STEP Program Teaches Effective Parenting to Hicksville Residents

Improving parent-child relationships will be the focus of a ten week parenting education group being sponsored by Central Nassau Guidance & Counseling Services, Inc. The group will be based on Systematic Training in Effective Parenting (S.T.E.P.), the most widely used parenting education program in the country.

Through readings, discussions, and audiotapes, parents learn more effective ways of communicating with their youngsters. STEP encourages mutual respect between parent and child, increased cooperation, and a more responsible, self-reliant attitude among children.

STEP participants work together in small support groups. Parents become actively involved in discussing common concerns and learning specific child-training principles and techniques.

The STEP program will be held on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m., beginning in late January. A nominal fee will be charged. Call Central Nassau at 822-6111 for further information.

'Suspicious' Fire Kills Hicksville Man

WINDOWS AND DOORS were boarded at 56 Bloomingdale Rd., Hicksville, after an early morning New Year's Eve fire killed a 29-year-old Hicksville man.

An early morning New Year's Eve fire, which claimed the life of a 29-year-old Hicksville man, has been termed 'suspicious' by fire marshal Bob Doran.

According to Nassau County police spokesman Hank McCann, approximately 30 Bethpage fire fighters responded to the fire at 56 Bloomingdale Rd., Hicksville, at about 5:20 a.m. The man, identified as Bruce Caputo, was pronounced dead at Mid Island Hospital at 6:15 p.m., according to McCann. The cause of death is undetermined. Police said that it took approximately a half an hour to get the flames under control.

Six other occupants in the home escaped without injuries. Bethpage fire chief Peter Hance said that the flames gutted through the third floor and out the roof. He also noted that the entire house had smoke alarms except for the basement.

The cause of the fire is unknown. In addition to the fire marshal, the arson squad is also investigating, McCann said.

In another unrelated police matter, a Hicksville man was arrested in Lynbrook after police there stopped him, ran a computer check, and found 16 suspensions against the motorist's license. Lynbrook officer Carl Lengel said that Tiernan P. Murphy, 27, of 120 Bay Avenue, Hicksville, reportedly a hardware store employee, amassed the suspensions when he failed to answer traffic summonses issued between June, 1982 and December, 1985. Mr. Murphy was released on an appearance ticket, to be arraigned at a later date in Mineola District Court.

Merchant of the Week Hicksville Car Wash

By CATHERINE J. TOKAR

The first major storm of the year has hit Hicksville leaving in its path plenty of snow and ice. Snow plows have spread sand and salt all over the roads, damaging car finishes and underlying components. These corrosion-causing elements can easily be washed away at Hicksville's only full service car wash, Hicksville Car Wash, 37 E. Barclay St., Hicksville. New owners Joseph Vallario and Larry Sangiovanni, Jr., recently finished renovating their business to assure that their customers' cars are cared for properly using the latest in car wash machinery. The two young entrepreneurs, with the help of their fathers, Paul and Larry Sr., have established a good reputation in the car wash business. Mr. Paul Vallario explained that the boys, who are only 21 but have more than 10 years experience between them, are very ambitious. "They will be running things around here," he said. "They are very excited about the new business and will see to each customer's total satisfaction."

Mr. Vallario also explained that the fully modernized Hicksville Car Wash is the result of more than six months of renovations. "We guarantee complete satisfaction," he said. To ensure this quality, each worker is responsible for one car. "Each worker sees to the complete care of one car to eliminate confusion," said Mr. Vallario. Hicksville Car Wash offers a quality full service car wash to protect and beautify your automobile. The full service car wash, which is offered at half price during the grand opening month of January, includes a 100 percent brushless car wash, clean tires, windows and mirrors (inside and out), vacuumed rugs and upholstery, empty ashtrays and car drying. Numerous optional services include foam polish wax, rust inhibitor, chassis bath, super sealer hot wax, mats shampooed, Magic Mist air freshener and a wheel treatment which removes black brake dust. These options are available alone or in many money saving combinations. The auto store, also a part of the car wash, sells several auto supplies such as air fresheners and ice scrapers. The management is currently giving free gifts to the first 5,000 customers.

Hicksville Car Wash is open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. to assist in the quality upkeep of your car. "In about five minutes your car will look as good as new," said Mr. Vallario. "Our car wash is one of the best on Long Island," he assured.

Hicksville Car Wash is located behind the American Medical building on the south side of East Barclay Street, near the railroad. For further information call 681-3235.

Fifth Graders Celebrate American Immigrants

MRS. PASETSKY'S FIFTH graders join together to sing This Land Is Your Land.

It was an afternoon of music, dance and theater dedicated to the American immigrants. On December 8th, Mrs. Pasetsky's fifth grade class at Burns Avenue entertained the entire school with music, dance and theater to promote a better understanding of immigration.

The students did a variety of skits. One was about why people immigrated to America. They traced the stories of the Pilgrims in the 1600's to the immigration of the Russian Jews in the 1900's. The students also explained to their audience that people are still immigrating to this country because of the freedoms we have to offer.

Another skit was a rap song that the students wrote and "rapped" themselves. The song was about the problems and prejudices that many immigrants face in a new country. Some of the problems the students sung about were how hurtful ethnic slurs and the language barrier can be.

The citizenship process was the topic of a puppet show. The audience was taken through the whole process from the landing of the boat and going through customs to studying for the test to become citizens to the courtroom where the Oath of Citizenship is given. Through this puppet show, the students at Burns Avenue learned that an immigrant must be able to read, write, and speak English clearly before they are able to become a US citizen.

After some Greek and Mexican dance numbers, the show closed with the very appropriate song, This Land Is Your Land.

The students were responsible for making all the scenery and puppets and doing their own research. They were also responsible for a fine show.

One Baby Came Close

We received a call Saturday morning from Helen Rybak. Her daughter, Suzanne (Rybak) and John Russo became the parents of a son, Anthony John at 8:13 a.m. January 2nd. Anthony weighed 8 lbs. 14 oz. and is the brother of 3 year old Rita—who celebrated her 3rd birthday New Year's Eve.

Up until now Anthony is the baby born closest to New Years Eve-Day. Our contest ends January 15th—so if you know of a baby born closer to that date—let us know all the information.

Other grandparents are Rudy Rybak and Eileen and John Russo—all of Hicksville. Grandma Rybak said her new grandson is absolutely beautiful. ... he has inch long blonde hair. (Do you think she's prejudiced???)

Condolences

Our condolences to Rhea Reilly and Virginia VanNostrand on the passing of their sister Hortense Rowland.

Cousins Welcome Danielle

Todd, Brad, Evan and Shannon White would like to welcome their new cousin Danielle Marie who was born December 27th. Danielle weighed 6 lbs. 14 oz. at birth and she is the first child of Rosemarie and Joseph DiFranzo of Hicksville.

Happy grandparents are Mary and Joseph DiFranzo and John Wall, all of Hicksville.

Danielle's new cousins also want to congratulate Aunt Rose and Uncle Joe.

Welcome To California Street

The neighbors of Sharon and Daniel McCabe would like to welcome them to California Street. Daniel is originally from Queens Village but Sharon is a real Hicksvilleite. The former Sharon Baird she graduated from Hicksville H.S. in 1970. Sharon and Daniel bought Barbara and Benny Ziemba's home.

Speaking of Barbara and Benny, they're living down in Florida now—but they flew out to Detroit to spend the holidays with their son, Eddie, daughter-in-law Nancy and their three grandchildren. They subscribe to the Illustrated so they'll be surprised when they read about their trip.

Christmas Visitors

Julia Vaughn had a very busy Christmas holiday. Her daughter Janet and son-in-law Ed Meyers were here visiting from Sherburne, New York. They formerly lived in Hicksville until his retirement from the Nassau County Police Dept. He had built a home upstate—so they moved up there. They're back visiting often as three of their children Edwin Meyer, Sandra Sanger and Jeanette Mayer and their five grandchildren are still living here.

Happy Birthday

A happy birthday to Ray Siefert. He celebrated his birthday January 3rd. They'll have a formal party this weekend after son Eric and daughter-in-law Theresa arrive home from a vacation in Palm Springs, Florida and North Carolina.

St. Ignatius 1963-1968 Reunion

welcome. If you know of anyone who would be interested please have them contact George Montana 367-7574; Cheryl Gries Brown 931-4826; Patti Thomas Budinich

He's Identified

Thanks to Medard Offenloch we have identification of the basketball player from the Hicksville High 1938-40 team. It is Joe Leonard (see photo).

One of our readers, George Schoal, wrote in a few weeks ago and said the Illustrated incorrectly identified the player as Joe Baker. We turned to our readers for help.

Medard said that Joe lived on West Cherry Street and was raised by Joe's aunt, Mrs. Wheeler. Medard also mentioned that Joe eventually married and moved to Long Island City.

Medard is an ex-chief and ex-fire commissioner of the Hicksville Fire Dept. His family has lived in Hicksville for over 100 years.

Another Identified Joe Too

Ed Schluter formerly of Raymond Street, and now of Holtsville, New York, called his cousin, Marite Hennessey to inform her that three of the players in that photo were misidentified.

He said that No. 22 is Bill Reimels and No. 23 is Bob Beard and not Red Shore, and that it is Joe Leonard, and that he is deceased.

Marite said that when they were in high school it was very easy to get Red Shore and Bob Beard mixed up—as they looked alike. That is probably the reason for the wrong identity.

Marite and Jim Hennessey had a nice visitor over the holidays. Their son, Roy was here visiting from Louisiana.

Happy Birthday Howard

We at the Illustrated would like to wish our good friend, Howard Finnegan a very, very happy birthday. Monday, January 5th was his big day but he celebrated it with his best friend—Clinton—on Sunday... chocolate cake and all.

First Child for Rev. Raap

The Rev. Frederick and Denise Raap have announced the birth of their first child on December 29th. Their son, Joshua Michael, arrived at 3:38 a.m. weighing 8 lbs. 8 oz.

Rev. Raap, formerly of Trinity Lutheran Church, Hicksville is Pastor at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, 1105 Chamberlain Highway, Kensington, CT 06037.

Our congratulations.

Richard 4-H State Winner

Richard Stasche was seven years old when he became a member of the Blockbusters of Hicksville with Millie O'Callaghan and Fran Stasche as the leaders. Naturally with these two leaders they always had a horticulture project each year. Richard became proficient early in his 4-H career. He gave many presentations at workshops on plant propagations or some other horticulture related item. His first trip to State Fair was with a horticulture demonstration. We're happy to report that this year Richard was a state winner in Wood Science, N.Y.S. 4-H Foundation and county support.

Richard is a 1987 graduate of H.H.S. and is currently attending S.U.N.Y. Farmingdale for Auto Mechanics. With his easy going manner and wonderful friendly way with people he's sure to find success and happiness in his future. Way to go, Richard.

Welcome To Our World

Our welcome goes to Robert Donald Nathanson who went home to Dean Street in Hicksville with his mom and dad, Donna and Robert Nathanson. Robert was born December 18th at South Nassau Communities Hospital in Oceanside. Congratulations.

Youth Council Holiday Party

The Hicksville Youth Council held its annual holiday party at the Elks Lodge on Friday evening, December 18th. The party enabled Hicksville teenagers to get together to celebrate the holidays.

The generosity of the Hicksville Elks Lodge, Subway, Carvel, and Antun's allowed the Youth Council to have the party at no cost to the teenagers. Highlights of the evening included a dance contest won by Jennifer D'Amico and Peggy Arecco, a visit from Santa, and the raffling off of door prizes donated by local businesses.

Feedback from those who attended the party indicated that all had an enjoyable time. The Hicksville Youth Council would like to thank those who contributed to the success of the party: Hicksville Elks Lodge, Subway, Carvel, Antun's, Cousins Video Inc., Rock to Bach, Athletes Foot, Gina's Pizzeria & Restaurant, The Rage, The Ground Round, Stacey's Hallmark, Brighter and Brighter Crystal Jewellery, Mid Island Dart Shop, Pierre Stationary, Gourmet Pizza and Things, Chicks Fashions Inc., Brooks Stationary, Video Brothers, and McDonalds.

As a non-profit agency serving Hicksville teenagers and their families, the Youth Council relies on the Hicksville community for support and greatly appreciates the generosity of Hicksville businesses.

Holiday Spirit Comes To Burns Avenue School

SANTA SPREADS HIS cheer to Burns Avenue students as well as faculty. Here, Mrs. Grumo and Mrs. Finkelstein (first grade teachers) escort Santa to the anxious children.

ANTHONY VERNSE, KERRIE Pucke and Joanna Christoudoulou, from Mrs. Wallman's third grade class, receive their folders with rulers, crayons, paper and stencils. All gifts were furnished by the PTA.

SANTA VISITS WITH Michelle Laino, Seema Pareira and Stephanie Philippou from Mrs. Blaauboer's class. Mrs. Blaauboer gets into the holiday spirit by wrapping garland around her neck, as Mrs. Corrado becomes Santa's helper.

SANTA KNOWS "who's been naughty and nice." Here, he talks with Mrs. Ontasheve's students Jinu, Megan, Tommy and Kevin.

MARMINA YOUSEFF, SECOND grader, tells Santa all the good things he has done throughout the year, and receives his present.

Holiday Sale At Woodland Avenue

Woodland Avenue students, parents and staff had the opportunity to begin their holiday shopping at their PTA Book Fair and Holiday Boutique.

The Book Fair, organized by Mrs. Eileen Hoffman of the Ways and Means Committee of the PTA Executive Board, is held annually to encourage children to select reading material which interests them or to buy books for family members. Parents also had the opportunity to purchase books. Each year, the Book Fair has sparked a tremendous interest in the Woodland student and had reinforced ed the idea that books are good friends and great gifts.

Woodland's Holiday Boutique, organized by Mrs. Janice Nolan and Mrs. Maryanne Zeller, was a tremendous success. Children had the opportunity to purchase holiday gifts from a large assortment of items, including jewelry, pens, erasers, mugs, small toys and even ties for dad. Students enjoyed doing their shopping at school and PTA was happy to offer them a chance to make their own gift selections from an assortment which fit their budgets.

MRS. ELAINE GALLESSICH and Mrs. Louise Pama help children at Woodland's Book Fair.

Holiday Pancakes At Burns Ave. School

Mrs. Grumo's A.M. and P.M. kindergartners and Mrs. Finkelstein's A.M. kindergarten class from Burns Avenue School enjoyed a holiday breakfast together recently. They were served piping hot pancakes with maple syrup, delicious bagels and juice. After feasting on the delicious food, the children participated in a grab bag. Each child selected a wonderful "surprise gift" from the bag and everyone was thrilled with their present. Once again the class mothers and their parent helpers did an outstanding job of organizing, cooking and serving. The highlight of the party was a visit from Santa Claus. Each child got a chance to sit on his knee and tell him just what he or she wanted for Christmas.

JULIO MONTTOYA, Nicole Bartlewitz, Marissa Notskas, JoAnne Viania, Susan Perry and Kerianne Gibbs of Mrs. Grumo's A.M. kindergarten class at Burns Avenue enjoyed a holiday breakfast.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

President's Joe Giordano's Message: 'It is more important to know where you are going than to get there quickly. Do not mistake activity for achievement.'

As I have said on many occasions, members of the Galileo Lodge and the Ladies Auxiliary have performed acts of good will because such conduct is part of their collective nature. Not for personal gain or publicity, only for self-pride and self-satisfaction. There is always that feeling of selflessness among these fine people. It's also self-sacrifice and a kind of humbleness that makes their kindness and generosity so much more amazing. A nice thing about this feeling at our Lodge is that, of course, the publicity is held to a minimum, assuming of course that there is any. Often times there is none. But permit me to offer two letters recently received by the Galileo Lodge which recognizes the good will it extends to the community and its people. And I will paraphrase them.

1) In a letter to the Galileo Lodge from the Peggy O'Connor Dance Studios, Peggy herself writes that at one time, when it was reported that an Italian-American organization would soon be her next-door neighbors, there was some stirring in the neighborhood. Some pros and cons, to say the least. A town meeting was reported and Peggy attended. Peggy O'Connor took that opportunity to welcome the Galileo Lodge, a filial organization of the Sons of Italy in America. Up to this day Peggy O'Connor admits that the Galileo Lodge has been her best neighbors and the best friends anybody could have. Beautiful sentiments from a beautiful lady and her family. Peggy O'Connor also states that our Christmas parties have given her family and the young performers of her troupe the joy of experiencing what Christmas is all about.

Peggy O'Connor and her young performers have also given Christmas a new meaning. 2) A letter written to the Galileo Lodge by the Association of Retarded Children, Inc., of Nassau County thanked the Galileo Lodge for hosting the Gala Christmas Party recently for their special children and their families. Terry Goldman, president wrote about the wonderful time had by all, and stated that as in past years the families of our Lodge members did a wonderful job of making it a great success. She stated that our Lodge and its personnel brought the true spirit of Christmas to all hearts and minds, and expressed her deepest appreciation to the committee, Skip Monteforte, Joseph Giordano and Pete Masiello, and added a tribute to the Peggy O'Connor performers. Terry Goldman noted that the Galileo Lodge is an integral part of the Order of the Sons of Italy in America.

My comment: It appears that good will towards men and women never goes unnoticed. You don't have to publicize what you do because others—those who are the recipients—see it and know it. To give and ask nothing in return. That's it, in a nutshell!

By the time this edition of the Hicksville Illustrated News is printed and distributed, our Gala New Year's Celebration will become a part of the past, or shall I say past Galileo Lodge history. I do not have to say it here because it's obvious it was successful, for everyone's pleasure and enjoyment. Now the Galileo Lodge's 1988 Spring Recreational Program will start to take shape and form. Watch for that news in this column shortly.

SEAN HOLLAND, a sixth grade student, is the Dutch Lane Spelling Bee Champion. Sarah Guerrero, another sixth grader, is the runner-up. Pictured with the winners is Ms. Katcher, the school's reading teacher who ran the contest.

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

I've made just one New Year's resolution. I'm going to take a cab drive around New York City at least once a week in 1988. Why you may ask? Because this column will write itself.

"Can you believe I've been waiting for a cab to pick me up for over an hour?" I said to the driver as I climbed into the back seat of his cab.

"So what else is new in life?" he said, pushing down the meter.

"Well, I just meant that it's been a long..."

"Where you got, lady," he said.
"Penn Station," I said. "I've got to catch the 5:10. I have guests coming for dinner."
"You think you've got problems?" he said.
"The wife's mother came in for New Year's dinner. She brought her fiancée and they're still here."

"That's nice," I said.
"Nice? What do you know from nice when you can say havin' your mother-in-law and her fiancée sleep in your bedroom for goin' on five nights while the wife and I sleep on the pull-out is nice."

"Well, it won't last forever," I said.
"You bet your sweet @# %@ it won't last forever."

"Excuse me," I said, "what kind of talk is that to use?"

"Sorry," he said.

"Did your mother-in-law and her friend drive to New York?"

"Are you kiddin' me?" he said. Princess Margaret Rose is 81 and her affianced is 83.
"My father-in-law is 86," I said, "and he still drives my mother-in-law to the supermarket."

"Well, ain't that nice," he said. "But the wife's mother lives in South Dakota. You know where South Dakota is, lady? South Dakota ain't like drivin' to the supermarket."

"Did they fly or take the train?"

"You think that woman ever made things easy for me?" he said. "She don't like flyin'. The train's too noisy, she says, and now she tells me the Prince Consort thinks the scenery is depressing. They took the bus. The bus! You know where the bus from South Dakota lands?"

"The Port Authority?" I said.
"You got it. The Port Authority. The biggest pain in the @# %@—excuse me, lady—of a place I ever been to. And you know what?" he said, peering at me through the rear-view mirror. "I swear the way the Prince prances around, he's gonna bust a leg and end up like that guy in that movie. You know the one I mean!"

"The Man Who Came For Dinner," I said.
"You got it. You got it. But busted leg or no busted leg, back they go on January 10. I told the wife yesterday. 'Florence,' I said, 'three more days and that is it. You got that?' I told her. 'Three days and back they go. I ain't puttin' up with that pull-out no more than that. Busted leg or no. Bango. Right back to the old Port Authority. To the old Porto Authority," he said, laughing at his own joke.
"We'll all get there," I said.

"Where?" he said.
"Old," I said. And then trying to match his humor, I said, "You know—that old Porto Authority in the sky."

"Jeeze, lady," he said, slamming on the brakes. "I thought you said Penn Station. If I knew you wanted to go to that pain in the @# %@ of a Port Authority, I would have never picked you up."

Hicksville Memories... ...of Ann Clark Candella

It's snowing outside and I'm sitting in my condo reminiscing about Hicksville. It was September of 1955 that I moved into my home in Hicksville. My mortgage payment was only $82.00 a month—and my husband Buddy's take home pay was $180.00 a week. It was difficult making ends meet so he got a part-time job in Robert Hall's Clothing Store on North Broadway (where McDonald's is now located), doing maintenance. He developed a bad case of dermatitis from the chemicals he used for cleaning at the store. He had to stop working completely for 12 weeks. This happened in January, just four months after we had moved to Ketcham Avenue.

He was given $55.00 a week disability.... and do you know.... we managed and were very happy.

We had two sons at the time we moved to Hicksville. Jimmy was 8 and Billy was 6½. Bobby was born six years later. Happy? You bet we were. The boys had good friends to play with in the neighborhood.... and we had wonderful friends and neighbors.

Thinking back on the many times we were without money makes me laugh. I remember one incident that we talked and laughed about many times. Buddy and I both smoked. We were down to our last quarter. We needed bread—and we needed cigarettes. Buddy said, "I'll flip a coin—heads we'll buy bread and tails we'll buy a pack of cigarettes." He flipped the coin—but before it landed he said: "You have flour in the house—make biscuits for breakfast tomorrow morning, I'm going to the store to buy a pack of cigarettes." (Today I don't smoke).

Four and a half years later the bubble burst. Buddy suffered a fatal heart attack. It was really difficult keeping our home, but I was determined that the 10-year struggle was worth the effort to keep on going and we did.... and we had wonderful friends and neighbors.

Ten years later in 1975 I married Ralph Candella. Unfortunately we only had 3½ years of marriage when he succumbed to a fatal heart attack. Does this sound like a morbid story of my memories? It really isn't. I have a tremendous amount of faith—and it gave me the strength to carry on. I thank God every day because even though I had two great losses, I look back at the many happy times I had in Hicksville. The friends I made—and still have. How good they were to me and how they were always there when I needed them.

The day I moved out of my home on Ketcham Avenue I felt like Niagara Falls. How I cried! I didn't think I would ever stop crying. When the truck pulled out of my driveway and I got into my daughter-in-law, Laureen's car, she looked at me and said, "Don't cry Mom. We swept all your memories into the truck and they're going with you." Think about that. Your memories do go with you, right?

After writing these fond memories down I would like to take this opportunity to say—"Thank You Hicksville for all the happy years I had there.... and thank you friends.... You all know who you are...."

Editor's Note: Anyone with memories of life in Hicksville may write to us at 132 East Second St., Mineola, New York 11501.

What New Year's Means To Me

By DEANNE F. PURCELL

New Year's Day is a beginning—like a birth of a baby. A new start in life, a new beginning.

A new year is like a new life. The past is either gone, or never has been. We have 365 days, (366 in leap year) 12 months, 52 weeks, a 24-hour day, always remembering each moment must count and not be wasted.

Some people, if they really followed through on New Year's resolutions, could make a great accomplishment—whether in their personal life, or the life of someone whose life has touched theirs.

You must no longer regret the mistakes of the past. The year is new. If those mistakes can be corrected, that is to the good. If they can't, there are new challenges to meet, and new paths to travel. You must have the courage to try, no matter the consequence. There are people who won't understand and object, but where your head and heart lead you—you must go in case there is no tomorrow to try once more.

Like the baby and the new year I grow as a person.

Hicksville High Happenings...

Hicksville Boys Varsity Swimming

The Hicksville High Boys Varsity Swim Team is the strongest it has ever been. The 22-man squad has already defeated the Wantagh, Great Neck North, and Plainview teams and they intend to continue their assaults for the rest of the 1987-88 season. Coached by Mr. Walter Olsewski, the team's members are Scott Epstein, Bob Kratochvil, Michael DeFina, Dave Gaylord, Tom Graepel, Dave Edlund, Chris Dibiasi, Bret Volo, Eddie Marshall, John Mandra, Robert Cardone, Dennis Fox, Danny La, Scott Fried, Michael Cuti, Christopher Kusinski, Richard Karmann, Scott Wilhelm, Robert Walker, Dennis Schneck, Scott Liptak, and Kevin Flynn. In defeating Plainview, the Hicksville team accomplished the feat of beating an established Conference I swim team for the first time in its history. The captains of the team are Mike DeFina and Scott Epstein. Karyn Karmann, the manager of the team, has put forth an excellent effort.

Here are some reasons why the boys swim team is very strong this year. Dave Gaylord, the diver, is expected to break the school record. Robert Walker, a seventh grader, is one of the key swimmers on the team. He is reported to have the potential to make All-Conference as a distance swimmer. Scott Fried is the team's number one distance swimmer. Senior Scott Epstein is an All-County breaststroker. He is expected to be the fourth swimmer in Nassau County history to break 1,000 career points for his total career scoring. Mike DeFina is the third swimmer in Nassau County history to break 1,000 career points. The team's sprinter, Bob Kratochvil, is expected to have a highly successful season. The team's medley relay is expected to go far, perhaps even as far as the State Championships in Syracuse, N.Y. It consists of Mike DeFina in the backstroke, Scott Epstein in the breaststroke, Bob Kratochvil in the butterfly, and Scott Fried in the freestyle. Mike DeFina explains, "The team has a very positive outlook for the 1987-88 season due to the team's overall ability and determination. Coach Olsewski is an excellent motivator and the driving force of the team."

Future Business Leaders Of America (F.B.L.A.)

F.B.L.A. plans to attend the State Business Championships at Niagara Falls in May 1988. Business meets consist of various members competing against other schools on topics that deal with business. Among them are Business Law, Business Math, Accounting, Management, and Communicative skills. The Hicksville High F.B.L.A. club plans to have a successful season.

New Vision Program Made Available To Veterans

"Many veterans who have a reduction in vision due to eye muscle problems, inoperable cataracts and glaucoma may be helped by a new program called VICTORS available at the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Northport," according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

According to Councilman Clark, VICTORS, Vision Impairment Center to Optimize Remaining Sight, maximizes any remaining sight the individual may have through the use of special visual devices. These devices may include high powered lenses, microscopic spectacles, prism corrections, band and stand magnifiers, absorptive lenses or telescopic corrections.

"This innovative program is an assistance to veterans whose impaired vision cannot be improved through surgical means, treatment with medications, conventional eyeglasses or by wearing corrective contact lenses," said Clark.

Veterans can find out more about VICTORS by contacting the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Northport at (516) 263-4400 ext. 2139. The Eye/Vision program hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Hicksville PAL Basketball News

By CHARLETTE ANSTAY

Our basketball season for boys and girls officially started a few weeks ago. The management of the Hicksville PAL recognizes that these children and teenagers are naturally competitive and want to win; however, we have always prided ourselves on the fact that we run a program that stresses teaching. My son Brian, who participates in basketball, has now entered the sub-intermediate division (boys 11-13). His coaches are instructing him on new aspects of the game he has not learned and preparing him for Middle School sports. My daughter Kristen, who is 9, entered the girls' basketball program for the first time. These coaches have a lot more work since they must instruct children who have never played a game. However, if all the giggles, laughter, companionship and new friends counted, they all had a terrific first game.

Our enrollment has grown each year to the point that unfortunately there will be almost no practices by any teams since the gyms we were allocated by the school district will have to be used primarily for games. It is unfortunate that other youth organizations have numerous practice gyms (they also have additional gyms for games) for night-time and Saturday usage. Some of these youth organizations, in addition to using Hicksville School District gyms, use neighboring school districts gyms. Also some Hicksville School District gyms are allocated to businesses that have residents who do not reside in Hicksville and therefore do not pay our taxes. If you as parents and Hicksville School District taxpayers are disturbed by this misappropriation of gyms, please contact Mr. Tom Shaw, Director of Facilities & Operations of Hicksville School District at 933-6676 and inform him of your dissatisfaction.

Bill Dammes and Duke Angello, managers of the NETS (Boys' Junior Division) are to be complimented on their personal comments regarding their team. They had the following to say regarding their December 22, 1987 game, "Both teams played a very exciting game. We'd like to thank all the parents for their support at the games. This is the best team play we've ever seen."

We are very fortunate in Hicksville PAL to have Joe Bentrewicz, boys' league commissioner and Georger Maggio and Tom Mullee as our girls' league commissioners. Eleanor Bentrewicz is our league coordinator for referees and umpires. If there are any boys who would like to earn some extra money as referees while doing a service to the community, please contact Mrs. Bentrewicz at 822-1124. All our volunteers are doing an outstanding job and are to be congratulated. Our coaching staff for the Basketball Season of 1987-1988 are as follows:

Boys' Rookie League

Knicks: John Caliguiri, Steve Gregg and Tom Ludwig.
Celtics: Larry Soper and Henry Puerta.
Nets: John Schaffer and Jack O'Brien.

EDITORIAL AND OPINION

What the Politicians are Saying...

...From Senator Frank Padavan: The contributions that you and I have made over the years have made possible spectacular breakthroughs in medical science, spared valuable species from extinction, and enabled the physically and developmentally disabled to lead fulfilling lives. Regrettably, there are also people with purely selfish motives who prey upon the generosity of good people. A law was enacted last summer to protect the public by requiring non-profit organizations to more fully report income and expenses.

Potential contributors anxious about a charity should contact the Office of Charities, Department of State, Albany, NY, 12231, (518) 474-3720.

Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan has joined in introducing the Comprehensive Federal Law Enforcement Improvement Act which will study the compensation of law enforcement officers. Often, as in the case of the FBI in NY City, the responsibilities of the Federal officers parallel the local officers but the compensation does not. The Act would also allow criminal investigators in the Office of the Inspector General to serve subpoenas, obtain search warrants, and carry firearms and would enable them to proceed in a criminal investigation without having to wait for other law enforcement officials to intercede.

From Assemblyman John C. Cochrane: The New York State Public Service Commission is offering free home energy audits. An auditor from LILCO will conduct a free on-site inspection of your home and suggest ways to make it more energy efficient and estimate how much money you can save. To make an appointment, call 1-800-852-3733.

Assemblyman Daniel Frisa (R-Westbury) is sponsoring legislation to set up no-interest loans for municipalities and school districts that have been hit with unanticipated health insurance increases of more than 60 percent under the state's Empire Plan. The proposed rate increase will cost Nassau County an additional $30 million in increased health premiums annually. Local school districts participating in the Empire Plan include East Meadow, Hicksville, Jericho, Levittown, Locust Valley, North Bellmore, North Shore, Oyster Bay-East Norwich, Syosset, Roslyn, and Westbury.

"The 'miniscule' reduction in Nassau County's 1988 budget in no way ends the spend and tax policy of the present county administration," said John W. Matthews, Nassau Democratic Chairman. County Executive Thomas Gulotta has said that at the end of 1988 the county would have a surplus of $80.1 million. "Most of that surplus should be given back to the taxpayers," said Mr. Matthews.

Governor Mario M. Cuomo has accepted an award from the Nations Safety Council honoring New York State for its high level of seat belt usage, and announced an agreement with Island Records to distribute nationally a new record on the subject of drinking and driving. The record, called "This Is Life", is aimed at young audiences. It is by Grammy award nominee Robbie Dupree. A member of his family was killed by a teenage drunk driver. He will donate proceeds of the record to the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee for efforts to combat drunk driving.

With A Little Help

By SUZANNE LUNT

Is taking a bath one of the inalienable rights guaranteed by the Constitution? If not, it ought to be.

After a bath or shower, you feel new, almost reborn. Sponge baths are no substitutes — too namby-pamby; too drippy and do-nothing. You dab here and there and feel tacky when you're done, like something for sale that's been marked down twice because nobody's bothered to dust it or keep it up properly.

When the doctor told me not to bathe, it was because my leg was in a cast and if water got down into it, my leg would itch. Well, it itched anyway and I scratched it by sliding a knitting-needle inside my cast. (But don't you go and do this; you might hurt yourself. It was alright for me; I couldn't stand that terrible itching but you'll just have to tough it out.)

Broken legs generally last maybe six or eight weeks, so you can live through 42 to 56 sponge-baths. But if you need permanent devices for bathing/showering, please consider them all judiciously and ask your doctor about safety before buying:

Padded Bathboard: goes across top of tub to sit on while bathing. $51.50 from Ways & Means, 28001 Citrin Dr., Romulus, Mich. 48174 (800) 221-4413.

Soft Rail: wide padded rail to screw to wall, then use to get up or down with open hand (no need for strong grip as with ordinary rail). $37.50, Ways & Means.

Tubby II Bath Bench: portable (folding, 19-lb.) padded seat with back sits in tub on adjustable, suction-cup legs; left arm flips down to bridge gap from tub to seat; 17 1/4" high, 15" width between legs. $288.50, Ways & Means.

Roll-In or Cushioned Showers: about 1100 a square foot installed (or $2,000 for a 5' x 4' bathroom) plus extra for seats, special controls, etc. from Hygeta Medical Supply, 582 Westbury Ave., Carle Place 11514 (907-8150). Also ask to see their long, angled backbrushes, soap mitts, shower-commode chairs, etc.

(Questions for Suzanne Lunt can be sent to "With A Little Help," Anton Community Newspapers, 132 E. Second St., Mineola, N.Y. 11501, for a personal reply include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...I am always planning to do things that I think are such a good idea and I am always procrastinating so long that they never get done...For example, all of those old sepia-colored family portraits—I had always planned to sit with my Mother and have her tell me who each was and the connection with our family...and, of course, I never did, and now my Mother is gone and I will never know who that lady with the bouffant hairdo and the lovely embroidered gown was, and why we have her picture...and so I decided to reform and to do one of the things I had in mind...So, I called my brother and made a date with him to have dinner, just the two of us, to talk about things that we remember from our childhood and to tape them on my little recorder...There are only two in our family...And so we sat and talked and I learned many things that I had never known...my brother had made many small excursions with our Father and so he had tales to tell of selecting lumber carefully, piece by piece, at the local lumber yard...and he reminded me that the Father of his friend around the corner had been an electrician for a movie company on Long Island...and we talked about being accused of entering a vacant house located behind ours and how horrified we were that anyone would think we would do such a thing!... (Our Mother's displeasure would have overwhelmed us!)...But all of these things are not what I want to say to you...I want to say that you should do it now—don't put it off—set up that date and get your memories in order...Can you just imagine what pleasure I have had in listening to that tape...and as time goes on, it will become even more precious...I'm a great believer in preserving the family memories—and so I am very busy going over all the pictures in all the old shoe boxes and labelling each, so that my kids won't wonder just who was who and how were we connected...Start the New Year right—get busy on your memories.

Yours, Lulubelle

By ROBERT R. McMILLAN

On Jan. 9, Richard M. Nixon, the 37th President of the United States will be seventy-five years old. There is a side of Richard Nixon not known to many people. I first met President Nixon during the summer of 1960. I had just resigned from the Justice Department in Washington to join then Vice President Nixon's Presidential campaign staff and was assigned to his Capital Hill office to work on "VIP" mail with his Secretary, Rose Mary Woods. One day the Vice President came through the office and greeted the staff personally. I remember a composed man of warmth who appeared, to me, much different from the black and white TV image of the day.

Our paths were again to cross after the 1964 defeat of Barry Goldwater. I had just lost an election to become a New York City Councilman when I received a call from Mr. Nixon. He said welcome to the "club", referring to the fact that we had both lost elections. He went on to ask whether I could help him out for a few months, as there were increased demands on him as a result of the Goldwater defeat.

Much of the media had written off the Republican Party as a factor in American politics. It was easy for me to accept his offer. What followed was a whirlwind experience which left an indelible impression on my life.

In November of 1964, the office staff was quite small. Rose Mary Woods; Lole Gaunt, an assistant for many years; Anne Higgins, now in charge of all White House correspondence; and on occasion, Pat "Ryan," otherwise known as Mrs. Richard Nixon. Mrs. Nixon came to the office several times a week to help file and answer the phone. She is a wonderful woman who has always been so very supportive of her husband in many ways.

During that period in 1964 and 1965, I travelled with President Nixon to many parts of the country. Two events, however, remain vividly in my mind. Immediately after the election, Mr. Nixon met with Barry Goldwater and President Eisenhower at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. After Senator Goldwater left the meeting, both men discussed the joint approach they would take with the press. I can remember a clear interchange of ideas between the former President and his Vice President. Both men prepared the press statement in an atmosphere of mutual respect and consideration. As we returned to the office, President Nixon talked warmly of his relationship with President Eisenhower.

Another memorable point in my relationship with Richard Nixon came on a trip to Chicago. It was the first trip I made out of town with him. We were staying in a hotel suite with a common living room. Prior to retiring, the President said, "Let's have breakfast in the suite." I placed the order, and the next morning breakfast arrived at the appointed hour. As the waiter left the room, I started to pour the coffee. My hand was not steady, as I was a little nervous. The President noticed my inaccurate pouring of the coffee. Without an audience looking on, the genuineness of President Nixon was displayed to a young assistant. He reached for the coffee pot, putting his hand on mine, and with warmth and a touch of humor said, "Bob, I had better handle this."

Happy Birthday Mr. President!

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

Having noted the article titled "Rotarian Brings Gift of Life to Africa" in the Dec. 27 issue of the Manhasset Press, Mrs. Andrea Martone is to be highly commended for an excellent presentation of her recent interview with me.

She did an outstanding job in not only reporting the facts but also in presenting them in a truly delightful and enticing manner.

The caption selected and the narrative style used in relating my experiences in Africa were so effective that many people here in the Manhasset area not only phoned and complimented me for my endeavors but many others, who I tripped across in town this weekend, came up to me and also enthusiastically remarked about the article.

It is obvious, from all of the compliments received, that Mrs. Martone did a truly fine job on this assignment and should be highly commended for it.

State Watchdog Is Not Toying With Age Labeling Requirements

Richard M. Kessel, Executive Director of the New York State Consumer Protection Board (CPB) has called upon the federal government to require age labeling on all toys manufactured and marketed for children.

According to Mr. Kessel, "The only federal requirement that exists for age labeling is exclusively for electrically operated toys. The age labeling appearing on toy packaging is only a suggested guideline or 'voluntary standard' by industry and therefore does not require disclosure nor does it ensure consistent labeling information from product to product."

Under the federal Hazardous Substances and Consumer Product Safety Acts, the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) oversees the electrical toy requirement, as well as regulates other areas of toy safety (e.g. sharp edges and small parts). The CPSC does not require manufacturers to state the age intended for use for all toys, except those electrically operated. What this means is that although federal regulation bans small parts in new toys intended for children under three, manufacturers are not required to disclose such information on the product package," said Mr. Kessel. "As a result, we have the same type of toys selling on the market with either no or inconsistent age labeling information."

According to Mr. Kessel, age, safety and warning labeling on toys is voluntary and established by the manufacturers of such products. In fact, the Toy Manufacturers of America, Inc. has established voluntary standards for the industry and has done much to combat the sale of dangerous toys. However, CPSC 1986 statistics indicate that nationally there were 35 fatalities and more than 123,000 children who received injuries requiring emergency room treatment incidents.

In a letter to Terrence Scanlon, Chairman of the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Mr. Kessel said, "Age labels are intended to identify the physical ability of a child to manipulate and play with the features of a toy, the mental ability of a child to understand how to use the toy, the play needs and interests applicable at various levels of child development and the safety aspects of the toy itself. Consumers have come to rely on product disclosure information. To deprive consumers of mandatory and consistent toy labeling is misleading and more importantly dangerous to children."

Mr. Kessel urged interested consumers to obtain a copy of toy safety guidelines by sending a post card to: Toy Guidelines, New York State Consumer Protection Board, Post Office Box 6, One Commerce Plaza, Albany, New York, 12260.

Attention: Veterans of LST Service

The United States LST Association is attempting to locate former Navy and Coast Guard crew members and skippers of the 1066 LST (Landing Ship Tank) vessels commissioned during WWV II.

The association, founded on Dec. 1, 1984 in Toledo, Ohio, hopes to unite former shipmates, collect historical data, arrange national reunions and establish an LST Memorial by the men who served aboard this unusual type of amphibious ship which executed a vital service in WWV II.

From 1943 the LST was the key vessel in every major amphibious operation taking ashore the tanks, vehicles, troops and supplies needed to mount a successful landing. Forty-two LST were lost during WWV II service and a great number were damaged due to enemy action.

Theater Chain Helps Area Blood Supply

In an effort to ensure adequate blood supplies for area hospitals during the holiday seasons, a major motion picture theater chain has added a special public service announcement to its movie schedules. United Artists Communications, Inc. has been showing a 75-second spot about the importance of blood donation in selected theaters in Manhattan, Queens, Brooklyn, Nassau and Suffolk counties since Dec. 17. The Greater New York Blood Program supplied the film clip.

In addition to showing the public service message in its theaters, United Artists is also helping to bolster blood supplies by offering movie-goers a free theater pass when they donate blood during the holidays. Until Jan. 8, movie patrons will be given a blood donor pledge card that may be redeemed for the free pass after donation. Donor sites are located in Manhattan, Mineola, and Melville. Donors can also give blood at mobile blood drives located throughout the metropolitan area. The special movie pass program will be valid through Jan. 15.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 76, in good health and weighing at least 110 pounds, can donate blood. The actual donation takes less than 15 minutes and normal activity can be resumed shortly afterwards. All equipment used to draw blood is sterile and disposable, used only once and then destroyed.

United Artists Theaters in Nassau that are participating in the public service message and movie pass program are the Hicksville Theatre, Meadowbrook Quad, Pequa Theatre, Sunrise Mall Cinema, Manhasset Theatre, and the Syosset Triplex Theatre.

For more information on the special holiday United Artists drive, contact Long Island Blood Services at 752-7300 or the Mineola American Red Cross at 747-3500.

KITCHEN, BATH & HOME INTERIOR IDEAS

Kitchen, Bath Remodeling Are More than Investments

Brought to you by Don Boico, CKD, CR

Since the days when we first heard of an energy crisis, we have learned to judge many purchases in terms of "payback," how long will it take for that purchase to pay for itself in money saved? What's the "payback period"?

It isn't really a valid criterion. We buy things because we want or need them, and because we consider them worth buying. The real payback can come when the time comes to sell the house. Then, very frequently, the investment is paid back in full in added value.

But would we really undertake so major a remodeling project for that kind of reason?

The answer is "very seldom." The fact is that kitchen or bath remodeling pays for itself in sheer joy plus a lot of savings in human energy.

The kitchen gains in function and esthetics. The steps saved add up to miles over the years, and we get a beautiful room to show to our friends.

The bathroom gains in beauty as well as in the storage and counter work space, better lighting and a much nicer place for the grooming and other tasks we do there.

So we get a return on our investment every day, and that is reason enough to visit us and discuss getting the project started now.

Abe Seldin, chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, has announced that applications are now being accepted for property tax exemptions in Nassau County.

"Anyone who wishes to apply in Nassau County for a senior citizens, veterans, disability, solar energy or any other exemption, should do so at this time," Mr. Seldin said. "The application period began Jan. 4 and extends through May 2 in 1988."

During the application period, anyone wishing to receive an exemption for the first time on the October, 1988, school tax bill or the January 1989 county and town tax bill must apply for that exemption to the Nassau County Assessor's office.

All senior citizens already receiving exemption must renew their applications every year. Renewal forms are being mailed.

Veterans receiving less than the $5,000 maximum possible exemption under the old, eligible funds law, may file a supplemental application to increase their benefits if they have received additional qualifying payments since the last time they applied.

The Department of Assessment publishes free booklets about the senior citizens' and veterans' exemption which explain who is eligible and how to apply. Mr. Seldin urged senior citizens who want additional information to call 535-2377. Veterans should call 535-2333.

Polymyalgia Rheumatica - A Disease Which Mimics Arthritis

Polymyalgia rheumatica (PMR), is an illness which causes severe muscle pain, aching, and stiffness. This disorder usually affects women over the age of 50 years. Although the cause of PMR is not known, some rheumatologists (specialists in disorders of the muscles and joints) think that the illness may be inherited.

Patients with PMR suffer severe pain in the muscles of the neck, shoulders, arms, lower back, hips and thighs. Occasionally swelling of the joints may occur, mimicking certain forms of arthritis. The pain is worse in the morning and often makes getting out of bed a very difficult task.

By the time I see a patient with PMR, they are usually very depressed from being in so much pain for a long period of time. These patients may have led very active lives prior to their illness, and often feel frustrated at not being able to accomplish previously simple tasks.

The diagnosis of PMR requires a complete history and physical examination.

Often, several blood tests are required to aid in the diagnosis. One test, called the erythrocyte sedimentation rate, can be very helpful in confirming the diagnosis.

Closely associated with PMR is a disorder called Temporal Arteritis. This illness, which affects a percentage of patients with PMR, results from inflamed blood vessels. This inflammation may produce headaches or even visual problems.

Treatment for polymyalgia rheumatica centers around the use of medications which are able to reduce inflammation, and often begin to give significant relief within 24 to 48 hours.

Should you suspect that you have any of the above symptoms, you should consult your physician or rheumatologist.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

L.I. Cares and INN Receive Citibank Awards

Two Long Island nonprofit organizations dedicated to alleviating the symptoms and causes of poverty, Long Island Cares, Inc. and the Interfaith Nutrition Network (INN) received Citibank's 1987 Award of Excellence. The awards, accompanied by grants of $10,000 for Long Island Cares and $5000 for the INN were presented for outstanding achievements in the area of Community Revitalization.

The Awards of Excellence were received by 66 agencies throughout the New York metropolitan area with accompanying grants totalling $435,500. Agencies eligible for this funding are those addressing housing, economic development and urban issues. However, during the past few years, the focus has shifted toward agencies that work with the homeless and hungry population. In fact in 1987, almost one quarter of the funds allocated was awarded to such agencies.

Long Island Cares, Inc. is an anti-hunger organization founded in 1980 by the late singer and activist Harry Chapin. The overall goal of Long Island Cares is to develop and implement a comprehensive regional food policy which seeks solutions to the root causes of hunger. John Chicherio, Executive Director of Long Island Cares says "the organization works to attack local hunger from both sides of the problem by providing emergency food through our Regional Food Bank and by helping people help themselves through our community outreach programs."

Founded in 1983 by Mike Moran, who is Executive Director, the INN at present operates a total of 10 soup kitchens and four shelters for the homeless in Nassau and Suffolk Counties. Said Mike Moran recently "We do our best to feed the hungry and shelter the homeless. But more importantly, we are trying to attack the root causes by educating the public and elected officials to the growing severity of the problem on Long Island."

BUSINESS AND FINANCE

The Investor's Corner

By JOSEPH P. FREY, Ph.D.

So it's 1988 - Do Not Shoot The Messenger We have just come through a momentous year. Where are we now? The stock market behaved unlike any other period in its intensity. The advance was a record; the giveback in October was also a record. People who thought they had all bases covered, found out that they were engulfed by the intensity of the cataclysm that was visited upon the stock and bond markets in October. We have seen the dollar fall to record lows against all of the major currencies; we have seen massive deficits and massive foreign investments in that debt. The poor have gotten poorer and the rich, richer.

The year also brought the uncovering of massive violations of the rules of stock trading. While we do not know whether this is any kind of a record (the cheating, that is), a record number of cheats have been caught. I am glad because the market distortions caused by the insiders is a cost borne by us all.

We have also seen our Congress "birth a mouse" with the deficit reduction bill that they gave us. I still have to devote an article to the courage of our congressmen who blew a wonderful opportunity to do something about a real crisis.

So now what? Well, President Reagan will be Reagan and resist any meaningful tax rises. I am very much in favor of that. He will also give us another year of a major deficit. I do not like that.

Chairman Greenspan of the Federal Reserve will balance the two balls of fighting inflation and financing the deficits while providing liquidity to the market. Good luck to him. He has been tremendously helped by Iran's refusal to get along with Iraq. The oil price fall is a big plus for all of us.

The stock market will probably rise in the short run on the falling-oil, falling-interest-rate good news. It will fall later as the realization sets in that we really do have serious problems, despite the impression given by the bill just produced by Congress.

Taxable bond prices will rise for awhile because of the falling interest rates. Tax frees will fall in value as the demand slackens. They are less desirable for a variety of reasons, including the reduced tax rate, so demand will fall and, therefore, the price.

The economic climate is usually very good in a presidential year. The party in power does what it can to stay in power, and the Federal Reserve usually accommodates them. I can see nothing now that would change that for this year. We have the added plus of the cooperation of the large economic nations attempting to stabilize the dollar. They are not stimulating their own economies, so the rate of growth in these nations is very low. That will cause huge problems which the world economies may or may not be able to handle. The unrest caused by this refusal will be great, and a big worldwide negative.

In any event, 1988 will, as usual, be good for some and not so good for many. I see it being good in the beginning of the year and then deteriorating later on. Just as I had forecast the sharp falloff of the market (I wish I had been wrong), I must report what I see now. Again, I hope I am wrong. In any event, don't shoot the messenger.

New Mutual Fund For New York Residents

Fidelity Investments has announced the first short-term, tax free mutual fund exclusively for New York residents—The Fidelity New York Tax-Free Short-Term Portfolio.

"For high tax bracket investors, this municipal bond fund bridges the gap between our money market fund and our high yield portfolio," said Noel Hill, Fidelity product manager. "In these times of market volatility, the portfolio's shorter maturity means a higher yield than a tax-free money market fund and more share price stability than a long-term tax free bond fund."

The New York Tax-Free Short-Term Por-

folio invests in securities issued by the state and municipalities of New York. The Portfolio's income is exempt from federal, state and New York City income taxes.

The minimum initial investment in the new portfolio is $2,500. The portfolio has no load or sales charges and offers free checkwriting.

Shareholders may invest by mail, wire or by telephone exchange from an existing Fidelity account. For a prospectus, investors may call Fidelity's toll-free number 1-800-544-6666.

Investment Banker To Lead Polytechnic University

Leading New York financier Paul Hallingby, Jr., a senior managing director of Bear, Stearns & Co., Inc., has been elected Chairman of the Board of New York's Polytechnic University.

Mr. Hallingby's career in the New York financial community spans a period of more than 30 years. Hallingby headed White, Weld & Company until 1978 when it was acquired by Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. He was vice chairman of Merrill Lynch under chairman Donald T. Regan when he moved to Bear Stearns as a general partner in 1980.

"Technology is fundamental to Wall Street in ways that extend beyond the ability to facilitate transactions. The securities markets are being broadened and improved by new technological developments that will continue to impact the core of business over the next decade," predicted Mr. Hallingby.

"Polytechnic University will play an increasingly important role at the cutting-edge of research and in technological education. As chairman, I intend to accelerate the accomplishment of the University's goals," Mr. Hallingby said. "First and foremost, I will spearhead a campaign to raise the funds necessary to meet pressing capital needs."

Paul's leadership signals the launching of a crucial phase of development, building a new campus in Brooklyn, developing an academic center in Westchester, adding facilities on Long Island, and attracting a wave of strong new faculty members to replace the substantial number who are retiring," said

PAUL HALLINGBY, JR.

George Bugliarello, president of Polytechnic.

Mr. Hallingby, who lives with his wife, the former Mai Vilms, in New York City, assumed his new role, in addition to his current full range of responsibilities. "I am elevating my commitment to a new level, because I see the opportunity for an individual effort to make a measurable difference," he said.

ASTD 'Power Sales Planning' Program

The American Society for Training and Development (ASTD), LI chapter, will offer a dinner program "Power Sales Planning: How to Market Yourself and Your Business" at the Howard Johnson Plainview Plaza, 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 12, it was announced by Program VP Barbara Flegenheimer.

The topic was selected because of the importance of sales and marketing in LI service-oriented companies and the increase in small businesses in the region. According to a Nassau County Planning Commission report in 1985, a survey of new tenants renting office space showed about 60 percent of companies responding had less than 25 employees, while only 29 percent had 100 or more.

ANN M. BUTERA

"This program addresses the needs of business owners and professionals, as well as all people working internally who want to get ahead in an organization," said Ms. Flegenheimer.

Guest speaker, Ann M. Butera, founder and director of The Whole Person Project, a management consulting firm in Elmont, will discuss assessing your entrepreneurial profile; the three critical elements for continued business growth; how to identify prospective target markets; the importance of sales goals; and local market planning and promotional activities. Ms. Butera, who held management positions in retailing and banking and hosts the radio show Business Forum, is known for her work in the business community.

"In today's changing business environment," Ms. Butera stated, "you need to set your services apart from the competition. Merely providing a unique or popular service is not enough."

ASTD is a non-profit organization that promotes understanding and recognition of training and development as an essential management function.

Tips For Mail-Order Shopping

When Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward introduced their catalogs around the turn of the century, they had no idea they were starting a trend that would still be going strong today.

The New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants recommends that you follow a few simple steps to avoid some of the most common pitfalls of mail-order shopping.

According to the Society, the first thing to remember is that if it looks too good to be true, it probably is. Be suspicious of mail-order advertisements or catalogs that offer name brand merchandise at remarkably low prices.

There are a number of other steps you can take to avoid being cheated. The first is to contact your local Better Business Bureau before ordering from a mail-order house for the first time. Your local Better Business Bureau will contact its counterpart in the city in which the mail-order company is located to determine if any complaints have been received about the company.

You should also read the ad or catalog closely for disclaimers. Disclaimers indicating that all sales are final or that no warranty is expressed or implied should make you suspicious of the product's quality. Also look for fine print concerning product size and description.

You should be suspicious of a company that lists its address only as post office box. While many reputable mail-order companies have a post office box address for orders, fly-by-

Sibling Group Classes

Mercy Hospital's Social Work Department offers a sibling group for children whose parents are expecting a new baby to be delivered at Mercy. This special Childbirth Preparation and Education Class focuses upon the questions and feelings of "siblings-in-waiting."

The children are given a tour through the waiting room, the entrance to the labor and delivery rooms, the infants' viewing room, and the maternity unit, and are then shown a short film. The children are given an opportunity to share their thoughts and feelings regarding the birth of a new brother or sister and are encouraged to identify the physical characteristics and assist in the care of a newborn infant.

The class is open to children from 3 to 10 years of age and is divided into two groups consisting of 3 to 6 and 7 to 10 year olds. The tours are held from 3 to 4:30 p.m. by appointment and a five dollar fee is required per child. To apply for this one-day class tour, contact the Social Service Office at 255-2252.

Cooking Is Child's Play

So, your five-year old turns up her nose at your pasta salad. Johnny doesn't like mushrooms. Tomatoes are out of the question. You want your children to eat well, but as imaginative as they can be in other areas, they seem to wear blindfolds when it comes to trying new foods.

What is a parent to do? Allow children to help you prepare what you put on the table. Cooking and preparing foods together may also increase a child's confidence in his or her parent. The parent-child team are doing something important together.

Take carrots, for instance. When it comes to vegetables, many parents find that their children simply hate cooked carrots. Try raw carrots instead, along with a nutritious dip of low-fat cottage cheese. A very young child may have fun turning greens for the family salad.

For information about eating for a healthy heart, contact the American Heart Association, Nassau Chapter Office at 741-5522.

Guild of St. Francis Hospital Raises $400,000

St. Francis Hospital President Robert F. Vizza accepted checks totalling $400,000 from the Guild of St. Francis President Elvira Castano at the organization's annual holiday luncheon. Dr. Vizza graciously acknowledged the "tremendous amount of love and effort" represented by the gifts, and the tireless work of Guild members year-long. Forty-five thousand dollars of the total were raised by the St. Francis Thrift Shop; $16,000 through the Hospital Gift Shop; and $339,000 from other major fund-raising activities, such as the Celebrity Golf Classic, Spring Luncheon, the Plant Sale, the Heart-to-Heart Luncheon and the Community Friends Social.

The Guild of St. Francis has a proud history of dedicated support for the Hospital. Established originally in 1941, the Guild today has more than 650 members.

Under the leadership of President Elvie Castano, the organization was able to enlarge this year's annual gift substantially. Her future plans include an even greater goal for next year with the help of a growing base of enthusiastic members.

A large portion of Guild funds are designed for support of the Pediatric Cardiac Program.

Telephone Pioneers Assemble Layettes For 'Boarder Babies'

Alexander Graham Bell would have been proud—after all, the Telephone Pioneers wouldn't exist today if not for his invention back in the late 1870's. And dozens and dozens of pink, blue, yellow and green layettes would not have been crocheted, knitted or bought for "boarder babies" born-or yet to be born-at North Shore University Hospital.

"Boarder babies", those infants born to drug addicted mothers, have been targeted by the Paumanok Chapter of Telephone Pioneers as worthy recipients of the group's many hours of volunteer efforts.

With drug-related problems, their focus this year, Mrs. Marie Broadhurst, President of the Garden City-based Nassau Council of Telephone Pioneers, contacted Rita G. Harper, M.D., Chief, Division of Perinatal Medicine, who confirmed the fact that mothers of boarder babies frequently have neither clothing nor blankets for their infants.

Layettees, including diapers, undershirts, sweaters, blankets and small toys, were contributed by Pioneers, those employed more than 17 years by the Telephone Company, by the Futures, less than 17 years with the company, and Life Member (retirees) Clubs.

Mrs. Broadhurst underscored the group's determination that all items be brand-new, saying, "You get hand-me-downs throughout your life, at least your layette should be brand-new." As the project gathered momentum, not only were all items contributed new, but a great number were handmade as well. The group plans to provide additional necessities for two of the hospital's neediest boarder babies at Christmas time.

No doubt about it, Mr. Bell would surely be proud—as surely as North Shore is grateful.

Restaurant Review

By KENI WOODRUFF

Daruma, 95 Middle Neck Road,
Great Neck

The name of this fine Japanese restaurant is based on a traditional Japanese symbol of striving and indomitable spirit. It takes the form of a "doll," egg-shaped, weighted at the bottom, so it stands upright, no matter how hard or how often it is toppled.

That striving translates into a philosophy of fine dining. Daruma's owners stress quality, natural ingredients, excellence in preparation, and a high regard for their customers.

Masa-san, Daruma's sushi master, is an important part of the restaurant's success. His fourteen years of training and experience are evident in the array of fresh delicacies he prepares in his domain... sushi, sashimi, maki rolls, each containing the most succulent sea foods possible to obtain, each a treat for the eyes, and delicious to eat.

Hot foods are prepared with equal skill by Irie-san, head chef, master of Daruma's kitchen. All the foods at Daruma are naturally seasoned, low in calories, salt, sugar, and most are flavorfully seasoned with stocks and sauces made on premises, with natural bases... vegetables, chicken, beef, etc. (The "san" after these two culinary masters' names is a term of enormous respect).

On a recent visit, I sat at the sushi bar—it's more fun. You get a close look at the preparation, can talk with your fellow diners, ask questions of Masa, who is only too glad to describe the delicacies he prepares so proudly. The tuna was wonderfully fresh, the scallops, sweet and tender, the maki rolls (the California roll—king crab, avocado, flavored rice—is a favorite of most diners) were delicious works of art.

Hot dishes are also a treat here. The tempura is light and crisp—vegetables, chicken or shrimp; the sukiyaki delicately simmered in its own special sauce, savory with vegetables.

MASA-SAN, DARUMA'S SUSHI MASTER, prepares his sea-fresh delicacies with intense concentration.

Second Annual Young Artists Competition

A young cellist or violinist from Long Island will be chosen in January as First Prize winner of the Second Annual Young Artists Competition and the $1,000 Christopher Keene Scholarship, and will perform in the Long Island Philharmonic's Young People's Concerts on March 22, 23, and 24.

Three finalists (two violinists and one cellist), who have previously submitted audition tapes, will compete for the First Prize on Wednesday Jan. 20, at the Tilles Center for the Performing Arts in Greenvale.

The judges for the competition are the Philharmonic's music director, Christopher Keene; the orchestra's concertmaster, Gerald Tarack; and Principal Celloist Jerome Carrington.

The $500 Vincent S. Rositto Award will be given to the Second Prize winner. This award is made possible by a permanent scholarship fund established by the Philharmonic in 1987 from a gift by Mr. Rositto, a musician who for decades worked to bring professional musical performances to Long Island.

The First Prize winner will be the featured soloist in all six of the Young People's Concerts under the direction of Christopher Keene in March. If the winner is a violinist, the Violin Concerto by Samuel Barber will be the featured work; if the winner is a cellist, the Cello Concerto by Victor Herbert will be featured.

The audience for the concerts will be comprised for fourth, fifth and sixth graders from Nassau and Suffolk counties who have participated in the Philharmonic's Arts-In-Education program in their schools in preparation for the concert experience. Two concerts will be presented at the Tilles Center (March 22) two at Hauppauge High School (March 23) and two at Half Hollow Hills High School (March 24).

The co-winners of the 1987 competition, which was open to pianists, were Jane Linn and Derek John Wieland. Mr. Wieland subsequently won the Seventeen Magazine/General Motors national competition, which earned him an engagement with the Cleveland Orchestra during the current season.

Chorus Auditions

Auditions for singers for the Long Island Philharmonic will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, at Commack High School South, Vanderbilt Parkway, Commack. Experienced singers who are strong sight readers and sing either soprano, tenor or bass are invited to call for an audition appointment at 293-2222.

The spring program schedule for the Chorus will include an all Russian evening in April and performance of the Beechov Ninth Symphony and Ralph Vaughn Williams Mass In G Minor in Avery Fisher Hall in May

Demonstration of Acting, TV. Commercials Classes

The "Way Off Broadway" Acting Studio in Great Neck and Dix Hills will offer free demonstrations of their acting techniques from Jan. 11-28 it has been announced. "Way Off Broadway" is celebrating the opening of their new school in Woodbury/Syosset.

The acting studio offers classes in Theater Games, Scene Study, Improvisation, and exercises which promote relaxation and concentration. And it offers a full range of video study, including commercials, film, and soap opera technique, with color video replay.

Since its inception on Long Island three years ago, "Way Off Broadway" has taught hundreds of students from age 8 to their 60s. "In addition to being non-competitive, fun, and promoting self confidence we are proud that dozens of our students have booked their first TV commercials, films, shows, and soaps after studying with us. And, as a direct result of our 'Agency Week', where casting directors, managers, and agents came to meet our students, two of them got jobs on 'One Life To Live' and more than thirty others were called in by the agents and managers to discuss representation," said Judith Lesley, a director and teacher at the school. (Judith can currently be seen pitching Efferdent Nationally.)

Co-founder and teacher Brandwell Teuscher — a 13-year faculty and staff member of the Herbert Berghof studio that taught Marlon Brando, Al Pacino, and Liza Minelli — announced that the second annual Long Island Aid Benefit show will be held at the Plainville Playhouse in June. Last year the group raised more than 13,000 which was donated to the Red Cross.

For further information call Judith Lesley at (212) 741-1682.

OVERBOARD

Goldie Hawn provides a gleaming performance in this romantic comedy. She's a spoiled, rich bitch, heiress who suffers amnesia and then discovers love and humility. Goldie is right in line with Kurt Russell as the hard-working carpenter who extracts revenge by turning her into an overburdened housewife. This latter-day version of "Taming of the Shrew" unfolds with warmth, charm and numerous comic gems that celebrate the values of love and family. (PG)

SEPTEMBER

From Woody Allen, this drifty drama set in a New York country home. Howard (Denholm Elliott) the older neighbor loves Lane (Mia Farrow), a suicidal woman who loves Peter (Sam Waterston) the frustrated writer who loves Stephanie (Dianne Wiest). Lane's married friend. And so forth. The film has lots of talk, much direction of psyche and good acting, but it's all too grim and painfully slow-moving. Give us a break, Woody. (PG)

BROADCAST NEWS

This winning comedy drama, set on a Washington, D.C. TV station, hits the bullseye by dissecting the overblown egos of some people who bring us the evening news. The highly-entertaining story involves three TV journales. Holly Hunter as a savvy producer, William Hurt as an all-looks-and-no-substance anchorman, and Albert Brooks as a brilliant reporter with no camera appeal. They portray sympathetic characters caught up in authentic situations. It's a crackling satire bristling with smart dialogue. (R)

BATTERIES NOT INCLUDED

To-like living saucers are the real stars of this Steven Spielberg inspired children's fantasy. They come to the rescue of some inner city people about to be evicted from their tenement which is slated for demolition. The amazing miniature saucers, which have the ability to produce baby saucers, have the almost human qualities of R2D2, the lovable robot of "Star Wars." Hume Cronyn stars as the crusty older statesman of the tenants. He is supported by Jessica Tandy and Frank McRae. (PG)

Exercise and Cold Weather

Cold weather often is used as an excuse to avoid exercise.

The American Heart Association stresses the importance of regular exercise all year long. Fight the urge to hibernate in cold weather. Try jumping rope.

Jumping rope can provide healthful, vigorous exercise. Many athletes, especially boxers and basketball players, use jumping rope for physical training. It improves agility and coordination and promotes cardiovascular and respiratory fitness.

Any flat, moderately hard surface with sufficient head room can be used for jumping rope. You could find a suitable area in a hallway, recreation room, basement, or garage. Be careful on cement and asphalt, which can be fatiguing and could cause injury to legs and feet.

Wear shoes with adequate support and cushioning to help prevent leg and foot injury. Wear clothing that is loose-fitting to allow easy movement.

Take a few minutes to warm up before you start to jump. Stretch your muscles and tendons, accelerate your breathing and circulation.

Begin jumping for short periods of time. Gradually increase the length and intensity of the exercise. Jump at a steady rhythm for the most benefit. Jumping to music can help maintain a steady rhythm and add fun to the exercise.

Cool down for a few minutes after jumping, so your body can readjust gradually to a decreased physical demand. Don't stand still or lie down. Walk around or repeat some of your warm-up stretches at a slower pace. As with an exercise program, check with your physician before you start jumping rope, especially if you have been ill or inactive for a long time.

For more information about exercise, contact the Heart Association at 365 Willis Ave., Mineola, 11501.

The bidding:

West North East South

1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠

Pass 4 ♠

Opening lead — ace of clubs.

There are all kinds of clues always present that enable a declarer to achieve the best result in a given hand.

The chief backbone of good dummy play is a knowledge of how the unseen cards are divided, and among the best sources for this type of information is the bidding by the opponents.

In the present case, for example,

it's relatively easy for South to draw convincing evidence from the enemy bidding and their first three defensive plays — and thus make the contract.

West leads the ace and another club. East wins with the king and returns the diamond queen. Declarer takes it with the ace and then ruffs a diamond in dummy. He next plays the trump queen, East following low, and the question is whether to finesse.

At this point, South is facing Armageddon. If he finesesses, he fails, ultimately losing a spade trick for down one. But the fact is that it's wrong for declarer to finesse. He should know that he's sure to lose the queen to the king and later suffer untold misery. Instead, he should play the ace and rely on an endplay.

Let's see what South already knows about the adverse hands at trick four. West opened the bidding and on the first three plays it became clear that he had the A-Q of clubs and king of diamonds. Declarer can therefore reasonably assume that West also must have had the heart king to justify his opening bid.

Once this becomes apparent, finessing makes no sense at all. South therefore plays the ace, ruffs his last diamond, cashes the A-K of spades, and relinquishes the lead to West by playing a trump.

Declarer's logical plan of play
now comes together rather elegantly when it turns out that West was dealt only two spades. He wins the trump lead at trick nine and is forced to return a diamond or a club. This enables South to ruff in dummy as discards his spade by and he can gear to school for smell the umbrella to the

"Is stop for Phil."

No Sweat Exercise

To lay back in a comfortable setting and have our body reshaped...if it sounds too good to be true, that's probably because it is too good to be true. More and more "fitness salons", tanning parlors, and even hair styling shops are placing continuous passive motion (or CPM) machines in their facilities to increase their revenues. Claims made by the manufacturers include achieving the "lean look" without sweating or even the most minimal physical exertion. They promise loss of inches through "toning" by flexing and stretching the muscles through their range of motion. They often claim the tables will improve circulation and therefore oxygen flow, eliminate excessive water retention and remove cellulite. What they cautiously mention is that the machines will not increase fitness or cause weight loss.

In a recent article in the Physician and Sportsmedicine Journal (Aug 1987) several sports medicine authorities were interviewed as to the benefits of these CPM machines. They concluded that while these continuous passive motion (CPM) machines may be able to improve a client's range of motion and flexibility, they do not improve a healthy, active person's fitness level. Their greatest value appears to be in rehabilitation.

The use of CPM machines for rehabilitation was developed in 1940's by B.H. Stauffer, M.D. for his wife who suffered from polio. During present days, CPM is used after orthopedic surgery to maintain and increase joint range of motion. Frequently the post op patient will awaken to find him/her self attached to a small, portable CPM machine. The use of CPM machines has revolutionized the field of orthopedic surgery, particularly total joint replacements and in sports medicine, after ligament reconstruction. It is possible that CPM tables may be additionally useful with some people whose condition precludes exercise, such as paraplegics, or after a stroke.

When you examine the bottom line of continuous passive motion machines it is clear that for the able-bodied, healthy adult no physical fitness benefits are to be achieved other than possible increased range of motion. If you are truly interested in physical fitness and weight loss, for long term benefits invest your money in proper diet planning and commit yourself to regular aerobic exercise.

Nassau Sports Review

By JACK WHITE

Last week a young man named Robert Robinson of Buffalo's Emerson High School scored 67 points in a game which his team lost (believe it or not). 125-110. That spectacular individual effort sent fans to the record book and what they found there is quite amazing. Robinson fell 31 points short of the state one game record!

Chuck Kinney of Peru High School (Section 7) scored 98 points in a 1955 game to establish the state mark. That performance broke the standard of 78 which had been set in 1949 by Pat Stark of Syracuse Vocational.

The Long Island record for one game is the 76 scored by Mike Milligan of Long Island Lutheran vs. Baltimore Lutheran in 1978. A year earlier another Lutheran standout, Wayne McCoy, had scored 70 also against Baltimore Lutheran.

Two other New York players have hit the 70 mark: Scott Wilson of Lyme (Section 3) who poured in 74 in 1982 and Don Murbert of Minsdale (Section 6) who totaled 70 in 1969. Bill Harvey of Hampton Bays holds the Suffolk mark with his 62 point effort in 1979. That performance was one point better than the totals recorded by Toby Knight of Port Jefferson in 1973 and Dave Fredericks of West Babylon in 1959.

Nassau's public school record is still held by Harry Manners of Woodmere High (now Hewlett) who scored 58 back in 1954.

More than 300 field hockey high school players, their parents, coaches and officials attended the Annual Nassau County Field Hockey Coaches Association Awards Banquet on Monday, Dec. 14 at the Salisbury on the Green Restaurant, in Eisenhower Park, East Meadow.

At the banquet, recognition was given to those high school players who were selected for the 1987 All-County and All-Conference teams and the Exceptional Senior Game. In addition the Field Hockey Umpires' Association announced the names of varsity and junior varsity teams receiving good sportsmanship awards for the 1987 season.

The guest speaker for the banquet was Ms. Diane Moyers, head coach at Yale University and a former member of the United States Field Hockey Olympic team.

Still another highlight of the evening was the presentation of awards that were given to outstanding women who have made significant contributions to the growth of interscholastic field hockey in Nassau County during the past 25 years.

Ms. Barbara Reis, field hockey coach at Baldwin High School and field president of the Coaches Association, and Ms. Barbara Sellers, Cold Spring Harbor High School coach and Field Hockey Chairperson for the Nassau County Public High School Athletic Association, presided over the ceremonies.
