A Hicksville man, in the passenger seat of a Camaro, allegedly grabbed the steering wheel of the car, and caused the auto to collide with another vehicle injuring a woman and two children, Eighth Precinct police said.

According to detective Catalano, the man, Louis A. Mercano, 24, a factory worker, of 8 Berry Lane, grabbed the steering wheel of the 1976 Chevrolet Camaro, driven by Joanne Carco, 20, of Hicksville, after the two had an argument. The car, which was traveling southbound on Jerusalem Avenue in Hicksville on November 11, veered across the roadway at about 3:50 p.m. hitting a 1987 Hyundai which was traveling northbound. The Hyundai was being operated by Edna Gotthelf, 41 of Levittown, with four children as passengers. The collision occurred at the intersection of Jerusalem Avenue and Hattie Court, police said.

The woman and the children were taken to Nassau County Medical Center in East Meadow. Mrs. Gotthelf and two of the children were treated and released. A daughter, Stacy, 6, was admitted with a serious head injury, and a collapsed lung. A son, Adam, 13, was admitted with serious head and neck injuries.

Mercano and Carco were not injured. Mercano is being charged with Assault Second with an automobile. He was arraigned at First District Court, Mineola, on November 12.

Chamber of Commerce Christmas Meeting

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce is working hard to create a brand new concept for its Christmas Season meeting on December 15. This year's meeting will feature an exciting new addition—a free display table which will be provided to any business or professional from Hicksville or otherwise, to display their goods or services to those in attendance.

A two hour buffet and open bar will be held from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. on the 15th at Antun's Old Country Road Manor, 244 Old Country Rd., Hicksville.

Applications for the tables must be submitted by November 30. All tables are on a first come, first served basis.

The Chamber Board of Directors believes that in addition to seeing many of the varied types of business that are operating within the town, this meeting can be used by many small businesses as a "Holiday Party" for their office staff.

The cost is $11 per person. Reservations must be made by December 8. For further information call the Chamber at 931-7170.

Residents Protest Local House of Worship

By RITA LANGDON

A house of worship which residents say is an "annoyance" to the area is within its rights to operate, a town spokesman said at the Gliese Park Civic Association meeting held last week.

At the meeting residents said that in early September a high priest visited the Hindu church on Tenth Street Hicksville, and approximately one hundred people were praying on the lawn. Residents also said that portable toilets were in the yard and loud music was played late at night. The residents maintained that this was a disturbance to the neighborhood and because the spiritual leader was there for more than a week, parking was difficult. Tents were also on the lawn during a week-long ceremony, residents said. Richard Blankfein, commissioner of the department of planning and development for the Town of Oyster Bay, told the residents that representatives from the church informed the town that they would be having a week long ceremony. He also said that the church did have permits for the tents. "We found out that they did hire a legitimate tent company," Mr. Blankfein said. The tents were properly sprayed and were fire proof, he added.

Referring to the high priest, one resident said "what can we, as residents of Hicksville, do if the grand pooh-bah comes back to visit this town in the summer and at the beginning of the school year and they are chanting 'welcome, welcome' to teenagers and children?" In response Mr. Blankfein said "As long as the 'grand pooh-bah' does not violate any laws, I can't stop it," Mr. Blankfein also said "A church can operate in a residential zone." He added, "Our laws permit them specifically to be in existence. Freedom of religion is something I can not abridge."

Local Civics Groups Form Coalition

Hicksville civic association leaders met recently to "unite as one community" instead of separate organizations, Thomas McGovern, Gliese Park president announced.

Mr. McGovern explained that each of the eight civic associations tackle their own area's problems and "there are some issues within those areas that are affecting everyone in Hicksville."

At the meeting, which was held November 16, representatives from the associations discussed the objectives and goals of the newly formed coalition. Among the items discussed were the quality of the community's water; parking around the Long Island Rail Road; two family homes zoned for one family; the beautification of Hicksville; garbage and recycling; and a decrease in commercialization within the town.

Also examined was the idea of incorporating Hicksville. "We are looking for more direct control of the community," Mr. McGovern said.

Of much concern to the coalition is the Twin County Recycling Plant on West John Street which residents say is emitting noxious fumes throughout the area. Twin County is located in the Duffy Park area and both the Northwest Civic and Duffy Park Civic have joined in the attempt to have the business shut down. "They have a big fight ahead of them," Mr. McGovern said, "The coalition is going to back them one hundred percent."

Out With the Old . . .

. . . and In With the New

BROADWAY MALL made its debut Nov. 18 when a bulldozer broke through a wall of the former Mid-Island Plaza signaling the start of a multi-million dollar renovation project. (See story and photos on page 2).

Multi-Million Dollar Broadway Mall Begins Renovations

The creation of Broadway Mall, a major new retail center, began November 18 as a bulldozer broke through a wall of the former Mid-Island Plaza, signaling the start of a multi-million dollar renovation project.

The ceremony was the result of two years of planning by Delco Development Corporation to turn the 32-year old shopping center, formerly Mid-Island Plaza, into a first-class regional mall with additional anchor stores and 180 specialty stores.

Several of the new leases that have been signed for the 1.5 million square foot Broadway Mall—including Benetton, Limited Express and Lane Bryant—were announced at the grand opening. Some of the existing stores in the mall that have already signed new or extended leases also were named. All of these merchants have committed to perform total remodeling of their stores in time for the scheduled October 1, 1988, grand opening of Broadway Mall.

In addition, the announcement of a nationally-known anchor tenant to occupy the site of the former Korvette's building—one wall of which was broken down at the November 18 ceremony—is just a few weeks away, according to Allen Yudell, partner in Delco. Yudell said the lease is currently out for signature.

"The extraordinary interest in Broadway Mall shown by retailers around the country, as well as our existing tenants, confirms that we have an ideal location in one of Long Island's busiest and most affluent shopping areas," Yudell said.

The wall-breaking ceremony, complete with a Broadway chorus line of dancers, was attended by current and interested merchants and public officials from Long Island. Speakers included Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta and Oyster Bay Councilman Thomas Clark.

Shoppers also joined in today's festivities at the Mall, which is located on a 70-acre site on Broadway (Routes 106 and 107) in Hicksville, one-half mile off the Long Island Expressway and the Northern State Parkway.

Renovation Inside and Out

The multi-million dollar renovation that will create Broadway Mall will include complete new interiors and exteriors for the shopping center, the first major work to be done there since its ten buildings were enclosed in the 1960's.

"There will be new treatments of every surface, inside and out. Shoppers won't believe their eyes—they're going to see a new mall and its new floors. Individual storefronts will be redesigned using modern materials, and the building roof, heating, air-conditioning and sprinkler systems will be completely replaced," said Martin Yudell, partner in Delco.

70 New Stores

The renovation will create spaces for 70 new stores at Broadway Mall, in addition to the 110 already there. Two additional anchor stores will join the Stern's Department store.

Some of the new stores coming to the Broadway Mall include Benetton, Limited Express, Victoria's Secret, Men's Express, Lane Bryant, Littman Jewelers, Early Learning Centre, AD3, Canadians, Electronic Boutique, Bennigans Restaurant and Lerner Women.

Among the existing stores at Broadway Mall which will be extending or signing new leases are Record World, Brooks Fashions, Kay-Bee Toys, G & G, Pants Place Plus, Kinney Shoes, Foot Locker, Athlete's Foot, Just Shirts, Sid's Pants, Stadler Florsheim Shoes, Sterling Optical, John Gerald Jewelers, US General, Jean Country, Wild Flower, Nathan's, Stacy's Hallmark, Deutch Jewelers, Petland and Dale's Hallmark, according to leasing consultants Andrew Shedlin, president of Andrew Shedlin Companies.

"The excitement that our current tenants feel about the new Broadway Mall will be passed on to shoppers. Our renovations have just begun, but there's already a new sense of vitality throughout the Mall," said Caren Fish, Broadway Mall marketing director.

More than $100 million in total financing for the Broadway Mall project has been provided by Westinghouse Credit Corporation, a Pittsburgh-based commercial lender.

The design architect for Broadway Mall is Hellmuth, Obata & Kassabaum, and R.A.L. Associates are project architects. The general contractor is E.W. Howell. Site study is being coordinated by Raymond Keyes Engineers.

CARIN FISH, marketing director of the new Broadway Mall, holds the official mall announcement.

rising around them," said Devin Shaughnessy, general manager of Broadway Mall.

The mall's entrance will be completely redesigned, including a new spectraglaze block entrance design, and exterior walls will be refaced with glazed masonry. Neon signs, improved landscaping, new lighting and a new parking lot surface are among other exterior improvements planned.

"On the inside of the Mall, the long hallway look of the main corridors will be eliminated. Unnecessary columns will be removed and ceiling levels varied, with curved, vaulted ceilings and skylights installed at key locations. A two-tone ceramic tile pattern will mark the

The annual percentage rates include commitment and origination fees. The Bank sets the interest rates on loans at the time of commitment (for a 90-day period), not at the time of application. The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $13.22 ($11.06 and $9.53) per $1,000 borrowed.

The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 10.75%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

Turkey's Goose Almost Cooked In Fire

Frozen turkeys were almost cooked well before Thanksgiving dinner after a refrigerated cargo truck caught fire on Old Country Road in Hicksville.

According to Lt. Owen Magee of the Hicksville Fire Department, the truck, which was transporting a mixed load of chicken and turkey from Hunt's Point Market in the Bronx, caught fire at approximately 11:05 a.m. on November 16 in front of a Getty gas station on the corner of Newbridge Road. The fire was confined to the engine although the back of the truck, where the poultry was located, received smoke damage. "It is hard to tell what started it," Lt. Magee said. "The cab was too far gone by the time the fire department arrived to determine the cause," he added.

The truck received $30,000 worth of damage. There was no explosion or injuries, Lt. Magee said.

Woodland Avenue School Holiday Carnival

Woodland Avenue School in Hicksville held their annual holiday carnival on Saturday, November 7. The event, sponsored by the Woodland Avenue P.T.A., was a tremendous success.

Children were entertained in the school gym with a variety of games, such as ring-toss, Woody's Wheel (Woodland's version of Wheel of Fortune), basketball shoot, beanbag toss and this year's carnival hit, the Black Hole, created by Mr. Jack Pease. Face painting, by Mrs. Mary Ann DeBenedetto, assisted by former Woodland students, was also enjoyed by the children.

This year's raffle prizes were terrific and a big thank you is extended to Mr. and Mrs.

Andrew Boukas, who organized the raffle and donated the majority of the prizes. Profits from the raffle were donated to the school's sixth grade toward their annual camping trip.

There was also a craft table, a white elephant table, organized by Mrs. Sue Murphy (funds were donated to SEPTA), a bakery full of home baked goods and a variety of refreshments sold by the sixth grade dads who worked very hard in the kitchen.

Mrs. Karel Rudis, the carnival chairperson, deserves congratulations for a job well done. It was a wonderful day and thanks to all who worked the carnival and those who attended to support it.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program at Central

A Drug and Alcohol Abuse Education program, designed for citizens throughout communities served by Central General Hospital, will take place at the health care facility 7:15 p.m. Thursday, December 3, it was announced today by Robert F. Bornstein, administrator.

This first-of-its-kind free community program at the health care facility features four professional panelists who will discuss the problems of substance and alcohol abuse on Long Island, types of abuse, treatment, legal implications and prevention.

The panelists for the program are Dr. Robert Z. Goldstein, Director of CGH Detoxification Unit (Drug Abuse and Methods of Treatment); Maureen Duggan, MSW CAC, CEAP and N.Y. State Employees Assistance Program Representative (Prevention, Education and Resources); Richard J. Guercio, Esq., a former Suffolk County Assistant District Attorney (N.Y.S. Drug and DWI Laws); and Reverend Peter Sweisgood, Executive Director, Long Island Council on Alcoholism (An Overview of the Problem of Alcoholism).

Mr. Paul Woodard, Deputy Director for New York State's Division of Substance Abuse, said, "as of the first quarter of 1985 cocaine abuse was responsible for nearly 30 percent of those admitted to drug treatment programs and that Nassau County had the highest proportion of cocaine treatment admissions." In 1986, the treatment percentage increased to nearly 37 percent.

"Central General's Panel Presentation and Question and Answer Session are designed to create a better understanding of the subject on the part of the general public and will focus on education and prevention," said Robert Bornstein.

Bornstein added that, "so important do we feel this subject to be, that we contacted community organization leaders, including religious and school district officials, to make sure that their calendars would be clear for representation at this program."

The program was designed and developed by Miriam Ravad, executive director, The Educational Programs & Services Company in Old Bethpage.

Although there is no charge for attendance or distribution of reference materials, those wishing to attend should contact Robert Bornstein, Central General Hospital, at (516) 681-8900 to make seating reservations. The Hospital is located at 888 Old Country Road, Plainview.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

I returned to Hicksville the latter part of this past October after a period of 10 to 12 years. One of the highlights of my short stay was a visit to Hicksville High School from which I graduated from in 1936. To my memory I had not been back to the school since the fall of '36. Yes I know it is now the Middle School.

Upon entering the office seeking permission to look around, a pretty young lady asked me the reason I was there. I briefly outlined my request. She introduced herself as Hilary Sperber, music teacher. As she was going on hall duty she volunteered to show me through the building.

This teacher was very courteous, patient and knowledgeable. She pointed out and dated structural changes, renovations and cosmetic alterations. The walk through was a pleasure, bringing back to mind many good times.

I wish to publicly thank Ms. Sperber for making that part of my trip back east a very memorable occasion.

George A. Hannifan
Editor's Note: Mr. Hannifan resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

To The Editor:

I want to thank you for the writeup about my husband and myself celebrating our 50th wedding anniversary.

I have always wanted to subscribe to the Hicksville Illustrated News because I was born in Hicksville, went to school in Hicksville, was married in Hicksville, and we lived in Hicksville until 1951 when we moved to Bethpage.

My husband used to work for McElravey

& Hauck Plumbing Supply in Hicksville for 50 years, which started on Broadway next to the old post office—so you see, we are very much interested in seeing photos of the old buildings the way Hicksville used to be. I enjoy the paper very much.

Thank you again,

Sophie and James Agiesta
Bethpage

P.S. Also Evelyn Noeth was a dear friend of mine.

Salesmanship

"You two look like a couple of nice young kids," the salesman said, leading us through the used car lot. "Tell you what I'm going to do. I'm going to work with you. Yesiree, I'm going to work with you." And with a flick of his finger, he flipped his fedora to the back of his head and out popped his grey locks. "This car is a jewel. A real jewel," he said, grinning from ear to ear. "Why, young Doc Gable's granny only drove it from church to home. Church to home."

"But the odometer reads fifty-four thousand miles," my husband says.

"Fifty-four thousand gently driven miles," our salesman said. "Very gently driven miles. Pile on in and we'll go for a spin."

That scene happened to my husband and me when we bought our first car a lot of years ago. The salesman was about seventy-five but I swear he came to life yesterday, not once, but twice.

He came in two distinctly different bodies but he was our salesman. His first reappearance occurred at a dealership out east. He was disguised as a woman but I knew him. He couldn't fool me. First words out of his reincarnated self were: "You seem like such nice people. Such nice people. I'd like to work with you. Really work with you." Then his new self led us off to the showroom.

"This is known as a demo," our old salesman said to his new ladylike voice. "Seldom used."

"But the odometer reads forty-two thousand miles," my husband said.

"Forty-two kindly driven miles," our salesman said. "Forty-two very kindly driven miles. Why don't I get the keys and we'll go for a little drive."

The second time our salesman reappeared was at a dealership in Manhattan. He was taller and broader than he was when we first met. His fedora was replaced with an expensive hair piece and he wore lots of jewelry, but he was our salesman.

"Hi, there, you, two," he said, ushering us into his office, carefully seating us into plush chairs. "What can I do for you two nice people."

When we told him what we were looking for, he got up from his desk and grinned. "Well," he said, "I'm going to work with you nice people. Yesiree, I'm going to work with you."

Then leading us back to the showroom and over to one of the cars, he said, "This car is a cream puff. A real cream puff. Old Doc Gable drove it from hospital to home. Hospital to home. Treated it like one of his patients. Kind. Gentle. Come on, you two," he said, putting the keys into the ignition, "we'll hop on in and take it around the block."

"But the odometer reads sixty-three thousand miles," my husband said. "Sixty-three thousand . . ."

Memories . . .

. . . of Denise (Eisele) Conrow

I often think that I have great memories of Hicksville, but mine only date back to 1954 when my parents moved here and I was three years old. It has been a wonderful town to grow up in. I feel the town was destroyed by the widening of Broadway. I can remember buying my movie candy at Bresnick's Candy Store because goodies were less expensive there than in the theater, and he always had a bigger and better selection. I also remember reading (and getting reprimanded) the comic books at Holden's Stationery (the original one on the west side of Broadway). I usually couldn't buy all the ones I wanted so I would sneak a peek for free. I also remember having the "Hicksville Special" at the old Sweet Shop—a piece of toasted pound cake cut in the shape of an "H" with vanilla ice cream, chocolate syrup and orange sprinkles. They were great after the summer dances we had at the high school. By the way, we always bought our school supplies at Holden's too. I also recollect that the Hicksville School Annex (offices) used to be on the southwest corner of Marie Street and Broadway and that our parents had to take us there to get our bus passes. Does anyone remember the man at Trunz's Butcher Shop who gave a free slice of bologna to every little kid who came in (even in a stroller)? Nobody has mentioned in other Memories columns appearing in the Illustrated, Dilberts-Big Ben on West Marie Street. My mom would meet my dad and I there on Friday nights. He commuted from the old station, by steam locomotives, I think, and we would all do the weekly shopping before heading home to dinner. I also can see the Santa and reindeer that stretched above Broadway from the Town Hall to the old Long Island National Bank. Speaking of the bank, I can picture the large sweeping staircase on the left of the front doors—big brass doors I might add—the offices in the mezzanine above the tellers and the inclined marble floor leading to the floor offices in the back. They all knew my Granny by her first name and she knew all of them. As I said before, these are not 50 year old memories but they are mine and will never be forgotten. I tell my husband all about them and he is beginning to visualize them as well. He is from Roslyn so he has plenty of good Long Island memories too.

Thanksgiving Memories

In the November 12 edition, you asked for Thanksgiving Memories. Here is one of my favorites. It happened quite a few times but not enough for me.

I remember that my Dad used to stop in Jackson Heights and pick up my great aunt Jessie on the night before Thanksgiving. When they would get home we'd all have dinner and my aunt Jessie always tried to teach me to knit after dinner. (I still can't master it).

Early the next day my Granny and aunt Jessie would be knitting by 8 am.—preparations seemed to be endless. My Dad would cut up the turnips and potatoes and then he and I would settle down for the Macy's Day Parade on television. At about 2 a.m., the relatives started arriving. There would usually be about 10 of us altogether. My Mom played hostess because Granny and aunt Jessie completely took command until the dishwashing began. Around 8 p.m., it would be time for sandwiches (turkey, of course), and we'd all say, "Where did we ever find room for all that food?" I suppose the best part for me was just sitting and listening to my Granny and her favorite sister speak of all their Thanksgivings in the past—I wonder if they knew they were making my memories?

Editor's Note: Anyone who has memories and recollections of life in Hicksville may write us at 132 E. Second St., Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

GULOTTA PROCLAIMS LION/Lioness Day: Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, (second, right), proclaimed Lion/Lioness Day in the County of Nassau at a recent Ceremony which was held in recognition of the outstanding community service that the Lion and Lioness Organizations have provided throughout the County. Accepting the Proclamation are Lions from Region 2: Donald Rapuzzi of Hicksville, Chairman Zone 3; Phil Scher of Elmont, Deputy District Governor; and Joe Flanagan of Oceanside, Chairman Zone 4.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

President Joe Giordano's Message: 'To improve the golden moment of opportunity and catch the good that is within our reach is the great art of life.' Old Saying.

Time has a habit of moving on very swiftly, waiting for neither man nor woman, as the expression goes. Time is an important and precious commodity in our lives, and that everything seem to be predicated on it is quite obvious. Time is important to the Galileo Lodge as well, because as you can see that at the Galileo Lodge its time for this function or that one, which certainly make it more enjoyable and pleasant for its members, friends and patrons. Now we see that on Saturday, December 5th, the Galileo Lodge will hold its eagerly-awaited Christmas Dance. Tickets will sell at $14.00 per person, and in the offering will be a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Please note also that a grab bag will be part of the proceedings and that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night. And it goes without saying that the Galileo Lodge will be dressed up in its Christmas finery for this affair. I believe that Rocco Lombardi and Armand Del Cioppo will be in charge of this wonderful dance. Then on Sunday, the 6th of December, the Galileo Lodge will present its two Christmas parties, one for the handicapped children of Queens and Long Island in the morning and the other one for the children of the membership in the afternoon. It seems that Christmas would not be Christmas if the Galileo Lodge did not present these two joyous events. To attend these parties is quite an experience, an experience that stays with you for a long time, and this is because Christmas cheer and spirit is spread out to all of those who are desirous of accepting it and because our organization asks nothing in return. To add icing to the holiday season, on Thursday, the 31st of December, the Galileo Lodge schedules its New Year's Party and Dance, and what a beautiful and high-spirited way to usher in the new year. If it's fun and frolic that you seek, well, come to the Galileo Lodge on the date mentioned here and partake of it.

We have some nice reports to the effect that the Fashion Show held by the Ladies Auxiliary was another successful venture in which all those who attended enjoyed a great night relishing the latest fashions and enjoying the food and hospitality offered by the Ladies Auxiliary. Marie Prudenti and her committee did a great job in preserving its reputation of offering another social activity held for everyone's edification.

Lodge Tidbits:

We are proud to report that John Sarrera (and his family, of course) are almost ecstatic these days as his son, Anthony Dennison, one of the stars of Crime Story, recently gave him a surprise birthday party at Peppercombs of Hicksville. It was a beautiful night for the Sarrera family and it was a beautiful gesture on the part of Anthony, who has certainly shown that TV success has not spoiled him...Al Frigente wishes to announce that he would consider it a big favor if the one who mistakenly took his car coat and gloves please return them to him by contacting the Galileo Lodge, 931-9351. A good time would be Wednesday night, the night when Bingo is in progress. Mistakes are made and some coats look similar in the dark or ill-lighted places. All is forgiven, of course...All members, male and female who are contemplating sending their children to the Christmas parties, please contact Armand Del Cioppo (935-5052) and reveal to him the number of children to be sent and their ages. The age limit is 12 years old. This is very important and your aid in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

WHAT THE SELLER SELLS,
WHAT THE BUYER BUYS

Putting your house on the market? Fine. But when prospective buyers come to see it, they're not looking at YOUR house—what they see is THEIR home, what THEY can make of the property, how THEIR furniture will look, how THEIR family will use the space.

That's just one reason to put some distance between the prospect and the seller. That would-be buyer isn't really interested in how you live in your home, but in how HIS or HER family will fit in. We, as real estate professionals, qualify each prospect before we show your house; you'll only see those prospective buyers who really need and want a house like yours.

And we know how to show the property, emphasizing the features the buyer wants, not those the seller thinks are important. We know how to be quiet as a prospect mentally moves his furniture into the rooms, and how to counter any objections with "Yes, but..." answers.

When you put your house on the market, list with:

School Board Trustee Heads Seminar

Presiding at the 68th annual convention of the New York School Board's Association clinic on Religion and the Schools was Hicksville School District's board trustee, William Bennett. The participants on his panel were Mr. Jay Worona, the Associate Counsel to the New York State School Board Association; Mr. Henry Safnauer, superintendent of the Cato-Meridian School District involved with the "home instruction" issue, Blackwelder vs. Safnauer; and Mr. Carl Onken, a board member of the Monroe-Woodbury School District dealing with the issue of a neutral site case involving a religious community. What follows is a synopsis of what topics and court cases were discussed.

In a Tennessee case, parents challenged the school district's Basic Reading Program on the grounds that it was biased against their faith. The parents argued that the readers displayed a "systematic bias towards their religious beliefs." A US District Court Judge agreed with parents and allowed their children to opt out of the reading period. However, the parents were obligated to provide their own reading lessons at home.

This, however, was overturned by the US 6th Circuit in Atlanta, and the Court stated, "The parents of the children could not successfully claim that their freedom to practice their religion had been violated by the school districts mandating that the children attend classes and be 'exposed' to the reading books."

In an Alabama textbook case, certain parents had been successful in convincing the US District Judge to ban 44 history, social studies, and home economic text books for use in the Alabama Public Schools. The parents argued in their law suit that the Judeo-Christian teaching was not tolerated in the classroom, while "secular humanism" (a belief that does not include God in ethical decisions) was.

The 11th US Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta ruled that nothing indicated that "omission of certain facts regarding religion from these textbooks of itself constituted an advancement of secular humanism or an active hostility towards theistic religion prohibited by the Constitution." Mr. Worona, a counsel to the association, gave the participants of the conference a detailed background on not only the issues dealing with the textbook cases of Tennessee and Alabama, but also the issues dealing with "home instruction" and "neutral site" cases and emphasized that the New York State School Boards Association acted as a friend of the court on all these cases.

In the New York Home Instruction case, the law mandates that any parent who wishes to educate their child at home, must provide the superintendent of the district proper information which will allow the superintendent to determine whether the child is receiving a substantial equivalent education. The parents in this case asserted that this law violated their right to practice their religion. They feel it was an invasion of privacy.

In the neutral site case in the Monroe-Woodbury Central School District, certain parents requested that their children receive special educational services and remedial service at an alternate site inasmuch as their religion prohibited their children to be exposed to other religious beliefs. They were asking to have this service provided, with the exclusion of others, who were not members of their religious community. It is the Monroe-Woodbury School Board's position that this clearly violates the establishment clause of the First Amendment to the US Constitution.

Bill Bennett gave those assembled a historical background of the Bill of Rights as it relates to the First Amendment of the Constitution that states, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Mr. Bennett stated that Patrick Henry and James Madison, the framers of the Constitution, were concerned that the federal government would proclaim a "national church" thus depriving other states of their religion and practices.

For over 170 years, religion in the form of prayer and/or bible reading was a practice throughout the young nation. In fact, the First Amendment was adopted on September 25, 1789, and on the very next day the House of Representatives passed a resolution calling for a day of prayer. It was only during the last 25 years that a more liberal view of the First Amendment was made by members of the Supreme Court and now, by constitutional law, prohibits any form of written or vocal prayer or bible reading in the public schools. The only resource that we presently have is a "moment of silence," which as the protection of the US Constitution and New York State law. However, even the moment of silence is being challenged and is before the US Supreme Court (the New Jersey Moment of Silence Case) and a ruling should be forthcoming in the near future.

Mr. Bennett provided those who attended the conference with copies of Hicksville's School Board Policies dealing with religion in the schools. The policies dealing with the moment of silence, school observation of religious holidays, school ceremonies dealing with patriotism, and the district's Federal Equal Access Policy on students clubs were distributed.

ROTARY pledges a polio-free world.

PolioPlus, a Rotary
International campaign
to immunize the children of the world.

Rotary has pledged to provide all the necessary polio vaccines for this campaign. In addition, Rotarians will perform important volunteer activities in all stages of immunization delivery efforts. Rotarians in 161 countries are aware of the grim misery caused by polio, primarily in the developing countries of the world. The misery is the equivalent of two 747 jet planes fully loaded with young children, crashing every day of the year. Approximately 75 of these children die instantly. Another 750 are disabled for life. Every day. Immunization is the prime weapon to fight this cripple. It is the most cost-effective of all health services and yet until now, it has been tragically under-utilized. That is why Rotarians have accepted this vital challenge. Rotarians have already committed millions of dollars to perform this life-saving immunization at the extremely low rate of just 12¢ per child.

If you would like to help Rotary in the fight against polio contact:

Last Tournament For Senior Men at Cantiague

By JOHN HARTY

This is the last golf report of the year for the Ray Halleran Senior Men's Tournaments held at Cantiague Park. What a year! November 19th was a beautiful day for golf—and everyone enjoyed it thoroughly.

I shall be stepping down from the chairman's job and I know that whoever is selected will have the same cooperation that I have had for the past year. I have tried to follow in Hugh O'Neill's footsteps.

A trophy was awarded to James Moore who celebrated his 80th birthday on Nov. 19th. (No, he didn't shoot his age that day). I hope that the Ray Halleran Senior Men's Club will be able to present 80-year-old gentlemen trophies in future years to a lot more of the golfers.

The winners were:

Low Gross .....	E. Nardi
2nd Low Gross 'A' .....	S. DellaRatta
Low Net 'A' .....	Tim Murphy
Overall Low Net .....	William Krastel
Low Net 'B' .....	F. Kotowski
2nd Low Net 'B' .....	D. McHugh
3rd Low Net 'B' .....	O. Radl
1st Low Net 'C' .....	C. Kirstein
2nd Low Net 'C' .....	P. Horton
3rd Low Net 'C' .....	Joe Burke
Longest Drive .....	John Wuliewicz
Closest To Pin .....	B. Gregory

(five feet)

Again, thanks to the golf personnel at the park and a big thank you to all the participants.

Good luck . . . and happy turkey

Skating Awareness Day At Cantiague

Avid ice skaters and those who have never tried the sport are invited to participate in "Skating Awareness Day," a free ice skating program at Cantiague Park in Hicksville on Monday, November 30, from 4 to 6 p.m.

This special program recognizes November as National Ice Skating Awareness Month by offering free admission, free skate rentals and also free skating lessons by the professional instructors from the Cantiague Figure Skating Club. All county residents are welcome to experience the fun and good exercise that can be gained from ice skating.

Many adults ice skate regularly to strengthen and tone muscles, improve blood circulation and lower pulse rate. Skating is one of the best forms of exercise for physical and cardiovascular fitness, in addition to being a good way to unwind and relieve stress.

A Leisure Pass, which proves county residency, is required for ages 13 and over. Cantiague Park is located on West John Street in Hicksville. It can be reached from the Wantagh Parkway, exit W2 Old Country Road east, and following signs one block east of the parkway. For further information, call 935-3501.

Ice Skating For The Handicapped

Physically challenged adults are encouraged to develop their ice skating skills at the Cantiague Park Ice Skating Rink in Hicksville, each Sunday from December 6 through February 28.

Registration is required and all fees will be waived, including skate rentals. Extra staff will be on hand to work individually with participants. The program will run from 11:35 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Registration forms and a doctor's advisement must be filled out prior to the first session. For further information, call 542-4498.

Cantiague Park, a facility of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, is located on West John Street.

PEE WEE DIVISION

On Sunday, Nov. 15, the Pee Wee Division had their play-off games. Exciting, challenging and skillful would only be a few of the words to describe this week's games. Here are the results:

Arrows 3

The Arrows played some good defense as Gary Wisniewski and Nicholas Holman did their best. Gina Pelletiere really brought the ball to the net. Then Sean Dorney scored the first goal for the Arrows assisted by Wally Lindo. The goal was enthusiastically guarded by Michael Verde, as Christine Pettei, Matthew Schwartz and Kevin Brown worked hard to keep the ball in the zone. Daniel Koloski scored the second goal on a penalty kick. Some good challenging was shown by Michael Pettei, Edward Puerta and Matthew Puerta. Wally Lindo scored the third goal. Some good team work displayed by Kevin LaVelle, Francesco Bruzzi and Larissa Budinich.

Bucks 1

Outstanding goal tending was shown by John Willie. Playing the half-back positions this week were Brian Bruckner and Jamie Himes. They displayed their fine soccer skills. John Perino and Jordash Smacha played hard and demonstrated their efforts at the forward positions. An exciting game well played would describe this Sunday's game.

Blast 6

The Cosmos fought hard this week and showed some fine team effort on the field. Robert Baird did a terrific job as goalie this week. With a splendid assist from Jeff Simpson, Tom McMahan was able to score a goal. Sean Conk did a great job in the sweeper position today. Tommy Werchenski played hard in the forward position.

Kelley Mullee and Kevin Kolm displayed a good team effort this week which enabled Chris Brink to score 3 goals. Keith Carpenter played good defense and offense on Sunday. ## No More Leaves... Please...

Pat Longo in charge of the Hicksville Hawks Traveling Soccer Team would like to thank all who called and asked for the boys help in raking and bagging leaves. She was inundated with calls. ## In Scholarship Program

Laurie Ruymaker of Hicksville has been selected to participate in a pioneer nursing scholarship program at Winthrop-University Hospital in Mineola that has been designed to assist in the recruiting of student nurses and to encourage students to enter the nursing profession.

In this pilot project, which is limited to 18 nursing students from Nassau Community College and Queensborough Community College, the participating senior nursing students will work two days a week as paid student nurse assistants. They gain valuable clinical experience under the supervision of a registered nurse. In addition, they will attend weekly classes at the hospital, taught by Winthrop's Clinical Nurse Instructors.

Successful participants will be reimbursed financially in scholarship aid during their last two semesters of school and offered full time positions at Winthrop after graduation. The nursing shortage is critical and this is a positive step in alleviating the problem.

I'm Sorry

In reference to my last week's article 'Another Star for Hicksville'—I am so very sorry that I left out the name of the English teacher who helped Lorraine Bracco get started on a modeling career—which eventually led her into becoming an actress. His name is Arthur Horowitz. Everyone who has seen her recent movie Someone To Watch Over Me, say that she is on her way to becoming a great actress. She certainly is getting a lot of good coverage from the press—there's a story about her in People's Magazine. I can't wait to see the movie.

Happy Thanksgiving

We would like to wish all of our friends and readers a very Happy Thanksgiving. I can remember many happy Thanksgivings spent in Hicksville. Many years ago Father Ballweg of St. Ignatius would hold a Barn Dance on Thanksgiving Eve at the school hall. Practically every young person in Hicksville would go. The hall would be decorated with fall foliage—leaves, scarecrows, etc. There was a jail—that the young girls were thrown into—and not let out until one of the young boys would come and pay for a dance (or a kiss) with her. It was great fun! This was a fun time of the year growing up in Hicksville. The football games.... the barn dances.... and later on in years fun at Pete Breen's—a local gathering place for all the young that were out of school and working (or just home from the service).... everyone preparing for Christmas.... the village all decorated and snow in the air.... ice skating.... and just a lot of 'fun.' It was nice!

Earned Degree

Manhattan College, School of Business, awarded a Bachelor of Science degree to Kevin J. Carroll of Linden Boulevard in September.

Best of luck to you Kevin.

Way to go Anne! At the Giese Park Civic Association meeting held last week, Anne Grayson won the turkey raffle. Civic president Tom McGovern said that Anne is a real "trooper." He also mentioned that she is very supportive of the association. "Rain, sleet, snow, or hail—Anne is always at the meetings. She really enjoys the association."

Ann Jablonsky, also a Giese Park member, picked the lucky name from a box. Bob Kiernan, corresponding secretary, coordinated the raffle.

Hicksville Republican Club

By Marc Herbst

Nassau County Republican Chairman Joseph N. Mondello, considered the state's most influential party leader, is seeking to replace Senate Majority Leader Warren Anderson, upon his retirement, with Senator Ralph Marino (R-Muttontown).

The senate majority leader is the most powerful Republican in the State of New York. If Senator Marino is chosen, the Senate's two most prominent members would represent Hicksville.

Marino's 5th Senatorial District encompasses most of Hicksville. The only Hicksville community not within Marino's district is the Hicksville Gardens neighborhood. The deputy majority leader, Senator John Dunne, represents this area. Senator Dunne has said he would support Marino as majority leader.

Sources have indicated U.S. Senator Alfonse D'Amato and Suffolk County G.O.P.

Chairman William Blake are also endorsing Senator Marino. Marino, chairman of the powerful Senate Banking Committee, is expected to enter the contest with the support of the nine senators from Long Island, one-fourth of the 36 member Republican Conference.

Senator Marino has not publicly announced his candidacy for the Senate Majority Leader's post, but has acknowledged, "I don't know anybody who wouldn't want to be the majority leader."

LOW-RATE MORTGAGES

for the purchase or refinance of an owner-occupied home or condominium in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens, Staten Island, Nassau, Suffolk or Westchester.

FIXED RATES (below FNMA maximums and within FNMA guidelines)			CAPPED ADJUSTABLE RATE (loans up to $350,000)
10-YEAR	15-YEAR	30-YEAR	1-YEAR
10.00% annual rate	10.50% annual rate	11.00% annual rate	8.00% annual rate
10.48% annual percentage rate	10.86% annual percentage rate	11.26% annual percentage rate	10.59% annual percentage rate

Quoted rates are for self-liquidating, "full income verification" loans with a minimum down payment of 25% of appraised value on 1- to 4-family homes. The annual percentage rates include commitment and origination fees. The Bank sets the interest rates on loans at the time of commitment (for a 90-day period), not at the time of application. The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $13.22 ($11.08 and $9.53) per $1,000 borrowed.

Adjustable rate shown is a below-market introductory annual rate for the first year only. The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 10.75%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

Ask for rates and terms on "no income verification" loans and on fixed-rate loans above FNMA maximums (up to $350,000).

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program at Central

A Drug and Alcohol Abuse Education program, designed for citizens throughout communities served by Central General Hospital, will take place at the health care facility 7:15 p.m. Thursday, December 3, it was announced today by Robert F. Bornstein, administrator.

This first-of-its-kind free community program at the health care facility features four professional panelists who will discuss the problems of substance and alcohol abuse on Long Island, types of abuse, treatment, legal implications and prevention.

The panelists for the program are Dr. Robert Z. Goldstein, Director of CGH Detoxification Unit (Drug Abuse and Methods of Treatment); Maureen Duggan, MSW CAC, CEAP and N.Y. State Employees Assistance Program Representative (Prevention, Education and Resources); Richard J. Guercio, Esq., a former Suffolk County Assistant District Attorney (N.Y.S. Drug and DWI Laws); and Reverend Peter Sweigood, Executive Director, Long Island Council on Alcoholism (An Overview of the Problem of Alcoholism).

Mr. Paul Woodard, Deputy Director for New York State's Division of Substance Abuse, said, "as of the first quarter of 1985 cocaine abuse was responsible for nearly 30 percent of those admitted to drug treatment programs and that Nassau County had the highest proportion of cocaine treatment admissions." In 1986, the treatment percentage increased to nearly 37 percent.

"Central General's Panel Presentation and Question and Answer Session are designed to create a better understanding of the subject on the part of the general public and will focus on education and prevention," said Robert Bornstein.

Bornstein added that, "so important do we feel this subject to be, that we contacted community organization leaders, including religious and school district officials, to make sure that their calendars would be clear for representation at this program."

The program was designed and developed by Miriam Ravad, executive director, The Educational Programs & Services Company in Old Bethpage.

Although there is no charge for attendance or distribution of reference materials, those wishing to attend should contact Robert Bornstein, Central General Hospital, at (516) 681-8900 to make seating reservations. The Hospital is located at 888 Old Country Road, Plainview.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

I returned to Hicksville the latter part of this past October after a period of 10 to 12 years. One of the highlights of my short stay was a visit to Hicksville High School from which I graduated from in 1936. To my memory I had not been back to the school since the fall of '36. Yes I know it is now the Middle School.

Upon entering the office seeking permission to look around, a pretty young lady asked me the reason I was there. I briefly outlined my request. She introduced herself as Hilary Sperber, music teacher. As she was going on hall duty she volunteered to show me through the building.

This teacher was very courteous, patient and knowledgeable. She pointed out and dated structural changes, renovations and cosmetic alterations. The walk through was a pleasure, bringing back to mind many good times.

I wish to publicly thank Ms. Sperber for making that part of my trip back east a very memorable occasion.

George A. Hannifan
Editor's Note: Mr. Hannifan resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

To The Editor:

I want to thank you for the writeup about my husband and myself celebrating our 50th wedding anniversary.

I have always wanted to subscribe to the Hicksville Illustrated News because I was born in Hicksville, went to school in Hicksville, was married in Hicksville, and we lived in Hicksville until 1951 when we moved to Bethpage.

My husband used to work for McElravey

& Hauck Plumbing Supply in Hicksville for 50 years, which started on Broadway next to the old post office—so you see, we are very much interested in seeing photos of the old buildings the way Hicksville used to be. I enjoy the paper very much.

Thank you again,

Sophie and James Agiesta
Bethpage

P.S. Also Evelyn Noeth was a dear friend of mine.

Salesmanship

"You two look like a couple of nice young kids," the salesman said, leading us through the used car lot. "Tell you what I'm going to do. I'm going to work with you. Yessiree, I'm going to work with you." And with a flick of his finger, he flipped his fedora to the back of his head and out popped his grey locks. "This car is a jewel. A real jewel," he said, grinning from ear to ear. "Why, young Doc Gable's granny only drove it from church to home. Church to home."

"But the odometer reads fifty-four thousand miles," my husband says.

"Fifty-four thousand gently driven miles," our salesman said. "Very gently driven miles. Pile on in and we'll go for a spin."

That scene happened to my husband and me when we bought our first car a lot of years ago. The salesman was about seventy-five but I swear he came to life yesterday, not once, but twice.

He came in two distinctly different bodies but he was our salesman. His first reappearance occurred at a dealership out east. He was disguised as a woman but I knew him. He couldn't fool me. First words out of his reincarnated self were: "You seem like such nice people. Such nice people. I'd like to work with you. Really work with you." Then his new self led us off to the showroom.

"This is known as a demo," our old salesman said in his new ladylike voice. "Seldom used."

"But the odometer reads forty-two thousand miles," my husband said.

"Forty-two kindly driven miles," our salesman said. "Forty-two very kindly driven miles. Why don't I get the keys and we'll go for a little drive."

The second time our salesman reappeared was at a dealership in Manhattan. He was taller and broader than he was when we first met. His fedora was replaced with an expensive hair piece and he wore lots of jewelry, but he was our salesman.

"Hi, there, you, two," he said, ushering us into his office, carefully seating us into plush chairs. "What can I do for you two nice people."

When we told him what we were looking for, he got up from his desk and grinned. "Well," he said, "I'm going to work with you nice people. Yessiree, I'm going to work with you."

Then leading us back to the showroom and over to one of the cars, he said, "This car is a cream puff. A real cream puff. Old Doc Gable drove it from hospital to home. Hospital to home. Treated it like one of his patients. Kind. Gentle. Come on, you two," he said, putting the keys into the ignition, "we'll hop on in and take it around the block."

"But the odometer reads sixty-three thousand miles," my husband said. "Sixty-three thousand..."

Memories...

...of Denise (Eisele) Conrow

I often think that I have great memories of Hicksville, but mine only date back to 1954 when my parents moved here and I was three years old. It has been a wonderful town to grow up in. I feel the town was destroyed by the widening of Broadway. I can remember buying my movie candy at Bresnick's Candy Store because goodies were less expensive there than in the theater, and he always had a bigger and better selection. I also remember reading (and getting reprimanded) the comic books at Holden's Stationery (the original one on the west side of Broadway). I usually couldn't buy all the ones I wanted so I would sneak a peek for free. I also remember having the "Hicksville Special" at the old Sweet Shop—a piece of toasted pound cake cut in the shape of an "H" with vanilla ice cream, chocolate syrup and orange sprinkles. They were great after the summer dances we had at the high school. By the way, we always bought our school supplies at Holden's too. I also recollect that the Hicksville School Annex (offices) used to be on the southwest corner of Marie Street and Broadway and that our parents had to take us there to get our bus passes. Does anyone remember the man at Trunz's Butcher Shop who gave a free slice of bologna to every little kid who came in (even in a stroller)? Nobody has mentioned in other Memories columns appearing in the Illustrated, Dilberta-Big Ben on West Marie Street. My mom would meet my dad and I there on Friday nights. He commuted from the old station, by steam locomotives, I think, and we would all do the weekly shopping before heading home to dinner. I also can see the Santa and reindeers that stretched above Broadway from the Town Hall to the old Long Island National Bank. Speaking of the bank, I can picture the large sweeping staircase on the left of the front doors—big brass doors I might add—the offices in the mezzanine above the tellers and the inclined marble floor leading to the floor offices in the back. They all knew my Granny by her first name and she knew all of them. As I said before, these are not 50 year old memories but they are mine and will never be forgotten. I tell my husband all about them and he is beginning to visualize them as well. He is from Roslyn so he has plenty of good Long Island memories too.

Thanksgiving Memories

In the November 12 edition, you asked for Thanksgiving Memories. Here is one of my favorites. It happened quite a few times but not enough for me.

I remember that my Dad used to stop in Jackson Heights and pick up my great aunt Jessie on the night before Thanksgiving. When they would get home we'd all have dinner and my aunt Jessie always tried to teach me to knit after dinner. (I still can't master it).

Early the next day my Granny and aunt Jessie would be knitting by 8 am.—preparations seemed to be endless. My Dad would cut up the turnips and potatoes and then he and I would settle down for the Macy's Day Parade on television. At about 2 a.m., the relatives started arriving. There would usually be about 16 of us altogether. My Mom played hostess because Granny and aunt Jessie completely took command until the dishwashing began. Around 8 p.m., it would be time for sandwiches (turkey, of course), and we'd all say, "Where did we ever find room for all that food?" I suppose the best part for me was just sitting and listening to my Granny and her favorite sister speak of all their Thanksgivings in the past—I wonder if they knew they were making my memories?

Editor's Note: Anyone who has memories and recollections of life in Hicksville may write us at 132 E. Second St., Mineola, N.Y. 11501.

GULOTTA PROCLAIMS LION/Lioness Day: Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, (second, right), proclaimed Lion/Lioness Day in the County of Nassau at a recent Ceremony which was held in recognition of the outstanding community service that the Lion and Lioness Organizations have provided throughout the County. Accepting the Proclamation are Lions from Region 2: Donald Rapuzzi of Hicksville, Chairman Zone 3; Phil Scher of Elmont, Deputy District Governor; and Joe Flanagan of Oceanside, Chairman Zone 4.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

President Joe Giordano's Message: 'To improve the golden moment of opportunity and catch the good that is within our reach is the great art of life.' Old Saying.

Time has a habit of moving on very swiftly, waiting for neither man nor woman, as the expression goes. Time is an important and precious commodity in our lives, and that everything seem to be predicated on it is quite obvious. Time is important to the Galileo Lodge as well, because as you can see that at the Galileo Lodge its time for this function or that one, which certainly make it more enjoyable and pleasant for its members, friends and patrons. Now we see that on Saturday, December 5th, the Galileo Lodge will hold its eagerly-awaited Christmas Dance. Tickets will sell at $14.00 per person, and in the offering will be a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups and music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Please note also that a grab bag will be part of the proceedings and that a 'bring-your-own-liquor' policy will be in effect that night. And it goes without saying that the Galileo Lodge will be dressed up in its Christmas finery for this affair. I believe that Rocco Lombardi and Armand Del Cioppo will be in charge of this wonderful dance. Then on Sunday, the 6th of December, the Galileo Lodge will present its two Christmas parties, one for the handicapped children of Queens and Long Island in the morning and the other one for the children of the membership in the afternoon. It seems that Christmas would not be Christmas if the Galileo Lodge did not present these two joyous events. To attend these parties is quite an experience, an experience that stays with you for a long time, and this is because Christmas cheer and spirit is spread out to all of those who are desirous of accepting it and because our organization asks nothing in return. To add icing to the holiday season, on Thursday, the 31st of December, the Galileo Lodge schedules its New Year's Party and Dance, and what a beautiful and high-spirited way to usher in the new year. If it's fun and frolic that you seek, well, come to the Galileo Lodge on the date mentioned here and partake of it.

We have some nice reports to the effect that the Fashion Show held by the Ladies Auxiliary was another successful venture in which all those who attended enjoyed a great night relishing the latest fashions and enjoying the food and hospitality offered by the Ladies Auxiliary. Marie Prudenti and her committee did a great job in preserving its reputation of offering another social activity held for everyone's edification.

Lodge Tidbits:

We are proud to report that John Sarrera (and his family, of course) are almost ecstatic these days as his son, Anthony Dennison, one of the stars of Crime Story, recently gave him a surprise birthday party at Peppercorns of Hicksville. It was a beautiful night for the Sarrera family and it was a beautiful gesture on the part of Anthony, who has certainly shown that TV success has not spoiled him...Al Frigente wishes to announce that he would consider it a big favor if the one who mistakenly took his car coat and gloves please return them to him by contacting the Galileo Lodge, 931-9351. A good time would be Wednesday night, the night when Bingo is in progress. Mistakes are made and some coats look similar in the dark or ill-lighted places. All is forgiven, of course...All members, male and female who are contemplating sending their children to the Christmas parties, please contact Armand Del Cioppo (935-5052) and reveal to him the number of children to be sent and their ages. The age limit is 12 years old. This is very important and your aid in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

WHAT THE SELLER SELLS,
WHAT THE BUYER BUYS

Putting your house on the market? Fine. But when prospective buyers come to see it, they're not looking at YOUR house—what they see is THEIR home, what THEY can make of the property, how THEIR furniture will look, how THEIR family will use the space.

That's just one reason to put some distance between the prospect and the seller. That would-be buyer isn't really interested in how you live in your home, but in how HIS or HER family will fit in. We, as real estate professionals, qualify each prospect before we show your house; you'll only see those prospective buyers who really need and want a house like yours.

And we know how to show the property, emphasizing the features the buyer wants, not those the seller thinks are important. We know how to be quiet as a prospect mentally moves his furniture into the rooms, and how to counter any objections with "Yes, but..." answers.

When you put your house on the market, list with:

School Board Trustee Heads Seminar

Presiding at the 68th annual convention of the New York School Board's Association clinic on Religion and the Schools was Hicksville School District's board trustee, William Bennett. The participants on his panel were Mr. Jay Worona, the Associate Counsel to the New York State School Board Association; Mr. Henry Safnauer, superintendent of the Cato-Meridian School District involved with the "home instruction" issue, Blackwelder vs. Safnauer; and Mr. Carl Onken, a board member of the Monroe-Woodbury School District dealing with the issue of a neutral site case involving a religious community. What follows is a synopsis of what topics and court cases were discussed.

In a Tennessee case, parents challenged the school district's Basic Reading Program on the grounds that it was biased against their faith. The parents argued that the readers displayed a "systematic bias towards their religious beliefs." A US District Court Judge agreed with parents and allowed their children to opt out of the reading period. However, the parents were obligated to provide their own reading lessons at home.

This, however, was overturned by the US 6th Circuit in Atlanta, and the Court stated, "The parents of the children could not successfully claim that their freedom to practice their religion had been violated by the school districts mandating that the children attend classes and be 'exposed' to the reading books."

In an Alabama textbook case, certain parents had been successful in convincing the US District Judge to ban 44 history, social studies, and home economic text books for use in the Alabama Public Schools. The parents argued in their law suit that the Judeo-Christian teaching was not tolerated in the classroom, while "secular humanism" (a belief that does not include God in ethical decisions) was.

The 11th US Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta ruled that nothing indicated that "omission of certain facts regarding religion from these textbooks of itself constituted an advancement of secular humanism or an active hostility towards theistic religion prohibited by the Constitution." Mr. Worona, a counsel to the association, gave the participants of the conference a detailed background on not only the issues dealing with the textbook cases of Tennessee and Alabama, but also the issues dealing with "home instruction" and "neutral site" cases and emphasized that the New York State School Boards Association acted as a friend of the court on all these cases.

In the New York Home Instruction case, the law mandates that any parent who wishes to educate their child at home, must provide the superintendent of the district proper information which will allow the superintendent to determine whether the child is receiving a substantial equivalent education. The parents in this case asserted that this law violates their right to practice their religion. They feel it was an invasion of privacy.

In the neutral site case in the Monroe-Woodbury Central School District, certain parents requested that their children receive special educational services and remedial service at an alternate site inasmuch as their religion prohibited their children to be exposed to other religious beliefs. They were asking to have this service provided, with the exclusion of others, who were not members of their religious community. It is the Monroe-Woodbury School Board's position that this clearly violates the establishment clause of the First Amendment to the US Constitution.

Bill Bennett gave those assembled a historical background of the Bill of Rights as it relates to the First Amendment of the Constitution that states, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Mr. Bennett stated that Patrick Henry and James Madison, the framers of the Constitution, were concerned that the federal government would proclaim a "national church" thus depriving other states of their religion and practices.

For over 170 years, religion in the form of prayer and/or bible reading was a practice throughout the young nation. In fact, the First Amendment was adopted on September 25, 1789, and on the very next day the House of Representatives passed a resolution calling for a day of prayer. It was only during the last 25 years that a more liberal view of the First Amendment was made by members of the Supreme Court and now, by constitutional law, prohibits any form of written or vocal prayer or bible reading in the public schools. The only resource that we presently have is a "moment of silence," which is the protection of the US Constitution and New York State law. However, even the moment of silence is being challenged and is before the US Supreme Court (the New Jersey Moment of Silence Case) and a ruling should be forthcoming in the near future.

Mr. Bennett provided those who attended the conference with copies of Hicksville's School Board Policies dealing with religion in the schools. The policies dealing with the moment of silence, school observation of religious holidays, school ceremonies dealing with patriotism, and the district's Federal Equal Access Policy on students clubs were distributed.

ROTARY

pledges a polio-free world.

PolioPlus, a Rotary
International campaign
to immunize the
children of the world.

Rotary has pledged to provide all the necessary polio vaccines for this campaign. In addition, Rotarians will perform important volunteer activities in all stages of immunization delivery efforts.

Rotarians in 161 countries are aware of the grim misery caused by polio, primarily in the developing countries of the world. The misery is the equivalent of two 247 jet planes, fully loaded with young children, crashing every day of the year. Approximately 75 of these children die instantly. Another 750 are disabled for life. Every day.

Immunization is the prime weapon to fight this cripple. It is the most cost-effective of all health services and yet until now, it has been tragically under-utilized. That is why Rotarians have accepted this vital challenge. Rotarians have already committed millions of dollars to perform this life-saving immunization at the extremely low rate of just 12¢ per child.

What Our Politicians Are Saying

Recent reports of increases in the number of airline passengers, airline delays, misplaced baggage and plane collisions and near misses have disturbed the public. CONGRESSMAN RAYMOND J. McGRATH was part of a unanimous vote to improve the Airports and Airways Improvement Act of 1987. The House Ways and Means Committee, of which he is a member, authorized a total of $29 billion for the years of 1987-1992 to fund a variety of airport programs. This means local airports will be able to make the changes they want to increase safety, reduce the number of delayed flights and offer passengers better service.

A new law and an informational brochure are among the efforts supported this year by ASSEMBLYMAN CHARLES J. O'SHEA to help working parents in need of quality day care for their children. The brochure, entitled "Who Cares for Your Children? A Parents Day Care Checklist," is available through the Day Care Council of Nassau County and contains information that will be helpful in making an educated day care decision. For information call the Council at 538-1362.

ASSEMBLYMAN TOM DINAPOLI (D-Great Neck) has announced several new measures which directly strengthen domestic violence and child support laws. To ensure availability of shelter and emergency services to the victims of domestic violence and their children, a new law provides permanent state funding for domestic violence programs. Another law will strengthen income verification requirements, permit tax refund interceptions and will allow the courts to require cash deposits to support collection units.

***

ASSEMBLYMAN GEORGE R. BECKER (R-C, Lynbrook) has re-emphasized his concern over the long-term health care problems plaguing New York State, particularly in regard to shortages of nursing home beds and home-care services. Assembly Republicans held a seminar of Long Term Health Care in September in an effort to examine health care issues. With the senior population growing, the State Legislature, through its committees, will continue a long, hard look at what is being done to protect seniors.

***

The Nassau County Board of Supervisors has applied for a grant which will fund the monitoring of school bus operations, declared HEMPSTEAD PRESIDING SUPERVISOR JOSEPH MONDELLO AND NORTH HEMPSTEAD SUPERVISOR JOHN KIERNAN. Under legislation enacted by the Board earlier this year, all bus operators must be licensed. The Nassau County Office of Consumer Affairs has been empowered to obtain information regarding the criminal history of any owner or employee of a school bus company, conduct physical inspections of all buses and levy fines for violations of the new law.

***

Citing a growing proliferation of unauthorized dumping in and around County owned property, NASSAU COUNTY EXECUTIVE THOMAS S. GULOTTA has proposed changes in the county law which would increase the penalties for illegal dumping by as much as 1000 percent. Penalties and fines for littering and other forms of dumping would also increase under the Gulotta proposal, which is currently under consideration by the Nassau County Board of Supervisors.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

... It has just come to my attention, after all these years, that I am one of those people who doesn't scare people... and, therefore, they think they can do things to me that they wouldn't dare do to others of a more prickly nature... Friends come into my house and say, "Oh, look, there's dead leaves on your plants!" and proceed to take them off... Now, that's not so dreadful, but do you honestly think for one minute that I would go into someone else's house and take leaves off her plants? Perish the thought... I'd be more apt to think that if she had dead leaves, she wanted dead leaves!... And people to whom I lend my vacation place will tell me, "Oh, I reddid your linen closet... It was a mess!"... Now how did she not understand that I like my linens all jumbled up... would I rearrange her linen closet? Never!!... And people always brush dandruff from my shoulders... would I be so presumptuous? and tell me that I have a run in my stocking just when I'm trying to pretend that I don't know about it... One time a visiting friend brought her son's new small portable seasaw into my living room, scratching the paint on the doorway as she did... and, I am ashamed to say, I never said a word... then, or since... It's really amazing that I wouldn't dare do one of these things and I'm usually a pretty positive person.

Yours, Lulabelle

For Five-Year-Old Jimmy A Happy Thanksgiving

This Thanksgiving five-year-old Jimmy (not his real name) will celebrate his first anniversary at St. Christopher-Ortlie's Residential Treatment Center in Sea Cliff. At five, he has already known tragedy. He came to St. Christopher-Ortlie on an emergency basis at 8:00 p.m. exactly a year ago, having been taken from his home to a shelter which was forced to close.

To the staff at St. Christopher-Ortlie, Jimmy was a mystery. He was obviously bright, but spoke a garbled language. If denied anything, he would scream. Perhaps the strangest of all, he related not to other people, but to the TV. He talked to it, often calling out phrases from game shows. If he fell and hurt his knee, for example, he would kiss his knee himself.

In the year that Jimmy has been at the RTC, the staff has gotten to know him, and has also learned about the kind of home he came from. Jimmy's mother was involved in substance abuse. When she spoke to him, her speech was often slurred. This, in addition to a variety of other factors, the staff discovered, contributed to Jimmy's garbled speech. Being high often, she left him on his own, the TV his only companion. Deprived of the emotional nurturing and loving care essential to a child, Jimmy learned to look to himself for comfort, to kiss away his own hurts. He was a handsome boy, but sad and withdrawn—a deprived child in the most basic sense.

After one year at St. Christopher-Ortlie, the change in Jimmy is dramatic. Now he plays with other children and relates to the staff members. Jimmy has learned to speak clearly and is making good progress in school. And if he skins his knee, he asks a worker he has learned to trust kiss it for him.

Jimmy can be thankful for the devoted staff at the RTC. "One thing children like Jimmy need," said Ms. Quarino, "is to know that caring adults will be there when they need them. He has learned he can trust others. The RTC staff has worked here for years. That builds trust and gives a sense of security that many children who come from unstable homes never knew before."

In addition to the love Jimmy receives at St. Christopher-Ortlie, his days are filled with educational and recreational activities. Along with the other residents, Jimmy attends a special school that will help him emotionally as well as socially. Back at the RTC in the afternoon, he'll receive any extra remedial help he needs, including the speech therapy which has been so helpful to him. A psychological evaluation helps him get the therapy he needs, in groups and individually. And recreational activities are geared to help him interact with other children. Though they have a serious purpose, to the children, they're just plain fun.

Jimmy will spend Thanksgiving at the home of a staff or volunteer. (Other children too sick to leave will have Thanksgiving meal as a family at the RTC). And there's hope in Jimmy's future—encouraging signs that his family is beginning to straighten out. His mother is improving, and both parents, though separated, come to visit him.

For Jimmy, this will be a happy Thanksgiving.

Contributions to St. Christopher-Ortlie, which cares for multiply-handicapped youngsters at the RTC in Sea Cliff, can be addressed to St. Christopher-Ortlie Development Office, 101 Downing Avenue, Sea Cliff, N.Y. 11579.

EDITORIAL AND OPINION

Direct Line

By ROBERT R. McMILLAN

In spite of stock market jitters and some economic uncertainty, we have much to be thankful for on Long Island this Thanksgiving season. With our young people returning from college and visits to grandmother's house, warmth and security flow throughout the Island. Thanksgiving should also be the time for us to reflect with greater concern about those who do not have the basic necessities of life. There are many, who through no fault of their own, need our help just to remain alive.

Robert R. McMillan

While the "safety net" still exists, further Federal government budget balancing cuts are being developed in Washington. There is no doubt that the cuts will fall the heaviest on those in need. Helping to take up the slack are numerous voluntary agencies. These organizations provide food, shelter and clothing for the poor. One organization on Long Island stands out in its funding efforts for those in need. That organization is the United Way of Long Island.

Very few of us fully understand the depth and extent to which the United Way helps care for human misery. The United Way is funded by the efforts of local businesses and employees across the Island. Last year more than $8 million dollars was raised to support 135 Long Island social agencies and hospitals. That money was primarily raised by volunteers — Some 15,000 who were supported by a paid staff of only 24 people.

Where does the United Way money come from? About 72 percent of the funds come from employees of Long Island businesses with the balance essentially coming from corporations and individuals located on Long Island. There are currently nearly 1,000 Long Island businesses participating in United Way campaigns. Recent years have seen an ever increasing number of businesses participating. There is always room for more to help.

The United Way's support for those in need is well documented. For example, in the last year, 750 people were supported through the United Way's "First Call Help Program." When a family or an individual is confronted with a concern and not certain where to turn, the United Way may be consulted to see if there is a social agency or government agency capable of helping. Both long time and new residents of Long Island have benefited from this program.

Employee and corporate contributed funds are also used to help in many other ways. Efforts to curb child abuse, provide elderly care, support mental health programs, and make available emergency food and shelter are just a few examples of where United Way funds are put to effective use. Most of us on Long Island are insulated from these concerns and seldom see the poor and those with desperate social needs. But, believe me, the poor and homeless do exist on Long Island. United Way funds provide an important relief valve for those in need. The organization could not do its fine work without the involvement of Long Islanders and long Island businesses. The United Way deserves our support—not only during holidays—but, throughout the year.

Questions and opinions may be addressed to Mr. McMillan, Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501.

With A Little Help Pick-ups and How To Plan Them

By SUZANNE LUNT

"I hate most of you", I always think as I drag out and glare at last winter's clothes. There are, of course, a few half-forgotten favorites that I greet with glad cries, but on the whole, last year's clothes are like people once dated who are now loud, red-faced and mean. When you see them again, you wonder how you could ever have gone out with them.

Each fall I realize that my taste has improved so much in recent months that many of last year's garments are now truly unworthy. (The fact that they are also truly too tight is beside the point.)

And now it's what-to-do-with-old-clothes time again.

One fine old organization that should start pick-ups on Long Island again, they say, after Thanksgiving, is the Salvation Army (212) PL 7-2311.

The Police Activity League (formerly the Police Boys' Club) will not pick up, but has clothing drops in all major shopping centers.

Then there's the INN (Interfaith Nutrition Network) with soup kitchens and shelters all over Long Island. "No matter who you are, we'll feed you," they say, and their thrift shop at 148 Front St., Hempstead will take clothes after Thanksgiving (if you'd like to volunteer, call 480-8506.)

Neighborhood House, 334 Winthrop St., Westbury (333-0207) gives out clothing, emergency food, layettes, holiday baskets and small furniture to people in need. Marvelous if you're moving or have whole closets full to give, because then they'll pick up. (Otherwise, please do the dropping off yourself. And this group, like all others, asks that you donate things in good condition; junk is of no use.)

To give away children's clothes and furniture, call Friends For the Homeless. Call 708-2502 to arrange to deliver or have them pick up.

There, I've told you all I know about pick-ups. If you want to arrange any others you're on your own.

(Questions for Suzanne Lunt can be sent to "With A Little Help," Anton Community Newspapers, 132 E. Second St., Mineola, NY 11501. For a personal reply include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

Thanksgiving is a festive time at the Nassau Association For The Help Of Retarded Children where mentally retarded men and women who staff the kitchen at the AHRC Vocational Training Center prepare a traditional dinner. The food preparation work is among the many different jobs at the center which the young people fill and also helps to provide training for employment in the community.

KITCHEN, BATH & HOME INTERIOR IDEAS

Quality Factory-Built Cabinets
Can Pay Best Dividends

Brought to you by
Don Bolco, CKD, CR

Kitchen remodeling has a primary benefit, and that is new convenience in the main work space of the home. But it also can be one of the best investments you'll ever make. If you "go the extra mile" and pay the extra dollar for real quality in the cabinetry.

In other words, it can pay cash dividends on the money you invest in the job.

The "extra mile" means opting for the extra quality of factory-built cabinetry. This can mean a fine custom fine made to order for your kitchen, or one of the high-grade industry standards factory-built for fast delivery.

There are good reasons for the extra quality. Expensive precision machinery assures true uniformity with the finest woods, and factory finishing achieves results that would take months to duplicate in a less sophisticated process.

It adds up to longer life for the cabinets, and they will look better for many years longer. And, if ever you want to sell the home, a true quality kitchen can add thousands of dollars to the price.

That is why so many home builders have found it good practice to put better cabinets in their homes.

Visit our showroom and let us show you what we mean with fine cabinets for kitchen and bath.

Hearing On Senior Citizens Affairs

On Dec. 1, a public hearing will be held by the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs and its Advisory Council, it was announced recently by Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta.

Scheduled to be held in the Department's auditorium at 222 Willis Avenue, Mineola from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., the hearing will provide an opportunity for public comments and recommendations on the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs' two-year interim Area Plan for Nassau County.

The Nassau County Area Plan is a working document describing how the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs proposes to fulfill the requirements under the federal Older Americans Act and the New York State Community Services for the Elderly Act.

The Department of Senior Citizen Affairs with federal, state and local funds contracts with non-profit agencies to operate approximately fifty programs to address the current and projected needs of Nassau County's elderly. Areas of concern planned for expansion or to be newly developed include Home Delivered Meals, In-Home Services, In-Home

Respite Services, Weekend Meals, Emergency Meals, Emergency Response Systems, Case Management, Prescription Drug, Counseling, Adult Day Care, Education and Training, Medical Transportation and Housing. The emphasis is on meeting the needs of the fast growing segment of Nassau's population—the frail elderly. A major goal is to serve those seniors who need supportive services in order to continue to live at home.

Commissioner Adelaide Attard of the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs said, "The recommendations received from agencies and individuals who appear at the Public Hearing are vital in helping us to anticipate needs and to strengthen services on the community level to Nassau County's 263,045 senior citizens."

An abstract which outlines and highlights the proposed major actions of the Plan is available upon request to the Department of Senior Citizen Affairs, 222 Willis Avenue, Mineola, NY, 11501.

Those wishing to testify may write to the Department or call 535-5902.

Santa's Mailbox

Children who want to write letters to Santa can deposit them in special red and green mail boxes in eleven Nassau County Parks starting Nov. 27. All letters will be forwarded to Santa Claus at the North Pole, and the ones deposited by Dec. 18 will receive a reply from Santa if there is a legible return address.

County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta said that the Santa mail boxes will be located inside the Administration Buildings at the following county parks:

Bay Park in East Rockaway, Cantiague Park in Hicksville, Cedar Creek Park in Seaford, Christopher Morley Park in Roslyn-North

Hills, Cow Meadow Park in Freeport, Eisenhower Park in East Meadow (a second mailbox will be the Field House, parking field #2), Grant Park in Hewlett, Nassau Beach Park in Lido, Roosevelt Park in Roosevelt, Wantagh Park in Wantagh, and Whitney Pond Park in Manhasset.

As an added attraction, a candy cane contest will be set up next to each mailbox. Children are encouraged to guess the number of candy canes in the jar and deposit their entry along with their letters.

Advanced Treatment For Rheumatoid Arthritis

A recent article discussed the diagnosis and initial treatment for rheumatoid arthritis. Drugs used in this treatment are those which control joint inflammation. Often, these initial medications are either aspirin or strong aspirin-like preparations. If the arthritis is progressive and not controlled by these medications, other therapies such as gold injections may be recommended.

No one is certain how gold works. However, scientific studies have shown that 70% of patients with rheumatoid arthritis will experience a good to an excellent response to gold therapy. This medication is given either orally or by injection. Gold is one of several medications called a disease modifying agent because it is believed to slow the process of rheumatoid arthritis. Other medications in this category are Plaquenil and D-Penicillamine.

Recently, another category of medication has been developed and used in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. These medications are called immunosuppressive agents and include Imuran, Methotrexate, and Cytoxan. These drugs are very powerful and are usually reserved for patients with rheumatoid arthritis which has not responded to other forms of treatment. Both gold therapy and the immunosuppressive therapy is usually administered under the supervision of a rheumatologist (arthritis specialist).

Great advances have been made over recent years in the diagnosis and treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. The days when a patient was in constant pain and confined to a wheelchair with arthritis have passed. Powerful new medications, combined with physical therapy and joint surgery, have revolutionized the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

Thanksgiving and Your Taxes

OK, Thanksgiving has rolled around again. Can you believe it with this weather? It is my fervent wish to all of you that you have an enjoyable holiday season. Just think many of us have Friday off to relax and do nothing. Wonderful!

My suggestion is that you use Friday to think about what you are going to do between now and the end of the year to minimize your tax bill. You might even save enough to pay for the holiday presents. That would be worthwhile.

Gone is the day of the instant tax shelter to save us money by giving us instant losses to cover our gains. All of the 1980's tax laws took care of that. If you are very rich, an oil and gas deal may be good for you. If you want to take some time to get some real advantages, a real estate deal may be ok. There are still some horse syndications you may be interested in. Beyond that there is not much you can use. It is easy to get into trouble with Uncle Sam if you take the tax shelter approach.

Here are some suggestions to mull over on Nov. 27. The complexities of the tax law gives planning this year a new urgency. You are advised to see your accountant BEFORE Dec. 7. Otherwise you may have a different type of "D-Day", a bad "T-Day."

Some very obvious plays will be discussed in this article. Another will treat some more sophisticated areas. Since the tax rate will be down next year to a top of 28 percent, try to figure how you can receive your income next year rather than this year.

Suggestion 1. IRAs. If you are not covered under a pension plan, fund your IRA. You get the deduction to reduce your tax bite. I do not recommend non-deductible funding of IRAs because you can do the same thing other ways without the restrictions.

Suggestion 2. Check your gains and losses in the stock and bond markets. They can only be used to offset each other to avoid taxes on gains. Remember that article on SWAPS to establish losses. Use that technique. I will send the article to you if you ask.

Suggestion 3. Look for all of the itemized deductions that you can find. Most of them have been effectively eliminated for the average taxpayer. But maybe some can apply. Remember charity is only deductible when you itemize. Look for the miscellaneous deductions. You can find many if you look hard enough. Getting over the 2 percent of income floor will be difficult.

Suggestion 4. Make sure that your withholding is going to equal, as a minimum, what you paid as taxes in 1986. There are stiff penalties if you have to pay more tax on the 1987 tax and you have not done this. If you are behind, have your employer take more out immediately. If ahead, have the employer take out less till the end of the year.

Suggestion 5. Mortgage interest. Prepay some payments this year. Check with your mortgage holder to see what are their rules. This is a deduction on mortgage interest. Thank God.

The general strategy is to defer any income that you can. Next year's top rate is 28 percent versus this year's top of 38.5 percent, so there is an automatic saving. The other side of the coin is to take any deduction you can this year. They are worth more.

Suggestion 6. This is a must for everyone. It is free. Check with the IRS to see if you are eligible for any free tax preparation services. They have walk-in services, programs for the elderly, the deaf and general taxpayer information programs. At the very least, you should ask for Publication 17. This is as complete a guide as you can find on tax preparation. There is no charge.

So as I said in the beginning, enjoy Thanksgiving Thursday to the fullest and start your tax preparation on Friday.

Happy Thanksgiving everyone.

Impact of Stock Market Decline To Be Discussed

A panel of nationally known experts will participate in a discussion program, "The Aftermath of the Stock Market Decline of '87," according to a statement released by Long Island Forum for Technology, Inc. (LIFT). The LIFT sponsored program is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 8, at the Plaza Hotel in Plainview.

According to LIFT's Tech Investment Forum chairman, Stanley Wunderlich, president of Krieger, Wunderlich, Fialkov, Scheinman & Co., the discussion panel will include: Barry Gordon, president, American Fund Advisors, Inc.; Arthur H. Rosenbloom, chairman, MMG Patricof & Co., Inc.; Marc Stoltz, chief financial officer, Metropolitan Securities; Helen Hill Updike, Ph.D., president, Interfund Capital Corp; and Alan Wax, financial writer, Newsday.

Mr. Wunderlich said, "We are offering an opportunity to hear outstanding professionals express their views regarding the recent stock market impact on advanced technology industry for the immediate future and the longer term. We know the valuation of a company has changed because of the stock market decline. What was the company worth before and what will it be worth after, are among the discussion points for the panel." Preparing to meet the needs of new and growing high technology driven companies in a highly volatile financial market is vital to the well being of the region's economy.

The meeting program and reception will begin at 6:30 p.m. and conclude at 8:30 p.m. at the Plaza Hotel, 150 Sunnyside Blvd. (LIE exit 46 South), Plainview. Reservations are required. The fee for LIFT members is $18 and non-members is $25. For more information call LIFT at 454-5030.

Retirement Planning For Small Business

Small-business owners facing critical decisions on which retirement plan to implement before Dec. 31 in light of the new tax laws—or how to protect their retirement portfolios from further stock market erosions—are invited to bring their questions to Long Island Networking Entrepreneurs' (LINE) Round Table discussion, Tuesday, Dec. 2, on "Shrewd Retirement Planning For Small-Business Owners When The (Blue) Chips Are Down."

The six Long Island financial specialists who will advise members and guests on investment strategies, include: Marie Mullins, Empire National Securities (New Hyde Park); Dianne L. Wilderman, Prudential-Bache/Securities (Syosset); Albert F. Coletti, Design Capital Planning Group (Hauppauge); Peter B. Tomasino, Comprehensive Financial

Friends Of The Arts Festival Gala '87

On Saturday, Oct. 24 Friends of the Arts held their Festival Gala '87 Danse Macabre at the magnificent Coe Hall mansion at the Planting Fields Arboretum in Oyster Bay. The theme for this year's exciting fund raiser was the Phantom of the Opera.

An atmosphere of Victorian elegance prevailed throughout the evening. The strains of an organ, reminiscent of the Phantom playing at the Opera House set the mood. Dramatic lighting effects highlighted the beauty of the magnificent mansion and transformed the gala event into the 1890 Paris Opera House of the Phantom.

The fall event was the third gala benefit of Friends of the Arts. Now celebrating its 15th Anniversary, Friends of the Arts has presented the world's greatest artists to Long Island audiences. Among them have been James Galway, Itzhak Perlman, The Boston Symphony with Seiji Ozawa, The Chicago Symphony with Sir George Solti, Dance Theatre of Harlem and Jean Pierre Rampal.

Students To Help Design Campaign Against DWI

Students from across New York State will have the chance to create the State's 1988 campaign against drinking and driving as part of a contest announced recently by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Patricia B. Adduci. The contest, sponsored jointly by the Department of Motor Vehicles, Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, Education Department, and the NYS Broadcasters Association, invites high school and special education students to design posters and radio and TV public service announcements on the dangers of drinking and driving. Winning entries will be used in the state's 1988 public information campaign against drunk driving.

"The creativity, imagination and concern of young people will help us deliver important messages about the dangers of drinking and driving," Commissioner Adduci said. "Direct involvement of young people in the issue of drinking and driving is particularly important because younger drivers are disproportionately represented in alcohol-related accidents. Drivers aged 16 to 20 represent less than seven percent of all drivers, but they are involved in more than 15 percent of alcohol-related crashes."

Students in grades 9 through 12, or in equivalent special education courses, may submit entries in three categories, Poster, Radio Public Service Announcement, and Television Public Service Announcement. A student may enter in any or all categories, but may submit only one entry for each category.

Entries will be judged on originality, appeal, effectiveness of the message, accuracy of information, and reproducibility.

Posters must be 22 inches wide by 17 inches in height and display no more than four colors. Each radio or TV public service announcement must contain a message no longer than 30 seconds. Storyboards, with accompanying scripts, will be accepted in place of film or video tape for TV PSA entries.

Statewide winners will be announced in May 1988. They will receive scholarships and their posters and public service announcements will be reproduced and used in DMV and GTSC public information efforts, including the 1988 "Prom and Graduation STOP-DWI" campaign.

Inquiries about contest rules and submissions should be directed to: Contest Coordinator, Office of Communications, Department of Motor Vehicles, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Empire State Plaza, Albany, NY 12228, (518) 474-0877.

THE WAY TO A WOMAN'S HEART IS TO TAKE THE SOUTHERN STATE PARKWAY TO EXIT 19-S.

Get off on exit 19-S, drive five miles along Peninsula Boulevard, make a left on Woodmere, a right on Central Avenue, and drive for a half a mile to Cedarhurst Center. You'll find yourself right in front of Antonovich, swooning.

This is still one more spectacular Antonovich location, filled to the rafters with thousands of furs. Coyote, fox, lynx, raccoon, beaver, Blackglama mink—you name it, you'll fall for it.

And the price tags dangling at the ends of the sleeves will leave you further exhilarated. Because at Antonovich you can always save on what you would expect to pay elsewhere. And if these prices aren't low enough for you, just bring us an ad from a recognizable retailer for a coat of comparable quality and we'll match the price, plus give you an additional 10% off of the difference.

Arrhythmia Surveillance Center At LIJMC

Heart attacks, the nation's leading killer, cause more than 500,000 deaths annually. Most of these are due to a failure in the intricate system that governs the heart's pumping action. According to Dr. Kul Chadda, director of the Arrhythmia Surveillance Center at Long Island Jewish Medical Center's Heart Institute, "The issue is what can be done in the first four to five minutes after a heart attack." Dr. Chadda has initiated a training program that helps patients save their own lives.

The core of the program is a heart monitoring system that works through telephone transmission of a patient's heart-beat. This monitoring is backed up by self-injectable medications and a portable home defibrillator or heart shock device. The heartbeat is transmitted through the telephone to a 24-hour monitoring center where it is analyzed and diagnosed and guidance for home treatment is given.

Dr. Chadda's patients and their families are trained, in effect, as a home care team. The patient is taught to use a portable cardio beeper unit which picks up the pulse through wrist electrodes, records it and beeps out the pattern for analysis of the heartbeat. Family members learn how to administer CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) and to use an automated defibrillator, a device which gives life-saving jolts to the heart when potentially lethal arrhythmia occurs.

Of 10 patients using the telephone transmitter system at the Center during a 15-month period, only one patient died, compared to the 12 deaths among 28 similar patients who did not use it.

For information call Long Island Jewish Medical Center at (718) 470-8690.

Mercy Hospital Offers New Volunteer Program

In an effort to serve the needs of the community, Mercy Hospital, Rockville Centre, is planning an exciting new program for volunteers to serve as liaison people between the patient, family and professional staff, as well as others in the Emergency Department.

Those trained volunteers will endeavor to alleviate the fears and anxieties of relatives and friends of Emergency Room patients by providing their assistance to patients in wheelchairs by calling for medical support and provide information to individuals who require direction to other hospital areas and services.

This new program which addresses the special needs of both patients, their family members and friends in the Emergency Room setting, is expected to provide volunteers with an opportunity to give of themselves in a caring and rewarding environment.

If you are interested in volunteering in this new program or in any other volunteer capacity, please call the Volunteer Office at 255-2493, Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Help Fight Diabetes

As November draws to a close, the American Diabetes Association, Long Island Chapter completes National Diabetes Month. But diabetes education and research are far from complete and they need your help to fight this disease.

Call the Long Island Chapter if you can volunteer your time. Even a few hours' help in the office or at a special event means a lot. Help them spread diabetes awareness so that the five million undiagnosed diabetics in the United States will get timely care and prevent early onset of complications.

If you have diabetes learn to take care of yourself. Day-to-day management of blood sugar is imperative. Call them to find out about classes and diabetes clubs. Twenty-eight diabetes clubs meet throughout Long Island each month. There are special clubs for families of children with diabetes, teens and young adults as well as clubs for older people.

Give generously and help them fund vital research. They want to win the battle to end diabetes!

Call the Long Island Chapter at 752-1752.

GIFT GUIDE 1987

Great Entertaining

You're planning a gala party and, of course, you want everything to be perfect—from beginning to end. That means great food, a good beverage selection, compatible guests and your own special touch of hospitality.

Today's party is an "event." The trend is toward theme parties, where food, decor and dress matches a central theme, whether color, music, food, or ethnic mood. Whatever the mood, alcoholic beverages are usually an intrinsic part of the festivities.

Just as important to the happy memories associated with a good time, is the responsible serving and consumption of alcohol at your party.

The Distilled Spirits Council of the U.S. has these tips to ensure a good time, and a safe departure for your guests:

Set a good example for your guests: know the legal drinking age, the legal drinking limit (in most states it's a blood alcohol concentration level of .10%), and the alcohol each contain the same amount of pure alcohol).

- Avoid drinking on an empty stomach. . . serve lots of food and snacks, it can slow down the absorption of alcohol into the blood stream (high protein foods are best).

- Measure the amount of alcohol in the drinks you serve. Have non-alcoholic beverages available. Fruit juice mixers are better than carbonated, which tend to speed up alcohol absorption. Only refill a glass if a guest requests it.

- If a guest has had too much to drink, offer non-alcoholic beverages instead. Don't allow alcohol to become the focus of your party.

- As the party winds down, stop serving alcohol. Substitute dessert, coffee, late snacks. NEVER serve "one for the road."

Godiva Chocolate

Sweets for your sweet...the most elegant sweet of all, Godiva Chocolates. The height of extravagance or just a touch of elegance, the choice is yours, the sentiment is what counts and these wonderfully rich, exquisitely packaged chocolates say it all. For a truly memorable gift—as a thank you, to a hostess or to say I love you...a one pound box of Godiva is the ultimate in good taste. And, for a sweet morsel to stuff a stocking, a tiny sampler—elegantly gold boxed, says "you're more than a little special." From Godiva Chocolates, 1380 Northern Blvd., Manhasset (627-3134).

Gold Coast Appliances

A gift for the whole family is a great idea, one that will be enjoyed every day for years to come.

What could be better than a giant screen color TV, cable ready, with built in broadcast stereo and a 27-button TV/VCR remote. The 50" screen Hitachi shown, is from Gold Coast Appliances, 54 Glen Cove Rd. • 625-0800.

Large or small, appliances are great gifts for the holidays, from the new microwave oven you've been admiring for months, to a VCR and video camcorder to record all your holiday festivities (you can even record all the football games, without missing a bite of Thanksgiving, Christmas or New Year's Day fun).

Gold Coast Appliances has it all...from small, giftable 5" color TV's, to GE's new Monogram line of major appliances. As a special holiday bonus, GE is giving a JE42 Microwave oven, free, with selected major appliance purchases (through 12/13). Happy holidays from Gold Coast.

TARA
This brings all the romance and charm of another era to your festive Thanksgiving table. Its delicate silverware is set with a gentle curving handle. Whether you're planning an elaborate dinner or a quick meal on the run, the elegant beauty of Tara will make a special.

On The First Day of Christmas,

my true love gave to me... We couldn't find a partridge, but we did come up with a wonderful smoked pheasant and/or duck from Figs Gifts In Good Taste Catalog.

The 2 lb pheasant (2 1/2 lb duck) is hardwood smoked, cured with herbs and spices, fully cooked and ready to eat. Pheasant (-403-$26.99); Duck (-402-$19.99).

We don't want to forget the pear tree, but it's too cold out for picking fruit, so we left that to Figs, too. Their handsome wooden fruit trays are full of flavorful, moist dried fruit: Pears, of course, and figs, dates, apples, cherries, apricots and pineapple, beautifully garnished with walnuts and almonds. (1 lb: -411-$9.99; 2 lb: -413-$15.99; 3 lb: -898-$21.99).

For the other 12 days of Christmas, for your whole holiday season...for all year munching: Figs, Inc., Dairy Lane, Marshfield, WI 54404-2000 (1-715/384-6101).

GIFT GUIDE 1987

La Cologne

For this holiday season, for every occasion, there's a wonderful scent that's a haunting part of the memory. Give your special person a fragrant gift.

Poison—sexy, sultry, lush. Lavish bouquets of Lauren, Giorgio, Nina Ricci. There are exotic aromas by Balenciaga, Givenchy, Yves St. Laurent, Paco Rabanne, Lauren, Dior...names which evoke as much excitement as their extraordinary fragrances. For your favorite him or her, a gift of perfume lasts forever, long after the essence is gone, the memory remains.

At La Cologne (143 Mineola Avenue, Roslyn Heights 484-9115) you'll find hundreds of fragrances from the most exotic tropicals to the lightest of floral colognes. For that man in your life, for the lady in your dreams, there's a perfume, cologne, eau de toilette, that is perfect. For him, there's Grey Flannel by Geoffrey Beene—masculine and sophisticated, sure to turn heads; or Kouros by Yves St. Laurent...robust and strong, perfect for the sportsman in your life.

For her, there's sultry YSL, Poison by Dior, Givenchy's

Ysatis...wonderful scents, with bottles as beautiful as the perfumes they contain. For a lighter mood, you can find Ciara by Ultima II, Beautiful by Estee Lauder, Lauren by Ralph Lauren, Chloe by Lagerfeld. There's Ungaro's Diva, or Gloria Vanderbilt's Glorious...the list is as endless as your imagination.

While you are picking out the perfect scent, you might let your eyes wander to the other gift items at La Cologne...beautiful, of course: hair accessories, faux jewelry, wonderful cosmetics.

Gift giving time is so much fun, especially when your gift is a gift certificate for a cosmetic consultation or make-up application by Caroline, La Cologne's licensed cosmetician.

Gift giving time is so much fun, especially when your gift is a gift of beauty. At La Cologne, you'll find yourself surrounded by beautiful things (and we'll let you in on a wonderful surprise from this oh so wonderful boutique...ssssh: they're having a drawing for a round trip ticket to Paris in April).

Gourmet-To-Go

Holidays are synonymous with good food—traditional culinary favorites that represent every nationality, every ethnic tradition, and bring families and friends together to share the joy and laughter of those special occasions.

The busy lifestyles of today's families—working moms, single dads, back-to-work grandmas—often precludes the extensive preparation that was the stuff of memory. To fill the gap and take the burden off the busy homemakers who look forward to the warmth of these large gatherings, but do not have the time, (or, all-too-often, the space), a spate of fine gourmet catering and prepared food establishments have sprung up around the Metropolitan area.

Tastefully Yours of Manhasset is about to make its mark on your holiday and everyday table. The brand new shop, located right next to the Manhasset railroad station (53 Manhasset Ave.), is the perfect stop for Mom or Dad, rushing home from work to get dinner on the table. "We're going to be here every day, beginning November 30, serving hot, freshly-made entrees, delicious salads and heavenly desserts, ready to take home for a quick snack or a full meal," says owner Debra O'Kane.

"We're planning a 3-part gourmet shop," she said. "We'll have take-out gourmet foods, with daily selections like chicken, shrimp, and scallops provençal; beef with dijon and cognac; seafood ravioli with tomatoes and cheese. Our salads will be really interesting, made fresh every day...things like wild rice and currants, cashew chicken, pasta and goat cheese with sun-dried tomatoes, as well as a selection of crisp vegetable salad ingredients. We'll also have wonderful homemade soups, and, of course, great desserts and fresh hors d'oeuvres (for unexpected guests, a pre-dinner treat).

"Second," Debra continued, "will be our specialty food and gift items (we're already stocked, and our retail shop is open right now). We've got wonderful gift 'baskets' which we'll fill with any assortment of gourmet goodies: jams, sauces, candies, cakes, imported caviar and toasts, chutney's and relishes...good things, made and packed by highly respected food preparers. Our baskets, too, are unique. We've got straws and wickers from all over the world, along with charming carved wooden figural containers, gingerbread 'houses,' red-ridinghood baskets...they're perfect gifts for the holidays.. We're also carrying gift wraps and paper goods from Pot Pourri Press." (Note the holiday shopping bags pictured here.)

"We're taking catering reservations now, for the upcoming holiday season," Debra said. We've got full service catering with waiters, waitresses, chefs, tables and linens, flowers, tents and lights, and complete cleanup service. We'll cook in your home, or we can prepare your foods in our on-premises kitchen. Customers who want just food service, can order their party menu in advance and pick it up here in the shop."

Tastefully Yours uses high quality natural ingredients and lots of love in the preparation of all their dishes. The desserts are guaranteed to bring sighs of pleasure: sherry trifle, iced lemon souffle, pavlova of fresh fruit (that's a large, gently baked meringue shell, crisp on the outside, chewy in, filled with fresh fruit and whipped cream...beautiful to look at, sinful to eat). They'll have chocolate mousse cake and mousse aux marrons (pureed chestnuts), buche de noel and all kinds of cookies and fancy miniature desserts.

Tastefully Yours will be open early in the a.m., too, serving commuter breakfasts to go—fresh muffins, delightful tea breads, delicate rolls, with hot coffee. A great way to start your day, and a perfect way to end it...at Tastefully Yours.

Give Debra a call to make your holiday catering reservations, or order a holiday gift basket: 365-1600. The shop will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Monday—Friday.

Holiday Greenery

It's almost time to start 'decking your halls' with holly, pine and other winter evergreen boughs. The look is festive, until the needles begin to fall and the leaves wither.

Safer, Inc., manufacturer of naturally-based horticultural products, has come out with a solution to prevent live and cut foliage from losing their moisture, and retain their green in the outdoor cold and indoor dryness. ForEverGreen™ is an all-season protectant that forms an invisible coating over the leaf or needle surface. It seals in moisture, extending the life of your cut or live ornamentals, Christmas trees, wreaths and outdoor plants.

The easy-to-use spray contains no harmful chemicals, is non-flammable, and is available at lawn and garden centers, florists, supermarkets, drug, hardware and discount stores.

Artisans Gallery

The finest creations of some of America's most gifted artisans are on view, and, of course, for sale, at Artisans Gallery, 6 Bond St., Great Neck (829-6747).

Selma Phillips and Judie Marcus have gathered a unique collection of exquisite art glass by noted artists such as Leon Applebaum and Paul Harrie, and other gifted glass makers. These skilled craftsmen have created beautiful colored glass that is reminiscent of the work of the early 1900's, when Tiffany, Galle, and others turned everyday glass into an art form. Today's artisans have revived that extraordinarily beautiful craft, creating new techniques and designs that will become priceless treasures, beautiful forever.

What better gift than an exquisite objet d'art that will forever remind someone of how much you care.

Artisans Gallery is filled with treasures: pottery by Fred Shimer and Christopher Darling; jewelry by David Lawrence and Amanda Slaz. There's a perfect piece for every taste, in every medium...glass, metal, fiber, wood, gold, silver, precious and semi-precious minerals. There are "constructions" in wood, paper, fiber and stone. Flights of fancy as delicate as clouds, or statements of strength and boldness.

You can choose from one-of-a-kind hand crafted works or order a custom colored, custom sized piece to fit your own decorative space and scheme.

Among the artisans on display are Robert Carlons and Nancy Freeman (her exquisite cut and blown Murrini glass perfumers are pictured here).

Artisans Gallery invites you to their special Holiday Show (through January 4) featuring works by a host of talented potters, jewelers, glass makers including Sylvia Finkle, Michael Lambert, J.D. Smith, Lela Florel, Roger Roland, Steve Main and many others.

What better time to give a treasure to a friend or family member you love. It will be a gift that will take place of honor in their home, and a warm spot in their heart...always.

GIFT GUIDE 1987

Three times the magic, three times the fun, three different boutiques to fill your holidays with head-to-toe luxury...On Broadway (207 No. Broadway, Jericho). Ann Borghese, Janet Scheiner, Linda Buchalter and Linda Sohn, have combined forces in three different boutiques; extraordinary jewelry, fine and costume, at Ann Borghese & Janet; clothing and accessories for every occasion at Plum's Boutique; and the new newest place to be beautiful "On Broadway": Janil Lingerie, where you can feel deliciously sinful in luscious lace, delicately decorous in silk and satin.

Ann Borghese and Janet Scheiner offer customers a wide selection of exciting jewelry...precious 18K gold, sterling silver, diamonds and gems for every occasion or, for the light of heart and pocket, a dazzling array of costume toolers to adorn your arms, neck, ears and fingers whatever your mood.

Satin Sticks

Dreams of sugar plum fairies and nutcrackers that turn into handsome princes, could almost come true when you give the person of your dreams Satin Sticks...rich, macadamia nut filled dark chocolate sticks coated in gossamer thin spun sugar—melt in your mouth candy treats, hand made and packed in beautiful, reusable glass jars.

These delicate, silvery sweets, are a recaptured childhood memory brought alive by Irene and Peter Waters. These fine candies were popular during the days when Teddy Roosevelt was a familiar figure on the streets of Oyster Bay. The Waters' have revived the old fashioned recipe, and the goodness is as much a treat now as it was 80 years ago.

Where can you find these wonderful holiday (any-day) confections? At the Maisonette Shop (17 Audrey Lane) and Hanophy's (101 South St.)...both in Oyster Bay.

On Broadway

Ann Borghese and Janet will redesign your fine jewels, repair your favorite pieces and restring your pearls and beads to perfection. Prices are the best around, and the selection is enormous...open Monday through Saturday 10:00-5:30, Friday to 7 (822-9726).

For every femme on your shopping list, including your best friend (you, silly!), there's Plum's Boutique. Linda Buchalter and Linda Sohn will dress you from tip to toe in the latest fashions...contemporary sportswear, handbags, gloves, scarves and fashion accessories. If you're planning a cruise or a trip to the tropics for the holidays, Plum's exciting cruise line is waiting for you. There's a wonderful selection of knots, washable silks, cottons, and more, in the season's latest colors and patterns, perfect for hot sunny days, warm romantic evenings. The Boutique is an up-beat place for all your holiday shopping.

The newest tempter On Broadway is Janil Lingerie (932-9488). This is a mutual venture, co-owned by all the lovely ladies under the umbrella—Ann, Janet, Linda and Linda. Their taste is evident in the beautiful selection of fine lingerie by some of the top manufacturers: Calvin Klein, Iris, Warner, Natori, Gilligan O'Malley, Robes of California. There's hosiery by Hanes, Christian Dior, Hot Socks, etc., all at fabulous prices, all in the latest styles and fabrics, all simply "sinful."

Join the gals at "On Broadway": You'll be glad you did. You'll find beautiful clothing, lingerie, jewelry and accessories, great prices, and maybe...an umbrella to keep you dry and well so you can enjoy all the beautiful gifts you've chosen for the holidays.

Transition Planning Workshop

The Research and Training Institute (RTI) at Human Resources Center in Albertson, is inviting parents to attend a Transition Planning Workshop, geared for parents of children with disabilities ages 14-21, who will soon exit secondary school and enter a post-secondary education or training program, competitive employment or alternative types of employment. This project is supported by the Federal Department of Education and it is a prototype of training programs we're planning to design in the future.

This is a pilot workshop to be presented to parents willing to participate beyond attendance. We are seeking those who will volunteer to partake, not only as attendees, but as critics and evaluators. We will follow-up to see how you have used what you have learned. Parents' comments and feedback will allow us to determine how to revise this transition program to ensure that all future participants receive the best training possible.

The four hour transition workshop includes seven modules that address the major issues of transition:

- Parent Professional Partnerships
- Legal Rights and Responsibilities
- Family Issues
- Community Resources
- Assessment Techniques
- Employment Models
- Transition Planning

The format of the workshop lends itself to discussion-centered learning, group participation and hands-on exercises as well as guidance in developing an individual transition plan for the child with disabilities.

This pilot workshop will be offered in two-two hour sessions at Human Resources Center at no fee. For further information as well as dates, and registration procedures, contact Sheila Sarrett, Human Resources Center, 747-5400, Ext. 1232.

NEWSDAY COLUMNIST ED Lowe who spoke at a recent LICA Meeting, chats with Mike Quane, left of European American Bank and LICA President Jim Haddix of Boy Scouts of America, Suffolk County Council at recent LICA program. LICA members are writers, editors, public relations specialists and other professional communicators.

Grant For Literacy Volunteers

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta recently announced a special $50,000 grant to the Nassau affiliate of Literacy Volunteers of America, a countywide volunteer tutorial program organized in 1968 to serve adults who read below the fifth grade level and adults for whom English is a second language.

"The Literacy Volunteers of America do an outstanding job in helping residents comprehend and understand the English language," Gulotta said.

The grant, to develop and expand programs among Nassau County Health and Human Service Agencies, will enable Literacy Volunteers to evaluate referrals and match them with trained volunteers with whom they can work on a one-to-one basis, two to three hours a week, at mutually convenient times and locations.

"Many of these adults lack the basic reading skills to function effectively in our increasing complex society, and there are many thousand more who lack basic English conversational skills," said Anne DuPrey, Literacy Volunteers of America-Nassau County, Inc. Executive Director.

Double-Dummy Problem

four hands while trying to find a solution to the problem.
Actually, the correct order of play is not really difficult to find. A little complicated, perhaps, but nevertheless it makes a lot of sense.
Win the diamond lead with the ace and ruff a diamond. Then play a heart to the king and ruff a diamond, followed by a heart to the ace and still another diamond ruff. Continuing the general aim of reducing your trump length, you next play a club to the ace and trump a heart. As a direct result of all these maneuvers back and forth, this is now the position:
North ♠ Q2 ♥ 108 ♣ 4
West ♠ 1087 ♥ J54 ♣ Q108 ♣ 975
East ♠ K9 ♥ Q62 ♣ K972 ♣ 8632
South ♠ AJ6543 ♥ 93 ♣ 4 ♣ KQJ10
Contract — seven spades.
Opening lead — queen of diamonds.
Assume you're South and arrive at seven spades after a series of bids too horrible to mention in this family-oriented column. West leads the diamond queen and the question is how to play the hand.
Your ambitious contract certainly seems impossible to make, assuming correct defense. However, you've been to the wars before and have already learned that every once in a while bridge proves to be a surprising game. So you put on your thinking cap, proceed with the play, and wonder of wonders, 13 tricks later you find yourself chalking up a grand slam! You're allowed to look at all
You then cash the K-Q of clubs, discarding a heart from dummy, and next play the jack of clubs. This forces West to ruff with the seven or eight, which of course you overruff with the queen as East helplessly follows suit to the club lead. What you play next from dummy doesn't really matter, because East's K-Q of spades succumb to your A-J.
A good day's work well done!

You Auto Know

By D. F. KARPP

Our local towns pop in and out of the statistics listed here for pedestrian safety records. Some, Kensington in Great Neck, with 55 years without a pedestrian fatality and runner up Bayville with 23 years, can be truly proud.

Twenty-seven communities in Nassau County have received special awards from the American Automobile Association and the Automobile Club of New York for their commendable pedestrian safety records.

The awards were presented by Patricia B. Adduci, New York State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, in a special ceremony in Westchester County.

Mayors or their representatives from the Nassau communities were among officials from New York State and 77 local cities, towns and villages who accepted awards at the affair. The ceremony was part of AAA's annual Pedestrian Protection Program.

The Village of Kings Point was awarded a Special Citation for its Outstanding Pedestrian Accident Record while the City of Long Beach and the Villages of Freeport, Garden City, Lynbrook and Rockville Centre received Special Citations for Outstanding Pedestrian Program Activities.

Nine communities won Pedestrian Safety Achievement Awards for recording ten or more consecutive years without a pedestrian fatality. They were Kensington (55 years), Bayville (23 years), Island Park (17 years), Malverne (17 years), Roslyn (17 years), Great Neck (15 years), Cedarhurst (10 years), East Rockaway (10 years), and Russell Gardens (10 years).

Twelve other communities in the county received Pedestrian Safety Citations for fatality-free records of less than ten consecutive years.

They were:
Westbury (9 years) Valley Stream (4 years)
Sea Cliff (8 years) Floral Park (3 years)
Wilston Park (7 years) Lawrence (3 years)
East Hills (6 years) Fort Washington (3 years)
Lake Success (6 years) Farmingdale (1 year)
Old Brookville (5 years) New Hyde Park (1 year)

Over 2,500 communities and 27 states across the nation submitted reports to AAA for scoring in the program. They were evaluated by a panel of leaders in highway and traffic engineering, motor vehicle administration, enforcement, education and traffic safety.

Now you know where to hike and walk on Long Island, when you get out of your car.

MR. STEVE WEISS of Syosset Ford was a winner of twenty-five one-ounce silver Ingots given away by Turtle Top at the 1988 Ford Anniversary Show held in Anaheim, California recently. Turtle Top of Goshen, Indiana, is Ford's oldest van converter. To celebrate its 25th Anniversary, Turtle Top held a drawing for each group of dealers who registered and visited their display of 1988 van conversions at the show. Mr. Ken LaMay, Turtle Top representative, is shown presenting the silver to Mr. Steven Weiss.

SPORTS ON LONG ISLAND

Nassau Sports Review

By JACK WHITE

Carle Place won its third straight Class C Field Hockey State Championship by beating upstate Afton, 1-0. Gina Schoeder scored the winning goal with 18:48 remaining in the second half. Carle Place, under Coach Gloria O'Connor, has captured six straight Nassau Class C titles and also won the state crown in 1983. The Cold Spring Harbor girls' soccer team won the N.Y. State Class C championship for the third consecutive time when it topped Cazenovia, 3-0, last Saturday. Coach Steve Cacioppo's squad got goals from Nancy Nicklas, Carrie Towers and Genevieve Chelius to beat a team which was unbeaten in 23 previous games. The Seahawks (14-3) were in a "rebuilding" year which made victory even sweeter. The South Side girls' soccer team won the State "B" crown by blanking Marcellus, 1-0, on Mary Egan's second half goal. The Cyclones (16-1) had hoped to win the boys' title, too. However, Glenn beat South Side in the Long Island final for the second straight year, then went on to take the state title with a 6-1 win over Chittenango (23-1). Garden City fell just short in its bid for the boys' State Class A Soccer Championship.

After Joe Esposito scored four goals to lead the Trojans to a 5-0 win over Shenendehowa in the semis, Hilton ended Garden City's dream with a 2-1 win in the finals. Wantagh won the Nassau County Volleyball Championship by beating South Side, 15-7, 15-12, 11-15, 15-10. Coach Fran Nocella has led her team to the finals for five straight years. Fran is also the Warriors' highly successful softball coach. It is no coincidence that her teams win, she is one of the very best at what she does. Lottie Swanson, of Port Washington, set a county girls' swim mark in the 100 butterfly, while finishing fourth in the state meet. Kristin Mund and Jeannine Sirey, of Hicksville, took sixth place medals. In the football playoffs, there were some great individual rushing efforts. Ed Sweet, of Plainedge, gained 224 yards on 20 carries against New Hyde Park. Ken Squires, of Roosevelt, carried 33 times for 192 yards and three touchdowns vs. Bethpage and Hempstead's star, Antoine Moore, rolled up 204 yards in the Tigers' 47-0 win over Baldwin. The finals are set for this weekend at Post and Hofstra.

Van Norden Wins Nassau Invitational

Bob Van Norden of Plandome Country Club defeated Vincent Furci of Bellport Golf Club on Oct. 3, 1 up to win the 1987 Nassau Invitational.

Van Norden rallied from a two hole deficit at the turn. He caught Furci at the par 4 13th and took the lead at the 15th. Furci recovered to even the match at the 17th, which left the outcome to be determined at a few feet to the left of the green and 40 feet from the hole. Van Norden's approach found the front of the green some 50 feet away. Van Norden's first putt came to rest 2 feet from the cup and Furci chipped to within 6 feet. His putt lipped out, however, and the victory was won when Van Norden holed his short putt.

The final presented an interesting contrast in styles as the long-hitting Van Norden played very well from tee to green, and out drove Furci by as much as 50 yards on numerous occasions. Furci countered with a memorable chipping and putting exhibition.

Van Norden reached the final by defeating medalist Brian Darby and two-time LIGA Amateur Champion Randy Bell. Furci defeated MGA Amateur Finalist Stuart Titus on his way to the final. The 6,648 yard layout of Historic Nassau Country Club proved to be a stern test for the qualifiers as high winds and very fast greens made birdies hard to come by. Three and four putt greens were the topic of the day.

The Seniors Nassau Invitational was won by Dr. Gerry Sacks of Metropolis Country Club, who defeated Morty Howard of Fresh Meadow Country Club.

Basketball: Improving Your Vertical Jump

Football is midway through its season which means that few of us are contemplating basketball. However, now is the time for you to consider pre-season training to improve your jumping ability. It is a common known fact that certain athletes have a greater natural talent for jumping than others. Darryl Griffith of the Utah Jazz, Spud Webb of the Atlanta Hawks and Rex Chapman of the Kentucky Wildcats are prime examples of natural jumping ability.

What can be done for the high school athlete to improve his/her jumping ability? I discussed this problem with Mr. Doug Semenic, who was recently named the United States Strength Coach of the Year. Mr. Semenic is well known for his training of athletes at the University of Louisville basketball program. His program concentrates on a number of important philosophies.

According to Mr. Semenic, vertical jumping is a total body movement and he believes the upper shoulder muscles and chest muscles should be equally conditioned with those of the lower extremities. In the upper body, the deltoid or shoulder muscles (the large muscles along the spinal column), and the rectus abdominal muscles (stomach muscles) all play an important role in creating velocity to elevate the body off the floor. He refers to these muscles as the jumping chain, which began in the upper body and also involve the gluteal muscles (the buttocks), the quadriceps, the hamstring, the gastrocnemius and soleus muscles of the calves and even the smaller muscles of the feet.

Mr. Semenic's program includes pre-season and in-season conditioning. He recommends resistant hip and back exercises, leg squats, thigh thrusts, leg extension exercises, leg curls for hamstring strengthening, and bent-knee sit-ups for the abdominal muscles. He has also found that his jump conditioning program improves with weights and weight training. Semenic issues caution to those athletes who attempt to improve their jumping ability with the use of simultaneous long distance running. Numerous studies have shown that the leg strength or leg jumping ability is lessened by long distance running.

In summary, Mr. Semenic recommends a total body fitness program similar to many of those programs used in gym educational courses. Once an overall conditioning program has been started, the athlete can progress to specific jumping exercises.

Next month we will discuss specific exercises which concentrate more on the lower extremities. Should you have questions regarding a sports medicine problem, we would be happy to review your questions and use them in a future article.
