Infectious Waste Storage Case Resolved

By RITA LANGDON

The Town of Oyster Bay has issued a restraining order on American Medical Waste Systems that prohibits the presence of any infectious material at its Duffy Avenue site, a town attorney said recently.

According to Irving A. Cohn, P.C., attorney for the Town of Oyster Bay, a decision was reached at a court hearing on Aug. 26 that all "red bag" material was to be removed from AMWS, formerly V & J Rubbish Removal Company, Inc., by midnight Aug. 29, and no new infectious material was to be brought onto the premises.

For more than two months, the Duffy Park Civic Association and many other local civic groups have been protesting AMWS, located at 344 Duffy Ave., Hicksville, for its storage of infectious hospital waste material.

The civic associations have been concerned with "airborne viruses" which may pose a threat to students at Old Country Road and Burns Avenue Elementary Schools, nearby residential homes, as well as visitors of Cantiague Park, according to Kathy Del Rosso, president of Duffy Civic.

In a letter addressed to Mrs. Del Rosso in mid-July, Larry Lawrence, general manager of AMWS said "that on or about Nov. 1, 1987, all businesses relating to the handling of infectious wastes will be removed from the premises." Mrs. Del Rosso said that she felt AMWS should be out of the community now. "I am absolutely thrilled and relieved" about the injunction placed on AMWS, said Mrs. Del Rosso. "I owe a lot of gratitude to the Town of Oyster Bay and Irving Cohn for his handling of the situation."

In a telephone interview on Aug. 28, Mr. Lawrence said that AMWS is "committed to having the infectious wastes out by Saturday." Restraining Order On Transfer Station

A construction and debris transfer station also located at 344 Duffy Ave. currently has a temporary restraining order because they are in the "incorrect zone for the type of business they are conducting," said Phyllis Souther, spokesperson for the public information office of the Town of Oyster Bay. This station, American Transfer Company, Inc., is located in an area zoned for what is termed as "light industry" when it should be in an area zoned for "heavy industry," Ms. Souther explained. "We feel we are in a light industry," says Mr. Lawrence, "because we are involved in manufacturing and processing." Mr. Lawrence also said that he was "very surprised" with the restraining order. "We feel we are properly zoned. Just being a zoning issue we feel there is no need for a temporary restraining order."

The case is currently under litigation.

Schools Closed For Rosh Hashanah

All schools and offices in the Hicksville Public School District will be closed on Sept. 24th and 25th in recognition of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year.

Board of Education Discusses Goals for '87-'88

By CATHERINE J. TOKAR

*President Thomas F. Nagle opened the August 26 meeting of the Hicksville Board of Education by announcing Iris Wolfson's election as Area II director. Mrs. Wolfson thanked the board for their support and said she would work hard in her new position.

*Mr. Nagle also responded to a former inquiry regarding telephone numbers printed on school buses, whereby a resident could report any driver driving unsafely. However, Mr. Nagle said that this would not be possible. "With all good intentions," he said, "many buses are owned by private companies, and conflicts would result."

Mr. Nagle advised that any resident who sees a school bus driver driving unsafely should write down the license plate number, bus company name, and the time and place of the account. The board will handle any necessary actions.

*The next board meeting will be held September 30 at 8:15 p.m. in the administration building.

*Dr. Catherine Fenton reported that there will be two workshops for administrators. One will deal with board of education goals, and the other will have a guest speaker on time management.

Class Sizes At Elementary Schools

*Class sizes at the elementary schools was also addressed by Dr. Fenton. The board will be profiling a class and will look into the following: number of students in the class; the ability of the students; the number of bilingual students and how long they have been in the U.S.; special educational assignments as well as resource room assignments; remedial programs in math and reading; evaluating teachers and their ability to handle certain situations; and, mainstreaming special education students.

Dr. Fenton said that, generally in grades four to six, when a class size reaches 31 students the class is split. In grades one to three, when children are learning basic skills, Dr. Fenton considered splitting the class when enrollment exceeded 29.

Dr. Fenton made it clear that classes which may be split this fall will be split before the school term begins. All efforts are being made to count student populations in all grades. Principals will contact parents if their child's class will be split. This will occur before the term begins.

*Two one-year goals were adopted by the board. One includes an update of computer skills in grades K to 12. The other requests an update in the progress of the K to 12 enrichment program.

*Mr. Nagle outlined five 5-year goals. They include improving skills in math, language arts, guidance, basic skills, and improving the secondary program.

*All members agreed to accept the curriculum committee's recommendation to adopt a Curriculum Writing Project for grade one called "From Seeds to Plants."

*The board also unanimously agreed to adopt "Globe Life Science" and "Globe Physical Science" for seventh and eighth grade science classes.

*Mr. Hall recommended that the board award bids to the lowest possible bidders meeting district specifications; athletic supplies: $23,215.54, audio-visual equipment: $18,000.03, and computer supplies: $4,992.59. The total, $46,208.16, was unanimously approved.

*Mr. Hall also asked that the board approve the Income Eligibility Guidelines for free and reduced priced meals for the school year 1987-88. All approved.

More About the '67 Reunion...

We received a note from Oakland, California from Valerie Jean (Scapperotti) Cook. In it she states: "A note of community interest was the Hicksville H.S. graduating class of '67 who held their 20 year reunion Friday, Aug. 14 at the Villa Victor. It was very well attended as approximately 500 graduates danced to the music of the '60s and reestablished old friendships. Among the members of the class was the talented and popular artist Billy Joel who has recently returned from a successful tour of the Soviet Union. Enclosed is a photo of Billy with classmates Valerie Jean (Scapperotti) Cook (L) whose family still lives in Hicksville but who now makes her home in California, and Pam (Poole) Ross (R)." You can see that the Illustrated is read all over—even in California. Thanks for the photo, Valerie.

Don't Forget the Labor Day Parade

Hope to see you all at the Fireman's Parade Sunday evening. The parade starts at 5 p.m. and it'll end up on West Barclay Street. This year the Labor Day Fireman's Tournament is spread over the three day weekend. Many of you old timers will remember that Labor Day was one of our biggest celebrations in Hicksville. We used to really dance up a storm at the Block Party that was held in the parking field across from the fire house. What fun!

Second Naval Reunion

Tommy and Lu (Risolo) Heltz have returned from a three day weekend in Dayton, Ohio. Tommy was a Machinist Mate 2nd Class on the ship USS Dayton during World War II. Last year they had their first reunion in New Jersey—it was so successful that they decided to hold another one this year. The naval cruiser was named after the city of Dayton, Ohio and this year the city went all out with making these men welcome. The mayor declared Aug. 22 as USS Dayton Day and many dignitaries attended the affair.

Tommy states that the ship was christened in Philadelphia in 1944 by a gold star mother in 1944. The bottle of champagne that she christened the ship with was wrapped in a netting. She saved the broken bottle. She has since passed away but her son and 25 other members of her family attended the reunion—and brought the bottle with them.

During WWII the USS Dayton operated with the 3rd Fleet, which also included the USS Chicago which George Karman (also of Hicksville) was stationed on and the USS Atlanta—a ship that Tommy Foote (also

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Arthritis Treatment - A Comprehensive Approach Part IV - Exercise and Arthritis

One of the most common questions asked of me by my patients is if exercise is helpful in the treatment of arthritis. My answer is usually yes. However, the type of exercise depends on the type of arthritis and the joints affected.

The purpose of therapeutic exercise is not only to maintain joint flexibility and muscle strength, but to increase the patient's ability to perform daily activities. Active exercise is usually recommended for those patients with joint disorders.

The exercises used are a combination of isometric and isotonic contractions. In isometric exercises, muscle strength is gained with minimal joint motion. These exercises are considered to be ideal for maintaining muscle strength in patients with joint inflammation. Active isotonic exercise can be used to increase endurance, range of motion of the joint, and to increase strength.

When joint pain occurs, it is natural to rest the joint. However, strict rest can be harmful. Studies have shown that a muscle can lose 30 percent of its bulk in one week, and can lose 3 percent of its function per day when maintained at strict rest.

Patients should be cautious because over-exercise can damage the joints. Signs of excessive exercise include persistent pain, fatigue, weakness, and joint swelling.

Rheumatologists have been trained in counseling and designing specific therapeutic exercise programs, tailored to an individual's arthritis. If you suffer from arthritis, exercise should be a part of your therapy. However, before undertaking an exercise program you should consult your physician.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview"

Independent Art Society Meets September 8

The Independent Art Society will open its new Fall season with two inspiring films secured from the National Gallery of Art in Washington. "American Light: The Luminist Movement 1850-1875" features landscape paintings by American artists noted for their dramatic use of light in their painting of New England scenery.

The second film, entitled "Winslow Homer: The Nature of the Artist," depicts the development of the famous artist from his early sketches on.

Everyone is invited to attend on Tuesday, September 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the community room at the Hicksville Public Library, 169 Jerusalem Avenue.

Kiwanis Club Inducts More Women

Two more Hicksville business women, Anita Kelleher, the proprietor of Giese Florist on South Broadway, and Patricia Breslin, the banquet consultant at Antun's Old Country Manor on Old Country Road, were inducted as members of the Hicksville Kiwanis. The prospective new members were introduced to the membership by their sponsors with a brief biography prior to being voted in as regular, active members of Kiwanis. Mr. Michael Capaldo sponsored Anita Kelleher and Dr. Keith Pastuch sponsored Patricia Breslin.

Chowder Society Marches

The appetizing aroma of clam chowder cooking over an open fire will fill the air at Old Bethpage Village Restoration when the Chowder Society meets on Saturday, September 5; Sunday, September 6; and Monday, September 7 from 11:00 am to 4:00 pm. The weekend's activities will also include performances of traditional sea chanteys and fiddle music.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta said that the Chowder Society will re-create one of the all-male social groups that were informally organized during marshing season on Long Island during the 1850s and 1860s. The marshing season traditionally began in early September when local men gathered at the shore to cut marsh hay and spend a few days camping out, swapping stories, and living off clams, ducks, and other delicacies found in the nearby bays.

The clam chowder made during the Chowder Society meeting will be prepared according to an 1833 recipe, predating the New England and Manhattan varieties popular today. Visitors can purchase the old-fashioned chowder in the Restoration's cafeteria.

Old Bethpage Village Restoration is operated by the Museum Services Division of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks. It is located on Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage, one mile south of the Long Island Expressway, exit 48. The Village is open from 10:00 am to 5:00 pm and will be closed on Tuesday, September 8 instead of its usual Monday closing. A cafeteria, gift shop, and picnic area are on the premises. The last admission ticket is sold one hour prior to closing.

Admission to the Village is $4, $3 for Nassau County residents, and $2 for all children, ages 5-17 and senior citizens. Parking is free. For further information, call 420-5281.

Learn how to raise your SAT scores 150 points...

The Princeton Review, THE BEST SAT COURSE ON LONG ISLAND, IS NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR THE FALL

The Mismeasure of a Man

Every year, thousands of Long Island high school students take the SAT, many without ever learning what the test measures or how to prepare for it.

For years, the Educational Testing Service (ETS) claimed that the SAT measured innate reasoning ability. Scores, ETS said, could not be improved by coaching of any sort.

In 1979, the FTC disagreed, finding that a good coach, Stanley H. Kaplan, could raise scores an average of 48.9 points (combined math and verbal).

We are Born The Princeton Review was founded in 1981 with only 15 students. Although we have spent little money on advertising, our enrollment has doubled every term. The reasons? Princeton Review students have raised their scores an average of 150 points.

And they have done so in an enjoyable and non-threatening way.

ETS is worried. Results this good undermine the credibility of the test.

But parents and students are thrilled. 150 points can make the difference between admission to a mediocre college and a very good one.

The Ethics of Coaching

Some parents don't like to see students putting so much time and effort into preparing for the SAT.

"Why," they ask, "are these kids studying analogies when they could be learning Shakespeare?"

Don't blame the messenger for the message. The Review doesn't teach Plato because the SAT fails to reward real knowledge. So we teach only the concepts and skills tested on the SAT. But what we teach, we teach well.

If you're interested in learning more about our program, please attend a free PRELIMINARY SESSION. We won't make a sales pitch. Instead, we will spend 90 minutes teaching you many of the basic techniques of our course (techniques that may raise your SAT scores as much as 90 points just during this session). Parents and friends are also welcome to attend.

BACK TO SCHOOL...

American Tradition and European Flair for Kids

Two more weeks of summer, and "Johnny" goes back to school...in clothes and shoes styled with European fashion flair and American comfort and ease. The Wheatley Shopping Plaza in Greenvale, and The Americana Shopping Center in Manhasset, are becoming THE places for all your children's clothing and accessories needs.

Piccolo Amore (134 Wheatley Plaza, 621-7448) is a boutique featuring European designer clothing for children from sizes up to 10-12 (from infants to 8 to 9 year olds). "We keep up to date on European children's fashions, instead of waiting for European trends to arrive here [often two years' seasons after the European lead]," says owner Michele Mansouri. "You won't find most of our styles anywhere else on the Island, either," he commented. "Piccolo Amore is unique."

The store carries Ipswich of England, hand crocheted and knitted blank sweaters and elegant christening wear for infants; and Absorba Layette items, for the real "newcomers" to your life.

For the older child, Piccolo Amore features Oilly children's wear...colorful prints in high style separates and accessories that mix and match and lend themselves to every occasion.

Lil Shoe Box, still "walking tall" in Greenvale's Wheatley Plaza has just opened a new store in Manhasset's Americana, 2048R Northern Blvd. Lil Shoe Box is a special place for our special little people. Their employees are trained and certified by the L.I. Podo Pediatric Center, an organization of physicians specializing in children's feet...they're trained to fit children's feet and to spot foot abnormalities (it's also the only shoe store utilizing this service!)

Says Mike Sanchez, manager of the Manhasset store, "We're brand new here, but we're carrying the store's established tradition of service, fit and style. We've got the largest selection of children's shoes in New York, our prices are competitive, and our styles are what the youngsters want for today's active lifestyle."

Lil Shoe Box carries Enso, Ellesse, LeArt, Stride Rite, Toddler University, Converse, Reebok, Nike, Fila and many more, with many styles designed especially for them, particularly the European brands.

There are special back-to-school shopping hours: Mon.-Fri. 9:30-7; Thurs. 9:30-9; Sat. 9:30-6; and Sun. 12-5. Phone: Wheatley Plaza 484-3842; or Manhasset - 627-1171.

Little Doll House has been at Wheatley Plaza for eight years. It specializes in quality toys not usually found at the big commercial toy outlets. In addition, one third of the store is devoted to miniatures. The two owners - Loretta Conway and Bette Eile, and the principal employee, Joy Land, all are former teachers and have a strong interest in learning toys. They regularly attend the trade toy shows looking for the latest in contemporary toys.

Little Doll House carries toys and related items for ages infant to 14. Most of the merchandise is imported.

Hicksville Students Visit Princeton

Everyone will be going back to school next week, but the 1988 Hicksville High Yearbook Staff went a little early. They took a trip to Princeton University to participate in a yearbook workshop, which included many schools from along the east coast.

The staff left for New Jersey August 16, under the supervision of their advisor Ms. Joan Gelberg. The three day stay at Princeton provided an opportunity to learn about creating a yearbook. The workshop, hosted by Walsworth Publishing Co., taught the staff about making layouts for the yearbook. The participants also learned photography, computers, thinking of a theme, art, selling advertising space and selling of the yearbook itself.

The students also learned a little about each other; people they met there, and what it is like to live at a college. "I love freedom," photography editor Kim Lancer said. She enjoyed taking pictures around campus. "Walsworth taught us a lot about putting together this book, and I think the 1988 yearbook is going to be a good one—plus we had some fun," sports editor Tony Walker said.

In a small competition, the Hicksville staff was awarded second place, which entitles them to two free color pages for their book valued around $400.

"I'm very excited about this year's staff," Ms. Gelberg said. "They're so into it and can't wait to get back to school to start on the yearbook."

It looks like the 1988 Hicksville Yearbook is going to turn out nicely, and we wish Ms. Gelberg, Editor-in-chief Laura Catanzariti and the whole 1988 yearbook staff the best of luck.

New School Hours for Middle/Senior High School

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

President Joe Giordano's Message:
'Fortune does not change men; it unmask them.'
Old Saying

Somebody once said that the greatest gift of life is the ability to enjoy oneself. Yes, to know and realize or understand what enjoyment is all about. It sounds quite simple and yet so difficult for many people. And here is where the Galileo Lodge enters the picture, for it is always endeavoring to set in motion the wheels to help bring about the condition we call enjoyment. For example, on Saturday, the 19th of September, the Galileo Lodge presents its Scholarship-Anniversary Dance for everyone's edification and although this affair is held for many reasons, the primary purpose is to offer enjoyment and pleasure to all those who seek these two states of mind. This dance naturally commemorates the Galileo Lodge's inception, sets up the machinery for the distribution of the Louise E. Massiello Memorial Scholarship Awards and pays homage to a member or officer who is deserving of praise and attention, in this case its ex-president Peter Massiello. Pete Massiello was a successful leader of the Galileo Lodge for a number of years. Tickets sell at $35.00 per person and in the offering will be an appetizing cocktail hour, a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, unlimited liquor and some fine listening and danceable music from the incomparable Richard Lagnese musical combo. An Ad Journal will also be part of the proceedings and the members strongly involved in this activity are Skip Monteforte, Rocco Lombardo and Armand Delcioppo. Then, of course, there is the Dance committee and the Ad Journal committee. The importance of this dance to the Galileo Lodge is very obvious, to say the least, so naturally all members of the Lodge itself and the Ladies Auxiliary are asked to be highly represented on this night.

Hey, you ask for another form of enjoyment, well, worry no further, as the Galileo Lodge announces that on Friday, the 9th of October, it will hold an Italian night. Naturally, the mood and atmosphere and part of the proceedings will be of an Italian nature, but I assure you that anyone, Italian or not, will and can enjoy what promises to be an extraordinary enjoyable night. A highly talented musical aggregation from Naples, Italy, will embellish the Italian environment with their particular brand of entertainment and that is because the members of this group play musical instruments, sing and dance and offer their delightful brand of enjoyment to all those who will attend. I call it Italian night, but actually it's really a festival. There will be further news about this event in forthcoming articles that will appear in this paper. So if you like your enjoyment in a rather different way, why not put the date of this Italian Festival on your must-attend list. As I say, happiness is happiness and enjoyment is enjoyment, so it doesn't matter in what form they come in, just as long as they come in. This statement might sound rather confusing, but I guess if you think about it there is some degree of credulity in it.

President Joe Giordano once again announces that help is still needed for the Lodge's Bingo sessions. So a little effort and time on the part of our members can do a great deal for the financial position of the Galileo Lodge. President Joe Giordano states that when members work at the Bingo sessions, they are actually working for themselves. So, it's true, it's your Lodge. You help it and it helps you.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed, (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

This letter is being published upon request.
 Thomas F. Nagle, Pres.
 Hicksville Board of Education

We Hicksville residents and taxpayers strongly object to the board's decision in leasing space to a Sycoset organization with no financial or personal ties to the Hicksville community.

We the undersigned, who pay the exorbitant school taxes, are in desperate need of space for a child care center and are seeing our tax dollars wasted on an "outside" organization.

We strongly urge all board members to reconsider their position in leasing space to this Sycoset group without first making available one of the modular units located at either the Dutch Lane School or Burns Avenue School to Wee Care Learning Centers, Inc. for its child care center.

Our inspection of these premises has determined that with a minimum outlay of between three to four thousand dollars, it will be sufficient to refurbish these units into a comfortable and beautiful center, with a much greater rental return to the school district than the one hundred and eighty thousand dollar outlay planned for the renovation of the Jerusalem Avenue

School to the Sycoset group at a rental which will take ten years for the district to recoup its investment.

This is an outrage and a betrayal of good faith to the taxpayers of Hicksville, who are in desperate need of quality child care.

We demand to know to whom the board is beholden if not the residents of this community?

It's our schools and we should morally and financially have first preference to any space available in the school district.

Pat Keller
 President Parents Association
 Wee Care Learning Centers, Inc.

To The Editor:

We are very lucky to have such a fine newspaper as the Hicksville Illustrated News. It is sad, however, that there are so few regular Hicksville advertisers. I prefer to give my business to your advertisers. Giese Florist is a little bit further but its worth the trip. Antun's is a great place to for for a party. The food is good and the price is reasonable. I was there for Sheila Noeth's party and it was a pleasure to meet this wonderful lady. Thanks to you and all your advertisers.

Garbage, She Wrote

By LAURA TAMBER

A friend called me the other day to tell me how relieved she was to hear that a resource recovery facility was being planned for our town. "It's about time," she said, "that something was done around here about recycling!"

"The term 'resource recovery' is misleading," I replied, "recycling is not at all what the Town of Oyster Bay has in mind."

More and more often people are confused between the terms "recycling" and "resource recovery," and it's easy to see why.

As used today, the term resource recovery means incineration. The major resource being recovered is energy in the form of steam. Steam can be used as is; or it's converted into electricity. Other resources, such as metals and paper, may be recovered, but the major function of this facility is to burn garbage.

"Why should anyone mind burning a little garbage to create electricity?" you might ask. "It's certainly better than barging it around the Northern Hemisphere!" Or is it?

Burning garbage creates harmful emissions. Although dioxin emissions are the most notorious, they are not the only problem. Vinyl chloride and acid gases can be formed when plastics are burned. And, of course, particulates, such as fine bits of lead and other toxics, must be removed from the stack gases. Recycling means the removal of reusable materials before they ever enter the waste stream. The simplest way to accomplish this is to have the homeowner separate out certain materials, e.g. paper, glass, and metals. These materials can then be reused in either their present, or in an altered form. Paper can be repulped and made into new paper products. Glass and metals can be melted down, purified, and made into new products as well.

If all this recycling seems like a lot of trouble, consider the following facts:

- Recycling is nonpolluting.
- It uses 20 times as much fuel to mine new aluminum as to recycle and use scrap.
- Ferrous metals such as steel take twice as much energy to mine as to recycle and use scrap.
- Newspaper can be recycled many times, but once burned for energy, it's gone.
- Materials collected for recycling can be sold, thereby offsetting the cost of garbage disposal.
- Every bit of garbage recycled is material that need not be burned, landfilled, or shipped.

Think of it... by recycling we can reduce the volume of our garbage, sell the recycled materials, and improve the environment for us all. This must be done, and the time to start is now!

Fire in the Firehouse

*A fire in a television set owned by DW. Callahan put an alarm three stories squarely above the fire apparatus at 1:25 Sunday morning, Aug. 22. Callahan occupies the custodian's apartment on the third floor of the firehouse at 20 E. Marie St. Harry (Spike) Ceczil of Co. 2 went to the rescue and put out the blazing TV set. No alarm was sounded.

Emergency Crews Work Overtime To Untangle Hurricane Damage

*Hurricane Carol lashed the Mid-Island area this week, but damages were considerably less than the hurricane visitations of previous years.

Many homes were without power for periods varying from a few hours to more than 24 hours as falling trees and limbs tore down wires. Traffic on South Broadway, Hicksville, was detoured because of a stately tree pulling down wires, a traffic signal, and also covering a car.

The heavy rainfall flooded many streets and intersections. Power failure caused numerous stores and offices to close for the day.

Hours before Hurricane Carol, pelting rain and lashing winds blasted 13,000 Long Island telephones out of service. Several camps cooperated with the Lighting Company and provided their floodlight truck for three hours.

By 8 a.m., the company had 4,000 installers, repairmen, splicers and linemen operating on "Castrophe Routine," a highly integrated system of scouting out damage on a street by street basis throughout the 274 square miles of Nassau, and 920 square miles of Suffolk.

$472,420 Federal Aid For Buildings

*Notice of eligibility for federal aid toward school construction was officially given on Aug. 23, 1954.

If the district is to receive the allocation, the federal government will have to "participate in the steps involved in taking bids and awarding contracts," the board was advised by Fred Tilney of Government Statistical Corporation.

The board anticipates allocation of the Old Country Road and Dutch Lane School additions. Meanwhile, the board is proceeding with the awarding of contracts for the additions to the Fork Lane and Burns Avenue Schools.

Report Brings Us Up to Date

*A check on traffic movement over Hicksville railroad crossings over a 16-hour period from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. showed that the gates closed a total of 59.6 minutes, or 8.6 hours.

*Hicksville is an 'unincorporated area,' and has a surface elevation varying from 145 to 160 feet above sea level, sloping in a southerly direction. The ground water level varies from 70 to 90 feet below the surface. The bedrock formation is about 1,000 feet below the ground surface. Between us and bedrock are glacial sands, gravel, and clay deposits.

*Population in 1954 was 44,000.

*During the last ten years the entire Hicksville area has changed from a predominantly rural area to a suburban residential and industrial area. Hicksville has become a main shopping and commercial center for the resultant greatly increased population.

EDITORIAL AND OPINION

Letters From Our Readers

To The Editor:

The Perils of Plastics Incineration
Who can forget the catastrophic consequences of the "Towering Inferno" fires of the recent past, or the not too infrequent jet plane crashes, where tenants or passengers are asphyxiated by the toxic fumes from raging interior fires of plastic furniture, drapes, rugs and electric wire insulation - escape has been rendered almost impossible.

Many scientists are of the opinion that dioxin gas emissions are carcinogenic! Dioxin is a chemical compound formed by the burning of some plastics, exemplified by last September's hall closet fire at the University of Stony Brook, where a stack of plastic-core buffing pads melted and gave off toxic dioxin fumes. These dangerous fumes, traveling through the ductwork, forced the (eventual) closing of the Jacob Javits Lecture Hall and four other classrooms - all still closed!

When our N.Y. State Energy Research & Development Authority tests incinerators for dioxin and furan levels, it does so during combustion before the flue gases ever enter or leave the pollution control equipment. This method could project favorable emissions, which can be misleading! Environmental Chemist, Ted Goldfarb at Stony Brook, told me that most chlorinated plastics, (PVC) polyvinyl chloride, etc. as well as polyurethane, can generate upward of 75 different dioxins and 135 furans (a total of 210 toxins).

Fred Drewes, a professor of biology at Suffolk Community College, refers to resource-recovery incinerators as, "Wasters of Waste". And in our own state government we now find similar thinking. Our state, that for the past decade-and-a-half, has been pressuring it's 62 counties to recycle, has finally begun its own (3-R) Program: Recover it, Recycle it, and Reuse it! As the second largest producer of waste, our state government is willing to forgo the one million dollar annual benefit derived from incinerating about 50 percent of its waste in favor of recycling. Thomas Stubbs of the state's General Services Office said, "Everyone agrees that recycling and reusing paper, plastics, and aluminum is by far - outweighs any of the benefits you could reap by shredding it, burning it, or whatever other means there are of disposing it".

Markets are available for recycling all sorts of plastics, and in addition there is technology readily available in New Jersey, that will convert mixed, contaminated Town plastics waste into products such as flooring, fencing, posts, barriers, crates and flower pots!

Either we are being misled, or are misleading ourselves about the very obvious overwhelming benefits accruing from 'Maximum Recycling' as opposed to 'Mass-Burn Incineration'. Thus, this letter is a virtual S-O-S to every resident, of every village within our Great Town, to personally petition our Town Supervisor and councilmen, to place a "Hold" on proposed mass-burn incineration until more relative health-risk studies are completed, and successful intensive recycling is given the opportunity to flourish and significantly reduce our Town's need for such massively proposed incineration!

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...Advertising is wonderful and I read all the ads in my magazines and newspapers and I learn all about what's new and what's in...but what I can't stand is the proliferation of scented sheets of perfume ads that nearly asphyxiate me as I turn the pages!!!...It was unbearable when there was one perfume ad in a beautiful glossy magazine—but now they are having two—different and competing—smells (I can't dignify them by the word "fragrance") in one issue...I don't know how the mailman makes it with his bag full of these periodicals, but I know, for myself, the smell is so overpowering, that, even if I like the scent, I couldn't buy it because it has already overcome me...and, really, the scented page is never even close to the perfume itself...I wonder if the manufacturers really believe that this is good merchandising...but, speaking of perfumes in a more positive way, have you ever noted how enchanting the containers have become?...all the designers seem to have outdone themselves to give us bottles which really decorate our dressing tables—the only problem is that they are far too pretty to throw away when they are empty—but I always put them into dresser drawers and they make everything smell so good—and make it a pleasure just to open the drawer...

Yours, Lulubelle

School's Open-Drive Carefully

By Thomas S. Gulotta
County Executive

In just a few days, schools will be reopening throughout our County as anxious school children return to meet their new teachers and class-mates.

With the influx of traffic generated by the school reopenings... especially pedestrian traffic near school zones... it is an important time for all of us to renew those safety factors which should influence our driving techniques throughout Nassau County all year round.

I recently had the opportunity to review a detailed study prepared by the Nassau County Police Department regarding fatal traffic accidents. The report indicates that driver and/or pedestrian error is the most common cause, accounting for over 45% of the accidents; at the same time, alcohol related fatalities accounted for another third of the county's fatal accidents.

The message in this report is that most fatal auto accidents are caused by factors which are within human control. Therefore, it is a good time to reinforce the importance of preventive programs designed to address the very factors which can lead to driver and pedestrian error.

Nassau has a population of about 1.3 million, with about one million registered autos traveling on 5,000 miles of roadway. It is absolutely necessary that motorists pay strict attention to the road and that all steps be taken to minimize the chance of accident. Motorists and pedestrians alike must pay strict attention to all safety precautions and must avoid being lured into complacency when travelling the highways and roads of the county.

G.E. Foundation Funds Project For Disabled Students

Dr. Edwin W. Martin, President, Human Resources Center, recently announced the award of a $15,000 gift by the General Electric Foundation in support of the Center's nationally recognized model "Transition from School-to-Work" Project for high school juniors and seniors with disabilities who were identified as not "college bound".

"On behalf of our physically disabled young adults who will greatly benefit from the continuation of this very important program," stated Dr. Martin, "I express my appreciation to Paul Ostergard, President of the General Electric Foundation and to the Foundation's Board of Trustees. Training programs and foundations across the nation are following the progress of this project."

Under the direct supervision of the Project Director, participating young adults are provided with assessment counseling and are given individualized training plans. These plans include transitional trainee job sites in the Center's facilities, i.e., food service workers, building and grounds maintenance workers, gift shop sales workers and, in Abilities, Inc., a non-profit demonstration employment workshop, as wires, assemblers, and inspectors. Participants in the Project work toward the goal of increasing their productivity level to standards set within business and industry.

Young adults in the Project work with their "job coach" and supervisor in developing appropriate job behavior and skills. Once productivity is achieved and positive work behavior has been established, trainees are assisted in obtaining permanent employment and job coach services are provided during the initial employment phase.

The students served are physically disabled, sensory impaired (audio and/or visual) learning disabled, educable mentally retarded or multiply handicapped.

Some of the participating Schools are: Bellmore-Merrick, Carle Place, East Meadow, Garden City, Glen Cove, Herricks, Hicksville, Human Resources School, Levittown, Locust Valley, LI Lutheran H.S., Manhasset, Mineola, Plainview - Old Bethpage, Roslyn, and W. Trespers Clarke.

"The General Electric Foundation's support for the Human Resources Center's project is designed to help these students achieve all that they can, and be independent," said Paul M. Ostergard, President of General Electric Foundation. "As the growth of the American work force slows over the next decade, the United States will need productive people more than ever. This project will help not only Long Island youngsters shape their futures, but by its model, help other communities, both here and overseas."

The Transition Project is assisted by an employment-directed General Advisory Council comprised of Center staff, representatives from the NY State Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, metropolitan area employers, school administrators, parents, children and rehabilitation professionals.

The National Center on Employment of the Disabled at Human Resources Center is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to providing educational, vocational, social and recreational opportunities for physically disabled individuals.

For information on School-to-Work Transitional Services Project, contact Jessica Swirsky, Senior Coordinator, Human Resources Center, 747-5400.

On September 6, our Ritual Team Captain Howie Bergeron and his boys will be marching in the Fire Department Labor Day Parade. On Monday, September 7, members of the Post will put out the flags along Broadway and the side streets. September 13 through 19 is P.O.W.-M.I.A. Recognition Week. On September 18, at the Veterans Memorial in Eisenhower Park, there will be a candlelight vigil for all P.O.W.-M.I.A.s from all the wars. The ceremony starts at 8:00 p.m., the public is welcome.

On October 3 we are having our 50's and 60's Dance at the hall with a roast beef dinner and unlimited beer and soda for a donation of $16.00 per person. Contact the chairman, Joe Messana, at 822-3954. We are also having a raffle for a Truckload of Cheer on the same night.

Chaplain's Report—Chaplain Pierre Gasque reported on our Comrades and Sisters and families who have been hospitalized during the month. Jack Kaufman was at Northport, Carmela Vitiello's mother was hospitalized, Al Brauer's brother, Bob, is out at Northport with the flu. Our condolences go to the family of Joseph Graham. He was the father of S/Sgt. James Graham, both members of this post.

The Comrades of the Post welcome new members Justin Varricchio and James McKay. Congratulations to Bob Obermeyer on his 35th year with the Hicksville Water Department. Our next Las Vegas Nite will be September 11 at the V.F.W. Hall.

You may send away for a free copy of Your Social Security to Consumer Information Center, Department 31, Pueblo Colorado 81009.

Two Nassau County defensive driving courses will be held at Hicksville High School on Mondays, Sept. 21 and 28, and on Mondays, Nov. 23 and 30.

All classes meet from 7 to 10 p.m. on both dates. The fee for the course is $35.

Successful completion of the course entitles motorists listed as principal drivers to a 10% reduction on the liability portion of their auto insurance policy if the auto insurance policy anniversary is in 1987. For auto insurance policies with anniversaries on or after January 1, 1988, motorists will be entitled to a 10% discount on both the liability portion as well as the collision portion of the insurance policy. Graduates of the defensive driving course are entitled to the discount for up to three years after completion of the course. In addition, completion of the course also deducts three points from the motorist's license by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles if violations have been incurred during the 18 month period prior to taking the course.

Registration is by mail only. Persons interested in the course should call 249-3331 to have registration materials mailed to their home.

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

On Sunday, August 23, I attended the christening of the Glen Cove Harbor patrol vessels, the Sp4 George Lang and the Sgt. Major Dan Daly. The ceremony was at the Glen Cove Yacht Club. It was a privilege to congratulate George Lang, as he wears the Medal of Honor with dignity.

The County meeting of Friday, August 28, was opened with colors posted by Hicksville Legionnaires PC Artie Rutz and Greg Bennett. There will be a legislative breakfast on October 18. The Past Commanders Dinner will be on Saturday, October 24, at Williston Post 144. A Back To God program will be held on October 25 at the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City at 3:00 p.m. County Commander Hockbrueckner and Nassau County Veteran Service Agency Officer Dennis Dunn both spoke about the September 17th POW/MIA ceremony at Eisenhower Park starting at 7:30 p.m. Dunn told fellow Legionnaires that Vietnam will not officially state it is holding POWs, but POWs could be held at a local level by villagers. PC Ray Gamble spoke about revitalizing the Sons of the American Legion program at each post.

We will hold our intallation ceremony for new post officers on Tuesday, September 8, at 8:00 p.m. at Hicksville VFW. Commander Christo promises an impressive installation and refreshments will be served. Several of our current Past Commanders will be honored for their accomplishments.

PC Wes Tietjen has tickets for sale for our post dinner at Roosevelt Raceway on Friday, September 11. Tickets are $20.00 per person.

I wrote Newsday to complain about their recent headline, "D-Day For Garbage Barge." Several veterans have stated this headline offends the valor and sacrifices of D-Day vets by comparing the invasion with the recent docking of the trash barge. Legionnaires also stated Channel 7 Eyewitness News recently mentioned the anniversary of the atomic bomb attacks on Japan, but gave credit to the wrong type of aircraft.

Our post will have a Color Guard in the Labor Day Parade on Sunday, September 6. Anyone who wants to march will wear the blue blazer. If you are interested, call me at 938-9385 or let one of our post officers know.

PC Arti Rutz states that anyone interested in military history or tank warfare should visit the American Armoured Foundation exhibit of field pieces and armoured vehicles at Matituck. For information, call Bill Gasser at (516) 543-6600. The exhibits are open Sundays from 11:00-4:00 p.m. This exhibit is free with donations accepted and it honors all veterans.

Did you know that CBS News mounted a successful recovery operation in Cambodia in 1970, using local mercenaries to retrieve the bodies of four employees killed when four communists ambushed their jeep. CBS took matters into its own hands when the U.S. and Cambodian governments refused to help. I wish our government would have the same determination as the private sector does when faced with the POW situation. I do not condone private rescue missions, but our leaders must resolve this situation soon.

Our next post meeting will be the installation on September 8. Lets attend the POW/MIA vigil ceremony as a strong united group to show the world that our nation remembers.

MAKING THE MOVE

Getting ready to move takes organization. Two or three months ahead is not too soon to get estimates from the movers, arrange for packing cartons and make an inventory of what you own. Fill out change of address cards now, and transfer school and insurance records. Gather up medical and dental records.

It's smart to get rid of excess belongings in a garage or tag sale. Start packing a little at a time. It's a big job. Set aside clothes for the trip (if you're relocating) and items you want to move yourself in your car. Transfer bank accounts to your new location. Arrange to disconnect phone and power here and have them connected there.

Last-minute jobs include emptying and defrosting the refrigerator, cleaning the stove, checking appliances. Are all closets empty? Windows closed? Load your vacuum cleaner on the van LAST, so it's ready FIRST in your new location.

The FIRST step in successful moving is to list your house with:

Supervisor JOSEPH COLBY COMMENTS

In just another week or so the bright, eager faces of young children will be entering classrooms throughout the Town.

For some it will be their first experience in an educational setting—a situation that elicits excitement in some, apprehension in others and waterworks in a few.

Not to worry! Having been through the experience with my own children I've learned they all adjust.

Being prepared, knowing what to expect, can make the transition easier and many schools have developed programs that smooth the way.

Children must also be physically prepared since schools require that they have specific immunizations before they enter kindergarten. Some of these immunizations must be repeated during the educational years.

The New York State Department of Health requires that all students be protected from the classic childhood diseases of polio, diphtheria, measles, mumps and rubella. They recommend that young children, ages 2 to 6, receive H.I.B. (Haemophilus influenza Type B) to prevent spinal meningitis.

Mandated immunizations include three or more doses of diphtheria (DPT) toxoid; three or more doses of trivalent oral polio or four or more doses of inactive polio vaccine; one dose of live measles, live rubella and live mumps vaccine—either administered separately or combined. A physician's documentation that the child has had a particular disease is considered proof of immunization.

Older students will require a booster of the combined diphtheria/tetanus vaccine and oral polio every few years to insure continued protection.

Your family physician can provide the necessary immunizations or you may want to take advantage of the free services offered by the Nassau County Department of Health clinic located at 1535 Old Country Road in Plainville.

Clinics hours for immunizations are 9 AM to 11 AM and 1 PM to 3 PM on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. On Thursdays they are open from 1 PM to 3 PM and 5 PM to 7 PM. For further information contact the clinic at 420-5200.

A child's enthusiasm as the start of school approaches is wonderful to see. But, if your child is 'stuck at home' because of incomplete or missing immunizations it will be a frustrating experience for both of you.

A.H.R.C. Meeting

The Levittown-Hicksville-Wantagh auxiliary of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (A.H.R.C.) will meet on Monday, Sept. 14 at Levittown Hall, at 8 p.m.

Following a business meeting, the Barber-shop Quartet will perform.

The meeting is open to the public and refreshments will be served.

"Lexicon of Health Care" Available

Are you confused by all of the health care choices available to you today? Whether to see an MD, a DO, an NP or a PA? And whether to choose an HMO, an IPA or a more traditional health insurance plan?

The health care environment has changed rapidly and dramatically in recent years. New kinds of health providers, a variety of health insurance plans and a virtual "alphabet soup" of health care language have emerged. These changes have caused confusion among consumers about what it all means.

To help sort out the many health care choices available today, the American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA) has developed the "Lexicon of Health Care." This easy-to-read dictionary contains some of the more common new terms used in health care, many of which may be familiar but not fully understood.

The "Lexicon" includes information on health care providers (doctors, nurses, physician assistants, therapists and technicians), on health insurance programs (including Medicare) and on different kinds of health care settings. It's designed to help you, the consumer, make the most informed choice about a very important subject — your health.

For one or more copies of the "Lexicon" brochure, contact the New York State Society of Physician Assistants, 427 Kenwood Ave., Delmar, NY 12054 (518) 439-0981 or the national office of the AAPA, 1117 North 19th Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209, (703) 525-4200.

Artists' Promotion Workshop

The quality of an artist's promotional materials can make the difference between acquiring a gallery show or being rejected. Artists who need practical help in advancing a professional career will have an opportunity at a two-session workshop at the Manhasset Library, Thursdays, October 15 and 22, from 1-3 p.m.

The sessions will be led by Joan Digby, who has wide experience in gallery negotiations, media promotion, and advertising. She is business manager of collagist John Digby, has written articles for "Arts Magazine", is a professor of English at C.W. Post.

On October 15, the session will focus on critical examination of the complete portfolio. Press materials, resumes, promotional photography, exhibition card and catalogue will be discussed. Artists will learn how to improve their current promotional materials and make successful presentations to prospective galleries.

During the final session, participants will bring their own portfolio materials for critique. The group will also discuss structuring a show, dealers, and the press.

Registration begins September 9. The fee is $30.

The Investor's Corner

By JOSEPH P. FREY, Ph.D.

A Horse Tale - Part 1

I became interested in horses when I was asked to join a trip to good old Ireland in June of 1985. The people were part of a group that owned horses in Ireland. They had a wonderful name that would have indicated an international operation with unlimited resources. In reality they were a small group of rather affluent Americans. One of the men in the group was the spark plug, the engine. He had gotten his friends together to get involved in the breeding and raising of thoroughbreds to race for fun, profit, and a tax shelter. They now own nine, and the first is racing in Ireland. They are all thrilled.

My wife and I were invited, through a friend of a friend in the group, to go for the Irish Derby and a tour of the farms that did the breeding and the training. Not only was it a wonderful part of a delightful vacation, it was a great learning experience. I have been interested in horses as a tax shelter, actively trying to increase my knowledge of horses as an investment since then.

I thought that the tax act of 1986 would kill the investment portion of the "sport". All that act did was to cause a temporary uncertainty in the advisability of investing. It caused the investment form to change. None of the old advantages were lost.

Prior to the 1986 tax act, most syndicates were structured as limited partnerships. The risk of loss was borne by the general partners, and the money came mostly from the limited partners in return for a big part of the losses and the profits, if any. There were always big up-front losses because of the nature of the business. That saved taxes. It's still true today.

What the tax law did was force a change of the type of business structure that the shelter would use. The first type that was adopted was generally a real, bona fide partnership. In that case, everyone was equally liable as an owner/partner. Many investors were not too happy with this arrangement because their liability was unlimited, and their control was minimal. Today, the structure is generally an "S" type corporation. This gives the investor limited protection of a corporation. The mumps vaccine—either administered separately or combined. A physician has half a brain and the other half is reasonably careful.

One must take an active role in the business. ALL owners be registered in the name of ownership, usually in the name of the corporation.

Only have to ask if you would like to enter the winner's circle with you horse. That's what happens when your horse wins. At least one syndicator that I know wants all owners of a horse in the syndicate to go to the winner's circle, no matter what the percentage of ownership.

We will continue next week.
But before we close, I want to tell how NOT to be involved. There is one horse owner, extremely rich, whom I know, who is giving up the "sport". Since I know that owners usually make money (nicely sheltered), and that this person loves the sport, I asked why he was not making money. Why did he want to give it up? His answer provides the answer. He said that he was making money on the horse racing, but he was losing on the betting. His philosophy was that if you own them, you bet them. For him that was the fun. But last year he figures that he lost $500,000 this way. That's not fun. The moral of the story is that if you own them, don't bet them.

Some more next week on this fascinating business that can be fun and profitable.

YOUNG AND COSTNER

NO WAY OUT

A high-voltage, political thriller set amid the corridors of power in Washington, D.C. and loosely based on "The Big Clock" of 1946, Kevin Costner and Gene Hackman co-star as rivals in a romantic triangle that leads to the murder of a young party girl (Sean Young). A phony manhunt is set in motion to protect the actual killer. And to bring off this far-fetched but potentially intriguing idea, lots of style and breathless pacing come into play. However, it's a bad sign that the film is most interesting before the murder takes place. (R)

MATT ADLER

NORTH SHORE

Matt Adler stars as a youth caught between pursuing an art career in New York or riding the killer waves at Hawaii's famous surf beach. Of course, Hawaii wins. Mixed in among the surfing footage is a coming-of-age romance with a local beauty played by Nia Peeples. The dialogue is heavy with adolescent expression and words most familiar to surfers. A classic surfing contest is featured in the spectacular climax. (PG)

MASTERS OF THE UNIVERSE

Comic book adventure on the screen with Dolph Lundgren as the good-guy He-Man squaring off against the evil Skeletor (Frank Langella) for a planet's soul. Lots of laser zapping and grotesque creatures fill the action sequences. Lundgren is imposing but the character he portrays is empty. Despite the noise and overbearing special effects, the production adds up to so much tedium. (PG)

DISORDERLIES

The Fat Boys, three overweight rap music stars, play bumbling medical aides hired in hope of speeding the death of an ailing Palm Beach millionaire. Of course, the opposite happens. The slapstick antics are corny, awkward and gross — especially scenes showing the boys stuffing their mouths with food or slapping one another in the face. The Fat Boys try hard to capture the Three Stooges' style. But Larry, Curly and Moe can rest peacefully. (PG)

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 NT Pass 3 NT
Opening lead — three of diamonds.
Assume you're declarer at three notrump and West leads the three of diamonds. You allow East's queen to win the first trick and take the next diamond with the ace.

At first glance there seems to be nothing at all to the play, since it appears you can cash five club tricks, two hearts, a spade and a diamond. But when you lead the A-K of clubs and East discards a heart on the second club, you suddenly realize there is a genuine problem. Although leading the queen of clubs would drop West's jack, your ten (or any other club you have left) blocks the suit and stops you from scoring dummy's fifth club.

When the deal occurred, South cashed the queen of clubs at this point and then finessed the queen of spades in an effort to score his ninth trick. But the queen lost to the king and West cashed three diamonds to put declarer down one.

In choosing to try the spade finesse, South missed the opportunity for an unusual play that would have more or less assured the contract. After cashing the first two clubs, his best chance by far was to lead dummy's last diamond and discard a club on it!

Granting that this play allows West to cash three diamond tricks, at the same time it enables declarer to unblock the club suit, thus restoring his club winners to five and his overall trick total to nine. In effect, the diamond lead from dummy at trick five kills two birds with one stone.

The only risk involved in leading the diamond at trick five is that West might have started with six diamonds — percentage-wise, an unlikely possibility. Furthermore, in this particular case, where West's opening lead of the three was presumably his fourth-best diamond, West theoretically can't have more than five diamonds, making the recommended play virtually 100 percent certain to succeed.

You Auto Know

By D.F. KAPPI

Look what just hit my desk... the auto show they hold each year at the Heckscher Ball Park.

Last year Walter and I went. We took pictures... and lots of notes. It was one of those times when the story doesn't make the paper.

The show is a very crowded one. There are many fine and fun cars to see. The photographs were taken close to the automobiles and somehow they looked blobby. They didn't do justice to the cars, so the stories never got in print. We'll try to do better this year.

Thank heaven it's an annual event. The Northport-Centerport Lions Club will hold its 24th Annual Robert J. Bohaty Memorial Antique Auto Show and Antiques Show & Sale on Sunday, September 13, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Rain or Shine, at Heckscher Ball Park, Sabbath Day Path, off 25A Main Street, Huntington.

The show will be highlighting over 250 Antique and Classic autos from 1900 thru special classes, Street Rods, Modified, Special Interest and many more.

If you are an antique buff there will be many treats in store for you. On display and for sale by over 60 Antiques dealers, will be glassware, tools, pottery, jewelry, furniture, posters, auto parts, and much more.

The Northport-Centerport Lions Club will be joined by other local clubs, each of these will maintain separate booths. Participating will be the East Northport Lions Club, Greenlawn Lions Club, Melville Lions Club and the North Shore Lioness Club. On hand will be a Glaucoma Van and the Public is invited to a FREE Glaucoma Test. Hot dogs, cold drinks and other all American fare will be served in the Big Top. Live entertainment is scheduled for the day.

Special activities for the children will include, Rides, Space Walk and much more. Children thru age five will be admitted free.

This year there will be a lucky winner of a 1962 Corvair Convertible auto. Raffle drawing for this auto will take place at the show.

This show is Northport-Centerport Lions Club most important event and fund-raiser. As in the past, generous donations will be made to various organizations and the needy.

Admission is $1.75 for adults, 50 cents for children ages 5 to 12.

Come one, come all!

Your Auto Insurance: How Much Do You Know?

Most of us who own cars have them insured, and everyone who buys insurance gets a copy of their policy. But some people don't take the time they should to read it carefully.

How much do you know about your auto insurance? Test your knowledge by taking the short true/false quiz below.

1. It never makes sense to carry collision insurance if your car is an older model.
2. Your automobile insurance only applies when driving your own car. Additional coverage is always necessary when you drive a leased, rented or borrowed automobile.
3. If your children are listed on your policy for only one of your cars, they are not covered under your policy when driving any other cars you may own.

The answer to all of the above questions is "false" in most situations, but a complete understanding of your auto insurance policy requires more than just true or false answers. That's why Liberty Mutual Insurance Company offers a free brochure entitled, "30 Questions You May Ask About Your Personal Automobile Insurance". The company has taken the most commonly asked questions and answered them in clear and simple terms. To receive a free copy, write to "30 Questions—Auto", c/o Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, 1983 Marcus Avenue, Lake Success, New York 11042.

Help A Handicapped Person Become A Horseperson

LIRHA (Long Island Riding for Handicapped Association) will begin its fall session of classes Sep. 21. Volunteers are needed to help us continue providing therapeutic and recreational riding for handicapped persons.

Three one hour classes are held on Monday afternoons at Gold Coast Equestrian Center in Old Brookville. Volunteers assist by helping students to mount, walking along side giving support and encouragement, and leading horses. One hour of a volunteer's time helps another handicapped person to become a horse person. There will be a training session on September 14 at Gold Coast from 4 to 7 p.m.
