Recently at Willet Ave., the children had a mystifying experience. They had the pleasure of seeing a real magician! The magician, Irwin-Merlin, put on quite a show, and the children loved every minute. Here is Irwin-Merlin making a rabbit come out of a hat. The little rabbit is Cristie Pfeiffer. As class projects, each of the children write to him about the show and he answers each and every letter personally. He is definitely a favorite of theirs.

8 Indicted For Horse Insurance Fraud

On Dec. 2, Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon announced the indictment of eight individuals involved in insurance fraud with standardbred horses in New York State. A joint investigation with the District Attorney's Office, New York State Department of Insurance, New York Racing and Wagering Board and the New York State Department of Taxation and Financing uncovered that horses were being destroyed, switched or shipped out of state to collect more than three quarters of a million dollars in insurance payments.

According to Dillon, "Many of the individuals indicted would buy a horse for no money to $4,000. Ownership of the horse would be transferred from one co-conspirator to another and a false bill of sale would be generated for anywhere from $50,000 to $94,000. The horse would be insured through the brokerage company of Winner Circle Agency in Floral Park. Within a few months of this false sale, the horses would be killed, or in two instances sent elsewhere, and an insurance claim would be submitted. The claims adjuster, Stan Schwartz, would approve the claims with knowledge that they were false."

- Those charged in the indictment are as follows:
1. Patrick A. Barchi, 36, of 562 Windsor Street in Westbury. Charged with Conspiracy Fifth Degree, Grand Larceny Second Degree and Insurance Fraud First Degree. He is also charged with doing business as Winners' Circle Disco Stable.
 2. Anthony P. Buffalino, 36, of 473 Canterbury Street in Westbury. Charged with Grand Larceny Second Degree, Attempted Grand Larceny Second Degree, two counts Insurance Fraud First Degree, Tax Evasion, Offering a False Instrument for Filing and Conspiracy Fifth Degree.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

JOE GIORDANO'S MESSAGE: "Diligence is the mother of good luck." Benj. Franklin

There was a chill in the air as I headed for the Galileo Lodge on Sunday morning, December 7th. I felt engulfed by the spirit of the holiday season, and I knew why, for this was the day when the Galileo Lodge would present its two Christmas parties, one for the handicapped children and the other one for the children of the membership of the Galileo Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary in the afternoon.

When I entered the environs of the Galileo Lodge, I heard bells ringing, children singing and the air was being filled with beautiful Christmas music. My stare was quickly directed to a small sea of bright little faces of children, almost ecstatic, with bright shiny eyes and animated bodies, and that they were firmly ensconced in the spirit of Christmas was obvious. There was plenty of food in the form of baked ziti, meatballs, sausage, salad, refreshments, fruit, cakes of many varieties and other sundries. They were eating heartily, dancing happily and singing merrily as the music of Doug, a well-known disc jockey, further lighted up their lives. Parents and guardians were also invited to partake of everything that the Galileo Lodge served, including wine to embellish the dinners, and they also beamed with happiness and pride as the children were the center of attention.

The handicapped children were members of the AHC, an organization that brought children from Levittown, Hicksville, Brookville, Freeport, Woodmere, St. Bernard's and Pope Pius. President Joe Giordano, 1st. Asst. Vice-President Skip Monteforte and ex-President acted as the supervisors of these two parties, with the latter two handling the MC duties. President Marion Dansiglio and the members of the Ladies Auxiliary toiled laboriously, giving their time and efforts in order to make these beautiful children happy, at-ease and well-served. Ray Moffitan as Santa Claus was marvelous as usual, and his visit to these children brought about happy yells and merry applause. This is a beautiful sight to see, one that just about leaves one emotionally enveloped. The Kitchen Force, under the supervision of Jim Possilico, were fantastic as usual, preparing excellent food for these little children. And a thank to Jim Ingino who was busy for months seeking contributions and financial help from various sources who are in rapport with children.

The afternoon party for the children of the membership was just as delightful. There was plenty of everything for these children and their parents. And as Santa Claus thrilled and excited all the handicapped children.

This other group of children saw and felt the beauty of Christmas. President Joe Giordano extends his most heartfelt thanks to all the same people who worked so diligently to give these parties the warmth and tenderness that comes with the holiday season. A very special thanks to the Peggy O'Connor Dance Troupe who performed marvelously, to Doug, the disc jockey who gratuitously offered his services for these children, and finally to the clowns who performed but whose names inadvertently forgot to record. So, in retrospect, it was a scene where bells rang, children sang and there was a Christmas magic in the air.

The Christmas Dance held last Saturday night also touched off the Christmas season for all those who attended members, friends and patrons. Plenty of good food, plenty of good music and plenty of that Christmas atmosphere that overtakes the Galileo Lodge this time of year. Chairman Armand del Cioppo, the Chairman, and Joe Morace, co-Chairman, once again performed admirably, as did the kitchen Force, namely, John Sarrera, Al Montello, Pat Gatto, Joe Crivelli, Skip Monteforte, and a nice thanks to the bartender, Bert Molinelli - all under the direction of Kitchen Chairman Jim Possilico.

Please don't forget our New Years Dance Dec. 31st!

St. Ignatius Choir News

Each year, in Advent, the church offers us the opportunity to prepare for the great feast of our Savior's birth at Christmas time. Due to the variety of demands placed upon all of us at this hectic time of year, there seems to be little occasion for quiet enjoyment of the season or the time for adequate spiritual preparation for what we are about to celebrate.

From among the many Advent activities being offered at St. Ignatius, one such opportunity will be the Service of Advent Lessons & Carols to be presented on Sunday, December 14 at 8:00 in the evening.

The tradition of Lessons and Carols had its origins in England, where the first of such services took place in 1919 at King's College, Cambridge. Since that time, similar services to celebrate the holiday season have become annual traditions in many churches, cathedrals, and college chapels throughout the world. In our own diocese, Advent Lessons and Carols is an eagerly expected and well attended event at St. Agnes Cathedral, our diocesan seminary in Huntington, as well as many parish churches.

Here at St. Ignatius, Lessons and Carols will consist of nine readings from scripture (lessons) beginning with the Messianic prophecies of the Old Testament and culminating with the Gospel narratives of Christ's birth. Each reading is followed by a musical selection sung by the choir or a favorite carol to be sung by everyone. Father Tom Cosford and Deacon Bill Mainency will officiate at the service. The Lessons will be read by members of the staff and parishioners, each representing different areas of parish life and ministry.

Hopefully many of you will be able to come and enjoy this evening of scripture and song with us.

You Can Have Your Own Blood Stored

Bethpage, N.Y...In an effort to meet the increasing demands for an autologous blood donor program, effective December 15, 1986, the Mid-Island Hospital will begin a private blood banking program at the Hospital. It was announced by Robert J. Reed, Executive Director. The new program will allow patients to donate their own blood or have their relatives make direct donations for possible future use.

Prospective hospital patients and others referred by their physicians affiliated with Mid-Island Hospital can arrange to have their blood collected and stored for their exclusive use, either for imminent elective surgery or for longer-term requirements.

Executive Director Robert Reed said that the Hospital is responding to the demand by physicians and their patients for this type of specialized service. He stressed that the Personal Blood Bank is not a generalized blood donor center but rather, a facility that will serve that segment of the population that requests or requires their own blood be collected and stored for their personal medical needs.

"As such," Reed said, "Mid-Island's Personal Blood Bank will supplement—not compete with—the major regional blood donor centers that supply most of the donor blood used for the daily requirements of the area hospitals."

"In recent years," Reed continued, "the medical community's accelerating demand for blood supplies for specific patient use has led to the establishment of personal blood bank programs at major medical facilities across the nation. At Mid-Island, we are pleased to be able to inaugurate this service for the benefit of our patients, our doctors, and the Long Island community as a whole."

The Personal Blood Bank at Mid-Island will be administered by Hema Systems Limited, a blood bank management firm.

Reed said that likely candidates for the program include persons who are scheduled for non-emergency surgery. He explained that when a person opts for the service, by direct request or through a physician referral, a blood unit account will be established in that person's name. Fees for account setup and maintenance will vary, depending upon the patient's particular blood storage time requirements or preferences.

He noted that in addition to storing one's own blood—called "autologous" blood units—there are provisions under the Personal Blood Bank program for relatives or friends to donate "dedicated" units of compatible

The Hicksville High School HIGHLIGHTS

By Scott J. O'Callaghan

What would your reaction be if you were shown the following problem? "Given the following two statements: 1. If Alan took calculus, then Bill took calculus. 2. If Carl took calculus, then Bill took calculus. If statement 1 is true and statement 2 is false, write the name of each person who took calculus." If you were a member of the Math Team, you'd probably have the answer in a flash.

Robert Ronco directs this group of about twenty students, leading weekly sessions to examine problems like the one above, which appeared at their first meet. Then, once a month for six months of the year, our students go to another school where they compete, each answering a set of questions within certain time constrictions. As such, the more correct answers a school gets, the more points it receives. So, our Math Team is really competing against all the schools in the Nassau County Interscholastic Mathematics League.

Currently, Mr. Ronco is building a fresh team, since Hicksville has not competed in this competition for several years. The officers are:

Lisa Cheng, President; Shawn Kraemer, Vice-President; Chris Ervola, Secretary; Mike Fleming, Treasurer; Russ Cassar, Student Government Representative. So, Mr. Ronco hopes that this group will continue learning the skills and types of problems used in the competition as a preparation for future events, and for life in the larger world.

And incidentally, only Carl did take calculus. If you got it right, give yourself a pat on the back from the High School Math Team.

On November 10th, President Reagan signed into law the Emergency Wetlands Resources Act, a program which will go a long way toward protecting valuable coastal fish and wildlife habitats so important to Long Island's unique marine environment.

The fragile coastal wetlands and estuaries along Nassau and Suffolk shorelines provide a home to several species of shell fish, as well as nesting and feeding areas to migratory waterfowl such as geese, osprey, the northern barrier, and the least tern.

Now, PL 99-645, The Emergency Wetlands Resources Act is designed to promote the conservation of migratory waterfowl. In addition, it authorizes the acquisition of wetlands and estuaries to help prevent the serious loss of these critical habitats through construction and development. This important legislation will work hand in hand with another environmental protection program, The Endangered Species Act, which protects birds, but not nesting areas.

Under the program, funds for wetlands acquisition would be made available by raising the price of the Duck Stamp, from $7.50 to $15 over a five-year period and by allowing a modest entrance fee to be charged at selected wildlife refuges. Mr. Lent cosponsored and worked for passage of the Emergency Wetlands Resources Act to ensure that these valuable wildlife habitats are preserved and to help protect endangered fish and waterfowl from extinction.

Long Island Quilters Take A Ride On The Empire State Carousel

Long Island Quilters' Society Inc. was chosen to make one of twenty miniature banners that will decorate the Empire State Carousel. The idea of using quilts for that purpose was adapted from the old British custom of hanging wooden heraldic shields from the top of beams of carousels.

The Society used its logo in the quilt design "Duck's Foot in the Mud," a traditional Long Island pattern executed in blue and white.

kovsky - Bay Shore; Virginia Benninger - Garden City; Elizabeth Speiser - Syosset; Ruth Geery - Syosset; Fran Levine - Malverne; Anna Schmidt - Deer Park; Irene Ahrens - Massapequa; Kathleen Albrecht - Farmingdale; Marge Geary - Queens Village; Kathie Versheck - New Hyde Park; Caroline Hunka - North Bellmore and Loretta Krieger - Massapequa Park.

Janet Ratner, Vice President of Long Island Quilters' Society, organized, quilted and finished the banner which is on display at Guild Hall in East Hampton now through January 4, 1987.

The Empire State Carousel is the first full size hand carved carousel to be made in America since the days of the Great Depression, and while true to the tradition of American carousel carvers, it has been designed especially as a unique show piece for New York State history and culture.

Upon its completion, the Empire State Carousel will travel throughout the sixty-two counties of New York State.

Congress To Outlaw Mandatory Retirement

Just before adjourning, the 99th Congress passed legislation which would outlaw mandatory retirement plans for most public and private sector workers. In my opinion, America has much to gain from our senior workers whose many years of experience, knowledge and loyalty make them valuable employees. This effort will ensure their active role in our Nation's workforce.

As a supporter of this measure, I was gratified when President Reagan signed the bill, HR 4154, into law on October 31, 1986. The new law, PL 99-392, amends the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA) to protect most workers over age 70 from age discrimination in hiring, firing, promotions and salary. An exemption was also included which would allow state and local governments to decide for themselves whether to set a mandatory retirement age for those responsible for public safety, such as police officers and firefighters.

President Reagan, who at 75 is our Nation's oldest President, is among an overwhelming majority of Americans who support this effort. In 1981, a poll found that 90 percent of the public agreed that "nobody should be forced to retire because of age if he or she wants to continue working and is still able to do a good job."

Congress took a first step toward fighting discrimination against older workers in 1967 when it barred mandatory retirement before age 65. The age was raised to 70 in 1978. Since then, 13 states, including New York, have eliminated mandatory retirement altogether, while 19 others have laws restricting mandatory retirement policies.

For the most part, expanding this effort nationwide should not have an adverse effect on businesses as recent studies have shown that many workers want to retire long before employers would ask them to. A 1985 General Accounting Office (GAO) report shows that since the retirement age was raised to 70 in 1978, the average retirement age for private sector workers is 62! Based on its findings, the GAO estimates that the new law will add only 200,000 workers by the year 2000 — just a fraction of one percent of the workforce.

This measure will ensure the rights of older Americans to be treated as individuals, fairly and with dignity. You can be sure I will continue to support legislation in Congress benefitting our Nation's senior citizens.

COLBY COMMENTS

By
Town of Oyster Bay
Supervisor, Joseph Colby

Today in Nassau County there are almost one million registered vehicles. Suffolk County has even a few more than we do.

Long Island, as we all know, is automobile oriented. An astounding 70% of all Long Islanders hold drivers licenses and that number is growing. An influx of new residents, teenagers "coming of age" and senior citizens, who, because of increased longevity and better health, continue to drive, all add to the increased number of cars on our already inadequate roadways.

The fact of life is that with little public transportation we rely heavily on our automobile to take us to business, shopping, school and appointments.

All the vehicles, driving all those miles means that we have an extraordinary high level of gasoline consumption and that is why last week I called on all of Long Island's elected State legislators to fight the Governor's unfair 5-cent-per-gallon gas tax proposal.

Why should we, Nassau and Suffolk residents, pay an estimated $6 billion to benefit urban mass transit when we sit in bumper-to-bumper traffic on State highways that are inadequate to meet our current needs — let alone the projected needs.

What little benefit we were scheduled to receive from the Governor's $1.25 billion transportation bond issue of several years ago has been plagued with delays. Most recent information estimates that these projects will be postponed anywhere from one to three years, despite the clear and urgent need to repair and upgrade Long Island's system of roadways.

The Governor has continually shown his disregard for the people of Oyster Bay, as well as all of Nassau and Suffolk, so we should not be surprised when he asks us to reach down into our pockets to bail out the City of New York.

In my appeal to the bi-county elected State officials I implored them to work as a united group to make their position heard in Albany, use their power to defeat the Governor's ill-advised plan and force the Cuomo administration to stop treating Long Islanders like second-class citizens.

Parola Presses For State Tax Cut Initiative

Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C, Wantagh) today called for the enactment of a $4.5 billion tax-cut plan that would protect New York State taxpayers from a $2.4 billion state tax boost, as well as lower state taxes by an additional $2.1 billion.

"Although Governor Cuomo has been reluctant in dealing with the federal tax reform's impact on New York State, I have joined my Republican colleagues in the State Assembly and Senate in addressing this concern," Parola said. "We propose a comprehensive Tax Reform Initiative which would dramatically reduce the state's high tax burden, simplify the state's current tax structure and return federal tax reform's $2.4 billion windfall where it rightfully belongs — to the state's taxpayers."

Parola explained that the Republican proposal, which will soon be written into bill form, would:

- Reduce personal income taxes by $4.1 billion, eliminate sales taxes on basic clothing items by $300 million and corporate franchise taxes by $100 million. Proposals to reduce other business taxes will be announced within a few weeks.

Annual Party For Foster Children

"Special kids need special families" takes on special meaning at this time of year at the Nassau County Department of Social Services.

For the past eight years, Commissioner Joseph A. D'Elia has sponsored a holiday party for foster children to spotlight his Department's efforts to recruit permanent adoptive homes for "special youngsters."

This year's Party — the ninth annual — is scheduled for Tuesday, December 30, from 1-4 P.M. in the Auditorium of the A. Holly Patterson Geriatric Center, 875 Jerusalem Avenue, Uniondale, Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell will join Commissioner D'Elia in welcoming about 400 children and their foster families.

Who are the "special" children who will be honored guests at the 1986 Party? Five year old Shawn is one — a friendly, playful fellow who likes to watch action movies. Chris, 13, who dreams of being a professional football player, will also be there; and pretty 9 year old Samantha who loves to play with dolls. Robert and Richard, 7 year old twin brothers, would make a great addition to a family, Commissioner D'Elia says.

Kimberly Appgar, a junior at Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio, has been awarded a scholarship from

Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL). Kimberly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Appgar, 35 Link Lane, Hicksville, and is a 1984 graduate of Hicksville High School.

Kim is participating in AAL's Lutheran Campus Scholarship Program, one of several student assistance programs sponsored by AAL. AAL scholarship winners are selected by financial aid offices at participating schools.

The Dutch Lane School and the Willets Ave School in Hicksville will be conducting its Jump Rope for Heart in the next few months.

The event is sponsored by the New York State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance; and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, and Dance, for the benefit of the American Heart Association.

Last year the Jump Rope for Heart raised over $200,000 in 61 schools in Nassau County.

Jump Rope for Heart is a special event conducted by school physical education teachers and students who organize the rope-jumping competition. The six-student teams jump rope for a maximum of three hours. Cash pledges collected from sponsors of their rope-jumping efforts contribute to local Heart Association programs in research, education and community service.

By encouraging participation of young people, the project promotes the message of life-long benefits of regular physical exercise. The project also demonstrates how teamwork can be used to reach a common goal as students and teachers work together.

Nutritious Can Be Delicious

The American Red Cross has now joined in our country's seemingly endless national quest for "the diet" that will help people lose weight and keep it off. Their solution is simply to teach people how to eat sensibly. The Red Cross teamed up with the U.S. Department of Agriculture to develop a short course about the basics of eating a nutritious diet. The result is a new four-class series called Better Eating for Better Health. Mrs. DelCostello, R.N., the local Red Cross chapter's nutrition instructor says, "It teaches people more than the basic four food groups.

Yet the course presents nutritional facts in easy-to-understand terms. We stress practical advice about how to apply all the facts to everyday shopping, food preparation, and eating." The course is appropriate for singles and people who cook for a family.

The new course, Better Eating for Better Health begins on January 15 at 9:00 a.m. at the Red Cross chapter house, 264 Old Country Road in Mineola. For more details about Better Eating for Better Health, or to register for the next series of classes, contact the Red Cross 747-3500 Ext. 227.

attend the main program. Refreshments will then be served.

Following their performance, the chorus will proceed to the Milleridge Inn, where they will perform at 12:30pm in the main dining room.

Grumman Corp. Praised By L.I. Blood Services

Long Island Blood Services wishes to salute the Grumman Corporation and its 1986 Blood Drive Team for its outstanding collection efforts to increase the area's blood supply. The Grumman Team has held 125 blood drives this year at its 40 plants throughout Nassau and Suffolk Counties. The total collections to date exceed 11,000 pints of blood. This team is comprised of five employees - Gerry Sandler, Chairperson; Peter Goldsmith, of Plainview, Director; Bernie Kirschbaum, Manager; Bob Woosley, Supervisor; and Linda Ellwood, Administrator. It is the shared commitment of this team that motivates the creative thinking and employs some rather interesting and unusual methods of enlisting donors. They have developed their own unique brand of PA announcements that are echoed through the halls with up to the minute status reports and pleas for "just a few more donors." They have tested their artistic talents by making hand painted signs that serve as reminders of each and every blood drive. Often, they sponsor contests at the drives with drawings for various prizes. One particular day, Peter Goldsmith was informed that the drive was one pint short of its goal with only 15 minutes left. Driven by frustration, Peter took to the halls of Grumman canvassing people. He was nothing much success until he entered the exercise room where he found a muscle-bound employee doing bench presses. Peter asked him if he would like to donate the final pint of blood but the weight-lifter said no, he was busy but he would try next time.

Not wanting to settle for no for an answer, Peter decided to try another strategy. He challenged the weight-lifter that he could match him bench press for bench press. If he succeeded, the lifter would donate a pint of blood. The weight-lifter, having nothing to lose and anticipating some light entertainment, decided to accept the challenge. Other weight-lifters in the room gathered around to watch this match. Not only did Peter Goldsmith meet the challenge, but by seeing his determination and dedication to the blood drive, the weight-lifter enlisted several others in the room and off they went to donate the needed blood.

It is this type of commitment, above and beyond the call of duty, that makes Grumman and its 1986 Blood Drive Team outstanding community members.

St. Ignatius CYO News

By Nancy Cassano

It was another action packed week of basketball for St. Ignatius CYO. The 1st & 2nd grade league has the Warriors undefeated at this time. Last week they scalped the Celtics 34-12. Fine defensive work by Nadia Berzins and Kevin Russell aided in their victory.

In the 4th grade league, Mike Jerome and Jimmy Famieletti lead the Knicks to win against the Celtics. It was the Bullets over the Nets despite some good defensive plays by Brian Rigert and Paul Gomez of the Nets.

In the 7th & 8th grade league, it was Pete Cantalupo's Warriors that went on the warpath Friday night with a 50-28 win over the Hawks and then again winning on Monday night against the Celtics. Scoring for the Warriors were Brian McDermit, Chris Murphy, Chris Koetter, and Andrew Turano. Fine defensive playing by Dennis Cantalupo and Chris Koetter also contributed to their wins.

If you haven't purchased your tickets for the New Year's Eve dance, there's still time left to get in on the fun. Call Marge Culver at 931-6123 after 7 p.m. if you want tickets for the evening. Remember. No tickets will be sold at the door.

in person. For an appointment and further information, call the Department at 431-8531.

PROTECTION FROM UTILITY SHUT-OFFS

Customers of all ages should be aware that between November 1 and April 15, utility companies may not shut off services for non-payment of bills unless customers have been contacted at least 72 hours in advance. SNOW SHOVELING FOR FRAIL ELDERLY
In an effort to assist frail elderly homeowners, each of the Department's twenty Senior Community Service Centers (SCSCs) located throughout Nassau County served as local coordinating points for snow shoveling programs. Community youth groups, such as Boy/Girl Scouts, and school service clubs, volunteer their services to assist senior citizen neighbors. For the nearest Senior Community Service Center, call the Department at 535-5907.

LOW TEMPERATURE HYPOTHERMIA THERMOMETER

Severe winter weather poses a serious threat to the health of older persons. They are especially susceptible to hypothermia, a medical condition caused by lowered body temperature. It is a complicated illness easily overlooked or mistaken for other conditions. To assist in diagnosing hypothermia, a special low-reading thermometer should be available in emergency hospital rooms and medical teams. This thermometer detects body temperatures lower than can be indicated by a "fever" thermometer. The cost of this thermometer is minimal and should be part of everyone's first aid supplies.

"While frigid weather can cause difficulties for people of all ages," said Commissioner Attard, "older people are more susceptible to the effects of winter. These cold weather safeguards can help avoid discomfort and the danger of life-threatening situations for seniors."

Engaged

Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Cirincione of Hicksville announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynda, to Scott, son of Mr. & Mrs. Alan Brumber of Sylvan Beach, New York.

Scott is in the U.S. Navy and is assigned to the USS Saratoga based at the Mayport Naval Station, Jacksonville, Florida. A May, 1987 wedding is planned.

Holy Family in Print

The Annual Christmas Pageant at Holy Family School has been forever memorialized in print with the release this month of an article appearing in the December issue of the nationally circulated Catholic magazine PARISH FAMILY DIGEST. The article, written by former Hicksville resident Pat Clancy--and daughter of Margaret Clancy of Suggs Lane--is entitled "Putting Christ Back into Christmas" and focuses attention back on the religious aspects of the holiday.

Apple Bank Rewards Customers With Extraordinary Services

An unprecedented mix of special banking services is now being offered to regular customers by Apple Bank for Savings in a new program designed to create an "Apple Bank Family."

Reduced rates on loans, rebates on credit card interest charges, free checking and refunds on mortgage application fees are among the features provided in the novel customer appreciation program. The plan reinforces the bank's advertising theme: "We're good for you."

Under the Apple Bank Family plan, which dramatically changes the requirements for personal credit, a qualified member will never again have to file a loan application or "wonder" if approval will be granted. In addition to the personal family banker assigned to each account, a team of experts in savings, investments, credit and life insurance is also available.

Besides offering consistently competitive rates for all accounts - regular savings, certificates of deposit, IRAs - Apple Bank has one of the lowest credit card rates (Visa at 15.8 per cent annually) in the metropolitan area.

The new banking concept also provides: Reduced rates on selected loans.

Visa credit card at a low 15.8% Annual Percentage Rate with an annual fee of just $20.

An annual 10% rebate on Visa finance charges, starting January 1, 1987.

"No-bounce checking." Overdrafts of qualified members with a personal line of credit up to $25,000 at a 15.8% Annual Percentage Rate are covered.

Free Checking plus interest on any balance over $700.

Immediate availability of funds on deposited checks up to the maximum overdraft line.

Refundable application fee on approved co-op, condo and 1-4 family mortgage loans.

Consolidated monthly statement.

"We will never lose sight of the undeniable fact that the front line staff is the key to customer satisfaction. The tremendous spirit de corps we enjoy throughout the ranks will make Family Banking an overwhelming success," he told them. "It fits well with our history and our current daily routine."

Interested customers must complete an application and an agreement with the bank to qualify for the program, it was pointed out. By doing so, they will experience a better, more rewarding banking relationship.

Kiwanians Hear Tax Advice

Since almost everyone is confused and concerned about all of the ramifications of the new federal tax law, and how it will affect most individuals, the Hicksville Kiwanis Club accepted the offer of one of its members to speak on the subject at the December 3rd meeting.

Kiwanian Robert McGuinness, a financial planner, advisor, accountant, etc. with the firm "76 Associates" in Hicksville, spoke at length, discussing such things as: the new tax forms which will be used for 1987 tax forms, some deductions which no longer will be allowed, possible personal finance plan revisions to make before 1987. The members were extremely interested and asked many questions. In fact, many stayed after the meeting was adjourned to ask more questions.

At 3:50 pm, John Mandala, 35, of Ferny St. in Hicksville, (employed at Grummans), entered Scuttlebut Bar, 3355 Merrick Rd. Wantagh. There were some customers in the bar at the time. As he entered through the front door, the subject shot the owner twice with a shotgun. The owner, now deceased, is identified as Thomas Lundwall, 43, 23 Bobolink La., Levittown. Lundwall was later pronounced dead at the Nassau County Medical Center.

He then went to Gallivators Pub, 2579 Merrick Rd., Bellmore, where he entered and fired a number of rounds from the shotgun. He shot his girlfriend Janice Rossee, 42, of Markman La., Levittown, twice. She had been dating the subject for approximately four years. Ms. Rossee was deceased at the scene. She had been employed at Gallivators.

The subject then turned the weapon on himself, shooting himself once in the head. He then tried to shoot himself in the stomach, but missed. He then left the bar, and was arrested by responding police. Mandala is now at MCMC under arrest, in guarded condition.

New Diagnostic Lab Opens

The establishment of advanced diagnostic procedures at The Community Hospital at Glen Cove continues with the opening of a new Vascular Laboratory. Utilizing non-invasive techniques (the technique is called non-invasive because nothing enters the body - there are no incisions, injections or drugs), the laboratory equipment provides physicians with information about a patient's circulatory system.

According to Dr. Robert Swersky, Attending in-Charge of Vascular Surgery at Community Hospital, "The new sophisticated equipment analyzes vascular disorders by measuring the flow of blood through the arteries and veins. We are now able to offer a standardized evaluation of the vascular system which assists physicians in precise diagnosis and treatment. The procedure can be performed on an outpatient basis and is no more uncomfortable than having your blood pressure checked with a standard arm cuff."

Outlining some specific examples of who could benefit from the diagnostic exam, Dr. Swersky points to the obstetric patient with severe leg swelling who might have phlebitis; the orthopedic patient who might not have adequate circulation for safe bunion surgery; the diabetic patient whose toe or calf numbness points to vascular or neurological problems that could be detected by the tests; and to the neurological patient suffering from mini-strokes or persistent dizziness where blocked carotid arteries could be demonstrated.

Dr. Swersky is also on staff at St. Francis Hospital and is an Assistant Clinical Professor of Vascular Surgery at Long Island Jewish Medical Center and is on the teaching staff at the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

HOMEOWNING AND TAXES

Everyone's got an eye on the new tax law these days. Accounting experts have suggested that owner-occupied housing will not be hurt by the new law, because interest and property taxes are expected to remain deductible.

With homeowning still attractive, financially as well as emotionally, this is a good time to put property on the market. Interest rates are low enough to broaden the field of prospective buyers; sales are up, and so are prices.

How do you find the right buyer for your home? The smart way is to list with a top broker. We've got a lot of qualified prospects; we know what they want and how much they can afford to spend. You don't have to worry about asking searching questions of strangers, or getting honest answers. We take care of that. The live prospects we bring to see your home are really looking for what you've got.

"If you've been thinking of a career change & are interested in getting into Real Estate - Call Karen now! No experience needed, flexible hours, training classes now forming."

Man-handling a steel "I" beam through the wall and crawl-space of the Heitz Place Courthouse in Hicksville with levers and rollers was part of recent contractor efforts to correct floor sag. The National Historic Building houses the Gregory Museum's large collections of rock and mineral specimens. The Old Hicksville Jail (1915) is seen on the right. (In the center).

Workers engaged in the difficult task of inserting a large steel girder through the rear wall and crawl-space of the historic courthouse landmark building in Hicksville, recently. With its 1895 foundation newly underpinned and the girder full-length under main floor beams, the home of the Gregory Museum is all set for another century or more. (Lower picture).

Auxiliary Police Start Recruitment Drive

Nassau County Auxiliary Police Unit 312 announces the start of a recruitment drive. The need for new members has grown due to increased demand for Auxiliary Police Services and the loss of many members who have moved on to the regular police force. We need volunteers in order to increase our services to the community and help make it a safer place in which to live and work.

The members of Auxiliary Police Unit 312 are graduates of the Nassau County Auxiliary police academy and are called upon by the police department to assist in specialized patrols and emergency details.

What's In It For You?

Volunteering to be a Nassau County Auxiliary Police Officer has some benefits besides the good feeling you get by helping others.

...college credit is offered by many colleges. (Life experience programs), after completing the Auxiliary Police Academy.

...Free training and the opportunity to work directly with one of the most modern and best trained Police Departments in the United States.

...Law Enforcement career opportunities.

...Workmens compensation when on duty.

...Off duty benefit package (ie. medical, dental, ect.)

At this time, Unit 312 is accepting applications for membership. If you or anyone you know is interested in aiding the community in this unique form of service, contact Auxiliary Police Headquarters at 422-2309. Applicants must be between 17 and 55 years old, have a clean record, and be in good health.

Help For HAD

The Oyster Bay Town Board has approved an expenditure of federal Community Development funds for the removal of architectural barriers to the handicapped at Help-Aid-Direction in Hicksville, according to Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"This moneys will enable H.A.D., which is located at 23A Jerusalem Avenue, to modify bathroom facilities to make them accessible to the handicapped," Hynes explained. "The funding comes through a federal program which allows the Town to use Community Development monies to provide handicapped access at not-for-profit community meeting rooms."

Hynes noted that the Town Board has approved an allocation of $10,000 for the project.

Our International Luncheon

On Wednesday November 26, the 5th grade class at Burns Ave. School had an International Luncheon.

Thanks to our parents (and some students) we had delicious food from many countries. The Countries represented were: Italy, Greece, Sweden, Poland, China, West Germany, Hong Kong, Czechoslovakia, India, Haiti, Puerto Rico, Spain, and Finland.

I Really appreciate all the cooking that the parents did since most of them had a lot of cooking to do the next day for Thanksgiving.

To entertain our parents and guests we put on a short skit on "Immigration." This skit showed why our ancestors came to America. Each one of us spoke briefly about the country we represented.

Old Westbury Gardens Heralds Holiday Season

OLD WESTBURY GARDENS will open Westbury House for the Holiday Season on the weekend of December 13 and 14, 1986. The mansion will be decorated in all its holiday splendor by the Old Westbury Gardens horticultural staff and several guest floral designers, who will donate their talents.

The weekend will be filled with Yuletide festivities, including performances by local school and church choirs, orchestras, handbell ringers and theatre troupes. Santa Claus and his reindeer have promised to visit for the entire weekend bearing small gifts for the children.

Refreshments will be served free to all visitors and The Shop will feature items perfect for gift giving. A variety of holiday plants will be available for purchase, along with fresh greens and dried flower wreaths.
