Town Seeks Bids For Shipping Oyster Bays' Refuse

Oyster Bay Town Super-visor Joseph Colby announced that the Town has published a request for bids for the transportation and disposal of Oyster Bay's refuse. Colby said that, "as result of the State's July 31st denial of the Town's requested temporary exten-sion of its only landfill, we are now forced to seek a shipping contract to provide for the disposal of the wastes generated by Town residents. We are forced to take these steps, despite the State's own findings that the extension would have been environmentally safe.

"The bid specifications include provisions which will require the successful low bidder to remove and dispose of anywhere from 300 to 1400 tons per day of refuse." Colby said. "These functions are the bidder of the successful colors and the successful colors and the successful colors are successful to the successful colors and the successful colors are successful colors." figures reflect the peak high and low amount of refuse which is handled at the Old Bethpage Landfill. The specfications also provide that if more than 1400 tons per day is collected, the contractor must accepted and dispose of the higher amount.

'The applicants,

GGG Construction Corp., and John Collelouri, who maintain a building for the storage of trucks and for office use in connection with their construction business, have submitted an application for permission to rescind the restrictive covenants on property located in an 'H' industrial dis-trict. The petitioners are seeking this modification to remove the restriction stating that no outdoor storage of vehicles or equipment be permitted," Hynes stated.

The property is located on the east side of Midland Avenue,

To The Voters Of The Hicksville Water District

Please take a few minutes of your time to read the following remarks concerning the upcoming election of the Com-missioner to serve the Hicksville Water District for the next three year term.

My name is Gil Cusick and I seek re-election to the Board

My name is Gil Cusick and I seek re-election to the Board of Commissioners of the Hicksville Water District upon completion of my present term which expires on August 30th, 1985. The past three years have been very active ones, during which period the Board has been absorbed with the problems of water supply and especially attentive to maintaining an adequate and a high quality supply.

A new plant for Air Stripping for Organics has been built and is now in a required three month testing period. The pilot studies to determine the feasibility of such a system were done in 1982-83, subsequent design and construction followed in the next two year period to put us at the testing followed in the next two year period to put us at the testing phase we are now in. We are now most enthused with the initial results which we will make known to the public once our findings are certified. My personal knowledge of construction, especially as involves the selection of metals and steel erection was of considerable help to the District in the successful completion of the project.

Another major project finished during my term has been a Another major project imished during my term no been a new 1750 gpm deep-well and pump at our Alicia Street Plant. This has been a really important development from the standpoint of supply because the installation of sewers in our area has caused the usual increase in water consumption. Ultimately, we will have to seriously study satisfactory water conservation steps to be taken, so as not to waste this precious resource.

At the present time we have begun to negotiate for addi-tional land for a future well site. Despite the costs of these heavy ticket items we have been able to reduce our water tax rate by 20% as it appears on your Town of Oyster Bay Tax Bill. This has required considerable study of our expenses and a paring of all phases of our operation. It is to be further noted that we have not incurredany further bonded indebtedness

You will find at least one or more of our Commissioners at the monthly meetings of the Hicksville Community Council, at which time, they will standby to answer inquiries regarding the water district's activities and to bring you the latest news concerning it.

I do request that you favor me (GIL CUSICK) with your vote on Friday, August 30th, 1985, between the hours of 7 & 10 PM, at the main Fire House on East Marie Street. I would like to be able to continue to serve the community in this capacity and to work along with the present Board of Commissioners for Hicksville's continued fine water supply

Previews of the Galileo Lodge's Fall and Winter

Recreational Program may not have the spectacu-lar effect of a Hollywood premiere, however, they do touch us in a rather special way. Of course there are no glaring spotlights and elegantly-dressed people to enhance the scene, but these Fall and Winter programs presented by the Galileo Lodge are low-keyed and unobtrusive. The Galileo Lodge uses its reputation — a reputation it has gained thru excellence, and this in turn is passed on to its members, friends and patrons in forms of loy, pleasure and relaxation. As pleasure and relaxation. As they say, let the records speak for themselves, and at the Galileo Lodge this is

Something To Think About

VERN & BILL WAGNER TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

FUNERAL VS. MEMORIAL SERVICE

The primary, sometimes only,

The primary, sometimes only, distinction between a funeral and a memorial service is that the body of the daceased is present at a funeral but not at a memorial service. Still, this is an important distinction and there is considerable difference of opinion as to which is the more baneficial.

The funeral is by far the more popular to date, and for very good reason. Not only is it the societal norm, but studies indicate that the funeral can be of strong psychological comfort to the survivers. The presence of the body has therapeutic value for the mourants, allowing them to come to terms with the "real-ty" of the death and permitting a more personal, memorable more personal, memorable farewell.

In the final analysis, however, probably the single more important factor in determining the type of service that is preferable is our expectation. If we expect to feel unsatisfied without the body present, then we will undoubtedly be unhappy with only a memorial service.

Letters to the Editor

Several months ago readers of this weekly newspaper may recall that I wrote letters to the editor concerning expansion of Old Bethpage Landfill. It was my contention that at any time they chose to act in good faith Supervisor Colby and the Town Board had only to exercise their exclusive "home rule" authority. They could have issued a mandate requiring source separation. pick-up, recycling and/or stockpiling of all Town garbage being dumped at Old Bethpage Landfill and thus implement a partia alterna-tive in their fight against pressure from the State to ship refuse off-island.

To The Editor:

Supervisor Colby and the Town Board chose instead to use expansion of Old Bethpage Landfill to create a political garbage crisis. They chose to enrich consultants and attorneys at tax-payers' expense. TOWN OF OYSTER BAY NEWS published monthly at taxpayers expense for town official propaganda and political purposes now has the chutzpa to make the following statement in the August 1985 edition: "During the nine months that the Town has fought to prevent the State from forcing the expenditure of $70,000 per day to ship refuse. Town officials utilized every legit-imate alternative. 'While our attorney sought to legally overcome the State's proshipping pressure, our engineers sought ways to continue disposal operations until the temporary extension permits could be granted,' Colby said," I believe that Town officials enjoy playing their political games and care not at all for the taxpayer or the envir-onment. Sadly, this blatant pose to change the state Constitution, according to Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C, Wantagh).

1. The first proposal would increase the bonding authority of the Job Development Authority (JDA), a public corporation which provides loans for nonprofit organizations to finance construction of new research and development buildings, and to purchase machinery and equipment.

The JDA, which has been self-supporting since 1967, has given more than 1,600 loans to businesses throughout New ork state over the past 23 years, with the vast majority of them being small businesses.

This amendment also proposes to allow the JDA to bond, 60 percent of the cost of an eligible facility from the present limit of 40 percent.
"The JDA takes over where local banks have left off for these businesses. Many banks are reluctant to give long-term loans, so companies often find themselves with no place to go for financing. The JDA has become one of the states most proven and valuable job creation tools." said Parola, noting that the JDA is expected to exhaust its funds by the end of the summer.

2.-The second proposal will amend the costitution to provisions concerning estate and gift taxes, as the federal income tax law states, to be incorporated by references into the state income tax law.
"Basically, this amendment will provide us with a convenient mechanism for basing various state tax provision on their federal counterparts, without having to repeat the prosaid the assemblyman.

3.-A third amendment would create a certification procedure permitting the state Court of Appeals to answer ques-tions of New York law put to it by the U.S. Supreme Court, federal courts of appeals, and appellate courts of last resort

"Presently, these courts have to play a guessing game in interpreting the New York laws if there is no precedent in the decisions of New York courts. This would allow the New York Court of Appeals to answer questions in the following circumstances: when the request has been made by the certifying court; if there is no controlling precedent; and when the question may be determinative of a case pending in the recrifying court.

4.-If the fourth proposal is approved by the voters, all municipalities (counties, cities, towns, villages and school districts) will be allowed to finance projects with sinking bond funds. There is an increasing demand by investors for bonds of this kind, for they are financed at lower costs.

5.-The fifth amendment would eliminate school's real property tax limits, and thus allow small cities (less than 125,000 people) to increase their tax levies to meet local school spending needs. This would reduce city school districts need for emergency state aid.

"It is up to the voters to determine whether these amendments will be implemented. As taxpayers, you have a major stake in each of these proposals, and one of the ways to voice your preference is to participate in the political process.

If 14th A.D. residents have any further questions on these amendments, feel free to call my district office at 731-3434.

Questionaire Available

What programs will the Federal Government cut what will be the impact on Nassay County and my taxes?

How is the County plan-ning to deal with cutbacks?

With so much local uncertainty, residents of the mid-Nassau area will want to let the County know where they think cuts could be made, what programs should be retained, and why.

Nassau Citizens Budget Committee, an independent. non-profit watchdog agency, has developed a list of questions for interested residents to ask about departments' plans for 1986. According to Executive Director Phoebe Goodman, anyone may make an appointment to discuss any department's budget 'request by making an appointment for the week of September 9th through f3th. Using NCBC's list of questions, they will get a good picture of a depart-ment's programs and prioriment's programs and priori-ties. They will then be able to tell County Executive Francis Purcell what they think should be done at the public hearings which will be held during the week of October

The questionnaire and advice for making the best use of it may be obtainable by calling NCBC at 248-9330 or by attending an Open House on Thursday, September 5th, from 4 to 6 P.M. at the NCBC office, 146 Old Country Road, Mincola.

Music Under The Stars For Labor Day

By TOB Supervisor Joseph Colby

This summer the Town of Oyster Bay, with the co-sponsorship of the Oyster Bay Arts Council, Inc., has had an opportunity to pres-ent some of the finest summer concerts to be found on Long Island. The response, both in res-hearing. In light of that, I am particularly pleased that we are able to extend the "Music Under the Stars" program to include two excellent conerts during the Labor Day Weekend.

The Oyster Bay Arts Council, Inc. has generously provided the funds for these weekend performances so that we may continue the tradition of offering con-certs to our residents at no charge. Both concerts are also being presented at Town parks so that all Oys-ter Bay residents may

THREE'S A CROWD

How many people does it take to sell a house? The most successful "tour" groups are made up of the prospective buyer and the real estate agent. The buyer is free to look through the house at his own pace and imagine him-or herself living there. The experienced real estate professional has learned when to make suggestions and just as important, when to say nothing and let the buyer sell himself

Especially important, the prospect is free to bring up his objections. The salesperson can counter them immediately. It's professional and nobody's feelings

As a general rule, it's smart to list with a real estate protessional then let the experts take over. You're in good hands when you list with

EPA Charges Local Retailers Sold Lead Contaminated Gasoline

To put a stop to the sale of lead-contaminated gasoline, which both defrauds consumers and pollutes the air, Nassau County has been cooperating with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and stepping up its own enforcement, Consumer Affairs Commissioner James E. Picken has

The EPA last week filed civil charges against eight Nassau gasoline retailers, as a result of a sweep in February and March conducted jointly by Consumer Affairs Weights and Measures inspectors and an EPA task force. The proposed penalties for these violations of the federal Clean Air Act range from $500 to $6,600.

"As gasoline adulteration increased over the past two years, we have been using every possible avenue to stamp out the problem," Picken said. In addition to the EPA, Consu-mer Affairs has conducted sweeps with the Nassau District Attorney's office, which can press criminal charges.

The Nassau Board of Supervisors is also expected to enact a local law that would double the fines levied on stations that sell adulterated gasoline. Penalties could range up to $1,000 per violation, the maximum allowed by the couny charter. The law would be enforced by the Office of Consumer Affairs, and would also empower it to check distributor's
