Bi-County and Bi-Partisan Plans Cause Resource Recovery To Take A Major Step Forward

It is generally known that, after five years of planning, the Town of Oyster Bay, although years ahead of other municipalities on Long Island, was still working out important details of their plan to (1) phase out landfill operations and, (2) decide on the best plan for a resource recovery plant.

On Wed. July 27th, a major break-through took place when State DEC representatives, and officials from the Towns of both Oyster Bay and Huntington met to agree on several important plan changes which move this all-important problem nearer to a safe solution.

First representatives of the State Dept. of Environmental Conservation agreed to split $28 million which had originally been assigned to the now-defunct Multi-Town Suffolk County Plan, into two $14 million grants...one to the Town of Oyster Bay to use for its proposed Old Bethpage Resource Recovery plant, plans for which are going forward, and the other $14 million grant will go to the Town of Babylon for a like purpose.

The agreement is that the size of the Old Bethpage Resource Recovery plant will be increased from 1,000 tons a day capacity as originally suggested, to 1,500 tons a day, and that some Oyster Bay garbage will be directed to Glen Cove to help their new incinerator achieve its capacity...and finally, that the Township of Huntington will use the Old Bethpage Resource Recovery plant to dispose of their garbage. These funds will help to achieve a solution to this problem for both Townships.

Resource Recovery Plant

Presently the Town of Oyster Bay is contracting for a resource recovery plant with Blount, Inc. of Alabama. This proposed plant will cost approximately $150 million and will use a process which, with high heat burns garbage and with the use of water then produces steam which eventually generates electricity. This will be sold (and by law must be bought) by LILCO and according to those working on these plans, this will save over 500,000 barrels of oil a year. The ash that is the final residue of this process may be used to make cinder blocks and presently the Town is working out details whereby this too can be sold.

Getting To Know You

Meet Neafie J. Buck, Sr.

By Rosemary Grant

It is not a short undertaking for a man of 84 to move a mountain of cement, but that's just what Neafie J. Buck, Sr. did. On June 7, an illegally erected cement hopper was dismantled and ordered removed from Railroad Ave. in Hicksville because of the persistent efforts of Neafie Buck, who lives next to the site. Yet, Buck is still concerned. "It has been dismantled, but not removed," he said. "All the footings and the big cement pit remain and it could be reassembled in one day and go back in operation. I am afraid the owner is going to get a change in zoning."

The illegal operation was continually brought to the attention of the Town Attorney by Buck and eventually led to a court decision against Vincent Agostino, Inc. Buck vows to continue his efforts to see that the court order is not violated and the hopper is removed.

Maybe Neafie Buck gets his fighting spirit from his long line of Yankee ancestors, including Ephram Buck, a Lieutenant in the Revolutionary War.

The Buck family came to Massachusetts from England in 1636 and in 1704 moved to Colts Neck, N.J. near the site of the Battle of Monmouth in the American Revolution. Neafie was born on January 18, 1899 to Garrett and Eliza. He had two sisters. His father farmed the 137 acres and ran a water powered grist mill, which was in the family for many generations. In 1921, he married Mildred Matthews, who he says "He knew forever," but really took notice of at a local country home dance. They have five children, 14 grandchildren, and 3 great grandchildren.

Mr. Buck dancing with his granddaughter at her wedding.

In 1929, they moved to Hicksville because of a job offer from Elmo W. Johnson dealing in tractors and automobiles. (Cars have been a lifetime interest; He has owned "36 or 37" and been involved in many sport car events.)

The family soon adapted to their new location. "Hicksville was a wonderful old fashioned village. You walked to everything and could leave your door unlocked. Shopping was great - better than today—Anything from a spool of thread to the finest choices in food and clothing could be bought without leaving town.

"He did not feel any effects of the Great Depression. "You didn't recognize it was hard times. My kids said it was nice in school because everybody was in the same position. Nobody had a lot."

He presently resides in the house he bought on Old Country Road in 1939. Neafie eventually started his own lawn mower business behind his house and during World War II went to work for Grumann's because his lawn mower business was considered non-essential. After the war he went back into business until a heart attack in 1962 forced him to retire.

Retirement didn't slow down Neafie Buck. In spite of the fact that he cannot write as a result of a debilitating tremor, Buck an amatuer genealogist, typed a detailed history of the Buck family in America. The book includes meticulous details of his children's World War II records, of which he is rightfully proud. His three sons and one daughter served in the military and his youngest daughter worked for the draft board. Buck and his wife received citations for their help as aircraft observers at that time.

Buck feels the most significant impact on his life was his move to Hicksville. "I never regretted coming here. It's a good ole town. That's the reason I am fighting to kind of keep it that way!"

HICKSVILLE ROTARIAN NAMED DISTRICT DIRECTOR OF CLUB SERVICE: Mr. Paul Martin of the Hicksville Rotary Club has been selected as the District 725 Director of Club Service by District Governor Frank Rasbury. Mr. Martin, who is the Supervisor of Community Relations for the New York Telephone Company will be in charge of club service chairmen of the 42 Rotary Clubs in the district covering such activities as club bulletin, fellowship, membership, public relations and Rotary information and will perform such other duties as the District Governor may direct. # Dear Friends . . .

On this page we have brought you some suggestions that could solve LILCO's Shoreham related financial problem, by County Executive Francis Purcell.

We hope you take the time to read it in its entirety. Some of us forget (or do not want to listen to) the facts that before 3-Mile Island, when gasoline prices were soaring, when OPEC was successful in creating world inflation and when we were assured that there was not enough oil to last us through the year 2000, alternate methods of power were being sought world-wide. At that point, LILCO would have been criticized had they not attempted to solve this very real problem.

Now situations and conditions have changed radically. This we all know.

Three-Mile Island, the oil glut, and cars that get 20 to 40 miles per gallon, have turned at least the timing around, as well as how the problem must be solved.

But all problems, be they large or small, can only be solved by using reason...not mass hysteria.

That's why we hope you all take the time to read Mr. Purcell's article.

Let us hear from you if you have any other workable suggestions as to how the Shoreham problem can be solved.

AS WE GO TO PRESS: Our Supervisor Joseph Colby, representing the Town of Oyster Bay is meeting with officials of the State Dept of Environmental Conservation and the Town of Huntington, working out details of an agreement whereby the Town of Oyster Bay will receive $14 Million which has been allocated by the State DEC to the Town of Huntington for the development of a resource recovery plant and in return the Town of Huntington will be permitted to bring its garbage to the Oyster Bay resource recovery plant. This insures the most economical and environmentally sound method of disposing of solid waste, which our Town officials have been working on for the past five years.

It is also a unique agreement in that it is not only Bi-county but also Bi-partisan. (See story on page one.)

THAT'S ALL for this week. Stay well.

Outlines Options To Hold Down LILCO Rates

County Executive Francis T. Purcell has outlined several ways to alleviate LILCO's Shoreham-related financial problems and cushion their impact on Long Island's residential and commercial ratepayers.

The options include restructuring LILCO's debt through tax exempt securities, selling the Shoreham plant to the Power Authority of the State of New York (PASNY), and obtaining a Chrysler-type federal loan guarantee for the utility.

In the opening sentence of a working paper prepared for tomorrow's Washington meeting with U.S. Sen. Alfonse D'Amato and state and local officials, Purcell painted the problem in stark terms:

"Long Island is facing a problem that we do not want to see turn into a crisis: LILCO's Shoreham nuclear plant has brought it to the point where it may be denied access to the credit markets; Long Island ratepayers, residential and commercial, already paying among the highest electric rates in the nation are facing another rate hike that threatens to undermine our economic vitality and drive people from their homes," Purcell wrote.

The thread of the economic impact of LILCO's request rate increase -- and the necessity for the Shoreham plant to go on line -- is woven through the document. Purcell will be represented at the Washington meeting by Deputy County Executive Owen T. Smith.

Purcell said that LILCO's rates are already the third highest in New York State and the 10th highest in the nation. He said that LILCO's requested three-year, 54.6 per cent rate increase would make its rates the highest in the state and would be an economic disaster for Long Island.

Purcell said that LILCO's escalating electric rates are making Long Island non-competitive in attracting and retaining business. He noted that Nassau County unemployment rate in 1982 and into 1983 has been one of the lowest in New York State because of economic growth, but said that developers and industrial realtors are now warning him that the energy question -- the pending rate hike and uncertainty whether Shoreham will go on line to provide a dependable electric supply -- has caused a marked decline in economic activity.

Purcell rejected bankruptcy as an option, saying its ultimate result would be to increase rather than decrease electric rates, and adding that LILCO's shareholders would have their equity wiped out. He said that LILCO's 182,000 shareholders -- 109,000 of them in New York State, 45,000 in Nassau and 25,000 in Suffolk -- are not financial tycoons or institutional buyers but the elderly and average people looking for retirement income. Ninety per cent of LILCO's shareholders own fewer than 1,000 shares, he said; the average shareholder has 370 shares worth $5,920 on Monday of this week.

Turning to viable alternative solutions, Purcell said government has helped cause the problem, so government should help solve it.

He said the Nuclear Regulatory Agency (NRA) has changed the rules in the middle of the game, requiring the Shoreham plant to be virtually rebuilt to deal with various earthquake safety standards. He said the Shoreham plant has more built-in redundancy in safety features than any other nuclear plant in the nation.

Purcell said that the Suffolk County government, which had initially encouraged development of Shoreham plant at its present site, is now doing everything possible to block its going on line, and that citizens groups, by causing delays, have multiplied the costs and helped create the financial problems now facing LILCO and its electric customers.

One of Purcell's proposals was restructuring LILCO's debt by refinancing the entire company or the Shoreham plant with tax exempt securities. He said Internal Revenue Service (IRS) rules permit a utility to be financed this way if it serves no more than two counties. LILCO now serves several thousand Queens County customers, Purcell said, but these could be transferred to Consolidated Edison to facilitate refinancing the company.

Purcell said another option would be for LILCO to sell the Shoreham plant to PASNY, as the State Legislature permitted Con Ed to sell its Indian Point nuclear plant and a steam plant to the state agency in 1974. He said Con Ed then faced a serious credit problem similar to LILCO's now. The sale would enable LILCO to borrow without the burden of its Shoreham plant costs, Purcell said. He added that if PASNY were to purchase Shoreham, the plant would be exempt from real property taxes.

Purcell said a Chrysler-type federal loan guarantee for LILCO should also be explored. He said the guarantee enable Chrysler to borrow at government loan rates, solve its financial problems and bound back to become one of nation's premier auto manufacturers. A Chrysler-type loan, Purcell said, would reduce the company's electric rate but would not affect the Shoreham plant's property tax status.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Kavanaugh: -
Sears in Hicksville has done it again!

One of the many Diesels that come into the illegal Freight Depot, sprung a gas leak. All day Tuesday and Wednesday, July 19th and 20th, the residents of Bay Avenue were sick. Some had headaches others nausea. All this from the smell of the oil plus a very pungent smell.

I called EPA Stephen Wagner and told him the story. Early Thursday morning he went over to Sears, then contacted the Board of Health. They said it would be taken care of.

There was an area of approximately 6 foot by 8 foot full of Diesel oil. My husband saw it and said it looked like a lake. So for two days cars and trucks rode through this and nothing was done about it by Sears.

In the meantime several of the neighbors including myself called the Board of Health. One of the other neighbors called our volunteer Fire Department. For fear if someone threw a match there could have been a terrible fire.

The Board of Health returned my call and said what we were inhaling and smelling was the diesel fuel which was put into the storm drain and not emptied as it should have been. The pungent smell was an overflow of cesspool. The Board of Health told Sears to clean up and they would return on Friday and check up.

If the concerned residents and homeowners didn't report these conditions, how long would Sears have left the field in that condition.

This is only one of the many possible mishaps and reasons why we are fighting to have the illegal Freight Depot on Bay Avenue removed.

Very truly yours,
Theresa Neder
and the 112

Alumni To Honor Incorporators

Gus Econopouly, Arthur Segreto and Harold Holden have been selected by the Hicksville Alumni Board of Directors as honored guests at its 25th anniversary Homecoming Dinner-Dance.

A gathering of alumni and friends, reminiscent of the warm 1982 turnout for Edward Michael Coleman, is expected at the Bethpage Country Club, Saturday, Oct. 29th.

The three were original incorporators of the Alumni Association, whose main purpose was providing a foundation for a year-round organization supporting Hicksville students. That base has been sustained for a quarter century.

Tickets for the Dinner-Dance are $25.00 per person. Full payment must be made by Oct. 10th as per contract requirements.

Special tables for reunions of 1933 and 1943 classes will be organized by contacting Karen Kurtz Weyer at WE 1-0905 and Dolores Crawford at 931-0600.

Econopouly and Segreto are remembered for rousing chapters in the football campaigns of Coach Louis Millevolte-1944 to 1945. Playing for the smallest school in Nassau, they confronted punishing schedules with fiery defensive action. The record was 9 wins, 1 loss, 1 tie.

Mr. Econopouly is a graduate of Hofstra University and teaches at BOCES in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Segreto is the pro-riector of the Fox Fire Inn, Stowe, Vermont.

Mr. Holden operates a stationery and office supply business in Hicksville.

The latter are Past Presidents of the Association.

Honored in 1975, Howard Finnegan along with the late Dr. Charles Masek, completed the incorporation team. The late Judge Julius Schwartz served as counsel.

ORGAN DONATIONS

Thanks to the miracle of modern medical science, healthy organs from the body of a deceased person can be successfully transplanted to help restore the health of a living person. These commonly include kidneys, corneas, hearts, livers, and skin.

The decision to make such a donation is, of course, a personal one. It might be well to add, however, that virtually all religions in the United States have no restrictions in regard to the donation of organs to help another patient regain his or her health.

One should also keep in mind that the donation of an organ in no way modifies one's funeral arrangements. The removal of the organ is carried out in an operating room by a team of surgeons and nurses for transplantation to the recipient. Then, after a brief post-mortem, the body can be transferred to the funeral home and the decedent's wishes carried out as specified and desired.

Girls Major Williamsport Team (Mgr. - Phil O'Mara, Coach - John Ryan) Glacken Field, Freeport, Friday, July 22, Hicksville 9, Freeport 3. Christine Proctor pitched another good game for HBA. Shannon Mullin went two for three with a double. Karen Osback played a great centerfield and also had a hit. Dawn Abruzzo had another perfect night with 3 hits including a double. Our defensive player of the night was Tricia Reardon with her excellent playing at short fielder. Hicksville now moves on to the next step in the tournament with a game Wed., 7/27 against Belmore/N. Merrick for the Nassau County Long Island Championship scheduled for Saturday, July 30th in Baysshore, teams to be announced. Good luck to

Girls Sr. Softball - Glen Cove Tournament. (Mgr. - Ron D'Amelia, Coach - Frank Lobmeier.) Saturday, July 16th, Glen Cove. Each girl worked hard, practiced long and clearly demonstrated that they were truly All-Stars in every sense of the word. The team as a whole performed outstandingly and admirably against tremendous odds. The team played four games (one right after another). They won their first game against Sea Cliff by the 15 run rule. They lost their second game by 2 runs (8-6) against Suffolk PAL. They won their third game against Lakeland by coming from behind and winning by a significant amount. Still having no break, they played their fourth game against Yorktown. We were winning after the fourth inning, but time and energy took its toll. Although the desire was there, they were physically exhausted. Congratulations to the following girls who played in near 100 degree weather and lost with Class: Kim D'Amelia, Jeannie Antonio, Michelle Busa, Debbie Elenio, Jill Gaglio, Pam Hogan, Stephanie Julian, Megan Kiley, Jennifer Koslow, Cathy Kwas, Kelly Lobmeier, and Annette Rizzo.

Coaches Phil Alagna

By F. O'Hea

The newly formed 1975 Hawks had a very busy and long season since their start. They have come in First Place in two (2) indoor tournaments; completing an outdoor season with a record 9-0-1 having only eight (8) goals scored against them and scoring a total of 38 goals to win First Place in their division.

In the Chase Cup they went as far as the semi-finals to have their first loss of the season with a score of 3-2. It was a well played and exciting game.

They then took a few weeks rest before taking a twelve hour ride to Toronto.

on alert base running by Kim Zagajski and Dawn Hastings. Freeport came right back to take the lead but Hicksville's bats came alive to capture the lead for good with Sharon Proctor's 2-run single and Dina Bacchi's RBI triple. Hicksville put the game away in the 6th with 3 more runs on Lorraine Donohue's RBI single and steal of home. Hicksville turned a great DP ending with Chris Bacchi's tag of runner at home. Maria Moone struck out the last batter with the bases loaded for a complete game victory. Defensive Gem - Patty Garrett's running backhand grab in right center.

Monday, July 25th. Hicksville met Freeport again this time in Floral Park and again came from behind with a heart stopping 12-10 win. Hicksville quickly fell behind 6-1. But in the 3rd inning, Hicksville chipped away at the lead, scoring 3 times - the big hit a 2 RBI single by Maria Moone. In the 4th, Hicksville exploded for 8 runs - the big blow a bases loaded triple by Sharon Proctor and a 2-run single by Dawn Hastings. Meanwhile the pitching staff of Mary Mato (2 hits), Susie Cucci and Hicksville's 16 hit attack was led by Dina Bacchi's 4 hits. Chris Bacchi threw out 3 base stealers to stop Freeport's running game cold and Mary Anne Purtill chipped in a hit and solid D at 1B. Jen Mezeul kept those runners moving coaching 1B.

The team has been hit with a rash of injuries and illnesses, but the girls have stayed together and worked harder at each practice. Their team spirit has been the key to winning. Boys 13 Year Old All-Star Team (Mgr. - John Senise, Coach - Phil Campisi); in a Senior Little League (Jr. Division) game at Haypath Park in Plainview on July 13, 1983, HBA's 13 Year Old All-Star team defeated Westbury 19-3. This was the opening game of District 33's double elimination tournament. John Senise, who had been injured in an accident on July 4th, gave Canada for the Robbi Tournament. After two (2) days of consistent playing with two (2) wins and one (1) loss, the team missed out of the semi-finals by one (1) goal.

Throughout the time, the Hawks have played together in unison. The offense of Forwards Ronnie Ladimir, Brett Nissensen, Danny Longo, Danny Alagna showed excellent ball control and fine passing ability. The Half-Backs Kevin Koehn, Spencer Sohmer, Chris Jandras, Michael Centrone controlled the ball well at midfield - passing the ball to the forward line, scoring goals and making numerous assists. The defensive line of stopper Michael Longo, full backs Brian O'Hea, Brian Ruina, Larry Finblum, controlled the backfield stopping the advance of the opposing teams.

The goal tending was excellently played by Goalie Danny Bell with his ability to get to the ball and clear it.

All this could not have been accomplished without the fine coaching of Phil Alagna and Bob Ladimir.

All the parents, coaches and team members would like to say, "GET WELL SOON TO MICHAEL LONGO."

for Hicksville - we won 16-1 against Westbury - to clinch the pennant once again. Phil Campisi pitched an outstanding complete game and added a bases loaded double. Jim Pagett and Russ Cassar had timely hits; Bill Cornelius and Bob Maresca played excellent short and second. Ed Greaney did a great job catching and George Eng played an outstanding center field. Dennis Kenefick, Bill Hirtzel, Eric Nicolla and John Blauvelt also made significant contributions to the effort. Friday, July 22nd, District Championship Game for 13 Year Olds. A victory with singles by Bobby Maresca, Phil Campisi, John Senise, Dennis Kenefick, and Eric Nicolls. Dennis Kenefick made a great play at first for a double play. What a team! Welcome back Brian Goerke! The sectionals begin 5:45 at Muncy Park in Suffolk County. Let's Go Hicksville!

Soviet Jewry Supporters Hold Vigil In Glen Cove

More than 275 people held a spirited vigil late Saturday night outside the Glen Cove retreat of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations to press for freedom for Soviet Jews. The demonstration was the 12th annual Soviet Jewry vigil sponsored by the Long Island Committee for Soviet Jewry. It coincided with the week of Tisha B'Av, commemorating the destruction of the Holy Temple.

During the vigil, Lynn Singer, the Long Island Committee's Executive Director, pointed to the relationship between the Soviet Jewry problem and Tisha B'Av. "Each Jewish home is a temple and if you cannot practice religion and be a free person, your temple is destroyed," she declared. "We cannot let the situation go.... We will keep coming back here until the temple is rebuilt." Long Island Committee President Carole Abramson added that the vigil took on increased importance this year because, "We're at a low, low ebb of Soviet emigration." Last year 2,644 visas were granted to Soviet Jews, down from 51,000 in 1979. If the current rates continue, this year the total will be approximately 1,200. Currently, there are an estimated 2.5 million Jews living in the Soviet Union.

Vigil organizers emphasized that the demonstration of solidarity is aimed at relaying the message for freedom to both Soviet leaders and refuseniks — those Russian Jews denied exit visas. Declared Abramson, "Just as the official government knows we're here, the refuseniks know we're not silent."

For three hours, beginning at 10 p.m., the vigil participants pierced the summer air with chants of "Freedom Now" and with the singing of Hatikvah and Hebrew folk songs, led by Gerson Rapoport of Northport, as they stood clustered behind police barricades strung with placards demanding human rights for Soviet Jews.

Included among the vigil participants were Congressman Raymond McGrath, Presiding Supervisor of the Town of Hempstead, Thomas Gulotta, New York State Senator Carol Berman Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon, Ann Gold and Donald DeRiggi of the Glen Cove City Council, and Judge Ralph Yachnin of the District Court of Nassau County.

Congressman McGrath stated, "The Russians will not destroy the Jews by destroying their resolve in the Soviet Union. Tonight demonstrates our commitment, demonstrates our resolve that those people whose lives depend on one letter, one document, one notification to end their suffering, that we will not fail." Presiding Supervisor Gulotta told those assembled, "Just let it be known to all of those behind those iron fences, that are so very symbolic, that as long as there be one person of Jewish faith that does not share that freedom and liberty that is natural born, then we will stick together and we will not rest until those freedoms and those liberties are restored."

Rabbi Bernard Stefansky of Temple Beth El of Patchogue, Rabbi Bruce Ginsburg of Bethpage Jewish Community Center and Rabbi Yehuda Kelemer of Young Israel of West Hempstead explained the meaning of Tisha B'Av and the ramifications to those nations who have chosen to destroy their Jewish population. Rabbi Stefansky noted, "No nation on the face of this earth has ever survived in history that has mistreated its Jews."

Throughout the vigil, the underlying theme was freedom of the Jewish people. "L'shana habaa b'Yerushalayem." "Next year in Jerusalem," the universal chant of freedom of the Jewish people.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

VENERABLE SKIP MONTEFORTE'S MESSAGE: 'A fanatic is one who can't change his mind and won't change the subject.' Old Saying.

Summer Solstice, yes, that's what we call our Lodge's picnic to be held on Sunday, August 7th, at Eisenhower Park, from early morning to late evening. There will be plenty of food, plenty of beverages, plenty of leisure-filled hours and plenty of camaraderie at this picnic, so why not call Tony Sica (796-8789), the Chairman, and submit your name. Tickets sell at $5 for members and their immediate families, with children under 12 years being admitted free and now we have relaxed the conditions to attend by inviting brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law also, who will be charged $7 and their children will pay $3 if over 12 years of age. Coffee and buns will be provided in the early morning and Joe Crivella will give this activity his undivided attention. Please note that you cannot attend this picnic, at random you must have your name submitted. The deadline for tickets is August 1st, and Tony Sica will be at the Galileo Lodge after 6:00 P.M. selling tickets. For a day of relaxation and good, old summer fun, how can you beat this picnic.

Another activity that comes under the heading of pleasure and relaxation is the Ladies Auxiliary's presentation of the 1983 'Foolies Follies', under the supervision of Sue Laurenti (931-0036) and assisted by Chairlady Monteforte (938-9536). Tickets will sell at $10 per person, a very reasonable fee that, including the show, also entitles you to a delicious hot dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and terrific music from Mark, a leading L.I. disc jockey. Tickets will be available on Wednesday, the 31st of August, and then on every Thursday night after that. Dolores Look (822-5520) and Theresa Gatto (433-6708) will also sell tickets at the Galileo Lodge, from 6 to 10 P.M. Tess Clampett and Odelia Ricca will assist backstage and Florence Perotti will be in charge of Costume Design. The 'Follies' is a delightfully funny revue that features all aspects of show business and is designed primarily to tickle your funny bone far beyond expectations. Please remember that tickets for this particular sell very quickly, so tickets are offered on a 'first-come-first-served' basis.

Another activity presented by the Galileo Lodge for your enjoyment and education is the Old-Fashion Italian Wedding Dinner to be held on Saturday, the 27 of August. Tickets sell at $10 per person, a nominal fee that offers you, besides the mock version of the old-fashion Italian wedding, a hot dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music from a leading L.I. disc jockey. Armand Del Cioppo is the chairman for this activity and he is now selling tickets for the event. Call him at 938-5052. Please note that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night at the Galileo Lodge's scholarship recipients for 1983 will be on hand to receive their awards. So for a mid-summer night's activity that is deeply entrenched in fun and relaxation, this event should be on your 'must-attend' list.

Another notice to potential beauty queens, and I'm sure that every young lady would like to be one, is that applications are now available and just call venerable Skip Monteforte (938-9535) who will assist you. And, of course, for the late Fall season, the Ladies Auxiliary also will present a Dinner Show to be 'chaired' by Mary Monteforte (938-9536) and included in this activity will be a play entitled 'Only Game In Town'. Then on November 11th, the Ladies Auxiliary will again present a Fashion Show. So keep attuned to this column for more information on these activities.

A very hearty congratulations to Rocky and Millie Lombardo as they will celebrate 18 years of wedded bliss on July 24th. And then on July 27th, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Governale celebrate 43 years of wedded happiness, another sincerest congratulations to them from the Galileo Lodge.
