VENERABLE SKIP MONTEFORTE'S MES-SAGE: 'Exaggeration is a department of lying.'
Old Roman Saying

The time has almost arrived for the Galileo Lodge's St. Joseph's Dance, to be held, exactly, this Saturday, the 19th of March, If you are interested, please call Chairman Armand Del Cioppo (938-5052) for any information you may desire

The next pleasurable (and important one, too) activity to be held by the Galileo Lodge is its 11th Anniversary and Scholarship Dance, to be held on Satur-Dance, to be nett on Satur-day, the 30th of April, under the chairmanship of Joe Giordano (333-4555) and his assistants, Pete Massiello (938-4335) and Joe Morace (931-931-2548), all of whom, incidentally, will be selling tickets for this event. Tickets sell at $25 per person, and in the offering will be a cocktail hour, a delicious hot meal, coffee and cake, beer, soda, set-ups, unlimited liquor and syncopated dance music for your listening and danc-ing pleasure. This dance fea-tures two characteristics worthy of note, one is that the Louise Massiello memorial Scholarship Awards will be handed out and the other is that Nick Viglietti, Ist. Asst. Grand Venerable of the Grand Venerable of the Grand Lodge of the Sons of Italy in America will be honored. And, of course, an Ad Journal will be added to its distinctions. Please remember that the proceeds from this dance will be used to finance future scholarship awards to be presented by the Galileo Lodge, so why not attend this affair and offer some financial assistance to those just starting out in life and enjoy yourself immeasurably at the same

Some stories are fantastic, and if you know any thing about the Gift of Sight pro-gram, then you will realize that an adjective is com-monplace in the lexicon and work of this organization. For example, the startling story concerning the little blind girl invited to the United States under the auspices of the Sons of Italy in American for eye surgery in an American hospital. Then, after all those young years which were spent in a world of darkness, comes the incredible story of how she reached out and started to grab objects that were in her room. Although her sight was not fully restored, this little Italian girl, after being sent back to Italy to recuperate further, will soon return to America. further treatment, and this once again through the financial assistance of the Sons of Italy in America.

The Galileo Lodge, obviously, is an active con-tributor to the Gift of Sight program and maintains an uncommon interest in it. But you too can become an active contributor by just mailing your checks to the Gift of Sight program, in care of Venerable Skip Monteforte, Galileo Lodge, 200 Levittown Parkway, Hicksville. Help restore these unfortunate children to the world of light and to the beauty that God has wrought.

Death Penalty A Deterrent: Parola

Claiming the dealth penalty would act as a deterent and save innocent lives, Assemblyman Fred Parola (R-C Wantagh) has voted for the restoration of capital

This year, as I have every year since I was elected to the state Legislature, I voted for a bill to restore the death penalty for first degree murder in New York State. And this year, as his predecessor did six times in the past, Governor Cuomo legislation.
"I believe this is a tragic and misguided use of execu-tive power," Parola stated. "The innocent and law-abiding people of New York have been the victims of unrestrained murderers and so-called 'humanitarians' who have protected killers in the courts for far too long.

"The death penalty stat-ute we passed in the Assembly, earlier approved by our colleagues in the Senate, would help to stem the kind of criminality that has become rampant since the end of capital punishment in New York in 1963," the lawmaker said.

"I would like to point ou that this bill is limited in that a jury will consider imposing e death penalty only when the crime and the perpetrator evidences extreme wan-ton disregard for human life. "The bill does not apply to those who commit crimes of passion," Parola stressed, "but to persons who commit brutal murders.

"To those who say the state should not take a life to pay for a life, I contend that the people of any society, acting through their government to save the lives of the innocent, have the of the innocent, have the right and the duty to impose a death sentence on a first degree murderer.

This is only a part of a criminal justice package," Parola said, "but it is, in fact, a key element.

"Even though I know he is unlikely to do so, I call on Governor Cuomo to reverse his oppostion to the legislation and sign it into law concluded Parola. "The people of New York deserve nothing less than full protection from those who think little or nothing of taking a

Residents Seek "Right To Know" Bethpage and Hicksville residents last week urged support for a "Community Right to Know" measure which would help identify New York State sites which pose potential environmen-tal problems.

Citizens Alliance repre-sentatives William Stein-metz of 555 Broadway, metz of 555 Broadway, Bethpage and Herbert Levinson of 79 Kuhl Avenue, Hicksville appeared at a "Community Forum" held on March 12 at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library. The Citizens Alliance members also expressed the need for full implementation of the 1982 State "Superfund" toxic dump cleanup law and for the establishment of a voluntarily funded, non-governmental Citizens Util-ity Board ("CUB") to inter-vene on behalf of consumers in utility rate cases.

The "Community Forum" was sponsored by Sen. John R. Dunne (R-Garden City), whose 6th Senatorial District was recently redrawn to include the Bethpage-Hicksville-Plainview area. Mr. Steinmetz urged that state officials conduct a comprehensive "Community Right to Know" study of past hazardous waste dispo-sal to allow for effective implementation of the new State "Superfund."

Citizens Alliance has asked Governor Mario Cuomo and New York State Department of Environ-Department of Environ-mental Conservation (DEC) Commissioner Henry G. Williams to conduct a full 30-year study of past dispos-al practices by parties han-dling hazardous materials. The Bethpage resident also expressed concern about the amount of "Superfund" cleanup fees collected thus far, which fell far below projections in the first quarter. Mr. Steinmetz suggested that the "Com-nuity Right to Know" study and the collection of the full $10 million intended for the cleanup fund were for the cleanup fund were instrumental to achieve "effective implementation" of the law.

Responding to Mr.
Steinmetz comments, Senator Dunne told the 25 community residents present that he will work to "attain and achieve the Superfund's objectives." When asked about "Community Right to Know" legislation, the Senator said he would be a sponsor.

Herbert Levinson of the Hicksville Citizens Alliance asked for support of Citi-zens Utility Board ("CUB"), which supporters state would give Lilco ratepayers greater control over utility rates and practices. Citizen Alliance supporters of CUB note that the state's public utilities use ratepayers' money to hire lawyers, experts and engineers to defend their rate increases: Litco and Con Ed spent a total of over $4,500,000 for these negrous. these purposes between 1975-1980.

The Senator noted that he was a CUB sponsor in 1982 and that he intended to be a co-sponsor this year.

Citizens Alliance members urge local residents to take part in petition and letter-writing efforts to gain implementation of "Community Right to Know" and CUB, and also urge residents to contact Town of Custer Bay officials to ask Oyster Bay officials to ask them to cooperate with state law enforcement officials in cleaning up the Old Beth-page municipal landfill. Contact citizens Alliance #795-4775 for further information.

Japanese gourmet food is not a normal occurrence in a New Yorker's life, but at Kokura II it becomes almost a religious experience. The tree is sur-rounded by plants and flow-ers and a person feels that they are eating outdoors when seated there. This year the bus made it. In March of 1982, the bus carrying forty runners from our area to the Brooklyn Half Marathon broke down in Jericho, leaving forty very disappointed runners stranded on the side of the Long Island Expressway.

This year, however, we did it right, and the bus pulled up to the Brooklyn Bridge race starting line without a hitch or a tremble, and with plenty of time to spare. It even got everyone home without a problem in that direction either!

Our sincere thanks to the gang at Woodbury Super Star Sneakers and Sports of providing this free courtesy bus for local runners.

FORCE Wins Game In Overtime

By John Highlander

GREETINGS...it's finally arrived. Parents may be seen running to stores to buy new soccer cleats, etc...for their children...the soccer season is approaching.

As so it was with Plainview's 1971 A Team coached by Mike Dorosin and Bernard Arronowitz.

On March 13th the 1971 A Team drove to Greenlawn to meet Cold Spring Harbor for the beginning of the 1983 Cup Games.

Fourteen boys ... no practice...only wearing new cleats (one size larger), ran onto the damp field and played like champions .

In the first half, Cold

Spring Harbor and the Plainview FORCE were even...fighting the cold and the wind. The teams were evenly matched.

Then it happened. During the second half Cold Spring Harbor, with the wind with them broke thru Plainview's line and scored goal No. I.

Again and again and again the FORCE dominated the game, maneuveing the ball towards their opponent's line, lighting the cold wind and the wet ground. Then it happened. Brian Woods, with five seconds to game time took a powerful and beautiful shot from the 18 yard line and scored!! Score I-1. OVERTIME.

Now there were two

10-minute quarters to go. If both teams score, it would mean "Sudden Death." But Plainview's 71 A FORCE scored goal No. 2 and walked away winning game No. 1 for the '83 Cup, 2 to 1.

Lack of effective communication can be seen as munication can be seen as the basis for much of the world's problems. Misun-derstandings abound all over. This is ineffective over. This is ineffective communication among races, between age groups, even between the sexes. This results in hurt and pain on many levels. Most people agree that the human race does not want to become extinct by nuclear destruc-tion, and we shudder at the possibility of such destrucion brought upon us through miscommunica-tion. We have read that the Falklands' crisis should never have happened...it resulted from the inability of two nations to communicate. Therefore, millions of dollars have been wasted along with over a thousand

The Holy Bible not only shows us the way to salva-tion through: the cross of Christ, it also instructs us in how to relate with each other as the family of God. One of the most practical books in Scripture is James. It takes a mere ten minutes to read and contains much useful advice. I would suggest that you read the letter of James today. James could have been a feature writer in have been a feature writer in the magazine section of your Sunday newspaper. His let-ter is definitely a self-help piece. Our text is but one of many tasty morsels in this letter. Whereas most of us are quick to speak, James states that we would be much better off if we would rather be quick to hear.

As a possible confrontation begins to develop, he suggests the best thing for us to initially say is nothing.

Unfortunately, good listen-ing is an art that few of us have mastered well. This is why many of us have an occasional case of foot-in-the-mouth disease. We must always be ready to first listen to anyone or anything before we speak.

Too many times we, as parents, are impatient and do not listen to our children's side of the story. How many times children lament that they can't talk to their parents. Why? Because the parents. Why? because the parents are not really willing to listen. Effective listening means endeavoring to see the situation from the child's

Too many times children do not listen to their parents. They label parents as stupid or old fashioned. They fail to realize that parents have pressures on them that often make them impatient. If children gave their parents a break, listened to them as those people given to them by God, who love them more than anyone else in the world, who want the best for them, their lives would be happier and less proble-

Be quick to hear and then slow to speak. Watch your mouth! For inside your mouth lies a lethal weapon. Later on, in his letter, James speaks of the tongue as a fire; small at first but able to begin a conflageration. For James, the tongue is a rest-less evil, full of deadly poison. Hot words start quarrels, ruin marriages, instigate wars. There have been a few times in my life when I have not controlled my tongue and consequently paid a very large price for a few ill-chosen words. Slow to speak, God encourages us. One of my father's favorite expressions was, "You never learn anything with your mouth open." King Solomon, who was one of the few men as wise as my father, put it this way, "A soft answer turns away wrath but a harsh word stirs up anger." Quick to hear, slow to speak, and finally, slow to speak, and finally, slow to anger. A seminary professor once told us, "When you lose your cool, you lose." Blowing up is really a misuse of breath. Followers of Jesus must submit to his lordship of their lives. This includes the submission of includes the submission of all emotions to the Lord.

Confiding Your Wishes

common sense measures now, the arrangements for your funeral and burial may turn into a source of conflict and misery among your loved ones. It is not enough to confide your wishes to spouse or friend with whom you are living wishes to spouse or triend with whom you are living. Other relatives may take exception to certain arrangements and try to-override such wishes and even take over responsibility together – particularly if you have entrusted this to a friend.

Your best course is to tell all involved parties, possibly including the funeral director, what you have decided so there is no question about it later. You

Unless you take certain may even wish to name the may even wish to name the responsible party in your will, or in a "Letter of Instruction," along with specific wishes, or pre-arrange some of the details with the funeral home. Unless you do this, there is a good chance that such responsibility will be turned over to your closest turned over to your closest living relative, regardless of your relationship to the person, and arrangements made alien to your wishes.
