

Sanitation Collection Schedule

The Town of Oyster Bay sanitation collection schedule will be modified in observance of the Monday, September 1st, Labor Day holiday, according to Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan. This covers the hamlet of Hicksville.

"Residents who normally have collection on Monday will receive a special pickup on Tuesday, September 2nd," Hogan stated. "Tuesday collections will be made on Wednesday, September 3rd."

Hogan noted that all Town offices will be closed on Labor Day, but all park and beach facilities will be open. He added that there are no special restrictions on hours of operation for businesses.

Greek Festival

The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church of Hicksville will hold its annual Festival on September 5, 6, & 7, 1986.

Visit us and enjoy the delicious food and pastries of Greece. Sip its delicious wine. Have fun playing the games. Browse through our boutique, containing jewelry, crafts, records, etc. Most of all share the spirit of being Greek through our music and dance. Performing through the Festival will be the Hellenic Dancers of Hicksville. This group is comprised of children from age six to eighteen, all of whom are members of the Holy Trinity Community. They performed on television, at Eisenhower Park, the Nassau Coliseum and the Statue of Liberty.

Remember, September 5, 6, & 7, 1986. Admission is free. Come dance with us.

Sci - tax Spirals Down

As reported in the Hicksville Illustrated News in supporting a yes vote on the Hicksville School District Budget has spiraled down from the original tax increase stated at the time of the vote.

School officials have now revised down from $1.72 to $1.52 the rate per 100 dollars of assessed valuation based on the August release of the hamlets assessed valuation by Nassau County.

As the figures are more closely analyzed there is a possibility of an additional five to ten percent reduction according to Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Catherine Fenton.

Hicksville gained more than 11 million dollars in assessments based on the large amount of commercial building during 1985.

However, the total taxable figure only rose $850,174 because the Town Board of Oyster Bay refuses the Hicksville School District request to drop tax abatements.

Garden City rose 12 million dollars and advanced its total taxable base by $1,400,000.

The superintendent indicated the biggest break will be given to residential homeowners.

Rent payers, whose landlords pass along tax hikes, will not receive much benefit.

The law allows the superintendent and school boards to apply different tax rates in residential, apartments, commercial and utilities classifications.

Fire Department Labor Day

The Hicksville Fire Department annual Labor Day Celebration will begin with a carnival starting August 26 to Sept. 1 in the rear of the Mid Island Shopping Plaza.

The parade will be held on Sunday, August 31 at 5:00 p.m. The parade route is as follows: Marie St. to Jerusalem Ave., south on Jerusalem to Old Country Rd. East on Old Country Rd. to Broadway. North on Broadway to West John St., then west on West John to the entrance to Mid Island Plaza. The parade route ends at the carnival.

On Monday, Sept. 1 at 10:00 a.m. the annual Tournament & Drill will be held on West Barclay St. off Jerusalem Ave.

Hicksville Native Survives Crash Into Lake Michigan

Frank (Francis) Sheridan, who grew up on McKinley Avenue, Hicksville, survived a harrowing plunge into the waters of Lake Michigan when the motor on his private Cessna 182 failed.

He was returning home from a flying vacation to the Rocky Mountain states with his friend and partner, Raymond Hanney of Floral Park, when the accident occurred.

Soon after takeoff on the final leg home from Chicago Airport, quick decisions were called for when the engine failed.

Sheridan spotted a space between two yachts sailing on Lake Michigan and ditched the disabled aircraft in rough water between the boats.

The plane fortunately did not flip over allowing a quick escape.

Departure from the plane was not without problems. On descending Sheridan followed the necessary escape procedure and checked both of the plane's doors.

However, on impact Sheridan's door jammed and he had to scramble to the other side as the waters rushed in.

Neither flyer was hurt. The plane sunk to the bottom of Lake Michigan some fifty-five feet below the surface.

There had been time to radio a distress call. Both were picked up by one of the nearby yachts and were quickly taken ashore by Chicago police.

With all luggage lost the two flew home on American Airlines. When the airline crew was appraised about the lack of luggage, royal first-class accommodations were extended. The two Long Islanders were treated royally.

Sheridan averted a disaster as he called upon all the skills acquired in twenty years of flying.

Graduating from Hicksville High School he assumed directorship of his father's live Maine lobster business supplying Long Island restaurants and fish markets.

He moved from that enterprise some years ago establishing an oil distributor business on Nassau's south shore.

Married to the former Madeline Naso of Hicksville he lives in Massapequa. They have four daughters and a son.

Hicksville Youth Council Honors Siegfried Widder

On Sunday, Sept. 28, the Board of Directors of the Hicksville Youth Council will honor Siegfried Widder for his years of service to the community and its young people. A special volunteer recognition award will also be presented to Jane Schreiber, a Hicksville resident who has served as coordinator of the Park Avenue Watch Group for the past several years. Both awards will be presented at a cocktail reception to be held from 1:30-5:30 at Antun's in Hicksville.

Sieg is well known to many of us through his many years as a member of various civic and community organizations such as Kiwanis, the Chamber of Commerce, Boy Scouts and the Hicksville Community Council. He has also been a long time friend and supporter of the programs of the Youth Council and has recently joined its Board of Directors.

The volunteer recognition award is being given to Jane for her tireless energy as coordinator of the Park Avenue Group of the Hicksville Neighborhood Watch since October of 1982, our oldest watch group. As coordinator, Jane has kept her neighbors and members of the Park Avenue Group motivated as well as active during the period when funding has ended and there was no staff person to assist her. She is truly an outstanding volunteer and very deserving of such an honor.

Please plan to join the Board of Directors and staff of the Hicksville Youth Council in honoring Sieg and Jane on Sept. 28, from 1:30-5:30 at Antun's. Tickets may be obtained by calling the Youth Council at 822-7688.

A Message From Our School Superintendent Dr. Catherine J. Fenton

The doors of our schools are about to open with teachers anxious to educate Hicksville's children. The Board of Education has set increased academic achievement as its goal. We are ready to do our part; but in order to be successful we need you to help.

Homework is the key to successful achievement. The Regents Action Plan states that homework must be done if a student is to be successful in school. This is particularly true at the junior and senior high school level.

To help parents monitor their children's progress, exam weeks and report card dates have been highlighted in our school community calendar. During the week before exams, a student's social life should be curtailed and class notes, previous assignments, and course work should be reviewed.

Parents should expect their children to bring home school books. If books are not brought home, you can be sure homework is not being done.

Homework assignments should be checked each night. No adult has to check or mark the work, just see if work is produced. The report card grade will show the quality of work. Consistently completed homework will result in increased achievement.

By working together we can assist Hicksville's children in achieving a higher level of success than previously attained. It is a joint effort and we must all pull in the same direction.

The first site plan to be considered will be for a change of zone from residence 'D' to 'R-O' residence-office district at 378 South Oyster Bay Road, Hicksville. Venditto stated.

The meeting will be held in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, beginning at 8 p.m.

THERE ARE MANY lists put out about Long Island Farmstands. None lists the Happy Time Farm in Hicksville. It is the last remaining roadside dispenser of vegetables and fruit that once prevailed in this area decades ago.

The stand, which attracts an appreciative clientele, is on Stewart Avenue (Old Dutch Broadway) just a half mile west of Dutch Lane School. It is next to the site of the former Boos Nursery, which was recently leveled to make way for an office or factory building.

For older residents, it is just across the street from the Parkway Community Church. It will be remembered that most of the congregation of the Hicksville Dutch Reformed Church which had the beautiful octagon edifice at the Old Newbridge Road and Jerusalem Avenue junction merged with their fellow Levittown worshippers.

Forty years ago the Reverend Stricker was the minister, famous for the publishing of his ecclesiastical writings.

The Swierupski Family Farm Stand on Cherry Lane, which for many years sold home-grown vegetables, is not open this season.

It was definitely a Board of Education family affair at Hicksville High School graduation ceremonies this year. Board Secretary Daniel C. MacBride's brother Michael (left) and President William P. Bennett's daughter Catherine (right) were members of the Class of 1986, and former Trustee Arlene Rudin's son Ira also graduated on Sunday.

Hicksville Elk's Proudest Moment

The recent 122nd Grand Lodge session of The Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks of The United States of America in Denver, Colorado, ended with the installation of Peter T. Affatato, a Past Exalted Ruler of Hicksville Lodge #1931, and president of the Nassau County Bar Association, as the 1986-87 Grand Exalted Ruler. This occasion honored the Hicksville Lodge to such a degree, that it will probably never again happen in our lifetimes.

As the highest chair one can achieve in his lodge is Exalted Ruler, the highest office in the Order nationally is the Grand Exalted Ruler. There are over 151 lodges in New York alone and over 85,000 Elks. In the country there are over 2,300 lodges and over 1,500,000 members. The Elks is the largest fraternal order in the nation.

The distinguished Senator from New York, Alfonse D'Amato (himself an Elk) traveled to Denver on behalf of the 85,000 Elks in the Empire State, and delivered an inspiring nominating speech at the Convention Center. It was truly an honor for Hicksville Lodge and all New York State Elks to have an outstanding public official nominate our candidate for this high office.

The new Grand Exalted Ruler from Hicksville Lodge has chosen for his slogan "Elkdom—Brotherhood in Action," and this truly exemplifies what Elkdom is all about.

Deep in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia lies the Elks National Home, which serves over 250 senior members of the order. These fine gentlemen, in the twilight of their lives, have left their former homes and have taken residence with their brother Elks from every state of the nation. They live independently and with dignity in a home where they are constantly attended by dedicated servants and concerned personnel.

The Elks have also pledged, "that so long as there are veterans in our hospitals, The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will never forget them." Each lodge throughout our nation has active veterans' programs providing laughter and fun to thousands of men and women who gave all they could, so we would remain a free people.

The "Great Heart of Elkdom," its National Foundation, spreads millions of dollars each year to needy students, and gifted young men and women who will lead our country in the future. One of the more recent recipients of an Elks Scholarship graduated at the top of his class at West Point. On a more local level, the winner of Hicksville Lodge's "Student of the Year" was from Hicksville's High School, Janet Maser.

The Elks provide more than "Lip Service." They pledged $1,000,000 to the restoration of the Statue of Liberty and wound up delivering $1,380,000. The Elks National Drug Awareness Program is a vital and growing source of information to the communities of America. No public enemy has the ability to threaten and destroy the lives of our young people faster than this plague on our society. The program is aimed at children and young adults from the 4th grade to the 9th grade levels.

Across America, Elk Youth Activities have been recognized for their impact on boys and girls of all ages. Elks sponsor scouting troops, bowling, baseball, football, and basketball leagues. They reach millions of children each year through one activity or another.

The Elks have donated over $61 million in charitable, educational, welfare, and patriotic activities in the year of 1985. The students of our communities received over $2 million in scholarship funds, over 3,000,000 boys and girls were touched by Elkdom in the national "Hoop Shoot" contest.

In Hicksville last year they held a "Safe Kids Fingerprinting Program" in conjunction with Ringling Brothers Circus, in which hundreds of children received copies of their prints, which their parents filed for safekeeping.

In New York state, the Elks' major project is Cerebral Palsy Home Care. Prior to the Elks getting involved, many people throughout the state had family members with C.P., but no way to get them to the necessary care facility, and in some cases, not even the knowledge that care was available. Now, annually, New York Elks give just under half a million dollars for C.P. home care. Elks care—Elks share.

Hicksville Lodge had a "double honor" in July. Besides being the home of the Grand Exalted Ruler, it is the home of the new District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, Ralph A. Doxey, also a Past Exalted Ruler of Hicksville Lodge #1931. Hicksville is one of eight Elk lodges in the Center Island District. The others are Great Neck, Glen Cove, Port Washington, Lynbrook, Hempstead, Freeport/Baldwin and Long Beach.

For any further information, contact your local Elks lodge. They consist of members of the community like yourself, who believe that "being good is fine—but doing good is even better."

A Letter from Lulubelle...

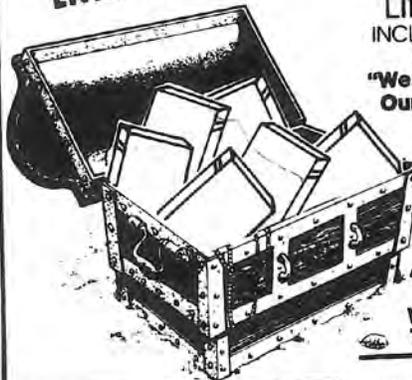

...Recently, as I was walking up and down the super clean aisles of the beautiful Publix supermarket in Florida—and wishing so much that I could have my market give the same wonderful service (bag boys at every check out and then boys to push the carts to the car, unload, and they are not even permitted to accept a tip!)—it's heavenly—but anyway, my thoughts drifted back to the grocery store that I went to with my Mother when I was little. Do you remember? ... it was a place where self-service had not yet been invented. You went to the counter and the nice grocer "waited on" you. He went for each item that you needed—butter he cut from a large wooden tub filled to the brim and resting on a bed of ice—and he was always so pleased when he cut a chunk and it was almost exactly the two pounds you had ordered—it was a kind of game he played to see how close he could come. ... And then, the sugar was in a large barrel on the floor and was weighed out in a kind of scoop and carefully poured into a brown bag. The coffee was in burlap bags and you ordered it ground to your own taste—and the smell was delicious! ... There was no weighing of bananas—they were sold by the dozen so it was smart to choose a hand with large bananas. ... And then if you wanted canned things or a box of cornflakes, the grocer had a long wand and it had a kind of "grabber" on the end and he could reach things even from the top shelf. ... The meat was in a different store—the butcher, not the grocer, sold meat. ... and how I remember that my Mother did not want the chuck chopped which was sitting already ground in the butcher's case—she wanted it freshly chopped, so, when she sent me to the store, she would say, "Tell the butcher one and a half pounds of chuck, and if he says, 'do you want it chopped?', you say, 'no'—then he brings it out and weighs it, you say, 'Oh, I told you wrong, she does want it chopped'—and, although I never did it, I understand that some mothers sent along an onion to be chopped with the meat. ... I always liked to go to the butcher with my Mother because our butcher always had the pocket of his white butcher coat filled with thick slices of "small baloney"—and no baloney ever tasted quite so good.

Yours, Lulubelle

Jamaica Comes To Hicksville

Oyster Bay Town Board approved construction of 25 mother-daughter, two family houses running east from South Broadway in a cul-de-sac. For almost twenty years everything was zoned for one story high — including business. The 25 houses are impacted on very small parcels and are jammed close together. Long time Hicksville residents on large parcels have a very hard time getting a variance to reduce 110 feet to 105 feet.

The usual answer is "no" followed by "hire a lawyer and sue us, then you will get the variance." Hicksville school district has no figures on the impact of children going to Lee Avenue School. An estimate is that the two family houses will house 125-150 children. The houses reportedly sold in the quarter million dollar range which should add some 3 million dollars for tax assessment consideration.

Dutch Lane Summer Program

On Aug. 5, 1986, the Dutch Lane School Summer School Program was pleased to welcome members of the Hicksville Fire Dept. who demonstrated the use of two fire trucks operated by the department. Lt. Ray Seeley, Lt. Brian Kohn and Fireman Robert McAvooy thrilled students and faculty alike with an ascent on the Hook and Ladder apparatus. The children then explored the water truck by boarding and examining it at close range.

Cooperation between organizations such as the Fire Dept. and School District extend the learning experiences of our children into their community for a more enriched education.

On U.S.S. Forrestal

Gregory M. Vazquez, ABHP, is on the high seas on the U.S.S. Forrestal. He joined the Navy after graduating from Hicksville High in 1977. Word of the Hicksville Illustrated News has reached him at his home port of Miami, Florida and he requests that he receive copies.

Alaska Trip

Fran and Joe Kenyon took a Tauck Tour trip to Alaska in July and two days later Jerry Purick formerly of Hicksville and now of Point Lookout followed. Jerry is the wife of the late Herb who was a CPA in Hicksville for many years. Her brothers-in-law are Msgr. Elwood A. Purick (Brooklyn); the late Msgr. Myron Purick (Bayshore) and the late Msgr. Lawrence Purick (Brooklyn); and sister-in-law Sr. Thomas Edmund, a Josephite nun in Brentwood.

They started their tour in Seattle, then went to Fairbanks where the weather was 70°. While there they went to a gold mine and Alaska University. They then flew to Barrows Point (top of the world). It was foggy and devoid of trees. Milk was $6 a gallon, bread $4 and a pizza pie $43.00. They keep their food outside in natural refrigeration. The homes are built up because the ground is perma frost. They were 1100 miles from the North Pole and 500 miles from Russia. Population there is 2500. Back to Fairbanks for a Salmon Bake and show at the Palace Saloon. They saw grizzly bears, caribou, dall sheep and moose at Denali Park but couldn't see Mt. McKinley because of the forest fire. On the way back to Anchorage they saw Portage Glacier (the most beautiful ice blue color). Air and water were the only means of travel in Juneau & Skagway. They flew so low over the mountains they could see the whales and the bald eagles. They all agree that the tour was absolutely beautiful and would recommend it to everyone.

When Jerry arrived home she helped her daughter, Cathleen and son-in-law Philip Santolemma of Cherry Lane, Hicksville, celebrate daughter Melissa's fifth birthday.

Mrs. Stephens is a registered nurse and her husband is employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. They will make their home in the Syracuse area.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hogan of Hicksville. He is the principal of Hicksville High School.

Police Report

The Eighth Precinct has reported the following:

• August 10 - A gas station on South Broadway was burglarized. Entry was made through a rear door. The loss included $75,178 worth of cartons of cigarettes.

Gladys Kist Retires

Gladys Kist (nee Dempsey) was recently guest of honor at a party held at the Robertson Estate in Lloyd Harbor. The occasion marked her retirement as Meetings Coordinator for Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory.

As Meetings Coordinator, Gladys worked closely with Nobel Laureate James D. Watson, Director of Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, and many of the leading national and international research scientists in organizing symposia on cancer, neurobiology, DNA, and viruses. Many important breakthroughs regarding cloning, genetic engineering, vaccines and AIDS were reported at these prestigious conferences.

Prior to working at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, Gladys spent 15 years with Gertz as a supervisor, two years working at Human Resources Center as administrative assistant to the Director of Development and teaching shorthand at Briarcliffe School for a year. Born and raised in Hicksville (Class of '41), Gladys and Ed plan to tour the United States in their motor home visiting many of her scientific friends.

NEARLY COMPLETED is the new La Caravelle Restaurant in Hicksville located on North Broadway. Expensive and extensive renovation has turned the old Halfway Tavern into a luxurious dining building. The Halfway (between Jericho-Hicksville) was endeared to many a local over the years. It originally was on the east side of Broadway back in the 1930-40s trek to the ice ponds of Jericho.

Take The Princeton Review's simple test.

In May of his junior year in high school, Joe's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) score was 100 points below the average at the college of his dreams. When he took the test again in November, Joe's score shot up 200 points. He was accepted at his dream school, met the ideal girl, and was headed for happiness.

It can be inferred from the passage that between May and November, Joe

A Had received a heavy blow to the head that caused his true genius to emerge.

B Was kidnapped by space aliens and replaced on earth by an android.

C Had communicated directly with God.

D Took The Princeton Review SAT Prep Course, where over 10,000 other students have improved their scores by an average of 150 points (combined Math & Verbal).

Hicksville Recollections

THIS story is true. My beloved late friend Dr. John McGovern, Principal of East Street School some twenty years back, always told it with relish.

John ran a tight student concerned educational school and he was always considerate and understanding of all his staff including his clerical aids.

He was however, incredulous in sorting out this tale used to explain an inconvenient tardiness.

One of the staff had had a history of collecting numerous Ping Pong dents on her automobile. So much so her husband was reluctant to purchase a new car.

An expiring life of an old vehicle led to the agreement that a new one had to be purchased. Promises of careful parking in malls and business sections to protect it from pitting artworks was the convincer.

It was a delightful bright red first class Volkswagon in the day of the "Bug". A shopping trip to Friendly Frost was required. The store adjacent to the Long Island Railroad tracks, in New Cassel, was located on the first right turn road over the Old Country Road Parkway Bridge.

At that time there was a large macadam parking area there. Mindful of her promise the Volkswagon was parked a good distance from the store. A couple of trailers were devoid of activity and a few large wooden spikes driven into the earth angelwise presented no concern.

After some time the lady emerged from the store. On the long walk back she noticed that additional trailers had parked near her car, then to her horror she saw her brand new auto with the hood completely caved in. As anguished shrieks pierced the air the manager flew out of his office trailer. "Lady, lady, easy, we will pay for it, we will pay, we will pay," he consoled. She replied, "I parked way out here to be safe, what happened?" He replied, "We are the advance for a circus performance here, didn't you see the trailer signs and the pitched stakes for the tent?" "When unloaded, our prize elephant, who is taught to sit on a red pillow box after the opening parade, simply went over to your red car and proceeded to go into his act."

Things calmed a little and the no longer beautiful but operable Bug set off to take the lady to a session of explanation with her husband.

Approaching the light at Old Country Road and Levittown Parkway an accident was observed, scooting to the right she turned onto Levittown Parkway. The jaunty driver was soon waved to the side of the road by a Nassau County Patrol car.

"Lady its very serious to leave the scene of an accident, you will have to come with me" he said.

"Oh Officer, I wasn't involved in that accident." "Really, look at your car." "No Sir, I can explain that, an elephant sat on my hood!" "Okay, lets get to Headquarters."

A short while after the telephone rang in a Levittown home. A dumbfounded husband heard his wife exclaim she was at the courthouse while panting the details.

After all explanations, the husband was understanding and forgiving. It took John a bit longer. He finally accepted the story as fact when he read an account of "The Elephant and the Bug" in the Reader's Digest — where it was first reported.

Zero Interest Bonds

We are in an unusual period of time in the financial marketplace. New investment products have been introduced in unprecedented numbers. Just to list them would exhaust our space.

One of the most successful and innovative issues is zero-coupon bonds. They are offered in many varieties — U.S. Treasury, corporate, and municipal, and are sold under a wide variety of names.

Because the payoff is far into the future, you pay less for them. They are discounted according to a schedule that is determined by the interest rate of the bond and the time to maturity. The higher the interest rate and the longer the time, the deeper the discount. A 10% bond gives a deeper discount than an 8%, and 20 years a deeper discount than 10 years. The financial schedule is called the present value of a dollar.

Zeros increase in value each year because you get closer to your payoff. This increase is taxed by the IRS even though you received no cash dividend.

Are they safe investments? Yes, depending on the type you purchase: U.S. Treasury zeros are absolutely safe because at maturity U.S. government has guaranteed that the dollars will be paid. Municipals and corporates are as safe as the issuer. Incidentally, municipal zeros do not have the tax liability because they have the same rules as an outright purchase of municipals.

Any risk attached to the zeros occurs if you have to sell them before maturity. They will be redeemed according to the prevailing market place interest rate.

You might be asking yourself at this point, what good are the things if I do not receive interest. I pay taxes on the value increase, and it can fluctuate in value if interest rates change!

They are excellent vehicles for IRA's and Keogh's, and for financing a child's education. IRA's and Keogh's are tax deferred so the tax consequences are unimportant.

For a child's education, you gift the child the money — up to $10,000 per person per year — and buy zero U.S. treasuries in the child's name and under the child's social security number. The maturity dates are selected for the child's college years. The tax consequences are minimum (what other income do most children have?) and the payoff is assured.

You might ask — how deep are the discounts? An 8% - $1000 treasury bond which will mature in 15 years will cost about $750 with all commissions. That's a deep discount.

One last word — most brokerage houses require the purchase of five bonds of $1000 each. Also, shop around among the brokerage houses — there is a difference in prices for the service. Finally, there is a Federal Savings bond that has a FSILC government insured "INCA" — insured certificate of accrual — minimum investment $1000, 5 year minimum, interest compounded daily (giving a higher yield) and no commission. Since I do not plug any company in these columns, send me a self-addressed stamped envelope and I will tell you where to get an "INCA".

Doctor Frey is a professor of investments and finance at C.W. Post College on Long Island. If you wish a copy of his "Ten Rules to Get Rich and Keep It, Too," send a self-addressed, large envelope to Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501, Attn: Dr. Frey.

DONOVAN REPORT

REAL ESTATE
KAREN DONOVAN

BETTER SAFE...

Would you put your address and phone number in the newspaper and invite absolute strangers to come over and go through your closets? That's what you do when you advertise your own home for sale. There's no buffer between you and the "visitor," who may be a bona fide prospect — or may not.

It's safer, smarter — and a whole lot easier — to let real estate professionals screen the prospects for you. We bring them to our office for a qualifying interview to find out just what they want in a home and what they can afford to spend for it. We ask probing questions and demand answers. Only when we are convinced this is a live prospect will we bring the customer to your house. You don't have to be home alone with a stranger; you don't even have to stay home at all!

You get more than safety, of course. You get expert merchandising of your property and, usually, a better price.

Sell your house the smart way — list with:

.....from a few years back

YESTERDAY on CBS "Evening News," Walter Cronkite briefly yielded the spotlight to Harry Reasoner who read the "eulogy" (wrong word, but correct spirit) he'd written to Ian Fleming. We're sure James Bond fans will agree that Mr. Reasoner's tribute is eminently worthy of reprint.

"None of us ever expected to have to write Ian Fleming's obituary so soon. It is a real shock, as if 'Tarzan' had died. It is really as if the grownups had won because we all assumed, all the time, that Fleming thought he was James Bond... just as each of us did.

"We all sat back and worried about our cigars and our extra drink and felt a little fatigued at the thought of love. Bond went ahead with all the things the grownups said were impractical: He smoked like Peter Lorre; drank like Humphrey Bogart; ate like Sydney Greenstreet; used up girls like Errol Flynn... then went out to a steam bath and came out looking like Clark Gable.

"It was all so reassuring that we never stopped to think that all these people are dead—until Fleming died. What he was was a facile writer who created the dumbest Secret Service agent in history. And he seemed to believe that brand names would forestall Fate.

"But to a lot of us, he was also a symbol of defiance of growing up... and when you're in your 40s, as most of Fleming's fans are, this becomes kind of a critical symbol.

"With Tarzan now a grandfather and Fleming dead, there is no one else in sight. The thing that scares us most about today's new heroes is that they are all too clearly mortal.

"In a world when almost all the writers are so grown up and so dull that they take both the Russians and sex seriously, we will miss Mr. Fleming.

...This is 008," Harry Reasoner signed-off.

Letters From Our Readers

This letter to the Town of Oyster Bay Board of Appeals is addressed to "All Board of Appeals Members & Interested Parties:"

It appears Weingarten Bros. (Robin Hood Houses) are requesting an amendment on (Lot 244-Sec 45, Blk. 66).

It has been alleged that after the variance was issued and approved in 1985, they again requested and took the plans out of town hall and revised them again without another hearing or approval. Can this be done after a variance was issued?

They were permitted to erect a south side chimney, against the recommendation of the Director, Robt. V. Close P.E., Bureau of Air Quality Mgmt., Nassau Co. Dept. of Health. Wherein, my chimney top faces north of the new construction into their south window, where fumes and soot will enter.

I want the potential owners to be aware of these conditions before contract and certificate of occupancy is given.

Mr. Corbin received from me (a letter) via Certified Mail, regarding Mr. Weingarten cutting my fence with a saw, his contractor cutting branches off trees from my property overlapping this site. I either have been ruefully ignored or he just refuses to answer my letter; if this was considered "mischief, criminal conduct."

With little regard to our neighborhood, they have rented a small house for $1,200 a month to a group of what appears to be new immigrants, and unable to understand the laws. There are approximately 9 to 10 adults, 1 baby, occasionally 2 or 3 children (4 or 5 are women/4 or 5 are men). Approximately, it totals 15 people at times. Is this considered "slum lords" or "absentee landlords?" They are on the construction site often and talk to these people, so they must have knowledge of their presence.

I would appreciate this letter being presented and read by all Board of Appeals members, and at the public hearing, so whoever buys this property, and the taxpayers, are aware of the conditions appearing in the Town of Oyster Bay.

This letter gives me the opportunity to express my concern over the health of one family member who has a lung disease, and may be affected by these conditions, and the health and safety of my neighbors; as a taxpayer, I feel the town fathers are ignoring my plea or not even trying to follow up on these conditions.

Mrs. F. Whaley
Hicksville

Dear Editor:

I think this paper is great; it really puts us in touch with the "old timers" and lets us know what is happening to those we grew up with. It really is a Hicksville paper!

I don't know if it's practical, but perhaps there could be a section in the paper which notes the names and addresses of old Hicksvillites. I'd love to be able to contact good friends that I have lost track of over the years. You know, as you grow older, you seem to want to get back to your roots more and I guess such a column might do this.

Please keep up the good work!!!!

Best regards, Gladys Kiss

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hicksville Illustrated News will be glad to publish requests for contacts with old friends and neighbors as a public service. Please forward your name and address and the name of the person you would like to make contact with.

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been a resident of Hicksville for ten years. I live across from the Foodtown Shopping Center located between Woodbury Road and South Oyster Bay Road. My question is: how can we go about getting the shopping center cleaned up—it is an eyesore indeed. Is it the responsibility of the store owners or town? Isn't there a way a fence can be put up so in fact we can sit in front of our homes without looking at the graffiti walls of the American Drive-In Cleaners or have to put up with all the flyers on our front lawns?

Let's keep Hicksville looking beautiful! I would appreciate a response in regard to this matter.

Thanks very much.

Mrs. Lorraine Agosto, Hicksville

TOM CRUISE

TOP GUN

Cliches fly as fast as the Navy jet fighters in this flagwaving, supercharged, film about elite pilots. Tom Cruise is the ace "Maverick" who is as arrogant in the air as he is with women — especially Kelly McGillis as his unlikely civilian instructor. Their inevitable love affair strikes as many sparks as a wet sponge. The serious effort is in the slick dog fights. When the planes land, the movie plods. (PG)

GOING THE DISTANCE WITH US COULD BRING YOU $25,200 CLOSER TO SCHOOL.

If you're right out of high school and headed for additional schooling, one route you might consider is the Army. It's a route that will bring you up to $25,200 for educational assistance, as well as valuable skill training, if you qualify.

It's available through the GI Bill Plus the Army College Fund. As a soldier, you contribute $100 a month from your first full 12 months paychecks (for a total of $1,200). The government and the Army contribute the rest (up to $9,600 from the government and up to $14,400 from the Army).

The skill training you receive will challenge you. It'll give you new knowledge, experience and pride. It's tough, but it's worth it.

If you can go the distance, we'll put you closer. With the GI Bill Plus the Army College Fund. Call your local Army Recruiter for more information.

Year-Round Weeding Pays Off

Weeds are the bane of any gardener's life. It is important to keep weeds under control during the growing season, and to control them the rest of the year to make gardening easier the next spring and thereafter.

Most people get tired of weeding toward the end of the summer and allow weeds to grow and seed. Since one annual weed can produce from 1,000 to over 200,000 seeds per plant, depending on the species and growing conditions, a weedy garden in the fall leads to even more weeding the following year.

HICKSVILLE SPORTS

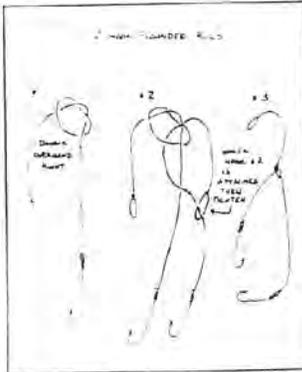

The Chum Pot

Fluking is still good, with the size improving every day. Captree area is excellent from the bridge to the inlet. Incoming and high tide seem to be the best times. Snappers are just about everywhere, with Jones Beach and Captree piers doing well. Crabbing has been hit and miss, some days doing better than others. Seaford area docks and piers seem to be doing well early a.m.'s on incoming tides. Fluking from Seaman's Neck Park piers has been doing very well, using live killies. If you can't get out in a boat try this area; you will be surprised at the amount of fluke around here. Jones Beach area is getting bigger fluke, with the area of the Coast Guard Station to the inlet proving best. Try the sand bar across from the Coast Guard Station, just off the summer shacks.

Took a trip to Sandy Hook last week for some fluke fishing. New Jersey now has a 13" limit and that's about what we caught. Maybe now they will see some big fluke, since the small ones will have to be returned. Next year New Jersey goes to a 14" limit which will be the same as New York (it's about time).

While we are talking about limits, I hear that New York is going to put an 8" limit on flounders; this too is needed, since no one ever throws those little flounders back. Probably 10" limit would be better, but we shall see what happens in the future. Get those black fish rigs ready. In the coming issues there will be some tips for flounder fishing.

(Keep that bait long and flowing and throw those little ones back.)

Industrial Softball Tourney
