A Message From Our Water District

The Board of Commissioners, HICKSVILLE WATER DISTRICT, has been directed by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation to impose district wide restrictions on water use. Recent newspaper releases lately have spelled out the various directives issued by the agency. We have protested their methods since the adequacy of supply problems are not in our area but in the western part of the county. Our protests have been unsuccessful, and we have no choice but to impose such measures if we are to conform to the restrictions.

You must be aware that for many years the HICKSVILLE WATER DISTRICT has taken pride in planning and implementing a plentiful and wholesole water supply for all the residents and businesses in Hicksville. We have provided you with as much water as you wanted and when you need it.

Very shortly you will receive a letter from the DISTRICT representing a preliminary survey to ascertain which potential changes we might make that are acceptable to you. We request that you please respond to this survey, so we can evaluate our options.

PRESDIENT JOEGIOR-DANO'S MESSAGE: Cold upon the dead volcano sleeps sleeps the gleam of dying day. Alfred Lord Tennyson

Seasons follow season. uffairs follow affairs and emotions follow emotions, some very good, some good and others perhaps medio-ere. Which undoubtedly leaves much to be desired But usually during the holiday season our emotions do run high, and the Galileo Lodge will do everything in its power to keep this that way. So it can be said that the Christmas dance to be presented by the Galileo Lodge on Saturday, the 6th of December, will lift your teelings and spirits to heights more conspicuous than usual, or what I call above normal. The Galileo Lodge's Christmas Dance is sche-duled for Saturday, the 6th of December. Tickets sell at $13.50 per person, and in the offering will be a delicious int dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music for your listrening and dancing pleasure. Armand Del Ctoppo is the General Chairman, assisted by co-Chairmen to be named very soon. A bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night also, but the Christmas feelings you will get when you attend this dance certainly do not leave much to be desired The holiday is a beautiful time of the year, and attend-ing the Galileo Lodge's Christmas Dance will certainly add to that mood and atmosphere.

When we mention feel-ings, moods, happiness and the esstatic moments that the human heart encounters how can we forget to men-tion the deep-rooted emotions and the genuine love we have for others, espe-cially for little children who simply adore Christmas and Santa Claus, Well, on Sunday, the 7th of December, the Galileo Lodge will pres-

On Thursday, October 30th, at the Lee Avenue School, Mr. Conrad Steers, President of the Nassau Chapter of Vietnam Veterans and Chairman of the Hicksville Monument Fund, drew two (2) winning tickets in a raffle designed to raise funds for the Hicksville Monument Fund.

The fund raiser was the result of the ideas and efforts of two highly motivated parents of Lee Avenue children, Barbara Lewis and children, Barbara Lewis and Linda Mirro, in cooperation with Mr. John Mateer, the school Principal, and the generosity of the school art teacher. Miss Eisen, who donated an original painting and hand painted stationery which were first and second prize in the raffle.

The first place winner was Peter Martin of Mrs. Marra's A.M. kindergarten class and second place went to Angela Patti of Mrs. Pfi-zenmayer's 2nd grade class. Mr. Steers was overwhelmed at the response to this drive and congratulated

Hicksville To Dedicate Korean and Vietnam Memorials, Nov. 11

By Richard Evers

The sacrifices and service of men and women in wartime are timeless as history makes clear. Courage and fortitude in human beings are living virtues and ideals commemorated by thoughtful troops in ranks are dust. Hicksville calls to mind this Hicksville calls to mind this truism on this Veterans Day, November 11, when it honors its sons and daughters who served in the Korean War and in the Vietnam War. The dead and living survi-vors of those enix struyeles

Formal services will begin promptly at 9:45 a.m. and will be followed by the tradi-tional Veterans Day services

Among the invited honored guests who have expressed an intention of being present are Hicksville Gold Star mothers; George Lang, holder of the Con-gressional Medal of Honor for his valor in Vietnam; Assemblymen and Councilmen: religious, school and organizational leaders. Junior High School student bodies will take part. The speakers for the day include William Bennett, President of the School

OVER THE TOP. Hicksville Veterans Monument Fund Committee Chairman Conrad Steers receives a substantial check from Bill Wagner of the Vernon C. Wagner Funeral Home in Hicksville. It just happened that this contribution put this fund, which was started in early June, over the top. The Fund goal was $18,000.00 and Mr. Steers has worked increasingly since that time.

Since the first of its weekly deposits was made at the Beacon Federal Bank in Hicksville, contributions have been sent in by hundreds and hundreds who wished to participate in this way in honoring those who made the supreme sacrifice in both the Korean and Victnam wars, and those who served our Country at that time.

Final list of contributors will appear in next week's HERALD. (Photo by Richard Evers of the Gregory Museum).

The Hicksville Korean and Vietnam War memorials are a testament to this old village's enduring community spirit and its sense of values. Hundreds of residents, school children and business leaders have raised the funds for these monu-ments which are being erected to stand with the vil-lage's WWI and WWII Monuments.

Mr. Purcell plans to set up $1 million in special grants to Nassau schools and or organizations who work with school districts, to fight the dread CRACK problem which is presently sweeping our country. It is affecting people of all ages and it to educate them and their parents, from kindergarten up, that this additional funding has been allocated.

Nassau County Commissioner of the Police Dept., Samuel Rossi and Mr. Harold Adams, head of the Nassau County Drug and Alcohol Abuse Dept., were present and answered questions on many aspects of this dread problem.

Mr. Adams said that a letter has gone out to all Nassau School Superintendents, explaining this expanded funding and requesting those interested to write to him on the subject of their needs, if any. The one million in grants will be spread out over a two-year period. Twenty-five projects will start in

Mr. Rozzi explained that his Dept already has programs in the schools covering (1) prevention, (2) enforcement, (3) education and (4) legislation. He explained that police officers conduct these programs once a week for one hour in about forty schools here in Nassau County, with the hope that such programs will also, indirectly, teach young listenself respect.

Mr. Adams also explained the "Growing Healthy" programs which his Dept has been conducting since 1973. They consist of social workers training teachers from kindergarten up. This training also covers anti-smoking materials.

Mr. Purcell said that this extension of programs was necessary for the health of many of our young people who are affected by peer pressure, as well as what is available to them, some in their own homes.

It is good to know that our elected officials are taking this type of action as it is really necessary.

The Board of Directors of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club decided to make a generous donation to the Hicksville Vete-rans Monument Fund Drive honoring the Korean and Vietnam veterans from Hicksville when they heard that the funds available to date might not be sufficient to completely pay for the monuments.

Mr. Conrad Steers, President of the Nassau Chapter of the Vietnam Veterans of America and the Chairman of the Hicksville Veterans Monument Fund Drive was advised of the decision (as well as the amount of the donation) and was asked to come to the October 29 meeting of the Hicksville

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Parola:

I had written a letter on September 15, 1986, stating that a traffic light be put up on the corner of Morgan
Street and Old Country
Road in Hicksville, because of many deaths that had occurred on this corner.

I had read in the Hicksville Herald on October 3, 1986 that the County of 1986 that the County of Engineering wants to put the light up on East Avenue and I Old Country Road in Hicksville not on Morgan Street where the light is

Between Newbridge Road and Underhill Avenue, and Morgan Street is right in the middle, there are as fol-lows: Sizzler Steak House, Cookys Steak Pub, both open 7 days a week. Plain lawn Cemetery, Century 21 Real Estate, Autuns Cater-ing Hall, Jet Set Travel, and also a bus stop for Atlantic City 7 days a week that stops on the corner of Morgan Street and Old Country, and lets them off on South side of Old Country Road. And on the North side of Old Country Road is a shopping center, and there is another shopping center on the South side. That is why the traffic light is needed on Morgan Street and NOT East Avenue. East Avenue is a one way Street coming out of East Avenue onto Old Country Road and there are no businesses near that corner. If the traffic light is going to be put up on East

Avenue and not Morgan Street where it should be, I myself and the neighbors will get back on our corner (MORGAN STREET) and start to picket again, and try to get the light on our corner (MORGAN STREET). All the officials that I spoken to agree that the traf-fic light has to be put up on Morgan Street and Country Road.

Please send someone down to our corner to inves-tigate the congestion on Morgan Street and Old Country Road and they will agree that the Light should be put up on this corner. I am not only concerned about myself, but for all the other people who drive and have to walk across the street, and who live in this neighborhood. I have taken alot of my own time to try and have the light put up on MORGAN STREET and OLD COUNTRY ROAD, NOT on East Avenue.

I am enclosing a copy of the letter that I have written on September 15, 1986 and the petitions. I am looking forward to hearing from you as soon as possible and hope that you can help us put up the light that is needed on our corner. (MORGAN STREET).

• Last year, over 5,000 carriers were bitten by dogs, a fact funny to neither the Postal Service nor the car-rier bitten. Less serious attacks were reported by a carrier bitten by a goose, one hospitalized after a struggle with a bantam rooster and another carrier in Texas who reportedly had to flee repeatedly from a child's Easter present, a bunny.

"Today the Postal Service is vital to the health and welfare of the American econ-omy," says Mr. Nienaber. "More than 450 million pieces of mail are moved each day by postal employees that's over 140 billion pieces a year. Among the most controversial, and yet innovative, of all organizations in the High School is the yearbook. Its fresh ideas have impressed some, while alarming others. Yet what makes this Yearbook such a topic to talk about? The Yearbook is under the supervision of Ms. Joan Gelberg, who is teaching in the district for her second year, but is new to the High School this year. The student editorial staff are: Tricta Longo, Editor-in-Chief, Maryanne Purtill, Man-aging Editor, Michael Whitton, Business Manager, Bill Corrigan, Photography Editor. Section editor are as follow: Giokazta Molina and Paul Viar, People: Peter Flynn, Sports; Kathy Hemrich, Academics; Claudia Guelland, Student Life; Shani DeAngelis. This staff has been described as being "hard-working for deadlines," a must for any form of written work.

Firstly, pictures of the Sophomores and Juniors will be included, making the year-book of the whole school, not of just the Senior Class. By including these pictures, the staff hoped to broaden the book's appeal to more than just the Senior Class. The complete style of the Yearbook will also be changed. It has been summarized in one word: "Exciting." One theme will tie the book together, linking every page of the book to the work as a whole. Actual articles will reflect certain aspects of school life, making the book something to read and not just look at. Advisor Joan Gelberg describes the book as "a recording of Advisor Joan Gelberg describes the book as "a recording of events...Students will look back and say, 'I remember that." events...Students will look back and say, Tremember that. The staff hope that others will notice the change in quality, since this Yearbook will be Hicksville's first to be entered into open competition against other Yearbooks. All in all, Editor-in-Chief Tricia Longo described the changes as being to the benefit of everyone."

So far, the Yearbook Staff have sold over $10,000 worth of Yearbooks, counting over 300 books actually sold. Perhaps the controversies over the book have actually boosted sales by raising all-around interest in the Yearbook. But how should the final book be? Managing Editor Maryanne Purtill responded, "It's cool... People are in for a real surprise. It'll be better than they think."

And next week, the Highlight takes us to the Junior Class to see what's happening with them.

Mid Pack Means George & Jeanne

George Ofenloch, a 59 year old resident of Bethpage, has been chasing his wife, Jeanne, for a good part of his life. But then, he's not the only one. In the 1984 New York City Marathon, Jeanne, at the age of 56, had some 12,000 persons run after her because she was the fifth woman to finish in her age group, 251st out of 2,394 women and 3,396 out of 15,592 total finishers with a time of 3:44:50.

If there is any event which is symbolic of the Ofenloch's relationship agency in the member of the ofenloch's relationship agency in the member of the ofenloch's

If there is any event which is symbolic of the Ofenloch's relationship, pethaps it is the marathon. George remembers Jeanne Donohue when they were both students at Sewanaka High School in Floral Park, "Although I didn't know her personally at that time, I can still see that flaming red hair streaking through the halls. She was fast even then." But like the marathon which is a long race with many twists, their lives took a turn away from one another.

Upon graduation, George joined the Navy and started a life apart from Jeanne. After his discharge he became a police officer for the Nassau County Police Department, eventually retiring twenty-five years later in 1974 with the rank of sergeant from the Fifth Precinct in Valley Stream. But during this time their paths crossed again and in 1971 they married.

In 1979 the Ofenlochs had gone to Eisenhower Park to see Jeanne's brother, Ray, run the Long Island Marathon. The sight of Ray crossing the finish line so inspired George that he vowed that he too, would complete a marathon, "I went out the very next day and bough a pair of Pro Ked running shoes. I sneaked down the block to the corner so the neighbors couldn't see me and then ran a mile. Well, I really didn't run the entire mile; I ran, walked it for the first couple of weeks until I eventually could run the entire distance."

George increased his training regimen until he finally arrived at the 45 miles that he runs weekly at an 8 to 9 minute pace. Along the way, he has entered at least fifty races by his own count and established PR's of 34:30 in the five mile Bethpage Tune-a-thon, 43:30 in the Plainview lok and 3:44:20 in the 1982 Long Island Marathon in 3:46:20. But his greatest thrill was finishing his first Long Island Marathon in 3:46:05. But his greatest thrill was finishing his first Long Island Marathon in 1981 in 3:58:10. "The exhileration of crossing the line in Eisenhower Park that first time is beyond words. I felt as if I had accomplished something of tremendous importance. All of the pain and hard work was forgotten in that instant. It was one of the most emotional moments of my life."

Jeanne, too, had an emotional moment who pleted her first marathon on Long Island in May, 1984 in 3:43:53. "It was absolutely my best racing experience, but also my toughest. I felt as if I wanted to laugh and cry at the same time when I finally stopped running. The time spent on the course constitutes my finest hours as a runner."

There have been many other races for Jeanne. She has established herself as one of the finest master runners in the Greater Metropolitan Area, if not the country with such notable times as a 42:12 first place in the Plainview 10K and

GUESS WHO GOT ALL DRESSED UP FOR HALLOWE'ENTY'es, you're right ... it was Hicksville's own Meghan Contest, who got all dressed up for Hallowe'en last week. And doesn't she make a beautiful bride?

Actually Meghan, as she really looks, without make up and a costume, is one of the most beautiful children we have ever seen.

As you probably know, this year Meghan is serving as the March of Dimes Poster Girl. She has a busy life as do her parents and grandparents, at tending many events for this fine organization. Whenever they have sporting events, such as "Walk-a-thoms," "Jog-a-thoms," "Bike-a-thoms" or, what have you, Meghan is there at the finish line thanking the participant for their help in these annual benefits.

Hicksville Defeats Cold Spring Harbor In Soccer Game, 2-1

The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 boys travelling soccer team defeated the Cold Spring Harbor Dragons 2-1 this past weekend at Cantiague Park, bringing their Long Island Junior Soccer record to three wins, one loss and three ties. The Shamrocks were at their defensive best throughout the game, led by goalie Eddie Jacobsen, fullbacks Chuck Oliver and Chris Friedrich, who had his best game of the year, and sweeper Chris Doyle, who took all Shamrock goal kicks with beautiful results. Stopper Brian Harkins was at his hustling best and put in the Shamrocks first goal on a pass from left wing Karl Rice, on a boomer from 20 yards out.

Matthew Pordum was all over the field at center half, ably assisted by the excellent play of halfbacks David Lovato, Brian Pinc and Domenick Perillo. Eric Blicker, who played right wing, striker and fullback, was perfectly positioned to the right of the goal, to put in the winning shot off a perfect corner kick by striker Jason Kingsley. Karl Rice was a dynamo at left wing, half back and full. Chris Koetter was in the thick of the action at striker, right wing and fullback. Jason Kingsley made his presence felt from wing, striker and half. Junior Tomlinson was at the heart of many charges from wing, and just missed heading in a corner kick which harely went over the har. barely went over the bar

Hicksville Express Intramural Soccer Team Wins "Doubleheader"

The Hicksville Express, an intramural soccer team, twice defeated the opposi-tion, the Hicksville Bucks, by scores of 4-0 and 5-3 this past weekend. The Sat-urday game, the season finale, saw the Express finish in second place. Sun-day's game was a preliminary, a prelude to next week's semi-finals.

In Sat urday's game, the Express displayed great teamwork and hustle as the defense hung tough while the offense exploded. Michael Baglieri, our scor-ing machine, put in two goals, while Tracy Koetter and Matthew Hamlin contributed one apiece to lead the team. Also doing a great job of offensive support was John Kurkowski, Michael Bernius and Chris DeStefano. The defense, in control throughout the contest, featured Joey Zaffuto, Robin Blicker, Brian Swacey, Bryan Lagas and Matthew DePalma, our sure-handed our production, we wonder, "How much is enough?" And so it is quite understandable that this question might also creep into mereli-gious life and into our thoughts of salvation. How often must we attend church in order to be a good member? How many times must I forgive that person in order to quality for God's forgiveness of mc. How good must we be to make it to heaven? How much is

Whereas industry might consider it enough to get six hours of work from an employee in an eight hour day. God says that only perfection is enough for us to enter into his presence at the end of time. There will be no returns. To say to Jesus, "But Lord, I was a good sprovider for my family. I worked seven days a week; I never willfully hurt anyone:" cuts no ice with the Lord in terms of salvation. Only those who are perfect will go to heaven when Christ comes again. So you see, we all fall short when we look at our lives and ask, have I done enough? The most righteous among us cannot do enough to save themselves and qualify for heaven, for only perfection is enough.

Heaven can only be grasped by faith. Our faith, our trust, our belief, our love of the Lord Jesus Christ makes heaven a certainty for our future. When the King of Ages returns to earth again, those who put their hope in the Lord will receive the benefits of forgiveness obtained through his punishment at Calvary. They will be gifted with eternal life. Good works do not appropriate eternity, only faith does.

To be ready for His return is to remain strong in the faith. If you have been putting off some aspect of the Christian discipline, put it off no longer-now is the time for change. The King is coming, and we must pre-pare. Each of us needs to be sure that our personal faith is strong. If we all knew the Lord was coming in one week, what would we do differently? Now is the time to begin. God in Christ has, given us the crown of life through faith in his Son. Only when God gave everything was it enough for our salvation. How much will be enough of a commitment from us today? The Lord wants a total commitment of

An alleged interstate gasoline bootlegging scheme resulted in the evasion of approximately $55 million in State and Federal gasoline taxes, according to an indictment announced today by prosecutors in the Long Island Oil Industry Organized Crime Task Force. The indictment represents the largest tax evasion scheme ever prosecuted by any state.

The indictment names ten individuals, seven of whom had been previously indicted, for allegedly operating a bootlegging scheme from February, 1984, through February, 1986, involving the importation of over 200 million gallons of gasoline into New York State — mostly from New Jersey - and using a series of six "front" corporations to

$55 Million In Gasoline Tax Evasion Charged use the fact that sales seven years in prison and Corp., both of Melville, and Siar California Peter being paid. The 1,004-count indictment supercedes one handed down in July. Today's indictment broadens the period of the alleged boo-tlegging conspiracy - from six months to two years and names three additional defendants: Spryidon Velentzas, 51, of 38-03 223rd Street in Bayside, Queens; Thomas Apostolos, 57, of 31-21 23rd Avenue in Asto-ria; and Ali Naderi, 35, or 236 Hamiet Drive in These defendants, along with the seven indicted originally, were each charged with multiple counts of grand larceny, falsifying business records, conspiracy and tax law crimes. If convicted on the most serious charges, they face up to seven years in prison and fines of $5,000 or double their illegal gain.

The new indictment also alleges that the defendants used a series of "front corporations to disguise their tax evasion. One of these, Green Star Petroleum of West Hempstead, ws cited in the original indictment. The original indicatement. In other five wer each used for periods of one or two months, during a period when the defendants allegedly switched their methods of disguising tax evasion frequently.

The basic scheme alleged in the indictment involved the importation of 219.5 mil-lion gallons of gasoline over the two-year period - most of which was barged in from New Jersey. That gasoline was sold to No Brand Petroleum, Snug Harbor Fuel other gasoline distributors owned by the defendants. These distributors in turn resold it to retailers — mostly unbranded gas stations on Long Island. However, the indictment alleges, the defendants created documents purporting to show that the gasoline was first sold by the New Jersey importer to Green Star or one of the other "front" corporations. Those same fraudulent documents claimed that the "front corporations had paid all excise and sales taxes due to the state and federal governments, when in fact, according to the indict-ment, the defendants kept the tax moneys for themselves.

Three of the "front" corporations were controlled by the defendants: Green

Star: California Petroleum Distributing Corp., of Hauppauge; and Ridge Rich, Inc., allegedly of 606 First Avenue, New York, address.

The other three "front" corporations are actually legitimate enterprises who were unaware that their tax numbers were being used by the defendants to further their scheme. These firms are: Carger Corp., of Hud-son, N.Y.; Amos Post, Inc., of Catskill, N.Y.; and 1211 Colvin Blvd. Corp., of Buffalo.

Named as the principal organizer of the scheme was Sheldon Levine, 41, of 10 Essington Lane in Dix Hills, owner of No Brand and Snug Harbor. During the period of the alleged conspi-racy, Mr. Levine was the largest single distributor of unbranded gasoline on Long Island, with annual revenues estimated at $100 million.

The taxes allegedly evaded include: $17 million in State excise taxes, $19 million in State and local sales taxes, and nearly $20 million in federal excise
