Hicksville High School Alumni's Future Requires New Interest, Members, Officers

In order to ensure the continuation of the Hicksville High School Alumni Association, new committed, active officers and board members are needed.

President Conrad Weyer has decided to move the 1988 annual meeting from March until April.

The extra time was requested to consider possible reorganization for the association. A membership resolution to dissolve may also be considered.

The membership of the 30-year-old group, which was honored as the Hicksville Community Council Service Organization of the Year in 1987, has remained fast.

Dues from the 400 member group provides the mechanics for basic operation, but down in the trench, workers are needed to raise funds for the more than $3,000 in scholarships and the annual boys' and girls' senior athletic and academic scholarship dinner given each year.

High praise and thanks are extended to those who have served in various capacities over three decades. Due to attrition, longtime board members and officers will need to be replaced by members with new ideas and suggestions for the betterment of the club.

Financial soundness has been buoyed by the largess of a few alumni members. In the course of time those funds have been drying up. The alumni has filled the void caused by the fact there has not been a parent—mother or father's—club in Hicksville for more than 30 years. Over the course, $250,000 has been expended for student scholarships and activities.

Encouragement has been forthcoming. The news of possible curtailment has shocked many graduates. Review of new, earnest, dedicated board candidates is now underway.

Recent graduates from the '50s, '60s and '70s—who would like to give something back to the school—are needed.

The Resolutions Committee is expected to report April 1.

Howard Finnegan (938-1695), Thomas Manaskie (706-3407), and James Fyfe, 5 Joseph Avenue, Bethpage, N.Y. 11714, would welcome ideas and suggestions on board member nominations.

Hicksville Library Awarded NADC Grant

The Hicksville Public Library has been awarded $800 by the Nassau Arts Decentralization Consortium (NADC) in order to expand their public programs. The NADC is a local governing board that evaluates and makes awards for programs featured at schools, libraries and community and civic centers across the county.

The library is one of 47 arts organizations in Nassau County awarded a total of $45,000 in New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) funds.

HICKSVILLE RESIDENT Meghan Coulieri, age 5, a March of Dimes poster girl, helped out recently at Green Acres Shopping Center, Valley Stream, as the March of Dimes staged "jail and bail" to raise funds for the birth defects foundation. Local civic leaders pitched in to help the March of Dimes try to meet their goal of $10,000 for the event. The March of Dimes used the same concept last October to raise $13,000 in Hicksville, a spokesman said. Shown are, from left, Ed Hartman of Valley Stream, the "Judge" who confined the volunteers to "jail;" Charles and Debbie Coulieri of Hicksville, Meghan's parents, and Lisa Julich, a March of Dimes volunteer. In the program, volunteers are "arrested" and "do time" in the jail where they telephone family and friends asking for pledge donations. When the "bail" amount in pledges has been reached, the prisoner is released.

February 26 was a special day for the employees of J.C. Penney's as they honored two of their associates whose retirement plans became official.

Embarking upon these new beginnings are associates Terri Mathas and Dorothy Tiedeman.

Terri Mathas began her career as a J.C. Penney associate in 1972, part-time in stock. Through her skill, dedication and ability she advanced to supervise the Chargeback Department of the store.

Terri is looking forward to her retirement to enjoy her many hobbies: bicycling, walking, to enjoy the beauty of nature and her garden. Adding to her job will be the extra time she will have to spend with her family: son Bill and his wife Nadie; daughter Cathy and her husband Charles Spindel....

Golden Wedding Anniversary

A very special day was held at the home of Carolyn and Dennis Newman. The occasion: the celebration of Carolyn's parents—Amelia and Edward Komorowski's 50th wedding anniversary.

Gene Arthur Steffanetta, presently serving with the U.S. Marine Corps in the Persian Gulf, was able to telephone his son for the occasion and was rewarded with his son's newly learned word "birthday."

All relatives and friends are looking forward to Gene Val's next birthday when all the family will be reunited.

with all the delicious food being prepared by the family. Over 300 photographs were displayed of the four generations. The D.J. (Top Hat—Robert Loggins) was exceptional. Dillon was welcomed home by his cute little sister Bradie Ann. Congratulations Eileen and Doug.

Elks Raise Over $2,000 for Cerebral Palsy Home Care

In 1964, representatives of the New York State Elks Assoc. and the United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New York met to discuss a joint venture to aid more handicapped children and adults in the state. Recognizing that it is in the home that bears the heaviest burden of day-to-day care for the disabled, it was agreed at the 1964 Elks Convention that the Elks would fund a home service program called The Cerebral Palsy Home Program—which was adopted as the Elks major project.

At the 1965 convention, a financing program was approved and by April 1966 two directors and mobil units were in operation to carry out the program. Over the years this program has grown and expanded and now covers the entire state of New York with 26 vans and Home Service Directors. The Elks now finance this project at 1/2 million dollars a year.

The funds are accumulated from Lodge fund-raisers and member donations. Monies are also received from the Grand Lodge's Elks National Foundation. Tax deductible private donations may be made thru local Elks Lodges or so stipulated in contributions to the United Way.

Fund raising for the program takes many forms. Jean Pearson, wife of District Deputy Gus, conceived the first annual Central Island District Ladies Cocktail Party which took place at the Hicksville Lodge on Feb. 8. Present were many dignitaries, members, ladies and guests. County Executive Gulotta presented a citation from the county in honor of the event. Greetings to the gathering were made by Daniel Seip, Exalted Ruler of Hicksville Lodge. With good music, good food and delightful friendship, the event was a great success and over $2,000 was raised.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Arthritis Treatment - A Comprehensive Approach Part III - Arthritis and Nutrition

Nutritional manipulation has been of interest in the treatment of rheumatic illnesses for a period of time. However, recent scientific research has given us some very interesting clues in how this manipulation may be applied to the future treatment of some forms of arthritis.

Prior articles have discussed the rheumatologist's central role in establishing a treatment program based on an individual's arthritis diagnosis. Included in this program will be certain medications and exercises designed to reduce joint inflammation and joint stress. The evaluation may also include an assessment of an individual's nutritional status.

Certain nutritional facts are known about rheumatic illnesses. Vitamin C is important in the synthesis of collagen (a protein contained in joints), and a severe lack of vitamin C can result in a specific type of arthritis (scurvy). Patients with chronic arthritis can develop protein deficiency, and may need supplemental foods. One recent study has suggested a food allergy may contribute to an individual's arthritis. When the arthritis involves weight bearing joints, such as the hips or knees, a gradual weight reduction program may be indicated.

Arthritis is due to joint inflammation. Medications used to treat arthritis attempt to control the body's inflammatory response, thereby reducing inflammation. Recent studies in animals have shown that diets rich in certain fish oils have been able to modify this inflammatory response, and retard the progression of some forms of arthritis.

The diagnosis and treatment of arthritis is complex. No one therapy is right for everyone. The rheumatologist attempts to combine the various techniques of medication, exercise, diet and education to treat an individual's arthritis.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview"

If somebody's auto loan rate seems too good to be true, trust your instincts.

The only way to get an unbelievably low loan rate is to have unrealistically high payments.

Behind all the low rates available these days is a very short term loan. And short term loans can mean painfully high monthly payments.

With a new, low variable rate auto loan from The Bank of New York, you can spread your payments over as many as five years. And since our rate is currently the lowest among all the major banks, that means monthly payments you can live with.

And importantly, your regular monthly payments will never go up. If interest rates rise or fall during the term of the loan we'll simply make the adjustment at the end of your loan term.

To take advantage of our variable rate auto loan just visit one of our 190 convenient branches. Or for an even faster response, call Action Phone at 1-800-942-1784 (out-of-state, call 914-684-5514 collect). ## Hicksville High Happenings...

By ARLEN STRONGIN

School Play

The Hicksville High School drama club held a production of Cole Porter's Anything Goes last week. March 3 was senior citizen's night. On the nights of March 4 and 5, many students and parents showed up to watch their friends and family perform in the play. The play received a highly positive reaction from the audience on all three nights.

The major performers in the play included Tony Walker, Dave Danowski, Dawn Trenka, Rob Allen, Nick Dillillo, Jessica Garnets, Jennifer Jackson and Jane McQuade. Excellent singing performances during the play were given by Dawn Trenka, Tony Walker, Dave Danowski, Jane McQuade, Rob Allen, Shawn Kraemer, Jen Kraemer, Jennifer Tower and Tara Schropfer. An excellent dance sequence was performed by Sue Endres, Jen Miller and Penelope Passaro.

The director of the play was Judith Paseltiner; the assistant director was Ali Bayer; the music director was Tom Butrice; technical director was James Quinlan; and vocal director was Charles Arnold. In charge of costumes were Beth Pilkington, Leanne Sebastino and Betsy Edelstein. All that were involved with the play did an excellent job of presenting the production.

Senior Battle of the Sexes

The first annual Senior Battle of the Sexes was held in the boys' gym at the Hicksville High School on March 1. This is an athletic competition in which guys and girls compete against each other. The boys won, 50-5. Some of the events were a relay, which involved the putting on and off of shirts and pants; a tricycle race; and a volleyball game.

Secret Admirer's Day

"PRESENTING CHRIST TO THE WORLD"

The following was taken upon request of Our Lady of Mercy School, from "Today's Catholic Teacher" magazine, March 1988

Sr. M. Joanne Deegan, Principal, Honored

A blend of thoughtful consideration of others. Excellent managerial skills. Wisdom of past experience. Commitment to Catholic education. Such is the leadership of Sr. Mary Joanne Deegan, principal of Our Lady of Mercy School, Hicksville.

In her nine years at Our Lady of Mercy, Sister has turned this Catholic school into one of only 21 public and nonpublic schools in New York State to be designed a "School of Excellence." Pride in the school is a natural outcome of Sister's zeal for her mission and her complementary partnership with Msgr. James E. Boesel, who was honored by Today's Catholic Teacher an "Outstanding Educator of the past 20 years." He said of Sister, "I think she is (one of) the greatest principals the school has had in years. I commend her for a first-rate operation."

Sister's skills as administrator are highlighted by her commitment to maintaining and fostering a faith-oriented community. She does this by working which families of the community, emphasizing prayer in school, and strongly supporting matters of faith and morality.

Notes a teacher, "Sr. Joanne's enthusiasm, professionalism, care and compassion are certainly exemplary. She is always 'there' for parents, teachers, and students. She never hesitates to volunteer herself in any capacity."

Under Sr. Joanne's leadership, there have been many innovations; establishment of a computer center, media center, newspaper, and video network; monthly speech contests for seventh and eighth grades; faculty prayer services during lent and Advent; math and spelling bees; starting a school band and glee club; upgrading the gym program; participating in a diocesan communications festival; implementing numerous fundraising activities; expanding a mission-support program; and, starting programs for the gifted.

In the larger educational community, Sr. Joanne is "zone leader" for a group of area Catholic schools setting up programs, discussing common concerns and looking for solutions. She is active in a principals' group of the Sisters of Mercy.

SR. M. JOANNE DEEGAN

Concludes another teacher, "Anyone can see why OLM School is such a success with Sr. Joanne as principal. She is warm, sincere, fair, intelligent, and kind."

Elks Regional Hoop Shoot

The New York Regional "Hoop Shoot" was held February 20th at Christ the King High School in Middle Village. After the contest, trophy awards and a dinner were held at Queens Borough Lodge #878 in Elmhurst.

There were twenty-four contestants in this phase of the national contest. Hicksville Elks Lodge #1931 had three entries of this contest: in the 8-9 year old group, Keith Cromwell filled in for Jimmy Toelstedt; Laurie Zeller was also in the 8-9 group; and Robert Paul was the 12-13 group. Keith shot an excellent score of 19-25 to take first place and go onto the State Contest in Horseheads on March 5. Laurie ended up in a three-way tie for first place and had to go into a five-shot shoot off with the other two girls. Her luck deserted her some there and she ended up with a third place trophy. Robert's shooting touch deserted him in the 12-13 group and he ended up in a third place finish, also receiving a trophy.

By the time the national champions are awarded their trophies, over three and a half million boys and girls will have taken part in this national contest thru "Elkdom."

Don't retire your IRA yet!

Right now many people are concerned how the new tax reform may threaten the IRA as a taxable deduction. The good news is that, depending on circumstances, many can still receive a full or partial tax deduction for their contribution. What's more, every one's earnings in IRAs are tax deferred, substantially increasing the interest you keep. In addition, you always have funds available for an emergency (penalty may be imposed), you maintain full control over your retirement investment earnings, and you are fully vested immediately.

Why not find out about the new tax reform and how it will affect IRAs in the future? Your local Beacon branch representative will be happy to discuss details with you.

At Beacon Federal Savings Bank you'll also find a wide range of flexible, high-interest plans for a secure retirement, including IRAs, Keoghs and IRA/Money Market Retirement Accounts. ## OYSTER BAY TOWN TOPICS

Town Uses State Grant to Study Hazardous Household Wastes

The Town of Oyster Bay has been selected to receive a State grant for the purpose of studying household hazardous waste, it was announced this week by Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti.

"The Town is one of five communities in the entire state chosen to receive a $23,500 grant to study the types of household hazardous products being put into the general waste stream," Delligatti stated. "The money will go toward expanding an analysis that is already underway."

Delligatti explained that the Town has been randomly checking garbage as it comes through the Old Bethpage Transfer Station. Empty containers of household hazardous chemicals are pulled from the garbage and sorted according to type. In receiving the grant, the Town was cited as being the only community of the five to receive grants that is currently performing a household waste stream analysis.

One component of the program approved by the State will be a questionnaire to gather information from residents regarding buying habits and use of hazardous household products. Delligatti noted that the questionnaire is currently being formulated and residents can look forward to receiving it sometime later this year.

"The Town is very cognizant of the fact that hazardous household products are being put out with regular household garbage," Delligatti said. "It was for that reason the S.T.O.P. (Stop Throwing Out Pollutants) program was instituted...to give residents a way to properly dispose of hazardous household chemicals and to teach them about safe alternatives. The success of that program resulted in its expansion this year to include more disposal dates and more communities."

"The fact the Town of Oyster Bay has been chosen to receive this grant reflects the ongoing concern of Town officials about such potential dangers to our environment as hazardous household waste," Delligatti concluded. "We look forward to conducting our survey and using the results to help find new ways to protect our environment from all inherent forms of pollution."

Town Sells Bonds

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti has announced the sale of $17,125,000 of long-term serial bonds at a net interest rate of 6.79% to Citicorp Investment Bank.

"Since the Town qualified for F.G.I.C. insurance coverage, the bonds will be rated AAA by both Moody's Investors Service and Standard and Poor's Corporation," Delligatti said.

The Bond Sale comprises consolidation of twenty-three previously authorized bond issues for various Capital Improvement Projects, with a total value of $17,125,000. Details of the sale were handled by Fiscal Advisors, Inc. of Hicksville.

Outing to Benefit Mercy Hospital

On Wednesday, April 13, the Glen Cove, Hicksville, Syosset League of Mercy Hospital is planning a trip to New York City to see the off Broadway show, Nunsense. The bus will leave at 10 a.m. from Sears Automotive in Hicksville. The price for the matinee show and bus is $36.00. Lunch is on your own. For reservations, call Marie at 681-4783 or Mimi at 433-8781.

Proceeds of Mercy League functions are used to satisfy pledges made for the benefit of Mercy Hospital. In February, the league paid their pledge of $1,061.81 for wheelchairs and IV ceiling tracts. The league then took out a new pledge of $7,358.40 for an Intubation Scope for Anesthesia and Microsurgical Instruments for O.R.

FROM THE DESK OF:
SUPERVISOR
DELLIGATTI

Children.

Do we ever stop worrying about them?

When they are young, like my two boys, the concerns are very different than the concerns that parents of young adults express.

Even when they are married, with children of their own, parents still worry about their offspring. My own parents, following my announcement to run for Supervisor, are a good example of that.

But, as I reminisce with them about the period of my youth and compare that time to what is happening today, I can't help but realize that this is a more complicated era, and we, as parents, have more to be concerned about.

Drug experimentation is common place among many of our high schoolers because it's available and the peer pressure to "just try it" is overwhelming.

Middle schools have also been affected and, sadly, there is growing evidence that drugs have found their way into our suburban elementary schools.

Drug treatment admissions for youngsters between the ages of 10 to 19 have risen steadily over the past three years. There is also an alarming rise in the number of those in the same age category who suffer from multi-substance abuse. A recent story in one north shore paper noted an 80 percent increase in cocaine use by 15 to 18 year olds.

While drug problems are relatively new—within the last 30 years—youth alcohol problems have always been around. We all knew kids who, when we were growing up, drank every day; they couldn't get through the day without a couple of six packs. The difference was that then we wrote it off—the person was a loser. Today, we know more about alcoholism. It's a disease that affects people of both sexes, from all walks of life, within all income brackets, of every race and religion.

As a parent, drugs and alcohol frighten me. Despite specifically designed educational programs, the problem has not abated. Education must start in the home at an early age. Talking with your children, listening to their concerns and letting them know you are supportive is part of that process.

There is so much we can do for our children, but beyond a certain age, we cannot control all of their decisions. With education, love and support, they stand a better chance of making the proper ones.

The Town's Drug Abuse Control Agency can help you deal with drug and alcohol problems. If you have any questions or need guidance, call the Helpline at 798-8656.

OYSTER BAY TOWN Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti is greeted by John O'Brien, president of Grumman Corporation, upon his arrival at the Long Island Association's Annual Legislative Reception. O'Brien was the chairman for this year's event, which was held at the Crest Hollow Country Club.

Door-To-Door Solicitors Require Town Permits

Town residents should be aware that organizations involved in door-to-door fund raising must be licensed and are subject to the rules and regulations set forth by the Town's Hawkers, Peddlers, and Solicitors Ordinance, according to Oyster Bay Town Clerk, Carl L. Marcellino.

"This is the time of year when many organizations are involved in door-to-door fund raising," Marcellino explained. "These groups must obtain the necessary Town permits and are bound by certain Town rules that govern all solicitors."

Although door-to-door solicitors from non-profit and religious organizations are exempt from Town permits, they are bound by other Town regulations.

Marcellino noted that all organizations wishing to solicit funds within the Town are required to register and submit a list of names and addresses for all their canvassers to the Town Clerk's office. That same list must also be provided to the Nassau County Police Precinct or appropriate Village Police Department.

"Door-to-door solicitors are also required by Town licensing procedures to carry identification," Marcellino said. "Residents are urged to ask for this identification before allowing anyone into their home or, certainly, before making a contribution."

Residents should read everything they are being asked to sign. If they are not sure what it means, ask questions. If the answers aren't clear, don't sign the petition or make a contribution.

"If any solicitor becomes abusive, or refuses to leave, call your local police department," said Marcellino. "The solicitor can be subject to arrest despite the status of the organization for which they are working."

Marcellino stated that residents may contact his office between 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. weekdays, if they have any complaints about a solicitor in their neighborhood.

"We will not permit the residents of our Town to be harassed," Marcellino concluded. "Even those who are not required to have a permit can be dealt with through my office if they are violating any Town regulations."

Environmental Quality Review Commission to Meet on March 14th

By MARC HERBST

March has been designated as Women's History Month. In recognizing that theme, the Hicksville Republican Club has invited Ms. Lois McKenna, president of the Nassau County Federation of Republican Women, to be the club's guest speaker at the March 11 general membership meeting. The meeting will be held at the Hicksville V.F.W. Hall, 320 South Broadway, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Ms. McKenna will discuss the activities of the Women's Federation and highlight many of its contributions to the Republican Party. She will also review the women's recent New York State winter conference and the increasing influence of women in politics.

Lois McKenna has an impressive resume. She was the first woman to serve as manager of a U.S. Congressional campaign, "Carman for Congress." In 1978 Lois organized a PAC (Political Action Committee) fundraiser that received the largest amount of funds for a challenging candidate. Ms. McKenna then took a recess from national politics to serve as the Town of Oyster Bay Public Information Officer. It wasn't long before Congressman Norman Lent urged Lois to return to the national scene as his executive assistant. Ms. McKenna is currently the director of development for Madonna Heights, a charitable organization.

All members of the community are invited to attend the March meeting. Carol DiMarzo, membership secretary, is now running a new membership drive. If you wish to join, say hello to Carol at Friday's meeting or call her at 433-1390. At last month's meeting Carol signed up the following new members: Corinne Bruns, Nick Caruso, Lauren Elliott, Robert and Phyllis Kiernan, Edward Moeller, Ben, Norman and Richard Pampillonio, Milton and Thodora Pappas, Andrew Petrone, Andrew Pettit, Joseph Pfeifer, Charles Porcasi, Scott and Michele Russo, and Catalina Takarski. On Friday evening add your name to the membership list.

At The Library

Irish Festival

An Irish festival featuring Bill Ochs, master of the Irish Uilleann Pipes, will be held on Sunday, March 13 at 1:30 p.m. at the Hicksville Public Library.

Mr. Ochs will give a lively one-man show weaving together wit, song, pipe music, stories and piping lore.

And at 3 p.m., Sister Maureen O'Donnell will present "An Irish Tour" which introduces the audience to the people of Ireland and their culture. Her sparkling commentary is very interesting.

Tickets are required and are available at the library.

Book Discussion

The book, The Power Broker—Robert Moses and the Fall of New York by Robert

OYSTER BAY TOWN COUNCILMAN Kenneth S. Diamond presents a citation to Kay Gray, who is retiring after 20 years of service to the 4-H Youth Development Program of the Cooperative Extension Association. The Hicksville resident was honored by friends and colleagues at a dinner held at Antun's. Gray served as 4-H staff advisor to the Syosset, North Shore, Mid-Island, North Tobay and Sunrise 4-H Councils and gave generously of her time and talents to teaching both youth and adults sewing, needlework, crafts and wood finishing. Before joining the professional staff, she served as a volunteer 4-H leader in the Mid-Island Council.

Caro will be discussed March 16 at 1 p.m. in the community room of the library.

Books are available at the circulation desk. Everyone is invited to attend.

Travel To India

A unique slide/travel program about India, featuring background music and special lighting, will be held on Tuesday, March 22 at 8 p.m. Travel to exotic regions of India. See its colorfully costumed and bejewelled people. Drift down the Ganges River. Celebrate a festival. All are welcome.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

Abandoned Car Problem Solved

To The Editor:
Thank you very much for printing my letter of February 16 regarding cars abandoned in the Town of Oyster Bay.

As a result of its publication, a patrolman from the Eighth Precinct visited our street and wrote up the two cars that were presently abandoned there. Two days later, a wrecker arrived and towed both cars away.

Truly, the pen is mightier than the sword, and we wish to acknowledge your assistance in getting the job done. We also appreciate the prompt response from the Town of Oyster Bay. Hopefully, this means that the new administration is planning to keep on top of the problem of abandoned cars and illegal dumping.

Mary-Anne Lovato,
Office Manager
Senosonic, Inc.

Keep Our Town Clean

To The Editor:
I have been pleased with your newspaper since its inception. "Scene Around Town" to me is a crucial part of your campaign to keep our town beautiful. I live on Duffy Avenue and since your Scene Photos of conditions in a Duffy Avenue parking field appeared, the abandoned cars were removed. Trash, used tires, carpentry waste and junk in general litter the field. Since July 1987 I have been writing and sending my complaints to the Town of Oyster Bay's Planning and Development offices. I was advised that the matter is being properly handled but I see no improvement as unscrupulous people are using the area as a dumping site. I have lived in the Hicksville-Jericho area for 69 years and remember when the village was rural and beautiful. Keep up the fight.

Frank Abramowitz

No More Violence

To The Editor:
I have been a loyal reader of the Hicksville Illustrated News for many months now and have always looked forward to reading about the goings-on in the neighborhood. It has always been of great interest to me to find out what is happening in the area and to learn of the births, weddings, and good fortune that has fallen on friends, neighbors and old acquaintances.

The reason I am writing is to express my great disappointment with your February 25 issue. When I picked up the paper to settle down to read some pleasant local events I was met with the bold headline "Newlywed Charged in Attempted Murder." The long article detailed the tragic story of a woman attacked in her home and whose husband was charged with attempted murder.

If I had wanted to read such an article (which I did not) I could have bought any one of a number of New York newspapers which thrive on printing these types of stories. I hope that the Illustrated is not planning to continue featuring stories of violence and domestic turmoil. It would be a real shame to have the one paper that gives us pleasant community news, deteriorate to the level of grimness offered by too many other journals.

Marilyn Heller

Animal Safety

To The Editor:

Upon receiving my March 3 copy of the Hicksville Illustrated News, I was surprised to see a photograph of my horse, Royal Amber, on the front page. My delight in seeing this photo was short-lived, and I became appalled and angry at what I saw. The caption read "Kevin Sheehan bravely offers his hand to a horse at the Duffy Avenue corral." The picture shows the child with his tiny fingers extended directly into my horse's face. Thank God my 24-year-old horse is a timid, gentle creature, or that child might today be missing several of those little fingers.

Horses have poor vision up close and as people are constantly feeding these animals, it is not unusual for a horse to mistake a finger for a carrot. Little fingers extended into the face of a 1,000 pound animal are a sure recipe for disaster. Had that child been bitten, I am sure that, as quick as you can say "L.A. Law," I would have found a law suit in my mailbox along with your newspaper.

The proper way to feed a horse is by placing the food object on the flat of your palm with your fingers close together pointing downward, away from their mouth. Poking fingers into the face of the horse is an overall bad idea.

If you simply must feed these animals, for your own safety, please do so properly. All of the horses on Duffy Avenue are extremely tame, well-mannered and gentle. They would never intentionally harm anyone. However, they are animals, and accidents do happen. It is up to us humans to use a little common sense.

While I am on the subject, if you must feed them, please give them only apples or carrots. Sugar is bad for their teeth, and stale cereal, candy, old bread and the assortment of junk that people feed them can be fatal. Horses can not vomit, so if they are fed something that does not agree with them they can develop a severe stomach ache, called "colic," which can result in a ruptured stomach or a twisted intestine. This condition can often lead to a slow and painful death.

I am extremely fortunate to be allowed to keep my horse on the property of the Stolz family. Please be good neighbors, and continue to make this an enjoyable experience for all concerned. Please be careful. Enjoy yourselves looking at the horses, but exert reasonable caution around them.

Nancy J. Dellamura

Reopen American Recycling

This letter is being published upon request: Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti
Town Hall, Audrey Avenue
Oyster Bay, New York 11771

Dear Mr. Delligatti,
I am a local businessman and a life long resident of Hicksville. Before anyone bought their homes we were well aware that Duffy Avenue was an industrial area. I am just as concerned over the environment and the economic stability of our town and the part each and every one of us must play in the recycling effort.

I was one of the many residents in attendance along with a number of local business people at the Duffy Park Civic Association meeting held February 10. I learned, as part of the open dialogue of information over the last six months, to insure the ongoing effort of responsibility and communication, before action, of all future developments at American Recycling of Hicksville. Their presentation, which included an open door policy to anyone, at anytime, to view the operation when reopened, a complete slide presentation on the facility and its operation, future "state-of-the-art" equipment, presented by senior executives of a West German manufacturer, and Mr. John Nevins, [president], answered all questions from the residents. There were a few residents with the close-minded NIMBY ["Not in My Backyard"] attitude who didn't hear anything constructive in this recycling effort, but many, including myself felt positive vibes from this open and honest disclosure.

Being one of many businesses who have used American Recycling's facility, I am well aware of the significant role they have played in its well run and environmentally conscious operation. They have my vote to reopen in what many of us feel to be light and absolutely necessary industry in Hicksville.

Gerald Finn

Editor's Note: American Recycling (AR) was issued a temporary restraining order in August 1987 for operating in an "H" industrial zone which is for light industry. The Town said that AR should be located in an "I" industrial zone for heavy industry.

Kiwanis Club News

Working for the benefit of young people in the community has been the practice of members of Kiwanis Clubs for many years.

The current major emphasis program of Kiwanis International entitled "Our Quest: Their Best" challenges every Kiwanian to work with young people in the community, to help them make their best effort, achieve their best, and give the best back to the community.

At a recent Kiwanis meeting, Steven Scharoff, the New York District chairman for Kiwanis Major Emphasis 1987-88, came to Hicksville to discuss the program and reinforce the plans which the Hicksville Kiwanis Major Emphasis Committee, co-chaired by Donna Jean Schroeder and Connie Clark, has been working on the young people in Hicksville. Complete details of the program in Hicksville will be made available in the near future.

VFW Post 3211 Celebrates 53rd

By PPC Carmine A. Somma

The William M. Gouse, Jr., Post 3211 VFW recently celebrated its 53rd anniversary with a dinner-dance, held at the VFW Hall on South Broadway, Hicksville. Chairman Joseph Messina gave a brief history of the Post, which was originally named the Manetto Post 3211.

Twenty comrades comprised the Post at the time of its inception in February 1935. The first Post officers were: commander Frank J. Holden, senior vice-commander William M. Gouse, Jr., junior vice-commander Frank Almirall, quartermaster Julius A. Heberer, post advocate John Law, chaplain William H. Kranz, officer of the day Matthew McGreen, and trustees Louis Kueken, Lupo Lapid and Joseph Elliott. By the end of 1935, the Post listed 161 members. Today, more than 500 members comprise the Post.

Manetto Plains Post was renamed the William M. Gouse, Jr., Post several years later, as per agreement by the comrades of the Post. "Whoever comrade dies first, shall the post be named after our deceased comrade."

Pvt. William M. Gouse, Jr., died October 6, 1938 at the age of 39. He was the son of Quaker parents and served in World War I. In 1946, the Post held its first meeting in the Odd Fellows Hall and the Masonic Temple in Hicksville, until 1948, when the Post moved into its own building.

The Post supports many Veterans programs. Some of our members visit Northport

Veterans Hospital Ward 8-A every month, and in December, we bring patients from the hospital to the Post to celebrate Christmas with entertainment and gifts.

The Post is very dedicated to serving the community and promoting patriotism. It serves the community by contributing to charitable institutions and organizations such as the Vietnam Veteran Resource Center, the International Games for the Disabled, needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, Hicksville Community Council and many more, including the sponsoring of Boy Scout Troop 3211.

The Post promotes patriotism by offering scholarships, an annual "Voice of Democracy" contest and a coloring book contest, all for active community-oriented students of the Hicksville school system.

In the past, Post 3211 received two national awards for community service. One award was for the formation of a veterans employment agency and the other award was for its first coloring book contest. It was also one of the first organizations to contribute to the refurbishing of the Statue of Liberty.

The Post encourages the community to join the support of the return of POW/MIA servicemen and strive for peace and unity in the world. We also support silent meditation in our public schools.

Post 3211 enjoys the membership of Congressional Medal of Honor recipient George C. Lang, who served in Vietnam.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

Yes, its CARNEVALE (Italian Carnival). No, not in Quebec, Canada or in Rio de Janeiro. It's on Long Island, to be more specific, its at the Galileo Lodge, on Saturday, March 19, which is also our St. Joseph's Dance.

The CARNEVALE comes to our Lodge with "Montemarano," a group of traditional musicians from Montemarano, Italy. This group will perform love songs, dance music, and the traditional music and dances of Montemarano's Carnival, long famous in Campania, Italy, and now known throughout Italy itself.

In a mountainous, thickly wooded region southeast of Naples, known as the Irpinia, villages like Montemarano have conserved archaic forms of Carnival activities which are celebrated by modern people with as much fantasy and relish as their medieval forebears. Love songs and ritual songs, sung in polyphony or in a competitive exchange of verses between a man and woman, are also typical of this region. CARNEVALE now brings these beautiful traditions to New York, along with the compelling sounds of the 'tarantella montemaranesa' and other dances, played on the accordion, clarinet, tambourine and castanets.

Performances will be in the form of a dance party celebration, with a concert followed by an evening of dancing, food, drinks for all. The audience will also have an opportunity to participate in some of the traditional carnival rituals and games. Those who wish are invited to come in carnival costume. The program will be presented both in English and Italian and will also appeal to both Italians and non-Italians of all ages.

CARNEVALE is funded by the New York State Council on the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts. The Institute for Italian-American Studies in Jamaica, Queens is sponsoring this program. Local sponsors include the Sons of Italy of Port Washington, Glen Cove and Hicksville; the Council for the Arts on North Shore (Wunsch Arts Center); the Maria Dell Assunta Society of Westbury; the Societa Sant'Amato di Nusco of Queens; and Generosa and Mariano D'Agnesse of Westbury, who are also the producers of the tour. Anthropologist Anna Lomax Chaitakis is the tour director.

As you can see, or as you read this, this has to be a night of night and it's presented by the Galileo Lodge for your edification. So please don't forget this date: the 19th of March, at the Galileo Lodge. Tickets for this terrific activity, are through Armand DelCioppo (938-4052). Skip Monteforte (931-9351) Tony also Joe Morace at 931-4545.

Then, in April, right on the heels of the St. Joseph's Dance mentioned above, the Galileo Lodge will present its 'Fifties-Sixties' Dance. This dance, as might be obvious by the title, will feature the music of these two periods of time. This dance has had a terrific wave of success at our Lodge everytime it was held, and there is every reason to conclude that this year those successes will be topped. John Cannizarra will chair this event, assisted by Viti Grippi and Rocco Lombardo. There will be more details concerning this 'Fifties-Sixties' Dance, and they will appear in this column. Please stay tuned with this column. Call 931-9351 and ask for the committee people just mentioned here.

All members, please be reminded that dues time is here, and the paying of dues is an obligation.

Hicksville Joins In 150 Years of Music In Public Ed.

During the month of March, the Hicksville Public Schools will join with school districts throughout the country in the celebration of "Music in Our Schools Month". Although this is a yearly celebration, 1988 is significant, for it marks the 150th anniversary of music instruction in the public schools. It was in 1838, when the Boston School Committee resolved to have music instruction included in the schools on a regular basis and affirmed the importance of music instruction for American youth. The theme for the month of March is, therefore, "America Takes Note - The First 150 Years."

As part of this month-long celebration, a Pops Concert will be held on March 15, featuring three-hundred students in grades 8-12 in the senior high school auditorium. Performing will be the bands, orchestras and choruses of both the middle school and the high school, along with the high school Madrigal Singers and Jazz Ensemble. The concert begins at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

Drivers' Licenses Renewed

The State of New York, Department of Motor Vehicles - Operation Outreach will be at the Hicksville Public Library Friday, April 8 from 10 a.m. to noon to renew drivers' license and issue non-driver I.D.s (Drivers' licenses may be renewed up to six months in advance.)

Willet Avenue Selects Outstanding Authors

Willet Avenue School has begun the practice of selecting outstanding authors from each grade level within the school. The first group of model authors were honored at an assembly on February 12. At the assembly, the students were presented with certificates of merit by Mr. Dunn, the principal of Willet Avenue. They were also given the opportunity of reading and discussing some of their work with small groups of students.

Willet's outstanding authors also had one of their selections published in book form. Their books are now part of Willet's Library and can be read by interested students. The display of their books added greatly to the assembly.

Students Participate In Resident Program

East Street sixth graders participated in a three day resident program at Caumsett State Park where students had an opportunity to explore the 1,600 acres of this undeveloped, unspoiled area. The students were able to discover and contrast the many different habitats and to study the differences between the ecosystems at work, during the day and at night as they noted the daily changes. The program include activities in orienteering, astronomy, nocturnal awareness, survival skills, Algonkin food and fire, maple sugaring, weather and glacial geology.

'Friendship Day' at East Street School

The students at East Street School recently had a rewarding experience celebrating "Friendship Day." It was such an enlightening and enjoyable experience that Mr. Granville, principal, suggested that it become an annual event. The students discussed the importance of having friends and respecting the rights and property of others. They made colorful friendship tags for each member of their class as well as their teacher and principal.

This day is one of many to be designated by East Street Student Congress. Representatives from each class in grades 4, 5 and 6 meet once a week with Mr. Timaini, a fifth grade teacher. They have set up a student government and are presently writing East Streets' first constitution in honor of the U.S. national constitution. Some of the ideas for future days are school color day, secret pal day, dress sharply day and clean-up day.

Eric Scully 10 pts., TJ Keevins 4 pts., Mike Famiglietti 4 pts., Brian Harkins played his usual great defense. For the Raiders, Kenny Cardone played his heart out grabbing rebounds and scoring 5 pts. Also scoring were Ed Russo 6 pts., Robert Paul 6 pts., Chris DeBarnado 6 pts., and Robert Baricevac 6 pts.

The Bullets remained tied with the Warriors for the lead with one game remaining by defeating the Supersonics 26-22. Leading the Bullets were, Chris Murphy 7 pts., Kevin Dedcovich 6 pts., Brian Fayda 6 pts., Chris Goia 5 pts., and Chris Koetter 2 pts. For the Supersonics it was their fourth playoff loss with a combined total of 9 pts. Leading scorers, Pat Hart 13 pts., Matt Lewis 4 pts., Matt Voss 2 pts., Carl Rice 1 pt. and John Guerrero 2 pts.

1,000th for Cheslock

An outpouring of affection and admiration by basketball fans at Lehigh University was given to Hicksville's Bill Cheslock as he scored his 1,000th point for the Pennsylvania school.

When the anticipated basket ripped the nets in the third period, the crowd erupted in a standing ovation.

The game was stopped for the four-year career record Cheslock set at Lehigh. Bill's mother was then called from the stands and presented the game ball.

Along with her husband Bill, Barbara Cheslock has attended more than half the 120 games Bill Jr. has participated in. Mrs. Cheslock has been a teacher, for 11 years, in Hicksville Union Free School District #17. Mr. Cheslock has been a long-term employee at Grumman Aerospace.

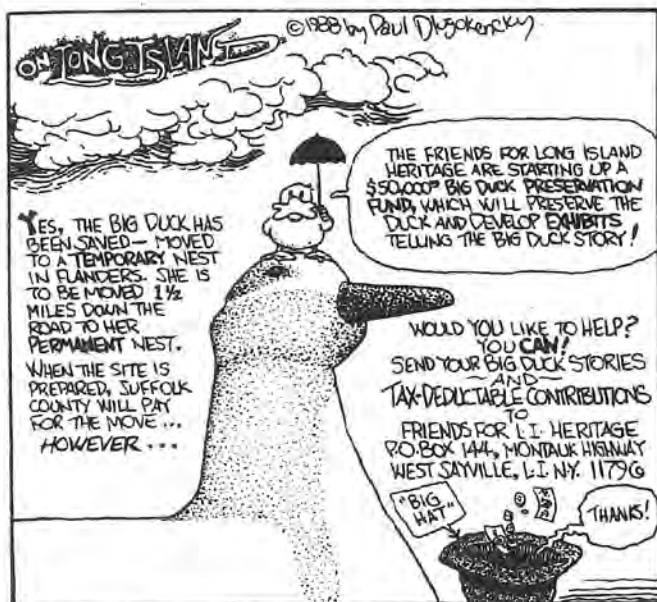

Also journeying to Bethlehem, Pennsylvania for the climatic basket was Coach Wayne "Buddy" Bryan, of Hicksville.

While playing under Bryan at Hicksville, Cheslock was on the 1983 Nassau County Class 'A' Finalist Team. It was his playing, coupled with concentration on academics, that earned him a handsome scholarship at one of the nation's prestigious engineering schools.

What the Politicians Are Saying...

ASSEMBLYMAN DANIEL FRISA (R-Westbury) has released evidence indicating major consumer fraud in the sale of expensive down-filled comforters. Some major New York retailers are selling down comforters with down content that is far below current state and federal requirements. Of the comforters tested, the down content ranged from a low of only 15 percent to a high of 81 percent. Consumers paid as much as $215 for these products believing they contained white goose down as noted on the law label. Further steps are being taken with the help of the Attorney General's office.

Citing the potential loss of $22 million in highway aid to New York State because of a technicality, U.S. SENATORS ALFONSE D'AMATO (R-C-NY) and DANIEL PATRICK MOYNIHAN (D-NY) have proposed a moratorium on federal aid penalties associated with the enforcement of the 55 mph speed limit. Under the highway authorization law, states that have failed to raise their speed limit to 65 mph risk losing up to 10 percent of their federal highway aid if speed monitoring shows a majority of drivers exceeding the 55 mph limit, even if only by one mph.

ASSEMBLYMAN GREGORY R. BECKER (R-C, Lynbrook) has sponsored a legislative resolution commending the U.S. Congress for adopting legislation to close the P.L.O. Mission at the United Nations and the P.L.O. Information Office in Washington, D.C. According to Becker, the Palestine Liberation Organization, under the leadership of Yasser Arafat, has destroyed thousands of lives and families through terrorist acts. New York State Legislature plans to uphold and endorse the actions of the U.S. Congress to close down the P.L.O. headquarters in this country.

The New York State Senate last week passed a bill co-sponsored by SENATOR MICHAEL J. TULLY JR. (R-Roslyn Heights) which will allow senior citizens over the age of 60 to take college courses for credit, without charge, at any State University of New York facility.

A resolution has been adopted by the Assembly Republican Conference opposing the free needle distribution experiment proposed by the New York City Health Department and agreed to by Governor Mario M. Cuomo and State Health Commissioner David Axelrod. Of the 400 addicts in the program, 200 participants will receive clean syringes. The remaining 200 will form a control group. All will receive counseling on drug abuse, AIDS and safe sex. ASSEMBLYMAN KEMP HANNON along with other Assembly Republicans, feels that this proposal is unworkable because the dispensing of needles to addicts would encourage illegal drug activity and hinder the rehabilitation of addicts.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...The ice man, do you remember him? He came in a horse and wagon and he had these huge chunks of ice—maybe forty inches long and twelve by twelve—and they were all covered up in his wagon with pieces of burlap. He came and drew his horse to the curb and went to the back of the wagon, ice pick in hand—(an ice pick was a long tool, rather like a screw driver except it had a very sharp point and was used for breaking the ice into more manageable sizes). He would run the pick across the chunk of ice making little holes in the slit, and then he would pound the pick, and voila, the ice would break—I remember it as being exactly even, but maybe that's only in retrospect—and there would be a cube of ice, maybe twelve by twelve by twelve. He would then get his sturdy iron tongs, much like sugar tongs gone gigundous, and carry the ice into our house through the back door. The ice box was right inside the back door and the ice went into the top compartment. It was a heavily insulated contraption and the bottom door opened on shelves for the food. As the ice melted the water drained through a tube into a drip pan under the ice box. This drip pan often overflowed and even if you did try to empty it, you usually spilled at least half of the water on the kitchen floor. Our house, however, had what was known as a "modern" convenience, and there was a hose under the ice box which led through the foundation and outside. The bushes on that side of the house were always the greenest, watered constantly by the melting ice. The best part of the ice man was that if he liked you, he would splinter off a small chunk for us kids to suck as we watched him work. No one worried about germs in those days. Now, I see in many of the "early American" catalogues, replicas of these ice boxes and they have now moved into the family room where they are cabinets for the television or a small living room bar. Is that progress?

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity.

We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only.

We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:

I don't think LILCO is as dependent on Middle East oil as Ms. Brennan, in her recent five-part series, would have her readers believe. In 1986, according to LILCO, it displaced no less than 11 million barrels of oil or 42% of its total consumption by burning natural gas and purchasing power from other utilities. The company estimated these interchanges saved electric customers approximately $88 million. In 1985, 9.7 million barrels or 39% of total consumption was displaced by similar interchanges, saving customers around $80 million.

Further, LILCO purchases its fuel oil on the international spot market, which means its supplies could just as well originate in Venezuela, Indonesia, Nigeria, Mexico or any number of other countries whose tankers do not pass through the "volatile" Persian Gulf. These facts should have been included in Ms. Brennan's report.

Also, one could construe Robert R. McMillan's pro-LILCO editorial more as an instance of loyalty to one's client, than the kind of treatment of facts a more disinterested observer might render. Mr. McMillan is associated with Rivkin, Radler, Dunne & Bayh, a law firm that is currently representing LILCO in three civil suits. And, while client loyalty is certainly a praiseworthy attribute, it is not the best gauge by which "a look at the facts" should be presented. Apropos, while pointing out the LIPA's secrecy at "most" of its meetings, Mr. McMillan failed to add that LILCO's board holds all of its deliberations "behind closed doors."

If we are to view LILCO as "our" company, a sentiment expressed by Ms. Brennan no fewer than nine times, perhaps more openness on its part would better serve the citizens of Long Island. The same holds true for the LIPA, whether or not it succeeds in a takeover of LILCO.

To The Editor:

The following letter was addressed to Mr. Robert R. McMillan:

Your two articles in the Garden City Life of February 11 were very much to the point and excellent. It is time an authoritative voice put the facts of Government operation of private business can lead to. My wife and I have always spoken against the proposed State takeover of LILCO.

While I'm on the subject of electric supply, let me say, too, that if we are ever going to be independent of foreign oil, we shall have to use nuclear energy so it would be a good idea to operate Shoreham.

With regard to the other article, we are contributors to U. S. English. We believe that all our government business should be in the language of this country, making it necessary for all immigrants to learn it. This does not mean they should forget their native language; they should teach it to their children as a cultural asset but emphasize the language of our country first.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

Direct Line

The facts relating to trade friction between Japan and the United States are well documented. They have been extensively debated, and I do not intend to restate them here. It is sufficient to say that passions are hot on both sides of the Pacific over the current trade imbalance. The solution is not at all in sight. Something has to be done. In addition to easing restrictions at home, there are some steps Japan and its businesses should take in the United States to do a better job in communicating their point of view. If they do not, Presidential campaign rhetoric could find us in a trade war. Japanese products are very well accepted in the United States because of their high quality. At the same time, I submit that Japan and Japanese businessmen are not perceived in the United States as favorably as Japanese products. The creditability of Japan and its businesses needs improvement, and here are some steps that should be taken if Japan is to be better understood in this country.

Robert R. McMillan

1. At home, Japan must do more to promote the importation and purchase of U.S. manufactured goods. Restrictions on the importation of farm products and lumber, in particular, should be modified. Very few automobiles manufactured here ever find their way to Japan.

2. Japanese businesses should take a more active role in U.S. business organizations at the local, state and national levels.

3. U.S. employees of Japanese companies should know the company they work for and have a feeling for Japanese culture. Employees can be an important factor in generating grassroots understanding about Japan.

4. Japanese employees need to be more willing to respond to requests for interviews by the media. Radio and TV talk shows provide an excellent forum for those fluent in English.

5. More support should be given by Japanese companies for the arts, culture, health and other charitable causes in the U.S. Americans expect and need to know that business "gives back" some of its profits to the community.

6. Much more needs to be done to show the positives of Japanese culture and the Japanese people. The island nation of Jamaica spends more on TV advertising in the United States to extol its virtues than does Japan. Australia, Mexico, Canada, Korea and Thailand also use TV to actively support their images in the United States and attract tourists at the same time. Americans have to be given a clearer picture of Japan.

The interdependence of our two countries is so critical to the future of the world's economy that everything possible must be done to ease tensions over the trade issue. While efforts by our government to open Japan to more U.S. goods must continue, it is doubtful that this alone will solve the trade imbalance. Therefore, understanding of Japan and the trade issues must be communicated more effectively here. Japan, in its own best interest, cannot afford to do less. The wall of protectionism with a possible repeat of the depression of the 1930's is the alternative.

Questions and opinions may be addressed to Mr. McMillan, Anton Community Newspapers, 132 East Second Street, Mineola, NY 11501.

MARTIN BURNS

Our Man IN Washington

The U.S. Senate is usually a shining example of courtesy and polite debate. However, last week the Senate was subjected to a bitter partisan debate over a campaign financing bill, S. 2, the Senatorial Election Campaign Act. If enacted into law this piece of legislation would provide for limits on political action committee (PAC) contributions to congressional candidates and would institute spending limits and public financing for Senate elections.

The Democratic majority wanted the bill brought to the floor of the Senate for a vote, while the Republicans wanted to continue a filibuster which would prevent the measure from being considered. For the most part, the Senate is governed by the principle of unlimited debate as 60 voters are needed to close debate.

In an attempt to frustrate the Democrats' efforts, the Republicans had vacated the Senate chamber hoping to deny the Democrats a quorum (a quorum is the minimum number of senators who must be present for the Senate to do business). Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd (D-West Virginia) in retaliation ordered the Senate sergeant at arms to arrest the absent senators and bring them to the Senate chamber.

This action resulted in the unlikely spectacle of the sergeant at arms, Mr. Henry Glugni, and the undercover members of the Capitol Hill police force checking the Senate office buildings for absent senators. Eventually, they located Senator Robert Packwood (R-Oregon) in his office. Apparently, a cleaning lady had tipped them off as to the senator's whereabouts. Senator Packwood, who had injured his hand in an attempt to prevent the police from entering his office, was then escorted to the floor of the Senate by Glugni.

Although the Senate is for the most part a sedate and very well mannered institution, it has had its more rowdy moments. In 1964, for example, Senator Strom Thurmond (R-South Carolina) pinned Senator Ralph Yarborough (D-Texas) to the floor outside a Senate committee room to prevent Yarborough from making a quorum call on a critical civil rights bill. Senator Thurmond also holds the record for the Senate's longest filibuster — 24 hours and 18 minutes.

Answer: Maybe, with over one million people in Nassau County and over another million in Suffolk County and traffic jamming our roads and water shortages, it is becoming increasingly obvious that "less is more" and it is time to call a halt on development.

Question 4: "Why, with Brookhaven's scientists, the world's best, and high threat of blackouts, does L.I. keep the safest nuclear plant in the world from opening?" Answer: Perhaps because it is obvious that LILCO has not been able to manage its affairs responsibly and does not inspire confidence. Perhaps the citizenry have shown more wisdom than the "world's best" scientists.

I read your column Our Man in Washington in the Massapequa Observer and would like to congratulate you. The column is a great idea and will not only keep the public informed about politics but will probably encourage more people to participate in elections.

I look forward to reading future columns.

Allard Lowenstein: A Retrospective

By MARTIN BURNS

It seems hard to believe that it was almost eight years ago that Al Lowenstein's life was taken by a crazed former associate in a random act of senseless violence. Of all the individuals who have represented Long Island in the U.S. House of Representatives over the years, Lowenstein was one of the most unique and controversial.

On the strength of the anti-war movement (Lowenstein had been the architect of the "dump Johnson movement") and his own unique political gifts, Lowenstein won election to the House from New York's fifth district (southern Nassau County). At the onset of his 1968 campaign, Lowenstein was regarded as an underdog for even the nomination of his own party. Lowenstein's chances in the general election in what was still a very Republican district seemed simply astronomical.

Lowenstein never paid much, if any, attention to the odds. Supported by a group of very dedicated volunteers, buoyed by the appearances of John Kenneth Galbraith and Paul Newman, and sustained by the anti-war movement, Lowenstein was able to pull off one of the greatest upsets in the political history of Nassau County.

Any good political candidate is able to attract student volunteers. Lowenstein was able to attract them in droves. David Broder, one of America's foremost political columnists, once observed that Lowenstein "brought more young people into American politics than any individual of our time."

When asked why so many students turned out for a last minute drive before election day, one of the members of Lowenstein's staff speculated that it was because they thought that their efforts could make the difference. This point of view was contradicted by another member of the staff who wryly observed, "To tell the truth, I think that most of the kids are here because they think that they're personal friends of Al's."

One of the most fascinating things... fortunes of electoral politics.

about Lowenstein was his ability to attract those individuals who in almost every other circumstance supported more conservative candidates. Lowenstein was to maintain a life long friendship with conservative columnist William F. Buckley. Buckley once endorsed a Lowenstein run for Congress saying that "Allard Lowenstein belongs in Congress as demonstrably as Rudolph Nureyev belongs on the stage."

In high school straw polls during his 1968 campaign for Congress, the same students in the Republican enclave of Rockville Centre who voted for Richard Nixon for president also voted for Lowenstein for Congress.

Although Lowenstein served in the House for only one term, he made major changes in how that institution operated. Before Lowenstein, the seniority system gave absolute power over vital pieces of legislation to a handful of individuals and members were allowed to have their votes on critical issues go unrecorded. In the years ahead, historians may conclude that despite his very limited tenure that Lowenstein was one of the most influential congressmen of our time.

In 1970, Lowenstein was defeated by the then state senator Norman Lent (there are more than a few Democrats in Nassau County who have never forgiven Lent for this). The district that Lowenstein ran in in 1970 was significantly more Republican than it had been in 1968. The boundaries of the new district had been redrawn by the Republican controlled state assembly. There were many who urged Lowenstein to either find a more winnable district or run for the senate. Lowenstein was not known to run from a fight.

Although he never held elective office again, Lowenstein remained active in politics in both Nassau County and New York for the rest of his life. Despite his defeats, Lowenstein never became bitter or disillusioned. People, issues and causes mattered more to Lowenstein than the

In 1977, Lowenstein was sworn in as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations for Special Political Affairs. Lowenstein became one of the most eloquent advocates of the Carter administration's human rights policy. Although he enjoyed his work, Lowenstein resigned his post as ambassador in 1978. Lowenstein left the U.N. because he felt that he could make more of a difference by working outside the system.

When one looks at Lowenstein's career, one is struck by the fact that his concern for human rights knew no boundaries; they ranged from South Africa to Long Beach, from Mississippi to Baldwin. Senator Kennedy in a speech shortly after Lowenstein's death summed up the meaning of his life: "He always fought crusades; he continually rebelled against injustice. And when he died at the age of 51, he was still young. He was a good man who could not stand by and do nothing. He sought to do everything and he succeeded more than most people ever dream of. Sometimes he was called a gadfly; in fact he was a rare conscience for us all."

Re: "Can We Find Answers In 1988?"

Paul Townsend, in his guest editorial of February 12, asked for answers to his questions. While I cannot answer all his questions, I can answer a few:

Question 1: "Why, with the highest paid law enforcement in the world, does L.I. permit violent and organized crime to flourish?"

Answer: Because corruption flourishes in our society, on all levels.

Question 2: "Why, with the most expensive education in the world, does L.I. encourage a majority of high school graduates to go to off-island colleges?"

Answer: Because the best colleges are off the island.

Question 3: "Why, with the shortage of 50,000 housing units, does L.I. inflate building costs with archaic building codes, snarled red tape and traditional exclusionary zoning?"

Court: Nassau's Budget Invalid; Must be Resubmitted in 30 Days

By A. ANTHONY MILLER

A state supreme court judge last week ruled that Nassau County's $1.4 billion 1988 budget is invalid because the county executive failed to include a 162 million surplus.

Acting on a law suit brought by Old Brookville resident Richard J. Korn, Justice Andrew DiPaola on March 2 handed down a six-page decision, striking 18 defenses raised by the county, and directing that a new budget be submitted within 30 days for approval by the board of supervisors.

County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, scoring the decision as "a defeat for county taxpayers," vowed an appeal, calling the Glen Cove jurist's decision "legally inaccurate."

Basis for the Suit

Mr. Korn's lawsuit was based on two statements made by Mr. Gulotta. He claimed that on October 26, eight days before the 1987 elections, Mr. Gulotta announced that the 1988 budget would contain a year-end cash surplus of $80.1 million. On November 9, however, Mr. Korn charged, the budget was formally released and contained a surplus of only $17.1 million.

Mr. Korn, in his litigation, said that Mr. Gulotta intended to use the $62 million "over three years to provide for tax stabilization and tax reduction." He quoted Mr. Gulotta as saying that, "My plan is to use the accumulated surplus to reduce and stabilize property taxes in the general fund over a three-year period." Mr. Korn contended, however, that his examination of the proposed budget showed "absolutely no evidence of substantial surplus beyond $17,700,700." He said that state law does not permit use of a surplus to effect a multi-year tax reduction plan, but Judge DiPaola invalidated the budget because, he said, the county charter required a full "statement of the estimated cash balance," which was missing from the 1988 budget which had been approved by the board of supervisors last December 21.

Arguing that the entire cash surplus must be included in the county budget, Mr. Korn sought relief in the courts under a section of law which permits review of a government-tal body or official's official acts. Such proceedings are usually expedited, court sources said, and are determined on legal briefs and arguments, generally without a trial. Mr. Korn's suit, filed nine days after the budget was approved, relied on the state controller's fiscal management guide, which says that surplus moneys must be used to reduce a tax levy and may not be used, as Mr. Gulotta sought, to reduce taxes over a three-year span.

Political Motives Assailed

In his legal papers, Mr. Korn contended that Mr. Gulotta's action in using the surplus to reduce taxes over three years was politically motivated, noting that 1989 is an election year for county officials, and arguing that there "appears to be no legal justification for not including the entire cash surplus in the proposed budget."

The court's decision argued with Mr. Korn, but stopped short of holding Mr. Gulotta personally responsible for "illegal conduct" and refused to award costs or compel Mr. Gulotta to pay Mr. Korn legal expenses as requested.

Mr. Gulotta defended his actions. In a statement released at the end of the week, he said that the "tax stabilization fund was designed to protect our taxpayers from future tax increases and to eliminate the roller coaster effect previously experienced by a tax increase/decrease syndrome."

Noting that the "decision disallows the budget on a technicality and can be remedied very easily and very readily with no impact at all on government or on the tax stabilization/tax reduction program," Mr. Gulotta continued that "the sad part about this matter is that Mr. Korn is using the courts as his vehicle for publicity and using our residents as his pawns. That's neither right nor proper, and I intend to fight this decision in order to protect our residents from a dramatic increase in taxes next year."

Appeal for Help

Mr. Korn, whose victory brought him notice as a potential political candidate, vowed to pursue his suit in the appellate courts, and issued an appeal for contributions to defray his expenses. Interested people may contact Mr. Korn at 212-683-1300, he said.

Conference to Explore Needs of Elderly

"To explore responses to the critical needs of a growing number of our elderly residents" is the goal of an important conference announced by Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta. "The March of Time" will be offered Tuesday, March 15, at Salisbury-on-the-Green, Eisenhower Park, East Meadow.

Co-sponsors are the Nassau County Department of Social Services and the New York State Department of Social Services.

"Through this conference," County Executive Gulotta explained, "we hope to enhance the knowledge and skills of people working with our frail elderly."

More than 300 professionals and community leaders in health and human services fields will participate in the Conference. Workshop topics include: "Eliminating the Sound Barrier;" "Understanding and Engaging the Resistant Client;" "Humor, Health, and Healing;" "Healthy Approaches to Coping with Loss;" and "Enhancing Self-Esteem to Reduce Depression."

Guest speaker at the opening session will be Arlene Francis, radio and television personality and co-host of the NBC-TV show, "Prime of Your Life." Keynote speaker is Dr. Ronald D. Adelman, Chief of the Division of Geriatrics at Winthrop University Hospital, Mineola. The concluding address, following afternoon workshops, will be by gerontologist Patricia A. Moore, who has written a best-selling book on her experiences posing as an elderly woman.

Conference registration, which includes lunch and materials, is $40. Complete information about the Conference is available by calling 535-4488, Nassau County Department of Social Services.

"Our Department recognizes," said Social Services Commissioner Joseph A. D'Elia, "the critical need to coordinate efforts and develop innovative strategies to improve the quality of life for increasing numbers of adults who can no longer adequately care for themselves. This conference reinforces our commitment to providing that help, as well as enlisting the cooperative efforts of related professionals in our mission."

Record Breaking Year For Auxiliary

Concluding its most successful fund raising year to date, The Auxiliary at The Community Hospital in Glen Cove marked the achievement at its recent annual meeting by making a formal contribution of $108,771 to the hospital. The Auxiliary has served Community Hospital for 65 years.

Accepting the check on behalf of Community Hospital was David S. Taylor, vice chairman of the board of directors. Ann Togneri, president of the volunteer organization, noted that this year's donation brings to more than $1850,000 the amount contributed by the Auxiliary toward its pledge to finance the hospital's CAT scan equipment, which was installed in 1981. The ten year, $1 million pledge is expected to be fulfilled in 1989, two years ahead of schedule.

Mrs. Togneri also presented a check to Sylvia Pierce, director of the Social Work department. The annual donation is given in memory of Auxiliary members who have died during the previous year.

Also at the meeting, Auxiliary officers were re-elected for the coming year. They are: Mrs. Togneri, of Glen Head, president; Ann Lepanto, of Glen Cove, first vice president; Joan Hayden, of Locust Valley, second vice president; Jane McGrane, of Glen Cove, recording secretary; Joan Pierano, of Locust Valley, corresponding secretary; Clara Tillotson, of Mill Neck, treasurer; and Linda Montfort, of Glen Head, assistant treasurer.

The Auxiliary, which has a membership of 540 men and women, contributed close to 74,000 hours of service to Community Hospital in 1987. Junior Auxiliaries provided another 1,500 hours of service. The organization divides its work into three classifications: patient contact services, general services and fund raising services. Among the Auxiliary's fund raising events are the popular Hollyberry Shoppe, the Geranium Plus Sale, bake sales and the annual Book Sale, this year scheduled for March 22, 23 and 24 in the hospital's Pratt Auditorium. In addition to other fund raising activities, the Auxiliary operates the Community Hospital Gift Shop, which, in 1987, exceeded all previously recorded profits under the efficient direction of co-chairmen, Janet Hirschberg and Alice Coombs.

Anyone wishing to join the Auxiliary is invited to call 676-5000, extension 2257 for further information.

Diabetes Club Meets

"Recent Developments in Diabetes" will be the topic of discussion at the next meeting of the Diabetes Club at the Community Hospital of Glen Cove.

Report Card: Commuters see Improvement in LIRR

By ELLEN R. DELSIO

Commuters gave the Long Island Rail Road higher marks last year than in the past, but the grades still were not good enough to make the honor roll, according to the results of the Long Island Rail Road Commuter Council's second annual report card.

The council unveiled its findings at a press conference in Mineola March 1. The Rail Road's overall grade in 1987 was C, compared with a D+ in 1986, according to the report. In addition, out of more than 2,000 commuters who responded to the council's survey, 35 percent said that the railroad was better, compared with 20 percent in 1986. Fifteen percent said that it was worse, as opposed to 28 percent in 1986. The percentage of people who said that the LIRR was unchanged remained almost the same, 49 percent in 1987 compared with 52 percent in 1986.

But in a prepared statement, council spokesperson Sheldon Schacter said that the group had expected to see greater improvement. "We're very disappointed. Although service on the railroad has improved over the previous year, we found that improvement to be slight," according to Mr. Schacter. The council is a citizens' advisory group established by the New York State legislature in 1983, and is currently chaired by Anne Dennin.

On-time performance remains a major concern of commuters, said Mr. Schacter, noting that there was a discrepancy between the LIRR's posted 91 percent on-time record and the commuter's grade of C+ for that category. He noted that the survey was conducted prior to the electrification of the Ronkonkoma line, and that could have effected responses.

The council is suggesting using a "more creative way" to measure on-time performance, said Mr. Schacter, such as designating one train on three different branches and assessing their times.

Other Marks

Commuters did cite some improvement in on-time performance, raising the grade from a C to a C+. Other areas in which commuters felt the LIRR showed improvement included schedule adequacy (from C to C+), train crew performance (C to C+), train cleanliness (D+ to C) and station restroom cleanliness (D to D+). Winter heating received a lower grade than it did in 1986 (down from C+ to C). Marks for several categories remained the same: seating availability (C), announcements (D+), summer air conditioning (C) and cleanliness of train restrooms (D).

Recommendations

Recommendations offered by the council included having the Rail Road publish a list of trains which have seats available during rush hours, improving the quality of announcements, requiring employees to wear five-digit identification numbers and establishing a newspaper recycling program. The council hopes that the Rail Road will act immediately on the recommendations, said Mr. Schacter.

LIRR Responds

Susan McGowan, a press information officer for the LIRR, said that the railroad was encouraged by the report. "We view the commuter council's report optimistically," said Ms. McGowan. "We notice a significant increase in the number of passengers who are saying that the Rail Road is improving. We find that encouraging."

As far as the LIRR's on-time performance is concerned, the Rail Road is proud of its record, which is 91.6 percent, said Ms. McGowan. The percentage is determined by studying the arrival times of all the trains, she said. A train, however, is not considered late until it arrives five minutes past its scheduled arrival time.

In other areas, the LIRR is currently working on upgrading its announcements, said Ms. McGowan, noting that the public address announcements have been effective in the Rail Road's anti-litter campaign. As far as recycling, a pilot newspaper recycling program was started Feb. 29 at the Manhasset and Port Washington stations, she said. Containers have been placed at the stations so commuters can leave their papers to be recycled. The revenue will go to the Town of North Hempstead, Ms. McGowan added.

The council's other recommendations will be taken under consideration, she said.

Council members meet with LIRR officials once a month, said Mr. Schacter. In the past, the seven-year-old group has acted more as a watchdog, he said, but now the council is hoping to move into a "partnership mode" with the LIRR.

American Sign Language Classes Starting Soon

For the tenth year, American Sign Language Classes will be held this spring at the Helen Keller National Center, 111 Middle Neck Road, Sands Point. Classes will be held once a week, Mondays, from 6:00-8:00 p.m. beginning Monday, March 14 for eight weeks. The last class in this session will be May 2.

HKNC will offer three courses: ASL 1, 2 and 3. Required textbook for all courses is A Basic Course in American Sign Language, by Humphries, Padden and O'Rourke, available for purchase during the first night of class. Students in ASL 3 must also purchase Student Study Guide, by Francis DeCapite.

Students are encouraged to learn the grammar and vocabulary of American Sign Language, as well as how to communicate through a different mode—eyes and body—instead of ears and mouth. Learning ASL is comparable to learning any other second language.

Since ASL is a visual language, the use of one's voice will be discouraged as students begin to acquire skills in ASL. Deaf and deaf-blind guests will make periodic visits to provide students an opportunity to mingle and utilize their ASL skills.

Enrollment is limited. Applicants will be accepted on a first-come basis.

For reservations and further information, contact: Laura J. Thomas, 944-8900 (TDD and voice), or write to Laura J. Thomas, c/o ASL Classes, Helen Keller National Center, 111 Middle Neck Road, Sands Point, N.Y. 11050.

KeyCorp Merges with Key Bank of L.I.

Victor J. Riley, Jr., president and chief executive officer of KeyCorp, has announced that KeyCorp will merge with Sayville-based Key Bank of Long Island to form Key Bank of Southeastern New York N.A., headquartered in Newburgh. The merger is expected to be completed during the third quarter of 1988 and the consolidated bank will assume the name of Key Bank of Southeastern New York N.A.

Key Bank of Long Island will operate under Key Bank of Southeastern's national charter. All Key Banks in New York State will then have national charters.

Robert M. Curley, president and chief executive officer of Key Bank of Long Island, will be the president and chief executive officer of the merged banks. Maurice P. Shea, president and chief executive officer of Key Bank of Southeastern New York since 1986, will be assuming responsibilities for the management of KeyCorp's newly acquired banking operations in Utah and Idaho.

Mr. Riley explained that customers will not experience changes due to the merger. "Branch personnel will remain the same and there will be a continued emphasis on the professional and quality service that our customers have come to expect. KeyCorp has a strong commitment to Long Island and the state's southeastern tier and the merger will not diminish the bank's presence or commitment to either area. In fact, Bob Curley will be maintaining an office in both locations."

The combined assets of Key Bank of Long Island and Key Bank of Southeastern total more than $900 million, a size KeyCorp feels is efficient to operate. Mr. Riley said, "A bank this size will be better equipped to satisfy the broad range of services and the needs of individuals and the small business sector."

The Investor's Corner

By JOSEPH P. FREY, Ph.D.

The Lessons of History

The lessons of history get lost on those people who do not remember them or who, in their ignorance, never knew them. In past articles, I have warned against the repeal of the Glass-Steagel Act. This article examines my reasons for this position. It is also an article that will not endear me to the banking community or get me on the board of directors of a bank. But, so be it.

First, what is the act? The act was passed in about 1933 and it separated the banks of that era into two parts: an investment banking segment and a banking segment. The two parts usually became two companies. The act said that banks could not be investment bankers, nor investment bankers banks. For instance, Morgan Guarantee and Morgan Stanley used to be one firm. They were split in 1934 or so.

What is a bank, and what is an investment banker? The broadest definition of a bank is that it makes loans and accepts deposits. Any institution that does not do both of these things is not a bank, but a non-bank bank. An investment banker is an institution that structures bond and stock issues for corporations, buys them, and sells the instruments to the public. Investment bankers, therefore, are merchants because they buy and sell. They risk real money in a hostile environment. The idea of an investment banker is to be neither an investor nor a banker. The ideal situation is for an instrument to be created by the investment banker and then to "blow it out the door" (sell it quickly). The margins are thin and the risk great. The last thing that an investment banker wants is inventory. In fact, the only inventory they have is their mistakes.

In the pre-Glass Steagel days, when the banks had both the banking function and the investment banking function, any mistakes could be buried in the trust accounts of the bank. In other words, the banks sold their leftover inventory to their investment trust clients. The clients took the losses for the banks' mistakes.

When the go-go days of the roaring twenties came to a sudden and abrupt end in 1929, many of the rich clients of the banks had greater losses than they should have because they had had a lot of bad paper put into their portfolios by the bankers. People with money usually have influence and the ability to get things done that can protect them. Hence, the Glass-Steagel Act to protect them from a similar future situation. Reason #1.

The investment banking business is a risky one. The volume is high but the profits are thin. The risks are great. If and when the banks are allowed to re-enter the investment banking arena, their risks are going to be elevated greatly. Reason #2.

Over the last 15 years or so, the Glass-Steagel Act has been under severe attack from the banks and the investment bankers. They both are eyeing the profits of the other. Greed is rampant. The lobbyists have been out in force, and they are about to succeed.

Right now the Senate is about to produce a bill that will repeal the act. It will be a shame because the public will end up paying a dear price. Why? Because the banks would again be able to get rid of their mistakes. In addition, whether we like it or not, the banks are to a great extent protected by the regulators who are their watchdogs. Can you imagine the chaos that would ensue if Citicorp, Chase, and Manufacturers Hanover went bankrupt? The Federal Reserve has to protect them. Knowing this, the banks can take risks that are not prudent. Just look at the foreign debt of the third world nations that is on the books of these banks. Look at the protection from the government when these once profitable loans went sour.

I believe that if Glass-Steagel is repealed the potential for risk in our financial institutions will be raised to unacceptable heights—not in the beginning, not right away, but eventually.

Have we forgotten why the act was passed? I hope the Congress remembers the lesson of history. I do not expect it. I hope I am wrong.

Lecture on Peace in The Middle East

Peace in the Middle East may seem more elusive than ever as current events reinforce hard-line positions. Secretary of State George Schultz left the region empty-handed as his peace shuttle found limited response. What is the prognosis for a settlement in this constant state of war?

Henry Siegman, National Executive Director of the American Jewish Congress, will address the issue of "Amidst Crisis, New Opportunities for Peace" at a special AJCongress Long Island Region event at Temple Beth El, 4 Old Mill Road, Great Neck, on Wednesday evening, March 16, at 8 p.m.

Last month, Mr. Siegman led a delegation of AJCongress leaders to the Middle East, where they met with Jordan's King Hussein, Egyptian President Mubarak, and Prime Minister Shamir of Israel.

Chairing the evening will be Steven Bloom, of Hewlett, AJCongress Long Island Council President. For further information, call 466-4650.

Photos of N.Y. Harbor On Exhibit

Jane L. Wechsler's vantage point for most of her photography — the deck of a tugboat — helps produce some wonderful studies of the maritime activity of New York Harbor. Currently employed as a tugboat cook but with a deep affinity for photography, Ms. Wechsler is displaying a dozen of her best photos at the American Merchant Marine Museum through the end of April.

Ms. Wechsler's interest in photography began in 1970. Since then, examples of her work have been displayed at the Brooklyn Museum, Pratt Institute and the Hudson Riverfront Museum.

"I am committed to continuing to photograph the Port of New York," she said, "creating a unique document from the very working fabric of the harbor."

The Museum is located on the campus of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point. Visiting hours are Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays from 1 to 4:30 p.m. The suggested contribution from adults entering the Museum is one dollar.

For information, call the Museum at 773-5515.

Voyages of Captain Cook To be Discussed

Dr. John Lore, Director of the Science Museum of Long Island, will speak about the voyages of Captain James Cook at Planting Fields Arboretum in Oyster Bay at 2 p.m. on Sunday, March 13. This lecture, one in a series sponsored by the Friends of Planting Fields, is an overview of Cook's three voyages (1768-1780). Dr. Lore will give some insight about the personality of this explorer, including the people and sights which so impressed him.

Captain Cook remains today one of the most famous of Britain's captains. His achievements on the three historic voyages would be difficult to accomplish, even in modern times. Cook discovered and charted much of the Pacific that we know today and wrote and documented with humanity and insight about the people he met and how they lived.

Dr. Lore is a marine biologist with much experience in expeditions. In 1955-56, he was a member of the Norwegian Archeological Expedition to Easter Island, led by Thor Heyerdahl. Currently, he is organizing a graduate course, which will retrace Captain Cook's first voyage for the summer of 1988.

The lecture, which will be held in the Haybarn, is open to all. Admission to the Arboretum is $1.50 per person, children under 12 are free. For further information, call 922-9207 weekdays. For directions to Planting Fields (located north of Route 25A between Routes 106 and 107 in Oyster Bay), call 922-9200.

Hilton Ruiz is a quiet man, but his music is driving and rhythmic. "Electrifying," wrote Chuck Berg in the December issue of Jazz Times.

There is a recurring theme in conversations with Hilton Ruiz. He wants to make people happy. On Sunday, the 13th of March, Hilton Ruiz and his Quartet will make people very happy.

The Company Offers Two Productions

Yvonne Carroll Parente, of YCP Presents the Company, Inc., is currently in production with two major projects. The first, Sidney Kingsley's "The Detective Story", will play at the Hay Barn Theatre at The Planting Fields Arboretum in Oyster Bay, on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11. The second project is a musical review, Broadway to Hollywood II will be performed on Friday, April 29, at The Tilles Center of C.W. Post Center of Long Island University. This production will benefit "The Hole in The Wall Gang Camp," established by actor Paul Newman.

The Hole in The Wall Gang Camp, which is scheduled to open this June, is being built on a 300-acre site that overlaps the town boundaries of Ashford and Eastford, Connecticut. It will offer seriously ill boys and girls, age seven to seventeen, a camping experience as close as possible to that which is available to healthy youngsters. The Yale-New Haven Hospital will provide medical services and counsel in such areas as engineering, nutritional guidance and building maintenance.

"Children are an integral part of The Company's existence," said Yvonne Carroll

Parente, Executive Artistic Director, "and since many of us in the ranks of The Company's roster have personally had to deal with our own children in life-threatening situations, we are particularly sensitive to this cause. We are proud to have this opportunity. We hope our contributions of time, talent and resources will give cause to a significant monetary return for the camp."

Half of the estimated $17 million construction and endowment budget will come from Mr. Newman's companies, which make salad dressing, spaghetti sauce and popcorn. The IRS requires that the other half of the budget must come from private and corporate donors.

REYNOLDS AND MINELLI

DAN AYKROYD

RENT-A-COP

Burt Reynolds plays an embattled cop and Lizzy Minelli portrays a perky prostitute with a soft heart. They chase around Chicago together trying to pin down a vicious killer involved with drug dealing. The off-the-shelf, by-the-numbers plot ingredients of this frantic, romantic, comedy-thriller generally trash the efforts and talents of the stars who seem to have taken their assignments out of desperation. The production seems quickly destined for the used rent-a-movie department (R)

THE COUCH TRIP

Frothy humor and some nifty sight gags given this farce about a mental patient who becomes a chat radio therapist in Beverly Hills. Dan Aykroyd is right at home as the air waves shrink, whose frank and outrageous advice sends the ratings soaring. He's sort of a comic version of Dr. Ruth. Although the film falters at times, some effective, surprising, part-keep the comedy percolating, especially Walter Matthau as a loony, hustler who is on to the talk show host's scheme. (R)

CAMP AND SCHOOL

Portledge School - The Beginning of a Tradition

As Portledge School approaches its 25th anniversary in 1989 it is time to pause and reflect on the steps that have led to the beginning of a tradition.

What started as Miss Stoddart's School for Very Little People in 1933 has grown to be a college preparatory, co-educational day school for students from three years of age to Grade 12. The "little circus" of Miss Stoddart's day has become an impressive annual fair, grossing over $50,000 to help enrich and enhance the outstanding academic programs and facilities Portledge provides.

Portledge has a commitment to education which is shared by students, teachers and families. Its goal is to instill in each of its graduates that lifelong fascination with learning which is the mark of a truly educated individual.

Twelve senior classes have graduated and students have gone on to attend outstanding colleges and universities in undergraduate and graduate programs. The three hundred students that enter the 64 acre campus on Duck Pond Road each day are greeted by an exceptional faculty and a sophisticated curriculum that includes advanced courses in English, mathematics, history, foreign language, science and the arts. The physical education program has grown and developed to include varsity teams in soccer, basketball, ice hockey, field hockey, lacrosse, tennis and fencing. This year's fencing team sent one of its members to the Junior Olympics, as the representative of the Long Island Division of the United States Fencing Association.

The Slanetz Science Center, the newest addition to the expanding campus, includes biology, chemistry and physics laboratories, classrooms, a greenhouse, and a computer center.

To help acquaint the members of the community with the exciting things that are happening at Portledge, an Open House will be held on Saturday, April 16. Please contact the school, 355 Duck Pond Road, Locust Valley 11560 (673-1475) for further information.

Today...Students and faculty experiment in one of the modern laboratories in the recently completed Slanetz Science Center.

Yesterday...Miss Stoddart's playground, where children began learning the skills that would eventually help in the development of the Portledge Varsity program. If you recognize any of the children in this picture please contact the school.

It brings out the best in all of us.

Friends Academy, A Commitment to Fine Education

Friends Academy, Locust Valley, one of the oldest independent schools on Long Island, began its 112th year last September with an enrollment of 675 students and 76 full-time and 10 part-time faculty members. A Quaker-affiliated, co-educational day school, Friends enrolls students from preschool Play Group through grade 12. One hundred percent of the students in the senior class go on to colleges and universities throughout the United States.

In keeping with its Quaker heritage, Friends enrolls students from diversified socio-economic backgrounds and provides partial financial assistance to approximately twenty percent of the student body. The many talents and interests these young people bring with them add a great deal to the life and vitality of the school.

The philosophy of Friends Academy grows out of Quaker belief in the unique worth and individuality in everybody. Students at every grade level attend Quaker meetings, a time for reflective silence, once a week for approximately 45 minutes. At this time, students, faculty or visitors are often moved to spontaneously share thoughts with those gathered. The Quaker ideals of simplicity, moderation, patience, caring, service to others, integrity in thought and action, and commitment to non-violent resolution of differences form the foundation of a Friends' education.

Located on 65 acres in Locust Valley,

Friends has extensive facilities which include a newly renovated visual and performing arts center and a new field house which contains an indoor track and fitness room. There are two libraries, modern laboratory and science facilities and a computer center. There is a 400 meter outdoor track and tennis courts and there are playing fields for football, lacrosse, soccer, softball, baseball and field hockey.

The basis of a Friends' education is to offer its students a solid education through a caring, well qualified faculty, of whom about sixty percent hold advanced degrees. There is a low student/teacher ratio and students are encouraged to be involved not only in the classroom, but also in extracurricular activities such as dramatics, athletics, student government, school publications, band and orchestra.

Community service plays a vital role at Friends and there is a mandatory 10th grade course stressing the importance of community involvement. The course culminates with a three day "hands-on" experience working with the homeless in a shelter in New York City. A large number of students regularly volunteer at hospitals, nursing homes, boys' and girls' clubs and the Interfaith Nutrition Network, I.N.N., a center for the homeless in Hempstead.

Our S.A.T. Doctors Make House Calls

For years, Long Island high school students who wanted the best possible S.A.T. preparation had to choose between private tutoring and the Princeton Review.

It wasn't easy.

Choosing tutoring over our course meant giving up a chance to learn the Princeton Review's unique test-taking techniques, which have helped thousands of high school students achieve unprecedented score improvements.

We're going private.

This year, instructors trained in the Princeton Review techniques (the same instructors who teach our top-rated courses) will be available for private tutoring, all over Long Island.

1) In addition to working on specific math and verbal questions, Princeton Review tutors teach their students test-taking techniques that help them feel in control of, rather than controlled by, the S.A.T.

2) All our tutoring students receive a complete set of Princeton Review materials including our math and verbal manuals and our comprehensive program for vocabulary improvement.

3) Our tutoring program includes four diagnostic S.A.T.s, which we administer under actual test conditions, then score by computer. (Students and teachers receive detailed print-outs showing them exactly what they need to work on.)

Good luck comes in threes.

No other tutor offers any of these advantages. We offer all three, and at reasonable prices.

Of course, for students who feel they can benefit most from classroom instruction, the Princeton Review will continue to offer the best S.A.T. review courses on Long Island.

After a year spent working on improvements in the program, we are confident that this will be our best term ever.

But for students who want the advantages of private tutoring AND the advantages of the Princeton Review method, we now present THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS.

a Teen Trek tour will receive extensive training to familiarize them with the program and the activities and travel locations of their tour.

Events, locations, eating places and accommodations have been selected through extensive research, feedback and personal visits, to ensure maximum enjoyment, enrichment and safety for each youngster.

For complete information about this exciting new summer experience, call Teen Trek (12 Sheli Dr., Old Bethpage) 203-4774

Jack and Jill Nursery School

The soothing tones of classical music provide the background music for a restful nap to youngsters at the Jack and Jill Nursery School in Hicksville, where Josephine Paraskevas has helped 3-5 year olds develop an early interest in art, science, music, nature, and the world they are just beginning to discover.

Using the Waldorf Method, Ms. Paraskevas focuses on the young child's emotional and intellectual growth utilizing books and story telling, arts and crafts, music and gardening, and a variety of exciting field trips to stimulate the imagination, excite the minds and soothe the emotions of her young students.

Her dedicated staff of N.Y. State Certified teachers have been trained in the Rudolf Skinner method. Jack and Jill Nursery School (65 E. John St.) offers extended programs for working mothers, with bus service during regular hours.

There's a special summer camp program featuring arts & crafts, sports, swimming and computers, with a choice of hours and special extended hours for working parents. Bus service is available for campers, too.

Call 931-6606 for full details.

CAMP AND SCHOOL

Summer Sports Camp

A number of "firsts" will take place on the campus of St. Paul's School in Garden City and LaSalle Military Academy. The schools, which are the home of the Long Island Sports Camps will offer these beautiful facilities to a number of camps—some of which are pioneering new concepts in summer camp scenes.

The Health & Fitness Camp is a new concept for youngsters who wish to improve their cardiovascular, strength, and power abilities and—for those seeking weight reduction and redistribution.

The Cheerleading Camp will be sponsored by the prestigious National Cheerleading Association (NCA), and will be open for both teams and individuals.

Other unique features this summer will be the Team-Handball Camp—the first ever in the country in this European game—which is gaining popularity on the island (the L.I. Team has won the Empire State!).

Summer Camp Friends Academy

Friends Academy, Locust Valley, is registering boys and girls for its twentieth season on June 20th. The camp program is available to boys and girls four through thirteen.

The eight week summer season will conclude on Tuesday, August 23rd. Parents may the girl's Lacrosse Camp and the Girl's Basketball Camp.

The largest of the camps is the L.I. Soccer Camp for boys and girls, which has been in operation since 1973. Other camps will be Boy's Lacrosse, Basketball, Baseball, and Wrestling. The L.I. Tennis Camp is co-educational. All regular camps are for campers 7-17 years of age.

Most camps offer another unique feature—Mini-Camps for young beginners, 4, 5, and 6 year olds who participate for half days, from 9-12 or 2-5.

All camps are organized into weekly sessions and are open for day campers or overnight campers. Fees for Mini-Camps are $95 and day camps are $195 per week. The overnight sessions range from $285 to $325 weekly. All camps are directed by top college and high school head coaches. For information and free brochure, call 747-7011 day or night.

wish to register their children for a four or eight week session. An optional lunch program is available and bus transportation is provided for all campers.

For additional information call Mrs. William J. Dalton weekdays and on Saturday days between 8:00 and 4:00 at 676-0393.

LuHi Summer Programs

This summer the Lutheran High Summer Program celebrates its 27th year as the leader in providing top quality summer sports, recreational, and educational activities for the Long Island communities. Luhi has maintained its consistent control of the top rating through its outstanding staff, contemporary programming, and variety of activities and schedules. A magnificent 32 acre country estate situated on rolling hills in Nassau's North Shore community of Brookville serves as home for Luhi's Summer Program. The campus features a six lane, Olympic-sized swimming pool as well as a diving pool. Playing fields, tennis courts, and 14 full length basketball courts provide more than adequate playing space for the outdoor activities of the Sports specialty schools. Indoor sport action is showcased in Luhi's magnificent gymnasium, considered to be Long Island's premier high school field house.

Offering a choice of one- and two-week programs, which include Computer School, GIFT, Recreation, Boys Basketball, Girls Basketball, Baseball, Cheerleading, Gymnastics, Boys Soccer, Girls Soccer, Swimming, Tennis, Volleyball, Wrestling and Track, the Summer Program can meet the needs of most families. The Luhi Summer program is non-sectarian and all are welcomed.

A fully qualified staff of teachers, coaches, and counselors has always been the strength of the Luhi Summer Program. The staff reads like a Who's Who of Long Island and New York City coaches and teachers. The emphasis and philosophy has always been a unique combination of teaching and learning in a fun-filled environment. In the Sports Schools, individual instruction, competitive drills, skill building station work, and team competition in games and scrimmages are packed into a day of action, learning, and fun. The opportunity for two daily swims has always served as a cool refresher to the days activities. The Red Cross swim instructional program is a daily activity of the Recreation Program and Gift Program.

In a special arrangement with Converse, Inc., Converse sneakers will be included, at no additional charge, in selected sports programs, with each fully-paid.

Registration is in progress, and camps fill quickly, so call now for a free brochure: 516-626-1100. The facility is located at 131 Brookville Rd., Brookville, and a visit to our site can be arranged.

Choosing A Camp or School

Choosing a summer camp or boarding school for your child can pose a real dilemma. There are many factors to consider before making a choice: the facility's staff, philosophy, academic (or athletic) programs, accreditation, reputation, its cost, distance, and your child's personality, interests and needs.

Marnie Hallsworth offers parents and children the benefit of her professional expertise and knowledge of private camps and schools. Her personalized consulting service makes the selection process easier for parents and children.

Ms. Hallsworth interviews each family, helping them select the right program for their child. Her camp service is free and she is familiar with traditional sleep-away camps, Outward Bound programs, specialty camps and international programs, and teen tours.

For a nominal fee, she will help you select a school, evaluating your child's transcripts, personally working with the youngster to learn about the child's goals, interests, abilities and problem areas. She will help you complete the school's admissions folder and take much of the wear and tear out of the selection and entrance process.

Ms. Hallsworth holds a graduate degree in psychology and has been a camp and school consultant for 12 years. Call 516/862-7150.

Camp Forum by KB Camp Services at Macy's Roosevelt Field on March 17, 11 am-5 pm. Representatives from a variety of camps will be on hand to talk about specialty camps (weight reduction); all boy - all girl - and coed camps; teen only camps and teen tours. KB Camp Services owner, Karenne Bloomgarden, will discuss selecting the right camp for your child. For details call: KB (212/535-3777) or Macy's (516/746-8200, ext. 350).

Opening lead — king of clubs.

Stealing tricks is something lots of players get the most fun out of. The grammar may be bad, but the sentiment is good. Today's hand demonstrates a high-class refinement in the art of larceny.

It was played in a duplicate, where scoring an extra trick is much more important than in rubber bridge. Granted, it looks impossible to make more than eleven tricks, and in fact that was the outcome at almost every table. But in several cases, South wound up with twelve tricks.

At most tables, South won the club lead with the ace, East playing the eight to signal a doubleton. Declarer then led the jack of hearts at trick two, hoping to steal the trick if West had the ace and ducked the jack. But East took dummy's king with the ace, returned a club, and South easily won the rest of the tricks.

Probably most declarers did not realize that East's eight of clubs very likely was a high-low signal, marking West with six clubs. It then followed that West couldn't also have the ace of hearts, because he would have overcalled one spade with two clubs in that case.

So, to this extent, those declarers who harbored larceny in their hearts bungled the job. Their thinking was obviously misdirected.

The Souths who made the over-trick exercised a more refined approach. They ducked the club king and won the continuation. After ruffing the third club high in dummy, they then played six rounds of trumps, producing this position:

NORTH		EAST
♠ K	♠ K105	♥ A	♥ A
♥ K	♥ K105	♦ QJ8	♦ QJ8
♦ K105	♦ K105	♣ 82	♣ 82
♣ 82	♣ 82

South next led the spade four and discarded the king of hearts. East could not discard successfully and these declarers thus scored the remaining tricks to bring the play to a satisfying conclusion.

Consumer Tips

Avoiding an Accident

No one ever plans on having a car accident. Yet thousands take place each year, some causing serious and fatal injuries. Many are caused by careless or inexperienced drivers in poor road conditions they cannot handle and over 50 percent of fatal accidents involve drunk drivers. If you can avoid these drivers and follow some basic guidelines, you can be safe on the nation's highways.

1. To protect yourself from potentially dangerous situations extend your field of vision to include everything down the road within 100 yards.
2. Always look for avenues of escape that could be taken should an accident appear likely.
3. Always adjust your car speed to accommodate the road conditions at hand and leave sufficient space between vehicles to bring your car safely to a stop.
4. Don't slam on the brakes to avoid an accident; this leads to wheel lockup, skidding and loss of steering control. Instead, pump the brakes gently.
5. Small car drivers should make certain they are in other drivers' vision. Give larger vehicles like trucks and buses a wide berth.
6. Drive with headlights on during periods of poor visibility.
7. Keep adjustable head restraints at a position closest to your ears to help avoid whiplash in a rear end collision.
8. Most importantly, use your seat belt. Seat belts reduce the likelihood of death and serious injury in an accident by at least 50 percent.

Nassau's track stars will travel to Cornell University's Barton Hall in Ithaca this Saturday, March 12, for the New York State Championships.

Cheerleading Competition

The largest cheerleading competition in the U.S., The Eastern States Cheerleading Championships, will be held at William Paterson College, Wayne, N.J., on Saturday, March 26, beginning at 9 a.m. All grammar, Jr. high, high school and college age teams are eligible to participate. Divisions in cheer, pom-pom and dance-drill are offered for teams, as well as single and double cheerleaders. Admission for the day is $5.00. For registration and information, call Judi Murphy at (201) 573-8948.

NY Islanders Score Against Hunger

The New York Islanders scored their biggest victory of the season on Saturday, Feb. 27. Although the final count on the ice read Capitals 3, Islanders 0, the score in the battle against hunger on Long Island was 7,500 pounds.

From 6 p.m. when the gates opened until 8 p.m., hundreds of food collection bags, which had been provided to fans during prior games by John Gerald Jeweler, were returned to the Nassau Coliseum filled with nutritious food. Islander fans scored with cans of tuna fish, fruits, vegetables, meats and soups.

Islanders' wives, dressed in their husbands' uniforms, were positioned at every entrance area to collect food and thank fans for their generous contributions. They were assisted by volunteers from Long Island Cares Food Bank which will distribute the food. The smiles on the faces of fans and volunteers alike made it clear that everyone was happy to contribute to this effort.

The final total of 7,500 pounds nearly doubled the 4,000 pounds that was collected last year. The success of this year's program is largely attributable to the players' wives, who came to the Coliseum for several games prior to the food collection and helped inform fans about the food drive.

Although a large amount of food was collected, it will barely make a dent in hunger on Long Island, where one out of ten Long Islanders needs food assistance. Jerry Goldman, the Executive Director of Athletes Against Hunger, the non-profit organization that arranged this program, emphasizes that the collection and distribution of food to the hungry is vital in meeting immediate needs but is not the ultimate solution to the hunger problem. "The purpose of the food drive program goes beyond the collection of food. It serves to make Long Islanders and others in the Metropolitan area aware that thousands suffer from hunger. Through interviews and news coverage on television and radio, we inform the public that each of us must act if we are to overcome hunger. Hunger is directly related to poverty and each of us must demand that our representatives in government initiate programs, such as job training and day care, that will give every person the opportunity to provide for himself and his family."

The Islanders' program was the final one in a month-long battle against hunger by the Metropolitan area's three National Hockey League teams, including the New York Rangers and the New Jersey Devils. 18,600 pounds of food were collected from these food drives and will be distributed to hungry people throughout the area.
