In response to a petition containing 851 signatures, a motion was made to hold a special election to revote on the elementary school guidance counselors and foreign language program, but was defeated by the Hicks-ville Board of Education on

Prior to the vote, trustee John Ayres and newly elected board members Arlene Rudin and Larry Wolfson argued in support of a new vote, but William Bennett strongly opposed it, saying "It is not proper for us to usurp the rights of the voters on May 25. This was settled by the voters- 2,000 people voted no. We cannot disregard what the electorate has said."

Individual Boardmembers give reasons for voting against the motion which was presented by Arlene Rudin and seconded by John Ayres. Thomas Nagel referred to the prob-Nagel referred to the prob-lems in the programs and said "They will not be solved by reversing the vote." on. We did delegate our position to the public and the public came back overwhelmingly. There are many issues to discuss in the year to come. We ought to fix on the issues coming in the future, rather than the past."

The Board would not support a motion presented by Wolfson to provide for the continuation of the foreign language in the elemen-tary schools for the students who have already started the program.

Prior to the hearing on the petition, the Board took action on the abolition of positions and the terminapositions and the termina-tion of service of educa-tional personnel. It also accepted the retirement of Selma Notov, Senior High School Guidance Counse-lor. It approved other per-sonnel matters and granted tenure to Ann Marie Mones, teacher in the Old Country Road school. Road school.

Superintendent Catherine Fenton announced two

VENERABLE SKIP MONTEFORTE'S MES-SAGE: 'The greatest misfor-tune of all is not to be able to bear misfortune.' Old Say-

Considering the weather we've been having lately, I am sure that everyone is seeking some way to 'beat the heat', as the saying goes, and what better way is there than to attend the Galileo Lodge's Old Fashion Italian Wedding Dance, to be held on Saturday, the 27th of August. This is a mock but hilarious version of an activity that derives from the past and which also brings on bouts of nostalgia. Armand Del Cioppo will 'chair' this activity and the tickets will sell at $10 per person, a nominal fee that, besides the show, will entitle you to a delicious hot dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, setups and music from a Disc Jockey. An added note here is that our scholarship recipients will receive tickets for this activity so that they will be able to receive the awards which are part of the Galileo

Lodge's Scholarship program, and please also note that this dance features a bring-your-own-liquor pol-icy. So why not keep 'cool' by attending this rather unusual activity?

Another activity to be held by the Galileo Lodge but under the supervision of the Ladies Auxiliary is the 1983 version of the 'Foolies Follies', scheduled for Friday, the 12th of November, at Galileo Lodge. Suc Laurenti (931-0036), the Chairlady, states that tickets sell lady, states that tickets sell at $10 per person, which, in addition to the show, entitles you to a delicious hot dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake and set-ups and and cake and set-ups and let's not forget music from Mark, a leading L.I. disc jockey, Tickets will be ready on Wednesday, the 31st of August, and then every Thursday night at the Gali-leo Lodge, from 6 to 10 P.M. Dologre, 1 cost, (822-5520) Dolores Look (822-5520) and Theresa Gatto (433-6708) will sell tickets every Wednesday night at the Galileo Lodge, from 6 to 10 P.M. I might add here that these tickets sell quickly and that they will be issued on a 'first-come-first-served basis'. The 'Foolies Follies' is delightfully funny and I don't see how anyone can afford to miss it!

Another activity designed to cure you of the fethargy brought on by the recent spell of hot weather is the Galileo Lodge's picnic, scheduled for Sunday, the 7th of August. from early morning to late evening. With a delicious array of sumptuous food at your disposal and with a fee of $5 for members and their immediate families and with their children admitted free if under 12 years of age, can you think of a better way to enjoy a hot summer afternoon at Eisenhower Park, the site of this picnic? Please note that the rules for this activity were relaxed to some extent, so that now it is possible to invite brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law who will be charged $7 and their children will be charged $3 if they are over 12 years of age. Food and beverages will be in abundance, and so will be the comraderie and conviviality of the Galileo Lodge and its members, male as well as female. Please note that you cannot attend this activity at random, that you must submit your name to Tony Sica (796-8789), the Chair-man, by the 1st of August, the cut-off date. Coffee and cake will be served in the early morning and Joe Cri-vella will surprise this aspect of the picnic. So for some summer fun and relaxation, how can you beat this activity.

Bond Issues For Sewer Plants Approved

The Board of Supervisors on Monday approved bond ordinances totaling nearly $42 million for modernization and improvements at Nassau's two major sewer treatment facilities at Cedar Creek and Bay Park.

"We expect that nearly 90 per cent of these costs will be reimbursed by the state and federal governments." County Exec. Purcell said. "This work, advanced planning and new construction. is designed to protect our underground water supply."

One bond ordinance request is for $11,371,360 for the total design, plan-ning and preliminary work on a 20-year project at the Cedar Creek Water Pollution Control Plant. It will increase the plant's treatment capacity from the present 45 million gallons per day to 76 million gallons per day. It will be designed to include the collections of all sewering in the Southeast Nassau District, where sewer installations are still going on. The district includes roughly all the area between the Suffolk line, the Long Island Expressway, the Meadowbrook Parkway and the South Shore Line. The Cedar Creek work will include advanced odor

control capabilities, increased tankage, aeration equipment and added final clarifiers.

A separate ordinance for a bond issue of $30,250,000 will cover two phases of major work in moderniza-tion of the Bay Park Plant, which covers the southwestern Nassau collection dis-trict. The plant was built in 1951 and improvements were made in 1960.

This new construction will begin with secondary treatment facilities, including fluidized bed technology, aeration equipment, final sedimentation tanks and a new emergency power capacity. The second phase will deal with preliminary treatment facilities, includ-ing fluidized bed technology, aeration equipment, final sedimentation tanks and a new emergency power capacity. The second phase will deal with preliminary treatment, including new screening and grit facilities. Part of the funding for an earlier phase of work at Bay Park, some $7 million, just granted by the federal Environmental Protection Agency. That was jointly announced by U.S. Senator Alfonse D'Amato and Con-gressman Norman Lent in Washington.

A Message From Our Postal Service

Dog bites are hardly a laughing matter.

Last year, 5,700 letter carriers were bitten by dogs. One of those victims died, and many more suffered disfigurements and either partial or permanent disabilities.

Over the years, the Postal Service has tried to combat dog attacks by arming its carriers with dog repellent and has even experimented with scaring dogs away with pop-out

The Service has also taken a tougher stance by interrupting mail delivery to homes where a dog is not properly restrained. Additionally, the agency has been assisting - and joining - its employees in actions to recover damages resulting from dog attacks.

The Postal Service and its letter carriers wouldn't have to undergo the effort or the pain if dog owners realized one of the prime responsibilities of pet ownership is to keep the animal controlled. Keeping a pet on a leash or tether, in a fenced yard or even in the lamily home during the normal hours of the carrier's delivery could all but eliminate the problem of dogs biting carriers.

This is such a simple solution. Let's all do it.

More than 30 high school honor students from around the nation attended Michigan State University's 25th Annual High School Honors Science Program this summer.

David Battleman and Ken Lin of Plainview partici-pated in the six-week noncredit program sponsored by MSU's natural science department. Sessions pro-vided students with a broad understanding of science by involving them in research projects which would not be duplicated in high school or the first year of college.

All selected students were in the top 10 percent of their high school class. Admission was based on scholastic ability, science motivation and completion of specified high school courses in nce and mathematics.

While in residence at the university, the students spend the major portion of their time working inde-pendently on research in experimental biology and biochemistry. Other areas of study included cancer chemotherapy, genetic diseases, solar energy and atomic par-serving the visitors of the patients.

Our Members also contribute books and magazines for the patients to read.

Our members donate clo-thing which is sold at Thrift Shops and the entire pro-ceeds of the sales are given to Mercy Hospital. We also sponsor Bingo games and Bowling leagues -- again all run by our volunteers who do a fine job raising money for the hospital.

We have women who are in charge of arranging trips for our members and friends to take. We have women who take orders for flowers (in the Spring). They have truckloads of them delivered to their homes and arrange for the distribution. Pro-ceeds again goes to Mercy Hospital. We have women who arrange various activi-ties and who appoint chair-women to supervise the activities and then report on the results. All of these are the unsung heroines of Mercy League and deserve a well-earned "Thank you one and all for all of the time and effort you have given so unselfishly and generously."

Last of all and certainly not least - our President, Joan D'Auria of Brookville together with all of her officers made a pledge to Mercy Hospital in October, 1982 to raise 39,200 to pay for the cost of a double Hospice Room for the terminally ill patients and accomodations for their families - in a home-like atmosphere - to make life a bit easier in their time of need.

Our idea in publicizing the various things we do is not to gain recognition or self-praise — that we do not need. We all know how good we feel inside doing some-thing worthwhile. Our publicity is for the purpose of stimulating interest in our activities and hope you will participate with us in the raising of funds for Mercy Hospital. If you would care tojoin Mercy League, please contact our Publicity Chairwoman, Marjorie A. Dunne, 997-8594.

Andres Segovia is andoubtedly the world's most revered classic guitar virtuoso. At the age of 90, this veteran musician's staying power and his unique ability to regenerate his art continues to draw praise from critics and audiences alike. When Segovia made his debut in Granada at the age of 16, the guitar was virtually unknown as a concert instrument. Almost singlehandedly against great odds spain, brought the instru-ment and himself serious musical attention. This feat was accomplished through his virtuosity and his commitment to enriching a sparse repertoire. He was successful in these endeavors by his popularization of new works by renowned 20th century composers, in addition to his adaptions of compositions by J.S. Bach and other great Baroque, Classical and Romantic Andres Segovia's New York debut in 1928 at Town Hall was the first guitar recital ever held in that city. Within five years he had achieved a record of six completely sold-out con-certs in New York. To this day, his transcontinental and European tours still clicit standing-room-only attendance. Audiences Segovia. His art is among the musical glories of our century.

Small Business Institute Program Produces Results

Did you know that nine out of ten business failures in the United States are caused by lack of general business management skills?

In an effort to climinate that statistic, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has established a free management counseling resource. The program, called the Small Business Institute (SBI), operates in cooperation with faculty; senior and graduate students of nearly 500 leading universities and colleges.

Mr. Bob Zeidman, Assistant District Director for Management Assis-tance, feels that participants receive "expert and qualified help from 7 of the top higher educational institutions in the New York District area."

In a few short years the program has already been of practical assistance to small business owners and has given valuable "real life" experience to the studentcounselors, who pinpoint the business problems and prepare the blueprint to recovery.

This program helps the small entrepreneur in 16 different areas of business management which include Market Research, Recordkeeping and Accounting, and Increasing Sales.

If you are interested in getting business assistance through the SBI program contact Mr. Terrence Clark, Business Management Specialist, at (212)264-4349.

Crime Victims Have Rights, Too

As part of the Nassau County Patrolmen's Benevolent Association's campaign to keep the public informed, President Wayne McMorrow announced that he wanted to make the residents of Nassau County aware of the help available to victims of violent crimes.

President McMorrow stated, "Criminals are guaranteed all of their rights; provided immediate medical attention; provided a free attorney if not able to afford one; free room and board; books, TV, and recreation. They can plea bargain, change venue, delay trial, supress evidence, be acquitted because of insanity, or can appeal. If sentenced, they are provided alterna-tives to incarceration, or receive free room and board, recreation, improve educa-tion and job skills. They can also enter work-release pro grams, be eligible for early parole, and can obtain personal loans. A large percen-tage return to a life of continued, "Victims however, are frequently the forgotten part of the criminal justice system. They must pay their own medical bills, ambulance; be responsible to replace their own losses due to the crime. They must provide their own transpor-tation to court, very often missing work. They are not part of, and are usually never informed of the trial's progress or results. It is the victim who is sentenced to a lifetime of trauma and fear as a result of the incident.

Following his work in D.C., Dan returned to West Point where he is currently a platoon leader in the Cadet Basic Training detail, in charge of 46 "new Cadets" or entering freshmen. Dan, along with the other first detail members, will instruct and develop the new cadets for the first half of the seven week program, teaching them the military lifestyle that will be theirs for their next four years at the Academy, as well as in the U.S. Army thereafter as commissioned officers.

lt's a small world after all. While in Vienna, Austria, for a Kiwanis International Convention, Harriet and Bill Maher met Toby and Len Lampert and their daughter. Elizabeth Lam-pert. Elizabeth graduated from Hicksville High School on June 26. She was unable to attend her graduation exercises because she took a flight to Vienna to accompany her parents to the International Kiwanis Convention. Toby and Len-were long time residents of our community, but have relocated to Florida. Elizabeth stayed behind in Hicksville to complete her education. She will attend the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York

Hicksville Man Plays In Buddy Rich Orchestra

The Buddy Rich Orchestra must have registered high on the Richter scale as high on the Richter scale as it opened its recent four-night stand at Blues Alley with "Dancing Men." an arrangement of rockish design and screaming ensemble. But the roar of approval of the SRO audience at the number's conclusion confirmed that volume is still very much in fashion.

This is a young band, but its aggressiveness largely originates in the storm-the-walls approach of the leader. whose unsubtle attack dom-inated the set except for a ballad feature for tenor sax-ophonist. Steve Marcus, a welcome respite, and several other interludes of calm. Yet there was excitement in the irresistible momentum in the call-and-response shout-ing matches between brass and reed sections.

and reed sections. An area of the fired off as archorus on Bill Pott's "Big Swing Face" with a single-note explosion that echaed across the club. His showcase solo was in the final movement of baritone sarphonist Keith Rishon's ophonist Keith Bishop's opnonist Retti Bishop's stunning arrangement of "Porgy and Bess," on which Rich's steady lefthand roll with right stick dizzy all over the set attested to his undiminished virtuosity.

The emphasis was upon massed sound but creditable solos were handed in by trumpeter Richard Vitale on Clifford Brown's "Joy Spring" and bass trombo-nist George Gesslein of Hicksville and pianist Lee Musikei on "Porgy." W. Royal Stokes

DEVOTIONS

Dial-A-Devotion 931-2221 By The Rev. Dr. J. H. Krahn Trinity Lutheran Church

In Doubt? Faith It!

When I was in the hospital received many cards Among them was one that had an actual mustard seed in a little container pasted on the front of it along with words, "For if you had faith even as small as a tiny mustard seed you could say to this mountain, 'Move!' and it would go away. Nothing would be impossi-ble." A mustard seed is really no big deal. But from this small seed grows a very large plant in a very short period of time.

Using a tiny mustard seed, Jesus suggests a very remar-kable thing. He says that if our faith is only as large as this very small seed, we can do great things, as great as moving a mountain from one location to another. In fact, he says, "Nothing would be impossible for us."
As Jesus talks to us about a mountain-moving faith, some of us possess a mountain of doubt.

It has been my experience that those who doubt more than they believe try to subject God to the limits of their own reason. They want God on their terms, according to their own rationale. They seem to say that if they were God, things would have been done differently. And right here, I believe, is the crux of the problem. They see themselves as God For to be wiser than God is to be God

If we really want to get to know God, it is better to begin with faith. What we really need is a faith that seeks understanding rather than an understanding that seeks faith. To put it another way, "In Doubt? Faith It!" No matter how little faith might be-even if it is smaller than a mustard seed-God is saying to us today that there

It's a hot, sultry summer and we hope you're all "keeping your cool" in the best possible fashion.

Instead of an August club meeting, we will be holding a "get together" for all our members. August 12 is the date, 8:30 p.m. the time, and the VFW Hall is the place. We are planning an evening for med relocation. There of fun and relaxation. There will be food, beer and music and dancing-all for the very nominal sum of $3.00 to help us defray expenses. This is NOT a fund-raising event, but a chance for our Club to show its appreciation to the membership for their dedication. loyalty and support during the past year. Please make every effort to attend this event. Since the VFW Hall is air-conditioned, it won't matter how hot the tempera-ture is outside...you'll be comfortably cool all evening.

At present, seventeen young Fourth Congressional District in Nassau County are beginning the most exciting and challenging experience of their young lives. They are in the process of entering the four service academics of the United States as Congressman Norman Lent's appointees, Lent said that it is one of the greatest privi-leges of his office to be able to nominate ten outstanding young men and women from his district to each of the four academies -- West Point. (Army). Annapolis (Navy). Colorado Springs (Air Force) and Kings Point eligible for Congressman Lent's 1984 appointments should apply now for the necessary application forms. Please be certain to include your name, address, parents' names, phone number, sex. birth date, high school, year of graduation, rank in class and academy in which you are interested. A student can be nominated to only one academy, so it's important that you indicate your preference to Congressman Lent. His Baldwin district office is located at Baldwin Plaza Building Room 300, 2280 Grand Avenue, Baldin, NY 11510.

(Merchant Marine). Anyone interested and

Upon receipt of the application materials, they must be filled out and returned to Lent by November 15, 1983. Once your application is complete, a panel of distinguished citizens from our guisned citizens from our community will conduct interviews with all the appli-cants and then recommend the ten top applicants to each academy as nominees of Congressman Lent. Once nominated, it is up to each academy to make final selec-

The process is highly competitive, with high scholarship and physical standards to be met. But this year seventeen of Lent's nominers were salasted. nees were selected to attend the four academies. They will receive one of the best educations available in America, and they also serve our great country, while

Plainview Student Attends Music Camp

Gina Garber of Plainview, is attending the 37th session of the New York State Music Camp at Hartwick College in Oneonta, New York

The camp, founded by Dr. Frederic Swift, offers young people, ages ten to twenty, the opportunity to perform some of the great music from all periods of composition, from the classical to the modern.

The campers attend classes in several music subjects. Credit may be earned toward high school graduation. Private instruction and music counseling are also available. A series of concerts and recitals will be given by the campers throughout the summer. All performances are free and open to the public.

This year's camp has attracted some 350 individuals representing 14 states, 2 Canadian prov-inces, the West Indies, West Africa, Holland and Afghanistan

Sudden death is, by definition, an event for which we are unprepared. Unlike the death of someone very old, or someone with a ter-minal illness, it is a death which has not been antici-pated and is often quite difficult to accept.

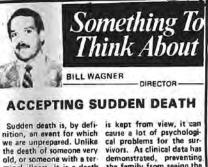

difficult to accept.

When a family is faced with a sudden accidental death, it can be very helpful if they are able to view the body. In spite of serious injuries and damage, it is very often possible to prepare the body in an acceptable fashion so that ceptable fashion so that the family can view the loved one in order to face the reality of the death.

On the other hand, if the victim of a sudden death demonstrated, preventing the family from seeing the body can keep them in the stage of denial for years to come, and pre-vent them from accepting
