Parola: Southern State and Wantagh Parkways Hazardous

Saying that unjustified delays in repairs to local state parkways could result in tragedy, Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C, Wantagh) again criticized the state Department of Transportation (DOT) for inaction on the thoroughfares.

"In my recent letters to Michael Cuddy, DOT Region 10 Director, I noted the unsafe conditions that now exist on portions of the Southern State and Wantagh State parkways," said Parola, a member of the Assembly Local Governments Committee.

"Since these are state-owned and operated roadways, our local towns have no say in when conditions will improve," added Parola.

"The need for resurfacing of the Southern State Parkway between Wantagh Avenue and Route 107 has existed for several years, with road conditions marred by many sections now worn away. This is an obvious hazard, and one which Nassau County residents should not have to be subjected to," said Parola.

The assemblyman pointed out that the original project dates back four years, but bids have slightly surpassed guideline requirements, so the resurfacing has been placed on hold.

"Another major problem exists on the Wantagh State Parkway, where highway lighting has been absent since 1979," said Parola, "and current plans will keep the much-travelled avenue dark until 1990."

Parola noted that he has been writing in vain to DOT since the initial shut-off of the lighting and has been hearing a number of different excuses for the project delays.

"The parkway is certainly more hazardous without proper lighting, which certainly increases the chances of additional accidents," said the lawmaker. "Nassau County residents pay among the highest property taxes in the state and deserve better treatment than this."

"Reconsideration of the Wantagh State Parkway project timetable and immediate resurfacing of the Southern State Parkway are in order for the safety of all who travel these state-owned roadways," said Assemblyman Parola.

Midland Civic Association Meeting

by Gert Paul

With feelings of accomplishment, pride, and good fellowship, members of the Midland Civic Assoc. overflowed the auditorium at the Willet Ave. School on Wednesday, May 11th, to attend the final meeting of the 1985-1986 season. The line for renewal was long and busy. There was a festive air on this occasion.

The program was packed with "goodies." First, we were honored by an informative address by Abe Seldin, head of the Nassau Board of Assessors a recognized authority on the subject. He explained how our taxes are computed, what our rights are in a tax dispute, and how we can examine our tax records. Questions were plentiful, and finally had to be halted due to a lack of time. Next, Ellie Draycott - Civic affairs chairman, gave an informative report on all the issues of interest in our community. Barbara Nelson displayed one of the signs to be put up throughout our neighborhood as the culmination of intensive training for "New York Neighborhood Watch" in our area. Karen Donovan showed slides and discussed the "Changing World of Real Estate in our Town," and the pitfalls to watch for by buyers and sellers. Finally, with great warmth, Assemblyman Dan Freese was introduced. He first inducted all the officers and members of the 1986-1987 year, and then separately swore in the new President - Larry Weintraub.

Over a whipped-cream laden strawberry shortcake, cookies and beverage, a jovial and warm collation ended a delightful evening.

One hundred members of Hicksville's Midland Civic Association turned out last week at the Willet Avenue School to hear the Chairman of the Nassau Board of Assessors, Abe Seldin (center), speak.

Seldin spoke about how property is assessed in Nassau County, exemptions which are available to taxpayers and how to challenge your assessment. He is shown explaining a property record card like the one the Assessor maintains for every property in Nassau to association officials (left to right): Ellie Draycott, Gert Paul, Larry Weintraub and Richard Pfander.

Representatives of senior citizens' clubs, civic associations and other community-based groups may arrange to pick up bulk quantities of the pamphlet for distribution to their members by calling the Taxpayer Information Bureau at (516) 535-2790.

Instant House

IT'S UP: Remember last week we showed you the first step in the erection of this 5 bedroom, 2 bath, 14-room modular home?

This Tuesday, with the help of a tremendous crane, it was put into place on its foundation on Raymond Street in Hicksville.

The traditional tree branch affixed to the roof indicates completion of the highest part of the house. A few finishing touches remain to be done.

Pat Crowe will need no introduction when he begins serving the Plainview community. The life-long native of Plainview has been appointed manager of the Plainview Funeral Home, located at 655 Old Country Road.

"I'm delighted to serve the Plainview community," Crowe said. "It will be a great experience to serve these wonderful people I already know," he added.

Working in the Plainview area, however. During the past two and one-half years, Crowe worked for the Vernon C. Wagner Funeral Home in Hicksville, which has recently purchased the Plainview Funeral Home. He enjoyed serving his hometown area: "I found that the bonds I had with the community only got stronger, and for that I am most grateful," he said.

Members of the community are always welcome to visit the Plainview Funeral Home, according to Crowe. "I'd love to see anyone stop in - to answer their questions, give them a tour or just to get better-acquainted," he said.

Crowe first worked as a funeral director from 1979-1983 for Lieber Funeral Home, Valley Stream. Those four years were essential for him to cultivate his career. "During that time, I got involved and learned about all the phases of the funeral service business," he said.

Dedication to the families he serves is a necessity, according to Crowe. "I think I should be at the funeral home as much as possible," he said. Families place trust in the funeral home they select, so it is important to uphold that trust by doing all you can to help, he added.

Crowe attended grade school at St. Pius X in Plainview. He attended high school at the St. Dominic High School in Oyster Bay and graduated in 1973. He was then a student at St. John's University in 1974 for one year. In 1976 he graduated from State University New York, Farmingdale.

Crowe has been married for three years to his wife, Susan.

During his time off, Crowe enjoys being actively involved with the St. Pius Men's Bowling League. He also enjoys golfing and many other sports.

"It's great to do your best in any community," Crowe said. "But it will be even more special to serve my friends and neighbors."

MORE MONEY UP FRONT

According to a recent study by the League of Savings Institutions, home buyers today are spending a smaller percentage of monthly income on housing. One reason is that they're making larger down payments. Of course, lenders are pleased to find borrowers willing to put more equity into their property; they'll have a greater stake in keeping it.

Who's got the cash for a hefty down payment? Who's going to need a low-down-payment, government-backed mortgage? Who's going to qualify for a loan? There are hard dollars-and-cents questions involved in matching prospective buyers to the homes they'd like to own. It's difficult for an individual home seller to ask them, but a real estate professional asks those questions all the time - and gets honest answers, too. You don't want to waste a lot of time showing your house and negotiating with a prospect who just can't come up with the money for your property.

Dear Friends...

Our Memorial Day Parade & Service
 We would give this year's Committee, participants and onlookers a high "9" rating for a job really well done. The number of the organizations participating in this year's Memorial Day Parade was reminiscent of days gone by. It was really inspiring to salute their flags and applaud their marchers, cars and floats from the reviewing stand. Everyone, from the tiniest twirler to the veterans...you were great!

Commander Max Bergsohn of the William W. Gouse VFW Post 3211 led in the pledge of allegiance which was followed by our National Anthem played by the HHS band under the direction of Daniel Destefano. Next came the invocation given by Father Costa of St. Ignatius Loyola RC Church. Past VFW Commander M. Montelione then read General Order No. 11 and greetings and introductions were ably handled by VFW Past Commander Joseph Normandy.

The HHS Band then played "America." Principal speakers were Christine Gargan and Scott O'Callaghan, students at HHS. They are both to be commended on inspiring thoughts on Memorial Day expressed in their addresses. Hicksville's TOB Councilman Thomas Clark also spoke reverently on "Memorial Day And What It Means To Us." The closing prayer was spoken by Father Costa. The Gold Star Mothers then placed a wreath before the beautifully refurbished monument, the firing of the Salute took place and "taps" was sounded by two buglers. Then the entire audience sang "God Bless America."

Both the parade and the ceremonies displayed a truly American reverence toward all those who made the supreme sacrifice for our beloved Country. If you were unable to attend this Memorial Day, we suggest that you do so in 1987.

We Stand Corrected
 We stand corrected and rightly so. We don't know how it happened but in the news release from the Fork Lane School PTA which reported last week on the honors paid to Mrs. Evelyn Grib, in one sentence we inadvertently listed this gracious lady as "East Street School" teacher. For this we apologize to Mrs. Grib and reprint both the article and the picture, as corrected, in this week's HERALD. The article was and is covered by the headline: Fork Lane Present Life Membership.

THAT'S ALL
 THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well and enjoy the Spring of '86 here on beautiful Long Island.

LILCO "Brown Outs" Predicted

Long Island residents could face power outages this summer, according to officials of the State Public Service Commission. In the annual PSC report evaluating statewide summer electricity needs, the Commission said LILCO's power reserves are stretched to maximum capacity and, in unusually hot weather, power could be interrupted in some areas.

However, barring the event that two or more power plants would be out of service at the same time, the report said LILCO would have adequate power reserves to meet peak demand because of purchase requirements made earlier this year with Con Edison, the New York Power Authority, and the Long Island municipals.

According to PSC projections, Long Island's peak demand should be 3,372 megawatts (MW), under normal summer weather conditions. However, LILCO officials say demand could rise to 3,430 MW should last summer's peak weather conditions, i.e., extended high temperatures and humidity, be repeated this year.

If LILCO were not able to meet its operating reserve margin because of an unexpected loss of generating capacity, the utility might have to resort to voltage reduction (brownouts) or even load-shedding (selected blackouts) to meet demand, the report said.

The PSC report concurs with an April 16 announcement made by LILCO in which the utility said it anticipated an electric generation deficiency of more than 200 megawatts (MW) this summer. To meet the increased summer demand and its New York Power Pool reserve requirements, LILCO said it purchased additional capacity from several sources. With those purchase agreements, LILCO will receive:

- ° 150 MW from Con Edison
 - ° 36 MW from municipal utilities in Freeport, Rockville Centre and Greenport
 - ° 8 MW of NYPA power through the Nassau and Suffolk County Municipal Distribution Agencies
 - ° 68 MW from the NYPA's upstate Fitzpatrick Nuclear Power Plant
- LILCO also is actively promoting conservation to help relieve the summer energy crunch. The utility expects to save at least 10 MW by offering rate incentives to its large industrial customers to cut back on their electric use during peak periods. In addition, LILCO recently opened a consumer conservation outlet in the Massapequa Mall and set up a toll-free hotline for information on home energy saving measures.

"Our plans are based on the belief that Long Islanders will continue to conserve energy despite falling oil prices," said William Museler, LILCO Vice President of Electric Operations. "Without their help, Long Island's summer energy crunch could be tighter than we projected."

While LILCO's power purchases and conservation measures should allow it to meet consumer demand for the summer of 1986, there remains serious concern about the utility's ability to meet future growing demand without the Shoreham Nuclear Power Station. Another report, "Assessment of Future Reliability of Electric Supply on Long Island," recently issued by the New York Power Pool, states "the reliability of the LILCO system without Shoreham is presently marginal and will deteriorate."

Said Power Pool Executive Director William Balet: "This deficiency is caused by LILCO's inability to operate Shoreham...once Shoreham is operating, it would appear that LILCO will have adequate generating capability for a number of years in the future."

Plainview Winners

Dr. Jerome Botwinick, Principal of Plainview-Old Bethpage High School, takes great pleasure in announcing the results of the New York State History Competition which took place May 8th - May 10th at Lake Placid, New York.

Fork Lane PTA Presents Life Membership

By A. Eichenauer

Along with May 8th Grandparents Day and Spring Concert, the Fork Lane PTA presented Mrs. Evelyn Grib, Fork Lane School third grade teacher, with a life membership into PTA.

Fork Lane School is like home to Mrs. Grib. She has been teaching at Fork Lane since 1952, (right out of Oswego State Teachers College.) Over the years she has taught 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades. She remembers Hicksville's growing pains and having 40 pupils in her class she recalls double sessions, and sharing classrooms and supplies. She feels the children haven't really changed.

"You can't fool children" she said. "They know if you really like them." That is the key to her success.

Although Mrs. Grib has been teaching over 30 years she still finds it exciting and enjoyable. She feels that every student is unique. So is she!

The Friendly Town Program

The Friendly Town program of the Fresh Air Fund has been bringing city children to the country since 1877. The Syosset Friendly Town has been in existence since 1955 and has grown to include Bethpage, Farmingdale, East Norwich, Hicksville, Jericho, Oyster Bay and Woodbury. During that time the recruitment of volunteer hosts has been a major objective.

Fresh Air Kids are those who otherwise could not vacation from the city's heat and congestion. The Friendly Town program enables them to visit a suburban family for two weeks in the summer. Relaxation, fun and new perspectives are the gifts hosts have given these youngsters.

Host families may request a boy or girl 6-12 for either the July 9-23 trip or July 23-

Three bills sponsored by Senator Ralph H. Marino (R. Oyster Bay) to expand and more clearly define the legal rights of victims of crime in New York State, were passed by the State Senate this month and sent to the State Assembly.

Senator Marino, author of the 1984 Crime Victims Fair Treatment Standards Law, said that the first of his bills extends provisions of that law to the state's Unified Court System which includes most state and local courts.

"The Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) has now implemented the original Fair Treatment Law by issuing regulatory guidelines to criminal justice agencies throughout the state," Marino said. "Intended to insure standardized, prompt and considerate treatment of crime victims, these guidelines emphasize the right of victims to know, at each stage of a criminal proceeding, what is happening and what role they are to play in the process. They further insure that victims are made aware of all their rights and options, from the arrest of an accused to the final determination in a criminal proceeding.

"The one missing piece in the law was that it did not include the court system. The bill now approved by the Senate rectifies that omission and completes the intent of the law by requiring the preparation of specific crime victim fair treatment standards similar to those already adopted by the federal court system."

Under the Marino bill, the Chief Administrative Judge of the Unified Court System is directed to establish crime victim fair treatment standards which must include procedures to insure prompt notification of such key trial developments as the time of the initial appearance of any accused before a judicial officer, the release of an accused for any reason, the entry of a plea, the time of a trial or sentencing, and any reversal or modification of a sentence by an appellate court.

The new standards would further specify procedures to insure a judge's consideration of the views of victims of violent felony crimes and for improving protection against intimidation of victims and witnesses including, where possible, provision of separate defense and prosecution witness waiting areas, and procedures for assuring prompt return of property not essential as evidence in a court proceeding.

The second Marino bill requires the Parole Board to state its reasons, in writing and in detail, for the granting of parole to a state inmate and establishes the right of earlier or later victims of that inmate to obtain that statement. Recent appellate court decisions have also upheld the right of victims to such information where a parolee has committed a crime against them while on parole. The Marino bill complements and is consistent with those court decisions.

The final bill extends the right to apply for a state rehabilitative occupational training award to members of a crime victim's family where necessary as the direct result of a crime. Presently, such occupational training awards are limited to the crime victim only.

The three Marino crime victim bills are sponsored in the Assembly by Assemblyman Richard Gottfried of Manhattan, chairman of the Assembly Crime Victims Task Force.

"Down Memory Lane"

MANY OF YOU will recognize these active civic leaders whose pictures were run in the Mid Island Herald of May 19, 1966. They are members of the East Hicksville Taxpayers Civic Association which planned to meet at the East St. School on Monday, June 6 of 1966, when taxes were to be the main topic of this evening!

secretary Dr. Bruce Michnick, president Peter DeNino and vice-president Roland M. Gibson. Some pictured above are still active in the community of Hicksville. Best wishes to all. Our community will remain strong and headed in the right direction as more of us join the ranks, wherever we may live. This picture is courtesy of the Gregory Museum Historical Committee.

A Credit From Lilco

By TOB Supervisor Joseph Colby

Few of us would turn down a chance to save money.

While we may not run from store to store to save a few pennies if the opportunity to save a few dollars presented itself I daresay most of us would take advantage.

Utility bills are one category in which we rarely expect to see a cost reduction—until now.

The Long Island Lighting Company, LILCO, is presently purchasing hydroelectric power from the New York State Power Authority. This cost effective arrangement has been ongoing since November of 1985 and rate payers should be credited with the reduced cost derived from public power. This was made possible because I and the other members of the County Board of Supervisors advanced the Nassau County Public Power Authority, which was approved by public referendum and provides a means for LILCO's purchase of public power.

On behalf of the residents of the Town of Oyster Bay I have written to LILCO Chairman, William Catacosinos, to request that the credit available through public power be applied as soon as possible to every rate payer's bill at a rate commensurate with the hydro-power consumed.

It is my understanding that by the end of March, LILCO had already accrued a savings of $3.8 million through the implementation of the public power program. To Oyster Bay residents that is a Town-wide savings of more than $500,000—again, this figure reflects only the savings to the end of March since more recent figures are not yet available.

Individual LILCO bills should reflect the savings based on kilowatt usage. A home which uses 600 kilowatts per month should be entitled to a lump sum credit of approximately $5.00.

One of the legal measures required to permit LILCO to issue this credit approval by the Public Service Commission, LILCO has filed a petition with the PSC and, only with its approval, which is expected in June, can a monthly credit be applied to our bill. To that end I have written to the PSC urging prompt action on this request.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

PRESIDENT JOE GIOR-DANO'S MESSAGE: The man who is ostentatious of his modesty is twin to the statue that wears a fig-leaf. Mark Twain

It seems that it was yesterday that we started to advertise the May Dance which is being presented by the Ladies Auxiliary this Saturday, the 31st of May, at the Galileo Lodge. Some tickets may still be available if you are interested in attending this dance. Tickets sell at $13.50 per person, a nominal fee that entitles you to a delicious dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and some nice dance music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Call Gloria Osback, the Chairlady, and her very capable assistants, May Borriago and Marie Prudenti at 931-9351 for further details concerning this very popular activity. For a Maytime activity that will certainly add to your summer mood, why not contact the committee people just mentioned here. As they say, you'll be glad you did.

The Grand Convention held by the Grand Lodge to the Order of the Sons of Italy in America is scheduled for June 5, 6, 7 and 8 at the Concord, Kiamasha Lake, N.Y. The Galileo Lodge will certainly send its own delegation, consisting of officers and members, in a display of unity and strength. Our 1st Vice President, Skip Monteforte, is running for the position of Commissioner of Arbitration on the Grand Lodge level, and we all wish him the best of luck in this endeavor.

As we have mentioned so many times that hardly a month passes that the Galileo Lodge does not schedule some pleasant and leisure-packed activity for its members, friends and patrons. The activity I have in mind here is the presentation of the Galileo Lodge's Italian Wedding Dance, an activity that used to be a part of the old-world traditions. Part of the proceedings of this dance will be a very humorous mock version of these old-fashion wedding ceremonies. This activity will take place in August, on a Saturday to be decided very shortly. The price of admission will be $13.50 per person, a very modest that will entitle you to a delicious dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and very pleasant dance music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Please note that a 'bring-your-own-liquor policy' will be in effect that night. In a future column I will reveal the committee members and the exact date. For a night of hilarity, fun and frolic, this activity should be on your 'must-attend' list.

And again in August the Galileo Lodge has another pleasure-filled activity that should really keep its members, friends and patrons in a jolly state, and, of course, I am referring to the Galileo Lodge's Annual Picnic which is scheduled for Sunday, the 10th of August, and which has Eisenhower Park as its location. Those who have attended past Galileo Lodge picnics have seen with their own eyes (and stomachs) the fabulous array of food that it offers. So for a relaxing and enjoyable activity in the open air, his picnic should also embellish your summer moods. And then, to close the doors of summer, the Galileo Lodge will present its Annual Scholarship Anniversary Dance on Friday, the 12th of September, at Leonard's of Great Neck. This is the Lodge's really big affair because the revenue that is received from this affair is used for the Galileo Lodge Scholarship Fund. Yes, it's an important affair because the Galileo Lodge has a strong and warm feeling for students and their financial problems. An Ad Journal will also be a part of this night's proceedings. The Galileo Lodge is fully aware that a better reason to run a dance can not be found. More details on this activity in future columns, so please "stay tuned" to these reports.

County Court Judge John S. Thorp, Jr. addressed the membership of the Edward J. Giannelli Democratic Club at the May 23rd meeting held at Levittown Hall, Hicksville.

Other guests attending were Supreme Court Judge Andrew J. DiPaola, Bob Machida, the Democratic candidate for the 5th S.D. and Constance Mullin, the Democratic candidate for the 14th A.D.

Judge DiPaola and Judge Thorp are running for reelection this year, after completing 14 years and 10 years, respectively, on the bench.

Hicksville District Leader Audrey Hagemann stressed the extreme importance of the Judiciary elections this year due to the Nassau Republican Party's continued policy not to endorse Democratic sitting Judges. Since the Republican Party's new policy has been in effect, three distinguished jurists - Judge Alfred Samenga, Judge Marilyn Friedenberg and Judge Henry Kalinowski - have been defeated in the general elections. "If this policy continues," stated Mrs. Hagemann, "it will be only a matter of a few years that there will be no Democratic judges sitting in Nassau County."

Quilter's Meeting

Long Island Quilters' Society General Meeting June 16 at 8:00 P.M. at the United Methodist Church of Merrick. This will be a Salad

& Dessert Supper and last meeting before the Convention at Adelphi University on August 16/17.

The style and elegance of 19th Century horses and carriages will be on display at Old Bethpage Village Restoration on Sunday, June 1 when a Horse Driving Show is held there from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Nassau Recreation and Parks Commissioner Abram C. Williams said that visitors will see a variety of two and four wheeled vehicles pulled by well-groomed horses.

Pleasure classes and obstacle classes will be judged during the day at the Long Island Fairgrounds. The pleasure classes will be judged on the performance and skilled handling of the horse, the appearance and suitability of the turnout, which includes the horse, harness, vehicle and driver.

The obstacle classes sacrifice sedate dignity for stylish excitement. These classes are judged on the speed with which the prescribed obstacle course is successfully maneuvered at a trot.

Horse Driving Show

Penalty points will be added to the time of those who knock into or run over an obstacle.

The highlight of the day occurs when the vehicles take to the Village roads in a 2-1/2 mile marathon. It is a marathon where speed is not of the essence. The winner is the one who comes closest to the prescribed time of the course.

Opportunities for photograph abound. Visitors are invited to ride in a wagon pulled by the restoration's work team, "Pete" and "Prince."

The event is sponsored by the Paumanok Driving Club, whose members will be driving many of the entries.

Old Bethpage Village Restoration is located on Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage, one mile south of the Long Island Expressway at Exit 48. A cafeteria and gift shop are located on the premises. Admission to the Village is $3 for non-resident adults, $2.50 for Nassau County residents and $1.50 for children, ages 5 to 17.

Parking is free. For further information, call 420-5280.

CHARLES WAGNER POST # 421 HICKSVILLE N.Y.

By Artie Rutz

What a great weekend weatherwise it was...For once it did not rain in the 24 hour period that makes up the Sunday before Memorial Day... Tradition has it to rain and from experience this is 90% true... Rain is not needed when visiting cemeteries and on this particular Sunday our Post joins with other veterans' groups in conducting memorial services for our deceased veterans at PLAINLAWN Cemetery in Hicksville... Then, officers and members of CHARLES WAGNER POST went to the HOLY ROOD Cemetery in Westbury and conducted a short memorial service at the graveside of CHARLES A. WAGNER, a WW I Doughboy, who fell in France in 1918, and for whom the Post is named... On Monday, the weather was coolish and great for marching but not to the credit of our members who showed up 3 strong in back of our 4 man Color Guard... Beyond any doubt this was the poorest American Legion membership participation in a Memorial Day parade since I came to Hicksville in 1949... But, let me add a bright note to this drab scene by reporting that a fourth Legionnaire would have been in line had he not felt sick and was compelled to return home... BUT, his wife took his place in line and made the march in the name of her spouse... Thank you for the fine spirit you showed MRS. GEIGLE... Once again the Hicksville High School band was unable to play "GOD BLESS AMERICA" when requested at the conclusion of the Memorial Day services at the Junior High School monument grounds... It is unforgivable that America's unofficial national anthem which has spontaneously been accepted by AMERICANS everywhere as the closing piece of music no matter what the occasion is... It need be, CHARLES WAGNER POST #421 AMERICAN LEGION will buy the music for the band... But, Memorial Day 1987, let us hear the music of our choice... I wish to thank the V.F.W. who hosted this year's parade for selecting me to be the GRAND MARSHALL... An honor I will cherish... Monday, June 2 is the date of our next meeting and also our annual elections so please be there on time as we ring out the old and ring in the new.
