Midland Civics Goals

The Midland Civic Assoc. held its second monthly meeting at the Willet Ave. School on Tuesday, April 16th, at 8 P.M. Continued interest in civic affairs and the welfare of the community was evident as a sizeable group gathered to hear progress reports and partake of a "question and answer" program on "what are your goals for your Civic Assoc?" Ellie Draycott presented the problem we face. Topmost the newer issues was the discussion concerning Nevada St. Petitions have been distributed, signed, and collected asking that both streets on Nevada near Mid-

Island Plaza should be "ingress" only. Hopefully, that would eliminate a lot of the congestion and thus negate the need to widen Nevada St., with the consequence of severely damaging the livability of the homes on that street. A resolution was made and unanimously passed that we support the people of Nevada St. in their efforts to save their property. It is hoped that Bennigan's, a restaurant proposed for construction on Broadway, and Mid-Island Plaza, will work out traffic prob-lems to the satisfaction of the Nevada St. community. The problem of the ship program depends a great deal on the fiscal suc-cess of this dance. And, needless to mention, the Galileo Lodge always strives for social success as well.

Joe Giordano (333-4555) will chair this activity, ably assisted by co-Chairman Skip Monteforte. The Ticket Committee consists of Rocco Lombardo (433-7284) and Robert Grimmer (795-2232). The Dance Committee has Frank Committee has Frank Matassa (931-2848), Joe Morace (931-2548) and Jim Posillico (334-6852). The Journal Committee consists of Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052) and Pat Gatto (433-6708). In charge of Boosters is Al Barella (931-3960). This affair will be attered by the lanonne Restaurant in Hicksville.

And then, as usual, it's always continuous enjoy-ment, pleasure and leisure. For example, the next Fishing Trip is scheduled for Sunday. June 30th. The boat is the Capt. Richie, the fee is $25 and that includes food, beer, bait, rod and reel. The boat leves the Nautilus mile, Freeport at 8:00 A.M. and arrives at 3:00 P.M. The boat is private and it holds 80 people. Child-ren's fee is $15 if they are twelve and under. Jim Posil-lico (334-6852) and John Keiper (931-3758) will supervise this activity. The other dates set for future fishing trips are July 28 and September 15. So for fishing enthusiasts, or even if you go merely for the outing, this activity should offer you leisure and pleasure.

Just as we know that there are quite a few golf enthusi-asts associated with the Galileo Lodge, we also know that golf also has its share of fans. So on Sunday, May 5th, the Galileo Lodge will sponsor a golf outing at the Netherwood County Club. Green fees are $16, with food and drinks being part of this outing. There will be breakfast at the Galileo Lodge at 7:30 A.M. and the golfing starts at 10:30 A.M. Bert Molinelli will supervise this activity. Call 931-9351 for more details.

There were a great number of people in opposition to the zone change. If the zone is changed and the gas station no longer exists, any other type of unwanted structure could be crected on the property. Other car wash owners in the area opposed the plan because they said that the property would be over used. There would be three curb cuts made on the Newbridge Rd. side of the station and only one curb cut on the Old Country Rd. side. This would cause an increase of traffic on an already congested Newbridge Rd. and allow for the possibility of having cars backed up on Old Country Rd, while wait-ing to enter the car wash. The Town also questioned the fact of the store being open 24 hours and selling

Mr Farl Rowen, who came to the hearing in opposition of the drive-thru window, complimented Burger dow, complimented Burger King for the job they do to keep the area clean. He stated that most of the litter is generated by the drive-thru window at Jack's next door to Burger King, and that another drive-thru window at Burger King would aggrevate the existing prob-lem. The attorney for Burger king said that they would hire people to police the area and clean up any litter whether it was generated by Burger King or not.

Decision was reserved on the proposed amendments to the Code of Ordinances of the Town of Oyster Bay, to amend chapter 11 - Gar-bage, Litter and Waste-varbage, Litter and Waste - various sections. After studying the present code, revisions were proposed that would require more information from applicants before being granted permits for dumping at the Solid Waste Disposal Site. There will be three types of permits instead of one. There will be other revisions made to update the code.

Matter of the revocation of the Carters Waste Removal Permit of V&J Carting Co... by the town clerk, V&J appealed to the Town Board because their permit had been revoked on March 30. An employee of the DEC

INVESTING IN AMERICA

American real estate looks like a good investment — especially to foreign-investors, who are pouring millions into U.S. properties these days Most of those European syndicates are attracted not only by the land, but by our stable political system and the safe dollar.

Truth is, real estate has been a super way to watch you'r equity build, even if you're not seeking a heven for your francs or pounds. Home prices have been rising, sometimes slowly, sometimes spectacularly, in the pest 25 years. Your home is almost certainly worth more than you peid for it.

When you sell, you want to realize all you can. To protect your equity, let a professional hardle the transaction. We'll show you how we can maximize your return despite commission, with a better sales price.

The Hospital With A Heart: DEBORAH

A walk down the halls of Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills, New Jersey, tells the visitor immediately that there is something different from the usual hospital hum going on here, A doctor touches and comforts, his patient in the moments before surgery. A nurse, before surgery. A nurse, unharried, carefully explains to her patients a complex medical procedure. The difference at Deborah is an almost palpable sense of compassion, an attitude of caring and concern.

Perhaps this arrises from Deborah's unique mission — to provide the highest qualspecialized medical care at no cost to the patient. It is a non-profit, non-sectarian hospital with philanthropy at its core. No patient is ever charged - insurance com-panies, Medicare - are sent bills. If a patient has no insurance coverage, he or she incurs no indebtedness to the hospital, except that of gratitude. Quite frankly, no patient has ever gone broke at Deborah.

Such an extraordinary attitude foward payment is becoming increasingly rare in this era of soaring hospi-tal costs and for profit medi-cine. What enables Deborah to operate in this way is its fund-raising strength, cen-tered around the local chapter network of the Deborah Hospital Foundation with more than 65,000 members nationally. They raise between six and eight million dollars annually through dedication, hard work, and the loyalty of those whose lives have been One of those is Mrs.

Cheryl Fiedler of East Meadows, New York. A member of the Long Island Heart Chaptes, Mrs. Fiedler became involved in Deborah 18 years ago when her daughter Stephanie was six months old. Stephanie had been born with a con-genital heart disease and Mr. and Mrs. Fiedler were exhausting themselves emotionally and financially seek-ing care for their daughter private cardiologists.

My hisband and I were a struggling young couple, but we would have spent every cent we had in making Ste-phanic well. We weren't, however very satisfied with the care she was getting. When a friend suggested Deborah when Stephanie needed open heart surgery; we were delighted with the personal attention she Stephanie was just a number at Deborah. To this day she continues to see the original physician who did the surgery when she goes back to Deborah for her annual check-up!" Mrs. Fiedler's gratitude was a significant motivator in her membership participation. Currently very active, she's the sions and has always been enthusiastic about fundraising for the hospital.

"I feel very strongly about the medical and personal integrity at Deborah and am extremely pleased that 85¢ out of every dollar raised goes directly to the hospital.

Deborah may not spend a lot of money on elaborate advertising and such, but the quality is there where it counts—in the professional-ism and care of the staff from the top physicians to administrative support. Patients are always seen and treated as whole people."

County OKs Road Project For Oyster Bay

The Nassau County Board of Supervisors has given approval to two road given approval to two road improvement projects total-ling 53.4 million. The sub-ject roadwork will take place in the Towns of North Hempstead and Oyster Bay. Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Colby stated that: "I was happy to support this was happy to support this important measure which provides for an extensive rehabilitation of the infrastructure of the Town of Oyster Bay. The program approved today provides for roadwork to be performed on sections of Hicksville/-Woodbury Road, Syosset/-Woodbury Road, East Woods Road, Old Country Road and Central Avenue in Bethpage.

This project is just one of many anticipated for the coming year that will serve County reputation as hav-ing one of the finest road in the Nation, systems in Colby said.

According to North Hemp tead Supervisor John B Kiernan and Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Colby, Phase I of the 1985 County Road Resurfacing project calls for the expendi ture of $1.5 million to repair and upgrade 20 lane miles of County roadways, Supervisor Kiernan stated that, "The goal of this phase of the program is to rehabilitate existing roadways, provide for smoother and safer riding surfaces and thereby reduce overall maintenance costs. The roadwork approved on Apr. 15 by the Board of Supervisors is designed primarily to pre-vent road deterioration and result in reduced roadwork costs in the future."

TOB Adopts Consumer Ordinance

The Oyster Bay Town Board today, April 16, 1985, adopted an ordinance which will require establishments within the Town which sell food and drugs, to conspic-uously post a listing of items that are taxable or tax exempt for use by consumers, according to Town Supervisor Joseph Colby.

Colby said that, "the ordinance will assist consu-mers and retailers alike, by requiring that the New York State Department of Taxa-tion and Finance partial list-ing of items which are taxable or tax exempt be displayed at or nearby cash registers. In addition," Colby continued, "the taxp-yers Assistance Bureau toll-free number (1-800-342-3536) will also be posted for consumer use, so that immediate clarification on any item's taxability can be obtained."

Colby noted that the ordinance had been adopted after a public hearing held on April 16th, in an effort to provide more accurate information for consumers, store owners and cashiers regarding the taxable status of food items, drugs and medicines.

"Very often," Colby said. "a store owner or cashier is not surg whether an item is taxable or not, and this confusion had led to consumers being charged tax on an item one day and not being charged tax on the very same item the next day."

Colby added that the Town's Public Information Office has prepared a sample listing which will be distributed to all Town residents for their personal use within the next issue of the Town of Oyster Bay News.

VERN & BILL WAGNER TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

"BEREAVEMENT BUYING" TENDENCY

Strange as it may sound, many grieving persons help to assuage their grief by buying things. At a time when it may be difficult emotionally to get involved with other s, there is an inclination to become attached to new objects. Material comforts, of course, cannot replace the deceased, but they afford a distraction. These new things provide an opportunity to find some pleasure in life again, if only of a temporal nature. This' tendency, known as 'bereavement buying", is well recognized - not only by social scientists, but by Many con men as well. schemes have been directed at the bereaved, since many of them do have money from insurance as well as an urge to spend. For lots of people, the insurance check represents the largest sum of money they have ever had at one time. For this reason, the bereaved should rely on trusted financial advisors and be wary of strangers with investment schemes or expensive merchandise.

Central General Awarded Acceditation

The Central General Hospital Transfusion Service has been awarded accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB), according to Robert Bornstein, Administrator of the 300 bed health care facility.

Accreditation follows an intensive on-site inspection by specially trained repre-sentatives of the Association and establishes that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the rigorous stand-árds set by the AABB. By successfully meeting those requirements, Central Gen-eral's Transfusion Service joins more than 2,200 similar facilities across the United States and abroad that have earned the Accredita-

The children not only wrote the plays, they also wrote news easts and com-mercials which were used in between the plays to allow for scenery changes. The Dream, written by Donald Endonino, The Kidnapping, written by Jonathan Blaser and The Day the Cabbage Parch kids Were Eaten by the Blob, written by Stephen Mott were all well written and well acted. One commercial in particular entitled the Dancing Pills was very effective, since it dealt with danger of mistaking medicine for candy.

All the children took part-in the plays and commercials. They made their own costumes and constructed their own scenery. The children of Miss Collins' class have studied many plays during the year and this performance culmination of all the things they learned about drama.

Senator Ralph J. Marino (R-C, Syosset) is urging all individuals whose federal disability or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits were terminated at any time since June 1, 1976, to contact their nearest Social Security office immediately.

"Recent court decisions and the passage of the Social Security Disability Benefits Reform Act of 1984 now give thousands of former recipients in New York the right to request new reviews of their cases and the restoration of benefits." Marino said. "If a person's benefits were stopped, that individual or a representative should visit a Social Security office promptly and request a review. These reviews and restorations can occur only if the individual files a request form with Social Security." Marino also noted that many mentally disabled per-Senator Ralph J. Marino sons whose applications t-C, Syosset) is urging all were denied during the same dividuals whose federal period have a similar right to request a case review.

A toll-free telephone "hotline" has also been established by the Department of Social Securities to provide information. That number is 1-800-342-3009. Individuals may also contact regional offices of the New York State Attorney General for information should they wish to do so before visiting their nearest Social Security office

I couldn't understand the words. Still, I recognized the tune and the song touched my heart!

The auditorium was packed recently at packed recently at Hicksville High School as the Vienna Choir Boys presented their inspiring concert of world famous classics Each song was performed with a precision and profes-sionalism rarely exhibited by more mature musicians.

At the conclusion of the concert the audience gave a rousing ovation which called for an encore. The young choir responded by singing "America". It is hard to describe the listeners' reaction. Impressed, moved, touched—may come close. The boys sang two verses of this proud American favor-ite in English. Yet, their Austrian accents made it dif-ficult to understand the lyrics. it did not matter. I couldn't understand the words. Still, I recognized the sing a variety of songs. In many ways we march to the beat of different drummers. The lifestyles we present before others leave an effect upon their lives. Impressed, moved, touched-do these terms describe our neigh-bors' reactions to our performances?

In our community people

I suggest there is one song which we all can sing that will stir up these tender reac-tion. The song is Love. Without Love our lives sing forth no more than "a noisy gong or a clanging cymbol" concert (I Corinthians 13:1). Love is the most inspiring work of art that can be performed by mankind. As citizens trying to take steps toward community improvements, whether opposing the infiltration of detremental agents or proposing the ministry of feeding the hungry (eg. I.N.N.), we will make the greatest progress if we all join our hearts together in a concert of Love, "the perfect bond of unity" (Colossians 3:14).
