge will make its recommendations for the new officers for the year 1985 at our next regular business meeting slated for January 18th, at 8:30 P.M. The installation of the new members will occur on the social meeting of Thursday, the 24th of January. All members are asked to attend as refreshments will be served. Welcome back to our President Pete Massiello, who has recently returned from an enjoyable trip to Hawaii. And congratulations to Lou Morace of our Lodge who has recently celebrated his birthday.

Commuters' Council Stuffs RR Stocking With Improvement Ideas

Santa came a little late this year as the Long Island Railroad Commuter's Council (LIRRCC) today presented a list of "stocking stuffers" to the Long Island Railroad. The stuffers, one for each of the twelve days of Christmas, are ways the Railroad can improve service for commuters, without expenditure of large sums of money, in little time, and with little effort. Though small, each would, however, make the daily commute easier and more pleasant for the riders.

The stuffers are:

1) Announce LIRR time at Penn, Jamaica, and Flatbush Stations every 15 minutes, 24 hours a day. Time should be announced every 15 minutes during peak morning and evening hours in the entire system, and every hour during daylight hours.

2) Turn up the volume at the Penn State Information Booth, and have an attendant repeat the question. By so doing, others waiting in line for the same information will hear the answer and not continue to stand in line. Example: "The next train to Rockville Centre? The 5:45 P.M. on track #13."

3) Paint or tape designated waiting areas on the floor at Penn Station. Areas around poles and along walls should be marked off and designated as waiting areas. This way, stairways and their entrances and walking aisles can be kept clear so commuters can move through Penn Station more easily and waiting commuters will not block their way.

4) Permanent information lines should be painted or taped on the floor in blue at Penn Station (also ticket lines). Instead of people snaking all over Penn Station, queues will be contained, and out of the way of rushing commuters.

5) Divide stairways into UPSides and DOWNSides, or by track. By putting white lines down the middle of each stairway along with directional up or down arrows, the Railroad could maintain some order and help people stay out of each others' way. On single stairways serving more than one platform (example: Tracks #13 and #14 at Penn Station), mark the left side #13 and the right side #14 so people in a hurry for one train will not have to run into those not in a hurry.

6) Amtrak personnel should operate and open doors when trains enter the station from the yard. Commuters can wait as long as five minutes for LIRR personnel to open the doors.

7) Double door freight elevators at Penn Station should be left open for use as a walk through. This would be less dangerous than the narrow spaces on each side of the elevators which the commuters currently use.

8) Make greater use of Tracks #20 and #21. These tracks at the north end of Penn Station have wider platforms, more room to accommodate passengers.

9) Announce car platforming prior to departure from terminal and at intermediate stations. Commuters will then know which cars to use for easy egress at their stop, and will obviate the need for them to walk through crowded cars to detrain from the right car.

10) Keep train doors closed at terminals and connecting points in winter. Conductors can open one door by key at terminal points.

11) List the track numbers from which the evening scheduled trains are expected to depart. This procedure was abolished at the 8th Avenue end of Penn Station a while ago and has been sorely missed. Now commuters must either wait until the last few minutes to board, or walk to the 7th Avenue information booth and back in order to board early.

12) Provide and require name tags for all LIRR employees.

The Long Island Railroad Commuters Council was created by the New York State Legislature to monitor and make recommendations with respect to the maintenance and operation of the railroad. Its members are appointed by the Governor upon the recommendation of the County Executives of Nassau and Suffolk.

The NEW IMAGE Story...

A FAIRY TALE COME TRUE

Once upon a time (1958, to be exact), a man named Tom Costa started a drum and bugle corps in a place called Hicksville, Long Island, at the Parish of St. Ignatius Loyola. From the very beginning, the Corps was different: It was comprised of all girls!

After a period of training, the Corps performed in community parades and at various local functions. Soon, the St. Ignatius Girls were well known all over their home town of Hicksville.

Before long (actually, it was 1964), a major decision was made: The Corps would take a giant step forward and enter field competition. At that time there was an all-girls corps from Audubon, New Jersey (they were called the Bon-Bons) that was the undisputed all-girls World Champion. The St. Ignatius Girls fixed their gaze upon the Bon-Bons. They vowed that one day, their own Corps would be the best in the world!

In 1973 it happened. The St. Ignatius Girls from Hicksville, L.I. captured the World Open All-Girls title!

And it happened again in 1974, And 1975, 1976, 1977 and 1978. And again in 1980, and '81. During this period, "Iggies" also managed to win 3 Drum Corps International Championships & 3 Girls Corps International Championships. That's a total of 14 International Titles within 8 years! . . . Not to mention numerous state, regional and local championships, including the Nassau County American Legion title from 1966 to the present! By this time, the Corps was recognized worldwide for having re-written the record books of the entire drum corps activity.

In November of 1982, another major decision was made: The ranks would be opened up to boys as well as girls . . .

. . . And so, New Image was born. We still have our sights set high. The fairy tale goes on — Want to come along? We promise you the experience of a lifetime!

by Don Grazioplene

Its 1985... Do you know where your children are? As we prepare afresh for a hopefully successful and happy new year, we all pause a moment to reflect on our past mistakes, and to formulate ideas on how to eliminate the negatives and accentuate the positives. Not least among these considerations should be the environment we are providing for the development of our own children. Incredibly, this extremely important subject seems to be taking a back seat lately, in the ever-intensifying chaos of present-day lifestyles. The nuclear family is disintegrating in the face of striking "real time" availability, caused by situations wherein both parents have jobs, and everybody is rushing off somewhere on different schedules. O.K. - that's the way it has to be in some families. It's a different world, right?

But where are the kids going? What are they doing? Who are they with? What are their values? Who are their role models? Whom do they emulate? Who are their "heros"? All too often, the answers to these questions are unknown or shockingly undesirable. Now, these kids are our future! These will be the inheritors of our fate, who will be running our world in a few years. They must not be left to the influence of commercially motivated negative hype which condones - even glorifies - the profane and the bizarre. - And that is exactly what is happening in many cases! The kids are being fed massive doses of confusing signals which promote vulgar hostility towards traditional values and any form of discipline or authority. Achievement and excellence are anathema. Patriotism is for nerds. Profanity is in. Elegance and demeanor are out. Sexual attitudes are casual. Drugs are commonplace. Time and again it is reinforced on T.V., at the movies, on the radio, in school; "hanging out," ya gotta be "cool," you must fit in... you must conform to non-conformity.

And who is monitoring all this? Who is attempting to stem this tide? Certainly not the profiteers who benefit so richly from the contamination of our most precious resource: our kids. No, this matter must be taken up by the parents. But what can they do? Is there any place that kids can receive positive reinforcement? Where excellence and striving for high ideals and held in esteem? Where it's "cool" to be constructive? Something with all the right ingredients... music, color, flash and spectacle... someplace where respect for adults, for peers and for self is nurtured?

Yes, there is such a place. It is wherever the New Image and Bugle Corps is. We at New Image strongly believe that our program contains all the right ingredients... an extra-curricular youth activity. The corps exists solely for the benefit of our kids and it is supported mostly by the efforts of dedicated volunteers.

The corps needs kids and the kids need the corps. All we have to do is get them together. Let's give our youth a New Image to take pride in. Call 935-9208 or write New Image c/o P.O. Box 421, Hicksville, NY 11801.

School Bus Companies Employees Records Should be Checked

Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon asked the County Board of Supervisors to join the fight in Albany for legislation that would allow school bus companies to check the criminal records of prospective employees. The DA's request came at a hearing of the Board of Supervisors on the issue of bus safety. He called on the Board to adopt a Resolution in support of such legislation.

The DA said the legislation was passed in the 1984 session of the Legislature by both the Assembly and Senate. However, Governor Mario Cuomo vetoed the bill, citing the cost to the Department of Motor Vehicles if the law was enacted,

State Ashfill Proposal For Long Island

New York State would be required to site a landfill on Long Island to handle the residue or "ash" from Nassau and Suffolk County resource recovery plants under legislation Senator John Dunne (R-Nassau) intends to introduce in the State Legislature.

The Dunne plan would require that the State Environmental Facilities Corporation (EFC) perform a survey of available public and private land in the bi-county area and develop a list of potential sites for the "ashfill."

The task of deciding which site would be best suited for the ashfill would be given to a newly-created Solid Waste Landfill Siting Board. The 13-member Board would consist of the State Commissioners of Environmental Conservation, Health and Commerce; two industry and two environmental representatives, who would be appointed by the Governor; and three representatives each from Nassau and Suffolk County representing county, city and town and citizen interests.

"Long Island's garbage problems demand that the state take the initiative to help resolve what has been the main obstacle standing in the way of resource recovery operations in Nassau and Suffolk counties," Senator Dunne, Chairman of the Senate Environmental Conservation and Recreation Committee explained.

"There is no question that a state ashfill would expediate resource recovery on Long Island and enable our towns and cities to meet state mandates that call for a gradual phase-out of landfills by 1990."

Dunne noted that, regardless of the outcome of the present court challenge of the state's new landfill law, a landfill phase-out on Long Island is inevitable.

"The legislation I will introduce gives the Environmental Facilities Corporation until September 1, 1985, to provide the Solid Waste Siting Board with its list of potential sites," Dunne said. "The Board will then be given until January 1, 1986, to select a site. If the Siting Board is unable to come to a decision, then the siting decision will be made by the State Environmental Board, which must select a site by April 1, 1986."

The State Environmental Board consists of ten state commissioners and four appointed representatives from industry and environment groups.

Senator Dunne outlined his proposal for a state ashfill at a Solid Waste Conference hosted by Mayor Vincent Suozzi of Glen Cove, Long Island. The conference was attended by state and local government officials.

In addition to being chairman of the Senate Environmental Conservation and Recreation Committee, Senator Dunne is a member of the Joint Temporary State Commission on Solid Waste Management and the Hazardous Waste Facilities Task Force.

NY State PTAers Appointed To Key Positions

The New York State PTA has survived and thrived for 87 years because it continues to develop leadership abilities of its members. Parents and teachers are recognized in their communities and throughout the State because of their involvement as advocates for children and youth.

Richard Gazzola, High School Chairman for the New York State PTA and teacher at Yonkers High School, recently served as one of five members on the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NAASP) statewide selection committee for the Century III Scholarship Program. This Century III Leaders Program was established in 1976 as part of the Bicentennial Celebration.

The bill should be passed early enough in the 1985 session to allow time for an override, if necessary.

Dillon said, "This proposal was the result of a tragic incident in Nassau County last year where a bus driver and aid, both convicted felons, committed a sexual assault on a young student. It underscored the need for legislation to allow employers of individuals who deal with children the opportunity to check criminal histories through fingerprints."

"The State should do all it can to make criminal background information available to employers of individuals who care for our children. The health and safety of our young people must be protected from sordid characters who commit assaults against those most vulnerable," said Dillon.

Dillon has also asked DA's around the State to support the proposal. Through the State DA's Association and the efforts of Senator Norman Levy (R-Merrick) the DA said he's optimistic this bill will become law in the 1985 session.

Heroic Truckers Are Finalists

Five truck drivers from Arkansas, New Jersey, New York and Ohio have been selected as finalists in a nationwide program to honor and reward over-the-road truckers for heroic acts of service along the nation's highways.

Finalists in the 1984 Highway Hero program sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company are Ed Owens of Darville, Ark., Richard Young of Chenango, N.Y., and Dennis Myers of Leipsic, Ohio. Sharing honors for the state of New Jersey are co-finalists John Kowalski of North Haledon and Bruce Bartman of Passaic.

Each of the finalists will receive a $5,000 savings bond from Goodyear and a trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., in February. At that time, the grand award recipient will be presented a $20,000 bond.

A nationwide panel of trucking industry leaders will select the grand award recipient, naming him America's Highway Hero. That individual will be announced at the Daytona 500 Grand National Stock Car Race on February 17, 1985. Finalists and their spouses will be guests of Goodyear for a weekend of racing activities.

Owens, 40, an independent trucker since 1976, currently leases his rig to Container Carrier Corp. of Ft. Smith, Ark. While driving south on I-55 in Mississippi, on March 29, 1984, Owens witnessed a crash in which the truck ahead of him - hauling highly toxic acid - slammed into an abandoned flatbed trailer loaded with lumber.

Although acid spilling from the wrecked tanker was dissolving the asphalt around him, Owens hooked chains to the crumpled tractor then commandeered another truck to help pull the door, dashboard and roof off the critically injured driver pinned in the cab. "You just can't imagine how he was crammed in there. Everything was crumpled around him," said Owens, who lifted a paramedic to his shoulders to help maneuver the driver from the wreckage.

Young, 24, currently drives for Central Transport in Binghamton, N.Y., but he was driving for Controlled Driver's Management Service on Dec. 14, 1983, when he witnessed a multiple car crash. One car began burning as Young stopped. "The gas tank was leaking and the driver was sitting in there with a death grip on the wheel. I knocked the fire back a little with my extinguisher then smashed the window with my elbow and had to pull like hell to get him out," Young said.

"Things were really getting hot in there. My stomach started smoking and I don't think I could have handled the heat much longer."

Young then had to pull the driver from the second car. "And then along came some guy in another truck. He skidded right into the spilled gas and bailed out. I had to back his truck out of the fire or it would have burned up too," Young said.

Myers, 33, an independent, has been leasing his rig to Ranger Nationwide of Jacksonville, Fla., for seven years. While driving north on I-57 near Benton, Ill., on Jan. 13, 1984, he saw a southbound rig swerve across the median, roll onto its side and catch fire.

Myers stopped his rig, ran to the burning truck, smashed the windshield and unhooked the driver who was hanging from a door handle by his pants cuff. Meanwhile the overturned truck's engine continued to run - backwards - pumping fuel onto the ground.

"Another guy helped me drag the driver about 20 yards, then the truck blew. Wow! I want to tell you, we hauled the guy another 20 yards in no time flat," Myers said.

Bartman, 34, and Kowalski, 40 are drivers for Marcal Paper Mills Inc. of Elmwood Park, N.J. They were following each other across the Kosciuszko Bridge out of New York City on June 11, 1984, when a car passed on the right and crashed into the rear of a disabled panel truck on which two men were working.

Both vehicles began burning and after exhausting their fire extinguishers, Bartman and Kowalski divided duties. Bartman and an off-duty policeman pulled one injured man from the burning car while Kowalski dragged to safety the two men who had been working on the panel truck. Bartman then directed traffic to move a gasoline tanker away from the fire scene. "We made one last check of the scene and backed pedaled about two paces when everything started to pop. Tires blew, glass broke, gas lines popped. It was a real inferno," said Bartman.

"By the time the fire department got through the traffic jam, we were both hanging over the bridge, trying to throw up but too dry to do so," said Kowalski.

Detailed accounts and certification on the actions of all finalists are being evaluated by trucking industry magazine editors and publishers - and one radio personality whose chief audience is the over-the-road trucker.

Coordinating all aspects of the Highway Hero program for Goodyear in order to assure impartiality is Visual Services, an independent agency based in Bloomfield Hills, Mich. Nominations currently are being accepted from the public for the 1985 Highway Hero awards program, covering heroic deeds or acts of humanitarianism above and beyond the call of duty that occur between Oct. 1, 1984 and Sept. 30, 1985.

Nomination forms and further information on the program are available by writing Goodyear Highway Hero, Dept. 798, 1144 East Market St., Akron, Ohio 44316, or by calling (216) 796-3886.

Something To Think About

VERN & BILL WAGNER
TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

DENYING DEATH

There's a world of difference between knowing something and believing it. While we tend to take good news at face value, we have a knack for resisting bad news.

Nowhere is this more true than in the matter of death. While all of us know we must one day die, we tend to ignore or deny this simple truth. Even when faced with the proximity of our death, or the death of someone close to us, we may go to great psychological lengths to escape dealing with this reality. To psychologists, this is known as DENIAL.

Denial may last for a few moments, a few days or months, or it may never go away. Some days, we may be able to deal quite openly with the impending death; other days, we may be unable to face it. It is a protective reaction, designed to defend us from shocking and overwhelming news. In this way it can be natural, even healthy; but eventually we must learn to accept the ultimate reality.

Hofstra To Construct 5 New Dormitories

Hofstra's President James M. Shuart announced that the University will build five new dormitories that are expected to cost $4.5-million.

The new student housing, he said, is expected to be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the 1985-86 academic year next fall. The structures will be located on the northern part of Hofstra's North Campus in Hempstead adjacent to the Colonial Square dormitory complex. The new facilities will accommodate approximately 275 students and, when completed, a total of 3,155 students will live at Hofstra.

Since 1981, President Shuart pointed out, Hofstra has added 17 new dormitories to its campus. In addition, it has six older high-rise residences and recently acquired an apartment house complex (Twin Oaks) adjacent to the campus. But at the beginning of the current academic year, even with all of those facilities, there was a waiting list of 200 students for housing accommodations. Last fall, Hofstra recorded the highest enrollment of full-time undergraduate students (6,600) in its fifty-year history.

"Our plans for additional student housing," President Shuart said, "are part of a long-range objective to achieve a student population mix that is half resident and half commuter. In doing so, we wish to provide a cosmopolitan environment for quality-prepared students from Long Island and from the rest of the nation."

The new dormitory project brings to more than $10-million the amount of construction now under way on Hofstra's campus. Other projects include a three-story, $4.5-million Television Institute Building, a $1.6-million Learning Technology Center, and two projects for the Hofstra Cultural Center (within the Hofstra Library Building) that will cost a total of $500,000.

Last year, Hofstra completed construction on six other buildings that cost a total of $8-million. Included were four new dormitories, the Hofstra Swim Center (the largest indoor olympic-sized pool in the Metropolitan New York area), and the new Hofstra USA student social-recreation center.

From 1981 to 1985, Hofstra will have completed work on 28 campus buildings. When the University first opened its doors in 1935, all of its facilities were contained in one building (the former estate house of William S. Hofstra). That building, which was built in 1904, was recently renovated. Today, Hofstra has 73 buildings on its 238-acre campus in Hempstead.

Public Skating At EAB Plaza Outdoor Rink

Ice Skaters of all ages are invited to take to the ice at the outdoor rink in the shadows of the twin towers of EAB Plaza in Uniondale. According to Sam Anziano, manager of the Rockefeller Center-like facility, public skating sessions will be held on a daily basis from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at two-and-one-half hour intervals. General admission per session is $5. Rental skates will also be available at the nominal cost of $2 at the DeMatteis pavilion which adjoins the rink.

"We're delighted that we were able to make the facility available at the start of the holiday season," Anziano stated. "The ice skating public is invited to skate to their hearts' content, day or night, to the sound of holiday music."

EAB Plaza is located across from Mitchell Field at the intersection of Hempstead Turnpike and the Meadowbrook Parkway, in Uniondale. For further information regarding group rates call: 296-6994.

HOWIE GREENBERG: Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club Secretary Howie Greenberg has been burning up the roads in recent months, and the results are the payoff for lots of hard work and heavy training.

Howie turned in a personal marathon bet of 2:57:26 in the Ocean State Marathon in Newport Rhode Island on November 4. He followed up with a super 28:23 in the Pegasus 5 Mile Race in Dix Hills, good for fourth place honors in the men's 30-39 age group. Making Howie's Pegasus run even more notable was the fact that it came less than 24 hours after he had run a total of 20 miles in POBRRC's "Point to View" Relay!

Howie now has his sights on top performances as part of POBRRC's team in the February 9 Sunken Meadow Relays and in the March 30 Plainview PBC 10,000 Meter Run.

GIVE AND TAKE

Why are price negotiations so difficult for most people? One psychotherapist says that we've raised to be generous and considerate, and dislike asking anyone to give up anything. We'll do almost anything not to seem greedy. Of course, the experienced negotiator knows this - and uses it.

On the other hand, some people confuse stubbornness with firmness; in order not to be taken advantage of, they will not budge at all. They've forgotten that there has to be some "give" in give and take.

What makes house negotiations especially difficult is emotion. The seller is so attached to his property that he feels it is worth much more than it is.

What makes negotiating easy? Letting an expert do it. Our real estate professionals are practiced negotiators, able to deal coolly and capably with prospective buyers. We know what your property is really worth - and we'll help you get it.

Principals Go To School

Here were 26 principals with a day away from their schools. How did they spend the day?

They went to school. Monday, December 3, was a day they spent learning about personal computers at a course given by the Grumman Data Systems Institute in Woodbury.

Setting up such opportunities takes homework. That assignment falls to the Principals' Center at C.W. Post - Port Washington School System.

"The Center was established to provide continuous professional development for school administrators," said Dr. John Owens, the consultant director of the Center and adjunct associate professor at C.W. Post.

The two-year old Center is funded by the New York State Education Department through the Port Washington School System.

In Nassau and Suffolk there are about 1,000 public and private elementary and secondary school principals. The Center's two-person staff of Dr. Owens and Dolores "Dee" Glick communicate with them by mail, offering them opportunities to hear speakers, get additional supervisory training, or just meet to talk about the problems they face and the solutions they've found.

School day for school administrators. Roslyn High School Assistant Principal Herbert Slutsky was one of 26 Long Island school administrators who learned about personal computers at the Grumman Data Systems Institute in Woodbury on December 3.

They took the Institute's "Fundamentals of Microcomputers: The IBM PC" course. The New York State-funded Principals Center at C.W. Post-Port Washington School System enlists the help of Long Island firms such as Grumman to provide principals with opportunities for additional professional development.

And, with help from the business community, Dr. Owens and Ms. Glick provide the principals with training opportunities. In fact, New York State requires that they seek the help of business.

Grumman Data Systems Institute is a unit of the Grumman Data Systems Corporation of Bethpage, New York. The Institute offers career training in systems analysis, computer programming, computer operations, electronics technology and accounting.

It has two campuses on Long Island and one in the Boston metropolitan area.

For the general public, the Institute has one- and two-day courses to help them get the most from personal computers.

The 26 administrators-turned-students progressed from learning how to input the information into the personal computer, to working spreadsheets by the end of the day. "It gives them," Dr. Owens said, "an opportunity to develop a basic familiarity with a piece of equipment that is very rapidly becoming an essential part of the instructional program."

TOB Residents Reminded About General Tax Payments

Oyster Bay Town Receiver of Taxes Gary F. Musiello reminds residents that the first half of the 1985 General Tax levy was due on January 1, 1985, but may be paid without penalty through February 10, 1985.

"By law, a taxpayer has a 40-day grace period from the date the tax is due, during which time payment may be made without any penalty," Musiello stated. "After that 40 days, a penalty is attached for each month the tax remains unpaid."

When paying in person at the Tax Office, citizens are reminded to bring the entire tax bill with their payment.

Payment being made by mail should include Stub #1 only or Stubs #1 and #2 if the entire tax for the year is being paid.

Musiello also cautioned residents NOT to write, cut, fold, staple or otherwise deface the tax stubs since these will cause the computer to reject the payment.

Awards Contract for Tennis Court Reconstruction

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby announced Town Board approval of a contract award for reconstruction and repairs to thirty Town tennis courts.

Colby said, "This contract award is for needed improvements to Town tennis courts located within the Town's six community parks.

"Some tennis courts are slated for complete reconstruction," Colby continued, "while others will require resurfacing. Net and post repairs, curb repairs and repainting of court lines will be done where needed."

The Town project will be scheduled so as to permit some court space to be utilized at each facility during the course of the construction.

The construction contract has been awarded to Rason Asphalt, Inc., the low bidder, in the amount of $207,640. It is anticipated that the work will begin as soon in early spring as weather permits.

The United States Budget Could Be Balanced

By Edwin Feulner

Washington continues to be rife with speculation about David Stockman's "black book," which contains recommendations for controlling the growth of the public purse.

News reports indicate that many of the recommended $34 billion in cuts and economies were drawn from outside sources: the Grace Commission Report, government waste-watcher Donald Lambro's excellent new book, Washington: City of Scandals, and The Heritage Foundation's new guide to government, Mandate for Leadership II: Continuing the Conservative Revolution.

Despite the evidence, some in Washington continue to whine that there is little to cut, after "entitlements," debt payments, and other long-term government obligations are factored in. That, of course, is pure hogwash. There is plenty to cut. So much, that if the Reagan administration really wanted to be gutsy, it could place a balanced budget on the table, and force Congress' hand.

Not sometime in the future, mind you, with new revenues produced by economic growth. Not by raising taxes again (which in the long run will hurt the economy and reduce revenues). Not with hocus-pocus. And not even under the cocked gun of a balanced-budget amendment.

Instead, when President Reagan presents his fiscal 1986 budget to the Congress, he could throw down the gauntlet and present the wise men of Washington with a budget that is balanced to the dollar.

Can you imagine the indignant squirming on Capitol Hill when all of the balanced-budget phonies from the campaign trail are called upon to stand alone and be counted on the issue?

That obviously delightful prospect aside, if President Reagan were to present Congress with a balanced-budget proposal — rather than try to chip away at bloated government programs — he would be doing more than declaring war on ways past. He would be precipitating perhaps the most fundamental national debate on the size and proper role of the federal government since the New Deal.

Where would the cuts come from?

In City of Scandals, investigative reporter Lambro found, for example, that some of America's wealthiest communities — including Palm Springs, California, Greenwich, Connecticut, and Aspen, Colorado — are getting federal handouts. In all, he identified $200 billion that could be cut from the federal pork barrel without touching programs for the needy or weakening national defense.

The Heritage Foundation, too, has offered a plan to trim the deficit without cutting the level of services to the poor or hurting the U.S. defenses.

BOOK DISCUSSION REVIEWS

Trending Towards the Future

By Matthew Kohn

Tomorrow is always getting closer, but it is never at our fingertips. We quickly go about our lives not thinking about the changes in our jobs. John Naisbitt's bestseller MEGATRENDS is a book about those changes. On Monday, January 7 from 1-3pm at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library, MEGATRENDS will be discussed.

This important book has left many Americans confused. The propositions in his book affect their jobs. They want to be able to adjust to the changes.

In Barbara Krupit's book review, the problems that face America will be reviewed and discussed. The MEG-Mandate for Leadership, in addition, outlines a long-term strategy for shifting dozens of programs from Washington to the states, communities, churches and synagogues where they rightly belong.

To his credit, former President Carter had the right idea when he proposed "zero-based" budgeting for the federal government. That's advice President Reagan should follow — and zero-base the billion of dollars in subsidies, handouts, transfer payments, and redundant and unnecessary programs needed to present House Speaker Thomas P "Tip" O'Neill with a balanced budget.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, A Washington-based public policy research institute.)

ATRENDS discussion is a unique examination of the transitions of American society.

STRESS RELIEF! STRESS RELIEF!

By Matthew Kohn

It is impossible to avoid stress in the life people lead today. Everyone strives to do better, sometimes accomplishing necessary vital tasks in a rush. Our eating habits change according to what must get done each day. On Thursday, January 10 at 8 pm, at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library, a program entitled "STRESS: FRIEND OR FOE" will be presented to accommodate those people who have stressful situations.

Professor Ialeggio will speak about various kinds of tension. He will delve deeply into the effects of nutrition. He will also discuss the causes, control and adjustment to stress.

Victor M. Ialeggio, Professor Emeritus of City University has written for several science publications. He has been on the staff of City University for 33 years. Mr. Ialeggio is also a resident of Plainview for 30 years.

BROADWAY DANNY ROSE

By Matthew Kohn

PLAY IT AGAIN SAM, BANANAS, and TAKE THE MONEY AND RUN are among Woody Allen's best films. His most recent film is BROADWAY DANNY ROSE.

This film is about a theatrical agent (Woody Allen) whose clients include a parrot who sings "I've Gotta Be Me", Lou Canova (Nick Apollo Forte) and Lou's mistress (Mia Farrow). Lou is about to make his big comeback, if he can stay off the booze. Woody's ticket to fame and fortune may be cancelled because Lou will start drinking if Mia isn't with Lou at his performance. Mia is at a mafia resort and Woody must visit the resort to get her back in time.

TOB's In-Step Program

by TOB Supervisor Joseph Colby

If you've got a pair of shoes in the closet take off your sneakers and put them on.

And while you're at it, take off the T-shirt and put on a shirt and tie.

These are two examples of what young people will be learning when they become involved in the Town of Oyster Bay's new federally funded program called In-Step.

The program is designed to make the first job experience a positive one and to teach skills that reinforce good employment attitudes.

Administered by the Department of Intergovernmental Affairs, Division of Employment and Training, the program will offer economically disadvantaged youngsters an opportunity for employment and a chance to learn educational skills for future employment.

Under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) all school districts within the Town of Oyster Bay and North Hempstead and the City of Glen Cove will be able to offer youngsters between the ages of 16 and 21 (who fall within the economic guidelines) an opportunity to earn $3.35 per hour for up to 15 hours of employment each week.

The high school students enrolled in the program will participate in bi-weekly meetings conducted by qualified educators, to learn important work attitudes and some basic skills, such as job safety rules, responsibility on the job, filling out job applications, writing resumes and preparing for interviews.

The In-Step program, which can accommodate up to 300 youngsters, begins on January 7, 1985 and continues through June 30th. At the end of the program enrolled students will be given the opportunity for continued employment under the Division of Employment and Training Summer Youth Program.

To learn more about In-Step and the eligibility requirements contact the Department of Intergovernmental Affairs, Division of Employment and Training, 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa, New York 11758, or call 795-1000, extensions 750 and 751.

1985 Tips on Contacting Your Legislator

With the 1985 Legislative Session scheduled to open on January 9th, Senator Norman J. Levy (R.C. Merrick) noted that he is again looking forward to many of his constituents visiting him in Albany or otherwise contacting him to express their views on the important issues which will be before the New York State Senate this year.

Levy stated, "Every year, from January till the Legislature recesses, my staff and I are pleased to greet the many representatives of various educational, civic, veterans and other organizations, as well as families, individuals and school groups, who have made the trip to Albany, either to share their concerns on specific issues, or just to see their State Government in action."

Legislative Office Building, Albany, New York, 12247-518-455-3341--in advance, advising him of the size of the group, the date and approximate time of arrival as well as topics and/or events of special interest.

"Contacting my staff and me in advance of your visit gives us the opportunity to make appropriate arrangements -- whether it is a guided tour of the Capitol or a meeting with specialists in your area of concern," Levy explained.

Levy also invites residents of his Senatorial District to keep in closer touch with the legislative process, by using the services of the toll-free Senate "hot line."

By dialing 800-342-9860, during senate working hours, you can find out whether a specific bill is awaiting action, reported out of committee, passed by the Senate or Assembly, or signed into law by the Governor.

Levy added that he always welcomes the views of his constituents on legislative matters: "A short letter stating the writer's position and giving supporting information is especially helpful, as any correspondence on legislation becomes part of my office's official 'bill file,' available for my ready reference should the bill come before the Senate for a vote," said the Southshore Senator.

Levy further stressed that he and his staff in both his District and Albany office are always available to aid the residents of the Eighth Senatorial District. "Whether it's help cutting through bureaucratic red tape or a request for legislative information, my staff and I are always pleased to be able to assist you," concluded Levy.

Tribute to Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Long Island Philharmonic, under the musical direction of Christopher Keene, presents at its January concerts guest artist Willie Stargell, who will narrate Pulitzer prize-winning composer Joseph Schwantner's "New Morning for the World," a musical tribute to Martin Luther King, Jr. Stargell, a former All-Star Pittsburgh Pirate and one of baseball's most respected players, is known for his dedication to humanitarian causes and for his work for human rights. The concerts will be held Saturday, January 12 at 8:30 pm at Hempstead High School and Sunday, January 13 at 7:30 pm at the Bush-Brown Concert Theater, Long Island University, C.W. Post campus, Greenvale, the weekend prior to the anniversary of King's birthday.

Also on the program will be Franz Von Suppe's spirited overture, Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna, and Johannes Brahms' lyrical Symphony No. 2 in D Major, Op. 73.

"New Morning for the World" was premiered at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. on January 15, 1983 by the Eastman Philharmonic and Mr. Stargell. The narrative is taken from a number of King's writings, addresses and speeches, and is read to Schwantner's stirring and dramatic music. Prior to his weekend concert performances, Stargell will give a lecture on Friday, January 11 from 10am to 12 noon at Central Islip High School. This lecture, presented by the L.I. Philharmonic and the Islip Arts Council is free and open to the public. For reservations and further information on this lecture, contact the Islip Arts Council at (516) 224-5420.

Tickets to the Long Island Philharmonic concerts January 12 and 13 are available at $20, $18, and $15. Senior citizens, student and group rates are available. For further information, call the Philharmonic box office at (516) 293-2222 Monday through Friday from 9am to 4:30 pm.

To make a visit to the State Capital even more successful and enjoyable, Levy suggests that constituents planning such a trip call or write his District Office at 30 South Ocean Avenue, Freeport, New York, 11520-516-546-4100-- or his Albany office at Room 811.

Veterans Reminded To Check Beneficiary

"Many veterans who are paying premiums on their GI life insurance policies are not aware that the proceeds will not be paid to their immediate survivors," according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"The New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs would like veterans to be aware that the beneficiary listings on their policies may not conform to their current wishes," Hynes said. "Since a change of beneficiary cannot be made by a veterans last will and testament, it is imperative that veterans check the beneficiary listing to make absolutely certain that the insurance benefits will be paid in accordance with the veterans' present wishes.

The insured veteran has the right to designate one or more contingent beneficiaries in order to provide for the payment of the proceeds of his policy, or any unpaid portion thereof, in the event of the death of the principal beneficiary.

Hynes added that it is a simple matter for a veteran to change the beneficiary listing. "The New York State Veterans' Affairs counsellor located at 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa, can provide detailed information on all aspects of GI life insurance and assist in making any changes. Don't hesitate to call him at 798-5626, Monday through Thursday between 9 am and 4:45 pm."

The Discovery Room Nassau County Museum Of Fine Art

Gillian Bradshaw-Smith's Creature will inhabit the Discovery Room at the Nassau County Museum of Fine Art through March 3, 1985. In all, there are eight almost living, animal-like sculptures, accompanied by three extraordinary detailed drawings.

Tall and elephant-like in appearance and personality, the Creatures loom silently in their temporary home. Their painted canvas skin seems reptilian in texture, reminiscent of alligator or snake skin, and their long elephant trunks hang to the floor. The drawings magnify our view of the Creatures, bringing us close to their leathery skin and their undulating trunks. These invitingly touchable, friendly yet mysterious Creatures are testimony to Bradshaw-Smith's statement, "Art, at its best, is play."

As a sculptor, Bradshaw-Smith is primarily concerned with form -- with the "interplay between rigid and limp." She views the canvas body of her Creatures as a "flexible container enriched with illusory textures." Filling the container, Bradshaw-Smith determines the form and thereby, the personality of her Creatures.

Besides being a sculptor,

Bradshaw-Smith is also a toy designer.

Born in India, Bradshaw-Smith has exhibited extensively in the United States, where she now lives, as well as in England and Switzerland. She has shown in such galleries as The Art Center in Waco Texas, The New York Cultural Center, The Contemporary Arts Center in Cincinnati and The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, and has taught in New York, Texas and England.

The Discovery Room, found on the second floor of the Museum is a special "please touch" gallery for children. Individuals and groups interested in visiting the Discovery Room, should call the Docent Office on Wednesdays, between 10:30 and 3:00 at (516) 484-9337, to arrange for an appointment. The Museum is located off Northern Boulevard (25A) in Roslyn Harbor, NY, two lights west of the Glen Cove Road Intersection. Admission is free. Hours are: Tuesday through Friday, 10:00 AM-4:30 PM; Saturday and Sunday, 1:00-5:00 PM. Closed Mondays and Federal Holidays.

Estimated Tax Payment Due

Taxpayers have until January 16, 1985, to send the final installment of their 1984 estimated income tax to Internal Revenue.
January 16 is also the due date for taxpayers who are making their first estimated tax payment for 1984 because they first received income subject to the tax after September 1.
There is one exception to the January 16 rule for estimated tax. Taxpayers need not pay for it by that date if they file their 1984 tax return and pay all taxes due by January 31, 1985.

Additional information about estimated tax is contained in the free IRS Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax. It may be ordered with the order form in the income tax instruction booklet or over the forms phone, which is listed in local directories. Taxpayers may also obtain information by calling IRS taxpayer assistance on the federal tax information phone listed in their directory.

Second Precinct Police Report

The second squad is investigating the robbery of a truck driver that occurred on Dec. 20, in Plainview, at 10:15AM.

Kenneth Rudden, 31, of Hempstead, was stopped at a traffic light at the LIE south service road and Round Swamp Rd., in a tractor trailer owned by Paramount Mattress Corp. of Brooklyn. An armed subject jumped into the cab and took the wheel. He drove north on Round Swamp Rd. for about 1/4 mile and then made the complainant exit the vehicle, after taking $1,670 from him.

The complainant ran to a telephone and notified police. The truck was found about a mile from where the driver was forced out, on Round Swamp Rd.

The subject was described as a male black, 6'0", 220 lbs, stocky build, pocked marked-face, large moustache, wearing army-fatigue jacket, armed with a handgun.

The Arson Squad and Fire Marshals Office are investigating an Arson which occurred in Plainview on Dec. 23 at around 12:38 AM.

A fire started in the Cami Cleaners, at 137 Central Park Rd., after someone broke a rear window, poured a flammable liquid inside and ignited the liquid.

The Plainview Fire Dept. responded to the scene with four trucks and forty men, who brought the fire under control and extinguished it by 1AM.

No injuries were reported and damage was minor to the cleaners and an adjoining store at 135 Central Park Rd., the Casale Restaurant.

The Second Squad reports the arrest of a Syosset man for DWI involved in a fatal auto accident early on the morning of Dec. 20, in Syosset.

OPERATION V.F.W.

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma

At our last meeting held on Nov. 26 at the Post Hall, the Queens County Ritual Team (V.F.W.) gave an impressive ceremony which told a story about the V.F.W. The new members sworn in by the Ritual Team were John Hamma, Arthur Morgan, Edmund Skrynecki, George Anderson, Kevin Fitzsimmons, Frank Portuese, Frank Molinari, and Jane Prescott, the first woman to join our Post. She was an Army Nurse during WW II (she in E.T.O.). Tony Bliss, a Vietnam Veteran also the Pres. of Tristate of the 101st Abn. Div. Assoc. Our Post welcomes all veterans from all the wars to join. Our meetings are held on the 2nd and 4th Monday of each month. Our Ladies Auxiliary meets on the 2nd Thursday of the month. For more information if you are eligible, call the President Louise Normandy at 933-7637 or Post Hall at 931-7843.

man Edward Kleniewski reported to the membership about our monument at the Hicksville Jr. High School on Jerusalem Ave. and Fourth St. has been vandalized. "They write on the monument and you see sodas, beer bottles, etc. around the area. Also, the bushes and shrubbery are too high and the grass is not growing," he reported.

We as a Veterans Group are very concerned about the War Monument. We would like to see all the bushes and shrubbery cut down so that the grass can grow and the light can shine on this monument.

On Sunday, Dec. 16 at the Post Hall, the annual Christmas party for members of the Post & Ladies Auxiliary members with their spouses and escorts was held. Our Sr. Vice Comdr. Mac Bergshon was the chairman and he did a fine job.

On Dec. 19, our Chaplain Bill Izzo was chairman of the Northport Veterans Patients Christmas Party. Members of the Post and Ladies Auxiliary members of B.S.A. Troop 3211, Cub Scout Troop 3211 assisted him and made it a big success.

Every year at Christmas time we invite our veterans patients from our "Big 8" whom we visit during the year at Northport. Santa Claus was there to give all the guys from Northport a Christmas present. On Dec. 23 we held our Children's Christmas Party at the Hall. Santa Claus was there giving out toys to all the children & grandchildren of members of the Post and our Ladies Auxiliary. Bill Izzo, our Chaplain, was the chairman. On Friday, Dec. 21 at the V.F.W. Hall with the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary and our V.F.W. Ladies Auxiliary, a Christmas Party for our outgoing patients who come to the V.A. Satellite Clinic from Northport on Wed. & Fri. from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Don and Nancy Giacomelli, both members of this Post, and Rita Wentzy of Levittown Post 9592, made sandwiches, cookies, salad, cakes and other goodies for this party.

A week before Thanksgiving, the Comdr. Tony Cheepk and Chaplain Bill Izzo give a needy family in the Hicksville area a complete dinner. Our Ways and Means Joe Messana ran the Post's New Year Party on Dec. 31 - prime rib dinner - noisemakers - champagne toast - live band and unlimited liquor for $35.00 per person!

The committee of the Post 50th year celebration have made plans for the biggest celebration ever since our new building was officially opened! Ashtrays, journal book, other souvenirs will be available to mark our 50th year as V.F.W. Post in the Hicksville area. Our 50th Year Celebration Dinner & Dance to be held on Feb. 16 at Antun's Old Country Manor in Hicksville. Our 50th Year Chairman is P.P.C. Spike Frohnhof. If any one who lives in the Hicksville area has any articles or pictures about V.F.W. Post, give the hall a ring at 931-7843. Our Chaplain Bill Izzo reports comrades and sisters who have been hospitalized or ill during the month. Peter DeFilippie and P.P.C. Joe Normandy all back to work. Our Sr. Vice Comdr. Mac Bergshon and his wife, Past Pres. May, were in a car accident on last Las Vegas Nite, Nov. Also in the car was a friend of theirs, Eileen Paradiso. May is at home recuperating from a head concussion and three fractured ribs. Mac and Eileen are recuperating from slight injuries.

Our sincerest condolences to the family of Post member Carmine Cavalluzzo.
