School Board Adopts

Report on the Superintendent's Committee on reorganizing the Hicksville School District into a full four year high school and a two year Middle School—Junior High School. The vote was 4-2 with one abstention. Actual implementation is still confronted by costs and a substantial core of parental objections. Consultant fees to conduct instructional workshops on the merits of the Middle School will be $20,000.00. Three assistant principals will be hired and the planned reduction of seven junior high teachers in 1987 will be dropped. The current thorny problem of reduced bus service in the district will be exacerbated by the projected need for additional bus service for freshmen. That will be required to accomplish the transition.

Mike Luongo

will be representing Hicksville on the National Junior Soccer team. His selection came after a two week tryout at the National Soccer Center in Colorado. He will tour with the team, later in the year, when it plays teams in the Caribbean Islands. Backed by this success, Luongo will make a bid for the United States Junior Soccer Team.

Mr. Luongo is the second Hicksville soccer player to achieve the National in four years. Dave Symth, the outstanding player in Nassau County, was a member of both the National and Junior Olympics team. Symth was elected captain of the Junior Olympic Club which toured Russia, Switzerland and Germany. He now attends the University of North Carolina.

Luongo's selection increases the list of prestigious honors bestowed on Hicksville athletes. Lorna Mund was designated All-American, this summer, for her scholastic swimming. Lacrosse player Jack Herzlinger came off the Most Valuable Attackman amongst 250 of the best players country-wide.

Stamping Out Rumor

A spokesman for Gillson Knitwear Manufacturing, West John Street, has told the Hicksville Illustrated News that its property has not been sold. Unconfirmed stories have been circulated throughout Hicksville that the Town of Oyster Bay had purchased the land, one block from the railroad station, for yet another parking lot in Hicksville for commuters outside the hamlet.

THE FACULTY AND STAFF at Trinity Lutheran School, 40 W. Nicholas Street are busy preparing for the opening of school on Wednesday, September 3. We look forward to another wonderful year. As we look back, we want to congratulate winners of special awards given at Trinity last spring. The photograph shows Walter Bukowski, David Kuck, Christopher Ziliotto, and John Russo, recipients of the American Legion Schools Award. Also shown is Mr. Richard Evers, Americanism Chairman and School Affairs Coordinator of the Charles Wagner Post, who presented the awards.

V.F.W. Contest

The summer is almost over and the kids will be back in school around Sept. 4 and our programs are in swing. Every year our Post and the Ladies Auxiliary sponsor a Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program for all the Schools in the Hicksville School District. This year's theme "The Challenge of American Citizenship."

It's open to all 10, 11, and 12 grade students in the Public, Parochial, and Private School's in the U.S. & Overseas. U.S. Citizenship is required.

If your children go to any school in the Hicksville area please have them mention this program to their teachers & principal. If they do not hear from us, have them contact me and I will send the material on the program. Special awards from V.F.W. Post 3211 and the Ladies Auxiliary for our Hicksville Grade School.

McKeon's, Hicksville

took the National championship of the ASA Class "C" slow-pitch tournament by edging Hampton, New Hampshire, 10-9, in the finals. The game was played at Baldwin Park. The victory concluded a three day, six game, no defeat breeze for the Hicksville club. American Concrete provided the hardest test. McKeon's represented the restaurant and bar located at the south end of New South Road, at the intersection of Bloomingdale and South Broadway. It is a gathering place for post game activities and enjoys a large clientele of Grumman executives, and other office and industry people, for lunch and dinner.

"First authorized in 1879, the stamps have been produced since then in a variety of denominations. They are being discontinued because of their limited use," he added.

Letters From Our Readers

To the Editor:

After more than 30 years of educating the public about hay fever, we find that more and more people have learned to rely on our pollen count. Hay fever victims tell us repeatedly they wait for the morning report before planning their day. A mold spore count is also available.

This year our pollen/mold spore count will continue through mid-October. Counts are given first thing in the morning at 9:00 a.m. every day of the week. To obtain the daily counts, phone (718) 470-7000.

As a public service, we also offer free pamphlets that help the sufferers understand their allergies and take precautions to alleviate their symptoms. One is about ragweed; the other about mold spores, a lesser known cause of respiratory allergies. Both are enclosed.

For additional information and story ideas, please call the Department of Public Affairs at (178) 470-8600.

Grace Kraskin, Director of Public Affairs

(A copy of this letter was sent to the Hicksville Board of Education).

Gentlemen:

I have just been informed that my daughter Marlina is no longer eligible to ride the school bus. Marlina will be entering fourth grade at East Street this September, but she is still only 8 years old. In the event that I am late or unable to take her to school she would have to cross Old Country Road by herself and without a crossing guard. I find this unthinkable!

Old Country and New South Road is a very dangerous crossing indeed! We get mail trucks, New Mark and Lewis trucks, Grumman traffic, Lilco traffic, and much more, especially at the hours of her crossing. My child will not be your first statistic! If there is a law that says that her safety is not a factor then that law should be changed. No one on earth has the right to tell me to put the life of my child on the line. It makes me shudder to think that I entrust my child to people who think that her safety is not a primary factor. I do not believe that anyone of you as parents would be willing to put your own children in jeopardy. So why are you asking me to do so?

I am now, also forced to give up my part time job, because I would not be getting home until 4:00 p.m. Therefore making it impossible to pick her up at 3:30 p.m. You are now turning my private life upside down. I will now worry about her safety and my family's financial status. I am faced with a lot of uncertainties. But I can tell you one thing for sure, there is no way that I will allow her to cross by herself even if it means keeping her at home.

We live in the highest taxed area in Hicksville. While our taxes keep going up every year we get less and less. The school tax keeps climbing but our children are being short changed. It's my belief that our children are this country's biggest assets. It is sad that this view is not shared by everyone, especially those in education.

Mrs. John Kittick Jr.

To The Editor:

Enclosed is a copy of the letter that I presented to the members of the Hicksville Board of Education on August 27. According to Mr. Bennett there is nothing they can do because the N.Y. State sets the boundaries. I spoke to Assemblyman Parola on August 28, and he said that it's true that the State sets the boundaries, but it's still within the jurisdiction of the Board to change it. Except that they would have to pay for it. For the few children that are involved this would not place a burden on our already highly taxed district. The second precinct tells me to write a letter requesting a crossing guard. They will then evaluate the situation and make a decision. But they can not promise me a guard because the budget would not allow it, and they are getting a lot of requests this year. I would appreciate it if you and your newspaper can help shed some light on this matter. Since everyone else seems to be passing the buck. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Nayda Kittick

Dear Mr. Howard Finnegan:

I want to applaud your new venture. I find the Hicksville Illustrated News both insightful and interesting to read.

As one who looks at Weedsville, U.S.A. (Aug. 28) - every working day, I want to support your editorial. Hicksville has always had the potential to be the creative center for Nassau County - a center for commerce, business and the arts. Political indifference is a poor excuse. Taxpayers should be aware of the situation and demand a change. Hicksville belongs to all of us, not just a few.

AT THE FIRE HOUSE, last week, for an inspection of the splendid equipment and quarters of the Hicksville Volunteer Fire Department, are these students from the Hicksville Schools Summer Education Program. Their visit was part of a sight-seeing tour of their community in the company of teacher Philip Bova (right), Dr. Kenneth Grill, J.H. School Psychologist and Mrs. Anna Christie, teacher's aide (second from left). Dick Evers, Gregory Museum Historian, led the tour of Hicksville landmarks.

Q. My 12-year-old son requires kidney dialysis. I understand that Medicare helps pay for dialysis. Does the fact that he's too young for Medicare disqualify him?

A. Medicare coverage is available to any insured worker who has permanent kidney failure, as well as to the spouse and children of such a worker. Check with any Social Security office to find out whether your son is eligible for Medicare.

Q. I applied for Social Security disability benefits 3 months ago, and I'm still waiting to find out if my application has been approved. I was told at the Social Security office that there's a 5-month waiting period before your benefits start. Does that mean I'll have to wait 5 more months even after I'm notified that I qualify?

A. No. The 5-month waiting period starts from the time you become disabled, no matter how long it takes for you to be notified about your eligibility.

Q. I have been a stamp collector for years. I buy and sell stamps all the time, and occasionally I turn a profit. It has occurred to me that I might be able to earn Social Security credit for this activity as self-employment income. Is that possible?

A. Self-employment income under Social Security refers to net earnings from a trade or business. An important criterion in determining if you are self-employed is whether you hold yourself out to the public as being in the business of buying and selling stamps. In general, a hobby like stamp collecting is not a trade or business.

Q. I am a Catholic priest who works with recent Hispanic immigrants to the United States. There's a great need among these people for information in the Spanish language about Social Security and related programs. Is such information available from the Government or any other source?

A. The Social Security Administration publishes about 30 pamphlets in Spanish that cover virtually every aspect of the Social Security, Medicare, and SSI programs. Free copies are available from any Social Security office.

Q. I receive both SSI checks and Social Security retirement checks. If my Social Security check increases automatically, do I have to report this as a change of income to Social Security?

A. No. Social Security knows about the increase in your Social Security check.

Q. Would a person who gets SSI have to report things he receives like food and clothing, despite the fact that they aren't money?

A. Yes. Under SSI, income is defined broadly to include items other than cash such as food and clothing.

Q. How much may a person own and still be eligible to receive SSI?

A. A single person may own as much as $1,700 in resources and still get SSI checks. The resource limit for a couple is $2,550. A person's home and the land it is on aren't counted in computing these amounts. Many other things a person owns do not count either. Check with any Social Security office for more information.

Q. I'm not eligible for Medicare but would like to buy it nevertheless. How much does it cost?

A. In 1986, the basic premium for Medicare hospital insurance is $214 a month. To buy hospital insurance, you also have to enroll in Medicare medical insurance. The basic premium for medical insurance is $15.50 a month.

Q. Does Medicare pay for a private hospital room?

A. No, not unless it is medically required. Medicare will cover a stay in a semiprivate room. If you prefer a private room, you may, of course, pay the difference in cost yourself.

ENJOYING A VISIT to Hicksville's cultural attraction, the magnificent replica of the Renaissance Florence "Gates of Paradise" by Ghiberti, at the Trinity Lutheran Church, are Mr. Philip Bova's students from the Hicksville Schools Summer Program. Dr. Kenneth Grill (rear) and Mrs. Anna Christie, teacher's aide (middle row, right) enjoyed the visit, as well.

Mercy League Ladies Enjoy A Night Out

From September to June many ladies volunteer their time to the Mercy League of Mercy Hospital. Among them are a group of the Glen Cove-Hicksville-Syosset ladies who donate their Saturday mornings for the operation of bingo at the Lion's Den in the Mid Island Plaza, Hicksville.

Chaired by Mary Sheehan of Hicksville they have worked to raise money to purchase equipment, etc. for Mercy Hospital. Each summer they plan a get-together to enjoy friendships. On August 20 they met at Domenico's Restaurant in Levittown where they treated themselves to an Italian dinner and lots of fun and laughter.

They will be back helping Mercy League on Saturday, September 6 at the Lion's Den.

Architectural Heritage Exhibit at Library

A travelling photographic exhibit displaying a wide range of outstanding examples of architecture from communities throughout Nassau County, will be presented at the Hicksville Public Library from September 4 to September 17, 1986.

The exhibit, consisting of seventeen 20/24 color photographs and an information placard, is sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, Division of Museum Services, as part of its salute to "Architectural Heritage Year, 1986."

The programs celebrating Architectural Heritage Year will focus on the values that architecturally significant buildings contributed to the local environment. In proclaiming "Architectural Heritage Year," County Executive Francis T. Purcell pointed out that "Nassau County has a great variety of architecturally significant structures representing the development of American architecture from colonial to contemporary times, and that Nassau's villages and towns are proud of their architectural heritage, taking steps to preserve and protect their structural landmarks."

Buildings displayed in the exhibit represent the towns and villages of Garden City, Glen Cove, Hempstead, Jericho, Lawrence, North Merrick, Manhasset, Mineola, Old Bethpage village restoration, Old Westbury, Oyster Bay, Roslyn, Sands Point, Sea Cliff, and Uniondale; with architectural styles ranging from a country Dutch colonial home to a contemporary glass sculptured office complex.

Hicksville Artists

Two Hicksville Artists, Richard J. Ericson and Carol Garrett will be showing their work at the Hicksville Public Library for the month of September. All are welcome to come view the fine art of these two Hicksville people.

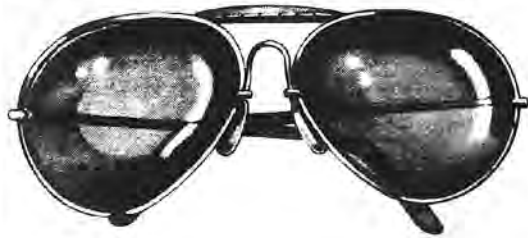

Richard J. Ericson's exhibition is realism influenced by impressionism.

Born in Chicago, began drawing at five years of age and started in oils at twelve. The father of seven sons, whose works are in many private collections here and abroad. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr. and Jimmy Dean, the entertainer, are two of the prominent collectors.

Formerly a Hicksville Sr. High School Art Teacher and Art Director of all student shows, 1962-83.

Carol Garrett has been drawing portraits for 25 years, 20 of these years as a resident of Hicksville. Working from black and white photographs, she uses a magnifying glass and up to ten different grades of lead pencil to achieve a detailed photo-like finish. It can take her as much as three hours to do one eye alone. Without any formal training, she has developed her own technique and improved on it over the years. She feels she has attained her greatest success when she is able to enhance some characteristic of her subject not apparent in the original photograph. Her portraits, of children especially, have become a business for her. Mrs. Garrett draws for the love of it. She says it's "very relaxing, as long as it's going well."

AN EYE-OPENING GRAND OPENING.

If, like other smart real estate buyers, you've been watching the property values on the North Fork, here's a grand opening that you won't want to miss.

Between Peconic Bay and Gardiner's Bay, there's a sand and dune grass finger of land that points towards the gently rolling hills of Shelter Island.

It is one of the last prime beach and waterfront sites left in the Greenport area.

OYSTER POINT. EVERY DUPLEX TOWNHOUSE AND SINGLE-FLOOR UNIT HAS SPECTACULAR WATER VIEWS.

Your backyard is a private beach—a sanctuary of unspoiled beauty. There's a pool and deck that overlooks the bay. And there's tennis.

Every home comes with its own individual boat slip. So, if you're boating people, you have the comfort and convenience of having your boat safely tucked behind your home.

And Oyster Point is in the heart of some of the best sailing, cruising and fishing in the northeast.

The charming seafaring village of Greenport is just a few blocks away—with marvelous shops, seafood restaurants and ships' chandlers.

This is the best of the North Fork and some of the finest resort living to be found anywhere.

You're in for an eye-opening experience when you come out and visit Oyster Point.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

Riding on our Long Island parkways these days many random thoughts come and go. They really are park ways with each side green and lovely... and I look at these new lights curving aloft like some medieval serpent and I think how Robert Moses who designed the beautiful old wooden light posts would have hated these new monsters that are so obtrusive—but they are so much safer than their wooden forbears—and accidents are so many and life is so precious that safety must come first... then there are these new signs over the roads—large objects with many squares upon them... I had pictured that they were installed to give warning of some problem which might lie ahead—but so far, all I've seen are blanks, or, in rare occasions, something that says Test Pattern 6... They've been there for so long—will they ever be operational? They must have a purpose! They certainly aren't beautiful—and Mr. Moses would have hated them, too! He certainly did a wonderful thing for us when he created all the beaches and parks and parkways—I never give him a thought until something like these new lights and signs appear, and then my thoughts go to him and his excellent taste and judgment... There are so few giants in our days.

Yours, Lulabelle

Hicksville Co-ed First To Receive CAA Plane Drill

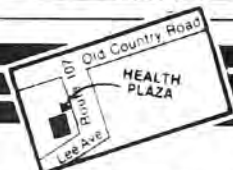

Helena Mroczkowska of Broadway, Hicksville is the first co-ed on Long Island to take actual flying lessons under the CAA. A student of Hofstra College and graduate of Hicksville High School, Miss Mroczkowska is national women's intercollegiate fencing champion.

After finishing 6 weeks of ground school training Miss Mroczkowska took off from Roosevelt Field Monday afternoon for her first CAA training program with Robert Denton of Safair, Inc. at the controls. The flight took 20 minutes.

The Hicksville girl is one of 10 Hofstra students who passed the rigid physical requirements and written examination required of junior and senior students before being eligible for the course. Other North Shore CAA students at Hofstra are John Collins and Robert Gregen of Williston Park, William Goodman of Locust Valley and Paul Cox of Sea Cliff.

DISCUSSING THE PROGRESS of the Hicksville Veterans Monument Committee Fund Drive are Committee Chairman Conrad Steers of the Nassau Vietnam Veterans and the William Gouse Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars (left) and Richard Evers, Americanism Chairman, Charles Wagner Post, American Legion. The Veterans Monument drive has received nearly $4,000 in contributions from citizens and business people in Hicksville. The committee is hoping to have two monuments dedicated to the memory of those who served in the Korean War and in Southeast Asian struggles ready for dedication, by Veterans Day. In the last stage of the fund drive, it is the committee's hope to raise several thousand more dollars. The Monument Committee would also like to be able to add the names of Hicksville's 13 Vietnam War dead to the John F. Kennedy Memorial, the mid-town monument honoring those who lost their lives in the nation's four 20th century conflicts. Contributions are tax-deductible and may be mailed to: Hicksville Veterans Monument Fund, P.O. Box 412, Hicksville, NY 11802.

Rapid Weight Reduction

THE GASTRIC BUBBLE

A Device That Makes Dieters Feel Full

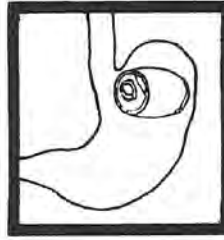

WHILE IT IS UNCLEAR EXACTLY HOW THE BUBBLE REDUCES HUNGER IN its recipients, some researchers think the polyurethane sac—which inflates to the size of a small juice can—stimulates receptors that line the stomach, thereby causing a sensation of satiety.

1- Deflated Bubble is inserted into the stomach via a plastic tube.

2- The Bubble is inflated and the tube is removed.

3- The now free-floating Bubble helps to satisfy the feeling of hunger.

4- After four months, the Bubble is deflated and removed, using a tube with a viewing scope.

- SUPERVISED BY BOARD CERTIFIED GASTROENTEROLOGIST
- COMPREHENSIVE MEDICAL CARE
- NUTRITIONAL COUNSELING

BY PROMOTING A SENSE OF fullness and by limiting food intake, the gastric bubble can help improve eating habits. It allows the adoption of an effective dietary program that provides appropriate caloric restriction and adequate nutritional intake.

A proper weight reduction program with the Garren-Edwards Gastric Bubble requires nutritional counseling and psychological support to deal with the issues that promote overeating and obesity.

It is recommended that the gastric bubble be placed in individuals whose problems with obesity pose a potential medical threat.

The National Institutes of Health have determined that obesity in excess of 20% of an individual's ideal body weight increases the risk of high blood pressure, heart disease, diabetes and stroke.

Substantial medical data indicates that weight loss can reduce the risk of these conditions.

Taxpayer Costs for Pensions Drop

For the first time in its 65-year history, the cost to taxpayers of public pensions in New York State will go down, State Comptroller Edward V. Regan announced today.

"The cost of pensions has declined dramatically, even though payrolls have been climbing steadily," Mr. Regan said. "These are real dollar savings — in the millions of dollars, in some cases — to local governments and their taxpayers."

Public pensions will cost local government taxpayers less next year than in any year since 1978 — even though the public payrolls have nearly doubled during that time. Pensions for workers in local governments, school districts and public agencies cost local taxpayers $693 million in 1979. Since then, payroll costs have nearly doubled, from $3 billion in 1979 to an estimated $5.24 billion in 1986. Yet, Comptroller Regan said that local government pensions for 1987 will cost taxpayers $685 million — $8 million less than in 1979 and $162 million less than a year ago.

Mr. Regan noted, that for the most part, the pension increases that occurred a decade ago were passed on to the taxpayers, and he therefore urged "that these decreases now be returned to the taxpayers in the form of lower taxes."

The average rate of return on investments by the Common Retirement Fund — of which Mr. Regan is sole trustee — was 13.8 percent over the last five years and a record-breaking 24 percent for the last fiscal year.

"The excellent rate of return on investments has caused this phenomenal savings," Mr. Regan said. "Every extra dollar earned on investments is a dollar less that taxpayers have to contribute."

Bluefish Tournament $1,800 In Prizes

Oyster Bay Town Councilman John Venditto announced that on Sunday, September 14, the Town will sponsor the first of what is hoped will be an annual event.

Venditto said, "the bluefish tournament is open to residents of all ages who are interested in the chance to compete. Prizes will be awarded in the form of gift certificates which can be redeemed at Oyster Bay Marine Supply, the event's co-sponsor.

The first place prize is a $1,000 gift certificate for the biggest catch, second prize is $500 and the third prize is $300. Each of the top three winners and runners-up four through ten will receive award plaques. Everyone who enters will be given a commemorative T-shirt," Venditto added.

The cost to enter the tournament will be $10 per boat. This fee covers the first two persons in the boat, each additional person will be charged $2.50. Venditto noted that if the money collected in entrance fees exceeds the cost of the gift certificates then more prizes will be awarded.

Boats will leave Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Park beginning at 5 a.m. and must return no later than 5 p.m. Additional rules for the contest are contained in the registration form which is available at all Town of Oyster Bay Parks, Town Hall South, 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa and Oyster Bay Marine Supply, 47 West Main Street, Oyster Bay. Forms must be returned no later than Saturday, September 13.

Opening lead — five of hearts.
Many notrump contracts are like a race, with each side hurrying to set up and run its long suit first. However, the temptation to establish a long suit as quickly as possible must sometimes be resisted in the interests of safeguarding the contract.
For example, consider this deal where West got the defense started on the right track by leading his longest suit hearts, against three notrump. Dummy's jack held the first trick, whereupon declarer immediately went after his own long suit, clubs.

East won the first club lead with the ace and returned a heart, and South suddenly found himself on the wrong end of a losing proposition. The queen of hearts lost to the king, and a third heart drove out the ace.
Declarer ran his clubs, but, with only eight tricks in view, had little choice other than to try a spade finesse for his ninth. But when West turned up with the king of spades and cashed two good hearts, the contract was down one.
In attacking clubs first, South overlooked two major considerations: first, that the opposing hearts represented a distinct threat to the contract, and second, that even after the clubs were established, he would still be one trick short of his contract.
For these reasons, declarer should have delayed playing clubs and instead taken the spade finesse at trick two. If the finesse won, he could then turn his attention to the club suit. But even if the finesse lost, as in the actual case, West would then either have to return a heart into the A Q, or else shift to a different suit, giving South time to establish the clubs.
Proper pacing, not speed, often determines the outcome of a race.

Refinancing Revisited — The New Tax Laws

In past articles, we discussed the refinancing of your home. I have been in favor of such a strategy if you have investment options and opportunities. The compromise Senate and House tax bill, if unchanged, should make us re-examine our strategy. The bill, as written, will financially wound the thousands who did refinance — why?
Because of the restricting of home interest tax deductions to the sum total of the purchase price of the home plus the cost of improvements and some additional expenses. This will include both new mortgages and second mortgages added to your old mortgage. I have read nothing about "grandfathering" (not changing) those who have refinanced up to this time. To assess the impact, let's use an example:
Assume that you purchased your home ten years ago for $50,000. Since then you have installed a new kitchen, finished the basement, put in a patio, etc. — cost $50,000.
Interests are reasonable, the mortgage is down, and the market value of the house is $300,000. You refinance for $200,000 paying points.
You received the first jolt when the IRS reinterpreted their rule which prorates the points paid over the life of the mortgage if you refinanced after January 1, 1985.
The second and more serious penalty comes in the proposed tax bill. With our example, you will be allowed to deduct only the interest on the first $100,000 — you lose as a deduction the interest on the second $100,000.
This provision seriously affects our refinancing strategy. It certainly limits the desirability of tapping the equity in our houses. Whether we should refinance at all becomes an important issue. You should consider the following major points when you compare the cost and benefits:
1) The benefits have to be greater to offset the increased costs. That limits our investment options.
2) The expenses of the new mortgage including any costs for retiring the old mortgage.
3) Your ability to repay considering the tax benefit loss.
4) How long do you intend to stay in your house?..the longer the term the more advantageous because the closing costs are spread over a longer time.
5) What type of institution to use. Most banks do not add the closing costs to the mortgage — most mortgage companies do. If you are cash poor, you may wish to use the latter.
In previous articles, I wrote about how to go about obtaining a new or second mortgage. If you do not have these articles, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the address below and I will send you copies.

Some of us may have refinanced our present homes to purchase a second home, free and clear. If so, you have a strategy to use so you can compensate for the tax deduction loss. Check out the following: the after-tax cost of mortgaging the second home (deducting the interest up to cost) and paying off part of the first home mortgage. If the mortgage payment on the first home is not reduced by the bank — and most will not — you may have to refinance the first home again. This has to be expensive. Check the options. Most of us will probably decide to do none of these things and take our lumps which the new law will give to the middle class.
I hope that Congress grandfather's those of us who did refinance in the past. Ask your congressman — a little pressure may help.
Doctor Frey is a professor of investments and finance at C.W. Post College on Long Island. Veterans Administration

Editor's Note: The following questions are answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.
Q - When I got out of the Army after World War II, I used the GI Bill to buy a house. I am retiring soon and I want to use my current house as an income property. Can the VA help me buy a new home in Florida or is a VA-guaranteed home loan a one-in-a-lifetime deal?
A - Any veteran who has remaining entitlement to a home loan guarantee may use that entitlement to purchase a new principal residence. This is true whether or not the veteran still owns the house he or she bought with the assistance of a VA loan guarantee.
Q - I recently have been rated for a service-connected disability. My disability make it difficult for me to obtain life insurance. Can the VA help me?
A - If you apply within one year of the date you are notified that you have been granted a service-connected disability rating and are otherwise in good health, you may obtain Service Disabled Veterans Insurance issued by the Veterans Administration.
Q - I have accepted employment overseas. What should I do if I have a problem with my VA compensation benefits?

A - Beneficiaries residing or travelling overseas requiring information or assistance relative to VA benefits should contact the nearest American Embassy or Consulate.
Q - Where may I obtain information about a relative buried in an American military cemetery overseas?
A - Information concerning American military buried overseas may be obtained by writing to: American Battle Monuments Commission, Room 5127, Pulaski Building, 20 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20334.
Q - My wife and I are both veterans and meet eligibility requirements for the VA Guaranteed Home Loan Program. May we acquire property jointly and increase the amount which may be guaranteed by VA?
A - Yes. The amount of the guarantee may be increased to an amount equal to the combined total of both your entitlements, however, the guarantee may not exceed 60 percent of the loan.
Q - When I retire I plan to live abroad. Can I have my VA check mailed to a foreign country?
A - Yes, as long as it is not on the list of prohibited countries. Check with your nearest VA office.

Hicksville Gregory Museum

Work on the Town of Oyster Bay Community Development Project at the Old Hicksville Courthouse-Jail at Heitz Place is progressing steadily. The project, involving a renovation and preservation of the historic building, the home of the Hicksville Gregory Museum, has been underway since early summer.

A recent difficult portion of the project, the hand excavating of two feet of basement old concrete cement and earth and the underpinning of the 1895 original foundations with a concrete footing is completed. Although stable on its sand base, the historic late-nineteenth century courthouse and town hall was reinforced to carry the rock and mineral exhibits comprising the Gregory Museum extensive collection. A steel 'I' beam running the entire length of the basement under first floor beams will be placed, further stabilizing the landmark with its well-known cupola.

The jailhouse at the courthouse rear, built in 1915, has been thoroughly insulated, sheetrocked and painted. A new hallway ramp for the handicapped now connects the courthouse and jail areas.

The authentic windows are refurbished and waterproofed, and the original porch replaced. Tasks still to be accomplished involve the relining and restructuring of the roof gutters, stabilizing the courthouse cupola, installing a more economical gas-fired furnace, and a repainting of the building.

The general contractor for this long-in-the-works Town of Oyster Bay project is Unicorn Developers, Ltd.

HAND EXCAVATING under the 1895 original cement foundation of the Old Hicksville Courthouse at Heitz Place was a big job for workmen, Mario Spilotros and Freddie Receine recently. The "human digging Machines" were preparing the way for forms and fresh concrete to underpin the existing foundation which was poured directly onto sand. (Photo by Ed Bady)

Hearing On Change of Zone Application

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark announced that the Town Board has scheduled an October 7 public hearing on a request for a change of zone in Hicksville.

Clark said, "the applicants, Robert R. Brown and Robert J. Brown, are requesting a change of zone from 'D' residence district to 'G' business district (general business) in order to permit the premises to be used to provide off-street parking spaces for forty (40) additional cars in connection with the automobile dealership."

The property is located in the south side of First Street just west of South Broadway, Hicksville.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, October 7, 1986, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Hall East hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

ALTERATIONS AND ADDITIONS

Lots of folks are making structural changes in their homes these days: a new den, an extra bathroom, or more bedrooms under a raised roof. The changes usually make a home more comfortable, maybe even more salable.

Before such construction is undertaken though, it must have the approval of local building and zoning officials. Starting work without an official okay can bring fines and a stop-work order. Even if the work is completed, the lack of certificates of completion and certificates of occupancy, can stand in the way of selling your house. If a title search shows a discrepancy between the house "as is" and the way it is registered with the town, the sale can be held up.

More details than you can imagine go into putting a house on the market—from setting a price and advertising, to qualifying a prospect and showing the house, to final negotiations. Forgetting even one can hold up the whole transaction.

LITTLE LOU

A FAREWELL

CHUBBY ZAINO (3rd left), host of the Wheatley Hills Tavern, Westbury, joins salute to former Hicksville Coach Lou Millevolte who is moving to Green Bay, Wisconsin. The tavern has a long history of Hicksville celebrations despite the stormy and competitive fierceness that once prevailed between the scholastic and semi-pro factions of the Hicksville-Westbury villages. Mr. Zaino himself was a member of the great athletic Zaino family and was reminded by Mr. Millevolte of his success against Hicksville teams. Chip Gannon, who starred on the gridiron for Harvard, also came by to offer best wishes to Lou. He played on Westbury High teams against Hicksville in those fire-sparked days when Lou assisted the late E. Parker Yutzler. Those duels were against the legendary Tom Fitzgerald—who many still rank as the greatest all-around coach in Nassau history.

Lou Carnesecca Addresses Campers At LUHI

Lou Carnesecca recently visited Bob McKillop's Basketball School at Lutheran High School in Brookville. Mr. McKillop introduced Coach Carnesecca to the basketball camp's participants and counselors gathered in the gymnasium. St. John's coach was greeted with a chant of "Lou-ie, Lou-ie, Lou-ie!" The gym shook! Coach Carnesecca entered and immediately singled out a young child in the crowd. "This youngster may someday become a legend!" The boy, with a wide grin on his face, looked up at Mr. Carnesecca.

The famous coach then began talking about attitude on and off the court. He told a story about an overweight man who used to play on the St. John's team and also in the NBA. "Everyone said this guy was too slow and couldn't jump. What happened? He became an NBA player?" Other stories were about Len Bias, and other people who were great in college but had a bad attitude that later resulted in failure. Another story was about a player for Coach Carnesecca who was playing in a championship game. On the foul line in Madison Square Garden, 19,000 people were watching, with the game on the line. He missed! St. John's lost. Everyone said, "He choked!" "No," Coach said, "Never say a guy choked. Next time he's in that situation, he'll make it." Basketball is a game you need confidence for. Always play your hardest, and don't ever let anyone put you down.

Questions were asked. Here are some of them with Mr. Carnesecca's answers:

- Q. What's going on with Marco Baldi?
A. He'll miss 16 games, as you know. But, we'll take it to court.
- Q. Who's the best player you ever coached?
A. NBA—Rick Barry;
 NCAA—Chris Mullin
- Q. Who was the best college player last year?
A. The press thought it was definitely Walter Berry.
- Coach Lou closed with this: "Keep playing your hardest. Never give up. Have confidence, a good attitude, and God bless you."
- The best of luck to you, Coach, and keep up the good work!

Michael Collins Returns To New York

Michael Collins, born and raised in Hicksville, has signed a two-year contract with the Express, club president Shep Messing announced today.

A veteran of five Major Indoor Soccer League seasons, the 24 year old midfielder returns to New York following two seasons with the Baltimore Blast. Prior to joining the Blast, Collins spent three seasons with the New York Arrows.

After playing high school soccer at St. John the Baptist in West Islip, New York, Collins played with the New York United in the American Soccer League. He was an ASL All-Star in his first season with the United.

In-between two outdoor seasons in the ASL, Michael played with the division champion Atlanta Chiefs in the NASL Indoor League (1980-81). Collins also played two summers of outdoor soccer in the ASL with the Pennsylvania Stoners and New York Nationals during his stint with the Arrows.

Michael lists being a member of the Arrows final MISL championship team in 1982 and playing alongside MISL All-Star Stan Stamenkovic on the Blast as the highlights of his soccer career.

While playing for the Hicksville Americans in the Long Island Junior Soccer League, the club went to the finals of the McGuire Cup, the coveted national junior soccer championship. Michael played in the LIJSL from 1973 through 1979. His father, Peter Collins, is president of the LIJSL. The league is responsible for the majority of the 200,000+ registered soccer players on Long Island.

Collins was signed by the Express as a free agent, after playing out his option with Baltimore. With the Blast, he played in the 1985 MISL Championship series, losing to San Diego in the finals. Last season, Michael registered 11 goals and seven assists in 31 games.

In 1984 he coached the Hicksville High Varsity to the Nassau County and Long Island soccer championships.
