Cliff Davis Runs For Reelection As Fire Commissioner

Clifford G. Davis has announced his can-didacy for re-election for the five year term of Hicksville Fire Commissioner. Mr. Davis will be running unopposed. Voting will be held Tuesday, December 8, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Station #1, Gebhardt Plaza (East Marie Street), Hicksville.

Mr. Davis has served 16 years as a Hicksville fire commissioner and is an ex-chief of the Hicksville Fice Department. He is a third generation Hicksville Fireman having served 39 years with the Hicksville Fire Depart-ment, and has resided in the Hicksville Fire District his entire life. He is an active member of County, State, and International Firematic Associations, a past president of the Hicksville Exempts Association, the Executive Council of Firematic Associations of Nassau Counry, Nassau County Fire Chiefs Council, and the South Shore Firemans Association. He also served as chairman of the Nassau County Fire Commission, and chairman of the Ninth Battalion Fire District. Mr. Davis was a local business man in Hicksville for over 30 years and presently is employed in the Building Department for the Town of Oyster Bay. He also serves as Director for Nassau County in the Firefighters Burn Center Foundation, (for better burn care for the people in the Long Island and New York area).

Anyone who is a registered voter in the Hicksville Fire District may vote.

Charles Stoll 100 Years Young

Birthday Congratulations "Judge" Stoll

Charles H. Stoll, long time resident of Hicksville and local practicing attorney, now residing in Huntington, was 100 years young on November 27.

Granddaughter, Lynnda Speer of New Port Richey, Florida, made sure her grandfather's day was a special one by having a surprise birthday brunch at the home of "Judge" Stoll's sister, Pearl Francke, of Field Avenue. Friends and family were delighted to say Happy Birthday on his special day.

Many old-timers will remember him as being active in the formation of the Hicksville and Jericho Water Districts. He was instrumental in obtaining street lighting in Hicksville, organized the Long Island National Bank, provided the leadership under which East Street School and the then Hicksville High School were built and drew the Bill which became Chapter 847 of the Laws of 1934, which in turn became the basis for the Suffolk County Water Authority.

He was an avid sportsman and big game hunter and many of his trophies are housed in the "Charles H. Stoll Wing" at the Vanderbilt Museum in Centerport and in the American Museum of Natural History.

Community Council To Address Civic Concerns

"Civic Concerns: Compelling Questions and New Directions for Hicksville" will be ad-dressed by representatives of local civic associations on Thursday, December 3, at 8 p.m. in the Hicksville Public Library Community Room.

Leaders from the civic associations will discuss their organization's pressing concerns and proposals for the future of Hicksville. This program is co-sponsored by the library and the Hicksville Community Council.

Hicksville Board of Education Meeting Notes

The Hicksville Board of Education's Nov ember 24 meeting was opened by school board president, Thomas Nagle. Mr. Nagle had five points to mention: Mr. Arnowitz, chairperson of the English department—grades 7-12 is still being harrassed. It is the board's hope that this will stop. A †250 check was received for vandalism reimbursal.

 Health Insurance - Empire Plan has announced a 60% increase in our employee rates, due January 1. There will be an additional raise in June, 1988. In dollars and cents this is $250,000 additional now and $175,000 in June. The board is considering joining an action suit by Rockville Centre and Boces against this increase.

Multiwire—School and Business partners honored at Partnership Day, Multiwire has shown much interest and support for the students. The board was happy to honor Mr.

lames Dickson and his staff.

 The new assistant director of facilities and operations is Mr. Alan Schaub, He is a Hicksville resident and has much expertise in plumbing, carpentry, masonry, roofing, and groundskeeping.

Correspondence received from or temporary Classrooms.

Delco Associates—permission to speak before reorganization committee.

Mr. Bennett spoke of the need for a Secretary of the Board of Education, as Mr. McBride has been attending the Police Academy, and has been unable to fulfill his responsibilities. in this regard. A motion was made later in the meeting to accept the resignation of Daniel McBride as secretary of the board of educa-tion. This was passed and a second motion was made replacing Mr. McBride with Mrs.

Carole Wolf. Mrs. Wolf is the new secretary of the board of education.

Remarks from the general public included:

Discussion about the removal of the Burns

Avenue temporaries.

Commendation to the Hicksville Congress of Teachers on their helpful pamphlet distributed at conferences of "52 Ways to Help Your Children." Also a commendation on the set-up of the new "Bulletin Board" and coverage of the Reorganization Meetings by Public Relations Person Toni Dima—her hard work is noted and appreciated.

• A Parent voiced to the board of education current concern about Lee Avenue and quoted Mr. Bennett's answer to their 1985 security problems as:

1. "Principal is King of his Castle"

"Work within your PTA"

 Mother, father, and son voiced concern to the board of education regarding transportation of their son to the Mill Neck School for the Deaf. They were concerned with the fact that their son has been late for school 30 times, and that unruly conduct is allowed on the bus. They appealed to Dr. Fenton, Mr. Nagle and Mr. Hall to correct this situation. It will be investigated and hopefully a solution found.

A "kiddie section" will be added to Hicksville's Triangle Park on Plainview Road and Old Country Road, a town spokesman announced at the Garden Civic Association meeting held November 17.

Councilman Thomas Clark said that the park, which is 'progressing nicely' will also include a passive section with benches. In response to residents' inquiries whether playground facilities will be added to the present park's facilities, Mr. Clark said that the play area will be limited to a "small kiddle

Residents' Suggestions
One resident suggested installing gates to enclose children. This would apparently aid parents in watching their children. Mr. Clark noted this suggestion as an additional measure to ensure safety in the park. Rosella Maggio, president of the Garden Civic, said all suggestions towards improving the park-ing are welcomed by herself as well at Mr.

Other Civic Matters

Other Civic Matters
One resident voiced much concern regarding the recent vandalism incidents at the Delco Shopping Center on Broadway. A group of youths allegedly harassed an elderly couple in the parking lot, slammed shopping carts into cars and broke windows in unused building spaces. One resident noticed suspicious behavior near an out-of state car where youths were gathered and car where youths were gathered, and reported the incident to the police,

In other issues, Mrs. Maggio noted a coali-tion of civic leaders in Hicksville who meet regularly to discuss local timely issues. "It is very rewarding to see people interested in doing something for where we live," she said, referring to the recent actions against Twin County Recycling, a plant which residents say, is emitting hazardous furnes. Local civic associations as part of one of their many goals, have joined together in an effort to have the plant shut down.

Tax Assessment Discussed

Abe Seldon, the chairman of the Nassan County Board of Assessors, addressed various tax assessment factors and distributed pamphlets regarding tax exemptions for veterans and senior citizens. He explained that all houses in the country are assessed in 1918-19 construction cost. "This way." he explained, "all houses of the same size have the same values whether they were built in 1940 or values, with an average plot being 100 feet. Because of varying factors, there are separate tax rates for each of the four real property classes: class one is one, two and three family homes and residential communities; class two is apartments, residential cooperatives and condominiums of more than three and condominums of more than three stories; class three is public utility property; and class four is all other property, commercial, industrial or vacant land.

Mr. Selden encouraged residents to obtain a copy of their property record card to entered the contract of th

Do You Know Where Tom Is???

The State Labor Department is trying to locate Tom Boody, who lived at 35 Bridge Lane at one time. Apparently the depart-ment's Division of Labor Standards has $12,892.12 to distribute to 201 workers whose last known addresses or work places were in the Long Island area.

"The Department of Labor annually col-lects millions of dollars in unpaid wages and supplements for workers with proven claims against their employers for these funds," State Labor Commissioner Thomas Hartness said. Despite our efforts, a small percentage of these workers cannot be located because they move and leave no forwarding addresses. If these funds are not claimed, they must go to the state's Abandoned Property Fund."

To claim wages due, contact Supervising
Labor Standards Investigator Jacqueline
Wallace at the NYS Dept. of Labor, Div. of Labor Standards, 175 Fulton Ave., Hempstead, NY 11550. Phone: 481-6064.

Hope someone knows where Tom is—he may have quite a bit of money coming to him—just in time for Christmas, too.

Lee Avenue Tidbits...

...From a Parent

Now that Parent-Teacher Conferences and Thanksgiving Day are finally over, we can now settle down to the Christmas rush. Waiting outside my child's classroom one night, I stood there talking with other parents about teachers, classwork and projects. On the whole, every parent seemed to be happy and pleased with the teachers and the work given their child. We heard that kindergarteners are learning new sounds for the alphabets and simple math..., the second graders are tell-ing time and adding more than two columns of numbers . . . . the fourth graders are doing reports on different mammals and learning Latin words to songs...and that the sixth graders are getting ready for the move to the middle school. It sure is different from when we went to elementary school, but we would like to thank all the teachers at Lee Avenue School for their hard work in helping our children do the best they can. Thank You!

 Pizza Day has been a big success with the kids at Lee . . . they can hardly wait for that day to come. Thanks to the Pizza Committee for the delicious pizza and Juices and a special thank you to Mike's Pizzeria of Hicksville.

Hicksville Resident On Her Toes for Starring Role

Jennifer Kropac, a beautiful talented and busy sophomore student at Hicksville High School, has been cast by the New York Dance Theatre, Inc. as the Snow Queen, one of the principal roles in the company's 1987 produc-tion of the Nutcracker.

This challenging role and that of the 'Dew Drop'in the famous 'Waltz of the Flowers', was made for the talents and style of Jennifer", says her teacher, internationally known choreographer Frank Ohman.

For five years Jennifer has combined her real life role of academic student and student of the classical ballet. She has excelled at both. During her summer vacations she auditioned and was accepted into the summer pro-gram at Saratoga sponsored by the New York City Ballet. She was also accepted into the School of American Ballet several times but chose to stay with Mr. Ohman's school of ballet in Huntington, Long Island, where she has received her excellent training to date.

Jennifer is headed for a career in classical ballet. She will obtain part of her goal this year when she shares the stages of the Maguire Theatre at SUNY/Old Westbury and the John Cranford Adams Playhouse at Hofstra Univer-sity in Hempstead, Long Island, on the first three weekends of December. Four super stars of the ballet world, Stacey Caddell, Robert LaFosse, Lauren Hauser, and Kipling Houston, guest artists from the New York City Ballet will dance the principal roles of Sugar Plum Fairy and her Cavalier.

The pressure is on young Ms. Kropac as immediately following her appearance as Snow Queen the audience will be treated to the talents of Ms. Caddell and Ms. Hauser. What does young Ms. Kropac have to say about that? "A classical ballet dancer takes years to perfect her skills. I shall always continue to erfect mine so I'll be ready to meet the challanges that will come to me. Mr. Ohman has put his faith in me now, he knows me better than I do and I will surely try hard to give my best.

Ms. Kropac will be partnered by James Garland.

Opening night of the New York Dance Theatre's Nutcracker is December 4th at the Maguire Theatre. For ticket information on this holiday classic call 673-4949 or Ticket Master at 888-9000.

As a culminating activity to the unit on "Fire Safety," the Burns Ave. Kindergarten classes of Mrs. Grumo and Mrs. Finkelstein and Mrs. Rosof's class were visited by Hicksville Fireman Lt. Ray Sealy. He brough the pumper truck to Burns Ave. School and the children got to see the hoses, the ax and other tools the firefighters use to battle a fire. Lt. Sealy also described the special clothing the firefighters wear to protect them when doing their job. The importance of good fire safety was reviewed and the children learn-ed a valuable lesson from this "hands-on" experience. This wonderful special learning event was organized by Mrs. Gail Cooley, S.N.T., Burns Ave. School's Health and Safety Coordinator.

World's Fastest Cartoonist At Broadway Mall Holiday shoppers at the new Broadway

Mall, formerly Mid Island Plaza, will enjoy the antics of "The World's Fastest Cartoonis Pauline Comanor. She will present a special version of her "Cartoon-In" this Saturday and Sunday, December 5 and 6.

Ms. Comanor's talents have dazzled people of all ages throughout North America. In her Broadway Mall appearance she will reward select members of her audience by including them in an original holiday scene, rhythmically sketched to musical accompaniment. The resulting full-color, super size cartoon will be presented to each of her subjects at the end of each performance.

Saturday's Cartoon-In's will take place at 11 am and 2:20 pm, and 1:30 pm on Sunday. A unique holiday card workshop, featuring Ms. Comanor's easy to follow brand of cartoon instruction will be held at 1 pm on Saturday.

Ms. Comanor, who has been cartooning all her life, began her professional career at Paramount Animation Studios, where the 'Popeye" and "Betty Boop" cartoon series were created. Discovered by legendary studio head Max Fleisher at a Philadelphia depart-ment store where she was conducting a cartoon school for children, she soon became the studio's official exhibition cartoonist, making personal appearances at theatres around the country, as well as at colleges and motion picture functions.

13- The Hicksville Fire Department responded to aid the Bethpage F.D. with a suspicious fire which occurred at a warehouse on Lexington Avenue in Bethpage. Approximately 225 firemen fought the blaze with over 20 pieces of equipment.

The warehouse contained charcoal, charcoal lighter fluid and about 100,000 12 02, cans of butane. The structure was totally destroyed by the flames.

The fire was brought under control at about 4:45 a.m. Four firemen were sent to Mid-Island Hospital in Bethpage, suffering from head and knee injuries, a broken thumb and chemical burns of the eyes. The Arson Squad is

LOOKERS VS. BUYERS

There's a sad truth that our experts can point to regarding real estate advertising: only about three percent of the people who call to inquire about a property are really interested in it. Some can't afford it. Some really want something else. And some are "just looking."

That's why we don't show a house to just anyone who calls. We meet the prospect in our offices and qualify their interest: do they really want a house like yours? Can they afford it? Can they take title when you want to sell? Only if they pass all those criteria do we bring them to see your property-for-sale.

Consider the homeowner trying to sell on his own: he has to field the calls himself and show his home to people who may be just wasting his time. And, if he thinks he has a buyer, can that person qualify for a loan to buy the property? Many sellers find themselves locked into buyers who can't get the money together.

Smart sellers get help right away. List with:

Postal Service Expands Holiday Service

"The Postal Service is offering extended window service for the holidays," Roger Nienaber, Hicksville Division General Manager/Postmaster, announced recently.

All post offices in the 118 Zip Codes will have window service available until 3 p.m. on the two Saturdays before Christmas, December 12 and 10.

In addition, there will be Sunday stamp sales only from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on December 13 and 20 at Hicksville Post Office, 185 West John Street.

Stamps ar : also available any time at 24-hour stamp vending machines located at the Hicksville Post Office. Stamps are also available at no additional cost through the Postal Service's "Stamps by Mail" program. In a letter or on the Stamps by Mail form (Form 3227), the customer indicates the kind and quantity of stamps desired, encloses a check payable to "Postmasters" for the amount of the stamps. Address the envelop to the Postmaster of your town and include the state and Zip Code. The order is given to the customer's letter carrier and returned to the post office to be processed. Within the next few days, the letter carrier will deliver the stamps with the customer's regular mail delivery.

"We appreciate our customers mailing early in the season and early in the day. Their cooperation helps us ensure a successful holi-day mailing season," said Mr. Nienaber. Postal customers are reminded to use Zip Codes, seal all envelopes, position addresses properly and to use return addresses.

For customers who run out of time, Priority Mail affords First-class handling for packages weighing over 12 ounces and up to 70 pounds. Delivery of Priority Mail is accomplished intwo to three days anywhere in the country.

For those last-minute shoppers, the Postal Service offers its Express Mail Next Day Service, available at your local post office. Ex-press Mail offers weekend and Christmas day delivery to the addressee at no extra charge Most locations can be reached via the Express Mail Next Day Service network. "You can mail a package one day and have it reach the addressee by 3 p.m. the following day. Items weighing up to 70 pounds can be sent by Exs Mail. The service includes merchandise insurance coverage up to $500 at no additional charge. Also, the sender can apply for a full refund of postage if a shipment is late," said Mr. Nienaber.

Creative Art & Writing Workshops For Youths

Artist, Carol Bergman will conduct a 3 day workshop at the Hicksville Public Library for teens and college students home for the holidays. Each student will be taught, with a special brush, the art of Oriental Brush painting. Workshops are held December 28, 29 and 30 from 10:15 am to noon. Registration begins now.

Poems or sayings composed by the student will be added to the completed art work to make a picture which will then be matted, laminated and displayed at the library before being returned to the individual artist.

Materials fee is $3. Class size is very limited so sign up early.

Bring to the workshop: a plastic foam egg carton and a container for water.

The program is co-sponsored by the Hicksville Library and the Poets & Writers Inc. through funds which it has received from the Literature Program.

Hicksville Resident Honored

Debra A. Roberts, a resident of Hicksville, was among forty-one students honored for academic excellence at New York Institute of Technology in Old Westbury during a special recognition ceremony/luncheon held recently at the college. The students were cited for achieving the highest quality point average for the previous semester.

Each leader in scholarship was announced by the respective academic deans and greeted by NYIT president Dr. Matthew Schure, who extended his warmest congratulations to the elite group. Dr. Schure presented each recipient with a "Certificate of Academic Achievement" bearing the seal of the president's office.

Memories....

.... of Richard Budinich

On New Year's Eve, 1952 Ann Graf bought a home on Mack Avenue. At the time, her daughter Evelyn, was my fiance. I lived in Freeport and would take the train to Hicksville to date Evelyn. I have a slight accent and the first time I came to Hicksville I told the cab driver to take me to Mack Avenue—he misunderstood and took me to Max Avenue, which is off Woodbury Road (behind the Concord Auto Parts store). He rode around and around looking for Mack Avenue and he finally found it . . . . It was a Stackler and Frank development off Woodbury Road. The entrance to the development had a large wooden key which read: "Woodbury Gardens-Key to Happiness."

Being that I didn't have a car Evelyn and I used to walk everywhere. On a Saturday night we would walk down Woodbury Road to "Petski's Highway Inn." Mr. Petski was a very nice, quiet man who walked around the bar with a parrot sitting on his shoulder. His son was in the Korean war and once in a while he would talk about him. His son was an officer in the service. I don't remember what branch. We met many very friendly people at Petski's and to this day we are still friends.

Everybody celebrated the 4th of July in the year 1953—including me. I married my Evelyn that day and after a honeymoon upstate we came back to Hicksville.

My other early memories of Hicksville are that further down Woodbury Road there were potato and cabbage farms. Some days—when the cabbage would start to decay and the wind would blow-WOW!

After our daughter Laura was born...and we didn't have much money to spend....we would go down to the old Farmer's Market on Robbins Lane. We would put her in the stroller, walk around and shop for vegetables—and pass the evening visiting with anyone we'd meet. Many other families did the same thing. It was a nice night out in the summer time.

We still live in Hicksville as does my son, Ricky and his family. We will probably spend the rest of our days here-we love Hicksville-it's now our town!

The following story was sent in too late to be put into our Thanksgiving Day issue.

Thanksgiving In Arizona By DEANNE F. PURCELL

My story takes place in 1976. It started out tragically. It is very hard when your mother dies, but when it happens close to a major holiday—you either have no desire for the holiday-or mixed emotions.

I was 39 and we had always been together, my mother, my sister and myself. We had all been invited to visit my brother-in-law's mother and stepfather in Arizona, I was on vacation that week so my sister and I flew there on Monday. My brother-in-law came late Thanksgiving eve.

I had never been to Arizona or that far west. Upon arriving at Sky Harbor Airport in Phoenix I saw the red mountains. Finding them so beautiful, I broke down and cried and thought, Mom will never see these.

I went on one tour with my sister. I was delighted that it was 70° and only needed a little sweater. I thought about the people back in New York wearing heavy

I always remember that Thanksgiving—when the sad and the happy merged in one day.

Chamber Asks For Help In Reducing Litter

Efforts by the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee to reduce the litter on downtown streets continue but more cooperation of the business community is needed, Marc Ramirez, Hicksville Chamber of Commerce president said.

Mr. Ramirez is asking residents to put out their garbage the night before or on the day of the trash collection, as opposed to leaving the garbage on the curbs a few days prior causing the litter to cover streets. "We have asked merchants to refrain from putting out trash bags for pickup on Friday," Mr. Ramirez said. "But some people persist in this habit. By Saturday and Sunday garbage litters Broadway.

Noting that there were 35 toy-related deaths and over 113,000 injuries requiring emergency care last year, US SENATOR ALFONSE M. D'AMATO (R. C, NY) has warned parents about hidden dangers associated with many toys on the market. He said that the most dangerous product likely to be used by children is the all-terrain vehicle which has caused over $8 deaths since 1982. Other common items that may pose a serious threat to young children include UNINFLATED BALLOONS, MARBLES, CHEAP STUFFED ANIMALS OR DOLLS, LAWN DARTS, and P'NWHEELS WITH WOODEN STICKS. ## With A Little Help

By SUZANNE LUNT Sumthin' Fer Nuthin'

Like my grandaddy said, "Folks don't alwus think much of a thing they get for nuthin". Well, I'm about to offer you sumthin fer nuthin', but you gotta promise you'll value it like you should.

It's a freebie some folks think is mighty im-portant and I'm hog-tied if I don't think so,

But first, I have to tell you there was a meeting of the Town of North Hempstead Committee on the Handicapped a few weeks ago that was one of the best meetings this bunch of folks ever did have and the reason was what was passed around the table. No, not moonshine. It was called "Service Guide for the Disabled, 1987"

It's a way to let your fingers do the walk-ing before your mouth does the talking because it's got descriptions of government and private organizations, most of which serve all of Nassau County, that help you to: Find and keep the right job

Find and keep the right home (including a way to save money on your present home if it's getting pretty expensive.) Stay out of a nursing home by finding the right home health care, aids, etc.

Be loaned special equipment

Get help getting government money

Find the right transportation

Help your learning-disabled or deaf child get the right eductation

Get legal advice

Meet other people with similar interests and

Modify your home to make it more livable And lots more.

Now rummage around till you find a piece of paper (a plain one with nuthin' writ on it already) and write: Commissioner George T. Richmond, Town of North Hempstead, 220 Plandome Road, Manhasset, N.Y. 11030 and tell him you want a copy right quick.

(Questions for Suzanne Lunt can be sent to "With a Little Help," Anton Community Newspapers, 132 E. Second St., Mineola, N.X. 11501, for a personal reply include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

Volunteers Needed For Exchange Program

The ASSE International Student Exchange Programs would like to introduce you to some very special people through cultural exchange:

Area representatives are needed in this area to interview potential host families, to recruit and interview American high school students who wish to become exchange students, to represent ASSE's exchange pro gram in their community and to help European youths adjust to life in the United States. Presently, more than 600 people across 50 states are experiencing the reward that comes from international friendships.

Area representatives volunteer their time and energy and are paid a stipend for their expenses. "Having traveled to a foreign country is helpful, but not necessary," said Area Coordinator, Virginia Peabody. "More impor-tant is a true desire to share our American culture with foreign students and help them through the adjustments they each face dur-ing their exchange year," she continued.

For further information, please call collect to: Virginia Peabody at (203) 485-9126 or write to Ms. Peabody at 271 Woodchuck Lane in Harwinton, CT 06791.

ASSE International is a non-profit, tax exempt, public benefit organization. ASSE is officially designated as an exchange visitor pro-gram by the United States Information Agen-cy and is affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education.

Letter from Lulubelle ...

By ROBERT R. McMILLAN

Why does America no longer have a truly bipartisan foreign policy? It is too simple to say that President Reagan has abandoned it. The seeds which destroyed our bipartisan approach took place many years before the "tanker war" in the Persian Gulf or our challenges in Central America. World War II was probably the high point of a bipartisan foreign policy. The nation was unified, and there were few dissenting voices. There was a common enemy with the emphasis of the nation directed against the opponent-not the methods used in the conduct of the War. At the end of World War II, the Congress and the Administration worked together to unify the nation in the "cold war" with Russia. Whether Korea or the Berlin Wall-Russian missiles in Cuba or the Marshall Plan, we were a united nation because both parties stopped partisan politics at the water's edge. Viet Nam changed all of that. Lyndon Johnson was President and people took to the streets. What was different? I believe one of the main differences was television. Home TV provided both the stage and the experience. Never before did a war come into our homes. Party disciplines disappeared. The leadership in Senate and the House lost control,

Robert R. McMillan

Another factor was the development of "single issue" politics. Gone are the days when a politician was judged on a total record. The media, particularly TV, focuses on limited portions of an official's record. The "tube" does not glorify unity. It thrives on diversity. Bipartisan foreign policy is too tame; thus, the "tube becomes the originator of the message—not the reflection.

I doubt that few Americans want us to go to War over events in the Persian Gulf. But, what are the facts, First, the Soviet Union has as much to lose as we do. Russia is also guarding its merchant fleet in the Gulf. The facts are that Persian Gulf oil is absolutely critical to Western Europe, Australia, Japan and the United States. Without substantial dislocation or our economies, there is no way for us to replace this oil. In the past, that would be called a "vital interest." Today, there is no unity of action because there has been no unity of purpose developed. Yet, it is clear to me that oil from the Middle East is of significant interest to the West, particularly when we have been unable to come to grips with the construction of nuclear power plants right in our own backyard.

Bipartisan foreign policy will develop only if we are able to keep our minds on the true objectives of this country-not on the diversity and limited focus represented by media coverage. We could make a new start by convening a bipartisan conference of leading Americans trying first to agree on common national foreign policy objectives. There would be nothing wrong with the Secretary of State, key Congressional leaders, and senior White House advisors leaving town for a "retreat"—away from the media's eyes. In the national interest, we must get our foreign policy back on track. From agreed objectives, will come a bipartisan approach to action.

Adelphi Signs Trend-Setting Pact With Tufts

As we near the 21st century, the United States is faced with the startling prospect of a shortage of more than 4,000 dentists, according to figures compiled by the Department of Health and Human Services. In contrast, a surplus of more than 52,000 physicians is

In an effort to help head off this potential crisis in American dental care, Adelphi University and the Tufts University School of Dental Medicine have entered into a unique cooperative venture that allows selected students to pursue the B.S. and D.M.D. degrees through a seven-year joint degree program. The pact was signed in a formal ceremony at Adelphi on Sept., 28.

Dr. Sol Gittelman, Provost of the Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, discussed the national implications of declining dental school enrollments in a lecture which followed the signing ceremony. The lecture was held at the Waldorf School, adjacent to the Adelphi campus.

This trend-setting program, the only one of its kind in New York State, was developed by Dr. Ramon Grillo, chairman of Adelphi's biology department and Warren Eickelberg, biology professor. It provides guaranteed ac-ceptance to Tufts for ten qualified students after they have completed three years of study at Adelphi.

President Peter Diamandopoulos praised the creation of the program. "We are proud that Adelphi has been selected to be Tufts' only affiliation in New York State. The students selected for this program will be able to attend one of the nation's linest professional schools."

Dr. Erling Johansen, Dean of Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, has expressed enthusiasm about the superior performance of Adelphi graduates and the exmance of Meepin graduates and the ex-cellence of its pre-professional program. "Adelphi has a long tradition of preparing young people for professional schools," he commented. "We are pleased at the prospect of a formal affiliation and recognize the quality of an Adelphi education.

In addition to dental school placement. students participating in the program will be eligible for reduced tuition through Adelphi's trustee scholarships. This will not only secure their educational future but minimize cost

Hanukkah Gifts of Lasting Jewish Value

If you're giving children gifts for Hanukkah, make sure they are educational gifts with lasting lewish value.

That's the message the Board of Jewish Education of Greater New York (BJE) is getting out to parents and grandparents. The coincidence of the calendar which brings Hanukkah and Christmas together in the month of December leads many parents to use Hanukkah as a "Jewish Christmas." rather than celebrate the festival for its own intrinsic merit, educators say.

It's a long-standing tradition to give a Jewish child either money or a gift for Hanuk-kah. In many families, parents even set aside a gift for every night of the eight-day holiday. But since families attempt to compete with the media barrage of Christmas imagery, many children end up with Barbie dolls or The Hulk, which do little to teach children about their own holiday.

'It's a shame because Hanukkah has tremendous appeal to children," said Dr. Alvin I. Schiff, executive vice president of BJE. Candle lighting and dreidle games, coupled with the dramatic story of the victory of the Maccabees, spark the imagination and is terest of young people, he added.

It is important to stress the many aspect of Jewish life which are beautiful and unique to the Jewish child. One way to stress the value of Hanukkah throughout the year is to give gifts which have lasting Jewish educational value and intrinsic Jewish content.

These kinds of gifts—which have been developed or screened by Jewish educators—are readily available through the BIE. BIE carries a full range of items suitab for all age groups, including Hanukkar puzzles which teach the symbols of the ho day, collections of Hanukkah songs iochildren on records or cassettes, books, Hebrew word games, and even software and BIE staff are available to advise parents on which gifts are suitable for their children. For further information, and for Hanukkah guit information, call or write: Board of Jewish Education of Greater New York, 426 West 58th Street, New York, NY 10019; (212) 245-8200.

BJE also ships items anywhere in North America in time for the holiday.

Helen Keller National Center Awarded Federal Grant

The U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs, has awarded the Helen Keller National Center for Deaf-Blind Youths and Adults' (HKNC) Technical Assistance Center (TAC) an additional twoyear grant with a budget of $600,000 for the first year. Established in 1984, TAC is a national project providing technical assistance to sup-port programs which facilitate transition from the education system to adult communitybased services for youth with deaf-blindness,

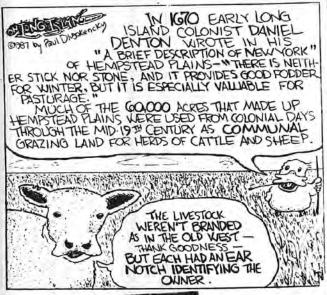

This new funding period will focus on specific 'outcomes' for individuals, such as real options and choices for community based living, employment, recreation and leisure-time activities, healthcare and support services for the individual and his or her parents/family," says Angela M. Covert, Ed.D., project director, "We will now build on the original founding grant. TAC has already had an effect on improving and increasing availability of community-based living and work options for youth who are deaf-blind. It has also had a major impact on providing training for direct service professionals, as well as education for parents and families. All this has led to increased awareness and expectations for quality community-based and national training workshops on community living alternatives and other topics: providing expert consultation to help agenticies place their clients in supported employment; presenting special educational and training programs for professionals, paraprofessional and parent groups.

Rally for Soviet Jewry

B'nai B'rith and B'nai B'rith Women in the District One area, covering New York and the six New England states, will rally in Washington, D.C. on behalf of Soviet Jewry on Sunday, Dec. 6, before the Reagan-Gorbachev Summit. B'nai B'rith and B'nai B'rith Women will join former refusniks, Ida Nudel, Natan Sharansky and Vladimir Slepak, other dignitaries and Congressional leaders in the largest demonstration of Jews and non-Jews in history, David C. Nierenberg, President, District One, said. District One has scheduled coach buses to leave Manhattan, Queens and Long Island. Communities out side of these areas will be going with local Jewish communities. The rally will take place at the Ellipse and march toward the U.S. Capital.

B'nai B'rith and B'nai B'rith Women are cosponsors of the rally with the National Conference on Soviet Jewry. The goal of the rally is to place the future of 2,000,000 Jews in the Soviet Union on the Summit agenda. "We are mobilizing, David Nierenberg said, not as a protest, but as an unmistakable sign of approval and confidence to the Soviet Union and to General Secretary Gorbachev that the USSR will go all the way in meeting the call for full freedom and human rights.

Members and friends in the District One area can get bus reservations and further details by calling 213-983-5800. Buses will leave at 6:00 a.m. from three points in Manhattan, Long Island and Queens. They will return the same evening.

A New Option — Little Village House

Little Village House, located in Flower Hill, Manhasset, will provide a new option for the families of developmentally delayed children from 5 to 12 years of age residing in Nassau

Until now, parents of these children have had difficult options. They could send their children to an out-of-state facility if adequate placement could be found, or they could keep them at home. Those lucky enough to find residences suffer the burden of being separated from their children by long distances. Many families who keep their children at home face the frustration of being unable to provide the suppport therapies, supervision, physical assistance and/or specialized equipment needed to help their children to feel more physically comfortable and to become as self-reliant and independent as possible.

Little Village School in Garden City, which has been educating and serving the special needs of developmentally disabled young children and their families since 1070, will open the first Intermediate Care Facility (ICF) on Long Island in late spring of 1988. When it opens, an around-the-clock staff of house parents, child care counselers, recreational therapist, nurse and housekeeping specialists will provide a nurturing and supportive home environment. The program will also include regularly scheduled consults tions with other specialsts and therapists

The children of Little Village House will attend appropriate day schools, like Little Village School, selected by their home districts. After school, on weekends and on holidays, the children will participate in planned recreational programs.

Believing that a good neighbor is a caring one, Drs. Caryl Bank and Barbara Feingoid. Directors of Little Village School, plan to establish a neighborhood advisory committee so that residents of the area will better understand Little Village House and what it is trying to accomplish.

Little Village House is funded by the state and federal monies and does not charge families for any of its services. Applications for enrollment are now being accepted. For further information or to obtain an application for enrollment, call the Little Village School at 746-5575.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Bursitis As Painful As Arthritis

Bursitis is inflammation and swelling of the lubricating sacs which cushion the muscles and tendons surrounding a joint. This inflammation may occur after inproper exercise warm-up or heavy activity. The pain may go away on its own in days or weeks. Occasionally, a chronic problem lasting months may result after a repeated injury. Parts of the body commonly involved include the shoulders, lower back, hips, and knees.

Most people have severe pain. This discomfort may be so intense that it is often confused with arthritis. Unlike arthritis, which usually affects many joints, burstits usually affects one joint. Occasionally, the area is so painful that movement is difficult.

Since many disorders can result in pain, a proper diagnosis is important. The diagnosis should be made by a qualified physician who will perform a complete medical history and physical examination. The treatment program outlined should be designed to meet the needs of the individual patient. Rest to the injured area is very important, as are gentle exercises. Both ice and heat may also be recommended. Medications which reduce pain and inflammation are also very helpful. If the pain persists, your physician may refer you to a rheumatologist (specialist in joint and muscle disease), who will be able to inject the painful area with medication to reduce the inflammation. This usually cures the problem.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach An Arthritis Overview."

More Tax Strategies

Many of these are obvious as year end strategies, some not so obvious.

CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS. This year you can only use if you itemize. Since the tax rate is higher this year than next year, pay as much as you can now, even pre-pay. If you are going to go to a charity formal dinner next year, call and pay now. You will feel better in the holiday season and will save taxes.

TAX SHELTERS. There are few in number. The benefits to be received at the end of the year are extremely limited. Real estate is still valuable, but to a lesser extent than ever before The end of the year used to be a crazy, silly season because of the tax shelters. It was hard to get a good one in the past. It is harder now.

to get a good one in the past. It is harder now.

In reality, as I review the law for this year's strategies, I am amazed at how few there are left. Last year I wrote about 5 articles on tax strategies. This year this is the second and last. You can check to see if you can prepay some real estate taxes and state and local taxes.

You can check to see if you can prepay some real estate taxes and state and local taxes. These will give you the deduction in 1987 at a higher tax rate than 1988. When you give some back next year, it will be at a lower rate.

None of these things will be good strategies next year. These are only good because of the differences in tax rates 1987 vs. 1988.

Do not go crazy trying to reduce your taxes. Even with a top of 38.5%, few of us will even come close to that. As an example: If you and your wife have a taxable income of $50.00 (after deductions), you will pay $13.800 in Federal tax. This is a marginal tax rate of $3%, even though they are paying $5% of the last $14,000 of their income. The rate is a blending of the 5 rates that apply this year. In academia we call this a weighted average method. It is difficult for people to understand that when they hit the top rate they are not paying everything at that top rate.

The law gets very complicated for the more affluent because there are many, many rules to follow. The treatment of many things is very different from the past. Many things have to be undone.

You may not know it, but your accountant has been going to seminars and tax clinics to learn the rules. It is almost impossible for the average layman to know and understand the complexity of the changes. I just hope that Congress does not try to undo what has been done. It would be just too much for everyone.

Program On Hospice Care

Hospice, a unique and compassionate form of caring for the terminally ill was the subject nt education meeting sponsored by Friends of Hospice, Inc. A standing room only audience of professionals and members of the lay community turned out at the Glen Cove Public Library to learn what hospice stands for and why hospice is an idea whose time has come.

Beatrice Greenbaum, President of Friends of Hospice, opened the evening by explaining that hospice provides a caring alternative to traditional medical treatment for the terminally ill when therapeutic measures have ceased to be effective. With shorter hospital stays, the increase in the elderly population and medical technology that prolongs lives of the critically ill, interest in hospice care has vastly increased Hospice, which focuses on the person, not the disease, encompasses both home and inpatient care and treats the patient and family by providing comforting palliative care and support during the final stages of illness, as well as bereavement care following the pa-tient's death. Hospice care is provided by an interdisciplinary team of doctor, nurse, social worker, pastoral counselor and volunteers with 24 hour a day, seven day a week medical and nursing accessibility.

Following "Day by Day", a brief and mov ing firm about the hospice experience, the audience heard a panel of caregivers describe their share in the teamwork that helps people face death with dignity and with a minimum of physical and emotional pain.

Panel members Marianne Gillan, RN, Palliative Care Coordinator at Nassau County Medical Center; Dr. Stephen Wener, Direc-tor of Medical Education at the Jewish Institute for Geriatric Care: social worker Pat Bloomgarden, Coordinator of Bereavement Services, St. Mary's Hospital for Children; Sharon Hoffmann, volunteer for o years at Mercy Hospital Cancer Care Unit; and Pastoral Associate, Sr. Dorothy Maxwell from Calvary Hospital each offered insight into the process of easing death and dying for terminally ill patients and their families to an attentive and visibly moved audience.

Robert Zimmermann, Special Assistant to the Speaker of the New York State Assembly for Long Island Affairs offered closing remarks which emphasized the need for hospice care as well as direction and encouragement for those seeking to support the growth and development of hospice in Nassau County. Those wishing additional information about hospice may write to Friends of Hospice, 1845 Northern Boulevard. Manhasset, NY 11030 or call Priscilla Goldfarb, Executive Director, at 627-6376.

Catholic Charities Provides Meals for Seniors

In the past year, Catholic Charities has provided 197,400 hot, nutritious meals for senior citizens on Long Island; 151,629 of those meals to residents of Nassau County. Many older people have lost the interest or ability to prepare nutritious meals and many more simply cannot afford balanced meals. Catholic Charities attempts to meet this need through a comprehensive geriatrics program which features a network of Senior Com-munity Service Centers, Parish Outreach Centers, Meals-On-Wheels (a food delivery service for the homebound), education and counseling.

Gift Idea That's A Lifesaver

This holiday season you can give the gift of life to someone on your list who has an allergy to penicillin, a chronic illness such as asthma or heart disease or who suffers from memory loss.

The nonprofit MedicAlert Foundation encourages calls to its toll-free number -1-800-ID-ALERT — to register gift member-ships in its MedicAlert emergency medical identification system. Medic Alert will send a gift card along with the MedicAlert emblem to all those enrolling during this holiday season.

MedicAlert is an identification system that consists of an emblem, either bracelet or neck-chain, engraved with the medical in-signia on one side and the member's medical information on the other. Also engraved is MedicAlert's emergency hot line phone number that medical personnel can call col-lect, 24 hours a day, from anywhere in the world to receive details about the member's medical condition. Each member also receives a wallet card that carries additional information and is updated annually. MedicAlert suggests that membership is a good idea not only for people with serious conditions like diabetes, epilepsy and heart disease, but also as protection for those sensitive to insect stings, or who have allergic reactions to certain drugs or take daily medications. It is also valuable as identification for joggers, travelers and the elderly, even if they don't have any specific medical disorders. A lifetime membership costs

120.00. Sterling silver and 14K gold emblems are available at higher prices. To order MedicAlert as a gift, or for your own needs, call 1-800-ID-ALERT or write to MedicAlert Foundation, Turlock, CA. 95281-1009 and request the special holiday gift card along with the lifetime membership.

A Special Hanukkah Gift From Sesame Street

With Hanukkah fast approaching, parents, grandparents, uncles, and aunts are faced with the challenge of providing their children with a gift that is both entertaining and in keeping with the true cultural spirit of the holiday. The answer—Shalom Sesame— a series of five half-hour videocassettes that introduce American Jewish children to the people, places, language, and culture of Israel. Israel is the setting, but the program is much more than a travelogue. It's an inviting way for Jewish-American children to connect with their cultural roots by providing a foundation for Jewish education and encouraging their curiosity about their values and history.

Violinist Itzhak Perlman and television star Bonnie Franklin host the series, along with the Sesame Street Muppets and new Israeli puppets Kippy ben Kipod, an oversized Hebrewspeaking porcupine, and Moishe Oofnick, an Israeli cousin to Oscar the Grouch.

From a street case in Tel Aviv, to the amphitheatre in Caesaria, to Kibbutz Ein Gedi near the Dead Sea and the Arab Market in Jetsusalem, American audiences will travel with Itzhak Perlman, a native-born Israeli, and Bonnie Franklin, a first-time tourist, as they explore the sights and sounds of Israel. They'll learn the Hebrew alphabet, songs, sight words—even the Hebrew version of "Rubber Duckie"

Children's Television Workshop has made arrangements for the American Friends of Rechov Sumsum, (a volunteer group of American philanthropists and foundations dedicated to raising the funds to support the Israeli Rechov Sumsum series and Shalom Sesame for America), to serve as distributros of Shalom Sesame. All proceeds from the sale of Shalom Sesame cassettes go toward production of future programs.

m Sesame is available from the American Friends of Rechov Sumsum, One Lincoln Plaza, New York, New York 10023. The set of five half-hour cassettes is $150; individual cassettes are $34.95. A copy of Shalom Sesame's Family Magazine is included with each order.

This offering subject to prior sale. Interest Free Finanting subject to credit approval and is applicable only to diamond jewelry All trade-in, promotional or merchandise certificates are not valid during this special promotion.

L.I. Singers Society In Two Concerts

Twenty years ago, a newly formed choral group gave its first performance of Montever-di's Magnificat at Long Island University's C.W. Post campus. Twenty years after their first performance, at a gala anniversary con-cert, the Long Island Singers Society will again present Monteverdi's Magnificat, followed by a candlelight "reservation only" dinner reception to celebrate on Sunday afternoon, December 6, beginning at 3 p.m. Donation: concert - $10.00 per person, reception and dinner, $25.00 per person.

Since that first season, the Long Island Singers Society has grown into an acclaimed choral group, performing impressive choral masterworks for community and international audiences alike.

The second concert to be performed is a Christmas concert, offering Schubert's Mass in C Major, along with various works composed by Vivaldi, Handel and Seixas. Schubert's Mass in C Major was also a first, having been introduced in 1967 by LISS. These musical works will be performed at the Wunsch Arts Center, 1 Forest Avenue, Glen Cove, on Saturday, December 12, at 8 p.m. Tickets for this

Greentree Cutlery

Add a touch of New England warmth to your holida entertaining, with serving trays of gleaming copper, hand crafted by Cape Cod Copper Works. The softly gleaming trays, in a variety of shapes, add a truly festive, old world flavor to your table top decor.

Greentree Cutlery, 723 Glen Cove Ave., Glen Head (671-7780) is the place to go for these beautiful serving pieces. They come in ovals and squares, an assortment of rectangles, circles and shells, to hold your most delicate desserts, your molds, your crudites (vegetables and dips), your fruits and cheeses...even a spray of flowers to set the center of your table. More from these fine coppersmiths-a wonderful array of festive cookie cutters, solid copper, of course, with big handles for the youngest baker in your family, and in extra large sizes for your cookie artists (we'll leave the tasting to your household ćookie monster).

Greentree Cutlery has a wonderful assortment of gourmet gift items, from gift baskets, to unique cooking accessories to make your holiday cooking more exciting, your every day meal preparation a pleasure.

Brand new for quick and easy cooking is a high-fired porcelain steamer, modeled after traditional Oriental bamboo baskets, with a hi-tech look and functionality that's a U.S. specialty. The Hall China Steampot uses the basic principles of steam cooking -with a twist: the steam is forced back down, into the food, heating it from top and bottom, producing quicker more uniform foods, that are moist and flavorful.

A visit to Greentree is a "mouthwatering" experience that may well change your family's tastes for ever. Cooking is a joy, and Greentree Cutlery has all the tools to make it more so.

Holiday Card Etiquette

The tradition of sending Christmas cards began in Victorian England in 1843, when museum director Sir Henry Cole was faced with an undue, Christmas correspondence burden. At that time, letters were the accepted holiday communication, but Cole commissioned artist John C. Horsely to create a card. It wes an instant success!

From the 1340's onward, the range of Christmas card selecticns was enormous. Cards were printed on paper, dressed with satin, fringed with silk, embossed and jeweled—some even squeaked! The custom became American in the 1870's, when German immigrant Louis Prang printed appealing color cards. Today, Americans send an estimated two billion out of the four billion cards mailed annually. This is often the only contact that maintains a cherished friendship through the years.

- Cards should be addressed by hand and stamped with a seasonal commemorative stamp to add a festive touch. A postage meter should not be used.
- If cards are sent by a couple, use both people's names. Either person's name may be first, regardless of gender or age. If sent by a family, simply pluralize the family's name, such as "from the John Smiths." Do not use an apostrophe.
- Select a card that reflects your perception of the holiday. Even friends of other faiths will receive your card in the spirit in which it is offered.
- Have your return address printed on the envelopes. This not only alerts you to nondelivered mail but it serves as a courtesy to those who want to keep track of you.
- Don't throw away old cards! Children's hospitals and nursery schools can cut them up for use in collages and artwork.

For more tips on etiquette, order the "Christmas Card Etiquette" booklet. Send $1 to cover postage and handling to: Etiquette Booklet, Masterpiece Studios, 5400 West 35 Street, Chicago, II 60650.

Great Gifts For Him

We put our tired feet up and flipped through a wonderful catalog (Sporting Edge, 221 Crystal Creek Blvd., S.E., Bothell, WA 98021 - $1.00), and found great gifts for HIM...big boy toys that will be the envy of every "kid" in the neighborhood. It's a book full of gifts for everyone in the family, but the emphasis is on items for males...of all ages. You can place your order by mail, or call a toll free number (800-468-4401)...great for shopping on a snow). rainy day.

What man or boy can resist model trains? This steam powered beauty has a brass boiler, twin oscillating pistons, "solid fuel" tablets and built in safety valve to keep the pressure where it belongs. You add water, light the fuel, a cloud of steam puffs out the stack, the whistle toots, and off she goes—bringing back the allure of long ago, when the first railroads crossed the West and opened America to settlers.

These historically accurate models, in brass or die cast zinc, have three cars: The freight train features a green saddle tank engine, boxcar and caboose; the passenger train, in deep red, has a locomotive and two coaches. (No. 422110—$349.95).

Other big boy "toys:" The NoVa Bridge computer (413351—$59.95); a %-scale ping pong table (30x60x29), with foam faced paddles to reduce ball flight proportionately (413202—$69.95); or Panasonic's new Wet/Dry Rotary Shaver...the speed and convenience of electric shaving or the larger of moisturizing foam. He choses, Rotary ing or the luxury of moisturizing foam. He chooses. Rotary blade, pop-up trimmer, water washable head (531902—$69.95).

Sporting Edge has ski gear and exercise equipment, cookware and luggage, model planes to build, and a wonderful, 32-wheel, rock-climbing, robotic "construction rig" (Command 32: 421830—$79.95), that looks like great fun for your own crew of hard hats.

Put a little adventure into his stocking this year. The ultimate gift certificate, a Soaring Adventure: a sallplane ride for two, in a closed canopy, 3-passenger glider, with an FAA Commercially Certified Pilot. You're towed high into the sky, released, and then you soar! It's a smooth, quiet, peaceful, breathtaking journey. "Outer Space" a 20-mile, 3,200 ft. altitude trip; "Fantastic Journey" a 35 mile, 4,000 ft. trip. and the "Mile High Ride" -a 50-mile, 5,280 ft. adventure that is the favorite of most first timers. #### Touch of Fantasy

The holiday season creates an aura of fantasy in our homes, on the streets of our town. in our imaginations and in our hearts. The trees along the avenues are aglitter with thousands of lights, giving extra sparkle to the holiday delights in the store windows. There's a special magic in the air at this time of year, and there's a brand new shop in Glen Head, where fantasy is a permanent part of the fare.

Wicker and whimsey combine at Touch of Fantasy. Appliqued pillows decorate a charming wicker chaise and maybe, just maybe, this hand crafted goose has laid a golden egg in her basket-nest.

Mary Ann Salavec, a talented designer/craftswomancum-sorceress has opened a shop that's the perfect milleu for her many faceted talents ... Touch of Fantasy (13 Glen Head Rd. Glen Head - 676-0900). Her boutique is a very special place, indeed filling every corner with a touch of mystery, a soupcon of style, a shadowy touch of other eras, other cultures

There are faux flowers that seem exquisitely real-silk arrangements in delicate containers, hand made by Mary Ann. Her wicker furniture, baskets and crafts turn another section of her shop into a touch of Victorian fantasy.

There are whimsical toys, fine and costume jewelry, unique hair combs and clips, a collection of skirts, sweaters, leather bags and belts for holiday, any day, dressing. A. Touch of Fantasy is the perfect name for this delightfully

The atmosphere at Touch of Fantasy is just as special as the merchandise, warm, exciting, inviting, and Mary Ann's cheery smile adds a personal feeling of welcome that invites customers to browse, to ask questions, and come back again and again to find that perfect little something for that perfect little someone on your list of special people this holiday season

Quintessence-

True to its name. Quintessence (1358 Old Northern Blvd., Roslyn. 484-0915) is the "purest essence" of the holiday season-which means gifts for everyone on your shopping list, last minute hostess items, things for your home, your desk, your children, your friends.

Quintessence carries gleaming Orrefors Crystal, signed numbered creations by Swedish craftsmen. Flawlessly beautiful, its simplicity and purity of form has been an Orrefors symbol since 1726. The smallest gift of Orrefors is as much a work of art as a breathtaking centerpiece.

Here, from home made gourmet jams and preserves, to hardwood cheese boards and salad bowls, from picture frames to hand craffed pottery bowls and vases (shown) by well known artisans like Mike Cohen and the Terrys (Mr. & Mrs.)

Quintessence will help you choose the perfect gift and will wrap your choice in holiday paper that is truly special.

D'Antoni

The littlest angel on your holiday list will be the center of attention in Creation Stummer's exquisite party dress trimmed with eyelet and ribbons. At D'Antoni Childrens' Boutique (36 School Street, Glen Cove - 676-3407), Grandma, Aunt Sue, even you, can pick out a special outfit for each of your favorite youngsters, boys or girls.

From funwear to partywear, there's an outfit that will make a perfect gift for the child of your heart at D'Antoni. The store carries sizes from newborn through preteen, from manufacturers, American and foreign, who are known for their style, quality and fit: Dan Jean, Choozie, Scubidu, LeMur. There are coats, jackets and snowsuits, denims and lace, schoolwear and playwear...perfect for giving, perfect for wearing.

Your littlest angel will be thrilled with her holiday gift when she looks in her mirror and sees a princess in its reflection.

Lady Fingers, 667 Cedar Samp Rd., Old Brookville, will prepare exquisite gourmet gift baskets and boxes, filled with everything from pasta and sauce to fragrant teas. There are imported mustards, delicate jams, a Tuscany Twig (a wonderful basket, overflowing with imported gourmet goodies) or a Confetti Boutique, filled with charming toys and gifts for baby, in a handpainted basket and perfect for boy or girl.

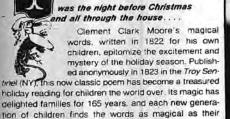

Just baskets? From Lady Fingers? Catering and party planning, under Joan Michele Blacker's talented and creative fingers, is as much an art form as her gift basketry. An award winning culinary artist, food designer, Joan will turn your festive occasion into an unforgettable experience that will bring you oohs and aahs from all your guests. Her garde manger works (edible fruit and vegetable carings and centerpieces) are exquisite, and can be ordered for your party or sent as gifts.

CHELSEA MANSION

A SHOWPLACE • A MARKETPLACE

by Keni Woodruff

parents did when they were very young. At Chelsea, the Muttontown mansion built by the author's descendant Benjamin Moore, in 1923. Holiday 87-A Showplace-A Marketplace, has captured that excitement and brought to life the spirit of the holidays, turning this romantic, 1920s French style mansion into a dazzling wonderland of holiday enchantment. Visitors to this delightful extravaganza of holiday decoration and gifts are welcomed by a bright red sleigh, filled with boughs and garlands of pine, touching you with the promise of good things to come.

As you enter the loyer, you are heralded by an Elizabethan trumpeter, bidding you musical good tidings and guarding a treasure trove of gold-wrapped gifts, tiered and garlanded, wrapped in gold. Your journey into Christmas past, Christmas present, begins here in this enchanting foyer created by Maric Mulea of Vogel-Mulea Design, Lawrence. The herald is one of many Beverly Schmitt characters on display (and for sale) throughout the mansion, their unique realism and charm adding touches of surprise, humor and warmth to a fantasy journey of holiday delights.

Sponsored by Mansions & Millionaires to benefit Friends For Long Island's Heritage, the Chelsea Showplace/Marketplace is a premiere venture, bringing together the creative talents of some of the area's leading interior designers, more than 20 local merchants whose holiday presentations are a worldwide bazaar of holiday dreams come true, the culinary talents of students of the Culinary Arts Institute of N.Y. Institute of Technology, and charming historical exhibits by the Nassau County Museum Division.

Arlene Travis and Carole Aronson of Mansions & Millionaires are no strangers to the world of decorative fantasy and restored mansions. Their designer showcase presentations have won international acclaim, the charities they support have been able to continue their fine work due to the success of these supportive ventures, and thousands of visitors have been enchanted with the homes of Long Island's storied "Gold Coast" and the decorative talents of some of the finest designers in the metropolitan area.

We thought a combined showcase and marketplace in a setting like Chelsea, with a Christmas theme would be a wonderful holiday treat for the public, a tremendous benefit to Friends for L.I. Heritage they work so hard to preserve these extraordinary mansions from Long Island's history," say Arlene and Carole.

"We asked the designers to develop a theme for a Christmas tree, a table top display, floral decor or a fireside setting we never imagined that it would be this exciting, and we would all become children again, reliving the excitement and anticipation of our own childhood holidays

At Holiday '87, there are boutiques in every room, the most exciting cornucopia of gifts you can find in one location, and everything in the showplace is for sale, from the painstakingly decorated Christmas trees, to the tiny miniature world of Santa's own Christmas Dinner party (from Watermelon Patch, 444 Plandome Rd., Manhasset), to the inflatable dinosaurs from G. Willikers (2 Forest Ave., Locust Valley), an irrepressibly joyous toy store for

Santa, atop an antique sleigh, filled with gifts and pulled by a friendly reindeer, is part of the Museum System of Nassau County exhibit, under the direction of Edward J. Smits. The display depicts the evolution of Santa Claus and visitors will see first editions of Clement Clark Moore's classic poem and Thomas Nast's extraordinary engravings and illustrations of Santa.

Holiday '87 epitomizes the joys of the holiday season-the sparkling lights, the glittering trees, the mystery of brightly wrapped presents, the good smells of cinnamon and pine-a world resplendent and welcoming, full of enchantment and laughter.

Betty Martin's Northport Studio (5 Milmohr Court) boutique is a potpourri of good things past and present-her "kitchen" is aromatic with cinnamon and spice, orange peel and cloves, dried herbs and flowers-amidst the charm of antique baskets, pine furniture and saltglazed stoneware. This is a perfect reminder of Christmas past, and leads to thoughts of wonderful holiday edibles: cookies and pies, chocolates and other delectable Lady Fingers (667 Cedar Swamp Rd., Old Brookville) will satisfy the yearning. You'll find chocolate-roses in wreaths, as delicate Christmas tree ornaments, or in exquisite gift boxes-feathered toques filled with rich chocolate hearts, champagne buckets that bubble with sweets, baskets and bowls of wonderful holiday treats, extravagantly wrapped for giving. These talented ladies have magic fingers, creating wonderful gift baskets, creating centerpleces for your home holiday entertaining (garde mange creations which turn fresh fruits and vegetables into the most exotic, edible scenes and designs). These gourmet chefs will cater your whole party, leaving nothing for you to do but enjoy.

You'll find perfume and fine lewels, whimsical toys and charming bibelots everywhere at Holiday '87. Wicker furniture and infant clothing-hand decorated and lovingly selected-tucked away at Baby Gems. Wicker 'n Bows (Cold Spring Harbor).

The Tea Room, hosted by Loafers (175 Birch Hill Rd., Locust Valley) and Black Walnut (1053 Oyster Bay Rd., East Norwich) is a pleasant stopping off place where you can sip a cup of tea and enjoy delicate baked goods or light snacks, while your eyes feast on the dried and live floral wreaths and topiary trees created by Petals of Seacliff (60 Roslyn Ave.).

In an antercom behind the Tea Room you'll find the creations of Port Washington's Gail Singer (Painting With Flowers, 326 Main St.). Her attitully exquisite display of drad flowers is a preserved fairy tale garden

A charming mantle (by Wood Dimensions, 94 Glen Head Rd., Glen Head) is decorated by Emily Murphy (61 Whitehall Blvd., Garden City) with floral displays by Country Arts and Flowers. This fireside display of red and white checked bows, holiday stockings filled and waiting, holiday greens and flowers, leads you gracefully up a curving staircase to even more holiday wonders.

There are Necessary Luxuries (676-8139) for your bed, bath, table and self exquisite laces, eyelets, pillows and pouffs for your boudoir, negligees and peignoirs for your most elegant femme fatale, needlepoint and appliqued charmers for every room in your house.

At LeFleur you'll find Victorian lace, flowers and fabric bits, meticulously appliqued to fine contemporary clothing-sweatshirts, T-shirts, lingerie, even baby clothes a charming blend of old and new.

There are exquisite home and personal linens from Boutique de France (735A Middleneck Rd., Great Neck). You can choose from oversized napkins of the finest damask for that perfect hostess or new home gift. They're made in delicate lace, fine linen, too. Pillows and shams for the boudoir are ruffled and frilled in the most delicate imported fabrics and there are lace panels in all sizes, perfect for instant decor: for walls, windows, table or bed, You can choose from hand painted serving platters, scented sachets, exquisite cards, miniature frames imported from regions of France for your holiday giving.

The trees that surprise and charm you at Chelsea were decorated by leading interior designers and donated to the Friends for LI. Heritage for sale at Holiday '87

The rounded entry stairs at Chelsea are echoed by Tom Edwards' and Donald Schermerhorn's paper fans and green boughs encircling the entrance and framing their special tree "Yuletide Traditions,"

Katherine Stephens (6 Dianas Circle, Roslyn Estates) has designed a tree which is "A Vision of Sugarplums" Manhasset designer Maria Troisi's "Peace Tree" symbolizes the Holy Trinity, juxtaposed against a painting of the Lion and the Lamb.

Do you fancy "An Old Fashioned Christmas?" II's yours, from Lee Napolitano of Oyster Bay. Or Marge Young's Jack 'n Jill. The East Northport designer used nursery rhymes to capture the Yule Spirit. There are Rosebuds and Victoriana (Marilyn Rose and Patricia Savers). Art Deco by Florissima in Huntington Station, and a Breath of Tradition by the John Christopher Gallery in Cold Spring Harbor.

If entertaining is part of your holiday plan, there are wonderful tabletop settings to spark your imagination: Regency by Anne Tarasoff (25 Andover Rd., Port Washington); A Buffet by Rena Fortgang (33 Muttontown Rd., Syosset), A Blue & White Eve For Lovers (pictured) by Ling Maris, E.L. Design Group, Manhasset) there's Majolica by Anthony Antine and a Victorian Table by Timi Bates. From the elegance of Victoriana to the country simplicity of Majolica, the tables are inviting and beautifully set, the items are for sale, and the ideas are yours to Holiday '87 is a microcosm of Long Island's best: the best designs, the best gifts, the most unique stores, the finest foods. At Chelsea, you get an opportunity to see, smell, taste and buy that perfect gift for each person on your holiday list. The Showhouse is open through December 13: Monday-Saturday, 11 to 6; Thursday evenings till 9, Sundays, noon to 5. Admission is $3.00.

Handcrafted gifts of every description fill the shelves at Chosen Objects . There are ornaments for your free, menorahs for your Chanukah celebration, merry-go-round horses for your playroom, and a boutique full of gifts for everyone on your shopping list.

Aspen in November, Vale in December, The Swiss Alps for New Year's Eve, Puerto Ricoin February—ahh, the good life! Don't forget to bring your new Vuarnet sunglasses for all your skiing, swimming, sailing and surfing. All those exciting activities include intense exposure to sun glare and the ultraviolet and infrared rays that are damaging to the eye. Lucky you, your holiday gifts included Vuarnet lenses to protect you and increase your depth of field while you took your well-deserved winter vacation in the sun or on the slopes.

No matter what your sport, The Optical Shop (45 Middleneck Rd., Great Neck -482-8118) has a Vuarnet for you and every active person on your gift list. There's the Skilynx, cadmium oxide lens with double-gradient selective filtration and multi-layered coating which allows the wearer to see farther and in more detail, while protecting the eyes from harmful sun rays.

Then there's the Nautilux, developed specifically for protection from water reflected light. Their unique blue-green double-gradient filter and anti-reflectant coatings are amazingly effective around the harsh glare of sun on water.

The Vuarnet Orlux lens gives the same sun protection and even high depth-of-field and high visual contrast, making them perfect for sports like fly fishing, riflery, tennis, etc. A fourth lens, the PX-2000, offers users the optics of all Vuarnet lenses without enhanced depth-of-field. A perfect general purpose lens for driving, flying or lolling about in the tropical sun.

Vuarnet lenses are available in every frame style and color, for the skiers, mountaineers, surfers, sailors and "sun slugs" on your holiday list. They're perfect for every member of your family, too great stocking stuffers. For the big splurge, buy your favorite sportsperson a whole collection, one for every purpose under the sun. The Optical Shop will help ... they're having their semi-annual sale of Vuarnet sunglasses, through December 24. That's what we call perfect timing.

Homemade Bread -Real Soul Food

With Panasonic's brand new Bread Bakery, baking fresh bread at home is so simple you can have homemade loaves on the table every day.

This compact unit does everything, including the baking. You can add the ingredients the night before, set the controls, and wake up to the aroma of fresh baked bread.

The entire bread making process, from kneading to complete baking, takes four hours, but the unit can be set to begin the working with up to nine hours delay. You put your ingredients in a non-stick bread canister, the yeast in a special dispenser, and push a button. The Bread Bakery kneads the dough, it rises in the cannister (a loaf shaped pan), and micro-computerized sensors monitor the baking process. Available at Hammacher-Schlemmer. When the weather outside is snowy, you'll be glad you got your Avalanche Luge sted for the holidays. These steerable, stable, award winning sleds allow people of all ages to enjoy "luging." Recreational versions of the Olympic Luge fame, are available in three sizes (54", 48" and 42") and can be ridden sitting up or in a reclining position.

At Cycles Plus in Port Washington (101 Manorhaven Blvd., 944-8567), Avalanche Luge's are the "hottest" gift item for this holiday season. They're made of selected hardwoods with poly glide running edges and unique runner suspension for smooth, high speed rides over hills of any size. Avalanche Luges offer the rider the ultimate in durability and contol. Floating stabilizer bars and nylon control ropes make sharp turns safer, steering simple, and stopping easy.

Since the sport was introduced at the 1964 Olympics, it has become popular as a recreational activity in Europe, but has, until now, been relatively unfamiliar to U.S. sledders.

You can be "the only 'kid' on the block" to own a sport Luge, and you and your family will be the envy of all the sledders on your favorite hill (you'll get a special gold medal, for *1 dad (or mom) when you pick up an Avalanche Luge this holiday season.

If sledding isn't your ball of snow, Cycles Plus has lots of other good things to add sparkle to your holidays. There are bikes-for the whole family from the world's leading manufacturers...for racing, touring, a relaxing ride around the park...for every member of your family.

Santa Claus: A New York Creation,

Each of us, and our children, no matter our ethnic or religious background, is Involved in the holiday season. We're all delighted by the displays of "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," Santa Claus, and his ever-prancing team of reindeer—Dancer, Prancer, Donder and Bitzen, et al—those charming precursers of presents, festivities and excitement impossible to contain.

Santa Claus, as we know him, was created in New York—City and State. he seems to have emerged, publicly, in 1773 and 1774 as St. Nicholas, "celebrated with great joy and festivity" at Protestant Hall. He was not mentioned again until 1793.

In 1809, author Washington Irving, writing as Diedrich Knickerbocker, created the first literary description of St. Nicholas, the gift bearer, in his anthology A History of New York From The Beginning of The World To The End of The Dutch Dynasty: " and lo, St. Nicholas came riding over the tops of the trees he lit his pipe, sat himself down and smoked laid his finger beside his nose, gave a very significant look mounted his wagon, returned over the treetops, and disappeared. "Irving's tale became a part of the Christmas legend, and his St.

Nicholas was intrinsic to the tale.
On Christmas Eve, 1822, Clement Clark Moore recited a poem he had written for his children. It was entitled A Visit From St. Nicholas, and began: "Twas the night before Christmas." Published, anonymously, in the Troy Sentinel (N.Y.) in 1823, Moore's poem became an immediate favorite, and continues to be part of the

In 1848, Clement Moore's poem (see side bar) was published as a "present for good little boys and girls." with black and white engravings by T.C. Boyd, who depicted St. Nick-cum-Santa, as a white bearded, waistcoated figure, whose gifts were carried on a stick, and whose image was somewhere between the warlike figure of mythology and the rotund chuckling personage that was to become Santa Claus under illustrator Thomas Nast's creative hands.

Nast created the now popular image of Santa Claus during the 1860's while he was a correspondent for Harper's Weekly. He incorporated his Santa into many of his political cartoons and was featured in Harper's and other highly regarded publications of the time. His own book, Christmas Drawings for the Human Race, was published by Harper & Brothers in 1890, immortalzing Nast's Santa Claus for generations to come.

Anton Community Newspapers is pleased to give you a chance to share this very brief history with us, and to see some of these now famous illustrations. We hope your holidays are filled with the spirit of giving and sharing created by Irving, Moore and Nast.

A Visit From St. Nicholas by Clement C. Moore, 1822

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse; The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there The children were nestled all snug in their beds. While visions of sugar plums danced in their heads. And Mama in her 'kerchief and I in my cap Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap, When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter, sprang from my bed to see what was the matter Away to the window I fled like a flash, Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow Gave the luster of midday to objects below. When what to my wondering eyes should appear But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer With a little old driver so lively and quick knew in a moment it must be St. Nick. More rapid than eagles his coursers they came, And he whistled and shouted and called them by

'Now, Dasher! now Dancer! now Prancer! and Vixen! On Comet! on Cupid! on Donder and Blitzen! To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall' Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!" As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky So up to the housetop the coursers they flew, With the sleigh full of toys and Saint Nicholas too. And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof The prancing and pawing of each little hoof-As I drew in my head and was turning around Down the chimney Saint Nicholas came with a bound He was dressed all in furs from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot. a bundle of toys he had flung on his back And he locked like a peddler opening his pack; His eyes-how they twinkled! His dimples, how merry His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry! His droll little mouth was drawn up in a bow, And the beard on his chin was as white as snow: The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth, And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath: He had a broad face and a little round belly, That shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly. He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf. And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself: A wink of his eye and a twist of his head Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread: He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work And filled all the stockings, then turned with a jerk, And laying his finger aside of his nose And giving a nod up the chimney he rose He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle, And away they all flew like the down on a thistle; But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight: 'Merry Chirstmas to all, and to all a good-night'

WILLIAMSBURGH FIFE AND DRUM CORPS IN MANHASSET: B. Altman and Company department store, located on Northern Boulevard in Manhasset, was the site of a performance by the renowned Williamsburgh Fife and Drum Corps on Friday afternoon, Nov.

B. Altman's is celebrating the holidays with a Williamsburg theme this year. The store in Manhasset, which is located on Northern Boulevard, is decorated with colonial Williamsburg decorations, and various events have been scheduled to coincide with the theme. A master silversmith and wigmaker will be at the store on Dec. 4 and 5 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. giving demonstrations of their crafts. A Williamsburg shop has also been 20. Among those in attendance were (from far right); store manager C. Barry Teplitzky, North Hempstead Councilman Paul Ponessa, and, at the podium, an actor portraying the Lord Mayor of Dunsmore. (Photo by Doreen) added and there will be many items from Williamsburg for shoppers to purchase.

On Dec. 12 and 10 there will be holiday entertainment throughout the day for children and adults. On Dec. 22, 23, and 24, Paddington Bear will be roaming the store all day with coloring books for the children. Things are truly happening for the holidays best on defense dates back to the days of whist, the ancestor of contract bridge. Despite its antiquity, though, it is still widely accepted for a very simple reason — it works!

Today's deal illustrates the value of fourth-best leads. South arrives at five diamonds and West leads the five of hearts. Declarer plays the eight from dummy, and East has to decide which card to play.

Obviously, South cannot have any great length in hearts, so it is reasonable to assume that West is leading his fourth-best card from a four-card or longer suit. Once this is determined, the Rule of Eleven can be applied.

In the given case, East subtracts the number of the card led — five — from eleven. This reveals that there are six cards higher than the card led in the three hands outside of West's.

Since East can see all six of them in his own hand and the durumy, he knows declarer has no card higher than the five. Accordingly, East plays the nine at trick one and, after it holds, returns the king; South following with the four and West the three.

Declarer takes the ace, draws trumps and then leads a spade to the jack, losing to the king, if East now returns a third heart, South will ruff and take the rest of the tricks, discarding both of his clubs on dummy's spades.

But East knows from West's play.

discarding both of his clubs on dummy's spades.

But East knows from West's play of the three of hearts at trick two—his fifth-best card—that his partner started with five hearts, which makes it futile to try to cash another heart. So East switches to a club to set the contract one trick.

Observe that if East had put up the light of hearts wither than the piece.

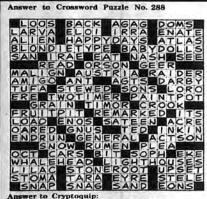

king of hearts rather than the nine on the first trick, declarer could have avoided a spade loser by later leading a heart toward the AJ and finessing against West.

The world being what it is, it shouldn't be a surpise that The Greater New York International Automobile Show will be at the Javits Center, a building that is now user friendly to cars. There is no parking at the Convention Center.

But, not to worry, just think of it as a reason to appreciate the convenience of your car as you drive around Long Island. The Greater New York Automobile Dealers

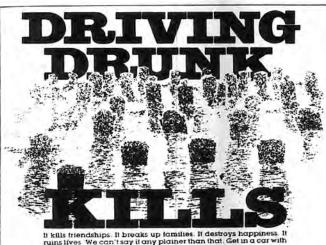

The Greater New York Automobile Dealers Association has worked to make attending the Auto Show as easy as possible by providing special transportation packages and parking facilities. Discount travel package promotions are offered with Long Island Raliroad, Metro-North, and Imperial Ferry Service, helping show attendees avoid parking hassles and high prices. Price of admission at the show is $1,00 and $3,00 for children under 14.

ings prices a standard or the show, oldest of its kind in United States, will celebrate its 88th year during Easter Week, April 2-10, 1988. The world's most complete auto show is sponsored by the Greater New York Automobile Dealers Association.

Organizers will be instituting various special events, contests, and activities to make the show more exciting for those attending. The 1987 show—the first time the show was held at the Javits Center—set an attendance record. It is anticipated that attendance will grow again in 1088.

"We are especially excited about the 1988 show because of the success we had at the Javits Center earlier this year," said Jim Farley, show chairman and principal of G C Volkswagen in New Hyde Park. New York. "With more than 1000 cars on hand, this is the greatest place in the world to 'shop' and see all the most exotic dream cars under one roof. We expect many new-car introductions at the show and an increase in the number of technologically advanced exhibits."

Information on the show will be available from the Greater New York Automobile Dealers Association Information Line, a telephone service set up to provide stronger lines of communication between the dealers the media and the general public. The number is (212) 735-3430.

It kills triendships. It breaks up families. It destroys happiness. It ruins lives We can't say it any plainer than that. Get in a car with someone who's had too much to drink and you take your life in your hands. Get behind the wheel after you've had too much to drink and you not only endanger your own life, you jeopardize the lives of innocent people besides.

If you drink, don't drive

A last minute development has arisen in the application for admission to section eight of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association by several Nassau Catholic and private high schools. Approval of the applications was expected this week, but a state appellate court ruling in the Buf-falo area may delay or even halt the admis-

In a unanimous decision the court over-turned a state court's ruling which had granted Nichols school membership in Section Six. An executive committee of Section Six voted to admit Nichols to the public school league despite the fact that 51 of 92 member schools had voted not to admit the private school.

Nothing in the state-wide not-for-profit organization's rules governing the regional administration of its eleven semi-autonomous sections permits such a reversal of the vote of member schools within any of the sections ruled the appellate court."

Opposition to Nichols apparently was based on the feeling that the private school would have an advantage over public school rivals because it could draw students from a wide geographic area. There was also a suspicion that Nichols was engaged in recruiting athletes, a practice which is illegal in the N.Y.S.P.H.S.A.A.

Many Nassau public schools have the same reservations about admitting private schools. Section Eight officials seemed resigned to the merger because they felt that they could not legally bar the new applicants. Now the Nichols decision has raised many questions and while no Nassau officials will comment publicly about what might happen, several are saying that the applications probably won't be accepted this week as expected. Chaminade, which fields a very full athletic program, has led the movement for merger into Section Eight. Sources in the Nassau-Suffolk Catholic league tell us that other members aren't as anxious to make the move, but they feel that the league would not be the same if Chaminade left. A prolonged delay could cause a split among some of the members about whether to continue the admissions fight.

Last week the state soccer playoffs were held on Long Island in conditions which were health-threating. Wind chill factors were as low as minus 23 degrees. The games were not postponed because teams had traveled hun-dreds of miles to play the games. John Moriello of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, a supporter of the state tournaments, finally was converted to the position taken so often in this column. Here's what he had to say: "I was one of the people who ridiculed the high school administrators in Suffolk county two years ago for making a gutsy decision that was rescinded a few months later. But as I sit here in Lake Ronkonkoma I realize how right those athletic directors were when they voted to pull out of the state playoff system."

"Let Delaware and Rhode Island have their state championships, but I happen to think it's absurd to try and hold playoffs here when Rochester is situated so far from Stony Brook and Buffalo is so far from Greenvale

It's even sillier to hold a final four anywhere. No matter where you hold it, the concept inconveniences at least half the schools. Yeah, it's exciting to play in the state semis, but it can be just as exciting to play a regional championship much closer to home as Suffolk wanted to do when it proposed scaling things back to a Long Island Championship.

Amen. John.

If you think Lance Costa of Herricks had agreat season as he scored 174 points to break the Long Island football one-season scoring record, you ain't heard nothin' yet. Halfback Tom Lynch of unbeaten Indian River High (Section III) scored 22 points in the champion ship game at the Carrier Dome in Syracuse. Those points brought his season total to a state record 240. He also set a state mark with 2,216

USA Hockey Team at Nassau Coliseum

The U.S.A. Hockey Team will face off against the Soviets on Sunday Dec. 13 at 7:05 p.m. at the Nassau Coliseum. The Coliseum is one of the few select venues, where the public will have a chance to see the U.S.A Hockey Team play before the team arrives in Calgary for the 1988 Winter Olympic games.

Twenty-eight players were selected to the 1088 United States Hockey Team by General Manager Art Berglund, Head Coach Dave Peterson, Assistant Coaches Ben Smith and Jack Blatherwick.

The roster includes two players, Scott Fusco and Corey Millen, who were members of the 1984 U.S. Olympic Team. Fusco, 24, is the oldest member of the team. Greg Brown, who turns 20 in early March, is the squad's youngest player.

The second stage of the tour included games against NHL Clubs. The U.S. team was 2-7 vs. the National Hockey League teams.

The final leg of the schedule includes games against the top teams in college hockey, the Canadian Olympic team, and 8 games against the Soviets.

Tickets are priced at $20, $17.50 and $15.00 and are available at the Coliseum box office and all Ticketmaster locations or by calling

Friends Academy Wins Fourth MAAPS Championship

The boys' varsity soccer team at Friends Academy, Locust Valley, captured its fourth straight Metropolitan Athletic Association of Private Schools (MAAPS) league championship by defeating Dwight Englewood 2 to 1 in overtime. Other season highlights in-cluded victories over local public school rivals Oyster Bay, North Shore and Locust Valley. The team, undefeated for the season, had an overall record of 12 wins and 1 tie and had a 28 game winning streak. Over its last 50 games, Friends had a record of 48 wins, 1 loss and a scoreless tie against Glen Cove High School

The 1987 team was led offensively by seniors, co-captain Blake Wynot of Locust Valley and Russell Dubner of Roslyn. Wynot was the team's leading scorer with 12 goals and Dubner scored the game winning goals in both the semi-finals against Dalton and in the championship game against Englewood the various parking problems created by them. Mr. Clark also touched on the matter of making Kraemer Street ONE WAY and also the matter of homes with more than one family (unrelated) in this area, which is generally zoned for one family dwellings.

The defense was led by sweeper back, sophomore, Glenn Judson of Bethpage, cocaptain, senior Ron Mitchell of Laurel Hollow and goalie, Junior Keith Rubinstein of Great Neck. The defense had an outstanding season, allowing only 6 goals in 13 games.

Mr. Clark explained that he is able to take action on the improper actions of neighbors only if a letter is sent to his office. Names of the letter writer are kept confidential, so he did encourage all to write, rather than phone

Councilman Clark informed the group that many residents of Hicksville have quietly "put up" with many infractions; but within the last year and a half many more people are beginning to take action to correct them.

With the holidays arriving, it is a sad time for the families of the American hostages in Lebanon and our POW/MIA. There was a news report published int he Washington Times on November 6 which states 24,000 American and British POW's liberated from German POW camps by our Soviet World War II allies were never returned to the western powers. This information is now only being declassified by the U.S. Government. Perhaps Gorbachev should be made aware of this when he visits Washington, D.C. on December 6-10.

Our best get well wishes to our own County Commander Dick Hochbrueckner who is in Hempstead General Hospital. Hurry back, Mr. Commander.

During this wonderful season, let's remember and pray for the peaceful deliverance of our Lebanon hostages and our POW/MIA.

Galileo Lodge News

President Joe Giordano's Message: "It is generally more profitable to reckon up our defects than to boast of our attainments."Thomas Carlyle

Did you ever notice that people seem to be engulfed in the spiritual wave, so to speak. People seem to mellow, they become friendlier, more human and many even shed their hard exteriors, which, I presume, are used as defensive mechanisms. Maybe this wave isn't exactly solemn but more Christian-like. And this is the way the Galileo Lodge and its members feel and act during this holiday season. It more or less starts around the first week of December, at which tim "the Galileo Lodge schedules its Christmas Dance. Tickets will sell at 114 per person and in the offering will be a delicious hot dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set; ups and music for your dancing and listening pleasure. And needless to mention that a portion of the music played will consist of some of the most moving, in-spirational and enjoyable Christmas carols—the ones that really make the holiday season so very beautiful. I might mention here that the Galileo Lodge will be decked out in its Christmas finery as well. Please note that a grab bag will probably be featured and that a "bring-your-own liquor" policy will be in effect that night. Saturday, December 6 is the date of this dance.

Then the following day, December 7, the Galileo Lodge presents its two Christmas parties, one for the handlcapped children of Queens and Long Island in the morning and the other one for the children of its membership in the afternoon. The feeling that one derives from these parts is indescribable, but it's the feelings that all these children display that is actually the main theme. Everything is for them, for their pleasure and enjoyment. And when Santa makes his appearance with his 'bag of goodies', the ecstacy that engulf all those highly animated faces is the joy to behold. Just to be able to do something in order to make others happy is what Christmas is all about. It is often said that Christmas is for the children, but it appears that parents enjoy the same emotional impact of this holiday.

The holiday season then comes to a close with a bang at the Galileo Lodge as the announce-The holiday season then comes to a close with a bang at the Gallieo Lodge as the announcement comes that it will hold a Gala New Year's Eve Celebration on Thursday, December 31. Tickets for this gala party will sell at $37, per person, and in the offering will be a complete prime rib dinner with all the trimmings, unlimited liquor and all the new years paraphenalia such as noisemakers, horns, etc. All reservations for members must be made by December 2st. All tickets must be paid by December 2s and tickets will be distributed on a 'first-come-first-served' basis, with special considerations offered to the membership. The chairman for this affair will be Pete Massiello, co-chairman will be Rocco Lombardo, Armand Del Cioppo and Ion Morres Tickets will be each Poscola Described to the membership. and Joe Morace. Tickets will be on sale December 3. Starting time will be 9 p.m. Please note that a continental breakfast will be served also and dancing will be from 10 to 2 a.m. Everything seems to be just right here: the food, the atmosphere, the price, the committee and the Galileo Lodge itself. Remember the date and have yourself a terrific New Year.

Happy holidays to everyone from the members and officers of the Galileo Lodge.

Kiwanis Club Enjoys A Taste Test

The program at the November 18 Hicksville Kiwanis Club meeting was a "Taste Test" of Devonshire Royal Cream Liquer conducted by Terri Einsidler, the Regional Coordinator of Devonshire Meadows Ltd..

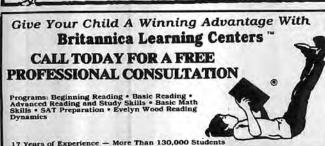

The "Taste Test" was accomplished by serving each person (who volunteered) samples of the Devonshire Royal Cream Liqueur and a competitor's Irish Cream Liqueur. The samples were in half ounce plastic glasses identified as Test one and Test two without the volunteer sampler knowing which product was in which glass. The tasters were given time to look at, smell, taste, and compare the two samples. Ms. Einsidler suggested that the tasters determine which of the two samples they preferred prior to voting. When the vote was taken, 12 of the 20 tasters indicated a preference for sample number one, which Ms. Einstdler happily identified as the Devonshire product.

Ms. Einsidler also distributed a Devonshire

Cook Book with recipes using their product, as well as Devonshire Luscious Brownie,, the recipe for which was not found in the cook book, but was quite tasty.

Iona Scholarship Proposed By English Widow

Regina English, the widow of John (Jack) Francis English, the prominent Nassau County Democrat who died of cancer on 7 November 1987 at the age of 61, announced the establishment of the John F. English Memorial Scholarship Fund, the purpose of which is to provide scholarships to students from Long Island majoring in government/political science at Iona College, New Rochelle, New York. The tax exempt Memorial Fund will be administered by Iona College.

Mr. English, who was instrumental in electing Eugene H. Nickerson as the first and only Democrat to the position of Nassau County Executive, and who was a close political associate of President John F. Kennedy as well as his brothers, U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy and U.S. Senator Edward M. Kennedy, graduated from Iona College in 1952 earning the Thomas Sullivan Award as the outstanding

In announcing the establishment of the Memorial Fund, Mrs. English said that it reflected her husband's wish to help students who would not otherwise be able to attend who would not otherwise be able to attend college due to financial inability. "This Memorial Fund," said Mrs. English, "will serve as a reminder of the principles by which Jack English lived and of his life-long efforts to help those in need."

Contributions made to the "John F. English Memorial Scholarship Fund" should be sent either to 1505 Kellum Place, Mineola, New York 11501 or to Ioná College, 715 North Avenue, New Rochelle, New York 10801, At-tention: John Cole.

East St. 2nd Graders Tour Hicksville

EAST STREET 2ND graders visit the historic Cantiague Rock on West John Street where Hicksyflle's 339-year history began with the Robert Williams Indian Land Purchase of 164. The rock was a town boundary marker for Oyster Bay and Hempstead Town, dragged from its glacial sit by oxen in 1745. The Hicksyille Gregory Museum's popular guided tours are al service to the Hicksville School District.

CHIEF OWEN MaGEE, JR. made the 2nd graders from East Street School welcome to the Hicksville Fire House recently. The children of Mrs. Kreditor and Miss Saxon were on a Gregory Museum guided tour the village's places of interest and government.

NO TOUR OF Hicksville for keen 2nd graders is ever complete without a visit to the Gregory Museum: Earth Science Center at the Old Hicksville Courthouse. As always, on a recent sight-seeing trip, the youngsters from the Lee Avenue School were anxious to see the old time jail.

'Lunch Hour' Play At The Hicksville Library

Friday, December 18 at 8 p.m. the Hicksville Public Library will present the play "Lunch Hour" by Jean Kerr. This hilarious cornedy will be performed by the popular Other Vic Theatre Company.

Never has Jean Kerr's wit had a keener edge or her comic sense more peaks of merriment than in this clever comedy which stars Frank Scoblete and Alana Caraccio as a pair whose spouses are having an affair, and who have to counter by inventing an affair of their own! He, ironically, is a marriage counselor and a bit square. She is kind of kooky. Can their ruse work? Can they win back their respective

This play is co-sponsored by the Hicksville Public Library and the Nassau County Arts Decentralization Consortium with public funds from New York State Council on the Arts Decentralization Program.

Health Program At Willet Avenue School

The "Growing Up Healthy" program got off to a fine start for third graders at Willet Avenue School. The students first program was building a dummy from materials prought from home. The 'dummy' was then used in conjunction with a unit on the skeletal and muscular system.

Mrs. crown and Mrs. Koenig attended an eight-day workshop this past summer to aquaint themselves with this curriculum. They expect this program to be both informative and fun for all their students.

Hicksville PAL Basketball News

By CHARLETTE ANSTEY

Last week Hicksville PAL had their boy ratings night. Once the boys were rated, Bill Toelstedt (Police Officer in charge) and Joe Bentrewicz will sit down together and make up the teams. In Hicksville PAL there are no teams with girls playing on the same team as

The coaches have received their rosters and all children and teenagers who signed up will be receiving calls soon to start their practices. Our enrollment figures this year have gone skyward. Our boys' programs have always drawn large numbers; however, our girls' pro-grams have taken off with a loud "bang". This yearin basketball we will have 8 teams of girls.

I have been asked quite often by people why they should put their children in Hicksville PAL instead of other organizations. I tell them that the reason I like Hicksville PAL so much is that each child and teenager is extremely important. It's not just the "stars" who play all the time in PAL, it's every child every game. Hicksville PAL does not give trophies to just the 1st, 2nd, 3rd place teams and All-Stars—Hicksville PAL gives identical trophies to every child and teenager in our organization (regardless of what their abili-ty is). The Hicksville PAL recognizes that every child and teenager is an "All-Star" in our organization

All of us in the Hicksville PAL (parents of the children, the volunteers who make this organization run and Bill Toelstedt of the Nassau County Police Department) would like to thank Dr. Catherine Fenton (Superintendent of Schools), William Becker (former Director of Facilities and Operations), Thomas Shaw (current Director of Facilities and Operations) and the Hicksville School and Operations) and the Hicksville School Board for their support of programs serving the Hicksville youth and for their coopera-tion in allocating gyms and ballfields to the Hicksville PAL. We are very fortunate in Hicksville to have such caring officials.

To All Basketball Coaches and Parents:

We have received several phone calls in reference to the behavior of the siblings that are attending the games. We fully understand that the family likes to see brothers or sisters playing the games, but you MUST control the stages in the school. Please keep the children at your side at all times. It is not fair to the families who are trying to watch the games or for the boys and girls who are playing the
