intelligence gathering and evaluation is an essential part of protecting our country. And for Holy Trinity High School graduate Navy Ensign Robert Rupp, it's his job to gather information.

The son of Robert R. and Margaret Rupp of Hicksville is a squadron intelligence officer for Attack-Squadron 75 (VA-75) at Naval Air Station Oceana, Va.

"I am responsible for supplying aircrews with the necessary intelligence information they need to carry out any mission," Rupp explains.

A necessary part of intelligence gathering along with gaining a working knowledge of those weapons and tactics.

Thave to take bits and pieces of information to form a comprehensive and mean-ingful picture of world events and foreign weapons systems." Rupp continues. "I also conduct current intelligence and threat-and-recognition briefs on Soviet and other foreign weapons systems."

Before entering the intelligence field, the 1986 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy wanted to be a pilot, but didn't qualify because of colorblindness.

Although Rupp can't fly aircraft, he is able to work hand-in-hand with aviators through the intelligence field.

"I like working in the intelligence field. I also prefer the A-6 over the fighters because there is much more work involved in planning a mission," Rupp said. Nicknamed the "Sunday Punchers," VA-75 flies the A-6E Intruder, an all-weather, lowlevel attack bomber.

The Intruder crew consists of a pilot and a bombardier/navigator.

The Intruder's multi-mode radar provides simultaneous ground mapping, identifica-tion, target tracking and rangefinding of fixed or moving targets. The intruder can be armed with several weapon systems, including 500-pound or 2,000-pound bombs.

"I'm in charge of providing flight informa-tion and radar tracking for low-level bombing training routes," Rupp continues.

Two 300-gallon drop tanks give the aircraft a 1,024-mile combat range when the A-6E carries a maximum payload.

The Intruder's combat range is extended even more when deployed aboard an aircraft

While out to sea onboard the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy, I prepare and pre-sent preflight briefings to my squadron, Rupp says.

"Everyone laughs at the name 'Sunday
Punchers', but when the work needs to get done, we're here to do it. One of the first things I noticed when I got to VA-75 was how the squadron and the aviators give the extra 'punch' to every job they do," Rupp concludes.

An Announcement From The Board of Water Commissioners Hicksville Water District

The new water rate structure adopted by the Board of Water Commissioners at their meeting of December 17, 1987 which is effective in your January 1, 1988 billing:

10,000 gallons or under $6.00 Minimum 11 to 30,000 gallons .75 per thousand 31 to 50,000 gallons 1.00 per thousand 51 to 70,000 gallons 1.25 per thousand over 71,000 gallons 1.60 per thousand

The above rates have been adopted with the feeling that consumers who do conserve water should benefit with lower rates. The consumers who waste water naturally will pay the higher rate.

Our biggest problem with residential high consumption is underground sprinkler systems that do not have moisture control sensors or rain sensors installed. Chairman Richard A. Humann stated, "There is nothing more frustrating than to see a sprinkler system on when it is raining."

The problem the District has with commercial accounts is when they have plumbing problems, they are not repaired immediately.

The message the Board is trying to put to consumers is "Save Water, have low ter bills and help the District come near it's New York State Department of Environmental Conservation Pumpage Cap."

Gas Leak Causes Evacuation of 300 Burns Ave. Students

About 300 Burns Avenue Elementary School students and 20 nearby homes were evacuated last week after a gas line was brokenoutside the school, Nassau Police said.

James Muhr of Huntington Station, an employee of Sidney B. Browne & Sons in Mincola, was conducting a probe excavation for further roadway repair on December 22 at 11:40 a.m. when a LILCO gas line was broken, police officer Hank McCann said.

The students and residents were evacuated as a precautionary measure," McCann said. The area was declared safe one hour later by LILCO's gas superintendent Richard Peschke.

The children were transported to another local school by authority of Burns Avenue principal Dr. Frank Burke while LILCO was making the repairs. The pupils returned later that afternoon to Burns Avenue.

No injuries were reported.

New Fencing At Water District Well Site

In response to a number of inquiries from various community interests, the board of commissioners, Hicksville Water District, have erected a protective fencing around the size of its new well field between Old Country Road and Plainview Road somewhat opposite South Gate.

According to John J. Swierupski, Jr., office manager of the water district, this parcel of land had been secured from the Town of Oyster Bay on a long-term lease. The transaction was of mutual interest to both parties; the Water District needed a well site and the town was anxious for the availability of funds to be used in the construction of the new park

The fence was erected before construction of the pump house and the planting of shrubs in order to prevent any further dumping of refuse at the site by persons unknown. The area enclosed by the fence is the leased portion; the balance is maintained by the town and further dumping would be subject to such penalties as the town would normally it is anticipated that the balance of the con-struction work would go forward within the Water District site during 1988, Mr. Swierupski said.

Plaza Movie Manager Is Robbed

A Mid-Plaza Cinema employee was rob-bed in Hicksville while making a night deposit at Citibank on Broadway, Nassau Police said According to police officer Hank McCann, Peter Wolter, 20, the assistant manager at the movie theater was about to make a deposit at the bank at about 12:35 a.m. on December 20 when he was approached by a man armed with a handgun who demanded the bank with a handgun who demanded the pair-bags.

"The young man thought the gun was a fake and he resisted turning over the money bags." McCann said. The robber then step-ped backwards and fired two shots, both of which missed Wolter. The manager then gave the bags to the bandit. The robber escaped with 14,750. No one was injured. The second squad is investigating.

☆ Starlight Shop ☆ Hicksville's Fashion Center

By CATHERINE J. TOKAR

Like many soldiers at the end of World War II, Gene Staller needed a job. Instead of taking a civil service job or a monotonous desk job, he bravely decided to venture into his own business. He bought a small dress shop from Hicksville resident Leona York, and by November of 1946, Mr. Staller was the proprietor of his own dress shop, ideally situated in the Town Center Building on the corner of Broadway (Hicksville's major roadway) and Marie Street. He named his small enterprise Starlight Shop, which he ran with the help of two "original" Hicksville residents, Marie (Munch) Paydon and Lillian Moseman. Located on one side was the shoe repair shop, still in service; on the other side was the New York Clothing Store (where the House of Donuts now sits), which had been owned and operated by Harry Weiss since the turn of the century. This store featured Hart, Schaftner Marx men's suits. "The farmers of Hicksville were his best customers," said Helen (Weiss Ferro of her father's store. She remembered when Broadway was a two-lane dirt road lined with trees and many farmers worked in Hicksville. "I'm 76 and I work in Starlight Shop to keep my sanity," she joked.

Today, Starlight Shop is run by Mr. Staller and his wife, Roz. Mrs. Staller explained, "After many years' growth, we consider ourselves a mini-department store." The shop carries a diversified stock of jewelry, accessories, dresses, slacks, and nightwear for women in petite, misses and plus sizes. "We consider ourselves a 'Ma and Pa store," said Mrs. Staller. "We work here because we believe we can give the best quality and care our customers need." She also added, "We relate to our customers and don't sell anything to them that doesn't look good on them."

Mr. Staller agrees, "We are unique in that we are a service-oriented store." Starlight Shop can special order any item out of stock, in any size or color. Mr. Staller also does all the alterations. "My women can't sew," he joked. Starlight Shop repairs jewelry, has a layaway plan, and gift wraps all year, free of charge. "We're here to see to the customer's satisfaction," he explained.

The Stallers and their employees rely on an 80% steady clientele. "Our customers have been coming in for 30 to 40 years." said Mr. Staller. "We serve the third generation as well as our oldest and dearest Hicksville friends." The Starlight Shop has a mailing list of over 3,000 people. "We mail promotional cards four or five times - year to keep our customers up to date," Mr. Staller explained.

The Stallers have many great memories of Hicksville from the 40s to the 80s. "A lot of people come in to reminisce and meet the friends they haven't seen in years," said Mrs. Staller. Starlight Shop is one of the warmest and most friendly stores in Hicksville. The Stallers happy memories include the many services they have given to the Hicksville community over the years. Starlight Shop has given fashion shows for the Catholic Daughters, Hicksville Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary, Hiberians Irish Organization, and the Mill Neck Manor School for the Deaf. "Mill Neck has been one of our favorite shows," said Mrs. Staller. "A special Christmas memory is Frank Chlumsky," said Mrs. Staller. "He used to come in every Christmas and buy 20 to 30 gifts for the Kiwanis to give to Jones Institute. We would give him a big discount and wrap all the gifts so that he could surprise the senior citizens at the home.

These memories and hundreds more make for a pleasant visit at the Starlight Shop. Friendly and warm, the Stallers and their "faithful staff" help everyone find exactly what she or he needs. Their hours are 9:30 to 6, Monday through Saturday and 9:30 to 8:30 on Thursday. The store is closed Sundays.

Charlie's In For A Visit

Charlie McAdams is in from California for a visit with his mom and brothers. Charlie is the proud father of 4 children: the youngest is 16 months and the oldest is 7. Said he just loves California—and the pace out there. He doesn't think he could ever live back in the east—he said everybody is always running and never going any place. He's now used to the slower pace—and likes it better. He said to say Hi to all his friends.

Happy Home This Christmas

Bea and Dom Lauro's home was a very exceptionally happy home this Christmas Their daughter and son-in-law, Marcia and John Mule of Long Beach became the proud parents of Myles, whom they adopted from Chile. He was born July 14th and they went to Chile to bring him home in time for Halloween. His uncle Anthony, Aunt Susan and cousin Anthony are all excited too. Anthony and Sue are expecting another baby in April. So Bea and Dom and their family had super reasons for being happy. Congratulations!

sity of 2,140 students affiliated with the Lutheran Church in America.

Where Some Spent Christmas

We thought it might be nice to see how Hicksvillites spent the Christmas holiday. Here's how some of our residents spent it:

Alice Dreher entertained her three children Barbara, George and Roger and their families at her home on Dakota Street.

Val Carmody entertained her daughter and family on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. On Saturday she went to Poughkeepsie to spend time with her son and his family. He is home from Paris, France and they will all attend Val's granddaughter Kathy's graduation from Penn State.

Social Notes and Personalities

Janice and Mike Callahan were the ones to do the entertaining this Christmas holiday for her parents Helen and Don (of Woodhaven), her three sisters and Mike's family too.

Millie Ruggiero spent Christmas at her daughter Michelle and son-in-law Tom Speciale's home in Deer Park. They have a 17 month old son—Erle, which Millie was looking forward to seeing along with all the rest of Millie and the late Stevle's family.

Marge Brown batted a good average this year. Five of her six children were able to come home for Christmas with their families

Former residents Marianne and Bill Kutner spent their Christmas in Phoenix, Arizona with their son Kevin. Every year they spend a month in Phoenix. (Hear they had snow in Tuscon—hope they didn't get it in Phoenix—Marianne and Bill get enough of that in Idaho.)

The Teddy Sokolauf's enjoyed Christmas at the home of their niece, Susan and Jack Schwamp in Kings Park.

Alice Rellly celebrated Christmas at her home in Hicksville with her daughter Alicia, and son Ed "Woody" and his wife Gloria (Gramaglia) and their children Matthew Megan and Brian. They came in from Rocky Point Alice said that many of her former students stopped in to visit her through the holidays.

Dotty Smith spent Christmas at home with her daughter Dorothy Blot, and husband and two sons who are visiting from

Jean Muller spent Christmas at her oldest son Raymond's home along with all the rest of the family.

Jerry Purick of Point Lookout (formerly of Hicksville) spent Christmas Day with her son Skip and his wife Joan and their family and Cathy and Phil and their family at her oldest son Raymond's home along with the rest of the family. On Sunday, MaryAlice and Alan came down from Syracuse with their family so the family joined in a second celebration of Christmas, Joining them both days were Msgr. Elwood Purick and Sister Thomas Edmund.

Shore to spend Christmas Day at the home of their son Walter and Loretta's along with other son Eric and his wife Theresa, and Maggie and Dick Eaton spent Christmas Eve with Maggie's parents Ann and Joe Ort of Arpad Street. Also there was Maggie's brother John in from sunny California.

On Christmas Day Maggie and Dick spent the day with his folks—The Eatons—at their home along with the rest of the Eaton family. Visiting from New Jersey was Dick's brother Kenny and his wife Rose, along with their sons Eric and Matthew. In from Maryland was his sister Jennifer and her husband Jeff Oldenburg with their son Andrew. They had a double celebration that day—it was Dick's birthday too. Dick's been around for quite a few years. . . . but we're not telling how many.

The Norman Gluf's house was full to capacity on Christmas, Seven of their 8 children were home for the holiday along with their families. The only one missing was Bruce and his family from North Dakota. (He was here for Thanksgiving). Twenty-one sat down for Mrs. Gluf's delicious Christmas dinner. They had a great time.

Also the Rupp Family had a houseful to share their Christmas Dinner.

Gina and Ralph Diana spent Christmas at their home with their teenaged children Roseann (15) and Lenny (17). They couldn't go anywhere because Lenny had the chicken and Roseann had just gotten over them. Gina is hoping that Ralph doesn't get them—she said he's a terrible patient..... Edwina Kenetick spent Christmas with her five children: Chip, Lynn, Denise, John and Eddle at her home. She had Open House all day long for her family. Among the many that came were Ronald and Peggy Kenetick (both H.H.S. graduates), and Robert and Lucille Kenetick and their families—all of Hicksville. (Robert is also a H.H.S. grad).

Dolores Oehler spent her Christmas with her entire family which consists of her mom and dad—Alice and Raymond; sisters and brothers, Robert, Janice, Pat,

And if any of you remember the Costello and Dwyer families.....Linda Costello was telling me that she spent Christmas with 60 of her relatives at her mom's home in Jericho. Her mom is Mildred (formerly Dwyer), and her late dad was Tommy Costello. She said that her mom cooked for all those people—and it was wonderful.

Isn't it nice to be able to have such a large family to share your blessings with?

New Year's Eve Birthday

On Thursday, New Year's Eve, there will be a big celebration at Grandma and Grandpa Rybak's house for their granddaughter Rita Russo, daughter of Suzanne (Rybak) and John Russo. Rita was born 3 years ago on Dec. 31st, and would you believe—her mom is pregnant and expecting a sister or brother for Rita—on Dec. 31st. (Maybe her baby will be the Illustrate's New Year Baby).

RITA RUSSO

Besides the Rybaks as grandparents Rita has another great set of grandparents-Eileen and John Russo. . . . and all are Hicksville residents.

Little Rita wants to wish her Grandpa Rybak a very happy belated Dec. 5th birthday—and she said he can help her blow out her candles.

To All Our Friends

May you all have a very Happy and Healthy

SCOTT MUNROE HICKSVILLE High School Student.

Hicksville Resident 3rd Prize Winner In Computer Competition

Hicksville High School Student Scott Munroe was awarded Third Prize in New York Institute of Technology's 1987 Computer Competition, held recently at the college's Old Westbury Campus. Munroe, of Hicksville, was presented with a special trophy and certificate for placing third in one of four categories of the contest, namely, Programming Competition in BASIC. He was one of some 60 high school seniors who competed in the day-long event, spon-sored by NYIT's Advanced Systems Laboratory and its School of Engineering and Technology.

The competition was held in keeping with a 1987 congressional decree intended to promote awareness and interest among educators, students and parents of the role of computers and software in education. Students had a rare opportunity to gain com-puter expertise by working in the sophisticated confines of the Advanced Systems Laboratory, located in the NYIT Science and Technology Center on the Old Westbury Campus. The college also provided games, contests, prizes and luncheon for all who attended. Included in the audience were parents and high school teachers who sponsored the students.

Letters From Our Renders

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspa However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can

we receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a vpoewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor: On behalf of the members of Hicksville Lodge I would like to thank you for your cooperation in support of the various public service releases which we have sent to your publication. Not only the Elks, but the various fraternal organizations in the area who do so much on a volunteer basis need this type of publicity to negate some of the negative impressions which surround them, mostly by those who are least aware of the positive reasons for which these organizations exist.

The Elks National Foundation is second only to the federal government in scholar-ship awards. In 1087 alone they will be pro-viding 1736 scholarships to high school seniors, a total amount of $2,552,400. The N.Y. State Elks Association, in which over 180 N.Y. State Lodges participate, will pro-vide almost 1/2 million dollars to further subsidize our State Major Project, Cerebral Palsy Home Care. We provide 26 vans statewide and the Home Service Directors who staff them. The Hicksville Lodge Drug Awareness Program will shortly distribute several thousand book covers to the local schools with anti-drug slogans and hot-line numbers. The Elks National Hoop Shoot last year drew over 3 million young contestants. We sponsor events throughout the year for veterans from Northport Hospital, support the Boy & Girl Scouts and many of the local youth programs. We have a standing Americanism Comm. and one of our functions this year was the Constitution Day celebration held in front of the Lodge and the release of 200 balloons in token of its 200th birthday.

It must be noted that we pay no one a percentage of any funds to raise money for us. All work on these projects is volunteered by our members and ladies' auxiliary. The only outside funds we raise to augment our own are raised by our Las

Wood Sculpture Demonstration

The Suburban Art League will present a and open to the public will present a wood sculpture demonstration by noted Long Island artist and teacher, John DiNaro, on Tuesday, Jan. 5. The program which is free and open to the public will take place at 8 p.m. at the Syosset-Woodbury Community Center, 7800 Jericho Tumpike, Syosset, Mr. DiNaro, without a few sections.

Mr. DiNaro, winner of numerous art awards, has had 15 years experience in wood sculpting with the use of plaster and plastecine models. His works are in many public and private collections. When he teaches, his goal is to use sculpture as a valuable tool in the development of self merit, esteem, and awareness, and encouragement, as well as developing his clients' artistic skills.

Vegas nights. All money raised at Las Vegas MUST go to charitable causes.

With the above in mind I'm sure you understand how important your publication is in publicizing our events. We simply do not have the funds to provide for the projects plus advertising them.

Murray S. Appel, Past Exalted Ruler

To The Editor:

An Oyster Bay town official recently came into my store, "Puff & Stuff," 64 Jerusalem Ave., Hicksville, and told me he had a 'complaint' about my street sign. (One of dozens and dozens in Hicksville). onsidering I'm surrounded by parking lots, I find it hard to believe that my very nice and neat sign (which attracts at least 25% of my business off a very busy Jerusalem Avenue) really and truly bothers someone.

If the Town of Oyster Bay would begin to spend time addressing important problems rather than trying to put a brand new (taxpaying) merchant out of business, this community would be nicer. Richie Cucharo

To The Editor:

We are very lucky to have the Illustrated News in Hicksville. Your listing "Religious Services" has been especially helpful. I have started going to various churches. It is mak-ing my Sundays so much more richer, Last Sunday I went to the Parkway Community Church. The service was very inspirational. The church was beautifully decorated for Christmas.

Living in Idaho, and receiving the Illustrated News' memories of old Hicksville bring the past back to me. Reading your Memories column I've noticed that no one has ever mentioned Mr. Buchanan who used to deliver fish door-to-door and later had a store, just south of Old Country Road on the east side of Broadway. It was in a small blue building next to Botto's.

Another recollection brought to mind by the mention of the police John Rogers and (oh, dear, I can't recall the other men), but they used to be at the Marie Street and Park Avenue intersection, and there used to be a traffic light stanchion in the middle of the road.

Remember Dannow's Nursery on that same corner? The Dutch Reformed Church at Newbridge Road and Jerusalem Avenues? Louden's Deli on Bay Avenue? DeMonaco's and Repetti's fruit stores on Broadway? Mr. Stamos' Tailor Shop near the old Methodist Church on Broadway? Did you ever catch poliwogs in the runoff stream from the ice plant, along the railroad tracks? And, how about Knecht's Dairy on South Broadway where the large trees made a canopy over the road? Oh, yes, and what about Staryk's Dairy on Burns Avenue? Those were the days!!!

Thanksgiving Memories

Thinking back even further I can't recall when "trick or treat" on Halloween began, but when I was a child growing up in Hicksville "ragamuffins" went out Thanksgiving mornings. We put on costumes and went door-to-door asking "anything for Thanksgiving?" while our mothers prepared our holiday dinners Besides the neighbors and our relatives who lived in town (in those days you could walk from one end of town to the other in a short time). There were always a few special people and stores to be visited. You never forgot to stop at Dempsey's for a jelly apple or Bahrenburg's or Just Rite bakeries where we were given buns (I think they're called sweet rolls today), and Mr. Beatty always gave us a piece of candy. Pennies were the prize of the day and if you received a nickel you felt rich, indeed. We knew just about every person we passed and always compared 'goodies" with one another. If something special was being given out we all, sooner or later, knocked on that door. In those days we basically stayed on our own side of the tracks (railroad), except for the Village, of course. It was a fun morning and we were always back home by one o'clock. Why? I don't remember, but that's where and when you could find us.

Times and people change....but memories are aways with us.

Editor's Note: Anyone with memories of life in Hicksville may write to us at 132 East Second St., Mineola, New York 11501.

Extra Postal Service Offered To Commuters

HICKSVILLE, MASSAPEQUA, BELLMORE, and Wantagh Long Island Railroad commuters were given extra service by the Postal Service this holiday season. The Postal Service's Mobile Unit parked one morning each day at a different station to sell stamps to the local communters. "Fantastic." 'Creat idea," 'it saves me a lot of time," were just a few of the remarks from the commuters taking advantage of the extra offered service. Pictured above: Bellmore commuters line up for their holiday stamp purchases before catching their morning train.

Galileo Lodge News

President Joe Giordano's Message: "We shall be judged not by what we might have been, but what we have been." Old Saving

Many people look upon the passing of the old year with a certain amount of ambivalence and the coming of the new year with a great deal of anticipation. And your judgment really rests on circumstances and experiences, or whatever affected you the most. Now, whatever your feelings are, if you like to usher in the new year you to fitte the year, if you are the advent of the new year, the Galileo Lodge should be the place for you. To greet the advent of the new year, the Galileo Lodge announces that it will hold a Gala New Year's celebration on Thursday, December 31. The price of tickets will be $37 per person, and in the offering will be a complete prime rib dinner with all the trimmings, unlimited liquor and a resplendence aided by a plethora of all the new year paraphenalía known to party goers, and a continental breakfast at about 2 in the morning. This party starts at 9 p.m. and the dancing starts at 10 p.m. The music will be provided by a popular disc jockey. Also be it known that members of the Galileo Lodge will be given special consideration but please be aware that no tickets will be paid at the door. Peter Massiello will 'chair' this activity, ably assisted by Rocco Lombardo and Armand Del Cloppo. As I see it here, the price is right, the committee members who are supervising this party are right and the Galileo Lodge is right; so how could anyone go wrong here.

Just like everything else in life, seasons of the year reap their harvest and then settle in the past. Soon January will be upon us, with the final blow of winter ready to land on us. Then before we realize it, it's spring. But shortly before this, we see the Galileo Lodge's early debut of its spring program. And here is where we can look forward to a Valentine's Day Dance and a St. Joseph's Dance. And then, lo and behold, we see another 50 and 60's dance, so there will always be relaxation, leisure and good times for its members, patrons and friends. So keep abreast of the reports of this column in future weeks and place these exciting coming events on your 'must at-tend' list. As the saying goes, you'll be glad you did.

Lodge Tidbits: It appears that the Morace family has cornered the market on the month of December, with Joe Morace celebrating his birthday on the 10th, his brother, Lou, celebrating his birthday on the 27th, his son, Joe Morace, Jr., on the 1st, his daughter, loan, celebrating hers on the 2nd and another daughter, Carol, on the 6th. We all here at the Galileo Lodge wish these nice people very happy birthdays and congratulatory notes, also...Incidentally, Lou Morace and his wife, Alice, have recently celebrated 48 years of wedded bliss. Congratulations again to this nice couple of our Lodge...And another Happy Birthday note to Joe Laurenti of our Lodge, and congratulations, of course...Very sorry to hear that Joe Catalano of our lodge recently hurt his leg and we do wish him a very speedy recovery....And we sincerely hope that Anthony Patera has fully recovered from his health problems....Happy to report that Joseph Bassano and Michael Lucchese are the new members of our Lodge, and we welcome them aboard with hearty congratulations and Good Luck....Very sorry to hear that Dom Valente's brother recently passed away in Florida, and we here at the Lodge extend our condolences to the Valente family.

THE BIG CHECK-On behalf of the LILCO Lamplighters, Hicksville residents Catherine Haverly (left) and Raymond Marks present a check for $1,569 to Mary Nolan of the Long Island Arthritis Foundation. The money was raised during the LILCO volunteer group's "Up, UP and Away" fund-raising drive last month and will be used to support programs and services that benefit arthritis sufferers. The drive culminated in a balloon launch on the front lawn of LILCO's Hicksville office. LILCO Lamplighters are a group made up of employees, retirees and their families dedicated to promoting volunteer activities on Long Island.

Hicksville Middle School Food Drive

For the holiday season, Team 7B of the Middle School held a food drive with a novel way of rewarding the students who brought food in for needy families. Students who brought food in were allowed to attend a special breakfast which their teachers prepared for them. The breakfast was paid for by teachers and administrators, including Mr. Klein (Principal), Mrs. Marshall (Assistant Principal), Mr. Clonen, Mrs. Little and the four team members: Mr. Baron, Mr. Hendrickson, Mr. Olitsky and Mr. Scheck. King Kullen of the Delco Plaza helped out as well by donating a gift certificate for food to be used by a needy family.

On the morning of November 25, participants were all busy by 7 a.m. cooking eggs and getting the cereal and juice ready. The breakfast was attended by 120 people, including 104 students who brought in food. Besides having fun, everyone involved felt pretty special when we were able to deliver nine large cartons of food to St. Ignatius to be used for needy families in Hicksville.

The food drive ended at Thanksgiving, but

The food drive ended at Thanksgiving, but the Home and Careers teachers, Mrs. Levy, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Massa and Mrs. Giansante, have collected food for the Christmas season. Once again, the food will be delivered to Sister Kathleen at St. Ignatius to help Hicksville residents have a happy holiday season.

St. Ignatius Presents "The Jesse Tree"

Third graders and their families came to St. Ignatius Church for their first celebration of the year. "The Jesse Tree" was the theme of this celebration.

Father Peter greeted the children and their families. Each child had a symbol that they adcut out to place on the tree. The symbols were made to remind everyone of the people who waited for the coming of

The explanation of the Jesse Tree and symbols were presented by the following Third Level students and their parents - Adam and Eve (apple tree): Janice Pfeifer and Mrs. Pfeifer, Noah (rainbows), Kevin Krueger and Mrs. Krueger; Abraham (star) - Aimee Sherry and Mrs. Sherry; Joseph (coat) - Laura Mikulus and Mrs. Mikulus; Moses (10 Commandments) - Dennis Aberle and Mrs. Aberle; David (crown) - Gena Lynn Losciale and Mrs. Losciale; Joseph (carpenter tool) - Megan Quinn and Mrs. Quinn; Mary (picture of Mary) - Melissa Sharkey and Mr. Sharkey.

Leading the parents and children in the Prayer of the Faithful were Laura Cavalcante, Timothy Hoffner and Cheryl Noonan.

After Father Peter blessed the Jesse Tree, the children and their families closed the celebration by singing O Come, O Come Emanuel.

Middle School Performs in Town

On Friday, December 18, the Hicksville Middle School's eighth grade chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Paula Farbman, entertained people throughout Hicksville with their winter concert program.

They began their "tour" at the Broadway Mall. In front of an audience of holiday shoppers, the chorus sung songs from classics to Broadway to "Jingle Bells."

The group then proceeded to the Milleridge Inn where they gave a repeat performance in the restaurant's main dining room. After singing, the students were invited to have lunch at the Milleridge Village and spend some time browsing in the beautifully decorated shops.

It was truly a special day for all.

MRS. HOCH'S Second Grade class recited Twas the Night Before Christmas at the Dutch Lane Winter Concert on December 18.

What the Politicians are Saying...

Many of our readers have had questions about open meetings and the freedom of information laws. Therefore, we are devoting this space to a discussion of the proposals which will be before the legislature at the next session:

Citing considerations of common sense and fairness in its annual report to Governor Cuomo and the state legislature, New York State's Committee on Open Government (COG) has renewed its efforts to strengthen the Freedom of Information Law, the Open Meetings Law and the recently enacted Ethics in Government Act to ensure increased accountability.

If enacted during the upcoming legislative session, proposals to amend the Freedom of Information Law would require the state Legislature to disclose records under the same standards as units of state and local agencies. The law currently specifies and limits the records that must be disclosed by the state legislature. Unless the records fall within narrow exceptions to rights of access, state and local agencies must disclose all records.

The committee also endorsed legislation recommended by Governor Cuomo to strengthen the Open Meetings Law. Due to an amendment passed in 1985, members of political parties who serve on legislative bodies can conduct closed political caucuses to discuss any matter, including matters of public business.

Under the governor's proposal, local legislative bodies that have an overwhelming majority of members from one political party would be required to openly discuss public business.

Other proposed amendments to the Open Meetings Law would, if enacted:

— permit a court to invalidate action taken by a public body when any portion of a meeting was closed in violation of the law;

provide a right to use recording, broadcasting and television equipment at open require public bodies to disclose records to be discussed at meetings prior to or at those meetings.

Copies of the report are available free of charge by writing to: Committee on Open Government, NYS Department of State, 162 Washington Avenue, Albany, NY 12231

MDA Board Approves Record Budget For 1988

The Board of Directors of the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) has approved a record-setting 1988 budget of $102 million, Nassau County Chapter President Eneida Lugo announced recently.

The 1988 budget allocates $76 millionup 11 percent over 1987—for MDA program services, including research, patient and community services, and professional and public health education.

Approximately $20 million will be expended during the upcoming year for MDA's worldwide research program, which awards grants and fellowships to scientists and clini-cians in the U.S. and abroad. The Association's research budget will also support several MDA neuromuscular research centers, as well as five ALS research centers maintained by MDA across the country.

The Association's Board designated $41 million for MDA's patient and community services program which provides medical care, orthopedic aids, and physical, respiratory, and occupational therapy for peo-ple with any of the 40 neuromuscular diseases covered by the Association. The funds allocated for this program will also support some 240 hospital affiliated MDA clinics na-tionwide and 92 MDA summer camp sessions across the country for young people with muscle diseases

MDA's budget for professional and public health education will total 115 million. The Association's 1988 budget also includes 119 million for fund raising and 17 million for management and general expenses. MDA is a national voluntary health agency working to defeat 40 neuromuscular diseases, including the muscular dystrophies, myasthenia gravis, and amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS).

A Letter from Lulubelle ...

....I've been thinking about "playing dress up" when I was a child and what a joy it was....In fact, next to playing house, it was my favorite.....I had a girl cousin who was just a little younger than I—which, of course, meant that she had second choice of all the dress up things—and we would be lost in the world of pretending to be grown up for hours at a time.....We had a large rectangular piece of an old lace curtain and that was the piece de resistance of the whole collection!!...That could make any little girl a bride!!!...My mother had an old ball gown that was blue satin and lace—and remember my mother was a young lady in the total could wake store on the course of the store of and, remember, my mother was a young lady in the 1911 to 1918 years, so you can pic ture the type of ball gown it was,, and I, even as a skinny little kid, had a hard time fastening the waist...such were the figures in those days.... and there were all sorts of other dress up clothes....hats of all sizes, dresses, jackets, handbags, and even a maribou "fling"....but probably the most exciting to our little-girl minds were the high heeled shoes....Do you remember the exquisite joy of thrusting your small feet into those shoes and clopping all over the house absolutely certain that you looked ravishing—and com-pletely grown up??!!!.....We would sit at a table and pretend to drink tea and talk in the simpering voices which we somehow associated with adults....! don't have any recollection of my little brother being included in this activity, so it must have been a game limited to girls.....but I remember so well the feeling. Iudicrous when I consider it now but so real at the time, of being gorgeous and grown up and completely in command of my surroundings....It's funny, being really grown up isn't like that at all Yours, Lutubelle

The Spirit Of Hospice Care On Long Island

By ISABEL KOGEN

Do you remember the old folk song. "The Times They Are a Changin' "I It seems that this song could be adopted by the hospice movement in the United States because over the years hospice (a comprehensive program of care for people who are terminally ill and their families), has continued to evolve.

their families), has continued to evolve.
National Hospice Organization (NHO)
President John J. Mahoney points out that indeed we've come a long way—from one hospice in 1974 stuggling against the odds, to more than 1600 hospices firmly rooted in the health case delivers waters. Hospice has health care delivery system. Hospice has changed radically, and reimbursement for ser-vices has been a major force in that change. Today more than 490 hospice programs are either certified as Medicare providers or have declared-their intention to become so cer-tified. According to a Johnson and Higgins survey 64 percent of the 1500 surve porations offer a hospice benefit. (NHO Hospice News, June/July 1987.)

While many Long Island hospitals, certified home health agencies, long term health care programs and licensed home care agencies are sensitive to the needs of terminally ill patients and their families, there is, no New York State certified, comprehensive program of hospice care in Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

These unmet needs don't take into account the rapid growth in the number of AIDS patients, for many of whom hospice services would be especially appropriate.

On June 1, 1987, responding to the need to provide services to the underserved terminal ly ill patient/family population on L.I., the Long Island Foundation for Hospice Care and Research, Inc., (acronym LIFFHCAR is pro-nounced "Life-Care") filed a Certificate of Need (CON) application to establish themselves as a certified hospice under Ar-ticle 40 of the Public Health Law. LIFFHCAR received its non-profit incorporation in NY State in 1985, to develop the implement a comprehensive program of hospice care on Long Island.

This was the dream of its founder and president, Westbury resident Virginia F. Sendor. Mrs. Sendor decided that rather than remain frustrated by a lack of adequate, comprehensive care for terminally ill patients and their families on Long Island, she would challenge the problem and become part of the solution the problem and become part of the solution.

"The Hospice movement is relatively new in the United States, said Ms. Sendor, "and people have to be educated to the philosophy of caring It's an interdisciplinary team comprised of physicans, nurses, pharmachsts, clergy psychologists, nutritionists, specially trained volunteers as well as various therapists and experts in other fields, called upon as needed. By working together the team creates at atmosphere in which the patient and family can experience life as fully as possible until the moment of death. Hospice also provide: extended care to support grieving family members before and during bereavement for as long as needed. Hospice services are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year."

LIFFHCAR received two grants from the LIFFHCAR received two grants from the NY State Legislature both "Long Island Delegation Program Items." Recent grants from The Long Island Community Foundation, Citibank, Champion International Chase Manhattan Bank affirm Ms. Sendor's belief that Hospice has many friends.

Targeted to provide certified hospice services in 1988, LIFFHCAR is an independent community-based program, offering bi-partisan, non-denominational, volunteerpartisan, non-denominational, volunteer intensive hospice care—primarily home care with inpatient back-up in existing certified health care facilities. "Initially, we plan to serve all of Nassau County and Western Suf folk," said Ms. Sendor, who confidently stated that "within five years LIFFHCAR will be able to serve the balance of Suffolk County that is unserved." Right now we're starting our "good-neighbor" type services that will include a volunteer home care program, with specially trained volunteers both lay and professional," said Ms. Sendon The volunteer—

The average American spends about 80,000 hours during a lifetime at work. Thus, the environment in which we spend those hours is of concern to all of us. The environment at work also has impacts on our families. The leadership at the work place sets the tone for the impact.

There are basically two types of work place environments. One is "positive" and the other "negative." The negative environment is usually created by a leader who may be very insecure or who just cannot communicate. A pleasant "good morning" is not found in this leader's vocabulary. Preoccupation with business objectives prevents his remembering human qualities. The lack of human caring leads to low productivity; low morale; and the projection of a poor image for the business in the market place. It is much easier to destroy morale than to build it.

We have all faced the situation where institutional problems have been taken out on a poorly motivated staff. I know of one company where the president's declared position was to create tension at all staff levels. He felt that "creative tension," would move the company forward. In reality, it almost drove the business under.

A positive environment provides conditions for the greatest human development. In this environment, an individual will grow. Creative juices will flow resulting in higher productivity. This is not to say that strict standards and demands for excellence should be ignored. To the contrary, establishing positive human relations between employees and the leadership of an organization will allow for the implementation of far more effective standards. Treating employees with human dignity and concern will actually allow an organization to demand greater professionalism and higher performance standards.

Here are some simple guidelines which I have found help create a positive atmosphere:

1. Know as many employees as possible by name, and know something about them as human beings, too.

Have an "open door" policy so that employees will feel free to communicate with you or any level of management on any subject,

3. Provide some type of recognition for creative ideas at all levels.

4. Keep employees informed, on a regular basis, about all aspects of your organization's activities.

5. Develop programs to make sure new employees are made to feel welcome immediately

6. Let employees know about you as a person.

7. Provide a system for employees interested in promotion to be considered for new opportunities

Finally, one other thought-employees will always reflect the attitude of the leader. If the leader has a smile and a sincere compassion for people, the result will be a positive work place with guaranteed higher productivity-and a great place to spend 80,000 hours.

Questions and opinions may be addressed to Mr. McMillan, Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501.

Long Island Firm Celebrates Silver Anniversary

Getting To Know You introduced a new look for it's newcomer welcoming program in conjunction with the start of it's Silver Anniversary celebration on December 18. The company is the nation's fastest growing newcomer welcoming service with head quarters in Westbury.

Getting To Know You produces a program for new homeowners which is sponsored by local merchants and professionals. The vehicle for this program, which serves the New York metropolitan area as well as com-munities in 28 other states, is a UPS-delivered personal phone/address directory. In honor of the Silver Anniversary of the company, the directories delivered starting the celebration year will sport silver covers, the first cover col-

"The cover change not only signifies our 25th year in business," explains Irving Siegel, President and founder of Getting To Know You, "it also demonstrates our determination to keep our program as up to date as possi ble. The silver directory covers were tested as being more attractive to the new homeowner in the late 1080's than our current brown covers. When you consider that the majority of homeowners who receive our directory display them right by their telephones, we want to be certain our media is not only useful, but attractive as well."

The directories are accompanied by gift certificates from the sponsoring merchants and professionals. Information about each advertiser is preprinted in the directory, giv-ing the sponsor a continuous piece of ex-posure in the family's new home. The program helps new homeowners get to know the community, exposing them to the Getting To Know You sponsors' services and products

It is expected that over 400,000 directories will be delivered nationwide by the end of 1987. Getting To Know You was founded in Great Neck, 25 years ago and now serves 2400 communities throughout the country.

For information on Getting To Know You, call 333-9400.

Cetters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

On Friday, December 18, we were fortunate to be able to attend the holiday show Star of the Heart at Human Resources

School in Albertson. We cannot describe in words the happiness we felt watching these physically handicapped children perform. These beautiful children have such determination. such confidence, such joy. We were thrilled to hear Joey Floccari singing Somewhere Out There-what personality-what charisma! We loved the performance of Luigi Dellapina and watching Karen Seeburger and Jose Coons perform their dance number; we enjoyed so much the chorus and the angels....and the lullaby number-and all the other numbers too numerous to name. Of course we especially loved Watch the Stars as our little grandson Clinton was in it. They were just the son Cinton was in it. They were just the best-behaved, happiest children and it was such a pleasure to be with them.

Special thanks go to Mary Leonard, music teacher at the school, for the wonderful show she was able to produce and for giving the children such confidence.

Our congratulations go to all the teachers, teachers' aides, and volunteers at the school. They are the most loving people. You can just see how they love each child. They show the spirit of love throughout the whole year—not just during this time of the year.

Among the many we have met and who we want to thank for teaching and loving these children are: Mrs. Steinberg, Miss Buckley, Mrs. Craft, Addie, Stephanie, Fran, Joy, Marsha, Marie, Maureen, Muriel, Eva. Harriet, Julie, Terri, Dorothy, Jack, and Cris....to name just a few. May God bless them all throughout their days along with Dr. Viscardi, the man who started this school, and is enabling these children to go out into the world and become confi dent, happy and successful adults.

Everyone should make a visit to the school one day to see how these children handle themselves. Being handicapped sometimes may be a blessing—ther ciate every little thing that they accomplish Clinton's Nana and Nonna Flo Gries and Yvonne Siefers

I'is the season to be giving. Why not Tis the season to be giving, vvny nor add a very important part of Long Island's heritage to your list of worthwhile contributions for the new year. The Cold Spring Harbor Fish Hatchery & Aquarium, located at 25A, just west of the village of Cold Spring Harbor, needs your on-going support.

Originally founded in 1883, the Hatchery is constantly growing towards a position of leadership in the field of environmental education. Over the past five years, actually since April of 1982 when the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation ceded control of the Hatchery to the Friends of the Cold Spring Har-bor Fish Hatchery, Inc. (a group of concerned local citizens, who were determined to save the institution,) the Hatchery has grown and contributed immensely to the Long Island community. The Hatchery's highly successful education programs reach school children from all over Long Island Exhibits occupy two buildings and several outdoor habitants. The Hatchery has been a favorite spot for family outings for live generations. One trip to see the fish, turtles, reptiles, and amphibians will fell you why But your financial support is vitally need-ed to insure that the exciting plans on the drawing board at the Hatchery will be realized and flourish.

Dining and Brunching Space in the Large Kitchen

Brought to you by Don Boico, CKD, CR

Solving problems is our main business our main business, and much of it is in trying to find eat-in space in kitchens that seem too small for it.

What you might not

What you might not realize is that too much space can be a problem also. So if you have a lot of kitchen space and want to dine or brunch there are some things to consider.

For dining, even when it is to be informal, there has to be a separation of the two areas. But this need not be a physical separation, such as a wall.

It can, for example, be in a change in the flooring material and separate lighting. Resilient floor covering is most common in a kirchen. It is easy to install carpeting in the area reserved for dining or, in many in the area reserved for dining or, in many cases, to use an area rug. In an open design, any carpeting should match that in the ad-jacent room.

Usually the most satisfactory lighting for this area is a hanging fixture with controls for both direct down light and for more general light. These two types of light can be used in conjunction with each other or separately.

But- of course, it will depend very much on the configuration of your room.

Chances are that you know what you like, But if there are any questions, stop by and check out our answers.

"It is both right and proper that Nassau County and our residents pause during this important week in January to reflect upon the remarkable wisdom and courage displayed by Dr. King during his lifetime? Gulotta said. "It is my fervent hope that the national holiday, combined with enthusiastic support of these special events from County residents of all ethnic backgrounds and regions, will provide an opportunity for all of us to come together in a renewed spirit of cooperation and brotherhood." The County Executive praised the members of the 1988 Martin Luther King Committee for preparing an outstanding schedule of events and activities. The committee members are: Robert VanderWand, Abraham Krasnoff, Abby Kenigsberg and Ar-thur L. Mackey (co-chairpersons); James D. Rice, Executive Secretary and Julius Pearse. Coordinator.

The activities are:

 The Youth on Parade Showcase, Thursday, Jan. 14, 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Hofstra University Playhouse, Hempstead, which will feature the winners of a county-wide competition to honor the work and memory of Dr. King through creative expression in dance, art, music, oratory, and essay. Winn-ingentrants in each category will be announc-ed for elementary, junior high and senior high school age groups. Tickets are 15 for adults. 13 for students. For further information, call

George A. Jones at 535-4878.

• The Martin Luther King Coca-Cola Basketball Classic on Sunday, Jan. 17, beginning at 10:30 a.m. This tournament will feature eight of the top high school basketball teams in the area. Back Pain May Have Many Causes

One of the most common medical problems referred to a rheumatologist is chronic back pain. Back pain may af-fect over one half of all Americans some time in their life, and is one of the leading causes of work disability in this country.

Frequently, back pain results from arthritis of the spine, spasm of the back muscles, inflammation of the joints in the back, or pressure on the spinal nerves. This pain can occur at rest, or with movement, such as walking. Additionally, emotional stress and tension can produce back pain. In fact, anything that puts pressure on the spine may result in back pain.

The discomfort of back pain may be only an occasional dull ache, or a severe, sharp, debilitating pain. Most back pain resolves by itself. However, if the pain is very severe, persists, or is associated with pain or numbness in the legs, you should consult your physician.

Proper treatment can only begin once the cause of the back pain is known. A comprehensive examination, including a complete medical history, and a physical examination are usually required. X-rays, as well as blood rests may be needed to aid in the exact diagnosis.

Fortunately, most back pain can be successfully treated without the use of surgery. Depending on the diagnosis, and if your symptoms do not improve. you may be referred to a rheumatologist (a specialist in arthritis and muscle disorders).

Your rheumatologist can establish an individualized medical program. This may initially involve bed rest, analgesic may initially involve bed rest, analgesic medication, and local heat. Special anti-inflammatory medications, specific exercises, and physical therapy may also be required if the pain is persistent. You should keep in mind that most back pain will improve with proper medical management, and needless pain could be avoided with prompt medical attention. attention.

Life After Retirement -

By HARRY SCHATZ

In 1979, the same year of his retirement, Bill Gottlieb's book, The Golden Age of Jazz, was published by Simon and Schuster and subsequenty in paper back by Da Capo. It will go into its seventh printing this January, the same month that the author will turn 72.

Bill Gottlieb, a long time resident of Great Neck, has received critical acclaim all over the world for his book. The Sunday Times of Lon-don called it "the most evocative and memorable collection of jazz photographs." The New Yorker magazine stated that "Gottlieb was not taking pictures; he was photographing music. He catches the precise moment when the musician's face is suffused with effort and emotion and beauty.

How did Bill achieve his artistry? How is he able to capture the essence, the inner beau-ty, the mood, the feeling of a person in a photographic portrait? "I learned how to take pictures with thought and imagination. I tried to say in the photograph what could not be stated in words. The camera had to express a point of view for me. I looked for emotional content, often waiting for just the right mo-ment to seize the passion, the nostalgia, the drama that momentarily appeared.

No stranger to writing, Bill became a photographer out of necessity. The Washington Post, where he worked after completing college, would not pay a staff photographer to take pictures for Bill's weekly jazz column. Undaunted by this unexpected impediment to his career, he bought the equipment and taught himself to do his own photography. "From that time on I became a writer-photographer," said Bill. His photography paid off. It helped him to become a photo officer in the Air Corps dur-ing World War II, and it was instumental in getting a job as a writer-editor for Down Beat, the jazz magazine.

In 1948, Bill became a producer of educational film strips. McGraw Hill purchased his company in 1969 and made him president of University Films/McGraw Hill. He retired in 1979.

Bill has written and illustrated 15 children's books with sales exceeding five million copies. His jazz photographs have appeared on more than 80 record albums and in books, magazines, newspapers and TV documen-taries. They have also been exhibited in art galleries and museums throughout the coun-try and in Sweden, Scotland and Israel.

How has he been spending his time since his retirement in 1979? "I have been able to work at what really are my hobbies. I'm continuing to do the same thing only on a smaller scale. It is now my 'cottage industry' where I can arrange my time to suit my needs."

Bill has written two books since he left the film strip business, The Golden Age of Jazz, and Science Facts You Won't Believe. He is still busy with the large number of requests he receives from private collectors, magazine editors, record album producers and the news media, for the jazz photographs.

"I'm really having a great time with work and travel. Indeed I'm getting more pleasure out of life now, than when I was younger. I'm able to continue with my tennis which I have played since I was 11 years old. I did a fair amount of tournament tennis with my oldest son Steven, as a father-son team. We were tops in the Eastern Tennis Association and among the top ten in the U.S. for a couple of years. I still play 2 to 3 times a week, generally with younger people," Bill said.

Asked who would be the winner if he could compete with the Bill Gottlieb of 20 years ago, he smiled and said with an obvious moment of self realization, that the younger Bill Gottlieb would be the victor. "I still swing as hard as I used to but the ball doesn't go over

North Shore Business Forum

North Shore Business Forum to feature Jay Horwitz, PR Director, New York Mets, at January 7, 1988 meeting at George Washington Manor Topic: "Publicity, Putting Your Best Foot Forward."

The North Shore Business Forum will leap into the New Year with Jay Horwitz, Public Relations Director for the New York Mets. His topic for the meeting on Thursday, January 7, will be: "Publicity: Putting Your Best Foot Forward." The meeting will be held at the George Washington Manor in Roslyn and will begin at 11:45 a.m. For information/reservations, please call 883-0930.

The North Shore Business Forum, Betty Bingham and Scotty Lee, Directors, provides opportunities for networking, promoting one's business and learning "the latest" from the oustanding speakers, such as Jay Horwitz, who highlight each monthly meeting. The Forum is open to all; one need not be a member to attend.

Jay Horwitz joined the New York Mets in 1980 as part of J. Frank Cashen's new management team. During the seven years since then, he has probably faced some of the greatest challenges to befall any PR man-and weathered them well. He is still there.

Fortunately, he came to the job with good equipment. A graduate of NYU's School of Journalism with an NYU Master's in History as well, he had worked as a sportswriter for the NJ Passaic Herald for three years before he became NYU's Sports Information Direc tor for another three years. In 1972, he signed on as SID for Fairleigh Dickinson and remained there until 1980 when he left to join the New York Mets.

The rest, as they say, is history.

So we have come through another year. Thank God for our blessings. Now the holidays are behind us and the New Year is at hand. It is time to assess the economic

For many it was a good year. They got out of the market before Meltdown Monday. For others, the results were less than satisfactory, they got caught. It is my hope that you did not get out to stay out. The stock market has rewarded those who decided that enough was enough and with a stiff upper lip and knot in the belly, they stayed in the market and have recovered a decent percentage of the October loss.

Last year in the year end article, I mentioned the tax revolution that took place with the passage of the 1986 law. This year you will, at tax time, feel the results. The Internal Revenue Service has been issuing their guidelines for tax practitioners. I have attended one IRS seminar so far, I plan to attend two more. While I am not a tax preparer or an accountant, I must keep up with the rules and practices for my business of giving advice. A good amount of this material will appear in these pages over the next three months.

Our task today is to try to give a reading as to the near future. As many of you know, I believe that 1988 will be the year that a recession starts. Right now I stand almost alone in that assessment. Almost everyone is optimistic. They could be right and I could be wrong. The reasons for their optimism are the booming export market. falling oil prices, a slight lowering of interest rates, falling commodity prices, a rising stock market, a lowering of the Japanese and German interest rates (slightly) and a weak, but better than expected Christmas season.

I do not share their enthusiasm in the intermediate future, I do in the long run and the short run. I no longer feel that we will have a depression, but we will have a recession of much lesser magnitude. The basic reason for this is a signal from the Federal Reserve Board that they will deal with a recession by pumping liquidity into the system, if and when it is needed. The second reason is a different perception and actions taken by the Central Bankers of the world to cooperate and to help the dollar find its value. This cooperation is unprecedented. The third reason is the realization that the hated Russians and the likewise hated Americans may be entering a period of understanding. This will reduce the desire on the part of the two governments to continue the insane arms race. Both countries can get down to better taking care of domestic problems.

So a group of IFs: If the Fed can juggle the twin balls of inflation and economic growth successfully; if the Central bankers of the world can continue their cooperation to stabilize the dollar, and if the Russian/USA cooperation continues, then we have a chance to come out of 1988 relatively unhurt. I will devote an article or two in the early part of 1988 to this subject.

Now I want to wish you all a happy prosperous New Year—may it be all that you want it to be. May you keep your New Year's resolutions. HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Tips for an Error Free Tax Return

The sweeping tax law changes instituted by the Tax Reform Act of 1986 make it more by the lax sciorm Act of 1980 make it more important than ever that taxpayers are fully prepared when they sit down to complete their 1987 federal income tax return. Robert Kobel, Public Affairs Officer for the IRS in Brooklyn, Queens and Long Island, pro-vides the following helpful tips to ensure that an error-free accurately completed tax return can filed as early as possible.

*Collect all necessary forms (i.e., forms 1000 and interest statements) and records (i.e., medical expenses and charitable contributions).

•Make sure you received a form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, from each employer you worked for during 1987.

Don't rush to complete the return. Take your time and consult the instructions.

 Recheck your work after you complete the return. Some people even like to set the return aside for a day or two before undertaking a final check.

Be sure the appropriate exemption boxes are checked and the names of dependents written in. Each dependent age five or older at the end of 1987 must have a social security number listed ols the math correct?

Are all entries on the right lines?

If you rounded off the numbers, was the ounding consistent throughout the return

·Are all the "Total" boxes filled in properly and the numbers on the right line?

•Were the correct tax table and filing status used?

•Remember to sign and date the return.
On a joint return, both spouses must sign.

•Are all the forms W-2 attached? •Attach all the schedules and forms in the order of the "Attachment Sequence No." shown in the upper right corner of the schedule or form

*Use the peel off address label on your return, it speeds the processing. Make any corrections to the information directly on the •Mail the return in the pre-addressed coded envelope, Remember to put on a 22 cent

 Keep a copy of the return, any attached forms and schedules and supporting documentation for your records.

An accurate correctly completed return filed by early February should ensure receipt of a refund within 4-6 weeks.

The 21st century has arrived at the Social Security office in Mineola. A few weeks ago, new computers arrived. When the first terminal was switched on and the display screen lit up in color, the excitement of anticipation surged through each member of the staff. The promise of enhanced service to the public really stirred our imaginations. Now that we actually have some of the equipment here and functioning, the challenge begins.

Taking the mystery out of the new equipment and learning to use it effectively is our

Taking the mystery out of the new equipment and learning to use it effectively is our task now. A comprehensive training program has been developed for our entire staff. While the new equipment promises great things, we know it will require knowledgeable and skilled individuals to make the most effective

Six members of our staff are providing the instruction for the rest of us. They received special training at our regional training center in New York City. They have worked with the system under the guidance of experts. They are now sharing their knowledge and experience in a formal classroom environment in Mineola.

This training is not without its inconvenience to our regular office operations. October, November and December were set aside for our training program. For each of these months, one-third of our staff has been engaged in part-time training. They have not been available for their normal duties.

Two-thirds of our staff on duty during the training months have been responsible for keeping our operations moving. But, things have been moving a little slower than usual. Our office has always been a pretty busy place, but the past few weeks have been especially hectic. We're doing our best to lessen the inconvenience to the public, but it is impossible to eliminate it.

To reduce the inconvenience, of waiting, we are asking people to call us before coming into the office. Most Social Security business can be handled by phone. We even have our special teleclaims procedure which allows people to apply for benefits by phone. If an in-office interview is required, we have an appointment schedule which will eliminate a long wait.

Board Approves "Stop DWI" Program Funding

Hempstead Presiding Supervisor Joseph N. Mondello announced recently that the Nassau County Board of Supervisors has allocated $713,000 for a program to alert residents to the dangers of drinking and

The action was taken at the Monday, Dec.

21, meeting of the Board of Supervisors.
"In recent years, attention has been increasingly focused on the seriousness of driving while intoxicated," stated Presiding Supervisor Mondello, who serves as Vice Chairman of the Board. "All drivers, especially those who are in high school or college, must be made aware of the dangers of DWI and the consequences should they be convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol."

The "STOP-DWI" program will be administered through the Nassau County Traffic Safety Board. Funding will be used to educate motor vehicle operators to the dangers of drinking and driving and the stiff penalties facing those who are convicted, including heavy fines, suspension of the driver's licence and incarceration.

"An ounce of prevention truly is worth a pound of cure," Supervisor Mondello concluded. "Through programs such as the one approved. County government continues to demonstrate its commitment to the safety of pedestrians and motorists. It is imperative that all residents of Nassau County clearly understand that drinking and driving simp ly don't mix.

New Booklet On Assessable Home Improvements

Abe Seldin, Chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, has published a new booklet on home improvements. It tells Nassau County homeowners whether the remodeling projects they are planning will raise their property taxes.

The booklet, "Facts About Home Improvements, Energy Conservation and Assessment," is available free from the Nassau County Department of Assessment.

It tells the Nassau homeowner whether the new fireplace he or she wants to install is taxable (yes) and whether the replacement windows which save money on heating bills will cost money on tax bills (no. If the replace ment is the same size and type, it is considered maintenance and doesn't raise your assessment).

New York Hall Of Science Announces Last Week For "Bubblemania" At The New York Hall Of Science

A different sort of "bubbly" is helping to celebrate New Year at the New York Hall of Science. "Bubblemania", a celebration of bubbles and bubble making, continues through January 3. The festival highlights current exhibits which explore the bubble phenomenon and features activities, workshops, film and video presentations and special demonstrations. The Hall wil be closed on New Year's Day, Friday, January 1. Visitors are invited to investigate bubbles under the microscope, create a bubble art masterpiece using colored bubbles—even get guidance from bubble experts who make bubble behemoths as long as six feet.

Biofeedback Used To Treat 'Yuppie Disease'

Biofeedback is effective treatment in over 87 percent of Chronic Epstein-Barr Virus ("Yuppie") desease patients, according to a paper recently presented to the 5th World Congress on Pain, in Hamburg, Germany, by Dr. Barry Reich, co-director of the Nassau Pain and Stress Center Epstein Barr (CEBV) is a disabling disease with symptoms similar to a severe flu. It is traditionally treated with medications that reduce the strength of the body's immune system. "Biofeedback enhances the immune system," commented Dr. Reich, "and aids the body in helping itself to feel better."

CEBV is known as a "yuppie" disease because of its prevalence in the highly stressed 25-40 year old age group. Women are more susceptible than men.

The Nassau Pain and Stress Center is Long Island's oldest and largest clinic treating stress related ailments with a multi-modal variety of therapeutic and self-help techniques

UP & COMING ATTRACTIONS

Students To, Perform At 52nd All-County Music Festival

On the weekend of Jan 9 and 10, more than 5000 people will convene at the Tilles Center for the Performing Arrs at C.W. Post College in Greenvale for the 52nd Annual Nassau Music Educators Association sponsored All-County Music Festival.

More than 2400 elementary, junior high and senior high music students in public and private schools in Nassau County will participate in three days of rehearsals which will culminate in four festival concerts on Saturday and Sunday, Jan 9 and 10. During these three days the students, who are selected by committees of music teachers on the basis of recommendations and auditions, will rehearse under outstanding band, chorus, or chestra and stage band directors from all over the United States. Directors for the Senior High Festival are Mr. Ronald A. Sutherland of Clarence Public Schools, Band; Dr. David Evans of SUNY at Fredonia, Chorus; Constantine Kitsopoulas of Queens College Orchestra Society, Orchestra; and Justin DiCioccio of McDonald's Tri-State Jazz Ensemble, Stage Band.

Nassau County music teachers who are coordinating the festival are Robert Brase, Malverne; Hilary Sperber, Hicksville; Dennis Moller, Oyster Bay; and President of the Nassau Music Educators Association, Naomi Kalos, Bellemore-Merrick. Ms. Kalos stated that "NMEA's festivals provide the opportunity for our more advanced students to meet with their musical peers under the guidance of some of the country's outstanding musicians. This provides them with experience above and beyond what is available within an individual district.

NORTH SHORE CAMERA CLUB

Creating Better Photographs
By Angle Fuchs
Member North Shore Camera Club

Anyone can take a picture, but not everyone can create a special photograph. There are many "auto-everything" cameras available today; even a child can be taught to take a picture. But to create an exceptional photograph is a creative process.

photograph is a creative process.
Great photography doesn't just happen. There are a number of elements involved, which, when put together, result in that special photograph. First of all is motivation. Without the proper attitude that motivates to a point of total dedication for hard work, and lots of patience to keep trying, one cannot expect to see exceptional work. Without this attitude you cannot bring out the real talent you have within you.

Now consider the mechanics of picture taking. Do you really understand the different controls on your camera! When was the last time you read your camera instruction book? Have you ever used the depth of field/preview button? And how about all those numbers on the lens barrel, do you understand what they are there for?

Those numbers can tell you at a glance what will be in focus and what will not. But first you learn how to read them. Speaking of focus, if your photos or slides are not razor sharp everytime, consider the use of a tripod. It allows you to shoot at smaller apertures for greater depth of field. A tripod will also eliminate camera shake when using a long lens to isolate your subject.

One of the most important components of an exceptional photograph is composition. And the most important element of composition is a "center of interest." Without a strong center of interest a photograph lacks impact. The viewer's eye should go right to the center of interest, and not wander all over the print looking for a place to settle. Without a strong center the photograph is weak and lacks visual excitement. Another point to remember, never put the center of interest smack in the middle of your picture. Divide the field into four imaginary lines, two vertical and two horizontal equally spaced. The scene is now divided into thirds. The points where the lines intersect are sometimes referred to as the "golden mean", and it is at these points that the center of interest should be placed to create-excitement and impact.

Volumes have been written about the subjucet of fine photography, and studying the work of other photographers is the way to get the creative juices flowing. When you view the work of other photographers, professional or amateur, you will not always like what yousee, but you will begin to get ideas of your own and become motivated to try different things.

A good place to see quality and originality of amateur work is at a camera club. So why not try the North Shore Camera Club. You may be in for a pleasant surprise.

This deal comes from a national team-of-four championship played many years ago.

many years ago.
At the first table, the bidding went as shown. East's four club bid ordinarily would have indicated first-round control of clubs. But actually, it was an improvised bid aimed to learn whether West could support diamonds — in which case, if he did, East planned to bid six diamonds. After South doubled four clubs, West passed because he had no clear-cut message to deliver at this point.

COME AND ADVERTISE IN THE SERVICE GUIDE WITH US NEXT

North then decided to try to hamper the opponents in their further exchange of information, since they seemed to be headed towards a silam—and accordingly he bid five clubs preemptively.

East now couldn't afford to hid either five or six diamonds—not knowing whether West held diamond support. He therefore lesped to six spades. This contract surely would have been made, but North, recognizing there was almost no chance of stopping the vulnerable slam, elected to sacrifice at seven clubs.

East doubled and seven clubs went down five—900 points. It was unquestionably a worthwhile save for North-South Had they permitted the spade slam to be played, East-West would have scored 1,430 points.

Note that South lacked the usual requirements for his three club bid With only? high-card points, and only a six-card suit, his bid seems very unusual. But in reality, there was much more to it than meets the eye. It was clear to South that his adversaries were heading towards at least a game. The three club bid could therefore serve not only as a good is abundantly indicated by the outcome. At the other table, East-West arrived at six diamonds, scoring 1,470 points, the opponents maintaining silence throughout. The sacrifice thus gained the North-South pair at the first table 570 points.

Getting Ready For The Slush

Many parts of the country are already experiencing snowfall. This white covering causes a quickening of pulse in ski affi-cionados everywhere. You begin waxing your skies, checking your bindings and looking for new equipment.

This should be the season you begin to insure you too, are in shape for the snow. First. you should consider your aerobic capacity If you have not been participating regularly in an aerobic program, you should consider a walking or biking aerobic program to help improve your endurance. The most likely time to be injured is late in the day when fatigue sets in Increasing your aerobic fitness will enable you to ski longer and safer. Flexibility is another key component. A flexibility program for the entire lower extremity, back and shoulders will help you avoid the common muscle strains of shortened, cold muscles. To increse flexibility re-quires a regular schedule of stretching, beginning a minimum of four weeks before skiing and should be contained throughout

Skiing involves anaerobic work as well. Much of skiing involves waiting followed by a period of activity and then waiting again. To train anaerobically you may want to consider a program of fartleks. Fartleck (the Swedish word for speed play) involves a series of short runs (100-220 yds) interspersed with muscle strengthening activity such as pullups. chinups, and situps.

. Some areas you may want to focus on for strengthening would include your quads, hip abductors (or gluteus medius, for balance)

Being prepared to ski from both the equip-ment standpoint and physically will help you have a long, healthy, exciting season—as long as the snow lasts.

as the snow lasts.

Should you have questions regarding a sports medicine problem, we would be happy to review your questions and use them in a future article. Please address them to SPORTS MEDLINE, c/o Dr. Stephen Henry, 1361 Tyler Park Dr., Louisville, Kentucky

As we greet 1988, all of us have high hopes of better things in the year ahead. Here are some of my sports wishes for the next twelve

1. continued success and even more sponsors for the Long Island Sports Network.

2. a 200th win and much happiness for Farmingdale football coach, Don Snyder.
3. more officials in all sports for Mickey Crowley.
4. less whistles in field hockey and more in soccer, which has become too physical. a cold weather rule to protect athletes. 6. a Long Island Championships in every sport. 7. bigger crowds and better sportsmanship. 8. expanded coverage of high school sports, particularly in New York City. 9. a rule in all sports that an ejected player must sit out an additional game.

10. plenty of overtimes, extra innings and dead heats.

For the past two years, the New York State Sportswriters Association has been attempting to compile a list of New York State football coaches who accumulated 150 victories. The list has continued to grow as correspondents from all eleven sections searchedlocal records. The latest count is 33 and here they are:

Islander's Skate, Stick & Shoot Contest

Boys and girls from Nassau and Suffolk counties are sharpening their hockey skates and skills to compete in the New York Islanders "Skate, Stick and Shoot Youth Hockey Competition." The first preliminary round faces off at Parkwood Rink, Great Neck, Jan. 6, from 6 to 8 p.m. Sponsored by McDonald's and Coca-Cola. the competition will draw an anticipated 700 the competition will draw an anticipated you Long Island kids. Five age groups will com-pete: Mites (7-9), Squirts (10-11), PeeVVees (12-13), Bantams (14-15) and Midgets (16-17). Of-ficial entry blanks for the 1988 Skate, Stick & Shoot competition can be picked up at any Long Island McDonald's restaurant.

The Jan. 6 preliminary skate-off signals the beginning of a long road to the regional final where Long Island's winners will compete against New Jersey's state winners who are sponsored by the New Jersey Devils.

The first preliminary competition at Parkwood Rink will feature 7- to 13-year olds. The next evening, Jan. 7, 14- to 17-year-old boys and girls will take the ice from 6 to 8 p.m.

At Superior Ice Rink in Kings Park, 7- to 13-year olds will compete on Jan. 27, and 14-to 17-year olds on Jan. 28, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

In Hicksville, 7- to 13-year-olds will face off on Feb. 3, and 14-to 17-year-olds on Feb. 4, from

Preliminary winners in each age classification will move to the semi-final rounds scheduled for the Feb. 23, and the March 8

Islanders home games at Nassau Coliseum.

Semi-final winners advance to the Long Island finals that will be held on March 29 dur ing an Islanders home game.

The final showdown between Long Island and New Jersey is scheduled to take place at New Jersey's Brendan Byrne Arena on April 2, during an official Islanders vs. Devils game
