Town Mandatory Recycling Program Expanded into 5,000 Hicksville Homes

The remaining gaps in the town's man-datory recycling plan are close to being filled. More than 5,250 Hicksville homes received bright, yellow buckets last week as part of a town-wide plan to separate glass, aluminum cans and newspapers from regular household garbage, spokesperson Phyllis Souther of the Town of Oyster Bay said. The town wants a resource recovery plant and, to obtain this, the state mandates recycling.

The eastern portion of Hicksville receiv ed seven gallon pails at the end of April. Since then, the town has gradually distributed more buckets and plans to reach all 62,000 home in the rown within the year, Ms. Souther said. The latest pail distribution occurred May 18 and last weekend. These new homes in the SORT program (Separate Oyster Bay's Re-cyclables Today) began the program yester day, May 25.

Cay, May 25.

Larger Paila

The town originally began its recycling program by using seven gallon palls. However, "The residents' participation is increasing and we have found that with the amount of volume we are collecting the seven-gallon pails are sufficient," spokesperson Ron DiMonda said. The new pails, now 20 gallons and costing 16.37 each, contain the town's logo and a hotline number.

Residents who have the seven-gallon pails may consider them a "gift", according to Mr. DiMonda. However, residents might want to use them in the kitchen for the recyclables before transferring them. before transferring them to the larger pail.

Sanitation Collection
Regular sanitation collections will be made regular samator coulculus will be col-lected every Wednesday. If homeowners do not have recyclables, the pail must be left at the curb-side even if empty. If residents fail to put their buckets out, the town will suspect that they are not recycling, and may visit the

Car Crashes Through Hicksville Restaurant

A 1985 DODGE crashed through the front of Toms II kitchen May 17 causing an estimated $30,000 in damage, a fire official said. The driver of the car, Constantine Cassis, said that the auto's accelerator stack and he could not stop the car. The car went 15 feet into the building, located in a shopping center on Newbridge and Old Country Roads, at about 10:30 a.m. Firemen had to remove an air conditioner above the door, which was loosened by the impact. Mr. Cassis was "shaken up", according to the fire official, and herefused medical treatment. Twenty-five firemen were at the scene, under the direction of Captains Karl Schweitzer and Brian Cohn. There was no one in the restaurant at the time of the crash. Photo by Harry Loud

Youth Council to Honor Parola, Fire Department

Hicksville Youth Council will hold their third annual awards reception on June 5. The honorees this year will be Assemblyman Fred Parola, for his outstanding community service, and the Hicksville Fire Department, being presented with the Volunteer of the Year Award. Special certificates of appreciation will be presented to the Hicksville BPOE Lodge #1931 and to Jennifer Aloi, a youth volunteer at the Youth Council.

Assembly Parola was selected for his "tireless efforts" on behalf of the Hicksville community and for his "willingness to do whatever is necessary "to help the residents of his district. If Fred can't help you, he will get you to someone who can," said Barbara E. Nelson, executive director of the Youth Council. Past recipients of the Youth Coun-cil's Community Service Award have been William Heberer, Pastor Theodore S. Grant, Sieg Widder and Sheila Noeth.

This year, the Council has chosen to honor group instead of an individual. "We could think of no group of volunteers more deser-ving than the volunteers of the Hicksville Fire Department." Barbara said. Twenty-four hours a day, the members of the Fire Depart. ment can be counted on to respond to whatever assistance members of the community need, she added. Past recipients of the volunteer award have been Jane Schreiber, for her efforts on behalf of the Youth Council's neighborhood watch program, Rosario Tantillo and Michael DiRocci, two young people who have been Youth Council Board members.

The certificates of appreciation will be presented to the Hicksville BPOE Elks Lodge #1931 in recognition of their efforts with their "Teenager of the Month Program" The program recognizes a "Teenager of the Year" and students from local high schools. Jennifer Aloi, a junior at Hicksville High School, is being recognized for her efforts as a volunteer in the Youth Council's peer tutoring program. The program matches youngsters who need some assistance in a particular area with another young person who has expertise in that area. The program is monitored by the agency and report cards are utilized to evaluate improvement. Jennifer has been a tutor since the program began and currently has three young people under her

The afternoon will allow all of us to say thanks to those being honored and to show manks to those being honored and to show that we really do appreciate their efforts to make our community abetter place to live," said Barbara. The reception will be held at Antun's, from 2-6 p.m. and tickets can be purchased at the Youth Council at 181 West Old Country Rd. Hicksville on the corner of Old Country Road and Halless Theoffice is one Country Ro. microville on the corner of Old Country Road and Halsey. The office is open Monday o a.m. - 6 p.m.. Tickets are 135 per per-son and are tax deductible as allowed by law.

THE TOWN OF Oyster Bay has increased the size of the recycling pails from seven s to 20 gallons becau se the smaller size is "insufficient" for the amount of recyclables the town has collected.

home to investigate the reason. Ms. Souther said. Warnings and then summonses will be issued if residents fail to follow the proper procedures of the program.

After the recyclables are collected, the town brings them to the Old Bethpage Solid Waste Disposal complex, Mr. DiMonda said. Newspapers are brought directly to a vendor, who is also located in Bethpage.

More Pails To Be Distributed

Ms. Souther said that more pails will be distributed in upcoming months in the Hicksville area. "There is quite a bit of Hicksville left but notime frame has been set," she added. Ms. Souther said that some residents have received the palls, and their next-door neighbor has not. She noted that the distribution of the palls is done with the use of a computer and, in some instances. homes, especially those on a corner, may be missed. The routing computer designates cer-tain streets, according to Mr. DiMonda, and it chooses the homes in the "most efficient and economical way," he said.

Merchant of the Week ★All Star Realty Corp.★

By Catherine Tokar

One of the most important considerations "house hunters" face is choosing a good realtor—one who has good business sense and knows well the area in which his client wants to move. Unfortunately, two important qualities get edged out in this often mayympathetic business—warmth and personal attention. Not to despair, though, because Terry Mitrovich and her crew at All Star Realty offer special attention to their clients. and yes, they are all very warm people who care about each client. "We believe in the American dream to own your own home." Terry said. "And I do for my clients what I would have liked when I bought my house."

As "no pressure" realitors, All Star never compels clients to buy the first, or any, house they see. "In fact," said Terry, "the least number of houses I've shown someone is two:

at one person saw 36 houses before he bought one."

Clients who visit All Star can be assured that they will receive the royal treatment. Friendly agents with a "caring concern" help clients in nearly every aspect of buying their dream home. "We're selling a way of life," said Terry. "We believe in service, so making people comfortable by knowing their needs and knowing the local area is important to us."
Terry also explained that each client receives a package with important referrals and information to help make their moving into a new neighborhood as trouble free as possible. The package contains directions to the home from all major highways, but it also contains a new neighborhood as trouble free as possible.

recommendations for unique restaurants, a home energy guide, a map of Penn Station as well as the Long Island Rail Road (with time tables), and where to go to find a reliable plumber, carpenter, fuel company or someone to do odd jobs. If the client is having a baby, All Star can recommend some of the best places for day-care. Terry's list totals more than 500 reliable and licensed child day care centers. She added, "We believe in quality customer service.

All Star's "Whatchamacallit" chart is another big help to prospective home buyers. This chart lists 04 construction features of a house from roof to foundation, such as pilasters and roof boards. "The "Whatchamacallit" chart makes people feel more confident because they want to know as much as possible about their home's construction," Terry explained.

All Star agents help young people by presenting them with many creative financing plans from various banks and mortgage companies. "We qualify clients before they buy a home," said Terry. "We service clients properly by helping them realize what they can afford. Then they are happy because they see exactly how much they can afford to spend by referring to their personalized expense chart."

So, when buying or selling a home becomes more trouble than it is worth, sit back and relax and give All Star a call at 822-0600, or stop by 170 Old Country Rd. (behind Texaco near Newbridge Road).

Town Mandatory Recycling Program

Outcome of the Recycling Program
Mr. DiMonda said that the town's only statistics available from the SORT program cover a four-week period and were tallied in the 48th week of the program. According to the statistics, which were completed March to and were gathered from the Plainview and

Old Bethpage areas, the town collected 42.850 pounds of glass and metal and 132.500 pounds of newspaper. "This represented 13.12 percent of the total waste generated in that area in just a four-week period," Mr. DiMonda said The program has since expanded to other areas, but no figures are available, he added

A Note from Rose Manaskie

We received a note from Rose Manaskie, wife of the late Harold Manaskie, who passed away recently. Rose writes: "My family and I would like to thank all our many friends in Hicksville for their kind expressions of sympathy. We lived in Hicksville for over 40 years before retiring to Florida in 1974 and it was comforting to know that we are still remembered so fondly. Harold was employed by LILCO for over 44 years; a Fire Commissioner with the Hicksville Fire District for over 25 years—as well as being one of the founders of the Hicksville Police Boys Club, a member of the Hicksville Elks Lodge #1931, and a Captain of both Hook and Ladder Co. #1 and Engine Co. #7 of the Hicksville Fire Department. He made many friends along the way. We often spoke and reminisced about our many friends in Hicksville and the great times we had while living there. Our thanks again to all of you."

News From Texas

We received a letter from former Hicksvillite Joyce Claus complimenting us on our newspaper. She sent along an update on her family for all her old friends in Hicksville. She writes: "Kim celebrated her 10th birthday on April 6. She had a bowling party with her friends. An avid bowler, planist, and ownnest, the maintains an "A werage in a and gymnast, she maintains an 'A' average in school. Kelly (just a baby when we moved) is 8½ years old. She's in Mesquite's Gifted Program, is also a bowler and piamist, loves ice skating and is on the swim team. Heather was a student at St. Stephen's Nursery School when we left Hicksville. She too has grown, and is a 7th grader. She was recently inducted into the National Junior Honor Society. She plays cello and drums and also loves bowling. She bowled her first 200 game last week—which made her very proud.

"Danielle was in the second grade at Old Country Road School when we moved away. She is now a high school sophomore in the advanced honors academic program. She celebrated her Sweet 16th birthday on April 15th at a party with 50 of her friends. Perhaps her greatest gift was the presence of her god-father, Steven Pastor, who flew in from North Merrick for the occasion. Danielle is a violist in her high school orchestra and recently received a scholarship from SMU to study music for one month this summer. In her spare time she too bowls on a league.
"Best wishes to all our Hicksville friends."

Osteoarthritis Is The Most Common of All Arthritis

Osteoarthritis, also called degenerative arthritis, is estimated to affect 17 million people in the United States. Often confused with rheumatoid arthritis, osteoar thritis usually affects people over the age of 40. Unlike rheumatoid arthritis, which strikes the smaller joints, osteoarthritis affects the larger weight bearing joints People with osteoarthritis usually have pain in the lower back, hips, and knees. This pain is worse toward the latter part of the day and after activity

The cause of osteoarthritis is not known. Many rheumatologists (arthritis specialists) believe some people may be born with a predisposition to develop this form of arthritis. Additionally they feel a defect in the cartilage, coupled with years of stress or injury to the joint, may also result in this disease

Unfortunately, many people believe that if you have arthritis nothing can be done. Nothing can be further from the truth. Treatment begins with a correct diagnosis. Your physician will ask you many questions about your joint pain. A complete physical examination will be performed. Additionally, blood tests and x-rays may be required.

Once the diagnosis is established, a proper treatment program can be initiated. Often a multi-disciplinary approach is required. This may include anti-inflammatory medications, regular special exercises, a balanced diet, physical therapy, and instruction in joint protection. These various modalities are usually able to control the pain and disability associated with osteoarthritis.

Hicksville Elks Install New Officers

The Hicksville Elks lodge #1931 held their annual installation of officers, recently. This affair was attended by more than two hun-dred people who besides witnessing the in-stallation of officers were treated to a delicious dinner and an evening of dancing.

The following are the officers installed for the 1988/89 Elk year: Exalted Ruler - Thomas Preston, Esteemed Leading Knight - Kenneth Grosser, Esteemed Loyal Knight - John Fran-Grosser, Estectmed Loyal Ingili - John D'Errico, Ingili - John D'Errico, Secretary - Ralph Doxey (PDDGER), Treasurer - Edward Jerabek, Tiler - Benjamin Mroz, Esquire - Anthony Consolazio, Chaplain - Robert Stenson, Inner Guard - Consolazio, Chaplain - Cons Robert Neuendorf, Organist - Phil Alfano and Five Year Trustee - Thomas Koch.

These men along with the rest of the membership of the Hicksville lodge will strive to enhance and maintain the benevolent works, the Elks are dedicated to, through their charitable endearors and community involvements, such as Youth activities, Vet Americanism, Major Project (Cerebral Palsy Home Health Care), Drug Awareness and Family Oriented functions, to name a few.

Runaway Hotline for Abused Youth

There is a special phone number in Nassau County for abused, neglected, or maltreated youth. The number for the Runaway Hot Line is 480-6066 and counselors are available 24 hours, seven days/week.

If you've thought about running away from home because you can't take it any more, get blamed for everything that goes wrong, or are experiencing violence at home and you don't feel safe there call the Runaway Hot Line before you run. Again, the number is 480-6066. It's free, it's confidential, and they are there to help you sort things out or pro-vide emergency housing if needed.

Surprise Someone on Their Birthday or Anniversary.

Send the information in to the Hicksville Illustrated News and we'll print it free of charge.

Whether you're going for a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree, there's one college requirement that can prove very intimidating:

Money.

Fortunately, The Bank of New York can turn the difficult subject of economics into some simple arithmetic.

We make the college education you want affordable at 8%.

For example, if you took out a $9,000 Guaranteed Student Loan, your monthly payments would be only $109.19 over ten years. Best of all, you don't have to start paying for it until six months after you graduate.

In fact, our experienced staff of specialists can offer a multiple choice of loans—from Guaranteed Student Loans (GSL) to Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS) to Parent Loans for Students (PLS)—and tailor the one that's right for you into affordable monthly payments.

So can the people at Action Phone. Just call 1-800-942-1784 (out-ofstate. call 914-684-5514 collect). And be sure to ask for our student loan kit.

Or just stop by any one of our 190 convenient branches.

But don't wait. The terms of bachelorhood have never been so appealing.

The Investor's Corner by Dr. Joseph P. Frey

Buying Utility Stocks

When the stock market is uncertain what direction to take it goes sideways. That's what we have now — a sideways market. A market that is in a narrow trading range, up to 2200, down to 1800 on the Dow. It is a perfect market for traders, but not for the average investor.

When you have a stock market that has been savaged, as happened last October, people are scared. When we have an interest rate that is variable, down-up-down, investors get confused. At such times they seem to want quality. Historically, this meant investing in some type of utility stocks. The purpose of this article is to look at utility stocks so we can have a basis for assessing the risk in them. risk in them.

Utilities are seen as good recession stocks because they have a very stable customer base (everyone uses electricihave a very stable customer base (everyone uses electricity), an assured cash flow (everyone pays the bill) and a guaranteed rate of return (a terturn on investment built into the system). What more could you ask for in this risk-free investment? How can you lose? Let's look at some answers.

The first thing to look at is interest rates. Utilities are very highly leveraged. That means they have a lot of debt financing their assets. This debt makes them very sensitive to swings in interest rates because much of their debt is short term, or tied to short term interest rates. They also are constantly borrowing money at whatever the current interest rate happens to be. As a result, their interest costs will fluctuate with those interest rates. That is what interest sensitive means. This makes their term (ince in an unstable interest rate environment unstable. means. This makes their stock price in an unstable interest rate environment unstable.

means. This makes their stock price in an unstable interest rate interest rate environment unstable. The stock works like a bond in that respect. Up when rates fall and down when rates rise (All interest sensitive financial instruments do this).

The second thing to look at is the political environment. Since the earnings of any utility are in the hands of a rate commission they do not have much of a say as to what they can charge their customers. Rate commissions are political bodies because they are appointed officials. Since people don't like to lose their jobs, they are extremely sensitive to the desires of whoever appointed them. (This is true of all political appointeres, if the appointer can un-appoint them). Therefore, if the political sentiment is negative, watch out. It bodes lill for the stock price.

The third thing to look at is how efficient is the company. Many executives like lovely bureaucracies to govern. It gives them a sense of great power. It pleases many executives, the thing to watch is the size of the general and administrative expenses on the balance sheet over 3 to 5 years. If it is growing, you have a non-cost-cutting firm and earnings will decline. Why? The answer lies in the fact that income for a utility is determined by the investment. They are usually guaranteed a return on the amount of money spent on the equipment, not on their expenses to get the sales. So a cost-cutting utility will be more profitable than a non-cost-cutting one.

Another thing to look at is the nuclear exposure of the company. Nuclear plants have become a support of the company.

more profitable than a non-cost-cutting one.

Another thing to look at is the nuclear exposure of the company. Nuclear plants have become increasingly expensive. Cost overruns are part of the system. Also, these plants have become increasingly expensive to maintain. The environmental hazards are a great potential source of of damage claims which can erode profits quickly. The cost of the law battles and the damage awards will see to that. In addition, the removal of the plants after they are shut down is sometimes more expensive than the construction of that plant. So a large nuclear exposure can be detrimental to your financial health if you own the stock.

I've been thinking about the room that was mine when I was a little girland, in fact, it continued to be mine when I was a big girl—and I am picturing it—a big brass double bed, angled "catty-corner" across one corner of the room... and on that bed was a cotton bedspread with tufts called cherille... I often picked out the cherilles and ruined the design and my Mother was not at all pleased... And in the winter, a really "puffy feather-bed", actually a comforter, was added and it was toastily cozy and warm... and the sheets were entirely cotton because polyester hadn't been invented and only the really rich had linen sheets, and these sheets were either hung on the line and folded immediately after they were dry—which didn't really preclude some wrinkles—or the energetic Mothers ironed sheets. This bed was a magical place when a special friend "slept over". And my dresser was rather unusual. it was made of a wood called "bird'seye" maple, a kind of blonde wood with spots, very pretty, and this was a low dresser with only one wide drawer and two small drawers topped by a really large mirror which could be tilted to see if one's slip were showing... and on the dresser was a white dresser scarf with open-work design carefully done by my aunt who was so clever at embroidery... and I always loved to sew, even from about the third grade, so the sewing machine was in my room. Can you picture it? Single of course, with a treadle—learning to synchronize pumping the treadle and guiding the cloth beneath the needle was quite a trick. . . The machine had three drawers on each side, all crammed with threads and bits of fabric from some long-completed project . . . and the bobbin of the machine was long and fitted into a capsule-like covering which was then placed into the machine. Having more than one of these bobbins was a great luxury and I remember unwinding yards of one colored thread to replace it with another. I didn't have a desk—in our house, we did our homework at the dining room table where we were most often joined by several neighborhood kids who were in lower grades and looking for help. ... My room "just happened", it could not have been considered decorated or coordinated. but It lingers in my memory as a place for reading, dreaming, and sharing secrets with my special friend, Jane. . . it was a most important place in my life.

Yours, Lulubelle

What the Politicians are Saying.

From STATE SENATOR JOHN R. DUNNE: "The State Senate has passed laws to make it tougher on criminals—recently related to offenses for drug and alcohol abuse, religious descration, and parole. Among them are legislation that would require state prison immates to undergo drug testing to detect controlled substances before their parole hearings: a bill to establish stealing of a religious article with a value of at least $100 as a Class E felony; a bill that would raise each degree of arson one step where the target was a house of worship; and legislation that would require mandatory revocation of a driver's license of a perspipant legislation that would require mandatory revocation of a driver's license of a perspipant legislation that would require mandatory revocation of a driver's license of a promoter of criminal sale of a controlled substance and who used an automobile in the convicted of criminal sale of a controlled substance and who used an automobile in the commission of the crime."

From Michael J. Bragman, chairman, Assembly Agriculture Committee: "The loss of important farmland in areas subject to development pressures is a problem having a significant impact on the survival of agriculture in the Empire State.... I have introduced legislation to provide state matching grants to help localities establish "purchase of development rights" (PDR) programs under which farmers voluntarily sell the "development rights" of their land to the state or local government. The farmer is compensated for the difference between the property's "agricultural value" and its fair market value for development. The farmer retains ownership of the land with a deed restriction permitting continued agricultural use. This means that the farmer can realize the land's development value without having the land itself converted to other uses."

14(th Memorial Daviast approaching, ASSEMBLYMAN FRED PAROLA (R-C. Wantagh)

With Memorial Day fast approaching, ASSEMBLYMAN FRED PAROLA (R-C, Wantagh) is informing residents that applications for the New York State "Empire Passport" which provides free admission to numerous state parks and tourist attractions are available. The Passport costs 123 and allows free admission to Jones Beach, Bethpage State Park, and state golf courses, as well as many others. For information, call 731-3434.

From CONGRESSMAN TOM DOWNEY (D-Sulfolk) "The House of Representatives recent-ly passed the Terrorist Firearms Protection Act of 1988 which bans plastic handguns and others that cannot be detected by airport metal detectors. The bill also contains a number of pro-visions that will make life safer for law enforcement officers including a ban on firearms in Federal courtrooms, and increasing the penalties for possessions of explosives.

SUFFOLK COUNTY EXECUTIVE PATRICK HALPIN has signed legislation to protect small business owners who lease gasoline stations. The bill prohibits provisions requiring 24-hour operation. The new law in no way restricts the rights of those who deaded to keep their stations open 24-hours a day, but protects those who are reluctant to stay open because they are afraid of holdups.

ROBERT R. McMILLAN'S

We are very fortunate to live on Long Island with its many relaxing parks, museums and other places of interest. But, few compare with the serenity, beauty and imposing grandeur of Westbury House and Old Westbury Gardens. They are true Long Island treasures and easily accessible to all. The house and gardens have been open to the public since the late 1950's when they were incorporated with a private board of trustees to preserve 100 acres of the estate and grounds. The J.S. Phipps Foundation has assisted in this effort. John S. Phipps and his wife

Margarita Grace Phipps created the Westbury Home at the turn of this

Robert R. McMillan century. Mr. Phipps was the son of a partner in the Carnegie Steel Com pany and his wife was a member of the Grace shipping line family. Together with London designer George Abraham Cranley and American architect Grosvener Atterbury, they planned and built the House and Gardens. Before the House was built, the tract of land was composed of a number of self-sufficient Quaker farms. The farms dated back to 1675 and were some of the earliest settlements on Long Island.

The stateliness of the House and Gardens is first observed as you pass through gates and an arch fashioned in the early 1700s by a leading English blacksmith. Driving along a curved road lined by a double row of linden trees, the House comes into view. In the style of a Charles II manor house, the home contains the same furnishings used by the Phipps family while they lived there. Much of the furniture is from the eighteenth century and earlier. Throughout the home are paintings by English masters from the eighteenth century

It is very difficult to fully describe the home without a personal visit. There are sixteen rooms to see in all their splendor. From the Front Hall's massive fireplace to the flower filled West Porch, the elegance of the House sets the stage for the beauty and freshness of

The Gardens start just outside of the West Porch. Words alone cannot do justice to the Gardens. It takes over twenty gardeners to keep up with seasonal changes in the floral displays. At one end of this spec-tacular setting is the Walled Garden with its large pool of hardy water lilies. The Cottage Garden is another must stop on your visit with its most interesting collection of miniature plants. While the Phipps familiary ly lived there, the Cottage was used as a play house for their daughter, Peggie Phipps (Mrs. Etienne Boegner). A little further down the path brings you to three small log cabins - one for each of the boys in the

In addition to tours of the House and the Gardens, other events of interest to Long Islanders take place at Old Westbury Gardens throughout the year. Scottish Games, Picnic Pops, Lectures, and a Christmas show keep the Garden a living place throughout the year.

While from another era, the preservation of Old Westbury Gardens is important to all Long Islanders as a truly national treasure. The ens deserve broad public support.

The House and Gardens are open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday through Sundays starting early in May and running until late Oc-tober. A visit to the House and Gardens should be put on this summer's must list. They may be reached by following signs from Exit 39S of the Long Island Expressway or Exit 30of Northern State Parkway.

A Difficult Decision

In a recent decision, the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) said that it would not renew the H-1 type visas of a number of foreign nurses working in the United States. As the United States, and New York in particular, faces a critical shortage of nurses, many felt that the INS was being very bureaucratic and insensitive to the public

However, as with so many other difficult problems the situation is rarely all that simple. It is important to remember that the INS is only an agency of the federal government. The INS is not responsible for formulating our nation's immigration policy - that is the job of the congress and the president - but for interpreting and carrying out the laws that the congress has passed and that the president has signed into law. According to the immigration laws, the H-1 visa is a temporary work visa for a five to six year period. The INS was faced with a situation where individuals were in the United States with a temporary visa for a period of 15 to 20 years. It would have been difficult to see how the INS could renew the H-1 visas of individuals who had been here 15 to 20 years, and still at the same time say that it was enforcing the immigration laws as written by congress

In a discussion with representatives from the INS, it was pointed out that there are certainly ways by which hospitals and other health care institutions could secure visas for foreign nurses other than the H 1 visa. A spokesman for the INS indicated that they were willing to do their best to help these institutions meet their nursing needs.

The question which arises at this point is why do hospitals seem so attached to the H-1 visa as a way of obtaining foreign nurses to meet their staffing needs! One source speculated that it very well may be because with an H-1 visa a hospital has a contract with a specific individual. In other words, if a hospital sponsored a nurse on something other than an H-1, and this individual achieved legal permanent residency (received their "green card"), he or she would have no legal obligation to remain with the hospital that first sponsored him or her. Once this individual achieved permanent residency, he would become a "free agent" and could move to any employer he or she wished. With this in mind, it is easy to understand why hospitals have come to rely on the H-1 visa as a means for meeting their nursing staff requirements.

This country faces an almost unprecedented nursing shortage. According to the American Hospital Association 78.6 percent of 2,000 randomly selected hospitals reported a nursing shortage. However, the proper role of the INS is to enforce our nation's immigration laws, not to solve our nation's nursing shortage. Consequently while faced with a difficult decision, the INS had little choice but not to renew the H-1 visas.

At this point, the congress and the president, along with the state governments, must formulate legislation which will deal with the nursing shortage. As the nursing shortage is a national problem, it requires a national response

Remember Me?

Some call me Old Glory; others call me the Star Spangled Banner.

But whatever you call me, I am your flag. The Flag of the United States of Americal Something has been bothering me; so thought I might talk it over with you because trought i might talk it over with you because it is about you and me. I remember some time ago when people lined up on both sides of the road to the parade, and naturally I was leading every parade, and naturally as leading parade, proudly waving in the breeze. When your father saw me coming, he immediate ly removed his hat and placed it against his left shoulder so that his hand was directly over his heart. Remember! And you, I remember you standing there straight as a Marine. You didn't have a hat, but you were saluting me.

And I remember your sister! Not to be out done, she was saluting too with her right hand oone, she was saturing too within a night hand over her heart. ...Remember? What happened? I'm still the same Ol'Flag. Oh, I have added a couple of more Star-sance there. A lot more blood has been sned since those parades.

But now I don't feel as proud!

When I come down your road, your us: stand there with your hands in your pockets. I may get a small glance, and then with hose away. I see the children running around and shouting. They don't seem to know who limits aw one man take his hat off; their look around. He didn't see anyone else with their hats off and so he quickly put his hat back

It is a sin to be patriotic these days? Have you forgotten what I stand for and where I've been?... France, Guadalcansi China, Korea, Vietnam. Capitol Hill Journal

By Martin Burns

U.S. Reps. Raymond J. McGrath and Brian Donnelly have introduced into the House of Representatives a piece of legislation which would punish American companies in Nor-thern Ireland which employ unfair hiring

Under the McGrath/Donnelly proposal, American companies which locate in areas of Northern Ireland which are experiencing high rates of unemployment and employ fair hiring practices would receive additional tax benefits. On the other hand, American companies which do not employ fair hiring prac tices would face the loss of tax benefits currently available to American companies operating abroad.

Although the British government does have some fair employment laws on the books, many observers have pointed out that these measures have not been enforced and as a result the Catholic unemployment rate in Northern Ireland remains significantly higher than that of the Protestant community.

In a reversal of traditional roles, Rep. Tom in a reversal of traditional roles, Rep. Tom Downey, was presented with a Mother's Day card by his mother, Ms. Norma Downey. The event was part of a program sponsored by the Older Women's League designed to focus at-tention on the plight of older and middle aged women in poverty. According to the Older Women's League: Nearly three quarters of all the poor over age 65 are women. In addition, older women have 20 percent less Social Security income than men and are more likely to rely on it as their sole source of income.

Before Ms. Downey presented her son with his card she expressed her confidence in his ability to address this problem.

Memorial Day 1988 By John P. Comer National Commander

The American Legion

Memorial Day 1988 is a time for Americans to reflect on the past as we look to the future It is a time for us to remember and honor those Americans who died in service to our nation. It makes no difference when or where these gallant men and women served. but that they served when called.

Since the beginning of our nation, more than 200 years ago, Americans have answered the call to service. Service to the nation is the highest form of praise and honor we can make to the Constitution and our freedoms.

As Americans, we have honored our servicemen and women on Memorial Day since 1868. We know the price of freedom is high and we understand that to honor those who died in service to the country is not only proper, but much deserved. Without the unselfish service of millions of Americans since the Revolutionary War we would not enjoy the freedoms we have today.

Memorial Day is a time to reflect on those freedoms and on the sacrifices of the men and women who fought, and died, to keep the torch of liberty burning brightly. As a nation we asked them to serve. As a nation we must honor their service. As a nation we must remember their sacrfices

It is our duty as Americans to insure their service does not go unnoticed. It is our duty to honor these men and women by carrying on the traditions of service to this nation This Memorial Day 1988 must be a special time to honor those gallant heroes of our military who sacrificed their lives so all Americans could be free.

who sacraticed their lives so all Americans could be free.

We can pay no greater tribute to their service than that of honoring their memory and sacrifices while at the same time rekindling a sense of pride that, as Americans, we live in the greatest nation on the face of the earth.

Memorial Day is the day for all Americans to honor those men and women who paid the ultimate price to preserve our freedom.

Hicksville Middle School Field Trip

By Mike Speranza

The Hicksville Middle School Academic The Hicksville Middle School Academic Enrichment Program's annual trip to the Mt. Tone Environmental Education Center took place on May 9-11. The program was a great success. Students who had participated in at least six after school enrichment workshops throughout the year were eligible to go. A total of 35 students from the seventh and eighby trades were in attendance. eighth grades were in attendance.

The center, in Lake Como, P.A., offered en vironmental seminars in areas such as pond and stream, wildlife, acid rain, forest ecology. orinthology, nature photography and or-ienteering. All seminars were "hands on". A few lucky students also took part in the great Beaver Dam adventure. Students also had free time to explore areas in which they had special interest in.

Evening activities were a mixture of educational and recreational. Representatives from the Delaware Valley Raptor Center came down with hawks, owls and a golden eagle. The students were treated to a lecture on the birds of prey, with live demonstrations. There were also athletic competitions, skits and an impromptu dance. An old-fashioned camp imprompted darker. And one assessment in the was held one evening.

This trip was planned by Mr. Greg Romano, Supervisor of Academic Enrichment Programs. Greg deserves a hearfelt "thanks" from students, faculty and parents. He put in many long hours putting this trip together.

One sad note. Due to pending budget cuts in the Middle School's G&T Program, this may have been the last trip of this nature.

and planning the curriculum. Students who had made this trip before, agreed that this was by far the best one yet.

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

Once again Memorial Day draws near. A day of honor for those who have made the Supreme Sacrifice in defense of our beloved nation. The Hicksville community and veterans have kept this a time honored tradition to remember Hicksville's Roll of Honor... to never forget their convictions to defend freedom when called. Memorial Day is a Sacred Duty to remember men such as Charles A. Wagner, Walter Wheeler, Arthur F. Noeth, Richard Gogan and Carl N. Kozma. Their memory will never fade as long as the

On Saturday, May 28 at 8 am, the flagging of graves takes place at Pinelawn National Cemetery, Volunteers are urgently needed. On Sunday, May 29 at 8:30 am there will be a memorial service at Plainlawn Cemetery in Hicksville conducted by the UVO of Hicksville after which Legionnaires decorate Charles A. Wagner's grave at Holy Rood Cemetery in Westbury, At 10:00 am on May 29, the UVO of Nassau County will have ser yices at the Veterans' Memorial in Eisenhower Park. At 2 pm on May 29, there will be a service at Plainlawn National Cemetery. On Memorial Day. Monday. May 30, assembly for the Hicksville Memorial Day. Parade will be at 8:30 am in Sears parking lot. Legionnaires will meet before that by the Masonic Temple on Nicholai Street at 8 am. Uniform of the day will be blue blazer, white shirt and maroon tie for the color guard. The Hicksville Memorial Day Service will be con-ducted after the parade by the monuments at the Junior High.

PC Artie Rutz recalls a poem penned in 1959 by Auxiliary President Ethel Habenicht as Memorial Day was near:

May is the month of memories Of poppies and flags in the breezes For those who have crossed that great broder To rest after their victories.

There is many a tear unshed

When the sun dips its color at evening Like the poppy, its color is red. We know as each day draws its curtain, When Old Glory is lowered and blessed, Some Mother's heart holds the answer

She knows you have done your best. Yes, May is the month of memories Of years that have flown by, But our heavenly father remembers Each year, each heart and each sign. He remembers the boy you cared for, How he prayed "Dear God" as he died, For you Dear Mom he is waiting On that shore on the other side. Yes, May is the month of memories, Of Poppies and flags in the breezes For Moms and families and sweethearts For the pug nose kid and a tease He rests in a spot not forsaken For there Poppies bloom day by day He rests knowing your thoughts are with him, On this day- the 30th of May.

We thank the members of the Hicksville vertains the internet of the Incovince community who have made donations in return for a poppy. The contributions will be used for veterans' rehabilitation. As all Hicksville Legionnaires know the Grand Marshal of the Memorial Day Parade and Service is Frank Molinari. Frank is a Past Commander of our post and a combat U.S. Army veteran of World War Two. Frank is also a member of the VFW and has donated years of service to the Memorial Day Parade. It is a great personal honor to march down Broad-way led by the Grand Marshal amongst the ranks of the veterans of Hicksville, our Gold Star Mothers and citizens paying respect as Old Glory marches by. My own thoughts will be that of prayer for our POW-MIA's and those families who still wait. I will thank the veterans of Hicksville for our cherished freedom and above all I will remember those who gave the most.

LI Salutes the Arts In a Summer Festival

A three-month festival of the arts. celebrating the richness and diversity of Long Island's cultural community, begins Memorial Day weekend, May 28. Long Island Arts '88, which brings together for the first time the entire fine arts community on the Island, will continue through Labor Day. September 5.

About 25.
About

The events, presented by more than 100 Long Island arts organizations, were chosen by a committee of arts professionals as the best from a competitive field.

The festival will be kicked off on Sunday,

May 22 with a special LIRR train ride from Garden City to Southampton, making whistle-stops along the way and providing entertainment at both train stations. Balloons and signs of the sunburst of Long Island Arts '88 will fill the air—and a plane bearing a LI Arts banner will fly overhead—as marching bands, singers, dancers, puppeteers and artists perform.

All events throughout the summer will be listed on a calendar available at each event. In addition, all events will be listed in a brochure which is being distributed by the Long Island Rail Road on its train schedule racks, and by the Long Island Tourism and Convention Commission to restaurants. hotels and airports. The Long Island Radio Broadcasters Association will serve as a clear-inghouse for rain dates and other changes

Well Balanced Diet/ Needs Vitamins

These days, nutritional support is a major concern for most health conscious people. Health experts are now convinced that a simple well balanced diet may not be the best preparation for todays stressful demands.

Total Nutritions' original "Vitamin Factory Outlets" are one of Long Island's largest sup-pliers of natural vitamins. Well known for their discount prices, large selections, and high quality supplements, you will find 3 convenient locations in Huntington and Farmingdale.

Each store is staffed by courteous knowledgeable salespeople trained to help you select the best vitamins for your individual needs. We feature our total nutrition brand of vitamin supplements at super savings! You'll also be surprised to find that our everyday prices on name brands such as 'Iwinlabs & Solgar are lower than all others. We also offer one of Long Island's largest selections of body building & athletic supplements. Name brands such as Wieder, Unipro, Natures Best, Universal, American Bodybuilding and Cybergenics sal, American Bodybuilding and Cybergeritis are always discounted. Says the president and founder Jay Silverman, "We began on the premise that by keeping overhead down and volume high we could make high quality vitamin supplements affordable to all groups. We even offer additional discounts to senior citizens. Our customers are afforded the opportunity to compare formulations and prices while receiving individual assistance with his or her own specific nutritional needs."

If you've become concerned about the rising costs of your vitamins, come visit any of our three convenient locations or if you can't visit us, simply call with your charge card number and we'll rush your vitamins right to your door. See for yourself what a total dif-terence our stores will make.

Stores are open Monday through Saturday 10-6 p.m. Call 385-9777 and ask for the location closest to you. MasterCard/Visa Welcome.

A Slim, Healthy You... It's a Weigh of Life

Nutrition, diet, health, fitness... you can't pick up a newspaper or magazine these days without reading something about at least one of them, usually all. Weigh of Life, aware of the importance of weight loss, nutrition and diet medically and emotionally, help its clients lose weight while making permanent changes in their "food life styles

The program is a combination of healthy diet and behavior modification, not deprivation dieting. According to Weigh of Life, "In order to be a continued to the order to lose weight, a person must reduce the number and kinds of food eaten. We want

by KENI WOODRUFF

What's new in prenatal testing? "Lots," says Dr. Robert Jason, gynecologist and Medical Director of Great Neck Women's Medical Care. "The development and refinement of ultrasound techniques, obstetrical Doppler blood flow studies, and other sophisticated technologies, has significantly reduced fetal accidents and helped the obstetrical com-munity detect potential complications early in a woman's pregnancy." Dr. Jason said

'We have three of the top high risk egnancy centers in the metropolitan area right here on Long Island, Dr. Jason said. "North Shore University Hospital, Long Island Jewish Medical Center, and Winthrop University Hospital. They have top gynecological, obstetrical, pre- and neo-natal departments, and the staff utilizes testing centers like ours to support their own exten sive knowledge, with highly sophisticated, extremely specific prenatal test data.

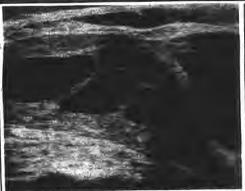

"If the obstetrician suspects a complication, a multiple birth, or has any reason to feel fetal evaluation is necessary, there are four comprehensive, non-invasive procedures that are now performed," said Dr. Jason. "The obstetrician may prescribe any one, or all, of these, depending on the individual patient and her history.

'Ultrasound examinations, pregnancy sonograms, are the most common of these evaluations." Dr. Jason commented. "They give a view of the baby's anatomy to rule out fetal anomalies; they show the fetal position; give a comparison of the baby's growth with standard growth curves, the quantity of amniotic fluid, and the amount of calcification in the placenta. Statistical data is printed next to an electronic 'scan' of the fetus. Not only can we, trained obstetricians, diagnosticians and fetal evaluation experts, spot potential problems very early in a pregnancy, but the parents can actually see their baby.

"It's extraordinary," said Arthur C. Fougner, MD, head of diagnostic Ultrasound and Fetal Evaluation at the Great Neck diagnostic center. "The bonding that occurs when the parents view an ultrasound scan is amazing. They see their unborn child for the first time, not as a lump, but as 'their baby' It moves, it wriggles its toes, sucks its thumb. Sometimes we have as many as five people in the sonogram room: grandparents, brothers and sisters. These babies are 'individuals' way before the actual birth.

"Not only that," Dr. Fougner and Dr. Jason concurred. "but early ultrasound detection of anything unusual in the fetus or the fetal environment ensures the best possible care for the mother and the unborn child. We can monitor a high risk pregnancy, assuring the

Berkshire Mountain Spring Water

Berkehlre spring water is not treated or processed in any way, says Dan Perovich, president of the ong Island branch. He stresses that some consumers should be aware that there are different kinds Long Island branch. He stresses that some consumers should be aware that there are different kinds of bottled water, and some are not as pure as advertisements would suggest. Some companies bottle mineral water, well water or even tap water, and have to put the water through filtration and disinfec-tion processes. Berkshire is one of the very few companies in the United States that offers totally pure.

Berkshire water is tested every week by a state licensed laboratory. Not once in the 18 years has any bacteria ever been discovered.

They will gladly provide a certified analysis of the bacteriological and chemical content of their own spring water. Consumers are invited to visit the Berkshire plant to see the bottling process for themselves.

Berkshire provides delivery directly to the customers home or office at a reasonable cost of $6.50 per 5 gallon jug. With initial order, new customers will receive a 5 gallon jug of water plus 2 month-cooler rental free.

right specialists and equipment are on hand at birth. We foresee emergencies, and in many cases can alleviate a condition that we see early, so the baby is born healthy."

'Ultrasound has allowed us to detect multiple births, too," Dr. Fougner noted. "Do you know that as late as the 1970s, it was often not until the second baby was being delivered that the doctor knew his patient was carry-ing twins? Now we know very early in the station period, and both the mother and each fetus can be given proper care all the way through to delivery.

This is especially important, today, when many women are taking fertility hormones that often result in multiple fetuses. Take the case of the Cangialosi quintuplets, born at Long Island lewish Medical Center last fall. The obstetrician, Dr. Arthur Mernit, was sure there were three babies, but asked Great Neck Women's Medical Care to perform a sonogram just to make sure," Dr. Jason said 'Not only did we see three fetuses, we clearly detected two additional babies. The quints were delivered, all healthy, on October 15, 1987. That early detection and the ongoing diagnostic and medical supervision during the pregnancy prepared the family, the medical staff and the hospital for any emergency, and it helped ensure the delivery of five healthy, normal infants," Dr. Jason

Other tests include a fetal biophysical pro-file, which records and evaluates the presence, type and quality of fetal movement: fetal tone and breathing movements.

An Acoustic Stimulation Test combines sound and vibration to provide a qualitative assessment of fetal neurological function. Similar to the pediatrician's reflex assessment of the infant at birth (part of the Apgar score), the acoustic stimulation assesses reflex response of the fetus ("obviously," Dr. Jason said, laughing, "we can't tap the fetus's knee with a hammer to get a response, but an AST accomplishes nearly the same thing")

'A third, vital test, the newest and most diagnostically informative." Dr. Jason said, "is an obstetrical Doppler blood flow study (Umbilical and Uterine Artery Doppler Flow Velocimetry). This evaluates fetal and mater nal arterial wave forms to ascertain the integrity of placental circulation. The placenta is the baby's lifeline," Dr. Jason noted. "A fetus ex-posed to prolonged stress or placental insufficiency (lack of oxygen, nutrients, etc), will often manifest abnormalities in placental circulation before any other signs of fetal distress show up. We can then take immediate steps to correct the problem, avoiding potential isaster later on," Dr. Jason said

The fourth test in the Comprehensive Fetal Evaluation, is the non-stress test. The fetal heart rate and movements, as well as its reactivity, are recorded over a period of time, and these results are compared as development progresses. There are many procedures today to ensure the healthy growth and birth of a fetus," according to Dr. Jason and the skilled staff of this highly regarded diagnostic center. "We can avoid many complications, be aware of fetal distress before there is trouble, eliminate a great many fetal accidents that occurred before the development of these techniques. These procedures are non-invasive, do not cause interference in the physiological development of the baby, and reassure the parents and referring obstetrician, in high risk or multiple fetus pregnancies." "What's amazing" said Dr. Fougner, "is that all this diagnostic capability is really in its own infancy. The advances that lie ahead of us, technologically, are immense. Every year researchers develop techniques and equip ment that can test more minutely, earlier perhaps, one day, we can eliminate fetal anomalies and accidents altogether."

Great Neck Women's Medical Care, 1010 Northern Blvd., Suite 106, offers complete prenatal testing with the most sophisticated diagnostic equipment, as well as low-dose mammography and a variety of diagnostic testing services for women who are not preg-nant. Booklet About Health Practitioners Available

The State Consumer Protection Board (CPB) has announced the publication of a new booklet titled, "Health Practitioners and What They Do." The booklet lists and describes the different types of health professionals available to consumers.

Richard M. Kessel, Executive Director of the CPB, said that the publication is intended to help consumers tell the difference between different health practitioners, some whose fields sound similar. The booklet also offers consumers guidelines that can help in their search for a particular health practitioner.

MENOPAUSE

The good news about menopause is that it no longer carries the negative, upsetting connotations of the past. An educated woman can choose good health during this phase of her life, retain her vitality, and minimize the unpleasant physical and emotional symptoms.

Contemporary women have powerful weapons to com-bat some of the symptoms of midlife change. Physical and emotional signs of your body's changes include the famous hot flash, intermittent periods of chills and perspiration, mood swings, vaginal dryness, insomnia, osteoporosis, and nervousness. But you can take positive steps to insure your continued good health.

Nutritional supplements, hormonal replacement therapy, and appropriate weight bearing exercises can alleviate symptoms of menopause. Combined with a regular examination by a caring physician with whom you can establish a frank, open dialogue, your oppor-tunities to lead a full, healthy life are unlimited.

This medical news is being brought to you as a com-munity service by the Long Island Women's Health Care Group. We're a dedicated group of obstetrician-gynecologists who treat each patient as an individual.

Midland Civic News

By Gert Paul

Despite the deluge of rain on May 18, members of the Midland Civic Association gave a very respectable showing at the last meeting of the '8y/88 season held at Willet Avenue School. The first item on the agenda was the "Meet the Candidates for the Board of Education". Mr. Tom Nagle, Mr. Bill Bennett and Mrs. Pat Rooney each gave presentations. Vice-President Richard Pfaender urged everyone to come out and vote for the candidate of their choice and on the school budget.

Mr. Eric Swemson, Esq., environmental control specialist and superintendent of environmental control of the Town of Oyster Bay, and Mr. Frank Roach gave a comprehensive report on the S.O.R.T. program and on the reasons why recycling needs our earnest support. It will save hundreds of thousands of dollars in shipping costs (our garbage; snow compacted and sent as far away as Ohio) and also raise money so our taxes will be less. They also urged us not to throw pollutants in our garbage, but to dispose of them under the ST.O.P program. Newspapers can be tied up or put in brown paper bags. Cans (paper labels removed), glass bottles and jars and aluminum tins go in the yellow pail which we all received.

Kirk Jurgelevich Wins it All as 1988 Mr. Maine

Kirk Jurgelevich, a former graduate of Hicksville High school, class of '71, won the Maine Body Building Championship on April 9, 1988 and was given the title of "Mr. Maine,

While at Hicksville High Kirk participated in football, wrestling and lacrosse and in his senior year won the Babe Ruth Award, naming him 'best athlete and sportsman of the 1971 senior class'. He went to Adelphi Universi sity where he majored in Physical Education and graduated in 1975. At Adelphi he was a four-time All-American in lacrosse. He is now living in Maine where he teaches high school physical education at Boothbay Region High

It all finally came true for Kirk Jurgelevich. physical education teacher from Boothbay Harbor. All the hours of training, all the dieting, all the posing practice, all the tanning sessions, all that goes into bodybuilding finally paid off, "It was great," said Kirk, "I just kept walking onto the platform and they kept handing me trophies, three in all!"

ON Studies Angle is trues Kirk south bir.

On Saturday, April 9, it was Kirk's 35th bir-thday and the Mr. and Ms. Maine Bodybuilding Championships at the Univer-sity of Southern Maine Gym in Portland. Kirk won it all. He won the Middle Height class 5'7" to 5'9"; the 35 and Over Class, and the Overall Championship, giving him the title.
'Mr. Maine 1088.' "It was the best day of my life so far. Well, not the best—the day I mar-ried my wife Cathy was the best. Thanks to her, all this was much easier. She kept me going, she was my training partner, my friend and she was with me all the way. All the hours and sne was with me air the way. Air the roots in the gym, all the miles we ran, all the weights we lifted and all the dieting and complaining I did ... she was always there to give support and to help out. I couldn't have done it without her. I want to thank Cathy, I love her more than anything in the world." Mr. J. said.

The competition was tough. Kirk had to go through two sets of compulsory posing and a pose-down between the other two class winners, talls and shorts. The 35 and Over class winners, tails and shorts. The 33 and Over class does not compete for the overall title.

The first class to go out was the Over 35 class. "It looked like I had a good chance," Kirk said. He said he was waiting for the Medlum Class Division, where he knew he had the most competition. This class was stacked. Chris Gaudet was Kirk's closest competition. Kirk's more cut and defined body helped him win the senior division easily, and he was pick ed number one in the medium division over Chris Gaudet. Next was the overall competition where the best of the three classes pose off against each other. It was Tony Rodriques in the short. Kirk in the medium, and Steve Foley in the tall. The judges went through all the compulsory poses first. They were ask-ed to do a side chest, side tricep, back and front double bicep, back and front lat spread, hand on hips—abdomen thigh pose and finally, most muscular pose—Kirk's best. They then had to free pose to music. "I was in good cardiovascular shape from my running and rowing and I think the other two guys got a little tired," said Kirk. "I just kept throwing poses out—double bicep, triceps, legs, abs, lats, and my best, the most muscular pose. lats, and my best, the most muscular pose. I thought my body was going to blow up. Then the judge said, "Relax." The sweat and oil was just dripping off; Kirk said. "When the judge handed the final slip to the announcer, and he said, "And the new 1988 Mr. Maine champion is Kirk Jurgelevich." I must have jumped a mile. What a feeling I hadall that work had paid off. What a great birded we see "Wiening this champions his damping this champions his warming the see "Wiening this champions his many more than the second was made and the second with the second warming this champions his cha thday present." Winning this championship gives Kirk the chance to compete in the A.A.U. Mr. U.S.A. Championship.

"It was real nice having all my friends and relatives show up at this competition. It was great having people there cheering me on," Kirk said.

Central Island

Quality Care is our Commitment

The American Health Care Association, of which Central Island is a member, designated the week of May 8-14th "National Nursing Home Week." This week is designed to increase community awareness with regard to our growing elderly population. Nursing homes, nationwide, hosted special events and educational programs open to community participation.

At Central Island, our commitment to community education and involvement is ongoing. Volunteer opportunities, student educational placement and organizing cooperative programs with local schools are just a few of the ways in which we provide service to the community and assure that our residents remain vital citizens.

It is with pride that we recognize the contributions of Plainview Middle School, Jamaica Avenue School, Matlin Middle School, Pasadena School, J.F.K. High School and the Town of Oyster Bay for their help in making "National Nursing Home Week" a memorable and exciting experience.

Kiwanis News

The Kiwanis Club of Hicksville was recent ly given a presentation by Marie Stenko of the Long Island Citizens Coalition. Ms. Stenko spoke about the Long Island water table and aquifer system from which all Nassau and Suffolk county residents draw their drinking and

The information she gave made it "crystal clear" that everyone has a direct effect upon this delicate and important natural resource which many find easy to take for granted. The Kiwanis club of Hicksville is always eager to learn more about the community and the factors that affect it so their service to Hicksville may be more appropriate.

House Calls By EDITH LANK

Seller Responsible for Mortgage

Dear Edith: Please explain how the Dear Edits: Flease explain now the seller of a home(with a mortgage being assumed) can be responsible for pay-ment of this mortgage if the buyer is foreclosed, in other words, please ex-plain a deficiency judgment.—Mr. J.M.

A. Let's say A buys a house, and borrows money to do so. When he receives the loan, he signs two papers. One is a bond, or note. Like any promissory note, it is a personal promise to repay the loan. The second ducument is a mortgage (or trust deed), allowing the lender to foreclose and sell the property at auction if the debt isn't repaid as promised.

A later sells the house to B, who assumes the mortgage. B is now personally responsible for the debt. The house is still there as security for the loan, and under the usual arrangement, A is also still bound by that promise to repay.

If B falls upon hard times and can't make the payments, the property may be seized through foreclosure. If an auction sale yields enough to cover the remaining debt, legal costs, back payments, unpaid property taxes and the like, all is well. B will receive any leftover proceeds

Let's assume, though, that the sale doesn't bring enough to cover what's due. In that case the lender can ask the court for a judgment ordering B to make up the loss. But B doesn't have any money; that's why he got into this trouble in the first place.

Which brings us to your question. A was never released from his original promise to repay. If the missing money—the deficiency—can't be collected from 8, the lender can ask the court for a judgment

Canceling the Listing

Dear Edith: I have a six-month listing to sell my house. How can I legally get out of this contract now and take out a con-tract with a better broker? Can I take the off the market to sell it myself? If I sold to an investor now after the con-tract is canceled, do I pay a commission? -Mr. K.D.

A: That could depend on whether the investor saw the house while it was listed, and on the wording of your listing contract.
In most states an owner who is acting in good faith has the right to cancel a listing agreement at any time. The broker may have the right to be reimbursed for time and money expended—advertising, for example. But if you cancel because you want to sell to someone who has already seen the place then you're not acting in good faith. In addition, the listing contract you signed probably has a provision to cover such an event.

Forcing A Sale

Dear Edith: My husband and I own a half-interest in a three-unit income property. The other half is owned by mon with us. Here's the problem. They lu which the court ordered the exhusband to sell the entire property, or else the ex-wife autorney will file a partition suit to force the sale.

Can we be compelled? Forced to sell our half interest by that court order or a partition sult, even though we were not a party to the divorce settlement -Mrs. E.A.

A. The divorce doesn't really have anything to do with it. Your partners have always had the right to force a sale of the whole property, through a court order for partition. If you don't want to sell, try to buy their share.

(Just what does a security deposit accomplish? What are tenant's rights? The topic is discussed in the leaflet LANDLORD AND TENANT, available for 11 and a stamped return envelope to Landlord, 240 Hemingway Drive, Rochester, NY 14620).

Middle School Students Raise Money for Charity

The Blue and White Teams of seventh and eigth graders at the Middle School held a Sports Nite recently to raise money for chari-ty. The teams competed in various races and had two volleyball games during the competition. The students raised 1900 for their efforts and donated it to the Association for the Children with Downs Syndrome. Teachers Marge Steinbach, Maye Massa and Mike Scheck coordinated the event.

We would like to remind all our CYO teams, that on Monday, May 30, we will be marching in the Memorial Day Parade. All coaches are to meet with their teams in the Sears parking lot at 8:30 a.m. Also remember the winning teams of the "Banner Contest," in each division, will receive 'Carvel' for the

Gary and I have been trying to make our rounds to the different games to see how everything is. There seems to be only one thing that bothers us at this time. We are an intermural program, which means each child shall play the game to his/her ability, even the umpires. It seems to be a problem that the parents get so excited about the games, that they seem to forget about the umpires. The umpires are also children in our organization and do try very hard to do their jobs for us. Parents are not to interfere with the umpires' decisions at any time. Please, as parents, let's try to be a little bit more considerate of our umpires

Hicksville Minutemen Tie Queens Team 3-3

By Karen Blicker

The Hicksville Minutemen 1977 "B" travelling soccer team tied the Auburndale (Queens) Navahoes in a 3-3 contest May 21 at Ft. Totten Army Base. The score was 2-0 by halftime on goals by Anthony Noya from a lorge DeSilva assist and by Danny DePino from yet another DeSilva assist.

Auburndale came barreling back in the se-cond half with a show of aggression and force and quickly gained the lead 3-2. Sean Flanagan's perfect penalty shot enabled Hicksville to tie the game 3-3 and that score prevailed.

Hicksville players showed their versatility by playing in multiple positions: Robin Blicker at stopper, left fullback and left wing; Jason Brown at right halfback; Tim Dalton at center half; Brian Rigert at left half; Mike Coen at stopper and left fullback; Greg Walunas at right and left fullback; Anthony Noya at striker and left fullback; Bob Wagner at left fullback; Sean Flanagan at sweeper; Mark Spinner at stopper, Danny DePino at left wing and striker; and Jorge DeSilva at right wing. Michael Whitman had an outstanding game in goal, with some near miraculous saves. The team should be congratulated for its good sportsmanship. Thanks, too, to Al Blicker, who coached, and Pete Whitman, who assisted, for their time, efforts and patience.

Shamrocks Beat Jericho 4-0 In Cantiague Soccer

By Karen Blicker

The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 travelling soccer team played host to the Jericho Jet-at Cantiague Park May 21. Goals were scored by Jason Kingsley, Dom Perillo, Karl Rice and a header by Chris Koetter.

The Shamrocks displayed their versatility and skills time after time as the opposition gamely tried to outmaneuver them. The lineup consisted of Eric Blicker at sweeper Kris Friedrich at left fullback; Brian Harkin: at stopper; Kareem Holman at right halfback Jason Kinsley at striker, Chris Koetter at right wing and halfback; David Lovato at left half and right wing; Chuck Oliver at right fullback. Dom Perillo at left and center halfback; Matt Pordum at center halfback; Karl Rice at left wing, Junior Tomlinson played a superb game in goal with sure-handed efforts and boom ing punts.

Thanks to the Shamrocks for a great game and to Coach Herb Pordum and Assistant Glenn Kingsley for their efforts. PLEASE NOTE: Coach Pordum is appearing at the Plainedge Playhouse in the lead role as Man Plainedge Haylouse in the lead tot. as Allandol of LaMancha until 6/12. If you and your family want to spend a delightful evening run, don't walk, to your phone and order tickets to see our multi-talented Herb Pordum!

Hicksville PAL Dance-Twirl

By Charlette M. Anstey

We had two Dance-Twirl teams go into competition on Sunday, March 8, 1988. The ner Team won the second place trophy. Even though our Advanced Team did not win any trophies, they performed excellently. Our Beginner Team included: Terry Novinski, Liane Lewis, Christine Povilauskas, Laurie Siegel and Cathy Christensen. Even though Christy Goodlet and Jennifer Johns could not participate in this competition, they were with their team in spirit. When we go to our next competition in April, we will also have Laura Power and Jennifer Mulligan joining the Beginner Team.

Our Advanced Team included: Kristen Anstey, Shabana Master, Tara Murphy, Susan Fippinger, Melinda Forester, Beth Murphy and Diana West. Even though this was a raix ed age group of young women from 10 to 15 years old, everyone offered encouragement to each other and worked together to make this team spectacular. Where many teens would have been leery of trying something new, these teenagers dived into new waters and came up winners. A special thank you is extended to our teenagers Susan Fippinger, Beth Murphy and Thra Murphy. We couldn't ask for better role models for the younger children!

Instructor Terry Needham said "It's very frightening the first time these girls go out on the floor to compete as a team. They don't know what to expect. Their hands become very wet and it's hard to hold onto their baton. Where many teens would have been leery much less twirl. By the second competition, they're pros".

To the parents and participants alike, it was very rewarding to experience the girls working as teams out on the competition floor. When the Beginner team went on the floor to perform, the Advanced team clapped en thusiastically to their music. I'm sure the enthusiastic support inspired the Beginner Team to win the second place trophy. In our Ad-vanced Team, we had only two girls (Kristen Anstey and Melinda Forester) who had been in twirling competitions before. Because each team learned to do a different DANCE-TWIRL routine, there was no internal competition between them.

We have many different age levels in each team. In the Beginner Team the ages range from 8 to 11 and in the Advanced Team the ages range from 9 to 15.

As with all Hicksville PAL programs (boys' baseball, girls' softball, girls' basketball, judo, karate, boys basketball and bowling), emphasis in Dance-Twirl is put on learning how work as a team, learning a skill, friendships and good sportsmanship.

A special thank you goes to Dr. Catherine Fenton, Superintendent of Hicksville School District and Mr. Tom Shaw, Director of Facilities and Operations. Without their assistance in obtaining places to practice, the Hicksville PAL Dance-Twirl program would not be in existence. Part of this first trophy deservedly belongs to them also!

Hicksville Strikers 2 Wantagh Falcons 2

The Hicksville Strikers' soccer team met the Wantagh Falcons at Cantiague Park May 15, and played to a 2-2 tie. Both clubs play in the Long Island Junior Soccer League, Division 1 for boys under 10. The Strikers are coached by Pat McHugh and Steve Gourlay and currently have a division record of 1 win, 2 ties and 1 loss.

The Falcons struck first at the 20 minute mark on a hard shot by forward Tom Graziano into the corner of the net. After that, the defensive line of Boccafola, Sargeant, Longo, Frey and Walsh solidified and kept the Falcons under control for the first half. Midfielders, Seiden, McKenna, Sinett, Lehmann Friedman and Brigandi kept pressure on the Falcon defense by keeping the ball in the Wantagh half of the field. Forwards, Thompson, Schroeder, Martin, Fisch and Gourlay took many shots at the Falcon net but were unable to score. In one instance forward Greg Martin of the Strikers broke through the Falcon defense and took a shot on goal with the Wantagh keeper just deflecting the ball to the outside of the net. Falcon goalkeeper, Joe Schrelli, made six fine saves during the first half to repel all the Strikers efforts.

In the second half the wind favored the Falcons and they came on strong. Striker goalkeeper Tim Richards made a total of five excellent saves to keep the Falcons under control. At the 22 minute mark, Jim Cantley of the Falcons, scored the second Wantagh goal on a shot from outside the 30 yard area. At 33 minutes Hicksville scored their first goal on a fine breakaway by Steve Goulay who beat the Falcon goalkeeper on a low shot in-to the corner. The Strikers then switched to to the corner. The Strikers then switched to a 3-3-4 attack in an effort to tie the score. The additional pressure paid off at the 42 minute mark when Peter Thompson found Steve Gourlay in the corner unmarked and Steve again put another excellent shot past the Wantagh goalkeeper to tie the score. Hicksylle goalkeeper Tim Richards wound up the area with a total of a says and lost. up the game with a total of 5 saves and Joe Schrelli of Wantagh had 16.
