Whizzing Traffic on Old Country Road Curtailed

High speed traffic has been impeding on Old Country Road, just west of Newbridge Road, by the installation of traffic signals. The new controls are at Underhill Avenue (north) and one block west at East Avenue (south). Efforts of homeowners, school and civic leaders were successful in securing the safety steps to slow the zooming speed of trucks and vehicles. Previously the stretch from Old Country Road to Old Country Road School had allowed accelerated pace. There had been a half dozen fatalities of Hicksville residents in the last three years over the indicated section.

Responding to the pleas of the neighborhood, the Hicksville Illustrated News focused on the problem with a pictorial editorial. Former Illustrated editor, Howard Finnegan, visited the site at the height of 5 p.m.—6 p.m. traffic. The pictures showed residents demonstrating as trucks and cars flashed by unchecked.

Traffic coming from the east to Old Country Road School is very heavy and demands that the driver be alert. The school is hidden by the hundreds of cars that travel and park for the New York State Employment office, service and showrooms of three very active automobile showrooms and associated service centers. In addition, the shopping center (north), across from the school, adds to the congestion and dangerous distractions.

Of added concern are that the small signs indicating a school zone are obscured by overhanging tree branches. They are also less than two blocks from the school crossing. One sign does say "Speed Zone," but fails to mention how many miles per hour. Many residents will pursue the town and county to mark "School Zone" in paint on the roadway for driver awareness. Many schools in Nassau have such markings in two or three foot letters across the road in bright paint.

Hicksville Illustrated News will continue this study in the interests of all who must travel on this road—and in particular, the Hicksville school child.

Hicksville Boy Drowns In Motel Swimming Pool

A 9-year-old boy from Hicksville drowned in a motel swimming pool at 1 p.m. on June 18.

Oscar Flores of 290 West John St., Hicksville, was taken to Glen Cove Community Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 1:45 p.m. Flores and a 9-year-old friend, Erik Gilmore, were taken to the pool by Erik's mother, Christine Gilmore, of 3 Windsor St., Hicksville. The pool is located at the Tides Motel on Bayville Avenue in Locust Valley, and sells pool memberships to the public.

Apparently the victim was in the middle of the deep end of the pool and went below the water. Erik saw him go under and went over to assist him. While Erik was in the process of removing Flores from the pool, the lifeguard, Thomas Neville, age 16, of Bayville, came to the boys' aid. While the lifeguard and Arthur Lembo of Bayville (who came to the scene after he heard calls for help) gave the victim CPR, the police were called. According to the Second Precinct, Christine Gilmore was away from the pool at the time of the accident and the lifeguard was present at the pool, cleaning it. The two boys were the only occupants on the pool.

James Nicolard Awarded Grumman Fellowship

James Nicolard of Hicksville, an engineer at Grumman Aircraft Systems Division, has received a 1987 Grumman Science and Engineering Fellowship. He is one of 11 engineers at the company to receive this recognition.

Under the program, Grumman pays all the fellow's tuition, books and fees toward a master's degree in a technical field. The company also dovetails a work-study schedule and gives each fellow a $1,200 tax-free stipend to defray study time taken off without pay.

Nicolard, who has a bachelor of science degree in computer science from Polytechnic Institute of New York, will pursue a master's degree in the same field at a local college, with a concentration in computer architecture, and logic and automation.

Grumman fellows take nine credits a semester. During the two-year program, they are considered full-time employees; they must put in at least 24 hours a week during the academic year. During summer recess, fellows return to a 40-hour week.

Another benefit of the program is the rotational work assignment. Each fellow gets four six-month assignments in different areas of Grumman. These are matched as closely as possible with career interests.

John's Gonna' Just Hang Out

After 37 years John Sadowski, former manager of Agway has retired. He said he's just gonna' hang out with his wife Marilyn. A retirement party was given him at Salsbury-On-The-Green. Along with his wife and two sons, about 150 friends, relatives, co-workers, business associates and customers were there to toast his retirement. It was quite a tribute to John.

John gave us a little of the history of Agway. It was formerly known as Grange of Hicksville's older residents as GLF—(Grange League Federation). The first GLF building was on West Barclay Street. It was a farmer's cooperative started by the farmers in the surrounding area. (I remember as a child playing on the wooden porch that was all across the front of GLF. We had so much fun there. I also remember one night when there was a tremendous fire there.) When the building boom started in Hicksville and farmers began selling their property, Agway Home and Garden was established. When it was decided to build the overpass for the railroad, Agway moved to Mid-Island Plaza. It remained in the Plaza for 10 years, at which time property was purchased at 411 W. John Street and the new Agway was built and the business expanded. Agway has been a long-standing business in Hicksville for over 60 years.

We want to wish John all the best in his retirement—I wonder if he'll really be able to sit still!!!!

This One's For You

This Congratulation is for you, Fran and George Thomas as you celebrate 40 years of happiness July 12th. Your children, your family and friends are all happy that you came through your operation and are able to celebrate this happy occasion. May you have many, many more.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Fibrositis - The Exhaustion and Pain Syndrome

A disorder which has generated much controversy over the last several years is fibrositis. This debate revolves around the cause and the treatment of this disorder. Fibrositis (or fibromyalgia) is used to describe trunk and limb pain, not associated with inflammation of the joints.

Patients with fibrositis often feel pain and stiffness in their muscles. This stiffness may be associated with a feeling of exhaustion. The exhaustion results in poor sleeping patterns, and sufferers usually awaken feeling unrefreshed. This cycle produces more muscle stiffness, further exhaustion, and depression usually follows. The pain and stiffness can be made worse by exposure to the cold, changes in weather, and even loud noises.

The cause of fibrositis is not known. Recent evidence points to a sleep disturbance resulting in an exaggerated pain response of the muscles. Emotional stress is also known to play an important role in the fibrositis syndrome.

Patients with fibrositis are usually referred to rheumatologists (specialists in disorders of the muscles and joints), for diagnosis and treatment. The diagnosis of this disorder may be difficult at times and it is necessary to make certain that no other illnesses are present. Once this has been established, the recognition and identification of 24 specific tender trigger points will usually confirm the diagnosis.

Current treatment is centered around correcting the sleep disturbance. Medications which are able to break the cycle and restore normal sleep patterns have been some of the most successful therapies tested to date.

The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed-rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $12.94 ($10.75 and $9.15) per $1,000 borrowed.

Adjustable rate shown is a below-market introductory annual rate for the first year only. The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 11.00%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

BREAKFAST AT BELMONT: THE PERFECT SUMMER TREAT

THE FIRST BROOKLYN HANDICAP

In every sport, there are moments which leave indelible marks on the sport as a whole, causing even the most casual spectator to become a fan.

For thoroughbred racing, one of those special moments occurred in May of 1867 with the first running of the Brooklyn Handicap at the famous Gravesend racetrack in Brooklyn.

Although Gravesend no longer exists, its tradition and spirit are still alive a century later at Belmont Park. The Brooklyn Handicap, now the last leg of the New York Handicap Triple Crown, is still one of the most trying tests of excellence any handicap horse could ever face.

Seventeen of the fastest thoroughbreds of the day, with weights assigned according to their past performances, assembled at the starting gate on that spring afternoon before thousands of spectators. Apparently as eager and anxious to begin the race as the onlookers, the horses had to be kept at the post for 45 minutes to secure a fair start.

When the long awaited start finally came, all eyes were on the favorites—Exile, Richmond and Boaz. As the field entered the stretch, the excitement reached a fever pitch.

History is made when finishes are as fantastic as that of the first Brooklyn. At the wire, three horses finished just heads apart, with Dry Monopole the winner, adding the victory to those previously notched in spring stakes at Benning's and Puttico.

Although there was no wagering permitted at the time and racing enthusiasts could not cash in winning tickets or take losers into the sky, a clever wine salesman had a marketing idea that enabled everyone to savor the sweet taste of victory.

Cases and cases of fine French champagne, for which Dry Monopole was named, were shared by the salesman with all in attendance. The bottles were graciously distributed on a horse-drawn cart, packed deliciously in chunks of ice.

To further preserve the historic race, lithographs were made depicting the surprise finish and hung in taverns throughout New York, as much a fixture as the tables and stools. It also became the subject of a painting which hangs in the Museum of Racing at Saratoga as a prime example of the beauty and spectacle that makes thoroughbred racing "the sport of kings."

Today the Brooklyn Handicap has its home with the New York Racing Association in Belmont Park. Perhaps the wine salesman and his life champagne celebration are a part of days gone by, but excitement will still abound when the Brooklyn has its 100th running on Saturday, July 25, 1987.

You can be part of the excitement by entering the NYRA and Antow Community Newspapers' "Day at the Races Contest." Simply fill in the coupon below and become eligible to win a first rate day at Belmont Park for the Brooklyn Handicap.

OUR HOUSE CAN BE YOUR HOUSE

Hi! I Ruth Randazzo from Hicksville. I came to Brush Hollow Arms eight years ago as my family had their own children and I found myself in the middle of family discussions. I discovered Brush Hollow Arms and started a new life. I am at liberty to travel, visit, remain independent yet have my medications monitored, diet evaluated and find a multitude of activities in which to participate with my great friends here at Brush Hollow. If you are a senior citizen needing some independence yet monitoring - you can't find a better place to live. You'll love it! Come see us. RUTH. Certified by the New York State Department of Social Services

My name is Josephine MacLennon and I'd like to invite you to join me in experiencing the carefree life style offered at Brush Hollow Arms, Home for Adults - excellent meals prepared by a Registered dietician, two acres of lovely grounds with beautiful gardens and a huge outdoor Pavilion for picnics, luncheons, activities, etc. Planned shopping and other Field Trips are scheduled regularly. Religious services of many denominations are conducted for our convenience. Why not see for yourself by calling me at the Facility or write for a brochure. Thanks, Josephine.

Hi! I'm Harold Nielsen. I am one of a family of fourteen children brought up in the Bronx. I worked as an Office Manager and studied voice professionally. I moved to Farmingdale to care and be with my sister who later died. And the loneliness I endured was too much to handle. I learned of Brush Hollow and they have filled that void for me as I am presently surrounded by what are now, "my family" and I love it. I am once again a very happy person.

Hello! I'm Margaret Steif originally from Hollis. Brush Hollow has played a large role in my family as my brother, Francis, was also a resident for many years. Brush Hollow has been "My Home" for over ten years. Come and visit "Our Home" - Margaret.

Hi! I'm Gus Falcone formerly of Valley Stream. In early 1984, after a serious hospital illness, I had a choice of re-cooperating in a Nursing Home or an Adult Home. My choice was Brush Hollow Arms Westbury's only State Certified Home for Adults. My choice was perfect because I absolutely love it and I'm very fond of all my new friends. Brush Hollow Arms provides: • warm tender 24 hour care • in house and field activities • regular and special diets • on site physician's visits • 2 acres Park like grounds • movies, picnics, etc., etc. YOU NO LONGER NEED TO LIVE ALONE - COME SEE FOR YOURSELF...Gus

Hello - I'm Helen Adams a native Long Islander having been born in Roslyn and lived and worked in Mineola for 18 years. I have certainly seen the changes here over the years but I suppose Brush Hollow is the most important at this time of my life. Since I moved here, I have found many, many new friends and new interests. I am able to come and go as I please, attend religious services, join the various clubs here and go on the shopping trips. Thank God for the people here at Brush Hollow. Come visit us - Helen.

I'm Billy Kuntz from Lawrence and always lived in a large home. I found out that at my age a large home was too much for me to handle so I made the move to Brush Hollow Arms. Living in surroundings with people my age group has enabled me to make friends and keep really busy. I feel I made the right decision in many ways as I am able to visit my family, my doctor and my relatives and friends yet take part in activities here at Brush Hollow. Stop by or call me - Billy Kuntz.

Hi! My name is Thomas Barbato. I have been a Resident of Brush Hollow Arms since February, 1986. I can truly say that since living at Brush Hollow, my life has been a lot easier. The 24 hour staff and supervision is a blessing for me and my fellow Residents. The staff, meals and activities can be enjoyed by everyone...Why live alone? Come visit with us and we are sure you will want to stay with us in a nice friendly atmosphere here at Brush Hollow Arms.

Hi! I'm, Ann Kelly born in Westmeath, Ireland. I have been a Resident at Brush Hollow Arms for 19 beautiful and happy years. When I first came, I felt I needed the companionship and love of people my age and indeed I came to the right place. I am no longer a lonely person because loneliness can be what you make it and there are many activities and lovely people here that share my interests. Call my anytime...Ann

Hi! I'm John Gilhooly born in Leitrim, Ireland. As a young man, I came to the United States and settled in Rockville Centre where I started my own business. I was very active in the Irish American Club for over 20 years and served as their President. I also served as Color Guard Commander for the British War Veterans. Due to serious physical problems, I was no longer capable of totally caring for myself. Brush Hollow has been my salvation as they have made me an active person once again thru their constant concern for each Resident. Reminders, physical therapy and dedication of staff have all been a part of my rehabilitation. Call me anytime - John.

Grandparents Day At Burns Avenue School

The Burns Avenue PTA sponsored the 21st Annual Grandparents Day at the Burns Avenue School recently. Grandparents and seniors were welcomed by PTA mothers who pinned corsages with faces on them (made by the Girl Scouts at Burns) on each guest. There were delicious refreshments served, homemade muffins, cakes, and cookies, bagels, coffee, and tea were also on the menu. They were welcomed by the principal Dr. Frank E. Burke, and were entertained by the children who performed band and orchestra pieces and presented a puppet show.

After the entertainment they went to see the classrooms of their grandchildren, and take a look at the work that had been done. Some classes put on shows in the classroom.

At 11:30 they returned to the All-Purpose Room where Dr. Burke presented awards to grandparents in various categories, such as "Most Grandchildren", "Oldest Grandparent", and "Grandparent With The Most Grandchildren at Burns"; and this was just a few.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

PRESIDENT JOE GIORDANO'S MESSAGE:

"People will listen a great deal more patiently when you explain your mistakes than when you explain your successes." Old saying.

A line from a song to the effect that the days dwindle down to a precious few prompts me to fetch a calendar and note that there are a precious few days before the Galileo Lodge picnic becomes a reality rather than just a mere idea or thought. The date is Sunday, August 9, at Eisenhower Park, starting around 8 a.m. and lasting until evening. Picnics are enjoyable not only because they are a part of summer, but also because they provide us with an opportunity to spend some time outdoors, enjoying food and refreshments and everything else that is part of this activity. The Galileo Lodge rarely passes up an opportunity to provide some relaxation for its members, friends and patrons. More news on this picnic in later columns.

And since we are writing about pleasure and enjoyment, it behooves me to state that when the last remaining vestiges of summer are about to disappear, the Galileo Lodge will present its Anniversary-Scholarship Dance on Saturday, September 19 at our lodge. Tickets will sell at $35 per person, and in the offering will be a sumptuous dinner with all the trimmings, an appetizing cocktail hour, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups, unlimited liquor and music from the Richard Lagnese aggregation, which, I am told, will add immeasurably to your relaxation and enjoyment. This dance is of vital interest to the Galileo Lodge because it commemorates its birth, brings about the distribution of the Louise E. Massiello Memorial Scholarship Awards and honors ex-president Pete Massiello, a leader of the Galileo Lodge for a number of years. Skip Monteforte will 'chair' this dance ably assisted by co-Chairmen Rocco Lombardo and Armand del Cioppo. All members, of course, are urged to attend this dance in strength, and naturally that refers to the female members of the Galileo Lodge. An Ad Journal will be a part of the proceedings, I might add. So why not put this dance on your 'must attend' list and I'm sure you won't be sorry.

Once again we have to add our usual message, which is that help is still needed for the Galileo Lodge's bingo sessions. As we have often stated, that bingo is revenue and revenue helps to sustain it financially. So a little of your time and efforts will certainly help to keep our organization in a good financial position. Yes, it's true that the Galileo Lodge is a fraternal organization, but in order to survive it must be run like a business, and that's where you members come in.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed, (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

A response to a question by Henry Frey (your issue of 6/25/87). The Board of Commissioners would like to inform the consumers of the water district once again, that it is not possible to develop such a thing as a "windfall profit" from the sales of water. The law requires that any surplus of monies left at the end of the budget year must be used to reduce the proposed budget for the following year.

We all have the responsibility to preserve and maintain, conserve and recycle our limited water supply for ourselves as well as for generations that come after us. The board was gratified and pleased to receive an enthusiastic response to its questionnaire sent out to our community, both in its support and cooperation with ideas for implementing cooperation. They were more than willing to face up to the fact that we're wasting a non-renewable resource.

Water users can afford to be wasteful—only when water is cheap. Allowing water to be assigned a fair market price—may prove to be a powerful incentive—to begin consumers to view water—as the valued resource that it is.

Last December—the Board of Commissioners approved reverse water rates—or an increasing block rate—as part of its water conservation program. The past water rate was only $0.60/1000 gallons as compared to $1.40/1000 average for the United States. This increase in revenue is required to finance the Water Conservation Program, to make up lost revenue on hopefully a reduced consumption, and thus make up lost revenue for fixed capital and operating expenses and to pay for additional water testing under the recently amended Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.

1987 Quarterly Water Rates

of Charles I. Montana Sr. (Hicksville H.S. Class of '34)

Summertime, especially when I see the start of school vacations, brings back many memories of our growing up years in Hicksville in the early 1930's.

Our "gang" included Everett Eisemann, Bernie Houseman, Al 'Lefty' Hanlen, Philly Ofenloch, Johnny Protiva and others that I don't recall at the moment. The gang's activities began at school's end.

I lived at 71 North Broadway, a house which was built by a Hicksville builder named O'Hearn. Next to the house was a large black-cherry tree and the gang and I used to climb up and pick the beautiful ripe cherries, fill some pint baskets, and then ring door bells and sell the cherries for 15 to 20 cents a basket. Collecting deposit bottles was also a source of getting nickles for an orange ice or ice cream cone at Guckenberger's Ice Cream Parlor.

We used to bicycle up to the Spring Pond where the Milleridge Inn is now located, and fish for goldfish with a bent pin and pieces of bread for bait. I don't think we caught many fish. We also went across from the Milleridge Inn to a large pond where, especially in the winter time, we ice-skated until it was too dark to see. But, back to summer, we would also wander into the Jericho estates of the Leedes and Underhill families and on a hot day jump into one of the numerous ponds, sans bathing suits. We would often come out of the pond peeling off the leeches which were stuck to our legs.

Broadway was only a two-lane road and not many cars passed on its road. One of our games was to sit on the side of the road and wait until a car appeared in the distance and the boy who could identify the name brand of the auto the fastest was the winner. We would see a Chevy, a Ford, a Hudson, a Studebaker, and occasionally, a Rolls Royce from one of the Jericho estate owners coming into Hicksville to shop, go to the bank, or to Ben Levitt's Saddlery Shops.

One summer, miniature golf was a big fad and one course was built on Broadway opposite where the Goldman Brothers store is located. But you had to pay to play there, so we got our lawn mowers out and mowed our own three or four golf holes in the green field next to my house and with some beat-up golf balls and a "maskie" we played golf. When the fad wore out, we dug an "underground" hut, covered it with branches and grass and had a secret entrance. Of course our "house" was for boys only. My sisters were very upset at that. Eventually some of the gang's parents decided it would cave in on us one day, so we had to fill the hole in.

When we were a little older, we started to hitchhike to Bayville each afternoon to swim at Wall's Beach. Ferry Beach (now Reinhardt's Park) had the remains of the old ferry dock and we used to dive off the pilings that were still standing. Our hitchhiking started on North Broadway where we were picked up and then the next two boys would get up to wait for a ride and we would all meet at Wall's Beach.

At the age of 14 or 15 we started to caddy at the Salisbury Golf Course which is now Eisenhower Park. Carrying one bag would bring us 75 cents and perhaps a dollar. If we were given a double we would consider ourselves very lucky. On Sundays I would go to 6 a.m. Mass at the St. John's Rectory Chapel on North Broadway where the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza is now located. (This way I would get to the golf course early in the morning). At this time the farm land was owned by the Brooklyn Catholic Diocese and was farmed by the Ryan family for the Diocese. Also a home on the property housed a large number of boys who were cared for by the Diocese.

One summer marble playing became an all-amusing pastime. Our marble corner was at Broadway and East Barclay Street where Patten's Candy Store was located. We had marble games that lasted all day.

When the "Professional Building" at 35 Broadway was built it had the widest and best sidewalk in Hicksville and became our roller skating heaven although we would be chased by Doc Stillger and Charles Stoll when we made too much noise. That building had the first elevator we had ever seen and when we could, we would sneak a ride up and down if nobody caught us.

The summer seemed endless but, when school rolled around, we often found ourselves comparing notes with other students in the class of our summer adventures.

Memories of all those summers will never die—no matter how old we get.

Editor's Note: If anyone has recollections or memories of life in Hicksville, please send stories to: Hicksville Illustrated News, 132 East Second St., Mineola, NY 11501.

Did You Find A Flag On Your Lawn July 4th?

Representatives from Coldwell Banker Real Estate, located in the lower level of Sears, North Broadway, Hicksville, in honor of "Saluting the American Dream," made their way through certain streets in Hicksville, beginning at 4 a.m. on July 4, and planted approximately 1,000 American flags on the lawns of various houses.

Most of the homes that received the three foot tall flags were located in the vicinity of Sears. Some of the streets included Bethpage Road, Bay Avenue, Woodbury Road, Willet Avenue, Peachtree Lane and Twin Lawns Avenue.

Representatives from Coldwell Banker who planted the flags were Geraldine Rodgers and her son Kevin, who attends Our Lady of Mercy, Candy Scotto; Patricia Gimbano and her son Brian, who is a student at Woodland Avenue Elementary School, Inez Booth and her husband George, Marie Napolitano, Barbara Weissman and her husband Marty, Maryann Caputo, Roseanne Reidel, Laura (nee Richardson) Vitale, and Linda Adamec.

The representatives, through the course of the day, handed 18 inch flags to people in the Coldwell Banker store, in the parking lot or just walking near the vicinity of Sears.

STEPHANIE KAHN, BESIDE one of the Foundation's Mobile Audio Library carts which she designed and which carries the tapes and cassette players to hospital patients and nursing home residents.

Joyce Kahn Foundation Award To Stephanie

Tuesday, June 30, was the day President Reagan turned a dream into a reality for Stephanie Kahn, a Long Island native who was left blind following an automobile accident 15 years ago.

In a luncheon ceremony at the White House, the President honored Ms. Kahn by presenting her with the "President's Volunteer Action Award" for founding the Stephanie Joyce Kahn Foundation. Ms. Kahn is one of 17 chosen to receive the Award out of 2000 individuals and organizations nominated. The award, given annually, is for outstanding volunteer achievements.

Focus of the Foundation's activity is the SJK Mobile Audio Library Program. Conceived by Ms. Kahn while recuperating from injuries sustained in the auto accident that nearly took her life, it provides hospital patients, nursing home residents and the homebound, who are too ill or frail to watch TV or read, with tape-recorded novels, magazines, inspirational material and old-time radio shows — a therapeutic answer to their pain, despair and isolation.

Staffed mostly by volunteers (including Ms. Kahn), the Foundation implements its services at hospitals and nursing homes primarily in Nassau and Suffolk Counties through these volunteers who bring to patients the tape "library" and cassette players on carts custom-designed by Ms. Kahn for this purpose. In being selected by the President for this award, Ms. Kahn hopes that the national recognition it affords will enable her to extend the Foundation's work throughout the United States. Operating on extremely limited funds raised by Ms. Kahn through corporate, government and private sectors, the Foundation, since its inception in 1976, has had to confine its activities mostly to Nassau and Suffolk Counties and on a limited basis to the five boroughs of New York City. The funds are used primarily in the purchase of blank tapes, duplicating equipment and mobile audio library carts. The cassette players are provided to the Foundation by the Library of Congress, along with tape masters of books which the Foundation re-records onto blank tape.

To date, the program is operational in 23 facilities, of which 40 percent are long term care, and provides its service to nearly 2000 people a month.

The President's Volunteer Action Award is co-sponsored by Volunteer, a private non-profit national organization supporting greater citizen involvement in problem-solving, and by Action, the lead Federal agency for volunteer service.

The Stephanie Joyce Kahn Foundation is headquartered at 20 West Park Avenue, Long Beach, NY 11561; 889-5105.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...Why, oh why, do they have to change the things I like?...A sign on one of my favorite labels, "new and improved", is enough to send me into a decline...Just when I find a product that suits my needs, the manufacturer seems to feel he has to change it...It doesn't seem to matter what the product is, it happens in every field...You use a deodorant for years, happily—all of a sudden it has an added ingredient, or scent, or something—and now you hate it...Have you ever found the absolutely perfect bra for your curves (or bumps, as the case may be!!!), and then you go back in a couple of weeks to buy a few more — guess what?—"oh, madame, the manufacturer has discontinued that model, but you will like this one just as much"...and, of course, the new model hits you in all the wrong places and you hate it...Or buy one color of lipstick or nail enamel that is just right with your skin and your wardrobe—better buy six or you will find yourself without—and even then, with the nail enamel it thickens and turns color so you can't keep it too long...And did you ever try to replace a broken toilet seat?...it's horrendous...somehow or other, every toilet has a different difference in the spacing between the bolts, and, even in one manufacturer, there is no constant—so there you go, armed with measurements, and there are dozens of seats in every color and finish—and not one will fit your particular toilet!...I don't know how it's possible, but you know it is...And even with the Book of the Month Club—their new board of selections has been choosing books that are so erudite that I feel like a dunce as I think to myself, "How I would like a nice, pleasant romantic novel"...What a dumbell!

Yours, Lulabelle

What the Politicians Are Saying...

Congressman Ray McGrath (R-NY) is urging his fellow members on the House Ways and Means Committee to pass a bill that would remove the excessive tax on outside earnings for Social Security beneficiaries.

"It's disgraceful," McGrath said referring to the $8,160 limit on earned income for recipients aged 65-69. "For every two dollars they earn over the limit, they have one dollar deducted from their benefits."

The average monthly benefit for Social Security recipients is $488 for a single retired worker and $883 for a retired couple. The outside income restriction is a severe strain on elderly retirees on Long Island who need the additional income from a job to meet payments for necessities such as property taxes and utilities.

While the Social Security system was intended to be only a supplemental income program, the fact is that about one-fourth of all retired people depend on Social Security for 90% of their income.

H.R. 469, currently before the House Ways and Means Committee amends the Social Security Act to remove the outside income limitation for Social Security recipients.

"A nation is judged by how it treats its elders," McGrath said. "We should not penalize senior citizens with heavy taxes and reduced benefits because they want to work."

From Senator Dean Skelos

It is a tragic situation. In order to pay for a spouse's nursing home bills or lengthy hospital stay thousands of senior citizens are forced to live in near poverty. Seniors are forced to "spend down", using up life savings and selling their homes in order to qualify for Medicaid in such catastrophic cases.

Present antiquated New York State Social Services Department regulations are forcing women to divorce their husbands, go on welfare and suffer additional stress in a time that is stressful enough. These regulations encourage county departments of social services to spend endless time, money and effort in hot pursuit of the afflicted couple's nest egg, and time and money in Family Court hearings.

The present situation is not promising, but because of a New York State Court of Appeals ruling recently, there is cause for some optimism. The state's highest court has decided not to hear the appeal of a county department of social services' attempt to force an Albany woman to impoverish herself to pay for her husband's nursing home bills. While not as definite as an actual ruling, there is a good chance that this will be viewed as a precedent setting decision. This should ease the minds of hundreds of thousands of senior citizens whose spouses may become nursing home patients.

This ruling serves notice to the State Department of Social Services that seniors should not have their life savings taken from them. The non-institutionalized spouse is entitled to a reasonable amount to live on.

While this recent case in Albany definitely represents a step in the right direction, it is incumbent on New York State to move as expeditiously as possible on this matter. Congress has been dragging its heels on this issue, so it is up to the State Legislature to act. I will be forming a Task Force to recommend remedial legislation at the next session to correct this deplorable situation.

Spirit Day '87 at Our Lady Of Mercy

Cheers of joy were heard as Spirit Day of '87 at our Lady of Mercy School began with its variety of sports games. The school was divided into Green and Gold teams. As each class completed its game, five points were scored for the loser, and 10 points for the winners. Some of the games were potato sack race, balloon race, over and under, water on a spoon race, scooter race, basketball, and potato on a spoon race. The excitement grew as each class got to the next activity. The excitement really hit the students when Sister Mary Joanne announced the winning team. The Green Team won with 500 points. The Gold Team wasn't that far behind with 450 points.

OUR LADY OF MERCY student Tara Galvin participates in the potato sack race at Spirit Day of '87.

Successful selling is a piece of cake!

True
False

Of course the answer is FALSE! Successful selling in the highly competitive business world today is a tough, demanding profession that requires hard work, dedication and skill.

That's why so many men and women in selling take the Dale Carnegie Sales Course. It gives them a better understanding of the psychology of modern, motivational selling. It brings them up-to-date with the newest and most effective methods and techniques of their profession.

It is a highly organized sales training process from beginning to end, from prospecting to getting the order. It shows salespeople how to get the information they need before making the first call. They learn how to better organize their time so they can come face-to-face with more qualified prospects during a selling day. They develop more information, more convincing sales presentations based on the true wants and needs of the prospect.

The Dale Carnegie Sales Course® doesn't change anyone's basic personality. It is designed to help salespeople maintain their own personality and approach. It expands and develops. It reinforces and refines those existing qualities to a higher, more effective degree by incorporating the proven ideas and techniques of the course.

Most of the graduates of this sales training program report that tangible results come quickly in the form of measurable increases in sales, even before the course is finished.

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

Our thanks to Legionnaires who came out early on the Fourth of July to raise colors along Broadway. In attendance was Commander Christo, Wes Tietjen PC, Dick Evers, Arlene Howard, Jack Reichlen and Tom Nikitas. Tom bought everyone coffee to celebrate his birthday. Happy birthday, America and happy birthday, Tom.

Concern was expressed about the decreasing number of flags left to decorate Broadway. The theft of flags from their parking meter holders is a most serious offense. Citizens should remember our flag represents our nation and our way of life which our veterans have defended.

After massing to raise the colors, Hicksville Legionnaires went to Oyster Bay for the July 4th Observance honoring the 200th Anniversary of the U.S. Constitution. Our post was truly honored because County Commander Dick Hochbrueckner and Americanism Chairman Dick Evers were among the dignitaries sitting inside the bandshell by Town Hall. PCC Jim Frazer marched directly behind the Charles Wagner Color Guard of Commander Christo and Greg Bennett. John Danese of the 82nd Airborne Association, NY Chapter marched with our color guard. It was so hot during the ceremony that several color guards sidestepped into the shade of trees by Town Hall.

Our thanks to chairman Dorothy McGee of the Oyster Bay Bicentennial Historical Commission for an outstanding ceremony. Townsend Park was decorated with patriotic bunting by the TOB Parks Department. Music for the occasion was provided by the Oyster Bay

People on the Move Benefit From Postal Service

"You won't lose touch or lose time when you move if you take advantage of the Change of Address Kit provided free by the Postal Service," says Roger Nienaber, general manager/postmaster of the Hicksville division.

The filing of a "change of address" card at the local post office will generate the mailing of a Change of Address Kit to the customer's new home. This is a program to provide better service to customers who move.

The Postal Service will forward customers' First-Class Mail for 12 months and second class, such as magazines and newsletters, for 60 days.

Address correction information is provided only for those mailers who request this service.

It is up to the postal customer to notify all their correspondents and publishers of their new address. Inside the cover of almost every magazine instructions for filing an address correction may be found.

Nine Change of Address cards (Form 3576) for customers to directly notify their correspondents of their new address may be found inside the Change of Address Kit.

To insure accurate forwarding of the customer's mail, give all information requested including apartment numbers and correct zip code.

Take a few minutes to read the brochure contained in the kit which explains to customers the importance of notifying all correspondents of their change of address. The brochure also explains what happens to mail that is forwarded and what classes of mail require additional postage for forwarding.

Customers can verify the new address label on the kit and notify their former post office if the new address is inaccurate.

"The Postal Service wants to make sure your mail moves with you. The time spent following these instructions will help us give you the postal service you deserve," Nienaber says.

Community Band, Americanism Officer and local historian Dick Evers is a member of the TOB Bicentennial Historical Commission. Hicksville veterans turned out in force for the ceremony as our comrades from the VFW and Amvets were present.

As this goes to press Commander Christo, Wes Tietjen PC and Tom Nikitas PC are attending the American Legion New York State convention.

This column honors the 374 officers and 3,131 enlisted men of the U.S. Navy Submarine Service who gave their lives for our nation during World War Two. Our subs held the line gallantly against enemy fleets during the early stages of the war. Fifty-two U.S. subs were lost during the war. We honor our comrades who are "still on patrol."

Remember our post meeting of July 14 when we honor the Constitution Bicentennial Essay Contest winners. The meeting will start at 7 pm. Commander Christo welcomes a Legion turnout on this night. Remember our POW/MIA of all wars. New members are always welcome. Get involved to help your fellow vets.

"His Wife Thanked Me. But She Should Have Thanked Him."

After her husband's funeral service had ended, she gently took my arm and told me how much the service had meant to her. Everything was just as he would have wanted it.

I didn't need to remind her that her husband appreciated the importance of planning for the future and had come to our funeral home awhile ago to arrange his funeral in advance.

I accepted her thanks. It made us both feel better. Still, she knew all along who was responsible for planning this funeral. And she couldn't thank him enough.

Honorable mention was also conferred on six other students: Danielle Harris (kindergarten), Jason Berg (grade one), Alla Akkam (grade two), Kristen Burns (grade three), Lori Schwartz (grade five) and Elaine Chow (grade six).

Beginning in January, a student from each individual class is chosen as "Author of the Month." The child's work is displayed in the school's main lobby. In June, all writings are forwarded to the Junior High School Language Arts Department for selection of our "Author of the Year."

MSGR. BOESEL OF OUR LADY OF MERCY SCHOOL, is presented with a plaque naming him an outstanding educator of 1987 by Mr. Carroll, superintendent of schools of Rockville Centre.

Our Lady of Mercy School Recognition Ceremony

Commissioner of Education Sobol honored Our Lady of Mercy School by awarding the school for its excellence at a special recognition ceremony held in Albany. It was after a very lengthy New York State evaluation and review by a team of educators from all over the state, that Our Lady of Mercy School was selected as one of the finest elementary schools in New York State.

Msgr. Boesel, Sister Mary Joanne, Mrs. Schmidtman, who wrote the proposal, Sister Mary Jeannine, Mrs. Scott, Robert Paul, and Frank Pertusello, represented Mercy in Albany.

The plaque given to the school read as follows: "Certificate of Recognition Program. This recognition attests that selected schools have demonstrated consistent achievement or significant improvement."

Our Lady of Mercy has earned this honor because of a fine administration, faculty, students, parents, and parish. This honor represents more than academic success. It represents the care, interest, and effort that each person related with the school puts forth every day.

THEY WANT TO WORK.

YOU TRAIN THEM.
WE'LL HELP PAY FOR IT.

Now there's a program that shares training costs when a business hires and trains the jobless. It is called The Job Training Partnership Act.

This program establishes a partnership between business and government. It provides up to 50% of on-the-job training costs. And you may qualify for tax credits of up to 50% of the first year's salary.

The program is administered by local Private Industry Councils - organizations made up in the majority by local business leaders who tailor it to meet specific local needs.

Put the Job Training Partnership Act to work now. Write:

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

Over the years, the question of how to handle various card combinations has been well documented in many textbooks on the play of the hand. However, some combinations occur so infrequently that they are not usually covered in standard texts. When this happens, a player must call upon his own resources to work out the correct approach.

Consider this case where South holds eight hearts opposite a singleton and is missing the A-K-J-x, a combination one wouldn't expect to encounter on too many occasions.

Where East holds three hearts and West one. Since East has already played the seven, West's singleton can be only the ace, king or jack. If the singleton is the ace or king, however, three trump losers cannot be avoided regardless of how South plays.

If West has the singleton jack, though, it is possible to limit the trump losers to two by playing the queen. Declarer therefore made this play, caught the jack, and wound up making his game.

NOVENA TO THE SACRED HEART
Dear Heavenly Father: In any hour so sweet from the rose of the morning to the rise of the evening star, as that which could me now to you in prayer. No words can tell, dear Father, what sweet joy it is to come and talk to you. As I meet my hand in yours, dear Father, let me whisper to you my wish, my secret wish I dare not tell to any one but you (I say your wish). Father, I have said my wish and I look into your face, dear Father, I see a love that is wonderful, a love that says, "My Child, I have heard and I will answer." I thank you, Lord, for that answer and for the love and peace that falls like sunshine upon me. As I rise my heart is lifted up and I go forth as one walking towards the dawn. In Jesus' name.
AMEN
Say this prayer three times a day and He won't fail you. However, a promise of publication, of this prayer, must be kept. V.F.L.

You Auto Know

By DAGMAR FORS KARPPI

As Nick Di Santis drove his replica 1929 Mercedes Touring Car down South Street in Oyster Bay in the Memorial Day Parade, a man ran over to him saying, "Is this one of the Classic Car Kits?", Mr. DiSantis said "yes."

"I'm building one and I'm stuck. I haven't done a thing on it for the past year."

The man disappeared. Mr. DiSantis is sorry he couldn't have stopped to talk to the man; maybe encourage him and solve the problems that are holding him up.

After Nick DiSantis finished his car he was made a field representative for the company. Helping another kit car builder is the order of the day.

Mr. DiSantis, an East Norwich resident, worked for Con Ed for 38 years. He was a maintenance supervisor. When he retired in 1985, he wanted to do something challenging. He decided to build a car. He decided on the Mercedes.

Starting with a '79 Chevy Chevette, he took the engine, transmission and the rear end differential case. The engine had 60,000 miles on it. He restored the engine with new rings, pistons and bearings to bring it up to its original power.

The kit was sent from Miami, Florida. A finished car built by the factory costs about $20,000. For the parts only, the Classic Car Kit sells for $6,000. That is the start of the package. You still need things like the fenders and bumpers. Think of spending well over $10,000 to do the job.

The steel chassis was first primed with red lead, than painted black. The engine, transmission and differential were assembled in the frame.

The last step is fitting the fiberglass body onto the chassis, or "mating it to the body."

Alterations have to be made throughout the form to fit it perfectly. Mr. DiSantis said there were days when he got stuck at a point in the job, and left it for awhile, to return refreshed and ready to tackle the problems again. (Take heart if you are planning to try.)

The form and the chassis are banded together at certain areas with fiberglass resin and material. Then the body is bolted to the chassis.

After that there was a special inspection. The car was put up on a rack and completely gone over to see if it was road worthy. Every nut, screw and washer was checked.

The next step took about two months. Mr. DiSantis had to apply for a Special Registration from the Motor Vehicle Department in Albany.

Now, Nick DiSantis is reaping the rewards of a job well done. He is enjoying taking the car to shows and winning trophies.

"I enjoy going to shows and talking to the people there. They are really interested. People can't believe that I made the car."

NICK DISANTIS at the wheel of his 1929 Mercedes Touring Car. With him is past commander of the Oyster Bay VFW Post #8033, Eugene Pullen.

Compromise Voted In Basketball Realignment

Pointed Debate Leads to One Year Stop Gap

By HOWARD J. FINNEGAN

Acknowledging the strong protests over the adoption of an ability only power point system for Nassau County Public High School Boys Basketball, the Controlling Committee of School District Superintendents has overruled the coaches recommendation.

A one year diluted power point ability reorganization has been instituted for 1987-88. A final determination, which has eluded all involved for years, will be sought in the time the compromise brought.

In sharp debate the coaches voted 27-24 for the straight ability records based on the last three years of league play.

The temporary band-aid separated the top eight basketball powerhouses into four different divisions within the American and National League Section Eight Conferences.

Completely disregarded were total school enrollment, junior varsity potential and consuming travel time, and the educational impact of forced afternoon games.

Satisfied was the concern that the original realignment would create a one-sided ethnic imbalance in the Division structures.

Seedings for the 1988 County Championship Tourney have yet to be addressed. In the National League Division four and three might not get a top seed for a 14-0 record.

The theory advanced is that the teams in that division—mainly based on their own contention that they cannot compete in high pressure competition—do not merit that type of caliber consideration.

The alignment is intended to change each year or two-year periods as the won and lost records go up or down.

Unlike the football power point system in which the worth of a victory can be as high as nine points or as little as two—all victories are worth the same.

It will be on a strictly won and lost basis.

Adelphi, C.W. Post Name New Sports Heads

By D.F. MOCK
Sports Editor

Less than a week after Hofstra University named James Garvey its new athletics director, both Adelphi University and the C.W. Post campus of Long Island University have made similar announcements.

Vin Salamone, who has been associated with Post in various capacities was named to the top sports position at the school late last month. During the same week, Robert Hartwell, who previously served as athletic director of Babson College in Massachusetts (a school Hartwell said was similar in size to Adelphi) was named AD of the Garden City school.

Both men named construction of new facilities as their pet projects for their tenures at the schools, and both cited tradition as facets of the schools that they wanted to maintain.

"It's a job that I've been looking forward to take," Salamone told Anton Community Newspapers last week. "I've been in the department since I started college; I felt that I was the man for the job." He credited the school's commitment to the athletics department as part of the reason for taking the job. "It's been an overall commitment (from top administration)," he said; "it's not one that's very specific. From my position to the top are new people; if not new on campus, at least new in their positions. They've been just very supportive. They know the importance of athletics, not for athletics' sake, but the importance of athletics to bring general students in the university structure."

And one other thing, "They know the importance of athletics in keeping the alumni happy," he added.

Hartwell felt similarly. "I felt that Adelphi is an excellent institution," he said last week. "They're doing some very fine things; I'm sure I get the feeling that they want to continue to be successful, which is very nice to hear nowadays." He said that he and his wife will be relocating to Long Island from Massachusetts, where he had served as athletics director of Babson for ten years.

Hartwell coached swimming and soccer during his career, and he was responsible for bringing the school its first national soccer championship, in 1975. "We (Babson) had participated in the previous year's tournaments," Hartwell said of the team. "We were down here at Adelphi in 1973, and Adelphi had an outstanding team that year; they beat us handily, but we had an outstanding experience in 1973 and '74." The continuity from those years helped to build that champion team, he said. "We were undefeated that whole year," he said. "It meant a lot to all of the programs at Babson; it meant that Babson had a vital athletic program," he said.

Both athletics directors concentrated on the building of new facilities as importance facets of their long-range planning. "The first, most important thing we need is a new indoor facility," Salamone said. "Getting that built is probably the primary job." Hartwell said that such a project is envisioned down the road at his school. "During the interview process," he said, "it was pointed out that within the next ten years there should be serious consideration with upgrading and possibly building new facilities."

Another important project, according to Salamone, was improving fundraising. "In today's day all colleges need additional funds," he said, "specifically athletics departments—specifically schools that don't have revenue-bearing sports."

Hartwell said that keeping Adelphi's athletic program solid was a primary consideration. "The first thing we'd like to do is continue those successes and make sure that they continue along that path by competing with the schedules that we now maintain, with some very fine major universities. That's the kind of company we want to maintain well into the future." Like Salamone, Hartwell said that he was concerned with financial improvements. "As many other universities are faced with the reality of certain financial limitations," he said, "I'm sure that Adelphi is feeling a certain amount of a financial pinch. We will be looking at various programs with the hope of possibly trimming back and tightening up some budgets. (But) I don't want to lose our present status with competition and representation. That'll be a chore."

Salamone cited as one of his advantages the atmosphere at his school, and he cited the differences between Post and other schools in the Long Island University system. "The program at Brooklyn (LIU) is a Division I program, while the program at Southampton and C.W. Post are Division II programs, though we have II teams in Division I and football in Division III, the support at Post is greater than at Southampton only because it's a much larger campus."

When asked about his greater achievement at Post (a la Hartwell's achievements at Babson), Salamone laughed. "There are so many," he said; "where do you start?"

Hicksville Athletic Director, Robert Kenney, Section Eight Basketball Coordinator is credited with drawing together all factions in the 1987-88 basketball realignment compromise.

While he might not be in accord with all aspects, his guidance broke the log-jam and got the 1987-88 program decided.

The solution was needed from an educational standpoint. Schools are preparing their next year's calendar for college testing, concerts, plays, art exhibits, proms, trips, and community service activities. Coordination by the various athletic departments was paramount.

Mr. Kenney has long served on the State Basketball Committee.

PAL Softball News

By CHARLETTE ANSTEY

Recently the girls had their ratings nights. Special thanks go to the Girls Softball Commissioners Dave Nelson and Jack Zeller. Their ratings nights were extremely organized and enjoyable for both children and adults. These two terrific guys are so dedicated that they also gave up their Fathers' Day to make up the teams for the junior and senior girls divisions.

The reason PAL has ratings nights is to ensure that each team is made up as equally as possible. The girls are rated on fielding, hitting, catching and throwing.

and Joe Abarno for helping rate all the girls in the junior division. We also had Jennifer Nelson and Jenny-Sue Abarno volunteer to assist the coaches. It was very rewarding to see these two young women helping the younger girls (and trying to catch commissioner Jack Zeller off-guard with the softball).

In our senior division thanks go to coaches Jack Kelly, John Hickey, Marianne Zeller, John Diehl and Tracer Bungert.

A warm welcome is extended to all our girls who are returnees and all the girls who are playing PAL for the first time. You have joined an organization that is enjoyable and instructional for everyone (coaches, umpires, players and parents alike).

Kristin Mund Is Swimmer Of the Year

The Metropolitan Swimming Association, which encompasses the area of Long Island and upper Westchester, recently honored Kristin Mund, of Hicksville, as their swimmer of the year at their annual luncheon at Lorraine Murphy's restaurant in Manhasset. Kristin, who is 14, swims for the Adelpi Swim Club. She was given the award based on her performances in local and national competition. Kristin was the recipient of the outstanding swimmer awards at both the summer and winter Senior Mets this last season and won the consolation finals at Junior National in the 200 butterfly.

Also honored was Lorna Mund, of Hicksville, for her Senior National qualification and her recognition as one of the top ranked swimmers in both the 100 and 200 backstroke.

St. Ignatius CYO News

In the girls' softball league, the Royals won the championship game against the Mets by a score of 19-4. Pitcher Tim Ryan must have pitched the ball in all the right spots because every Royal received a hit! There was even two homeruns hit in the game. While the little kindergarten girls (Bridget Donohue, Mary Bligh and Laura Michel) each hit a single to get on base, it was Patty Iovino and Kristin Baricevac who hit the homeruns to bring them home to score.

Coach Barbara Baricevac would like to thank all the parents and friend of the girls who attended the games and rooted them on to their victory.

On Saturday, June 28, it appeared that the first annual coaches softball game would be cancelled with the rain but the coaches didn't let a little bad weather stop their game. The coaches and their families enjoyed a double header of fun. It was a definite success that will continue in the CYO program.

The K-2 league championship game was played on Monday, June 29. Vito Cassano's Eagles played Terry Quinn's Robins for the first place title. Both teams played exceptionally well but in the end the Eagles beat the Robins with a score of 20-10.

Playing for the Robins were Jason Grassick, Andrew Colton, Craig Finn, Ryan Quinn, John Santos, Sean Conk, Matt Genovese, Frank Cruz, Jim Quinn, Mikey Cruz.

The St. Ignatius seventh grade traveling team had a good season this year finishing second in their division with a 7-3 record. Chris Murphy pitched 6 wins and Pat Hart had 3 saves for the season. Hitting hard for the team (with a 666 batting average) was Dennis Cantalupo and (with a 545 batting average) Andrew Murray. Brian McDermott aided the team by having 3 homeruns for the season.

Many of the CYO coaches would like to thank all the parents for their co-operation in making this year a very successful season.

So fragile a course was the establishment of 1987-88 basketball conferences that only victories over a three year period were considered.

Ties were broken using alphabetical order. Example: regarding teams with 17 victories . . . Hicksville with 17-19 was placed in Division III, . . . Henricks with 17-23 went to Division II in the company of Hempstead, Roosevelt and Garden City. (See Page 29 for more basketball news).
