

Merchant of the Week: 'First Class'

"A child's First Class forms the building blocks of future schooling."
Something totally new in child care is coming to Hicksville this fall. First Class will offer a comprehensive educational program for the young children of working parents, conveniently located three blocks from the train station.

Dr. Lyle Greeman and Richard Gordon, the duo who conceived First Class, believe the center will provide the highest quality childcare available in the safest and most educationally productive environment.

"The need for childcare programs and companies to offer child care benefits is increasing tremendously on Long Island," said Dr. Greeman. "We wish to address this need, not through a babysitting concept, but through offering the best components of a home and top-notch nursery school."

They will achieve this goal in two ways. First, they hired an exceptional staff, all certified by the state. Each has a background in early childhood education. The assistants, as well, have the talent for interacting positively with young children.

Second, all professionals are highly trained to understand the certain developmental concepts which the founders know every child must experience. Every teacher is aware of a child's cognitive, emotional, social and physical needs, and these will be developed through a structured play/learning environment.

"We can do this without imposing on a child," said Mr. Gordon. "The child will just think he's having a great time, when actually, he will be preparing for future schooling."

Dr. Greeman added, "First Class will have all the advantages of the home. We'll be like an extended family, with a highly trained staff supervising every move."

The child will grow socially and emotionally in a stable environment. "A steady staff in a vital environment for every child must have consistency. He or she will have a secure feeling, as will the parents, as well as effective teaching," said Dr. Greeman.

First Class will replace Jack and Jill on East John Street shortly. Hours will be 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., five days a week, 12 months a year, for full day programs. The center welcomes corporate contracts for their employees and offers an open door policy, so parents can visit any time.

Mr. Gordon, among other prestigious accomplishments, was Head Teacher at the Queens College Early Childhood Center. He also helped devise systems to enhance the professional development of administrators and staff working in pre-schools and day care centers throughout Queens.

Dr. Greeman, with 13 years experience, has been an expert in child development, psychoanalytic theory and technique, parent-child relations, and helped develop an out reach program for abused children at Hillside Hospital.

Gatsby Legend Jim Kenny Joins the Force

NASSAU COUNTY EXECUTIVE Thomas S. Gulotta attended the going away celebration in honor of Jim Kenny, second from left, a resident of Hicksville. Jim is leaving his 15 year position as manager of the Gatsby's Pub in Westbury to begin a new career as a corrections officer for Nassau County. Jim has been referred to as, "the Gatsby Legend", as well as a star athlete. County Executive Gulotta presented a Proclamation to Mr. Kenny in recognition of his outstanding service to the customers of Gatsby's Pub and the community. Also present were, left to right: Dee Kenny, wife of honoree; and Dennis McCoy, proprietor of Gatsby's Pub.

around here and all I can say is that maybe the community should try to clean up the area around here."

Chamber of Commerce Affected

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce has been affected by the situation because some of the club's members are in favor of the INN and other members are against the soup kitchen. Mrs. Krogmann and Mr. LeCompte are both chamber members. "We are in the middle," Marcos Ramirez, president of the chamber said. "Merchants belong to the chamber and expect the chamber to do something." In a written statement, Mr. Ramirez said that the problem of homelessness and hunger is not unique to Hicksville, nor is it a brand new problem. "Establishment of the INN was accomplished because the problem existed—it didn't cause the problem."

He added, "Being aware of the homeless and hungry is perhaps a new experience to all of us—it is a nationwide malady, however,—and it won't go away by doing nothing."

Mr. Ramirez said that some of the guests of the INN are being judged by the few offenders who are abusing their privileges and becoming a "nuisance" to nearby merchants. "If the INN does not operate, the problem will just crop up somewhere else. We have to deal with it," he said.

Merchants' Reactions

Florence Kurman, dean of Hunter Business School at Railroad Station Plaza, said, "I don't know if the kitchen has anything to do with the problem, but I am very concerned. It's very disconcerting to see such dirty people around." She said that the vagrants tend to congregate at the railroad station especially in bad weather.

"It's not too safe an area anyway, but that's not the fault of them [the vagrants]," said Mrs. Foster of the Lemon Tree/La Femmina Beauty Salons on Newbridge Road. "There's no homeless people around here, just drunks, and they don't bother anyone. They're probably just sleeping it off."

Roz Staller, owner of Starlight Shop on Broadway, said, "Every town has their vagrants. But we've had no problems with them at all. I'm not afraid to leave the store at night." She said that although she thinks the soup kitchen is worthwhile she said that she is not really affected by it. "It's not that much of a concern to me, though it would be if my business was being hurt."

Police Are Aware of Situation

A spokesperson for the second precinct said that the police are aware of the problems with the vagrants at the shopping center on Old Country Road. "We get a lot of calls for over there," he said. The officer said that when the police arrive they tell the vagrants to move on. He added that if the indigents are intoxicated and might endanger someone, they transport them to New Hope, a center for alcoholics in Westbury. "If they are really a threat, we take them to Nassau County Medical Center's alcoholic center."

Store owners can ask the vagrants to leave the premises if they are not there for a legitimate reason, he said. If they refuse to leave, the police are called. If the vagrant returns even after the police ask them to leave the property, "we can lock them up," the officer added. "We also have to get a statement from the owner." Another officer of the precinct said that those arrested can receive an maximum of 15 days in jail on a disorderly conduct charge. If they are in a public place and are begging, the police can arrest them for loitering, the officer said.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Arthritis and Visual Problems Linked

It is well-recognized that significant visual abnormalities are associated with many forms of arthritis. Doctors are not certain why this relationship exists. Rheumatologists, (arthritis specialists), estimate that more than 10% of the various forms of arthritis can be associated with visual problems.

Types of arthritis which are associated with eye problems are: rheumatoid arthritis, systemic lupus erythematosus, Sjogren's syndrome, ankylosing spondylitis, scleroderma, temporal arteritis, sarcoidosis, and gout.

The signs and symptoms of eye involvement may be redness of the eye (conjunctivitis), eye pain, or a decrease in vision. Occasionally eye problems may occur prior to the onset of arthritis. Usually these problems arise after arthritis has developed.

The symptoms can be fleeting and overlooked, as occurring in Reiter's syndrome. Blindness may occur if left untreated, as in Temporal Arteritis. Often the problems are mild and can be successfully treated if detected early.

Arthritis symptoms include painful, red, warm or swollen joints, morning stiffness, or muscle aches. Should you have either symptoms of arthritis or eye problems, you should visit your physician promptly.

Most rheumatologists are keenly aware of the relationship between the eyes and the joints. They are very careful to detect any abnormalities. An exact diagnosis of the type of arthritis you have is very important. Since there are over 100 types of arthritis, and each one requires its own treatment, a careful examination is important.

If any eye abnormalities are detected, the rheumatologist will work closely with the ophthalmologist. Careful attention should be made to adjust both the eye medication and the arthritis medication. Usually, visual problems improve as the arthritis improves.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

Dr. Richard H. Blau is a board-certified Rheumatologist practicing in Manhasset, 516-482-6822 and Westbury, 516-997-6823.

Post 421 Auxiliary News

By Geraldine Seitz

At the last regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Charles Wagner Post, Unit No. 421 in Hicksville, president Joan Rizos made the following appointments for the coming year: Membership, Flo Ruke; Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation, Lil Molinari; Child Welfare, Mae Sheppard; Chaplain, Ethel Habenicht; public relations, Gerry Seitz; National Security, Gertrude Reichlen. Our Americanism Program will be taken care of by Joan Rizos.

Our Girl's Stater this year was Kelly O'Callaghan from the Hicksville High School and we are looking ahead to her visit at our meeting on September 9 at 7:30 p.m. On Thursday, September 8, all Girl Staters from Nassau County will attend a meeting of the Nassau County Committee to be held at the Robert Van Cott American Legion in West Hempstead.

Membership notices have been sent from National Headquarters. Kindly remit to our chairman Flo Ruke at 47 Ach Lane, Hicksville, at your earliest conveniences.

Our volunteers to the Northport V.A. Hospital continue their visits each week. The men there really appreciate these visits and we come away with a feeling of accomplishment.

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

It is with the greatest sadness that I open this column. One of my friends and associates, Veterans Administration Police Officer Ronald Hearn, was killed in the line of duty at Bronx VA Medical Center on July 25. VA Police at most hospitals in urban areas inspect bags carried by out-patients and visitors for weapons, narcotics and alcohol. The Bronx and Manhattan VA medical centers use metal detectors and entrances to detect knives and guns. Hearn was approached by two men who would not consent to package inspection and shot Hearn dead.

Hearn, an Air Force veteran, was a true professional police officer. He took great pride in serving our veterans. He knew of the danger, so he purchased his own bullet proof vest. Hearn was formerly employed at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. He was proud to wear the Academy emblem on his off duty suit. He certainly lived up to the motto of the Academy, which is, "Deeds no words".

The VA does not want to publicize illegal drug and criminal activity on its property, but the credit union at Brooklyn VA was robbed by armed thugs this year. Undercover agents last week arrested an employee, a visitor and a patient for pushing drugs at Manhattan VA. Cars are stolen from VA grounds and cars are abandoned on VA property. Patients are mugged. Two people impersonated probation officers and gave narcotics to a patient.

Our veterans who defended our nation are not protected at our VA medical centers. It is time VA Police were armed, where visitors are screened and in the exterior parking lots. Please write Congress about this and support bullet proof vests and guns for VA Police on duty in lobbies and exterior parking areas. Police Officer Hearn gave his life so armed thugs would not enter Bronx VA. He gave his life to protect hospitalized veterans. Please don't let his death be in vain.

The Veterans' Benefits and Service Act of 1988 reduces the POW internment period from six months to 90 days for outpatient dental care eligibility. It also requires conversion of 500 acute care hospital beds in urban areas, to be used as domiciliary beds for homeless veterans. A two-year pilot program will be set up using mobile health clinics for veterans residing at least 100 miles from the nearest VA. For a complete listing of benefits, please come to a post meeting or request by mail.

PC Wes Tietjen has tickets for sale for the August 16 Glen Miller Band appearance at the dance tent at Jones Beach Theater. It is great to see Grumman Aerospace Corporation flying a POW/MIA flag, which was presented by VVA Chapter #82. More corporations and governments should be urged to fly the POW/MIA flag until a full accountability for our missing service members is accomplished.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to the editor are welcomed by the editors and publishers of the Anton Community Newspapers. However, they must follow certain guidelines in order for us to print them: they should be as short as possible; we reserve the right to edit in the interest of space; they MUST be signed (a typed name at the bottom will not suffice); they must include an address and telephone number so that we can verify their authenticity. We receive many fine letters which we would like to share with our readers, but we are unable to use them because they are unsigned or have a typewritten name only. We cannot publish every letter we receive because of space limitations, but we try to present both sides of all issues. Personal attacks and letters considered to be in poor taste will not be printed.

To The Editor:
 (This letter is being published upon request.)

In furtherance of an article which appeared in the July 27, 1988 of Newsday, I would like to go on record, as president of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, as to the Chamber's position regarding the Hicksville I.N.N.

Any serious social problem in any given area is bound to have an effect on the entire area. "When your head hurts, the body hurts all over", to draw an analogy. The Chamber's concern with regard to the Soup Kitchen is human, and what affects the community affects business. No one knows that better than I do.

The problem of homelessness and hunger is not unique to Hicksville nor is it a brand new problem. Establishment of the I.N.N. to give a noonday meal to the hungry was accomplished because the problem existed—it didn't cause the problem. Being aware of the homeless and hungry is perhaps a new experience to all of us—it is a nationwide malady, however—and it won't go away by doing nothing.

Unfortunately, as in any group situation, the bulk of guests at the I.N.N. are being judged by the few offenders who're abusing their privileges and becoming a nuisance to nearby merchants. If the I.N.N. does not operate, the problem will just crop up somewhere else. We have to deal with it.

Directors of the I.N.N. are making every effort to control the conditions of operating this charitable work. They have arranged for social workers to be in attendance to possibly help some of the unfortunate guests. Many of the guests at the I.N.N. are elderly people who run out of money and would otherwise go hungry.

I want the public to know that the Chamber is not "divided", as was headlined in the article. We are dealing with this problem in a rational way, since it is our feeling that it won't go away by arguing amongst ourselves.

In closing, I would like to say that the office of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce has received numerous anonymous crank calls regarding the vagrancy and dereliction in Hicksville. The Chamber has not "caused" these problems, nor can it automatically "put an end" to them as has been suggested. I have directed the Chamber office to ignore any calls which are left anonymously. If anyone has something worthwhile to say, I will answer them personally if they have the decency to identify themselves. Otherwise, it is a waste of everybody's time.

Marcos Ramirez, President
 Hicksville Chamber of Commerce

To The Editor:
 In your July 21 edition of the Hicksville Illustrated News, on the front page was an article on the Hicksville School Budget. Since that article appeared, I have been approached by many residents wondering why senior free trips will cease if the district goes on austerity.

As president of the Hicksville/Levittown Seniors Club, I would like to state that there is no such thing as a free trip. On certain trips, we do acquire a free school bus. The school district allots our club monies for approximately six or seven school buses a year. The balance of the trip, be it theatre tickets, museum fees, boat rides, luncheons, etc., are paid by each member taking the trip. However, out of 176 members, we usually fill only one bus. Many members rarely go on these trips because they can't afford it. Especially the long retired persons, as most of them are on small pensions and minimum social security. In this time of inflation, they just about keep house and home together.

Also, our in-club activities are self-supporting, since our dues are $3 a year, plus $ .75 a week per person. We also run 50/50 raffles and Chinese Auctions to raise funds.

One thing the school district provides is an appointed paid director to guide our meetings and set up trips and functions for us. Our officers just want the taxpayers of Hicksville to be aware of the facts.

Mrs. Edna Crews, President
 Hicksville/Levittown Senior Club

The Hicksville Youth Council will again sponsor National Night Out on Tuesday, August 9. This nationwide event is held each year to heighten crime prevention awareness, demonstrate the effectiveness of community crime prevention, and send a message to criminals letting them know that our neighborhoods are organized and on the lookout for crime. On this day, the Hicksville community will join forces with communities across America in the fight against crime and participate in a two hour nationwide crime watch.

National Night Out is an opportunity for you and your neighbors to show you care about stopping crime in your neighborhood. Get together with your neighbors, turn on all outside lights and spend two hours, from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. on your porch or lawn to show criminals that your neighborhood is on the watch for crime. To signify this event tie red ribbons around trees and lampposts. Try to get everyone on your block to participate in National Night Out 1988. It is imperative that all residents of Hicksville be aware of the positive impact of their participation

What You Think About Basketball Hoops

We received a large response to our article "What Do You Think?" about basketball hoops on residential property. Here are some of your thoughts:

One Hicksville man said he has "strong reactions" to the story, all of which are opposed to the hoops. "My next door neighbor has a hoop, and the players always go on to my property and ruin the grass, flowers and bushes," he said.

The resident added that if the Town of Oyster Bay allows such hoops, "What will be next? Jungle gyms, pools and cars on the front lawn!"

On the other hand, one woman telephoned us to say she feels "it's your property, and it's ridiculous that you can't put on it whatever you want."

Another woman, a mother of five, agreed. "We should be able to have hoops because my kids have nowhere to go. There are no safe parks, or anything, like in other towns. I see no problem with them."

But one resident wrote us to convey her "complete dissatisfaction" with basketball hoops on private home fronts. She said, "The problem raises a lot of ugly questions for all the residential areas of Nassau County because the hoops add to lowering the standards of an area."

She lists the hoops, along with not enough community parks and overcrowded parking on the streets, as detrimental to the look of a neighborhood. "We should do something about the beauty of Nassau, or it will be another Queens or Brooklyn."

Contributing an additional comment, one resident said that all his neighbors believe the hoop near his property "is a horror." A senior citizen called to say that while she is only in town six months a year, she finds the ball bouncing "very annoying." She said she has complained to the kids who play as well as their parents, but nothing has come of it. "I feel I am being taken advantage of because I am old," she said. "I really wish there was something I could do. One time, the ball came into my yard and as I went to get it, the kid pushed me out of the way."

The woman added that she may pursue legal action to see if she has any rights in this situation.

On the whole, most readers agree the noise from kids playing basketball near their property is hard to handle. Uncomfortable situations can arise when you have to complain against your neighbors who have been easy to live with...up until the hoop controversy. But while some feel they are entitled to put a hoop on their property if they wish, compromising time schedules may help. Players, as well as "spectators," can limit, if not eliminate, the tension this situation brings.

"Compromising would be a great idea," said one resident. "But half the time, the other side is not willing to talk about it. Parents can get very defensive when it comes to their kids."

One teenager said he feels bad if his neighbor complains. "But what else can I do? I love basketball. I seriously try not to let the ball go onto someone else's property. I thought kids were supposed to be able to play. That's their job."

Thank you for responding.

Elks Honor Past Exalted Ruler Dan Seip

COUNTY EXECUTIVE THOMAS Gulotta, Theresa Seip, Daniel Seip, Past Exalted Ruler, Hon. Peter T. Affatato, Past Grand Exalted Ruler, and Councilman Tom Clark share in Mr. Seip's recognition ceremony.

Youth Council Sponsors National Night Out

A testimonial dinner was given by the members of the Hicksville Elks on June 24 for Past Exalted Ruler Daniel T. Seip for his dedication as ruler during the recently completed 1987-1988 Elk Year.

In addition to the many members of his own Lodge attending were many members from other Elk Lodges throughout Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

Nassau County Executive Thomas Gulotta presented a citation in recognition of Mr. Seip's service to the community, not only as an Elk, but in his service through the years to Levittown Fire Department, of which he is an ex-chief.

Oyster Bay Councilman Tom Clark also presented a citation and in his comments, noted that Mr. Seip's father had been a member of the Hempstead Elks and his grandfather a member of Freeport Lodge.

The Hon. Peter T. Affatato, grand exalted ruler of all the Elks in 1986-1987 and a charter member of Hicksville Lodge, was a featured speaker adding his compliments for a job well done.

Ethel Barnett, a past winner of the Mrs. America contest for N.Y. State, accompanied by her husband, Marvin, on the piano, added to the festivities with a beautiful repertoire of vocal numbers.

The affair was held in the ballroom at Hicksville Elks Lodge with more than 200 in attendance, a prime rib dinner and live music for dancing until after midnight. Mr. Seip was overwhelmed by the festivities and expressed his appreciation to all attending and to the committee and volunteers who worked so hard to make the evening one which he would remember for the rest of his life.

WHEN "MASTERBUILDER" ROBERT MOSES FIRST SAW JONES BEACH IN 1922, IT WAS A FRAGILE 2 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL. IN ORDER TO CREATE A STABLE PARK, SAND WAS SCOOPED UP FROM THE BOTTOM OF THE GREAT SOUTH BAY IN 1927—RAISING 17 MILES OF SANDBAR UP TO 12 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL!

THE LANDMARK WATER TOWER AT FIRST WAS MEANT TO LOOK LIKE ANY OTHER. A LIGHTHOUSE DESIGN WAS ALSO SUGGESTED, BUT MOSES CHOSE A STREAM-LINED REPLICA OF THE CAMPANILE AT SAN MARCO! NASSAU COUNTY EXECUTIVE THOMAS S. GULOTTA has rejected the proposed 1989 tax hike at the Nassau Community College by returning the budget to the Board of Trustees for revision. U.S. REPRESENTATIVE ROBERT J. BRAZEK (D-Centerport) has co-sponsored legislation in the House to set in motion a new federal emphasis on waste recycling. The bill directs the Commerce Department to establish an office of Recycling Research and Information to set up a grant program to support development of biodegradable consumer products and to act as an information clearing house to industry on such technologies. The bill also sets a four-year deadline to the identification and listing of consumer goods for which recycling is feasible. After five years the manufacture and sale of certain consumer goods which are neither recyclable nor biodegradable would be prohibited.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...One of my friends said the other day that one of the things she regretted for kids today was the decline of the cellar door...Now she did not mean a door opening from the kitchen going down to the cellar...What she meant was that wonderful old slanting cellar door, usually two doors, that opened from the middle and this door was outside the house and when you opened the doors, there were steps going into the cellar—no one ever said basement!...And everyone could recall wonderful activities on these doors—racing cars down—running up and down—lying back on them in the sun—running up them to reach the cellar window to say hello to those inside—or even, as I have heard a friend say, to take a lick of the icing on the layer cake cooling in the kitchen window...I hadn't thought about cellar doors like these in such a long time, but now, I am wondering why they have become obsolete...They were so handy for taking things from the cellar...most importantly, the wash to be hung on the back yard clothes line...and you could always carry the outdoor furniture down—the doors were quite wide...but with basement play rooms and dryers, I suppose they had outlived their original purpose—I'm sure they weren't made for the kids who loved them, so all those kids can hope for a visit to some old house which still has a slanting cellar door and there, they too, can learn the delights of yesteryear.

The Investor's Corner By Dr. Joseph P. Frey

HOW TO AVOID A SWINDLE

I was recently talking to a stock and bond salesman about some opportunities in the investment world. I regularly do this to keep up to date with the latest developments. One part of the conversation turned to people who invest with brokers and investment advisors.

He mentioned how many people do business with brokers because they can talk to them. This helps to relieve their loneliness. As a result many of these people trust their assets to their broker. Many get relieved of their wealth. It has happened many many times. All too many times.

Dr. Joseph P. Frey

The method is simple. The broker makes a suggestion and the client, knowing little, follows the suggestion. Or, in a worse scenario, the person turns over their money in a discretionary account, and gets poorer by degrees. It was suggested that this happens to the elderly more than any other group, and to women more than to men. The inference was that the ideal client to have was a lonely, older woman with money because they are so grateful when the broker or financial advisor keeps in touch with them. Some of this I know to be true from the mail that I receive. Let me say right now, before the stock brokers who read this column come to lynch me, that the vast majority of brokers are honest, hardworking men and women who do take a real interest in their clients' portfolios. This does not apply to most in the business. Unfortunately it applies to some.

To begin with, let us look at the term — financial planner. What qualifications does a planner need, what education, what regulation covers them, who monitors them? It probably will surprise you greatly to know that any of my readers who can pay $150 per year can, after filling out a form with the US Securities and Exchange Commission, advertise and be a "Registered Investment Advisor." In fact, some brokerage houses have only Registered Investment Advisors sell stock for them. THERE ARE NO QUALIFICATIONS OR LIMITATIONS. Anyone can be one. Is there any wonder that so many people get taken to the cleaners. It seems that the SEC's major concern is not qualifications, but notification of fees.

THERE IS NO PROTECTION FOR YOU WITH THE TITLE. Now we have a slow stock market, a lot of brokers who have suffered a sharp falling of income, and a trusting public. If you think because a person is registered with the SEC that you have a measure of protection from that government agency, think again. First, do not do business with anyone you do not know, OR THAT YOU CANNOT CHECK OUT. Second, do not buy what you do not understand. That means that you must fully understand the risks and know what you can gain and lose. Case: A man in Florida retired on $8.5 million in tax frees, about $600,000 a year in income. He decided that he wanted to supplement that income, to get a better return. His broker (a very honest one) introduced him to puts. He started to write them (this means sell them). The risk is that if the market falls you buy the stock, or settle for cash. Everything was great because with the rising market the puts were not exercised and the writer kept the premium. This was a wonderful thing until October, 1987. Then the market fell gave him losses of $9.0 million. No more golf club, municipals, no more anything. It completely wiped him out. From rich to welfare in one easy lesson. Do not let this happen to you.

How can you check up on the advisor? 1) call the SEC and ask if there are any complaints against him or her. Ask about education, it has to be listed. 2) Check with the Sec. of State in your State, advisors are supposed to be registered there also. 3) Ask for references — at least three good ones at least one bad one. You want to know how they have been handled in good times and bad. 4) Do not let them sell you something that you do not fully understand. Remember, it is your money that they lose.

Guide Dog Presentation At Kiwanis Meeting

At a recent weekly meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, Ms. Emily Biegel, the director of administrative affairs for the Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, Inc., was the guest speaker. In her presentation, Ms. Biegel spoke about how the foundation selects and trains the dogs, and then demonstrated how the dogs work.

There are 10 Guide Dog schools in the United States, and the school in Smithtown, N.Y. is the fourth oldest in the country. The school formerly accepted donations of dogs, but at present, they breed their own. This way, they feel that the pups would have the personality temperament and ability to be trained as guide dogs. They have found out that Labrador Retrievers and Golden Retrievers are the most acceptable breeds. It is estimated that it costs about $15,000 to fully train a guide dog.

The pups begin their training with "Puppy Walkers" who keep the pups in their homes. The pups are exposed to all types of situations such as normal activity in the home, children, traffic, noises, etc. to accustom the pups to a variety of potential problems. Later, sighted trainers will train the dogs in harness to avoid obstacles in a series of repetitive exposures to such obstacles. Subsequently, blind people train the dogs for about 3 weeks locally, and later take them into traffic, subways, day and night. Dogs and blind individuals waiting for a Guide Dog are matched during the training process.

After talking about how the dogs are trained, Ms. Biegel took "Bali", the Guide Dog who accompanied her on this visit to Kiwanis, on a demonstration around the room. With voice commands in "Guide Dog language", and her hand on the harness, Ms. Biegel began walking, and let Bali get "boxed in" in an area too small to get through. Bali maneuvered Ms. Biegel out of this area, and continued walking until she found the hallway through which they originally came into the room.

Resident on Board Of Literacy Volunteers

Norma Aschner, a resident of Hicksville for 23 years, was recently elected as a member of the Board of Directors of Literacy Volunteers of America-Nassau County, Inc., a non-profit, countywide organization that conducts training workshops for volunteers who want to tutor adults who cannot speak English. Her term began July 1, 1988.

Ms. Aschner, personnel manager at Grumman for more than 20 years, has been involved in this local affiliate's program since 1984, when she completed a basic reading tutor training workshop. Since then, she has worked with an adult who needed help in reading and is looking forward to enrolling in an English as a second language workshop in the near future. At present, she is a member of the personnel committee of the board.

For information on how to register a student or how to enroll in a workshop, call 486-2789 Mondays-Fridays 10 to 5 p.m.

Rotary Helping to Wipe Out Polio Worldwide

Rotary International recently announced that it has raised $219,350,449 for Rotary's PolioPlus Program, instituted to eradicate polio in developing nations around the world. The Rotarians exceeded their original goal of $120 million by 82 percent.

The funds, raised during the last two years by Rotarians worldwide, support the World Health Organization's (WHO) goal to wipe out polio by the year 2000. This goal was announced in May of this year.

Fred Meyer, president of the Hicksville-Jericho Rotary Club, said that his organization has raised nearly $5,000 for the program. "We originally planned to have the program last three years, but we greatly exceeded our goal in one year," he explained.

Although polio was cured in this country about 20 years ago, many children in underdeveloped nations still suffer from the debilitating disease. "This is a major problem which can be handled easily because each inoculation costs only 12 cents per child," said Meyer. "No one should have to suffer from a disease that can be cured and has been cured in other countries."

"Each child would require three serum dosages," he added.

Some 70 percent of PolioPlus contributions were from individual Rotarians or Rotary clubs. Ten governments supported the campaign, so far, giving nearly $10 million. To date, the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International has allocated more than U.S. $77.8 million for this program, which spreads into 67 countries and can immunize 417 million children. It is anticipated that several million more countries will be covered and several million more children will ultimately be protected. "For hundreds of millions of children, this campaign is just the beginning," noted Leslie Wright, International PolioPlus Campaign Chairman.

The additional funds raised, according to Rotary officials, will be allocated for additional polio vaccine and other support, including social mobilization efforts, for nations committed to polio eradication and childhood immunization. Additional funds may also be used for surgical rehabilitation for polio victims. In announcing the campaign results,

Wright also said, "Let's never forget that our fundraising has merely been a means to an end, and that end is the immunization of every child against the crippling disease, polio."

The top 10 fundraising efforts were by committees in the United States ($119 million), Japan ($27 million), United Kingdom, Ireland/Gibraltar ($10.8 million), Australia/Papua New Guinea ($5.3 million), Netherlands ($4.95 million), France/Morocco/Andorra ($4.6 million) and Brazil ($3.99 million).

The largest government grant was from the U.S. Agency for International Development, which awarded $6 million.

Alerted several months ago to the possibility that campaign contributions and pledges might substantially exceed $200 million, the trustees of the Rotary Foundation developed a PolioPlus Phase II strategy. This strategy identified the need for additional funds up to and beyond $200 million. Phase II will focus on three areas:

- Additional grants of up to five years for polio vaccine to countries in economic need;
- Grants for cold chain, social mobilization support, training and surveillance methods (to detect all polio cases) for countries that agree to establish a target year for polio eradication or specific reduction of polio incidence;
- Surgical camps and clinics to provide young polio victims with low-cost surgical procedures and with leg braces and crutches.

"This has been a great undertaking and a very worthwhile campaign," Meyer said. "And anything we, as Rotarians, can do for other countries is a great program."

Rotary works in close cooperation with WHO, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), and other local, national and international health authorities within WHO's Expanded Program on Immunization. Rotary provides the vaccine and other private sector support for national and regional immunization efforts, normally for a five-year period.

More than 16,000 Rotarians and their guests from 101 nations recently celebrated this monetary achievement in Philadelphia during their 79th International Convention.

Contract Bridge By Steve Becker

A Super Safety Play

SOUTH

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♣ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Dble

Opening lead — six of spades.

There are more safety plays in bridge than you can shake a stick at, and indeed one might say that they are of infinite variety. Recognizing them is often a serious challenge, and many a declarer falls flat on his face at the crucial moment.

Consider this deal where East doubled three notrump on the bidding shown, thus asking West to lead the first suit bid by dummy.

West duly led a spade, East winning dummy's jack with the king and continuing with the ace and another spade. Declarer's only reasonable chance, after winning the third spade with the queen, was to rely on a diamond finesse.

But when in the fullness of time he attempted it, East won the queen with the king and cashed two more spades to put the contract down one.

Declarer missed a good chance to sew up the contract when he played the jack of spades from dummy at trick one. He should have realized that, by following low from dummy on the opening lead, no lie of the cards could defeat three notrump.

At worst, the defense would score three spades and a diamond, and at the same time South could feel sure of scoring two hearts, four clubs and three diamonds — even if the diamond finesse, when attempted, lost.

Of course, it may seem odd to follow low from dummy on the spade lead, but the principle that governs the hand is certainly simple enough. If declarer plays low from dummy he assures the contract against every conceivable lie of the cards, while if he plays the jack he jeopardizes the contract and, in the actual case, goes down.

There is only one sensible choice between these two extremes, and the safety play in spades at trick one eloquently speaks for itself.

House Calls

By Edith Lank

Took a Bath Last Year
Dear Edith: Read your article regarding the sale of a second or vacation home. According to your answer, the profit of that second home must be declared as income and subjected to tax. But what happens when you sell a second home for a big loss? I sold my vacation home last winter and took a bath. —Mr. S.D.

You can't deduct a loss on the sale of your vacation property. Doesn't seem fair, does it? I consulted a lawyer and an accountant, but I couldn't shake either one of them. They say it's the same as buying a private (not business) automobile and selling it later at a loss.

If you had used the place as rental property, that would make a difference.

Realtor, Broker, Agent
Dear Edith: Is it true I have to work for someone else before I can become a realtor on my own? —L.H.

You are probably asking about the licenses issued by the state. A broker is allowed to practice real estate on his or her own. In most states, however, the entry-level license is issued to a salesperson who must work under the supervision of a broker for a period of apprenticeship and training.

The word "Realtor" is trademarked, properly printed in capital letters or at least capitalized. It can be used only by a broker who decides to join the trade association known as the National Association of Realtors. Those brokers who join often share their listings through a local board of realtors' multiple listing system. As far as the state is concerned, though, any licensed broker may practice real estate without joining a board or becoming a realtor.

Worried About Stock Market
Dear Edith: I would like to invest, but the way the stock market is going, I'm not sure. Do you have any better ideas —Mr. F.L.

Of course I like real estate as an investment. You are more in control with real property than you would be with the stock market. You can see for yourself what is happening with your investment and to some extent, you can steer it in the right direction.

Investing in real estate, though, can take even more expertise and certainly more effort than the stock market. You'll have to locate property, analyze its value, negotiate your purchase and arrange favorable financing.

Then, after you've bought, you can't simply check the business pages every morning to see how your investment is doing and let it go at that. Real estate won't run itself. You'll learn to do everything, from changing faucet washers, to judging the financial stability of would-be tenants.

And as a final drawback, real estate is less liquid than stocks. If you decide to take your money out, you can't do it overnight.

Shareholders Want to Sell
Dear Edith: How can seven shareholders sell their undivided interests in a 2,000-acre ranch that has been inherited by nine shareholders when two shareholders do not wish to sell? —Mr. N.K.L.

It's not clear what you mean by shareholders, but if you and the other eight (your cousins, perhaps?) inherited real estate together, you probably own it as tenants in common. If that's the case, you have the right to go to court for an order that the property be sold and the proceeds divided among the nine of you.

Selling Out of State
Dear Edith:
I own a small lot in another state. If I sell it at a profit I know I'll have to pay state and federal income tax, but will I also have to pay income tax in that state?
Mrs. O.S.

No. There may be a state real estate transfer tax due on this sale, but that's a different matter.

(Your first income property—how do you know if it's a good buy? Edith Lank advises beginners in her leaflet, Analyzing Your First Real Estate Investment. For a copy, send $1 and a stamped, return envelope to Investment, 240 Hemingway Drive, Rochester, N.Y. 14620.)

(Don't put too much money into a house that's going on the market. Should you paint? Or just polish? Steps to take are detailed in House Call's leaflet. For a copy, send $1 and a stamped return envelope to "Show 'n Sell," 240 Hemingway Drive, Rochester, NY 14620. Any letter with a stamped return envelope will also receive a personal reply.)

You Auto Know

By Dagmar Fors Karppi

Do you remember the old saying "Pikes Peak or Bust." Where is it from? Well, here is a story about young people who still aim at Pikes Peak!

Two Peugeot 405 Turbo 16 rally cars placed first and second at the 66th annual Pikes Peak Auto Hill Climb on July 10 at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Former world rally champion Ari Vatanen set both an overall and an open rally record in his 405 Turbo 16 when he completed the 12.42-mile course in 10 minutes, 47.22 seconds, breaking the overall record Audi driver Walter Roehrl set last year.

Peugeot driver Juha Kankkunen, who was competing at Pikes Peak for the first time, piloted his Peugeot 405 Turbo 16 to a second-place finish in 10 minutes, 52.84 seconds.

Robby Unser placed third, winning the open-wheel division in a record-breaking 11 minutes, 18.27 seconds.

According to Vatanen, the Pikes Peak Auto Hill Climb is the "ultimate challenge for car and driver." This year, the challenge was even more defying as rain and hail storms made the winding race course more slippery than usual.

To fight understeer in tight curves and improve high-speed stability, the all-wheel-drive Peugeot 405 Turbo 16 was equipped with four-wheel steering for the first time.

Peugeot's win at Pikes Peak marks the first victory of any kind for a car with four-wheel steering.

The XU92 engine which powered the 405 Turbo 16 to victory generates 520 horsepower at 7,000 rpm and 470 foot-pounds of torque at 4,500 rpm. This light-alloy, double overhead cam engine is the same design as the XU94 16-valve powerplant in the new Peugeot 405 Mi 16, which goes on sale August 1.

The Pikes Peak Auto Hill Climb, established in 1916, is America's second oldest motorsports challenge after the Indy 500, won by a 16-valve Peugeot in 1913, 1916, and 1919.

The 12.42 mile race starts at an altitude of 9,400 feet. The finish line is 14,10 feet.

The names of Peugeot drivers Ari Vatanen and Juha Kankkunen will go down in Pikes Peak history alongside those of other daredevils like Eddie Rickenbacker and Cannonball Baker, and more recent stars Bobby and Al Unser, and Robby Unser, following in the family tradition.

Girls' Junior Division Royal Blue Team

The Royal Blue Team, coached by Nancy Galdo and Toni Sicari, have won another two games, despite the weather. In the game against the Green Team on July 21, they were about to play only 4 1/2 innings, but all they needed to win was the great pitching from Debbie Drew and Katie Kelly.

All the girls continued to hit well and play the field good.

Then, on July 26, they played against the Orange Team and, once again, fine pitching by Carolyn Galdo, Katie Kelly, Debbie Drew, plus Sandy Drew, for her debut this summer, did a swell job on the mound. Hitting two homers were Debbie Drew (triple also), Carolyn Galdo (double also); Deborah Coffey, Sandy Drew and Lisa Petrocelli. The field was played well by Donna Hess (second base and catching), Kristi Mullally (third base and catching), Kristy Haley (first base and third base) and Devin Reynolds (centerfield and catching). Coaches Nancy Galdo and Toni Sicari extend special thanks to Mr. Mullally (first base coach), Mr. Hill (third base coach) and all the parents who come to support.

We extend our appreciation to all parents for their attendance and cooperation."

Honored by Apple Bank

Tom Schneider of Holy Trinity High School was among 51 Long Island high school athletes awarded trophies by Apple Bank Chairman Jerome R. McDougal and Cablevision Vice President Rusty McCormack during the fourth annual Apple Bank Player of the Game awards dinner at the Swan Club in Glenwood Landing.

The athletes had been named most valuable players at high school games televised by Cablevision and sponsored by Apple Bank throughout the 1987-88 academic year. A major sponsor of the 54-game sports package since 1984, Apple Bank recently agreed to support next year's program as well.

"Apple's sponsorship of a fifth season reflects our continuing desire to honor and encourage Long Island's fine young athletes," McDougal said.

HOLY TRINITY HIGH School student Tom Schneider was awarded an athletic trophy from Apple Bank.
