Bus Service Limits Discussed at School Bd. Meeting

A great number of citizens were in attendance at Wednesday's Board of Education meeting to speak about a topic which was part of the Superintendent's Report - the district's transportation policy. Many families were protesting the determination of ineligibility for transportation which was discovered when the new district maps were prepared. Approximately 200 families were notified that they no longer qualified for transportation services, the majority of whom have children attending the Junior and Senior High Schools. Mr. Wolfson, chairing the meeting because of Mr. Bennett's illness, asked the Board to move this information item to an earlier position on the agenda. Dr. Fenton reviewed the Board's policy and the administration of the guidelines, and Mr. Hall showed a videotape of the route that he and Dr. Fenton walked between the High School and the homes of several families disputing the measurement. Several areas described as hazardous by parents were shown on the tape and much discussion among residents and the Board followed. Mr. Wolfson explained the options for future action, including the possibility of a change of policy after a public referendum, and assured residents that the safety of the children would be a major factor in the Board's deliberation of the many suggestions and comments offered. Following the lengthy public discussion, the Board took action to establish goals for the 1985-86 school year as well as five-year goals. The major points of the five year plan are: 1) Improve student performance in math, 2) Improve student performance in language arts, 3) Improve guidance services in the secondary schools, 4) Develop a district-wide program to track student mastery of basic skills, and 5) Develop a plan for improvement of the secondary program. Goals for the coming year include the documentation of computer skills program for grades K-12 and the dissemination of information on an all-day Kindergarten program. Board committee task assignments were also made. The Board went on to pass a resolution designating two Board members to attend community functions as official representatives. In further actions, the Board set May 7, 1986, as the date of the annual meeting and budget vote, and nominated Richard Ornauer to the Board of Directors of the New York State Schools Boards Association. The textbook Adventures in English Literature was approved for use in grade 12 English classes, and the application and proposal for the ECIA Chapter 1 Remedial Program in the public and non-public

Galileo Lodge News

PRESIDENT PETE MASSIELLI'S MESSAGE: 'Freedom of speech and freedom of action are meaningless without freedom to think.' Bergen Evans

A wise man once said that procrastination is the thief of time, and we are inclined to agree with this thought. So linger no longer and purchase your tickets for the 11th Anniversary Dance to be held on Saturday, the 28th of September, by the Ladies Auxiliary. Tickets will sell at $25 per person, a very reasonable fee that entitles you to a Smorgasbord-type dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups unlimited liquor and dance music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Rose Riccardi (681-0966) will 'chair' this activity, ably assisted by co-Chairladies Terry Gatto (433-6708), who will also be selling tickets every Wednesday night, from 8 to 10

P.M., at the Galileo Lodge with Rachel Saiano. You can also contact these committee ladies by calling the Lodge number 931-9351. Everybody is fully aware of the reputation the Ladies Auxiliary has earned thru years of hard work and dedication to a cause.

We can't think of a better way to prepare you for the approaching Fall and Winter seasons than to ask you to take advantage of the coming attractions offered by the Galileo Lodge for these months ahead. Why not take advantage of the exuberance that comes with them, the enthusiastic air they produce, the good times that follow them? Even the delightful atmosphere they exude. These are activities that reveal meticulous planning and attention to details, and they are all presented for your enjoyment and leisure. So all you members, friends and patrons of the Galileo Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary please take notice and get on the bandwagon of some real good times.

Shades of summer are gradually fading, and I presume that most of us are contemplating moods associated with Fall and Winter. And if you are, well, just read what the Galileo Lodge and Ladies Auxiliary have in store for you. On Saturday, the 26th of October, the Galileo Lodge presents its Halloween Dance. The tickets will sell at $12.50 per person and in the offering will be excellent food and delightful dance music. Armand Del Cioppo will 'Chair' this activity, ably assisted by Tony Sica and Joe Morace. Then on Saturday, the 7th of December, it will present its Christmas Dance. Tony Sica will 'Chair' this activity and he will be assisted by Armand

Del Cioppo and Joe Morace. Tickets will sell at $12.50 per person. This is, of course, a delightful Christmas presentation, one that will get you in the mood for the holiday season. Then, of course, the Galileo Lodge will proudly present its two Christmas parties, one for the handicapped children of Queens and Long Island in the morning and the other one for the children of the membership in the afternoon. For this activity, I might add that the total membership of the Galileo Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary becomes the committee. Beautiful, emotional and heartwarming is one way in which I can describe these two wonderful parties.

Then on the 31st of December, the Galileo Lodge presents its gala New Years Party and Dance. What better way is there to usher in the new year than to

Plainview Fire Department Supplies Emergency Power to Hospital

A LILCO power failure on Sunday, August 25th at approximately 9:15 a.m. caused a power outage at Central General Hospital.

The hospital's generators were able to supply a majority of the back up power requirements.

The Plainview Vol. Fire Dept. was called upon to supplement the hospital's emergency power. P.F.D.'s apparatus #957, equipped with a 25,000 watt diesel powered generator, supplied electricity to the hospital's delivery room.

Power was also supplied to a room in the west wing to maintain vital cardiac medical equipment by the department's heavy duty rescue truck, unit #958.

During the course of the alarm, a baby girl was delivered in the maternity wing and a critically ill patient was stabilized and transferred to the intensive care unit.

Unit #957, which was recently purchased and specially equipped with an oversize generator performed flawlessly.

The truck proved itself more than capable of handling the electrical demand while operating for almost two hours.

IT'S YOUR MONEY

Good Times Ahead For Ginnie Maes

by Ron Roel

With the continued decline of interest rates on CDs, T-bills, and money market funds, increasing numbers of investors are turning to Ginnie Mae Funds.

Ginnie Maes - short for Government National Mortgage Association certificates (established by Congress in 1968) - offer investors considerable flexibility and liquidity, along with the highest rate of return among securities backed by the full faith and credit of the US government.

The current interest rate for Ginnie Maes is approximately 12%, which looks inviting next to interest rates on CDs (8 to 9%), money market funds (7 to 7.5%), and T-bills (7.5 to 8.5%).

A Ginnie Mae fund may be started with a little as $100, and may be increased in relatively small increments.

Holders of Ginnie Mae funds can have the monthly income sent to them, while leaving the principal untouched, reinvested, or direct-deposited into their bank account.

In addition, a "flexible" aspect of the Fund is that holders may withdraw a portion of their investment, while leaving the remainder intact.

All these features are making Ginnie Mae funds attractive investments, particularly for senior citizens to supplement their social security and other monthly income, says Registered Investment Adviser William A. Levine, president of William A. Levine & Associates, Melville and Valley Stream.

"More and more retirees and senior citizens are turning to Ginnie Maes to meet their special income needs," says Mr. Levine. "But Ginnie Maes are also a stable investment fund for younger people planning for their future with IRAs, Keoghs, and corporate pension plans."

Mr. Levine notes that some Ginnie Mae funds have been deemed "acceptable" investments by the prestigious National Credit Union Administration.

A free leaflet, "Good Times for Ginnie Maes," is available from William A. Levine, Selective Concepts, 11 Sunstar Plaza, Valley Stream, NY 11582. (516) 561-1975.

Ron Roel writes on financial and consumer affairs and is the author of the book How To Borrow Money (Simon & Schuster, 1983) and the New York magazine cover article, "How To Hire A Professional."

The guest speaker at last week's Rotary luncheon meeting was Past President (1966-67) Louis Cesta. A Rotarian for 25 years, Mr. Cesta spoke on the subject of funeral directing and current cemetery and interment practices. He is shown (r) receiving a Certificate of Appreciation from Hicksville Rotary President Elie Zambako (l). (Official Rotary photo by Joe DePaola)

CAN YOUR FAMILY PASS THIS 2-QUESTION QUIZ?

1. What's your first way out in case there's a fire?
2. What's your second way out in case the first way is blocked?

You may have passed the quiz. But would the others in your home?

Make sure. Have a family exit drill practice today.

Plan two ways out of every room, as well as two ways out of your home.

Because you've planned ahead, you'll know exactly where to go. You won't have to spend dangerous moments searching.

Also, agree now on a single, easy-to-remember meeting place outside. That way, you'll know if everyone got out safely.

Hicksville Fire Department

Dear Friends...

A Great Team

A great team is going into action, as it does every fall... We refer to the parents, teachers, administration and students, who will once again be working together during the school year. Their goals are always the same...to provide quality education for our young people, within the budget voted upon by all district residents...and to help these young people grow into intelligent, productive adults. There are many ways in which this is accomplished...ways that are evaluated from year to year and improved wherever possible...many ways but only one goal.

We hope that all of you who are members of this team go forward together to accomplish this important goal to which you are all dedicated. The key word here is "together"...so, take a moment now and then to remind yourselves of this goal. It makes the possibility of success so much greater when one knows the team on which one is a member.

Best wishes,

Letters To The Editor

Board of Education
Hicksville Union Free
School District #7
Members of the Board:

It has come to the attention of this Department through the local media and some residents that the walking routes being set up and measured will bring school children through Municipal Parking Fields just north east of Fire Headquarters and crossing at the Fire Station and walking through the Town Parking Field opposite Fire Headquarters to East Nicholas Street. All of the areas mentioned are hazard areas in that firefighters converge at Fire Headquarters using these routes.

I would like to request a slight change to prevent a tragedy. Instead of a cut through route of Bay Avenue South past the Old Court House to the school crossing at East Marie - East Nicholas - Bay Avenue - then down either Kraemer Street to Old Country to the school crossing at Broadway or down East Nicholas Street to Broadway. I think it would be a mistake to encourage the routes through parking fields. Visibility is poor at any time and worse during an alarm.

Your consideration on this matter will be appreciated by this department.

Sincerely yours,
Owen W. Magee
Chief of the Department
HICKSVILLE FIRE DEPARTMENT

c.c. to Herald

Dear Mrs. Noeth:
For the past ten years, our family has been living at 155 Miller Road, we have been just over two (2) miles from the Hicksville H.S. Our two oldest sons have, for the past five years, been receiving bus passes each August for their transport to the High School. Now, two weeks before school is due to reopen, we are suddenly informed that we are no longer eligible for this transportation. There is no question that we are the required distance. We have taken several routes to verify this! We lie over 2 miles from the High School - just 2 blocks from Syosset. THIS IS A LONG WALK TO SCHOOL!!

After reading in the Herald last week of the route Mr. Hall took with the parents on the 20th of August, I am even more outraged! We are now being told that we must compromise the safety of our young people. They will be expected to walk in the path of fire trucks and autos racing to make a L.I.R.R. train at 7:15 to 7:30 in the morning. And since when did school children stop crossing at lights and crosswalks? Who are they trying to deceive? We fully realize that the route they devised would cut out perhaps 2 blocks, which is all that was needed to eliminate the families in our immediate vicinity!!

We, as neighbors and friends, are angry and upset! We are upset because our young people will be expected to walk distances further than most adults would walk to the Long Island Railroad, and this at a time when the volume of traffic is at its highest in Hicksville. We are angry because we have been deceived by our School Board into thinking that services would remain the same. We want what we are entitled to! We want transportation reinstated for our family and all the other families involved.

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. R. DePalma
(s) (Catherine DePalma)

To the Editor:

Going away to college is a big step in a young person's life. It is a time for many adjustments as well as many new learning experiences. It is a totally different situation than most teenagers have encountered before.

There are many different options one might choose to take after High School graduation. A large percentage of the graduating seniors decide to go to college, but even then there are still many different directions to go in. For example, someone might want to attend a New York State University (SUNY Albany, SUNY Binghamton, SUNY Oneonta, SUNY Buffalo...) or someone might choose to attend a big state university in another state (University of Maryland, University of Michigan, University of Arizona, University of Massachusetts...). Another person might want a smaller private school (Ithaca, Tufts, Brandeis...). Some want city schools (New York University, Boston University, Georgetown University...) and some prefer a more country atmosphere.

However, the biggest variation of them all is the choice between going away to school, or staying home and attending a local or community college.

Some people feel they might be better off at a school at home because they will not be totally on their own. They feel that living at home will make them work harder and bring up their grades; therefore, they can perhaps transfer to a school they really want to go to and a school that offers the most for them. In addition, they might not be completely one hundred percent ready for a college away from home because along with all the fun and games there are a lot of responsibilities that go with it. For many people staying home for a semester or two may be a good choice.

On the other hand, going away and living totally on one's own is a terrific experience for young adults to have. Not only is it great for them to have such a sense of freedom, but it is a fantastic learning experience. Not just academic wise but in terms of life in general. They must learn to be responsible and in addition, they have the best four years of their lives.

Many people really grow up a lot in college because they get a taste of what life is really all about. It is a totally new environment. It is also learning to deal with people and live with people!

In conclusion, if young people can learn to accept the responsibilities of a college student, work hard, and have the best time they can possibly have, they will have the greatest four years in every way!!!

Something To Think About

VERN & BILL WAGNER
TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

PLAIN TALK TO CHILDREN

In speaking with children about death, it is imperative to use plain talk. It is still possible that a child may not understand all that you are saying, but you must at least give him or her a chance. Take care with your words. Whether you are aware of it or not, in everyday speech we all use words or expressions which are inadaptable to children. Talking about death is definitely a time you want to avoid this.

You should also try to avoid using euphemisms. Such expressions as "passed away," "laid to rest," "met his Maker" are only confusing to children, who take the language quite literally. If a loved person is said to be "resting," the child may think that all people who are resting are dead. If a loved one is said to be "asleep," the child may develop a tremendous sleep problem.

Be careful about what you say and the words you use to say it. Then ask the child to tell you what you said in his own words, just to be sure the message was understood.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It's highly unlikely that a middle-of-the-pack, 7:30 per mile runner like myself would ever win a road racing trophy of any kind. It's even less likely that I would manage to be the overall winner of a road race. It's an absolute certainty that I can't outrun (a) Long Island's fastest masters' runner, (b) POBRR's fastest runner, (c) Long Island's fastest runner, or (d) a two time cross country world champion.

Nevertheless, thanks to a little (well maybe just a bit more than a "little") help from some of my friends, all these running fantasies did come true for me on August 11.

When I entered the so-called "Fantasy Island 5K Run," I had no idea whatsoever that David Katz and his crew at Finish Line Promotions had conspired with some of my friends from the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners and other Long Island running clubs to set things up so that I would in fact cross the finish line in first place overall. Craig Irving, Don DiDonato, Herb Kahl and everyone else in the race were in on the plan.

Mike Polansky (L) is congratulated by POBRR's Ed Gonsalves (R).

Needless to say, I was awfully surprised to find Craig, Don, Herb, Ed Gonsalves from POBRR - and everyone else - just slightly behind me as we approached the finish line at Mitchell Park. (The lead pack had hidden behind some bushes at the two mile mark till I had passed them.) Some excellent acting jobs by Eli Fuchsman of the Sandpipers, Ira Eskow and Gerry Kaufman and a steady stream of Chatter from some of my usual running companions like George Ofenloch and Marshall Mankin, all kept me from realizing what was happening until the very end.

I'd just like to thank David, Craig, Don, Herb, Ed, my wife Susan, and all our friends from the Long Island running community for proving that dreams sometimes do come true, and for making August 11 a day that I'll never forget!

Very truly yours,
s/ Michael Polansky

THE PRICE OF MONEY

This is a good year to get a mortgage—and that makes it a good year to buy or sell a house. The price of money—the rate you have to pay to borrow—has a definite effect on the price of houses. When mortgage rates are high, people are limited in what they can borrow. Sometimes the seller has had to provide below-market financing to move the property, lowering his effective return. When lending rates drop, the buyer can afford to pay a little more for the property and get a higher mortgage. Lower rates mean that more people qualify for mortgages. Most lenders limit the percentage of income that borrowers may commit to a mortgage: usually 25 percent of gross income for principal and interest. As the mortgage rate drops, so does the monthly payment required to carry the loan. A drop from 15 percent to 9 percent in the rate could double the number of qualified home-buying households. There are more buyers out there, and we can bring you the prospects seeking a home like yours. For action, let us write.

YOUNG AMERICA GOES BACK....

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce takes this opportunity to send good wishes to all students - young and old -- who are returning to school.

Our Chamber of Commerce represents many important businesses and professions in Hicksville and vicinity. There was a time when all our members were "returning to school". It paid off for them -- and it will pay off for all of you!

This is the year for "cleaning up" our town. You can all help by remembering not to litter -- and politely reminding others who might forget, that when we mess up, we discredit ourselves, our families and our community.

Our best to you all in the new school year and God bless.
