Library Budget Vote, April 17

The proposed budget for 1985-86 will be presented to the voters on April 17th. Voting will be held at the Library from 12 noon to 10 p.m. The total budget is $1,095,435.44 an increase of less than 5% over the 1984 budget and carrying a tax increase of approximately 2e per $100.00 of assessed valuation. The tax rate is estimated at 90c per $100.00 for the homeowner. The new budget provides for modest increases in materials, maintenance and a projected 5% salary increase beginning July 1st. Carpeting for the main reading room is included. All of the increases reflect rising costs and the added respon-sibility of maintaining the new addition to be completed in May or June. A tax rate of 90¢ per $100.00 indi-cates that most residents will pay only slightly more than $1.00 a week to support their library.

The Board of Trustees would like to make it very clear that the addition, now under construction, was financed almost entirely from interest bearing Certificates of Deposit purchased from accumulated fines and fees, and some $23,000.00 provided by the State from the 1984 Library Construc-tion Act. Absolutely no current funds were used for the building except for stacks to shelve the estimated 30,000 plus books the addition will hold.

We plan to continue developing the book collec-tion, one of the largest in Nassau County, and con-tinue presenting the well attended series of concerts and films, plus the bus trips and other special services and programs. A consider-able amount of attention has been focused on our collection of video cassette recordings. Most of the recordings. which rent for only $1.0 a night, are presently popular films. We are gradually adding documentary and educational films to the collection. One of our latest purchases is an outstanding documentary film on the history of the Shroud of Turin, which should be of interest to many of our patrons. All of the rental fees realized from these films are used to purchase additional films.

BEG PARDON! In last week's column, where and when I wrote about the relatively inspiring and imprestively inspiring and impres-sive ceremony concerned with the installation of the newly-elected officers of the Galileo Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary. I inad-vertently forgot to mention the collation that followed, with a variety of excellent food, refreshments, cake and confectionaries offered, not to mention an open bar where drinks of one's own choosing were available. This period, of course, added immeasurably to the delightful social atmosphere.

What an organization does, what it offers, what it stands for and what are its reactions to the community-at-large, yes, all these condi-tions tell you exactly what kind of an organization it is. The idea that the Galileo Lodge does not exist for itself but for others becomes quite apparent as it announ-ces that on Saturday, the 27th of April, it will present its 13th Annual Dinner and Dance. The special feature of this dance is that the distribution of the Lousie E. Massiello Memorial Scholarship Awards will take place. And we might mention here that another noteable feature of this dance will be the honoring of Joe Montmarano, State President of the Grand Lodge ofthe Order of the Sons of Italy in America. In keeping with the purpose and mean ing of this dance, we proudly announce that an Ad Journal will be one of its important aspects. Tickets sell at $32.00 per person, and in the offering will be a cocktail hour that starts at 8:30 P.M., a delicious prime rib dinner, coffee and cake, beer, soda, unlimited liquor, set-ups, and some delightful dance

The Ticket Committee con-sists of Rocco Lombardo (433-7284) and Robert Grimmer (795-2232). The Dance Committee will consist of Frank Matassa (931-2848) and Joe Morace (931-2548) and Jim Posillico (334-6852). The Journal Committee will have Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052) and Pat Gatto (433-6708. Please note that hors-d'oeuvres will be served at othe tables and that this affair will be catered by the

and heritages to blend, grow and expand. It is being together, to derive strength and pride, and there are bonds that help to solidy feelings and emotions. It is another example of the axiom, that in unity there is strength. It is pretty much the same when you seek an ethnic organization, and it is retty much the same with Italians who seek to perpetuate their goals and ambitions, who seek to expand their views and thoughts about the important contri-butions made by their race to civilization.

So if you are thinking about joining an ethnic organization where Italianmericanism is always in the foreground, now is the time to check out the Galileo Lodge. It wants you and it needs you. Call 931-9351 and ask for an officer or a-member who will acquaint you with the principles, aspirations and views of the Galileo Lodge. Oyster Bay Unemployment Rate Drops Below 4%

Oyster Bay Town Super-visor Joseph Colby announced that recent figures released by the Nassau County Department of Labor show that unemployment in the Town of Oyster Bay for the month of February dropped to 3.8%.

"An unemployment rate of 4% is considered 'full employment plus'," said employment plus'," said Colby. "It is particularly noteworthy that the Town, and all of Nassau County, are well below the overall rate of 7.1% for the State of New York. In fact, the County of Nassau, with an unemployment rate of 3.9% has the lowest rate for all areas in the state with a work force exceeding 200,000."

The low unemployment rate in Oyster Bay, coupled with an increase in the number of building permits requested, are strong indicators that existing industries and businesses in the Town are not only remaining but expanding their facilities. New businesses are continu-ally moving into the Town because they find a readily available work force.

"The measures taken by the Town Board to encourage business and economic growth by making this a desireable place to work and to live are evident since this latest unemployment figure shows a decrease from last summer's figure of 3.9%," Colby concluded.

Something To Think About VERN & BILL WAGNER TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

ROMAN ORIGINS

The ancient romans practiced both burial and cremation at various times. In either case, the body lay in state for view-ing by the public. It was at this time in history that the libitinarius — the profes-sional mortician — came into being.

This specialist was the direct ancestor of the modern funeral director; modern tuneral director. In many ways, he carried out the same functions. The libitinarious took care of annointing or embalm-ing; he arranged for the details of the tuneral pro-cession; and he went farther, supplying profes-sional mourners and

History Day Contest Winners

Four 8th grade stu-dents from the Hicksville Junior High recently participated in the National History Day Contest. This was a District Contest in which Thomas Reilly, David D'Introno. Anthony Formica, and Vladimer Sinayuk competed against Nassau and Suffolk County media entries.

Their entry of a videotape on the "Atomic Bomb: Triumph or Tragedy?" received 2nd place out of 20 contestents.

The contest was held at Hofstra University on March 23. Their supervisor was Dr. William Temmey and technical consultant was Mr. Joseph Scalia. They will now proceed to the State finals in Saratoga Springs in May.

Congratulations and good luck.

Hicksville JHS To Present "Annie"

Hicksville "theater-goers" who have been thrilled by past delightful performan-ces of the Hicksville Junior High School Drama Club should take note: You are in for another superb treat this month as the group presents "Annie" on April 25, 26, and 27.

"Annie" is the musical based on the famous cartoon strip that tells the story of the changing fortunes of an orphan. She was left in the hands of a mean matron, Miss Hannigan, who really dislikes the little girls in her care at the orphanage. Annie never stops dreaming of her parents and never gives up hope that they will come for her. She has kept this dream alive eleven years. Her rags to riches story makes for a warm, funny musical with numbers that are bright and snappy. The Drama Club has enjoyed high success with its enjoyed nign success within a last three productions, "MUSIC MAN," "BYE BYE BIRDIE," and "GUYS AND DOLLS." This success is due to the high quality of the productions and the productions and differ of great amount and effort of all involved. Once again, the group is blessed with an abundance of great talent with a cast of 67 and an orchestra of 20 members. The production staff and crew of "Annie" numbers more than 125 people who have kept busy putting the show together.

Appearing in the leading roles are Jessica Garnets as Annie, Richard Halstead as Daddy Warbucks, and Melissa Sheinwold as Miss Hannigan. Susan Squires plays the part of Grace, and Rooster is portrayed by Sal

Frisa Announces Missing Children's Hearing In East Meadow

Assemblyman Dan Frisa (15th A.D.) announced a public Assemblyman Dan Prisa (15th A.D.) announce a public hearing will be held in East Meadow to explore the tragedy of missing children in the state of New York. The hearing will be at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, April 17 at East Meadow High School, Carmen Avenue in East Meadow.

Meadow. Frisa, a member of the Assembly Republican Task Force on Missing Children, had pledged to bring the task force to Nassau as one of his first priorities.

The hearing is for the purpose of receiving comments as to the nature and potential means of resolving various prob-tems related to child abduction. The Task Force also vigorously seeks comment on legislation which its Members have introduced to date.

They are: In require police departments to immediately investigate reports of missing children under age 12; require depart-ments to submit quarterly missing children reports to the state Division to submit an annual report to the Governor and Legislature (A.5601);

100th Anniversary Dinner Dance

Nassau Children's House. Inc. is celebration its 100th year as a child care agency year as a child care agency on Long Island with a dinner dance at the Crest Hollow Country Club, Woodbury, on April 18. Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell will be honored in appreciation for the County of Nassauts the County of Nassau's Long history with and support of Nassau Children's House. Four former members of the agency's Board of Directors will also be honored for their years of dedicated service to the care of youth: Ms. Wendy Glen, now of North Carolina; Leonard L. Marshall, Jr., of Locust Valley; S. Reed Anthony, of Old Brookville; and Lionel Goldberg of Glen Cove.

The agency was originally known as the Temporary Home for Friendless Child-ren and served "waifs and strays" - young children who were orphaned or abused. It was the first agency in New York State to remove children from the adult workhouses of the 19th century and place them in their shelter for children. When Nassau County was getting off the ground in 1899, the agency provided the probation and child pro-tective services for the new County, until public agen-cies were created for these programs.

Since 1884, over 22,000 children and their families have been sheltered and guided. Til the mid 1960's, very young children wers serviced. Since then teenag-ers from Nassau and Suffolk counties have been the focus of care.

Today the agency consists
