Founders Day At East St.

Founder's Day is celebrated each year to com-memorate the founding of the National Parents and Teachers Association. This week East St. School celebrated Founder's Day with its Annual Covered Dish Dinner. The general mem-bership of East St. PTA was invited to bring a covered dish or dessert and share their favorite recipes with all in attendance.
The meeting has a more serious purpose since it is at this meeting that dedicated members of the group are honored, This year three very special people were honored by East St.'s PTA. Miss Elnore Saxon has been teaching at East St. since she graduated from Queens College, where she majored in Education and Music. She is an opera and ballet buff and an accommand ballet buff and an accomplished pianist. Her favorite composer, through no coincidence for a second grade teacher, is Mozart. She never fails to mention to her students that he was composing at their age. She is one of those special, caring people that brings much of herself to her classroom and it is all beneficial to her

Mrs. Joan Famiglietti is a typical PTA mother. She is a "super mom." Joan has been a member of East St.'s PTA for the past nine years. She has served on many commit-tees and has chaired many. She has been a Council Delegate for East St., Treasurer and is now Vice-President. Joan, the mother of four, is never at a loss for time when it comes to helping PTA. She not only works well within her own committees but is always willing to help wherever she is needed. She and her hus-band Mike have been living in Hicksville for 13 years. Joan was named Honorary Life Member at East St.

Gina Diana, is almost a household name in Hicks-ville. She has served on East

St.'s PTA for many years, on various committees, but her greatest contribution has been her work with Girl Scouts. In 1979 she started with a Brownie Troop, the fever caught and she encouraged people to volun-teer their time and talents. Soon there were enough troops to warrant a Consultroops to warrant a Consultant, a job which she took to easily. After watching her Brownies grow into young ladies she became a Junior Leader. She also started a Cadette Troop at East St. The quality of her leadership is unsurpassed. Her good judgement and her good

Time is ephemeral, its here and then its gone in short notice. Well, that's how it is with the Galileo Lodge's St. Valentine's Day Dance, scheduled for next Dance, scheduled for next Saturday, the 16th of Feb-ruary. So if you're planning to attend this dance, please call as soon as possible as the few remaining tickets might be sold. Crowd capacity that night will be limited to 250 people. Tickets sell at $12.50. per person, and in the offer-ing will be a delicious hot meal with all the trimmines. beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music for your dancing and listening plea-sure. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ingiono will be the Galileo Lodge's 'Valentine's Day Lodge's 'Valentine's Day Sweetheart's' and Jim Ingino himself will be the honoree that night also. Please note that a bringyour-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night. Skip Monteforte will be the chairman for this dance, chairman for this dance, ably assisted by Joe Morace, Armand Del Cioppo, Frank Matassa. So for a night steeped in the true traditions of St. Valentine's Day love, how you could possibly miss an activity bespeaks of love romance.

Well, its been quite a spell since we have reported the aquatic exploits of sensaaquatic exploits of sensa-tional Kim Hecker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hecker of our Lodge. Kim, if you recall, had been doing marvelously well in various swimming meets, and now Kim has once again dazzled us with her latest swimming achievements. Each report just about substantiates her amazing prowess to be a future Olympic competitor. Kim has recently (February Junior Olympics held at Marist College in Pough-keepsie. New York, where she took three gold medals, three silver ones and one bronze. Once again she is the Junior Olympic champion in the 200 yard butterfly

(2:09.84), the 100 yard but-terfly (1:00.31). The other Gold Medal was for her team effort in the 400 yard modey relay (4:12.79). Her parents and members of the Galileo Lodge of course. Galileo Lodge, of course, are duly proud to report that Darthmouth University as well as other prestigious by League schools are inter-ested in Kim. The present swimming coach of Darth-mouth writes to Kim on various occasions, which is quite an indication of the interest taken in Kim. Her next meet will be against the Wilton Wahoos in Connec-ticut on February 16, 17 and 18. We all here at the Galileo Lodge wish and extend to Kim our heartiest congratu-lations and the best of luck in the future.

To think about spring in the dead of winter, with subzero temperatures, cold, blistery winds and snow and ice, you would need a hyper-active imagination. But at the Galileo Lodge that imagination is stretched to the limit. And the evidence of that is imbedded in the fact that on Saturday the 16th of March, the Galileo Lodge will present its annual St. Joseph's Dance, Tickets sell for $12.50 per person, and in the offering will be a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and dance music for your pleasure. Joe Lo Presti will 'chair' this activity, ably abetted by Joe Morace, Frank Matassa and Armand Del Cioppo. Call 931-9351 and ask for members mentioned above for ticket sales, reservations, etc. Please note that a 'bring-your-own-liquor policy will be in effect that night.

Then of Thursday, the 21st of March, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge will hold its annual Fashion Show Technology Fashion Show. Tickets sell at $10.50 per person, a nom-inal fee that also entitles you to a hot dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake and much more. Mary Sarerra (433-6289) will supervise this show. Dinner will start at 7:00 P.M. Men, of course, are also invited as we feel that they also are fashionconcious.

For spring itself, the Galileo Lodge will present its 13th Annual Anniversary-Dinner Dance, chaired by Joe Giordano and a com-mittee to be named soon. On that particular night, the Galileo Lodge will honor Joseph Montmarano, the State President, and also on that night the Louise E. Massiello Memorial Scho-larship Awards will be handed out. More on this activity in later columns.

And, of course, that's not all, because in April, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Galileo Lodge is planning a three-day trip to the Villa Roma. The dates are April 12th, 13th and 14th. Fran Teritals (423 2732) will Ausiello (433-8783) will supervise this activity. The cost will be around $150 per person, bus fare not included. The Villa Roma is located in upstate New York, If you are interested in this delightful and exciting week-end, why not call Fran and get additional information, it would be to your satisfaction, I assure you.

LIA President To Step Down

Walter Oberstebrink of Manhasset, president and chief executive officer of the Long Island Association, announced today he will resign from the organization effective May 31, 1985.

LIA Chairman Richard W. Dalrymple, executive vice president, European W. Dalrympie, vice president, European American Bank, accepted Mr. Oberstebrink's resignation with deep regret. "As the LIA's first full-time pres-ident, Walter was the cohe-sive force that helped the Association focus on issues most critical to Long Island," he said. A painting of the Jackie Robinson stamp highlights the Postal Service exhibit of Black History on postage stamps now on display for Black History Month at the Hicksville

Library.

Jason Kingsley takes time to examine the display put together by postal employee Robert Campbell.

The pictures are on loan from the Brooklyn Post Office and the Black Heritage stamps are from the collection of Hicksville window clerk John Lappano.

February is National Black History Month. Rogers Nienaber, Hicksville/Manager/Postmaster says that, "Through its Black heritage USA series of commeorative and regular stamp issues, the Postal Ser-vice has helped focus attention on black Americans who have helped shape the nation since early colonial

At the Hicksville Library the Postal Service is putting on a black history display this month, featured are Jackie Robinson the first major league baseball player to appear on a stamp, it was Robinson who broke base-Robinson who broke base-ball's color line and was active in civil rights and youth activities; Martin Luther King, the distin-guished civil rights leader who received the Nobel Peace Prize for his leader-the in the convident true. ship in the nonviolent struggle for racial equality in the United States; Scott Joplin, "The King of Ragtime," whose compositions made a significant development to modern popular music.

The display contains more information about these and other black history stamps.

Post Office Has "D" Stamp Available

An adequate supply of "D" stamps and other non-denominated items is available at the Hicksville Post Office to help customers make a smooth transition after the February 17 Postal rate change. Hicksville MSC Manager/Postmaster, Roger Nie-naber, says that the the nondenominated "D" stamps in sheet, coil and booklet formats represent the new 22-mats represent the new 22-cent first-class letter rate. "Nobody likes 10 see higher postal-rates, but this increase is moderate and jus-tified," Postmaster Roger Nienaber said. "Since the last increase in November 1881 the cost of living in the 1981, the cost of living in the United States, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, has gone up almost 13 percent. The 22-cent stamp is only a 10 percent

"The nondenominated items are available because we estimate that stamp inventories in Post Offices at present will fall short of public demand and, we want to avord customer inconven-ience," he said.

Commemorative stamps, beginning with the Jerome kern stamp, and other 22-cent stamps, are expected to replace the "D" stamps by the end of March, the Postmaster said.

TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

BE READY TO LISTEN

If a friend of yours is recently bereaved, it's pos-sible that the greatest good you can do them is to listen you can do them is to issen to what they have to say. Words are fine, and a card is thoughtful, but some-times just being there to share their feelings is the greatest service you can

It may not be easy. You may be uncomfortable. Nonetheless, you should bear with it if you can. Many times, a bereaved person feels compelled to recall the deceased or the death event itself over and over, as if repeating it aloud will somehow impress its reality They may want to talk at length about that special person, about things they liked to do together, about things they ill never have the chance to do now. Curb your desire to keep changing the subject. The expression of these thoughts and the knowledge that someone cares enough to listen are important parts of the healing process.

Another important matter is the proposed widening of Nevada Street by NY State. This matter was discussed at length at the February Community Council meeting and the Midland Civic Association (newly reactivated) will be working on this important local matter to see that this Town-owned road does not undergo such a widening which would owned road does not undergo such a widening which would affect the value of many Nevada Street homes disastrously. County Board Approves Crime Proceeds Forfeit Program

On Feb. 4, Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Thomas S. Gulotta, majority leader of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors, announced the approval of an agreement between the County and the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services for the institution of a Target Crime Initiative Proraget Crime initiative Program which will enable the District Attorney to institute forfeiture proceedings against those individuals who realize a financial gain as a result of criminal activ-ity or as a result of the sale of items taken during a crimi-

The funding which the County will receive from New York State as part of this agreement will amount excess of $55,000. These funds will enable Nassau County to employ the necessary staff to institute forfeiture proceedings against those who have been found guilty of criminal

Specifically, this new program will have the greatest impact on individuals engaged in: burglary and fencing operations; drug sales; automobile stealing and 'chop-shop' operations; larceny; and illegal gamlarceny; and illegal gam-bling and racketeering. "I think that this is an important step in the fight against crime," Gulotta said. "Now, not only will a person engaged in illegal activity in Nassau County be putting themselves in criminal jeopardy; anything that can be proven to be the proceeds of illegal activity will also be subject to seizure."

The forfeiture program, which will be run by the Nassau District Attorney's office under the direction of the County's Criminal Jus-tice Coordinating Council, is the first of its kind in Nassau County.

According to Supervisor Gulotta, "By this action, we in County and Town government are reaffirming our committeent to fight crime in every conceivable manner. CPB Executive Director

Richard M. Kessel said that the staff of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has proposed repealing the cery store advertising and the supply of advertised items. Under the rule that has been in existence since 1971, advertising a product as "on sale" which is not available during the sale period constitutes an unfair and deceptive act or practice. Thus, a store that offers a two-liter bottle of soda at 99 cents must either have the product displayed at the price or provide clear and adequate notice that the item is in stock and may be obtained upon request. Often, the store will give the customer a rain check which would allow him or her to purchase the product at the sale price when it becomes available. Although the issuance of a rain check is not required, it is considered an important factor in any enforcement proceeding against a store which has violated the rule.

"This attempt by the FTC to eliminate the rain check rule must be stopped," said Kessel. "Consumers have an absolute right to purchase a sale item even when the existing supply is exhausted. Repeal of this rule would lead to confusion and an increase in deceptive advertising."

In comments filed with the FTC, Kessel pointed out that any change in the rain check rule would affect New York consumers because York law provides a complete defense to a store that can show that alleged deceptive acts or practices

> The evil that produces persecution and suffering does not originate with God. Sometimes it is the devil's direct activity. Sometimes our own evil nature causes us to bring problems upon ourselves. Our God is a lov-ing God. Let's not blame God for our problems. Where our problems come from is not the key question, but how are we, God and me, going to handle the problem, and how can the problem make me stronger as we work through it together? The same pain makes some people bitter or envious...others sensitive and compassionate. things work together for good to those who love God." There is possibility for gain in pain, we must be wise enough to find it with God's help. Will we allow our suffering to serve God or the devil? Will we allow our suffering to weaken our faith in God, to let life's tragedies pose questions? Or will we seek a closer rela-tionship with God inviting him to walk with us through the valley of the shadow death, fearing no evil knowing that he is with us every step of the way?

In times of persecution, let us not only seek the com-forting hand of God but also his guiding hand, guiding usto new understanding and appreciation of life, strengthening our character, increasing our patience, and drawing us ever to himself. concerning grant funding, Newsday reporter. Cheyrl Turi, described the museum as receiving a $150,000 grant from the "Federal Historic Site Restoration Fund" for renovation of the Museum's building, the former Heitz Place Courthouse. One got the impression that this was a new grant, applied for and received by the museum

Director.

The Board of Trustees and I wish this was the case but it is not. In actuality, the renovation and preservation funds for Hicksville's Hisfunds for Hicksville's His-toric Heitz Place Court-house and Jail are "old monies" being provided by the Town of Oyster Bay through its Department of Intergovernmental Affairs under Commissioner Patricia Maguire. The funds are Federal Community Devel-opment Funds, a portion opment Funds, a portion ermitted and ear-marked permitted and ear-marked for historical preservation. The Heitz Place Courthouse project has been in the works for over two years and will be getting under-way, it is the Museum's spring. The project's planning, construction and financial disbursements are all being handled by Town depart-ments. The Gregory Museum and its historic home community, Hicks-ville, will be the recipients of this important preservation effort by Supervisor Joseph Colby and the Town Board and its agencies.

Minus Newsday's seem-ing windfall of $150,000 the Gregory Museum has app-lied for a General Support Grant from the Federal selfsupport, particularly living up to its service contract with the Hicksville Board of Education to the limit of its resources.

Petting A Python At Willet Ave.

When Willet Avenue kin dergarteners come to the School Library/Media Center there are a variety of activities available. Besides book circulation, there may be a story hour, a filmstrip, a video tape -- but their favo-riet activity is opening a Treasure Box. These contain a variety of realia, donated or collected over the years, and curriculum related in one way or another.

At Williet Avenue these treasures include an octo-pus, preserved in a jar; an extensive nest collection; a variety of moths and butterflies accompanied by cocoons, eggs and pupa cases. Thanks to the nearby Gregory Museum, there are rocks, minerals and fossils in rocks, minerals and fossils in abundance. A perennial favorite, however, is the "Snake" box, with its special attraction – a large, though somewhat tattered, python skin. Once they get over their initial hesitancy, and have the assurance that there is nothing "yucky" in their library, the children are eager to inspect and handle the skin. They observe that the underside has much coarser scales than the top, and is even worn through in spots from contact with the
