The Board of Water Commissioners of the Hicksville Water District wishes to thank customers who are conserving water.

In response to the numerous inquires regarding the new water rate structure, the board is working on the restructure of water rates to assist the customers who conserve water. Recycling Plant Nears Bankruptcy As Town Zoning Trial Continues

Due to a temporary restraining order (TOR) placed on American Recycling of New York by the Town of Oyster Bay, the construction and demolition plant is near bankruptcy.

According to American Recycling (AR) general manager Paul Kay, the company has not been active since the case was introduced in August and as a result of the current litigation, the business is suffering a financial setback, he said. "We will go bankrupt if we have to go through a lengthy trial.

AR's problems began when its plant was sharing an access road with American

Hicksville Youth Council Cares About Crime In the Community

To highlight safety and crime prevention during October, Hicksville Youth Council will be distributing 5,000 Halloween bags to all students in the public, as well as private elementary schools in Hicksville. The bags, featuring McGruff "the crime prevention dog" emphasize safe trick or treating, and are a joint project of the Youth Council, Hicksville Kiwanis Club and Mr. Tony Citrolo, who owns the Carvel stores in Hicksville at 42 West Village Green, 447 South Broadway and in East Meadow at 369 Merrick Road. Also, in-cluded in each of the bags, will be coupons good for free Carvel merchandise as well as a Flyer from the Youth Council.

In 1983, the National Crime Prevention Council declared October of every year tobe crime prevention month throughout the country. The purpose is to draw attention to the problem of crime in the communities, as well as to encourage citizens to get involved in the crime prevention activities in their own neighborhoods. The Youth Council's crime prevention program has a community educa-tion/outreach component, as well as a neighborhood watch. Currently, in its second year of operation, the program is endorsed by Police Commissioner Samuel J. Rozzi and is funded by the New York State Department of Criminal Justice. The Second and Eighth Precincts of the Nassau County Police offer local assistance to the program as well. By seminating information such as pamphlets or the Halloween bags and through presen-tations and speaking engagements, residents of all ages are educated about simple steps they can take to reduce the chance that they become victims of a crime.

The neighborhood watch is an organized group of residents who agree to act as "the group of residents who agree to act as the eyes and ears" of the police for their neighborhood. The volunteers go through a two-session training conducted by the police an each has block captains as well as a coor-dinator. Operation I.D. engravers are available from the Youth Council, so that residents can mark their valuables with a traceable number to assist in recovery should they be stolen. Also available at the Youth Council are letters to obtain a free home security survey done by a trained crime prevention officer of the Nassau County Police Department. The survey is done at the convenience of the homeowner, and the officer will make recommendations for low cost improvements to in-crease the security of the home.

The Youth Council is particularly interested in the crime problem, as recent statistics from the National Crime Prevention Council show that young people (ages 12-19) are the victims of crime more than any age group. Every 19 seconds a teenager in the United States is the victim of a crime. The program also hopes to reduce the amount of vandalism committed by young people through education and Medical Waste Systems (AMWS), a transporter and storer of infectious medical wastes, which was put out of business in August by the town. The town, which became aware of AMWS handling of infectious hospital wastes through members of the Duffy Park Civic Association, issued the TOR on all businesses located at 344 Duffy Ave., Hicksville. AR, which is located on two acres of the nine-acre site (seven acres previously utilized by AMWS and American Transfer Company, Inc.), also received the TOR, although they were not involved in the transporting of infectious wastes, said Mr. Kay. Because AR shared the driveway, which was used for delivery trucks to enter with material, there was a misconception that AR was involved with AMWS. "it's not fair," said Mr. Kay. "Because of a lack of information,

Mr. Kay. "Because of a lack of information, we are suffering."

Zoning Issue

"The town does not feel that the zone the man John Nevins, president of AR Jisin is the proper zone for that type of business." said Phyllis Souther, spokesperson for the town. The town said that AR is currently located in an "H" industrial zone which is for light industry when it should be in a "I" zone which is used for heavy industry. Although Mr. Kay says that AR is in the proper zone, the town is still taking legal action. "The temthe town is still taking legal action. "The tem-porary injunction [placed on AR] is still in place,"Ms. Souther said last week. "The town is going to court to try to get a permanent injunction," she added. Mr. Kay said he is willing to apply for any permits needed to keep AR in business. "If we need the permits we will comply." Meanwhile, 15 employees were laid off and current figures show that AR has lost in excess of $350,000 in income and possibly $20,000 or more in legal fees, according to a fact sheet or more integrates, according to a fact states, released by Mr. Kay. AR has a campaign underway to "Save American Recycling" which includes a rally on October 27, to urge other business people and residents to fight for facilities needed to accept construction, demolition, landclearing and landscaping debris, said Mr. Kay.

A contracting business representative who used the facilities of AR said he was very disappointed with the restraining order placed on the company. "I believe in what they are doing. They are planning for the future," said Roy Amen of Amen Mechanical Inc., in Copiague. Because AR has temporarily clos-ed down, Mr. Amen has to sort out his waste material and bring it to many different recycling plants, whereas with AR, Mr. Amengave all his material to them and they handled the sorting. "Some places don't take certain stuff," Mr. Amen said. "It takes time to sort out half the material and it costs me money."

Duffy Park's Reaction

Kathy Del Rosso, president of the Duffy Civic Association which led the crusade to shut down AMWS said "Duffy Park Civic remains neutral with regard to AR. The Town of Oyster Bay might prefer that we rally against AR and AR might prefer that we rally for them, We are not focused on that. Our Continued on Page 2

Kay, AR can benefit the Town of Oyster Bay's residents. "Since dumping in the town presently costs $56 a ton and they must pay almost $130 a ton for removal, if they diverted 250 tons a day to AR, they would save $18,500 daily or about $5,500,000 per year." Hicksville Republican Club

Joseph Jablonsky Executive Leader

President

By MARC HERBST

Last Wednesday evening the Hicksville Republican Committeemen's Council met at Antun's to discuss the campaign strategy for the final weeks prior to election day.

Committeeman Bill Klarmann opened the meeting by leading the committee in the piedge of allegiance. Executive Leader Joseph Jablonsky thanked the members for attending the meeting and announced that several of this year's candidates will be stopping at the meeting to discuss the campaign.

Receiver of Taxes Gary Musiello was introduced. Mr. Musiello praised the Republican strength of Hicksville and noted how many candidates in the past have considered the votes out of our area as "the bread and butter" for each Republican campaign. However, Musiello stated that the Delligatti Ticket is not taking this area for granted and is therefore concentrating on Hicksville for the remaining days of the campaign.

Joe Jablonsky discussed what volunteers in our area have already done to contribute to a successful election. Some of the efforts include erecting ground signs, conducting telephone campaigns from Nassau County Republican Headquarters, accompanying candidates at the Hicksville railroad station, distributing campaign literature at community shopping centers, and organizing mailings at County Executive Tom Gulotta's Headquarters. Joe said that Tom Gulotta was impressed that over 15 volunteers were on hand to assist at the railroad station

Jablonsky announced plans for the remaining days. Dates were given for distributing literature throughout the community and at the rallroad station. The finance drive and the October 23 cocktail party were discussed at length. Joe also reminded all committeemen to all and confirm the their secretical ending.

October 33 Cocktail party were discussed at length. Joe also reminded all committeemen to call and confirm that their respective election inspectors will be working on Election Day. District Court Judge Joanna Seybert visited the committee. Judge Seybert thanked the committeemen for their support in her upcoming election and promised to return for the Club's November 3 Pre-Election Eve Rally Night.

Councilman Tom Clark addressed the committee. Various committeemen inquired about several issues, ranging from town sanitation disposal to zoning of property, near Duffy Avenue.

Mr. Clark answered their questions and thanked the members for their ideas and input.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Arthritis and Intestinal Disorders

A link to intestinal disorders and arthritis has been recognized by doctors for many years. Types of intestinal problems associated with arthritis include: ulcerative colitis, Crohn's disease and Reiter's syndrome.

The first two illnesses are known as inflammatory bowel diseases. In these disorders, inflammation occurs within the small and large bowel. The associated arthritis affects the lower back, hips, knees, and ankles. The arthritis of Reiter's syndrome often occurs after an episode of diarrhea. The back is most often involved, but joints of the lower extremities can also be affected.

Arthritis symptoms include morning stiffness, lower back pain, and painful, red, warm or swollen joints. Should you have either symptoms of arthritis or abdominal pain, you should visit your physician promptly.

Rheumatologists are aware of the rela-tionship between intestinal ailments and arthritis. There are over 100 types of arthritis, and each one requires its own treatment. An exact diagnosis of the type of arthritis you have is very important.

If intestinal abnormalities are detected, the rheumatologist will work closely with the internist or gastroenterologist. The arthritis is usually treated with medication, rest and physical therapy.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach." An Arthritis Overview."

Reach To Recovery Fashion Show

The Reach to Recovery Program of the American Cancer Society, Long Island Divi-sion will hold its Annual Luncheon Fashion Show on Thursday, Oct 29, 11:00 a.m., at The Renaissance Galaxie in Plainview. Ethel Ursprung of Roslyn, chairman of the event, said that the fashion show and luncheon are planned especially for women who have had breast cancer. Breast prostheses will be displayed by several Long Island corsettieres and fashions, modeled by Reach to Recovery volunteers, will be from Abby's Armoire in Woodbury. The ticket donation is $25.00.

Proceeds of the Luncheon Fashion Show go to support Reach to Recovery, a program designed to lend emotional support to newly diagnosed breast cancer patients who have had a mastectomy. The specially trained Reach to Recovery volunteers, all having experienced the physical and emotional upheaval of a diagnosis of breast cancer, visit the new patient in the hospital. The volunteers present each patient with a Reach to Recovery kit containing a temporary pro-sthesis and bra as well as printed materials to assist the patient in simple specialized exercises which have been advised by her doctor.

Reach to Recovery was started in 1952 by Terese Lasser, a mastecomy patient who felt strongly about the need for a personal approach in assisting women to enhance their lives and speed their recuperation after

In 1969, the American Cancer Society merged with the Reach to Recovery Program. The Society was able to help Terese Lasser with medical supervision and to build further on the solid foundation she had laid.

Today, on Long Island, hundreds of patients are seen each year by trained Reach to Recovery volunteers, followed by an invitation to attend a rehabilitation program at the Long Island Division office. A wig and pro-thesis center, offering fittings and informa-tion, is also available through Reach to

The crime rate in Oyster Bay is down, significantly.

Complete figures for 1986 Indicate that burglary and property crime, in particular, have declined. County-wide crimes of burglary have fallen by almost 4% and property crime by 7%.

A list of 79 communities compiled by the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council of Nassau County, ranks each community based on the number of crimes per 1,000 in habitants. Those with the lowest number of crimes received high rankings and, by and large, Oyster Bay communities were found in that high end.

Of particular note, Old Bethpage was rank ed as the Community experiencing the least number of robberies and burglaries. Other communities receiving highly favorable ratings include Massapequa Park, Plainedge, South Farmingdale, Bayville, East Massape-qua, Glenwood Landing and Hicksville.

The decrease in crime is attributable to in creased awareness on the part of homeowners on how to protect their property, especially when all household members are away from home and during vacation periods. Many residents have installed home security systems, which can vary greatly in price depending on the sophistication of the system and the layout and size of the home.

Simple and effective deterrents that all homeowners can employ include keeping lights on in the evening, using exterior lights to focus on hidden or recessed areas of your property, the installation of deadbolt locks on doors and the removal and/or trimming of trees and shrubs close to your home which might obscure from view the presence of someone lurking near your house.

Being an alert neighbor and reporting to the police any activity which seems unusual could save your neighbor from a devastating situation. Many communities already have Neighborhood Watch committees that keep a visual surveillance on homes. You might consider joining such a group or, if an association does not exist in your area, starting one.

Wic

The Nassau County Police Department can be very helpful in assisting new groups. It also offers a Home Security Survey at your home and will, after careful inspection, provide written recommendations on how to best secure your home against intrusion.

When next year's figures are issued, I'd like to see all Town of Oyster Bay communities experiencing even greater reductions in crime. I think this is a goal we can achieve.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible: we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor: (This letter is being published upon

It has been brought to my attention by the Duffy Park Civic Association that the asphalt plant formerly known as Zara Construction, located on West John Street, Hicksville, may soon become operable. On behalf of my friends and neighbors on Po Lane, I would like to tell you how upset we all are by this revelation. The area surrounding West John Street and Duffy Avenue has become the industrial zone of Nassau County. We already are suffering from the fumes and pollution from Twin County, the threat of rats from the comdisregard for the people of this community from the dispraceful appearance of many of these businesses. And now to learn that we will be subject to further pollution and health hazards by the opening of yet another asphalt plant in our area has me

And who is responsible for the deteriora-tion of our town—the Town of Oyster Bay.

How our policymakers can allow such conditions to exist is beyond my comprehen-sion. We are the voters and taxpayers and we will no longer be silent. Let me assure you, Mr. Delligatti, that I will make it my personal mission to convey the message to my community—the Duffy Park Civic Association, the Northwest Civic Associa-tion, my friends and neighbors, etc.,—that if the Town of Oyster Bay allows this plant to open and continues to turn their backs to the problems of this area, the Republican Party should not be reelected. I am a registered Republican. I have always been faithful to my party but they have let me down. If you cannot meet the needs of your constituents, perhaps the Democrats can help us change the community for the better. My home, my health and the health of my family and friends is being threaten-ed. I ask you to put the needs of the people first because, if you do not, the people will speak with their votes on November

Residents of Po Lane, Hicksville

To The Editor:

This letter is being published upon request:

As you well know, the residents of the Duffy Park area of Hicksville have long been plagued with parking problems caused by the New York State Unemployment Office on Old Country Road. The building was never built with enough parking spaces for its employees much less the patrons who must visit all day long. To this day our local streets are clogged with cars or no-parking signs.

The Duffy Park Civic Association has come upon an answer to this problem. The owner of the adjacent property to the east has put this up for sale. It is our hope that the state can strike a fair deal for the 3000 square feet of already paved parking. In this way the residents of the Duffy Park area of Hicksville can reclaim the streets in front of their own homes.

30 G Fire Hits Hicksville Temple

*An early morning blaze caused considerable damage to the Temple Shaarei Zedek, Old Country Road and New South Road, Hicksville. Hicksville Vamps received a report of smoke in the building at 5:35 a.m. Nine pieces of apparatus and 60 men responded under First Deputy Chief Roy Schaaf.

Thefire, which is believed to have burned about an hour before being discovered, originated in a basement storage room. The fire was confined to the basement and the remainder of the building suffered smoke damage. Heavy smoke forced Vamps to break windows because they could not be opened. The floor area directly above the fire was also destroyed.

The sacred Torahs were removed safely. The Vamps were on the scene for over two hours, and the Second Precinct County Police closed off a portion of Old Country Road due to hose lines.

Chief Schaaf requested an immediate investigation by the County Fire Marshals. The fire was not considered suspicious.

Superintendent's Contract Not Renewed

*By a unanimous vote, the Hicksville Board of Education will not renew the contract for superintendent of schools Jerome J. Niosi. Dr. Niosi's contract expires June 30, 1975 and the school board has decided to find a replacement rather than rehire him. (It should be noted that trustee John Lari was not present at Tuesday's meeting; therefore his vote on the contract was not recorded).

Before the vote Tuesday night, the board met behind closed doors for over an hour while a small group of taxpayers and employees waited for the meeting to continue. The action did not come as a complete surprise to those who have been attending board meetings regularly, but most did not expect it to happen at this particular time.

The superintendent and school board have had a number of public confrontations during the past year and his actions have not always been acceptable to them. The board will now investigate various agencies to conduct a search for a successor superintendent. Dr. Niosi has been in his present position since October 1971, when he was hired by the school board then in power to replace Donald F. Abt.

Retain Allocation Program

*Rep. Norman F. Lent told a House Subcommittee on Communications and Power that "if we allow the Mandatory Petroleum Allocation Program to die, we are in effect endorsing monopolies by the major oil firms and deserve the label 'derelict.' "Lent's message was in connection with its consideration of several bills to extend the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act, which insures adequate supplies of gasoline, home heating oil and other petroleum products through the normal distribution systems.

Lent, the original sponsor of the legislation to extend the act past the February 28, 1975 expiration date, said he was concerned about independent dealers in the northeast. They provide large segments of the population with gasoline and heating oil, and who would suffer seriously should the Act expire in mid-winter. Said Lent, "....Any interruption of our supplies will be disastrous. With inflation and the sky high prices we have to pay for petroleum products, Long Islanders will be hit . . . harder than last year.

Hicksville VFW Answers HAD's Financial Appeal

*Once again, the membership of Hicksville's Veterans of Foreign Wars, William A. Gouse, Jr. Post No. 3211 has responded positively to HAD's request for financial support. Since the creation of Help-Aid-Direction (HAD) close to five years ago. this fraternal group has consistently proven itself to be a deeply concerned, active community-service organization.

Along with individual, group and family counseling services, HAD provides a variety of recreational and socialization activities for teenagers. HAD also operates a hot line crisis program, performs drug abuse prevention and treatment work, and assists families in the reduction of antisocial, self-destructive behavior among their teenage children.

Hicksville VFW responded quickly and substantially to HAD's severe cuts in state allocations. Without this generous contribution, all counseling relationships between staff and clients would have been terminated. Now they may continue uninterrupted.

Installation at Trinity Lutheran

*The Reverend John H. Krahn will be installed as the new pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, 40 West Nicholai St., Hicksville, this month. Pastor Krahn has been Trinity's assistant pastor for five years before accepting the call as pastor. He replaces the Reverend Edward H. Stammel, pastor of Trinity for 30 years.

Pastor Krahn was graduated from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis with a M.Div. He received a M.A. from Union Seminary in Educational and Theological Studies and a M.A. in Curriculum Development from Teachers College, Columbia University. He is presently a doctoral student at Columbia.

Concern Over OBI Disco

There is much concern by residents nearby of a proposed OBI Inn which is being contemplated on Levittown Parkway in Hicksville. Although the variances needed to throw three or four small stores together to make a huge discotheque has not been granted by the Town of Oyster Bay, work seems to be going on there apace, just as if the variances were granted.

Neighbors are prepared to go to great lengths to avoid having this late-night noise in the midst of a fine residential area.

EDITORIAL AND OPINION

What the Politicians Are Saying . . .

SENATOR DANIEL PATRICK MOYNIHAN (D-NY) has cosponsored the Taxpayers' Bill of Rights which would:

*prohibit the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) from basing promotions or pay raises of revenue agents on the number of levies and seizures they make;

*require the IRS to inform taxpayers of their rights before all proceedings;

*allow taxpayers to have an attorney or accountant present at all IRS proceedings;
*limit the IRS's ability to seize bank accounts before taxpayers have an opportunity to respond.

Calling him "one of the brightest jurists," NASSAU REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN JOSEPH N. MONDELLO has recommended NEW YORK STATE'S CHIEF JUDGE, SOL WACHTLER, to the United States Supreme Court. The recommendation came after it became appearent that the nomination of JUDGE ROBERT BORK was headed to defeat in the Senate. Mr. Mondello said, "Although he wears a Republican label, Judge Wachiller's many abilities have been recognized by prominent public officials on both side of the arste. When a vacancy occurred in the office of Chief Judge of New York's Court of Appeals, GOVERNOR MARIO CUOMO—a Democrat—named Judge Wachiller."

From NASSAU COUNTY EXECUTIVE THOMAS S. GULOTTA: A special report issued by the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council of Nassau County indicates that the crime rate in Nassau County has dropped nearly 6% during the past year of statistical reporting (1985 vs 1986). The County's crime rate is the lowest among other major counties and cities in New York State. These figures are provided by the New York State Division of Criminal Justice.

From ASSEMBLYMAN GEORGE H. MADISON: (in discussing bills velocd by GOVERNOR MARIO CUOMO) — on Pension Supplementation: "Many retired school teachers, state and local government workers, firefighters and policemen are receiving little if any supplement to their original pensions. Because cost-of-living increases are long overdue, the Legislature approved a new pension supplementation bill that would have allowed participants in state-supervised pension systems to receive supplemental payments. The governor velocal fixis legislation citing technical or legal flaws. The governor's velo leaves these retirees, many of whom have deducated their lives to public service, struggling to make ends meet on fixed incomes. It is especially disappointing at a time when New York is experiencing large revenue surphuses."

ASSEMBLYMAN GREGORY R. BECKER (R-C), Lynbrook has announced that research residency awards from the New York State Library for scholars are available. Each award has a stipend of $3000 that may be used for travel, lodging, photo duplication, typing assistance and other research-related expenses. The awards are designed to promote the use of the State Library's collections and unique resources. Forum To Discuss Hazards In Military Spending

How current policies on military spending affect the health and security of our country and its people will be the topic under consideration at a free public forum to be held at the North Shore Unitarian-Universalist Church in Plandome on Friday, Oct. 23 at 8 p.m. A panel of three speakers whose experience covers the military, social, economic and health areas will share views and encourage participation from the audience.

"With 63% of the 1987 national budget going for current and past military expenses, human needs are being short-changed," remarked Dr. Ronald Stritzler of Roslyn Heights, Program Chair of Physicians for Social Responsibility. The meeting is co-sponsored by PSR and the Social Responsibility Committee of the church. "Our purpose for this forum is to discuss how we can have national security without damage to health, education, environment and other human and physical resources which are also part of our security as a nation. Our panel of speakers with the wealth of experience they bring, should help us clarify the issues."

By ROBERT R. McMILLAN

Twenty-five years ago this month the Cuban missile crisis reached its most critical stage. On Oct. 22, 1962, President John F. Kennedy addressed the nation from the Oval Office. In that speech the President said, "Within the past week unmistakeable evidence has established the fact that a series of offensive missile sites is now in preparation on that imprisoned island." The President went on the say that the first "preliminary hard information" the say that the list plentinian had only developed on Oct. 16, 1962. Yet, the evidence, in my mind, is clear that the preparation for these offensive missile bases had been underway for months. Why then had the President elected to speak out just a few weeks for the midterm Congressional elections? Was it politics or a failure of the intelligence community in assessing the threat? We may never really know the answer to that question.

Robert R. McMillan

My first hand experience with the Cuban missile crisis came about late in 1061. Working in Washington, D.C., I was counsel to United States Senator Kenneth B. Keating of New York. At the end of November, I visited Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba with a number of Congressmen and staff assistants. We were on an inspection trip to various parts of South America reviewing military assistance programs. Guantanamo was our first stop. Admiral E.J. O'Donnell, the Commanding Officer at Guantanamo, gave our group a formal briefing. Afterwards, he, in response to a question about the perimeter defenses, took a couple of us in his jeep for a first hand look. It was at that time—eleven months before the President's crisis speech—Admiral O'Donnell told us about offensive weapons being introduced to Cuba by the Russians. The Admiral said there was "conclusive evidence" that offensive missile sites were being constructed in Cuba. He further stated that runways had been lengthened to accommodate jet bombers and 50 MiGs had recently been landed in Cuba.

On my return to Washington, I briefed Senator Keating about Admiral O'Donnell's revelations. The Senator wrote to the Department of the Navy asking for comment, but without identifying the Admiral. The answers delivered by Navy couriers always said that there was no "hard" evidence pointing to offensive missiles. Yet, soon after our first letters went to the Secretary of the Navy, Senator Keating was approached privately by career Navy personnel telling him he was on the right path. The Senator was urged not to be dissuaded by allegations that there was a lack of evidence.

How could there be a difference of opinion between the Admiral on the scene and the Secretary of the Navy in Washington? I believe there was a failure by the intelligence community to properly evaluate available evidence from U-2 overflights and information provided from political refugees. It was as simple as that.

This footnote to the Cuban missile crisis reflects on just how fragile world relations can be. As we move toward an agreement on nuclear weapons, let us hope that the United States will insist on positive verification. Our past experiences with the Soviet Union require no less when it comes to world security.

Drug-Abuse Agencies View Anti-Drug Video

The Youthful Drug Abuse (YDA) functional council members, of the Department of Drug and Alcohol Addiction of Nassau County, reviewed the anit-drug video "DOORS," produced by Norstar Bank, recently.

George Browne, Commissioner of Drug and Alcohol Addiction—Town of Hempstead, began the program by introducing Shelley Feuer-Domash, the police reporter and independent film-maker selected by Norstar to write and narrate DOORS—a dramatic 28 minute color video that deals specifically with drug abuse among Long Island teenagers. Present at the meeting were approximately so individuals representing the drug-related program, at work in Nassau County communities.

"Doors" differs from other anti-drug videos in that the events take place entirely on location—a Nassau County school, Nassau County jails, and Nassau County courts. There are no actors or actresses in the video—only actual people living and working in Nassau County. The story line follows the life and death of a 16-year-year-old crack addict named Chris, who is never actually seen in the video. Because the viewer sees and experience events through the camera's eye.

we are effectivly drawn into Chris' emotions. Schools and community organizations may obtain a copy of "Doors" by inquiring at any Norstar Bank branch or by calling, 222-8308.

Galileo Lodge News

President Joe Giordano's Message:

"If a man does not know to what port he is steering to, no wind is favorable to him."

It is often said that Halloween is a time for children to enjoy or indulge themselves in, alluding of course to that one aspect of Halloween that is called 'trick or treat,' but from my own casual observation I would say that adults also enjoy the Halloween traditions and customs which go back to many centuries in the past. Proof of this is the announcement that the Galileo Lodge will hold its Halloween Dance on Saturday, October 31. The tickets will sell at $14 per person, and in the offering will be a delictous hot dinner with all the trim-mings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Now I am sure that all those members, friends and patrons of the Galileo Lodge who will be in attendance will certainly enjoy the fact that Halloween costumes are permitted and even desirable, in fact, prizes will be awarded to those who have the most "Halloween ish" costumes. Needless to mention also, that the Galileo Lodge will be "decked" out in its finest Fall attire for this activity. So come on, all you adults, prove that adults do enjoy Halloween, just as much as children do, and besides, you will be having a good time doing it. Armand Del Cioppo will 'chair' this activity, aided by a committee to be named shortly.

The Ladies Auxiliary, never to be outdone, is in the forefront again as it announces that it will schedule a Fashion Show on Friday, November 6. Tickets will sell at $10 per person, and in the offering, in addition to the show, will be a cold buffet dinner, beer, soda, coffee and cake. The show starts at 8 p.m. Raffles and prizes will embellish the proceedings. Males are very welcome as fashions from the Bonds stores will be featured. The fashions for the ladies will emanate from Potpourri. Marie Prudenti will supervise the show and she is also in charge of ticket sales, so those who are desirous of attending can call Marie at 822-2941. Needless to mention here that the Ladies Auxiliary is well-known for the enjoyable activities it presents and this is one of them. Why not call as soon as possible and get yourself ready for another nice fall evening. Please note that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night.

Very sorry that we did not mention that William Gammone, brother of Dominic Gammone of our Lodge, passed away recently. We here at the Galileo Lodge extend our deepest condolences to the Gammone family and apologize for the inadvertent error....Very sorry to report that Anthony Portera is in the hospital and we all here at the Galileo Lodge wish him a speedy recovery. Well-wishers can contact Anthony by calling 433-6708, the Nassau Medical Center....Congratulations to Louis and Alice Morace as they celebrated 48 yrs, of wedded bliss. A nice couple of our Lodge who exemplify what is good with our world....Very nice to hear that Mary Monteforte, former president of the Ladies Auxiliary is doing fine after a recent illness....My most sincerest apologies to John Ianotti and his family as I in-advertently erred when I reported about him in last week's column. So John, as I said, to err is human and to forgive is divine.

Keep abreast of this column, especially because more news concerning the Galileo Lodge's recreational and social program for the holiday season the Galileo Lodge's recreational and social program for the holiday season are in the works.

By GREG BENNETT Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

Our meeting of Monday, October 19, was highlighted by charitable donations to the Nassau County American Legion Special Olympics Committee and the Northport VA American Legion Auxiliary Gift Shop. We also donated funds to the Christmas party at Kings Park Psychiatric Center. Remember, we serve our veterans and our community. The special children of Special Olympics are deserving of our charity and respect.

The Nassau County American Legion Auxiliary Gift Shop will give hospitalized veterans at Northport a chance to send home a holiday gift with the gifts, postage and wrapping donated by the Nassau County American Legion. The gift shop will be operated on December 3, 4 and 5 at Northport VA. This is a great program as the holidays can be a lonely time for hospitalized vets. Volunteers are needed for this program.

The Nassau County American Legion Legislative Breakfast on Sunday, October 18, was attended by Cdr. Christo, VC Arlene Howard, PC Artie Rutz, PC Frank Molinari, PC Ray Gamble and VC Greg Bennett. A total of 279 Legionnaires from Nassau County attended.

Our thanks to Senator Tully, Rep. McGrath, Assemblymen Parola, O'Shea and Becker, who spoke at the breakfast, along with County Executive Gulotta. The bills discussed will be published in the next column. County Cdr. Hochbrueckner and Cynthia Hochbrueckner, the legislative chairmen of the Auxiliary, Department of New York, both stressed we should "fan the flame of freedom" by writing our legislators about important issues concerning veterans. County Executive Gulotta supported vets by stating, "You do have a blank check in our office.

Sunday, October 25, at 3:30 p.m., is the "Back To God" program at the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City. County Chaplain Frank Tucker requests Legionnaires attend with their families.

The week of November 8 is designated National Women Veteran's Recognition Week by Senator Alan Cranston, who introduced Joint Resolution 171.

Glad to hear comrade PC Tom Nikitas is out of the hospital. We also pray for our fighting forces in the Persian Gulf. Don't forget our POW/MIA.

Democratic Candidate for Town Supervisor Proposes to Reduce 47 Percent Tax Hike

Criticizing the proposed 47 percent tax increase facing residents of the Town of Oyster Bay as well as what he calls "the inability of the Republican candidate for supervisor to do anything but rubber stamp Supervisor Joe," Democratic candidate for Supervisor Leonard B. Austin has proposed a program to wipe out the tax raise the Republicans plan for next year.

Mr. Austin's program provides for the extensive recycling of construction and demolition materials and residential trash.

Mr. Austin recognizes that "I cannot waive a magic wand and cure 16 years of Republican neglect, negligence, and nearsightedness that has harmed the people of the most over-taxed town in the most over-taxed county in the Country."

But, Austin believes that there is a solution.
"By recycling all of the construction and demolition waste generated in the Town, we can save approximately $14.3 million of the tax increase. And by expanding the Bethpage recycling program to the whole Town, we can save another $3.6 million."

"By taking a regional approach to resource recovery, together with neighboring towns such as Babylon, North Hempstead, Hempstead, and other towns with similar problems, we can even make a profit on the problem," Mr. Austin believes.

The Gleam of Brass

The gleam of brass adds a new dimension of elegance to your bedroom decor. Baldwin Brass Bed and Mattress Factory (showroom: 71 East Shore Road, Manhasset) handcrafts premium quality, genuine brass beds and mattresses at their own factory in Farmingdale.

Founded in 1967 by the Reddy family, Baldwin has developed a nationwide reputation for its fine, unusual bedding, selling to better furniture and department stores coast-to-coast.

The second generation of Reddy's—James, Donna and Edward, took that well-established reputation to the public, opening their first factory showroom in Farmingdale (258 Route 110) in 1986.

"The showroom has been so successful."
says Jim Reddy, "we decided to open another on the North Shore. The Manhasset showroom, under Donna's management, has been open since July. They are offering all their bedding at factory outlet prices.

"We custom make canopies, porcelain fittings, wraparounds and special heights. (One customer was so pleased with her brass bed she asked us to customize one for her dog)."

Baldwin will also refinish your old brass bed, giving new patina and glow to your antique bed.

"Showroom prices can save the customer 40% to 50% off list price;" Jim says, "and for a small extra charge, we will deliver and set up your new bed. Of course customers can pick up their purchases themselves at our Farmingdale location."

Baldwin's Manhasset showroom is open Wed.Fri. 10-6, Sat. 10-5, Sun. 12-4, (627-7670). The Farmingdale outlet (694-6950) is open Mon.Fri. 10-4:30, Sat. 10-5, Sun. 12-4.

Caring For Your Art Collection

by INGRID ALEXANDER

To safeguard your precious art collection, here are a few guidelines to prolong its life and ensure your enjoyment:

• Environmental variations - changes in temperature, humidity, light - can cause more damage than anything else. Paintings on wood are more sensitive to change than those on canvas. Damage can occur when a warped panel is forced to move or its "climate" is changed, cracking the backing or buckling the paint layers. Keep your paintings-on-wood of otening the paint layers. Reep your paintingsoft-wood in a stable atmosphere - not too hot, cold, dry or humid.

• If pictures have been in a damp place and developed "bloom", it can be removed by professional cleaning.

• Mold, too, can form, feeding on the gelatins and resins in the paint, weakening the ground and support. Again, pro-in the paint, weakening the ground and support. Again, professionals can restore and treat your picture.

• Works of art on paper suffer badly from dampness.

Mold shows up as rusty discolored patches (foxing).

• Keep humidity levels below 70% (an air conditioner or dehumidifier helps) and above 30%, for best atmosphere. Temperature should be kept at about 20° (69° F) with a relative humidity of 55%. As long as temperature and humidity are balanced, small variations will not harm paintings.

Skins Are In For Floors and Wallcoverings

M

Woodbury Design Center, a one-stop design center for fabrics, wallcoverings, carpeting (2,000 samples in stockt), window treatments and accessories, has been gaining in reputation since it opened at 8025 lericho Toke, two years ago.

Owners Steve and Rochelle Edelman and Gene and Eileen Heaney, knowledgeable interior designers all, offer home decoration consultation and full discounts on their products.

The shop offers a selection of unique designer fabrics (Kravett, Stroheim & Roman, Robert Allen, etc.).

"We've become a haven for our huge selection of interior products and design services," says Rochelle. "We carry the latest designs by the top manufacturers, and we are able to create a total look no matter what our customers' design choice might be.

"We work with skilled technicians and will do custom colorings, any style wall and window treatments, and finish a look with the finest in floor coverings and designer fabrics."

Asked what's "in" today, Rochelle replied:
"Today's look is a reflection of the individual's taste. Everything and anything that makes you feel good is in, and our designers try to understand the clients to create a look that's just right. Most important is finding the right color combinations, patterns and textures to create the mood
the customer wants for his/her home.

"Color sets the tone, with the preference today toward neutral backdrops and stronger colors, or pastels, as accents. People are using lots of bone, grey and cream, accenting with plums, mauves, scafoam green, teal blue, peach, turquoise and black.

"Textures bring quality into design. You can choose texture in wallpapers: strings, embossed vinyls, textured vinyls, skins and surfaces.

"Fabrics offer a variety of textures from nubby Haitian cottons, to silks, sailcloths and handpaintings...(we're carrying a wonderful line of handpainted pillows). Texture extends right down to the floor, with numerous styles in carpeting.

"The hottest new look is skin, with tiger, leopard and antelope for carpets; and wallcoverings in cobra, lizard and snake."

Woodbury Design Center is open Monday-Saturday, 10-5;30; Thursday till 8;
and Sunday, 12-5. For information, call

Beauty is a Work of Art Well Framed

by KENI WOODRUFF

Set off your treasured pictures in custom frames that enhance their beauty, increase their worth and protect them from wear, moisture and discoloration.

Cameo Gallery (5-09 Burns Avenue, Hicksville)specializes in custom framing for all your works of art, from Johnny's fingerpainted "I love you, Mom" to that signed Matisse you found in Aunt Mary's attic.

Whether your wall art is needlepoint or watercolor, carvas or cloth, Cameo's Bill and Gilda Leviton will frame your pictures or mementos to your specifications, in traditional, contemporary or classical frames, simple or stunningly ornate, in woods or composition, to suit your taste and dramatize your art.

They will encase your fans or memorabilia in glass or lucite, boxed simply or in gold leaf-ed beauty. And there are special shapes to surround your mirrors. French matting, in your choice of finish and contrast, is a Cameo specialty, as is double and triple matting to enhance and preserve your precious picture.

Another unique Cameo service is print transference. "We use a process that transfers a paper print to canvas," Gilda said. "It gives the print a feeling of a real oil on canvas, adding depth, texture and lustre. The process is really amazing, and most of our customers are delighted with the results."

Antique frames are another Cameolove, especially to Gilda who is an inveterate wood refinisher. She will restore and refurbish your antique wood and gesso frames, adding a piece hereor a corner there. "Old frames are becoming so rare," Gilda commented. Manufacturers are making beautiful frames now, but the original wood and plaster frames are becoming harder to find." Conservation and restoration of old oils is another Cameo plus that will add brightness and years of beauty to your favorite paintings.

Cameo Gallery has been at their Hicksville location for just under a year, after a 20-year sojourn at the Farmers' Market. "We were an oasis of color there," says Gilda, "and we've been able to increase our inventory and do much more creative work – matting and stretching – since we're in our own store," Gilda says.

The store is open Tuesday - Saturday, 10-5. Phone 938-9699, Remember, "a well framed picture is worth much more than 1000 words!"

The bidding: South West North 20 3 NT

2 NT Pass 3 NT
Opening lead — seven of hearts.

If you tend to overbid your values, it stands to reason you should be a better than average declarer — because the combination of overbidding your hands and underplaying them will surely lead to a diminution of your assets.

Consider this deal where it may be assumed that South was not a but this kind of assumption is member of the Conservative Party. Most players with the South hand to the would pass West's two heart bid, That is the kind of life they lead.

having spoken their piece, but in the actual case South bid two notrump, which North correctly raised to three.

However, South made the contract by virtue of excellent play. When East played the ten of hearts at trick one, declarer followed suit with the three!

deciarer followed sun with the three This highly remarkable play rendered the defense helpless.

East returned a low diamond, South following low, and declarer had no trouble scoring nine tricks after forcing out the A-K of clubs.

Now let's suppose South has taken the ten of hearts with the queen, which seems to be the natural thing to do. In that case, declarer would probably have gone down three with normal play, losing four heart tricks, the A-K of clubs and ace of diamonds.

South rightly decided that West had two side entries for his two heart bid. He could also feel reasonably sure that West had a six-card suit. This, in turn, meant that East's ten of hearts was a singleton.

It is true that declarer also had to find East with the queen of diamonds and either the ace or king of clubs, but this kind of assumption is one that is regularly made by players who tend to bid their hands to the hilt.

Pre-Competition Eating

To do your best - that is the goal of all athletics. For the athlete who wants to "enhance" his performance, diet is frequently one of the methods that is tried. The truth, so simple it is difficult to believe, is that good sound nutritional practices are the basis for outstanding performances.

The pre-competition meal has suffered the most myths as to what one should, or should not eat. The purpose of the pregame meal is to make you physically comfortable and mentally alert · not to provide additional energy. Therefore, the meal should take place three to four hours before the competition. The meal should be high in carbohydrates and low in fats. Foods high in fat and high in protein take the longest to digest and will therefore stay in your stomach longer. This may actually cause nausea, vomiting or cramping which will inhibit your performance.

Foods like hamburgers, french fries, doughnuts, fried chicken and peanut butter should be avoided before competition. Foods such as pinto beans, pasta, rice, bread, bananas, potatoes and peas should be included.

No food, even high carbohydrate food should be eaten an hour or less before competition. Nausea or vomiting may result from the food in your stomach. High sugar food such as candy or soft drinks may produce low blood sugar. This makes you feel tired and/or weak and may actually inhibit your performance.

The only thing you need just before competition is plain, cool water, so you do not overheat.

If you have a sportsmedicine question or problem you can write to Dr. Stephen Henry, 1361 Tyler Park Dr., Louisville, Kentucky, 40204.

Nassau Sports Review

By JACK WHITE

Long Island high school sports have gotten significant television exposure in the last few years due largely to the efforts of one man, Barry Landers.

Landers, who many know better as the radio voice of the New York Islanders, has been the moving force behind the Long Island Sports Network which now televises fifty high school contests as well as local college football and basketball. His first involvement with high school telecasts was with Suffolk Cable (now Vlacom) in 1972. Later LILCO approached him with the idea of expanded coverage for all of Long Island and eventually that step led to the creation of the Long Island Sports Network which operates under the banner of Cablevision.

LISN now reaches 500,000 viewers on six cable systems throughout the area and Landers feels the games are drawing a significant audience. "I get tremendous feedback wherever I go", he said. "Even some of the Islanders have stopped me to say 'that was a great game you had on the other day."

Barry is more than just a play-by-play man. He is a genuine fan who has a remarkable ability to identify players with their high school teams even years after their careers have ended. Sometimes the opposite happens. "I remember I was covering the 1975 World Series for CBS radio and I was arriving at Fenway Park. A young man was standing in line for tickets when he saw me and he began yelling. 'Hey Channel 6, Channel 6'. That was our high school station then. He told me I had telecast his high school game and it was one of the most exciting experiences he'd had in sports. I was really touched."

Barry's telecasts are done with first class production techniques. They take on a bigtime look, especially with the presence of former Jet All-Pro running back Emerson Boozer as the color commentator. In addition to football, LISN cameras cover soccer, basketball, lacrosse and baseball. Even girls' volleyball will get its turn this fall. All this coverage means considerable costs.

"Our telecasts are basically community service and Cablevision has never demanded that we bring in large profits", Landers said. "What we'd like to do is cover our expenses."

LILCO's financial problems forced an end to its sponsorship but Apple Bank has come through to fill the void. Adelphi and St. John's advertise as does Midas. Barry is anxious to bring in additional supporters to enable LISN to continue to give coverage to local high school and college sports. To that end, he has been meeting with community and business groups to solicit support.

Rich Smith, Garden City High's baseball

Rich Smith, Garden City High's baseball coach heard one of Barry's presentations and added his own positive reaction. "A college coach wanted to know about one of my players", he said. "LISN had covered one of our playoff games and I sent the coach a tape of the game. I'm sure it helped."

Those connected with Nassau athletics appreciate the time and effort that Barry Landers and LISN give to high school sports. If any of our readers can help sponsor these worthwhile telecasts Barry Landers would love to hear from you. Call him at Cablevision (364-8450).

Hicksville Pioneers Shut Out Deer Park Strikers Wolchok Picks Up Hat Trick

By JAY SCHWARTZ

The pressure on the Strikers began almost immediately. The '77 Pioneers dominated the ball and never let control go for long. Many difficult shots made the Deer Park defense weary. The fowards had few chances to pass which were not knocked down.

After a few passes around the Striker net, the ball sailed in the air and Danny Wolchok stabbed a high one in for the first score. The forwards continued to press and although the first half ended, the Pioneers left no doubts about the outcome.

Peter Titone manned the Pioneer net alone. Robert Ilsley, Joseph Matz, Richard Wechenski and Joseph Florio were strong in defensive positions. The midfielders, Jonathan Schwartz, Russell Brousseau and Jonathan Schwartz, Russell Brousseau and Philip Caputo, managed to pass the ball forward, setting up the forwards many times. The second half started quickly when Dave Nelson chipped a pass to Danny Wolchok for the second goal. The thrid score came when a bobbling ball floated by the net and was pushed in by Danny Wolchok for a hat trick. Soon afterwards, a hard shot came from Joe Croce, hit the goalpost, popped up and was headed in by Danny Wolchok—his fourth goal of the day. Richard Werchenski had the last goal from an assist by Tracy Koetter. Tommy Coffey and Jonathan Kanuck worked hard as forwards and deserve credit.

my Coney and oleserve credit.

The Pioneers, coached by Steve Florio and Philip Caputo, looked strong on the field in their third victory.
