At The School Board Meeting

The Hicksville Board of Education held its first meeting of the school year on Wednesday, September 18, with a relatively short agenda of regular business items.

The action section began with a resolution opposing the loss of state and local tax deductions, a move being considered as part of federal tax reform. The resolution stated that the Board favored tax code simplification, but stressed the additional tax burden and possible curtailment of educational services as a result of the change in federal code. The resolution was proposed by Mr. Schwartz at the last meeting but it failed to pass due to a tie vote in Mr. Bennett's absence. Mr. Schwartz informed the Board at that time that he would reintroduce the resolution when the entire Board was present to vote on it. Since September 18 was designated as SALT-D Day (State and Local Tax Deductibility) by local, state, and national School Board Associations as a nationwide tax information day, Mr. Schwartz brought the resolution back to the table. Once again, the resolution failed to pass in a 3-3 tie. The resolution is expected to be brought back to the Board when Mr. Bennett, still recovering from surgery, returns to his seat at the Board table at next month's meeting.

The Board accepted the financial report of the 1984-85 school year and approved a resolution authorizing the disposition of old records according to a schedule issued by the State Education Department. This schedule lists the various kinds of records kept by a school district and states the number of years such records must be retained before being discarded. The Board also accepted warrant and transfer reports for claims, expenditures, and other fiscal business conducted since the last business meeting of the Board. Bids were awarded to none vendors of athletic supplies for winter sports in the amount of $10,434.98 and to Nynex Business Information Systems for an improved district-wide telephone system.

The Superintendent's Report included a discussion of the Administrative Task and Deadline Calendar, a tool used by Dr. Fenton and other district administrators to be informed of important dates for submitting reports, budget items, and other materials; meeting dates and times; curriculum writing and testing schedules, and other events relating to district operations. The Superintendent's Office compiles this calendar from information provided by the various departments to be shared with the entire administrative staff. The Board approved the appointments of the following new members of the professional staff:

Donna Koblica (assigned to the Woodland Avenue - Grade 6), Edward Sullivan (SHS Business Education), Laura Dehler (OCR morning kindergarten), Nancy Baron (Woodland Avenue morning kindergarten), and Colleen Scarisbrick (JHS math department).

Miriam Pasetsky was recalled to service in the junior high math department, and Marilyn Curry was recalled to the business education department at the high school.

Schedules of driver education teachers and additional fall interscholastic athletic assignments were also approved.

The Board accepted the resignation of Ida Buckstein, secretary at Old Country Road, who will be retiring on November 1 after more than 26 years with the district.

Nine curriculum material aids were appointed. They are: Edith Allen, Cathymarie Guljford, Heide Krakauer, Marilyn Pagano, Jacqueline Rosner, Jodi Seigel, Agnes Sierra, Lorraine Theroux, and Virginia Tracy.

Building assignments will be made after completion of the training program. These aides will be working in elementary

A Painless Way To Cut The Deficit

By U.S. Senator Alfonse D'Amato

Last May Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger told Congress that he had found a way to cut $4 billion from his budget request without jeopardizing those programs he felt essential to national defense. These savings were achieved thanks to the success the Reagan administration has had in fighting high inflation.

The fact that such a large sum of surplus money existed and had escaped detection troubled me. The extent to which the Pentagon had overestimated inflation was not yet known and I wondered whether there might be larger amounts that could be turned back to Congress and used to lower the deficit.

On May 28th, I asked the General Accounting Office, the investigatory arm of Congress, to determine exactly how much extra money the Defense Department had as a result of miscalculating the inflation rate. Their reply, which arrived last week, was shocking.

Since 1982, the Pentagon has received $36.8 Billion more to cover inflation than was actually needed. With the economy performing better than expected, the Defense Department's less optimistic projections were no longer valid. With inflation at 4.1% in 1983, a 6.3% inflation adjustment for the military cannot be justified.

This does not appear to be intentional, but the effect is a big windfall of extra money for the Pentagon. These funds should be turned back at once.

We should take the $36.8 billion and use it to reduce this year's deficit, estimated to be $175 billion. That would be an instant 21% cut which would also lower the projected deficit for the coming years. If the inflation savings are spent, the deficit will grow, costing taxpayers over $3 billions a year in additional interest on the national debt.

These funds can be cut immediately from the Defense budget without impairing any weapons system or level of manpower necessary for our nation's security. There must be a full accounting of these monies and steps taken to ensure that similar situations are avoided in the future.

Maintaining a strong national defense is a must for our nation. So is reducing the deficit which will affect our future economic health. We must do both. Using the surplus defense funds to reduce the budget is a good way to begin.

THE 1866 RECREATION OF THE LONG ISLAND FAIR BUSINESS OFFICE will be formally dedicated by Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell on September 22, at 4 P.M., at the Old Bethpage Village Restoration. The original Business Office stood for 80 years at the Old Mineola Fairgrounds and is the first in a series of reconstructions duplicating the historical site which will be permanently housed at the Village Restoration.

Our Long Island Fair

The Long Island Fair this year will boast a major addition to a fairgrounds complex that will eventually include authentic recreations of most of the structures which housed the fair in its infancy back in the mid-1800s.

In preparation for its annual Columbus Day weekend run in October at Old Bethpage Village Restoration, the 1865 business office, reconstructed from old photographs and a Currier lithograph, will be formally dedicated at 4 P.M. September 22 by Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell.

The original building stood for 80 years on the old Mineola fairgrounds, the site now of a county office complex on Old County Road.

This special ceremony will be sponsored by the Nassau County Historical Society and the Agricultural Society of Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties. Nassau Recreation and Parks Commissioner Abram C. Williams said that the Historical Society has raised citizen contributions exceeding thirty thousand dollars, matching county funds, enabling the reproduction of this building. The Agricultural Society, in cooperation with the Division of Museum Services, initiated the efforts to recreate the original fairgrounds on a permanent site at the Village Restoration.

The new "office" will be open during the Fair, October 11-14, and will feature authentic furnishings, paintings and prints that were once the original possessions of the Agricultural Society.

The Long Island Fair is one of the oldest of such exhibitions in the United States, originating in 1841.

In addition to livestock and poultry exhibits, there will be a display of prize winning vegetables, fruits and flowers grown at local farms and gardens as well as a large and varied array of needlework, hobby and culinary products. Visitors can also expect magic and puppet shows, games and pony, elephant and camel rides for children, band music, choral and folk singing, a menagerie and agricultural contests for the hale and hearty.

Old Bethpage Village Restoration, operated by the Museum Division of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, is located on Round Swamp Road, just south of exit 48 on the Long Island Expressway. Admission to the Fair is $4 for adults and $2 for children.

Truck Owners Face Changes In Tax Returns

Highway Use Tax has been around for several years, but new provisions to the law could have a significant impact on truckers. Before 1985, the highway use tax was based on a combination of factors - weight of the vehicle, number of axles and type of truck (tractor-trailer, single unit, truck-trailer). For 1985, the tax is based on the taxable gross weight (unloaded weight plus weight of maximum load). If this weight is less than 55,000 pounds, no tax return is necessary. There are special conditions for agricultural vehicles and buses.

required by New York State in order to register the vehicle, John J. Jennings, Brooklyn District Director for the Internal Revenue Service said.

Form 2290, Heavy Vehicle Use Tax, is due for any vehicle in taxable use by the last day of the second calendar month of its use. For vehicles already in service, returns are due by August 31 of each year. For more information, Form 2290 and Publication 349, Federal Highway Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors, Buses, call the IRS in Brooklyn and Queens at (718) 596-3770; Nassau County - (516) 222-1131; Suffolk County - (516) 724-5000.

Set Politics Aside And Renew Superfund!

By U. S. Congressman Norman Lent

Superfund, one of our Nation's most important environmental laws, is scheduled to expire on September 30. As time runs out, I am concerned that Congress may fail to take the necessary action on legislation to expand and improve Superfund. If that happens, cleanup activities at toxic waste sites across the Nation will be brought to a grinding halt.

As you may recall, I reported in previous columns that the House Energy and Commerce committee approved the Lent-Eckart Superfund bill, H.R. 2817, by a bipartisan vote of 31-10. H.R. 2817 expands funding six-fold to $10 billion over five years and vastly improves Superfund to ensure expeditious and thorough cleanup of hazardous waste dumps.

The Committee spent several months engaged in painstaking research and negotiations in an effort to address the shortcomings of the existing Superfund program and its dismal cleanup record. I fought long and hard for these safeguards and improvements, and I feel confident that H.R. 2817 will help solve the problem by providing the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) with the funds and the tools to tackle the tough challenge ahead.

I am, therefore, dismayed over talk about proposals to simply extend the existing Superfund law for one year when we are so close to enacting this much improved reauthorization bill. Given the magnitude of the problem, it is my view that anyone who stands in the way of the timely enactment of H.R. 2817 is more interested in environmental politics than in cleaning up the environment.

Further delay would be disastrous and would jeopardize the EPA's cleanup efforts as well as public health and safety. A one year extension would provide only $300 million, while the Lent-Eckart bill provides $2 billion for cleanup activities in FY 1986 alone. EPA Administrator Lee Thomas has warned that cleanup efforts at over 57 sites would be delayed indefinitely unless Congress acts to reauthorize a tougher, expanded Superfund.

If Congress fails in this effort, we will have failed the citizens who look to us to protect their health and the environment. It's time to put politics aside so we can get on with the job of cleaning up toxic dump sites.

I appreciate all the valuable support I have received from my constituents on this critical issue, and I will continue to devote all my energies toward ensuring prompt Congressional approval of a comprehensive Superfund reauthorization bill.

County Board Approves Local Bridge Rehabilitation

The Nassau County Board of Supervisors has approved funding for the rehabilitation of six bridges owned by Nassau County. The $1.25 million appropriation provides for repair of six County Bridges which have been found to be structurally deficient. Specifically, this renovation project entails extensive repairs to the following: the Rosedale Road Bridge over Watts Brook in Valley Stream; the Merrick Road Bridge over Milburn Creek in Baldwin; the Lawson Blvd. Bridge over Powell Creek in Ocean-side; the Plandome Road, Long Island Railroad Bridge in Plandome; and the Bayview Avenue, Long Island Railroad Bridge in Great Neck Plaza.

Hempstead Town President Supervisor Thomas S. Gulotta, majority leader of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors, noted that the County was eligible to receive approximately $775,000 from the State of New York to help defray renovation costs.

Gulotta stated that, "Under the provisions of the 1983 Bond Issue Local Bridge Program, considerable funding is available to the County to minimize the costs of returning these bridges to structural soundness."

North Hempstead Supervisor John B. Kiernan, head of the Board's Committee on Transportation, noted that completion of these vital renovations will ensure uninterrupted access to area residents for many years to come.

Noted Kiernan, "Nassau County residents are an extremely mobile group. Here in Nassau we depend heavily on our automobiles for work, recreation and the many necessary tasks of daily life. By making the continued integrity of our County road and bridge system a top priority of County government, the Board of Supervisors is safeguarding Nassau's vital road-network for future generations."

Joining with Supervisors Gulotta and Kiernan in support of this bridge rehabilitation program were: Hempstead Supervisor James D. Bennett, Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Colby, Long Beach Supervisor Hannah Komanoff and Glen Cove Mayor Vincent Suozzi.

We hope that you will all take the time to read U.S. Senator D'Amato's story on page 3, entitled "A Painless Way To Cut The Deficit." While it is important for all of us, and our elected officials, to address the issue of tax reform which currently takes so much of everyone's time, from the least of us, as taxpayers, right up to the presidency, nevertheless, of equal (if not more) importance is reducing the federal deficit. Everyone knows this but no one wants to give back "his fair share," of what creates this deficit in order to reduce it. And everyone knows that if this federal deficit is not reduced, we will be leaving to our children and grandchildren, a country on its way down due to fiscal chaos instead of a country leading the world on to greater opportunities to grow together, resulting in a greater country and a world dedicated to helping all who need training to become self-sufficient.

We can choose the way to go...but we have to take every opportunity RIGHT NOW, to accomplish this. And we believe that Sen. D'Amato has pointed the way to take at least the next step forward in the right direction. Please put aside politics for a moment...read his article and then write to those in the Senate and Assembly, and to our President, letting them know that you favor a balanced approach to the dual problems of reducing the federal budget and tax reform. They are important and in that order. And, believe it or not, the opinions of all Americans are important.

Remember the old saying, "The only way that evil can succeed is for good people to do nothing."
Your Country needs you. Please help now.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

PRESIDENT PETE MASSIELLO'S MESSAGE: My second special plea to all male and female members of our organization to attend the 11th Anniversary Dinner-Dance to be held by the Ladies Auxiliary on Saturday, the 28th of September, is just as strong. As I said in my previous message, that it is incumbent on us, its our duty and our obligation to aid and abet the Ladies Auxiliary in its attempt to make this dance a fiscal and social success. The Ladies Auxiliary is an integral part of our organization, they are our organizational sisters, they are a part of our family and therefore we must show our loyalty and respect to them. We have ties to each other. They help us in our time of need. We fully must realize that they attend all our dances and events. So don't be an ordinary member of the Galileo Lodge, be an extraordinary one. Please don't let it down in its time of need. We are not shirkers and we definitely are not 'quitters'. We are men of the Galileo Lodge.

Oh, yes we do extol the virtues of the Ladies Auxiliary at times, and rightly so, we feel. They deserve it. Hard work, dedication and loyalty should always be praised and emphasized. Well, as you all can see, the 11th Anniversary Dinner-Dance it will present on Saturday, the 28th of September, is just around the corner. So come on all you members, male as well as female, get your tickets as they are available. Tickets sell at $25 per person, and in the offering will be a Smorgasbord-type dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, unlimited liquor and delightful music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Rose Riccardi (681-0966) will chair this activity, ably assisted by Terry Gatto (934-6708) and Rachel Sainano, all of whom will be selling tickets on Wednesday nights at the Galileo Lodge from 8 to 10 P.M. Needless to say that the ambience lent to the activities of the Ladies Auxiliary is one of warmth and friendliness. It is often said that you can't help enjoying yourself at any activity presented by it.

Are you proud of your heritage? Are you proud of the achievements and exploits of Christopher Columbus? Of course the answers to both questions is obviously yes. Well, then kindly be informed that the Galileo Lodge will definately be a part of the Columbus Day Parade which is to Assemble in the Big H shopping area in Huntington on Sunday, the 13th of October, at 2:00 P.M. All members of the Galileo, male and female, who wish to participate in the march should meet at the Galileo Lodge around 1 to 1:30 P.M., where a bus will motor them to the site of the parade. Needless to mention that colation will be offered to the marchers at the Galileo Lodge following the parade. Please note that this service is offered for the marchers only. Skip Monteforte will supervise this activity and he expects a good turnout, so don't disappoint him. Let's make a good showing, as other filial lodges associated with the Order of the Sons of Italy in America will also be marching.

LODGE TIDBITS:

Sorry to report that Joe Janotti is still ill, but very happy to report that John Janotti is recovering from a recent hospital stay.... Our Bowling sessions start in November.... Our recent picnic was very well run and very enjoyable.... The renovation program of the Galileo Lodge still needs more members to come down and help on Monday nights.... Sorry to hear that Frank Matassa was not feeling well recently.... Note that Pat Gatto and Jim Posillico will be honored at our next dance, the Halloween affair, to be held in October.... Very sorry to hear that Fred Ausiello was recently hospitalized and we wish him a very speedy recovery.... Another new member was recently installed at our last business meeting.... The Ladies Auxiliary state that their coming Anniversary Dance will be catered by the Exquisite Gourmet Catters of New Hyde Park, and they are excellent in this service.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Noeth,
 Upon receipt of this week's Herald, the only thing I looked for was the picture of the Hicksville Post Office "Zips" Softball team that I organized for Easter Seals. Later that evening my mother called asking if I saw myself and three of my sisters Down Memory Lane in the Herald. For someone who is never in the papers, what a coincidence to appear twice on the same page and so many years apart.

That picture sure brings back memories. I would say it was taken either the summer of 1959 or 1960. It definitely was East Street School and if you didn't go to summer school every day from 9 to 12, there was just nothing else to do. No one had big backyard pools "in those days" and one car families didn't get to the beach too often. So we walked up to East Street every day for three hours of bombardment in the gym, kickball, arts & crafts and making a countless number of braided key chains.

Once a summer there would be a talent show. I remember all of us dressing in red shorts, white blouses and big thick black patent leather belts singing "Down

In the Valley" up on stage after practicing all summer. We'd also have a bicycle parade, wrapping yards of crepe paper in the spokes and around the handle bars. We even used to have a summer band over at Burns Avenue conducted by Mr. Gates. I met him again about 2 years ago when he conducted my daughter's band at Usdan. How times have changed. Now they don't even cut the grass at Burns in the summer.

Where are we now? Sue Morris LaLiberte is a self employed seamstress in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Maureen (Binty) Morris Brisebois is the mother of three and lives in Montreal, Canada. Patty Morris Lind is a legal secretary expecting her first baby in November living in San Francisco, California. I have one daughter and still live in Hicksville. Charlie, Ginny and Tina Morris weren't born at the time of that photo.

Last week was another trip down memory lane. After our Easter Seal Softball Game we stood around for hours talking about the "old days" at Hicksville High. In addition to myself, six of us on the team went to Hicksville Schools, (Richie

We very rarely all get together now.

Torres, Joette Stursberg, Bob Ural, Tom Ural, Larry Janes and Mike Jurgrau). Before they demolished Broadway, we used to go downtown to the Pizza Place for lunch, pizza and a coke for 25c, or Looney's Deli for sandwiches. Then we graduated to Ed's hamburger stand on Old Country Road which is now a parking field. Wetson's now

Titus Oaks, was the place to be at night as well as the new Cantiague Park. The teachers and assistant principals, especially Jaworski and Olvini, were a big topic of discussion. I'm sure they would be pleasantly surprised to see how well we are all doing now.

Sincerely,
 Kathy Morris Dammes

IN APPRECIATION: Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond (left) is on hand to congratulate William Lynch (center) of Farmingdale, a Town animal warden, as he receives a certificate of appreciation from the Hicksville Post Office. Postmaster-Manager Roger Nienaber presented the award to Lynch, who gave a special course to Hicksville Postal carriers on how to deal with dog problems.

Itzhak Perlman Opens LIU - C.W. Post Season

Itzhak Perlman, who in recent years has been acclaimed as America's top violinist by both critics and audiences, will open the 1985-1986 season at Long Island University's Bush-Brown Concert Theatre with a recital Saturday night, Sept. 21, a gala-benefit for the four-year-old 2,200-seat hall on the C.W. Post Campus.

Mr. Perlman's recital program will include works by Brahms, Beethoven, Lukas Foss, Camille Saint-Saens, as well as several pieces he will announce from the Concert Theater stage, according to the announcement by Mrs. George N. Lindsay and Lionel Goldberg, co-chairman of GALA V.

New York State's two

United States Senators, the Hon. Alfonse D'Amato and the Hon. Daniel P. Moynihan, are honorary chairman of the fund-raising event, which is expected to raise between $75,000 and $100,000. Kitty Carlisle Hart - the star of television, opera and the musical stage, who serves as chairperson of the New York State Council on the Arts - will be the honored guest of the Gala V Committee.

The 1985 Gala will also be the first public appearance of Long Island University's new president, Dr. David J. Steinberg, who became the multi-campus university's top administrator on July 1. President Steinberg will be introduced to the Gala V audience by Mr. William Zeckendorf, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Long Island University.

Ticket sales for the 1985 fund-raiser have been described as brisk by Concert Theater director Frederick W. Peryer. "All of our benefactor tickets at $250 each are gone," Mr. Peryer reported. "However, some seats at $85, $60 and $45, are still available."

Mr. Perlman's program for the Sept. 21 Gala will include Brahms' "Sonatensatz," Beethoven's Sonata No. 5 in F Major, Op. 24 ("Spring"), Three Pieces by Lukas Foss, and the Sonata in d minor, Op. 75 by Camille Saint-Saens. The final portion of his program will be announced from the stage. Samuel Sanders will be the pianist.

Tickets for the Sept. 21 Gala can be ordered at the Concert Theater box office - (516) 626-3100 - or by calling CHARGIT (516) 944-9300.

Freeport Boat Show

The Marine Trades Association, sponsor of the Freeport Boat Show (October 4-6 and October 11-14), is pleased to announce the donation of land and water space in the show to several local non-profit organizations.

On October 5 the Vanderbilt Museum is displaying photographs of yachts once owned by the Vanderbilt family. A spokesperson will tell visitors about Mr. Vanderbilt's love of boating.

Then, on October 6, the Intrepid Sea, Air & Space Museum is presenting a slide show and displaying large photos about the history of the museum. Those who visit the booth will take home a complimentary four-color poster of New York's floating museum.

The Whaling Museum Society in Cold Spring Harbor is bringing a scrimshaw exhibit to the show on October 12. Question and answer boards will also be set up so visitors can test their knowledge about whaling on Long Island long ago.

On October 13, visitors can find out about the restoration of Little Jennie, the second oldest registered vessel in the United States. The 102-year-old bugeye ketch, measuring 86 feet, is one of the last of her kind afloat.

The Long Island Chapter of the Antique and Classic Boat Society is bringing three antique runabouts to the show on October 12, 13 and 14. These wooden speedboats, built between 1920 and 1960, are prized for their streamlined styles, abundance of chrome and exquisite mahogany woodwork.

The Freeport Boat Show, the largest regional boat show in the Northeast, runs from October 4-6 and October 11-14 at Hempstead Town's Guy Lombardo Marina. More than 500 new boats and a wide range of marine accessories will be exhibited by more than 100 companies in the water, on land and under tents.

On display will be large and small inboard and outboard sport and fishing boats, houseboats, motor and sailing yachts, off-shore power boats, inflatables, assorted-sized sailboats and daysailers.

For Your Good Health

WHERE SHALL I HAVE MY OPERATION?

One of the dilemmas that seems to face patients today is choice of hospitals in which to have their surgery. Many people are perplexed as to whether they should have their operations in their local, community hospital or go to one of the university teaching hospitals like North Shore University Hospital or Long Island Jewish Hospital, or even travel into New York City.

As a practicing General Surgeon, I often discuss this problem with my patients. The most frequently asked questions are "how good is my local hospital?" "How good are the anesthesiologists?" "Can they take care of my problem?" "Should I stay with my local medical doctor and surgeon or should I go to a teaching hospital on Long Island or in Manhattan and see new physicians who don't know me personally?"

First, let me say that I did my internship and residency at North Shore University Hospital and have operating privileges there. I also have operating privileges at Syosset Community, Central General, Mid-Island, and Massapequa General Hospital, so, I feel that I am in a unique position to evaluate both community and teaching hospitals. People in the eastern part of Nassau County and western Suffolk County are very fortunate to have four community hospitals where the caliber of care is as high as it is. Syosset Community, Central General, Mid-Island and Massapequa General hospitals all have excellent staffs of anesthesiologists, extremely well run operating rooms, intensive care units with up-to-date equipment and experienced staff. I have no hesitation about performing surgery at any of these institutions.

I feel patients often make a big mistake when they want to go to a hospital where their medical doctor is not affiliated. There is nothing more difficult for a patient than to be in a strange hospital where they don't know any of their treating physicians. The psychological support given by the patient's family physician or internist is often vital in helping them through major surgery with minimal psychological trauma and complications. When you deal with physicians who know your medical history and know you as a person, you are much more likely to get personal, proper medical care. Physicians who know you only once and know that after the surgical procedure you will be going back to your personal physician may not be as interested as a long time family physician and internist would be. I feel it's vital that surgery be done whenever possible at a hospital where the patient's medical doctor can also follow the patient.

We are starting to face a new problem which, unfortunately, will get worse in succeeding months and years. Because of pressures to keep only the sickest patients in the hospital; to cut down on the length of hospital stays; and to shift as much surgery as possible to ambulatory surgical units, many of our community hospitals have had a huge drop in their census. It is impossible for these hospitals to survive with large numbers of empty beds. It would be very unfortunate if Syosset Community, Central General, Mid-Island or Massapequa General had to close their doors due to lack of occupancy. This would seriously affect the communities where the hospitals are providing excellent medical care. Yet, many patients when they hear the word "hospitalization" or "surgery" run to a large teaching hospital. They think the care they will get will be superior, often it is not. I think it is important for communities to support their local hospitals and maintain the viability of the community hospital system.

PICTURE PERFECT

If you're thinking about selling your home, remember that prospective buyers will judge your house from the outside first. You'll want to make it picture perfect. Be sure that the front door and shutters are freshly painted, that windows and sills are clean and all minor repairs taken care of. Dirt, twigs and leaves should be removed from gutters and ledgers, as well as from roof shingles.

A home will look most valuable when fallen branches and other yard debris have been carried away. Extra seeding, sod rolls and or lawn plugs will thicken your lawn and take care of the bald spots. Fertilizer will make the grass greener.

Good garden grooming calls for careful edging around paths and driveway, and shaping of shrubbery and small trees. A good landscaper can help. You may consider even adding some new greenery. Be sure that all trash is properly bagged or covered, and is neatly by the curb. A thin, inexpensive do-it-yourself layer of blattop will cover unsightly oil stains on your driveway, and help make your home attractive. Getting ready to put YOUR house on the market? Something To Think About

VERNON & BILL WAGNER
TWO GENERATIONS OF SERVICE

ACCEPTANCE OF DEATH

To accept the concept of death is to be comfortable with the idea of our own mortality. Our physical existence is unquestionably finite. None of us will be on this earthly planet for forever. Yet as obvious and universal as this is, the number of people who have difficulty accepting it is truly impressive.

Most of us simply delay consideration of the issue until absolutely necessary. Even then, when faced with the impending death of a loved one or ourselves, many people refuse to handle the matter realistically. They feel it is accepting defeat. However, acceptance of the inevitability of death is not the same thing as being resigned to an early death or giving up all hope of recovery.

We should seek to enjoy and appreciate the time we have, and try and hope to prolong it. Still, this should not prevent us from coming to terms with one of the truths of human existence.

Traffic Safety Measures Approved

On Sept 9 the Nassau County Board of Supervisors authorized the installation of 1,000 raised, reflective, playable, traffic safety markers throughout the County road system.

According to Hempstead Town Presiding Supervisor Thomas S. Gulotta, Vice Chairman of the Board, damaged markers currently in place will be replaced, while new markers will be installed in areas where traffic studies indicate they would alleviate hazardous driving conditions.

Supervisor Gulotta noted, "These reflective markers are particularly effective in inclement weather and at night. The markers are designed to highlight the center lines and edge lines, providing motorists with increased visibility. Generally employed on curved road sections, reflective markers have proven to be quite effective in heightening traffic safety in areas where reflective paint and plastic markings have failed."

The two-year program approved by the Board of Supervisors also provides funding for a continuing program of replacement of damaged reflective markers.

The entire cost of the two-year program has been estimated at just under $150,000. Funding for this project will be derived solely from the County's capital budget.

Work-Study Program

Four Long Island teenagers will be among the 60 participating in this work-study program sponsored by Hadassah. Section 1, another group of 60 with two Long Islanders will follow on Sept. 18.

Judea, and recent national executive board member, Rusty Jacobs of Plainview, last year's social action coordinator for the region; and Ruth Pine of Smithtown, will be among those in the first group. Leslie Braginsky of Dix Hills, past phone squad and membership chairman, will be participating in Machon, a leadership training course sponsored jointly by many Zionist youth movements including HaShachar and

Pre-Retirement Series Offered

What opportunities are there in retirement? Is becoming a "snow bird" a viable living arrangement in one's later years? These and other questions will be addressed at the award winning fall series Pre-retirement Planning Workshops, sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs. This award winning workshop series, initiated in 1968, has helped thousands of men and women plan for retirement. The four weekly two-hour sessions, offered in cooperation with libraries and Continuing Education Departments of local school districts and universities, will be held at various locations throughout Nassau County, and are open to all Nassau County residents.

At the workshops, individuals have an opportunity to explore alternatives and options in advance of retirement. Experts in various fields lead discussions on a range of retirement topics, such as financial planning, Social Security, estate planning, and leisure time, education and employment opportunities in retirement. The informality of the format encourages an exchange of ideas and generates new directions for consideration by future retirees.

Volunteer coordinators, trained and recruited through the Department's Retired Senior Volunteer Program coordinated by American Zionist Youth Foundation. The second group will include Rich Newberger of Dix Hills, a long-time member of Young Judea and past educational programmer, and Cary Yalon of Lake Grove.

These six teenagers will be among a group from all over the North America whose headquarters will be Beit Ricklis, Mount Scopus, Jerusalem.

For more information about this or other programs sponsored by Ha-Shachar, Young Judea through Hadassah, call the Long Island regional office at (516) 433-4960.

(RSVP), provide the necessary leadership of introducing speakers, moderating discussions and serving as links from one session to another.

Registration for the evening workshops is limited. In most communities, there is no fee; in some locations, a maximum fee of $3.00 may be charged.

For the fourth consecutive year, at the request of County Executive Francis T. Purcell, the Pre-retirement Planning Workshops are being offered to Nassau County employees 50 years of age and older and their spouses, who are contemplating retirement. The 1985 Fall workshops for County employees will be conducted by the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs on five consecutive Thursdays, beginning September 12, from 5:15 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the auditorium at 222 Willis Avenue, Mineola. Registration is through personnel offices of individual County Departments.

Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, said, "Appropriate planning for future retirees can assure that retirement is a very productive part of one's life and an opportunity for self-fulfillment."

For additional information on registration, call the Department at 535-5958.

Recently, sections of Long Island were devastated by tornado-type winds which felled trees, ripped down telephone and electric wires and made many roadways impassible.

Residents in our area are not often affected by hurricanes or tornadoes—those are weather conditions we associate with the south and southwestern parts of the country.

However, the hurricane season is in full swing—with Hurricane Elena causing heavy damage in the Gulf Coast area—and, while it is an infrequent occurrence, we should be prepared in the event a violent storm hits close to home.

Many residents in the Town of Oyster Bay live near water areas where strong winds and heavy rains can pose a threat to human life and property.

Hurricane Awareness

By TOB Supervisor Joseph Colby

Those residents should be aware that the most dangerous element of the hurricane is the accompanying high tides and rough seas as the hurricane moves across coastal areas.

The National Weather Service, which can usually provide 12 to 24 hours of advance warning as the hurricane approaches, urges residents to know the difference between a "Hurricane Watch" and a "Hurricane Warning." A Hurricane Watch is the first advisory issued and indicates that a hurricane has become a potential threat to coastal areas. It's a notice for residents to listen for further information regarding the path of the storm.

A "Hurricane Warning" denotes expected winds of 74 miles per hour or greater, or a combination of dangerously high water and very rough seas in a specific coastal area.

When a "warning" is issued precautionary measures should begin immediately. Residents in low-lying areas which may be in the path of high tides or storm waves should evacuate at once.

On-hand provisions might include a first-aid kit, fire extinguisher, battery powered radio, flashlight with extra batteries, non-perishable food and supply of drinking water.

An excellent program discussing "Hurricane Preparedness" will be presented on Cablevision (Channel 22) on Friday, September 20 at 8:30 PM and again on Wednesday, September 25, at 8:00 PM. Oyster Bay Town Councilman John Venditto, guest host, will be joined by Frank Petrone, Region II Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency. This arm of the government is charged with the responsibility of preparing citizens for all emergency situations—hurricanes being just one of those. The show will also feature excellent footage taken during previous hurricanes.

We have indeed been fortunate—but keeping our fingers crossed will not help in the event a hurricane whips through our area. Being prepared is the only way to save your family and your property from the ravages of a storm.
