Gregory Museum Summer Workshop

The Hicksville Gregory Museum's summer nature workshops for children ages 9-12 will resume with the program From Jaws to Straws, an insect study activity, on July 23rd. Joan Scancarelli, the museum's naturalist, who is currently part of a foundation-sponsored scientific group studying the Amazon River environment, will lead the children again.

The workshop will run for four afternoons, July 23, 25, 26, 27 from 2:30 to 4:30 daily. The program will take place in the Communities Activity Room of the Hicksville Public Library while the Gregory Museum is closed temporarily as a result of a fire causing some building damage.

From Jaws to Straws is a workshop designed to help youngsters learn about the world of insects which comprises so much of our environment. In addition to learning about the insects of the world, the children will learn how to create and

To better safeguard young school bus riders, Assemblyman Fred Parola (R.C.-Wantagh) announced his renewed cosponsorship of legislation that would prohibit the hiring of bus drivers who have been convicted of certain crimes.

Specifically, Parola's measure would prohibit the employment of a school bus driver who has been convicted of sexual offenses; driving while intoxicated or driving while ability impaired; controlled substance abuse offenses or adjudicated as a youth offender of these offenses.

"Last year, the governor vetoed comparable legislation because of his misdirected concern for the rights of bus drivers, which he placed over those of our endangered children," Parola said.

"Recent incidences of child molestation and sexual assaults upon young people by school bus drivers call attention to the need to protect innocent youngsters riding school buses from potential harm," said Parola.

"The legislation that I've cosponsored would prohibit the employment of a person as a school bus driver if that person has been convicted of any sexual offenses. Persons also could not be hired if they have been convicted of DWI or DWAI, or if they have a record of controlled substance abuse."

The assemblyman noted that a Long Island school bus driver previously accused of sexual misconduct was charged recently with molesting a young child on his bus.

Parola said that his proposal would help to avoid such incidents by preventing the employment of individuals with records of sexual assault. By also prohibiting the hiring of school bus drivers with poor driving records, the legislation would provide an additional safeguard for students who ride school buses.

"We cannot be too careful when charging another person with the care and transport of our children. They deserve a safe ride to and from school and freedom from fear," said Parola.

Town Board Denies Special Use Permit In Hicksville

The Oyster Bay Town Board has denied a request for a special use permit to operate a car washing and pinstriping business in Hicksville, according to Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

Clark said, "following a public hearing held on April 30, 1985, on a petition by Adam Realty and Ernie's Finishing Touch, Inc., the board determined that granting a special use permit would adversely impact on the adjacent residential areas." Concerns centered around the emission of loud machinery noise, fumes, dust and odors common to the activities of compounding, buffing, polishing and vacuuming automobiles.

"Residents who attended the hearing," added Clark, "also cited concerns regarding stagnant puddles of water from washing cars, litter and debris, as well as parking and traffic problems which would be detrimental to the surrounding residential area.

The property is located on the south side of Old Country Road at the intersection of the east side of Maple (Halsey) Avenue, in Hicksville.

Hicksville Postmaster Turns Chef To Reward Accident-Free Employees

May was Safe Driving Month for the Postal Service. This is of utmost importance to the Postal Service because it has the second largest operation fleet in the Western world, using approximately 200,000 cars and trucks daily to help move the mail.

Roger Nienaber, Hicksville Manager/Postmaster, wanted to do something special to focus postal vehicle operators and mechanics attention on reducing accidents. "One of the key factors in accident prevention is attitude. Safe Driving Month is important to the Postal Service. No other tool of modern society has been as beneficial or has caused as much pain and suffering as the automobile. Let's face it...we all depend upon the automobile. Fifty thousand people a year get into their cars and never return home," said the Postmaster. "We wanted to do something special to reward our safe motor vehicle employees, so we decided to have a cook-out for any motor vehicle section that went accident free during the month of May."

On June 24th Mr. Nienaber and Al Fassler, Fleet Manager donned "Safety Serves All" aprons and chef hats, set up a grill outside the dispatch office and fulfilled their promise to cook for their accident-free motor vehicle employees.

Drivers and mechanics from the accident-free tours enjoyed hot dogs, hamburgers, sausages, salads, watermelon and soda.

Peter Varinos, dispatcher in the vehicle office, said, "Everyone enjoyed it. They were happy to see their bosses doing something special to thank them for doing

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

PRESIDENT PETE MASSIELLO'S MESSAGE: "Diligence is the mother of good luck." Benjamin Franklin

The talk of the town these days is that everybody is anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Galileo Lodge's Italian Wedding Dance, set for Saturday, the 3rd of August. This dance, as I have mentioned before, good-naturedly pokes a little fun at the customs and traditions associated with the old-fashion Italian weddings of days gone by. Tickets sell at $12.50 per person, and in the offering will be a delicious Italian dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music for your listening and dancing pleasure from a leading disc jockey. Joe Giordano will chair this activity, ably assisted by co-Chairmen Rocco Lombardo and Tony Sica, all of whom, incidentally, will be selling tickets every Monday and Wednesday nights at the Galileo Lodge, from 8 to 10 P.M. Please note also that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night. If you want to laugh, if you want to eat well and drink heartily, if you want to be a part of some delightful humor, why not decide to attend this affair.

Show me a person who doesn't enjoy a good summer picnic and I'll show you a person who doesn't enjoy pleasant outdoor summer activity. So the Galileo Lodge, fully aware that most people relish summer picnics, decided to hold one of its own again. The date is Sunday, the 11th of August, at Eisenhower Park, from early morning to late evening. Those who get to the picnic site early will be treated to a nice bun and coffee breakfast. You can bring your own food, although the Galileo Lodge will supply most of it, including refreshments, of course. Barbecue grills are available, tables, also and you are kindly asked to bring tablecloths for the tables. Price of admission is $5.00 and $3.00 for children but children under 6 years of age will be admitted free. Tickets are now available, so why not call 931-9351 and ask for Joe Morace, Tony Sica, Bert Molinelli and Joe Crivelli. More on this activity in later columns.

NOTICE TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE GALILEO LODGE: MALE AND FEMALE: On Thursday, the 25th of July, the Galileo Lodge proudly presents its next Membership Appreciation Night. There will be a buffet dinner available, scholarships will be handed out and trophies will also be awarded to the male and female members for their excellence in various sporting contests held, even those held at the Concord during the Convention. Families and loved ones of the membership are invited also. Music will be available if you care to dance. So please come down to the Galileo Lodge and partake of its kindness and thoughtfulness.

It's Beauty Queen time at the Galileo Lodge, so if you're interested in becoming the Galileo Lodge's Beauty Queen for the Columbus Day Parade, then

Herricks Exchange

One of the greatest problems facing mental patients in the lingering stigma of hospitalization. The Herricks Exchange, housed in a former junior high school on Herricks Road, is helping discharged psychiatric patients to rebuild their lives. This two-year-old program of the Social Work Services and Psychiatry departments at Hillside Hospital of Long Island Jewish Medical Center is a social club designed to ease the difficult path from institution to community. It is the only resource of its kind in Nassau County.

In a caring environment, members of the Herricks Exchange can find crucial support and companionship while adjusting to community life. There is no rigid attendance schedule or time limit to the program. Activities and friends are available for the asking. Totally geared to clients' needs and completely flexible, this innovative club makes it comfortable for members to stay as long as they need the emotional support.

In addition to meeting the challenge of community uneasiness about former mental patients, the Exchange is now placing clients in volunteer jobs within the Herricks Community Center where it is housed. These jobs enhance the patients' self-esteem by giving them the responsibilities and the feeling of competence they need. Volunteer work also helps the community accept them through mutually beneficial day-to-day contact.

"This program," says Herricks Exchange director, David Rosenberg, M.S.W.,

"is an example of how you can establish a successful dialogue between the community and the mentally ill. Ignorance is what causes fear."

The club room is bright and comfortable with large sofas, a kitchen area and many tables. A maximum of 35 members, ranging in age from 21 to 95, are encouraged to cook lunch and participate in budget planning, social events, sports and special outings. Working as volunteers in the Community Center and meeting with the staff of three activities specialists and their peers, club members are helped to return to the everyday world.

"We're here to be their friends," Mr. Rosenberg adds. "We cooperate with their therapists and give our own kind of help. The patient benefits from both."

Frederick W. (Ted) Eckhardt, chairman of the board, has announced the appointment of Charles Hahn, former president and member of the board of Suffolk County Savings and Loan, as president and C.E.O. of Beacon Federal Savings & Loan Association, headquartered in Baldwin. In announcing the appointment Eckhardt stated, "I have known Mr. Hahn for several years and, after reading his resume and interviewing him, the board unanimously agreed he is best qualified to manage the day-to-day operations of Beacon at the present time."

A graduate of City College of New York Hahn attended graduate classes at Brooklyn Law School where he earned his degree in Legal Jurisprudence and was admitted to the New York State Bar.

Hahn is also a graduate of the School of Savings & Loans, Indiana University; is a past president of the Alverno Association and served as chairman of the Graduate School Admissions Advisory Committee. He attended the Advanced Management Program at University of Southern California and has taught several courses at the local chapter of the Institute of Financial Education.

man of the Salvation Army Suffolk County Advisory Board in 1979. Hahn is also a past president of Long Island Group of Savings and Loan Association. In 1981 he was elected a director of U.S. League of Savings Associations and a national president of Institute of Financial Education.

Parola Bills Would Set Up Long Island Regional Ashfill Board

Disposing of the waste ash created by Long Island's soon-to-be-operational resource recovery plants took a giant step forward with the State Assembly's passage of legislation creating a Long Island Regional Ashfill Board, the bill's sponsor, Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C, Wantagh), said.

"The ash is created in resource recovery plants which burn garbage. This has proven to be an environmentally sound method of solid waste management to replace our present landfills," said Parola.

"Potential sites for the ashfill will be proposed by the state Environmental Facilities Corporation (EFC) to the Ashfill Board, which will be made up primarily of local residents. All the possible sites for this regional ashfill would be in Suffolk County, away from Nassau's highly concentrated population," said Parola.

According to Parola, the Ashfill Board would have until Nov. 1, 1985, to hold public hearings on the proposed sites. A site would then have to be selected by Dec. 1, 1985.

"The Ashfill Board will be expanded to allow for local representation from residents of the community where the site is established. Residents of communities where resource recovery facilities are located also will be represented on the Ashfill Board," said Parola.

Another solid waste bill sponsored by Parola has passed the Assembly as well. This measure will allow the town of Hempstead to adopt local laws to deal with solid waste collection, transportation and disposal. It also would permit Hempstead to enter into contract with private or public benefit corporations for construction, maintenance and operation of a solid waste recovery and management facility.

"This legislation will guarantee the availability of solid waste for processing and ensure that it is disposed of in an environmentally and economically sound manner," said the assemblyman. Both bills are awaiting the governor's approval.

"I am pleased to see that we will have a sound plan for the disposal of solid waste by the end of the year," Parola said. "The 1990 closure date for landfills on Long Island is fast approaching and we need to begin preparing now for the transition."

Alcoholism Service For Vietnam Veterans

County Executive Francis T. Purcell and the Board of Supervisors, at its meeting approved a grant application that is part of a new $213,000 alcoholism service for Vietnam veterans. The service, an outpatient treatment clinic, will be supervised by the county Dept. of Drug and Alcohol Addiction and run by one of its subcontract counseling agencies, HAD (Help-Aid-Direction), Inc., of Hicksville.

"There is no other place we know of where Vietnam veterans will be able to find both an alcoholism treatment clinic and a full-scale resource center in one facility," according to Drug and Alcohol Dept. Commissioner Harold E. Adams. HAD opened Nassau's first Vietnam Veterans Resource Center in April, 1984.

The grant, agreed to as a demonstration program both by the county and the N.Y.S. Div. of Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse, will be 100 per cent state reimbursed.

The clinic, expected to open by Jan., 1986, will be located in HAD's offices, 23A Jerusalem Ave., Hicksville. Hours will be Mon.-Thurs., 10:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m., and Fri., 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Staff will be comprised of a director, two social workers, two alcoholism rehabilitation counselors, one part-time psychiatrist, and one secretary/bookkeeper.

County Executive Purcell said that HAD is "a most appropriate agency" to receive the grant. With its resource center, he noted, "HAD already has demonstrated that its staff is sensitive to the anger of Vietnam veterans and understands the need to address their self medicating with alcohol" for Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

In the grant application, HAD proposes in its first full year to serve 80 Vietnam-era veterans and their families during 2,920 clinic visits. Among the veterans, emphasis will be

Dear Friends...

Nevada St. - Jeanssen Pl. & Rotary Pl.
UPDATE: The Town Board of Oyster Bay plans an August 20th hearing to make Jeanssen Place one way southbound (into The Plaza at Mid Island). Due to surveys made by the Town, this area has been used mostly by motorists as a shortcut from John Street, in order to avoid Broadway traffic. However, when Jeanssen Place is one way going into the Plaza, Town authorities and local residents believe that this will correct the traffic problem around Broadway and Nevada Street and make unnecessary the State Dept. of Transportation's proposal to widen Nevada St., by taking 8 ft. off the small front yards of houses on one side of Nevada St., and 5 ft. off the front yards of those located on the opposite side of this street. Those in authority felt that, after this August 20th hearing, it was likely that a resolution would be entered on the same day, so expedite this important action.

On August 14, this nation will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Social Security Act. To commemorate this important date, the Mineola District office is planning a special celebration on Aug. 9. Leaders from government and private industry will be taking part in these ceremonies. In his April 23rd message, our President urged "all Americans to reflect on the significance of the Social Security Act and to celebrate its accomplishments." Our president also mentioned that this program "provides a solid foundation of economic security upon which workers can add private pensions, savings and insurance to assure their financial well-being in retirement or when they are unable to work." We certainly believe that the step made 50 years ago to benefit so many of our people in so many ways, was a wise one. It is our hope that it be administered wisely and not interfered with so that it can remain the "foundation" of the financial security of our senior citizens.

LILCO and the L.I. Savings Bank are both participating in the National Child Watch Campaign, a program which serves to publicize the plight of missing children throughout the country. We have heard that the total number of missing children in this country is somewhat less than previously indicated. This is good news. However, the provable numbers of children who meet this tragic fate is still too high...in fact it is too high no matter what the numbers are! We are pleased to see that big industry is doing what it can to help solve these heinous crimes.

BOYS TOWN OF ITALY will celebrate its 40th anniversary at the International Summer Ball on this Sunday evening, July 21, at the LI Marriott Hotel in Uniondale. John G. Moran of Syosset, vice-president of the National Westminster Bank USA is general chairman.

Boys' Town of Italy is celebrating its 40th anniversary marking the founding of the Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. Patrick Carroll-Abbing's movement providing shelter, care and education to homeless boys and girls. It began in 1945 when the "Monsignor of the Shoeshine Boys," as he was known then, set up a refuge for 100 boys in a cellar near the Rome railroad station.

Today these communities, including one Girl's Town, affords an opportunity for youth from five continents in a world where the alternative for homeless children is frequently a life of drugs and violence.

Prince Charles and Princess Diana paid a visit to Boys' Town of Rome, the self-governing community of 500 homeless youths on the outskirts of the Eternal City, during their 3 day state visit to the Italian capital in April.

In thanking the citizens of Rome upon their departure, Prince Charles is quoted as saying, "I only wish that in England we could have a community such as this city of yours."

Detectives Peter Brock and William Sayers responded to the scene and dismantled the device in the basement.

The subject was arraigned in First District Court, Mineola, on 7/11/85.

A van and car accident on the Long Island Expressway around 7:05 on July 12 resulted in two persons hospitalized in critical condition.

A 1983 Camaro, west-bound in the center lane of the expressway, operated by Corinne McCune, 24, of 18 Gifford Way, Melville, and a 1976 Dodge van, operated by Robert Ehlers, 26, of 293 Ellery Street, Brentwood, westbound in the left lane, at the Sunnyside Boulevard overpass, exit 46, Plainview, were in collision.

As a result, all four occupants of the van were taken to hospitals. The driver, Robert Ehlers, was treated and released from Central General Hospital, Plainview, with minor injuries; a passenger Eileen Gunkel, 25, of 140 Connecticut Avenue, Bay Shore, was also treated and released from the Central General Hospital with minor injuries.

Brian Cruise, 26, of 33 N. Clinton Avenue, Bay Shore, an MS victim, confined to a wheelchair, was admitted to the Syosset Hospital in critical condition, with numerous bone fractures and another van passenger, Joanne Ingrass, 29, of 437 Landing Avenue, Smithtown, was admitted to Central General Hospital, in critical condition with head injuries.

No charges were filed by police and westbound traffic on the expressway was tied up for an hour and three quarters. The van group had been enroute to a wedding in Rhode Island.

The operator of the Camaro was not injured.

A house fire caused by defective wiring at the Flynn residence, 260 Central Park Road, Plainview, on July 14 sent three Second Precinct Police Officers to Central General Hospital, Plainview for smoke inhalation.

Several occupants of the house were able to flee the premises thru thick smoke and when police arrived they searched the house for anyone that might have been overcome and unable to leave the house. No one was found and the fire was extinguished quickly by the Plainview Fire Department. Smoke damage was considerable. The Police Officers, Vincent Cacace, Morton Richmond, and James Kane were treated and released from the hospital.

Frisa Bill Will Help School Children

Legislation to prevent the abduction of children from their schools passed the Assembly today, Assemblyman Dan Frisa (15th A.D.) said.

Frisa, a prime sponsor of the state-wide measure, said the bill would require schools to keep a list of those people authorized to have a child released from school. The bill would allow a child's legal guardian to provide the list to the school. The school's administration would then be required to check that list when a person requests a child's release, said Frisa.

In case of emergency, under provisions of the bill, school principals or their representative would be able to use their judgement for the release of a child, Frisa noted.

Frisa, a member of the Assembly Republican Task Force on Missing Children, said that the Task Force's efforts over the past two years are now producing results in the Legislature.

Public hearings, seminars and meetings across the state have revealed a serious lack of legislation in the health and safety of our children. "Task force research has pointed out that non-custodial abductions result in a majority of reported missing children cases," said Frisa. "I believe this legislation will help solve this problem."

Frisa noted that this release procedure bill is one of the cornerstones of the Task Force's proposals on behalf of missing and abducted children. "This illustrates a major breakthrough for the state of New York in placing this issue on the Legislative agenda and we are hopeful this will lead to the passage of our full package of proposals," he said.

Frisa credited Sen. Ralph Marino (R-Syosset) for his support of this legislation and its passage in the Senate.

The bill awaits the governor's signature.

Kershner-Miller

Debra Susan Kushner, of Sylvia Lane, Plainview, the daughter of Arthur and Ada Kushner, was wed to Bruce Loring Miller, of Bobwhite Lane, Hicksville, the son of Donald and Geraldine Miller, on July 14, at 12 PM, at the Huntington Town House. The reception took place at the Huntington Town House at 1:30 PM.

Gregg Miller, the brother of the groom, was the best man, Mitchell Kushner, the bride's brother, and David Asher, a friend of the groom, were ushers.

Debra is a graduate of Plainview High School. She works with autistic children.

Bruce is a graduate of Holy Trinity High School. He is a laboratory phlebotomist.

Boys State Program

Hicksville High School's American Legion Boys State representative, Thomas Zagajsky has returned from the nationally-acclaimed political training program, filled with praise for the program and experience. The high school junior was elected a "County Legislator" during the exciting and instructive Legion program at Sienna College, near Albany.

The Boys' State representatives - 1,000 from all New York counties, and all potential leaders - set up a mythical state immediately following arrival at Sienna, using the two-party political system. They proceeded to organize their parties (Tom was in the Nationalists, the opposition were the Federalists), caucused, nominated and elected city, county and state officials, and functioned in actual political manner.

During eventful, highly structured week, Tom learned much about our political processes by taking part through role playing. United States Marines were on hand to lead the hundreds of York State youths in physical fitness exercises and to assist in forming semi-formations of convention representatives for timely movement over the campus to various scheduled meetings and activities.

The American Legion Boys' State Program in 1985 included addresses by many of the following state leaders: Thomas H. Whalen, (Continued on Page 10)

Dagna-Silecchia

On May 18, 1985 Jeanne Marie Dagna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lawrence Dagna of Hicksville, was married to Donato Anthony Silecchia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Silecchia, of Brooklyn, at Holy Name of Jesus church in Woodbury.

The bride was radiant in white chiffon trimmed with lace, crystals and seed pearls. Her veil fell from a delicate crown of seed pearls and crystals formed to look like baby's breath. She carried a cascade of white carnations, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy studded with pink roses. Her striking Maid of Honor was her cousin, Maria Ucelli, gowned in huckleberry chiffon, carrying a round arrangement of pink carnations, baby's breath and purple statice. Rosemary Hughes, a life-long friend, and Maria Ciavalli, sister of the groom, were beautiful bridesmaids in rose-pink chiffon carrying matching round bouquets. The flower girl, six year old Sabrina Dagna, stole the show in a pale pink dotted swiss gown and hoop slip made by her mother, Christine, wife of Jeanne's brother Lawrence.

Larry and the groom's cousin, Jerome Occhiogrosso, gave the readings during the ceremony. Robert Dagna, brother of the bride, served as usher along with Francis Occhiogrosso, cousin of the groom. Dan's best man was his brother-in-law, Frank Ciavalli, completing the handsome male contingent in black tuxedos and white pleated shirts.

A delightful reception for 175 friends and family followed at Villa Victor in Jericho.

The bride and groom enjoyed a ten day honeymoon in Aruba before taking up residence in Westbury.

Jeanne, a '77 Hicksville HS alumna, is an Honors graduate of C.W. Post (LIU) with a B.S. and Masters in Special Education. Dan graduated summa cum laude from New York City

Technical College, and has just brought his experience in drafting and industrial design to the Dagna family firm, Custom Extruders, Inc. in Hicksville.

Rob Dagna barely had time to turn in his tux and pack his bag for a tour of the US and Canada. He's an electrician with Lisa Minelli's one woman show.

Something To Think About

VERN & BILL WAGNER

TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

DEPRESSION

Death and dying can provoke a whole range of emotional responses, from intense anger to great sadness. Then sometimes, when the emotions have subsided somewhat and our energy has been drained by grief, we are left dejected and depressed.

It can be a long and terrible siege, or one that passes relatively soon. We feel lonely, sorry for ourselves, sorry for our loved ones, tired, and anguished. We find ourselves unable to take much comfort from the words or gestures of well-intentioned friends and relatives.

Hopefully, with time and patience the depression will lift. For those wishing to help, it is a time to be especially certain to offer love, support, and reassurance without being aggressive or suggesting unwelcome pot answers. Don't give up on the individual, simply because there seems to be no response. That can be the mask of depression. Love and caring eventually will find their mark.

RUN FOR LIFE — Averaging an incredible 42 miles a day, ultra-marathon runners Malcolm Campbell of Grantham, England, and Marvin Skagerberg of New York will soon run through cities in New Jersey on their way to New York in the first annual "Lou Gehrig Race for Life."

The runners began the race in Anaheim, California, on April 10, and will complete the run in July, some 3,500 miles and 92 days later, having taken only six rest days.

The "Run for Life" is a national fund-raiser for Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), the disease that took the life of Lou Gehrig, the famous Yankee first baseman.

The Ford Division of Ford Motor Company provided Ford Econoline vans to support the marathon.

WHAT DOES IT TAKE?

What does it take to sell a house? If you were a seller trying to do it yourself, you'd need motivation and lots of free time, plus the ability to research prices, learn about financing options, write advertising, deal with strangers, bargain and negotiate on your own—and sell. It's not easy, especially if you've never done it before.

Even for a real estate professional, it takes a concerted effort to sell successfully, but we have certain advantages. First is experience—we've sold before. We've practiced showmanship and the art of closing a sale. Second is research—we keep up on current real estate laws, recent price levels, and all the different kinds of financing. Another advantage is position: we can ask a potential buyer personal questions about his ability to pay for a piece of property—and get answers.

It isn't EASY to sell a house—unless you list with the know-how professionals at:

Curran Again At Executone-Hamlet

Wimbledon finalist, Kevin Curran, has joined the top seeded roster of players at the Executone Hamlet Challenge Cup, starting on August 20. This marks the fourth successive year that the "tune up" to the US Open has completed its roster with one of the extraordinary talents surfacing at the All England Club event.

Finalist Curran joins Ivan Lendl and Jimmy Connors, the number two and three ranked tennis players in the world at the tournament.

The Executone Hamlet Challenge Cup Tennis

Tournament has drawn on Wimbledon's 128-man roster since the Jericho tournament's second year.

In 1982, Tim Mayotte electrified the world tennis audience by fighting with his big serve-and-volley game to Wimbledon's semi-finals directly from his amateur status as winner of the NCAA tournament. He turned pro after Wimbledon and then played his first Executone Hamlet Challenge Cup.

In 1983, Wimbledon's Centre Court was the site of an incredible semi-final battle which lasted over 60 games between Kevin Curran and Chris Lewis. It ran to three 7-6 tie breaks, one 7-5 and the 8-6 final set to determine the outcome. Chris Lewis won that battle and went on into the finals. Lewis played the Executone Hamlet that summer as well.

Next year, Wimbledon's startling talent was Paul Annacone, a local Long Island youth, who eventually turned pro. He slashed through the qualifying rounds, and all the way into the quarter finals on the grass courts of the All England Club before being eliminated. He played the Jericho tournament in 1984.

This year, it was Kevin Curran again, as well as Boris Becker, who magnetized viewers in their four-set final. Curran will play his second Executone Hamlet Challenge Cup this year. Earlier overtures to Becker have as yet been unanswered. The Executone Hamlet Challenge Cup has other quarter finalists and semi-finalists, who fill the roster this year, as in years past.

This year, the Executone Hamlet Challenge Cup boasts Heinz Günthardt who lost in Wimbledon's quarter finals, but won the Wimbledon men's doubles championship with partner, Baloz Taroci. Tim Mayotte also made it to the quarter finals. Jimmy Connors was a semi-finalist this year.

Ticket proceeds will go to benefit the Childlife Division of the North Shore University Hospital of Manhasset, New York.

Third Annual Long Island Classic

Thousands of automobile collectors and enthusiasts are expected to congregate for the Third Annual Long Island Classic on Sunday, July 21, 1985 at Hofstra University, in Hempstead, Long Island. The campus is conveniently located on Hempstead Turnpike, one mile west of the Meadowbrook Parkway.

The Classic's move to Hofstra, after two years in Southampton, has been warmly received by participants as well as spectators, who feel that the event's closer proximity to the New York Metropolitan area plus all of the amenities of Hofstra's spectacular campus will go far toward making the Long Island Classic a national event.

In its previous two years, the Classic attracted more than one hundred magnificent cars at each event. Here are just a few of the all-time greats: Alec Ullman, creator of Sebring, brought his Bugatti Stevie and his Alfa Romeo 6C2500SS; Charles Adams, famous New Yorker cartoonist, brought his Aston Martin Ulster and his Type 35 Bugatti; designer John Weitz brought an Allard J2X and a Jaguar XK-120. Among the 30 Ferraris shown, the Classic hosted the famous Million Dollar Ferrari #002C which was the first one ever sold. Prize winners have included a 1925 Minerva and a 1909 Thomas Flyer, both having traveled to the show under their own power. Truly, the Long Island Classic has played host to many marvelous cars and celebrities.

Back again this year are the celebrated Long Island Classic Trophies. Unique in design and beauty, the trophies are detailed scale models of the most special Bugatti Royale -Le Coupe Napoleon, #41100, which was the first one of its kind and was owned and driven by Ettore Bugatti himself. Each model consists of about 50 pieces of fine pewter, and is exact in detail from the hand-brake to the miniature standing elephant radiator cap. The trophy plate is engraved after the show so that it can include every detail of the event including the name of the show, its date and location, the owners name, and the car's name and year. These trophies are considered to be some of the finest given in automobile shows and have become much sought after and deeply cherished.

The Long Island Classic stands out from other competitions in many ways. The exceptional heavy etched brass dash plaques designed by Hank Fritz, widely known president of the Great New York Region AACA, is rapidly becoming a collector's item. "Old Cars Weekly" has called it "the best dash plaque we have ever seen." The Classic also produces a terrific Souvenir Journal, a glossy professional magazine size book, which is given away at the show. Each year's issue is unique and collectible.

All in all, the third annual Long Island Classic promises to be the best ever! With special concours, a boutique flea market, a banquet and cocktail party at the beautiful Hofstra University Club, and hundreds of cars, this year's Classic can't miss.

Admission is $5.00. Children under 12 - Free with paid admission. For further information, contact (516) 763-3047

First Step Early Learning Center

Hicksville would like to welcome another new business. This time it is the First Step Early Learning Center. A pre-school that is designated especially for part time programs: 2 days per week, 3 days per week; and live days per week, morning or afternoons.

Following a brief discussion with the Co-Directors Patrice Fasullo M.S., Ed., and Anthony Hollander, M.S., O.T.R. we were impressed by several things that were stated: this school's directors are not new to the area of Early Childhood Education (in fact, Mr. Hollander has been in the business "all of his life"); both directors have been involved in several types of research, and presentations; that this is not the only aspect of their professional activities (both being in private practice, and Mr. Hollander being involved at several major colleges and universities, in addition to working on many grants); that First Step Early Learning Center has a specific philosophy of education consistent with the developmental aspects of growth and development; that this school is also able to identify children with early signs of learning disabilities; that the school also offers family group sessions that focus on Early Intervention, Infant Stimulation, and Home Management; and, that this program encourages parents to visit the school at any time (total access policy - no appointment necessary).

For additional information you should contact Ms. Fasullo at 826-4135. The actual location of the school is the Parkway Community Church, 95 Stewart Ave., Hicksville.

By the way, there may still be one or two openings still available for a Tuesday and Thursday Summer Program beginning July 23, 1985.
